PECAN GROWERS FROM MANY COUNTIES TO ATTEND WEST TEXAS MEETING ON SATURDAY

The quarterly meeting of the West Texas Pecan Association will be held at the court house in Brownwood on Saturday, when it is expected that 250 members will attend.

This is the first meeting to be held by this body where it can point to a specific job accomplished since its organization in November, 1928, according to J. T. Stovall, secretary.

"This is the establishment in Brownwood of a pecan experiment station," Stovall said, "the result of an effort put forth in the first meeting of this association. In fact, the aim of this body in securing a federal station was written into its constitution."

The station in question is one just established here following an appropriation of $27,000 by Congress and a possible further appropriation of $50,000 to carry on this work.

There are only two other such stations in the country, Stovall said. One of these is at Shreveport, and the other at Albany, Georgia.

Will Have Sub-Stations
The Brownwood station will have number of sub-stations throughout the state, one of which will soon be located in Austin.

H. P. Traub, recently of the Texas Experiment Station at College Station, is in charge of the work in Texas and there will be one other man appointed to take charge of the Brownwood station.

Mr. Stovall further said that about 200 acres of land will be necessary for this local station, this to be covered with experimental plots, but that while in the process of building and growing the government men will do their work in orchards already bearing.

H. G. Lucas of Brownwood recently made head of the National Marketing Association, said that the establishment of this station is one of the biggest things which has ever happened in the pecan industry in Texas, as this central territory is the native home of the pecan.

Will Discuss Work

Lucas and Traub will be present at this Saturday meeting to discuss the work of both the marketing body and of the local experimental station.

Delegates from Brown, Tom Green, Lampasas, San Saba, Menard, Kimble, Mason, Uvalde, Wharton, Gonzales and Guadalupe counties will hold a short meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday night in connection with a marketing body of the association.

President E. H. Norris of San Saba will preside at the Saturday gathering and besides Lucas and Traub, speakers will be: O. S. Gray of Arlington, Frank Willman of Austin, J. A. Evans of Arlington and Guy Risien of San Saba. Following the meeting a visit of inspection will be made at the insect station here of the United States Bureau of Entomology.

The Program

FERGUSON TALKS TO BROWNWOOD LIONS AT LUNCHEON TUESDAY

Guests of the Brownwood Lions club Tuesday at the regular Tuesday noon luncheon at the Southern Hotel were: Former Governor Jas. E. Ferguson, Rev. Elbert H. Coston of Winters, Albert Spill of Winters, Jeff Strickland, San Antonio; Harry Bengo Crozier, staff correspondent of Dallas News; Byron Utecht, staff correspondent, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; A. G. Akers, Austin; L. G. Colborn, Austin; R. R. Haney, Mart; H. V. Hennen, Brownwood city manager; Melvin Coston, O'Neal Archer, Bailey Forrester and Lois Coston of Brownwood.

James E. Ferguson, who was in Brownwood to speak that night in interest of his wife's candidacy for governor, spoke briefly to the club. He stated that he was glad to be present and was always glad to be in Brown county and Brownwood. He then talked on present conditions. He declared that although the conditions should not be treated lightly, that there had been similar times during every period of the nation's history. He recalled some of the times which were in a general way like the present and said that all present had experienced some of the same conditions. Mr. Ferguson believed that the future of Texas holds much in store and begged that none be discouraged.

Hennen Discusses Amendment

H. V. Hennen, city manager, made the feature talk of the hour. He spoke on the charter amendment election which is to be held July 25 and urged that all citizens of Brownwood vote in the election. The people are to vote on three charter amendments and on the question of refinancing warrants of the city. Mr. Hennen explained it is very important to the progress of the city that these things be passed upon favorably by the people, he said.

The charter amendments are: (1) Reducing powers of city council to vote bonds or warrants amounting to more than $10,000 in one year except in cases of emergency. (2) Make Planning Commission a permanent and advisory body. (3) Reduce cost of permanent paving in the city. The people should understand, he added, that the refinancing is for permanent improvements and not for the running expenses of the city.

The tax rate of Brownwood last year was $1.85 on every hundred dollars of taxable property, which is a low rate of a town the size of Brownwood, continued Mr. Hennen. Seventy cents of this goes for school tax; eighty-five cents for general purposes and thirty cents for the reduction of outstanding bonds. The outstanding bonds at present are $527,000 and the taxable property in Brownwood is $14,000,000. Brownwood is in good shape as far as debts are concerned, thinks Mr. Hennen. Most of the cities of this size in this section are more heavily in debt than Brownwood, he said, and named several towns carrying more debts than Brownwood and having less taxable property.

Short Maturity Warrants.

The only thing that has hurt Brownwood is that short maturity warrants were voted in times past, instead of long maturing bonds. The refinancing will put the indebtedness into bonds and will make the payment easier, he stated. The payment of interest on the warrants has been taking forty-five cents out of the eighty-five cents taxes for general purposes and that leaves thirty-five cents to run all the other departments of the city, he continued. Under the financing plan which is to be voted upon eight and one-third cents will carry the warrants, declared Mr. Hennen. The other departments, such as the fire department, police department and street department, need this saving. The new plan will give more money to taking care of the indebtedness and will not raise the tax rates, but will lower them in time, he said. He invited anybody who had a question on the matters to come to his office and he would explain the election.

Special Music.

The club was entertained by two songs by a trio, Melvin Coston, O'Neal Archer and Bailey Forrester, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lois Coston.

Glidden Wilson made a report on the entertainment to be given by the losing side in the attendance contest to the winners. The Blues will entertain the Reds with a picnic at Lakewood Tuesday evening, July 22, he announced. The Blues will furnish the picnic lunch and a program will be worked out for the entertainment. The regular noon luncheon will not be held next Tuesday because of the picnic later in the day.

First Terracing Of This Season On Mauldin Farm

First terracing of the season was done by County Farm Agent O. P. Griffin at the R. H. Mauldin farm in the Grosvenor community Tuesday. Several terrace lines were run across a sixty acre tract on the farm.

Mr. Griffin states that the farmers of Brown county have become more and more terracing-minded in the last few years and that there will be a great deal of terracing done in most every part of the county this year.

September 8 was decided on as the opening date for the 1930-31 school term of Brownwood city schools at the meeting of the school board Monday night at 8 o'clock at the high school building. The term will open officially on that date as decided by the board, said superintendent of city schools E. J. Woodward today.

The election of two teachers for the city school system was also taken up at the meeting. Miss Mary Doyle was elected to fill the place of Miss Laura Winston, resigned. Miss Winston, teacher of the second grade in the Ford Ward School, has resigned her position and will teach in the Ford Ward city school next term. Mrs. A. F. Gregory, 1612 Fourth Street, was elected to teach the first grade in Brownwood Heights school in the place of Miss Bertie McKinzie who was transferred to the Ford Ward school.

Other routine business was taken up by the board before adjournment, but nothing definite was settled on the minor questions, it is stated.

Second Attack on Melwood Resident

Mr. Shields who operates a grocery store at 1505 Melwood was attacked with a rock Tuesday night about 10:30 in an alley near his home. While he was walking along Melwood the rock was thrown from the alley, striking him on the side of the face. He averted most of the blow with his arm.

Several nights ago when Mr. Shields stepped from his place of business on Melwood some unknown assailant fired a shot at him and then ran. Following the two attacks police believe that the assaults on the man are being made as revenge against him for his part in the apprehension of a group of Mexicans arrested on counterfeiting charges during the first few days of the month.

Preference Now—Prejudice Later

MEASURED by any reasonable standard, James Young of Kaufman is the best man in the race for the Democratic nomination for the Governorship. It is for that reason that this newspaper has advocated his nomination. It seems to us that Mr. Young offers us an opportunity to vote for a candidate of a type that has not been common in Texas politics of recent years, a man who is clean personally and politically, scrupulously honest, straightforward in his opinions, experienced in public life and in private business activities, thoroughly conversant with the problems of the state government—in short, a man who is in every way qualified to serve as Governor; and for that reason we expect to vote for Mr. Young on July 26th, as our preference. In the second primary, if it becomes necessary, we will do as most Democrats have done in Texas for the past twenty years, and vote our prejudices.

Mr. Young not only is acceptable personally, but he has offered the people of Texas a platform that is based upon sound common sense and not upon demagoguery and bunk. He is a Democrat, and believes in the Democratic party. He thinks the best way to reduce taxes, or at least to prevent the increase of taxes, is to reduce the cost of government instead of shifting the tax burden from one class or commodity to another. He would equalize taxation not by adding two or three hundred million dollars to the state indebtedness, but by levying reasonable taxes against every resource in the state that ought to be taxed. He favors a statewide system of highways, and believes they can be built and financed without paying seventeen or eighteen million dollars per year in interest on money with which to build them. The interest alone on the kind of road bond issue Chairman Sterling wants Texas to approve would build three hundred and fifty miles of concrete highway every year. Mr. Young believes in preserving the state's investment in the prison system, and believes the fertile black land farms of the system can be operated profitably. He believes, too, in the humane treatment of prisoners, and in employing them in such way as to reduce the cost of the prison system to the tax payers of the state. He believes in the conservation of natural gas, water and other resources of Texas, and he is in sympathy with the Brownwood water project and with the protection of the water rights of Texas towns and cities.

There is no menace in Mr. Young's candidacy. His platform contains no dangerous proposals. He is not affiliated directly or indirectly with any faction or clique unless the Democratic party is to be regarded as such. He owes no political obligations, has no political favorites and no political grudges to satisfy, seeks no vindication. He is conducting his campaign in a dignified manner, spending as little money as is necessary in a statewide speaking program, and incurring no embarrassments in connection with campaign contributions. He isn't worth twelve million dollars, but is financially independent as a result of his own professional efforts. He has been active in public affairs for thirty years, beginning when as a boy he made speeches over most of Texas in support of prohibition, but he is not a professional politician. He is a Christian gentleman but not a religious fanatic. He lives in East Texas, but is no more a sectional candidate than is any other man in the race. He has never compromised a principle in order to avoid conflict, but if he has any enemies they have not appeared during this campaign. Even when the Klan iddity was at its height and threatening to overthrow organized government in Texas, he fought that organization with all the vigor of his soul but to this day retains the personal friendship of his neighbors who were beguled by the Klan's insidious persuasiveness. And so, on to very great extent this man's characteristics might be enumerated, but it isn't necessary. The average man whom one meets on the street will readily testify that "Jim Young of Kaufman is the best man in the race." Those of us who are determined to vote for the best man instead of trying to pick a winner who can defeat somebody else are going to vote for him; and we have enough confidence in the people of Texas to believe that the best man in the race will at least be sent into the run-off primary for a show-down contest with either Ferguson or Mayfield. If we do not vote our preference in this primary, we more than likely will have to vote our prejudices in the next.

Not Ready to Quit

CONFEDERATE VETERANS of the Fifth Texas Division, known as the Mountain Remnant Brigade, scold at the idea that they are too old for annual reunions. They have just concluded their annual meeting at Christoval, and are planning even now for their next annual gathering. In fact, they have definitely decided that as long as there are two veterans able to journey to Christoval, both of them are going and will have a reunion.

There is nothing particularly remarkable about such a determination. The veterans enjoy their annual reunions. They are not at all alarmed by the fact that their ranks are rapidly thinning and that only a few of them are now physically able to make long trips. One of the old fellows was in this office the other day. "It probably won't be long now," he said, "and in fact I may not be able to come back to see you again, but I am not worrying about that." He was not anticipating the future, but like all his comrades he is willing to let the future take care of itself and will get the utmost of pleasure and satisfaction from the present. And so it is that they scoff at the idea of discontinuing their reunions. "Of course, I may not be here next year, but some of the boys will last that long, and they will get together and have a big time."

It will be a sad day for all of us of the younger generation when the last Confederate Veterans reunion is held. The old fellows are not quitters. They were not quitters sixty-five years ago when they laid down their arms. They are not quitters as they come to the end of life and launch into eternity. No reunion next year? Of course, there will be a reunion.

Wheat Acreage Reduction

SECRETARY HYDE of the Federal Department of Agriculture and Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, were unable to arouse much enthusiasm for their plan to reduce the wheat acreage when they went into conference with wheat growers the other day at Amarillo. These officials pointed out the oft-repeated argument that the law of supply and demand is inexorable, and that wheat farmers must produce less or eventually go out of business altogether.

Both Mr. Hyde and Mr. Legge seemed unable to realize that the Panhandle farmers are raising wheat—and tremendous quantities of it—because it is about the only profitable crop they can produce. There are many sound arguments in support of diversified farming, but they can not be applied with equal forcefulness to every section of the country. There are "wheat belts" and "corn belts" and "cotton belts," not because the farmers in those sections prefer to raise wheat or corn or cotton, but because they must produce the crop that is the most practicable for the particular section in which the farmer lives.

Diversified farming is not a cure-all remedy for the ills of agriculture. America has an over-production of most of its staple crops, including cotton, corn, wheat, oats and many others. If the wheat farmer reduces his grain acreage and diversifies by raising some cotton, he adds to the difficulties of the cotton farmer. If the cotton farmer diversifies by raising corn, he complicates the situation for the corn farmer. Diversification is a good policy for the individual farmer, but when applied on a large scale to the entire agricultural industry it affords but little help. The farmer, it seems to us, can be depended upon to raise the crop that will grow best in his locality and will pay him the largest possible profit. That crop may be cotton, or corn, or wheat or sugar beets, and when an over-supply is produced, the farmer discovers it more quickly than does anyone else. Then he works out his own salvation by reducing acreage, diversifying, cutting operating costs, or moving to town to operate a filling station.

Zeppelin Race Contest Interests Motorists

Much interest is being taken by customers of the Safety Tire Co., in the Zeppelin Race which this local firm has entered against other Goodyear tire dealers in the Brownwood territory. "Quite a number of our friends have been dropping in regularly or calling us up to find out where we stand to date," states Mr. Homer Duncum. "We are also holding a race between the people in our employ, each of whom has been assigned a miniature Zeppelin to fly. The rivalry is certainly keen."

"If our outfit lands in its squadron at the close of the national race, August 31st, it means an expense-paid trip for me to Akron, Ohio, where Goodyear builds Zeppelins as well as tires and other products. The boys are all anxious to win this honor for Brownwood and it is also gratifying to see the interest our friends and customers are taking in our success." Mr. Homer Duncum explained that for each tire or tube they sell they are credited with points which count as miles in covering the course over which the Zeppelins are supposed to be flying. This is the second Zeppelin contest Goodyear has held among its dealers. The race continues through July and August. In the contest last summer, Mr. Duncum's organization won a model Zeppelin and morning mast for exceeding the mark that was set for them.

Webb Discusses Prohibition In His Address Here

Dr. Attilus Webb of Dallas, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, spoke at the Central Methodist church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Report of his address has been received as follows:

"Dr. Webb laid emphasis upon the dangers facing prohibition and said that these dangers come not from the enemies of prohibition, but from its friends. He first warned the friends of prohibition against allowing the cause to become a political issue, using the term as 'partisan politics,' and that the enemies of prohibition are eager to make prohibition such a political issue, and added that to do so would mean the death knell of prohibition. He contended that it was for the church people, its best friends, a moral question only.

"Another warning was against the friends of prohibition growing tired and quitting, and he insisted that it was upon this basis mainly that the enemies of prohibition received encouragement to continue the fight. The speaker laid a good deal of emphasis upon 'being satisfied with too little.'

"You will hear some friends of prohibition say, 'we have the law, why continue the fight?' The speaker emphasized that the fight was not for the law, but against liquor and for sobriety; that sobriety is a state of sentiment and habit among the people and must be maintained by constant educational process.

"Speaking of the work of the Anti-Saloon League in its campaign for temperance and sobriety, he rather startled the audience when he said that the Anti-Saloon League, which sponsored the 18th Amendment, announced immediately upon its ratification that the 'existence of the World War put the 18th Amendment into the lap of the American people ten years before they were ready for it.' He explained this as meaning that the campaign of education for temperance carried on before the ratification of the 18th Amendment had lacked at least ten years being finished, and stated that the Anti-Saloon League was thoroughly cognizant of it at the time, and intended to keep up the educational campaign, but was defeated in this by the lethargy on the question that existed at the time. The league, he said, has resumed this educational campaign, and is utilizing the public schools and moving pictures and literature as extensively as the financial support of the league will permit."

The Eternal Turmoil
Women do not make men better; they bother them. That is nature; the law of God. Throughout the Bible one finds evidence of the natural friction between men and women. "Wives, obey your husbands," says the Good Book. It is also declared that women must keep silence in the churches; the old saints early had trouble with their women.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Jas. E. Ferguson Speaks to a Crowd of 2,500 to 3,000

Former Governor Jas. E. Ferguson spoke here Tuesday night to the largest crowd, by far, that has attended any political meeting in Brown county this year. Estimates made by several experienced observers who undertook to "size up" the crowd about the time the speaking was beginning, placed the number present at 2,500 to 3,000. This was also the estimate stated by Gib Callaway, who introduced the speaker, in his introductory address. Ferguson, however, when he arose to speak said that he wanted to correct Callaway in his estimate and declared that there were over 5,000 people present.

Ferguson spoke in the interest of his candidacy of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, for governor. He touched lightly on the candidates of other aspirants, generally, but vigorously attacked the Sterling road bond plan. Mrs. Ferguson was not present at the meeting, having been prevented from making the trip to Brownwood, as stated on the arrival of Mr. Ferguson in the city Tuesday morning.

From Courthouse Steps
The speaking was from the north steps of the courthouse. Loud speakers carried the speaker's voice to all parts of the square and street on that side of the building.

Ferguson was introduced by Gib Callaway of Brownwood, who said that it was the duty of the people to elect a governor every two years and this year there was plenty of material to select from. The first applause from the crowd was when Callaway said that there were several good men running for governor "and one good woman." He dismissed Ferguson's entrance into the political life of Texas sixteen years ago and the court ruling barring him from the ballot this year.

Mr. Ferguson said in the beginning that he had been denied the privilege of running for public office in Texas and that he was the only man in the United States who was denied that right. When the supreme court declared that he could not run, his wife decided to take up the fight, declaring Mr. Ferguson.

The passage of some laws that are needed by the state are the main times. The commission now has thirty-seven million dollars a year to spend on roads and anyone that would want more than that should not want to hold an office, declared Mr. Ferguson.

He maintained that as much road building could be done with the interest alone that would be paid on the $30,000,000 bond plan as were needed in the state.

If elected Mrs. Ferguson would also advocate a law against the running of any vehicle on the public roads that was wider than those generally used by the people, he continued. This would prevent the special privileges to some and lessen the rate of accidents. It would also help the railroads, which are the best friend the farmer has, declared Mr. Ferguson. The Ferguson's are strongly for the aiding of railroads and maintain that they are helping the farmers.

Would Pardon Convicts
Terminating himself as "Farmer Jim," he took up the discussion of the penitentiary system. He said Mrs. Ferguson would pardon 2,000 convicts now in Texas penitentiaries as soon as possible if elected. The way the system is at present the convicts can neither get in or out of the penitentiaries, continued Mr. Ferguson. He said that if the convicts had hopes of pardon they would work harder and act better. The state farms have been mismanaged, he declared, but could be put on a paying basis. Mr. Ferguson claims that with his help Mrs. Ferguson can put the penitentiary on a paying basis and make money for the state instead of losing money.

In closing Mr. Ferguson told the people to vote for Mrs. Ferguson if they thought she, with his help, could put over the laws which her platform advocates and if they think she will make a good governor. He said that the Ferguson's with their experience were offering the people two governors for the price of one.

Reduction Taxes
The reduction of taxes was especially stressed as a plank in Mrs. Ferguson's platform. Mr. Ferguson maintains that millions of dollars can be saved the state in the reduction of the salaries of county and state officials alone. He declared that the people are suffering from paying salaries to too many officials and from the inefficiency of some of the men who are paid high salaries. The offices of tax assessor and tax collector should be combined and thereby save every county in Texas $2,500 a year on that one item alone, he continued. Other offices can be combined in the same way. Another way of saving is in the depository plan and leaving the people's money in their own pockets until it is needed by the state, he said. Mr. Ferguson stated that seven million dollars could be saved in one year by the reduction of salaries, the depository plan and other similar moves.

The Ferguson platform also advocates the idea of Texas money in Texas banks. There is just as much money as ever but it is in the wrong place, said Mr. Ferguson.

JUDGES APPOINTED FOR TWO COUNTY CONTESTS DEMONSTRATION CLUBS
Mrs. Kent Hallum and Miss Sueella Clark will act as judges of the secretaries' books and the best all-around club women's contest, announces Miss Mayes Malone county home demonstration agent. Both contests are for members of home demonstration clubs in the county. The secretaries' books contest is for women who are acting as secretaries of the various clubs and the best club record contest is for any woman in the clubs of the county. Miss Malone said today that the contest would be judged at the winners announced as soon as possible. The winner in each contest receives a trip to the A. & M. short course.

Clubs represented in the secretaries' contest are Clear Creek, Center Point, Indian, Clark, May, Brooksmith, Concord, Zephyr, McDaniel, Grovesnor, Angel and the county club council secretary's book. This is a good representation of the clubs in the county, says Miss Malone. There are eighteen clubs in the county, but a club must have a year record before it is eligible and four of the clubs could not compete on that account. These clubs are Mukewater, Woodland Heights, Winchell and Salt Branch. Jones Chapel secretary won the contest last year and does not compete in this year's contest.

Judging of Books
The books will be judged on arrangement of the reports, content of reports, general make-up of book and other things.

The best all-around club woman contest is open for all women in the different clubs who have made a good record. The best two or three records from each club are selected by members of the clubs and sent in to the county contest. Miss Malone states that there has been good interest shown in this contest and almost every club has responded with records. This is the first year that this contest has been held in the county and the women are anxious to know who will be named as best all-around Brown county club woman.

The contest is judged on the basis of work done in poultry raising, gardening, dairying, clothing, food preparation, food preservation, home improvement, reports, club meeting attendance, interest in club work and other things.

The winners of these two contests will be the last woman in the county this year to be awarded trips to the short course. Several women have already been selected to represent the county through various contests.

AVERAGE DAILY ATTENDANCE IS 2233 FOR YEAR

Brownwood schools had a total enrollment of 3,053 last school term, according to a detailed report of the 1929-30 school term prepared by Superintendent E. J. Woodward recently for the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Many interesting things are shown in this report which gives details of all school records for one school term.

The actual enrollment was 3,053 and the average daily attendance was 2,233 which is 73 percent of the total enrollment. The enrollment for the 1929-30 school term was 3,140 and the enrollment for the 1927-28 term was 2,925.

The scholastic census for 1930-31 is taken recently is 3,350 which includes children from 5 years old to 17 years, inclusive. In this census here are 1,600 white boys and 1,586 white girls; 81 negro boys and 53 negro girls. This was the first year that 6-year-olds were included in the census and 269 of the total names are these 6-year-olds, explained Mr. Woodward. Without the 6 year old children the census would be 3,031 which is a small loss over the 1929-30 scholastic census.

Graduation Age Lower
104 students were graduated from the High School this year. Mr. Woodward states that the average age of the class was 16 years. In the class there were 16 students who were 15 years of age; 40 students who were 16 years old; 34 students who were 17 years old; ten students who were 18 years of age; 3 students who were 19 years old and 1 student who was 20 years old. The average age of the graduates from high schools seems to be becoming lower almost every year. This has been so for the past several years. In the 1924-25 term report the average age at graduation was 17 years and in the 1926-27 report the average was also 17 years.

Boys in Majority
Mr. Woodward says that the Brownwood school system is unusual in that there are always more boys enrolled in the school than there are girls. This is just the reverse of most school systems which enroll more girls in school than boys. A check of the enrollment of the last term showed there were 1,505 boys and 1,433 girls enrolled in the white schools. In the colored schools, however, there were 53 girls and 45 boys. As a general rule in the public schools of Brownwood the boys are in the majority. Brownwood seems to make a specialty in rearing boys, thinks Mr. Woodward.

Brownwood schools have a high average in the promotions each year. The number of promotions by grade the last term were: first grade, 171; second grade, 134; third grade, 166; fourth grade, 163; fifth grade, 164; sixth grade, 137; seventh grade, 145 and eighth grade, 127. The total promotions in the eighth grade was 1,197. The promotions cannot be reckoned after the eighth grade because students are not especially classified by grades after the eighth.

Average Salaries
The average salary paid to white teachers, principals and superintendents is $12,045. The average salary for the male teachers is $2,123 and the average salary for white female teachers is $1,119. The average annual salary for colored teachers is $765 with the average for male teachers $653 and the average for female teachers $540.

Total school properties are appraised at $456,700.

Annual average cost of instruction per pupil is estimated at $55.22 for white children and $28.79 for colored. This gives an average of $41.4 as cost of instructing pupils, white and colored for one year in Brownwood schools.

MAKING PLANS FOR REOPENING OF STATE BANK
The reorganization and reopening of the Brownwood State Bank, which closed its doors about three weeks ago, is being planned by some of the directors and stockholders of the institution, and satisfactory progress is being made according to Judge E. J. Miller, one of the directors.

Before leaving early Tuesday for Coleman to conduct court, Judge Miller told The Bulletin the reorganization plans were maturing rapidly, and that he and others associated with him in the enterprise believed the bank soon may be reopened as a going concern, with larger capital than formerly and with assurance that all depositors would be paid in full.

"We think we have a plan that will enable us to reopen the bank as a much stronger institution than ever before," Judge Miller said, "with all depositors fully protected and nobody taking a loss except those who have been stockholders. We expect to be able to conclude our arrangements within a few days, and would appreciate an announcement of this fact to the people of Brownwood and Brown county."

The bank now is in the hands of a representative of the State Banking Department.

To the Voters of Commissioners Precinct No. 2—

In getting my views before the people, I have this to say, since time is scarce, and it will be impossible for me to see all:

1st. My reason for coming into this race was because one of my worthy opponents said that I did not have the "integrity" and after I talked to my friends they said my principles were all right.

2nd. The reason I failed to get my name on the Primary Ballot was an oversight of mine as to the date of filing my application, but there is no law against the voters writing my name on the ticket when they go to the ballot and there is no law to keep me out of the "Run Off" if I am successful in the first primary.

3rd. I believe in "equal rights to all and special privileges to none." I believe that I know what the people want, and I think that I can do the "job" and am willing to let them be the judge.

4th. I believe in strict economy and am opposed to extravagance with the people's money, and I am opposed to placing too many burdens upon the laboring people; I believe in "cleaning the house and keeping the floors clean," and that I am capable of carrying out the "rubbish" with clean hands, if I am elected;

5th. I believe in laying up a dollar, and believe that the County Treasury should be guarded with real care.

6th. I believe that the present Commissioners Court is too small for the "job" for they have too much help from the outside to be able to find the hole in the "County Trough"—holes that should be found;

7th. I believe that a Commissioner should be governed by the wishes of the people, and not the people by him;

8th. I believe that I know what a day's work is, since I have worked under 6 different men, however I have not worked lately, because I was not on the "Payroll";

9th. I believe that the roads can be worked with teams at a saving of money to the county, and this money can be returned to the man who pays, and the money kept at home;

10th. In conclusion, I recommend "Scratching for the Itch, but Writing is better when choosing a man for County Commissioner," and am asking all my friends to be sure and remember to write my name on their ticket when they cast their ballot on Saturday, July 26th, 1930, and promise them all if elected that I will do my best to merit their support.

Thanking one and all for a fair consideration in this race, I am,

Yours Sincerely,

J. C. (Bunk) PLUMMER,
Candidate for Commissioner, Precinct No. 2.

VAUDEVILLE BY LOCAL ARTISTS ALSO PLANNED

Plans for entertainment for fair visitors on Brownwood day at the Brown County Fair were started in earnest this week and the committee in charge of arrangements for the day is busy with preliminary details. E. H. Minor was chosen chairman of the committee for the Brownwood Day entertainment at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The entertainment on that day will consist of the usual daily program in the afternoon including horse races and other attractions. Beginning at 8:15 o'clock a style show featuring style displays by the various merchants of Brownwood will be staged.

The style show will be in connection with vaudeville acts, dance numbers, songs and music. All by Brownwood artists who have made a reputation as entertainers. An orchestra will furnish music for the program and during the course of the evening a group of styles will be presented, then several entertainment numbers.

Special Lighting

The style show will be presented along a runway, 200 feet long, which will extend along the front of the grandstand and will be well lighted and will afford all visitors a chance to see the models and the clothing that they are featuring. The vaudeville acts will be presented from the platform in front of the grandstand.

The entire show will be well lighted, large spotlights and floodlights playing on the models during their parade. Amplifiers and loudspeakers will add to the attraction and will be wired into the grandstand so that every word said, every note played may easily be heard from any part of the grandstand at any time.

In the past at performances of this nature there has been a complaint of bad lighting and poor acoustics. It is said, but Mr. Minor said that today that special attention is to be paid this feature this year. He has chosen Stewart Hopper as part of his committee to assist in arranging the program for the day. All local stores will be asked to close at noon, the committee chairman said.

"In order to have people enjoy a style show or exhibition of this nature it is imperative that they be given good entertainment and a show that doesn't drag to an unendurable end. We are entering into the arrangements with this foremost in our minds and are planning to give a snappy program, intermingled with variety so that no one kind will become monotonous and the variety will be enough to furnish real entertainment and yet give every commercial institution a chance to display their wares.

Ask Aid of All

"We are soliciting the aid of every merchant in town and at present four have agreed to assist in any way possible to make the entertainment a success. We are going to use only Brownwood entertainment as we believe that on Brownwood Day only this kind of entertainment should be used. We have the talent here for real honest to goodness fun so why not utilize it instead of hiring someone else? A Brownwood Day should be Brownwood merchants' displays, entertainment during the intermission should be given for Brown county folks by Brownwood artists. We plan to make Friday, August 22nd, the gala day at the fair and are working with this in view," Mr. Minor concluded.

Inspector States Food Conditions Here Are Good

Mayor O. W. McDonald said this week that he had a conversation with T. J. Selman, State Pure Food Inspector, late Monday afternoon just prior to Mr. Selman's departure after spending a week in Brownwood inspecting all places which handle foods and drugs and that the inspector stated that the conditions here were better than in most towns of this size in Texas.

Mr. Selman inspected all downtown places, but because of the lack of time was not able to visit all the suburban stores, but told the mayor that the places that he visited with one exception were all clean and in good condition. He said that he had no complaint to make with the food conditions here and was satisfied with the sanitary way in which merchants and others handled food stuff.

COMMISSIONERS COURT MAKES ANSWER TO CAMPAIGN CHARGES

In a statement addressed "To the Citizens of Brown County," the County Commissioners Court has offered detailed answers to many criticisms which the court says have been unjustly made privately and publicly during the discussion of the present campaign. The statement, signed by all the members of the court, reads as follows: TO THE CITIZENS OF BROWN COUNTY: There has recently been launched a public and private attack on the Citizens of Brown County, which reflects on both the official and private integrity of the court, and each member thereof. We are reluctant to dignify such attacks by replying to the same, because they are in the main so patently unkind and untrue. But since they are being made publicly, and reported in the papers, we deem it but right to make a reply to some of said criticisms.

The charge has been made that we have sold bonds below the market price, and below the price received by other counties. We have sold three installments of bonds. The first sale was $300,000.00 of said bonds on February 15, 1929, the same date the bonds were issued, and at the earliest date said bonds could have been issued. We received $102.5% and accrued interest for said bonds, and not 97% as publicly charged.

Details of Sales The next sale we undertook to make was $550,000.00 on February 15th, 1930. We notified practically every reputable bond house in the United States of a total of $25, and in addition, advertised in the Daily Bond Buyer, the official paper of the bond world. When we advertised for the sale of the bonds, it looked as if the bond market was improving, but some ten days before the date of sale, the bond market took a slump. On the date of the sale, many bond representatives were present, but the highest bid offered was 97 cents. We promptly rejected all bids, and called a change with leading banks and other business men of the county. After said conference, we took the matter up with the bond representatives, and were finally offered 97 1/2%, and accrued interest for $550,000.00 of such bonds. We were unable to get a better price than this, and we accepted the offer, rather than delay the work and take chances on a better price. Later, we were offered 97 and accrued interest for $200,000.00 of said bonds, and we sold them. This makes a total of $850,000.00 of said bonds we have sold, for which we have received $890,326.41. Thus you see the three sales average par and accrued interest. In view of the present financial stringency and scarcity of money, we feel that we have handled the matter efficiently. We have certainly acted openly and publicly, and have sought the advice of the citizens of the county most able to advise in financial matters. We were unable to get a better price than has been received by other counties during the same period.

Road Program The charge has also been made that the Commissioners' Court made no progress on the road program. In reply to this charge, we submit to the people that approximately three-fourths of the $600,000.00 lateral road program is finished; and bearing in mind that it has only been seventeen and one-half months since the bonds were issued, or could be issued, we believe that this work has been done as rapidly as economy and efficiency would permit. We expect to have the lateral road program practically finished by January 1st, 1931. If we had undertaken to do the work in a shorter time, we would necessarily have been forced to invest in more machinery, and it was the aim of the court to finish the program with a minimum of machinery and equipment, and leave a normal amount of equipment not worn out at the end of the road program.

We have also been charged with being extravagant with the county's money, and the statement has been made that the tax renditions have increased 62 per cent, and the expenses of the county practically the same, except the salary of the auditor, and we have nothing to show for it. In the first place, the expenses of the county have necessarily increased materially in the last five years. The board bills for prisoners have increased three or four thousand dollars. The records in the County Clerk's office

HOOVER WILL TAKE NO STEP IN WHEAT ROW

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—President Hoover is leaving the situation created by the slump in wheat prices to the Federal Farm Board. He intends to take no action, it is announced at the White House, beyond conferring with Chairman Legge and other members of the board as occasion demands. The president was represented as feeling the board was created by Congress and its members confirmed the purpose of dealing with agricultural crises, and that action should be left to them.

The board was hopeful today that the demand of Samuel R. McKelvie, member representing wheat, for lower bread prices would have a beneficial effect upon the wheat market. A cut in the retail price of wheat, McKelvie asserted, would serve to stimulate consumption, with the latter factor reflected in an increased price for wheat.

Today was the first anniversary of the board's initial meeting. Out of its authorized $500,000,000 revolving fund, it invested during the year $195,000,000 in loans to cooperatives, of which $40,000,000 has been repaid. The $195,000,000 sum included the board's advances to the grain stabilization corporation with which the corporation made large purchases of wheat in both the spot and futures market.

Some 2,000,000 bushels of wheat were put back into the market last week, with the announcement an identical quantity of the 1930 crop was being purchased to offset the release of this grain. Throughout the year the board has been the target of much adverse criticism from members of Congress and others, with its dealings in the grain market the basis of a particularly vigorous attack. It has been staunchly defended by friends of the administration.

Bexar Co. Negroes Begin Efforts to Vote in Primary

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 15.—(AP)—Bexar county negroes have begun an effort to obtain the right to vote in the Democratic primary July 26, it became known today with the serving of a subpoena on John K. Weber, chairman of the Bexar county democratic executive committee, to answer a suit filed in El Paso before federal judge Charles A. Boynton. The suit was filed by Luther Wiley, a San Antonio negro. He seeks an injunction restraining Governor Moody, Attorney General Bobbitt and D. W. Wilcox, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, from enforcing the "white man's primary" law which allows the state committee to determine the qualification of the voters in the primary.

Under a ruling of the state committee negroes are barred from participation in the coming primary as has been the case in the past. Weber said he believed the suit was brought because of a recent United States Circuit Court opinion holding that a Virginia primary law similar to the one in Texas has been held unconstitutional.

ADV. CAMPAIGN 'TO EAT MORE LAMB' STARTED

LOGAN, Utah, July 15.—(AP)—Plans for a national advertising campaign involving the expenditure of $400,000 in an effort to increase the consumption of lamb meat were presented to the Utah Wool Growers' Association here today by F. R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association. This sum, to be raised from wool growers of the 12 western range states, including Texas, would be levied at the rate of 1 1/2 cents for each sheep they own. It is planned to use it in advertising in newspaper, magazines and by radio, and in educational and demonstration work before audiences of housewives and retail meat dealers.

"The new program is altogether bigger and different than anything that has ever been attempted by organized wool growers," Mr. Marshall said. "The present conditions and prospects make such an undertaking extremely necessary."

He estimated that the increased duty on wool will be worth at least 10 cents on the average fleece grown in the United States; that on lamb to 2 1/2 cents a fleece, and the increased duty on lamb to about 75 cents per ewe. "Had your representatives not been on the ground at Washington, immediately after the appointment of the Federal Farm Board," he continued, "and insisted upon consideration for wool marketing, there would have been a different story to tell about the selling of our 1930 clips. Unsatisfactory as were the prices we received, it is freely conceded by our bankers that the buying and loaning prices on this year's wool were at least 4 cents per pound above what they would have been in the absence from the field of the National Wool Marketing Corporation."

COUNTY TREASURER

It's The Vote

It is the duty of the voters of Brown County to place in the offices those candidates who are best qualified. It is their duty to vote, to vote intelligently, and to vote for the best man.

Many candidates are presenting their claims for the consideration of the voter and you fully inquire into their qualification and that you give them your support before casting your vote, and, in the case of each, if you find that they merit your vote.

Only a few more days remain before the primary election. Many voters have not yet voted, and whose qualifications they are familiar with. In cases like this, it is the duty of the voter to let the special fitness for the office be known.

Some are asking for re-election to office. They have their public record to be judged. Others, who have not been in office, have records of service in other lines of duty.

The BANNER-BULLETIN is glad to present the names of various candidates for the voters, and it commends them to the very careful consideration of the voters who will give careful attention to the business entrusted to the duties of their office.

To The Voters of Brown County

It has been my purpose to canvass the entire county but on account of illness in my family, I have been unable to call on each of you personally. Hence I am using this means to solicit your vote and influence in electing me to the office.

My past 12 years record as your TAX COLLECTOR, is proof enough that I am able to handle the affairs of COUNTY JUDGE very promptly and efficiently.

I elected to this very important office, I promise UPON MY WORD OF HONOR to give the public a fair, honest and impartial law enforcement with courtesy to all.

For the benefit of the voters of Brown county, and all concerned, I promise to see that better roads voted for in Brown county, will be carried out, according to promises, made, and that work on these roads will be carried to an early completion. Some 22 months have elapsed since these road bonds were voted and you know what has been done. The money is now available to carry on the work and I will see to it that improvements start at once on all lateral roads.

At this time, unemployment throughout the country totals a large number, and with the work on better roads to begin in the near future will endeavor to give every able-bodied Brown county man, who will, a chance for employment on the road work, and relieve the situation of the unemployed.

I am for a better county, better roads, and to give those who are out of work, have families to support, something to do, and make a better county for all of us to live in.

The good common sense and experience that I have had does not require the experience of a lawyer to hold this office. I have a law library to refer to, which will give me the information necessary to say which is right and which is wrong.

Let Me Have Your VOTE and INFLUENCE at the polls, Saturday, July 26th.
