

Excessive speed draws action by Muenster City Council

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster City Council took action at Monday night's meeting to cut back on excessive speed in residential and busy areas of the City. At the suggestion of Street Commissioner Greg Bohl, stop signs will be installed at four intersections in the City. This is one of several solutions suggested and is an experiment to see what might work best.

Bohl remarked that there are some streets that people run pretty fast on. He noted Oak, Walnut, and Pecan are three streets with heavy traffic and drivers going too fast. There were also complaints of other problems at the intersections in Muenster.

A straw poll taken by Bohl on public opinion showed that the majority felt stop signs were a good idea and some said that stop signs would not change things. There were some suggestions that certain streets need four way stop signs rather than two way signage.

Bohl and City Administrator Stan Endres looked up all of the unmarked intersections within the City and found that there were about 94. Endres estimated the cost of stop signs to be between $28.90 and $55.30.

Alderman Pat Stelzer added, "I've had seven or eight people express their concern about the speed on north-south streets. I heard one negative comment about placing four-way stop signs, particularly around the KC Hall." He said that Pecan Street was pointed out as being a problem area.

Alderman Jewel Otto noted that she lives on Pecan Street and doesn't see a problem with speed. Stelzer said that there is a big dip in the street in front of her home, and that further south he was told is a speedway.

Resident Craig Stoffels commented, "I live on Second and Pecan and people are going 45 m.p.h. going north and south there."

Otto said that an intersection near the Post Office is possibly one of the most dangerous in the City. Bohl agreed that people don't know what to do there.

"If we have this problem with speeding, why don't the officers give a few tickets? If they gave a few tickets to people speeding on the streets, people would learn to slow down," commented Otto. Stelzer noted that they could not patrol 24-7, seven days a week.

Stelzer said, "The problem with stop signs is that we have to stop at them and they are inconvenient. So, what we are talking about here is are we going to go for convenience or safety. I maintain that stop signs are more of a safety factor."

The possibility of holding a public hearing for input from residents was considered. It could be held prior to the October regular meeting.

Following more discussion, the Council voted to start slow by placing four-way stop signs at the intersections of Second and Oak, Second and Walnut, Second and Pecan, and Second and Elm.

With nobody present voicing any opinion on the proposed tax rate of $0.34 per $100 property valuation, the City Council unanimously adopted that rate. The rate is the same as last year and would increase total taxes in the City of Muenster by less than 1% or $1,202.

The general budget approved by the Council was for $1,202,252 expenses and the same amount for income. The water and sewer budget was for income of $378,000 and expense of $362,725.

Doug Hermes of the Muenster Jaycees requested permission to install a new batting machine at the new ball park. He inquired as to the City's wishes in regard to the machine and its operation.

"My concern would be the

Welcome rains hit area

The summer's drought broke last week when slow, steady rain began to fall. It rained off and on for almost a week. Athletes, such as above the Muenster Hornets at Millsap, performed in downpours, garage sales went on despite the damp conditions, and people were happy to see the needed moisture. Reports of up to eight inches were heard.

Taser purchase approved for County Sheriff Office

By Janet Felderhoff

Cooke County Sheriff Mike Compton approached Commissioners Court to request two budget amendments to his 2008-09 budget. He hoped to purchase 15 tasers for the patrol deputies.

"The tasers would allow us to put in place a less than lethal force option that can protect the deputies themselves and keep injuries from suspects," noted Sheriff Compton. "It has been proven in numerous cases to be a very useful tool to use in order to control a situation."

The cost of the tasers is $815 each. They wish to purchase 42 training cartridges at $18 each, 14 batteries at $45 each, a USB data port, and 76 replacement cartridges. The total cost would be $16,000. That amount would be moved from fuel to equipment. Commissioners Court approved the request.

Sheriff Compton's second request was for a budget amendment of $15,000 that would move unused money from the fuel fund to the extra help. He said fuel costs were less than anticipated and he needed to move the line items so that he could pay investigators for overtime. The $15,000 budget amendment was approved.

Also approved for the Sheriff Office was a request to purchase two Crown Victoria patrol cars fully equipped at a cost of $27,000 each and an SUV at a cost of $28,000 from HGAC. Delivery of the vehicles would be in 2010 and the cost taken from the Sheriff's 2010 budget.

Cooke County agreed to two contracts with the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT). They are in regard to the acquisition of, utility adjustments, and relocation assistance.

MMH has hearings on '09 proposed tax rate

By Janet Felderhoff
Nobody appeared at the public hearings on the proposed tax rate held on Tuesday, Sept. 8 and Tuesday, Sept. 15 by the Muenster Hospital District's Board of Directors. The proposed rate is $0.1678 per $100 of taxable value. According to the Cooke County Appraisal District if adopted, the amount of taxes imposed this year on the average home would be $198.41. The average taxable value of a residence homestead in Muenster Hospital District this year is $118,240.

At the Sept. 8 meeting, roofing consultant Pat Hickory reported to the Board his findings on the condition of the Hospital's roof. He showed a model of what the present roof looks like and told what his recommendations were to repair it. Since the roof was not an action item on the agenda, no decisions were made.

Board members heard a presentation by interior designer Cheryl Zreet at the Sept. 15 meeting. The Board stressed that any flooring material used in the new addition be of a non slip material. Most people using it will have had some type of knee or hip surgery or a condition that requires use of a cane or crutches, they noted. The new addition will be for rehabilitative therapy.

A vote to set the tax rate will take place at the 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22 regular Board meeting.

Muenster VFD takes on water to fight brush fire

Muenster Volunteer Fire Department responded to a fire about eight miles south of Muenster last Wednesday. Fire Chief Herbie Knabe said about 10 acres burned on property on the west side of FM 373. He said it was caused by a control burn of a 100' by 100' patch that was burned by a government service as an experiment. They burned the patch this year and will return next year to see what impact the fire had. This one reignited and was reported by Carl and Marylee Alford. The Muenster VFD ran out of water and the Alford's offered water from their lake to replenish the pump truck's supply. Courtesy photo

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Dear Scott,
My Aunt Agnes Klement will be 101 on Oct. 8. She really doesn't like being in the "lime-light," but I am hoping that people will read this letter, and send her a birthday card. My goal is to get at least 101 people to honor her with a simple birthday card or a letter. She doesn't like to be "fussed over," but she truly enjoys getting letters and cards in the mail. Her address is: Agnes Klement, 1050 N. Maple St., Muenster, TX 76252.
I know you need to run this right away, and I, also, know that she will read it, but that will be okay! You see, I am doubly blessed with Aunt Agnes. She is my aunt by marriage, and she is the mother of my sister-in-law, Norma Cain Scott, so she is very, very special to me!

To the Editor,

I sometimes wonder if people realize how badly our country needs health-care reform, not just for humanitarian reasons, but for our industries to remain competitive without sending jobs overseas. And how many people who would like to start businesses remain stuck in jobs they don't like because they can't afford to lose their employer-provided health care? That seems un-American. The subject of health care needs rational discussion instead of the current shouting match and blizzard of lies.

For example, I frequently hear that we have to make sure that we don't get a health-care system similar to Canada's, where people have long waits for medical care and sometimes even die while waiting for treatment. That conflicts with other accounts I have read of Canadian health care, so I wrote to a former coworker who has relatives in Canada, to learn what they say about it. Here is her reply:
"I have a number of relatives who live in Canada: my sister, half brother and sister, and their spouses and adult children. My 82-year-old stepmother lives there, too. They are relatively happy with their medical care, although it has gotten more expensive over the years and no longer covers vision and dental. They also pay extra

There is one thing better than good government, and that is government in which all the people have a part.

for drugs, although their drug costs are lower than ours. Some of my relatives buy private insurance to add to the public insurance.

"None of them have ever been denied care, nor have they waited in long lines for care. When they need to see a doctor, they can do so."

One fact she didn't mention is that Canada spends half as much per citizen as we do for health care. Seems like we might want to take an objective look at what they're doing. Since we're spending twice as much as they are, our system should be twice as good. Is it?

Yours,

Sales tax in Texas down

Comptroller Susan Combs announced that $544 million in August sales tax allocations had been sent to local governments, 6.8% less than what was sent in August 2008. So far this calendar year, sales tax allocations to local governments are down 2.2% compared to this time last year.

Combs sent sales tax payments of $367.4 million to Texas cities, down 6.5% compared to last August. Calendar year-to-date, city sales tax revenues trail 2008 by 2.3%. Sales tax payments of $33.8 million went to Texas counties, 4.2% below last August. So far in calendar year 2009, county sales tax allocations are up 0.2% compared to last year.

In addition, $21.2 million in sales tax revenue went

In the Service

Dustin Michael Dieter completed Army Ranger Training and graduated on Aug. 28 at Fort Benning, Georgia. Dustin's parents Jeff and Melinda Dieter, and grandmother Joan Bezner of Lindsay attended his graduation, along with his fiancée, Christin Bayer and daughter Alexis of Plano. Christin's parents, Chris and Janet Bayer of Valley View, attended as well. Dustin is a 2nd Lieutenant in the 82nd Airborne Division of the U.S. Army stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

The Ranger Course Dustin completed, develops the combat arms-related functional skills of officers who are eligible for assignment to units whose primary mission is to engage in the close combat direct fire battle.

Practical experience is gained in the application of the tactics and techniques of Ranger operations in rolling, wooded, mountainous, and jungle/swamp environments. Emphasis is placed on the development of individual leadership abilities through the application of the principles of leadership, while further developing military skills in planning and conducting of dismounted infantry, airborne, airmobile, amphibious, and independent squad and platoon-sized operations.

The Ranger Course is 61 days in length with an average of 19 hours of training each day, seven days a week. It is divided into three phases: the Benning Phase, conducted at Camp Rogers and Camp Darby, Fort Benning, Georgia; the Mountain Phase, conducted at Camp Frank D. Merrill near Dahlonega, Georgia; and the Florida Phase, conducted at Camp James E. Rudder, Eglin Air Force Base, Florida.

The emphasis during the course on practical, realistic, and strenuous field work is based on current doctrine. Fatigue, hunger, the necessity for quick, sound decisions, and the requirement for demonstrating calm, forceful leadership under conditions of mental and emotional stress are all contained in the Ranger Course.

The instruction is conducted with units varying in size from an infantry rifle squad to a rifle platoon. The qualified Ranger leader is trained as a small-unit leader in a series of field training exercises conducted primarily at night, under any prevailing weather condition.

A Walk For Memories - Sept. 21 is National Alzheimer's Awareness Day

Every 70 seconds someone develops Alzheimer's disease. This may seem like an astonishing number, but when you begin to talk to people about Alzheimer's, you quickly realize that almost everyone has been affected by the disease in some manner. Many of us have loved ones who have suffered from this disease and, unfortunately, at this point in time there is no cure.

Alzheimer's is a progressive and fatal brain disease and nearly 5.3 million Americans are currently living with this diagnosis and trying to learn to cope with its existence. Alzheimer's destroys brain cells, which causes problems with memory, thinking, and behavior. The symptoms become worse over time and eventually lead to death.

Now is a particularly important time for Alzheimer's research, as nearly 78 million baby boomers are approaching the age of greatest risk for developing this fatal brain disease. Today, Alzheimer's is the 7th leading cause of death in the United States and is the most common form of dementia, yet funding for the research of this disease is not adequate to meet research needs, to continue to identify new treatments and to find a cure for this devastating diagnosis. That is why the Alzheimer's Association has enlisted the help of the public to raise money for the cause by promoting Memory Walk.

Memory Walk is a national event that began in 1989 to help raise money for the research of Alzheimer's disease. It is currently the largest nationwide fundraiser for this cause and it is growing.

This year, Memory Walk's goal is to enroll 30,000 teams nationwide and earn as much money as possible to really make a difference in the lives of those suffering from Alzheimer's Disease.

If you wish to make a difference, please visit the Alzheimer's Association Website at www.alz.org/memorywalk to learn more about the walk. You can also contact Kristen Knauf at 512-638-7185 for more information or visit Kristen's personal website at <http://memorywalk09.kintera.org/dallas/knknau/> to join the team or make a donation.

The Alzheimer's Association is also a great resource for family members who are struggling with the task of caring for loved ones who suffer from Alzheimer's disease and a wealth of information is available on their website as well at www.alz.org

PITCHING

danger of someone getting injured," remarked Muenster Mayor John Pagel. "I wouldn't want it where some kids could decide we are going to play ball this afternoon, ride down there, and start operating the pitching machine and throw rocks instead of balls. There needs to be some type of adult supervision."

Administrator Endres said that the Park Board had discussed it and also wanted adult supervision at all times of operation. They had no preference as far as the machine being coin or token operated or free.

Hermes said it could be operated with a keyless pad like the door to the concession stand. The batting machine will be under a building for protection from the weather and could be locked up.

With safety being the priority, the Council voted unanimously to endorse the installation of the pitching machine at the baseball park with the proper signage that goes with it specifying who can use it, the need for safety equipment, and an approved coach or adult supervision there at all times (of use).

In his Administrator report, Endres noted that Calvert Paving has begun work on Cedar Street and Cherry Lane. Rain has slowed the work, but he expects it to be done before the end of the month.

An old sewer line between Maple and Willow Streets was replaced since it was found to be corroded out.

The City swimming pool lost money this year, said Endres. Major repairs were made to the pool and its opening delayed by a week. He estimated being about $12,000 in the whole on the facility's operation. That is not a hole lot worse than a lot of years, he said.

The City is still short on police officers. Police Chief Bob Stovall is the only officer on the force at this time. There were seven applicants for the two openings. Background checks have been done and two were interviewed. Endres said that he hoped to set up a couple more interviews and make a decision soon.

In other business conducted at the Sept. 14 meeting, the City Council:

- Heard report from Administrator Endres that City water well #8 has passed all tests and would be approved by TCEQ. Water well #5 is down and will be worked on this week.

- Reviewed draft by Endres on proposed agreement with the Muenster Water District for use of City employees and equipment. The equipment cost was taken from FEMA's reimbursement schedule and labor was at 130% of salary to allow for expenses such as federal withholdings and insurance.

- Approved contracting with Steve Gilland for auditing services for FY 2009.

- Opened sole bid for curbing project on East Fourth Street submitted by Dangelmayr Construction Company. One property owner asked to do his own curbing and the City agreed provided it was done within the City's schedule. Another asked at the meeting to be allowed to do his own, but wasn't sure he could meet the time frame. The Council voted to accept the Dangelmayr bid, but to allow property owners to do their own curbing if it is done by Dec. 1, 2009 and done according to the City's specs and design.

- Approved Cooke County Appraisal District Budget and charge for appraisal $5,215.59 and collection $1,452.09.

- Took no action on possibly abandoning and sale of part of Willow Street between Hillside Drive and Eddy Street. It is outside the City limits, but within the ETJ. Two parties, Josh Luke and Craig Stoffels, purchasing two and three acres of a five acre parcel in that subdivision, would like to have the 60' easement designed for a road closed so that they could make it part of their yards. The Council was not sure if it was their decision to make or that of the County. The City attorney is investigating.

- Approved monthly bills totaling $220,433.33. About $100,000 of that was payment on the new #8 water well.

Muenster KC Centennial News

By Dan Hamric
Centennial publicity
chairman

As you are aware from the first article in the Aug. 21 issue of the Muenster Enterprise, 2010 marks the 100th year of the Knights of Columbus Council #1459 in Muenster. The following article will attempt to give you the background and early years of the local Council and some of its charter members and past Grand Knights (GK).

A few local men who had moved to Muenster had been members of the KCs in other towns. But travel in the early 1900s proved to be a big draw-back for them to attend meetings. So in 1909, the wheels started turning to form a council right here in Muenster. Led by the local members and interested new prospects, 45 men applied for and received their own charter for Council #1459 on Jan. 16, 1910. The sponsoring council, all done by mail, believe it or not, was not the Gainesville Council, but Council #1422 in Marshall, Texas. Thus began the birth of the oldest service club in the young community of Muenster, Texas.

With no place to meet, the local pastor, Rev. Bernard Zell, allowed the members to meet in the balcony of the Parish Hall. Three years later, the young group purchased the "Park Hotel" at the corner of what is now Main Street and Hwy. 82. They did several "face lift" jobs on the old hotel and met there until the new and present building was completed in June of 1935.

The Silver Jubilee and grand opening of the new KC Hall was the biggest event to that date in Muenster. Fr. Frowin Koerdert officiated the ceremony that saw hundreds of people including county and state officials as well as the state and district KC officials. The building is still a prominent gathering place and is home to many other clubs including Catholic Daughters, Boy Scouts, and more.

From the beginning, with those original 45 charter members, the Council now boasts a membership of over 250 Knights and has been active in the community since Jan. 16, 1910.

The following paragraphs will focus on the leadership of Council #1459 where you will see they were also the leaders in Muenster.

The charter member and first Grand Knight was a gentleman by the name of J.P. Fisch. He served two terms as GK in 1910 and 1913. Born the oldest of 12 children in Paris, France, he didn't arrive in Muenster until he was in his early 50s. A cabinet and furniture maker by trade, he was very civic minded and was active in Muenster until his death in 1943.

John W. Meurer (GK 1914) was born in St. Louis, Missouri in 1874. The second oldest of 12 kids arrived in Muenster in 1890 and soon became the benchmark for businessmen in Muenster. His general delivery service and ice house service at the ripe old age of 20 propelled him into countless other endeavors. He later was co-founder of the Muenster State Bank, where he was president and CEO. He formed and was the first president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce. He died in late 1941.

John Fette (GK 1915) was born in Iowa in 1874. He was a farmer and rancher raising the "new" Hereford cattle breed and later served as a very successful County commissioner who made great strides improving County (country) roads. Mr. Fette died in 1952.

Gus Hellman (GK 1916 and 1917) was also born in Iowa in 1911. Gus was always primarily a farmer, but a farmer with vision, as he became the first to implement modern heavy farming equipment into his operation. Other firsts for Gus were to generate his own electricity at home, first chairman of the Rural Electric Association which provided electricity for people out in the country, first chairman of the rural telephone line project, and first president of the FMA (Farm to Market Association). Gus passed on in 1952.

Bernard Luke (GK 1918 and 1919) was born in Missouri in 1888. Upon arriving in Muenster in his early teens, his first job, other than helping on the farm, was carrying the mail. When he retired in 1958, he was Honored Employee of the National Convention of Postal Workers in Des Moines, Iowa for 50 years at the same job in Muenster, Texas. Ben died in 1966.

We are pleased that Janice Vogel Browning of Zionsville, Indiana donated the 1994 T-shirt that we needed to complete the Fun Run quilt.

Meinrad Endres (GK 1920-1921-1922) was born in Wisconsin in 1883. For years, he was the local grocery man and ran a dry goods store also, so everyone knew Meinrad if they bought food, staples, or long handles. He served as mayor and was the driving force that landed Muenster paved streets and the city water system. Gone in 1943 at the age of 59.

The next pioneer was Henry Hennigan, who has the distinction of holding the office of Grand Knight the longest. He held the gavel in 1925, 1926, 1936, 1937, and 1938. Born in Kansas in 1896, he would in this day and time be known as the "Car Czar" of Muenster. In 1916, he hired on as a mechanic for Frank Seyler Motor Co., and from there on it was only up, up, and up. He owned several dealerships and was the premier car man in the area. It was also through Henry's foresight that Muenster was incorporated and moved from a quaint little settlement to a bustling town. The "Tin University" was Henry's legacy. He chaired the committee from start to finish in the project that allowed Sacred Heart High School students to complete a four year high school career instead of just the two-year program that had been in place for years. He met his Maker in 1977.

In closing this chapter, I would ask anyone in the community who may have pictures, items, or even stories, to share them with me or Coach Jon. He will copy memorabilia, and return it ASAP. You all know Coach Jon can be reached at SHHS.

We are pleased that Janice Vogel Browning of Zionsville, Indiana donated the 1994 T-shirt that we needed to complete the Fun Run quilt.

New Homestead Exemption offers relief for disabled vets

By Susan Combs
Texas Comptroller
Texas state government is doing the right thing by offering a new tax exemption to a group that truly deserves our respect: disabled U.S. military veterans.

Veterans who meet the highest threshold of qualifications will be exempt from paying any property taxes on their homesteads. To qualify for a full exemption, veterans must be classified by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) as being unemployable or having a 100% disability rating. Veterans must also have received 100% disability compensation from the VA. Veterans wishing to claim the exemption can begin the process by contacting their county appraisal districts.

House Bill 3613 from the 81st Texas Legislature allows the complete property tax exemption, which is effective for 2009 and onward.

The law, however, does not allow the surviving spouse of eligible veterans to receive the homestead exemption. Surviving spouses do remain eligible for the exemptions for people with disabilities and for people age 65 and older.

Another exemption is also available for disabled veterans, including those classified by the VA as less than 100% disabled and those qualified for the full homestead property tax exemption. Beginning at a 10% VA disability rating, a veteran can get an exemption of $5,000 to $12,000 for any one property he or she owns. For veterans receiving the full homestead property tax exemption, the additional exemption could be applied to non-homestead property.

If you or someone you know is a disabled veteran living in Texas, please learn all you can about this important property tax exemption.

Try a bleach bath for eczema relief

New research is now validating the age-old practice of adding a capful of bleach to bathwater in order to help relieve itchy symptoms of eczema.

"We have advised our patients of this simple, cost-effective practice for years. But recent research has now confirmed the benefits of diluted bleach baths for patients with atopic dermatitis. The bleach kills bacteria such as staph/MRSA [methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus] that plague our patients with eczema," said Dr. Kent Aftergut, clinical assistant professor of dermatology at UT Southwestern Medical Center.

Dr. Aftergut points out that studies have shown that up to 90% of patients with eczema carry staph bacteria on their skin. The bleach works by killing the staph through a mechanism that the bacteria cannot become resistant to.

Dr. Aftergut suggests starting with a capful of bleach added to an entire bath, and no more than a quarter cup of bleach for a standardized bathtub. He has patients soak in this twice a week for at least 15 minutes.

An occasional bath with a capful of bleach added may also be useful for limiting staph infections for others such as athletes and those who frequent gyms, Dr. Af-tergut said; however, consulting a physician before starting a bleach-bath regimen might help avoid harmful reactions.

"Staph/MRSA are becoming more of a problem with so many patients. Special antibacterial washes and oral antibiotics can all breed resistance. We feel more comfortable recommending the dilute bleach baths knowing that the practice will not produce more staph resistance," Dr. Aftergut said.

What birdseed is best?

In most areas, black-oil sunflower seed attracts the greatest variety of birds. It has a high meat-to-shell ratio and a high fat content. It's small and thin-shelled, making it easy for small birds, such as the Tufted Titmouse, to handle and crack. Striped sunflower seeds are larger with thicker seed coats.

Although sunflower seeds are the all-round favorite, particularly for tree-dwelling birds, some birds prefer different foods. Blackbirds relish corn; doves, like many ground-feeding birds, prefer white millet or red milo.

Beware of commercial seed mixes. They're often a blend of sunflower seeds plus a high proportion of less appealing "filler" such as millet, oats, wheat, flax, buckwheat seeds, and red milo. These mixes can be wasteful because the birds pick out the prized sunflower seeds and leave the rest. Instead, try making your own birdseed mix. Pour about 25 pounds of black-oil sunflower seed, 10-pounds of white proso millet, and 10 pounds of cracked corn into a clean trash can. Then use a broom handle to mix it up.

If you buy a lot of seed, keep it in a dry, cool place, in a rodent-proof, metal can. Check the seed often for mold. Throw out any seed that is questionable.

Tigers sunk in 36-0 loss

Muenster meets Millsap in muddy mix-up match

The rain came and lighting lit up the sky. Muenster traveled to Millsap last Friday to take on the 2A Bulldogs. The rainy, wet conditions played a key role in the outcome of the game with 11 turnovers, two costing Muenster points. Long runs had the Hornets in the lead at halftime, but mistakes gave the game to Millsap, 22-12.

"It was a tough game in tough conditions against a good solid 2A program," commented Coach Allen Cross. "We made too many mistakes. Our offense gave up points, and they (Millsap) had a better 2nd half." The Hornets were inside the 40 five times and didn't score.

The game opened in Muenster's favor when Jason Luke returned the opening kick 82 yards for 6 points. The extra points pass attempt failed for a 6-0 score.

The Bulldogs got in a few runs before Muenster's defense stopped a 4th and 22 run. Two plays later, Millsap picked off a Hornet pass. A Bulldog drive of 11 plays ended when Andy Flusche caused a fumble and recovered the ball on the Dogs' 27 yard line.

Muenster got in a 7 yard pass play from Levi Trubench to Luke and a 9 yard Trubench run before losing possession to a fumble. The next play, Millsap scored on a 45 yard pass play. The PAT was good and the Bulldogs took a 7-6 lead with 1:21 remaining in the 1st quarter.

Starting on their 20 yard line, the Hornets mixed runs and passes for 10 plays to get to the Dogs' 6 yard line. A 4th and 2 run failed and Millsap took over on the 8. After five plays, the Hornets covered a loose ball on the Millsap 27. A penalty and incomplete passes were followed by another Hornet fumble.

Millsap got in six runs, fumbling near midfield. Dalton Koelzer picked up the loose ball and returned it 6 yards. After two unsuccessful runs, Trubench connected a pass to Luke for a 66 yard touchdown play. The PAT failed and the Hornets took a 12-7 lead with 2:30 remaining in the 2nd period. Millsap's offense played out the clock to halftime.

Both teams got in good drives the 3rd period, with no scores. Koelzer covered a fumbled ball on a punt return.

After stopping Millsap on the 1 yard line, a fumbled ball was covered by the Dogs for a touchdown. The PAT gave Millsap a 14-12 lead with 11:53 remaining in the game.

The Hornets got in 11 plays before running out of downs. The Bulldogs threatened to score, but a fumbled ball was covered by Tyler Anderle on the Hornet 12 yard line.

Muenster gained only 2 yards. A 3rd down incomplete pass was called for intentional grounding. A 14 yard penalty gave Millsap a 2 point safety and a 16-12 lead with 4:25 on the clock.

After the free kick, the Bulldogs started their next drive near midfield, taking six plays to score 6 points. The PAT failed for a 22-12 score with 1:32 remaining in the game.

Muenster completed a couple of passes as time ticked off the clock.

Coach Cross hopes to get back on the winning track this Friday night, as the Hornets return home to host the Pirates of Petrolia. Petrolia is 0-3, with close losses to Sacred Heart and Alvord, and a 49-22 loss to Henrietta last week.

"It should be a good 1-A school match-up," said Cross. "Petrolia is very aggressive on defense with a very multiple offense." The Hornets continue to work on fundamentals in preparation for District.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Hornet Stadium.

Go Red!

It was a long ride home Friday night for the Sacred Heart Tigers after a 36-0 loss to the Pirates of Collinsville. "I give all the credit to Coach Danny David and the Collinsville Pirates," said Sacred Heart Coach Dale Schilling. "They just physically whipped us from every aspect of the game."

The Tiger offense struggled, gaining only 17 yards on the ground and 51 in the air for only six 1st downs. Two interceptions and a fumble added to their troubles. Coach Schilling noted that the field was soggy, but not a drop of rain fell the entire game, so that cannot be used as an excuse.

The Tigers took the opening kick, gained 6 yards and punted. Two Pirate plays later, Collinsville was on the board, scoring on a 76 yard run. The PAT kick gave a 7-0 score with 9:52 still on the clock.

Two runs by Clay Hogan and a flag gave Sacred Heart a 1st down. After losing ground, the Tigers punted again. Two snaps and Collinsville had a 14-0 lead at the 6:50 tick.

A quick fumble kept a Tiger drive from ever starting. The Pirates got to the Tiger 4 yard line before the Sacred Heart defense stopped the scoring threat.

Several Matt Hesse runs and a flag got Sacred Heart to the 22 before having to punt.

An illegal block and tackles by Alex Turner and Josh Biffle made the Pirates punt on 4th and 25. A bad snap led to another Tiger punt, placing Collinsville on their 30 yard line. It took the Pirates eight plays to take a 21-0 lead with 5:05 remaining in the 2nd quarter.

Again the Tigers could not get 10 yards and punted. Collinsville threatened to score again, but Greyson Evans intercepted a Pirate pass on the 15 yard line, 29 seconds before the halftime break.

It didn't take long for the Pirates to find the end zone when play resumed, scoring on a 61 yard run with a minute, 8 seconds off the clock, to take a 29-0 lead.

Sacred Heart got a good drive going, with Hogan and Bob Bartush getting short runs and a Hesse to John Krawietz pass play picking up 11 yards. But the drive ended with an interception.

The teams exchanged punts, with Collinsville once more knocking on the Tiger door. Tackles by Hesse, Bartush, and Josiah Yosten stopped the Pirates on the Tiger 21 yard line.

A Bartush to Evans pass gained 17, but the Tigers couldn't pull out from a fumbled pitch and punted as the final period began.

Again the teams both punted, with Collinsville taking five plays to coast 56 yards to the end zone and a 36-0 lead with 4:21 remaining in the game.

Mark Bartush and Hogan ran for 8 yards with a B. Bartush to Biffle pass getting the ball to the Pirate 24. But two plays later, an interception on the 5 gave the ball to Collinsville who ran out the remaining 2 1/2 minutes of the game.

Game warden Field Notes

The following is an excerpt from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

Stores have ears, too

While shopping in Lufkin off duty, a Nacogdoches County game warden overheard a store employee tell another that he killed an old buck on his farm with a .22-cal. mag. Shortly after the conversation was completed, the game warden approached the subject, identified himself, and notified an Angelina County game warden.

After further investigation, the violator was filed on for taking white-tailed deer by illegal means.

Terms such as "Texas-rigged worm," "Carolina-rigged lizard," or "wacky rig" are part of a bass angler's everyday lexicon. But to a beginner, the experienced anglers might as well be speaking Chinese.

The Texas rig is probably the most popular fish-catching innovation in the evolution of bass fishing. The term stems from Nick Crème and Crème Manufacturing, the company given credit for inventing the plastic fishing worm. Crème created a double-hooked plastic worm with a straight tail. He tied the hooks to a leader, and then added a couple of red beads and a propeller out front. People called it the "tourist rig" because it was so easy to catch bass with it.

The rig worked great in open water, but snagged logs easily. Crème introduced an improved version of this rig in 1964. He replaced the propeller with a slip sinker and a bead, and the double hook with one large hook. Crème imbedded the hook point into the worm to make it weedless. He called this the Texas rig.

The basic design hasn't changed much since.

The Texas rig shines for bass around stumps, submerged trees, and in weeds, because the hook is nearly snagless and the sinker punches through the cover. A medium to medium-heavy rod with a stiff tip is needed to drive the hook point through the worm and get the fish out of heavy cover.

A Carolina rig is an evolution of the Texas rig. It employs a 1/2 to 1 ounce egg or bullet-shaped slip sinker slid onto the main line from the reel, followed by two red glass beads. Brass is the preferred material for the weight. Brass makes a better clicking sound than lead when it contacts the glass on the retrieve.

The main line is tied to a barrel swivel. An 18 to 36 inch leader of monofilament or fluorocarbon line goes on the other loop of the swivel. The leader material is usually a lighter pound test than the main line, such as a 17-pound test main line with a 12-pound leader. A wide-gap offset worm hook goes on the business end.

This rig is versatile because it presents soft plastic worms, jerkbaits, lizards, creature baits, and even live bait to hungry bass.

The heavy weight of the rig allows the angler to follow contours of the bottom while covering water quickly. The Carolina rig is highly effective for fishing large mud flats, channel drops, ledges, sandbars, and submerged humps. It is the go-to bait for many bass anglers fishing deep water, especially in summer and early fall.

You can also toss a Carolina rig onto a brush-covered flat or in the middle of a large weedbed. The heavy sinker on the front of the rig punches through the weeds and brush down to the bottom with the soft plastic bait hovering just above it. This method works wonders for bass on Kentucky Lake.

The wacky rig is a departure from both the Texas and Carolina rig. Several theories abound on the origin of the wacky rig, but one of the most often cited involves two novice anglers bass fishing one of the large reservoirs in Texas. They didn't know how to thread a plastic worm onto a hook properly, so they impaled the middle of their Crème Scoundrel worms and let the ends dangle. The worms hung on the hook like a clown's frown.

The pair threw their worms over weedbeds and caught large bass after large bass. When they returned to the dock, a couple of onlookers asked how they did. The two anglers opened their livewells and showed off some huge bass. The onlookers asked what they caught them on and the anglers held up their funny-looking worm rigs.

After some mighty guffaws, one of the onlookers exclaimed that it was the wackiest looking rig they'd ever seen. This was the birth of the wacky rig.

The wacky rig is great for fishing docks and up and under overhanging or flooded trees because you can skip it across the water. The undulating action of the worm drives a bass hanging under a dock or in a flooded tree crazy.

Soft plastic jerkbaits such as the Senko work great for this technique. They also draw strikes fished over weedbeds or stumps by pulling the worm up and allowing it to flutter back down.

Don't let terminology stand in the way of learning to fish for bass. Get out this summer and toss one of these rigs in a lake near your home. You'll soon become addicted.

Skill set: a few famous quotes

By Tiger McKee
"Complexity is easy, simplicity is difficult," stated Georgy Shagin, the designer of the PPSH41 submachine gun, whose work influenced Kalashnikov. Normally the best way to accomplish a task is the most efficient, which is usually as simple as possible. The fewer steps involved in an action the easier it is to do, and the quicker you get it accomplished. This applies to mental and physical actions.
One of my all time favorites is from Charles Beckwith, the founder of Delta.

"You can't be unconventional until you're conventional first." This is something we need to remember when training and practicing. Fancy tactics, for example, won't do you much good if your weapon malfunctions and you can't reload properly.
I'm not sure where the old saying, "slow is smooth, and smooth is fast," comes from, but it's a good one, and something everyone should pay more attention to. This is especially true during training and practice, and is the biggest issue I see with the majority of students.

Everyone wants to go fast, being the first to shoot, or complete that empty-reload. Usually when we try to go fast we work too fast, make mistakes, and it ends up taking longer than it would if we had functioned at a speed that provides predictable results.

This brings us to "fast is fine, but accuracy is final." While this one is normally attributed to Wyatt Earp, there seems to be some question as to whether he actually said it or not. No matter who it came from it's a good 'un. In a fight it doesn't matter who fires the first shot, but who gets the first good hit, and the next good hit, repeating as necessary.

There are no advanced shooting techniques," Michael Plaxco says in Shooting From Within, "only advanced applications of the fundamentals." In a confrontation, if you have to shoot, you've got to apply the basics of marksmanship to get hits. The difficulty is doing this while moving, using cover, and maybe being shot back at.

Clint Smith, director of Thunder Ranch, has a lot of repeated quotes, but two of my favorites that apply specifically to combat are "always cheat," and "always win." As they say round here, there ain't no such thing as a fair fight. This is especially true when fighting for your life. As for the second rule, always win, there's really no debating that one.

"Following victory, it's best to reload." This is mine, although I'm sure someone has said something similar to it before me. After completing a particularly difficult task, I like to "reload" by having myself a nice steak. After engaging my threats, even though they are cardboard, I reload my weapon with a full magazine, just in case.

Everyone has his or her own favorite quotes, and these are a few of mine. The cool thing about most of these is that they apply to a variety of aspects of life, as well as personal combat.

Lindsay defeats Gainesville State School Tornados 49-0

The Gainesville State School Tornados blew into Lindsay last Friday to challenge the Knights on the football field. After four quarters of play, Lindsay defeated their visitors with a 49-0 score.

The Knight offense had a total of 322 yards, with seven Lindsay players carrying the ball and no turnovers. The home defense held the Tornados to 60 total yards and three 1st downs. The contest was almost flag free, with only two being thrown on the Knights.

"It's always good to get a win," said Coach Cody Bounds. "State School was a little undermanned. We didn't see their best team. Our kids played well and played hard to get the win."

Gainesville State School got a 1st down in the opening drive before punting the ball away from midfield. The Knights' first play was a 50 yard touchdown pass play from Dax Fleitman to Ross Jones. Jones added the PAT for a 7-0 score with 7:40 on the clock.

An onside kick gave the Tornados possession near midfield. Tackles by Jordan

Lane, Sean Willard, and Austin Reiter were followed by a punt attempt bobbled snap, covered by Willard and Blake Hunter, giving Lindsay possession on the Tornado 30. A run each by Robert Arend and Frankie Cornett quickly moved the ball to the 1 yard line. With 4:08 ticking off the clock, Arend ran in for 6 points, Jones added the extra point for a 14-0 score.

Tackles by Clay Mueller and Cornett forced a punt. Runs by Lane and Arend took the ball to the Tornado 26. Arend then scored, and Jones added the PAT for a 21-0 score with 49 seconds remaining in the 1st quarter.

Travis Skinner, Tyler Hundt, and Lane held the Tornados to 7 yards. The punt put the Knights at midfield. John Block quickly carried the ball to the 16. A Fleitman to Madison Parkhill pass put 6 more points on the board. Jones added the extra point for a 28-0 2nd quarter score.

Block and Reiter held the Tornados. A 5 yard punt placed the Knights 22 yards from paydirt. Mueller moved the ball to the 16, then Skinner scored with 5:30 on the clock. Skinner added the extra point for a 35-0 score.

The State School got in some good plays before a fumbled ball was covered by Mitch Dieter and the 1st half ended.

Lindsay took the 3rd quarter kick, taking nine plays to find the end zone. Mueller scored on a 2 yard run with 5:10 on the clock. Skinner booted the extra point for a 42-0 score.

The Tornados got in three plays and punted as the final period began. The Knights then moved the ball 63 yards in seven plays, scoring on an 8 yard run by Block. Skinner's PAT made the score 49-0 with 5:50 remaining on the ticking clock.

State School made no gain in three plays and punted as the game ended.

 The Knights travel to S&S this Friday to take on the 2A Rams. "It will be a tough game. They get better every week," noted Coach Bounds. "Their size scares us. We don't have a lot of it." Bounds added that the Rams are a good, tough, physical, running team. "A team we need to see in preparation for District."

COUNTY AGENT REPORT

Bagworms

Bagworms are caterpillars that make distinctive spindle-shaped bags on a variety of trees and shrubs. They attack many kinds of trees. Knowing about the life cycle of the bagworm can help us control it.

Bagworms are the caterpillar stage of a moth that is rarely seen. Only the males develop into typical moths capable of flight. The adult female is grub-like and remains inside the bag until just before she dies.

Bagworms pass the winter as eggs inside the bag that contained the previous year's female. In mid to late May, the eggs hatch, and the tiny larvae crawl out from the end of the bag in search of food. By using silk and bits of plant material, they soon construct a small bag around their hind part that looks like a tiny, upright ice cream cone. As the larvae continue to feed and grow, they enlarge the bag enabling them to withdraw into it when disturbed. By early fall, the bags reach their maximum size of 1-1/2 to two inches. At this time, the larvae permanently suspend their bags from twigs, and transform into the pupa or resting stage before becoming an adult.

Adult, male moths emerge from the pupal stage in early fall. They are active fliers and fly in search of females which remain inside their bags. The male flies to the female bag, inserts his abdomen in the hole in the bottom of the bag and mates with the female. After the fertilized female has laid several hundred eggs inside her old pupal case within the bag, she drops from the bag and dies. The eggs remain in the bag until the following May when the cycle begins again. There is one generation per year. Bagworms have two means of dispersing from plant to plant. Very young larvae may spin strands of silk and be carried fairly long distances by wind. Larger larvae may move short distances by crawling.

This leads us to discussion of control. If you can physically remove the bags from your tree at this time of year, you will end the cycle.

If the tree is too large or too difficult to reach and there is a history of bagworm damage, you may want to plan a preventative chemical application late next spring.

Maintain stored hay's quality

As we end the summer, livestock producers are getting prepared to feed cattle through the winter. This often means using hay. It is important that the hay is good quality in order to maintain the nutritional plane of our animals. The most important factors determining quality are stage of maturity at baling, moisture content at baling and time of storage, and storage conditions.

Forages that have begun to produce seed begin to lose nutritional value. As a plant matures, it increases in fiber content and the fiber is less palatable. This means less nutrition for the animal.

It is also critical to be certain the hay is dry enough to prevent molding and excessive heating. It is generally suggested that hay is at or below 18% moisture when it is baled in large round bales. We are pretty good at making sure this is the case with our bermudagrass hay, but not as good at making sure that it does not take on more moisture during the storing process. In general, we store our hay outside in rows wherever it is convenient to access for feeding. The storage process may deserve more management consideration.

If you are buying or producing hay, you know you have a significant investment. If bales cannot be stored in a barn, careful evaluation of storage location should be a concern. Bales stored outside will have significant losses, depending on several factors like the moisture of the hay at baling time, the amount of rain during the storage period, internal drainage of the soil on which bales are stored, amount of space between the bales, type of hay, and the skill of the operator making the bales.

Choosing an area with good drainage may be one of the most important storage decisions you can make. If possible, improve the ground that hay is stored on by placing bales on poles or crushed rock to minimize losses on the bottom. Research has shown that these techniques reduce storage losses by 15%. Other considerations for improved outside hay storage include use of plastic covers and placing bale rows in the same direction as the prevailing winds.

Organic food provides no more nutritional benefits than conventionally produced food, according to a major study published in late July.

Researchers from the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine said in the study, published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, that consumers are willing to pay higher prices for organic foods based on their perceived health and nutritional benefits. The global organic food market was estimated in 2007 to be worth $48 billion.

But after poring over 162 scientific studies published over 50 years, the researchers found no significant difference between organically and conventionally produced foodstuffs in terms of nutritional superiority. "A small number of differences in nutrients were found to exist between organically and conventionally produced foodstuffs, but these are unlikely to be of any public health relevance," said Alan Dangour, one of the study's authors.

TDA MARKET RECAP

For the week ending Sept. 12, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions were mostly $1 to $3 per hundredweight lower compared to a week ago. Fed cattle prices were modestly higher. Seasonally higher feeder supplies, feedlot losses, and stagnant beef prices continue to pressure cattle markets.

Ample world supplies and weak export demand continue to pressure wheat markets, while recent increases in crude oil helped support corn prices.

As for futures markets, feeder cattle, finished cattle, cotton, and corn ended the week higher, but wheat and lumber were lower.

Scattered rains fell statewide with some Central Texas locations recording up to 10 inches of rain. Topsoil moisture supplies improved somewhat, but remain mostly short to adequate in many areas.

Corn harvest progressed to 68% complete and grain sorghum is 64% harvested. Land preparations and winter wheat seedings progressed with 16% of the crop now planted. The state's rice crop is 90% harvested, slightly behind the normal pace. Pastures improved where rains fell, but remain in mostly very poor to fair condition in most locations.

New law raising the penalty for cattle theft goes into effect

Thieves who steal cattle than 10 head of cattle, horses, or exotic wildlife was a state jail felony, punishable by up to two years in jail. The new law will result in some criminals, especially repeat offenders, spending more time in jail," Gray continued.

TSCRA has 29 Special Rangers stationed strategically throughout Texas and Oklahoma who work alongside law enforcement agencies to investigate agricultural crimes, primarily cattle theft. All have in-depth knowledge of the cattle industry and are trained in all facets of law enforcement. They are commissioned as Special Rangers by the Texas Department of Public Safety and/or the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation.

"Until now, theft of less
