

Black smoke rolls as utility poles burn

Muenster Volunteer Fire Department, along with Saint Jo and Myra VFDs responded to a fire call on the new Germanfest grounds just off of North Ash Street in Muenster around 5:30 p.m. last Thursday. Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe reported that they used about 5,000 gallons of water and some foam to douse the burning highline poles. Firefighters worked for about an hour to extinguish the blaze. Origin of the fire is undetermined.

County budget hammered out; tax rate set as .4670

By Janet Felderhoff
Thursday, Aug. 18 proved to be a long, stressful day for the five members of Cooke County Commissioners Court. Their tasks for the day were public hearings on the proposed FY 2011-12 Budget and proposed tax rate, approving the 2011-12 Budget, and setting the 2012 tax rate. Their meeting began at 10 a.m., broke for an hour's lunch, and continued until around 4:30 p.m. as they struggled to agree on budget items and what the tax rate should be set at. During the public hearing on the budget, County Court Judge John Morris appealed for the second consecutive year to have a salary increase for one of his employees. Last year, one position was terminated from his office and many of those duties assigned to his court coordinator. He noted that she has basically the same duties as that of the District Court coordinator, but is paid 65% of that employee's salary. Dick Sparkman of FM 1201 in Precinct #4 stated that he felt Judge Morris had a legitimate concern. Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith stated that he agreed there were inequities in the salaries as pointed out by Judge Morris. He felt it should be addressed at the time. Judge Roane added that there are other offices that have requested the same sort of thing and suggested there be a study done by Human Resources. Commissioner Gary Hollowell expressed reluctance to single out an individual and make an adjustment. In a motion following the public hearing, the Court voted to increase the base pay of Judge Morris' clerk (Dept. 426) by $5,000 and accompanying benefits. Commissioner Hollowell cast the nay vote. Judge Roane called for a comparison to be done in the coming year of other positions asking similar salary elevations. During the public hearing, Herbie Sicking of Muenster remarked, "I commend you guys last year holding the line on the budget. My disposition to property tax is not something we want to discuss here in public. I suggest you do it again this year."

After the public hearing, County Judge Roane suggested changing the annex line for remodeling to $50,000 versus $200,000. This should allow enough funding for installation of an elevator, while the remaining work waits until a later time. Also, he wanted to fund contingency at $2.7 million rather than the usual $3 million. County Auditor Shelly Atteberry reported that as currently proposed at that time, the 2011-12 budget would be $398,000 more on the expense side than last year. With Judge Roane's two proposals, the budget would be slightly below what last year's General Fund was. After much debate over budget issues, the Court voted 4-1 to amend capital outlay line on the annex building in the proposed budget from $200,000 to $50,000. Commissioner Al Smith voted against the amendment. Commissioner Hollowell suggested that they not fund the position for one jailer, about $55,000. The motion failed with Commissioners Hollowell and B.C. Lemons voting in favor and Commissioners Leon Klement, Smith, and Judge Roane voting against. At the end of the day, the final decision was for a budget of $17,720,457 with a contingency of $2.7 million as opposed to the $3 million. A tax rate of .4464 per $100 property valuation was approved with a 4-1 vote to fund the General Fund at .3263; the Road and Bridge at .1050; Permanent Improvements at .0150; and FM and Lateral Road at .0001. Commissioner Hollowell voted against that rate. The vote for a tax rate of .0206 for Interest and Sinking was unanimous. The tax rate adopted by Commissioners Court for 2012 is .4670 which is the effective rate.

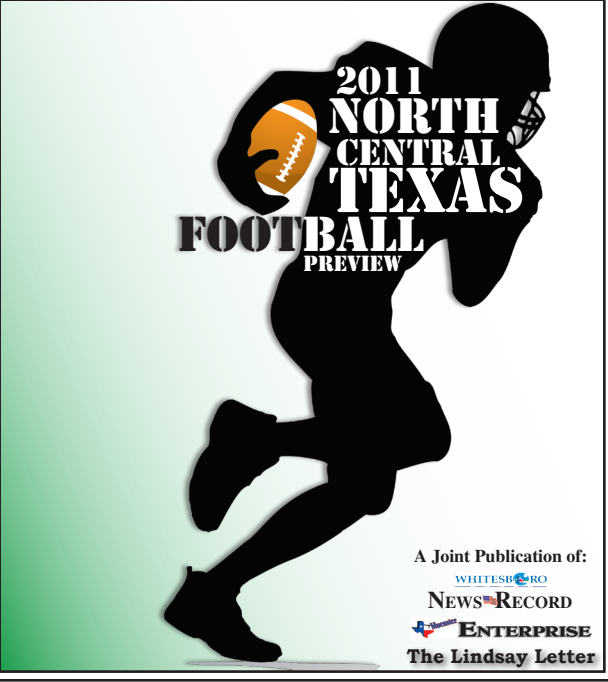

NCTC calls for a 2nd bond election

By Pat Springer
When the NCTC Board of Regents met in a called meeting Tuesday, it was to discuss the possibility of calling for another bond election. The Board voted unanimously to set the election for Nov. 8, only six months after Cooke County voters rejected the initial bond package. "We have the same needs as we had at the time of the bond election," Dr. Eddie Hadlock, NCTC president said. "We need to do a better job of telling our story." Dr. Hadlock presented two proposals to NCTC Board members for their consideration. Scheme A is basically the original bond package with a few adjustments. The Health

Science building would be 45,000 square feet at a cost of $11,425,000; Student Services building 47,000 square feet at $11,330,000; agriculture building, 8,000 square feet, $1,722,000; 100 building repurpose and renovation, $4,837,000. Demolition costs for buildings 300, 600 and 1600 and asbestos abatement would cost $670,000; portable building rental $500,000; 225 additional parking spaces $720,000, for a grand total of $31,204,000. The original bond package presented to voters in May was for $32.4 million. Scheme B presented by Dr. Hadlock would shrink the student services building by 7,000 square feet, demolish

County eyes retiree benefits package

By Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners are aware that retiree benefits for Cooke County employees could eventually cause financial burden to the County. At the Monday, Aug. 22 meeting, they agreed to schedule a workshop to consider future ramifications of which County Judge John Roane said, "We have several options." Cooke County currently pays the insurance premiums for retirees who have met certain requirements up until they reach Medicare age. This is a very valuable benefit. It was noted at an earlier meeting that it could possibly be worth more than the retiree's retirement pay. Commissioner Gary Hollowell asked that Diana Allen of Human Resources supply numbers to better aid in making a decision and to make them aware of the GASBY requirements. Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith remarked, "I have employees who could be in this thing. I'm in favor of grandfathering anyone who is currently an employee who has a chance at this benefit and from Sept. 30 forward, employees that are hired would no longer have the benefit. My initial concern is about long-term years from now." Smith added that he didn't want anyone taking a quick early retirement due to concern about losing their retiree benefits. Judge Roane added, "I don't want people worrying about what's going to happen in the interim. I don't think any of us is out to cut anybody out of anything that they have worked to deserve and certainly don't want to have any whole scale retirements just to try

Rebekah's trip fulfills childhood dream

By Janet Felderhoff
Almost every child has something special that they hope to do one day. Rebekah Hesse revealed that her dream was to go on a mission trip and she always wanted to go to Africa. She never suspected that things would work to make that happen during the summer before she began college classes. Rebekah spent this summer fulfilling that ambition. Her ability to do so came from her great-aunt Sr. Roberta Hesse. Sr. Roberta is a member of the Sisters of St. Mary Namur. She has been on many mission trips and spent years helping in places like in Africa. "I didn't think I'd actually be able to," she said of going to Africa. "Occasionally, I'd pray about it." Then the answer to her prayer came in the form of an email from Sr. Roberta. She informed her nephew Bert, who is Rebekah's father, that she was once again going on a mission trip to the Congo. When Bert shared this news with his family, Rebekah asked if she could go and he immediately said, "No." This was a perfect opportunity right before college and Rebekah couldn't understand why her dad didn't want her to go. Not to be deterred so easily, Rebekah emailed Sr. Roberta. Her reply to Rebekah, "I've been waiting for you to ask me." Rebekah showed the email to her dad. He laughed and gave his permission for the trip. Rebekah left on June 6. She spent two weeks in Belgium prior to traveling to the Democratic Republic of the Congo. While in Belgium, Rebekah visited several cities including Brussels and Namur. Namur is the city where the Sisters of St. Mary of Namur order originated. Of Belgium she commented, "It was really nice there. It was so different because there, the sun sets at 10 o'clock in the evening and in the Congo, it sets at six o'clock." Other things were different in the Congo. "In some of

Mildred Walterscheid

Mass of Christian Burial for Mildred Marie Boerner Walterscheid of Muenster was held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, Aug. 16 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster. Rosary/Vigil was held on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the funeral home. Services were officiated by Fr. Ken Robinson and directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Burial followed in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Mrs. Walterscheid died at the age of 79 at 9:55 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 13, 2011 in a Decatur hospital.

Born Sept. 12, 1931 in Pilot Point, Mildred was one of the four children of Raymond and Agnes Boerner. She grew up and completed high school in Pilot Point and attended college at Dallas Business College where she learned the skills of secretarial work. She had worked quite some time as a secretary for Sherwin Williams and several law firms. Mildred married Ervin Walterscheid on Aug. 28, 1954 in Pilot Point. They lived in Muenster most of their married life. Together they were the parents of two daughters and three sons.

Mildred was a member of Sacred Heart Parish. She was a loving mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother and a friend to all. She cared for her entire family, teaching them how to do things and how to live. Her yard was a true give-away for her love of flowers. She saw beauty in the simplest of things such as birds, trees, grasses, dried leaves, and even purple thistle. She had a "green thumb" for growing things. She enjoyed people and made them feel welcome in her home.

Mildred is survived by daughters and sons-in-law Ruth and Cal Wells of Bowie and Sara and Kelly Myers of Decatur; sons Joseph, Damian and wife Grace, and Timothy Walterscheid, all of Muenster; grandchildren Rae Ann Culp, Joseph Mark Walterscheid, Jr., Jacob Walterscheid, Rachelle Walterscheid, Toby Walterscheid, Tice Rippey, Ross Rippey, Audra Wells, Heather Mesker, Russell Myers, Scott Myers, Clayton Myers, and Trenton Myers; 12 great-grandchildren; sister and brother-in-law Sylvia and Lenny Bindel; sister-in-law Carolyn Boerner; and brother Conrad Boerner.

Mildred was preceded in death by her husband; parents; sister Mona Fulmer; daughter-in-law Margie Walterscheid; sister-in-law Carolyn; and grandchildren Rebecca and Joshua Walterscheid.

During the funeral Mass, Grace Walterscheid, daughter-in-law, gave the First Reading. The Second Reading was given by Whitney Wimmer, friend. Granddaughters Audra Wells and Heather Mesker brought up the Offertory Gifts. Eucharistic ministers were Kim Felderhoff, Peggy Walterscheid, Viola Rohmer, Theresa Mae Walterscheid, and Theresa Walterscheid. Sylvan Walterscheid and Alvin Hartman were altar servers. Providing music were Isaac Davis and Christy Hesse. Sacred songs included "Here I Am," "Ave Maria," "For You Are My God," and "Be Not Afraid."

Merle Hudspeth

Merle Hudspeth, 91, died Tuesday, Aug. 16, 2011, in Muenster. Funeral service was held Friday, Aug. 19 at Forestburg United Methodist Church with Sam Campbell and Larry Kruger officiating. Burial was at Perryman Cemetery in Forestburg. The family received friends Thursday, Aug. 18.

Merle Hudspeth was a true pioneer lady born 91 years ago and a fourth generation to live in the Forestburg area. She married Clifford on May 1, 1937 and Forestburg was their home. They had five children. Merle was a long-time member of Forestburg United Methodist Church, a loving mother, and devoted wife. She was active in church and community affairs until her death.

Survivors are her children Virginia Lynch and husband Doyle, Carolyn Wood and husband Raymond, Margaret O'Brien and husband Gerald, Dale Hudspeth and wife Linda, and Paula Sims and husband Charlie, all of Forestburg; 14 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; nine great-great-grandchildren; sisters Maxine Peers and husband Archie of Krum, Montez Nivens and husband Jerry of Granbury, and Norma Moore and husband Jim of New Roads, Louisiana; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents Burret and Dovie Harry; husband; brother Cecil Harry; and grandson Kip Wood.

Memorials may be made to Forestburg United Methodist Church and the Forestburg Community Organizations.

Her son-in-law Kelly Myers gave the eulogy. In remembering Mildred, he said, "She dedicated her life to the Lord and her family... she was a strong woman... she continually cared for all those around her... She was always cleaning. The only thing she wouldn't clean in her home was the bathtub full of sand bass Ervin left for her with a note to go ahead and clean the fish, he had to go to work early. They were still there when he got home..."

"Mildred was very good at crossword puzzles and Scrabble; once a week she and her good friend Ethel would get together and play Scrabble."

"Mildred knew the different kinds of flowers, birds, trees, grasses... she had a wonderful knack for growing things, everything from flowers to kids. Mildred's home was always a comfortable place where one could always find some coffee cake, a smile, and love."

Pallbearers were grandsons Joseph Mark Walterscheid, Jr., Toby Walterscheid, Russell Myers, Scott Myers, Clayton Myers, and Trenton Myers.

Letter to the Editor

Is there a Hero next to you?

I went to a retirement party for a friend the other day and there was a guest book so that everyone could sign in. I was fashionably late, so I got to read what those ahead of me had written.

One notation said: "Thank you for saving my life."

I found out that 37 years ago a little girl went missing north of Nocona while on a fishing trip with her father. She was found, by my friend, under water and not breathing. He pulled her out, performed CPR, and brought her back to life. Without this heroic effort she would not have the life she has. (He truly saved her life.)

She and her father drove three hours round trip from Oklahoma so they could say thanks one more time and to wish my friend a Happy Retirement. How grateful she and her family must be that she is here.

The Party was for our retiring Police Chief, Bob Stovall.

United Way begins Pacesetter campaign

They're off and running! The Cooke County United Way 2012 Campaign Pacesetter companies have started their company campaigns and are heading to the end of August finish line. Campaign Pacesetter companies conduct their workplace campaign in August prior to the beginning of the community campaign that kicks off with a luncheon on Sept. 2 at the Gainesville Civic Center. The eight Pacesetter companies will announce their totals at the luncheon, thus "setting the pace" for the community businesses and residents as they encourage others to participate and support the campaign.

This year's Pacesetter companies include: Callisburg ISD, City of Gainesville, First State Bank, Muenster State Bank, Nortex Communications, North Central Texas College, North Texas Medical Center, and Wal-Mart Supercenter.

"We are so thankful for these eight outstanding companies who set the pace for the community," said 2012 Campaign Chair Mark Austin of Weber Aircraft. "They help us to meet our goal of $390,000, but more importantly, they help us meet the NEEDS of so many individuals. At the end of the campaign, the money raised will make a difference to the people you walk by every day."

Austin stated, "Every day on the news, you read or hear about heroes; a sports star's winning game, fireman rushing in, policemen saving lives. During this campaign, we need heroes right here in Cooke County. This year, the United Way could be your chance to be a hero everyday - a hero to a family in need because of the heat, a senior in need of food, or a child who just needs a chance." You can "discover your inner hero" through a gift to the Cooke County United Way.

The Cooke County United Way partnering agencies include: Abigail's Arms of Cooke County, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts/Longhorn Chapter, Boys & Girls Club of Cooke County, Boys Baseball of Cooke County, CASA of North Texas, Cooke County Child Welfare Board, Cooke County Youth Fair, Girl Scouts, Home Hospice of Cooke County, Meals on Wheels, Muenster Youth Council, Reading & Radio Resource, SW Diabetic Foundation/Camp Sweeney, Substance Abuse Council, Texoma Area Paratransit/TAPS, Texoma Sr. Citizen/Area Agency of Aging, and VISTO.

Kick Off Luncheon tickets are available now with advance luncheon ticket price of $10, and reservations may be made by calling the United Way office at 940-665-1793. Reservation deadline is Monday, Aug. 29. Limited ticket sales will be available at the door for a cost of $12.

Catherine Kubis

Kubis honored on 99th

Catherine Kubis celebrated her 99th birthday on Sunday, Aug. 21 surrounded by family and friends. All of her six children and their spouses gathered at St. Richard's Villa for a noon feast of fried chicken. This is the honoree's favorite meal and was catered by The Center Restaurant.

At 2 p.m., a reception took place with all of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and friends invited. They served birthday cake and cookies.

Catherine's children and their spouses are Girlie Felderhoff of Gainesville, Adam and Alma Wolf of Muenster, Janie and Kenneth Thurman of Gainesville, Gilbert and Rosina Kubis of Gilbertville, Paul and LuAnn Kubis of Houston, and Buster Kubis of Longview. Special guests that afternoon included Catherine's brother and sister-in-law Tee and Millie Voth, friends Tony and Thelma Trubebach, and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Aytes named interim dean of ISU College of Business

Kregg Aytes, son of John and Carol Aytes of Muenster, has been appointed interim dean of the College of Business at Idaho State University (ISU).

Professor Aytes is the ideal person to serve in an interim capacity until we can conduct a national search for a permanent dean," said ISU Provost Gary Olson. "He will bring energy and new ideas to college as we enter the new academic year."

Before his appointment, Aytes served as chair of the Department of Computer Information Systems and as associate dean of the College. A member of the ISU faculty since 1993, Aytes was named College of Business Teacher of the Year in 1996-97. He was given the College of Business Service Award in 1999-2000, and was named an ISU Master Teacher in 2006.

Prior to his work at ISU, Aytes was an IBM Corp systems engineer. He earned his doctorate in Management Information Systems from the University of Arizona.

Cub Scouts gear up for new year

Muenster Cub Scout Pack 664 is gearing up for another school year. They had a fun summer with Day Camp in Lindsay, a Rough Riders game, and most recently, a swim party at the Muenster pool.

Now they are ready to start a new year and welcome new boys. Boys in grades 1 to 5 are invited to join. There will be a membership rally for parents and potential Cub Scouts on Monday, Aug. 29 at 6 p.m. at the VFW Hall. It will be an informative meeting on activities and the calendar, with the opportunity to meet den leaders and purchase uniforms.

For more information, call Iva Walterscheid at 940-902-1655.

Zimmerer graduates

Laura Kathryn Zimmerer, daughter of Rudy and Claudia Zimmerer of Lindsay, graduated from Texas A&M University on May 13. She graduated with Summa Cum Laude honors and a major in Food Science and Technology along with a minor in Chemistry. Laura received a four year, full-ride scholarship from the Terry Foundation and was an active member in the Terry Foundation Student Organization on campus.

Attending the ceremonies at Reed Arena on the Texas A&M University campus were her parents, brothers Andy and Patrick, sisters and husbands Julie and George Perez, Emily and Jeremy Rinner and children John and Audrey, and her sister Rachel who graduated in the same ceremony.

While in college, Laura was very involved with the Food Science Club, serving as public relations chair and president. She was also active in the Fish Camp Crew, Big Event, Replant, Adopt-a-Highway, and the Food Science Quiz Bowl Competition.

During the summer of 2009, Laura spent the semester studying abroad in Florence, Italy. She was a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, an agricultural honor society, and was given the Outstanding Senior Merit Award. Laura also completed a summer internship in 2010 at the Dr. Pepper Snapple Research and Development Center where she worked on prospective beverage applications.

In 2011, Laura was one of 20 Senior Merit Scholars in the entire College of Agriculture and Life Science at Texas A&M. She worked as an undergraduate research assistant for Dr. Luis Cisneros' lab involving research with fruit antioxidants and their anti-inflammatory properties.

Laura will be attending Purdue University in West Lafayette, Indiana with a fellowship from the Purdue Industry Fellows Program in the Fall of 2011. There she plans to obtain her Master's degree in Food Chemistry.

the villages we went to, we stayed in the convents and those are actually a little better than the houses in the villages," Rebekah said of the living conditions on her trip. "A lot of the houses are just made from clay or from grass. There was no electricity at a lot of the places and no running water in a lot of the places. There were a few convents that had it, but mostly there wasn't. It was just really poor."

Where there was no electricity, when dark settled in, flashlights were used even for things such as daily grooming. Lack of running water required some adjustments also. "To take a shower (sort of), you get a big bucket of water and you have a little small bucket and scoop some out and pour it on you, and that's your shower," Rebekah laughed as she recalled her adventure. "You go into the bathroom with your little flashlight to light it up."

It is up to the women and children to go into the fields every day to bring food and wood for the family. Rebekah described the scene, "They walk back balancing really heavy loads on their heads. It's kind of sad because the men just kinda sit around in the villages. They don't really work." Employment opportunities in the villages are few.

At one of the Masses that Rebekah attended, she was surprised at the Offertory gifts presented. She said there were two baskets - one large, one much smaller. "A few people brought up money to put in the small basket, but everybody else brought their corn and other vegetables and put those in the big basket because that's like their salary."

Of the tasks assigned to her on this African mission trip, Rebekah most enjoyed the days spent at the orphanages. She performed tasks such as sorting clothes and played soccer and other games with the children. "A lot of it was just witnessing. Just sitting with different places and seeing for myself everything," said Rebekah of the things she did. She also helped the sisters with cleaning tasks.

There were 149 orphans in the orphanage. The two newest were infant twins whose mother died during childbirth. The twins were her 13th pregnancy.

Rebekah gave the children a red soccer ball and they were very excited. She noted that they love to play soccer and they were good at it. The orphans also loved to sing and dance. She said that when there is a full moon, everyone goes outside to sing and dance.

There were daily Masses offered in Africa held in the convent chapels. Sunday Masses were longer, but one especially stands out in Rebekah's memory. It was an ordination Mass for 30 priests held in Kinshasa, the capital of the Congo. Mass lasted for six hours.

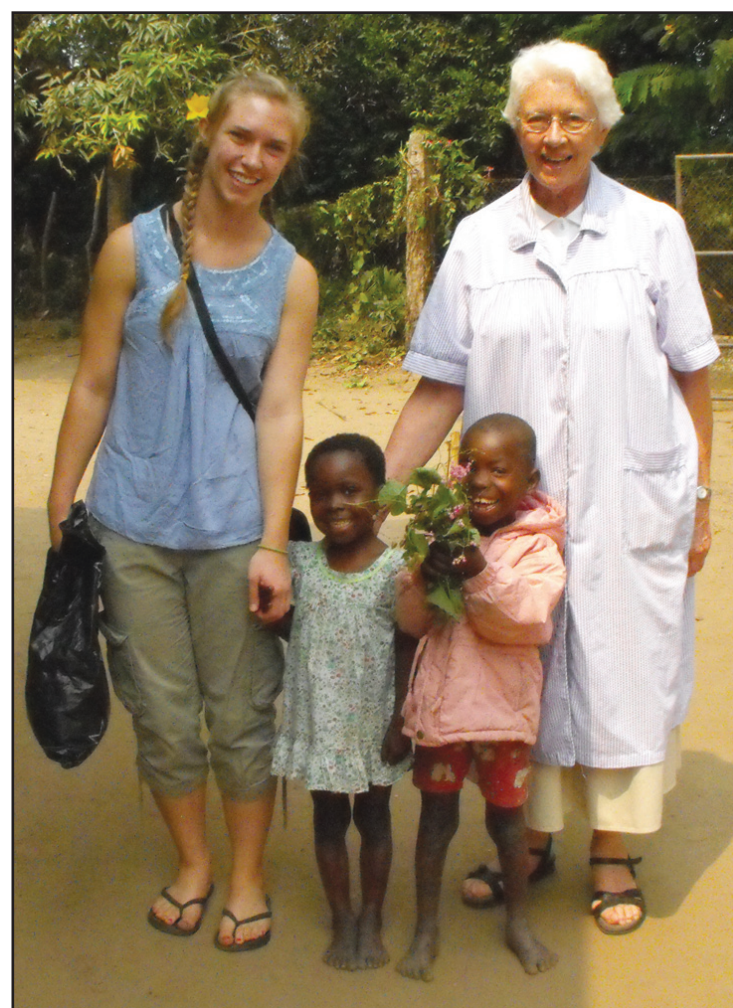

From material Rebekah purchased on the trip, some African women sewed a beautiful dress for her to wear. She also learned how to use a pedal sewing machine.

While Rebekah did not see lots of African creatures, she did see a monkey and a really big snake. A lizard visited her room. Lizards were everywhere, she noted. At night there were even bats in the kitchen.

Did this trip have an impact on Rebekah? She feels it did. "I think I have a lot more patience because we did a lot of waiting. Everything took longer. To get water, you had to be really patient, and I'm definitely more thankful for everything here. Just all the little things like being able to walk into another room without having to worry about closing the doors so the mosquitoes don't get in."

Rebekah thinks she would go back again, but perhaps in a more hands-on manner. Her goal is to become a physical therapist. After obtaining her degree, Rebekah would like to go with others to help those in need of therapy who would not normally be able to have access to it.

There are nine children in the family of Bert and Christy Hesse, and Rebekah is the second oldest. Her siblings are Joe, John Paul, Daniel, Julian, Rachel, Nathan, Luke, and Ruth Ann. Rebekah graduated from Sacred Heart Catholic High School this past spring. She is now off to Midwestern State University where she is majoring in Biology.

Date approaches for Sacred Heart community garage and bake sale

In conjunction with the Muenster community-wide garage sale on Saturday, Sept. 10, Sacred Heart will once more conduct the largest area garage sale at the Center along with a bake sale and concession stand.

Co-chair persons Donna Biffle and Lisa Schilling remind everyone that there are less than two weeks to gather up and clean out closets, attics, and storage areas, and to make donations to the Sacred Heart Parish. They will be accepting resalable items beginning Tuesday, Sept. 6 through Friday, Sept. 9. Please do not bring items after 1 p.m. Friday.

Suggestions for donations include lamps, bedding, toys, furniture, holiday and seasonal items, books and movies, working electronics (no computer monitors please), knickknacks, and baked items and homemade goodies.

Doors open and sales begin at 7 a.m. on Sept. 10. Concessions will be available from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. The popularity of this sale is not only the very wide variety of items available, but the low prices, friendly salespersons, and the cool, dry shopping atmosphere. This is a Keep Muenster Beautiful litter free event.

If you can't drop off items, call Donna (736-9696) or Lisa (736-5215).

The democracy will cease to exist when you take away from those who are willing to work and give to those who would not.

Cooke County Gold Stars

Lights, camera, action! The Gold Star is awarded Saturday by Honorable District Judge Janelle Haverkamp to Madison Pearse, left, of Era and Benjamin Zimmerer of Lindsay. Benjamin is the son of Michael and Donna Zimmerer and participates in projects of sports fishing, clothing and textiles, shooting sports, recycling, foods and nutrition, and is a past officer of the County 4-H Council. He will serve as his Club's president this year. Madison, the son of Ken and Denise Pearse, participates in Community Service, Beef Quiz, Consumer Decision Making, Foods and Nutrition, Safety, and will serve as the County Council 4-H President this year. The Gold Star award is given to the top 4-H members in a county. This award began in 1933. Madison and Benjamin were presented a trophy, certificate, and pin by Judge Haverkamp. Courtesy photo tion costs would not include the 1600 building, and new agriculture facilities would not be included in Scheme B totals $26,900,000. If the agriculture building were to be included in Scheme B the bond totals $28,722,000. Both Schemes A and B bond proposals included the addition of 225 new parking spaces.

A geothermal system, a standing seam metal roof, and increased roof area for slopes were not included in either of the schemes presented to Board members. Dr. Hadlock stated those projects could be discussed during the design phase and decided upon at that time.

"We don't want a tax increase, but we want the opportunity to offer the most modern facilities," Dr. Hadlock said. "If the College offered auto mechanics, we wouldn't get a shade tree but in some respects, we have a shade tree. We need every bit of the $31 million."

He explained the nursing program requires an adjacent lounge and study space for students, but currently there is no space for those areas in the health sciences building.

"There is no doubt we have to re-do the nursing facilities and we'll have to spend money we don't have. We could have raised the tax rate the maximum every two years, but we haven't. Our last tax raise was in the 1990s. If we wait and do that, it would cost us as much," Ken Coolen said.

NCTC is ranked number 49 out of 50 colleges in the state for the lowest college tax rate.

"I wish we could finally do something so we won't have to constantly remodel. A bond issue would give us that," Patsy Wilson said. "I think we should try the whole thing again. We can't even think of not doing the health services or student services buildings. Over the years, we've taken spaces from the students for something else. We are here for the students."

The regents agreed that they failed to explain the needs of the college to the community adequately prior to the May bond election and that they must do a better job this time. They agreed they now need to emphasize that investment in education is the best long term investment that can be made.

To stress that NCTC is their college, that if it were a corporation they owned, they would invest in it to make it grow and that NCTC is no different.

"If we aren't growing, we're dying," Wilson said. "We are here for the students. I'm for going back to the public with this," Karla Metzler said. "Things in education aren't what they were 20 years ago. This is not a time to sit back and ignore the needs."

After some discussion, the Board decided to eliminate the expenditure for portable building rental to be utilized during the construction, opting to take the money from the reserve fund instead. Board President Dr. Bill Ledbetter asked for a motion, with Ken Coolen moving that a bond election be held Nov. 8, 2011 in the amount of $30,704,000. Patsy Wilson seconded the motion with the Board voting 6-0 in favor of the measure.

"We definitely need what we're asking for," Ken Coolen said.

Judges topic at CCRW meeting

Cooke County Republican Women (CCRW) will meet Thursday, Sept. 1, 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall, 401 Commerce in Gainesville. The program is "What Judges Do and Why You Should Care."

It will be presented by Justice Bob McCoy, one of seven judges serving on the Second Court of Appeals in Fort Worth.

Guests are welcome! For more information, contact Pauline at 940-726-3954.

TIME NEARS FOR RE-REGISTRATION OF TEXAS MARKS AND BRANDS

Every 10 years, Texas requires that marks and brands be re-registered in the county or counties in which you operate. The next re-registration period begins Aug. 31 and concludes Feb. 29. After the conclusion date, all marks and brands that have not been re-registered are automatically available for registration by another party.

The cost of registering brands in Cooke County is $16 per location. Payment may be made by cash, check, or credit card.

For additional information, contact the Cooke County Clerk's Office, 216 W. Pecan, Gainesville, TX 76240 or by calling 940-668-5474. Hours are Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Cropland demand leads Texas market

The Texas rural land market continues to show signs of life, but not all land types nor areas of the state are fully recovered from the downturn spawned by 2008's credit crisis.

areas of the state that feature cropland, especially cotton production ground, land values are strong. Ditto for land with mineral rights sitting on top oil shale. But for rangeland not sitting on shale oil, the market is highly variable, reports Dr. Charles Gilliland, research economist with the Texas Real Estate Center. He says the rangeland market is still basically at an impasse - sellers will want 2008 price levels on their property while buyers believe a sharp discount is due.

The cropland market is different, however. "Purchases of ranches with wind turbine potential are also down," one analyst said. "When the wind turbines first came into West Texas, there was a great interest in ranches with mesas, which could be used for wind turbines. The lack of transmission lines and the reluctance of wind turbine companies to build turbines away from major transmission lines, however, has reduced this market significantly."

TDA market recap

For the week ending Aug. 20, feeder cattle price trends at Texas auctions were uneven, from $5 lower to $5 higher per hundredweight. High drought-related volumes at many auctions and the lack of grazing continue to pressure markets, though higher fed cattle, the likelihood for lower supplies this fall, and higher beef prices remain supportive. Fed cattle prices were $2.50 lower in spite of higher wholesale beef prices.

Corn prices were higher on concerns that the recent production forecast may not reflect the full extent of damage done during the July heat wave in the Midwest. Wheat prices were higher following reports of lower than expected spring wheat yields.

As for futures markets, cotton, wheat, and corn were higher, while feeder cattle, fed cattle, and lumber were lower.

Scattered showers fell in parts of east, north and west Texas, and the Panhandle with amounts generally less than one-half inch. Topsoil moisture was rated in short to very short supply across the state and most crops were reported in fair to very poor condition, with ratings well below where they were at this time last year.

Corn acreage was 64% mature and 51% of the crop has been harvested, both ahead of normal for this date. Grain sorghum was 90% headed and 55% of the crop has been harvested, ahead of the average pace. Ninety-six percent of the state's pastures were reported in very poor to poor condition as supplemental feeding and reductions of livestock herds continue.

Texas agriculture drought losses reach record $5.2 billion

The Texas drought has now become the most costly drought on record with agriculture losses reaching $5.2 billion dollars this year. The previous record was set in 2006 with losses right at $4.1 billion.

Texas sorghum has suffered a loss of $63 million this year, and production is expected to be about half as much as normal with 1.6 million acres planted, marking the lowest in Texas history.

While Texas is the second largest sorghum producing state in the nation, this has a large impact on overall U.S. sorghum acres this year, which is clearly reflected in a USDA report released recently, showing projected bushels to be down almost 30% from last year.

AG TALK

By Kenneth Dierschke
TFB President

On Thursday, Aug. 18, TFB President Kenneth Dierschke, other Texas Farm Bureau leaders, and officials of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association met with U.S. Senator John Cornyn to discuss the epic drought of 2011. The following is Dierschke's statement delivered to Cornyn.

Senator Cornyn - thank you for being here today and for your concern about this unfolding disaster that has hit Texas agriculture so hard over the past year.

We are enduring the driest 10 month period in the history of Texas. Records have been broken for both the most consecutive days over 100 degrees and for the total number of 100 degree days in a year. It seems a new record in that regard is broken every day.

Dryland crop production is non-existent this year. Even some irrigators have given up on the futility of putting enough water on parched crops to make much difference. Of course, the cost of irrigation is another factor that makes it a less than desirable option.

Texas farmers and ranchers have once again learned the harsh lesson that it matters little how high crops prices go - if there is nothing to sell. Much of the income in Texas row crop agriculture this year will likely come from the farm safety net so many seem eager to dismantle. Crop insurance payments will be responsible for many producer's survival in the business this year.

Texas livestock herds are rapidly disappearing as desperate ranchers sell even the genetic core of their herds. Cattle numbers are lower now than at any point since the 1950s. Here at this livestock auction in Lampasas, recent sales have run long into the night.

In May of this year - the Texas Farm Bureau Board of Directors released to the media and U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack what we called a "statement of urgency." In that statement, we pointed out that this year, input costs for producing crops and livestock are close to historic highs. Fuel, fertilizer, seed, feed, and other high-cost production items already are invested with little hope of breaking even financially.

Although it was then too early to speculate, those losses have been realized. Two such events in three years will be hard to overcome for many producers.

Texas agriculture is responsible for about 14% of jobs in Texas. The agriculture industry has been a positive national force in helping the U.S. pull through the recession. We are concerned about the negative consequences even beyond our farms and ranches.

Now, it is clear - three months later - that those negative consequences are upon us. We promised then that Texas Farm Bureau would "continue to explore all avenues of assistance with state and federal officials. We call upon federal and state officials to recognize the plight of Texas farmers and ranchers and to expedite any assistance that can be made available."

It was evident then - three months ago - that the situation was already quite urgent. Now in this withering summer heat it is beyond urgent, approaching catastrophic. Today, Senator, we are renewing that call for disaster assistance. We ask that you do all you can to help with this disaster.
