Voting polls open Saturday at 7 a.m. for area elections

By Janet Felderhoff
 Voters are asked to make some decisions on Saturday that will impact the future of two educational facilities and that may increase their taxes. Muenster ISD requests approval of a $14 million bond to finance the construction of a new elementary school, new junior high school, new Vo Ag shop/classroom building, new maintenance storage bay added to the Ag shop, new P.E. gymnasium with field house additions and renovations, demolition of the current junior high building, and paving of 75,000 square feet of parking areas. North Central Texas College seeks passage of a $32.5 million bond package for the purpose of building a new Health Sciences Center, new Student Services & Academic Support Center, new Agriculture/Equine/Horticulture building, and renovation and repurpose of the 100 building to Student Life & Activities Center.

Muenster ISD's bond, if passed, is expected to impact taxes on a home valued at $100,000 by varying amounts projected as follows:
 In 2011-12, taxes would be $1,083.26 annually or $90.27 per month, with an increase of $124.41 from 2010-11;
 In 2012-13, taxes would be $1,147.70 annually or $95.64 per month, with an increase of $64.41 from 2011-12;
 In 2013-14, taxes would be $1,146.37 annually or $95.53 per month, with a decrease of $1.34 from 2012-13.

 Should NCTC's bond pass, its impact on a home valued at $100,000 is projected to be an additional $7.25 per month or an additional $87 per year. This is with a 25-year bond. For a 30-year bond it would be an increase of $6.67 per or $81 per year.
 Homeowners age 65 and older with an exemption would not have their homestead taxes increased by either the MISD or NCTC bonds.
 The only entity in Muenster is NCTC.

2011 Germanfest deemed successful, but not the best

By Janet Felderhoff
 Friday and Saturday were picture perfect days for an outdoor festival and thousands took the opportunity to attend Muenster's 36th Annual Germanfest held in the City Park. Sunday's weather brought out only the hardy and those obligated to work. Temperatures dropped into the 40s and thunderstorms rolled through the area all day, dumping rain on the day's events.
 The unpleasant weather on Sunday impacted attendance by 7-8,000 according to Muenster Chamber of Commerce Executive Director John Broyles. Last year attendance was around 30,000 and this year it was between 23-24,000. Broyles commented on Sunday, "We made due with what we were handed. It's an outdoor festival in Texas in April!"

Bartush said the start was delayed a bit due to lightning. He estimates that just under 700 runners took part in either the 15K or 5K. Due to inclement weather, the chips didn't record all times as the runners completed the races. Officially, there were 1,007 registered.
 Bartush said Fun Run sponsors anticipated 1,400 runners going by past records and the number of early entries they had. "We were told by some of our veteran volunteers that this was the worst weather in Fun Run history, and we believe them!" Bartush noted.

Activities were moved under the tent and pavilion. The Wringen Meisterschaft Tournament moved into the Concession tent where the cooks kept temperatures nice and warm. This may have been a boost for vendors since it brought in a crowd to purchase items.
 Entertainment took place in the Tanze Halle until about 5 p.m.
 Broyles remarked, "This year's Germanfest was a success on many levels. One, that we had more entertainment in the park for everyone to enjoy, and two, we crowned the first-ever Wringen Meister at the wrestling tournament."

Bartush encouraged those who registered, but did not pick up their tee shirts to do so by stopping by Muenster State Bank. The same goes for those who won trophies and failed to pick them up. Contact John at MSB, 759-2257.
 Top finishers in the 15K were: 1 - Daniel Lopez of Melissa, age 23, time 1:01:18.0; 2 - Jon Korte of Grapevine, age 45, time 1:01:46.00; 3 - Luis Reynoso of Rockwall, age 43, time 1:01:58.00. First to finish from Muenster were brothers Dr. Steven Jones and David Jones. Their time was 1:33:55.
 The 5K top finishers were: 1 - Chase Brown of Double Oak, age 17, time 17:14.00; 2 - Johnny Green of Muenster, age 21, time 17:33.00; 3 - John Paul Hesse of Muenster, age 15, time 18:40.00; 4 - Bob Bartush of Muenster, age 17, time 18:41.00. Twin sisters Mikenzie and Mikayla Fleitman were the first females from Muenster to finish the 5K. Their time was 24:12.

"The BBQ cook-off had 83 entries maintaining its place as one, of the largest cook-offs in Texas, and despite the Sunday rain and cold, we had people in the park on Sunday enjoying great music and food. All in all I am very pleased with how well things went. I am looking forward to and making plans for next year's event."
 Most runners signed up for the Muenster Knights of Columbus Fun Run took on a duck-like attitude and made the best of the very cool, wet run. Cochairmen John D. Bartush and Ben Bindel commended the 200 plus volunteers who stuck out the bad weather helping to keep the event going.

Women's 15K top finishers: 1 - Roxana Wrablewski, age 37, time 1:06:05.00; 2 - K2 Richards, age 42, time 1:11:53.00; 3 - Michelle Blackard of Eules, age 31, time 1:15:47.00.
 Some Muenster natives finishing in the top 10.

Citizens voice some concerns at County Commissioners Court

By Janet Felderhoff
 Two Cooke County residents spoke during public comments at the Monday, May 9 Commissioners Court meeting about concerns over a sand pit in northwest Cooke County. They are worried about the operation's affect on groundwater, air, and road traffic.
 Ozlem Altiok asked that Commissioners not approve a request by EOG Resources, Inc. to install a pipe for water disposal north of CR 324 in Precinct #3. She lives in Precinct #4 on CR 414 near Saint Jo. Referring to a consent agenda item that had just been approved, Altiok said they would like to know where the water is coming from, what it contains, and where it is going to go.
 Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith explained, "In the processing of the oil and gas from the Barnett Shale on

CR 343, which is near Rosston, there is a great deal of flowback water and saltwater that is produced in the production of the gas and oil from these wells. Currently, this is transported from the well site to disposal centers' injection wells into the ground as saltwater. And whatever else is in it is disposed into the formations in these disposal wells. In the process of doing this, these trucks of which there are thousands of them, destroy the roads and cause some havoc to the people living on those roads. This pipeline is to transport the disposal saltwater that is produced from these wells to a disposal site which is near the intersection of FM 1620 and CR 343. EOG owns that disposal site and has the operating lease on these oil wells and gas production. For our precinct, the advantage of this pipeline is to stop so much of the truck traffic that is disintegrating our roads going to injection well sites. Because of the reduction in traffic and moving it into the pipeline, it makes great economic sense for us in the County to encourage this saltwater pipeline instead of transporting this in 5,000 gallon container trucks which are incredibly dangerous."

 The sand plant that Altiok referred to is located in Precinct #4 in northwestern Cooke County and is a separate issue. Jennifer Shiffer of CR 435 voiced concern over EOG's request for an air quality permit for its sand plant located along FM 373 near Mountain Creek. After reading a list of contaminants the plant will emit that were listed in a TCEQ legal notice and the illnesses they can cause, Shiffer said

To the Editor,

The MISD bond election will be held on Saturday, May 14 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the MISD Junior High School foyer. The decision of the voters of our wonderful community will be determined and this will undoubtedly be a very close election.

There are several positive factors that assisted us in making the decision to vote for the bond. The main factor was getting the best return on the money that the windmills generate for the district. That money only lasts for a certain number of years and it stairsteps down in value over time. It has been estimated the windmill money will pay 32% of the first years payment if this bond issue passes during this election. There are not many communities that have access to that type of tax revenue, so it is imperative that we use it as wisely as possible. Utilizing this money at its highest return rate on the construction of new facilities is, in our opinion, a wise decision.

Interest rates and bond rates are lower than normal at the present time. It is a risk to wait as the possibility of rate increases seems likely in the near future so it would be a sound decision to lock in at the lower rate. Construction costs and materials are at a very competitive rate right now. These companies want and need work and they will be very receptive to our need for quality construction at the best price possible.

The fact of this matter is that we will eventually have to do something to correct the deficiencies in the present facilities. I have witnessed the power of the state to condemn educational facilities, and it was an extremely helpless and degrading feeling to the students and to the members of the community. The residents of this fine community do not want this to happen. Now seems to be the optimal and most cost-efficient time to begin the facilities improvement plan.

Respectfully,
Chris and Darla Styles

Dear Publisher:

Having served as a NCTC Trustee from 2004-2010, I too agree that improvements are needed and that NCTC is a strong asset to Cooke County. I don't agree that we need to spend $32.5 million on monuments.

Do we want to spend $32.5 million like royalty, more than doubling the NCTC tax rate for the next 25-30 years? Can we afford more than $2,000 in additional taxes for a home valued at $100,000 over the life of the bond? Are there less costly alternatives? Should the costs be allocated fairly and evenly among those who use the buildings, or should a small minority of taxpayers pay the full cost of the improvements?

NCTC has opened two campuses in Denton County in the last 12 years. The Corinth Campus was built for about $8 million. According to the latest NCTC charts, it serves about 5500 students. Flower Mound was opened this spring, I think for less than $2 million, and already serves almost 900 students. I take NCTC at their word that no Cooke County tax dollars are spent in Denton County. If NCTC opened two campuses in Denton County serving almost 6400 students for about $10 million, why does it cost $32.5 million to partially upgrade the Gainesville Campus with less than 2400 students? Less than 900 students come from Cooke County. Logic would argue necessary improvements could be done for $5-10 million. NCTC hired an engineer who said the sinking floors in the 300 building could be permanently fixed for $300,000.

NCTC opened two Denton County campuses with no Cooke County taxes. Denton pays no NCTC taxes. Can't they figure out how to provide what is needed in Gainesville without doubling our property taxes for the next 25-30 years? I think we are looking at a wish list, not a conservative list of minimum needs. Do we really need a Showcase administration building for $13 million at a cost of $278/SF? It was only a couple years ago that we remodeled it.

For many years, Cooke County Taxpayers have been subsidizing out-of-county students to the tune of more than $1 million a year, based on calculations required by state law, when setting tuition. Please see the Register ads Bill Ledbetter, Dave Flusche, and I ran in May 2004 and the ads I ran in May 2008 offering $500 to the favorite charity of the first person who could prove me wrong on this. Three years later, there have been no takers on that offer. It appears NCTC is proposing to increase the wealth redistribution from $1 million a year to about $2.5 million a year at the expense of the Cooke County Taxpayer.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the median Cooke County household income in 2008 was $49,705. That compares to $73,678 in Denton County where the majority of NCTC students come from. President Obama wants to redistribute money from the wealthy to the less fortunate. I am particularly opposed to redistributing Cooke County's hard-earned tax dollars to students who come from wealthier families, that on average earn almost half again as much as Cooke County Taxpayers. Not even President Obama would do that.

Let's vote no on this bond proposal and ask NCTC to come up with a modest plan. It's not fair to ask Cooke County Taxpayers to double our taxes and pay the full cost of the facilities when we only have a small minority of NCTC students, just 1 out of 9 overall.

Dear Editor,

Many facts regarding the condition of the Muenster ISD Elementary and Junior High buildings have been discussed and presented in the numerous articles regarding the upcoming bond election on Saturday, May 14th. As the school nurse, I have my own set of concerns regarding the impact that it has and could have on the health of the students and staff that are here each day.

The Elementary building has old window air conditioners that do not always work and when they do, the result is a very musty odor in the classroom. This, coupled with the crowded conditions, contribute to air borne irritants that may aggravate respiratory symptoms of those suffering from allergies and asthma.

The Junior High building has asbestos in all the classrooms, the hallway, the band hall, in the pipes in the gym, and in caulking around some windows. The floor tiles containing it are covered, but in classrooms this is with very old and worn carpet. The carpet needs to be replaced, not only because it is worn and frayed, but also because it has been exposed to water numerous times whenever the water leaks in around the foundation after a heavy or continuous rain. The carpet cannot be removed, but can only be covered by another layer of carpet due to the asbestos underneath it, and therefore, it remains dirty and moldy.

The asbestos tiles are covered with wax and sealer in the hallways and band hall, but with constant traffic on a daily basis, this 'fix' is questionable if adequate to contain all particles of the broken tiles.

Please vote your heart on Saturday, May 14th.
Marlene R. Fisher, R.N School Nurse at Muenster ISD

Dear Editor:

On the 300 old library building air conditioning so some replacement parts had to be manufactured. So what? The replaced parts were also manufactured. There is a water-chiller system that worked well for decades. But it was shut down because one of the previous presidents had big plans to destroy the 300 building to put in a road to his planned new office building. So plans to destroy the 300 building are nothing new. Some years back they were looking at getting some people to go under the building, dig down about 13 feet to the bed rock, come up with columns to raise the floor up and hold the floor in place. On that fancy roof what about getting a big sand blaster to clean and etch the roof then put a thick coat of fiber glass on the roof? On the south side of the 300 building there are stairs that go down to a door that used to have a fallout shelter sign above the door. With the large number of people on campus .. With the number of tornadoes and big storms that fallout shelter could become a much needed storm shelter ... Since the 300 building is supposed to be in such bad shape, then why was money spent a couple of years ago to remodel the inside of the building?

The 600 building is about 75 feet west of the 300 building. The nurses use both buildings. What about building a new building connecting those two buildings? The new building could have the virtual hospital and labs. Since classes rooms have been in use for decades with good results, what is the problem?

I recommend getting a company that knows what they are doing and has a reputation for doing great work to do the needed repairs on those two buildings.

Our courthouse is a lot older than any building on our campus and it is being restored to be put back in use.

It is interesting that there is money for all of the out-of-county campuses but there is not money for our campus. Also consider that in the past there was a difference in tuition cost for in-county and out-of-county students. With in-county students having the cheaper tuition because if the students or their family owned real estate they were paying property taxes to support our college. The out-of-county students paid a higher rate of tuition since they did not pay property taxes. That difference was done away with a couple of years ago.

I have been hearing for some years that classes that were offered here are now only available at campuses that are out of this county. Causing students travel time and expense to take the desired classes. The excuse for that is easy to see because that tactic puts more students and money in out-of-county campuses to make them look better.

A bond is a mortgage on our property. The bond with interest will be in the neighbor hood of 10 cents per $100 valuation with our other tax load we get to buy back a portion of our property each year thrilling isn't it? With the way our money is being destroyed one thing we don't need is more debt also figure in the interest for an added bonus.

As always, students are easy to exploit. This bond deal has been very well set up with a large workforce. If you are against this bond issue you sure need to vote no and encourage other people to vote no.

Our college is very important to me. I have been a student for over two decades taking classes that interest me mainly agriculture, law enforcement and I especially enjoyed the vo. tech shop classes.

I have some very serious concerns about how our college is being managed past, present, and future. My vote is a solid immovable NO.

Dear Editor,

This letter is to all the grandparents and anyone over the age of 65. Why wouldn't you want a safe and healthy environment for your grandchildren and all students of MISD? Your property taxes will NOT increase! You will pay nothing! Your taxes are frozen.

The electrical problems at MISD are beyond repair. Did you know that only half the building can be heated or cooled at a time? Did you know that there is asbestos in the carpet and the carpet is totally worn out? To replace the carpet would be extremely costly because of the asbestos. Did you know that when it rains the water seeps into the classrooms under the wall? Did you know that in case of a tornado there is no safe place for the students to go? These buildings are beyond repair.

So why not vote "FOR" the bond and do what is best for our grandchildren and our community?

To the Editor:

The economy of Gainesville and Cooke County has begun to turn around. The unemployment rate as of February 2011 is 6.1%, the lowest in three years. The sales tax has increased 34% in the last seven months.

Weber Aircraft's employment is at an all-time high (1,300 employees) and they are continuing to look for qualified, educated employees. Peterbilt has just created a second shift. Pumpco of Valley View has built a new plant with 250 employees. Muenster is combining and expanding a new machine shop. Select Energy is building a new two-story office building on I-35 and Hwy. 82, which will be their headquarters, with 75-100 employees. NCTC trains welders for Titan Tanks and when those students graduate from the welding program, a job is available. All of these industries will bring more jobs and taxes to the Gainesville and Cooke County coffers and make more demands on NCTC to educate and train their employees.

Therefore, the increased taxes required for the NCTC bond election should not be as much of a financial burden as one might think. If the tax rate increases 8.1 cents for a 30-year bond, then a family with a house valued at $100,000 would pay $81 a year ($7 monthly). 72% of the homes in Gainesville are valued at $100,000 or less.

If a person is over 65 years of age or disabled, has declared his house a homestead and has filed for an exemption, then he will not pay any more taxes.

For those people who continue to think that Cooke County taxes are spent on the other NCTC campuses, this idea is incorrect. Revenue from local taxes is used totally and exclusively to help pay maintenance and operation expenses for the Gainesville campus, not other NCTC campuses.

NCTC brings money and jobs to Cooke County. The college is one of the county's largest employers, with 187 employees residing in Cooke County and a payroll of $4.95 million.

NCTC provides an economical place for students to prepare themselves with up to two years of college credit before moving on to a four-year school, and at a fraction of the cost they will pay after transfer. Cooke County residents pay $552 for 12 credit hours compared to $3,658 at UNT. In addition, dual credit allows county high school students to earn low-cost college credit at NCTC, while still in high school. That represents a significant savings for parents.

For other students, NCTC provides low-cost workforce training for well-paying jobs such as nursing, air conditioning, welding, the equine industry, and horticulture.

Most of NCTC's present facilities were built when the enrollment was considerably less than 1,000 students. Currently there are over 2,200 attending. The college has spent $11 million over the last 10 years on repair, maintenance and renovating facilities, while at the same time trying to stay up with technology and current programs. Currently, we compete with Grayson County in Sherman and Collin County in McKinney. Commissioners in Wise County recently voted $19 million for a campus in Decatur sponsored by Weatherford Junior College.

Vote YES on the college bond issue to help the present NCTC students and those in future years. Focus beyond yourself and the present day and try to project into the future for the benefit of those to come.

To Whom It May Concern:

Edgar and I moved to Muenster in 1959 and to our great fortune, never left. Although we aren't Muenster natives, we have always felt a part of this wonderful community. Muenster is unique in that it is blessed to have two outstanding schools; Muenster ISD and Sacred Heart. Both schools have always done what is best for its students.

Our connection to MISD has been rewarding to us. Edgar retired from MISD after 29 years of service, and I retired after 26 years of service. During our careers, doing what was in the best interest of the students was always first priority. I feel that the upcoming bond election on May 14 is in the best interest of our students "now" and of our students in the "future" --our kids deserve this!

Previous "letters to the editor" have stressed the need for this bond as well as the fact that now is the time because at the present construction costs are low, bond rates are at an all-time low, and the monetary contribution from the windmill project is a definite plus. For those of you in my age group, we have nothing to lose but all to gain; our taxes are frozen. Our schools are a vital asset to our community and need our support. Let's show our children and our grandchildren that we care by voting "YES" for the Muenster ISD Bond Election.

To the Editor,

I graduated from Muenster Public School in 1957. The population of Muenster was approximately 1270 people. Now, 54 years later, 2011, the population is 1550. That is a growth of 280 in 54 years. Do the people think they need a 14 million dollar bond election for more schools/buildings with no more growth than that?

Elementary students are placed in the hallway for recess during inclement weather.

Classrooms do not meet TEA Standards. They are too small and lack storage.

The old practice gym (built in 1949) has safety issues: the floor has sunk over six inches in some areas; there is termite and water damage. The practice gym is necessary to allow all ten school teams time to practice.

Our buildings have major electrical issues! Therefore, we are unable to upgrade technology.

- Inefficient lighting, heating, and cooling.
- Does not meet current health and safety codes.
- Mixing of elementary, junior high, and high school students.
- No safe place for students to go in case of a tornado.

On Tuesday, May 24 from 5-7 p.m., Fogus will be at The Center Restaurant in Muenster to answer citizens' questions and listen to their concerns. He will offer handouts delivering the message of his platform.

On why he wants to be Sheriff, Fogus remarked, "I want to serve the citizens of Cooke County. I've been here 20 years and have been in law enforcement for 30 plus years." He recently retired from the Corinth Police Department where he served as a detective on that police force.

Concerned citizens meet

Both Cooke and Montague counties are involved in these issues.

Present at the meeting were Cooke County Judge John Roane, Cooke County Commissioners Leon Klement and Al Schmidt, and Water Board Representative Kenneth Klement. Judge Tommy Sappinton, Commissioner Bob Langford, and Water Board Representative

Tracy Metzler were present for Montague County.

The officials were supportive in listening to the citizens' environmental concerns. All attendees encouraged each other to contact TCEQ, Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, as soon as possible. Neighbors came together to help one another in pursuit of the facts.

With Germanfest being moved back a week due to a conflict with Easter, the Metric Century Bicycle Rally had to compete for participants with a big rally held annually in Dallas. Last year, the Germanfest ride had 2,005 entered. This year there were only 1,695 who rode.

Next year, Germanfest will move back to its regular niche in the last full weekend of April.

Stay alert to wildfire danger when traveling

Texans face extreme wildfire danger. Check fire and weather conditions before you get on the road. Monitor radio broadcasts while traveling. In areas where there may be wildfire, watch for highway signs, traffic control personnel, and fire fighters. Slow down and prepare to stop when they signal you to do so. Remember, wind driven wildfire can move as fast as 60 miles per hour. If you see dense smoke on the road, do not drive into it.

Learning Geometry proves to be fun

The Sacred Heart Catholic School 5th Grade recycled old newspapers to make dowels for a Geometry lesson. After they rolled the newspaper into dowels, they practiced making and identifying key math concepts such as: parallel and perpendicular lines, types of angles and triangles, congruence, and polygons (two-dimensional shapes). Next, they quickly became happily engaged using their polygons to design and construct polyhedrons (three-dimensional structures). Through trial and error, they figured out how to make cubes, tetrahedrons, octahedrons, dodecahedrons, and icosahedrons. While totally engrossed and having fun, the students explored the relationship between shape and structure. They discovered what geometric shapes offered the most stability in constructing buildings and bridges. All in all, it was a fun project and the 5th grade expanded their knowledge of Geometry without even knowing it!

COUNTY

that she felt EOG should be forthcoming with information on the seriousness of these contaminants. She was also concerned about the affect on cattle, crops, and the area's water supply. She spoke for a number of neighbors, she noted.

Precinct #4 Commissioner Leon Klement assured the concerned residents that he is aware of the plant, is concerned, and had been trying to find some answers.

Proposals for architects for the main Cooke County EMS building were received from eight firms. They were scored, recommendation sought, and EMS Director Kevin Grant announced that coming out on top was Southwest Architect of Fort Worth. The RFQ was for a potential new EMS building or remodeling the current one. The architect would determine which was more cost effective.

Jeff Heffelfinger and Justin Gilmore of Southwest Architect were present and addressed the Court and answered questions on the project. They proposed to do in two parts. The firm's fees for a new building would be $12,500 and an existing building $15,750 because it is more work and requires asbestos testing. The fee would be paid from the $100,000 building/remodel fund. The feasibility study fee will be credited into the overall total.

Only one firm can be interviewed at a time. If references or negotiations fail, then you go to the next one. The hiring must be done by qualifications, not by price. Southwest was approved as the architect for the EMS project.

Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher was granted approval to apply for the Texas Individual Tornado Safe Room Rebate Program. The county-wide mitigation plan allows Cooke County to submit for mitigation grant projects. The money comes from declared disasters. With the next declared federal disaster, 10% of the FEMA monies allocated to that state have to be spent on mitigation projects, he explained. The legwork is being done now so it is ready for submission when the money is available.

It is for in-ground storm shelters or slab mounted shelters. It is not for constructing a safe room as part of a new home or remodel. They must be installed by a certified builder. It is for individuals and will pay up to half the cost, but no more than $3,000. Those who are interested in applying for the grant money or who want more information should call Fletcher at 668-5400.

Depository bids from four banks were opened. Each had the required bond check with the bids. Submitting bids were Landmark Bank, First State Bank, Muenster State Bank, and Prosperity Bank. A committee of the County Treasurer Judy Hunter, County Auditor Shelly Atteberry, and County Judge John Roane will study the proposals and recommend one at the next meeting.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Approved request by EOG Resources, Inc. to install a 10" poly pipe SDR7 within a 16" steel casing for transporting disposal water. This proposed road bore will be located 5,200' north of CR 324 in Precinct #3.
- Approved EMS Director Kevin Grant to apply for a $50,000 grant with the Texas State Department of Health and Human Services.
- Approved 2011 Homeland Security Grant Investment Justification.
- Approved Xerox contract for copier for Cooke County Extension Office.

FISHING GEAR BASICS

In fishing, it is very important to an angler's success that he starts with the proper equipment. He may purchase or own the finest equipment in the world, but when it is assembled and put into use, it may prove to be a very decided handicap.

To guard against this, it is important that the individual items of tackle be properly balanced one with the other. Unbalanced equipment has been responsible for more difficulties and failures of beginners than any other single factor.

Fishing rod

To fish with a good rod is to really enjoy fishing. It is much easier to learn with a good rod than with one of an inferior quality. This is no commercial plug to encourage the sale of expensive rods, but just a word of warning to prevent any possible or unnecessary discouragement because of using a rod that would be a decided handicap to a competent caster.

Fishing lines

This item of fishing gear must be selected with some careful considerations if anglers are expecting to enjoy fishing or casting.

This is because the size and weight of fishing lines made by various manufacturers are not entirely uniform, that is, the diameter of the line by one manufacturer may be slightly larger or smaller than a line by another manufacturer even though both bear the same size marking.

The leader

The leader is also a very important item, and unless it is selected with care and consideration in comparison with the size of the line, the caster will have trouble in making it extend straight out from the line when casting.

The chief function of the leader is to serve as an invisible connection between the line and the lure.

Fishing flies or lures

The flies may range in size, from the tiniest used, which might be number 18 or 20, up to flies tied on number-2 hooks or larger. The heavier flies or lures create; more wind is needed. It also requires the use of heavier equipment or more power on the part of the caster during the back cast and forward cast.

Reels

The reel may be automatic or single action, but in any event, it should be large enough to hold the usual 30 yards of fishing line without crowding it on the reel spool.

The reel should weigh from 1/4 to 1/2 as much as the bare rod. The reel itself is of no specific use in casting or fishing except as a storage place for the line.

Consequently, the entire equipment should always be in good condition. Otherwise, achieving success in fishing is impossible.

Fishing Texas

Here are some tips that will help anyone who wants to go fishing in Texas:

1. The first thing to do is get the right equipment: a good boat, fishing rod, reels, and bait.
2. If one is not familiar with the place, it is best to ask the locals where the best fishing ground is, then start from there.
3. Hooks can be in different sizes. The right hook for fishing is dependent on the kind of bait that will be used.
4. To prevent injury, especially when taking out the fish caught in the hook, it is advisable to do it using wet hands.
5. Some fish stray when the water is clear, but it is quite difficult since the fish can also see the bait. To be able to catch more fish, the best place to do it is in deep water.
6. It is also advisable to try a variety of bait when fishing. Some fish can easily be caught with one kind while others are not.

Sacred Heart girls settle for 4th

Shiner Saint Paul, Marble Falls Faith, and Victoria Faith all scored in the 70s to take the top team places in the TAPPS State Track and Field Meet at Baylor University last week. The Tigerettes of Sacred Heart settled for 4th with 59 points.

The Sacred Heart girls failed to bring home a State Gold medal, but earned 5 Silver and 6 Bronze. The 800m Relay team of Peyton Reiter, Kaitlin Hesse, Sara Davidson, and Karli Anderle finished 2nd, as did Mikayla Fleitman in the 800m race. Mikenzie Fleitman followed for a 3rd place. Bailey Walterscheid's Pole Vault earned the Bronze, as did the 1600m Relay team of Fleitman, Fleitman, Hesse, and Reiter.

The Tigerettes' places, times, and distances that were available are as follows:

800m: 2, Mikayla Fleitman, 2:32.16; 3, Mikenzie Fleitman, 2:33.50.
3200m: 6, Mikayla Fleitman, 10:44.95.
100m Hurdles: 6, Taylor Reiter.

800m Relay: 2, Kaitlin Hesse, Sara Davidson, Karli Anderle, Peyton Reiter, 1:53.81.

1600m Relay: 3, Mikayla Fleitman, Mikenzie Fleitman, Kaitlin Hesse, Peyton Reiter, 4:29.11.

Discus: 5, Morgan Swank.

Area Champ Lady Knights

The Lindsay Lady Knights won the Area Championship in softball by defeating the Lady Eagles of Goldthwaite 11-1 and 19-3. Lindsay combined with a total of 31 hits, 21 RBIs, and 22 bases.

In game one, Elizabeth Zwinggi scored 3 runs, Cassidy Gum 2, and a run each by Megan Caillier, Bethani Eberhart, Taylor Atkins, Rane Morrison, Erin Copeland, and Emily Ambuehl.

Atkins pitched all 7 innings, facing 32 batters, allowing 6 hits, striking out 8, walking 5, and allowing 1 run.

In game two, Lindsay won in 5 innings. Atkins had 4 runs, Morrison 3, and Alyx Ethington, Ambuehl, Copeland, Eberhart, Gum, and Caillier each scored 2.

The Lady Knights faced the Moody Lady Bearcats Thursday evening in Fort Worth, with game two, and game three if needed, played Friday.

The Knights, after a 1st round bye, played the Hubbard Jaguars, also in Fort Worth Thursday, with the second and possible third rounds played Friday.

Muenster Memorial Hospital Rehabilitation Program

Total Access Weight Equipment

The MMH FIT Center is equipped with top of the line strength training equipment. One way that ours is different from others is the total access option which allows it to be used by handicapped or able bodied patients. For example, the seats can be removed on many of the machines to allow individuals in a wheelchair to use them. MMH is the second hospital in the state of Texas to have this line in their facility.

Our Swing Bed Program patients are already benefiting from the new Functional Innovative Therapy (FIT) Center.

Therapists provide Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, and Speech Therapy

The following items are compiled from recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

Night hunters see the light
 On Dec. 7, Polk County Game Wardens Ryan Hall and David Johnson were called out at 3 a.m. by the sheriff's department in reference to a night hunting complaint. Three subjects had just shot a deer from the roadway near a residence and had been followed by the homeowner back to their residence. Deputies arrived just as the subjects pulled into their driveway and detained them after they tried to flee on foot.

Arriving a short time later, the wardens seized a freshly killed antlerless white-tailed deer. Both subjects admitted to their part in killing the deer from the roadway and named an accomplice. The two subjects were arrested and placed in Polk County Jail for possession of an illegally taken white-tailed deer and Class A hunting at night. Warrants are pending for the third subject.

Road hunt goes to pot, so to speak
 On Dec. 2 at approximately 9:30 p.m., Uvalde County Game Warden Henry Lutz received a call from a hunter north of Sabin reporting that someone was shooting from a vehicle on the road near his hunting camp. Warden Lutz was nearby and located the vehicle, which was occupied by two subjects. The warden found two freshly killed deer in the bed of their truck as well as a small amount of marijuana.

Uvalde County Warden Rachel Kellner later arrived and assisted with trying to locate any other downed deer. Both subjects were arrested and booked into the Uvalde Jail. One was charged with hunting white-tailed deer at night, a Class A misdemeanor, and possession of marijuana, a Class B misdemeanor. The other subject has been caught for night hunting twice previously in Uvalde County, one of the cases as far back as 1992, and already had a Class A conviction for hunting white-tailed deer at night. Warden Lutz is preparing a state jail felony case on this individual.

Tipster a bit too tipsy
 Wilson County Warden Jesse Garcia received a call Dec. 2 that a deer with its head cut off had been found on the side of the road. The subject who found the deer agreed to meet the warden at the location. Garcia arrived and was inspecting the deer when the man who reported it drove up. The warden noticed the man appeared very unsteady when he got out of his vehicle and had a strong odor of alcohol on his breath. The subject said he loved having his beer in the afternoon, and he hoped Garcia was not going to take him in. After administering a field sobriety test, Garcia arrested the subject for DWI and transported him to the Wilson County Jail. Garcia filed a second offense DWI due to a prior conviction, a Class A misdemeanor.

Small caliber equals big trouble for night hunter
 Floyd County Game Warden Mark Collins received a landowner call on Nov. 30 advising a mature mule deer buck had been shot and left dead in a remote wheat field near the South Plains community the previous night.

The warden responded, gathered evidence, and took photos of the scene. While doing so, he discovered an even larger mule deer buck roughly 500 yards from the first deer. Though mortally wounded, the deer was still alive. After dispatching the second buck, Collins followed the same evidence-gathering procedure and determined both deer had been shot with a small caliber bullet.

After a brief interview with the landowner, the only known people on the property that night were determined. Having a suspect name but little else, Collins contacted Floydada Police Chief Darrel Gooch, who proved to be of great assistance. After following several leads, a suspect was arrested and taken before a judge, where multiple charges were filed. Restitution and final payment are pending.

Some hikers' backpacks hold more than extra socks
 Game Wardens Daniel Kessler, Andrew Banda, Erin Albright, Matt Bridgefarmer, and Captain Jim Porter teamed up with U.S. Customs and the Texas Department of Public Safety on March 25 to apprehend three drug smugglers who had been operating in the remote areas of Jeff Davis County for some time. When arrested, the three subjects each had backpacks stuffed with marijuana. The total amount came to 145 pounds. The game wardens' knowledge of the area was a key factor in the apprehensions.

Hole in one alligator proves costly for violator

Harris County Game Warden Bobby Apple received information about someone hunting at night on an abandoned golf course and began a stakeout that extended for several nights over a few weeks. Apple finally found the man on the golf course one evening. After questioning, the man confessed to killing a 7-foot alligator in one of the ponds on the golf course with his bow. The hide, meat, and head were later seized from the man's house. Several citations were issued.

Frustrated crime victim gets help from wardens and (satellites) above

Harris County game wardens Kevin Creed and Susan Webb along with Liberty County game warden Daniel Diaz and the Liberty County Sheriff's Department on March 27 recovered a 4-wheeler ATV and other items stolen in a burglary. The victim had lost several 4-wheelers, trailers, air conditioning units, copper wire, and a lot of other items in thefts on his property, where he offers hunts for various groups of mobility impaired people and wounded military personnel. He finally had enough and placed a GPS tracking device on his equipment. With help from the GPS equipment and the game wardens, the missing ATV was recovered and three persons were arrested.

A rod for all fishing

Fishing rods for perfect fishing

Today's fishing rods have incorporated modern features that are not typical of the more primitive cane pole. Modern fishing rods contain reels, which aid in the retrieval of fish caught in its bait.

A much-sophisticated feature is the spinning rod where the entire shaft of the rod except the handle can move around on its axis to allow flexibility when fish caught on snare bait struggles through the water.

Like the classic cane fishing rods, the fishing gadget is thick at the handle (bottom) and is tapered and thinner at the tip. This very basic design allows handling stability and flexible movement of the entire length of the shaft.

Types of fishing rods and specifications

A typical fishing rod measures six to 16 feet and varies in capability to tolerate strain in fishing activity. The length has a lot to do with withstanding force exerted by the fish to the pole and determines for the most part the performance of rods used for angling.

Cane poles

Cane poles are one of the smallest and less sophisticated gadgets in fishing. It is usually made of bamboo or other flexible wood material with the most basic fly line attached to it.

Unlike other more sophisticated fishing rods, cane poles do not usually contain reels or its equivalent to be used for reeling in or retrieving fish caught on bait. This very same action is known as angling.

Spinning rods

These types of rods are the most popular today. They can be used either for heavy-weight or lightweight fish, although they were proven best for trout, walleye, and bass fish. They vary in measurements from five to seven feet.

Spinning poles are commonly used in bass fishing competition, accounting for their flexibility and tolerance to stress. They accommodate bigger and tougher fly lines and stabilize them to avoid line tangles during uncoiling of float lines.

Jigging rods

These rods are best for heavy lures and baits especially when reaching around 180 to 200 feet under the ocean's surface. They are made of fine, solid materials, which accounts to their heaviness. The use of jigging rods is specifically due to alternating currents during the fishing activity.

Some oceans have erratic undersea current. That is why the bait and fly lines should be kept in place.

EPA administration claims they are not out to ruin family farms

According to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Lisa Jackson, the agency is not intending to put family farms out of business. She and other Cabinet officials are touring farm states in an effort to address complaints from state lawmakers against the agency's tactics and regulations.

However, claims that there is no motivation to regulate American farmers out of business are not getting too far on Capitol Hill, where Democrats and Republicans alike have criticized the EPA's farm policies and regulatory authority.

A Politico article noted a recent House Agriculture Committee hearing where California Democrat Dennis Cardoza told Jackson her agency was "the most unpopular agency in farm country from sea to shining sea, bar none."

The committee's top Democrat and former chairman, Collin Peterson of Minnesota, said the EPA appears to farmers like "an out-of-control agency that doesn't understand agriculture and doesn't seem to want to understand it." Illinois Republican Tim Johnson continued the sentiment when he told Jackson that her agency has been the "poster child for usurpation of legislative authority."

Among the most hotly debated EPA issues are the agency's plans to clamp down on farm dust, regulate spilled milk, and impose a "cow tax" on farmers for the greenhouse gases emitted by livestock.

Jackson insists that the EPA has no plans to regulate dust on farms, although she hasn't ruled out the possibility.

Japan may revise '20-month rule' on American beef

Officials at the U.S. Meat Export Federation (USMEF) say that Japan could be easing its strict regulations on U.S. beef exports soon. In 2003, Japan imposed the "20-month rule," banning U.S. beef over 20 months of age. The restriction followed the discovery of bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE, or "mad cow disease") in two U.S. cattle eight years ago.

However, the rule, which left a considerable amount of U.S. beef production ineligible for the Japanese marketplace, now is being questioned.

USMEF's Phil Seng says that, once Japanese officials resolve the ongoing nuclear crisis, he expects a breakthrough on the issue. Seng believes a phased approach, such as that in South Korea, could apply to Japan, initially easing the standard of beef from cattle 30 months of age or younger.

The National Cattlemen's Beef Association (NCBA) has estimated that a revised Japanese rule of a 30-month standard could generate another billion dollars annually for U.S. cattlemen.

Texas House passes grain indemnity fund bill

The Texas House of Representatives passed HB 1840, authored by Rep. Larry Phillips of Sherman, that supports the development of a grain indemnity fund. The fund would be totally financed by producers and would be similar to the Texas Wheat Producers Board and Association's check-off program.

In the last two years, several grain elevators across the state have gone bankrupt. During this time, farmers have lost millions of bushels of grain with little hope of recovering the monetary value. The indemnity fund would allow a 90% payment to a farmer who lost grain due to elevator foreclosure.

The bill now moves to the Senate Agriculture Committee and if passed there will head to the full Senate for consideration before landing on the governor's desk for signature into law.

Raising prices of wheat products

Major restaurant chains and food brands have announced they plan to raise their product prices in response to higher commodity prices. Wheat, in particular, is more expensive as crop yields have suffered under intense drought in Texas, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

Wheat futures are up 57% over last year. The price reached $9.1675 per bushel on Feb. 14, the highest price for a most-active contract since August 2008. As of May 2, wheat futures for July delivery settled at $7.9175 per bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Production in Texas, Kansas, and Oklahoma—three of the United States' largest wheat-producing states—may be down by nearly a third to a half this season. Drought has threatened supply and pushed prices upward.

Insurance nightmare

Things use to be less complicated. Consider selling a car. Done incorrectly, and you could find yourself being sued when the buyer hurts someone in an accident long after you thought the vehicle was sold. Most policies will not cover losses caused by a vehicle that is no longer listed, so doing the "sale process" correctly can keep you from paying a claim out of your pocket.

Yes, even years after a car was sold, sellers have been sued. What if the vehicle is used in an armed robbery and detectives trace the unit back to you? These are two actual cases our agency has seen. FMW Insurance Agency offers a wealth of experience to our customers, being continually licensed since 1923. Don't wait for an insurance nightmare to start a relationship. Call Gary Fisher, Paula Kerr, or Anna Braziel at 940-759-4644, or drop by 206 N Main anytime.
