

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XXII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

JULY 18, 1958

NUMBER 34

The titanic struggle which was predicted decades ago as the eventual showdown between communism and the free world may be just around the corner. At long last it seems that our government has drawn the line beyond which red expansion will no longer be tolerated.

In making his announcement that American troops have landed in the Middle East, to assist pro-Western countries of that area in dealing with their communist instigated crises, President Eisenhower made great efforts to justify his action to the American public. His attitude seemed to imply that he expected the decision to be unpopular, that we would rather continue the old peace at any price policy in a hope of avoiding trouble with the big international bully.

Judging our countrymen by their spirit in past years, the Enterprise confidently predicts that this move will be the most popular to date by the Eisenhower administration. Here at last is something to restore an American's pride. After being pushed around these many years we have finally mustered the courage to stand our ground and issue the ultimatum that freedom loving people of all nationalities have so eagerly awaited. Whether this leads to a world war remains to be seen. For the first time the long boasted claim of red supremacy is challenged. The prestige of the Egyptian bully boy and his Soviet sponsor are on the line. They must either risk an all-out war or make a diplomatic retreat that will be noted around the world.

As regards our country's prospects for the future, we have at least some grounds for optimism . . . that communism's domestic problems may discourage continued hostility even more than our country's challenge. The Soviet Union and its satellites are so many powder kegs, almost certain to break into rebellion as soon as red troops are pulled out to meet a foreign foe. If the reds fear that danger they may choose to retreat in the present affair. If they don't fear it all we can hope is that they guessed wrong and will actually trigger the downfall of their own empire.

Regardless of what the future brings, every American should thank God for this change of official policy. This does things for our national pride. More important, it does things for our hope of national survival. As we were going since the war many of us wondered whether the red conquest would be allowed to advance too far. Maybe it's already gone too far. Maybe not. But one thing is certain. Our chances are better now than if we had gone on with the appeasement.

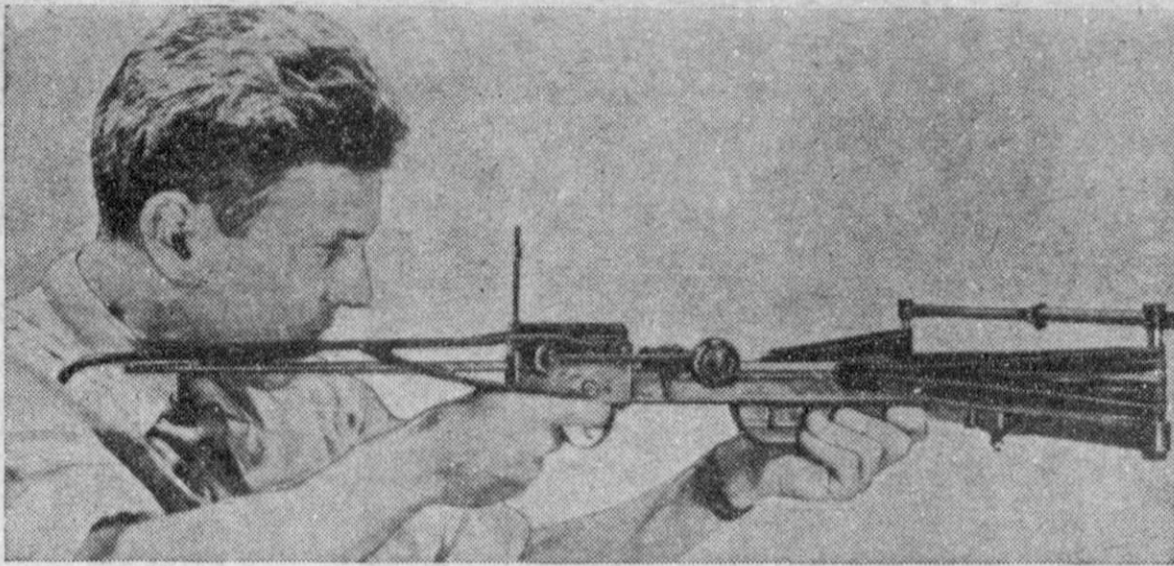

From Congressman Frank Icard comes the warning that the Texas Tideland issue is still not settled. The Federal government has filed a 425 page brief contesting this state's title . . . which, to all practical purposes, simply exposes the state to the whims of the Supreme Court.

Ever since the tidelands issue first came up we Texans have smugly contended that they can't do that to us. The law is on our side. The U. S. agreed to our boundary line when Texas joined the union, and Texas has never relinquished its claim to any part of the disputed area. To us it seems like an air-tight case. But that doesn't mean a thing to the Supreme Court. Judging by several of that great tribunal's decisions in recent years we have good reason to be afraid. Those fellows do not interpret law, they re-write it. The merit of our claim doesn't count as much as the pet theories of the men.

If that happens the public school system of Texas will be in a real cramp. Revenues from the disputed land have been about $75 million since 1953. School funds of the state are already hurting as a result of this year's slump in the oil business . . . so much so that state per capita payments per student for next year have been cut from $82 to $75. With nearly 700 children in the Muenster district, this means that per capita receipts at the public school next year will drop almost $4,900.

This column is indebted to Congressman Icard for another timely reminder. Old Glory, as now designed, does not have to be redesigned or discarded when HUSH-HUSH WORLD WAR II WEAPON—The Pentagon's World War II "bow and arrow" report has been stripped of its "confidential" tag. This photo from the 14-year-old report on "silent, flashless weapons" shows model "Big Joe 6" in firing position. The weapon features a rubber propellant which fires metal darts. According to the report, it is believed to be definitely lethal if the dart strikes a vital part of the human body. Eighty yards is regarded as maximum effective range. The report said that the study of the silent-shooters was made for the World War II Office of Strategic Services (OSS)—apparently for cloak-and-dagger activities.

Saint Jo Extends Bid to Centennial Event on July 29

Shades of 1858 — eleven love-lies in that era's authentic costumes complete with bonnets and hats descended upon Muenster Monday afternoon. The delegation was from Saint Jo on a good-will tour for Saint Jo Day during Montague County's Centennial celebration. The big day is July 29.

A parade, a free barbecue, a marker unveiling, various competitive contests and a street dance are on the day's program. Indians from Anadarko will add further color to the ceremonies.

The Saint Joites extended a general invitation to everyone to be in Saint Jo Tuesday, July 29, for any or all of the events and also to participate in the contests, or enter a float or decorated car in the parade.

The old fiddlers contest and the barbershop quartet are open for entries. Further details may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Sam Pedigo, Saint Jo. Winners will receive awards. O. K. Williams of Saint Jo is parade chairman. Mrs. Tom White is publicity chairman.

At 10 a.m. the Century Marker in the plaza of the city will be unveiled to formally usher in the day's festivities. The free barbecue to be served at noon will be catered by Jetton's of Fort Worth.

A queen's contest is now in progress. On July 21 two queens will be named to reign over Saint Jo's celebration. One will represent 1858, the other 1958.

In Muenster Monday to get the word around and to invite everyone to participate in Saint Jo Day, were Mmes. Tom White, R. T. Brock, J. H. Field, Otto Holland, C. H. Shofner, Grace Phillips, Jay Jones, Lester Victor, J. M. Shields, J. C. Donnell and W. C. Wheeler.

Open House Reception at Tom Pryors Observes 60th Wedding Anniversary

A wedding that took place 60 years ago on July 10 was the inspiration Sunday for a celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pryor at their home in Myra. More than 50 persons attended the open house party from 2 to 5 p.m. It was a surprise for the honor couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Pryor, both native Texans — she's a native of Cooke County — have lived at Myra 35 years. They are a youthful and active 82 and 76.

The bride of 60 years ago was Miss Mae Jones, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Jones of Valley View in whose home the wedding took place. Rev. Blackburn was the officiating minister. The wedding pictures show the bride wore an elaborately trimmed white dress with lace and ruffles at the high neckline.

"Driving around in a modern car isn't quite like the horse and buggy we left our wedding in," Mrs. Pryor laughs. They own an automobile and both still drive.

The honor couple's one daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoffman of Iowa Park, their niece Mrs. Morris King of Muenster, and Mrs. D. C. Gillette of Myra planned the surprise celebration and all their neighbors and friends joined in . . . baking cakes, gathering flowers for decorations . . . and

Muenster Firemen Reveal Plans for Picnic August 10

People of Muenster have an extra special invitation to attend a benefit picnic to be given Sunday, August 10 at the Parish Hall by members of the Muenster volunteer fire department.

Funds to be raised by the event are earmarked for two specific purposes. One is to pay off a balance of more than $100 on the resuscitator bought some 18 months ago. Another is to raise $3.00 per member to be sent to a state fund for study and overhaul of the Firemen's Pension Fund. Other lesser projects of the local department are also expected to benefit from the picnic.

Activity at the picnic will begin about 11 o'clock and continue through the afternoon. Attractions offered are games, eats and drinks.

In asking support of their event the firemen call special attention to the department's financial value to the city. Aside from preventing fire losses it saves people of town thousands of dollars annually in reduced fire rates.

Gainesville to Host District Meeting of VFW and Auxiliary

Gainesville VFW members and Ladies Auxiliary will host the summer district I meeting August 2 and 3, it has been announced. At the same time Muenster organizations received the notice they received invitations to send a full number of representatives to the convention.

The Gainesville VFW Post's new home is completed and all functions for both men and women during the convention will be held there.

The Gillettes took the Pryors to church Sunday morning, then to their home for dinner. During this time hostesses for the party made arrangements and decorated the Pryor home. When the Gillettes and Pryors arrived at the Pryor home at 2 o'clock everyone else was gathered there for a rousing round of congratulations and presentation of gifts.

Someone pinned a white mum corsage on Mrs. Pryor and fixed Mr. Pryor up with a matching boutonniere. Mrs. Joe Lewter of Hood and Mrs. King poured punch and Verta Lee Bridges served cake.

Conversation which recalled the couple's wedding day moved through the years when Mr. Pryor engaged in farming and cattle raising . . . which he reluctantly gave up only last year . . . and settled down to talk on fishing, the chief hobby of both Mr. and Mrs. Pryor.

Neither Mr. Pryor nor his wife recalled recent accidents which might have left them seriously handicapped. They were bubbling over with joy and excitement — the occasion was more than golden.

Mr. Pryor has completely recovered from a near fatal accident in June 1956 when a section of barn fell on him during Sister Canisia has recovered from an operation performed at Jonesboro early in July, according to word reaching friends here.

Ernest Martin, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin, has recovered from surgery performed at Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday. The operation was on glands in his neck. The ailment was said to have resulted from rheumatic fever earlier this year.

Paul Tempel has been transferred from the VA hospital in McKinney to Lisbon Veterans Hospital at Dallas for further treatment. He's in Room A, 6th floor, and welcomes cards. Mrs. Tempel visited her husband Sunday and he told her he was lonely in a new place and hoped his friends would write.

According to word from Father Martin, still a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth, he may have to undergo surgery after all. Edd McGannon brought back that word Friday after a visit with him. He said Father Martin disclosed that doctors were going to continue medical treatment for several days more and that if improvement wasn't better than it has been he would have to have an operation.

Mrs. Leonard Hartman has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium following medical treatment and is convalescing at the home of her sister Mrs. Johnny Rohmer during the time she still needs nursing care.

Adult Swim Class Offered at Pool

A swimming class for adult beginners will be taught soon at the Muenster pool if a class of at least 10 persons can be organized. L. B. Bruns said this week that applications for the class will be accepted up to and including Sunday and applicants will be notified Monday if the class will be taught.

The course will not be the free one offered to kiddies under Red Cross sponsorship. Pupils who enroll in this one will pay for their lessons . . . the amount of the fee to be determined by the number of persons in the class.

Hatchery Expansion Seen in Purchase of Gainesville Firm

An expansion in the trade area and facilities of the Muenster Hatchery was revealed this week in the announcement that it has purchased the Gainesville Hatchery.

Clive Gobble and Earl Fisher, owners of the two firms said they accepted the offer of Al Moody, who wanted to sell the Gainesville business so that he could take up another kind of work at Houston.

The local partners expect to operate in both locations during the peak of the hatching season and to shut down the Gainesville incubators when the season tapers off . . . doing all hatching here/ but keeping the Gainesville store open for the convenience of its customers. Muenster's hatching is favored over the other for the slow season because it has a higher rating.

Gobble and Fisher have big hopes of their expanded venture. They welcome an opportunity to enlarge their market and also the opportunity to operate more efficiently during the annual tapering off period when one place can do all the hatching for both.

Austrians Study Local Method of Soil Conservation

Three Austrian scientists making a study of soil and water conservation methods in this country centered their attention on Muenster Wednesday afternoon. They were interested in conservation practices here, but admitted they were also lone-some for a bit of conversation in their native language, German.

The men are now located at Sherman as guests of W. H. Totten. They came here in the company of L. O. Gardner, vice-president of the M&P Bank of Sherman, who presented them to J. M. Weinzapfel. As the community's leading conservationist and a fair German conversationalist Weinzapfel was host for an informative and pleasant three hour visit.

The men were Finstor Schaubberger, his son, W. Schaubberger and a son-in-law Dr. Luib.

The convention dates are July 22, 23 and 24.

The convention will be preceded by sales meetings for the local secretaries of the Catholic Life Insurance Union, starting at 1:30 p.m. Monday, July 21, with the annual banquet for the officers and secretaries in the evening.

Tuesday evening's activities will feature a dance sponsored by the youth section of the State League.

Henkes of San Antonio, spiritual director of the Youth Section, will preach the sermon. On Wednesday evening, the gathering will be addressed by Rev. Fred Mosman of Dallas, director of the Society for the Propagation of Faith for the Dallas-Ft. Worth Diocese, and Mrs. Blanche Bachura of Wichita, Kansas, president of the National Catholic Women's Union.

During the convention, plaques will be presented to winners in the rural life contest, the contestants of which were selected from the winners in the various districts, where 28 plaques were presented earlier in the year.

The convention will close Thursday, July 24, with a Solemn Requiem Mass for deceased members and a final meeting.

Opinion Sought on Method of Forming Hospital Authority

Activity in organizing Muenster's hospital authority was temporarily delayed this week awaiting the opinion and advice of the Texas attorney general.

To make sure that all legal technicalities are being observed City Attorney Herbert Meurer has written the attorney general explaining procedure to date and asking for advice on any regulations that might have been overlooked.

A reply is expected late this week or early next week, after which the hospital authority directors and the city council will cooperate in completing the organization of the authority.

Grid Score Board Will Be Installed At Muenster High

Football fans attending the Muenster High home games from now on will be kept posted on the game's progress by a big, good looking score board.

Measuring 18 feet long and 7 feet high, the unit will be erected at the south end of Hornet Field in time for the first home game. It will be flanked at the two sides and below by advertisements of local firms and individuals. Money realized by those ads help to defray the cost of the score board, which is $1600 installed.

Muenster PTA, the sponsoring organization, has accumulated about $1000 for the project to date. Some of the money comes from ads, some from donations, some from the organization's treasury. The remaining $600, to be paid by October 1, will be raised by concessions at games, special community promotions and more ads.

Information to be shown on the board are the scores of the two teams, the time remaining in the quarter and the number of the down and yards to go in the current series of downs.

All controls will be in the announcer's box mounted high at the east side of the school and overlooking the field. Downs and yardage will be marked up by means of two dials similar to those on telephones. A switch will stop the electric clock at time out periods, and a push button will be used to control the score indicator for each team.

Ray Klement Loses 2500 Bales of Hay In Sunday's Blaze

About 2500 bales of this year's hay were lost Sunday in a hay stack fire on the Ray Klement farm about 5 miles northwest of town.

When discovered shortly after noon the fire was already beyond control but combined efforts of the family and neighbors and Muenster volunteer firemen kept it from spreading to nearby farm buildings. It burned until about 4 a.m. Monday and would probably have lasted hours longer had the fire not been hastened by dragging a cable through to stir and scatter.

Wind favored the men in preventing spread of the flames, especially regarding a poultry house just a few feet away. The little heat that got to it in spite of breeze was dissipated by an almost constant stream of water from a garden hose. The chickens inside were never disturbed.

Milk Consumption Lagging In Texas

There is plenty of milk in Texas — and nobody ever outgrows the need for this important food, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. Yet, figures from the Home Demonstration Study just completed show that Texans — too many of the — are not getting enough milk daily.

According to the study, only 25 percent of the children under 20 drank the full four glasses recommended per day. Fifty percent had two or three glasses, 15 percent only one glass, and 6 percent drank no milk at all.

Men drank more milk than the women interviewed. Fifty-six percent had the two glasses or more recommended for adults, while only 40 percent of the women reported drinking that much. Of even greater concern, is the fact that 28 percent of the women and 23 percent of the men reported drinking no milk at all.

Children need milk to build bones and teeth. Older people, too, need milk for bones. Research has shown that one of the greatest problems after middle age is maintenance of good strong bones. Minerals in milk, especially calcium, help solve this problem. Also rich in high quality protein and vitamins, each calorie in milk is packed with nutrition. It is considered a basic need in diets for losing weight or for gaining weight.

Use milk to help balance the budget as well as the diet. No other food gives more food value per dollar.

construction and sent him to the hospital with a broken hip and nose and multiple body cuts and bruises. Mrs. Pryor has all but forgotten that she broke her left arm at the wrist last May.

The couple do all their own work, tend a flower yard, a garden and chickens. During the week Mrs. Pryor was busy canning vegetables they have grown.

Born near Garland on Sept. 24, 1875, Tom Pryor was the second of the 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Pryor. When he was three years old his parents moved to Whitesboro in Cooke County and he has lived in the county continuously with the exception of about ten years after his marriage when he farmed east of Sanger. Before moving to Myra the couple lived in the Hays-Van Slyck area northeast of Muenster.

Two of Mr. Pryor's ten sisters and brothers are still living; Mrs. Lon Blanton and Mrs. Jewel Trew of Valley View who attended the party.

Mrs. Pryor, second of six children in the family, was born at Valley View Oct. 23, 1881. She has four living sisters: Mrs. Jeff Wheeler of Valley View who attended the anniversary celebration, and Mmes. Jewel Harrel of El Paso, Ona Crowson of Dallas and Ruby Holloway of Lubbock.

Friends say they never see Mr. or Mrs. Pryor without a smile and without enthusiasm for life. They're active members of the Myra Methodist Church. And they're still sweethearts after 60 years of marriage.

"We've had a wonderful 60 years together," the vivacious Mae Pryor tells friends. "We've always done things together. Fortunately we're both 'crazy' about fishing. It's our favorite recreation." For the celebration she wore a new, very becoming light blue dress.

Among out of town guests in addition to those already mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Porter and daughter Cherie of Gainesville, Mrs. Enoise Webb of Memphis, Tenn., Jeff Wheeler and Lon Blanton of Valley View, Morris King of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Felty of Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Trew and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Enderby of Route 6, Gainesville, and Rev. Jerry Bledsoe of Denton, Methodist minister serving the Myra and Hood churches.

At Canada Shrine

Mrs. Al Trubenbach and daughter Judy are in Canada making a pilgrimage to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beauprey. This is Judy's third visit to the famous shrine. She and her mother went by air from Dallas to Chicago where they joined their cousins Rev. John and Rev. Lawrence Schumacher for the rest of the trip by automobile. Their plans, when they left here, were to remain in the shrine area through July 26, feast of St. Anne, when special solemnities and services are held at the shrine.

At FFA Convention

Chapter Adviser Glenn Hellman and Future Farmers Billy Otto and Doug Hellman left Tuesday to attend the State FFA convention in San Antonio. Sessions began Wednesday and will conclude Friday.

A talk by Governor Daniel will be among the opening addresses at the 30th annual meeting to be attended by delegates representing the 900 Texas chapters.

Educational Tour By Bus Takes FFA Chapter 2000 Miles

Seven days loaded with adventure and sight-seeing, that was the week's educational tour taken by Future Farmers of Muenster High and their chapter adviser Glenn Hellman. Before they returned Saturday they had covered over 2000 miles traveling in New Mexico, Colorado, and the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle, had filled note books with information and had taken up yards of kodak film and packs of colored slides.

The group left here Sunday morning, July 6, in a downpour of rain and rain almost to New Mexico made soil judging impossible. Fields looked like lakes.

In New Mexico the boys took notes on irrigation, sheep raising, vegetable growing and hay making and toured Carlsbad Caverns.

In Colorado they drove to the top of Pike's Peak in the school bus which took them on the trip and spent two nights and a day at Clarence Erpelding's trailer park in Colorado Springs. Erpelding directed them to all the outstanding sites in the area including the Royal Gorge and the Garden of the Gods. Donny Swirczynski who was with the group enjoyed visiting his uncle and family.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle they noted the grasshopper damage and at Amarillo they tried their skill at mountain climbing in Palo Duro Canyon. At Hereford, Glenn's brother-in-law, Robert Betzen, accompanied them to point out irrigation systems and took them to fields to watch the harvesting of potatoes, onions and carrots.

Boys making the trip were Kenny Klement, Gilbert Knabe, Billy Ray Hellman, Billy Frank Richter, Jimmy Wiesman, Donny Swirczynski, Harold Flusche, Dink Hudspeth, Mark Hellman, Billy Don Wolf, Ronnie Russell, Dickie and Johnny Pagel and Gary Cler.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bernauer and Mrs. A. H. Rebutish enjoyed a four-day vacation last week in New Orleans, making the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stelzer of Fort Worth.

Fr. Patrick Tells About Pilgrimage To Lourdes Shrine

Father Patrick Hannon of Fort Worth, back from a pilgrimage to Lourdes and visits elsewhere abroad, writes friends a glowing account of a never-to-be-forgotten visit at the world famous shrine of the Blessed Virgin. Words, he said, are inadequate to describe the grandeur, the beauty and the piety one encounters at Lourdes.

He participated in the torchlight procession one night. More than 30,000 people marched carrying lighted candles. Marching eight abreast, the procession formed at the grotto and went down and around for about a mile. Thousands of voices joined in singing "Ave Maria."

He was in Lourdes three days and also witnessed the blessing of the sick and crippled. This is the procession, held in the afternoon, in which the Blessed Sacrament is carried and is raised above each sick bed and ailing person.

This is usually when miracles are worked. As far as he knows, Father Patrick said, there were no miracles while he was there. At the grotto itself he drank water from the miraculous springs and it was here he remembered in prayer all of his friends.

Before going to Lourdes his party stopped for two days of sight-seeing in Paris, the gay, exciting capital of France, a city of charm and elegance. They visited the modern areas of the city as well as the historical parts; saw the Eiffel Tower, Arch of Triumph, Madeleine Church and the Opera House, the largest in the world, out-classed only by Radio City Music Hall in New York. Another visit was to Versailles, formerly the residence of the kings of France. Here one tried to grasp the magnificence and splendor of the reign of Louis XIV.

While almost all of the trip was by air the group traveled by train to Nice and saw much of the French Riviera.

From there the Pilgrimage group went to Italy where Rome and the Vatican City were highlights and thence to Ireland. Father Patrick said further details on events in these places would be included in his next "travel letter."

Father Ignatius Bodmayer assisted with Sunday services at Sacred Heart Church and remained in the parish through Tuesday. He is a teacher at Laneri High School in Fort Worth.

HIDDEN FORCES AT WORK

When Robert Morris was an officer in Navy Intelligence and psychological warfare stationed at Honolulu in 1944, he became deeply disturbed by the official dispatches and reports being sent throughout U. S. military and diplomatic channels praising the Communist forces in North China and undermining Chiang Kai-shek. He placed his commission in jeopardy, disregarded all Navy regulations and chains of command and went directly to Admiral Chester Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of Naval Operations in the Pacific. Surprisingly enough Admiral Nimitz received him.

He made a documented presentation to the Commander-in-Chief, four lesser admirals, a Marine General and the fleet's first Intelligence Officer, Ed Layton. He showed how the dispatches — most of them based on material from the Institute of Pacific Relations in Washington, (written, it developed later, by Communist agents who had infiltrated IPR) — were setting the stage for the Communist take-over, later, of all China as the U.S.A. temporarily forsook Chiang Kai-shek, our staunch and effective ally against the Japanese.

HOW TO READ THE BIBLE

By April Oursier Armstrong, Author of HOW TO READ THE BIBLE

DRESSES AND COATS and shoes are not the best companions for prayer. But they were my prayer-companions when I was a girl. My Bible quoted our Lord as saying: "Go into your closet to pray." So I did.

Now that I am a woman I see that I was mistaken to think Christ meant this literally. But it was no mistake to spend time reading the Bible. And today I train my children to do the same. We have sixteen Bibles around the house, marked up with notes and questions and prayers. We read the Bible; we are using it; and we are living with it.

I WOULD NOT have used my clothes closet as an oratory if I had known better. But I did not know that there are rules to follow to get the most out of reading the Bible.

First of all, a Bible should have good notes and maps. We cannot understand the story of the Good Samaritan unless we know who the Samaritans were and why they were disliked. We cannot understand the wandering in the wilderness when Moses left Egypt or the way of the Cross, unless we can picture it.

I WISH EVERYONE could visit the Holy Land, as I did with my father. Those trips convinced him of the reality of Christianity. When he came face to face with the Sea of Galilee and the Garden of Gethsemane, he knew this was truly "The Greatest Story Ever Told"—the name he gave to his book. We cannot all go to Israel, but we can learn about these places from books.

Too many people have lost the knack of making the Bible real. Perhaps sometimes the paintings of biblical scenes deceive us. They show us people dressed in clean, carefully draped robes. The Bible is written about real people, who sweated and laughed and worked and sometimes spoke bad language. They had blisters on their feet and wine jugs on their tables.

WE WANT to read the Bible alertly. Every incident has meaning. Take Saint Paul for example. A persecutor of Christians, he was converted on the road to Damascus and singled out by God for great work. But what happened? Peter and the other Apostles in Jerusalem sent him back to Tarsus. He waited thirteen years to begin his missionary journeys. What a new insight this gave us into Paul's saintliness.

But the best way to read the Bible is to begin to read it. Read it with the eyes of our mind open. The things Christ asks of us we should be willing to obey.

THERE IS NO need to make the mistake of praying in the closet, as I did. But it would be a mistake not to read the Bible—the inspired Word of God. God took the time to give us the Bible. Surely we can spare the time to read it.

Armstrong

1952, entered the practice of law, and in 1953 ran for and was elected Municipal Judge in New York City.

He was "drafted" to return as chief counsel and staff director of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee after two years on the bench. He left this strategic post only recently to run for the U. S. Senate in his native New Jersey. He lost to a veteran Congressman. His book is a series of authentic and disturbing revelations. It is powerful reading. It makes one wonder, after all, with all the forces at work against our nation, whether enough Americans will awaken in time to stem the awful advance of the Communist worldwide tide. The book is available at $2.50 from The Bookmailer, Box 101, Murray Hill Station, New York 16, New York.

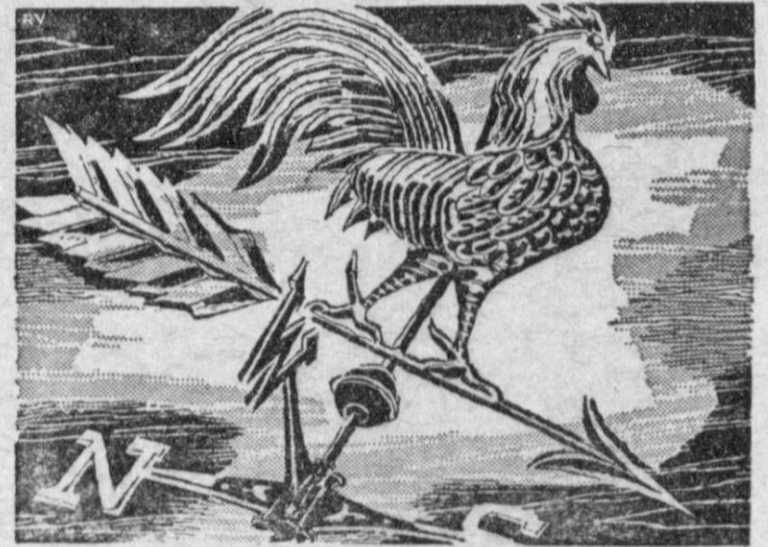

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

for nearly an hour. Then the Commander-in-Chief said that what happened in China at the end of the war would not be his responsibility, it would be a higher-up responsibility. And that was as far as Morris got. While still in the Pacific theater, however, he saw how the Communists and pro-Communists manipulated the suppression of the Japanese surrender overtures late in 1944 and early in 1945 — made through the Vatican at Rome, and later through Moscow — and this suppression permitted the Yalta agreements which set the stage for Russia's needless three-day engagement in the Pacific — to the everlasting harm of the United States.

At another point in his Naval Intelligence work, Morris encountered mysterious and powerful forces at work within the Armed Services which brought about the disbanding of his Political Intelligence unit under circumstances which caused our Government to lose valuable intelligence contacts within the Communist apparatus—at great cost to our internal security.

He Lived The Incidents
 Robert Morris sets down all these incidents — and many more — in detail in his book, No Wonder We are Losing. It is a book that will stand up under the most searching scrutiny, for Morris himself has lived the incidents in it. He speaks with unquestioned authority concerning the Communist network in America, for he has been investigating it since his first assignment eighteen years ago on the staff of the Rapp-Coudert Committee, set up by the New York legislature to track down Communists in the educational system. This Committee exposed the Communist control, through the Teachers Union in New York, of a politically influential organization with thousands of members.

Morris, a successful young lawyer, born and educated in New Jersey, later served on the staff of the Tydings Committee which investigated the charges of Communist infiltration in the State Department made by Senator Joseph McCarthy and others. He felt and says in this book — giving documentary weight to his opinion — that the Tydings Committee actually thwarted efforts to bring out the true facts about Communist subversion within the government of the United States.

Deeply Disturbing
 Later Morris became a staff member of the Security Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee. He served as counsel and as a chief interrogator for this important committee. Here too he encountered the maneuverings of hidden forces to hamper the Committee's work of tracking down Communist conspirators. He resigned from the Security Subcommittee in An executive who is a great believer in efficiency hung up a sign in his office one day last week. It read: "Do It Now." Within 24 hours, the cashier bolted with contents of the safe, his stenographer eloped with his eldest son, the office boy threw the ink bottle into the electric fan, and the whole office force took the afternoon off.

Joe Hundt Pledges Conservative and Honest Service

An honest and conservative county government is the promise made by Joe B. Hundt in his formal announcement of candidacy for commissioner of Precinct No. 4.

The 40-year-old Hundt is a life-long resident of Precinct 4, with the exception of three and one-half years spent in the Air Force during World War II. He is a family man and has always taken an active interest in church, school and county affairs.

Close co-operation between the city and county governments on issues beneficial to both is just one of the things Hundt will strive for, if he is elected to the commissioner's post. He has expressed a willingness to work with the taxpayers of his precinct on any problems or projects within the commissioner's jurisdiction.

A continuous road repair and servicing program for all precinct roads is another promise made by Hundt in his formal announcement of candidacy.

Joe Hundt has seen most voters of the precinct during this campaign and hopes to see the others before election day. If he missed any, he takes this means of asking for their vote and support. (Pol. Adv.)

Gerald Pels, Charlie Herr and Gene Schoech will return this weekend after spending the past two weeks at summer camp in Subiaco, Ark.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wandered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.

Blakley Story Is Typically Texan

The typical American story is of the poor boy who made good through his own efforts. This is the story of Bill Blakley, born in a covered wagon while his parents were on their way to homestead in Oklahoma territory. He has come a long way in 59 years. Said the Austin American-Statesman, when William A. Blakley announced for the Senate:

"... He was a top-hand cowboy; he was a crackerjack bank clerk; he was an exceptionally good accountant and lawyer. We have an idea that he is going to be a refreshing, able political candidate. He would make a great United States Senator."

Vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 — an able man whose only ambition is to serve all of Texans.

DHIA Summary for Month Shows Moody And Frasher on Top

Cooke County's June Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. summary lists Richard Frasher tops in milk production with an average of 1,070 pounds, and H. H. Moody with a leading butterfat average of 38 pounds.

The county's top producers in June reversed themselves for second place, Moody placing second in milk production with 1,040 pounds, and Frasher second in butterfat production with a 37-pound average.

On the local scene, dairymen with high producing herds during the month include George Bayer, J. W. Fleitman, Alfred Bayer, Tommy Knabe, Paul Fisher, and Ed Sicking.

Statewide, the county tied for first place with the Wichita Valley Assn. in the production of milk, according to the summary, complete through May. The Cooke average was 890 pounds.

In butterfat production, however, the local association fell to a third place with a 33-pound average behind leader Denton-Grayson and second place DeWitt.

Ray Kupper States Qualifications in Precinct 4 Race

RAYMOND KUPPER

A 40-year-old man who is in excellent physical and mental health and backed by a lifetime of experience in farming and industrial employment, is seeking an opportunity to serve the people of Precinct 4, Cooke County, as a member of the Commissioners Court.

He is Raymond (Ray) Kupper, lifelong resident of the precinct and a son of the late Joe Kupper, a pioneer citizen and land owner of Cooke County.

Kupper made a brief announcement of his candidacy for Commissioner, Precinct 4, sometime ago, and he now sets forth some of his views for information of the voters.

He has a feeling that the duties of Precinct 4 commissioner are such as to justify the full time of such an officer on the job and if he is elected to the position, he promises to relinquish any other matters to which he now gives his attention and will not knowingly permit his interest to be attracted away from his official obligations to his constituents.

Ray Kupper emphasizes that he is making this race on his own merits because he believes he can render a satisfactory service as a commissioner, and he would go into office without being obligated to any individuals or group of persons. He is opposed to any movement to change the boundaries of Precinct 4.

Kupper is a veteran of World War II. His wife is the former Miss Bernice Haverkamp of Muenster and they have three children.

The candidate believes that he is mature enough in age, experience and observation to make a good commissioner, yet young and active enough to put in a full day's work every time the welfare of the precinct or the county will best be served. It is known that he is not averse to hard work.

Raymond Kupper solicits the support and friendly assistance of all those who know him, and he hopes to personally ask the consideration of every voter in Precinct 4 before Democratic primary election day July 26. Should he fail to make such contact, he submits the statements herein as a guide to his fitness for office and his pledge to give the best that is in him throughout his administration if he is elected. Before coming to Muenster Mrs. Herron was in Pilot Point visiting her daughter Mrs. Jerry Pels and family, and after leaving here she stopped at Lindsay for a visit with another daughter Mrs. Bernard Gieb and family.

A vacation with measles is what the Teddy Gremmings had this year. The couple and their two children Wayne and Mary stopped here last week enroute to Jonesboro, Ark., for a surprise visit with Sister Yvonne. During an overnight stop in Little Rock, Wayne woke up with a high fever and a bad case of measles. So they returned to Muenster and put the little boy to bed at his grandparents', the Ted Gremmings. By the end of the week he was well enough for them to return to their home in Wichita Falls. They left Saturday — before Mary got the measles.

Sonny Walterscheid has enrolled in business college in Dallas and began classes Monday. His brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Hofbauer, took him to Dallas and helped him get settled Sunday.

Also on the Dean's List for that period was Juanita Wieler. She was here for the weekend to visit her family. Her sister Jean Wieler of Denton also came home to spend the weekend.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger returned to work at Muenster State Bank Monday after a week's vacation. She spent part of the time with her daughters and families, the Robert Mayers in Pilot Point and the Bobby Howells in Fort Worth. While she was in Pilot Point Mrs. Gremminger helped nurse her granddaughters Gloria and Bobbye Mayer who were quite sick with a stomach ailment.

Mrs. Melvin Herr and daughters Tina and Kathy have returned to Lubbock after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mages Jr. at Gainesville and with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr here. Mr. Herr and his daughter, Mrs. Denis Walterscheid, took them home and spent the weekend in Lubbock. At Wichita Falls Ronnie Herr joined them for the weekend visit with his brother. Joanie Herr went with the group from here as far as Wichita and stayed with Mrs. Ronnie Herr and daughter.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Looking for a bargain? Bargains in these times of rising costs are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. Yet, the cost of building terraces this year is really a bargain.

Agriculture Conservation Program cost-share benefit for terrace construction is three cents per linear foot, so the cost to the landowner is very reasonable. Cost-share benefits for terrace construction may be obtained by applying to the ASC office in Gainesville.

Soil Conservation Service technicians emphasize that if washes and rills appeared on sloping fields or if deposits of silt formed at the foot of the slope this year, then terraces are needed to prevent more loss of precious topsoil. It's impossible to continue losing soil and water from fields and expect to stay in business.

H. J. Fuhrman started the terrace building season by constructing over half a mile of the broad, easy-to-cross channel type terraces on his farm east of Muenster. This completes the terrace system on the farm. The terraces outlet onto pasture grasses that were planted to provide a safe outlet area.

Johnny Bayer is taking advantage of the bargain rates of construction to build some 16,000 feet of broad channel-type terraces on the Sears farm at Hays. These terraces will outlet onto a Bermuda grass waterway that was planted so that the field could be terraced.

Other landowners who are cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District to save their soil and water, and who have already had terraces staked on their fields are Al Wiesman, Bruno Fleitman and C. O. Taylor. SCS technicians are giving assistance in the terrace system layout.

Another bumper crop is going into the hopper in the Muenster area. The crop this time is sweet clover seed. Combines are busy capturing the seed of this widely used soil building legume plant. Final results are not known but a better than average yield is expected. The clover made a dense, lush growth this spring and presents a problem in combining, but the seed yield will be high.

Among farmers combining sweet clover seed are Eddie Fleitman, Wilfred Reiter and H. N. Fuhrmann. Yields are expected to run from 200 to 600 pounds of seed per acre.

It was their first visit in Marysville since Rev. Wallace became pastor. Saturday night the congregation gathered at the parsonage for a pot luck supper following the regular meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society. Mrs. Alys Graye was leader of the lesson entitled "March of Missions."

Mrs. Vivian Maupin of San Antonio was here Friday and overnight with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lyons whose other daughter Mrs. W. C. Stiles and her daughters Shirley and Velora of Gainesville joined them. Saturday Mrs. Stiles and the girls took Mrs. Maupin to Fort Worth where she boarded a train for Washington, D.C., to attend a meeting of the Ladies' Benefit Association of which she is state field director. She'll be there until July 24, then go to New York City for a similar meeting and will be back at Marysville for another visit, and to pick up her car, before returning to her home.

Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Bishop and son Billy of Denton spent the weekend here and got themselves settled in the Baptist parsonage. It's the Sam Richey house, south of the John Richey residence, and will be their weekend home.

J. H. Riley Quotes Current Record in Bid for Re-election

J. H. Riley, now serving his first term as County Clerk, has authorized the Enterprise to formally announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the July 26th Democratic Primary.

Riley is a lifelong resident of the county and has lived in Gainesville nearly 24 years. His wife is also a native of the county, being a daughter of the late B. A. Hugon, an early settler in the Wolf Ridge community. The Rileys are active members of the Grand Avenue Baptist Church.

Riley believes in progress and during his tenure in office, the latest type Automatic Photostat Machine has been installed, and this installation has brought the greatest improvement in service ever made in the clerk's office. Permanent, authentic, and error-free copies of the instruments to be recorded can now be made almost as soon as they are filed, and they are usually recorded and ready to be returned to the proper owner within a day or two. Before the photostat machine was installed the average time for recording an instrument was much longer.

In another move to improve service to the public Riley is keeping the office open during the noon hour. Heretofore the office was closed from 12 noon until 1 p.m. daily.

Riley expresses his appreciation to the people of the county for their support in the last election. He respectfully solicits the support of the voters for a second term and, if re-elected, promises for himself and staff of courteous and well qualified deputies that the affairs of the office will continue to be operated in an honest, impartial, courteous and efficient manner. —(Pol. Insurance Claims For Car Accidents; $3,300 per Minute

NEW YORK — Thirty-three hundred dollars a minute, day and night throughout the year, is the pace insurance companies paid auto liability claims in 1957. Minute by minute, that adds up to traffic accident costs of well over $1,500,000,000 for the 12-month period.
This "startling" fact is brought out in a new leaflet prepared by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies insurance rates.
Automobile insurance rates are based on claim costs resulting from traffic accidents. Insurance costs more today, the mailing piece asserts, principally because of increases in the number of accidents the higher charges for repairing cars and people, and the growing size of damage awards by juries.
"The toll of fatal and bodily injury accidents as well as property damage accidents last year reached the staggering total of 11,700,000, 18 per cent over the figure for only five years ago," the folder states. "In this tragic sum, 1,856,000 men, women and children suffered personal injuries. Every weekend was a catastrophe in 1957, accounting for almost half the distasters, as death struck every nine minutes and every 12 seconds someone suffered injury."
Just as accidents have been increasing, so too have the costs of those accidents, the pamphlet points out, noting that modern cars with elaborate chrome trim, wraparound windshields, tinted glass, twin headlights, triple taillights, and sweeping fenders have changed yesterday's minor sideswipe into today's major repair job. A bumper and front end repair that cost $29.70 five years ago is valued at $56.75 now, an increase of 91 per cent, the leaflet says, while a front fender and light that used to bring $50.85 brings $71.70 today, an increase of 41 per cent.

Another factor in higher claim costs cited in the pamphlet is the continually climbing expense for medical treatment. In some instances, hospital rates for room, board and nursing service vaulted close to 50 per cent in five years.

Still another factor is the marked rise in the size of verdicts rendered in liability suits. The average verdict for plaintiffs in the supreme court of one large state has more than tripled since 1941, and in certain areas the average award has gone up as much as 486 per cent. Yet, over that same period of time the consumer's price index increased only 97 per cent, it is stated.

All together, repair prices, medical expenses and jury awards boosted the countrywide average cost per claim more than 20 per cent between 1952 and 1957.

"Automobile liability insurance rates," the folder declares, "have not risen anywhere near that figure. Average countrywide rates for bodily injury and property damage insurance have lagged consistently behind other prices. As a result, insurance companies have written automobile policies at a loss year after year. In 1956, for example, traffic accidents cost insurance companies $108 for every $100 of earned premiums, and all indications are that 1957 figures will show even greater losses. In many communities, of course, claim costs rose more than 20 per cent and the rates rose correspondingly."

"Your premium rate is fitted to your car usage, your age group and sex, and your community policyholders are further reminded." "If the accidents and the costs of those accidents increase in your community, the rates must follow; if they decrease, the rates will decrease."

"If you and your neighbors drive carelessly, tolerate unjust repair charges, or permit lax enforcement of traffic laws, then you and your neighbors are helping to raise insurance claim costs and to raise your own insurance rates. Remember — it's the drivers behind the wheel in your territory who help to make your rates."

Drozdz-Neu Wedding Slated September 6

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drozdz of Gainesville, formerly of Muenster, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Pat to Elroy Neu, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Neu, route 6, Gainesville.

The couple will be married in St. Mary's Church at 4 p.m. Sept. 6. Ann Neu and Joann Wolf, Billy Drozdz and Louis Neu will be the attendants.

The bride-elect attended Sacred Heart school here and Gainesville High. Elroy was graduated from Lindsay High, served two years in the army and attended Gainesville College.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Schmidkofer of Lindsay are rejoicing over the birth of their first child, a daughter Judy Ann, born Saturday, July 12, 8:32 a.m. at Gainesville Sanitarium. She weighed three pounds 12½ ounces. Grandparents for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Flusche of Decatur and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schmidkofer of Lindsay. Counting another great-grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. John P. Neu Sr. and Mrs. Joseph Flusche of Lindsay.

It's a girl was good news for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eberhart of Gainesville when little Joanie Ann arrived at the Sanitarium. The seven pound 14 ounce daughter made her appearance July 10 at 7:36 p.m. The Eberharts have two other children—both boys. Welcoming another grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eberhart, Muenster, and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Lambert of Gainesville.

Newest arrival joining the Henry N. Stoffels family at Lindsay is Daniel Joseph, weight eight pounds three ounces. He was born at Gainesville Sanitarium July 11 at 2:10 p.m. and was christened Sunday in St. Peter's church by Father Conrad assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoffels, uncle and aunt, as sponsors. Mr. Stoffels was proxy for Paul Klein, uncle in Topeka, Kansas. Danny Joe has four sisters and two brothers and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fuhrmann and Mrs. Sophie Stoffels, all of Lindsay.

A young man who had just received his degree from college rushed out and exclaimed, "Here I am, World; I have my A.B.!" And the World replied, "Sit down, Son, and I'll teach you the rest of the alphabet."

Building And Improvement Notes

The big job under way here now is the new combined agriculture and band building just started at the public school. Foundation is finished, floor work is in progress and walls will start going up in a few days. It will be built of brick and concrete tile and will have a flat roof, harmonizing in all respects with the main building and cafeteria.

Changes at Nick Miller's are nearing completion. Cleaning and pressing and shoe repair equipment are installed in the new building. Curbs, sidewalk and ground work are finished. And the older building has been remodeled to serve exclusively as a funeral home. Painters have started putting the finishing touches on the job and expect to have it ready for use by August 1.

Another job nearly finished is the Joe Lehnertz home. After extensive downstairs remodeling a complete paint and paper job is in progress, upstairs and down.

The Emmet Fettes have just started remodeling the former John Eberhart house, which they bought recently from the Eberhart Estate. Their main project is removing a couple of partitions to make a bigger kitchen and installing built in appliances and additional cabinet space. New paint upstairs has just been finished.

Improvements under way at Reeve Cooke's include new siding outside and new sheet rock and paint for the inside.

More interior improvements are four rooms sheetrocked for Frank Trubenbach and three rooms sheetrocked for John Grewing.

Construction started this week on a new 60x60 sheet metal hay barn on the Ray Klement place.

A project to give all buildings a coat of outside paint is under way now at Shamburger Lumber Company.

Three improvement jobs have recently been finished at Lindsay: a new roof for Joe Schmitz inside paint for Wm. Schmitz and Ed Sandman.

13 Pupils Complete Swimming Class At Muenster Pool

Thirteen pupils received official Red Cross buttons and certificates last Saturday on having completed the beginners' swimming course at Muenster's municipal pool.

Ninety six had entered the class which was taught in three sections under supervision of L. B. Bruns.

Those who finished are Kathleen Walterscheid, Marilyn Walterscheid, Paulette Endres, Deborah Schilling, Ricky Stewart, Patsy Zimmerer, Mike Endres, Annette Schilling, Sheila Hennigan, Wm. Hogan, Monica Cler, Chris Cain and Johnny Becker.

Two of the pupils made almost a clean sweep of the course, entering at the second station and advancing through the tenth. Four completed 8 steps to get their certificates and seven completed 5 steps to get theirs, after starting at the half way station.

The 83 pupils who failed to finish all made much slower progress. On an average they completed 4 stations, that is, passed 4 tests in the progressive steps prescribed for the course. Some passed more than 4 tests, some less. Almost all of them, Bruns said, are handicapped by fear of water. Some were back for the third time this year but failed to advance because they have not overcome their fear.

Prisoners in Paradise

St. Peter was taking a new arrival on a tour of heaven.

"What," asked the stranger, "is that building with all the bars on the windows?"

"That's the jail," replied St. Peter. "We keep all the Texans there. The fools all want to go home."

Over 300 Assemble For 50th Reunion Of Fuhrmann Kin

This year's reunion of the Fuhrmann families Tuesday was the fiftieth traditional observance held each year on, or as near as possible, St. Henry's day, July 15. More than 300 kinfolks were together for the golden anniversary of an occasion which was inaugurated in 1908 by the late Henry Fuhrmann Sr. of Lindsay.

Highlighting the all-day gathering was a solemn high mass at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's Church with the Very Rev. Joseph Fuhrmann as celebrant. He also delivered an inspiring sermon in keeping with the occasion. Other priests in the sanctuary were Father Leo Koesler of Subiaco, Ark., Father Ignatius Bodmeyer of Fort Worth, Father Fred Mosman of Dallas, Father Aloys Fuhrmann of Little Rock, Father Christopher Paladino of Muenster, Father Conrad Herda of Lindsay and Msgr. Donald Hartnett of Fort Worth.

After mass the group gathered at the parish hall for a sumptuous covered dish dinner and an after dinner program of addresses. The reunion continued through the afternoon and into the night.

In reviewing the history of the observance of St. Henry's Day, it was pointed out that every year since 1908 — with the exception of a very few times — the family has kept close through the annual reunion. Each year brought more and more grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and today, direct descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuhrmann Sr. total 383.

The reunion originated as a homecoming for family members and in earlier years was held in the Fuhrmann home. Although Mr. Fuhrmann died 24 years ago his children have kept the tradition alive.

Eleven of the Fuhrmann children are living and all 11 and their families attended the Tuesday celebration. They are Father Joseph Fuhrmann of Fort Worth, Matt, Mike, Joe, Tony, Henry S. and Willie Fuhrmann, and Mrs. Charles Loerwald, all of Lindsay, Mrs. Alfons Koesler of Muenster, Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison and Mrs. Max Koesler of Vinita, Okla.

They were joined by relatives from a wide area including Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman and sons George, Joseph and Paul of Elmhurst, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrmann and children Anna Mae and Phillip of New Braunfels, Sister Henry Ann of Abilene, Sister Michael Marie, Sister Mary Lin, Sister Corrine and Sister Catherine Henry, all of San Antonio, Brothers Henry, Louis and Michael Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Mrs. Charles Curran, the Ray and Carl Currans and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lewis and children Leslie Ray, Michael, Mary Nell and Kathleen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flusche and three children all of Dallas, Max Koesler Jr. of Vinita and his brother Frater Norbert of Ohio.

Alaska becomes the 49th state. It can be used as long as anyone cares to use it. "In fact, under law, it is appropriate to fly a flag with only 13 stars, which was once the recognized flag of the United States."

To have one's opinion supported by an expert is quite a comfort. That's why yours truly was pleased the other day to find Wm. A. Donnell, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, pointing out that "The exclusive emphasis on wages as a source of purchasing power is a fallacy." A wage increase affects only a limited number of people but the resulting price increase affects everybody. For instance, a wage increase in the steel mills raises the purchasing power of every employee in the mills. But the resulting increase in steel price actually reduces the purchasing power of all who have to buy steel.

The case is so obvious that a person can't help wondering about the sincerity of labor leaders who demand raises . . . or about the gray matter of workers who fall for the inflationary scheme.

Understanding

"Sometimes," the dignified matron told her new maid, "you will have to help me upstairs."

"That's all right, mum," the maid assured her, "I drink a little too much sometimes, meself."

Drunk — "Believe it or not, offisher, I'm looking for a parkin' plash."

Officer — "But you haven't an automobile."

Drunk — "Yesh I have, it's in the parkin' plash I'm looking for."
