VOLUME XI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1947

NUMBER 14

Religious discussions in Dallas last week under the auspices of the National Conference of Christians and Jews emphasized what is probably the most vital essential in solving turbulent problems of our times. They were not discussions on dogma to determine which of the many religions is on the right track but rather a plea for good will among the followers of various religions.

In connection with the discussions Lynn Landrum of the Dallas News comments "When you consider how many people practice hating for God's sake, the spectacle becomes really appalling. When one man who says he loves God hates another who says he loves God, something is wrong somewhere, don't you think so? It seems to set God up in the business of wanting His children to hate each other. Is that the kind of business your God is in?"

Landrum also offers a bit of logic that is well worth the serious consideration of all religious groups. Is there only one approach to the Celestial Diet? If not, what is the sense in hating? Or is there just one approach? If so, why hate the other person who feels as confident that his course is the correct one?

As long as man is sincere in his convictions and faithful in his religious practice we can rest assured that God will give him credit for his efforts — and that God would also prefer to have us doing the same thing.

Right or wrong, the thing that counts is the sincere intention to live according to God's plan. But whether a person be Catholic, Protestant or Jew he cannot possibly be living according to Divine plan if he carries hatred in his heart.

So far we've considered this subject only in the light of Divine Will and plain logic, which, after all, is more than ample reason to eliminate our hate. It so happens that we can also consider the subject from a strictly selfish viewpoint — as it concerns our temporal welfare — and the stake in this case is our survival. Instead of hating each other people of different religions should be striving toward a better understanding to the end that they can stand side by side in meeting the attacks of a common enemy.

That enemy is communism, and it is especially dangerous because people insist on underestimating its strength. We are inclined to think that many of our current problems are natural results of the war but actually they are parts of a well executed communist scheme to divide and conquer.

Considering our present condition in the light of communist objectives and methods leaves little doubt as to what is actually going on. The reds want the breakdown of the free enterprise system of economy, so they strive to poison the minds of labor and force capital into bankruptcy. They are maliciously and systematically promoting class strife.

The plan is simple, though executed with diabolical cleverness. Posing as the friend of the working man and on the pretext of fighting for his rights, it promotes crippling strikes that hurt labor as much as management. The real objective is not to help labor but actually to add to its misery — and all the while to keep hearing that such conditions do not exist is a communist controlled state.

If communists have any love for labor why did they engineer the devastating series of strikes we had last year. Labor took the worst punishment in that farce — losing first in wages and secondly in the general scarcity and high price of commodities.

There can be no doubt about it. The present class strife fits the communist pattern perfectly and it makes sense only as a step toward the ultimate goal.

The same thing applies to race problems. An infinite flood of red propaganda continues to fan the flame of racial intolerance. Radicals on both sides of the subject square off for battle. Meanwhile the commies gloat over their success as another step toward their final objective.

As you might suppose, schemers as devilishly clever as the reds would never pass up religion as a field for their dirty work. Besides offering immense possibility for intensive strife, religion happens to be one of the obstacles that must be removed for the healthy growth of communism. Religion, as we know it in this country, is the basis for belief in the inalienable rights of man.

Early April Set For First Performance Of Muenster Rodeo

Muenster will have a rodeo this summer, and if all goes well the first performance will be given by April 1, E.A. "Babe" Felker disclosed this week as work began on the grandstand and arena.

It will be located east of the livestock auction and the arena will measure 175 x 65 feet. Two grandstands, one at the north and the other at the west will provide seating space for about 600 persons. Additional spectators if any will be able to see the show from parked cars at the east and south.

Present plans are to give shows on Saturday nights and Sundays, Felker said, and each show will last from 2 to 2½ hours. Some of the events already decided on are bronc riding, calf roping, wild cow milking and trick roping. Other events such as bulldogging, steer riding, and trick riding may also be offered.

The management's first concern is to put on an interesting show, Felker explained, hence it will try to keep any event from becoming drawn out and tiresome. If too many contestants enter an event only 10 or 12 will complete at show time and the others will have their chance later, after the balanced show schedule is complete.

Work began on the site Tuesday as the REA digging machine broke ground on the first of 364 post holes.

Located beside the auction shed the show arena will serve as an emergency coverall for extra cattle at Saturday sales.

Hoffman, a hospital patient for a dental operation following a recurrence of infection for which he underwent an operation several weeks ago. Mr. Hoffman returned to Wichita Monday to be with him for the operation and reported that he was "doing alright" when he returned home in the evening.

MARY JO WALTER IS FIRST PLACE WINNER IN HISTORY CONTEST

Miss Mary Jo Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville, a student at Saint Mary's high school in Gainesville won first place and $50 in cash in the Cooke county history contest, conducted during the past few weeks.

Second prize and $25 in cash went to Miss Mary Lou Bezner of the Lindsay high school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner of that city.

Among those receiving honorable mention are Miss Bernice Luttmer, Sacred Heart high school, Muenster, Miss Elfreda Block, Lindsay, and Misses Janet Geray and Dolores Walter, St. Mary's.

The prize money was provided by the First State Bank of Gainesville and the Cooke County Fair association sponsored the contest, in connection with the county Centennial celebration to be held in 1948.

Papers for the grammar schools will be judged within the next few days.

Judging was done by members of the Tuesday Book Club.

Commenting on the results in the high school and junior college division, Claude Jones, vice president of the bank said, "All papers were splendid and I feel like the people of Cooke county are more familiar with the history and what the historical markers to the park depict, all of which was our sole aim and purpose in sponsoring the contest."

Steve Markham Jr. Gets Fractured Skull In Fall

Steve Markham Jr., who sustained a fractured skull in a 15-foot fall at Subiaco Academy, Arkansas, on Tuesday of last week, is reported this week to be resting easy and making normal progress toward recovery. Because of the serious nature of his injury however, the family is concerned about possible future complications. The fracture, above the right ear, is said to be 6 to 8 inches long.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Markham Sr., went to his bedside early Wednesday, immediately after hearing of the accident. Efforts to reach them Tuesday had failed. Mrs. Markham remained there and Mr. Markham returned Sunday.

75 Percent of Current Red Cross Budget Spent On Service Men, Veterans

Washington—Services to Army and Navy uersomel, veterans and their families, will represent more than 50 percent of the estimated American Red Cross operating expenses during the 1947-48 fiscal year, Red Cross national headquarters has announced. During the current year, approximately 75 percent of Red Cross funds are allocated for this purpose.

Although drastic reductions have been made in operating costs since the annual wartime peak of $200,000,000, the program for servicemen, stands out as the biggest individual Red Cross task.

More than 2,000,000 men and women are still in uniform. Many are on occupational or garrison duty in far-flung corners of the globe. To all of them Red Cross services are continuing — in overseas clubs in hospitals, and in home communities. Nearly 6,000 Red Cross men and women are still serving with the armed forces.

In addition to services in behalf of veterans and their families, Red Cross will spend an estimated $25,000,000 for servicemen at home and abroad in the next fiscal year. This does not include the additional cost of the vast Home Service program conducted by chapters throughout the country for service personnel, veterans and their families.

Emphasis is also placed by the Red Cross on its recreational programs. Nearly 300 clubs and other recreation facilities are staffed by trained Red Cross workers abroad. Trained recreation workers are also stationed in Army and Navy hospitals where they conduct medically approved programs for convalescents. Red Cross field directors in military and naval establishments for able-bodied personnel were recently authorized to provide recreation activities in addition to carrying on their welfare and other duties.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hot and daughter, Linda, and Miss Geraldine White spent the weekend in Hendrix, Okla., with the ladies' parents and visited at the bedside of their grandmother

PARISH ORGANIZES DISCUSSION GROUPS TO STUDY COMMUNISM

Communism, its basic principles, aims and methods, will form the subject matter for a discussion club movement to be organized in the Sacred Heart parish in an open meeting Thursday night, Feb. 27. The action here is part of a general program recommended to all Catholic churches of the Diocese of Dallas by Bishop Lynch.

All members of the parish are urged to participate in order to understand how much of a threat Communism is to both Christianity and civilization.

Father Herman Laux, pastor, stated that a pamphlet on Communism will serve as a text through the series of discussions. It is divided into eight short chapters, which, he believes can be adequately covered during the remainder of the Lenten season.

Group organizations and meeting times will be determined at the Thursday night meeting.

Mrs. Joe Elliott, 57 Passes Sunday Night In Wichita Hospital

Mrs. Joe A. Elliott, 57, died at a Wichita Falls hospital early Sunday night and funeral services were held Monday in Stephenville at 2 p.m.

Survivors include her husband, two daughters, two sons, four sisters, two brothers, and seven grandchildren.

Mrs. Elliott had resided here since last spring when Mr. Elliott came to Muenster to replace A. T. Hoehn on the Texas Company lease north of the city.

DISTRICT K-Cs SPONSOR SERIES OF BROADCASTS TO EXPOSE COMMUNISM

To combat the present spread of Communism, Knights of Columbus of the Sixth District are now sponsoring a series of broadcasts over Radio Station KRRV under the title of "Safe-guards for America". The series will reveal the story of how Communism was born, how it spread, and basic principles upon which it was founded.

The programs are presented on Tuesday nights from 9:15 to 9:30 o'clock. Next Tuesday's broadcast will discuss what Communism does for and to the working man. Councils sponsoring the program are Muenster, Gainesville, Denison, Sherman and Pilot Point.

1946 Pneumonia Toll In Texas Estimated at 2460

Austin, Texas — According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Knauf of Okmulgee, Okla., visited Sunday with his grandmothers, Mrs. August Reiter and Mrs. John Knauf, and other relatives.

Annual Red Cross Campaign Will Begin Next Tuesday; Muenster Quota Is $1,000

LIGHT SNOWFALL AND THERMOMETER PLUNGE END BALMY WEATHER

Unexpected snow fell over the Muenster area Sunday afternoon riding on a new cold wave which sent thermometers down to 18 degrees Monday morning. It was the second snowfall of the month, frequent light flurries having sprinkled the community last week Wednesday.

The cold wave hit during the morning hours Sunday and the mercury dropped steadily from a 58-degree high on Saturday afternoon.

The snowfall measured about a quarter of an inch except in spots where the wind drifted it, and did little toward relieving the urgent moisture requirement for grain crops and early gardens.

REA Bowlers Continue League Lead Into Second Division of Tournament

The REA bowlers, still in their winning stride after taking first place in the opening half of the double round robin tournament, took the lead for the second half with a sizzling 1610 count Monday night. Phone Company players came in for a close second with 1605.

Wednesday night's contest between the VFW and the Girls resulted in a 1458 to 1333 decision for the Vets, and places them temporarily in third place and in danger of being nosed out by FMA when it meets the Gun Club Friday.

The start of the second round marks a substantial increase by at least three of the teams over averages of the first half. REA increased by 87, the Phone Company by 157 and the Girls by 181. The Veterans dropped 55 below their average.

Team averages for the first half are: REA, 1523; VFW, 1513; FMA, 1510; Phone Co., 1448; Gun Club, 1369; Girls, 1152.

Individual leaders for the games are Leo Sicking, 142; Arthur Felderhoff, 141; Emmet Fette, 139; Roddy Klement, 135; Marvin Morrison, 133.

Little Change Noted In Bud Bernauer's Condition

Reports on Charles "Bud" Bernauer late Wednesday afternoon are that he has made little change since being admitted to Saint Anthony's hospital, Oklahoma City, almost two weeks ago.

Returning after a two day visit with him, his wife and his uncle, L.A. Bernauer, stated that Bud is resting easy most of the time but showing little if any response to treatments. Meanwhile he is receiving blood transfusions.

Opening Day Receipts Outgrow New Sale Shed

A newly completed expansion at the livestock auction is a 64 x 20 hog shed consisting of 14 pens.

The addition, built to accommodate constantly increasing hog receipts, proved too small on its very first day. Hogs purchased and brought in for the sale by Cain and Felker were crowded out by customers' hogs.

Gladys Wilde Admitted By National Scholastic Frat

Miss Gladys Wilde, a student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Wilde, has been accepted as a member in Alpha Alpha chapter of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic fraternity. The initiates were selected from the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Luke who have been at Dawn, Texas, moved last week to make their home in Hereford and reside on route 1. They are formerly of Muenster.

Wesley Lane is at home on terminal leave until March 6 when he will receive his discharge from the army after serving one year. He arrived Monday from Smokey Hill, Kansas.

Chairman, Urban Endres Will Appoint Committee To solicit Contributions

With a $1,000 goal as its pro rated share in the Cooke county quota of $16,500, Muenster will begin its annual Red Cross drive next Tuesday, March 4. Urban Endres, local chairman for the drive, will organize a soliciting committee the latter part of this week.

Following the plan adopted in Gainesville, Endres will try to complete the greater part of the community purse during the first four days of the campaign. The drive will continue for the normal period, however, so as to provide ample time to see all residents of the community. County Chairman Joe Walter disclosed this week that final receipts from the rural communities are not expected before March 15.

In announcing the campaign Joe Walter stated that 84.8 per cent of the county's contributions will be retained in the county to carry on local Red Cross work. When people give their donation, he said, they have the assurance that almost all of it will be used for the benefit of their own needy friends and neighbors. The remaining 15.2 per cent goes to the general fund of the national organization and is used principally to help service men and victims of major disasters both in this nation and abroad.

To date Muenster holds by far the best record among rural communities of the county for its response in Red Cross drives. For many years it consistently passed its quota and last year it reached about 85 per cent of its quota.

Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Cooke Observe 60th Anniversary

The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Cooke, who reside on a farm north of the city, was observed Sunday, Feb. 16, with open house in the afternoon in their home which was decorated with red and white carnations.

Relatives and friends of the couple called, presenting many nice gifts to the honorees. Mmes. Don C. and Reeve Cooke and S. L. Duffey served cake, coffee and iced punch throughout the afternoon.

Members of the immediate family present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Reeve Cooke and son, Fred, and Mrs. S.L. Duffey and children, Barbara, Larry and Freddy Kay.

Bob Cooke of Sweetwater and Joe Cooke of Andrews sent gifts to their parents and Mrs. John R. Rice of Wheaton, Ill., telephoned her parents.

The 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren sent congratulations.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cooke are still quite active about their home. He rides a cattle pony over the stock farm operated by his son, Don, and drives his own car. Mrs. Cooke enjoys domino games and playing the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke came to Cooke county when very young. He is a native of Tennessee and she of Illinois.

Snapshots of the couple were taken in conclusion of the celebration.

'Shanty' Expects To Open About March 15; Repair And Installation Begin

Renovating for The Shanty, Muenster's contemplated soft drinks and ice cream center, got off to a good start Wednesday when workmen made wall and ceiling repairs and finished nailing up the ceiling celotex. That job is being followed by a partition and celotex wall covering plus floor repairs, new linoleum and paint.

All equipment for the place has been received, Mrs. E.P. Buckley said, and installation will begin as soon as the room is ready. If all goes well she expects to open business about March 15.

The Shanty will feature ice cream and fountain drinks. Additional items planned are candies, cigarettes, sandwiches and coffee.

Self-Diagnosis Is Dangerous

The real tragedy of many serious illnesses is the fact that they might have been averted if people did not attempt to diagnose the trouble themselves but had consulted a doctor in time.

How often do people shrug off a sharp pang in the chest and perhaps a feeling of nausea or faintness. To the average person, these are symptoms of indigestion. But the doctor knows that so-called acute indigestion is in many cases often a symptom of heart disease.

That is why getting your physician's opinion on your "indigestion" is a wise precaution.

Survival of Tiniest Set Of Twins For One Year
Rated As Medical Miracle

Orange newsmen, who have been "sitting" on the story for over a year, finally got permission from the physician to break the news: Texas has a set of twins which, so far as medical records go, are the smallest ever to survive to the age of one year. Their survival is rated a medical miracle and is drawing widespread attention throughout the medical profession.

The twins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Tullos, of Orange, were born at City Hospital there in mid-December, 1945. Weighing only 1 pound 6 ounces each, they were nearly three months premature. Their chances for survival were considered practically nil. So the attending physician, Dr. C.F. Covington, fearful that any publicity might jeopardize the lives of his doll-like charges, successfully browbeat the reporters into keeping the story out of the papers.

Despite the odds against him, Dr. Covington, a specialist in keeping premature babies alive who once made an incubator from the oven of a kitchen stove to save a tiny life, went to work to save artificial respiration to start one of the babies to breathing. Then he tucked them away in incubators, and he and the hospital's anxious staff hovered over the tiny mites of humanity night and day for eight weeks before they could be removed.

Finally, with slow and patient feeding through eye-dropper like devices, the babies began to gain an ounce now and then. When they were 10 days old their mother was permitted to see them for the first time. At four months, they had made sufficient progress to be carried home.

But they still were so tiny special clothing had to be fashioned. An ordinary diaper, for example, served to make several of the size they needed. Several articles of factory-made clothing for dolls were bought by the parents and used to dress the children.

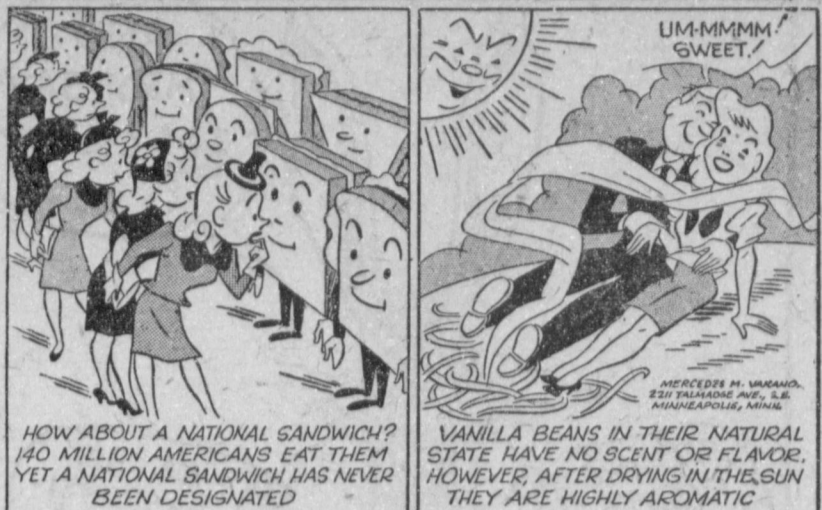

Doctor and parents cooperated in a special routine which eventually began to show appreciable results, and when the children reached six months of age, they started growing by leaps and bounds. Today at 13 months they weigh a husky 16 pounds apiece and are beginning to toddle a bit. Normal in every respect, they are an ordinary, happy pair of children. But the parents will ever be grateful they were born in a day of advanced medical science.

Machines Help Fewer Farmers Feed More People

Today farm employment is slightly under 10 million people, or 18 per cent less than the 12,000,000 of 1910. Yet, these farmers are able to supply the nation with more than enough food, even though our population has increased 53 per cent from less than 92,000,000 in 1910 to over 141,000,000 persons. The increased productivity of our farmers is largely the result of the high degree of mechanization of our farms since 1910. This is exemplified by the fact that in 1910 there were only 4000 tractors on farms in the United States, but today there are over 2,000,000.

The development and improvement of farm equipment since the invention of the McCormick reaper in 1831 has closely paralleled the growth of our steel industry, and today steel comprises a major component in the production of farm equipment. In 1945, 1,120,320 tons of steel were used in the production of farm equipment and for other agricultural purposes.

Typical of the amount of steel required to make each unit of farm equipment is the medium-sized, all-purpose farm tractor of 25 h. p. which takes 1543 pounds of various types of steel, according to data supplied the American Iron and Steel Institute by a leading manufacturer. A total of 340 pounds of steel is used to make the tractor transmission alone, while another 301 pounds are needed in the manufacture of the engine and clutch. The brakes, rims and wheels take 119 pounds of steel, and the rear axle requires almost 130 pounds more.

The balance of the steel enters the manufacture of other tractor parts. The steel weights given are the weights of the rough steel purchased to machine and assemble the various tractor parts. Gray iron and malleable castings are also used in fabricating certain tractor parts, but the rough weight of the steel required equals 40 per cent of the combined weight of all three materials.

factory, for example: It has one workman, Joe, who makes one umbrella in an hour and receives $1 pay for his work. The manager takes the umbrella to the market. He must sell it for $1 in order to pay Joe. With difficulty, because of the high price, he sells the umbrella, returns and pays the dollar to Joe. There is nothing left for Capital. What are reactions at the end of the first day?

Market is dissatisfied. It says the price is too high. Joe is dissatisfied. He wants a raise. Capital is dissatisfied. It hasn't had a return.

Management is on the spot because it must satisfy all three groups — so it decides to invest money in better production methods. It gets additional capital, installs a stool for Joe to sit on, a conveyor to bring materials to him, electric power to operate his machine. When Joe comes to work he is amazed to find that he can make two umbrellas with no more effort than it took to make one the day before.

Management says, "Joe, I think we have discovered how wealth is produced." Management takes umbrellas to market, meets the demand for lower prices by selling them for 75 cents each.

The customer is happier because he has had a 25 per cent saving.

Management turns to Joe and says, "We have $1.50 today where we only had $1 yesterday. I can give you a raise and pay you $1.25 an hour." Joe is happy because his demand has been satisfied.

Then management reports to Capital that 25 cents remain from which a dividend may be paid. All three demands, apparently without exception, have been met.

That is free enterprise at work.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at those friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

THE RED CROSS DESERVES YOUR HELP

Next week Muenster will have another opportunity to bring credit on itself as a charitable, public spirited community. The annual Red Cross drive will be conducted here in connection with the county drive.

Muenster's quota this year is $1,000, which, compared with the county quota of $16,500, means that we are expected to raise slightly less than one sixteenth of the county purse. It is hardly necessary to add that the proportion is quite reasonable and civic pride prompts us to do our part, and possibly add a little for good measure.

As we enter the campaign we can consider a few pertinent facts. In general we are less interested in the Red Cross since the end of the war. And a few of us are too much impressed by scattered unfavorable GI reports—quite often using those reports as an excuse more than a reason to withhold contributions.

The plain truth is that the Red Cross does a wonderful job. It deserves our whole hearted support not only for what it continues to do for service men and distressed people all over the world but also for its special activity here in Cooke County.

There is considerable satisfaction in knowing that 84.8 per cent of the entire county purse will remain in the county Red Cross fund. Our own needy people will get the principal benefit of our donations.

SURPRISE PARTY GREETSS A.A. OTTO SUNDAY

A surprise party greeted A.A. Otto Sunday afternoon when relatives and friends gathered at his new city home to help him celebrate his birthday. He was 61 years old and the courtesy was planned by his wife. Immediate members of his family, his sister and all his brothers, with the exception of Henry Otto of Westaco who was unable to attend, were present for the occasion.

The honoree was presented with a shower of gifts and informal diversion was enjoyed. At 6 o'clock a sumptuous meal was served. Guests served themselves from a buffet and were seated at quartet tables, with the exception of Mr. Otto and his brothers, who shared a larger table. It was beautifully appointed with blue glass ware and silver on white linen and was centered with a three-tiered cake flanked with tapers in crystal holders.

Personnel included Messrs. and Mmes. S.P. and Ed Otto of Wichita Falls; Jake Wolf of Lawton, Okla.; Ben, W.W. and Joe Otto of Muenster; Miss Antoinette Wolf of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Otto and daughter of Gainesville; Messrs. and Mmes. Otto.

Mr. Otto has lived here since he was six years old. He was born in St. Paul, Iowa. Until retiring from active work about a month ago he engaged in farming.

The get-together was in observance of Mrs. Bergman's birthday which occurs on Feb. 24,

Don Herold says:

The only reason I get up out of bed each morning is to go to work for my employers.

Therefore I have decided that my employers should pay me from the time I step out of bed in the morning until I go back to bed at night. This is what I call my "bed to bed pay plan." It's like the "portal to portal" idea, only more so.

If I get up out of a nice warm bed, somebody ought to start paying me at that very moment. If I eat to gain strength to work, somebody ought to pay me for that.

Gosh, maybe somebody ought to pay me even for sleeping, since that, too, makes me better able to work.

and the visit of the children and grandchildren came as a surprise. Gifts were presented to the honoree and a delicious dinner was served at noon.

MR. AND MRS. JOE LUKE ARE DINNER HOSTS SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner in their home Sunday complimenting their fifteen nephews and nieces.

The George Washington theme was noted in decorations and place cards and after the meal informal diversion was enjoyed.

A board of review was featured at the Boy Scout meeting Monday night when the boys reviewed second class requirements. The board was composed of Frank Bayer, J.W. Fisher and J.P. Flusche, committeemen, and Ford Noland, a guest.

Miss Anselma Pagel of San Antonio was home for a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pagel Jr.

Joe Starke, a student at Denton, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Starke and family.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D.C., Feb. 22 — This is being written on George Washington's birthday. According to the calendar in effect at the time of George Washington's birth, he was born on February 10. The more one studies the life of the Father of our Country, the more one admires his wisdom and character. In front of me at this time is a thirty-nine volume set of the writings of Washington. This gives some idea of the voluminous nature of his activities.

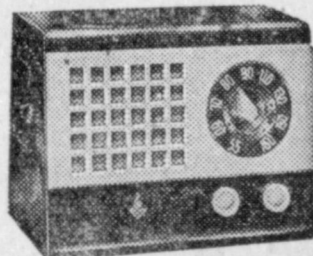

During recent weeks I have received numerous letters from Home Demonstration Clubs in our District complaining of, (1) discriminatory freight rates, and (2) the tax on oleomargarine. In both these matters our section of the country has long suffered economic discrimination. Many contend that oleomargarine is healthier and better than butter. Still the dairy industry has been able to maintain a heavy tax on oleomargarine — 10¢ per pound if colored, and a lesser tax if uncolored, together with a federal license tax of $50 per year per store handling oleomargarine. Ninety-eight percent of oleomargarine is made from cottonseed and soybean oil. In the last session of Congress a bill to repeal this discriminatory tax was defeated, in the House Committee on Agriculture by one vote. All Republicans voted against this tax repeal. Most Republicans also have opposed freight rate equalization. Most of them come from sections which feel they have a vested interest in this unfair discrimination.

On my desk at this time are two letters from Wichita Falls illustrating how freight rate inequalities hurt our area. The

New Edison Stamp

An enlargement of the special postage stamp issued in commemoration of the 100th anniversary February 11 of the birth of Thomas A. Edison. The stamp, purple in color, is 85/100 inches in width by 98/100 in depth, the same size as the Famous Americans series in 1940. The monogram on the panel is a reproduction of a cogwheel, uplifted wings and lightning flash, symbols of power, flight and electricity.

Wichita Engineering Company recently bid on 350 maintenance stands for the Army Air Forces at Dayton, Ohio. The Wichita company bid $1689 per unit; this was $105 per unit under any other bid. Yet the contract went to a Chicago firm because of a cheaper freight rate. A letter from the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce points out how our city probably lost a Piper Aircraft Corporation plant because of the freight rate differential. Plane parts can be shipped from Lock Haven, Penna., to Los Angeles, Calif., for only 2¢ per hundredweight more than from Wichita Falls to Los Angeles, which is one-half the distance from Lock Haven to said west coast city. This is true even though in hauling freight from the Pennsylvania town it is necessary to use two locomotives through much of the mountainous country.

Congress this week passed a bill authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to cooperate with other countries, especially Mexico, in the eradication of the foot and mouth disease, which disease is now raging below the Rio Grande.

The House also passed this week a resolution to cut the annual budget for the current fiscal year from $37,500,000,000 to $31,500,000,000. Unfortunately this devolved into something of a partisan issue. Congressman Frank Wilson of Dallas and myself were the only Texas members voting for this reduction. Some contend that if this reduction is carried out it will reduce appropriations for the armed services below the point of safety. This reduction, however, can be carried out without reducing military appropriations below $10 billion. Many members feel that the armed services, by a little efficiency, can maintain their present forces easily on $10 billion. The British, while maintaining 1,087,000 men in their armed services are doing so on a budget of approximately $3.6 billion. The British will spend this year $3,500 per man on the armed services, while we will spend $6,800 per man. Our current budget is about four times as large as any budget prior to the war. Many of us feel that while the national income is around $160 billion per year (our largest pre-war income was around $80 billion) we should make substantial payment on our national debt of $260 billion. Tremendous savings can be made in reducing some government agencies and the elimination of others. Many of the agencies in Washington could perform better services with half the employees they now have. Retrenchment is always painful. Sometimes the doctor's knife must be cruel in order to be kind. Unless we maintain the economical security of this country we will forfeit all of the things for which we have fought two wars.

British Planned Economy Makes Emigration Popular

The "planned economy" life under Great Britain's Labor-Socialist government apparently is so appealing to our English cousins that about a million of them want to emigrate and get away from it all, according to London sources.

There's even a new song hit, very popular along the banks of the Thames, entitled "I Want To Be a Refugee From Britain!" Nearly a million letters have flooded into government offices from Britons asking how they can emigrate — mostly to Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and to the U.S. and Latin America. Lack of shipping space is keeping the mass exodus down thus far.

'FLYING CRANES'

Washington — A "flying crane" helicopter capable of lifting 20,000 pounds in tanks, trucks, guns or other equipment across a bridgeless river or setting them down in relatively impenetrable places is being developed by a manufacturer in cooperation with the Army Air Forces.

Relieved

A government official had to decide whether the elderly lady's farm was located in the United States or Canada. When he announced to her that her property just inside the United States, she seemed very much relieved and said, "I'm so glad to know that they say that Canadian winters are terribly severe."

He — "Last night I dreamed that I married the most beautiful woman in the world."
She — "Were we happy?"

Truth in advertising was upheld when some shirts, said by their manufacturer to be able to laugh at the laundry, came back with their sides split.

The prize crack of the week comes from an Arkansas farmer who has been fighting crab grass all his life. He declares that when crab grass is pulled up by the roots, piled on top of a flat stone and dried for weeks, and then burned, it will take root and flourish wherever its smoke touches the ground.

Higher Octane Fuel Will Permit Smaller Engines In Future Automobiles

Major changes will be made in automobile engines in two years or less, in the opinion of the industry's leading engineers, who expect higher octane fuels to furnish a starting point for new designs.

The engineers expect oil refineries to make 95 octane gasoline available in about a year, at prices the average motorist can afford to pay. Fuel of that quality will permit the designers to make smaller engines producing the same horsepower delivered by the engines now in use, or to get more power out of engines of the size and weight now standard, by raising compression ratios. The engineers believe compression ratios in the new engines will be about nine to one or slightly higher. Automobile engines at present usually have ratios of about seven to one.

Pay for Riding On Buses Is Latest on Portal Front

Commuters who spend hours every day on street cars and buses to get to and from work might find themselves boosted into higher income brackets if one of the latest portal-to-portal pay claims is upheld.

A CIO union is seeking pay for 70 minutes spent daily riding to and from work by bus, a Senate Judiciary Committee was told in Washington.

The workers, it is claimed, ride in a common carrier owned by an individual not connected with their employer. The union states that they expend "mental and physical energy for the company" in the daily ride to and from the plant.

Confetti---

Communism admits no individual rights. — man is a complete slave to his government. Religion calls for allegiance to God. Communism says there is no God and demands all allegiance to its dictator.

In this field also, the method is to divide and conquer. The obvious procedure, as we are becoming more and more aware, is to promote intolerance, and bigotry between the creeds, to get them fighting among themselves instead of standing united in the name of the one God they all adore.

In this country the main objective is similar to that in Europe. The only difference is in the line of attack, and that because of our principles of religious freedom.

Communism's big gun is trained on the Catholic church because it happens to be the largest single religious unit and the most outspoken critic of the Godless ideals of communism. However, the reds cannot close churches and persecute leaders as in dictator ridden countries, so they must be content with spreading malicious slander to promote bigotry. Hardly a day passes but what Moscow or its stooges make some public charge about the Church's fascist sympathies or treasonable activities. Meanwhile the undercover smear campaign is intensified among all religions. Catholics, Protestants and Jews are all given spicily bits of hate-inspiring propaganda about the other two. The seeds of distrust and intolerance are being broadcast in all directions and, unfortunately, too many of them are falling on fertile soil.

As much as we hate to admit it, we still cannot deny that most of us, of all creeds, are too willing to accept seeds of hate about another person's religion. We are, altogether too anxious to hate for God's sake whereas common sense and Christian charity should prompt us to be tolerant of the other fellow who, like ourselves, is serving the same God according to his own convictions.

If common sense and charity aren't enough, surely the interest of self preservation will help us change our ways. Let's stand side by side in trusting friendship, bound by our allegiance to our Supreme Friend and face this common enemy together.
