HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS BUSY IN COUNTY MISS MALONE IN CHARGE

The Center Point Women's Club under the leadership of Miss Maye-sie Malone, Home Demonstration Agent, met recently at the home of Mrs. L. N. Doss. The mixing and baking of an angel food cake was demonstrated on a wood stove. Using the yolks left from the cake a salad dressing was demonstrated. The next meeting will be held at the school house, when school lunches will be under discussion.

The ladies of the Antioch Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. W. T. Hawkins. Miss Malone being present. Lessons in various stitches were given. Officers for the new year were elected at this meeting, being: Mrs. James Hawkins, president; Miss Pearl Hawkins, secretary-treasurer; Miss Odell Howton, vice-president and song leader; Mrs. Bramlet, Mrs. Holliman and Mrs. Dameron, program committee; Mrs. Whitmire, Mrs. Ruth and Miss Eunice Hall, finance committee; Mrs. James Hawkins, Miss Pearl Hawkins and Miss Odell Howton, membership committee; Mrs. W. T. Hawkins, parliamentary and Miss Eunice Hall, reporter. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Holliman.

FRENCH MAGISTRATE IS EXONERATED OF DIVORCE MILL CHARGE

PARIS, Oct. 31.—(P)—When the storm broke in French legal circles over the "American divorce mill" last July an investigation was ordered into the alleged irregularities. Judge Grenet handled most of the American divorces involved in this investigation. The court over which he presided heard 142 of the 16 American divorce cases last year. Today Judge Grenet was exonerated of any blame by the Superior Council of Magistrates, which sat in a body as a disciplinary court. The council listened to a complete report by one of its members and adopted the view of the attorney general, that Judge Grenet should be absolved.

The Golden Cocoon by RUTH CROSS

Gregory Cochran, lawyer and political leader, is sheltering in his mother's home Molly Shannon, university student, whom he rescued from the river, when, wandering aimlessly at night, she plunged in. Molly had become despondent when deserted by her fiancé, Stephen Renfro, efficiency expert, who married the daughter of "rich old Jim Dilesorth." Cochran, proving a true friend, is gradually winning Molly's confidence and she is relating her sorrows to him.

CHAPTER XVII—Continued She was magnificent indeed. She was faultless, consummate in every detail from the exquisite waves of silver drawn from brow to ears, the web of creamy old lace at throat and wrists, to the hem of her lustrous black silk. Her magnificence consisted though, not in her clothes; neither in her coiffure nor in the perfection of her grooming. Molly saw that at once, even while she shivered into nothingness in comparison. No, she was innately and predestinedly magnificent. It was in the very way she stood on the threshold—the quietness of poise, the last word in presence. One had not far to seek where her son came by his sureness of motion, his "serene as a god above a storm."

"To the latter she addressed herself, without noting, apparently, that there was anyone else in the room. "Greg dear, the telephone is really getting too much for me. After a barely perceptible pause, the leader woman bowed—slightly, and besides, you know you're due in the court-room at eleven."

"Yes, mother; I'm just coming. But—while you're here, I want you to meet Miss Shannon. . . ." He stepped a little to one side that there might be no further supposition of Molly's not being seen. "Miss Shannon, my mother."

After a barely perceptible pause, the older woman bowed—slightly, she was looking rather over Molly than at her, and she did not advance a step farther into the room. Molly bowed also—in silence. "Miss Shannon, by the way, is going back to school on Monday," he added, unperturbed by his mother's evident disapproval of Molly and all that had to do with her. "We've just agreed it's the best possible thing." He turned to Molly with a humorous question in his eyes. "We have agreed, haven't we?"

"At least you have," she answered somberly. "It comes to the same. And, mother—I want you to ask Miss Shannon to have dinner with us as soon as she feels up to it—say tomorrow evening or the evening after. . . ."

There was a second pause, more portentous than the first. In the air was a measuring of swords. Molly felt it—over her head—as plainly as though she heard the clank of steel—why, she asked herself, dully resentful, should they be crossing swords over her? She didn't want to have dinner with them. She didn't want anything—but to be left alone.

tion waxed to such triumphant intensity that she could not refrain from some hint of her prophetic imaginings—with the hope, no doubt, of having them confirmed. "Just wait 'til Stephen Renfro sees you in 'the Governor's mansion!'" she exulted openly one day, when Molly had dropped in for a little kitchen visit. The visits were briefer and farther apart of late. They seemed not to have so much to talk about. "I reckon that'll make him sit up and take notice!"

Molly looked at her for some moments in blank and unenlightened silence. Her mind groped vainly for any intelligible point of contact. She had, of course, heard Gregory Cochran named in connection with the governorship, but no relation between that fact and herself had ever occurred to her. It did not occur to her now.

"Please," she concluded earnestly, "you must not only never say such a thing again; you mustn't even think of it. I'm no more to him than a half-drowned kitten he's pulled out of a slinky pond and warmed back to life. He's as impersonal as—God."

Mrs. Parker shook her head, fondly unconvinced, but she agreed straightway to keep her own counsel, and Molly passed on to the business which had brought her over. She had saved fifteen dollars toward repaying the money she owed. "Five," she said, opening her handbag and taking out the bills, "I know how much you need it."

The other pushed the money back across the table with floury hands, mumbling absently that she was not to bother her head about it. Far removed from such gross and earthly matters, she was rapidly unvisaging Molly in a trailing velvet gown, hair done high, and jewels at her throat, holding grand levee in the Governor's mansion. "You don't owe it to me, now," she added still from the depths of her trance.

Molly stared. "What do you mean—I don't owe it to you?" she demanded. "The fairly godmother raced back from the Governor's ball minus her coach and four, and arrived somewhat panicky and out of breath. "Why," she stammered, "I wasn't thinkin' . . ."

"If I don't owe it to you," Molly persisted, not taking her eyes for an instant off the scared old face, "to whom do I owe it?" "Oh, shucks! I wasn't payin' any attention to what I was sayin'." Mrs. Parker poophooded manfully. "Of course you owe it to . . ."

"To whom do I owe it?" Molly repeated, her voice chilling with the certainty of the truth. (To Be Continued)

PECAN INSTITUTE TO BE FINANCED WITH AID OF LOCAL CIVIC CLUBS

A finance committee was organized Saturday for the financing of the pecan growers institute to be held in Brownwood November 15 and 16. The committee is composed of members of the Chamber of Commerce and representatives from three civic clubs.

Chairman of the committee is Brooke S. Ramey who will be assisted by H. G. Lucas and W. D. Guileley from the Rotary club; Arch V. King and L. C. McKean from the Kiwanis club; and R. P. Canady and J. Claude Smith from the Lions club.

An appropriation of $250 has been made by the Chamber of Commerce to cover awards for the best county or community exhibits at the institute, best individual exhibit, most profitable crop from one tree of native pecans produced in West Texas, and one tree of paper-shell variety originating in West Texas.

Indications from replies to invitations to attend the institute from pecan growers, land owners and bankers, indicate a large attendance at this institute which is hoped to become an annual affair.

Park St., Columbus, Ohio. Says, "I feel I am doing my missionary work when I tell of how my wife was relieved of a serious case of bladder irritation with Lithiated Buchu (Keller's Formula). She had to get up 6 to 8 times each night. It acts on bladder as epsom salts do on bowels and neutralizes excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. MERCURY HITS LOWER LEVELS OVER STATE

Cold wintry like weather, accompanied by rainfall varying from light mists to precipitations of one inch, has enveloped Brownwood, Brown county and the entire Heart of Texas district, according to the weather reports received from representative towns of the county and district. The mercury dropped to 43 degrees in Brownwood and although this is much lower than it had dropped within the past week, it is not a low mark for the season. A total of 21 inch rain fell here Monday night.

Hallinger and Winters, to the west, have reported the heaviest rainfalls, each reporting one inch. Mercury, to the south, reported three quarters of an inch. Waco, to the east, reported a big rain, but the exact amount was not given. All places reporting rainfall indicated that there had been a decided drop in the temperature and that wintry like weather still prevails.

Rain reports received follow: Abilene, slow rain; Bangs, light; Ballinger, one inch; Brady, light; Blanket, light; Comanche, light; Coleman, good rain; Dallas, good rain; Dublin, light; Fort Worth, very light rain; Grosvenor, very light; Goldthwaite, slow mist; Lampasas, light mist; Mercury, 1/2 inch; Mullen, good rain; San Saba, good shower; Santa Anna, light mist; San Angelo, good rain; Winters, one inch; Waco, big rain; Zephyr, good shower.

The first pair "Marconigram" was dispatched by Lord Kelvin, who at the time was visiting Senator Marconi's experimental wireless station at the Needles, Isle of Wight.

Hens Need Good Food

Farm Hens. Too many farmers are not down to date in their methods. They still depend on the hens setting their own food.

They should be kept in a yard of limited dimensions and fed regularly the sort of food that will produce eggs—laying mash. And you can't trust yourself to mix such a mash unless you are an expert at the business. Better buy it by the hundred pounds at the supply store. This is important. You can't produce much milk and butter by feeding your cows on cornstalks.

Neither can you get many eggs by letting the hens run abroad over the farm and earn their scant living by the sweat of their tired brows. (Adv.)

Yet a Mystery

The reason why a chicken crosses the street has been discovered. It is the same reason as that which makes a driver try to beat the train to the crossing.—Minneapolis Journal.

TIRE TALK

That's 100% Sincere

When a great tire company like Goodyear says this is the Greatest Tire in the world, they are not taking chances with their good name just to be sensational.

And you know us, too! When we repeat here what Goodyear says it's because we know it's true.

This is—beyond a doubt—the greatest tire in the world, and we have seen them all.

That's talking "cold turkey". But we're sincere about it!

Come in and see it—the new-type Double Eagle Goodyear Balloon. It has a tread designed especially for balloon tire wear. It has the genuine SUPERTWIST carcass—made only by Goodyear. Know these latest things about tires

PROJECT COST IS ESTIMATED AT $2,500,000

A SPECIAL election has been ordered by the Board of Directors of the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, to be held on December 4th, at which time the proposition of issuing the bonds of the district in the sum of two and one-half million dollars is submitted to the qualified voters of this district.

Briefly summarized, the features of the bond issue are:

The amount of the bonds to be issued is $2,500,000.

The maximum interest rate on the bonds is five and one-half per cent.

The bonds are to be payable in thirty-five years, with interest payable semi-annually.

Taxes will be levied on all taxable property in the district, for the purpose of creating an interest and sinking fund to retire the bonds as they mature.

The election order is signed by the Board of Directors of the Water Improvement District, which includes J. R. Looney, chairman; and F. S. Abney, H. G. Lucas, E. W. Greber and C. M. Carpenter.

Engineer's Estimates. A point in which most of the residents of the district are greatly interested is the engineer's estimates of cost of the water project. These estimates are set out in detail in the formal election order, and include the following:

For excavating more than one million yards of earth, including gravel, shale and rock, and replacing of 857,000 yards of it in the dam, the estimated cost is $534,000.

For rock paving, sheet piling, concrete and clearing fifty acres of land, the estimated cost is $131,000.

Construction of the spillway, including gates and lifting device, will cost $60,500. The sluiceway and power pen stock will add $28,000.

For the reservoir itself, $465,000 is the estimated cost of flowage lands and clearing expense, and changing the roads and bridges will cost $140,000. Engineering, legal services and contingent expenses in this connection are estimated at $125,500.

For the distributing system the 303,000 feet of closed conduits with valves, meters and other equipment, will cost $794,000, and the power and pumping station will cost $95,000. Engineering, legal and contingent expenses in this connection will cost $117,000.

To all these expenses is added the years, which was authorized in a special election held in the district. This cost totals $90,000.

Five Election Precincts. The district is divided into five election precincts, in each of which special judges and clerks are named. The outlines of the precincts are as follows:

No. 1, that portion of the district west of Pecan Bayou and outside the city limits, bounded on the southwest by the G. C. & S. F. railway together with that portion of the district east of Pecan Bayou, and that portion of the district which is included within Ward One of the City. The polling place is at the court house.

No. 2, all of Ward Two of the City of Brownwood. The polling place is at the city hall.

No. 3, all of Ward Three of the City of Brownwood. The polling place is at the High School Building.

No. 4, all of Ward Four of the City of Brownwood, with the polling place at Coggin ward school building.

No. 5, that portion of the district situated outside the city limits and bounded on the north and northeast by the G. C. & S. F. railway right-of-way. The polling place for this precinct is a room in the rear of the Station service station on the San Saba and Indian Creek road.

The complete text of the election order is published on page three of section two in this paper.

BLANTON WILL SPEAK HERE ON NOVEMBER 3RD

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton sent word Monday from Abilene that he will arrive in Brownwood late Saturday afternoon for his address that night. Mr. Blanton is making a tour of the Seventeenth Congressional District and speaking for National Democracy. He will speak in Comanche Saturday afternoon. He recently addressed a great audience at Cisco.

Mr. Blanton went to Congress in 1916 from the old "Jumbo District" of Texas. The state was redistricted by the legislature in 1917 and he was elected from the Seventeenth District, which includes Brown County, in 1918. He is familiar with the water power question, farm relief, foreign relations, national prohibition and other problems of interest to the voter. Due to the rapid increase in population of the district on account of agricultural expansion and oil development Congressman Blanton has, perhaps, represented more people in Congress than any other man.

Popular in District. Mr. Blanton is immensely popular with the voters of this district. They have not only given him large majorities for Congress but last summer gave him a great vote for the Senate. The short session of Congress which begins the first Monday in December will close the career of Mr. Blanton in Congress. He will be succeeded by Colonel R. Q. Lee of Cisco. Brown county probably will give Mr. Blanton a big audience for his address at the Court House next Saturday night.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Brown County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, that you summon by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Brown if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Elizabeth Smith, whose residence is unknown, if there be a newspaper published in the County of Brown on the third Monday, in November, same being the 19th day of November, at the Court House thereof in Brownwood, Texas, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 31st day of August A. D. 1928, in a suit numbered on the docket so said Court No. 5431, wherein C. R. Smith is plaintiff and Elizabeth Smith is defendant.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows:—to-wit: That on or about the 7th day of September, A. D. 1922, the plaintiff was lawfully married to the defendant in Detroit, Michigan, and continued to live there with her until on or about the first of January, 1927. The defendant at the time of said marriage being a single woman by the name of Elizabeth Smith. Plaintiff alleges that during the time he and defendant lived together as aforesaid, he was kind and affectionate toward her, and provided for her support and maintenance to the best of his ability, and in a manner to their station and position in life. That soon after said marriage defendant began a course of cruel treatment towards this plaintiff, nagged and abused him, and applied to him the vilest epithets she could think of, and finally on or about the first of January, 1927, the defendant took their two children, and went away and left this plaintiff and he has never been able to locate her since. That during the time they lived together there was born to the plaintiff and defendant two children, Donald C. Smith, and Geraldine L. Smith, both of which children are with the defendant. That said marriage relation between the plaintiff and defendant still exist, and the defendant's conduct toward this plaintiff has rendered their living together as husband and wife insupportable.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relation, for costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general in law and in equity, that he may be entitled to.

Herein fail not and have you before said Court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court at office in Brownwood, Texas, this, the 9th day of October A. D. 1928.

CHAS. S. BYNUM, Clerk District Court, Brown County, Texas. By Nevo Nance, Deputy Oct. 11-12-28, Nov. 1.

BROWNWOOD CAN BE FREE FROM MOSQUITO PEST, DR. DILBY SAYS. Dr. Joe E. Dilby, president of the Texas Medical Society, was the chief speaker at today's luncheon of the Brownwood Kiwanis Club held in the grill room of the Graham Hotel. Dr. Dilby confined his remarks to the mosquito menace in this city and explained how this situation could be remedied. Dr. Dilby stated that Brownwood has a shame and reproach on her name because of this pest. He suggested that Brownwood use waste crank case oil from the garages, suggesting that this be mixed with kerosene and used to saturate a toe sack of sand. This sack, Dr. Dilby stated, could be suspended in a stagnant pool where it would suffice for that particular spot for many days. Dr. Dilby stated further that several recent deaths might be directly traceable to the mosquito. He says that the medical profession is not certain but that dengue, malaria, colds, typhoid and other diseases may be more or less carried by the mosquitoes in this city. Barbecue for Scouts. Jack Brunberg, Boy Scout Executive, invited the Kiwanis Club to participate in the Boy Scout Fair to be held in Brownwood November 9th and 10th. The Kiwanis voted to assume the responsibility of preparing a barbecue for all visiting Scouts during the fair. Mr. Brunberg stated that about 500 Scouts may be here at that time. By unanimous vote the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club will be postponed until Saturday, November 10, when each member of the club will become a member of one large committee for the purpose of entertaining the visiting Scouts. S. A. Shaw of St. Louis, representative of the American Red Cross was presented by Hilton Burks today and Mr. Shaw spoke of the work of the Red Cross organization in war and peace times. Mr. Shaw is here for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a local unit of the Red Cross. Mr. Brunberg is asking the aid of all Kiwanis clubs.

Rain Great Help To Stockmen Of Coleman Section. COLEMAN, Nov. 1.—(Sp.)—Moisture falling this week will be of great help to stockmen in this county, according to Elmo V. Cook, vocational agricultural agent. Some of the ranges in this section were beginning to get dry, sure no rain had fallen since the early part of October. The rain, while retarding the harvesting of cotton crops, will also be of benefit to the farmers in putting the lands into condition for winter plowing. Most of the Coleman county cotton crop has been gathered. In certain parts of the county some of the farmers have completed their picking. It is estimated that 33,000 bales have been ginned this season in Coleman county. The 1923 crop is placed at 40,000 bales. Pecans are being shipped out of the county at the rate of several thousand pounds weekly. Local produce dealers are paying from 8 to 10 cents per pound for average pecans delivered to this city. The Coleman county pecan crop this year is estimated at 103,000 pounds.

Extensive Plans For Terracing In Coleman County. COLEMAN, Nov. 1.—(Sp.)—Terracing on a big scale will be done by Coleman county farmers during the winter season, according to Elmo V. Cook, vocational agricultural manager of the Coleman Chamber of Commerce. Plans now being made include the terracing of several thousand acres of farm lands. Although terracing demonstrations will not be in full swing before January 1, several individual demonstrations will be staged during November, Cook said. A terracing school, to be conducted by M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, Texas A. M. College Extension Service, and A. K. Short, of the Federal Land Bank, Houston, will be held here during January, according to present plans. "Coleman county farmers are beginning to realize the value of conserving soil and moisture on their lands," Cook said. "Last year, the FALL GARDEN SHOW IS HELD. The fall vegetable exhibit of the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county was held at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall Wednesday with entries from Jones Chapel, Antioch and Zephyr. A possible score of 1,000 points for each entry represents production, utilization, exhibits and special demonstrator. Over forty varieties of vegetables were shown and scorings made. The score given at this exhibit will be averaged with the score given at the spring show, and not until then will the winners be known. The Austin Mill & Grain Co. has put up $25 for awards in this contest, which is running under the supervision of Miss Maysie Malone, home demonstration agent. Among those in charge of the Jones Chapel exhibit were found: Mrs. W. M. Harris, Miss Rena Harris, Mrs. Warren Fortson and Mrs. George McHan. Among those from Antioch were Mrs. W. T. Hawkins, Miss Pearl Hawkins and Miss Frances Hall. From Zephyr were Mrs. Reuben Scott, Mrs. L. V. Kimmins and Mrs. A. J. Dabney. Mrs. D. R. Hodges, 1809 First St., was admitted to a local hospital on Thursday for medical treatment. Fred Hayes was removed from a local sanitarium Wednesday following an operation. Mrs. A. M. Lovelace of Comanche was admitted to a local hospital on Wednesday for medical treatment, but died early in the morning.

GRADY GUYER TELLS OF CLUB BOY TRIP TO THE STATE FAIR AT DALLAS

Grady Guyer of the Bangs Boys Club, was one of the boys from Brown County who won a trip to the State Fair of Texas this year as a result of his year's work in the club. He describes his trip in the following words:

This is my first club year, and joining late I missed the election of officers. J. D. Rogers was elected President and Anron Oden, Vice-President of the County Club. Of my community club William Wallace was elected President and Herman Boenicke, Secretary. The 1st Thursday after the first Monday of the month is our meeting day. I have not intentionally missed a meeting of any kind.

I chose two projects, terracing and cotton. At the county encampment I won a free trip to the A. & M. College Short Course on Terracing. Later I won a free trip to the State Fair on my cotton crop and record book.

We left Brownwood Oct. 8th, 1928 for the Dallas Fair. We reached Dallas about 8 o'clock on the 9th, staying three days and returning Thursday night the 11th.

Met by County Agent
After arriving in Dallas we were met by our County Agent, C. P. Griffin, and other officials who took us to the Boys Encampment at the Fair Park. That morning I saw the county booths, the one stalk cotton show, the art hall and many other items including numerous farm labor saving implements.

That afternoon the boys were organized into companies and we all went to the Majestic Theatre where we saw a good show and an excellent vaudeville act. We went to the top of the Adolphus Hotel where we got a good birds eye view of the city. The hotel is 17 stories high.

Hiding the elevator down a boy meekly asked, "Say can you stop this thing when you want to?" We then went back to encampment for supper and bed. We saw some good fireworks that night in the Fair Park, in front of the Grandstand.

Wednesday morning I saw a lot more implements, booths, etc. Then I found the Automobile Show. Automobiles of every make and type were there.

There was a parade of National Guardsmen, Boy Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls.
That afternoon we all met at the horse races free, sure was good racing too.

Saw Fine Show
That evening we went to a show at the Fair Park Auditorium to a show entitled "The Desert Song". The costumes and stage were magnificent. On Thursday morning we saw the livestock section and attended the garden show.

Thursday afternoon we went to the carnival, that is part of us. Some of the boys left early but we did not leave until about 3:30 p. m. I left with the impression that it was a fine fair, although I would like to have seen more of the city.
In conclusion I surely want to thank the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce for awarding these free trips. It will do endless good for the upbuilding of the county.

I also want to thank the State Fair Association for the entertainments while in Dallas. And the officials of A. & M. College who sponsored the encampment.
GRADY GUYER, Bangs, Tex.

SCHOOL BOY HIT BY CAR

Ewell Maxwell, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Maxwell, of the Chapel Hill community, was seriously injured about 4:30 Monday afternoon when struck by a passing automobile driven by Mrs. John Caldwell, also of the Chapel Hill community. Young Maxwell was on his way home at the time of the accident.
Mrs. Caldwell stopped and rushed the injured boy to his home, from where he was brought to the Central Texas Hospital, this city. Attendants at the hospital state that the youth received several broken ribs and a punctured lung. His condition is considered serious, but a slight improvement has been noted today. It is stated.

The Brownwood Marble Works

Largest, Best Equipped Plant in West Texas
Mr. Roy Anderson, who for thirty-five years has been engaged in the Granite and Marble monument business in Brownwood, now enjoys the distinction of having the largest plant of this kind west of Ft. Worth, and it is also true that he is able to put out Memorials of any kind or character equal to any other manufacturer in the United States, and in many cases superior to that of other plants.
Having made this his life's work and study, he is able to design and portray in the most beautiful way just the monument you desire, and then in the employment of workmen, only artists in their line are used, catering always to those who want the very best, all this together with honest business dealings and moderate prices has gained for the Brownwood Marble Works the good will of the people of this section, and spread its boundaries of trade territory which covers a large section of Texas.
Just now this plant is cutting a monument which will be the largest they ever undertook to erect and upon its completion the public in general will be invited to visit their plant and view this beautiful structure. Watch the paper for further announcements regarding its completion.

SAN ANGELO TO CLOSE ITS RAILROAD SHARE CAMPAIGN THIS WEEK

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 31.—(Sp.)—With subscriptions passing the $200,000 mark, committees in San Angelo were preparing to close the drive this week for their share in the Gulf & West Texas Railroad which will total $250,000.

"With the interest in the new road manifested so far and the relatively large subscriptions, we feel sure that the campaign will be successfully closed," declared Charles W. Hobbbs, vice-president of the San Angelo National Bank and general chairman of the drive.

If— Then— How— Because—

A company can guarantee a tire against any road hazard—cuts, blow-outs, or accidents?

There must be something in the tire that gives them the assurance that the tire will endure rough use on any kind of roads.

Do you think they could stay in business to make the guarantee good?

the tire is tough, durable, built with better rubber, and yet it gives better balloon comfort.
