MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPT. 5, 1941

NUMBER 41

Dale Carnegie, the man who made himself famous telling us "how to win friends and influence people," prescribes music as a relief for fatigue. Says he, any time you're worn to a frazzle, whether from mental or physical strain, relax a few minutes to the strains of a soothing melody, then go back to work very much refreshed.

Yeah, there's something about music. A soldier doesn't notice the miles when a military band is playing. A fitter can carry on his epileptic raptures for hours — and that's not mild exercise — to the rhythm of a hot orchestra. Manufacturers have commercialized on the idea to get more efficiency, more cheerfulness and fewer injuries in their workrooms. And even the savage breast is soothed. Snakes are charmed by music. The contented cow is made more content.

All of which seems to suggest that it's a good idea to work with your radio tuned in—provided yours is the kind of work that doesn't require concentration or you are one of those lucky persons whose thinking isn't disturbed by foreign sounds.

—Every now and then we hear things that really help us appreciate the serenity of a small town. A New Yorker was telling about his city's civilian defense preparations. That, in addition to the usual hectic pace, keeps a fellow keyed-up all day and every day. To us who have the good fortune to live leisurely it is amazing that those people stand the strain. We would expect the whole city to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

One of our citizens recently returned from a vacation, laughs about an experience that he considers very typical of the big city. Someone had told him that a certain subway would take him all the way to his destination. To make sure he was correct he asked an official at the gate, and was advised to transfer. The continuous ride took two minutes longer. Time is precious when people are in high gear. Around here we prefer to take it easy and live longer.

One thing this town won't have to worry about is interference from Leon Henderson et al of the official price fixing committee. This applies especially to the local butter price. Don't ever let anyone tell you Muenster is profiteering on that product. Farmers are getting 45 cents per pound for butter fat when they sell milk and are paying 45 cents retail for a pound of butter—for a while it was 43, two cents under the milk price. Figure that one out. Considering the processing cost, refrigeration, wholesale and retail margin, how do they do it. Andy Hofbauer admits that maybe it's a losing proposition, "but look at our volume."

The catch is that a pound of butter isn't that much butterfat. There's a certain percentage of other solids from the milk along with salt and moisture—ingredients that do not cost 45 cents a pound. It leaves a little margin, but very little. We've got to admit that business on this scale is not an easy way to get rich.

Paul Nieball spent the greater part of last week accompanying the Gainesville Community Circus on a trip to Austin. The people on Route One missed Paul, but not so many of them realize that he sacrificed several days' pay just to help along in a community venture that is doing wonders for Gainesville and Cooke county—a sure suspect that he enjoys it, too. Morton Smith, manager of the Circus, was bubbling over on the subject the other day. The whole circus crowd thinks Paul is tops. In case you did not know, he sells tickets at every performance. Sometimes, when the circus shows within a convenient distance, he does not have to break away from his job.

Earnest Hayley, the sage of Saint Jo, is concerned about the plastic bodies Ford proposes to use for his automobiles. Ingredients are cotton, wheat, soybeans, corn and pine fibre. He complains: "From now on, every time you drive a Ford, you'll get

THE COLONEL PAYS OFF

Members of the 108th combat engineers of Chicago, toss their commander, Col. Karl Hobart, (left), and Lt. Phil Clementz, into the Red River near Fulton, Ark., after completing a 658-foot pontoon bridge before noon. Starting at 4:30 a. m., the Colonel and Lieutenant had told the men they could throw them in the river if they finished the job before noon. They did. The bridge building was part of the maneuvers being carried out in Arkansas.

Garden Club and City Sponsor Weed Mowing Campaign

The Muenster Civic League and Garden Club has declared a blitzkrieg on weeds within the city limits and the city council has officially lent its support to the movement. As a result a mower will be making the rounds Friday and Saturday, September 12 and 13.

As in the city's frequent clean-up campaigns, arrangements are made by the sponsoring groups for the convenience of property owners. All persons wishing to have weeds removed are expected to notify L. A. Bernauer or Andy Hofbauer by Wednesday of next week. Each owner will pay a small fee for the work. The system is introduced as a simple and inexpensive method of clearing vacant lots, alleys and the ditches along principal streets.

Attractive Booklets Outline Coming Year's Garden Club Program

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club members can well be proud of their yearbooks for 1941-42, just off the press.

The books present an attractive appearance with their green velour covers and white printing and are tied with white silk cord. The inside pages are white with green printing, carrying out the club's colors. The cover carries the club motto, "Let's Get Down to Earth." It is repeated on the first page, along with the club colors, flower and shrub. The next pages list the membership, officers and committees, then following the year's program are two blank pages for memoranda.

The program is an interesting one for the next twelve months. The yearbook committee, in working out the year's activity, chose subjects that will appeal to the entire membership. The first, for next month, is a film on roses, and the last, for next September is a contest of fruits, flowers and vegetables in any combination arranged in kitchen utensils.

A highlight of the year is the guest speaker, Mrs. Margaret Scroggs Carruth of Dallas, who will lecture in November. The local garden pilgrimage will take place in June and a special day will be the community flower show, to be held in the Fall, instead of the Spring, as heretofore.

Another guest speaker will be J. G. Estes of Gainesville telling what and when to spray. In April, the club will have an evening meeting and a film and at each meeting flowers of the month will be featured in special arrangements by the members.

These books will be distributed at the meeting of the club next Friday. They were printed by the Muenster Enterprise.

LOCAL GROUP TO ATTEND SUBIACO RITES MONDAY

Frank Hoedebeck, Cletus Hoedebeck, Mrs. Clem Reiter, Mrs. Lawrence Schumacher and Mrs. Alf Schumacher will leave here Sunday for Subiaco, Ark., where they will attend ceremonies at the monastery Monday morning at which time Frater Alvin Hoedebeck will make his solemn profession.

INVESTIGATING PETROLEUM SITUATION

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Members of the Special Senate Committee investigating the petroleum situation, left to right, Sen. Francis Maloney of Conn.; Chairman of the Committee, Sen. W. K. Warren Barbour of N. J.; Sen. Harold G. Burton of Ohio. They heard acting petroleum coordinator Ralph K. Davies warn that motorists must curtail consumption ten percent in order to conserve the supply for national defense purposes.

COMMUNITY'S FIRST LOAD OF OLD PAPER AND RAGS DELIVERED

To date this community's campaign to save old paper and rags for defense has netted $7.49. During the past weekend J. W. Fisher delivered 255 pounds of rags and 1340 pounds of paper to a salvage warehouse in Dallas.

The materials are re-processed in the manufacture of paper thereby relieving some of the enormous demand for wood pulp. Wood is urgently needed in defense industries.

The campaign here is sponsored by the Catholic Daughters and the money realized is placed in their fund for the proposed new church. Prices received are 35 cents a hundred for paper and $1.10 a hundred for rags. For a 10,000 pound load the Dallas warehouse will send a special truck, in which case the price is 10 cents a hundred less.

All persons wishing to cooperate in the campaign are requested to deliver their paper and rags to the B. H. Heilmann garage.

TOTAL RAINFALL FOR AUGUST 6.90 INCHES

What had already been an exceptionally wet August became even wetter on Thursday of last week when 2.71 inches of rain fell in a heavy down-pour starting shortly before noon. For a while it was almost a cloudburst. Roads and streets were covered with a thin layer of water that accumulated faster than it could drain away. Visibility at times was cut down to a few hundred yards.

The shower brought the month's total precipitation up to 6.90 inches. It also served to relieve the heat for a few days, however the mercury gradually climbed back to the high 90's. As an average the past month's temperature, though seldom cool, was less oppressive than usual for August.

Father Hugo of Purcell, Okla., spent Wednesday with Father Frwin.

Salt Water Fails To Dampen Hopes For New Oil Pool

The test well recently drilled by Target Drilling Company on the Drain farm for Ray Bourland and associates seems to assure a fairly good oil play even though the well itself is in poor condition. Drilling through more than 30 feet of oil sand, topped at 1640, the men encountered salt water. They have hopes, however, of converting the well into a producer by plugging back and perforating casing at a higher level. The formation was pronounced as good. An offset on the Lutkenhaus farm is already drilling.

Another test now under observation is that being drilled by Kinsey on Reiter's. It is about two miles north and east of the recently discovered Bindel pool.

Other activity in the Muenster field is confined to development. Russell is now drilling for Highpoint on C. J. Fette's and will follow it by another on Fette and two on Rossion. DeLee's well, also on Fette's is being drilled by Harrell.

North of town Harrell is drilling for Texas Company at Bindel's and Couch continues drilling one after another on the Trumter lease. Richards and Son's well for Humble on the Felderhoff estate is dry.

MAN ARRESTED FOR TIRE THEFT WANTED HERE FOR HOT CHECKS

An arrest at Henrietta last weekend following the theft of three tires off the Illinois Bend school bus helped to clear up several hot-check cases here, according to Frank Hoedebeck, local constable.

For more than a week Hoedebeck and other officers of this vicinity had been on the lookout for the writer of four checks, then learned that he and two companions were held on the tire theft charge.

The men were arrested before the theft was discovered. On the night of the theft they were trying to sell the tires in Henrietta when an officer happened to walk into the garage. He was suspicious and held them overnight for questioning. The theft was discovered the following morning and reported promptly, after which Cooke county officers took charge of the prisoners.

Hot check charges have since been filed against the man wanted here. Montague county also has some of his checks.

350 Children Will Return Monday To Muenster Schools

Muenster School Is Almost Assured Of WPA Lunch Program

A renewal of the WPA sponsored hot lunch program seems almost assured at the public school. After meeting with trustees Wednesday night Virgil Lee Welch, principal, stated that application forms were ready to start through the usual channels to official approval and that the program may get under way before October 1. Until then children will have to carry lunches.

A similar program at the parochial school is possible, Welch said. However the fact was not known until recently and no action has been taken to date.

One difficulty encountered this year at the public school hot lunch program is a shortage of help. WPA provides only one worker. A possible solution is to assign the one NYA assisted student to part-time kitchen duty. Otherwise there may be a distress call for volunteer helpers.

Many of Muenster's groceries this year will come from the WPA stock of canned goods which were raised by relief workers on ground leased by the county, and canned during the past several weeks under WPA supervision. Those vegetables were canned expressly for the lunch program. Muenster contributed to the cause and is entitled to its pro rata share.

PERFECT RECORD FOR WEEK TURNED IN BY SOFTBALL TEAMS

Another double-header softball program for the benefit of the youth band went over with a bang Wednesday night when Muenster girls bested their Bulcher rivals 4 to 3 in a close, well played contest and two groups of local boys chose up for the nightcap performance.

The Muenster girls took a 2 to 1 lead in the first frame and stayed out ahead until the fifth when their visitors tied with two tallies, making the count 3-3. The sixth went blank but the final inning brought the extra run in a storybook finish. In hits the home girls fell behind 3 to 4.

The other game was a renewal of the former Luke Garage-Cheese Plant series, however very few of the players were members of either organization. That affair was decided by a fourth inning hitting spree that netted five runs for the Luke tribe. Another run in the eighth was not needed. The Cheese boys led off with two and added two more in the ninth. Hitting honors were divided 5-5 with special mention to Leo Becker for a homer.

Another brace of games for the week's calendar was the visit Sunday afternoon to Caps Corner. Both of Muenster's teams won there, the boys scoring 11 to 9 and the girls 10 to 5. Muenster also led in hitting: boys 17-11; girls 7-4.

Games on schedule are Friday's double header presenting Bulcher girls and Caps Corner boys against the local teams and a Fat and Lean game next Tuesday.

HOME MADE PLANE REVIVES MEMORIES OF PIONEER FLYING

Students and instructors of the Denton Flying School on a visit here Sunday morning had the privilege of seeing a revival of pioneer aviation when, accompanied by two local flyers in the Muenster club's plane, they landed on the Coursey hay meadow just as Lynton Coursey was getting ready for a take-off.

Young Coursey's plane does not come up to Department of Commerce specifications. The body is mostly homemade and the underpowered motor smokes and splutters considerably under the strain, hence the plane cannot be landed on a licensed field and Coursey has to stay close to his pasture.

What the plane lacks in performance, speed and durability, it makes up in its demand for skill. Keeping it aloft is an achievement and Coursey gets a tremendous thrill out of flying it.

The plane is the one Ollie Horn secured some time ago after it was barred from the Gainesville field. Originally it was Coursey's, and before Horn made a good start of rebuilding it, Coursey got lonesome for it and bought it back. After a general overhaul on wings, struts, etc., and a different motor, the thing was back in the air.

The Denton flyers came here Sunday to look over the local club's layout and get acquainted.

Next Monday, Sept. 8, will find both Muenster schools opening their doors for another scholastic year. A decision regarding the parochial school's date was announced last Sunday. It had been previously stated that due to repairs on the sister's home the opening might be postponed a week. Opening date for the public school was set several weeks ago.

Enrollment in both places is expected to be substantially the same as last year when the parochial school had about 300 and the public school about 50. Both schools will teach the full nine months. They are two of the very few rural schools in the county now holding open more than eight months.

Likewise both schools will have twelve grades and will continue courses suitable for college entrance requirements, ending their year with state examinations which permit successful students to continue their studies without taking college entrance exams.

Fourteen Benedictine sisters of the Jonesboro, Ark., convent will again be connected with the parochial school. Eight are elementary grade teachers, four high school teachers, one music teacher and one housekeeper. The greater number of those have been here for several years. Sisters Lucy, Frances, Anastasia, Bertha, Gebharda, Jane Frances, and Anna will carry on in the grades with the assistance of a newcomer, Sister Charles. In high school Sisters Angeline, Agnes, and Theresina will be assisted by Sister Gerarda, who returns after an absence of three years. Sisters Leonarda in the music class and Irmila in the home were here before. Those who did not return this year are Sisters Ignatia and Michael.

The public school has expanded its staff from four to five. Principal Welch and Misses Elfreda Luke and Mary Wiedeman are back. Miss Charlie Bradshaw takes the place vacated last year by Mrs. Jack Quinlan and temporarily filled by Mrs. Virgil Lee Welch. J. E. Gray, formerly of Myra, occupies the extra position and, according to Welch, will divide his time between elementary and high school classes. Welch and Miss Bradshaw will teach high school. Misses Luke and Wiedeman will teach the grades.

High school courses at both places will be principally academic and scientific. In addition the public school offers manual training and home economics.

How Dry I Am!

At last Muenster is dry. That is the opinion of state liquor control officers, and it is shared by dozens of persons who were unable to buy a bottle of beer during the past few days. Though it is assumed that the brew is still available to the right people at the right places, it is conceded that the business on an open scale is a thing of the past.

After cracking down on frequent visits during several weeks and promising they would be back regularly, officers convinced local men that beer selling is a poor business.

The general attitude toward the shut down is divided. Many of the steady customers have resented themselves to the idea of beer at home only, even though they did enjoy the convenience of getting a bottle down town. Others are definitely disappointed.

Some are glad to see the change because it will eliminate an undesirable element that took advantage of a delicate situation. While the business men themselves were unlawfully selling beer they were not in a position to prevent disturbances by calling for cooperation of officers.

Probably most of Muenster prefers to let the town be dry until beer is legalized and can be kept under control by proper, legal action. As long as they do not lose the privilege of keeping beer at home they are not complaining.

WHAT A VACATION!

"Sherty" Herr had a miserable vacation, that is, part of it was miserable. While he and the wife, along with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Herr of Gladewater were enjoying Galveston, he caught a cold that settled in his tonsils. Fever went to 104, and only determination kept him out of a hospital. He returned Sunday night and spent the greater part of Monday in bed. Since then he's been toughing it out, confident he will not have to submit to the dreaded operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Hoedebeck and son have moved here from Tishomingo, Okla., and are making their home in the George Gehrig house that was formerly Andy Hofbauer's home.

RECORDS SHOW HIGH PRODUCING COW IS MOST PROFITABLE

HIGH PRODUCING COWS. COLLEGE STATION. — Records for 1940 of the Texas Dairy Herd Improvement Association show that high producing cows are the most profitable, says G. G. Gibson, assistant dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

The total feed cost of a 400 pound butterfat cow was $44 more than for the 100 pound butterfat cow. At the same time, the income above feed cost for the 400 pound producer was $61 more than for the 100 pound butterfat animal. The low producing cow had a total feed cost of 25 cents a pound butterfat while the feed cost for the high producer was 17 cents, or eight cents a pound less.

Costs for roughage and grain increase with production, Gibson says. But dairymen expect to feed more grain or concentrates to the high producing cows in order to get more production. For example, the records show that grain costs increased from $10 for the low cost to $47 for the high, but the income above feed cost was $10 and $24, respectively.

"Now and then we find dairymen who question the advisability of feeding for capacity production," Gibson observes. "It is unwise to push dairy cows to the point where there is likelihood of doing physical injury. On the other hand it is poor business to allow a cow to loaf along at half capacity. Dairy animals should carry a capacity load like any farm equipment. When we have a dairy cow capable of 350 pounds of butterfat a year under ordinary herd conditions we should give her a 350 opportunity to produce."

"This does not mean that we should try to make a 400 butterfat producer out of a 300 pounds butterfat inheritance. By using our dairy herd improvement association records to feed each cow according to production, we can steer clear of that difficulty."

SIDEWALK SUPERINTENDENTS WATCH IN COMFORT

DALLAS. — Dallas' Mercantile National Bank is erecting a 30-story bank and office building at Main, Commerce and Ervay streets here, and the whole town is talking and watching.

The Sidewalk Superintendents' Club membership is growing daily. More than 17,000 persons have watched the excavating from the gaily colored stand, in its first three weeks of operation. A uniformed attendant presides over the guest register, passes out membership cards and answers questions about the skyscraper. There are seats and a telephone for the convenience of the observers. In the language of the street, members might be called kibitzers—but not by President R. L. Thornton of the bank.

"Their interest is more than appreciated," he said, almost as soon as the first rig into the hard blue limestone underlying the building site was made by a titanic steam shovel. "If they want to watch, they will watch in comfort," was his conclusion.

Result was a 50-foot "upper deck" provided with seats and a canopy against Texas' summer sun. The deck is very much like that atop a Gulf Coast fishing boat, and it is sheltering hundreds of people every day.

It was soon found that the 50-foot covering wasn't sufficient, so 26 feet more were added and the Sidewalk Superintendents' Club continues to grow.

Membership cards have been issued to more visiting foreman than you'd imagine, and by now they're being exhibited in many points throughout the United States and some foreign countries.

Mercantile Bank officials do not claim originality in the Sidewalk Superintendents' Club—but it does seem that the quarters of the Dallas Chapter are the most spacious that have been provided heretofore and a number of new features have been added.

Des Moines, Iowa, had the first one, at the site of the Bankers Life Building. New York's Rockefeller Center had a spectators' stand. So did Boston, with the famed Milk Street financial district the gathering place, when the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company erected its new building.

The lot fronts 200 feet on Ervay street, by 120 each on Main and Commerce—24,000 square feet in all. Height of the completed building is to be 431 feet from ground level to top cornice. It will have 30 floors and two basements. It is scheduled for completion by December, 1942.

Hay or dry bundle feed should be kept within reach of dairy cows while they are on young green grass.

SOLDIERS KEEP CLEAN—EVEN IN WAR GAMES

WITH THE FOURTH ARMY IN WESTERN WASHINGTON.—Soldiers keep clean in the field, even during gigantic war games now in progress in Western Washington. These boys from the 41st Division found an old bathtub abandoned near their bivouac and promptly set it up as a clean-up depot, to wash off the dust which is plentiful this time of year.

Auto Production Slash REALLY Hits Farmer

The farmer has a double interest in news from Washington that automobile production is to be slashed by 50 per cent. For one thing, automobiles and trucks are prime necessities on the farm. But more important, the automobile industry is one of the farmer's biggest customers. This diagram map shows how seriously the curtailment of car production will hurt rural America. It gives statistics on approximately how much material comes from the farm for every one million units the motor car industry produces. How much the farmer will be affected by the proposed cut in car production depends on how deeply Washington makes the incision. But here are the facts! During the 1941 model year just ending, the automobile industry turned out approximately 5,000,000 units.

Guest: In Linden, N. J., police sheltered an inebriated transient for his own protection. Two hours after he had thanked them for their hospitality and departed the next morning, they learned their guest was being sought in eight states for questioning about a murder in Providence, R. I.

Decision: While pondering whether the City Commission of Fresno, Calif., had authority to order a new hat-rack, City Attorney Christian M. Ozias sat down. Then he quickly decided the hat-rack was a good buy. He had sat on his own hat and crushed it.

Forgetful: Members of a luncheon club in Cleveland, O., waited for a memory expert to address them. But he didn't show up. He had forgotten the engagement.

Permanent: Because a tattoo artist tattooed the wrong Social Security number on his chest and because changing it would cost $3 an inch, a mechanic in St. Joseph, Mo., has been permitted to adopt the new number.

LINDSAY MISSION CIRCLE IN NEED OF MATERIALS

LINDSAY—The Lindsay Mission Circle is badly in need of material. Its present supply being almost exhausted, Mrs. C. Hoelker, secretary of the society, disclosed this week.

The regular monthly meeting of the group will be held next Wednesday, September 10th, in the community hall, and members of the parish, as well as ladies of the circle, are asked to gather things they can no longer use in their homes and bring them to this meeting. Donations of cotton batting, outfitting for lining comforts, quilt scraps, etc., will be especially acceptable at this time, it was advised and old linens for hospital bandages are needed.

The ladies of the circle also make an appeal for old clothing so that it can be mended and remodeled and shipped with other winter goods to needy missions before cold weather sets in.

Daily Milk Receipts at FMA Plant 40,000 Pounds

Milk receipts at the Muenster cheese factory are hovering at the 40,000 pound mark this week. Tuesday's figure, according to the plant's record, was 39,998. This volume represents a 4,000 pound increase over the daily receipts for the corresponding period of last year.

Consistently better grazing and the increase in size of herds share credit for the larger volume. That last factor, it is believed, will continue to hold production at a higher figure. Plant employees are confident the low mark will not get below 30,000 pounds daily. Cheese production for the year is likewise far ahead of last year's total.

While you're worried, Earnest don't forget what those ingredients mean to a cow's or a goat's appetite. How would you like to park the thing in a farmyard and discover later that it had been devoured down to the chassis?

But, of course, there's a bright side. Henceforth we needn't clutter the countryside with old car bodies. We can feed 'em to the livestock.

We like the opinion of a homespun philosopher who observes that mistakes were put into this world to keep a man from becoming too proud of himself. About the time he gets the idea that he is the berries he pulls a boner that deflates him and makes him fit to live with.

Betcha the average person, just like yours truly, can get a lot of consolation out of that thought. It is refreshing to believe that the dumb things which haunt a fellow's memory are serving a useful purpose.

Fate has a curiously practical way of making one's most unpleasant experiences the hardest to forget. Looking back to the past, a person recalls most vividly the ignorant or inconsiderate things he did. Pleasant things are almost completely obscured by them.

On the other hand, a look into the future never reveals anything but the bright side. Though we foresee dreary experiences here and there our real attention skips right over them to the pleasant things. People are essentially optimistic. They can look back on a clouded past and still face the future in high spirits. And aren't we glad to be like that!

Here's why Better Business Bureaus are out to get the loan sharks. One man borrowed $20, paid $3.50 a month for two years and still owed the $20. Another paid $3.50 a month for six years, total $252, and still owed the original $20. In case you did not know, they can't do that to you—unless you're afraid to stand up for your rights.

113 COOKE COUNTY MEN INDUCTED IN SELECTIVE SERVICE

A total of 113 men, 105 whites and 8 negroes, of Cooke county have been inducted into this nation's selective military service since the selective service law became effective almost a year ago, according to information recently released by the county draft board.

Of the total number the only draftees are 14 white men. Ninety-one whites and all the negro inductees are volunteers. The men were summoned for service in 22 calls, however two more calls are now on file. No. 23 specifies four whites to report on Sept. 30; No. 24 will induct negroes but the number and date were not specified.

The order number of the last selective draftee is 201.

Briefly Told

In the America of 1941, there's an automobile for one out of every five persons. Totaled, almost 32 million cars and trucks operate the year round on more than 3,000,000 miles of highways. Passenger mileage carried on United States highways is ten times greater than in all other forms of travel combined.

In the United States you can have your car painted any color you like. But in China, where yellow denotes mourning, yellow automobiles are not sold. It is against the law to drive a maroon car in Japan, as that color is reserved for the imperial family. And vehicles painted red a paper is a notice asking the reader to pay no attention to a certain advertisement, but that's the very thing this department is recommending this week. When you see the Barnes Medicine Show ad, just forget it.

No, this ain't sabotage, just an unusual situation. After a part of our paper was already off the press, the part on which said ad appears, we received instructions by wire to "please hold up ad until further instructions." That's all the message said. Maybe it means the show is cancelled, maybe just postponed. We'll leave it to the reader's guess.

At any rate the ad was there already. And since this staff does not relish the extra work and expense of another makeup and press run, to say nothing of the stock (we even thought of a blackout, but that's a bother, too), since that's how it is, we take the easy course and just say "don't pay no 'tenshun to it."
