PROHIBITION PLANK DECLARING FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT IS APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

MES L. WEST, Press Staff Writer

June 28.—(AP)—A plank declaring for enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, the plank sharply assails the Republican administration for what is described as a failure to enforce the dry laws and also for placing "political hirelings" in enforcement positions, thus making of prohibition a political football.

The sub-committee, which will report the platform to the entire committee later in the day, with a view to having it go before the convention this afternoon, adopted a farm plank embodying the views of the farm organizations, but with a definite endorsement of the equalization fee and the McNary-Haugen bill.

Several plans for relief are suggested and the party would be pledged to enact legislation to correct what are declared to be the faults in distribution and the taking care of the surplus farm crops. It was explained that this might be done through the operation of the equalization fee or by other means.

Pro Proposals

Several wet and dry proposals were submitted to the sub-committee but they were eliminated one by one until there remained only the original plank as drawn by Senator Pittman and other leaders last week and a similar one offered by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, a dry leader. After an agreement as to precise language the committee finally approved the Pittman draft.

Gov. Dan Moody of Texas presented the prohibition declaration adopted by the Texas state convention and endorsing the Eighteenth amendment, but this was rejected along with proposals for the modification of the prohibition laws so as to permit the states to decide whether they would be wet or dry.

No Statement

The Texas governor would make no statement after the sub-committee wound up its work at 6:30 a. m. today after meeting continuously since 9 o'clock last night, but he told his colleagues on the committee that he might take the fight to the floor. However, the consensus among the twelve platform builders appeared to be that there would be no prohibition fight in the convention.

Josephus Daniels, North Carolina publisher and former naval secretary, who also has been demanding a vigorous enforcement plank, was not a member of the sub-committee. He will have opportunity to restate his views when the sub-committee still has to endorse the party declaration.

Chairman Pittman was of the opinion that it would not require more than an hour for the entire committee to pass upon the platform and he expected the convention to hold a special session in mid-afternoon to receive and approve the committee report.

No Reaction Yet

This view has been frankly stated to the Smith lieutenants, but their reaction to it remains as yet a sealed book. The Smith people are supporting a platform plank offered by Senator Tydings of Maryland, and proposing to return to the states the power and right to decide whether they will be dry or wet, but the consensus was that they had no idea that the convention would endorse such a proposition.

There were intimations, however, that if a fight was forced within the convention itself, a minority report for this plank would be presented so that the convention could select either course or keep to the middle of the road with a straight-out law enforcement declaration similar to that of 1924 and which is favored by some of the temperance organizations of the country.

After the sub-committee began its work, the members were able to speedily dispose of a number of less controversial questions with a degree of swiftness that proved highly satisfactory to the members. One such plank given quick approval was that emphatically denouncing what was denominated as corruption in government and pledging the party to an honest administration of public affairs.

The foreign relations, veteran relief and a number of other declarations were approved with comparatively little debate.

With the organized farmers represented on the sub-committee and a number of staunch friends of agriculture also members, there was an earnest effort to have the party make a pronouncement for a specific form of farm relief rather than to deal generally with the subject. May Force Dry Fight

BY JAMES L. WEST

Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, June 28.—(AP)—The 1928 declaration of the Democratic party still was in making early today with increasing prospects that the dry Democrats of the South would force a fight on the convention floor in an effort to carry the point for an endorsement of the 18th amendment.

Gathering early last night at party headquarters on Main Street, 12 men forming a sub-committee sat around a table hour after hour seeking to compose divergent views on many points in the platform and leaving to the last consideration of the two most highly controversial planks—the wet and dry issue and farm relief.

Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman, and most of his colleagues hoped that a report could be made ready for the entire resolutions committee soon after final hearings are closed this forenoon with the hearing of representatives of organized labor who had been allotted an hour to present their arguments for pronouncements by the party on a number of economic questions.

Bitter Row On

With a renewal before the 55 members of the committee of the bitter row over prohibition which broke out late yesterday at the first public hearings, it seemed doubtful that a report for the convention could be completed until late in the afternoon. Should this prove the case, the platform will be taken up and disposed of at a night session tonight, thus clearing the way for the nomination of Smith and his running mate on Friday and the adjournment of the convention since 10 o'clock.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Governor Dan Moody of Texas took the fight of the dry into the sub-committee. They were prominent figures in the debate yesterday which led to some bitter exchanges and presaged the tenor of the contest that will come before the convention unless the demands of the Southern dry leaders are met.

Those who are guiding the destinies of Governor Smith's campaign here in Houston still withheld today information as to just how far they were prepared to go in meeting the views of the Southern leaders, most of whom are known to be strongly opposed to the nomination of the New York executive and who apprehend difficulty in the South.

HOUSTON, June 28.—(AP)—While its platform builders labored in seclusion over prohibition and farm relief, a hot, tired, and irritable Democratic National Convention turned back to San Houston Hall today to complete the gesture of placing formally in nomination a long list of already defeated presidential favorites.

After nearly four hours of speech-making and demonstrating, spiced with a couple of fist fights among Southern delegates, the roll call of nominating speeches was not finished until the convention quit shortly before midnight. A morning session today was given over to completion of this necessary convention formality, with the hope of going on to balloting for a nominee either tonight or tomorrow.

Neither delegates nor spectators took a great deal of interest in the oratorical flourish of presenting the remaining candidates for the big scene of the play had been enacted at the night session. supporters cheering and started a twenty-minute carnival of noise making and parading. It was during that bit of bedlam that listing on two occasions to settle whether the state standard of Mississippi should go into the parade or stay out. Eventually it stayed out apparently no one was much the worse for the rough and tumble it took to accomplish the decision.

Hear Roosevelt

Besides Smith, whose nomination was presented by Franklin D. Roosevelt and seconded by a whole relay of speakers including three women, the convention formally entered on its book of eligibles Evans Woolen of Indiana, Representative Ayres of Kansas, and Senator George of Georgia. Today's list included Senator Reed of Missouri, Representative Hull of Tennessee, Former Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, Former Senator Pomerene of Ohio, Jesse Jones of Texas, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, and Huston Thompson of Colorado. Few in the whole group opposing Smith have voted pledged them outside their own states, and several are expected to withdraw almost as soon as they are put into the running, and throw their support to the leader.

With Smith already as good as nominated, the delegates were more than ever looking ahead today to the naming of a running mate for him. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic Senate leader who is chairman of the convention, continues far out in front of the crowded field of aspirants and some party men were inclined to look upon his nomination as almost as secure as that of Smith himself. The general gossip was that the Arkansas had greatly strengthened his position with the great Smith majority by interpolating a word for religious equality in his inaugural yesterday, starting a Democratic alusion equal to that staged last night for Smith himself and engendering like the night demonstration, some fist swinging around the standard of three or four anti-Smith delegations from the South.

Wait on Platform

Except for the continuing flow of nominating and seconding speeches the plans of the convention chiefs waited today on the deliberations of the platform committee. Hope of a compromise that would forestall a floor fight on the disputed planks had not been abandoned, although the belief was general that the prohibition issue, at least, probably would have to be settled in the convention hall itself. A determined band of drys were pressing for a specific pledge for enforcement of the dry laws, a proposition that met with much opposition and led to a discussion far into the night.

The only other trouble spot in the committee centered about a farm plank. At first party leaders were confident that no serious disagreement would arise, but the business of putting the Democratic agricultural

Smith standpatters after the demonstration began.

Al Stays Up to Hear Speeches

ALBANY, N. Y., June 28.—(AP)—Governor Smith was up until well into the early hours this morning listening over the radio to the demonstration staged at the Democratic convention when his name was placed in nomination for the presidency, and he made no attempt to conceal his satisfaction.

He tuned in as soon as the evening session began and did not miss a word or a shout or a blare of music. As the demonstration broke out at the close of Franklin D. Roosevelt's speech offering him as the party's standard bearer in the presidential race, the governor grinned. Raising one hand he twirled it above his head as though he too were on the convention floor and swinging a clacker in celebration.

When the radio reproduced the music of a band playing "The Side-walks of New York" he could no longer contain himself, "using he danced slowly several times about a circle of family and friends who had been listening to the convention doings with him.

They applauded his dancing and he acknowledged their handclapping with a bow, his flushed face breaking into a grin of evident pleasure at the way affairs were progressing.

"I suppose this will go on for some time," he remarked with apparent satisfaction as he resumed his chair by the radio and flung one arm affectionately about the shoulders of his elder daughter, Mrs. John A. Warner.

plank, and he is opposed by several groups seeking wet or modification plans. A near fight occurred during the hearing yesterday, when speakers challenged each other as liars. Both may have been right at that.

TONIGHT, unless the program is changed, there will be more nominating speeches and more celebrations by supporters of the several candidates, and then the balloting for the presidential nominee will begin. Tomorrow the vice president will be nominated and then the convention will adjourn.

Governor Al Smith of New York is conceded to be certain of the presidential nomination, and most of the experts predict that his nomination will be effected with one ballot. Seven hundred and thirty-three and one-third votes will be required to nominate him. It is admitted that he has 712 votes assured, and estimated that he will register eight hundred on the first ballot.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, permanent convention chairman, is slated for the vice presidency. He is a southern dry, and the party leaders want him to balance a ticket headed by Smith the northern wet. Robinson, like the well known Mr. Barkis, is willing.

PERFECTING THE ART OF LIVING

If there is any quality which is conspicuously American, it is the ability to increase the comforts of living.

The importance of our industrial age is that creating more prosperity, efficiency and leisure, puts us on a higher plane of life.

This Golden Age of ours is just beginning. As yet, comparatively speaking, we have but skimmed the surface of its possibilities.

Our great advantage over European countries is that our youth is such a short way behind us.

We have no inelastic attitudes of mind, no institutions made unprogressive and unchanging by centuries.

We have aged since then, and maturity has ironed out many of the rough spots.

Such is our contribution so far to civilization. The arts of living are more generally understood; we have shown the need for many luxuries as well as the bare necessities.

We have done great things. We will do far greater things on a multitude of still dim tomorrows.

THE SCIENCE OF INSURANCE

"Insurance underwriting is now regarded as virtually a science," said Ralph S. Child of Bonbright & Company, recently.

This is evident in the mathematical reliability of the mortality tables in use in life insurance; the effectiveness of the ratings in the coverage of fire risks, and the dependability of the widening fields of applications of casualty indemnity.

The making of maps of cities, the daily reports of agents, the establishment of ratings for fire risks, have all been steps in advance in the science of underwriting fire hazards, and their development is almost entirely the work of the fire insurance companies through their various technical rating and inspection services.

In the general casualty field, the forms of indemnity have so multiplied since the days of accident insurance for railway travelers, that now there seems scarcely any menace that might arise in this complex present-day life, against which protection may not be secured through some form of casualty insurance.

There would appear to be no question but that the conduct of the business of insurance underwriting up on a scientific basis is definitely established.

OIL INDUSTRY ELIMINATING WASTE

That the oil industry has not been wasteful of its own products is shown by the fact that through all operations, from well to consumer, measured losses amount to less than 3 1/2 per cent of total volume of petroleum produced.

The industry has directed every energy and every effort toward a steady reduction in losses of oil in all operations, and there has been steady increase in recovery of higher grade essential products, and a marked tendency toward more effective utilization of these products.

E. W. Clark, vice president of the Union Oil Company, and president of the American Petroleum Institute, says that although the industry has faced perplexing and baffling problems, "it is moving forward in its practices. We are farther along in the art of producing oil than we were three years ago, or even one year ago."

The American oil industry, developed under private control by American initiative, energy and capital, has had such rapid growth that the use of the products of petroleum for power and for lubrication has made possible the use of machinery in industries and in agriculture, while the rapid and economical transportation of passengers and freight by oil-driven engines on land, on water and in the air, is the outstanding economic achievement of this century."

MECHANICAL PERFECTION INCREASES POWER

The purchasing power of the dollar is at present higher than it has been for nearly five years, as measured by the average living cost of the American wage earner, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Its lowest point was in July, 1920.

The post-war deflation has been steadily remedied and living costs today are the least they have been since June, 1923.

This is a sure sign of prosperity. Mechanical perfection and increase of efficiency in industry has benefited the worker in two ways: It has increased his wage-earning power and decreased the price of the commodities he must buy.

Some time ago a Delaware man, convicted of arson, was sentenced to a whipping as well as a long prison term. There are those who consider this penalty barbarous. But the arsonist is an uncivilized and barbarous being who must be fed his own medicine. It but makes the punishment fit the crime.

If corporal punishment will discourage arson, it should by all means be adopted. Arson is an outstanding menace to the safety and prosperity of industry, business and the home.

Due to the Teapot inquiry, the Government has recovered about $2,000,000 in taxes and penalties. And, on the other hand, the defendants have received about that much worth of acquittals.—San Diego Union.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

Birmingham News: This announcement of Dr. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, that an undisclosed alumnus of that honored institution has provided for its use an endowment that equals the university's total endowment heretofore—is the most heartening intelligence developed in American education within the year of 1928.

In some state on the South Atlantic littoral should be nurtured a great university which will minister to higher education in the degree that higher education is ministered to in New England by Harvard and Yale, in New York by Columbia and Cornell, in Chicago by the university of that name, in the neighboring States of Wisconsin and Michigan by the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin, in the Southwest by the University of Texas, in New Orleans, with its gulfward look, by Tulane, and on the West Coast by Stanford and the University of California.

It is true that State universities in these South Atlantic States are doing work, noteworthy in cases like Virginia and North Carolina. But even in these two seats of higher learning, as well as in all other State universities south of the Potomac and east of the Alleghenies, there is now, as there has been since the close of the Civil War, need for money and money in constantly increasing amount. What has come to pass at Charlottesville may be hoped for at Chapel Hill, Columbia, Athens and elsewhere.

The University of Virginia is unique among this country's institutions of higher learning. It has been made unique by the imprimatur left upon it by its founder's quest for freedom of the human spirit. Jefferson lives no less in the University of Virginia than he does in the Declaration, the Bill of Rights, or the Status for Religious Liberty in Virginia. Out of Charlottesville for more than a century have trooped young men who seemed almost in each case to have been shaped by a distinct and distinctive mold.

It is with real enthusiasm that this handsome endowment of the University of Virginia is noted by all friends of higher education. The warmest possible commendation is due the present head of the university, Dr. Alderman, whose character and personality have no doubt been not a little helpful in inviting what has come to pass.

PLAN TO GET
GULF RAILROAD

Representatives of Brady, Fredericksburg and Mason have agreed to try raising a quota of $400,000 to be used toward establishing a railroad between Corpus Christi and San Angelo via San Antonio, and a headquarters for the fund campaign will be established at Brady July 5 by Porter A. Whaley, general manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

Whaley, who made the announcement today, has been loaned to the Gulf & West Texas Railroad for a period of 90 days to raise money for the proposed line. He conferred with thirty business men from the three cities mentioned, Sunday afternoon, when the quota was accepted.

The railroad to the northwest which was looked upon as practically certain on construction a few months ago, is now seen by experts as hedged around by its and ands, with several possibilities for solution.

The expected petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission from the Santa Fe Railroad for permission to absorb the Orient Line will complicate matters here, according to some views, although Whaley said he was confident San Antonio would get an outlet to Northwest Texas, regardless of whether the Santa Fe-Orient merger is permitted or whether the Gulf & West Texas road is built.

May Resume Work

It is felt that the Santa Fe would resume work on the San Angelo-Del Rio extension of the Orient, begun before the World War. This would take the Orient through Sonora, and the possibility of the Santa Fe building from Sonora to Kerrville to connect with the Southern Pacific to San Antonio is seen by railroad men here.

Such a solution of the railroad question would be in line with one of the original routes contemplated a year ago when the Gulf & West Texas Line was first projected.

In the event the Santa Fe-Orient merger is granted and the Sonora-Kerrville extension is promised, the Gulf & West Texas project would be dropped, according to indications here. E. W. Morrison, president of the G. & W. T., has declared the proposed absorption will be fought to the last ditch unless the Santa Fe agrees to the extension.

In the meantime work of collecting money for the projected Gulf & West Texas system will go on, Whaley said, although an eye will be kept on other developments.

A total of $1,400,000 is sought as original capital and another $1,500,000 will be borrowed, Whaley said. San Antonio is to raise $800,000, and the remaining $600,000 will come from other communities along the proposed route.

Ernest Steves, Sr., San Antonio member of the board of directors, is in charge of raising San Antonio's quota.

School Election is

County Judge E. M. Davis has ordered a school election to be held in the Indian Creek, and Upper Creek school districts, July 14, the election being called to allow voters of these districts to determine whether or not these two districts, with the Oakland district, in Mills county, shall be consolidated into one district.

County Superintendent J. Oscar Swindle made a trip to Goldthwaite Thursday and upon his request the county judge of Mills county ordered that an election be held in the Oakland district July 14, concurrent with the election in the two Brown county districts.

HUGH ALLCORN FOUND
AFTERNOON NEAR HERE

Hugh Allcorn, 13-year-old son of C. L. Allcorn, rural mail carrier out of Brownwood and who lives near Lakewood Swimming Pool, was found unconscious in a pasture near his home Monday afternoon. According to accounts from the Allcorn home, Hugh had taken several horses and mules to a nearby watering place. An hour or so after leaving the house the horses and other stock came back but Hugh failed to show up. It is stated, He was found unconscious.

The boy's head was badly bruised and other lesser injuries were found about the body. It is presumed that he was thrown from one of the horses he was riding. Attending physicians describe the boy's condition as being more or less serious, but do not believe that his skull was fractured.

Seven Sisters-rd., Coloway, London, obtains its name from seven old elm trees which grew on Page Green, Tottenham. The original trees have long since disappeared and forty-two years ago seven sisters named Hibbert planted seven young elm trees to continue the association.

A newly-invented nozzle for a fire hose is so arranged that the fireman can divert the water from the main stream into a cascade which falls around him. He can thus place himself under an umbrella as it were, of falling water, and escape through the smoke and flames of a burning room.

NORTH-SOUTH COUNTY ROAD TO BE FINISHED
JURY OF VIEW NAMED

County Judge E. M. Davis has appointed a jury of view, consisting of five men, whose duties will be to map out and survey land for a new road to be built from the upper Brownwood-Bangs road, a short distance beyond the Santa Fe crossing, about half way between Brownwood and Bangs, to the Brownwood-Coleman high-line road, a distance of about one mile. This jury is composed of J. C. Hall, J. P. Elland, J. A. Gwathmey, A. S. Ford, Charles Tervooren and County Surveyor Mark Ragsdale.

The jury will meet July 9, at which time appraisals on property to be condemned will be made, damages awarded and the right-of-way of the new road declared. A road has recently been opened from the Brownwood-Coleman high-line road to Thrifty and another road extends south from the Brownwood-Bangs road to the southern end of the country, and with the building of this additional strip of road, one mile in length, a good dirt road will be available for traffic through the county from north to south.

Brownwood Woman is Hurt in Wreck

Mrs. O. W. McDonald, of Brownwood was injured about noon Tuesday when the car in which she, with her husband and daughter, Ola and J. W. Jennings was riding, overturned while going down a steep grade a short distance west of Comanche on the Brownwood-Comanche Highway. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. McDonald, daughter and Mr. Jennings had left Brownwood shortly before noon, their destination being unknown.

Mrs. McDonald was taken to Comanche by a passing tourist where her injuries were treated. Other occupants of the car escaped with light injuries and bruises. The car turned completely over and was partially wrecked. Miss Jane Woodward, who passed the McDonald car en route to Brownwood, gave all available reports of the wreck. She talked to Mr. Jennings, who stated that Mrs. McDonald's injuries were not considered serious.

Date Of Election For Mayor Not Set

DATE of an election to name a mayor to succeed W. D. McCullery, killed Monday in an automobile accident, will be set at the next Council meeting, City Attorney R. E. Lee said Tuesday.

The regular session of Council, scheduled for Tuesday night, will not be held. Whether a meeting will be called later in the week had not been determined. A city manager likely will not be appointed until after the election of a mayor it was stated.

J. E. Smith, alderman from Ward Two, is acting mayor until an election is held. He was named mayor pro-tem by council immediately after assuming his duties as councilman last year.

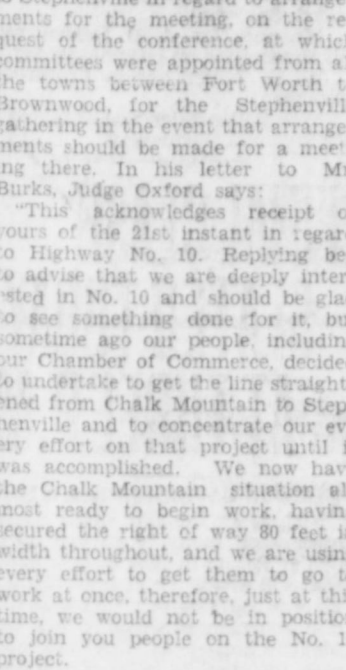

No indication of possible candidates for the office of mayor had been made Tuesday, and city officials were uncertain as to when steps toward holding an election would be taken.

HIGHWAY MEETING AT STEPHENVILLE TO BE HELD AT LATER DATE

J. Oxford of Stephenville.

Mr. Burks, who is secretary of the Highway No. 10 Association, wrote

FINAL CLASH SLATED TODAY AT THREE P. M.

DENNIS LAVENDER took a birdie three on the 18th green shortly after noon today to go two up on Budley Raines in their 36 hole match that will decide the championship of Brownwood Country Club's Invitation Tournament which opened here Monday and closes this afternoon with the final 18 holes of the Lavender-Raines match being played. Raines got away to an early lead Thursday morning and had Lavender two down at the turn. The tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth greens were halved but Lavender took the next two in succession to square the match and then took the 16th with a birdie three to go one up. The seventh green was halved and then came Lavender's birdie three on the 18th to go two up.

The two finalists will clash at 3 o'clock in the concluding 18 holes of the match. With Lavender two up and half the match played, Raines will either have to shoot below par golf or Lavender will have to blow up if Raines, the 1927 champion of the West Texas Golf Association, is to defeat the local champion in all matches played during the tournament but both had fought through to the finals. Dublin had his opponent one down at the 17th and then won the 18th to win the title of the second flight two up.

Fain Wins Flight W. T. Fain, another Brownwood golfer, won the third flight by beating F. F. Christie of Dublin, 4 and 3 in the final match of this flight. Fain reached the finals Wednesday by beating T. C. Wilkinson, Jr. and Christie reached the finals with a victory over G. R. Thomas.

One of the feature matches of Thursday morning's play was the final in the consolation first flight between J. Dixon White, the 15-year-old Dublin lad, and Bob Scott, National U. S. Army champion of 1927. White won this match one up after a nip and tuck battle with the veteran Scott. The match was square at the end of the first 17 holes but White shot a birdie three on the 18th to win the match. White's drive from the No. 18 tee was within 15 feet of the green and his approach shot was within two feet of the cup and he easily went down a birdie three.

R. L. Maxwell of Hico, won the second flight consolation by beating E. C. Nix of Abilene, 1 up and A. B. Loudermilk of Santa Anna, won the third flight consolation by winning from George Cameron, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Hill is Victorious MINNEAPOLIS, June 28. —(P)—Playing sparkling golf on the first five holes of the incoming nine

Seeks to Keep Her Husband Away From His Girl Friend

Mrs. Lalla M. G. Barr, wife of James Cummings Barr, steel manufacturer, and prominent socially in New York, Boston and Washington filed suit for an injunction against Mrs. Margaret C. Dana.

Mrs. Barr charges Mrs. Dana with exercising a "dominating influence" over her husband since the two first met in 1926. She alleges she has been injured by the acts of Mrs. Dana, particularly because of the notoriety and publicity that has resulted.

Mrs. Barr sued for a separation in Manchester, N. H., last March the complaint being dismissed as faulty. Later she was awarded $140 a week alimony. Mr. Barr has a counter claim there for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. The Barrs were married at Bluefield, W. Va., in 1910, and both had been married and divorced before.

Formal Opening of Creamery in July

Awaiting the completion of details in all departments of the plant the formal opening of the Sunbeam Creamery will not be held until sometime in July, the builder and proprietor of the new industry here, announced today.

In the meantime, states Mr. Thomas, the business is moving ahead with gratifying success and the plant is buying milk and cream regularly from people of four different counties, a good deal being received every week from San Saba county. "So far we have bought every pound of milk or cream that has been offered us," says Mr. Thomas, "and we will be able to keep that up, making a market here for all that the farmers can bring us, if we can only have the full cooperation of the people of Brownwood in the use of our products."

"We don't want them to use the home ice cream or the home butter unless it is any other than the Brownwood home product or better than they can buy," declares Mr. Thomas, "but if it is as good or else they can use the home product to help to build the prosperity of their community."

Mrs. H. C. Holladay, 1501 Fisk street, was able to be dismissed from a local hospital Thursday following treatment of injuries received over a month ago in a car wreck at the corner of Second Street and Avenue G. ### CO-OPERATION BETWEEN TEXAS GOP, ANTI-SMITH MEN SEEN

DALLAS, Texas, July 12.—(AP)—Close cooperation between Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to the election of Governor Al Smith of New York to defeat the national Democratic ticket in Texas has been promised by leaders of both groups.

Former Governor O. B. Colquitt, leader of the Anti-Smith Democrats who will hold a meeting here July 17, announced yesterday that the Republicans probably would be asked to substitute a ticket of anti-Smith presidential electors for the Republican electoral ticket. Mr. Colquitt said that presidential electors would be chosen probably at the July 17 meeting and would be instructed to vote if elected, for Herbert Hoover, Republican, for president.

R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman, said that while a full slate of Republican candidates for state offices would be put in the field the main energies of the state party would be directed toward electing Mr. Hoover and that fullest cooperation would be given to the anti-Smith Democrats. Considerable pressure has been brought to bear on Mr. Creager and other Republican state leaders to stress the state elections as little as possible in order that the anti-Smith Democrats would not be antagonized.

To assist activities of the anti-Smith Democrats and the Republicans in Texas a movement to bar the names of candidates for state offices who have said they will not support Governor Smith from ballots to be used in the Democratic primary July 28 has been started and already has found its way into the state courts.

Application for a mandamus to compel the Democratic committee of Cameron county to place his name on the ballot from which it has been barred was filed by Thomas B. Love, candidate for lieutenant-governor and late yesterday was denied by District Judge A. M. Kent. Counsel for Mr. Love, who has declared he would not vote for Governor Smith but has not indicated for whom he would vote, immediately gave notice that the case would be appealed and said that action on the appeal should be had tomorrow or Saturday.

The Love case is regarded as a test of the state election laws with regard to authority of county committees to bar names of insurgent Democrats from the primary ballots. Should the courts hold that this is within the authority of the county committees it is expected that action against Mr. Love and other candidates who have rebelled after Smith's nomination will be taken in other counties.

Mr. Love, Judge and Mrs. Edith candidates for governor, indicated that they will not vote for Governor Smith. Mrs. Wilkins has said she will take steps to "invalidate" tickets in counties from the Democratic ballots of which her name may be barred.

Most candidates including Governor Moody and United States Senator Mayfield, running for re-election, have said they will support the national ticket.

OLYMPIC TEAM IS CALM TODAY

ABOARD S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, July 12.—(AP)—A great calm has settled over America's Olympic team. After the noise and excitement of sailing and for many the thrill of their first time on an ocean liner, the 268 athletes who hope to bring back to America a large part of the Olympic laurels have dropped peacefully into shipboard routine and have begun to obey the first order of their coaches and trainers—to rest.

Relaxation is the principal prescription for the first few days. Many of the track and field stars who competed in the final tryouts under the broiling sun at Cambridge are underweight.

Robertson plans to start exercise for most of his track squad tomorrow, but the workouts will be stationary. Although a linoleum running track has been laid around one of the decks, running for the most part will be taboo. There is too much danger of pulled tendons and other injuries if the men are allowed to run on such unsteady footing, Robertson believes, and he does not intend to take chances.

Guard Bremen From Souvenir Hunters

QUEBEC, July 12.—(AP)—A detail of Quebec provincial police has been ordered to Greenley Island to protect the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen from souvenir hunters who already have stripped the craft of several of its parts.

Decision to send police was made as a result of an appeal from Michigan. Thibault of the Trans-continental Airways who has been guarding the plane since efforts to fly it out proved unsuccessful.

Thibault, one of the first men to reach the plane after Captain Herman Koebel, Major James Fitzmaurice and Baron Von Huenfeld landed there last March on completion of their trans-Atlantic flight, telegraphed authorities he had had trouble protecting the plane and had been threatened with violence by souvenir hunters.

Man Seeking Wife Shoots Newly Wed Houstonian

HOUSTON, July 10.—(AP)—Married Saturday afternoon and shot three times early Sunday, George Daufonif, 44, probably will recover from his wounds, hospital attendants here said today.

Daufonif married Miss Heler Collins at Richmond. They had returned to Houston and were celebrating with friends when a man appeared and asked for his wife.

"I told him his wife was not in the house," the bride said. "He insisted that she was there and my husband came to the door. The man pulled a gun and shot five times."

A charge of assault to murder was filed against Nick Kohler 29, and he was in jail today in default of bond.

HIGH-FLYING SOCIETY SEEKS IT'S OWN LEVEL IN AIR NOW

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEW YORK, N.E.—Eclusiveness now enters as a factor in aviation development, and the blue book threatens to do a little blue penning in the new flying clubs to be formed in the principal cities of the country.

The family tree as well as the family pocketbook is going to count. "It is our intention to offer the privileges of memberships in the clubs only to socially congenial people," explained Ruth R. Nichols prominent in the organization committee of the Aviation Clubs Inc.

Naturally, this will let out a lot of amateur flyers, right at the start.

She's Expert Flyer
Miss Nichols herself is a Junior Leaguer, as well as an experienced flyer and a holder of the hydr aero license and a commercial transport pilot's license.

The club, as she explains it sounds very much like an expensive country club—only more so. "It attracts the sportsman and the sportswoman with a vision of speed, convenience, and the pleasure obtainable nowhere but in the air—the man or woman who sees the possibility of lunch and dinner perhaps 800 miles apart. "The sport in its present stage is quite selective," she explained, "and it was obvious she felt it should continue so."

Rochelle School District Changed

BRADY, July 11.—(Sp)—Rochelle people have voted to change the present common school district into an independent school district by the overwhelming vote 105 to 15.

Plans preparatory to the change will be effected at an early date in order to carry on the operations of the school this winter under the system.

The change from the common to an independent school district came largely in response to the needs for additional finances to carry on the school and retain the present quota of 10 affiliation credits with the State Department. Superintendent J. O. Trussell of the school, who has been largely responsible for the change, points out that an increase may be levied on the property valuation for school purposes without raising the regular county rendition rate. This, it is pointed out, would particularly benefit the school without any undue burden upon
