Muenster Nudges St. Jo for Trophy In Scholastic Meet

By the slim margin of a half point Muenster High nosed out Saint Jo High to win the 1953 Interscholastic League literary and athletic meet held here Thursday and Friday of last week.

When results of all events were checked and rechecked the record showed Muenster with 312 points and Saint Jo with 311½. Other participating schools scored as follows: Callisburg 136½, Capps Corner 105, Forestburg 60.

Marked by keen competition, good sportsmanship and a minimum of confusion, the meet was described by teachers and administrators as the best to be held in the district so far. The only incident to mar the meet, according to Superintendent Weldon Cowan was the apparently deliberate breaking of a $25.00 plate glass mirror in the boys' rest room.

Cowan also had a word of praise for Capps Corner, which, in relation to its enrollment, proved to be the outstanding entry in the meet.

Each event of the meet was conducted by a director selected from faculties of the participating schools. These directors chose their assistants and submitted their final results to the director general who kept a continuous record on a specially prepared chart. According to a previously

Muenster Joins in Diocesan Drive for Carmelite Convent

A drive to raise funds for the erection of a convent for Carmelite nuns in Dallas is due to get under way here in the next few days. The drive, originated over all the Dallas diocese by Bishop Thomas Gorman, has a goal of $150,000 of which Muenster's quota is expected to be something more than $3,000.

Directors of the local drive are Father Louis Deuster and J. M. Weinzapfel. Men in charge of soliciting are Andy Hofbauer, Arthur Endres, Al Kleiss and John Mosman and each will choose his own assistants to work his assigned area. Highway 82 and the FM roads are the dividing lines separating the parish into 4 areas for this drive.

News of Sick And Injured

C. M. Walterscheid is confined to bed at his home since Monday when he suffered a sick spell. His doctor ordered a week of bed rest and believes he'll be up and around again by next week.

Jimmy Wiesman, young son of the Al Wiesmans, was treated at the local clinic Saturday for a gash on his right index finger after he cut it with a hatchet.

Mrs. John Meurer is convalescing from an illness that has kept her in bed for more than a week.

Billy Drozd sustained a broken left arm Friday night in a fall from the back porch at his home.

Mrs. Ed Schmitt suffered a painful head injury Sunday evening in an accident at her home. The cellar door fell on her, striking her head, leaving a deep three-inch gash that required stitches. She received treatment at the local clinic.

Henry Sprengel received treatment at the local clinic Thursday for a cut index finger. He was working at the Wilde Garage at the time of the accident.

Mrs. C. G. Hooe, route 3, was a medical patient at M&S Hospital several days this week.

Mrs. Bryon Sears is recovering from influenza. She received medical care at Gainesville Sanitarium the latter part of last week.

August Hyman, route 3, has been confined to his home this week suffering from a throat infection.

LOCKED IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP—Sealed inside a docked submarine at New London, Conn., these seven Navy volunteers submit to hearing tests conducted by Lt. (J.G.) V. F. Borum, at right, of the U. S. Navy Medical Corps. The men are human guinea pigs used to study effects of long submersion on human beings. Simulating conditions which might exist in an atom-powered sub which would remain many months at sea, the experiment has produced much helpful information already classified as "secret." The men seen above are not identified by Naval authorities.

Local Scout Troop Gets Merit Award

Muenster Boy Scout troop 664 has received national recognition and an award for its 1952 program, Scoutmaster Nick Miller announced Monday at the troop's regular meeting.

The award, an inscribed red satin banner and an engraved Liberty Bell replica, was presented through the Dallas office of Circle 10 council and was shown to the troop Monday.

The program for which the troop received recognition from national headquarters was on merits won by the boys last year. These included eight merits in citizenship, six in forestry, six for safety, 10 on firemanship, 11 for community citizenship and seven for swimming, a total of 48 merits.

Heart Attack Fatal To KC State Deputy

Davis Lambright, 39, of Fort Worth, well known to many local Knights of Columbus as state deputy of the order, died at 12:05 a.m. Tuesday in a Fort Worth hospital after suffering a heart attack at his home Monday night.

Requiem mass at St. Alice church Thursday morning was followed by burial in Mount Olive cemetery.

Lambright was employed as traffic manager for the Sid Richardson Industries at Fort Worth. He served as KC district deputy for five years and was serving his second year as state deputy at the time of his death. Previously he had held the office of grand knight in Fort Worth and Parsons, Kans., councils.

He is survived by his wife and three children.

Baptists Will Have Revival Next Week

Beginning next Tuesday and continuing through the week the First Baptist church will conduct a revival with special services at 7:30 each night.

Rev. J. R. Smallwood of the Grand Avenue Baptist church at Gainesville will be the guest preacher. Members of the Brotherhood will have charge of the services with special music every night.

Hornets Lose 20-3 In Baseball Opener

Baseball at Muenster High got off to a bad start Tuesday night as Whitesboro made a race track of the local diamond and swamped the Hornets 20-3. Officially the game should have ended 10-3, the score at the end of the seventh inning, but players coaxed their coaches into two more frames, in which the visitors put on their heavy barrage.

The game, following a single day of practice, was a bit premature for the Muenster boys. Whitesboro has been in uniform for more than a week and has played two previous games.

Coach Stewart is confident his boys will be better organized for their first conference tilt, with Saint Jo, on the local field Friday afternoon at 2. At least he expects to know who are his best

Auction Barn Has Special Sale for 'X Disease' Cattle

Three hundred eighty seven head of poisoned cattle, victims of the "X Disease" which has plagued cattlemen over a wide area of North Texas for the past month, passed through the Muenster Livestock Auction Barn in a special sale Tuesday afternoon.

To date about 500 of the poisoned cattle have been sold here. Those previously were handled on regular sale days, the sales usually being made in stock pens rather than the auction rings. The disease is not contagious.

Almost all the cattle handled here came from the Forestburg-Rosston area, and Tuesday's sale was held at the special request of owners who said they preferred the more simplified local handling to the red tape they have en-

Myrick and Richey On Trustee Ballot

There will be no race in this year's election of trustees on the Muenster school board, unless a write-in campaign develops.

With the passing of the filing deadline Tuesday the only candidates for the two open positions are Dr. Myrick and Herman Richey.

Trustees whose terms expire this year are E. S. Lawson and Earl Robison. Lawson declined to run again after serving 15 years on the board and Robison withdrew to become a candidate for the county school board. Robison is unopposed as the Precinct 4 candidate for that post.

The only race in the local April 4 school election is that for precinct 3 representative on the county board. Candidates in that contest are James Abner Enderby and Rich Kirby.

Burglars Get $200 From Trachta Drug

Burglars returned to Muenster Monday night after an absence of more than a year and tapped the Trachta Drug Store for more than $200 in cash.

Joe Trachta, owner, said that the burglars emptied his cash register and also took a cigar box containing $200 in fives and tens plus an unknown amount of ones and coins. He had taken the money out of the cash drawer when he closed and had hidden it in the back of the store and suspects that someone watched him through the front window as he put it away.

The thieves, entered the building by breaking a back door and climbing over a stack of soft drinks cases. On leaving they apparently dropped the loot and failed to find all the loose change. Over $12 in coins were found the next morning by Trachta and Cecil Sims at the back door.

The burglary is the first of any consequence since Trachta was hijacked and relieved of over $400 in February last year. A few months ago someone broke into the office of the Stockmen's Feed Store and left empty handed.

Jerry Hoenig Goes To Academic Meet

Jerry Hoenig, third place winner in the 120 yard high hurdles event of the North Texas Academic League track and field meet at Buckner Orphanage last Saturday, will be in San Antonio this weekend to compete in the Academic League state meet. All winners of the first three places at Buckner qualified to participate in the state meet.

Jerry was the only one of the 14 Sacred Heart High entries to earn points in the district meet. According to Father Cletus Post, the events were too fast for his charges who had no previous track and field experience and only a few days of practice.

Other schools participating were Buckner, Lanerl, Boys Ranch, Greenhill and Catholic High of Texarkana.

The local goal is $475. Solicitors reporting contributions are Mrs. Lawrence Roberg, Mrs. Lee Toothaker and Miss Olivia Stock.

200 lbs. Clothing Sent to Victims of Knox City Tornado

The Knox City disaster relief committee will soon be able to distribute 200 pounds of clothing and bedding given by Muenster residents.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, chairman of the Mission Circle sponsored by the local court Catholic Daughters of America, said Wednesday that the boxes, including clothing for men, women and children, were ready for shipment. Bedding and shoes are also included, she added.

The sponsor group maintains a "clothing depot" at Mrs. Swirczynski's home, and conducts its clothing-drive the year 'round. All items are donated by local citizens who leave their contributions at the homes of Mrs. Swirczynski or Mrs. Ben Hellman. The sponsor group also supervises mending and remodeling of articles at regular intervals.

When disaster strikes, clothing is ready for boxing and shipping. The current shipment to Knox City will help in the work of rebuilding homes destroyed in the March 13 tornado, which claimed 15 lives and destroyed or heavily damaged 57 homes.

St. Joseph Society Re-elects Officers

Members of the parish Saint Joseph's society held the annual election of officers during a regular meeting Thursday afternoon on the feast day of their patron.

With one exception all officers were reelected. The only change is R. R. Endres as recording secretary replacing Al Kleiss who resigned.

Returned to office for another year are Alois Hess, president; Martin Bayer, vice president; Meinrad Hesse, financial secretary; Frank Klement, treasurer. Members of the sick committee, also reelected, are Frank Bayer, Clem Hofbauer, R. R. Endres, Meinrad Hesse and Hubert Felderhoff.

Getting back to safe driving, the column cannot pass up a glaring boner that almost resulted in an accident a few days ago. One of the community youngsters, obviously a beginning driver, was preparing for a left turn from the highway to Main street, gave the correct hand signal . . . then drifted to the right edge of the pavement before making a wide, sweeping curve to the left. A driver approaching rather fast from the countered in larger stock yards. As on normal sale dates, packer buyers came here to buy the animals. In spite of the disease packing houses are allowed to process the meat, but they buy it at a much lower price.

However owners are doing fairly well on their sacrifice sales. That's because the feed company to which the feed poisoning was traced is compensating owners as nearly as possible for their loss. The procedure is to submit a statement on which several of the stockman's neighbors give their estimate of the herd's value before it was fed the poisoned feed. Then the cattle are sold on the market and the feed company pays the difference between selling price and estimated value.

The trouble started about a month ago when a number of cattle raisers noticed that their animals were mysteriously losing weight and dying. Veterinarians determined that the cause was a poisoned feed resulting from the mixture of a petroleum oil with cottonseed cake. The company had extracted the more valuable vegetable oil for other uses and substituted the petroleum product not being aware of its toxic effect. Before the results were known the feed had been distributed over a large area of North Texas.

Muenster stockmen apparently have been lucky enough to escape the whole "X Disease" affair. So far no local cattle have been affected.

THE DIFFERENCE

Under Communism, the production and distribution of most goods are state monopolies. There is no competition as we know it. All the way from the factory to the retail store, the state determines what the people shall and shall not have, and what they must pay.

What has been the influence of this system on the living standards of the people—as compared with those prevailing in the United States?

The New York Journal American recently answered that question by comparing the amount of working time various kinds of American workers have to put in to earn the money to buy commodities with that required of workers elsewhere. An American auto mechanic, for instance, earns the price of a pound of butter with 22 minutes of labor—his Russian equivalent must work more than 7 hours. Our mechanic can buy a suit with the fruits of three days work—in Russia the figure is five weeks and 2 days. A little more than one day's work will earn the price of a radio for the American—Ivan would have to labor more than five weeks to get enough rubles to make the purchase.

THE NEW SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

"If the American people ever lose their self-reliance in any great numbers," Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay said to me, "our nation will be destroyed." We were seated in his office in the Interior Department for the second in this series of interviews with key people in the Eisenhower administration. The key word in the American language Secretary McKay feels is "opportunity." The government's primary responsibility is to protect and expand it.

Secretary McKay considers the number one job of the Interior Department to be the safeguarding of the natural resources so their development may enrich the lives of all Americans. He believes that in most cases private enterprise can best serve in such developments. At my request Mr. McKay related a bit of his life story, but the most interesting details came from talks with some of his intimate associates in the

School of Hard Knocks

Douglas McKay's Scotch forebears helped settle the West, but his parents were of such modest means that young Doug, at 14, was driving a butcher's delivery wagon while getting his high school education piecemeal. He worked his way through Oregon State College, but the beginning of his career was cut short by World War I. He enlisted. In the historic battle of the Argonne Forest, his outfit engaged in the fiercest action. Of its 201 men, only 28 survived. McKay, his right shoulder terribly shattered, was given little chance for life. He was hospitalized for months and had to adjust to a lifetime of being handicapped.

At the war's end he got a job selling Ford cars in his home town, Portland, Ore. He lived thriftily, saved his money, and in 1928 bought a small Chevrolet dealership in Salem. Some of his capital was borrowed money and this he paid back early in the depression because he felt the future was so uncertain he might not have it later. He weathered the depression by cutting expenses to the bone. Today, his automobile business, built up gradually over 25 years, is prospering.

"Put Something Back"

Larry Smyth, veteran writer on the Oregon Journal, was persuaded by the new Secretary to take a leave of absence and work with him for a time in Washington. Smyth covered McKay's political career in Oregon. "When Douglas McKay got in business for himself and began to progress in Salem, he also got into civic work," Smyth told me. "His theory was, and still is, that those who take something out of a community should put something back." McKay's civic work led to his being elected mayor. He next was sent to the state senate.

When World War II started he cut short any further political career and, although handicapped and over-age, he enlisted in the Army again. He remained in service until the Japanese had capitulated. Back in his Salem automobile dealership once more, he was stunned one day in 1947 when the Governor, the Senate President, and the House Speaker all were killed in an airplane accident. A few days later the Oregon Republicans tossed in McKay's hat for governor. He was elected. In 1950, he was re-elected to a four-year term with the biggest vote any Oregon gubernatorial candidate ever received. He left the governorship to join President Eisenhower's "team."

His Philosophy

At 59, Douglas McKay feels that the Interior Secretaryship now gives him an opportunity to "put something back into America" for what America has given him. Two actions as Governor of Oregon characterize his governmental philosophy. He closed Oregon Indian reservation schools, and brought the Indian youngsters into the public schools, and at the same time repealed all state laws discriminating against Indians. And when a vast acreage of Oregon timberland was denuded and left barren, he organized a great locally-financed and locally-managed reforestation project sowing seed with helicopters, instead of relying on the federal government to do it.

A Message From Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

Great Problem Of The Hour: What Is Man?

CIVILIZATION will return to peace and order when it "enters into itself," i. e., reflects upon the end and purpose of being a man.

We cannot talk of building a social or economic order for man, unless we know the purpose of a man, any more than an architect can build a house unless he knows the nature of the one to dwell in it. If a dog is to live in it, it will be a dog house; if a criminal is to live in it, it will be a penitentiary.

IN LIKE MANNER, the kind of social order we will build will depend upon the nature of the man for whom it is made. If he is only an economic animal, then we will let Communism give him a bed in a factory; but if he is a rational creature, made to the image and likeness of God, then we will have to build something else besides a factory for him; e. g., a house which will be a home, a school which will be the arsenal of truth for his children, and a church where his soul can escape the servitude of the earthly and mount to eternal union with God.

THE PROBLEM of the hour is the problem of man. What is man? Is he an economic animal, or is he a rational creature composed of body and soul, and capable of entering into communion with the triple environment which surrounds him, namely, nature, fellow-man, and God? The way we answer the problem of man is the way we will solve our social problem.

Our problem today is the problem of the Forgotten Man—forgotten man in the sense of forgotten human dignity; forgotten human worth, forgotten divine destiny, forgotten power to commune with the Life and Truth and Love which is God.

THIS IS the real Forgotten Man of our day—the man who can enter into himself and find down in the depths of his soul that he was made for God.

START with the true dignity of man, namely, by recognizing that he is a personality living his complete life in society with obligations to his neighbor and to God, and that this world is only a prelude to the next—then we have the basis of true social reconstruction.

Then the world instead of being the storehouse of our mounded dust becomes the scene of our greatest victory.

THE UNIVERSE becomes one great scaffolding up which souls climb to the Kingdom of God—and when the last soul shall have climbed up through that scaffolding, then it shall be torn down and burnt with fervent fire, not because it is bare, but because it has done its work—it has brought us back to where we started—the very heart of God.

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

As Interior Secretary he wants gradually to end the government's jurisdiction over the Indians, give them full citizenship responsibilities and let them become self-reliant. Paternalism for anyone, he thinks, is destructive.

"I believe in private enterprise," he said at the close of the interview. "But it must earn its way. For instance, atomic energy is being developed by our government. It holds great promise for the future. At the proper time, I believe it should be gradually transferred to private industry—but not as a gift. There are, on the other hand, some individual projects that seem fitted to public ownership, and in such cases I think public ownership and private ownership can and must work side by side."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just resist being such "know it alls," our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would deny me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

We're a Great Lot

Some years ago an energetic Chicago reporter stood at State and Madison in the Windy City's lap and cast his eyes about for a pleasant looking woman shopper with a big handbag. He was looking for one who would be willing to become the party of the first part in a feature story for which the reporter was looking—how much stuff does a woman carry in her pocketbook?

Finally, he picked his subject and after properly introducing himself and showing his press credentials, he told the woman what he wanted. She willingly went along with the idea and what was in her pocketbook gave the reporter a story almost a column long. We've forgotten the number of articles in that pocketbook, but it was well over 200.

A similar incident took place at Bedford, Indiana, the other day when, suddenly, several boys at the Boys club were asked to report to an ante room and then asked to empty their pockets. All of them had their pockets filled with the usual priceless junk. The prize went to Eddie Maxwell, a lad of 11, who was carrying 223 articles and of the 223 eighty five of them were different. Among the "loot" were fish hooks, a knife, a telescope, a calendar three years old, flashlight batteries and more than 200 articles of boyish value.

Men will declare that a woman's pocketbook is like a racket store, but those same men will defend the boys—if their memories are not short. But what about us menfolk? We may not haul around as much stuff as the womenfolk, but it's ten to one every last one of us is carting stuff we no more need from day to day than we need another leg. Sometimes we even carry some fool thing that we have never used and never will use! Perhaps we don't even know what it is for. We're a great lot from kid on up.

PANDORA'S BOX

Explosives, sulfa drugs, paint, tar, nylon, plastics, perfume, live-stock feed, fertilizer, insecticides, roofing, photo chemicals, aspirin and pharmaceuticals have one thing in common. All of them are derivatives of coal. The total list of coal derivatives would fill many pages—and more are being discovered all the time. This wide variety of products extracted from coal didn't result from luck. It came, instead, from the intensive and costly research work carried on by both coal producers and coal users.

Coal has proved itself to be one of the most versatile substances known to man. It is, one of the primary sources of heat and energy. It accounts for most of our electric power and all of our steel, to name but two necessities which are dependent on it.

One phase of coal research lies in discovering means to make it do a constantly more efficient and economical job when burned. According to the scientists, coal's horizons have been barely touched so far. Current experiments and developments indicate that coal is capable of many more miracles, and that its usefulness to humanity will become greater as the years roll by. Coal is one of the oldest of fuels—but it always has something brand new to offer.

IGHATS.
Ever hear of IGHATS? It is the slogan of a new mass movement and it means "I'm gonna holler about taxes." It had its beginnings at a Cedar Rapids community luncheon, where industrial workers earning $3,400 a year learned that they were paying $1,100 a year in taxes, $300 of which is hidden. It has been spreading fast. Ministerial groups, union locals, chambers of commerce and other such organizations have promised it support.
The IGHATS battle cry couldn't have been sounded at a better time. In 1929, federal spending amounted to 3.6 per cent of the national income. Now, it is estimated, it amounts to more than 30 per cent. The IGHATS movement is designed to do something about this situation—and do it in a novel way in which everyone can participate. How about joining up?

Few of us realize just how fast our population in this country is growing. According to recent information there is one birth every nine seconds, one death every twenty-one seconds, one immigrant every two minutes, and one emigrant every seventeen minutes. Supercharged Talk

Nuts ("exclamation of disgust, scorn") to you, you jerk ("person regarded as stupid, dull, eccentric")!

Let's not get into a hassle ("heated discussion, squabble") about this, but you're a king-size ("greater than normal size") square ("old-fashioned, unsophisticated") if you don't dig ("understand, comprehend") the latest in American English.

Man ("exclamation of pleasure, surprise")! What a hopped-up ("supercharged") language.

This is perfectly OK English. That is if you want to take the word—the slang word—of the latest "Webster's" dictionary, which comes out March 23. "OK" is OK, too. It's entered in the word list, without being labeled even slang or colloquial. It's OK as an adjective, adverb, interjection, noun, or verb.

Whether or not you agree that some of the foregoing words belong in the dictionary, or in the language, you might as well face the fact that they are with us. It's a fact that had to be faced by Nazi Field Marshal Karl Von Runstedt on Dec. 22, 1944.

When the Germans demanded that Americans surrounded at Bastogne surrender, Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe fished deep into the American language and pulled out a reply: "Nuts!"

It's not recorded how Field Marshal Von Runstedt found out what McAuliffe meant, but it's a leadpipe cinch ("sure thing") he didn't find it in a dictionary. "Nuts," as an interjection, only recently began sidling into dictionaries.

It's in this latest one (Webster's New World Dictionary, College Edition) because the editors decided it's a word that's here to stay for a while. The same goes for "falsies," "hot foot," "know-how," "flying saucer," "gook," "hot rod," and "Eisenhower, Dwight David."

Ten ladies from Muenster were in Denton Sunday to attend the Day of Recollection conducted by Rev. R. A. Tynan, S.J. Mrs. Steve Moster and Mrs. Herbert McDaniel took cars, and with them were Mmes. Will Pergman, Callie Baumhardt, John Tempel, Herman Fette, Frank Yosten, Victor Hartman, and Paul Fisher and Miss Olivia Stock.

Meeting them there for the day's program were two former Muensterites, Mrs. Keith Tompkins and Mrs. R. B. Shelton, who now live in Denton. Sixty women from the Sherman deanery attended.

Music Pupils Have Practice Clinic

A practice clinic, to demonstrate good and bad practices in music was held Thursday for pupils of the Sacred Heart School of Music under supervision of the instructor, Sister M. Dolores.

Helpful suggestions through demonstrations were given by Hazel Lerner and Dolores Boyles in the form of a skit entitled, "What Not To Do at the Practice Period". Others taking part in the program were Joan Kaiser, Carol Henscheid, Charlotte Wolf and Ray Alvin Redman. Dolores Boyles also read a paper on music appreciation in general and listed names of good albums of records for beginners and older students "in listening".

A game of musical bingo at intervals during the evening was both entertaining and instructive. Each pupil received the name of a song. Those having the same song title sang together.

Several parents joined their children for attendance at the program. In addition to those mentioned the following students were present:

Nelson Berry, Judy Cain, Gerald Pels, Margaret Milner, Linda Scott, Lillie Mae Reiter, Sandra Sue Range, John Jennings, Ronnie Kathman, Sammy Berry, Kathleen Pagel, Sandra Cain, Becky and Tommy Mosman, Judy Yosten, David Huchton, Sharon Schumacher, Janice Vogel. Refreshments were served after the program.

CHOKED VOICE

The Voice of America's "Bakers" are out of dough. These are the two huge foreign propaganda transmitters under construction by the State Department, on which Dr. Wilson Compton, former administrator of the Department's international information programs, ordered work stopped just before he retired.

"Baker East" is being built in the depths of a presently inaccessible swamp near Wilmington, N. C. "Baker West", near Seattle, Washington, is located in a "Magnetic storm" area. These locations, Lewis J. McKesson, formerly an electrical engineer for the "Voice", told the Senate Permanent Investigating Committee, would reduce effectiveness about 90 percent, and make it easier for the Russians to jam the programs from these "anchor" stations. Mr. McKesson estimated the waste on these stations and others now planned at as much as 31 millions. Senator John L. McClellan (Dem) of Arkansas, put the figure at 25 millions, and declared that the waste and mismanagement involved "may border on treason".

Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep) of Wisconsin, chairman of the Committee, said that if these stations can now be moved to proper sites, savings alone may total 18 million.

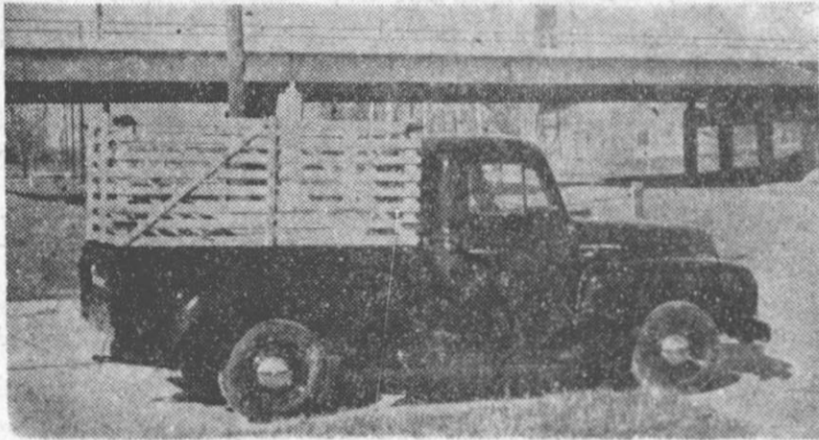

And now, if the two "Bakers" get some of their dough back, we can at least expect a tastier product from them. Secretary John Foster Dulles has cancelled a State Department memorandum to the "Voice" endorsing leftist authors on the basis of "credibility and utility" and citing Howard Fast, "a Soviet-endorsed author" as a specific example. And Howard, who has had a bad time before the Committee, who hid behind the Constitution in ducking the "Are you or have you ever been a Communist?" question, and who parried the question of whether or not, if drafted, he would fight for his country: isn't going to be working there any more.

We just hope the cleaner-uppers don't run out of DDT—or determination.

Here is the McCormick No. 64 Harvester-Thresher demonstrating its exceptional capacity for handling rank, heavy oat straw.

Make quick work of harvest

You can combine faster...
save more grain with the NEW McCormick No. 64 Harvester-Thresher

Now you can save short, down, or tangled grain... combine heavy, shoulder-high crops without slowing to a crawl. Many owners who have tried this 6-foot McCormick straight-through combine report they can pull it a full gear faster than combines they formerly used. The No. 64 is built extra strong to withstand continuous operation at fast speeds.

Low-angle feeder, 64 1/2 inches wide, keeps rank, heavy crops from balling up and slugging the full-width cylinder.

Widest cylinder—64 1/4 inches—of any combine built. This six-bar rasp-type cylinder can be operated at speeds ranging from 600 to 1600 rpm. to thresh any crop clean.

Big separating unit puts grain in the bin that smaller-capacity machines leave in the straw.

Combine many crops—small grains, soybeans, sorghums, legumes, and lots of others. The McCormick No. 64 Harvester-Thresher is an all-purpose combine for average-size farms.

See us for all the facts about the new No. 64 the next time you're in town.

Vows Renewed at Family Holy Hour

In a solemn service, a special Family Holy Hour, on Wednesday night, March 18, at Sacred Heart church, dozens of couples stood, with hands joined, and recited the marriage vows, repeating them at the direction of the priest, just as they had during their wedding ceremonies.

For some it was a repetition of vows taken many years ago, for others only a few months ago.

Father Louis officiated at the service, gave a brief sermon on Christian marriage and family life, then led the congregation in special prayers asking for blessings on homes and families.

After the services, a parish sponsored movie-lecture was held. Entitled "The Peace Plan from Heaven", the address was given by Stephan Oraz, writer and lecturer from Cincinnati, Ohio, under the national sponsorship of the Grail Magazine published by the Benedictine Fathers of St. Meinrad's Abbey, Indiana. The movie was based on the Miracle of Fatima.

TWO FROM LINDSAY MAKE PROFESSIONS AT SUBIACO

Making their final profession of religious vows at New Subiaco Abbey on March 19 were Brother Michael Fuhrmann and Brother Louis Fuhrmann.

Brother Michael, son of the J. J. Fuhrmanns, entered the brotherhood at Subiaco four years ago after his return from military service in world war II. Brother Louis, son of the Henry S. Fuhrmanns, joined the brotherhood after completing high school studies at Subiaco Academy.

The final profession of vows was received on the feast of St. Joseph by Rt. Rev. Paul M. Nahlen, Abbot of New Subiaco Abbey, at a solemn high mass offered by Rev. Maurus Gerke, subprior of the abbey.

Father Lambert Eckelhoff, director of brothers, presented three young men for profession. With the Lindsay young men was Brother Patrick Hogan of Missouri. Brother Michael works as a mechanic and Brother Louis works in the abbey dairy.

The parents, and several other relatives from Lindsay were present for the profession ceremony.

Blessed Events

Lt. and Mrs. Frank P. Swan of Mountain View, Calif., have announced the birth of a daughter, Janie Claire, on Saturday, March 21, at 7 a.m. Also welcoming the little girl are her brothers, Bob and Wally, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gimple.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS HAVE PASSION SUNDAY SERVICES

Knights of Columbus from Gainesville and Lindsay, Council No. 1167, held their annual Passion Sunday Communion, followed by breakfast, Sunday morning at 8 o'clock mass in St. Mary's church.

Rev. Herman Redder, pastor, was celebrant of the mass and junior choir members of the church sang hymns.

Breakfast was served to about 60 men.

Relax Puts In New Sound Equipment

Patrons at the Relax theatre are due to find shows more enjoyable in the near future, probably by the end of this week. George Letson, owner, disclosed Monday that he is giving the entire sound system a complete overhauling.

The principal improvements he said are a set of new amplifiers to give a clearer and more pleasing tone and new photo-electric lamps to pick up the sound track from the film. The improved lamps, Letson explained, will transmit a more distinct image to the sound apparatus. That will result in a double improvement of the sound before it reaches the audience... in the machine and again in the amplifiers.

prospects for the various positions. Tuesday night he tried five pitchers.

The district this year includes 13 teams which is regarded as too big to arrange in a single schedule. So it was divided into 3 divisions. One includes Muenster, Saint Jo, Era, Valley View and Krum. Another includes Howe, Gunter, Southmayd and Tom Bean. The third includes Whitesboro, Collinsville, Tioga and Pilot Point.

Each division will play a double round robin after which winners of the 4-team divisions will play a 2 out of 3 series to decide who meets the winner of the 5 team division in another 2 out of 3 series for the district title.

Hornet games next week are with Krum, there, Tuesday, and Era, here, Thursday. The Era game, originally scheduled for Friday, was moved forward a day because of Good Friday.

rear must have been confused by the conflicting signal and maneuver. First he slowed down, then speeded up when the car ahead apparently started a right turn. Fortunately he braked down in time to avoid a crash as the car crossed his line of travel.

It is doubtful whether that youngster realizes how many cars have been bashed in making a left turn from the right edge of the pavement. And it is certainly obvious that the youngster's dad or big brother or some other instructor failed to point out the first essential in making a safe turn... to crowd the center stripe for a left turn and to crowd the right edge for a right turn. Besides being the customary way, which will be understood by the driver behind, it's the smart way. It allows less chance for the back car to pull up on the wrong side as the other is starting its turn. Folks who teach the kids driving ought to explain that as one of the first lessons.
