VOLUME XVIII

MUENSTER, COOKE, COUNTY, TEXAS,

FEBRUARY 19, 1954

A situation we can very well do without is that recently proposed by a labor leader who says that one of his organization's major goals this year will be to persuade all members to patronize only those gas stations and other retail outlets that display the union's shop card.

Of that extraordinary proposal, the Lennox, South Dakota, Independent, observed, "We are fairly sure that this 'goal' is as repugnant to other independent businessmen as to us. Purchasing power used in this manner could soon stifle small independent business and have everyone being led around by a ring in the nose by the big labor bosses. That the members of any organization in our town, should purchase all their grocery needs, for instance, from only one local store, is unthinkable and undemocratic. No small town would long survive under these conditions. It seems impossible that free American citizens can be so dependent upon a labor union for their daily bread that they must let themselves be told where they can or cannot buy that bread."

Most likely the average union member isn't going to be a bit more favorable toward the idea. If he thinks just a little he must realize that the scheme, if effective, would lead to monopolies, which would inevitably result in higher prices, poorer quality and poorer service. Like other folks, he wants the best possible deal when he goes shopping, and it's to his interest not to help break up a system which offers it. So it seems as though the union leader's goal is unattainable and we average citizens can assume to begin with that it isn't going to cause a great deal of trouble.

Nevertheless, it is interesting to think about some of the problems that might develop if members agreed to go along with the idea. In areas where the membership is especially strong business would eventually have to give in and submit to the dictates of the union bosses. But in general the union might discover that it had overplayed its hand.

There are a few basic facts that can become big obstacles when the bosses start pushing the public around. Maybe non-union people would decide to take up the challenge and start boycotting everybody that displays the union shop card. That could turn into a rather one-sided contest, in view of the fact that only about 15 million of the country's 63 million workers are union members. It could become even more one-sided if some of the members got disgusted enough to turn in their cards. Once such a trend started snowballing the bosses would find their influence dwindling fast.

What some of those fellows apparently fail to realize is that people do not like to be coerced. That applies both to laboring men and the rest of the public. Bosses may have control in the meetings, but when individuals are out on their own they exercise their God-given freedom.

It is significant, for instance, that lots of union men have written their congressmen lately relative to proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law, and the vast majority are asking for a government supervised vote of the workers before a strike is called. They're tired of letting bosses decide if and when they will strike. The presidential election was another indication. Members were told how to vote but millions voted as they pleased.

The big fault with so many unions nowadays is that too many leaders have lost sight of their original aims and ideals and are trying to manipulate themselves into a position of power. Years ago the union card was a badge of distinction. It was a certificate that the owner was an expert in his line and the union wage scale which he demanded was regarded as just pay for his skill. Then came our assembly line economy and the need of organizations to protect the interests of the workers.

All of that was fine. Everybody is entitled to a decent living wage and decent working conditions. Likewise workers have a right to stick together and strike as a group whenever they

Farmers Urged To Join Farm Bureau, Help Agriculture

Farmers of Cooke County were urged Monday night to unite through the Farm Bureau Federation for the future welfare of agriculture on local, state and national levels.

Hoyt Gaston of Waxahachie, state director of the Farm Bureau, encouraged support of and cooperation with the organization's program at a kick-off dinner in the First Methodist Church starting an intensive membership drive in the county.

He said that somebody has to run agriculture, and if farmers do not get together and run it themselves they will find others doing it for them. He also stated that the future welfare and greatness of this country depends on its agriculture, because everybody has to eat.

Gaston also emphasized that the Farm Bureau does not operate like a union. It does not advocate a closed shop policy to hinder non-members but seeks rather to

From there the boys rode a train to Zweibrücken and then to Augsburg where they were waiting to be assigned as replacements in the Seventh Army's 43rd Infantry Division. Mike included regards to all his friends.

Three Day Pass

M. Sgt. Harold Trachta returned to Gray AFB at Killeen, Monday after spending a three-day pass with his mother and other family members.

Richey, Fisher and Cain Named on 29-B All District Teams

Wendell Richey, Rita Cain and Clara Fisher were the three Muenster players named on the District 29-B all-conference team following the finals of the district tourney at Prairie Valley last Saturday night.

All players on the mythical quintet and sextet received miniature gold basketballs as awards.

Members of the all-star boys' team are Richey of Muenster, Wilson of Callisburg, Holland of Forestburg, and York and Taylor of Prairie Valley.

Members of the all-star girls' team are Cain and Fisher of Muenster, Hensley and Hudson of Prairie Valley, Myers of Forestburg, and Hollandsworth of Callisburg.

This year's sportsmanship awards both went to Saint Jo, to Peggy Dunn and Larry Thurman.

Cheese Plant Gets Larger Gas Line

Another phase of the cheese factory expansion program is the four inch gas line which has been under construction for the past week from the Lone Star Gas Company's main line south of town to the plant.

It replaces an old line that was too small to meet the increased demand after the additional boiler and other equipment is installed. The old line is being abandoned . . . too much concrete over it.

Volume at the plant continues to grow. Milk receipts were 197,000 pounds Saturday and 182,000 pounds Sunday.

MHS Teams Place Second and Third In District Tourney

Prairie Valley boys and Forestburg girls undefeated champs in the District 29-B double round robin schedule, cinched the 1954 conference titles during the past weekend by winning the district tournament at Prairie Valley.

Other top standings established in the round robin also remained unchanged in the tournament. Muenster and Prairie Valley girls came out second and third respectively, and the same applies to Forestburg and Muenster boys.

Brackets in both the boys and girls divisions of the tourney matched Saint Jo and Forestburg, and Muenster and Prairie Valley for the opening games. Callisburg drew a bye to play the Muenster-Prairie Valley winner. After that the two remaining winners played for the title and second place, and the three losers played for third place.

In the boys division Forestburg beat Saint Jo; and Prairie Valley beat Muenster, then Callisburg. Prairie Valley beat Forestburg in the champ final. Muenster took the consolation title and third place by beating Callisburg, then Saint Jo.

In the girls division Forestburg beat Saint Jo; and Muenster beat Prairie Valley, then Callisburg, and lost to Forestburg in the champ final. Prairie Valley claimed third place by beating Callisburg, then Saint Jo.

The bracket, agreed upon at the beginning of the season, practically eliminated the Hornets from a chance for the runner-up honor. To get into the final they had to score an upset defeat over Prairie Valley in the opener. But the champs were true to form and turned Muenster back by a count of 62-40. After that the boys sailed through a double header for the third place honor. In the curtain raiser Friday night regulars posted a 20 point lead over Callisburg in the first half and reserves gave up only a few points of their margin until late in the game when first stringers returned and added to the lead. The next tussle, with Saint Jo, was tougher, but the boys held the initiative all the way for a final count of 46-34.

The Hornets opened against Prairie Valley with a steady game that netted a 29-21 win and repeated the performance to down Callisburg 34-20. Again in the champ final they seemed to have Forestburg bested for the first time this season. But it was too good to last. Forestburg broke the jinx in the final minutes with a rally that forged ahead for a lead of 41-31 as time ran out.

Steel Worker Falls At New School Job, Fractures Ankles

David E. Guinn of Oklahoma City, a steel worker helping on the installation of beams on the gymnasium of the new parochial high school building, broke both of his ankles about 8 a.m. Wednesday in a fall of some 25 feet from the east wall to the concrete floor below.

The accident was caused by the failure of the crane which was being used to lift beams in position. Witnesses reported that a pin sheared and the weight suddenly shifted from the supporting cable and caused the crane to buckle. Guinn, standing on top of the wall was brushed off as the crane swerved his way. The impact as he landed on his feet fractured his ankles. He also received a head wound which apparently is not serious.

The patient was taken to Gainesville Sanitarium in a Carroll ambulance shortly after his accident. Following treatment he was transferred to an Oklahoma City hospital.

The accident is causing at least a temporary delay on construction of the building. As the beam fell it and two others it landed on were bent. At least several days will be needed to replace the bent section as well as to get other lifting equipment on the job.

MHS Cagers Finish Season With Double Win Over Saint Jo

Muenster High School fans got their money's worth and more Monday night when they saw their favorites close the season by nosing out Saint Jo's girls and boys in two of the year's hottest contests.

Girls set the pace in the opening game by keeping the score close all the way through. It was anybody's game up to the last, and Muenster fans and players were equally relieved when the final whistle found them leading 30-25.

The usual Hornet advantage over the Panthers was wiped out in the boys game as Wendell Richey, sat out most of the game nursing a cold. His freshman brother, Hubert, did a fine job as substitute, but he did not quite fill Wendell's shoes. Through most of the tussle Muenster enjoyed a sight lead, but as the closing minutes ticked away the visitors hit a scoring spurt and forged ahead. At that point Richey entered the fray and helped his teammates polish off the affair with a 38-37 story book ending.

Scouts To Receive Altare Dei Medals

Three Muenster Boy Scouts, Melvin and Eugene Schoech and Gerald-Pels, will be among Scouts of the diocese receiving the Ad Altare Dei award next Sunday in Dallas. The Most Rev. Bishop Thomas K. Gorman will present the medals in special ceremonies to be held in Sacred Heart Cathedral at 3:30.

Scoutmaster Father Patrick and members of Troop 664 will attend the service.

Byron Sears has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium after medical care.

Joe Starke is still a patient in Wichita General Hospital at Wichita Falls where he is receiving medical care.

Mrs. Gus Knabe is back at home after being a medical patient at Gainesville Sanitarium a week.

Leo says many thanks to all who remembered him with get-well cards while he was in the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felderhoff went to Dallas to bring him home.

Surprise Farewell For 'Mac' Features Lions Club Dinner

Ralph Maglaughlin was the guest of honor at a surprise farewell party sponsored by the Muenster Lions at their regular dinner-meeting Tuesday night.

Special guests for the event were L. I. Samuels, area supervisor of the Future Farmers of America, and most of the boys who have been members of Mac's vocational agriculture classes during the past four and a half years. Lions' wives were also present.

Maglaughlin recently resigned as ag teacher and FFA adviser to join the soil conservation service. At the end of this month he will enroll in a special conservation course at Lubbock after which he will be assigned to a SCS work unit similar to that operating here.

Gerald Walterscheid started the verbal bouquets for his former teacher by listing the prizes and honors won by FFA boys under Mac's coaching and also by giving a general outline of individual and club projects he has supervised.

Superintendent Weldon Cowan was next, telling about Mac's splendid classroom work and faculty cooperation. He also introduced Mac's successor, Gene Nelson, and Mrs. Nelson.

Mr. Samuels said that Mac in his comparatively short time had acquired a reputation as one of the outstanding vocational ag men of his area, adding that if he does not enjoy his new work he will be more than welcome to return to vocational agriculture in this area.

In behalf of the Lions, President Kaderli referred to Mac as the top member of the club, the man who has not missed a meeting and has done more jobs and served on more committees than anyone else. He also presented a slit case, the club's farewell gift.

Maglaughlin had trouble picking words in his brief response, saying that it's just hard to talk at a time like that. Then he took his cue from Mr. Samuels' former remark and stated he's not sure he will like the new line of work, but if not, he knows for sure what he'd like to come back to.

Tigers Lose Cage Finale at Buckner

The Sacred Heart Tigers Friday night ended their winless basketball season by bowing 49-33 to the Buckner quintet at Dallas.

Through the first half it seemed as though the Tigers at last would break into the win column as they crowded their hosts point for point and ended the period trailing by 27-25. But Buckner got going after that and turned the last half into a one-sided affair. Henschel led the Tiger scoring with 10. William and Sylvan Walterscheid each accounted for 8.

The title in District 3 of the Southwest Academic League will be decided this week in a pair of games between Buckner and Catholic High of Texarkana. Either of the two can win the loop title by taking both games. By splitting the games, however, the teams will share a three-way tie with Laneri for the league leadership.

Provincial To Meet With Third Order

Meeting Sunday, members of the Third Order of Saint Francis, made arrangements for their annual Triduum to be held next week, February 24, 25 and 26, with Rev. Elias Koppert, O.F.M., of Chicago conducting the special three-day services. New members will be welcomed.

Father Koppert, provincial of the order, will also receive candidates from Gainesville as novices who will be a part of the Muenster order until they become members and establish a unit of their own after one year. Plans, as revealed at the meeting, include a meeting at Gainesville during the triduum.

Prefect J. W. Hess presided at the session after the regular prayer service in Sacred Heart church at 2:30.

Members are welcoming donations of rosaries, medals, scapulars and holy cards to send to a missionary in Formosa who is in need of religious articles.

Easter Service in New Parish Church Now Seems Likely

There is a chance that Muenster's new Sacred Heart Church will be ready for Easter services. On an inspection visit here Tuesday the architect, Edward Schulte of Cincinnati, and the contractor, D. H. Cowdin of Cowdin Brothers, Dallas, told local pastors they are confident but not certain that installation of furnishings will be finished before Easter. Work on all the items is under way now and some are expected to be ready in a short time.

The big problem is the main altar, which is being built under two separate contracts in different parts of the country. It isn't certain that both or either of the orders will be completed in time.

Furnishings under construction besides the main altar are two smaller altars, the altar rail, pews, confessionals, pulpit and baptismal font. The fourteen stations of the Way of the Cross from the old church will be renovated and put into the new building.

The architect has submitted sketches of the art windows, which, according to Father Louis, will be available to individuals to donate as memorials. Those windows will be made and installed as they are ordered. In the meantime the amber colored stained windows will be used.

Work in the church at this time consists only of painting the woodwork. Next on schedule is some artistic painting followed by installation of electrical fixtures.

Another job still ahead is the installation of a large crucifix dominating the front wall. It will measure about 30 feet in length, extending from a point just over the main altar almost to the ceiling.

FHA Chapter Has Formal Reception And Installation

The Future Homemakers of America chapter of Muenster High school held formal installation of its new officers and the reception of nine new members in a combined program Monday night in the auditorium. The impressive candle lighting ceremony preceded the regular Parent-Teacher association meeting and was witnessed by that group.

Rita Cain presided at the ritual that installed LaQuita Cain as president, Mildred Fisher vice president, Edna Swirczynski secretary, Louise Butler treasurer, Corina Vogel parliamentarian, Julia Wolf historian, Margaret Milner pianist, Earline Walterscheid song leader, and Mary Nell Hellman reporter.

After the installation eight members acted as guides for the candidates and repeated the purposes of the FHA. The new

SH Girls Win Two Games at Amarillo

A weekend trip to Amarillo netted Father Louis Deuster and his Sacred Heart High Tigerettes two more victories, with the regulars winning 49-38 and the reserves winning 42-25 over the Saint Mary's Academy teams.

Second stringers started the Friday night double header by posting 5 point-lead in the first quarter and adding to their lead through the rest of the tussle. Derichsweiler shared scoring honors with Gerber of the host team with a total of 22 points and Hess accounted for 10.

The A string encounter started as an evenly matched contest with Sacred Heart edging by a point at the end of the first quarter but trailing 20-15 at the half. In the next half however Gehrig found the basket's range and led her teammates in a comeback that annihilated the Amarillo girls. Gehrig's total was 24 points. McGannon scored 13 and Mages 12.

The group made the trip by bus, starting early Friday and returning late Saturday. Alber Zimmerer was the bus driver.

The Tigerettes will close their season this weekend in an invitation tournament at Boys Ranch.

The Joe Voth family moved this week from southeast of town to live in the former Aug. Walterscheid home in the west part of the city.

The American Way

THE GREAT RED WAY

By George Peck

In a column last Fall I told about the sad fate which befell a Broadway production, Red Rainbow. An excellent drama, a murder mystery that kept you sitting on the edge of your seat until the closing seconds of the play, it was deliberately guillotined by the drama critics of New York's seven leading newspapers.

Myron C. Fagan, author and producer of the ill-fated play, has written a book in which he documents just why the play was sabotaged and puts the finger of those responsible for the sabotage. It depicts how the Communists have taken complete control of America's legitimate theatre, television and radio. What Fagan reveals is so shocking, so frightening, that it would not be credible except for the fact that he provides documentary prima-facie evidence for every statement made in the book.

I prophesy that this book, Red Treason on Broadway, will have the same salutary effect in New York as his first book, Red Treason in Hollywood, had in the movie capital. The first book led to the Congressional investigations which broke Moscow's grip on our movie industry. Fagan was prompted to write it because another play of his, Thieves' Paradise, produced in Hollywood in 1947, was accorded the same kind of shellacking by the critics as was to befall Red Rainbow some six years later.

"In the following pages I shall tell you many things that will seem incredible to you. I want you to believe them, but I do not ask you to accept them on my mere say-so. I am merely your reporter. I set down facts, but I want you to convince yourself in your own way that they are facts.

"Every statement I make in the following pages is documented: either in Court Records, or in the files of the Attorney General of the U. S., or in the files of Committees such as the House Un-American Activities Committee, The Jenner Committee, the McCarran Committee, etc.

"I want your full faith and confidence. If a doubt assails your mind, I urge you to contact the proper official source and clear away that doubt. In your faith lies the cure for all the ills I set down. You, the American people and only you—by believing and taking proper action—can bring back the America that George Washington created, that Abraham Lincoln saved, that Franklin Delano Roosevelt almost destroyed."

And now let me quote the two opening paragraphs of Red Treason on Broadway:

"At 8:00 P.M. on the night of September 14, 1953, the curtain of the Royale Theatre rose on the New York premiere of Red Rainbow—the anti-Communist play I wrote in 1946.

"On the following Monday evening one actor quit—he gave no reason. The next night two very frightened actors told me they would have to quit Red Rainbow—or quit show business! The next day a fourth actor told me that various actors agents had warned him that if he continued in 'that damn red-baiting play' it would mean the end of his career in the theatre. Even if I could have made replacements—which I could not—I knew it would be only a matter of days when the remainder of the cast would be terrorized into quitting. I closed Red Rainbow on Saturday, September 26, 1953!"

The book names some 300 Top Red stars, writers, directors, producers in television, stage and radio. Author Myron C. Fagan states that the files of the Cinema

Education Guild, of which he is President, can provide complete documentation covering every individual named, but, to remove all doubt he urges his readers to verify his charges by contacting one or all of three official sources: The U. S. Attorney General (which is the F.B.I.); the House

Un-American Activities Committee; the California State Senate Fact-Finding Committee.

You will want to read this book in which Fagan shows that Broadway, formerly the Great White Way is now the Great Red Way. It will scare the daylight out of you, but it will goad you into do-

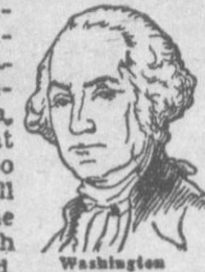

Washington Pleads for a Religious America

By Thomas F. Stransky, PFS Staff Writer

NO MAN REACTS indifferently to sudden power and command. He grows with the new responsibilities of leadership, or he just swells.

He will grow in manliness and humility when he realizes that talents and authority are gifts of God. He will swell with weakening pride when he refuses to bow his head, except to look at self-accomplishment and the people subjected to it.

GEORGE WASHINGTON grew with his responsibilities. When he met the military and governmental difficulties of the embryonic America, he realized that they were too great for so small a man unless he met them with the help of God.

Washington

Instead of becoming overconfident in his abilities as he succeeded in surmounting one difficulty after another, Washington became more and more convinced that God had helped to make him what he was, that God had a hand in his triumphs. "Providence has been bountiful to me," "God in His goodness will direct me" are short but significant sentences found in his letters.

BUT WASHINGTON did not keep these sentiments to himself. He wished all Americans to recognize and thank the God who had graced our country. As commander-in-chief he wrote to the army, "The signal instances of providential goodness which have crowned our labors with complete success demand from us the warmest returns of gratitude and piety to the Supreme Author of All Good."

In his inaugural address the first President insisted that "no people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand which conducts the affairs of men more than the people of the United States."

BUT BEWARE of overconfidence in that protection! "The propitious smiles of heaven can never be expected on a nation that disregards the rule of order and right which Heaven itself has ordained."

Humble recognition of God's laws as well as God's blessings—this is George Washington's message to the America of his day and our day. When he says in his Farewell Address that religion and morality are "indispensable supports to political prosperity," he only restates what he had always believed: God will bless a nation that appreciates those blessings and obeys His laws.

Librarians are apt to find almost anything in the pages of returned books. But one turned up in Buffalo, N. Y. that had a fried egg and a strip of bacon between the pages. The librarian really flipped!

across the bottomland field. The sodded strip will keep the terrace water out of the public road ditch and carry it safely down to creek level.

Frank Needham was sodded and applied fertilizer to three waterways totaling 15 acres on the Andress Estate north of Münster. The waterways follow natural drains through the fields and will make possible the construction of terraces to protect over 200 acres of sloping cropland. These waterways will be fenced and used as pasture.

Tony Wimmer has sodded a grass strip in his field so that terrace water can be taken out of a ditch that is threatening to cause gulying of the field. When the sod is established the water will be diverted to it and kept out of the ditch.

Ed Knauf has finished sodding a drain in one of his fields to serve as a safe terrace outlet.

Another step has been taken toward the installation of a complete soil conservation program on the Buckner Orphans Home land near Münster. On Buckners' ranch north of town Dan Maples has sodded two waterways totaling 12 acres to Bermuda grass and on the ranch south of town Weldon Emerson has put Bermuda grass roots on another two waterways that bisect one of the large fields. All the waterways will be used to empty terrace water on, once the grass has become established. The waterways are wide and follow natural drains and will be fenced so that extra grazing will be obtained.

Patrick Henry would be proud to see that gullies are out of style around Münster.

Notes

"He is the greatest patriot who stops the most gullies."—Patrick Henry.

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district near Münster can certainly qualify as patriots under Pat's statement for they are busy sodding Bermuda grass roots to halt costly soil erosion and prevent gullies.

The never-ending battle between man and the forces of erosion rolled into high gear this week as Operations Waterway got under way. The district-owned sprigging machine that puts out two rows of Bermuda grass roots at a time was running full time putting erosion resistant grass on natural drains and pasture strips so that sloping fields may be protected by terraces. The grass strips will afford a safe place to outlet terrace water from cultivated fields. This waterway-terrace combination is one of the many tools used by man to stop destructive soil and water losses and keep precious top soil at home to grow food and fiber.

J. H. Bayer shaped and sodded a waterway on the Wilson farm that he recently bought. The waterway will act as a safe outlet for a diversion terrace that will keep hill water from running

INFLATION - MAKES SENSE - YES? NO?

A man who ran a small chicken ranch needed wheat for his chickens, so he offered to work for a farmer one day a week. The farmer paid him $5 a day. He used the $5 to buy wheat from the farmer at $1 a bushel. Every day he worked he took home five bushels of wheat. One day the man said to the farmer, "I've got to have more money for my work; I must have $6 a day."

"I know how it is," said the farmer, "but my expenses are going up, and I've got to have more money for my wheat. Starting today, wheat will cost you $1.20 a bushel." So the man worked one day a week for $6 and took home 5 bushels of wheat for his earnings.

After awhile the man made further demands for increased wages, until he was getting $10 for his day's work, and the farmer's price for wheat raised until it was $2 a bushel.

One day the man with the chicken ranch said to his wife, "Isn't it wonderful? I'm getting twice the wages I used to get." And the farmer said to his wife, "Isn't it wonderful. I'm getting twice as much for my wheat as I used to."

You can save $105 a month between now and combine season

There are many makes and kinds of Combines—basically all are good machines—some are better than others on some particular features—For YOUR particular needs one of these is better than the others—You want to find out WHICH one.

Next you want to consider costs—Costs include many more things than just the selling price—for example a machine which will cut and thresh more grain than another may have a higher price and still the cost may be less because of the greater capacity.

A lower priced machine which is not as well built may cost a great deal more in break down time and repairs by the end of the second season than one which cost a few dollars more in the beginning.

Of course we are leading up to the particularly good features of our Combine—we'll leave it up to the other dealers to point out the good features of their machines—and they all do have some very good ones. We won't go into detail here about the various details of the machine (it costs to get windy in the newspaper) but we would want to point out that the Dearborn W-B Combine is the really heavy duty deluxe built machine of this class—includes features not built on ANY OTHER COMBINE smaller than 12 foot.

Right now we want to discuss the price or your cost of this machine—Now, first consider that we are speaking of a machine which one of our neighbors right here in Muenster has said did the best combining job he had ever seen and was getting more of the grain (leaving less on the ground) than any machine that had ever been in his field. This was Henry Grewing's opinion of the Dearborn Wood Bros. Combine.

Consider if you will this EXTRA grain that you raise every year but is left in the field by other machines. Another of our neighbors here in Muenster Rudolph Zipper, scooped barley into his bin last summer which he said was easily clean enough to run through the drill without and further cleaning. The previous years crop cut with another make machine had to be run through the combine again and still wasn't satisfactory. And this cleaning job remember was done on barley (that stuff was bound to be clean, all the beards were down my collar).

By the way that reminds me of a story of the maddest man I ever heard of—It seems that this old red-neck farmer had his small boy in the field helping with the combining (using Dearborn Wood Bros. Combine of course) when he had to stop and crawl under the combine hood to adjust the chaffer. Well as you know this is a very hot, dusty and distasteful job at best, and just as the old man had worked up a good sweat the youngster slipped the combine in gear—cylinder, fan, straw-rack, old man and all. Well sir, I expect somebody could have really bought a cheap combine and kid right then.

Anyway, the point I'm making is that you can afford to give more dollars for a combine that will cut and thresh more grain, get more and waste less of what it does thresh, and give a cleaner sample. Now we aren't just claiming this for our Combine we're offering experience of facts demonstrated last year here in Muenster—and these facts will be demonstrated here again this year.

Now, as I said, you can just naturally afford to give more for a better machine, BUT that doesn't necessarily mean that you have to. We don't have the lowest priced Combine on the market by any means—some are cheaper—some are higher. We do have the best all around Combine on the market in the 6-foot class and we are ready just as soon as it will be possible to back up this bragging and blowing with a demonstration.

And now, the price of this "magnificent machine" in cold cash dollars—$1678.00 to $2098.00—depending on WHEN and HOW you buy your new Dearborn Wood Bros. Combine. We have just been informed of a pre-season discount by our manufacturers which means that the earlier the machines are bought the more discount that can be realized.

Now we had this idea: If the manufacturer can do it—we can too—so we have added in some pre-season discounts of our own to what they are offering us and here is what we can now offer:—On any New Dearborn Wood Bros. Combine sold for cash before June first this year we will offer a credit of 5% of the selling price of $2098.00 for EACH month before June first.

All that means is that we want to sell our Combines as early as possible and we can get them at a discount if we can do this, so to sell them earlier we are giving you this discount plus some additional discounting on our own—the earlier you buy—the more the discount.

As we said, 5% of $2098.00 for each month before June first. That is, a combine bought in May would carry a credit of $105.00, in April a credit of $210.00, and so on until now in Feb. you would earn $420.00 credit for buying your combine early. This is how you can earn $105.00 a month from now til June first.

Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you!
Makes all riding and handling easier!

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints in Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

THE "OLD" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too. That's because conventional kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal Ford's ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is yours in a '54 Ford . . . whether you choose Ford's new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or 115-h.p. I-block Six. And no matter which of Ford's 28 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines . . . sparkling new colors . . . and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 16 points of wear found in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms reduce the number of wear points and insulate chassis from road noises.

RED CHAIN
CHICK STARTER
A Complete Feed • Mash or Granules

ONLY A LITTLE NEEDED
SO IT MUST BE Tops!

Baby chicks have a very small capacity for feed but when growing normally they attain 20 times their hatching weight in eight weeks. This means that the feed you give them must be high in nutrient levels ... and every particle of feed must contain the right quota of the various ingredients. Only by using the most modern weighing, blending and mixing machinery can this be assured. For example, when 10 grams of antibiotics is provided in a ton of feed each 100 pounds of finished feed must contain 1/2 gram. This is equivalent to 1/2 teaspoon of antibiotics. Very small amounts of vitamins and minerals are also needed ... but these amounts also must be present for fast, healthy growth.

When you feed your chicks RED CHAIN Chick Starter you provide them with the very best feed we know how to make. SEE YOUR RED CHAIN DEALER TODAY.

ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE GREETING THE JOHNNY NEUS

Relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Neu at Lindsay Friday night to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. It was a surprise affair and the guests brought gifts for the honorees and covered dishes including a decorated cake for refreshments. About 30 persons were present.

Mrs. Neu is the former Louise Raab. The couple married at Lindsay 25 years ago and live on a farm south of town. They have five children, Jerome who is married and has one child, and Elfreda, Harold, Leroy and Marcella at home.

feel they are not getting a fair deal.

But there have been times when demands were neither fair to the employer nor in the interest of the worker's own welfare. Men were happy with their conditions, nevertheless they had to strike because their bosses said so.

The years following World War II present one case after another. Bosses can brag that they pushed wages up and up, but practically every worker knows that he lost more than he gained in the process. His loss after weeks of lay-off was so great that it absorbed his raise for the next several years. Meanwhile the higher wage forced higher prices and the man's real pay was no larger than before. In the final analysis his lost time was a complete loss and his savings, usually in the form of insurance or bonds, lost some of their real value.

There's no denying that unions serve a very good purpose. Without united strength working men would be at the mercy of any unscrupulous industrialist. But short sighted policies have brought a lot of harm with the good. Unless the leaders get in line and correct that part of their program they may find their influence declining rather than growing.

After all, there's a reason why more than three fourths of the country's workers refuse to sign up. There's a reason for the big controversy over the closed shop. If that many people refuse to go along it's a sure sign that the unions need a lot of improving. The first and biggest improvement is for bosses to work for the members' welfare rather than their own power. We'll have less trouble when we have less pushing around.

Related to this problem is the proposal for a higher minimum wage. Considered along with the present cost of living it seems reasonable and fine. Anybody will admit that a breadwinner cannot get along on 75 cents an hour.

However, it so happens that breadwinners usually are getting better pay anyway, and it also happens that lots of jobs are not worth more than the present minimum. For instance, a school kid doing odd jobs in a store, or an old man helping in his neighbor's garden, or a girl helping with housework. If a law ever says that such people have to be paid $1.25 an hour it will be pricing thousands of them out of jobs.

There's another difficulty also. Suppose a beginner in a firm has to be paid $1.25 an hour but the standard pay for old, experienced help now stands at $1.50 to $2.00 an hour. It's easy to see that old employees will not be pleased very long with their pay, and even the beginner will not be pleased with his prospects for advancement.

The inevitable result is that wages will have to go up all along the line, and that calls for higher prices. So the inflation spiral goes up another loop or two, and after long and confusing readjustment the wage and cost of living ratio is right back where it used to be, the only difference being that people handle about twice as much money . . . and all savings are further depreciated.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger and Mrs. Angie Shumaker returned Monday night from Dallas where they attended a two-day convention of beauticians.

work for the welfare of all farmers. He added, however that this goal is possible only through the united support of a strong membership.

The organization's objective on the national level is to influence government policies on surplus, subsidy, tariff and other factors that have a bearing on the farmer's welfare.

An objective on the local level is to reduce controls under which farmers are operating. "We've got wheat and cotton allotted," Gaston said, "the corn belt has its corn allotment, and it's possible that everything we raise on the farm will be allotted if the present trend continues."

Other benefits on a local level are hospitalization, life and property insurance plans and other services to help farmers and save them money.

Gaston was introduced by Melvin Dansby of Bowie, field representative of the Farm Bureau North Texas district. Wm. J. Bezner, president of the Cooke County chapter presided.

Included in the group were all officers and directors of the county chapter, farmers from all areas of the county and business men interested in the county's agricultural problems.

Directors of the County Farm Bureau are Martin Bayer, Joe Hundt, Herman Schniederjan, Frank Neu, Hollis Berry, and Thomas Davis. J. Pybas is membership chairman, Bruno Zimmerer is service agent, and Mrs. Roy Robinson is secretary.

Relax Review

"City of Bad Men"

This story is laid at Carson City, Nevada. Features some good gun fights between rival gangs of desperadoes and a recreation of the heavyweight championship fight between Gentleman Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons. Good cast, fast action, Technicolor. Rating: Good.

"Mogambo"

Is an African word meaning "The Greatest". It'll do. John Ford directed, and that is a good recommendation. This has a good story, excellent cast, the best director, plenty of wild animals, and beautiful scenery in Technicolor. You'll like it. Rating: Very Good.

"The Eddie Cantor Story"

The life story of the little guy with the banjo eyes. This film deals real well with the Golden Era of Show Business. Eddie had a close friend named Will Rogers, so, we get another look at Will Rogers Jr. playing the part of his father. Some of the many songs you will hear are there old-time favorites: "If You Knew Susie," "Margie," "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby," "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," "Pretty Baby," "How Ya Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm" "Yes, We Have No Bananas," and many many more. I think you'll like it. Rating: Good. gl
