

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XIX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

JULY 8, 1955

NUMBER 33

An event which may possibly mark the beginning of an accelerated pace in this community's development is the series of meetings to be held next week. By talking over and recording their suggestions for civic improvements, the people of Muenster will be able to lay the foundation for a program to be followed in attaining greater happiness and prosperity in the years to come.

The idea applied here is not a magical formula to suddenly transform our town into a model city. Rather it is a simple plan to determine what features are most wanted, and what methods are to be adopted in reaching the most feasible suggested goals.

We are fortunate in having the service of experts to help us in this job. Left to ourselves we would probably become confused by the bigness and complexity of the undertaking, and bog down before ever getting off to a good start. But with the direction of TP&L's community planning personnel we'll have the advantage of being able to follow a tried and proven course in gathering data and formulating plans to get things done.

Everybody who is interested in helping the community get ahead is urged to attend at least one of the meetings. And everyone can rest assured he will not have to listen to idealistic pep talks on a visitor's notions of what Muenster needs. These will be our own words. We'll be the guys and gals stating what, in our own opinions, can be done to make Muenster more appealing to us.

There's a mighty good reason behind this approach to the project. An outsider might have some very sound ideas about what features are good for towns in general, but he encounters the fact that each community, like each person, has its special traits. He might suggest things which have only a limited appeal to that certain group of people, and he might overlook something that would be very popular. By the same token he might give priority to less desired improvements.

But our method will be to determine what is most wanted by the most of the . . . on the theory that it is the most direct way to develop a happy, prosperous community. Our ultimate purpose will be to strive toward adding the favored facilities, as determined by our local survey, so that the town will become increasingly attractive to our own people.

Once we get on that track continued progress is practically assured. The more our home folks are sold on Muenster, the more likely they are to create more opportunity here rather than taking their talents and energies elsewhere. Also, the more content the people of our town are, the more interested others will be in trying to locate new business or industry among them. Both of those possibilities become stronger every time we do something to make our town a better place in which to live and to make a living.

There is hardly a family in the community which doesn't stand to gain by such developments. So there's hardly a family which cannot use the community clinic as a stepping stone to a more abundant future.

A specially nice feature about it is that everybody can participate, including the quiet guys and gals who do not like to take the floor and air an opinion. In fact, it will not even be necessary to come with an opinion, although those who have ideas will certainly be encouraged to present them.

Procedure at a meeting is to explain the purpose and method then pass out cards on which people can jot down their proposals while the meeting is in progress. They'll have plenty of opportunity to record their preferences during the discussions on suggestions presented by the chairman and the attendance. They'll be expected to mention ideas which appeal to them, skip ideas they don't care for.

When all the opinions on those cards are tabulated Muenster will have a black on white report of what local improvements are most wanted by the most

WHERE'S GEORGIA'S PEACHES?—Prices aren't so peachy at Georgia's peach stands this year. Discovering this is Mrs. J. Howard Crane of Atlanta. And the 25-cent-per peach tag isn't all that surprises her. The fruit, usually plentiful in Georgia, are imports from California. The "peach state" has no peaches of its own this year because the late frost killed them this spring.

Local Swimmers Urged to Attend Water Safety Class

With their municipal swimming pool under construction and due to be ready for use before the end of the summer, Muenster people are especially urged to take an interest in the two weeks water safety program starting next Monday in the Gainesville swimming pool under sponsorship of the American Red Cross.

The course is an excellent opportunity for Muenster to provide personnel for its own course in swimming instruction, according to Mrs. Paul Yarborough, water safety chairman of the county Red Cross Chapter.

She pointed out that if Muenster has the qualified instructors it can secure the service of a Red Cross director and conduct its own official Red Cross course in swimming instruction for children.

The first requirement to qualify as an instructor is to pass the Red Cross swimming instruction course, which will be held during the second week of the water safety program.

The first week of the safety program offers a course in life saving. To take that course an applicant must be over 16 years old and a strong swimmer. There is no charge for taking the course. The only expense is buying a swimmer's handbook for 60 cents. Classes, beginning next Monday, July 11, will be in session from 8 to 11 a.m. for five days.

The swimming instructors' course will also consist of five 3-hour classes beginning a 8 o'clock on July 18. To enter the class a person must be 18 years old or older and must have passed the life saving course.

Instructor for that part of the program is Bud Brady of the National Red Cross staff. He has had many years of experience as a swimming teacher and coach.

It has been suggested that Muenster send a representation of twelve or more to the water safety program. Out of that number it should be able to assure an adequate staff for its own swimming instruction courses.

Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Trubenbach Jr., joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harvey of Sanger, took a vacation trip on which they toured ten states and Canada and covered 5,300 miles. They returned Sunday. Among high spots were sight seeing on the west coast and a cruise on the Pacific from San Francisco, seeing the Red Wood Forests, Yellow Stone National Park, and an Indian Powwow in Flagstaff, Arizona, and a stop to visit the Leo Schmitts at Bonners Ferry, Idaho. The Schmitts sent back best regards to all their friends in Muenster.

Proclamation Asks Full Cooperation in Development Clinic

WHEREAS, there is need for the citizens of Muenster to take stock of the good things they have, and to take inventory of things both good and bad, and

WHEREAS, there is need for study and planning on the part of our citizens to insure continued progress and development, and

WHEREAS the Lions Club has planned a community clinic at which our citizens will have an opportunity to meet, discuss problems, and make suggestions for improvement, and

WHEREAS it is incumbent on good citizens everywhere to take part in their community meetings for progress,

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of Muenster, do hereby declare the days of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday July 11, 12 and 13, as Progress Days in Muenster, and urge all citizens of this municipality to give full cooperation and to take part in the Community Clinic meetings on those days.

Bombers Edge VFW 4-3 in Headliner Of Softball League

Muenster's B-29 Bombers came up from behind to nudge VFW 4-3 last Thursday night in the only action the team has had during the past week.

The win sets their league record at the neat figure of 15-1 as the Bezner Chicks hold second spot with a 12-3 rating. Next two teams are Lindsay with 11-5 and VFW with 10-6.

The tussle was plenty tight all the way as each team took the lead twice. Muenster scored first in the bottom of the first when Herbie Herr made the trip around on three errors.

VFW retaliated with three consecutive hits for 2 runs in the top of the second and Elderhoff hit, then scored on an error in the bottom of the same frame to tie the count.

Cain broke the tie in the fourth. He singled, stole second, and scored on a boner. The Veterans held that margin until the bottom of the sixth when Mages led off with a walk and came in on Melvin Herr's two bagger. Herr then romped in with the winning run as Hoedebeck tapped a Texas leaguer to left field.

That blow by Hoedebeck raised question as regards the pitching performances of Coffman and Cain. The left fielder made a lunge for the ball but muffed, so it was a toss-up whether to credit the batter with a hit or the fielder with an error.

Assuming the play went as a hit, Cain gave up 4 hits and 4 walks and fanned 2. Coffman allowed 4 hits, no walks and fanned 5. Meanwhile the Bombers gave the better team support. They made 1 error, the Veterans 4.

Value of Muenster Plant Emphasized at NTPA Meeting

COMMERCE — Approximately 1000 persons representing 2900 dairy farmers in 40 counties of north Texas attended the sixth annual meeting of the North Texas Producers association at East Texas State Teachers college Wednesday of last week.

In their sessions, held in the college auditorium, members of the organization heard a report on the year's work, elected directors and listened to talks on the market outlook and on recent legislation affecting dairy farmers.

J. O. Woodman, manager, called the past 12 months the most successful period in the history of the association. He pointed out that the group's processing plant at Muenster was capable of handling 550,000 pounds of milk in a 24-hour day.

"When the Muenster plant was purchased by the association Jan. 1, 1954, it taxed the plant to handle 100,000 pounds of milk daily," he commented.

It was during the last year that approval was granted by the City of Dallas Health Department to receive and ship milk from the plant as Grade A.

"Every transport tank-load of milk we were able to move from this market, where the milk would have been used for Class II and paid for at the surplus milk price, is now Class I, and that meant dollars added to your milk check," Woodman said.

During the past year, the plant processed 44 million pounds of milk into Class II products, such as condensed skim milk, spray skim milk powder, and cheddar cheese, Woodman stated.

During the business sessions, the association voted on numerous resolutions. One recommended that Troy Kern, Cooper, president of the association, be endorsed to the Texas Milk Pro-

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Off For Navy Training

David Endres left Thursday morning to begin training for the Navy. He enlisted about two weeks ago and received his call this week. According to information given him, he is to take boot training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois.

Becomes Corporal

It's Corporal Mike Drier now. He received the raise in rank in Germany where he is attached to Headquarters Company of the Fifth Division Artillery.

Special Training

PFC Roger Wolf recently completed a week of special training at Fort Crockett, Texas. He is a radar mechanic in Headquarters and Service Battery of the First Armored Division at Fort Hood.

Adds Another Stripe

Clyde Muller, serving as a radio operator at Fort Lawton, Wash., has been promoted to corporal. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Muller.

Has 30-day Leave

PFC John David Meurer arrived Saturday to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, the Herbert Meurers. It is his first visit at home since he returned to the states from duty in Korea. He is based at Camp Pendleton, Calif., with the Marines.

Ends Army Service

Richard Knabe is back at home with his parents, the Joe Knabes, since receiving his discharge from the army. He saw overseas duty in Korea and held the rank of corporal. Since returning to the states he was at Camp Beale, Calif., and was issued his separation papers there.

Attending O.C.S.

Sergeant First Class C. C. Blanton, husband of the former Miss Eva Muller of this city, was last week transferred from Fort Bragg, N.C. to Fort Benning, Ga., where he is attending Officer Candidate School. While he is going to school his wife is staying with his mother in Alachua, Florida.

Faulty Parachute Was Almost Fatal To Billy Eberhart

A practice parachute jump in a fouled chute was near fatal five months ago to M.Sgt. Billy Eberhart, veteran paratrooper of World War II.

That's the message his family received Sunday, the day after Billy finished five long months in the hospital for treatment of two fractures in his back. He told the story in a phone call to his brother Walter, saying that he feels the effects of his long stretch in a cast but expects to recover fully.

As related by Walter, the chute opened only partially, enough to retard a fatal plunge to the earth but still permitting him to fall much faster than he should. The terrific blow as he hit the ground fractured his back in two places.

Thinking his home folks would worry, Billy decided not to mention his accident until he was certain there was nothing to worry about. As time went on he decided to reveal it when he got out of the hospital. His wife cooperated with him. Wrote his parents regularly but did not mention his condition.

Billy is stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Pool Is Finished But Surroundings Need Lots of Work

If the bare essentials were enough, the Muenster swimming pool would be ready for use in a week or two.

The pool itself is finished. Concrete was poured last Saturday and workers are now putting the finishing touches to the inside of the walls. And Water Superintendent Steve Moster expects to have a water line extension to the location finished by the end of the week. With filtering and circulation equipment ready, the pool is waiting for a fill.

However, there's plenty more to be done and the prospect now is that the community will get to use the pool for only a few short weeks before the swimming season ends.

The next job now is to fill in dirt around the pool and filtering pit . . . and that involves more than just pushing in dirt with a bull dozer. This fill will have to be firm, so solid that a sidewalk can be built on it without danger of cracking. So dirt will be added a little at a time, and it will be thoroughly soaked and packed as it is built up. It must not be given a chance to settle.

After that comes the sidewalk, fencing, kiddies pool and dressing rooms.

The sidewalk, incidentally, includes the last detail in construction of the pool wall. It will extend over the wall and form a cover for the trash gutter which was built into the wall. This gutter, extending all the way around at the water level, will trap twigs, leaves, etc., and carry them to the filter.

The fence is intended both as a means of controlling admissions and of preventing kiddies from falling into the pool. It will surround the main pool and filtering unit. Separate accommodation for the toddlers is a wading pool holding about six inches of water.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Henry Luke is back at home after being at Veterans Hospital in McKinney for a check-up.

Freddie Joe Hennigan was dismissed from Baylor Hospital last Thursday afternoon and is convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan, from injuries received in a fall at the Claude Cannon home where he was doing carpenter work last week Tuesday.

Mrs. W. H. Endres has recovered from an illness that confined her to her home for a week.

Kent Bellah of Saint Jo is back at his home convalescing from serious major surgery performed at Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls on June 19.

Area's Want List To Be Drawn up at Series of Meetings

Muenster's three-session community development clinic, to be conducted by Stan Shively of the TP&L Public Relations Department under sponsorship of the Muenster Lions Club, will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week, Lion President H. H. Homsley announced at the club's meeting Tuesday.

The proposed schedule of meetings is as follows:

Monday night, July 11: VFW and Auxiliary, the Electric Co-op, NTPA and Farm Bureau will meet in the school auditorium.

Tuesday night, July 12: Baptist congregation, Lions, Firemen, Garden Club and PTA will meet in the auditorium.

Wednesday night, July 13: K of C, CD of A, St. Anne's Society, St. Joseph's Society, and Sacred Heart room mothers will meet in the K of C hall.

Homsley also mentioned that any person who does not belong to one of the listed organizations will be welcome at any of the meetings. Likewise anyone who cannot meet with his or her group is welcome at any of the other meetings. Actually each session will be an open meeting.

Procedure at meetings will not be tied up with any one organization. Reasons for working through clubs, besides dividing total attendance into smaller crowds, is to give individuals the greater comfort of meeting with members of their own groups and also to have club cooperation in sponsoring attendance.

The method of conducting the meetings is to spend a few minutes explaining purpose and procedure then distribute cards on which persons can indicate their suggestions while the rest of the meeting is under way. All are encouraged to offer their recommendations for civic or business improvements and to express their opinions or proposals. However, those who only listen can also help along by indicating on their cards the proposals that appeal to them.

People will also be asked to mention on their cards what projects they prefer to work on. The purpose there is to give individuals the assignment they prefer when jobs get under way later.

After the meetings the TP&L personnel will tabulate suggestions from the cards and prepare a report on the community's preferences. It also offers technical assistance in undertaking the proposed projects.

Native of Muenster Receives MS Degree

Erwin A. Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Herr of Hereford, former Muensterites, and grandson of Mrs. Fred Herr Sr. of this city, received a master of science degree in electrical engineering June 17 at commencement exercises of Northwestern University in Boston.

He attended night school at the university for the past five years and is employed as an electrical engineer by General Electric Company at Lynn, Mass.

He was graduated from St. Anthony school in Hereford as valedictorian in 1935, from Hereford High as salutatorian in 1939, and from Texas Tech with a BS degree in electrical engineering in 1943. During world war II he served two and a half years in the Signal Corps and the Army Engineers. He and his wife and their three children live in Peabody, Mass.

How Iced Coffee Began

We can thank the French for iced coffee. More than 125 years ago, French colonial soldiers stationed at Mazagan, Algeria, found that drinking coffee syrup mixed with cold water made the desert heat more endurable. The soldiers carried the vogue back to Paris, where it is to this day called Cafe Mazagan, with the added fillip of ice in tall, frosty glasses.

Americans ice their coffee for summertime meals, socials, or coffee break. Perfectionists make it double strength to avoid dilution, and pour it hot over ice, while others brew their coffee as usual, and allow it to cool before serving.

Many hostesses make coffee regular strength, and use coffee ice cubes. Cream and sugar may be used with iced coffee as preferred.

A&M Recommends Dehorning Cattle

COLLEGE STATION — Horns and choice beef carcasses do not go together. Feeders having horns, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, do not feed out so well as dehorned cattle.

Badly bruised carcasses are usually found in shipments of horned animals. These bruises detract from the appearance of the carcasses and lower their sale value. Aside from the damage to the meat, the hide is frequently damaged as a result of cattle going one another.

In general, dehorned cattle usually command better prices in the market place than horned cattle of similar quality and condition, Thompson adds.

Family Gatherings Compliment Visitors

While Mrs. Augusta Richter of Portland, Oregon, and her granddaughter Miss Peggy Lawton of Walla Walla, Wash., were here to visit the former's brother Ed Schmitt they were honored at a series of family gatherings and visited in Kingfisher, Okla., and in Fort Worth.

In Kingfisher, Mr. Schmitt and Mrs. Richter visited the only other member of their immediate family, a sister, Mrs. Anna Strack who, on account of illness was prevented from joining them here. Jimmy Fisher went with them.

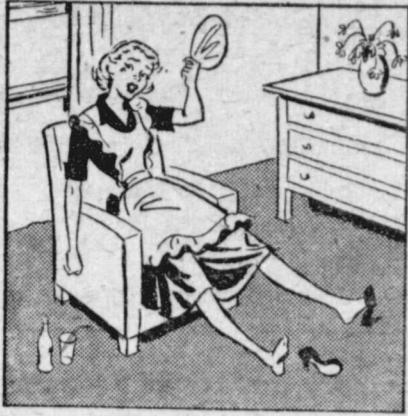

One day the visitors went to Fort Worth with the John Fishers to see Miss Jeanette Fisher and to go sight-seeing. Among places visited was Forest Park Zoo.

On Wednesday evening the entire relationship from here gathered at the Ed Schmitt home for an evening reunion. Everyone brought ice cream and cake for refreshments.

Mrs. Richter and Peggy left Thursday by plane from Dallas for their trip back home after a 10-day vacation visit. J. W. Fisher and Mr. Schmitt took them to the airport.

Spending July Fourth here with homefolks and attending the parish picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swirczynski and family of Ardmore.

John Fette Family In Reunion Sunday

All of the children, and most of the grandchildren, of Mr. and Mrs. John Fette gathered here during the holiday weekend for a family reunion, the first all-family get-together since Mr. and Mrs. Fette celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in April 1949.

Mrs. Tom Gallery and daughters Gretchen and Michele of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Mrs. Jack Quinlan and children Kitty, Gail, Patricia and Stevie of South Bend, Ind., arrived Saturday to spend a week's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff and sons of Lubbock arrived Sunday for a two-day visit.

Family members from here joining the group were Mrs. Ben Seyler, Mrs. Herbert Meurer and family, Elmer and Herman Fette. Among other guests at a dinner party Sunday in the Blue Room of the Main Cafe with Mrs. Seyler as hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bezner and son Jacob of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wiesman of Houston and Marine PFC John David Meurer of Camp Pendleton, Calif.; children of the late Steve Fette and children of the late Edward Fette.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer were hosts at a lawn party and supper honoring the visitors. Monday the family got together for dinner at the parish picnic, and on Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bezner entertained in their home. Other gatherings were scheduled, including one in the John Fette home, for the remainder of the week.

Haverkamp - Forgey Wedding Set Aug. 6

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Haverkamp have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Olive Haverkamp, to David Forgey of Dallas.

The couple has set August 6 as the date for the wedding. It will be solemnized in St. Edward's church at Dallas with the pastor, Rev. John P. Brady, officiating. A reception will follow the services.

The bride-to-be has chosen as her attendants her sister, Miss Dolores Haverkamp, as maid of honor, and Miss Polly Magas as bridesmaid. Mr. Forgey will be attended by David and James O'Brien, both of Dallas.

Miss Haverkamp has been employed in Dallas for the past three years in an insurance office. The prospective groom is also employed in Dallas and after their wedding trip they will make their home there.

Birthday Surprise For Walter Rawley

Walter Rawley's birthday was the occasion for a surprise party for him when his wife and their four youngsters Kiar, Mac, Jenna and Joe entertained at their home on June 30. The affair was an outdoor supper in the backyard living room where wieners were grilled and other food served buffet style.

Two other events were observed that night. It was Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski's wedding anniversary date and they came in for their share of honors. The party was also a farewell tribute for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Searcy and Tana who left Saturday for Eagle Lake to make their home. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wiese, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Trachta and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pagel and children Dwayne and Glenda.

Mrs. Wm. Bergman's Nine Children Here For Family Reunion

Sunday was an outstanding and happy day for Mrs. William Bergman and her nine children who gathered here for the first all-family reunion in their lives. Twenty-five of Mrs. Bergman's 28 grandchildren were also present.

For some family members it meant "getting acquainted" with others. The older children had left the family home to make homes of their own before the younger children came along, and never had they all been together at one time until Sunday. They came from California, Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma to make the reunion complete.

The unusual occasion honored Mrs. Bergman's daughter, Sister Mary Beatrice, a Sister of Mercy, Oklahoma City, who is observing her silver jubilee as a nun this year. She and her traveling companion Sister Virgilius arrived Saturday to spend a week here.

Her sisters and brothers here for the reunion were Mrs. Joe Kastner of Denver, John Bergman of Sacramento, Mrs. Bernard Knoff and Joe Bergman along with his wife and family from Kansas City, Kansas, Barney Bergman and his wife and family of Pryor, Okla., Sylvester, Tony and Frank Bergman and their families, all of Ardmore.

One of Mrs. Bergman's grandsons came from San Antonio where he is stationed with the Air Force. He is John Donald Bergman son of John Bergman of California.

The all-day get-together began and ended at Mrs. Bergman's home but dinner at noon was served picnic fashion at the parish park. Father Louis and Father Christopher joined the Bergmans for the meal. Mr. and Mrs. Herb McDaniel assisted her sister with hostess duties.

Pictures were made of the group, of each family, of party scenes and of individuals.

Miss Peggy Carter To Marry July 30

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Carter of Seymour, formerly of Muenster, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Peggy, to Ken Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Morgan of Bowlegs, Okla. The wedding will take place July 30 in the First Baptist church at Seymour with Rev. John E. Lewis officiating.

Miss Carter completes work for a masters degree from Baylor University in Waco on July 8. She received her BA degree from the same school in August 1954.

Mr. Morgan received his bachelor of science degree with a major in physical education from Baylor on May 27. He was also commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force and will report for active duty in August.

When the Carters lived here Mr. Carter was employed at the Muenster Enterprise.

At Silver Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mrs. Herman Fette and children Tim, Kenny, Kay and Linda, joined by her sister Mrs. Jake Stewart and children Mike, David, Judy and Martha Ann of Gainesville, spent the holiday weekend in Watonga, Okla.

Sunday they were among guests at the silver wedding anniversary of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Poarch who celebrated 25 years of married life by having a family reunion in their home. Their 14 children, along with their families, were present for the all-day event which started with attendance at church services in the morning.

The Fettes and Stewarts left early Saturday morning and returned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kupper and sons, Chris, Phil, Douglas and Doyle of Giddings, are vacationing here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres and other family members. Before coming to Muenster they visited his sister, Mrs. W. R. Bump at Arlington and relatives at Lindsay.

Mrs. Eva Gottlob of Azle is the guest of relatives and friends here this week.

AN AMERICAN CONCEPT

One of the basic concepts which shaped the formation of our American government was that individual initiative, when free to seek its opportunities, would generate a great progressive force. And it has. The progress of our nation, when compared with other nations, proves the soundness of this concept. Yet there are many citizens who do not clearly understand the basic governmental concepts which have given Americans the highest living standards in the world. This lack of understanding is not good for our country. In China and other areas of Asia I spent 10 years examining the causes of their great poverty. Ninety per cent of the people were barely existing, each living for a month on what an American could buy for one dollar. Yet China has vast resources in soils and minerals and forests. What was the hold back? In brief here was the trouble. The people were afraid to venture because of the lack of adequate and equitable laws, equitably enforced. Let me illustrate.

Banditry Everywhere

A group of Chinese wanted to open a coal mine. They had capital. Workers were plentiful. The coal deposit was unlimited. And the market was there. The only question was, "Would it be advisable?" One of the group said: "Well, you know the group of people down the river. They have quite a few soldiers. If we got the coal mine producing they'd come and take it away from us." Another of the group said, "Yes, and the Governor is in league with that group." They had to forget the idea of opening a coal mine. Their governmental structure provided no protection. Another example: A town in the China interior installed an electric light plant. An envious group in another town, burning peanut-oil candles, overpowered the authorities and took away the electric plant. But they couldn't carry some of the heavy pieces on their shoulders, so when they put the plant together it wouldn't operate. They were consoled anyway: they still had no electric lights, but neither did the other town. Individual initiative throughout the population is not possible, for want of equitable laws, equitably enforced.

England's Socialism

I've had the opportunity twice to study conditions in England first hand. From 1945 to 1951 the Socialist-Labor Party operated the government. The government took over ownership of the major industries—the coal mines, the transportation systems, the utilities, the iron and steel industries, and so forth. The government also took over control, ultimately, of employment and enterprise. No one could obtain work or change jobs, build a chicken house or go into business, without approval of a government bureau. Individual initiative was smothered.

Still another example is Russia. She has coal, iron, petroleum, everything we have—and twice the quantity. She has two times as much land per person as does America. But in Russia the government owns all the farms, the manufacturing plants, and all the distribution centers, and the people work according to a central blueprint—with no opportunity whatsoever to generate individual initiative.

Superiority of Freedom

Now the important point: The individual citizen in China has a living standard about one-twentieth as high as ours; in England, about one-third as high as ours and in Russia, about one-fifth as high as ours. The major reason for our superiority is government which gives the utmost liberty for personal initiative, our private ownership economy which provides incentive to get ahead and a competitive atmosphere which brings out the very best capabilities in all, and our foundation of spiritual disciplines—being governed primarily by an inner force of moral laws.

My daughter Lois was born in China. When she was 11 we returned to America. Seeing New York for the first time she exclaimed: "I hope Heaven is as nice as this!" But she became Americanized quickly: she began to want everything she saw. Throughout high school and college it was more dresses, always more of this and that. And finally she wanted a convertible. I told her that in America she could have anything she wanted—if she went after it hard enough. She went to work teaching in school, determined to save and buy the convertible. She didn't keep a good budget; her chances looked very slim. But in America there is no reason ever to be discouraged. There is always another way. That summer, Lois married a convertible!

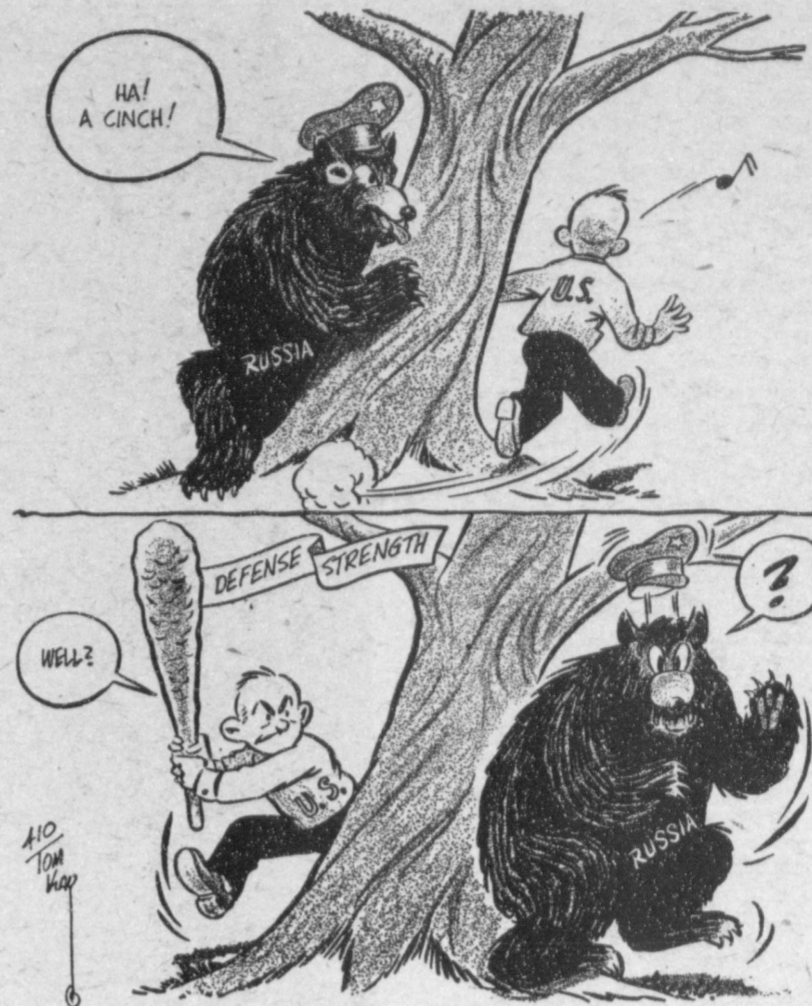

MARXISM RUSSIA'S BIBLE AND RELIGION

The Russian philosophy of government is founded on "Marxism." The term derives from a fellow of questionable character in history known as Karl Marx.

Marx, a German socialist, was born in 1818. From early youth he had distorted social views. He was run out of Germany in 1841 and fled to Paris where he edited a socialist newspaper. He was banished from Paris to Brussels where he started another newspaper. His inflammatory utterances aroused the indignation of the stolid Belgians and Marx was forced to flee to England, where he established another newspaper and continued to array class against class. The tolerant Britons soon tired of his radical views and when they ran him out of England he landed in New York. He died in 1883.

That is a brief history of Karl Marx who was a fanatic. His chief work was Das Kapital, published in 1867, which is today the Russian bible and upon which the doctrine of present-day communism is founded. It was upon this false doctrine that Lenin rose to power and so did Stalin.

The generally accepted theory is that Marx was a lazy worthless fellow, obsessed by the idea that the world "owed him a living," but he was too indolent to make an effort to give anything in return.

It is true that in Marx's day social conditions were vastly different from what they are today. In the woof and warp of the social fabric there were financial and industrial tyrants who oppressed the poor and helpless, and as this oppression was the text of all of Marx's writings his fantastic but finely spun theories made a strong appeal to the masses.

One of his pet theories was that the individual should be the slave of the state—that his whole life should be shaped and moulded by the government under which he lived; that all property should be owned by the state; that every person should be required to work for the state and be paid in proportion to the value of the service he rendered. That was a pretty theory, but it will not and did not work out in a practical sense. That is why the communism of today has such a strong appeal to the lazy, indolent, trifling, worthless segment of society.

Karl Marx has been dead nearly seventy-five years, but his warped mind and irregular life are responsible for many of the ills that have afflicted the world for the past half century. His false teachings have cost millions of lives.

Shakespeare might have been in a cynical mood when 400 years ago he penned these words: "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones," but Shakespeare probably had visions of the coming of such evil characters as Karl Marx.

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

A little boy was sad when he found his favorite turtle lying on its back on the bank of the pond. "Never mind," said his father, "we'll have a fine funeral for Mr. Turtle. I'll make him a little coffin, and Mother will wrap him in silk. We'll buy a little white picket fence to put around his cemetery, and the stonemason will give us a chip of granite for a headstone. I'm sure, and if we're real nice to him, maybe he'll carve Mr. Turtle's name on it." The boy brightened immediately, and the great project began. When all was ready, the cortege, father, mother and chief mourner, moved slowly down to the pond to recover the body. But it was gone. Out in the water Mr. Turtle was gaily flipping about. The little boy stared at his resurrected friend, then said, "Let's kill him!"

Salted Meal Saves Labor And Dollars

Cattle on left self-feed salted meal without fretting as compared with the hand-fed group on the right where nervous, hungry animals fight for a place at the trough as food is poured into bunker.

Even cattle are taking up the modern idea—"do it yourself"—and saving American stockmen labor and dollars. Salted meal is the key: it keeps the cattle from making "pigs" of themselves and leads them into what might be called good "trough manners" which benefit the smaller and weaker animals.

Extensive research in control of supplementary protein feeding is being carried out under sponsorship of the Salt Institute at the USDA Southern Great Plains Field Station at Woodward, Oklahoma. E. H. McIlvain, superintendent at Woodward, explains it this way:

Cattle will eat just so much salt in a day. By mixing salt with cottonseed or other meal, the amount of supplementary feed the animal will eat can be predetermined. The animal will eat until it reaches its salt saturation point and as the bigger animals move on to graze, supplementary feed becomes available to the weaker, more timid animals.

The greatest advantages and saving is accomplished since the feed may be put out for large numbers of cattle once a week. When placed in troughs mounted on wheels, it may be spaced over wide ranges. In this way, one man in one day can do most of the work formerly done by two men in a week.

This method has been found specially advantageous on western ranges where large numbers of cattle and wide rough or timbered grazing areas are prevalent.

Salted meal in a mobile trough saves labor, facilitates less disturbance of grazing animals, more uniform consumption of protein, and better distribution of grazing.

Detailed information on mixing and feeding of salt-meal to beef cattle may be obtained from the U. S. Southern Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Oklahoma.

SOLUTION TO WORLD'S FOOD PROBLEM

In a recent issue of Life, it was pointed out that the half of the world which is semi-starved is still using Biblical methods of agriculture. The magazine continued, "From 3,000 B. C. to the beginning of the 19th Century only a few significant advances were made in the science of agriculture—use of the horse collar, the scythe, and the 'cradle' for the scythe. The underdeveloped parts of the world never got beyond these advances; most of it still plows with a bent stick. Most of its grain is still harvested with sickles."

In those countries the arduous work of most of the people must be devoted to producing enough food for a bare subsistence living. In the U.S., by contrast, there are about 2,000,000 fewer farmers now than there were as recently as 1940. Yet the population has grown greatly and we have more and better food than ever. That is because substitutes of one sort or another have been found for human toil. Electricity has been one. Another is modern chemical fertilizers which increase production even as they enrich the soil. Another is proper conservation. Another is farm equipment. It is estimated that tractors save 2,000,000,000, man-hours a year, while a mechanical picker does the work of 40 men.

The solution to the world's food problem lies in an agricultural technology of the kind we take for granted here.

Myra Sunshine Club Hears Book Review

Mrs. Richard Frasher of Gainesville was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Myra Sunshine Club when members met in the home of Mrs. Charlie Randall with Mrs. Randall and Mrs. W. A. Mathews as co-hostesses. Mrs. Frasher gave a book review on Dr. Frank Slaughter's book, "The Galilean."

Farm Bureau Plans Coming Activity

A planning meeting by members of the Cooke County Farm bureau was held Friday evening in the city hall here.

Delegates to the district meeting and state institute were selected and details of the queen's contest worked out.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis, William Bezner and Joe B. Hundt were selected to be delegates to the district meeting to be held this week in the Baker hotel at Dallas. Delegates to the State Farm bureau institute July 31 to Aug. 3, will be Messrs. and Meses. Joe Hundt and R. L. Hasenpflug. This meeting will be held in the Baker hotel at Mineral Wells. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hay are alternates.

"Miss Farm Bureau" of Cooke county will be decided in two sequences. The first week in August, one girl from each community will be selected to enter the county contest. This runoff session will be held in the Community center building in Gainesville. The final contest will be held August 17 in the Muenster parish park, at a picnic supper.

The next meeting of the bureau will be held at Lindsay, August 8.

Attending, other than the board of directors Friday, were Mrs. Elsie Parker, Mrs. Ben Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atterberry, George Bayer, Joe Vogel and Gus Lutkenhaus.

IT'S ALWAYS A SCENIC DRIVE—That it is, for Paul Hubbard, 62, waving at you from Chicago, Ill., on his 65th cross-country trip in pursuit of scene-painting assignments. into the soil, to build up organic matter and nitrogen content of the soil and to generally improve soil condition.

According to Soil Conservation Service personnel maximum benefits from legume crops are secured when they are left to mature seed and the residue is left on the soil surface to provide a cushioning and insulating layer for the soil.

Checks by SCS technicians this week revealed that King Ranch Bluestem seed heads have about a 75 per cent fill of mature seeds. Dangelmayr Brothers, Felderhoff Brothers and Cler Brothers are some of the farmers who are windowing their KR Bluestem, letting it dry several days and then baling it. This seed hay will be scattered next Spring after frost danger is over, on waterways and old field areas that are in need of vegetation.

King Ranch Bluestem is gaining in popularity and use around Muenster. It is easier to establish than native grasses and grows faster. It is drought resistant and is a good grass for controlling erosion.

Use Attic Fan for Low Cost Comfort

COLLEGE STATION — An attic fan isn't a substitute for complete air conditioning but is a practical, inexpensive means of gaining relief from oppressive summer heat.

Properly used, an attic fan can be very satisfactory, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. The fan may do little or no good during the daytime. But if used in the evening, heated attic air is exhausted and cooler air from the outside pulled into the house.

This process will cool the entire house during the night and if windows are closed during the day, lower temperatures may be maintained within the home, says Allen.

One of the most important factors to consider when buying an attic fan, says the engineer, is its size. Get one large enough to change the air in the house every minute. For example, a house with 1,000 square feet of floor area and eight foot walls contains 8,000 cubic feet of volume. A fan with a delivery rate of at least 8,000 cubic feet of air per minute should be installed.

Generally, place the fan near a partition wall or other solid support to prevent vibration. Locate the inlet grill of the fan in a central hallway, Allen suggests. Follow the manufacturers directions closely, he adds.

Save on Bureaus To Finance Roads

The floods of testimony that have welled up since the President's original proposal for a 101 billion dollar Federal highway program have convinced most Americans — even those who don't drive around much — that we need more and better roads.

But these same Americans are disturbed at the Administration's idea of borrowing billions via a bond issue so it won't appear on the Federal budget or (officially) add to the national debt. Nor do they want to see our 280 billion dollar debt go any higher — if as Senator Harry F. Byrd says it "is equivalent to the full value of all the land, all the buildings, all the mines, all the machinery, all the livestock, everything of tangible value in the United States."

Thus, what's wrong about adopting the recommendations of the Hoover Commission? This action would provide seven billion dollars, which should make a good start. And then too, some of those foreign aid billions that Harold Stassen hasn't been able to spend yet might do more good at home than abroad.

Those roads, we hear, are essential to our defense, to our expanding economy, to the saving of lives.

CHANGES NEEDED

A mere 44 years hence, a man of 90 will be regarded as "young." At 135, he will be classified as "more mature." His average life span will be 150. As for the women of 1999, they will "stay young, beautiful and shapely indefinitely."

We have this on the authority of Dr. Lowry H. McDaniel, of Tyrnza, Ark., who made these revelations to a convention session of the American Medical Association in Atlantic City. Even the common cold, he said, "will be only a memory."

But we think the good doctor might better have told this to the Congress, so our law-makers can get busy revamping the social security rules. If Americans in that day are still under wraps to quit work at 65, they may be healthy, but they'll be a long time hungry. And what would woman cherish more or less eternal youth, beauty and shapeliness if she couldn't even buy a new hat?

There are those today who would FEEL young at 65—if Uncle Sam would let them.

Soil Conservation Notes

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district are busy harvesting the seed from their soil improving crops of legumes and grasses.

Harvesting of vetch has been completed. Yields ranged from 100 to 200 pounds an acre. Farmers who combined their vetch for seed include Claude Cannon, J. H. Bayer, E. E. Ballinger, Earl Robison, J. T. Cole, Elmer Dunn and C. C. Ware.

Harvesting of sweet clover has just started. Walter Becker is combining his Madrid and reports a yield of approximately 500 pounds of seed an acre. Ed Knauf has his Madrid combined and estimates it yielded 300 pounds an acre.

All clover and vetch seed harvested is more ammunition in the battle to improve the soil and to fight against soil erosion. The seed will go on cropland and pasture land next season to provide a green cover crop, to open up plow pans and to let more water

COMBINE YOUR NEW CHEVROLET PURCHASE WITH YOUR VACATION PLANS!

Order a new Chevrolet through us, then pick it up at the plant in Flint, Michigan, see Chevrolets built, if you like, and drive yours home. Chances are, you'll save a substantial share of your vacation travel costs!

Twin Pipes that play sweet music!

Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8" with 180 hp.

Some like it hot . . . and the hottest of the lot is Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8."*

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. They're easy to see because the back view is just about the only glimpse you get of this astounding performer! No matter what you drive, you're going to have to get used to the idea of seeing twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8" of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

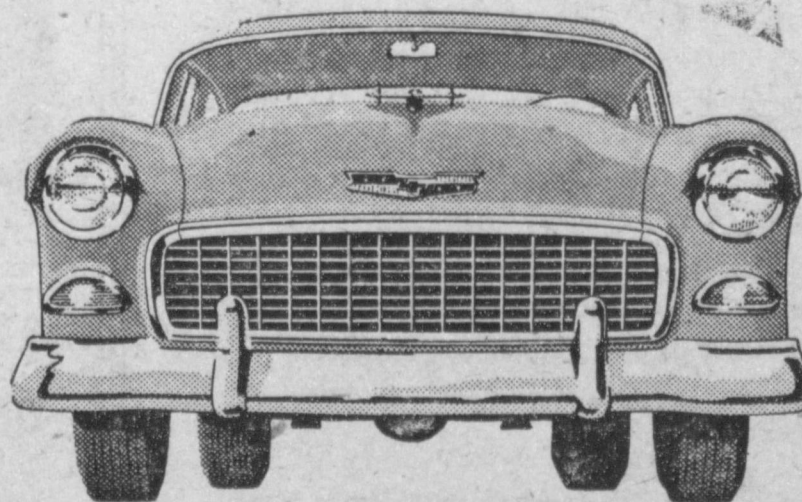

What makes the Super scat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industry, the most power per pound, and the only 12-volt electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.†

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

*Optional at extra cost.
†Station wagon models have single exhaust pipe.

How Wet Is Water?

Some years ago, there was an interesting test made on irrigated cotton. There was so much rain at planting time, the cotton had to be planted three times. The rains continued to the middle of July.

Yet, at the end of the season, an irrigated plot yielded almost twice the amount of cotton as did an adjoining plot receiving only the rainfall. The reason? The high producing field was irrigated at a strategic time in early August, just when dry weather began to take its toll. That's why irrigation often pays off in humid climates.

Those people who may have funds in savings accounts and in bonds often find it more convenient to borrow at low bank rates to meet an emergency.

NEW DIESEL FARM TRACTOR

Allis-Chalmers is introducing a new farm tractor with a full diesel, 6-cylinder, valve-in-head engine. It's another in the WD-45 family which has been available with POWER-CRATER engine for gasoline and liquid petroleum fuels.

The local Allis-Chalmers dealer is now showing this new tractor on his display floor and offering the WD-45 in nine models, since there is a choice of three front-end styles with each engine.

Complete combustion without fuel waste is accomplished in this new diesel engine through "Tornado Turbulence," an action brought about by the energy cell in the combustion system. The steady "follow-through" combustion exerts a continuous working pressure on the power stroke.

Instant starting on diesel fuel is provided by a 12-volt starting system. Incorporated in the engine are such long-life features as replaceable wet-type cylinder liners; by-pass cooling system with high-capacity water pump; pressure lubrication; aluminum alloy pistons; simple, easily serviced fuel injection system; and four filters to assure clean fuel.

Basic design features of the WD-45 are also in this new diesel model. These include Power-Shift rear wheels which are moved in or out by engine power to the tread selected; SNAP-COUPLER hitch which permits quick change from one implement to another, with a single hitchpoint; complete hydraulic system with automatic Traction Booster; and two-clutch power control for continuous power take-off operation.

July 24-30 Named National and State Farm Safety Week

COLLEGE STATION -- "More accidental deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry in the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce the toll taken by such accidents," said Governor Allan Shivers in his proclamation designating the week of July 24-30 as Farm Safety Week. Earlier President Eisenhower had proclaimed the same period as National Farm Safety Week. He requested organizations and leaders interested in farm life to join in the continuing drive to reduce needless injuries and deaths to farm people. The week is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture and has been observed each year since 1944. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee working with the sponsors and farm organizations and leaders of the state, report much progress during the past several years. The committee has called on farm organizations and rural youth groups to assist with carrying the message on safe rural living to farm and ranch families. Four-H club members not only conduct individual demonstrations involving farm safety but compete as teams for county, district and state honors in a farm and home safety demonstration contest. It is the hope of the Texas Committee that farm families in every community will participate in activities which may be planned for their protection. The theme of the 1955 week is "Your Safety is in Your Hands... Be Careful Avoid Accidents."

You can plant vetch or Austrian winter peas after harvest of cash crops in the fall and obtain a good growth of these legumes during the winter and early spring and turn them under in time to plant cotton or peanuts at their usual planting time.

ONE-DAY WORMING

Don't let internal parasites rob you of poultry profits. Feed Red Chain Medicated Feed and free your flock of parasites. After the birds go to roost, fill the troughs with one-day worming mash, nuggets or granules, but no other feed. The next night clean the troughs, fill with regular feed. In this simple manner, you have done a remarkable job of worming in one day. See your Red Chain dealer now. Worm your birds with Red Chain Medicated Feed. Start your M-Day right away and make it a "must" for each month.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt Sr. left Thursday by car on a trip to Iowa and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neu moved Saturday from Muenster to make their home in Lindsay. They bought the house from Mrs. Joe Bezner. For the past five months the Neus had been living on the Bruno Fleitman farm. Charles is employed at National Supply company in Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lutkenhaus have as their guests this week their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson and son Tony of Snyder. Mrs. Johnson is the former Rosalee Lutkenhaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young and son Jimmy of Dallas were here Sunday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner and family.

Mrs. W. J. Loerwald is back at home after receiving medical treatment at Gainesville Sanitarium.

Mrs. Isabel Galvan spent the holiday weekend here with her mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner, and has returned to her home in San Antonio. She came here from California where she had been vacationing with a sister, Mrs. Ed Corcoran and family in Los Angeles.

Dr. Gerhart Lukowsky and Dr. Herman Hartmann of Boston, Mass., left here Thursday after a two day visit with members of the I. A. Zimmerer family. The former was best man at the wedding of Paul Zimmerer and Miss Ann Clancy here on May 5. Both young men, here from Germany for two years on the student exchange plan will return to their homeland on August 25. In the meantime they are touring as much of the United States as time permits.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Klein and children of Topeka, Kans., are spending a two-week vacation with her parents, the Joe Fuhrmanns and family. They were here to enjoy visiting with her brother, Father Bruno, of Subiaco while he was on vacation.

SPARE THE ROD and spoil the act. By main force Bob Hope molds his seven wild kids into a smash vaudeville act in the rollicking "The Seven Little Foys," due July 12-13-14 at the Relax Theatre. The VistaVision, Technicolor film stars comedian Hope in his first dramatic role as Eddie Foy, the greatest father in show business and an immortal vaudevillian.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Wachsman and family left Wednesday to return to Wichita Falls after a holiday visit with her parents and family, the Willie Fuhrmanns here and her sisters at Muenster. They joined family gatherings honoring Mrs. Wachsman's brother, Father Nicholas of Subiaco, Ark.

David Bengfort received medical care at Gainesville Sanitarium this week.

Rev. Fathers Nicholas Fuhrmann, Aloys Fuhrmann and Bruno Fuhrmann of Subiaco Abbey, Arkansas, left Sunday after spending nine days of vacationing with their parents, Messrs. and Mmes. Willie, Mike and Joe Fuhrmann, respectively. Tony Fuhrmann and Alfons Koesler Jr. of Muenster took them back by car and remained there over the Fourth of July. Several family gatherings honored the three priests while they were here.

Billy Ray Stoffels left Tuesday to return to Marine duty at Camp Pendleton, Calif., after spending a 21-day leave with his mother, Mrs. H. P. Stoffels and family. He returned by plane from Dallas. Going with him was Jerry Hoening of Muenster whose parents and sister took the two boys to the airport.

ducers Federation as the dairy member on the Texas Livestock Sanitary commission.

Another resolution instructed the board of directors to "try to get a labeling law passed in the state of Texas as soon as is possible labeling the retail container of fluid milk as to minimum percentage of butterfat. Label is to be one-half size of the trade name on every side or top where the trade name appears."

Other business included the election of C. C. Cantrell, Princeton, as president for the next year and the election of members to the Board of Directors.

Sr. Olivia Renews Old Acquaintances

A weekend of visiting former classmates and renewing old acquaintances in Muenster, Lindsay and Gainesville kept Sister M. Olivia, O.S.B., of Clarksville, Ark., busy and afforded many pleasant contacts with folks she hadn't seen in 13 years.

Sister Olivia is on a two-week vacation with her aunt, Miss Carrie Mueller in Fort Worth, formerly of Lindsay, where Sister Olivia lived at the time before she entered the convent.

She was the house guest of Mrs. Wilfred Reiter and family at Muenster who took her around to see other classmates and friends. Friday night she was honored at a supper party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spaeth at Gainesville.

Catholic Youth Club Names New Officers

Members of the Catholic Youth Club of Sacred Heart parish elected officers Thursday night when they met for a business session followed by a social in the parish park.

Miss Clara Streng heads the organization as new president. Other new officers are Miss Helen Fisher, vice president; Miss Nelda Bayer, secretary; and Larry Hennigan, treasurer. Committee chairmen are to be named later.

Other business of the meeting consisted of making plans for a swimming party on July 12. It will be held at the Gainesville pool and transportation will be provided for those who attend.

Boys of the society volunteered their services to help lay a new floor in the parish hall.

Miss Caroline Hesse, retiring president, conducted the meeting in the presence of Father Christopher, youth moderator, and Mrs. Paul Fisher, adult leader.

Afterwards there were refreshments, and dancing to recordings. A large group of young people was present.

Booklet Published To Praise Booklet On Muenster School

Another plug for Muenster and its school system is a brochure just finished by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas as a companion to the local school's original pamphlet, "A Look at your Public School."

The booklet reproduces a dozen of the letters received here praising the pamphlet as an excellent piece of public relations work. When printing the original job the publisher made several hundred sample copies to be used by its salesmen in their contacts with customers all over the nation. The second pamphlet is intended to show the effectiveness of the school brochure.

Texas Leads U.S. in Rural Electrification

By Senator Price Daniel

The Senate recently recognized the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the Rural Electrification Administration. Texas leads the nation in the number of farms served by electricity and in total miles of rural electric lines. Twenty years ago when REA began, less than three out of every 100 Texas farms had electricity. Today 90 out of every 100 farms in Texas have this service. Before REA, 11,466 farms were served by electricity in Texas. Today more than 292,000 farms are enjoying the benefits of electricity supplied by cooperatives under the REA program.

Texas electric cooperatives have repaid $31 million in principal on the loans secured through the REA, $4 million of which has been in advance of the due date. $17-1/2 million of interest has been paid the Federal government, and there are practically no delinquencies on loans and interest payments. This is an impressive record.

Locally Owned

Although the Federal Government through the REA and its loans to cooperatives plays an important role in the development of this program, the facilities of the cooperatives are owned by the persons whose homes and farms are benefited by the supply of electricity. The local owners, officers and managers of these organizations deserve great credit for their accomplishments. The program stands now as an eloquent testimonial to the good that can be accomplished through genuine cooperation between the people and their government, when the government truly serves the people and does not attempt people . . . the best possible indication of what is most needed to make Muenster people more happy with their community.

From there on the job is to attain as many as possible of the most desired improvements. In other words, that's where the work starts. And that, after all, will be nothing new to us. We've tackled a lot of civic projects in the past and put them over in grand style. From now on we'll have the extra incentive of knowing how much something is wanted before we start working on it.
