

Senator Ralph Yarborough this week sends out an appeal to rural Texans asking them to remember him as their staunch friend when they cast their votes Saturday. Stating that the population shift to cities results in less representation for farmers in the House, he says they need his representation in the Senate.

There's no doubt that the man is sincere in what he says. He wants to be known as the friend of farmers, just as he wants to be the friend of labor and civil rights and welfare groups. In fact, he wants to be the friend of anyone who has a vote, and he has spent lavishly of the taxpayer's money to buy as many votes as possible.

Yarborough is known as one of the biggest spendthrifts of Washington. His standard solution for all problems is to appropriate more federal money to make the constituent happy. He seems to have lost sight of the fact that lots of people are tired of paying for the bills he runs up. Apparently he has never stopped to think that more voters are interested in tax savings than in political handouts.

We have an odd situation in Texas. Rated as one of the more conservative states, it has one of the most liberal senators in Washington. His rating was revealed a short time ago by the ultra liberal ADA, which gave him a high score for his legislative performance. His political philosophy is mostly socialistic. He likes sharing the wealth, that is, taking your wealth and mine and spreading it among the "deprived" voters.

Well, we have a feeling that lots of farmers will think twice about Ralph's political pitch. They're more interested in good government than in political favors. They'll remember that Yarborough was not their friend when he opposed Carswell and Haynsworth and favored Fortas in the Supreme Court voting, and when he applauded the peace moratorium. They will not agree that the darling of Eastern liberals is a proper representative of conservative Texans.

A news report Monday said that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were maneuvering for naval blockade of Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, also that a number of roads leading to the city had already been cut off. That means, simply, that Reds are successfully using a method of warfare which was denied, and is still being denied, to South Vietnamese and Americans. With the city isolated and supply sources cut off, Cambodia's chances of resisting the invaders becomes very slim.

It makes one ask, what kind of silly war is this? For years our forces and the South Vietnamese could have dealt the same way with Hanoi and Hanoi. Supplies could have been cut off until the enemy offensive was completely throttled down. But the people who ran our campaign would not allow it. It was not proper for us, even though it seems to be proper for the enemy.

While this is going on President Nixon is faced with another agonizing decision. Whether to send material help to Cambodia. Without it Cambodia has little chance of survival. With it the risk is still great and there's added danger of the weapons falling into red hands. The outlook gets more gloomy every day, especially in view of the fact that we are still committed to the same old futile, no-win method of warfare.

Years ago the military men said we ought to get in or get out over there. It was plain folly to confine our effort strictly to defense, allowing the enemy to choose time, place and method of every attack. All of history told us we could not win without defeating the enemy. All of history told us that any country trying to conquer another took the chance of being conquered. Not this time however. We agreed to fight by the rule that reds may invade but may not be invaded. Why did we ever agree to such asinine conditions? Was it because of the double standard UN policy which allowed us to resist invasion but not defeat the invaders? Was it because we feared that a real effort by us would bring on a third world war?

Lady Cop Advises Students, Parents On Dope Dangers

Students and parents of Muenster heard a shocking exposure of the evils of drug addiction Tuesday in three talks sponsored by the Sacred Heart Home School Society.

The speaker was Dorris Dennis of the Garland Police Department appearing at afternoon assemblies in both schools and at a night meeting of the parents.

Her remarks were founded on actual cases encountered during her four years with the Garland police. She gave vivid descriptions of a number of persons who became mental and physical wrecks, some permanently insane at an early age, some following a life of crime to raise enough money to support the habit, some dead from overdose or complications caused by the dope.

It's a horrible life, she said, the curse a person risks in taking the first chance with any of the dope. Often the very first trial is tragic. More often it leads to repeated use and constant change to stronger dope and stronger doses. Reactions vary, she said, but one fact does not vary: people are hooked before they know it.

The speaker identified the principal drugs by name, explained the usual effect of each and also the methods of taking dope. In some cases the abuse is a mere over-dose of legitimate medicine obtainable by prescription.

She warned all to be on guard against friends who say it is harmless and urge one to try. A large percentage of those who are hooked got their start on a dare or by being an agreeable member of a party.

Her advice is don't take the chance. Keep away from it.

Primary Election Date Is Saturday

A surge of interest in county politics during the past two weeks points to the possibility of a fair turnout for Saturday's Democratic primary election.

The campaign for county clerk is somewhat cooler but no less active. Four hopefuls — Gene Shomake, Wayne West, Vernon Beeler and Frank Scoggin — are racing for the office which is being vacated by J. H. Riley.

Purcell Heads Program Of Annual Co-op Meeting

Congressman Graham Purcell, addressing an attendance of about 700 members of Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association at their annual meeting Tuesday night in Muenster High School auditorium, emphasized the financial crisis faced by rural electric co-ops across the nation and the need for rural people to support the efforts of their rural electrification program.

He said "Congress is appropriating approximately half of the capital needs of the cooperatives, and the situation may get worse in the future. The backlog of unfilled requests is expected to increase to $589 million by the end of fiscal 1970."

Purcell congratulated rural electric co-ops all over the nation for their initiative in establishing their own financial institution known as National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation. He said, hopefully the member-owned bank will be the vehicle enabling consumer-owned electric utilities to supplement REA loans, and in some cases secure all their future capital loan requirements from private, open market financing sources.

Another highlight of the meeting was the customary favorable report of Manager Mike Sloan, revealing continued increase of working capital, total sales and efficiency.

Included in his comprehensive statement were details revealing that the co-op purchased 135,450,000 kilowatt hours from Brazos Electric Power Cooperative at 7.51 mills per kilowatt, and that cost represented 79 per cent of total charges against operations.

Gross operating revenue was $1,781,510 producing a net operating margin of $328,361, which was down $17,876 from the previous year. That margin plus depreciation funds of $136,325 financed additions and improvements of $316,169, provided $55,400 in reserve for plant replacements

97 Elementary Pupils Present Space Operetta

Ninety seven pupils from grades three, four and five of Muenster Public School will appear in a delightful science-tinted operetta, "Space Saucer X-2000" next Wednesday in the Muenster High auditorium.

There will be two performances: at 1 p.m. for students and at 8 p.m. for parents and any others of the community. Admission charge at the evening show is 50 cents for children and $1.00 for adults.

The story concerns a happy accident in a science class project which brings space people to earth. The rest is about the students' efforts to convince their visitors that earth is, indeed, a wonderful place to be. There are nine leading parts, twenty secondary parts, and the remaining students sing in the chorus.

The production is under direction of class-room teachers Mrs. Carol Dyer, Mrs. Barbara Robison and Mrs. Juanita Walterscheid, and the music director, Mrs. Juanita Bright.

which concern Muenster voters. Robert Bayer is unopposed for re-election as commissioner of Precinct 4. So are Kit Carson, Anna Mae Shorter and Ruby Davis for re-election as county superintendent, district clerk and county treasurer respectively.

On the state ticket principal interest centers on the effort of Lloyd Benton Jr. to beat Ralph Yarborough for the party's nomination for the U. S. Senate. Their race has been heating as election date approaches. Another hot one is the three way contest for land commissioner, the incumbent, Jerry Sadler, being opposed by Bob Armstrong of Austin and Fred Williams of Houston.

Less exciting races are those for the offices of attorney general, railroad commissioner, a place on the State Supreme Court and one on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The Democratic primary in Muenster will be held in two boxes, as usual. For Precinct 3 voters it will be in Muenster Mill's elevator scale-house with Paul Fisher in charge. Precinct 4 voters will go to the public school, where Clive Gobble will be in charge. Election hours at both places are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Fewer than Half Of State Expected To Vote Saturday

Experts on moods of the voters think that fewer than half the 4,100,000 Texans who registered to vote will take part in the primaries, Saturday.

Precinct conventions, also slated for both parties Saturday, haven't produced a ripple of controversy.

Since there is no contest for the governorship in the Democratic primary for the first time since primaries were begun, less attention is being given to statewide races. The Texas Election Bureau is estimating that 1,800,000 Democrats will vote.

Main attention has been going to two contested races. Lloyd Bentsen Jr. of Houston is trying to oust Sen. Ralph Yarborough. State Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin and Fred Williams of Houston are trying to defeat Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

The Yarborough-Bentsen race has proceeded at a fairly cool level.

Little attention has been paid to the effort of David Brown of Sherman to defeat Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, or to the campaign by Connie Lawson of Taylor against Railroad Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey.

Lawyers are taking an active part in the two high court races. Hawthorne Phillips of Austin, Judge Matt Davis of Texarkana and Judge James G. Denton of Lubbock are seeking an open seat on the Texas Supreme Court. Judge Truman Roberts of Hamilton and Earl Smith of San Angelo are candidates for an open place on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Other statewide offices are uncontested.

Saturday's Republican primary is expected to draw about 150,000 voters. U. S. Representative George Bush of Houston is favored to win the U. S. Senate nomination over Robert Morris of Plano. It is Bush's second try for the Senate. Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls, although he was ill and unable to campaign for nearly two weeks, is favored over Roger Martin of Gainesville in the gubernatorial race. It's Egger's second race for governor.

It's Your Money

If you would like to have something really big to stew over, why not consider the federal debt, which now stands at $277 billion. If that is too overpowering, take the annual interest on the debt alone—approximately $18 billion dollars.

Suppose that we had no national debt, and that the huge sum we pay in annual interest could be put to a really constructive use.

For example, President Nixon has proposed that an additional $10 billion be spent for municipal waste treatment plants, over the next five years. If the $18 billion now going to interest were available, the entire project could be under way this year!

Stewart Udall recently said that it would take about $100 billion until the end of the century to restore the water, land and air to its natural quality. Again, if that $18 billion didn't have to go for debt charges, pollution might be controlled in a half-dozen years instead of thirty.

Well, you may say, all this is useless speculation because the debt is there—all $277 billion of it—and we have to pay the interest each year. True enough, but just stewing about the problem should show the folly of ever again having an unbalanced federal budget except in a national emergency. During the past five years alone the interest costs increased by some 70%. Isn't it about time for all of us to do more worrying and begin to apply the brakes on government spending?

Legislation Urged To Raise Tuition In State Colleges

Coordinating Board of Texas College and University System is urging legislation to boost tuition fees in senior institutions from $50 to $125 a semester.

Spokesmen said students should pay at least 25 per cent of the cost of education, and that is what the tuition fee hike would produce.

Board at the same time postponed action on a staff recommendation that it place new enrollment ceilings for the University of Texas at Austin (35,000) and for Texas A.&I. University at Kingsville (7,500).

Private and independent college spokesmen, meanwhile, called on the board for aid, including a "tuition equalization program" to place them in a better competitive position with state-supported schools.

Tuition recommendation calls for $500 a semester fee for out-of-state students. Junior college local boards would set their own tuitions but not at more than 75 per cent of senior college fees for in-district students or 90 per cent for out-of-district enrollees.

Melancholy Cry Becomes Louder

More and more, it becomes apparent that the people are beginning to realize that their freedoms have been steadily taken from them. The melancholy cry becomes louder by the day: What, citizens everywhere are asking, can we do about it?

Congressmen and senators in Washington report that protests from back home are arriving in increasingly staggering numbers. And form letters in response, flow back in equally incredible volume. America seems a jabbering, quarrelsome, disillusioned nation; disjointed and tragically disunited; its principles disfigured by a suicidal obsession to compound past errors with even worse new ones.

But what else can be expected of a permissive society which distorts its guiding principle into a rejection of the very ideals that made it great? The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare pleads for complete destruction of the people's right to choose—and he calls that freedom! The Congress continues the proposition that people ought to be guaranteed a comfortable income even though they choose not to work. And even as the nation struggles in the smothering grasp of inflation, the cry is for more of the same bad medicine that made the economy sick in the first place.

With chaos rising like a tide in schools everywhere, federal judges hand down orders which can only lead to more chaos. A so-called tax reform bill is passed by a Congress which almost unanimously acknowledges it to be a monstrosity of deceit. By political maneuvering, a bill is now being considered by a "conference committee" which, if allowed to stand, would shove the republic further towards bankruptcy.

The madness is designed—it has always been designed—to place people under the stern and direct control of a centralized government, a government which would allow no individual rights, no individual judgments—a government already under boasting control of political pressure groups.

Richard Nixon may be the last President to win election without courting and winning the favors of these special-interest groups. If so, history will record that he need not have been the last. He was elected because the majority wanted a change, an abrupt change. But that same majority failed to give him a Congress to implement such a change.

So the American scene, in the beginning days of the Decade of the Seventies, is one of frustration and hypocrisy.

Hundreds of thousands of young Americans are on the other side of the world fighting in an undeclared war that could have been won long ago, but which the nation never intended to win. Back home, there are plots to undermine the strength and morale of those abroad, who have been asked to risk their lives for their country.

Northern senators, eager to heap unjust laws upon the South, object when it is proposed that the same laws be made applicable to their own states. Yet these senators dare to talk about "oppression" and "discrimination."

Vulgarity and immorality are on the increase—in the movies which are described as "art," in books which are called "literature," and among people who regard themselves as "relevant." The drive is on to legalize marijuana, but to outlaw worship of God. Police are vilified, and criminals glorified. Life has become one great credit-card frolic.

It is a portentous way to begin a decade, but it is the way that America has chosen—if not by choice, then by apathy and neglect.

Men cry: What can we do about it? The answer is not easy, nor will the solution be quick. But if, somehow, the nation could look beyond the moment—then there could be understanding that duty and honor and faith demand a national rededication to truth. There was a Man long ago who counseled that truth would make us free. It was only when America forgot it that she fell into despair.

Joan Fisher and Nicholas Demshock Say Vows at Mass

Sacred Heart Church was the scene of the marriage Saturday, April 25, of Miss Joan Fisher and Nicholas Demshock who pledged vows in a double ring ceremony at Nuptial Mass celebrated by the bride's uncle, Father Harry Fisher of Fort Worth.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher of Muenster and Mrs. Mary Demshock of Bethlehem, Pa.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white alaskine, the Empire bodice covered with daisy design lace which also formed the long bishop sleeves. Her full length veil of illusion was edged in a daisy chain and her flowers were a yellow-throated white orchid, carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Sally Bowser of Irving attended as maid of honor and Miss Janice Fisher was her sister's bridesmaid. They wore powder blue alaskine floor length gowns, the hem line edged with white daisy design which was repeated on the short belled sleeves. Their headpieces were matching bows and they carried white baskets of daisies and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's attendants were Kenneth Saradin of Baltimore, Md., and the bride's brother, Robert Fisher of Texas A&M University. Two other brothers Gary and Alan Fisher ushered.

Cousins of the bride, Chuckie, Dickie, and Dannie Fisher and Steve Taylor, were Mass servers and Anthony Luke was organist.

Wedding reception and dinner were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The bride's sister Miss Doris Fisher of Dallas registered guests.

The newlyweds left by jet from Dallas for Baltimore, Md., where they will make their home in the suburb of Towson. For traveling the

Mrs. Bob Yosten, 86 Birthday Honoree

Mrs. Bob Yosten, 86 on April 21, had an all day celebration — three events in three different homes. Four generations were present at each gathering.

A dinner party was held at noon at the home of her son and daughter-in-law the Larry Yostens for family members. A supper party was an honor in the home of grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten. Mrs. Victor Hartman baked the birthday cake and little Paula Jean Yosten, a great-granddaughter, presented a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

In between, at Mrs. Yosten's home, other relatives called and helped eat birthday refreshments. Visitors included Mrs. Tony Wiesman, Mrs. Bill Terry and children, all of Gainesville and Mrs. Stan Yosten and Mrs. Paul Yosten of Fort Worth.

At 1st Communion Rite in Ft. Worth

Members of the Al Trubenbach family gathered at Fort Worth Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blythe and joined them and their children Ann and Richard in attending First Communion services for Richard in St. Peter's Church at 4 p.m. Afterward they were together for a dinner party honoring the young communicant.

Attending from Muenster with the boy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Trubenbach, were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Trubenbach and daughters Lisa, Beverly and Jean Marie. Joining them there were Mr. and Mrs. James Whitt and children Terry, Susan and Jamie of Denton.

Reception, Dinner Observe Flusches 35th Anniversary

Relatives and friends of the Conrad Flusches gathered in Decatur Saturday night to help Mr. and Mrs. Flusche celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary.

Their children were hosts for a 6 p.m. reception and dinner in the Woman's Building where a handsome tiered cake graced the main table. The cake was served by Mrs. Al Flusche and Mrs. Fate Mason of Decatur.

The honor couple's oldest granddaughters, Judy Schmidkofer of Lindsay and Kathy Flusche of Decatur, presided at the guest book in which 130 registered.

Mrs. Flusche is the former Miss Regina Neu of Lindsay, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Neu. Mr. Flusche is formerly of Muenster, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flusche. They were married in Lindsay, lived in Muenster the first year and have been residents of Decatur for 34 years. He's in the garage and service station business.

They are parents of four children, James Flusche of Decatur, Mrs. Jerry Sicking of Myra, Mrs. Joe Schmidkofer of Lindsay and Jerry Flusche, a student at NTSU, Denton. And they have 13 grandchildren. All attended the celebration.

Others were present from Decatur, Fort Worth, Dallas, Idalou, Gainesville, Lindsay, Muenster and Wichita Falls and included Mr. and Mrs. Andy Flusche of Dallas and their son Father Leon Flusche of Wichita Falls. Andy was his brother's best man in 1935. Mrs. Charles Green of California who was her sister's maid of honor was unable to attend.

Displaying anniversary gifts and taking pictures were included in the celebration.

The 35-year bride wore a costume in coral shade — the anniversary color — which was used in decorating the main table. Other tables stressed a pink decor, color used at the couple's wedding.

The legal requirement that employers not discriminate in favor of one sex over the other in filling positions, supposedly resulted in the following no discrimination ad in a western newspaper:

"Help wanted—one cow person. Applicant must be proficient in profanity to avoid inferiority complex in the presence of experts and share bunkhouse with three cowboys who seldom wash all over."

The Answer of Commissioner Earl Taylor to Statements of County Judge Wm. Carroll

Since the County Judge has singled me out for criticism in his political ad appearing in the Muenster Enterprise dated April 23, 1970, I feel it proper and right to set the record straight. He calls the County Retirement Program Commissioner "Taylor's Move".

1. The Program was discussed by the Commissioners' Court as is many other programs but such program never came to a vote by the Commissioners.

2. He doubles the figures that the County Auditor's office show that it would have cost. He says $35,000. The Auditor's office shows approximately $17,500.00

3. The figures which may be obtained from the County Auditor's office show plainly that no tax would have been necessary - yet the Judge's ad stated that it would require an 8% raise in taxes, which obviously is not true.

He brags in his ad that he supported the Muenster Library. I also supported the Muenster Library. The record will show what the Judge did.

He forgot to say what he did about adding additional Law Enforcement Officers in Cooke County as requested by the Grand Jury! Again the records will show.

He says in his ad that taxes were lowered in 1965 the year he ran for re-election 1966. The tax rate was lowered in 1965 from 84c to 80c and remained at that rate through 1967. Yet he did not tell you folks that the rate was raised back to 84c in 1968 and that it was raised again in 1969 to 88c and now is 88c.

This political ad shows that his statement is misleading about his tax record. These records and figures can be obtained at the Cooke County Auditor's office by any interested citizen. Who does he think he is fooling?

Joe Bierschenks
 Honored Sunday on 50th Anniversary

Relatives from far and near gathered Sunday in Weatherford to help Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bierschenk of Grandview, formerly of Lindsay, celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

The day's program began with Mass at 12 noon in St. Stephen Church, was followed by dinner for the family, and a reception and open house at 4 p.m. in the National Guard Armory. Children and grandchildren of the honored couple were hosts and presided at refreshment tables during the afternoon.

Mrs. Bierschenk, the former Miss Mathilda Koelzer, was married to Joe Bierschenk in Hugo, Colo., April 22, 1920. They lived in Lindsay and Weatherford before moving to Grandview about 20 years ago. They are both in good health and active on their farm with no plans for an early retirement.

They are parents of eight children, have 44 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A highlight of the gathering was having a son, Norbert Bierschenk, present. He flew over from Redding, England, for his first visit back home in 21 years.

The couple's other children are Roman of Temple, Mrs. J. W. Wright of Peaster, Alfred, Victor and Lawrence of Weatherford, Mrs. Herbert Neu of Paradise and Mrs. "Shorty" Gremminger of Hillsboro. All attended with their families.

Also present were Mrs. Bierschenk's sister and brother, Mrs. Agatha Cardinal of Fort Worth and Andy Koelzer of Sulphur, La., and Mr. Bierschenk's sisters, Mrs. Bill Neu and Mrs. John Neu of Lindsay.

Others attended from Lindsay, Muenster, Valley View, Gainesville, Pilot Point, San Antonio and a number of other cities in Texas and other states.

The old timer was asked to what he attributed his good health and long life. "When I first got married, my wife and I agreed that whenever an argument started, she'd go to the kitchen, and I'd go to the back yard until things quieted down. As a result of that agreement, I reckon I've led what you might call an outdoor life."

OPERATION TROUBLE SHOOTING—The nation's top auto mechanic students—more than 150,000 from all 50 states—are competing in the annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest. These young mechanics must find and fix several identical malfunctions deliberately placed under the hoods of new Plymouth cars. Winners in local contests are sent to Indianapolis for the National Finals at the "500" Speedway June 15-17. These talented Trouble Shooters are out to prove they have earned the title of "service technician" and that the old "greasemonkey" label no longer applies to their skilled trade.

Miss Linda Reed
Michael Tracy to
Wed in Saint Jo

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Reed of Saint Jo announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda Cheryl, to Michael Paul Tracy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tracy of Pampa, former residents of Bulcher.

The wedding is set for Saturday, June 6, in The First United Methodist Church in Saint Jo. That day will mark the 44th wedding anniversary of the bride-to-be's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Snapp, Saint Jo.

Linda is a 1966 graduate of Saint Jo High School and graduated from CCJC two years later with an AA degree in business and business machines. She lived in Kansas City, Mo. where she was employed for one year, and is now employed as keypunch operator at S.M.U., Dallas.

Mr. Tracy is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School, having secured most of his elementary and high school education in the Saint Jo Schools. He attended DeVry School of Electronics in Chicago, Illinois. He served 4 years in the Air Force, spending one year in Thailand and six months in Okinawa. He is employed by Texas Instruments in Richardson. Both young people live in Plano.

Ray Wildes Back From Flight to Countries Abroad

Souvenirs and pictures came back to Muenster with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wildes from their France, Switzerland and Holland tour.

The couple had a week's flying trip to those countries, all expenses paid, as the prize in winning a Chevrolet sales contest.

A 707 jet loaded at Dallas to take the group of wining Chevrolet dealers and wives from several states to London where they headquartered in the Grovesnor Hotel and flew out every other day to places of interest for sight-seeing.

Among the high spots of the week were Westminster Abbey, Tower of London, Big Ben and Windsor Castle in London. And Ray visited again some of the places he knew from overseas Army duty during World War II and showed his wife some of the night spots soldiers visited in London. Most of the places are still there and most of the prices are still the same.

In Paris, France, the Chevrolet group had lunch in the Eifel Tower and an evening at a night club in addition to conducted sight-seeing tours.

A stand-out attraction in Geneva, Switzerland, was an evening at the Swiss Chalet which features German foods and German songs. Swiss chocolates and cheese, and Swiss watches came in for their share of attention during the tours.

In Amsterdam, Holland, sight-seeing included a tour of a diamond factory and boat excursions on the channels. It was too early to see the tulips which were not yet in bloom.

But there were plenty of hippies headquartered in Amsterdam.

Fashion featured many maxi coats, especially on the streets of London, but there were mini fashions, too. And most of the girls wore their hair straight and long.

The tourists had five days in London flying from there to the other countries. Every day provided the group with time of their own to window shop, take movies and kodak pictures and buy souvenirs.

Attending from Muenster were Mmes. J. M. Weinzapfel, Tony Gremminger, Joe and John Fisher, George Jetzelsberger, Frank Bayer, Victor Hartman, Harold Knabe, Herbert McDaniel and Steve Moster.

Health Hints

FROM BLUE SHIELD

Glaucoma

Glaucoma, a serious eye disease which millions of Americans have without recognizing it, occurs when fluid pressure within the eyeball is markedly increased. Blindness can be prevented in most cases of glaucoma if it is discovered and subsequently controlled. Symptoms include: blurred vision, pain or an indefinite ache in one or both eyes, halos around lights and difficulty with close work despite frequent changes of glasses. Don't ignore the silent possibility of glaucoma. Have your eyes checked regularly by your physician.

Eczema

The new chemicals which simplify homemakers' cleaning chores may also irritate the hands that do the cleaning. Detergents, polishes, floor waxes, and disinfectants can cause eczema, a common skin condition. Intense itching on the back or sides of the fingers is one of the first symptoms along with tiny scattered water blisters. Damaged skin becomes dry, scaly, inflamed and painful, eventually covered by a crust. To relieve itching, hands should be soaked in cool water and allowed to dry by letting the water evaporate. To promote healing protect your hands with "cotton-lined" plastic or rubber gloves when working with soap or detergents and resist the temptation to apply cream, lotions or salves.

Don't Drink The Water

When rediscovering the outdoors this Spring, don't trust any surface water for drinking. All water sources should be considered polluted. Among the diseases which are spread by contaminated water are typhoid and paratyphoid fevers, cholera and dysentery. Bring along your own drinking water on all your future outings.

Gas heating: The beginning of gas cooling.

If you have central gas heating, you can buy central gas cooling. For less money than you might think. You already have a furnace blower and, probably, adequate ductwork. So there's a lot less to install.

Head Restraint Is Misunderstood Says Safety Assn.

Of the many safety features incorporated in late model automobiles, apparently the most misunderstood and misused is the head restraint.

According to the Texas Safety Association, people seem to have got off on the wrong foot by thinking of the safety devices as "head rests."

TSA General Manager Lloyd F. Palmer, releasing the results of a recent informal visual survey, warned motorists, "Head restraints are not built or designed for use as a pillow."

"They are designed to prevent the head and neck from being thrown backward during rear-end collisions to minimize whiplash-caused injuries. In order to do this," Palmer continued, "head restraints should be adjusted so that they are centered at the back of the head - not at the neck." Slow-motion studies of rear-end crash situations show that the head can be thrown backward in as much as a 90 degree angle, causing severe injury. The head restraint, when adjusted properly, can reduce such injuries, commonly called whiplash.

The Texas Safety Association says the recent survey showed a large proportion of Texas motorists are leaving the head restraint adjusted where it would strike the back of the neck if a rear-end collision were to occur. Leaving the restraint in that position, said the statewide safety group, could result in a major injury. The head restraints became standard equipment on 1969 model automobiles.

Be Cautious About Getting a Suntan

Each year in Texas a large number of persons are hospitalized as a result of severe sunburn.

The Texas Safety Association warns that overexposure to the sun can result in painful first, second, and even third degree burns.

Sunburn usually is a minor problem that does not require hospitalization, says the statewide safety group, but the possibility of a severe and dangerous burn is very high. The safety association says the best rule to follow to prevent sunburn is to get used to the sun gradually. Start with only a few minutes at a time, increasing your exposure to the sun a little more each day.

The group warns too that sunburn can occur on a cloudy day since it is the ultra-violet rays of the sun that cause the dangers.

TSA also says that sun-worshippers should use a sun tan lotion to help screen out the sun's burning rays. If a bad burn occurs, the Texas Safety Association says, "See a physician. Get proper medical treatment and advice."

Killers on Wheels

Motor vehicles are proving a mixed blessing to America in at least two ways. They are the major poisoners of the air we breathe, and they killed 56,400 last year.

The death toll is nearly half the 116,000 killed by accidents of all kinds in 1969. The total, says the National Safety Council, keeps accidents in fourth place among the leading causes of death in the nation. Only heart disease, cancer and stroke are more deadly.

Carson Asks for Another Term as Superintendent

Your County School Superintendent, E. F. (Kit) Carson, in asking for another term of office wishes to express his appreciation for the splendid cooperation given the office in the past.

Mr. Carson has served the schools of Cooke County in an efficient and capable manner realizing that instructional leadership is one of the prime requirements of any school administrator.

Cooperation among all schools is stressed and an endeavor is made for the office to function as a service institution to the instructional personnel, as well as to the school administrators of Cooke County.

Briefly stated, the philosophy of the office is very simple. "When you find an educational need — attempt a solution and never look at it as a problem, only as an opportunity." We are interested and involved in the total manpower picture — from the pre-school child to the 65 year old adult and continuing education student.

Both myself and our staff are interested in being of assistance to both school personnel and parents in every way possible as we teach the world of work as a part of the general education, and attempt to teach true human values to our youth.

The ultimate aim and goals of our efforts being the welfare of every student in Cooke County.

Your continued support in a joint effort to solve our increased school problems and to keep our school programs active and vital is earnestly solicited.

(Pd. Pol. Ad.)

If Pioneers Had Assured Income

There would have been no America.

The immigrants (from whom all of us descended) had no income, only ambition. So they sold what little they had, borrowed the rest, and came here by miserable steerage, for a chance to work.

No job was too menial; they took it, and did it well. They didn't demand "fringe benefits" nor high wages, and if there wasn't a job they created one.

Italians who couldn't even speak the language pushed carts, weary miles a day, selling whatever they could. Irish dug ditches. Germans ran tin shops, English mined coal. People of these and many other nationalities worked so hard they didn't have time to complain—they just built this nation and their own self-respecting future.

Former Lindsayite Feted on Return To His Hometown

Norbert Bierschenk, resident of Redding, England, back for a visit for the first time in 21 years in his former hometown was honored at Lindsay Tuesday night.

Former classmates of Lindsay School and their spouses were among guests attending the covered dish supper in Lindsay Parish Hall. Relatives planned the event.

The visitor is on a two-weeks vacation making the trip to attend the golden wedding anniversary celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bierschenk of Grandview, at Weatherford Sunday.

Among guests were his brother Lawrence and family of Weatherford and a sister and family, the J. W. Wrights of Peaster. And Mrs. Catherine Prange and her granddaughter Miss Wilma Happ of Cologne, Germany, guests of Mrs. Prange's brother, Henry Henschel and family at Münster. The two left Thursday this week to return home.

Norbert Bierschenk's wife is a British girl he met while soldiering in Europe. They were married there and after his tour of duty was over returned to the states, resided in Little Rock, Ark., for three years and returned to England to stay. The couple has four children.

Those at the party also included Mr. and Mrs. Al Felderhoff of Münster. Norbert and Al saw a good deal of each other during World War II and had many events to recall. Al was with the Paratroopers, Norbert with the Gliders.

Others attended from Münster, Gainesville, Valley View and Lindsay.

Lindsay School Voters Approve Bond, Tax Hike

An election held last Saturday cleared the way for the Lindsay school district to take over ownership of the school's gym and football field, which until now have been leased from St. Peter Parish.

A vote of 179 to 115 approved a bond issue of $90,000, for purchase of the gym and athletic field, and a tax to retire the bond.

Another proposition, for a maintenance tax not to exceed $1.25 on $100 of assessed valuation, was approved 177 to 120.

Purpose of the gym and athletic field purchase is to transfer the financial burden from the parish to the district. Other school property is not affected. It will continue to be owned by the parish and leased by the district.

Purpose of increasing the maintenance tax from $1.00 to $1.25 is to meet increasing requirement of the state and rising costs due to inflation.

did not belong there if we did not intend to win. Nor do we belong there now if we do not intend to win.

The decision facing Mr. Nixon involves much more than just weapons for Cambodia's immediate need. It involves the kind of war to be fought from now on. Under present policy we may as well get out and stop prolonging the agony. Under a policy of fighting seriously for victory he'd still have to consider whether it's too late to win.

Local Volley Gals Win Champ Trophy

The Münster Independents have a specially cherished trophy from a volley tournament at Sherman last week. It's the champ trophy and it stands for wins over three hot teams.

For their opener the gals nudged Tioga in a 3-game affair. Again in semifinals they played three tough games to beat Howe. And then they slipped past Carney of Whitesboro for the top prize.

Another Münster team at Sherman was Stockmen's Feed. It beat Perrin AFB in the opener and bowed to Gunter in the next game.

Stockmen's luck was identical at Nocona this week: a win followed by a loss.

The Independents beat Field's Ranch as a starter at Nocona and will play their next game Thursday. Members of the team are Lorene Schmitz, Della Knabe, Dorothy Endres, Pauline Fleitman, Helen Hess, Frances Bayer.

Hornets are 6-0 Winners at Krum

Dan Hamric's Hornets improved their baseball standing to 2-1 in a 6-0 win at Krum Tuesday afternoon.

Errorless defensive play was the reason for their success. Hamric said the teams were about even on hits and walks, but six errors by Krum at crucial times gave Münster the 6 tallies.

Jim Endres pitched all the way, allowing two hits and four walks while fanning 13. The Krum hurler gave up two hits and six walks and fanned 8. Mark Lippe's stand-up triple and Roger Harrison's single were Münster's hits.

Three games remain on the Hornets' double round robin season. It will be Alvord here Friday, Era here Tuesday and Alvord there next week Friday.

A 12-year-old boy recently wrote to the Boston Museum of Science: "Please send me complete information on the universe. I need it by Friday."

"Boy, am I tired! I've been running around all day trying to get something for my wife." "Well, did you get any offers?"
