Cheryl Hermes and Royce Martin United in Double Ring Ceremony

In a Nuptial Mass on Saturday, August 9, Miss Cheryl Ann Hermes became the bride of Royce Dewayne Martin of Gainesville. Fr. Stephen Eckart officiated for the double ring vows in Sacred Heart Church at 5:30 in the afternoon and the groom's minister, Rev. Marvin Lancaster of Gainesville gave the readings and prayers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. William Hermes and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Martin of Gainesville.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father. She designed and sewed her own wedding dress of sheer organza in a colonial style, with heavy lace centered with narrow blue ribbon and tiny flowers enhancing the bodice, high standing collar, puffed full sleeves and cuffs. Matching lace formed a front skirt panel. A wide ruffle hemming the dress was detailed with blue ribbon and flowers in a similar manner. She wore a white hat trimmed with matching lace, blue ribbon and florets and blue streamers.

Her bridal bouquet was of white glads, blue carnations, stephanotis and babys breath. For sentiment she borrowed gloves belonging to her mother and wore "something blue" in dress and bouquet.

Attendants

The bride's friend, Diane Yosten of Muenster was maid of honor and bride's sisters, Mrs. Charles Cler and Laurie Hermes of Gainesville were bridesmaids. Another sister, Pam Hermes was flower girl. Miss Yosten and the flower girl wore baby blue crepe dresses and the bridesmaids were dressed in royal blue, designed princess style, with butterfly sleeves and turtle-neck capes in a shaded blue and orchid floral. They carried nosegays of orchid glads, white daisies, blue carnations and babys breath.

Mixed summer flowers adorned the altar.

Bill Skaggs of Gainesville, a cousin of the groom, was best man and groomsmen were Weldon Martin, groom's brother and Kyle Ward, a friend. Mass servers were bride's brothers Timmy and Glenn Hermes and cousins, Steven, Gene and Dale Hermes. Ushering guests were Gary Hermes, bride's brother and Lynn Tomplin, groom's friend.

Wedding music, vocal and guitar was furnished by Debbie Yosten, Laurie Wimmer and Mrs. Cheryl Felderhoff. Songs were "The First Time", "Twelfth of Never", "Annie's Song", "Wedding Song" and "Hail Mary". An organ and flute arrangement of "Colour My World" was played by Anthony Luke and Miss Mary Lou Fleitman as the bride entered the church.

Reception

A reception and dinner, hosted by the bride's parents, followed the church ceremony. Debbie and Denise Hermes, bride's sisters registered guests in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

On the bride's table were the four tiered wedding cake decorated with blue flowers; and candelabra held blue candles entwined with blue flowers. Sprays of English ivy and tiny bells were placed on the cloth.

Another table, holding the punch service, was covered with lace over blue, and also held an arrangement of flowers in three shades of blue. Mrs. Dale Hofbauer, Miss Sylvia Hofbauer and Miss Darla Garner of Gainesville served punch. Mrs. Henry Spaeth baked and cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Weldon Martin of Gainesville and Miss Sandy Dittfurth served the cake.

Guests tables were decorated with navy blue, pale blue and orchid flowers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hermes chose a formal dress and jacket of aqua with embroidered collar and cuffs in two shades of green. The groom's mother wore a peach formal and both had corsages of glads and stephanotis.

After a wedding trip to Eureka Springs and Hot Springs, the couple will be at home in Gainesville.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Jr. Elite. The groom graduated from Gainesville High in 1972 and is an employee of Trinity Industries.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

A shower was given by Diane Yosten and Mrs. Charles Cler at the TP&L Building on Friday, August 1. The rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's parents, at Hickory House, Gainesville, was on Tuesday, August 5.

made pole took off thru the water. She never could get it so sent Pepper in after it and he brought it in with a 17 inch catfish in tow. Not many of us have dogs that can fish also. And who says we need all that fancy fishing gear to do any good. Gladys sure doesn't, nor does Pepper.

Sometimes I wonder about all this peace and quiet of country living. Nothing peaceful about it at times and the quiet sure gets noisy on occasion. Especially when these coon hunters turn loose a bunch of yowling, baying and barking hounds close to your residence just about the time you settled down to a much needed night's rest. We have been kept awake several nites here of late by this so-called sport. I realize they enjoy it — the men, women and the hounds but wonder if they realize how much they disturb folks at times. I agree they do help the coon situation but couldn't they do their hunting or enjoy their sport a little early in the nite — before 11 p.m.?

35th Annual TEC Meeting Urges Political Involvement

Almost 1,000 delegates and guests took part in the association of Texas Electric Cooperatives' 35th annual membership meeting August 6-8 in Amarillo. The nominal theme was "It's Certified," referring to territorial integrity provisions of the Texas Public Utility Act. But the theme that constantly emerged throughout the meeting was the value of individual participation in politics and the possible political clout of electric cooperatives through unified effort.

Congressman Jack Hightower of Vernon set this theme in his keynote address. "We are one nation, a very complex nation of 200 million people. And it's a very complex people," he said. "All of us must work to solve our nation's problems, not just some of us."

Hightower said the nation must become more energy independent to progress in the future. He said alternate energy sources must be found, but in the meantime, domestic oil and natural gas production must be encouraged by allowing them to receive equitable prices.

Outgoing TEC President Charles W. Stenholm of Stamford continued with the political theme by encouraging each person to become politically involved. He also urged encouraging members to become politically involved to help rural causes. "Rural people tend to shy away from politics because they think it is dirty," Stenholm observed. "Most of it isn't, but some has become so because when all of the good people wouldn't have anything to do with politics, some bad people moved in. The bad people are there only because good people wouldn't become involved."

J. R. Cobb of Austin, TEC general manager, said that a cooperative cannot survive on its own. "We must work together to survive. What happens to any one cooperative will have an effect on all other cooperatives. Now it must be 'one for all, and all for one,'" he said.

One of the meeting highlights was a speech by L. A. Linsted of Keller, a cooperative member who got so mad at his cooperative that he became politically involved. Linsted was a member of a consumer group formed last winter to do something about skyrocketing electric bills. Before organizing, few members of the group had taken part in their cooperative or politics, but their high bills provided a sudden reason to do so.

Linsted said his group found the problem didn't lie with the co-op or its wholesale power supplier, but with high natural gas prices, and that they could resolve their problem better by working with their co-op than against it.

Linsted concluded that today the successful co-op will be the one that is an open operation, and one that encourages its members to take part in it.

REA Administrator David A. Hamil of Washington, DC, said that while most rural areas in Texas now have power available, rural electrification has not ended. "The job is not done," he said. "We will be improving the existing service for a long time to come, even in the most sparsely settled areas."

SH School Repeats Policy on Free and Low Price Meals

The program of free and reduced price lunches for children of needy families is in effect again at Sacred Heart School, according to an announcement this week by Father Placidus Eckart, superintendent.

Notice of the program along with a scale of family income criteria in relation to size of family has been sent with students to their parents. Families which can qualify under that scale are invited to apply for the free or reduced price lunches for their children.

Provisions are made also in the case of families which have incomes above those specified on the scale but face higher than normal expenses. Such exceptions are high medical bills, shelter cost in excess of 30 per cent of income, special educational expense of a handicapped child, and casualty or disaster losses.

People who can qualify are invited to fill out application forms which were sent with the information sheets and send them to the principals, Sister John or Sister Georgia, who will review applications and determine eligibility. If a person is not pleased with the ruling it may be referred to Father Placidus for further consideration.

Information received on an application form and the identity of children receiving the program's benefits will be kept confidential. Also no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex or national origin.

FORESTBURG: Some 125 people attended the Forestburg Homecoming Sunday, August 10. Vera Mae McGee reports that everyone present really had a wonderful time. Gene Lanier furnished watermelons and cantaloupes for the group. This was a treat for everyone.

Might as well mention here that the Uz Community will have its annual Homecoming Saturday, August 30. Wynona Riddles says visiting will start at noon and just when they will start the eating she doesn't know.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickey McAllister are the proud parents of a baby boy named Kelly Lynn. Young Kelly bowed in Monday, August 11 at the Bowie hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covington and Kelly's great-grandmother is Mrs. Bertha Covington.

Lee resumed her teaching duties and next Monday he will lose his little Indians, Janice and Jeff.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jackson motored to Decatur late Friday p.m., August 15 to spend the weekend with their son Bill and wife. On Saturday Laura Belle and Eva Jo were off to Denton to do some shopping while Ted and Bill got in some fishing.

Last Tuesday we Denhams joined the Jacksons at the Hudspeth Lake for a day of fishing and picnicking. Found out Laura Belle still believes in the "mud-bath" beauty treatment as she took a tumble into the lake and came out covered with mud. Must say she took it all in stride—came out laughing.

Nuptial Ceremony Saturday Unites Phyllis Bindel and Lionel Garcia

Miss Phyllis Marie Bindel of Muenster and Lionel David Garcia of Garland were married here Saturday, August 9 at 3 p.m., during a Mass in Sacred Heart Church, celebrated by the bride's uncle, Msgr. Hubert Neu of St. Matthew's Parish, Arlington.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bindel and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Garcia of San Antonio.

The bride's father presented her for marriage before an altar holding candles and summer arrangements of orchid cushion mums, yellow roses, blue killian daisies, yellow daisies and white glads.

She was wearing a dress designed and created by her mother, made of bride-are satin with organza over-skirt. The sheer high neck of the fitted bodice was outlined with a ring of pearl embroidered lace and appliques of matching lace simulated a sweetheart neckline. Pearl buttons closed the wide cuffs of bishop sleeves which also carried the delicate tracery of lace applique. The skirt extended into a chapel length train and scalloped lace flowed along two side panels and encircled the hemline.

Her shoulder length veil, falling in three tiers from a pearl encrusted Juliet cap was of sheer illusion edged in lace and she carried a colonial cluster of yellow roses, white daisies, blue starburst mums, stephanotis and gypsophilla with blue and white streamers tied in lovers knots.

Attendants
 Mrs. Malcolm Dennis of San Antonio was her sister's matron of honor and the groom's sister Margo Garcia of San Antonio, and bride's friends, Susan Turner and Jerrie Murphy, both of Austin were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length floral polyester knit dresses with U-neckline and cape sleeves. Their yellow picture hats had matching ribbon streamers and they carried single, long-stemmed yellow roses.

Al Garcia of Irving was his brother's best man and groomsmen were groom's friend, Ron Lovell of San Antonio, bride's brother-in-law Malcolm Dennis and bride's brother Guy Bindel.

Brian Bindel was mass server and ushers were Tim Bindel, of the U. S. Navy and Ben Bindel, both bride's brothers.

Mary Lou Kralicke and Kimber Cox, both of Denton provided wedding music. Songs were "Morning Has Broken", "Day by Day", "Where Charity and Love Prevail" and "Follow Me."

Reception

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception and supper in the Sacred Heart Community Center after the church service. Gloria Stoffels of Ardmore registered 150 guests who were served a catered meal. The three tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid, was served by Carla Hoenig, Sandra Bayer and Marilyn Neu. Others in the house party were Mary Louise Malloy of Houston and Kathy Jackson of Bay City, both college friends of the bride, and Mrs. Joyce Bengfort.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Garland.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and attends St. Edward's University in Austin where she will receive her degree in psychology and management, in December. The groom graduated from Holmes High School and San Antonio College, San Antonio and is parts manager at Bob Knight Toyota in Garland.

The rehearsal party was held in the Wilfred Bindel home for 35 friends and the attendants and the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Among pre-nuptial parties was a wedding luncheon given Friday, May 16, by Kathy Jackson, Mary Louise Malloy, Susan Turner and Jerrie Murphy in Austin with college friends of the bride-elect as guests. Hostesses presented the honoree a white carnation corsage.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Jerri Murphy and Susan Taylor of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bindel of Carrollton; Gloria Stoffels of Ardmore; Tim Dooley of Fredericksburg; Rich Lieveense of LaFeria. Mike Armstrong of Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Koerner and daughter and Mary Lou Kralicke and Kimber Cox of Denton; Mr. and Mrs. William Koerner and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Koerner of Pilot Point; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Newton and Chad of Fort Worth; Msgr. Hubert J. Neu of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Balken, Mrs. Ames Azola, Mrs. Guadalupe Vasquez, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garcia, Dolly Garcia, David Lovell, Sue Balmon and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Lovell all of San Antonio; Frances Hess of Sherman; Vivian Yosten of Sulphur Springs; William Thacka of Denison.

Catholic Peoples In Texas History

by Sister Mary John Seyler
 Our rich heritage offers us a wealth of information and inspiration. During our Bicentennial Celebration it is to our benefit to become a little better acquainted with our own magnificent growth and religious development in Texas. Of course, any Junior High Student who has just completed his study of Texas History can tell us many interesting things about Texas, but there is a great deal to learn about the courageous peoples who settled in Texas and helped her grow, not only to greatness in wealth, government, industry and development of her natural resources, but — of great importance — to grow spiritually. In the installments that follow will be given some very brief accounts of the heroic beginnings and contributions to our State by several Catholic Peoples.

SPANISH-MEXICAN

The first pages of Texas History record the founding of such centers of Spanish-Mexican culture as San Antonio, Victoria, El Paso, Brownsville and Del Rio.

From these centers colonization spread throughout the vast region and soon numerous Mexican settlements dotted the almost limitless plains.

Outstanding in this movement was the settlement in San Antonio of the Canary Islanders. This colony constituted the first permanent, stable group of residents within the borders of Texas. Since that early date Spanish-Mexican influence has lent charm and picturesqueness to the history of the Alamo City. Its Missions, reflecting the art and architecture of Spain, are substantial witnesses to the zeal of the early Franciscan Fathers — deeply religious and highly cultured Knights of Christ — who labored to bring to the Indians an appreciation of learning as well as a knowledge of their Holy Religion.

While most credit is due to the Catholic Missionary Priests for the early colonization of Texas, recognition must be taken of those stalwart pioneers whose settlements long pre-existed the Anglo-American colonies. Martin deLeon located a colony in 1824 in Victoria.

One of the most precious gifts Spain gave her colonies was a knowledge and love of the teachings of the Catholic Church. The Franciscan Fathers labored faithfully to lay the foundations of our glorious state. However, these missionaries were not privileged to share in the happiness of Texas gaining her independence in 1836. Prior to that time they had been forced by the Secularization Laws to abandon the Missions that had been erected at such great cost in labor, and material and moral courage. In the years that followed, the Spanish-Mexican population of Texas found it hard to persevere in their Faith and, lacking directors who understood their language and customs, fell prey to misunderstanding and in many places suffered to the extent of being unable to practice their religion. It was not until 1924, at the request of Bishop C. E. Byrne, Bishop of Galveston, that the Sons of St. Francis again took up their labors in Texas.

However, the seed planted by the early missionaries had struck deep roots and the priests, both secular and religious, who in the interval had come to carry on the work so well begun, found that the fruit still remained in the lively faith and ready response of the people. The Spanish-Mexican People have preserved a deep and profound love of the Mother of God under the title of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

This is a gas meter. It's fairly easy to read and check to see if you're using natural gas wisely. There are five dials on the meter face. The smallest dial is a test dial . . . and it's not included in the actual reading. The remaining four dials are divided into ten segments, using the number the hand has just passed for the reading. When a hand is between numbers, always use the smaller number. The reading for the meter pictured below would be 3 4 5 7. The last number is in "tenths," so your final reading should be 345.7 THOUSAND CUBIC FEET. It's our intention to read every accessible gas meter every month on or about the same day. You may want to informally check your natural gas usage each month to see how much you can save. Practicing conservation in your home is a good way to get the most efficient use of nature's cleanest, most desirable energy source — natural gas. If your monthly home meter readings remain low, you're conserving natural gas. And today . . . that's the name of the game!

SOME GOOD NEWS from your electric power people.

This is a message for all of those people who long for some good news. It's from your electric power people, Texas Power & Light Company. Yes, we know that the news we've been sending your way has been anything but good. Shortages and spiraling costs of the fuels needed to generate electricity. High interest rates on the money we must borrow. Increasing costs of construction, materials, equipment and all of the other things necessary to produce and supply electric power. And all of these problems have brought about the inevitable... asking our customers to pay more for the electricity they use. But wait, there is some good news. We're working in every possible way to prevent the "blackouts" and "brownouts" which have occurred in some parts of the nation. We placed a large generating unit in operation late last year and another in May of this year. Six additional generating units, all to be powered with readily available lignite coal, are under construction and four other units are in the planning stages. We've begun construction, along with two other companies, of a nuclear-fueled generating plant. The first of two generating units is scheduled to be placed in operation in late 1980 and the second in 1982. We've built and are continuing to build, the lines, substations and other facilities needed to supply the power produced by all of these plants. We're filling massive storage tanks with more than 80 million gallons of fuel oil for use when natural gas supplies are curtailed. We're participating in the support of research programs to find ways to produce power more efficiently and more economically by conventional methods and to develop new methods. Texas Power & Light provides electric service to more than half a million homes, farms, businesses, industries and institutions throughout North, Central and East Texas. We're working to keep this service adequate and dependable, but it's costing more all the time to do the job.

Niece Christened By Father Schoech

Christa Rose, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cooley of Irving, was baptized Tuesday evening, August 12, by her uncle, Fr. Frowin Schoech O.S.B., in the Chapel of the University of Dallas.

Her godparents are an aunt, Mrs. Peter Wall of Dallas and an uncle Glen Schoech of Commerce. Christa Rose wore a dress made 70 years ago by her late great-grandmother Mrs. George Spaeth and worn by her children and grandchildren. The baby's grandmother, Mrs. Andy Schoech sewed a tiny christening cap, using a handkerchief made by the late Mrs. I. A. Schoech, another great-grandmother.

On Saturday, August 16, Christa Rose's father, James Cooley was baptized in Christ the King Church by Fr. Zimmerman.

Attending the baby's baptism were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cooley of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schoech of Commerce, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wall of Dallas and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Schoech. They were all guests of the James Cooleys who served refreshments in their home following the church service.

Karen Sicking Marries Dallas Man In Nuptial Ceremony at SH Church

In a Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church during the late afternoon of Saturday, August 16, Miss Karen Sicking became the bride of Bret Wiggins of Dallas. Fr. Placidus Eckart officiated for the ceremony and exchange of vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sicking of Muenster and Mr and Mrs. Joe Wiggins of Dallas.

The bride was presented by her father before an altar decorated with summer arrangements of yellow gladioli, carnations and daisy mums. For her wedding she chose a white jersey formal gown of empire design, with long sleeves finished with lace edged flared cuffs. Gathers hugged the bodice in a 1930's fashion and slipped around the waist to add softness to the full skirt which blended into a flowing train. Venice lace enhanced the drop back neckline, empire waist and flared cuffs. Beauty was added to the headpiece and floor length veil by Venice lace. The bride carried a cascade of yellow glads, gold carnations, stephanotis and daisy breath and streamers of gold, white and green. In keeping with tradition she had a penny borrowed from a friend and wore a blue garter.

Attendants
Bridal attendants were her three sisters, Mrs. Annette Rowton, matron of honor, from Corpus Christi and bridesmaids Mrs. Sharlene Depold of Wharton, Mrs. Carol Fights of Denton and a friend Mrs. Joni Sturm of Gainesville. They were identically dressed in formals of gold jersey, with bodice designed with shoe string straps and a sheer jacket of daisy print, long sleeved and tied at the empire waist. They wore daisy mums in their hair and carried gold daisies and baby's breath on green lace.

Bill Wright, a friend of the couple from Denton was best man and groomsmen were Bruce Wiggins of Dallas, groom's brother and David Worm and Rene Urbani, friends of the couple, from Dallas. Ushers were Kevin Sicking of Houston and Brian Wiggins of Dallas, both brothers of the couple.

Wedding music was given by Anthony Luke, organist, and the groom's father was vocalist, singing "Until the Twelfth of Never" "Colour My World" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Reception
Following the church service, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception and dinner in the Community Center.

Linda Fisher of Dallas and Mrs. Peggy Gobble of Muenster were at the guest book. Music for dancing was provided by "Music Unlimited" of Grand Prairie.

VA Announces Changes in GI Student Benefit Bill

All institutions of higher education who enroll veterans as students receiving G. I. bill benefits have received some new guidelines from the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco.

Every veteran who enrolls in an institution of higher education and applies for G. I. bill benefits may only be paid for the pursuit of courses which lead to a predetermined and identified educational, professional, or vocational objective.

Upon initial enrollment, each veteran must state the objective which is sought through his proposed program of education. In other words, he must designate a major plan of study. Additionally, benefits may not be authorized for any course which does not lead to this objective. Once a veteran obtains this objective (completes all course work identified on his degree plan by college officials) benefits are no longer authorized.

Every institution of higher education has been directed by the regional office to check their records to see that veterans are not being allowed to continue and receive G. I. bill benefits after their predetermined objective has been reached. Any institution failing to follow this procedure will be held liable for benefits paid to a veteran and may in fact be required to reimburse the veteran's administration accordingly.

The G. I. bill does allow a student veteran to change his program of education. These changes are limited by law. After one change, other changes must be approved by a VA counselor directly employed by the veterans administration, not one employed by an institution of higher education assigned to work with student veterans. After the second change of program, additional changes may only be authorized if necessitated by circumstances beyond the control of the student veteran.

Because of the above changes directed by the Veterans Administration, all student veterans at Cooke County College are now being required to see a member of the counseling staff to form a degree plan. All required and elective courses must be listed on this degree plan. One copy of the degree plan is kept by the counseling staff, and one copy is given to the student veteran. Under no circumstances is a student veteran to enroll in any course not on his degree plan unless it is cleared in advance with the Veteran's Adviser or his designated counselor colleague.

All student veterans are required to attend classes under the guidelines of the college catalog, page 35. Additionally, all student veterans are required to maintain a minimum academic standing as stated in the college catalog, page 34. Student veterans with excessive absences or those not making satisfactory academic progress in completing courses for achieving their stated objective will be reported by the college veteran's adviser to the regional office. Any student veteran who terminates a course or terminates his school work by totally withdrawing from school will be reported to the regional office within 10 to 30 days as required by law.

Cystic Fibrosis Promotes "Kiss Your Baby Week"

Mothers who participate in "Kiss Your Baby Week" beginning Sunday, August 24, may be giving their children the kiss of life.

One of the signs of cystic fibrosis — the most serious lung-damaging disease — is a salty taste of the skin. That's why the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is asking mothers to "Kiss Your Baby" with very special attention.

If a mother does taste salt on her baby, she should see the doctor and make sure the baby has a test for CF. Early diagnosis and immediate treatment are vital to the child's life.

Additional signs of cystic fibrosis — and other lung-damaging diseases are: recurrent wheezing; persistent coughing with excessive mucus; pneumonia more than once; excessive appetite but poor weight gain; clubbing (enlargement of fingertips); persistent bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

There is no wholly satisfactory substitute for brains, but silence does pretty well.

The age of discretion is when you learn that nothing is as important as you once thought it was.

there has been controversy over the Warren report of the JFK death. The widespread belief is that the complete story was not told. Why? Is it perhaps because someone discovered that Cuba or Russia, or the two of them in cahoots, were actually responsible for shooting the president. If so, did our government's top men decide we should not know this kind of sordid history? And did they also reason that this kind of public knowledge would make our government look bad for its efforts to get along with the Reds?

Too frequently we get the idea that future Americans will be sad and ashamed because of historical bits that have been suppressed.

Porcupines have some 240 quills to the square inch — about 38,000 quills on their bodies. They can't throw their quills, but they can lash out with their tails at incredible speed and accuracy. Once the quills from the tail are imbedded into the flesh of a foe they are there to stay, and they break loose from the porcupine.
