VOLUME XXXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 JULY 21, 1972

NUMBER 35

Now that Senator George McGovern has been officially declared the Democratic nominee in the presidential race, one wonders whether the party is really serious about the campaign or whether McGovern was chosen to head an effort which is already conceded as a lost cause. Reason tells us that a better bet in the coming contest is a moderate liberal — one who has the support of radicals and liberals but can also appeal to the middle-of-the-road folks.

That's not how it is this time. McGovern supporters are the ultra liberals. He's so far out that even the moderate liberals will hesitate to go along with him. It's almost as if the party strategists had decided that the election is written off as a loss anyway, so they'll let McGovern be the guy to go under with it. It just seems that men like Kennedy, Humphrey and Muskie let the nomination slip away too easy, as if they are waiting for a more favorable political climate in 1976.

Regardless how the race comes out, we like to think that McGovern is performing at least one political service to the nation. His effort likely will become the most effective force of a generation toward identifying the Democratic party as liberal and the Republican party as conservative. And if so, we'll be grateful to him. We're mighty tired of the present arrangement which has liberals and conservatives under both banners.

Appraising McGovern's chances, one wonders first about healing party wounds from last week's convention fights. How will he win the support of Mayor Daley or Governor Wallace, both of whom were kicked in the teeth? How will he get the support of groups who were pushed around as the convention was being railroaded? Some have said that McGovern had a wonderfully organized machine to take charge of the convention as it did, but will it be equally good at healing party wounds?

An even greater difficulty will be in opposing the success of President Nixon's program. Despite the claim that he can outdo Nixon in getting out of Vietnam, he will not impress the millions who like the speed of US withdrawal and the improving probability of ending with a better settlement than was ever expected. Nixon is beginning to make us feel like old time Americans, who used to win wars, and lots of people like the idea.

So, it seems that the Democratic nominee faces a strong disadvantage, in at least three respects. He's so far left that even a moderate liberal feels closer to Nixon. He has to overcome the ill effects of bitter convention fighting. And he has to contend with the increasing success of Nixon methods in southeast Asia.

Along with all that McGovern did further damage to his cause by his campaign oratory, that is, in the primary speeches. As told by a fellow-Democrat, Senator Henry Jackson, "although McGovern has adopted the extremist rhetoric and positions of the discredited campus radicals, most Americans are unaware of how far out he has gone." It's hard to imagine how a person can seek the country's No. 1 job and still hold opinions that clash with national welfare.

He proposes drastic cuts in the defense program. Ignoring the fact that USSR already leads us in several categories of military power, he wants to reduce the armed service forces and reduce our stockpile of vital weapons. His policy is sad economically as well as militarily. Fewer men in uniform and on defense jobs means more who are looking for work, and inevitably an increase of people on welfare. McGovern, the favorite of the self-termed poor and minorities, also proposes bigger handouts — up to $6,500 guaranteed income. This combination of larger welfare rolls with increased benefits to all would require a great deal more money than McGovern can hope to save by cuts in defense spending. Furthermore, if given the opportunity to decide whether funds should be spent on welfare or national security, we think more people would prefer security.

Another issue on which the nominee has gone far astray is the busing of school children to achieve racial balance. The man ignores good sense as (Continued on Page 8)

Lonnie Hellman Gets Lone Star Farmer Degree

The highest honor on the state level of the Future Farmers of America was awarded to Lonnie Hellman at the state FFA convention in Dallas last week.

Lonnie received the Lone Star Farmer degree which is based on demonstrated leadership and outstanding program of FFA activity. Normally the honor is awarded to about two per cent of the membership. He was one of 70 from Area 5 which includes over 100 chapters in North Texas. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hellman, he will be a senior at MHS next year.

Others at the convention Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week were the chapter advisor Edgar Dyer, and voting delegates Dan Sicking and Lyle Klement.

Elected to head the organization next year were Frederick McClure of San Augustine as president, State sweetheart for the year will be Phyllis Anne Rouse of Weimar.

Both Leagues of Girls Softball Have Co-Champs

Both of the local girls softball leagues ended their seasons with a tie for the top spot honor and an agreement to let it stay that way. Following the last games last Thursday coaches of the teams concerned discussed play-offs and decided to let two teams share the co-champ title and avoid the bitter disappointment to one of them following the showdown game.

In the senior league the Owls had a big night rolling over the loop leading Hawks by a convincing count of 17-7. The result was that both came through with a season record of 5-3-0. The Eagles got third place with a final standing of 2-6-0.

In the junior division the Larks got their badly needed win over the Cardinals to catch up with the Jays who finished their schedule the previous night with a record of 5-1-0. The score was Larks 12, Cards, 9.

Final standing of the younger teams as the season ends are Jays and Larks each 5-1-0. The Cardinals are 2-4-0 and the Orioles are 0-6-0.

124 Get Awards In First Week of Swim Classes

Badges and pins of promotion were awarded last Saturday to 124 students of this year's swimming classes, according to Mrs. Gerry Sangster, recorder.

Thirteen of those were given to senior life savers and ten to junior life savers, and the remaining 101 were given to the several stages from beginner to advanced swimmer.

Total enrollment for the two weeks has been reported at 317, a slight drop from last week's estimate of more than 320. Attendance last week was 167 in swimming plus 23 in life saving. This week there are 127 in swimming.

The classes are directed by Mrs. Robert Lewis of the Cooke County Red Cross Chapter, who has a rating of Water Safety Instructor. She is assisted by ten who also have the WSI rating and ten who have the senior life saving rating.

Nuns Celebrate Golden Jubilees At Jonesboro

Members of the Knauf and Haverkamp families have returned from Jonesboro, Ark., where they witnessed the golden jubilee celebrations of Sister Agatha Knauf and Sister Anselma Haverkamp who entered the convent from Muenster 50 years ago.

Vows made a half century ago by the two were renewed at Mass in the chapel of Holy Angels Convent with Bishop Fletcher officiating. A reception and dinner followed.

At Mass the offertory gifts were presented by J. J. Haverkamp, brother of Sister Anselma and Mrs. Herman Swirczynski, sister of Sister Agatha.

Among those at the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp who drove with their son-in-law and daughter the Willard Zimmerers and daughters Karen and Brenda of Dallas, the Frank Haverkamps Sr., the Frank Haverkamps Jr. and daughter of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Pilot Point and their daughter and husband, also of Pilot Point, Mr. and Mrs. John Caughey and family of Peoria, Ill., all relatives of Sister Anselma.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Knauf and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swirczynski, the latter couple joined at Oklahoma City by their son Brother Gerald and at Pochontas, Ark., by their daughter Sister Monica, relatives of Sister Agatha.

Sister Monica accompanied her parents to Muenster for a two-week vacation. Also returning with them was Sister Helen for a visit with her parents, the Joe Swirczynskis.

Sister Anselma accompanied the Caughey family to Muenster for a visit with her sisters and brothers for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp and the Willard Zimmerers and daughters enjoyed a visit with Willard's aunt, Sister Agnes Voth, who toured them through St. Bernard's Hospital. They also visited with other nuns at the convent including Sister Bertha.

From Jonesboro the Zimmerers and J. J. Haverkamps went to Eureka Springs where they attended the Passion Play on Mount Oberammergau and visited Magnetic Mountain to view Christ of the Ozarks statue. They also toured the city's church which is entered through the bell tower. It's built on the side of a steep hill. From there they went to Tulsa to visit the Leroy Wiesmans on their way home.

In addition to jubilee celebrations, other events on July 11 were a farewell tribute to Bishop Fletcher who is retiring and ground breaking ceremonies at which he officiated for the Benedictine Sisters new convent at Jonesboro. The present convent has been sold to St. Bernard's Hospital for expansion.

Paper Drive Saturday
SHH seniors will conduct a scrap paper drive Saturday, July 22, beginning at 9 a.m. Persons with paper to give are asked to have it boxed or corded and out at the curb for quick pick up. Persons unable to get their paper out are asked to call 759-4457.

Bloodmobile Will Be Here August 2

Another deposit in the community blood bank has been booked for Wednesday, August 2, and area donors are urged to mark the date on their calendars.

David Bright, administrator of Muenster Hospital, announced this week that the bloodmobile from the Red Cross Blood Center of Wichita Falls will be set up to receive donations in the K of C Hall from 3 to 6:15 p.m.

Again donors are urged to make appointments, in order to save their own time as well as that of the bloodmobile staff. Appointments have a tendency to level off the rushes and slack time. The appointments can be made by calling the hospital.

Quota for the visit again is 80 units, which is based on the normal need of the community. Making allowance for rejections because of physical condition or medical history, about 100 volunteers will be needed to meet the quota.

The community doubtless recalls that the time since the last visit (May 17) is considerably less than the customary six months. The reason, as explained by Mr. Bright, is that this is the season of lesser demand which can be supplied by the lower quota communities — and Muenster is one of those. This visit is the beginning of a new schedule reaching here in August and February.

New Movie Shows Roadside Beauties Of Texas Highway

A brand new, colorful movie on the beauties of Texas has just been released by the Texas Highway Department, and is available for club, school and television showings.

Premiere recently at the 5th annual meeting of the Beautify Texas Council, the half-hour film explores the 40-year history of roadside beauty in Texas. It points out that Texas was the nation's first highway department to demonstrate environmental concern along with engineering specifications. Texas was first, too, in the now national concept of roadside parks.

Film audiences are treated to views of miles of wild flowers, blossoming trees, shrubs, and cacti. The movie cites the department's role as the nation's largest landscape gardener, with some 900,000 acres of highway right-of-way under perpetual care.

In 16mm sound and color, the new film is a lavish look at beauty along the diverse roadsides of Texas. The film is appropriately titled "Beautify Texas." Prints may be borrowed from the Texas Highway Department, Travel & Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin 78763.

Center Wins Title, Will Play Stars Of Other 3 Teams

The Center has the title cinched in the senior division of boys baseball, but the runner-up honor remains to be decided in the season finale Friday night.

Endres, now leading, can stay ahead by beating Center regardless of how Co-op comes out with the Mill. However a win by Co-op will put it in front if Endres loses. Also a loss by Endres and a tie by the Co-op will tie them for second place.

Standings now are Center 7-0-1; Endres 3-2-3; Co-op 3-3-2; Mill 0-8-0.

Results last week were Co-op over Endres 7 to 4 and Center over Mill 8 to 1.

Last action for the season is the all-star game next week in which Center will take on the pick of the other three teams.

On Foreign Pilgrimage

Sister Mary Eymard, former teacher at Sacred Heart School, returned this week to Jonesboro, Ark., after a three week flying trip to Europe, a gift she refers to as "an impossible dream." The pilgrimage took a group to the Holy Land for eight days, then Rome on Sunday July 9, her 39th anniversary of entering the convent. They also visited shrines in France and were due home July 17. A post card to Muenster friends was dated July 8 and came from Greece.

He who loses his head is usually the last one to miss it.

Instructor Class Set Next Week at Swimming Pool

Another class of Red Cross swimming instruction has been added to the local summer program. It's the first of a two weeks course in water safety instruction to be given Monday through Friday of next week in the local pool. Class time will be 9 a.m. to noon.

The instructor will be Mrs. Robert Lewis of the Cooke County Red Cross Chapter. She said eligibility includes all who have passed senior life saving and will be 17 years old before next June.

Classes will consist of a review of senior life saving and improvement of swimming strokes. The second week, on methods of instruction, will be available at the Gainesville pool early in the '73 swim season.

CCJC Opens Golf Driving Range

The Cooke County Junior College Golf Driving Range, located west of the Men's Gymnasium, is open for business since Monday, July 17, at 3 p.m.

The public is invited to use this new facility for practice driving to help improve their golf game. A bucket of approximately 50 balls will cost 50c. Range hours will be from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. At the present time clubs are not available so golfers will have to bring their own clubs.

American Way Boosted in Local Youth Seminars

Something is happening nowadays to the younger generation of Muenster. Aware that they are caught in a mixed up world, they are looking for answers, and fortunately are finding some that make sense. They are acquiring some of the old time regard for American ideals like patriotism, law and order, responsibility, honesty, etc.

The movement got its start a few weeks ago when a few youngsters talked to A. V. Grant, local attorney and political observer, about confusing and frustrating conditions facing today's young people. They wondered whether the nation is going to pieces, whether it's right to draft them and send them to a foreign war, whether it's more wrong to take dope than alcohol or tobacco, etc.

Grant told them that it's true the nation has troubles, but not because it is at fault. Its system and ideals are still the world's best, but they are being fouled up by people who want something for nothing, rights but not responsibilities — and even more so by enemies who seek the downfall of our government.

He told them not to underestimate the influence that communism has in this country at this time. Reds are clever at planting the phrases that inspire disloyalty, discord and even rebellion. They encourage the dope and pornography which cause physical and mental harm. They agitate social and industrial discord.

Grant further stated that the establishment is not the monster that it's pictured by the radicals. It is the system which preserved our heritage while improving on it, giving us the world's highest standard of living.

The young people liked what they heard, and asked whether they could have another session, and bring some friends. Then came a third and fourth meeting, with kids getting better posted on current problems and acquiring better appreciation for Americanism and Christianity. They're shaking off the self pity and the feeling that their country is going to the dogs. They want to be involved in changing not this country but the conditions and ideas which mess up the country.

Another such session is booked for next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the TP&L building. Interested youths are invited. They're also reminded that the kind of conditions they'll live with later can be influenced by what they do now.

Council Approves Gas Rate Increase

The 7.7 per cent rate increase requested by Lone Star Gas Co. was approved by the Muenster City Council Monday night following the third reading of the ordinance. The ordinance specifies that the new rate will become effective in a month.

The council also discussed requirements of the highway beautification act, especially concerning the location of commercial signs and the

Rites Held Here Wednesday for Lena Bernauer, 83

Mrs. Lena Bernauer, 83, a former longtime resident of Muenster, died Monday at 5 p.m. in Gainesville Hospital after a four-week illness. She had resided at 708 N. Weaver Street in Gainesville since moving from Muenster.

Funeral services were held in Sacred Heart Church here Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. A grand-nephew the Rev. Jerry Mosman of Fort Worth celebrated the Mass and officiated at graveside rites in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Nick Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Bearers were nephews: Lambert Bezner, Arthur Hellman, John Klement, John Mosman, Harry Otto and Conrad Seyler.

Rosary was recited in the Miller Chapel Tuesday at 4 and at 8:15 p.m.

The former Lena Seyler was born June 1, 1889, in Marlin and was one year old when she came to Muenster with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Seyler. She married Charles J. Bernauer in Memphis, Tenn., May 2, 1916. He died in Muenster in September 1947.

Their only child, Mrs. Mary Faith Dennis died in Gainesville in December 1968.

Mrs. Bernauer was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and St. Anne's Society of Muenster.

She is survived by two brothers, John Seyler of Florida and Joe Seyler of California and a large number of nieces and nephews.

Tuggle and Wilde Will Have Playoff For Champ Title

The showdown in the junior division of kids baseball is coming Thursday night when the Tuggle and Wilde teams go for the championship. They were tied as the regular season ended Monday night.

In that evening's double header the two teams remained in a tie as both won their games. Tuggle had an easy 11-5 win over the Bank after which Wilde had to come from behind for its 17-16 decision over Greewing. The game was one of the season's best and interest ran high as Tuggle joined Greewing fans in cheering. The Greewing win would have given Tuggle the title.

Standings after the games were Wilde 6-3-0 and Tuggle 5-2-2. And the next two spots were almost tied as Greewing ended with 2-4-3 and the Bank with 2-6-1.

After Thursday's title showdown the winner will take on selections from the other three teams in the All-Star game next Monday.

Windthorst Will Celebrate 80th Birthday Aug. 5, 6

Windthorst extends a general invitation to everyone to attend its 80th birthday celebration August 5 and 6.

Among program highlights will be a parade at 5:30 p.m. Saturday followed by a barbecue supper, games and concessions and two dances. One for the oldsters on an outdoor slab and one for teens in the KC Hall.

Festivities will resume at 1 p.m. Sunday with games for all ages, booths and concession stands. Tours of St. Mary's Church will be conducted at 2 p.m. A horseshoe tournament will be held and supper will be served from 3 to 8:30 p.m. Celebrating will end with a dance on the outdoor slab for young and old.

policy adopted by many cities of having the state highway department take over the enforcement. Councilmen voted to have the state take charge also in Muenster. The act applies to objects within a specified distance of the highway which are regarded as detracting from highway beauty — such as junk yards, rubbish heaps or commercial signs.

The meeting was also scheduled as a hearing by the tax equalization board, which is made up of council members. A number of persons had been sent notice postals advising of increases or new items on their rendition and urging them to register complaints, if any, to the council. Only one person appeared.

New gas rates here since approval by the council are as follows. The minimum charge, for the first 800 cubic feet, is $1.90. The next 1200 cubic feet are charged at the rate of $1.60 per thousand, or $1.92 for the entire 1200. The next 3000 cubic feet are charged at the rate of $1.00 per thousand, making $3.00 for the entire 3000. The next 20,000 cubic feet are charged at the rate of 70 cents per thousand, amounting to $14.00 for the entire 20,000 feet. Thereafter the charge of 64.4 cents per thousand cubic feet will apply. Accordingly, the bill for 5000 cubic feet would be $6.82, for 10,000 would be $10.32, and for 25,000 would be $20.82. Whatever the bill, it is subject to a 10 per cent discount if paid promptly.

Beef Imports Will Have Little Effect On Cattle Prices

President Nixon's suspension of the beef import quotas will probably have little effect on prices received by cattlemen, according to Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University and acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Kunkel stated that recent research in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology showed that imports for the last half of this year would have to increase 20 percent over the first half to reduce choice cattle prices a penny a pound. Choice steer prices were about 38 cents per pound in the first week of July.

The 20 percent increase would amount to only one pound of hamburger per person over the next six months.

The greatest effect of the imports will be on manufacturing beef — the kind used in hamburgers, hot dogs and other processed products, he said. Nations such as Australia and New Zealand export only the lower grades of beef to the United States because the U. S. normally produces enough choice and good grades to meet its own domestic demand.

Also affecting the amount of beef to be imported was the recent temporary suspension of import tariffs on beef by the European Common Market, Dr. Don Farris of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology said. This suspension, coupled with world demand, may limit the extra amount of beef the U. S. can import this year.

But prices on beef will probably drop anyway, Farris said, because of an expected increase in domestically fed beef later this year. Research from a study by Kenneth Graeber, under the direction of Farris, suggests that prices to cattlemen may drop as much as four cents a pound due to an expected 10 percent increase in cattle production. Reduced pork supplies or higher personal income could counteract part of the drop.

The increase in domestic supply would result in an additional five to six pounds of beef per person during the next six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ben Boyles and daughter Dana of Cairo, Egypt, are on their annual summer visit in the U.S. They are with his father, Jud Boyles, here and also are visiting relatives in Oklahoma and friends in Tyler where they formerly lived.

USSR Treaty Breaker

The record of the Soviet Union in breaking all agreements reached at the seven summits is unbroken. She broke all four major agreements of the Teheran summit, five of the six (entry into the war against Japan the only exception) of the Yalta summit, all 14 of the Potsdam summit, and the one reached at the Geneva summit. In addition, there were 11 other major agreements affecting the peace of the world and the freedom of its people between Red Russia and the United States.

Russia broke every single one of them. We regret we haven't space to detail the results to the World and America of these broken promises. But a staff study for the Senate Judiciary Committee does detail them. You will find a good summary of that study in the May 20th issue of U.S. News & World Report.

It is no answer to this terrible record of broken agreements to say it is all past history. Take a look at the Middle East. Only two years ago Russia agreed to a U.S.-proposed cease-fire there. Then she backed Egypt in breaking it by putting Russian-supplied anti-aircraft missiles at the Suez Canal.

Only three years ago we and the Russian Reds signed a so-called non-proliferation treaty designed to end the nuclear arms race. In these three years, Soviet Russia furiously built up her nuclear missiles and, while we kept the agreement, has practically overtaken us in this field of weaponry and now is equal to or ahead of us in almost all categories.

The overpowering point we must never forget is that, in the vigorous but true words of the New York Daily News: "The Kremlin mobsters never have retracted the late Red Czar Khrushchev's vow to bury the United States. They are as determined as ever to enslave the entire world..." — U. S. Press Assn.

Federal Housing Racket

In coming weeks, Americans will be shocked at the scandal in Federally subsidized low-income housing. This complex situation has cost the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) some $24 million in New York City alone. Brooklyn and Detroit estimate $200 million.

President Johnson called the plan to improve inner city housing "the most farsighted, most comprehensive, most massive housing program in all the American history." Yet the inner cities are a shambles and 20 corporations or individuals (including 7 FHA officials) are under indictment. Why has it run amuck?

The sordid cycle begins when housing speculators invade a low rent white neighborhood threatened with integration. They use racial fear to scare home owners into selling cheaply.

For example, they might buy an $8000 house. Once the house is theirs, speculators get the FHA to make a fantastically high appraisal, for say $25,000. A bribe here and there helps reluctant FHA officials to soothe their consciences.

Afterwards, the dishonest realtor sells the house to someone whose mortgage is FHA-backed. Realtors use bribes again to get low-income people approved. When the new owner defaults on payments, the FHA is stuck with an overpriced hovel.

Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) George Romney blames the bureaucratic tangle for the problem, saying that if he could administer "without regard to civil-service qualifications or seniority, HUD's problems could be alleviated."

But Romney himself is at least guilty of procrastination. He admits that he "began to realize there were some problems" in May, 1969, and that HUD-FHA administration had been "lax." Taking three years to start cleaning up such widespread corruption indicates that the man who is lax is in George Romney's shoes. — U. S. Press Assn.

Mathematical Certainty

A common explanation for the growing cost of local government has been that as the population increases, demand for governmental services increases. The catch in this is that cost of government has gone up far more rapidly than population, and the gap is far wider than most realize. A noted speaker, addressing a group of Seattle, Washington, citizens, pinned down the facts. He found that the 1970 census shows an increase in people for the Northwestern states of just under 20 percent during the 1960's. State expenditures, however, in the same period have risen 143.8 percent. During the same decade, there has been an increase of over 50 percent in state and local government employees which is three times as high as the population growth. The speaker went on to warn: "Now if we continue to let our state and local government stack up these layers of bureaucratic fat... one fourth of our entire labor force in the Northwest will be on state and local public payrolls by the turn of the century."

The Northwestern states are typical of a trend throughout the United States — a trend that points with mathematical certainty to a day of total subservience to the state unless government is brought under control. — Industrial News Review

Updating of 'I Led 3 Lives'

Herbert Philbrick's inspiring biography, "I Led 3 Lives," has been revised and reprinted (306 pages, with index, Capitol Hill Press, 1825 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D.C. 20009, $7.95).

Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., the actor who stars in the television program, "FBI" correctly says in a brief foreword: "Here is a story that has stood the test of time... a source of reference material for the serious student of Communism..."

Philbrick has done an extensive editing job, adding names and points that the intervening years show to have been more significant than he had realized. "I Led 3 Lives" is a dramatically written text regarding the spirit and methodology of Communism. His three lives are as patriotic citizen, as a fake Communist, and as counter-spy for the FBI.

Back where he began, as a good citizen, he is publisher of the Washington Exclusive, a weekly service of editorials distributed throughout the country, mostly to weekly papers. He is continuing to lecture.

"I Led 3 Lives," in the new edition, should be in every library, surely in every home where there are children. Changes include an improved description of the tricky indoctrination system used by Communists; in the planting of trained professionals as "neophytes" in organizations and meetings, to ask questions that have a concealed, tactical purpose.

His new epilogue relates the effects of brainwashing, without using the term. He writes: "The 'people's democracies' are reverse prisons where honest people are locked up and the gangsters are the wardens. Wherever Communism touches the lives of people, whether in the free world or in the prisons of nations, there is heart-break, sorrow, disaster and death." — U. S. Press Assn.

What Happened To War Savings?

Remember how people used to say: "Just wait until the war in Vietnam is over! We will be able to do so much with the money that will be saved."

Here is what has happened: we are spending $20 billion less in Vietnam, but the military budget this year is as high as it was in 1968 for one simple reason: we are losing $20 billion on inflation.

In other words, we are spending $76 billion now to get what we got in 1968 for $56 billion. We are spending less, in proportion to the size of the budget. But we are spending so much more on social welfare that there is nothing left for anything else.

As long as we prefer more welfare to anything else, we will not be able to afford more of anything else. It is that simple. Remember, too, that excessive government spending is one of the main causes of inflation. — U. S. Press Assn.

A Graphic Warning—

Noise Pollution Poses Threat To Millions

"Excessively loud noise is more than an annoyance. It is a serious, hazardous form of pollution that requires the concerned attention of business, of government and of the public." This is the warning of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation, which produced the chart shown above to verify its contention that daily, millions of persons are being exposed to a barrage of noise, much of which is so loud that it could cause tragic, permanent hearing losses. The crusade is sponsored by Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, as a means of making the public aware of the vital need for hearing conservation programs and of the equally impera-

Does a larger brain mean greater intelligence?

Not necessarily. For instance, man is the most intelligent member of the animal kingdom, yet his brain is smaller and weighs less than those of some animals. Man's brain weighs about 3 pounds, while an elephant's weighs about 10 pounds. The clue to intelligence may be in the cortex, the surface covering of the brain. Intelligence seems to be related to the amount of folding in the cortex.

How do ants find their way?

Some ants get their bearings from landmarks. Others use the direction of the sun's rays. It has also been found that some ants lay scent trails as they walk along, by touching the tips of their abdomens to the ground from time to time. As they do this they secrete the scent. In some cases scent patches also have a shape that tells other ants the direction in which the first ant was traveling. You can demonstrate this by reversing a chip or some such object over which a column of ants is passing. The ants at once become confused. It is as if an arrow had been turned backward.

Who were the cliff dwellers?

The cliff dwellers were the ancestors of the Pueblo Indians. They were called the Anasazi, an Indian word for "Ancient Ones." The Anasazi lived mainly in the area now known as Four Corners — the area where Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and Utah meet. The cliff dwellers are remembered for their great stone villages built on the tops of mesas or on the terraced sides of cliffs. Some of these structures stood several stories high. Cliff Palace at Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado contained more than 100 rooms.

How does night change into day?

The earth rotates, or spins, on its axis from west to east. The direction of the earth's rotation makes the sun appear to rise in the east and set in the west. The earth makes a complete rotation once every 24 hours. This is the earth's day. As each part of the earth faces the sun, it is in daylight. As it faces away it is in night. At any one time during the earth's day, about half of the earth is in daylight while the other half is in night. You can show how the earth rotates and how night changes into day. Place a lighted flashlight on a table. Hold an orange in the flashlight beam and rotate the orange. The part of the orange lit by the beam is in daylight, and the other part is in night. In the same way, day and night are caused by the earth's rotation.

Summer's a great time to replace old, inefficient heating equipment in your home with a modern, dependable, electric heating system.

Electric heating circulates warm air gently, evenly, from floor to ceiling. No hot blasts. No cold drafts to send you sweater-hunting. And with some systems, you can control room temperatures separately with individual thermostats. Electric home heating is clean and so quiet you'll almost forget it's there keeping you warm.

Right now, before his busy winter season, let a Certified Electric Heating Dealer tell you how easily and economically you can install modern, electric heating in your home.

State Hunts for Steam Locomotive

Gov. Preston Smith asked the U. S. Navy to make available to the State of Texas surplus authentic steam locomotives for use in developing the 33.7 state-owned railroad between Rusk and Palestine in East Texas as a tourist attraction. The Legislature last year said the Parks Department could operate the full gauge railroad as a public recreational facility.

The Parks Department is currently rehabilitating 2.6 miles of the railroad and hopes to operate public excursion trains using historically authentic steam locomotives.

Smith wrote to Navy officials saying he had been informed several military steam engines have been declared surplus and asked for assistance in acquiring one or two of the "iron horses."

"Now," he continued, "I remove the legs of the flea and order it to jump again. You will note that the flea does not jump. This, gentlemen, proves scientifically that a flea whose legs are removed becomes deaf."

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke
Story Hour was very successful this year due to the ladies who conducted it. There were 484 children attending the six sessions. It was wonderful to see 80 or more youngsters come to the library at one time.

The Visual Aid Reading Program is still continuing and library staffers hope more children will take advantage of it.

The library has returned 300 books that were on loan from Texas State Library and has received 100 more books. It's a very good collection, ready to be checked out.

Among new books is "Family Medical Guide" published by Better Homes & Gardens. It is an invaluable addition to the library.

Other leading causes of accidental death last year on farms and ranches included 29 drownings, 28 accidental shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls and 17 accidents involving animals.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

"Plow with the terraces — not across them," advises Eual Davis of the Muenster SCS office. "This is vital in getting good distribution and use of water. It also can mean the difference between success and failure of the terrace system."

Where rows are laid out with terraces, each furrow holds its own rainfall, reducing runoff. This also reduces ponding immediately above the terraces. Ponding often causes part of the terrace interval to be wet when the rest of the field is ready to plow.

Where rows are farmed across terraces, the increased runoff is usually impounded on the area above the terraces. As a result, the crop along the terraces may be good while it is poor in the rest of the field. Following heavy rains, results may be different. Crops may drown in the area above the terraces and be poor elsewhere.

On sandier soils, benching is worse where contour farming is not practiced. Also, plowing across terraces reduces their height, increasing the chance of overtopping and serious damage. This usually happens during the growing season when repair cannot be made without damage to the crops.

Mrs. John Richey has as her guest this week her young nephew, Sonny Barnes of Era. She visited the John Barnes family Tuesday and brought Sonny back with her.

If a thing will go without saying, why not let it.

John Herrs Have Weekend Visitors

Visiting Mrs. John Herr at the family home during the weekend and cheering John Herr with bedside visits at Hillcrest Manor Nursing Home were a daughter and family, S.Sgt. and Mrs. Tony Marr and Michelle of Junction City, Kansas.

Arriving Sunday night for an overnight visit was Mrs. Herr's sister Mrs. Elbert Vance of Hereford who was enroute home after attending a convention of the American Legion Auxiliary in Houston July 14-16. She was installed as vice president of the 18th district.

Her traveling companion, Mrs. J. G. Gandy, re-joined her here Monday after an overnight stay in Denton with a son.

Monday morning before the visitors returned to Hereford they had coffee at the home of Miss Theresa Luke. Mrs. Herr was with them and also there were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kupper of Marlton.

Traveling with the Tony Marrs was a niece Julie Bengfort. They returned her to Lindsay after a two-months vacation visit with them in Kansas. Julie is the daughter of the Leonard Bengforts.

Texas Is No. 1 In Major Categories Of Beef Cattle

Texas leads the nation in all major categories of the beef cattle industry, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reports.

Texas is number one in totals of cattle and calves, number one in beef cows that have calved, and number one in cattle on feed. "Thus, Texas has a tremendous influence on the nation in relation to beef for the consumer," White said.

The livestock industry in Texas is a $2 billion enterprise. Almost half of the total agricultural income in the state comes from livestock.

Divide up the cattle population among the human population in the state and you'll have slightly more than one beef animal per person. As of Jan. 1, all cattle and calves in Texas totaled 12,829,000. That is more than five million head of cattle above second-ranked Iowa.

Texas as of June 1 became the nation's top cattle feeding state with 2,045,000 head, replacing Iowa.

Texas has more than twice as many beef cows than has second place Oklahoma. Total beef cows that have calved as of Jan. 1 totals 5,542,000 head.

In other areas of the livestock industry, Texas also is either at the top or in the top 10, with the exception of hogs.

Texas ranks number one in all sheep and lambs with 3,524,000 head; this is almost twice the number in second place Wyoming; Texas ranks ninth in the nation in milk cows that have calved (Wisconsin is in first place). In hog production, Texas, although increasing its number in recent years, is in 14th position in the nation in total hog numbers. Iowa is first.

Texas ranks second in the nation in numbers of slaughter plants; Texas is third in number of cattle and calves slaughtered during 1971; it is third in sheep and lamb slaughter; and 15th in hog slaughter.

A more detailed look at the Texas livestock industry is available in the 1971 Texas Livestock Statistics, which is available free by writing to Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Industry Invents Vinyl Covered Ball For Little League

Industry has gone to bat for the Little League and has come through with a winner, a new baseball.

The approved baseball features a solid cork and rubber center and a new cover dubbed Syn-Tann.

Syn-Tann is a type of vinyl-coated fabric developed jointly by Dudley Sports Co., a division of Athlone Industries, Inc., and Uniroyal, Inc.

The result of the cooperative effort is a ball which is 20 to 25 per cent less expensive than a traditional ball and which further reduces costs simply because of its durability. The cover of the new ball, according to Dudley is washable. It is also scuff and water resistant. The whiteness of the baseball outlasts the traditional ball and the non-slip grip and feel of the ball rivals the traditional version, according to Charles "Budd" Gilbert, president of Dudley.

Now, if someone would invent a way to make Little League boys more cleanable...

Scientists agree that the earth is at least 4.5 billion years old. However, there are varying theories as to its origin. Some have suggested that it was created from a great cloud of dust. Others would have you believe that it was created from a piece of the sun. Frankly speaking, we still prefer the one that begins... "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin Attorney General of Texas

It's time to pay bills again. And there's a bill from the department store for a whopping $520! What do you do? Begin to grill each family member ruthlessly to find the culprit? Maybe, it could be that a computer's the one to blame.

In our electronic age, computer billing is becoming more and more frequent — and so are the billing mix-ups. Computers are fussy and one small human error can cause them to over-react and botch up thousands of accounts.

Some of the things that can go wrong in the course of a transaction are: mistakes in the credit office when a girl reads off the wrong charge card number for a customer who forgot his card, salesmen inserting a "$" on a bill and the billing clerk reading "1" instead; or, the alteration and billing departments not getting together and charging a customer for clothes that haven't even been delivered yet.

Another mix-up can occur when a customer pays part of a purchase in cash and charges the rest. With the billing forms used, it is easy for a key punch operator to mis-read a statement and charge the customer for the full purchase instead of just what is owed.

The worst mix-up is when new mistakes are made while trying to correct old ones. A customer who tries to stop billing on an account until it is put in order often can wind up with a service charge and his name on a delinquent payment list.

A consumer can do some things to protect himself from the computer's tantrums, however. Make sure to use a credit card plate whenever possible. Check and make sure the figures on your sales slips are clear and correct. Save those duplicate sales invoices and compare them with the monthly statement. Always return the bill form or punch card with the check to insure you get the credit for paying.

If you do come up with errors on your account, notify the bill sender as soon as possible. If you phone in your complaint, know and remember who you talk to so you can find them again if the situation isn't solved. If you write, don't further confuse the issue by enclosing a bill payment or other correspondence. Don't pay for any part of an incorrect bill or merchandise you didn't get.

Allow enough time for a mistake to clear up. It can take two billing cycles for the adjusters to track down a mistake and correct it. But remember, you have a legal right not to be harassed over bills that aren't yours. So be on the look-out for mistakes and speak up if you find them.

Mrs. Earl Robison, president, presided and Mrs. Detten reported on visits to shut-ins. Mrs. Arthur Endres volunteered for visits this month.

The group also heard a report on the club's recent picnic at Sycamore Lake when their husbands were guests.

After adjournment the hostess served cake and coffee to 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Al Fleitman.

No Need to Apply For SS Increase

"Social security beneficiaries do not need to apply for the 20 percent increase which congress recently enacted," Gus Jones, Sherman Social Security District Manager stated. "The raise will be automatic and will first occur in the checks issued October 3."

"The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162, and for a couple from $224 to about $271," Jones said. The increase is also effective for those certain persons over age 72 not insured for regular social security checks.

The new law also includes a provision for automatic annual increases in social security benefits as the cost of living rises in the future. The maximum amount of annual earnings that is counted for benefit and tax purposes increases from $9,000 this year to $10,800 in 1973 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, it may be adjusted to keep pace with rising wages.

A representative may be contacted in Gainesville each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Federal Building.

A Texas story now going the rounds concerns a man who struck oil and, with his new riches, built a mansion and three swimming pools. One pool he keeps filled with cool water and another with warm water; the third he keeps empty. Asked why, he explained: "A lot of my friends can't swim."

Would You Like To Have An Aquarium?

Before setting out to buy fishes, it is important to understand that some of them can live only in water that is kept at a certain temperature. The water in which many tropical fishes live must be kept at a temperature that ranges from 72 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit, and an electric heater with a thermostat is required to control temperature.

When buying fishes that are not quite as sturdy as guppies are the brightly colored play-fishes, swordtails, and black mollies. They are the same family as guppies and also have living young. Tetras, Corydoras, catfish, Siamese fighting fish, and angelfish are also good fish for beginners to raise.

Other strong fishes that are not quite as sturdy as guppies are the brightly colored play-fishes, swordtails, and black mollies. They are the same family as guppies and also have living young. Tetras, Corydoras, catfish, Siamese fighting fish, and angelfish are also good fish for beginners to raise.

Be sure your tank is large enough for the number of fish you plan to buy. The simplest rule is to buy a rectangular tank that is at the most 2 or 3 inches higher than it is wide. Tall, narrow globes are not satisfactory because there is too little water surface open to the air. Fish give off a gas called carbon dioxide, just as people do when they breathe. The carbon dioxide given off by the fish will escape into the air through the surface of the water, or the fish will suffocate.

It is important to keep metal out of a fish tank. The slightest bit of metal in the water can be poisonous to fish. Paints, soaps, detergents, and certain plastics and chemicals must also be kept out of the tank.

For protection, a glass cover should be kept on the tank. Do not worry that the fish will not get enough air. No tank cover fits so tightly that it keeps out the necessary air.

Direct sunlight should be avoided except for short periods of time. Some additional "Do's and Don'ts":

Do place any plants along the back of the tank to make a background for the fish. Plants add beauty to your aquarium and provide fish with hiding-places and a surface on which to lay their eggs. What kinds of plants will grow well in your aquarium depends on the amount of light they receive.

Do remember the most important single element in your aquarium is the water, and unless it is kept in good condition, neither fish nor plants can stay healthy. The best water for fish is water in which they have already lived. The water in a standing aquarium need not be changed. The waste products of the fish actually make the water more suitable for them to live in. People who keep aquariums speak of two kinds of dirt in a tank: clean dirt and dirty dirt. Clean dirt means the waste products of the fish themselves. This need not be removed. Dirty dirt means such things as uneaten food and the bodies of dead fish. This kind of dirt should be removed.

Don't overfeed. More pet fishes die from overfeeding than from any other cause. Uneaten food accumulates in the tank, blackens the sand and produces harmful gases and other poisons.

Don't let the aquarium stand in a drafty spot or near a radiator. Don't move the tank with water in it. You're sure to crack the glass or make it leak if you move the tank when it's full.

Health Hints FROM BLUE SHIELD

Picnic Poisonings

Don't spoil a picnic this summer with spoiled food. Some 2 to 20 million Americans are stricken annually with food poisoning. Symptoms include: nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and abdominal cramps, usually occurring several hours after eating. Picnic foods, plus hot weather, provide the perfect breeding ground for the two main poisoning bacteria—staphylococcus and salmonella. To prevent picnic poisonings: keep all perishable foods cold until just before serving or cooking at the picnic site, don't make sandwiches the night before the picnic (cooked meat next to moist bread is an excellent breeding spot for bacteria), avoid tasting anything that even looks or smells disagreeable, take along foods prepared with vinegar such as pickled meats, salads and non-perishable foods such as canned goods and well scrubbed fruits and fresh vegetables. Finally, find a cool, shady place for your picnic basket.

Prickly Heat

Prickly heat, a rash of tiny, pink pimples amid patches of pinkish skin, is a summertime condition caused by excessive perspiration to which infants and small children are particularly susceptible. While usually confined to the neck and shoulders, prickly heat can spread to the ears, face, chest and back and can develop into little blisters which dry up and cause the rash to look tan. It is best handled by dressing your child in light, loose clothing and dusting the irritated area with cornstarch powder. However, use the powder sparingly because too much will clog pores and make the condition worse. If the rash persists for more than a few days, consult your family physician.

Sister Bernadette Professes Vows in Lindsay Ceremony

St. Peter's Parish of Lindsay joined with the William J. Bezner family Sunday in ceremonies following which their daughter, Sister Bernadette Bezner, professed her final vows as a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence, San Antonio.

Seventy-five nuns, members of the clergy, relatives and friends of the Bezner family from a wide area also attended.

Father Larry Stuebben presided and was the principal celebrant of the con-celebrated Mass. Don Metzler and Rick Edwards were servers.

The 2 p.m. service began with a procession into church to Handel's "Hallelujah!" on the organ by Sister Evelyn Tribeaux.

Among those participating in the liturgy with scripture readings were Mike Bezner and Sister Ramona Bezner. Barbara Fuhrmann and Sister Patrice Sullivan sang a duet, and there was congregational singing.

Offertory petitions were presented by nuns of the novitiate group. Gifts and songs in the offertory procession were by nieces and nephews of Sister Bernadette: James, Paul, Mary and Carolyn Bass, Mitza and Andy Bezner, Douglas, Kathy, Johny and Stevie Schindler. Sister Bernadette's parents presented the Mass vessels.

Another niece, Rosemary Schindler, gave the final reading. At the peace greeting four small nephews went down the aisles. A concluding hymn, "Ave Maria" was sung by Sister Marsha Carrigan with Sister Irene Caesar as organist and three little nieces of Sister Bernadette each placed a red rose on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

In conclusion Sister Bernadette extended thanks to her parents, family and friends.

Her parents were hosts for a reception and buffet supper in the school cafeteria afterward.

well as good politics on this one. Reason ought to tell him that it's wrong to push kids around just to achieve racial mixture. Also that busing violates a person's right to go where he pleases. But his political sense should have noticed that busing is getting more unpopular everywhere in the country. While he appeals to the small minority of pro-busing radicals he's defying the opinions of the big majority.

The man says he would have all military personnel and all prisoners of war home within ninety days of inauguration. The first statement is unwise because it invites the enemy to hold out for his kind of settlement. The second is absurd because the enemy, not he, will decide about POWs.

McGovern also claims he's for tax reforms, including present allowances for depletion and exploration to oil producers. Politicians have made big talk on that issue before but Congress has always shown better judgment. It knows better than to destroy the incentives to the oil industry. It knows that our economy is doomed if the oil doesn't keep flowing. Unfortunately McGovern doesn't see the big problem behind the tax reform scheme. He wants a way to get more tax money for his ultra generous welfare program but ignores the welfare of people who keep the economy rolling.

Blessed is the man who, having nothing to say, abstains from giving wordy evidence of the fact.

Friendly Enemy

President Lincoln was once taken to task for his attitude toward his enemies.

"Why do you try to make friends of them? You know they will only be traitors. You should try to destroy them."

"Am I not destroying my enemies," Lincoln gently replied, "when I make them my friends? And a friend is never a traitor."
