Mr. Boyett stated that the first bulletin received by his office stated that under the new law the penalty date would be May 1, and some motorists who had made inquiry at the office had been so advised. Later instructions call for addition of the penalty to all registrations after April 1, however, and this must be followed.

APRIL 1 DEADLINE FOR PURCHASE OF 1934 CAR LICENSE

April 1 is the last day for registration of automobiles for 1934 without payment of penalties, it was announced this week by Tax Collector Lee Meek. It was first thought that 1933 license plates could be used on motor vehicles through the month of April, but a recent ruling by the attorney general held that penalties should apply on April 1.

Anyone operating a motor vehicle on the public highways after that date is subject to arrest and payment of a fine, it was pointed out. In addition, motorists registering their cars after April 1 must pay a 20 per cent penalty.

Mr. Meek stated that the first bulletin received by his office stated that under the new law the penalty date would be May 1, and some motorists who had made inquiry at the office had been so advised. Later instructions call for addition of the penalty to all registrations after April 1, however, and this must be followed.

FROM authentic sources in Washington the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of information that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has approved a loan to the Citizens National Bank in Brownwood and a commitment for the purchase of preferred stock in the new bank which will permit the completion of the program directed at the reorganization of the Citizens National Bank.

The new bank will have ample capital and cash resources sufficient to function properly as a banking institution.

Unless some unforeseen legal technicality should intervene, all the many complicated details for opening the new bank should be completed within sixty days.

The loan made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will not be to the new bank but to the old organization which retains ownership of the banking house, other real estate and assets not acquired by the new bank.

Many Farmers At Meeting Of Dairy And Poultry Men

Speakers Tell Of Market Advantages Grower Has In Smaller Communities.

Speeches from agricultural experts, a luncheon and a tour of inspection of the local Swift plants featured "Swift Day," for poultrymen and dairymen, held in Brownwood Tuesday. Several hundred farmers from all parts of the county attended the one-day short course, which was held under the direction of B. D. Sarles, manager of the local Swift plant.

Frank A. Briggs, editor of Farm & Ranch, Dallas, was one of the principal speakers on the program during the afternoon. He said the history of farming as far back as it can be traced shows that it cannot be successful unless some livestock raising is carried on with it. Through government plans now being developed, he says, farmers are getting rid of diseased and scrub cattle and will be given an opportunity to get good breed of foundation stock.

E. R. Eudaly, dairy extension specialist, Texas A. & M. College, talked on dairying and livestock problems.

Rural Markets Good.

Eighty-four per cent of the butter, eggs, poultry and cheese eaten in the United States is eaten in cities outside of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. H. W. Mathews of the agricultural research division of Swift & Company told those in attendance. Notwithstanding this, the speaker added, it is the tendency of concerns to ship their dairy and poultry products to these four large cities and thus cause frequent oversupplies, which result in lower prices.

"Such oversupplying of these large cities necessitates the paying of additional transportation charges to move the products out to the smaller towns and additional selling expense," Mr. Mathews said. "Producers in the end pay these marketing expenses and the result is a lower level of prices."

"It would be much better if the products were taken direct from the creameries and poultry plants to the smaller cities and towns."

"At this meeting we are going to tell you what consumers tell us," he said. "Experience convinces us that the consumer is very particular about the foods that he buys and that purchases vary in different parts of the country."

"If we do not pay attention to what the consumer wants, he will tell us by paying a reduced price. Above everything else, as producers and preparers of foods, we must understand that the price is set by consumers and not by the dealers who buy the products from the farmer."

R. E. Tewsbury, field service man of the Swift organization, outlined methods of productive poultry raising, stressing particularly the need of sanitation and proper housing. He also outlined preventive measures for eliminating disease among chickens with the subsequent loss of profit. In discussing the answer to the age old question "Which breed of poultry is the best?" Mr. Tewsbury said:

"No Breed Recommended. "Our answer to this question, now as always, is the breed which you like the best. I am only attempting to answer it honestly. If I may use the dairy industry for comparison, we all know that all Holstein cows do not give a lot of milk; neither do all Jerseys give rich milk. Both breeds will be profitable if you have good individuals and feed and care for them properly. Some White Rocks lay well, some do not. Some Buff Orpingtons have high egg records and some do not. In other words, there is more difference between the strains or families than there is

BROWNWOOD BANNER

All available painters in Brownwood are at work at the present time, according to a report reaching us, and that's one of the most encouraging signs pointing toward improving business conditions that we have heard of in recent months.

They Are At Work

As we have pointed out many times, the building industry is one of the largest employers of labor in many forms, and consequently has suffered more than most of the industries affecting a large number of people during the depression.

True, there are many carpenters not employed, and there has been no building boom noticed in this section—but the employment of painters is a very encouraging factor in the scheme of recovery.

Before long, work will start at the new CCC camp at Lake Brownwood, and the construction of necessary barracks will bring employment to many. Then the removal of the telephone offices to Brownwood will bring more people, with more spending money, to town, and will help immeasurably in the scheme of daily life.

Demobilization of the CWA is to be accompanied by reinstatement of work-relief through a program as yet in the formative stage, but which will continue to be of great value to the community.

There is much to be done, of course, before stable conditions again are realized, but Brownwood is in a much more fortunate position than many cities, and apparently will not be behind in the scheme of ultimate recovery.

Attorney General James V. Alfred spoke recently in Waco, in the home of Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt. Governor Witt introduced the Attorney General. Both are candidates for governor, and the introduction prompted Alfred to promise to return the favor by introducing Governor Witt when he chose to speak in Wichita Falls, home of the Attorney General.

On A New Plane?

The unusual incident caused The Dallas Journal to comment: "This is the way gentlemen should run for office. It adds dignity to the race and confers dignity upon the office sought."

"Ordinarily a Texas primary contest is so low, so dirty, so utterly pusillanimous, that a man with a sensitive code of honor feels almost apologetic for having engaged in one. You may not vote for Mr. Witt and you may not vote for Mr. Alfred. But Texas owes these two candidates something for a gesture in the direction of decency and fair play. Texas needs more of that spirit in its public life."

"The point is well taken," says The Texas Weekly, "and the example set by these two gentlemen is an admirable one. But will it be followed?"

"Will it be followed in the coming campaign even to the extent of confining the contest to the issues involved and eliminating personalities? We know well enough that nothing of the kind will happen."

The sorrowful attitude of The Texas Weekly is too amply borne out by experiences of the past to justify any other view. Even before the introduction of the direct primary, Texans liked their personalities, and the direct primary opened the gates to swashbuckling, mudslinging, heckling campaigns which seem to delight Texas voters in the hot summer days.

No, the gesture was a noble one, but it does not hold that the 1934 campaign will be an exception. Not even with regard to the two candidates involved. Governor Witt has yet to show his ability in a heated state-wide campaign, but the fiery young Attorney General rode into office first on the wave of a scathing outburst of sarcasm and ridicule of his opponent, and with his back to the wall, retained that office two years ago in the most bitter campaign Texas has seen for the office involved.

It will be a warm campaign, and personalities will not be sacred.

Interesting comment from all over the country accompanied the announcement of the curtailment of the government's CWA program, and substitution of work-relief.

Dropping The CWA

Harry Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, is quoted as having said that the old system of providing relief was like dropping money into a sewer. The Raleigh News and Observer, owned by Ambassador Josephus Daniels, replies "There also is a danger, however, that the swift dropping of men and women into the demobilization of the CWA will be like dropping men and women back into the sewer." The Raleigh paper adds:

"The sewer into which America dropped its money was the lower depths of human degradation and despair. In that sewer money made movement where there had been only stagnation. Men and women began to climb out of the lower depths into the light of self respect. Ultimately, of course, their self respect requires that the government end its pouring of money into their hands. Their self respect demands not dole but a chance to be diligent in their own rehabilitation. The only question is—and it is a tremendously important question—whether the time has come to begin the long pull to human rehabilitation. If that time has not come, the demobilization of the CWA may mean the slipping back of men and women into the sewer into which the government poured its money. The sewer of the lower depths of American life must be washed out before the country can begin to have a healthy life, free of its dangers and its stenches."

SALESMAN SAM BY SMALL

THE BANNER'S SCRAP BOOK

THOSE LARGE SALARIES (From The Houston Post.)

BEING human, those railroad executives who, under government compulsion, accepted huge cuts in their salaries a few months ago, can not fail to get a deal of satisfaction out of the exposure of much larger salaries paid to executives of corporations in other fields. As compared with what some of the officers of these other corporations have been receiving, the compensation of the highest paid of railroad men was small, indeed.

In contrast were the salaries of higher officials of various corporations in the non-transportational field. For instance, the president of a large tobacco company received $606,000 in 1929, over a million dollars in 1931 and $826,000 in 1932. One tobacco company paying such large compensation not being sufficient to supply the demand for cigarettes, the president of another large tobacco company was paid $271,000 and the president of a cigar chain store company $232,000. That the American people have been willing to pay generously for movies as well as cigarettes is shown by the following figures regarding the compensation received by the officers of a single moving picture producing company: President $890,000; first vice president, $890,000; general manager, $710,000; vice president, $710,000. The president of another company operating a chain of movie houses received $362,000.

The compensation of the chief executives of three automobile manufacturing companies, not including the largest companies, was $388,000, $225,000 and $257,000, while the president of a company making automobile lights received $338,000. The president of one chain store company received $277,000, and the chairman of another $267,000 and its president $240,000. The president of one mail order house received $431,000, and the chairman of another $405,000 and its president $250,000.

The railroad chiefs want to know what the government is going to do about these munificent salaries to a few individuals. Of course, the depression has already done something to some of them. Furthermore, the corporation they represented were not borrowers from the government. That makes a difference as to whether or not the government has anything to say. The country, however, believes that in the plan of redistributing the wealth of the nation, a start might well be made with executives drawing a million dollars a year or more for personal services.

TEXAS FARM NEWS

CLARKSVILLE — Being busy in assisting farmers in signing up 1934-35 cotton acreage to the Government did not keep County Agent C. M. Knight of Red River county from finding time to assist farmers in terracing their lands. Four hundred and twenty acres of land were terraced in February under his direction.

"Farmers state at the demonstrations we have been having that they can not stand to see their land go down the creeks because they see that 'Bill is holding his soil by the use of proper terracing.' This year seems to be another year for terracing the farms and pastures. We expect more terrace lines to be run this year than last, and last year was a greater year in terracing than any year in the past several years," Mr. McKnight says.

The farmers of the county are using the county tractors and graders as they find this to be the cheapest and quickest way to put up their terraces. In this way they can get a good sized terrace constructed that will withstand the heavy rains. Especially is this true in the black land section of the county.

WHEELER — Thirty-one farms were surveyed for terracing or contouring in Wheeler county in February, all work being done by local committeemen, not a farm being run out by the county agent. As the committeemen needed instruction they came to the cotton office to get straightened out by County Agent Jack Tarter.

The plan in Wheeler county is, and has been for three years, that some local committeemen in each community helps the county agent run lines in his territory. Then, when a farmer is ready to terrace, committeemen can run lines when the county agent can not get to all the terracing demonstrations. The farmers in turn give the committeemen a day or two days in exchange for the work of running the lines.

KINGSVILLE — Home demonstration club women in Kieberg county have not allowed themselves to be at the mercy of the depression but have used their surpluses for barter to secure articles needed in their homes or services needed by their families. Miss Effie McClane, home demonstration agent of that county, reports that these club women have used as a medium of exchange cans of assorted meats, boned and ground chicken, corn, black-eyed peas, string beans, green lima beans, spinach, tomato juice, dry beans, pickles, potatoes and honey. In return they have received such items as dentist services, haircuts, brooms, cold cream, drugs, a Bible, stove wicks, furniture, photographs, coal oil, car repairs, subscriptions to magazines, a gasoline iron, house paint, and dress material. Cans of food have been used as money donations, traded for help on the farm and in the home, to pay for tailoring a suit of clothes, for setting eggs, for blacksmith work a car horn, baby chicks, fencing, music lessons, false teeth and a college education. BENJAMIN — "I want my room fixed up to meet all the requirements of a standard room," said Lucile Jackson, Hefner 4-H Club bedroom demonstrator, to Miss Jewel Paulkner, Knox county home demonstration agent. "I am going to build a clothes closet, make a dressing table and a washstand. I have a new mattress for my bed that my mother made. I lack a few slats of having enough to have one under each row of coils in the springs but I plan to add them," Lucille said.

"My walls will have to be papered and the woodwork painted. I know I will find many things other than these to do once I get started to work. I will be glad, though, when I get the room all finished because it will be all my own and I am sure I wouldn't change with anyone."

CONGRESS CAMPAIGN DRAWS NEW ENTRANTS

District Attorney C. L. South, who, since his announcement as a candidate for congress from the new 21st district some months ago has been running a solo race, had plenty of company this week. Two aspirants to the new office announced, and at least one or two more prospective candidates have been making significant gestures.

E. E. (Pat) Murphy, San Angelo attorney, and Culberson Deal, manager of the San Angelo Board of City Development, both made formal announcements of their candidacies this week.

District Judge C. L. Runge of Mason, according to a newspaper report, has told friends that he will be a candidate.

Both the San Angelo candidates are well known in this county, both being American Legion members, Deal being active in West Texas chamber of commerce work and as liaison officer on numerous occasions of the West, while Murphy made a strong bid for congress from the vast district which then included both San Angelo and El Paso. Ewing Thomason, former speaker of the house of representatives, once a candidate of governor and at the time mayor of El Paso, defeated Murphy at that time.

A. E. Nabors Is Candidate For County Judge

In making my announcement for the office of County Judge, I have a full realization that it is an important judicial office.

Years ago, the people very wisely elected me to the office of County Attorney, and I have diligently performed the duties imposed upon me. During the three years, 1931, 1932 and 1933, I have held 230 examining cases, have had 980 felony cases, have had 980 citations in the Justice Court, the County Court, have written search warrants, attended body trials, 14 inquests and 14 autopsies, assisted the Grand Jury in its work 94 days, to say nothing of the hundreds of other law actions which did not result in judgments, and 1764 had placed with me for attention.

The office of County Judge is a Judicial office, and in the cases, criminal, civil and probate the Judge must pass upon the merits of law, both as to admission and exclusion of evidence and in writing charges to the jury giving them the law as they see it. I have practiced as a lawyer, one term in the legislature and two terms as Attorney, will enable me to handle these things, they being in line with my previous training and experience. The County Judge presiding officer of the District Court, and while I have no vote in their proceedings except in a tie, it would be his duty to advise them as to the legal merits of their proceedings, and I feel my legal experience will enable me to do this.

If elected, it would be my duty to be fair and impartial, to favor no party, and to insist on conservative and economical administration of the affairs of the County, and to hold the tax rate down to the very lowest.

I shall make the race run upon my own merits, and as the candidate of any party, group or special interest. However, feeling that my qualifications for the office of County Judge, I shall appreciate your support. Thanking you for past favors, I am,

Yours very truly, A. E. NABORS

CAN'T SHOOT JUST BECAUSE IT'S A LAMB

Don't take advantage of the Attorney A. E. Nabors' statement of last week relative to sheep killing dogs, and kill any dog that isn't a sheep killer. That is the intention of the law, Nabors points out, in a statement issued this week:

"Some few days ago, an article was published by me in this reference to sheep killing dogs. That article quoted the law in reference to permitting such dogs to run at large.

"However, it has been brought to my attention that this article has been misconstrued as permitting the indiscriminate killing of sheep. There was no intention to state that people should be allowed to kill dogs that are sheep killing dogs, as some dogs have been killed are very valuable and have been rendered for their wool."

Those against whom permanent injunctions were granted are: Geo. Jeffries, Sid Taylor, Nell Rice—C. E. Alderson, Frank Williams, T. E. Stevens—Bill Earp and Horace Robason, the latter of May.

Home Demonstration Clubs

DULIN CLUB.
The Women's Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday evening, March 14.

The house was called to order by the president, Mrs. T. O. Hurst at 1 o'clock p. m. The club prayer was repeated by members and then a song was sung by four small school children entitled "The Birdies Song." The song was enjoyed by all.

Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent, was present. She helped several of the women cut a foundation pattern, and the women also learned that from their foundation pattern that they could make most any kind of a dress that was wanted. Miss Malone also gave a demonstration on how to sew in sleeves and how to make them fit well.

There were three new members. They were Miss Stella Rice, Mrs. Clarence Allen and Mrs. Truman McMurry.

The others that were present were, Mrs. T. O. Hurst, president; Mrs. L. D. Harrison, Miss Oleta Harrison, Mrs. Luther Burris, Mrs. Sam Lowe, Mrs. C. J. Reynolds, Mrs. Sidney Dribred and Miss Otie Wilson.

The club will meet again March 28, 1934. Every one is invited to attend.

Generally speaking, 500 pounds of a good standard fertilizer will be sufficient for a one-half acre garden.

For a small garden, one bag, containing 167 pounds, of a 5-8-5 or a 6-6-5 fertilizer will be about right.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

Here is one of those soft, smart little suits that you will wear right now under your coat and yet will be perfect for street wear along later in the spring. The smart box jacket is in a becoming length that makes plump hips look slimmer. It is blown backwards from the As-

...cot tie fastening at the neck to display the blouse beneath—which means that the blouse is going to play an important part in the success of the suit. We suggest that you make the suit in a smart natural shade, or brownish-tan, or tannish-gray and choose your blouses and hats in brilliant shades—red, blue, green, orange. This is a Butterick pattern and may be bought at your favorite department store.

Auto Registrations Jump in February

Austin — New passenger car registrations in the 16 most populous counties of Texas totalled 3,237 in February against 1,851 in January and 1,793 in February, 1933, gains of 75 per cent and 81 per cent respectively, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Registrations for January and February combined totalled 5,088 against 4,281 during the corresponding period last year, a gain of 20 per cent.

The difficulties which many auto mobile companies had in getting their production schedules under way during January seem to have been largely overcome and with the big back-log of orders which now prevails, registrations should continue to make highly favorable comparisons with the past three years, the bureau's report said.

19 Counties Quit Anti-Beer Ranks

Austin — Wet territory is continuing to expand through local option elections. Beer sale permit applications have come to the office of State Comptroller George Sheppard from 19 counties that were dry when the state beer law became effective last September.

Some of the 19 counties have voted to permit beer in all parts of the county; some have permitted sales only in particular cities, towns or precincts.

The added wet territory has been in Smith, Willacy, Freestone, Stone-wall, Lipscomb, Maverick, Trinity, Terry, Calhoun, Hale, Eastland, Haskell, Runnels, Burnet, Childress, Young, Nolan, Motley and Palo Pinto counties.

Beer was permitted in 1932 counties upon adoption of the beer amendment and beer act.

Questions & Answers On the Corn-Hog Plan

Question: Is a producer who owns, or controls more than one farming unit required to sign contracts covering all such farming units?

Answer: No. He may sign a contract or contracts for one or more farming units, but no more than one farming unit may be covered by any one contract. He agrees, however:

(a) Not to increase in 1934 the aggregate corn acreage on the land not under contract above the aggregate average for 1932-33 on such land;

(b) Not to increase the aggregate of 1934 litters and the aggregate of hogs produced for market therefrom on land not under contract, owned and operated, or operated by him (which shall include control exercised under a stock-share agreement) over the respective aggregate annual averages for 1932-33 for such land.

Question: Can all of the corn acreage reduction payments be obtained by a landlord who reserves a part of the corn acreage and then rents the balance of his farm in 1934, but did not follow such a procedure in 1933?

Answer: No. Such renting would be a breach of the contract.

Question: If the producer is buying or renting a farm under an agreement or lease providing for payment in a fixed amount of a commodity, will the seller or landlord get a share of the payments under the contract?

Answer: No.

Question: Can a 4-H Club member receive a separate payment on his pigs?

Answer: No; this would not be possible as all pigs have to be included in the total numbers reported for the farm.

Question: Is the landlord who rents land under a share lease liable for the tenant's violation of the contract?

Answer: He is liable for violations of the contract on land owned or controlled by him on which are located contracted acres, and for hog production only if receiving a share of the hog reduction payment.

Question: What is the penalty if the producer has marketed before or holds for future marketing on the date of proof of compliance a number of hogs in excess of the number to which he has agreed to reduce hogs produced for market in 1934?

Answer: There may be deducted from the total hog reduction payment on amount of $20 per head each or any of the hogs in excess of the number allowed under the contract.

Question: If the number of pigs in the litters farrowed or to be farrowed is or may be above the number of hogs allowed for marketing, what can the producer do?

Answer: Among other alternatives the producer may: (a) Reduce the number of fall litters;

COPPER POISONING IN SHEEP TRACED TO COPPER IN SALT

Dr. L. B. Boughton, veterinarian at the Ranch Experiment Station, located near Sonora, Texas, announces that nine cases of chronic copper poisoning in sheep have been produced experimentally by feeding salt to which copper sulphate had been added. Chemical analyses for the copper content of the livers of these animals showed unusually high amounts of copper, further verifying the cause of the trouble.

Animals affected with chronic copper poisoning in advanced stages show a marked depression and a dirty, yellowish color in the mucous membranes of the eyes and of the skin. At this stage the urine is darker than normal, having taken on a reddish to dark red color. There is no marked change in the body temperature, but the respiration and pulse rate become very much accelerated in the late stages of the disease. Examination of affected animals show the blood to be of a dark chocolate color, slow to coagulate, and the blood serum a very dark chocolate color instead of straw color. Tissues of the body exhibit a jaundiced condition; the liver is yellowish in color and usually very friable; the spleen is swollen and the contents softened and dark in color; and the kidneys are swollen and very dark, almost black, in color.

Following an outbreak of the trouble on the Ranch Experiment Station at Sonora, and on a nearby ranch some three years ago, Dr. H. Schmidt, Acting Chief of the Division of Veterinary Science, began a systematic observation of affected animals, and recorded the symptoms. He published in February, 1931, an article pointing out the close resemblance of the trouble to the ictero-hemoglobinuria disease known in Europe and caused by protozoan blood parasites. He pointed out certain differences, however, that entirely removed the blood parasite from consideration as a cause, having failed through repeated experiments to transmit the trouble either by inoculation or by contact. Doctor Schmidt and his associates, Doctor Boughton and Dr. W. T. Hardy, continued their studies bearing in mind that the trouble or a similar one was reported from New York state and from Colorado. Reports by German scientists in the meantime described an acute copper poisoning that somewhat resembled the cases found in Texas. Investigations showed that a practice has been prevalent on some Texas ranches of feeding copper sulphate in some commercial mixture over long periods for control of stomach worms and it was found that the trouble was occurring on the very ranges where these mixtures were being fed. Suitable tests were immediately begun which showed the trouble is really copper poisoning but of a chronic nature which accounts for the distinction between this trouble and the acute copper poisoning reported from Germany.

GARNER—Winfield Scott Garner, 86, died Saturday, March 17, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Bounds, on Brady Avenue, where he had made his home since 1924.

Mr. Garner was a native of Tennessee, a pioneer Texan and a Confederate veteran who fought with Hood's regiment during the war between the states.

He was married to Miss Josephine Griffin on October 22, 1877. To this union five children were born, three of whom survive.

Funeral services for Mrs. Pheba S. Weathersby, 71, pioneer Comanche county citizen, who died at 11:05 Monday night at her home near Sidney, where she had lived for 48 years on the same ranch, were held Tuesday afternoon, March 20, at 4 o'clock at Stagg Creek cemetery.

Surviving are seven children, 24 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The children are: Charlie Weathersby, May; Mrs. Verna Pattie, Seminole, Oklahoma; Lee Weathersby, Rising Star; Jess Weathersby, California; Clarence Weathersby, Levelland; Claude Weathersby, Brownwood, and Mrs. Sadie Hansford, Seminole.

Adolf Hitler and the Nazi government were put on "trial" at New York's Madison Square Garden and a jury of 20,000 citizens returned a verdict of guilty of "a crime against civilization".

Funeral services were held from the residence at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. M. Wharton, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating.

Funeral services were held at Coleman Tuesday for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cullins, Indian Creek route. The baby passed away Monday.

Mrs. Rose was born May 11, 1852, at Jackson Port, Missouri. She came to Texas in 1893 and came to Brownwood five years ago.

Surviving are two sons, F. M. and H. A. Rose, both of Brownwood; three daughters, Mrs. Ida Etheridge of Lampasas, Mrs. Lala Crouch of Mitchell county and Mrs. Mary Carlton of Coryell county.

enough to quell the hungry feel- ing, yet there is hardly a pound in a carload. The list is infinitely alluring—fresh peas, carrots, spin- ach, broccoli, cauliflower, string beans—enough for a different combination every day. No pota- toes, of course, the old weight- builders! But lots of salads of un- cooked fruits and vegetables, few in calories and good for the complexion.

Meat for the reducing diet should be broiled or boiled, never fried. And then we come to desserts, the sorest point with most reducers. Eat stewed or fresh fruit instead of ice cream, pie or plum pudding. For the rest, drink ten glasses of water a day, sleep eight hours, walk a mile, swim, ride horseback or play tennis.

Verdict Favorable To Maxwell Returned

A verdict considered favorable to Dr. E. L. Maxwell in his suit to recover monies paid to Universal Automobile Insurance Company was returned by a jury in district court late Wednesday.

The exact amount of damages recoverable under the verdict, which was in the form of answers to questions submitted by the court is undetermined but court house attaches estimated Dr. Maxwell probably will recover approximate- ly $4,000 through the verdict, and retain possession of the stock. He had paid $10,000 for the stock. No- tice of appeal was filed by the in- surance company. The trial consumed ten days and attracted widespread interest.
