

BROWNWOOD BANNER

There is gratification in the hearts of loyal Texans this week since the Legislature in the last hours of its special session passed the Centennial Bill. While the bill itself leaves much to be desired, and the appropriation, $100,000, is itself quite inadequate, the Legislature has made a start in the right direction; a start which can be carried to a successful conclusion by the committee named in the Centennial Bill.

The legislative enactment that resulted from incessant work of patriotic Texas in and out of the Legislature, is much better than no action at all, and forms the basis for a start in the right direction. Nothing can be gained from regrets that a better working foundation was not laid—and the spirit which made possible the establishment of the Lone Star State has been transferred in sufficient strength to those who have followed to assure an adequate celebration in 1936.

The most gratifying thought is that the Texas Centennial is no longer an idea to be striven for. It now is an actual fact, to be carried out by a patriotic group of worthy Texans.

In the sounding of cymbals which accompanies the announcements of candidates for state offices, the minor note of a brief statement by one state official likely will pass unnoticed. We believe it is due more than the limited attention that this short notice will accord it. It is the announcement, recently made, that Elbert Hooper will not be a candidate for Attorney General.

First Assistant Attorney General, Mr. Hooper had been for months prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for his chief's position, and by political observers, was given more than an even chance for election. An able attorney, shrewd politician, the North Texan would have been a factor in the race.

Mr. Hooper stated that since the Attorney General is an announced candidate for Governor of Texas, and necessarily will be out of the office much of the time until after the primaries, he feels it his duty to remain at Austin, looking after the affairs of the state's legal office.

For four years now, Jimmie Allred has been Mr. Hooper's chief, and the First Assistant is trained in the affairs of the office. There is no time for training his successor. No doubt he is needed where he is.

The sacrifice is a worthy one. Knowing Mr. Hooper, we know it is sincere. And if, as seems most probable at this time, likeable Jimmie Allred is the next Governor of Texas, we hope that he'll have a nice job waiting for Mr. Hooper.

Additional evidence, if such be needed, that President Roosevelt is sincere in his desire to help the American home owner, is presented this week in the President's request that Congress pass legislation that will place the government behind the principal as well as the interest of the Home Owners Loan Corporation Bonds.

Such guarantee has been anticipated since similar action was taken earlier in the present congressional session with regard to farm loans, but it is made certain through the action of the President.

As has been pointed out in these columns before, the building trades have suffered more than their share throughout the depression, and any action that will tend to stabilize home ownership or will make additional funds available for repair and maintenance of homes, will do much to speed recovery in building and allied trades.

Strengthening of the security behind the Home Owners Loan Corporation bonds may not be sound governmental business, but it will go a long way toward improving conditions, and the benefits justify such action.

What is to be done with the 4,000,000 men who are to be released during the coming weeks by the dissolution of the CWA? That is a problem that is worrying governmental officials, but had best be given consideration by people in all walks of life.

The situation in Brown County, where some 100 or more men have been dropped from the rolls each week since the dissolution started, is being repeated in every county in the nation.

Agriculture, normally capable of absorbing a large number of workers during the summer months, can take on few additional laborers this year. In practically every agricultural field, production has been curtailed through government edict to such an extent that there will be no demand this year for additional laborers.

Industry has not shown such marked improvement that it can absorb many more workers. With the exception of the automobile industry, which is enjoying its best year of many, industrial employment is only slightly above last year.

Frankly, we don't know how the situation is going to be taken care of. We only hope that it will.

The months of March and April, 1836, were crowded with events of far-reaching influence over the destiny of Texas.

Stephen F. Austin was a philanthropist, statesman, thoughtful student, and devoted patriot.

The victory of San Jacinto redeemed a territory of imperial extent, and consecrated it to liberty.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Capt. Bill McDonald, Texas Ranger

One of the classic stories of the Old West is the tale of the riot which broke out in a Texas town and how its agitated mayor sent a burly-up call for a company of Texas Rangers to come forthwith and suppress the rioters. In due course a lone Ranger rode into town and sought out the fearful burgomaster, who, seeing him, sputtered indignantly: "Why—why... I asked for a whole company of Rangers and they've sent only one!" "Well," drawled that imperious guardian of the law in the Lone Star state, "There ain't but one riot, is there?"

The identity of this casual officer has never been authoritatively established, but it might very well have been Capt. Bill McDonald, for it was just about the sort of statement you could expect from the man of whom it was once said "He'd charge hell with a bucket of water."

He is remembered as the deputy United States marshal who, almost single-handedly redeemed No Man's Land in Indian territory, tamed the Texas Panhandle and reformed the notorious Cherokee strip. In doing this he faced a task that federal and territorial officers of the law declared impossible and, braving death a hundred times at the hands of desperadoes to whom there were no rules of war and whose slogan was "Shoot Capt. Bill McDonald on sight," he lived to see law and order prevail.

But he was more than just a hard-riding, hard-fighting officer who knew not the name of fear. His native intelligence made him a detective whose feats of solving baffling mysteries compare favorably with some of the best city-trained sleuths in the history of crime detection. And he had something else—a psychology that made him invincible and which is best expressed in his own words: "No man in the wrong can stand up against a fellow that's in the right and keeps on a-comin'!"

When Captain Bill died in 1918, press dispatches recalled the fact that he had been a friend of Presidents (he had accompanied President Roosevelt on T. R.'s wolf-hunting expedition in Oklahoma in 1905 as chief guide and special bodyguard, and he had served as bodyguard for President Wilson during his campaign for re-election in 1916). But it is doubtful if he himself would care to be remembered for being "a friend of Presidents" so much as he would for being "Capt. Bill McDonald, Texas Ranger."

Terracing will proceed in Navarro county in as big a way as ever this year, the county agent pointing out that he has trained farmers to help others run the lines.

THE BANNER'S SCRAP BOOK

SOCIETIES exist under three forms sufficiently distinguishable.

1. Without government, as among our Indians. 2. Under governments wherein the will of every one has a just influence, as is the case in England in a slight degree, and in our states in a great one.

3. Under governments of force: as is the case in all other monarchies and in most of the republics. To have an idea of the curse of existence under these last, they must be seen. It is a government of wolves over sheep. It is a problem, not clear in my mind, that the first condition is not the best.

But I believe it to be inconsistent with any great degree of population. The second state has a great deal of good in it. The mass of mankind under that enjoys a precious degree of liberty and happiness. It has its evils too: the principal of which is the turbulence to which it is subject. But weigh this against the oppressions of monarchy, and it becomes nothing. I prefer dangerous liberty rather than quiet servitude. Even this evil is productive of good. It prevents degeneracy of government, and nourishes a general attention to the public affairs.

I hold that a little rebellion now and then is a good thing, and as necessary in the political world as storms in the physical. Unsuccessful rebellions indeed generally establish the encroachments on the rights of the people which have produced them.

An observation of this truth should render honest governors so mild in their punishment of rebellions, as not to discourage them too much. It is a medicine necessary for the sound health of government. Thomas Jefferson.

NOTHING is true forever. A man and a fact will become equally decrepit and will tumble in the same ditch, for truth is as mortal as man, and both are outlived by the tortoise and the crow.

To say that two is company and three is a crowd is to make a very temporary statement. After a short time satiety or use and want have crept sunderlingly between the two, and, if they are any company at all, they are bad company, who pray discreetly but passionately for the crowd that is censured by the proverb. TEXAS FARM NEWS

College Station — Indicating that the corn-hog campaign is drawing on toward its close E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension swine specialist, has announced that March 17 has been set for the last sign-up-day in Texas. Farmers who are desirous of contracting to reduce their production of corn and hogs will be well advised to get into the county agent's office before Saturday where possible, Mr. Regenbrecht states, because the rush on a last day is always great.

A ruling of interest to farmers who are now making their planting plans, Mr. Regenbrecht said, is the interpretation of paragraph 3, section (c) of the contract, 'his is to the effect that in cases where the crop rotation system of the producer makes it desirable for him to increase the acreage of feed crops such as oats or barley, but he is prevented from doing so under the terms of paragraph 3, section (c) of the contract, because an insufficient number of acres was planted to feed crops during either 1932 or 1933, the producer may increase the acreage of feed crops by decreasing the number of acres of corn by an equivalent number of acres below the 1934 maximum corn acreage for the land under contract. For example, if the total number of acres of feed crops was 60 acres in 1932 and 50 acres in 1933, the producer under the terms of paragraph 3 could not plant more than 60 acres of feed crops in 1934. He may, however, wish to plant 70 acres of feed crops in 1934. If the producer had a 1932-33 average corn acreage of 100 acres and is reducing by 20 per cent, he would be permitted to plant 80 acres of corn. However, if under this interpretation he wished to plant 70 acres of feed crops in 1934, he could do so, provided he planted only 70 acres of corn instead of 80.

The official interpretation of paragraph 3, section (c) of the contract is also of great interest Mr. Regenbrecht said. It is that acres planted to feed crops in 1932 or 1933 which were not harvested because of destruction of the crop by insects, flood, disease, or other Act of God, may be counted as if actually harvested, provided no other crop was planted on such land to be harvested the same year.

Gollad — Having to dig up old cotton production records has been turned to good advantage by Gollad county farmers who tell the county agent they are learning more about the business side of their operations than they ever knew before. They have found out that their past guesses on acreage and production have been wide of the mark many times, and that estimates may be 10 per cent to 15 per cent wrong. Small well-worked fields have been discovered to be the best paying ones. By popular reputation the river bottom farms have been the best cotton producers, but many comparatively infertile upland cotton fields well manured and cultivated and planted to good seed are showing even better yields. The best single cotton field in the county is not in the river bottom but in the north part of the black upland section. Its average yield of lint is easily 100 pounds per acre better than the river section land, says K. J. Edwards, county agent. The cotton campaign will lead to more farm accounting by farmers, he predicts.

El Paso — Two lanterns and a wet wash enabled D. I. Graham of Ysleta, El Paso county to double the egg production of his flock of 80 White Leghorns during January. He asked the county agent to cull his flock, but instead the agent recommended wet washes and longer working days for the hens. Two lanterns were placed in the house every morning at 4 o'clock, and wet washes fed in addition to dry wash in hoppers. Production picked up in one week and had increased to 40 to 50 eggs daily in three weeks.

Guthrie — The terracing of ten King county farms in January was a real accomplishment according to R. L. White, county agent, who says landlords had to overcome tenant objections to get the job done. County machinery was used at a cost of $17.50 per day and an average cost of about 40 cents per acre terraced. Tenants are satisfied after finding they had little additional work to do in finishing the job, Mr. White says.

Fort Stockton — Seven creep feeders for beef calves on the El Senora Ranch in Pecos county have proven profitable this season, H. H. Matthews, ranch manager, has reported to L. E. Bailey, county agent. With no rain for several months the mothers are not in good condition but the calves are in fine shape, he says. Creep feeders permit nursing calves to eat grain and cottonseed meal and thereby get a fast start in life.

Sherman — "The canning of 892 containers of vegetables, fruits and meats reduced our 1933 food purchases to sugar, coffee, teas, spices and fresh fruits," says Mrs. V. P. Gilliam, 4-H pantry demonstrator of Hebron Home Demonstration Club. Included in the canned products are snap beans, English peas, kraut, green pepper, corn, lima beans, tomatoes, squash, carrots, relishes, fried chicken, boned chicken, barbecued chicken, roast, steak, stew, chili, pork roast, ribs and sausage, as well as a variety of preserves, jellies, fruits and fruit juices, according to the report of Miss Mattie Wilroy, home demonstration agent of Grayson county.

The canned products are valued at $204.10. In addition Mrs. Gilliam has 750 pounds of cured meat, liard, Irish potatoes and pumpkins stored.

She built in her cellar 60 feet of shelving on which to store her products. During the year she has assisted, or passed on information to 7 women in cooperation with the Grayson County Home Demonstration Council Extension Program. The Hebron Club was organized in the spring of 1932 and ten steam pressure cookers and four sealers have been bought in that vicinity since then.

Amarillo — According to Mrs. E. G. Atkinson's sales tickets from the home demonstration club, market, which is open two and one-half hours at the City Auditorium at Amarillo every Saturday morning, she has sold $29.72 worth of her products during the past three months.

Mrs. Atkinson is a member of the River Road Home Demonstration Club in Potter county and has become vitally interested in the club market. One day she remarked that she had worked for a salary most all of her life and she missed that salary check coming in every month, and that she was going to do her best to build up a market trade. She received $13.75 from cakes, $7.45 from yeast rolls, $1.15 from cinnamon rolls and $6.67 from eggs.

Since Mrs. Atkinson started selling her products on the market she has received standing orders from the A. and Extension Service on preserves and yeast rolls.

JUDGE A. O. NEWMAN IS CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY?

A. O. Newman, County Judge of Coleman county, authorizes The Banner to announce that he will be a candidate for the office of District Attorney of the 35th Judicial District, composed of Brown, McCulloch and Coleman counties.

Judge Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Newman of Santa Anna and nephew of the late Judge F. M. Newman of Brady, is 37 years of age. He finished Santa Anna High School in 1916, graduated from Howard Payne College in 1921 and the University of Texas Law School in 1925. Since 1925 he has been in the active practice of law. He taught school from 1921 to 1923. He was City Attorney of Santa Anna in 1928 and 1929. City Attorney of Coleman in 1929 and 1930, and is now serving his second term as county judge. He has served both as president and secretary of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

Judge Newman is an ex-service man, having served his country overseas during the World War—and has been elected and served twice as Post Commander of Ray Post No. 213 of the American Legion.

Judge Newman in discussing his candidacy for the position of district attorney said:

"In making my announcement for district attorney I am not unmindful of the grave responsibilities of the office, but I believe that with the legal training and experience I have had I can make the citizens of the 35th Judicial District a capable district attorney.

Dr. Vernon Scott, of the John Tarleton College, discussed diseases, while Dr. Lewis C. Crabb, State Veterinarian, discussed the subject of stabilizing the dairy industry. One of the most interesting papers of the meeting was delivered by Professor Shepardson, dairy husbandman, A. and M. Col-

Rev. Hawkins Will Preach at Tabernacle

Rev. W. E. Hawkins, Jr., the director of KRLD Radio Revival, Dallas, will speak at the Brownwood Gospel Tabernacle next Sunday, March 11, at 10:50 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

Rev. Hawkins is known over the Southwest as a Godly man, who preaches the Bible, teaches the Bible, and seeks to point sinful men and women to the Cross of Jesus Christ," says an announcement of the meeting.

"Every person in Central West Texas now has another opportunity to hear in person this man whom they have learned to love. Listen today at 12:30 to his program over KRLD."

The British output of 15,022 books in 1933 was the highest on record with the exception of 1930 production.

TREES PLANTED AT CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH BY MEMBERS

At the suggestion of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Lightfoot and through the cooperation of the members and friends of the Central Methodist church and Sunday school, the church property was beautified Wednesday of this week by the planting of a large number of trees and shrubs.

The beautification program included the planting of 12 fruit trees, 11 pecans, 10 evergreens, 40 roses, 160 feet of privet hedge and 50 feet of althea hedge besides a number of crepe myrtle and other trees and shrubs.

Following the planting of the trees a large crowd gathered in the basement of the church for supper and to hear a program arranged for the occasion. Miss Mavis Douglas sang, "Trees" and H. D. Tucker delivered a brief address on "The Spirit of the Tree Planter."

Rev. E. H. Lightfoot was master of ceremonies and the program was attended by several hundred people.

Thomas and Stalcup Buy Sinclair Station

Homer Thomas and Joe Stalcup have purchased the Sinclair Service Station at Lee and Clark Streets, across Clark Street from the Mitcham Funeral Home, and are operating it under the firm name of Thomas & Stalcup.

The station offers complete one-stop service, featuring Sinclair gasoline and Pennsylvania and Opaline motor oils in sealed cans. A repair shop also is maintained in connection with the service station.

The location is that formerly occupied by Floyd Williford, and was known originally as the Ralph Matthews garage.

Both Thomas and Stalcup have been in the service station business in Brownwood for many years and are well known here. Both are certified lubricationists, and the station is equipped with Grayco grease guns.

Terracing pays Charles Baker in Burnet county more money than any other work on the farm. He says terraces have increased his production 30 per cent and that they have saved him crossing or turning out around gullies.

A cutting bed for getting cuttings rooted for yard transplanting has furnished Mrs. L. M. Andrews, a Harrison county yard demonstrator, 24 shrubs and paid for itself 10 times over. She has sold $5 worth of plants from it.

MORTUARY

SHEFFIELD — R. W. Sheffield, 70, farmer and business man of Santa Anna, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Lucas, 2420 Durham Street, Sunday, March 4. Mr. Sheffield had been ill for some time and his death, though coming suddenly, was not entirely unexpected.

Robert William Sheffield was born in Cooper, Delta county, Texas, December 16, 1864. He was married in 1891 to Miss America Morgan at Cooper and came to Santa Anna in 1908. For many years he was engaged in farming and later was in business in Santa Anna. He was widely known throughout this section and possessed the friendship of many who will be saddened by his death. Mr. Sheffield had been a member of the Methodist Church for many years.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Santa Anna Monday afternoon with Rev. Mr. Morgan officiating. Pallbearers were W. T. Verner, Ed Ewing, J. W. Myers, D. R. Hill, R. E. Mobley, J. P. Newman, J. T. Turner and Don Ewing.

Interment was in the Santa Anna cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Sheffield are six children, Mark Sheffield of Burkett, Marvin Sheffield of Gouldsburg, Virgil Sheffield of Longview, Guy Sheffield, Mrs. Jamie Taylor of Donna and Mrs. C. C. Lucas of Brownwood; two brothers, Nick Sheffield of Yantis and John Sheffield of Warika, Oklahoma, and two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Bennett of Banas and Mrs. Mary Leigh of Yantis.

WIGLEY — William H. Wigley, 42, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Allen Grantham, 605 Clark street, at 3 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Wigley who was a druggist and salesman for 21 years, had been in ill health the past two years and had been making his home here with his sister for some time. He was born and reared in Mills county near Mullin and was well known in that section.

Funeral services were held from the Mullin Baptist Church Tuesday at 3 p. m. with Elder Gilbert Dalton of Dublin officiating. Interment was in Mullin cemetery with a Goldthwaite funeral home in charge of arrangements. Mr. Wigley was a member of the Masonic Lodge and members of the Mullin Lodge will have charge of services at the grave.

Two hundred and seventy-one containers of vegetables on the pantry shelf have cut the grocery bill $5 per month, reports Mrs. W. B. Smith of Pear Ridge Home Demonstration, Club in Jefferson county.

Surviving are two sons, Billie, 9, and Bobbie, 6, of Ingleside; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. F. Wigley of Caradan; two brothers, L. W. and J. P. Wigley, both of near Mullin; and two sisters, Mrs. Allen Grantham of Brownwood and Mrs. A. J. Weather of Goldthwaite.

WALTERS — John Thomas Walters, 78, pioneer Texan and an old time cattle trail driver, died at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 7th, at the home of a son, J. T. Walters, Jr., a short distance south of the city. Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from White and London Funeral Home with Dr. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of Coggin Avenue Baptist Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. C. A. Wilkerson of Winchell and Rev. Hal Martin of Trickham. Interment will be in Greenleaf Cemetery.

Mr. Walters was born October 31, 1855, in Coryell county and spent his boyhood in that and in adjoining counties. He went to South Texas in 1876 before there were any railroads west of San Antonio. He participated in the driving of several herds of cattle up the Chisholm Trail. Later he engaged in the cattle business in Uvalde county, for a number of years.

Mr. Walters was married to Miss Rebecca C. King on May 3, 1885, at Hondo, Texas. If Mr. Walters had lived until next March 3, they would have been married 50 years.

In 1916 Mr. Walters came to Brownwood and had made his home here since.

Surviving are his wife; four sons, E. E. Walters of San Antonio;

W. A. Walters of Bisbee, Arizona; S. L. Walters of Trickham and J. T. Walters, Jr., of Brownwood; one daughter, Mrs. Joe Schooler of O'Donnell; seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Kate Wilkey of Arizona.

COUNTY SPENDING

(Continued from page 1.) court has yet allowed, each month, an order being left with the county clerk to issue the voucher once a month. Records at the county clerk's office show that there are 17 names on the pauper rolls of the county at the present time, most of them receiving from $5 to $7.50 a month. The only exception is $20 a month issued for negro relief, and disbursed among the negroes by Prof. R. F. Hardin and Rev. Carrington. No other relief is offered the negroes, who must apply to one of these men.

Welfare Home

The $1200 item for the operation of a welfare home takes care of the county home, maintained at 1002 Melwood Avenue. Mrs. Corrie B. West is matron of the home.

At the home at present there are eight "permanents," who probably will be in the home for the remainder of their lives. They are the "old folks" without homes, without funds, and dependent for their daily existence upon the charity of the county. Most of them have been on the rolls for many years.

In addition to the permanents, a large number of emergency cases are taken care of at the Welfare Home. At present, there are four sick people being taken care of at the home at present, and quite a number of sick have used the facilities of the welfare home during the past few months.

No nurses are available at the Welfare Home, as a general rule, but the relief association has furnished some, and has helped the matron in a number of cases. Quite a few from relief headquarters have been sent to the home, and in these cases, the relief office takes care of the expenses, furnishing medicine, nurses, groceries, etc., for cases sent from that office.

Relief Helps. The CWA and the direct relief work has done much to hold down calls on the county during the past year, Judge Gray stated, and without this assistance the county would have been able to have taken care of the situation. However, there are a number of cases coming up each week that do not come under the requirements of the relief association, Judge Gray stated, and when these make application to the relief office, they are referred to the county.

And so, when the year is done, the commissioners generally find that they have spent some $6,000 in various forms of relief for indigent citizens of the county.

FISHING AT LAKE STILL IS LEGAL

Unless Wm. J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission, uses his prerogative and closes Lake Brownwood to fishing by an order from his department, it will be legal to fish in Lake Brownwood when it's legal anywhere else.

The bill introduced in the special session of the legislature which would have closed the lake until May 15, 1935, and lengthened the closed season in years after that, died on the calendar, Tucker wrote David Henley, president of the Izaak Walton League, the league had sponsored the bill.

The lake, along with all other bodies of water in the state, is closed for bass and crappie from March 1 to May 1.
