

Production Loan Office for Brown County Launched

Loans Can Be Made From $50 Up: Feed and Seed Loans Will Be Authorized

A production loan office for Brown county was established today in the offices of County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, with L. F. Byrd as director for Brown county, and Miss Roberta Lehmburg as application writer in charge of the office work, which will be under the general supervision of the county agent. The establishment of the office is the result of a meeting of the board of production loans held in the court house Saturday afternoon, when more than 200 farmers in the county were present. The Production Credit Corporation of Houston for the establishment of a loan office in Brown county has been served through the Coleman Production Credit Association, which is operating under direct authority of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston. Brown county applications will go through the Coleman offices, and the loans will be made from Houston.

Feed and seed loans will be made in this county as soon as authority is received from Washington, which is expected soon. Her loans can be made immediately. The association is operating under the authority of the Houston office, which are under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration. The Coleman Production Credit Association has a capital of $150,000, and is authorized to loan five times its capital, $750,000.

Loans can be made in sums of $50 to $30,000, and are to be secured by chattels. All applications from this county must be made out by the application writer, Miss Lehmburg. For this service the application writer will receive 50 cents, which includes a handling fee.

The borrower will be required to take stock in the association to the amount of one share, at $5 per share, for each $100 or fraction thereof of $100 borrowed. He also will be required to pay a reasonable inspection fee.

There will be at least two inspectors for Brown county, to be selected by the directors of the association, and approved by the Production Credit Corporation of Houston.

All loans, it is announced, will be handled confidentially, and will be made covering a very liberal maturity date. The notes will carry interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, with unearned interest charges refunded.

More than 600 rabbits were killed in an all-day rabbit drive in the McDaniel community Wednesday. Brownwood men who attended reported Thursday. Eighteen business men from Brownwood were on hand to enjoy the fun and assist in ridding the community of rabbits.

The big feature of the day, according to R. C. Brooks and D. C. Pratt, who headed the Brownwood delegation, was the dinner served at noon by women of the community. There were about 100 people on hand for the dinner, and enough had been prepared to serve 300, they reported. Coffee was donated and served by Looney Mercantile Co.

Frank Blair and Mr. Sanderson were in charge of the McDaniel group of hunters.

The next drive will probably be held next Wednesday at Zephyr, Mr. Pratt stated.

Revive Romance After Accident

An auto accident has revived the romance which Elaine Melchoir, above, and Lyle Talbot, film actor, below, believed was dead. Once divorced, Hollywood reports persist that they'll renew. Their friendship was renewed when Talbot was injured and now he is trying to arrange a screen career for his ex-wife.

5,339 PAY POLL TAX BEFORE FINAL DATE

Brown county resumed its normal voting strength, after four abnormally small years, when 5,339 voters paid poll taxes prior to January 31, according to records in Tax Collector Lee Meek's office.

Poll tax payments in the county in 1932, the last election year, numbered 4,464, while in 1930 there were 6,376 poll tax payments and in 1928, the highest number on record, 6,537 voters paid poll taxes in Brown county.

Payments this year more than doubled those of last year. In 1933 payments reached only 2,354. The figures announced do not include some mail payments that have not been recorded in the collector's office, and which will add somewhat to the final totals. Payments sent by mail and postmarked prior to midnight January 31 are considered paid before the closing of that day's business.

RELIEF GIVEN TO AUTO OWNERS THROUGH TIME-EXTENSION

Action was taken the first of this week by the senate at Austin to extend the time for payment of automobile licenses each year, including this year, to March 31. Action by the house probably will be taken Thursday or Friday, and the bill will be signed by the governor immediately.

Highway Patrolman R. L. Badgett Wednesday received instructions from Austin not to arrest automobile users who had 1933 automobile licenses until receipt of further instructions from the highway department.

Earlier in the week he had received orders to arrest motorists not having 1934 license plates. Motorists who registered their cars after February 1 and paid the penalty will be refunded the amount of the penalty, according to plans of the legislature.

PROGRESS MADE BY COURT THIS WEEK

Rapid progress was being made in district court this week in the trial of criminal cases. District Judge E. J. Miller is presiding.

A. W. Squires pleaded guilty when arraigned on a charge of theft of an automobile and was given a two year sentence in the penitentiary.

Floyd Page was found guilty by a jury on a burglary charge and was given a five year penitentiary sentence.

Elzie Capes was found guilty by a jury on a charge of theft of an automobile and given a five year suspended sentence.

ERVIN BOUND OVER ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Tom Bird Ervin, arrested Wednesday was bound over to the grand jury at an examining trial Thursday morning on two charges of robbery with firearms. Bond of $5,000 in each case was set, and Ervin was remanded to jail upon inability to make bail.

The examining trial followed identification of Ervin by a number of people who were victims of robbery during the past week-end. The two cases upon which the examining trial was based were the robbery of the Brownwood Hotel and the Cities Service filling station.

Ervin was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary from Brown county on June 17, 1930, for his part in the robbery of the First National Bank of Brownwood on March 13, 1929. Capt. C. A. McNeil also was sentenced in connection with the same robbery.

Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock a lone, masked bandit held up the night clerk and bellhop at Hotel Brownwood and took $20 in small change. Early Monday night a masked man, thought to be the same as the hotel bandit, held up attendants at the Cities Service filling station at the corner of West Lee and Main and took $40 and at the Magnolia station at the corner of Depot and Center and took $10.

CWA PAYROLL FOR WEEK IS $7,207.65

The county's CWA payroll for the week ending February 3 amounted to $7,207.65, being divided among 827 workers. This is the largest number of workers to receive checks since the CWA was instituted in this county, although the total was not as large as during two weeks when it went over $10,000.

Saturday's payments bring the total payroll since November in Brown county up to $75,568.19.

13 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY JURY

After returning 13 true bills, the Brown county grand jury Saturday recessed until March 8. Approximately 25 felony charges were submitted to the jurors. The grand jury will be subject to call at the court's discretion.

Officials Seek CWA Project For Highway To Park

Would Build 11.5 Miles of Roadways Connecting With Present System

County, Water Improvement District and Chamber of Commerce officials will go to Austin Friday in an effort to secure approval of three CWA projects for construction of lateral highways in Brown county connecting the park at Lake Brownwood with the established highway system of the county.

Those planning to make the trip are County Judge Courtney Gray, and Commissioner Chas. B. Palmer representing Brown county, H. G. Lucas, representing Brown County Water Improvement District, and Chester Harrison, representing the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Efforts will be made to secure 11.5 miles of highway in the county. The project submitted will be divided into three separate projects, any one of which can be approved in event of failure to secure approval of the entire system as requested by the county.

The three divisions of the projects are:
1. Construction of 5.2 miles of highway from Byrds to the Main Entrance of the park. This will give access to the park from highway 129, across through Holder to Byrds, from Byrds a new highway would be built direct to the park entrance.

2. Construction of a 4.5 mile highway from a point on the Cross Cut highway, north of the Jim Ned bridge, to the Park entrance. The Cross Cut highway now is under construction. The construction of this highway would give an improved road from Brownwood almost direct to the park, and would shorten the automobile distance considerably. The point of intersection of the proposed highway and the Cross Cut highway is 13.5 miles from Brownwood, making the total distance over this route from Brownwood to the park only 18 miles.

3. Construction of a road from the Main Entrance to the park to the South-East Entrance, a distance of 1.8 miles. This would make the lower entrance to the park available in all weather, and would give a shorter route to those wishing to enter from this entrance.

The three projects, if granted, would give Brown county a scenic loop of something more than 40 miles in length, and probably unequalled in West Texas. From Brownwood it would be possible to drive out highway 129 past Owens, across through Holder to Byrds over highways now being improved as CWA projects, skirt the lake for several miles, visit the park and come back over the new Cross Cut highway, now under construction.

The loop would afford a splendid afternoon's drive over improved highways, and would make the park accessible to thousands of people from all sections of Brown county, as well as bringing the park and the lake closer to highway travel from all directions.

In addition, the highways involved in the applications would serve important farming communities that have been hemmed in by the construction of the lake, and do not now have adequate highway facilities.

SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT FRIDAY, SATURDAY NIGHTS

The annual Brown county basketball tournament will be held in Brownwood at the Daniel Baker gymnasium Friday and Saturday of this week, according to announcements by officials of the interscholastic league.

Play in this year's tournament will begin Friday afternoon and continue through Saturday and Saturday night with the final and championship game for Class B schools scheduled for Saturday night after the Daniel Baker-Austin College game that night.

Brownwood and May High Schools will clash Friday night at 9 o'clock in the game that will determine the Class A championship for 1934, these being the only two schools in that group in the county. The winner of the May-Brownwood game will play the Class B champions next Tuesday night. This game also being booked for the Daniel Baker gymnasium.

DRIVE TO REDUCE CORN AND HOGS TO START NEXT WEEK

Plans are under way to begin the government hog and corn reduction program in Brown county next week, according to announcement of C. W. Lehmburg, county agent.

Quotas have been reduced so that the minimum requirement now is one brood sow or ten acres of corn, or both for entry into one of the two optional plans offered by the government.

H. G. Lucas is general chairman for Brown county, the organization for putting on the drive having been perfected at a meeting some two weeks ago. Other leaders in the campaign will be A. P. Spence, W. R. Chambers, Alvin Richmond and T. C. Windham.

The corn and hog adjustment contract which will be offered to Brown county farmers, contains nine major points. These are:
1. The contract signer agrees to cut the corn acreage on the farm he will operate in 1934 to at least 20 per cent less than the average on that farm during 1932 and 1933. The government hog and corn reduction plan is to operate a new farm in 1934, the size of the corn crop on previously operated farm is not to be considered. Corn acreage base stays with the land.

2. Acreage can be reduced more than 20 per cent, but benefit payments will not be made on an area in excess of 30 per cent.

3. Farmer must not increase corn acreage on other land he owns, controls or operates above the average acreage on that land in 1932-1933.

4. Contracting producer shall reduce the number of litters of pigs farrowed on his farm or farms or farrowed by sows owned by him in 1934 to at least 75 per cent of the average number of all litters owned by him when farrowed in 1932 and 1933.

5. He agrees not to increase above his 1932-1933 average the number of feeder pigs he buys in 1934.

6. The farmer agrees to reduce the total number of hogs he markets in 1934 to at least 75 per cent of the average number marketed from litters owned by him farrowed in 1932 and 1933.

7. Unless given special permission to the contrary, the farmer shall use retired corn land only in one or more of five ways: To plant more permanent pasture; to plant crops such as clover or lespedeza to improve the soil or to prevent soil washing, but not to be harvested; let the land stand fallow; carry on a campaign to eradicate weeds; or plant a farm woodlot.

8. The farmer agrees not to increase his total acreage of feed crops other than hay, or any crops planted for harvest stipulated as basic crops, or livestock above the production in either 1932 or 1933, whichever ones are higher. Basic commodities named in the act are cotton, wheat, field corn, tobacco, hogs, milk and its products.

9. A producer may hasten the delivery of his benefit payments by signing a "rider" in which he gives advance permission to the county allotment committee to adjust or correct the figures in his contract without recourse by him.

As compensation for the adjustments listed above, cooperators shall receive as benefit payments $5 a head on 75 per cent of the adjusted annual average number of hogs produced for market from 1932 and 1933 litters, and 30 cents a bushel on the estimated yield of corn that might have been produced on the land retired from production.

8,133 BALES COTTON GINNED IN COUNTY

There were 8,133 bales of cotton ginned in Brown county from the 1933 crop, according to figures of O. H. Turner, county cotton enumerator for Department of Census.

The crop previously had been reported as 8,126 bales, but during January one gin re-opened and ginned seven bales.

TRAMEL HEADS BOXING BILL NEXT FRIDAY

The Brownwood Athletic Club, licensed promoters of professional boxing, is offering another of its first class fight programs Thursday night, February 15th, at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall in Brownwood.

Next week's fight program will feature the veteran Duke Tramel, popular Fort Worth middleweight, and Sammy McLauren, a fighting Irishman from Topeka, Kansas, in a ten-round battle. This scrap will be one of the best of the many great fights staged by the Brownwood club, the promoters claim.

In addition to the main event, the club is offering an eight round semi-final between Bobby Reed of Fort Worth and "Kayo Shorty" of Brownwood, two lightning fast featherweights.

Sidney Hunter, 190 pound Comanche county boy, will clash with Earl Morgan, 180, of Brownwood, in one of three four-round battles. Bullard Head, 154, of Brownwood, and Albert Lee, 155, of Zephyr, clash in another four-rounder. A four-round scrap between two negroes is also being arranged.

One of the features of next week's card will be a Negro Battle Royal. Five brown skinned lads will go in the ring at the same time and battle each other until only one remains.

Byrds To Vote On Stock Law

A petition from residents of the Byrds precinct requesting the calling of a stock law election for the precinct was granted by the commissioners court at the regular session Monday. It was signed by 22 residents of the community.

No date was set for the election by the commissioners court.

Should Tie Fleece With Paper Twine

Only paper twine should be used in tying of fleeces, The Banner has been advised by S. P. Davis, wool and mohair specialist of A. & M. College, who addressed a large number of sheep growers in Brownwood last week. The Banner in reporting the meeting, stated that paper or cotton twine should be used. Any twine other than paper will cause a discount on the wool, Mr. Davis writes.

Cotton twine is acceptable for sewing the mouths of the bags after they have been packed, but not for tying fleeces.

829 Contracts In New Campaign For Cotton Reduction

Success of Government Plan Assured So Far As Brown County is Concerned

The government's 1934-1935 cotton acreage reduction campaign will be a success as far as Brown county is concerned, leaders in the movement to reduce acreage here feel this week, as 829 contracts had been signed and forwarded to the government.

The contracts are coming in at about the same rate as the plow-up contracts were secured, County Agent Lehmburg stated this week, and he feels sure that a large percentage of the cotton acreage in this county will be under contract before the deadline, February 15.

No Quota
There have been no quotas established for the counties, as was the case in the plow-up campaign, and there is no way to gauge how well the county is doing in comparison with the government's expectations.

As was announced last week, the requirements for entry into the government's contract have been reduced, so that farmers with more than 75-pound lint average for the past five years may now enter into the government's contract. Previously the minimum requirement was 100 pounds lint average per acre.

The present outlook is for a carry-over of from 10 to 11 million bales on August 1, according to a statement received from C. A. Cobb, chief of the Cotton Section, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because of the weight of this huge surplus, we must make positive and determined efforts to secure the full percentage of sign-up in this campaign, he stated.

To Help Grower
"The cotton adjustment program for the next two years as outlined in the reduction contract now being offered Southern farmers is more than a mere effort to reduce the production of cotton. It endeavors to help the growers set up a balanced system of farming such as agricultural leaders have described as being needed to make the South permanently prosperous.

"Reduction of the cotton acreage by an average of 40 percent in 1934 will leave land available for the production of feed crops for the livestock on the place, will permit the production of food crops for the farm family, and will permit the growing of soil-improving crops and erosion-preventing crops which will aid the grower during future years to produce the basic cash crops on less land."

GILLIAM CASE SET FOR FEBRUARY 9

The trial of E. B. Gilliam, Sr., on charges of embezzling funds of Daniel Baker College, was postponed from Thursday, February 8, to Friday, February 9, when the case was called Thursday. Postponement was due to inability of one of the defense attorneys to be present Thursday.

This is the second postponement during the present term of court, the case originally having been set for Wednesday, February 7. Both one-day postponements were due to the same cause. The case was continued from last term of court.

Entrance salary is $2,300 a year, less economy and retirement deductions. The applicant must be qualified in dry land farming, and have had certain specified education and experience. Information can be secured from C. D. Woods, local secretary, at the Brownwood postoffice.

BROWNWOOD BANNER

A few weeks ago we took occasion to commend the straight-forward statement of Edgar E. Witt, lieutenant governor and candidate for governor, on the liquor question, which looms larger and larger as the elections grow nearer. Gov. Witt favored submission of the repeal of the state prohibition amendment, stating that other and more important economic measures will be relegated to the background until after such time as the people of the state are given an opportunity to express themselves again on prohibition.

Alfred Speaks Out

Now comes James V. Alfred, also a candidate for governor, with a statement that for frankness puts Gov. Witt to shame. Candidate Alfred also favors submission at an early date, but in addition states he will oppose repeal and vote for prohibition when the question is submitted. Gov. Witt neglects to state how he would vote, in event of submission, and although he has been a prohibitionist in the past, his stand during the past few years indicate he will favor repeal.

For those who place the prohibition as the first consideration in casting their votes, the candidates now are fairly well divided. Alfred is the only candidate whose statement so far is acceptable to the ultra-dry, and unless some candidate with strength announces on an anti-submission platform, he stands a good chance to get the lion's share of the prohibition vote.

Events of the past few weeks add to Alfred's advantage. The announcement of Maury Hughes, able Dallas attorney, as a candidate adds another pronounced wet to the list already seeking to make capital of the strong wet sentiment in the state at this time. His favorable attitude toward Ferguson will cause some split of the Ferguson vote between his cause and that of C. C. McDonald, the acknowledged Ferguson candidate. Hughes also will take some of the prohibition vote that otherwise would go to Gov. Witt, and he is sure to be a formidable candidate.

But Jimmie Alfred is a good politician. His statement has the clear-cut ring that has characterized his public actions since he has been in state politics, and wet and dry alike cannot but admire him for it.

There are many candidates. There may be more as the months go by, and it is a long time until election date. But at this time, and from this observation post, it appears that the real race will be between Alfred and Hughes.

We do not subscribe to the theory that prohibition should be the first consideration in casting a vote for a public official, but we are aware that most Texas votes are cast on this premise. In few campaigns that we have observed, except those of the past few years, voters have given little heed to any issue save that of wet or dry. But in our opinion, economic problems are so important at the present time that the question of repeal should be forced to the background. We are not so optimistic, however, as to believe this will be done.

Is Repeal The Issue?

Texas has had some able statesmen who espoused the wet cause, and in later years has had some creditable prohibitionists at the head of affairs. Unless Calvin Coolidge could be classed as a dry (he was wet as a Massachusetts politician) the nation has had no outstanding President who was a prohibitionist. Herbert Hoover came the closest to being a dry, and he was willing to concede only that prohibition was a "noble experiment."

Most Texas governors have been elected not because they were outstanding leaders, but because they favored or opposed prohibition. In our opinion, which we concede will not change the way of voting, this is a mistaken idea, and one that should be discarded. It has come closer to being discarded since prohibition became a legal fact in Texas than at any time since prohibition became an issue, but the thing is getting away from us again, and the best we can hope for is several years of negligible progress in state affairs until we can give a decisive answer to the question once more.

While the work is not being done in Brown county at present, a most worthy project is being undertaken in Texas under the supervision of the United States Bureau of Home Economics. The project, being undertaken with CWA workers, is that of making a survey of farm homes in Texas, with a view to enabling Texas farmers to make needed and long-neglected improvements on their homes.

Farm Homes, Too

Up to the present time, 23,000 Texas farm homes have been visited, and the needs of the owners tabulated. Improvements needed and desired range from a patched roof to a whole new house. A true picture of Texas farm housing conditions is being obtained.

The plan, undertaken at the instance of President Roosevelt, will have the two-fold purpose of improving farm living conditions, and at the same time bring a measure of restored business to the building industry which has suffered so heavily during the past three years.

The first "Lone Star" flag bearing the sanction of governmental authority and expressive of independence was that adopted by President Burnet at Harrisburg, April 9, 1836.

The Rio Grande was declared as the western boundary of Texas in 1836 at the first congress of the Republic of Texas, Columbia.

War with Mexico, which followed hard upon annexation, opened the way of empire along southern lines to the Pacific.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

He Led Boone To Kentucky

ALL Americans know the name of Daniel Boone and most of them, no doubt, think of him as one of the first, if not the first, pioneer into the "Dark and Bloody Ground" of Kentucky. But how many of them have ever heard of the man who was most responsible for Boone's going there and who guided him to that alluring promised land?

John Finley, or Findlay, was that man's name and he was the son of Archibald Finley, who emigrated from County Armagh, in Ireland to Bucks county, Pa., in 1734. When young John grew up he established himself as a trader and horse peddler at Carlisle Pa., and in 1747 he was licensed as an Indian trader.

During the next eight years Finley carried on his trading expeditions into the West and in the Autumn of 1752, he visited Kentucky. From some other traders Finley learned of the Great Warriors' Path an ancient Indian trail which ran through the historic Cumberland Gap.

After a series of adventures Finley returned to Pennsylvania and at the outbreak of the French and Indian war he enlisted as a wagoner in Braddock's army. Another wagoner in the same expedition was a young man named Daniel Boone and over the campfires of the campaign of 1755 young Boone was an eager listener to Finley's stirring tales of the hunter's paradise which he had visited beyond the mountains.

But, although Boone's imagination had been fired by Finley's narrative, nothing came of it until 1768. In that year the Pennsylvania trader, peddling his pins, needles, thread and Irish linens down in North Carolina, learned from some Pennsylvania settlers there that his old comrade-in-arms of the Braddock days was living on the Upper Yadkin, and immediately went to visit him.

Learning of Boone's failure to reach Kentucky by way of the difficult Big Sandy river route, Finley told him again of the Cumberland Gap route and again the Irishman's eloquent tongue poured into Boone's ears his tales of a country teeming with wild game. The result was that on May 1, 1769, with Finley as his guide, Boone, accompanied by four of his neighbors, began his historic journey and a few weeks later he stood in Cumberland Gap and looked down into the land of his dreams, the country with which his name was to be forever inseparably linked—"Kaintuckee."

Music of the "Miserere" was held in such high esteem that musicians of the Sistine Chapel were forbidden to copy it. Mozart, at the age of 14, was taken by his father to hear it, and, on reaching home again, transcribed the entire composition from memory, with only a few minor errors.

THE BANNER'S SCRAP BOOK

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address FOURSORE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that "all men are created equal."

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether this nation, or any nation, so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place for those who died here that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have hallowed it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.

It is rather for us, the living, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

Price McQueen Will Coach Cross Plains CROSS PLAINS, Feb. 7.—Price McQueen, captain of the 1933 Howard Payne football team and a unanimous choice for the all-conference eleven, has been elected football coach at Cross Plains High School. It was announced Wednesday, McQueen was in Cross Plains Tuesday and Tuesday night conferring with school officials in regard to plans for another year.

McQueen was a regular end for four years at Howard Payne and was an all-conference performer his last two seasons. The fighting Jacket captain almost played through his college career without making a touchdown, his lone score in college competition being made in the final game of the 1932 season, this being with Southwestern University at Georgetown. McQueen snared a pass to make this counter. The new Cross Plains coach, Gus Snodgrass, former level Baker star.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

It's so easy to vary your costumes with different color accessories this year, because some of the smartest of the accessories are made of fabrics you can easily handle yourself. Above, we show three scarf collars that you can make from one pattern. Don't think they're at all difficult, for they go together like clock-work and can be completed in a very short time.

As you will note, two of the hats are the new off-the-face style that is so fashionable. And one of the collars has cuffs and a belt to match. All look stunning in velvet, tulle, or wool. This is a Butterick pattern and may be bought in your favorite department store.

It is the mind that makes the man

NOTHING so detracts from one's freshness of appearance as bloodshot or watery eyes. When the wind is blowing and there is

Tire To Suit All Needs and Every

With a tire priced to meet the needs of everyone's pocketbook, Safety Tire Co., local Goodyear dealers, points out that no one need take a chance on badly worn tires in winter when good tread and traction are so important.

"For the lifetime of the car, we of course have the deluxe tire known as the Double Eagle, extra heavy and extra durable, for the larger, heavier cars," D. C. Pratt declared.

Then there's the Goodyear All-Weather Tread in both heavy duty and standard types made to suit the needs of the strenuous driver and the family car.

Goodyear's Pathfinder tire is a slightly lower priced but none the less sturdy tire, for the very careful buyer, who must have quality with low price.

And finally, there is the Speedway tire, for the motorist whose car does not warrant the investment of a higher priced tire.

Boy Scout News

worked out for the Eagle Scouts of the Council who are to be guests of the Council. This feature will be under the direction of O. E.
Winebrenner, of Howard Payne College.

MOBILIZATION

The plans for mobilization have been about completed in all of the towns. The Scouts are to mobilize in some central place under the direction of local Scout Officials to hear a broadcast message from President Roosevelt. The message will include a request for a National Good Turn at the hands of the Scouts. It is suggested that Scouts of the Comanche Trail Council will turn out 100 per cent for this program.
