"We Carry everything but the Audience."

The tax question will cut a big figure in our next legislature. Senator Bucklin's report in the Colorado legislature offers absolutely, the only way out—and leave the franchise in the hands of the people.

A bill is before the legislature to disfranchise the citizen who is unable to pay much poll tax as the millionaire. This is a property qualification tax to all intents and purposes, it is also an educational test. It will tend to discourage interest in free government. The landless man without a vote has no country he can claim. Better far, give him both a home and the ballot, and build him up, instead of denying and degrading him. Better make it compulsory to vote than to deny him a vote. Every naturalization paper to the foreigner is a bonus for a ballot in this free country; and why disfranchise those to the manor born? Jefferson was afraid of the people. But imperialists are. The franchise is not a thing to give or take away, in this country. Every natural male citizen inherits it. Better far to disfranchise arbitrary wealth, if anything, than the humble toiler. It is not the rich that defend the country, in the ranks and files. It is the other fellows; and we want these other fellows to know they have a country to defend.

REPUBLICAN ANTI-TRUST PLANK.

This tendency of trust to increase in number and to raise prices is calculated to show the agriculturists and other classes of consumers how hollow was the anti-trust plank in the Philadelphia platform, and ought to convince those among them who voted the Republican ticket that they deserve to be disciplined by an automatic kicking machine.—Kansas City Times.

Mrs. Nation, she "cannot tell a lie"—she "did it with her little hatchet." Wrecked a $1,500 saloon in Topeka, Kansas, Tuesday morning. Confederates are rallying to her standard. What the end will be is problematical.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Oklahoma City, Ok. Feb. 5.—The directors of the Oklahoma and Western Railway, at their session here yesterday approved the estimates of Chief Engineer Mottor and the contract for the extension of the road from Weatherford for eighty-nine miles westward, were ordered to be let Feb. 13, and the actual construction will be commenced Monday, Feb. 18. This is the extension of the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf Road, and carries the road through the entire Territory of Oklahoma from east to west. The Texas corporation that will be formed to build the remainder of the extension to Amarillo will be formed at once and the final survey of the route made.

The Oklahoma and Southeastern engineers have finished their preliminary survey of the route from this city to Coalgate, I. T. and the surveying corps will be put in the field Monday. The directors and local stockholders are to have a meeting Saturday, at which time they will finish negotiations that they have in hand for the building of the road. The engineers report that the route selected is of easy grade and cheap construction.—Dallas News.

"Oh Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Judge H. H. Wallace has just returned from his boyhood home, near Lynchburg, Va., where yet reside a brother and sister. It is truly entertaining to hear him detail, between sighs and smiles the incidents of the trip, and reminiscences of the thirty buried years. Time had wiped away the old school house, the cottages, the fences and the farms—and alas the friends. And the water mill, too, and the same old miller, who lifted his sacks thirty years before, were under the mercy of Providence, lifting sacks and grinding on as of yore. And the black walnut, one out of a hundred nuts planted by the Judge's own hand was now a tree. He takes his old black comrade and shells a sack of corn, throws it across a mill, and goes to that same old mill and the same old miller lifts it off and on. And—but, to make a long story short—He ships the sack of meal to his Texas home—and he says, "it maybe God can have sweeter meal made, but he knows he never did."

Miss Laura Moore, supt public schools, Greer county, who has been here on a visit with Mrs. Anthony, left for home this morning.

Miss Lelah Price, of Greer county, is visiting Mrs Anthony.

Once more the Colorado tax report may be procured at cost of postage—not more than five cents—by addressing Senator Bucklin at Denver. This has been made possible, we learn from Senator Bucklin, by Tom L. Johnson, who has ordered an edition of 20,000 copies. Demands for this excellent report are coming in large numbers from all parts of the United States and Canada. As we have heretofore explained, the report describes the nature and workings of the Australasian land tax, which has for several years been in force in New Zealand and parts of Australia, and the system of local option in local taxation, which is also in successful operation in those countries. The latter system is a practical application of that to which the New York chamber of commerce and other leading commercial bodies in the east are committed, and which it is hoped may become a law this winter in the state of New York.—The Public.

FOR RENT.—Two new 4 room residence houses near depot. Apply to MRS. I. M. MASON, Mason House, near depot.

Extract from the Spectator, a paper published in London, Eng. "The coming century is clearly destined to be for all the great nations, the century of imperialism and colonial expansion. It will be marked by the acquisition or development by European powers, of vast tracts beyond the seas, in Asia, in Africa, and in South America. Rightly or wrongly all the European powers have come to believe that a nation in order to be great must have an over-sea empire. Colonies and possessions in the uncivilized and undeveloped parts of the world which are governed from and controlled by their European possessors. Britain already owns a great over-sea empire. France has lately acquired one on a vast scale in north-west Africa and Indo-China; Germany has made a beginning, and is determined to have more and her ambitions lead her to look to Asia Minor, to East Africa, to China, and to South America; Italy in spite of her severe trials in Erythrea, still hankers for external possessions. While Russia, though her colonies are not over-sea, is among the greatest of expanding nations. The United States has also entered the list, and has in Cuba and the Philippines the beginning's of an empire."

How does this sound to the average republican, who has been hooting at the idea that this country is in danger of imperialism. All European powers now recognize the fact that this country has established an empire. The trouble is with the rank and file of the republican party, they know nothing of the designs or the intentions of the leaders of the party. The empire will destroy the republic.—Weatherford, O. T., Democrat.

Amarillo's Chinamen fell out and "fout, fussed and fumed, cut, slashed, knock-down and dragged-out, last night"—and will settle at the Captain's office this eve.

T. S. Murphy, a Moore county ranchman, has moved into town for a few months.

SELL THE LANDS—WHY?

The idea the members of the legislature should keep in view is that the legislation should be so shaped as to allow the state to get out of the land business as soon as possible. Grazing lands should be placed on the market and classified according to the value of each section, and the price put on this land should be such as to secure buyers. Neither should there be any restrictions as to the number of acres that will be sold to any one individual. It a great mistake for our east Texas friends to cling to the idea that the grazing lands in the arid regions of west Texas can ever be anything else but grazing lands and they should be placed on the market accordingly.—Stockman and Farmer.

This editor has certainly been in a Rip Van Winkle doze for a period of at least two years. This proposition was worn threadbare and left lifeless more than two years ago, as there was never anything in it but a pleasing gurgle to the senseless ears of a few editorial idiots, whose ears were open for the sound of pleasing sentences, and whose minds were incapable of distinguishing reason from rot.

There is every reason why the state should remain forever in the land business, and no equitable one why it should retire.

Admitting that a great part of the state's land is only fit for grazing, what reason is in that fact why the state should get out of the land business?

The lands of Texas are not unlimited, the people are increasing rapidly, but the number of acres remains the same, and by reason of these facts the land will increase in value as time rolls on. The school fund is entitled to all the increase in values that come, and the only way for the school to get that value is for the state to stay in the land business.—Runnels Ledger.

Jeff Crawford and Ed Brown arrived in town this morning with bran new wives from Vernon, and gone on their north side ranches—to begin life right.

Anderson Witherspoon, to the delight of everybody, is still in the city.

Amarillo has a bald headed man in town, and he says the ballet girls are all right—so far as he could see.

The Western Advocate appeared last Thursday in an improved and enlarged form under the editorial management of Mr. E. T. Bayse, who makes a nice bow to the public; and, so far as his rivals are concerned, promises to be good. The Evening News welcomes him to the uninviting field—with a forlorn hope that there may be room for three newspapers in Amarillo—which unquestionably the is not at present.

There is a just God! And as certain as He reigns above, just that certain will He administer His justice upon individuals and nations alike. The present Indian uprising is but one incident among hundreds where, the poor Indians, finding themselves maltreated, robbed of their valuable lands by cunning whites and treated with contumely and arrogance by their oppressors, rise up in desperation and seek vengeance for the accumulated wrongs of centuries. The red men are now cooped up in a small territory, but the "white settler," with an avarice and cupidity unequalled in the world's history clamor for the lands remaining to those children of a sad sad cruel destiny. This powerful government should instead of winking at this proposed villainy, drive every designing white man from the territory.—Channing Courier.
