Muenster Exceeds Bond Quota

Goal Of $90,000 Is Passed On Last Day Of Campaign

$91,044 Subscribed Here Without Rally Or Special Meetings

Cooke County, State And Nation Go Over Top In Third War Loan Drive

For Muenster the Third War Loan Drive ended Saturday in complete success. Almost half a day before the campaign was scheduled to close, Chairman J. M. Weinzapfel announced that this community had gone over the top in meeting its $90,000 quota. Muenster invested a total of $91,044.80 in the future of the United States during the drive. Likewise Cooke County over subscribed its quota by a generous margin while Texas and the nation went over the top.

Official figures released by Chairman Weinzapfel show that the Bank sold $85,120 worth of bonds and business at the Post-office amounted to $5,643.75 in bonds and $281.05 in stamps. These figures are based on cost values.

Noteworthy is the fact that no rally, no special meetings and no high pressure method were exerted in this community during the campaign. Few cities made the drive without a rally of some sort. Chairman Weinzapfel stated that he is elated over the success of the campaign and that he desired to thank every man, woman and child who contributed to its success in the purchase of bonds or in the solicitation of sales.

Rev. Thomas Buegler, local Catholic pastor, played an important part in the campaign by soliciting funds for the proposed new church, at the same time converting the money into freedom securities. He was assisted by C. J. Fette, Barney Voth and Wm. Hellman. Through his efforts $20,000 were added to the church fund and the same amount converted into U. S. government bonds during the September drive. $16,000 was subscribed during the April campaign, a total of $36,000 for the current year. The church fund now has in excess of $65,000 in bonds.

Cooke county sales tabulated Monday revealed that $52,000 more than the quota had been subscribed with a few sales yet left to be tabulated. The quota was $1,379,900.

Muenster's total investment in the future of the United States since bonds went on sale in May 1941 is $368,604.25. Chairman Weinzapfel also pointed out that only about $10,000 have been cashed out, being less than three per cent.

County Chairman Felix McCurdy this week expressed his thanks to all those who in any way helped in the drive and added that credit was due the Lindsay community for the purchase of $19,125 worth of bonds. Since many of these were bought through Gainesville agencies the community did not receive individual credit for purchases.

MORE SEWER BONDS PAID OFF BY CITY

Five thousand dollars worth of sewer bonds were paid off recently with interest and sinking fund account it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening. If everything works out according to schedule another $5000 will be paid off shortly after the first of the year, when tax payments are in, it was added.

Mavor J.M. Weinzapfel presided at the session which was principally devoted to routine business.

INJURED IN FALL

John Fette is reported resting as well as can be expected at his home here following a head injury sustained in a fall from a barn at his ranch last Thursday afternoon.

Baptists Purchase Building They Will Rebuild For Church

Members of the local Bible Baptist congregation have purchased the former Bright Gable Inn, which, after a complete remodeling program, will be their church. The building was bought from Buddy Bernauer during the weekend and will be moved to the Baptist's three lots in the east part of the city soon. Plans are to have everything in order so that the first services in the new church can be held on Thanksgiving.

Rev. R.J. Lawson is pastor. He resides in Wellington at the present time but the congregation hopes to have him as the resident pastor in the not too distant future.

Local protestants established a regular schedule of services here in October 1941 and since that time have used the public school for holding services. The first service was attended by 19 persons and since that time the congregation has grown in sufficient numbers to justify the purchase of a church.

During the week members have been busy soliciting free will offerings from local business people and the drive will continue until November 1st.

J. W. HESS ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT FOR ELM-RED DISTRICT

J.W. Hess of Muenster was elected as a supervisor of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District Tuesday afternoon during a meeting for this purpose in the Gainesville courthouse.

He is supervisor for District 3 which comprises all of Cooke County west of the Santa Fe Railroad and was elected for a three-year term. He succeeds Howard Springer of Era, who was filling in the unexpired term of the late Oscar Aldridge.

In the Muenster community seven priority areas have been organized and many farms planned. Progress is being made in planning for soil conservation and farm improvement with the assistance of engineers furnished by the U. S. Agricultural Department over the entire district including Montague and Grayson counties.

Fifteen land owners from Muenster attended the meeting Tuesday.

4-H GIRLS ELECT OFFICERS AT MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The annual election of officers was the principal business at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the local 4-H Club girls Monday afternoon. Sponsors Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and Miss Olivia Stock met with the group. Sixty-five members were in attendance.

Miss Mary Seyler was re-elected president. Miss Juanita Weinzapfel was elected secretary and Miss Johann Seyler was named reporter.

Members made out their annual reports to be sent to the county agent and during the brief period devoted to recreation musical games were enjoyed.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

It was decided that annual achievement day will take place at the next meeting on October 18. At this time members will have on display work they have done during the past year. The exhibit will be in the parochial school auditorium and teachers, mothers and friends of the girls are invited to view the display.

FALL STRAWBERRIES

Ben Hellman's hobby of cultivating strawberries has paid extra dividends. Enough of the big, luscious berries were ripe for Sunday morning's breakfast. He reports that this is the first time the berries have produced in the fall. Specimens were on display at the Enterprise office Saturday.

Final plans for the observance of Columbus Day by the local council have been completed. They include religious services and a social.

The religious observance will take place Sunday, the 10th, when the council attends the 9 o'clock mass, receives the Eucharist in a body, and then attends a communion breakfast in the parish hall. The meal is to be prepared by the local court Catholic Daughters of the Empire.

CHECK PREMISES FOR FIRE HAZARDS, SAYS CHIEF R. McNELLEY

Muenster should take advantage of Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9, to make a thorough examination of every building for possible fire hazards, R.L. McNeley, fire chief, believes.

McNeley pointed out that despite rigid fire inspections, tragedies such as the recent Houston hotel fire which claimed the lives of more than 50 persons still happen. He urges every local resident to inspect homes and barns and other buildings to make sure no fire hazard lurks on the premises. Special attention should be given at this time to gas connections, hose and heaters, flues, stoves and pipes, in view of the fact that approaching cold weather will bring into use any of these items that have been stored during the summer. The home safety angle is up to the families themselves, he added.

McNeley reminded that last year 8,000 persons in the United States lost their lives due to burns for a death rate of 6.3 per 100,000 population.

THANKS UNKNOWN SENDER FOR NAVY WINGS PIN

Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel was pleasantly surprised last week when she received, through the mail, a gold navy wings pin. The sender, however, remains a mystery. The pin was neatly boxed, the address was written in a dainty feminine hand, and the very faint postal cancellation on the one and one-half cent stamp is not legible. There was no accompanying message and no return address.

Very appropriately the pin arrived as a birthday gift.

Mrs. Weinzapfel stated that she would like to thank the sender personally, but since she cannot do this, she takes this means of expressing her thanks and appreciation.

Last July she lost the navy pin given her by her son, the late Ensign Robert Weinzapfel, and weeks of advertising brought no results.

LIBRARY FOR SCHOOL PLANNED BY P-T AT THURSDAY MEETING

She introduced Doyle Blodgett, school superintendent, who gave a short address and then introduced Mrs. Daisy Thompson, new teacher on the staff, to the assemblage.

Members decided to have as their main project this year the establishment of a library at the school for the pupils and present plans are to build a small room for this purpose and equip it with suitable reference books and other volumes. A committee to take charge is to be appointed. It was also decided to give a prize each month to the classroom that has the largest representation of mothers at the meeting.

Future meetings will be held the second Thursday of each month at 3:30 in the school building, and in addition to business a program will be presented, it was announced.

GASOLINE RATIONS OF B AND C COUPONS ARE CUT IN VALUE

A revision of rationing described as necessary to spread the gasoline supply more equitably Friday cut the value of B and C gasoline coupons from 3 gallons to 2. A coupons are still worth 3 gallons. The new values cover the Midwest and Southwest, but not the West where all coupons are still worth four gallons.

The announcement came unexpectedly in most quarters although it had been hinted that a cut was due. Shortage of gasoline is for the excuse this time.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report by Edwin J. Hufaker, special agent for the department of commerce, bureau of the census, shows that 2,890 bales of cotton were ginned in Cooke county from the crop of 1943, prior to Sept. 16, as compared with 288 bales for the crop of 1942 during the same period.

1 1/2 INCHES RAIN

One and a half inches of rain fell here last Wednesday night and Thursday according to the government gauge. I.A. Schoech reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleitman and family spent Sunday in Gainesville with her sister, Mrs. C. C. Morgan and family.

Little by little winter is sneaking up on us. Today, for instance, we're having a dose of in-between weather. Not cold and not cool, just chilly. The kind of day that makes extra clothing feel good, but not quite frigid enough to justify firing up the furnace. So a fellow just endures the goose pimples and hopes that the morrow will bring a change. Either warm enough for comfort or cold enough to do something about it.

Maybe this really is the beginning of winter. At least it has some of the usual signs. Besides a chill, we've had a little rain and persistent dampness the rest of the time. And that characteristic winter moan of wind sneaking around the corner. There's a problem for you. Why doesn't summer wind produce the same weird sound? After all, it's air going places in either case, so what has temperature to do with it?

The reason I especially noticed the chill, I suppose, is that I've spent several hours at a desk organizing the prosecution's case for a court-martial next week. Every little while I'd give with a big convulsive shiver. (Foolish question number two: Why does a person shiver?)

Just the same, I was enjoying the court-martial case. Consisting of about a half dozen charges, it is sufficiently involved to require more study and ingenuity than the simple AWOLs I've handled before. Those others were nothing but procedure plus a few questions to establish that so and so was absent at such and such a time and that he had no permission to be gone. After such elementary stuff this seems kinda like being promoted to the next grade. However, I doubt whether it will be sufficiently intriguing to divert my aspirations into legal channels. When the fight is over it's back to journalism for me.

That's my preference, but still I have to admit that I'm not so hot at my profession. I realized that a few days ago when I read about a restaurant proprietor somewhere who permitted his customers to pay their own checks and make change out of his cash register. For more than a year I've failed to recognize the news value in a similar story. About newboys who park their papers and a box of change for the convenience of soldiers.

Like the other case, this is a golden opportunity for cheats and petty thieves, but it works. It must be because the little establishments continue to operate. For several months the men have been helping themselves to cold drinks and paying into the box. And so far as we have been able to determine, there's been no cheating or stealing.

Psychology must have something to do with that. Apparently people are more honest when they can see so obviously that they are trusted. Whatever the explanation, the result is gratifying. It shows that the vast majority is honest at heart. It also hints that more people might prove themselves trustworthy if they were trusted more.

On the other hand, consider the popular attitude. Question everybody's integrity. Set up a system of checks and double checks that can't be beat. The trouble with that is it practically amounts to a challenge. And there are plenty who accept the challenge on the assumption that it's OK if they can get away with it. The army has regulations galore — and a prevailing attitude that it's all right to do as you please as long as you don't get caught. Laws are intended to prevent crookedness, but thousands of shady deals are pulled through their loopholes. Rationing is governed by a mess of regulations, and people are getting their extra portions every day with little or no feeling of guilt. It's human nature. Let a man know you do not trust him and, unless his scruples are stronger than his reactions to the challenge, he'll try to give you a first class gypping.

In the long run it's doubtful whether a person will lose as much by trusting others as he has to pay to back up his mistrust.

That rationing is a big farce was proved beyond a doubt a few weeks ago by a reporter who drove from Mexico to Canada without a single gasoline stamp. Besides buying 123 gallons he chiseled enough extra stamps to get an additional 190 gallons. He was doing it just to prove that it can be done. He hatched up the idea when he noticed how many people

McKissack Plaintiff, vs. Vonelle McKissack Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: Suit for divorce from the bonds of matrimony stating that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on the 10th day of March 1940, and that said marriage relation still exists and that they separated about March 10th, 1942, since which time they have not lived together as husband and wife; that there are no property rights involved, but one child was born of said marriage, which is now about one year and nine months old, a boy named Jerry, and that this plaintiff is willing for the defendant to have the care and custody of said child, and that he is willing to contribute a reasonable amount to its support, to be fixed by the Court.

For cause of action the plaintiff alleges that the defendant, for the past two years, has refused to perform her wifely and household duties to him, which constitutes such cruel and harsh treatment as to render their living together longer as husband and wife insupportable, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

MOSAICS
of Sacred Heart High

EDITOR: Della Rose Endres
ASSOCIATE EDITOR:
Imelda Felderhoff

Eucharistic Army
Sacred Heart High has organized its own army. It is complete with ranks from private to general, and enlistment is voluntary.

A list of everyone's name and rank is posted on the Bulletin Board. The ranks are changed every week. The requirements range from 7 Communions and 7 Masses a week for a general to 1 Communion and 1 Mass for a private. Gladys Wilde, Margie Ann Endres and Clyde Fisher are Generals and Juanita Weinzapfel is next with the rank of Colonel. Edna Margaret Hartman and Laura Ruth Felderhoff are Lieutenants.

This week's list shows that almost everyone's rank was raised. Let's try to earn a promotion every week.

Perpetual Rosary

On Thursday, October 7, the High School observed the Feast of the Holy Rosary by saying a Perpetual Rosary. If anyone entered the Church between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. they heard the Rosary being recited.

The Student Body was divided into groups of 2, each group observing the vigil for 15 minutes. This was done to avoid any delay that might occur when changing groups. Many offered their Rosary for Peace.

Bonds

Our Bond and Stamp sales have swelled to a total of $477.90. $100 of this was accounted for by Johann, Mary Evelyn, Margie and Billy Ben Seyler, who each purchased a $25 bond.

Others who purchased bonds were: Joe Weinzapfel, a $100 bond; A. J. Felderhoff, a $25 bond; Joan and Joseph Felderhoff, one $25 bond and Marion Gremminger one $25 bond.

We Wonder

Why Laura Lee got up so quickly one Thursday morning?
Why several boys repaired some stove pipes?
Why the Freshmen were so nice to the Seniors this week?
Why George was sick with a headache one day?
If Laura Lee thinks tacks have some good points?
Theresa Mae Pels '46

Since we saw the Freshman's Science papers we know why they are called "Freshies".

Football Game

Despite unfavorable weather S.H.H.S. boys won their first football game of this season played against the Public School last Friday. It was a close game but we came out victorious with a score of 8-6.

We would like to complement both teams for their splendid playing and sportsmanship. August Felderhoff, Tommy Gremminger, Henry Yosten and George Swirczynski deserve special credit. Keep up the record boys.
Joe Weinzapfel, Jr. '47

Thirst is one enemy of armies and navies that may be frustrated by a generous supply of water. Typhus, another dreaded plague is another enemy that must be subdued in Africa, in the jungle islands of the Pacific.

The boys were defeated by the girls in volleyball last Monday. They gave the girls plenty of competition though. Sacred Heart school girls won a victory over the local girls two weeks ago. It was a good game with close scores.

The boys have started their Fall training in basket ball. One day soon a game will be played with Redwood. Follow School Daze for further reports on sports.

Snapshots of Classes:

General Science has moved into Mr. Blodgett's room. The Mechanical Drawing class thought they had a snap, but it's different now. Everyone goes around talking Geometry. The sink and stove are temporarily being used as waste paper baskets for the typing class. Billy Jean, Joan and LaVetta are complaining about their typewriters sticking. Wonder why?

Snapshots of Students:

Cornelia, better known as Corny, constantly saying something about her lessons. Dorothy Nell, instead of her usual giggling, clearing her throat all this week. The 9th grade girls amusing everyone with their French and Spanish words.

Mrs. Burchfiel's students are busy making War Bond posters. Many of them are very pretty. The best one will be placed on exhibit somewhere in town.

On Sunday morning as you sit in church and see the vacant places in the choir and wonder where the war has taken the young people from your community you may feel certain that they are attending divine services if circumstance permits.

"PACKET" ORIGINALLY MEANT ANY SHIP CARRYING PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT ON SCHEDULE. SMALL COAST-WISE PACKETS EXISTED EVEN IN COLONIAL DAYS.

BUT TRANSATLANTIC PASSENGER AND FREIGHT SERVICE WAS INCIDENTAL TO TRADING VENTURES. ENROUTE, PASSENGERS MIGHT FIND THEMSELVES IN ANY STRANGE PORT. THEN, IN 1816, CAME THE FAMOUS AMERICAN BLACK BALL LINE RUNNING PACKETS BETWEEN NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL ON REGULAR SCHEDULES.

WITH A FLEET OF NOT MORE THAN 50 PACKETS WE SOON COMPLETELY DOMINATED THE ATLANTIC.

DARING AMERICAN SKIPPER CARRIED SPARE SAILS AND SPARS RATHER THAN SHORTEN SAIL. CHARLES DICKENS SAILED BACK TO ENGLAND ON AN AMERICAN PACKET RATHER THAN A BRITISH STEAMER. THEN SOMETIMES CALLED "TWOKE BOAT."

TRADE FROM THE ERIE CANAL. (OPENED 1825) MADE NEW YORK LEADING PACKET PORT.

citizens of the Lindsay community for their purchases of war bonds which amounted to $19,125. Many of the purchases were made through Gainesville agencies and the community did not receive individual credit. Jake Bezner was local chairman and was assisted by Pete Block and Joe Bengfort.

Relatives here learned this week that little Bobby Ray Loerwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loerwald, formerly of this city, is confined to a Dallas hospital suffering from a leg injury sustained about three weeks ago. The youngster fell on a sharp object and cut the leaders to four toes and the main leader of the left leg. The family recently moved back to Dallas after living at Alba, Texas, for about a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerer are the parents of a son, Leonard Vincent, born at the Muenster clinic last Wednesday. The baby was baptised here by Father Conrad Thursday, assisted by Mrs. Albert Kubis and Vincent Zimmerer as sponsors. Mrs. Zimmerer's mother, Mrs. John Wilde of LaSara, is here for a several weeks' visit with her daughter and family. Mother and infant were moved to their home Sunday afternoon and are doing fine.

W.J. Schmitz was reported improved Wednesday following a serious stomach ailment. The illness began with hemorrhages Saturday and he was taken to a Gainesville hospital in the evening and given two blood transfusions. Members of the family were also typed for additional transfusions if necessary.

His wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitz, have been staying at his bedside.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE FRESHIES?

The Freshies are disturbed, worried, anxious about the future, and it seems that no one gives them any sympathy, not even the good-natured sophomores. It may be of interest to the greenies to learn that the date for the ordeal has been set for Friday, October 29, Freshman Sodality Day. Prefect Johnnie Arendt advises the freshmen to practice endurance, patience, blind submission now so that they will be able to live through it all courageously and valiantly. There will be a glorious party for those that survive the test.

THIRD WAR BOND DRIVE
On the War Bond Honor Roll of Lindsay School are the following: Leonard and Edgar Bengfort, $50 Bonds; Virgil Mosser, Gene Mosser, Weldon Bezner, Mildred Fleitman, Margie Fleitman, Arnold Bezner and Clarice Schad, $25 Bonds. A large number of students have almost completed their stamp book to buy a $25 Bond.

VOLLEY BALL TEAMS ARE IMPROVING
During the P.E. period last Friday the girls' team enjoyed a practice game with the boys. If the girls practice the hard way, obedient to the coach's orders, for a period of two weeks, they will be ready to meet and perhaps defeat some of the neighboring school teams.

HIGH SCHOOL SODALITY TEEMS WITH ENTHUSIASM
It's too bad Father O'Walker of the QUEEN'S WORK STAFF can't be present at our sodality meetings sometimes to see with what perfection parliamentary law is observed. Our moderator as well as three members of the high school sodality, Lucille Fuhrmann, Mary Louise Bezner, and Lucille Bezner attended Father Walker's class in Parliamentary Law during the Summer School of Action conducted at Our Lady of the Lake College in July, and with their generous assistance and Fr. Walker's SODALITY PARLIAMENTARIAN, it is hoped that very soon all the sodalists will be well versed in Parliamentary Law.

A panel discussion on The Liturgy in the Home will be held at the meeting on Friday, October 8. Speakers on the panel are Marcella Schmitz, Alice Sandman, Leonard Bengfort, Lucille Bezner, and William Hermes.

were getting extra gas. People who had no scruples about it because they had found a way to evade regulations that were intended to tie them down securely. Back in the days of good King Edward, so the story goes, people were so honest that anyone finding a ring or wallet would display it in a public place for the owner to pick up. You can bet that those people were not bothered by a lot of laws and regulations. "Thou shalt not steal" was enough for them.

Anything but a GI! Around here they're telling about a guy who on the one hand is seeking a CDD and, on the other, an assignment to OCS. Our guess is that if the two applications should land on the same desk he'd better be seeking cover and concealment.

bookkeeping practical already in his position of treasurer of the Sodality. There was a Latin Vocabulary Match — freshman girls vs. freshman boys — held on Friday afternoon. The girls won. Outstanding Latin students of the freshman class are Rosalie Beyer and Leroy Schmitz. The freshies' aim is to make the Latin I class an outstanding one, superior to the class of last year. "Impossible", says Weldon Bezner, the sophomore "wiz" in Latin.

All the high school English classes during the past three weeks were delightfully entertaining. The unit on the short story was presented in the form of a big dinner with Booth Tarkington's "Henry the Great" and Richard Connell's "The Most Dangerous Game" serving as appetizers before the main course of the short-story dinner. Then followed a resume of the development of fiction in America and a guide to short stories. The meat course began with Irving and followed chronologically through Hawthorne, Poe, Aldrich, Harte, Harris, and O. Henry to the moderns. It offered stories by some of the present masters, including Sinclair Lewis, Wilbur Daniel Steele, and Pearl Buck. The dinner closed with a very modern story by one of our younger writers, Jesse Stuart. At the very end there was a final tidbit by a sixteen-year-old high school student, and the dinner was over. Now we are busy studying the mechanics of writing. Although this isn't, perhaps, as enjoyable as literature, we recognize the need of a thorough knowledge of grammar and composition and hence are desirous to learn all we can about it.
