Mother Nature Catches Up, City Streets Flood

Widespread Rainshowers Drench County

By JIM STEERT
Brand Farm Editor

Deaf Smith County had gone without substantial rainfall for several months until Monday afternoon, when Mother Nature decided to do some catching up in a hurry and dumped an inch of moisture on Hereford in 15 minutes, then continued to drizzle rainfall on the city and widespread portions of the county throughout Monday afternoon and into today.

A DEVELOPING storm moved in from the southwest early yesterday afternoon, and by 3 p.m., the waterworks had commenced in the city.

During the first fifteen minutes of the cloudburst, the rain came hard and fast, and in short order, numerous streets and intersections in Hereford were as much as a foot deep in water.

Motorists were stranded on Highway 60, Highway 385 and Park Avenue as their vehicles flooded out in pools of water rolling rapidly across city streets, but no injuries or damage were reported as a result of the flooding.

Dameron Park, near Park Avenue, became a lake for canoe enthusiasts as water draining from streets quickly filled the low-lying park.

DRAINAGE DITCHES along North Highway 385 were running full this morning as rain continued to fall, and water had backed up almost bumper deep on vehicles parked on the

Two Die Following Car-Truck Collision

A grinding car-truck collision which occurred just west of the city Monday claimed its second victim early this morning.

VICTOR LEAL, 27, of Hereford, died at about 2 a.m. today in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. He was transferred to the Amarillo hospital yesterday after receiving emergency treatment at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Ramon Gonzales Rios, 30, of 303 Ave. I was pronounced dead on arrival at the local hospital yesterday following the 6:30 a.m. accident.

The driver of the truck involved in the accident, Jose De La Cruz, 46, of 714 Texas, was not seriously injured.

He was charged with criminal negligence, homicide following the accident.

According to a DPS spokesman, Rios was driving a 1970 Mercury, which was westbound on Highway 60. Leal was a passenger in the vehicle.

THE CAR collided with the truck operated by De La Cruz at the intersection of Highway 60 and Kingwood as the truck was pulling onto Highway 60.

The Rios vehicle ran beneath the bed of the truck, virtually ripping the top from the car.

Funeral arrangements for Rios are under the direction of Smith & Co. Funeral Home here and arrangements for Leal are pending with Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home of Hereford.

Bentsen Plans Campaign Stop Here On August 12

U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Texas Democrat, is expected to participate in activities in Hereford beginning at 5 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12, in connection with a whirlwind tour of the Panhandle of Texas.

According to a release sent from the official's office, he will join in a downtown rally here and then proceed to the Hereford Country Club for a dinner. It had been incorrectly reported by the Brand that the senator would arrive in Hereford on Aug. 11.

The start of his visit to the High Plains will begin with a visit to Amarillo, from where he traveled to a 7 a.m. breakfast at the Coronado Inn in Pampa on Aug. 12. He will make a brief hand-shaking trip through the community's downtown.

Perryton, located at the extreme top of the Panhandle will host Bentsen for a 9:15 a.m. coffee on Thursday. A similar event will be sponsored by Borger at 10:30 a.m. for constituents in Hutchinson and surrounding counties.

Dumas will be the location of a luncheon for the senator. A tour of its downtown will follow.

The afternoon schedule begins with a 2 p.m. public coffee in Dalhart and a reception at 3:30 p.m. in Vega, located in Oldham county, north of Hereford.

The next stop is Hereford, where the downtown rally and dinner will be held.

On Friday, Aug. 13, Bentsen will meet with voters in Tulia at 8 a.m. This concludes the planned stops for the federal politician.

Board Discusses YMCA Facility, Tennis Complex

Little action prevailed at another called meeting of the Hereford School Board of Trustees Monday night at the school district's central office building.

The Trustees briefly discussed corrective work being done to the High school tennis complex and heard a request from Hereford and Vicinity YMCA director Claude Huard for use of school facilities. He recently was hired by the organization to direct a two-year athletic program which involve the use of school gyms until a separate Y building can be constructed.

A lengthy executive session was held following the 15-minute open session to consider applications for superintendent. A new administrator is needed by the district following the resignation this summer of Roy Hartman.

Board members hope to find someone soon although Jim Conkwright, board president, said a selection was not expected any sooner than two weeks.

Another meeting is planned this week by the board although no time had been set as of press time.

Unique Experience in Hereford

At the lower left, an attempt is made to refloat the canoes, which successfully occurs in the lower right photo. From here on, the cruise continues without a hitch. Another heavy rain fell last night as Hereford recorded over five inches of rain.

Eight Object At Public Hearing

Support Voiced For City Paving

By BOB NIGH
Approximately 50 local citizens were on hand Monday evening as the Hereford City Commissioners conducted a public hearing on paving assessments as part of their regular business.

Tom Moore, of Municipal Assessments of Dumas, the company which will finance the paving, led the discussion at the hearing during which all citizens present had a chance to speak.

Only eight persons present claimed disapproval of the paving project. The main reason for disapproval was the high cost to the property owner.

THE PAVING PROJECT came about when the city commission passed a necessity ordinance last April which called for the paving of several city thoroughfares.

The commission-passed necessity ordinance, which allows cities to embark on assessment programs to pave streets with part of the cost assessed to citizens, is allowable through a state statute.

In the assessment program the city pays for approximately ten per cent of the cost for the paving with the property owner assessed the other ninety per cent.

Property owners have 10 days after final approval of the construction by the city to submit their first payment of one-fourth of the cost. The final

Vehicles Stolen Over Weekend

Two vehicles were stolen and a third was burglarized in Hereford over the weekend.

A 1974 BLACK FORD pickup owned by Bill Collins of Apartment 4, Elm Courts, was stolen sometime between midnight and 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

A check for over $500 which had been placed in the pickup was also stolen.

Thieves also made off with a 1974 Hornet owned by Gail Miller of Springlake early Saturday morning. The Springlake resident had parked the car at 611 Ave. K, while visiting relatives here.

Police reported that the vehicle was later recovered.

CURTIS TROUT of Apartment 28 at the Elm Courts complex reported the theft of numerous keys and a 35 mm. camera from his vehicle sometime early Saturday or late Friday night.

A spokesman for the local police department reported that officers have two suspects in connection with the vehicle thefts, but no arrests have been made and the investigation is continuing.

A sign at Boots West on East Highway 60 was damaged Sunday when rocks were apparently thrown through it. Damage was estimated at $500.

Saturday night a CB radio valued at $150 was taken from a vehicle owned by Harry Stevens of Hereford, while the vehicle was parked at the Bull Barn grounds.

SATURDAY NIGHT, thieves entered a bedroom window at the Victor Martinez home at 130 Catalpa and made off with $48 in cash.

Homer Garrison of 126 Cherokee reported that a CB valued at $199 was taken from his vehicle Saturday night

Search Continues After Flood

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP) - Searchers switched from recovering the living to looking for the dead today in devastated Big Thompson Canyon, where officials said the death toll from a flash flood could climb far higher than the 77 known fatalities. Larimer County Sheriff Robert Watson said the death figure could reach 200.

"Who knows that's buried in all this silt? Some farmer will dig down in his corn patch some day and find a body," the sheriff said.

Nations Against Khadafy

CAIRO (AP) - Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Sudan are taking steps to contain the multi-million-dollar troublemaking of Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy diplomatic sources say.

The present attitude of the three governments is essentially defensive, but Egypt and Sudan could turn to offensive action if there is a "clear provocation" from Khadafy, the sources said.

It is understood they would have Saudi Arabia's petrodollar treasury to draw on.

Disease Identification Sought

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) - Medical researchers today sought to identify an unknown, flu-like disease which in the past four days has brought death to 16 persons who attended a state American Legion convention. Health officials said there was no cause for panic. Public health officials said the outbreak, which has sent at least 50 other people to the hospital, may be the result of swine flu. They said that they could not now make a firm diagnosis, suggesting viral pneumonia as another possible cause.

Atomic Bombs Possible

No Water In Texas In Next Decade, Bill Clayton Says

RENNER, Tex. (AP) House Speaker Bill Clayton said Monday that Texas will become water deficient within the decade of 1980 to 1990.

Clayton quoted "authoritative surveys" in an address to about 200 members of the Dallas Agricultural Club, Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club, and area legislators and political delegations during a meeting at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Renner.

The House speaker said one of the biggest problems facing water's suture in Texas is "to get awareness and concern of people" about the encroaching shortage.

"I know you have all heard the old story about the leaky roof and rain," he said. "When it's raining you can't patch the roof, and when it isn't raining, the roof doesn't need patching."

"We've been blessed with rain in many parts of the state to prevent crops from slumping and pastures from scorching and urban water supplies out of danger, but any farmer or rancher or home-owner knows what 60 days of cloudless skies can do to this country."

Clayton said he based his concern over the future of water on his experience as a cotton and grain farmer at Springlake.

readers on interesting photos. Motorists were stranded after their cars drowned out; two boys paddling a canoe in Dameron Park, then we got a report that "Jaws" had made an appearance in Dameron Park. The last call came as darkness fell, and we didn't get a picture of the "fins" slicing through the water in the park. Some enterprising youngsters had manufactured some shark fins to pull through the rain-swollen park.

It had been so dry in the west and northwest parts of the counties that we didn't have to call for rain reports in some of the areas. They were so happy to get the beneficial moisture that they were calling us before we made the routine checks.

NEW CONSTRUCTION and expansion of existing firms continues in Hereford. Opening of "The Out House" was announced this week on West Park Avenue (a factory outlet store); a new drive-in grocery is going up on 25 Mile Avenue and Moreman; an office building for an accounting firm is being constructed across from the chamber office; and Jones Motors is planning to expand and move to larger facilities. These are just some of the building activity, in addition to residential construction underway.

WE'VE MENTIONED before that Hereford has a shortage of doctors and that no one knows what to do about the situation. It is a problem that is facing a large number of communities in the area, state and nation. The medical situation has changed, whether we like to think about it or not, and it has, changed community thinking in many cases.

As an example, we learn from the Canadian Record this week that the community is hoping to get a doctor from Nassau, New York. He had visited the town and set forth some conditions before he would make the move. Hemphill County had built a new medical clinic several years ago in hopes of attracting doctors, but the clinic has not been used for that purpose up to now.

The New York doctor asked that he be given the use of half of the clinic building, rent free, for a year. At the end of the first year he will start paying rent at $250 a month. He also requested a guarantee of at least $2,500 a month income for the first year and payment of his malpractice insurance. The county hospital board agreed on both of these requests. We have read of other "recruitment" programs in some West Texas towns.

We'd like to think that doctors would discover what a great community we have here and move in on their own and set up a practice.

Marines Top In Reports Of Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Marine Corps, smallest of the armed services, reported more than twice as many incidents of recruit abuse as the combined incidents reported by the Army, Navy and Air Force over the past two years.

The Marines listed 234 confirmed incidents in fiscal 1975 and 1976 while the other services registered an over-all total of 96.

This was disclosed in a report by Pentagon manpower officials to Defense secretary Donald Rumsfeld, who ordered a review of all service recruit training after allegations of Marine brutality arose earlier this year. The report was made available Monday.

Pentagon investigators found current service policies are generally adequate.

lot of a local car dealer on North 385 early today.

KPAN radio reported that the city of Hereford had received a total of 5.50 inches of rainfall as of 8:30 this morning. The city had received only 6.07 inches of moisture for the entire year prior to Monday's downpour, and only .84 inches in July.

The Holly Sugar plant here reported rainfall amounting to 5.30 inches and the Summerfield community to the west of Hereford reported 3.0 inches.

The Easter community to the south of Hereford in Castro County received 3.10 inches of moisture and a spokesman for Easter Grain reported that the moisture "soaked in and was really good for the corn and other crops."

REPORTS FROM THE Dawn community east of Hereford were in the 2.50-3.0 inch range, and Leroy Johnson, who farms six miles east of Hereford, reported a total of 4.50 inches.

Other reports from northeast of Hereford totaled nearly four inches.

Dryland farmers in the moisture shot west and northwest portions of the county were all smiles this morning after receiving substantial amounts of rainfall in the wake of the storm front.

Bruce Coleman reported that the Bootleg Corner area of the county received 3.25 inches of moisture overnight, although rain did not fall there Monday afternoon.

THE CLINT HOMFELD farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford reported rainfall accumulations of 2.0-2.50 inches in that vicinity and the good rainfall extended to the north of that area where moisture in excess of two inches was reported.

Jim Perrin, who lives in the far northwest part of the county, reported 2.5 inches of moisture with the rain still falling Tuesday morning. Lightning hit a gasoline tank at his farm, starting a fire which burned all the gas from two 500-gallon tanks, and also damaged a truck.

"We felt fortunate there was no explosion, and a third tank just several feet away did not burn," Perrin reported. A Walcott fire truck helped extinguish the blaze, and a truck from Hereford attempted to answer the alarm. The Hereford truck had difficulty getting down a dirt road and the fire was under control by the time it arrived.

"If the third tank had caught fire and exploded, it might have burned everything down," said Perrin. He felt the rainfall might have kept gasoline fumes from igniting the other tank.

A TOTAL OF THREE inches of rain was reported at the Ford community north of Hereford Highway 385 near the Deaf Smith and Oldham county lines.

Adrian received over two inches of rainfall and reports of one inch and above were received from Vega.

The Wallace Hill farm three miles north of the city reported 4.30 inches of moisture.

The rainstorm brought welcome relief for both local irrigation and dryland farmers as the rains cooled off corn and other grain crops which had been suffering moisture stress in the intense heat of recent days, and also provided planting moisture for the yet-to-be sown dryland wheat crop.

WITH THE EXCEPTION of the lightning-related fire at the Perrin farm, no major damage was reported as a result of the downpours.

Most local residents were more than happy to endure the slight inconvenience of some flooding in exchange for the welcome moisture that helped cool off the summer a bit, and if you met a local farmer who was unhappy this morning, it was probably because his pickup got stuck on a muddy road while he was on the way to town.

Hearing

three-fourths of the cost is due annually for three years after that.

"But, you can make the payment in one lump sum, or may arrange to pay the cost out in monthly installments," City Manager Dudley Bayne explained.

Bayne also told the group that some property owners would have to pay more than others owners who owned the same amount of land.

"THE VARIANCE in street width, differing number of intersections, and different lengths of streets are the reasons the per-foot assessment is not the same in many cases," he said.

Moore explained to the group that the hearing last night was intended to give property owners a chance to voice their opinions on the paving question.

"We are here to explain what is to be done, to correct any assessment errors, and to receive both pro and con statements from you the property owner," he told the group.

Before giving the citizens a chance to speak Moore introduced local Realtors Don Tardy and Sam Nunley who both agreed that paved streets improved the value of property.

"Paving would improve the value of property considerably more than the cost of the paving," Nunley said.

Throughout the question and answer period a majority of the citizens present voiced approval of the paving project, with the reduction of blowing dust a frequent reason for approval.

THOSE VOICING DISAPPROVAL of the project were from the most part elder citizens living on pensions or social security who told the group that they "just can't afford it."

A few persons were non-committal toward the project, claiming that they "would go along with it" if the other owners of their respective street wanted it.

Following the hearing many of the citizens present remained to sign up for the paving program.

Other business at the commissioners meeting concerned corrections in the ordinance pertaining to the Paving Assessment Program, and the first public reading of a franchise ordinance for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Cost Questioned

AUSTIN, (AP) - A small town gas company spokesman, who has some wells of his own, says it's hard for him to understand why the big companies pay so much for gas.

Testimony continues today before Texas Railroad Commissioner John Camp, who is hearing evidence on the practice of passing 100 per cent of a gas purchase costs to consumers.

Bruce Rigler, a Plainview farmer and dairyman and vice-president of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, said Pioneer Gas, his area's uppliers, has control over its market. Farmers, however, do not, he said.

He predicted that if the gas used to power irrigation pumps in his area continued to rise at its present rate of three cents per 1,000 cubic feet mcf per month, "most everyone in our area would go out of business in 24 months."

Artists, Displayer Chosen For August

Mrs. W.C. Hromas, who has been china painting for over 20 years, will be exhibiting her china pieces throughout the month of August at Deaf Smith County Library.

Mrs. Hromas is a graduate of North Texas State University with a degree in art. She does the china painting as a hobby although she has sold some pieces. Currently she does more oil painting than china painting and has a painting in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Office.

She has studied under various artists such as Gonzales of Tulane University and Romane Swan of Swan Studios of Amarillo.

Mrs. Hromas has taught art for 30 years in Hereford and various schools and is a member of the Porcelain Art Club of Amarillo where she is a past president.

Also on display at the library this month are paintings by Marie McQueary and Corinne Neely, who were chosen Artists of the Month.

Mrs. McQueary studied under Eunice Peterson and took a Famous Artists correspondence course. She is also enrolled for a fall class under Ben Konis.

She has no special subjects she prefers but does prefer painting with a palette knife. Corinne Neely studied pastels under Mrs. Ray Cowsert and oil painting under the supervision of Eunice Peterson.

She prefers oil painting with a brush and likes still life, flowers and birds, also a retirement hobby.

Anniversary Reception Scheduled

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

February has many special days and entertaining should be a delight to the hostess.

Cherry Delight
1 1/2 c graham crackers
1 T sugar
3/4 stick melted oleo
1 (8 oz.) pkg. Philadelphia cream cheese
1 c powdered sugar
1 pkg. Dream Whip
1 can or 1 jar of cherry pie filling 1 pkg. cherry jello
1/2 c boiling water

Crush graham crackers into crumbs. Add sugar and melted oleo. Mix well and with a spoon pat the above mixture into the bottom of an oblong baking dish (7 1/2 x 12 inches). Place cream cheese and powdered sugar in a bowl and mix until smooth. In another bowl prepare Dream Whip following directions on the package. Fold this mixture into the cream cheese mixture and spread this over cracker crumbs. Spread cherry pie filling over cheese layer. Dissolve cherry jello into boiling water. When it begins to congeal spread over top of the filling. Chill and serve.

Pendulum Swung Too Far

Have you wondered what might happen if the next time some gang of terrorists skyjacks an airliner full of people, and they demand that we release a bunch of their imprisoned comrades or else, they say, they'll kill their hostages. Have you wondered what might happen if we, instead of bargaining on their terms, would bargain on ours. Suppose we just told those gangsters, "For every one of those airliner passengers you kill we will kill 10 of your fellow fanatics. We'll not let your comrades out of prison but we will, instead, send them before a firing squad!"

No, of course we won't do that. We're too "civilized". That's where they have us. The good guys in this kind of warfare are disadvantaged. No other society in history was ever so "advanced" as ours. The Judeo-Christian ethic limits our behavior, public and private, to doing "what's right." No majority-ruled society has ever before let itself be pushed around by little gangs of extremists. Even handfuls of wild-eyed homelinks are allowed to cloak themselves in our Constitution while they try to set fire to it. Infinitesimal fractious command headlines with their utterances, however inane or insane. Pipsqueak self-proclaimed "leaders" of a dissident handful thus gain enough leverage to intimidate the vast, dectne, hands-tied majority. That's what historian Arnold Toynbee meant when he described history as "the patter of silken slippers descending the stairs and the thunder of hobnail boots coming up." The mad bomber-whatever he's mad about-can hit and run and bomb again. Yet our lawmen are hamstrung by regulations, legislation and Marquis of Queensbury rules. We must be careful not to tap the telephone of the potential bomber. That would not be properly respectful of his "right." We must be careful not to use any electronic devices for eavesdropping on his diabolical plotting for that would be to intrude on his "privacy." The good guys are self-constrained to set back and see no evil, hear no evil and wait to be done in! And now there's even a suggestion that we disarm by law all those who obey laws. That's suicidal, of course-but that's the way we are. I suggest that the pendulum has swung too far backward in protecting the rights of wrongdoers. Sometime soon we must re-mind ourselves that our policemen have rights, too. And the potential victims of crime have rights. And that we, the behaving majority, are fed up with being told to buy padlocks with which to lock ourselves up!

Death Rate Lowest In American History

WASHINGTON (AP)- There were 8.9 deaths of every 1,000 Americans last year, the lowest over-all death rate in U.S. history, new government figures show.

A Census Bureau report released over the weekend days 1.91 million Americans died in 1975. This is the lowest number of deaths since 1967 when 1.86 million persons died, and the first time since such records were begun, that the death rate dropped below nine per 1,000. Prior to that, experts believe the death rate was even higher.

Of the 15 leading causes of death, only three showed an increase in 1975-76, according to the National Center for Health Statistics: cancer, up 4.2 per cent; murder, up 4.1 per cent; and suicide, up 5 per cent. Declining during the same period, according to the center, were the rates for heart disease-the nation's leading killer-down 4.5 per cent; highway and traffic deaths, down 17.1 per cent; and strokes, down 8.7 per cent.

On Jan. 1, 1976, the nation's population, including armed forces overseas, was estimated by the Census Bureau to be 214,435,000, an increase of 1,687,000 over a year earlier.

William Sanders, an information officer at the National Heart and Lung Institute in Washington, said a number of factors contribute to the falling death rate from heart disease.

Among them, he said, are improvements in coronary medical care, improvement in detection and treatment of high cholesterol in the blood, and increase in the number of persons who have stopped smoking, and the fact that more people are adopting doctor-prescribed diets and "jogging because they have heard that sedentary patterns of living may be hazardous to the health."

The drop in the rate of stroke-related deaths, Sanders said, may be attributed to the fact that doctors have learned to prescribe drugs for high blood pressure, which often leads to strokes.

The primary reasons for the decline in traffic deaths are lower speed limits and stricter safety standards on cars, according to a spokesman for the National Highway Safety Administration.

Further Defense Budget Cut Proposed In Senate

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - A further $1 billion cut in the defense budget was proposed Monday as the Senate debated a $104 billion defense funding bill recommended by its appropriations committee.

The cut was proposed by Sens. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore. in the face of warnings that a drastic reduction could allow Russia to surpass the United States in military capability.

Eagleton accused the Pentagon of padding its budget requests in an effort to take advantage of a "fertile political environment" in an election year.

"The cost we will all have to pay is a reduction in the overall security of this nation ... a reduction in our capacity to protect ourselves from the internal threats of stagnation, unemployment and urban decay," Eagleton said in Senate debate.

The Senate Appropriations

Committee recommended a $104 billion new appropriation for fiscal 1977, an increase of $11.6 billion over fiscal 1976 but $3.9 billion under President Ford's budget request. It is $1.4 billion under 1977 appropriations previously voted by the House.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the appropriations committee, said federal outlays for defense have declined in the past 10 years from 43.7 per cent of the total federal budget to 25.1 per cent, while outlays for non-defense programs have risen from 56.3 per cent to 74.9 per cent.

"This trend toward disproportionate cuts in defense spending cannot be continued without seriously impairing our military readiness," McClellan said.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said the United States remains "the greatest military power in the world," but Russia "could surpass us if we continue our present trend of cutting sharply into the defense budget."

Young expressed regret that the appropriations committee, in allowing $1 billion for a start on production of the supersonic B1 bomber, imposed a prohibition against any spending until after next Feb. 1.

Young said the Air Force and Joint Chiefs of Staff are convinced of the need for the B1 to replace the aging fleet of B52's and "it is inconceivable that they will be changing their position between now and February, regardless of who is elected president."

The delay is designed to enable the new president, whoever he may be, to review test data on the bomber and make the final decision on whether to go ahead with the planned 244-plane fleet estimated to cost $22 billion.

New Hebrides Shaken By Earthquake Monday

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)- A strong earthquake shook New Hebrides Islands in the South Pacific early Monday a spokesman at the National Earthquake Information Center said.

Marvin Carlson, a staff geophysicist, said the quake registered 6.9 on the open-ended Richter scale.

The earthquake could have caused widespread damage if it struck a populated area, Carlson said. There were no reports of severe damage in the New Hebrides.

The New Hebrides are about 500 mile west of Fiji.

On the Richter scale, every increase of one number, say from magnitude 5.5 to magnitude 5.5 to magnitude 6.5, means the ground motion is 10 times greater. Some experts say the actual amount of energy released may be 30 times greater.

In populated areas, an earthquake of 3.5 on the Richter scale can cause slight damage in the local area, 4 can cause moderate damage, 5 considerable damage, 6 can be severe. A 7 reading is a "major earthquake, capable of heavy damage; 8 is a "great" earthquake, capable of tremendous damage.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906 registered 8.3 on the Richter scale.

Mechanic Says Woods Not At Kidnap Scene

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (AP)- A mechanic who worked for Frederick N. Woods has told the San Francisco Examiner that he saw Woods 150 miles from Chowchilla on the afternoon a busload of school children were kidnapped here.

"I saw Fred Thursday, July 15, and there was not a thing different about him, not a thing," Craig Hunt, 18, told the Examiner in an interview published in the newspaper's Sunday editions.

Hunt, who repaired old cars for Woods, said Woods was at his parents' 100-acre Portola Valley estate between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. the day 26 children and their bus driver were kidnapped. Woods was arrested last Thursday at a Vancouver, Canada, post office where he had gone to pick up mail.

Woods, James Schoenfeld, 24, and his brother, Richard Schoenfeld, 22, were all charged in the kidnapping. Bail is set at $1 million each.

Hunt said he has been questioned by detectives, but there was no immediate official comment on his statements indicating a possible alibi for Woods.

The children and their driver escaped after being entombed some 17 hours in a Livermore rock quarry owned by Woods father.

Fog Hampers Rescue Efforts In Colorado

By BILL PARDUE Associated Press Writer

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP) - Dense fog blanketed the Big Thompson Canyon on Monday, hindering efforts to rescue hundreds of campers and residents stranded by a flash flood authorities say killed at least 76 persons.

Six helicopters waited in a muddy horse pasture just outside the mouth of the Rocky Mountain canyon as rescuers hoped for a break in the weather so they could fly into the canyon and ferry victims back to the pasture, 5 miles west of Loveland.

Larimer County Sheriff Robert Watson predicted the death toll would continue to rise, but he said more specific estimates could cause public "panic and hysteria."

Officials said dozens of more bodies probably will be discovered. It may be weeks before other bodies are found in the mud and debris jammed against homes and along the precipitous walls of the canyon, they said, and some may never be recovered.

We have some 56 bodies now," Sheriff Watson said. He said he expects more than 20 others to be dug from the canyon. "The victims are two-to-one female. They are older people mostly," although he said three are children.

Communities along the winding 30-mile stretch of U.S. 34 were obliterated by the 12-foot-high wall of water that surged through the canyon Saturday night. Mountain homes, motels, vacation resorts, trailer camps and scores of summer cabins were washed away.

The U.S. Geological Survey in Lakewood, Colo., said the big Thompson River was estimated to have reached a peak flow during the flood of 25.8 billion gallons a day at Drake, a popular holiday community devastated by the flood. The previous record for the river was 4.9 billion gallons a day, recorded during a flood on July 19, 1945.

President Ford on Monday declared the 2,700 square-mile Larimer County a major disaster area, making residents eligible for federal funds to help in the rebuilding effort.

Weather forecasters warned that light rain and a low cloud ceiling would linger until perhaps Wednesday.

Authorities increased figures on the number of survivors rescued Sunday, from 400-600 to 840. Of those, 260 were injured, Watson said.

Two of those rescued were a 5-year-old boy and his 14-month old sister. Rescue workers said the unidentified boy told them he was watching the baby to make certain she didn't fall into the swirling waters. He did not say what happened to the rest of his family.

Medical personnel at a vacant hospital hastily converted into a morgue struggled to identify the dead. The process was difficult because most had been stripped of their clothes by the rampaging water, and doctors were fingerprinting the corpses for positive identification.

Chauffeur Apparent Suicide

TOKYO (AP)- A driver for jailed former Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka was found dead in his car Monday, an apparent suicide, police said.

Investigators of the Lockheed Aircraft payoffs in Japan said they had questioned the dead man-Masanori Kasahara, 42-on Saturday and Sunday.

The body of Kasahara, a driver for Tanaka since 1966, was found on a mountain road in Saitama prefecture state, northwest of Tokyo. Police said death was caused by exhaust gas Kasahara apparently piped into the car with a vinyl hose.

Tanaka, prime minister from July 1972 to December 1974, was arrested last Tuesday on charges of violating the foreign exchange control law by receiving $1.7 million in Lockheed money from the former chairman of Marubeni Corp., Lockheed's former sales agent in Japan. So far, he is the only Japanese politician arrested in the Lockheed case.

Lockheed officials have testified in Washington that their firm spent more than $12 million to influence aircraft sales in Japan and $2 million of that went to Japanese government officials.

Hiro Hiyama, the former chairman of Marubeni, was formally indicted Monday on the charge of passing $1.7 million illegally to Tanaka. Hiyama, 66, was already under arrest.

He was the seventh man indicted out of 16 so far arrested in the Lockheed investigation here.

The Lockheed money was delivered to Tanaka on four occasions between Aug. 10, 1973, and March 1, 1974, an indictment said.

Earlier Monday, police arrested Katsuhiko Matsuoaka, 37, a driver for another former Marubeni executive, Hiroshi Itoh, on charges of tampering with Itoh's past driving schedule.

Calm Before The Storm

Hereford football coach Fred Upshaw gets in a rare moment of relaxation before he and the other Hereford coaches get down to business as the grid season rapidly approaches. Twins Win Eighth; Take Over Second

The Oakland A's are in something of an unaccustomed position, sitting in third place and looking up at the American League's West Division leaders. They are even more unaccustomed to looking up at the Minnesota Twins, who aren't all that accustomed to being in second place, themselves. The Twins hadn't won seven games in a row since 1970—now they've won eight in a row and 13 of 15, including the last five against the A's. You remember the A's, the team that won three straight World Series until their string was broken by Boston last season.

This year, some harsh facts are beginning to present themselves to Oakland Manager Chuck Tanner. "We just have to play better," he said Monday night after the upstart Twins got a seven-hit shutout from Steve Luebber for a 5-0 triumph. "We have to play about .675 baseball now and we can't afford to lose to Kansas City. Before this series, we could do things for ourselves. But now the other clubs have to beat them, too."

And suddenly, the Twins are one of those other clubs to beat. There's a three-game series starting in Kansas City tonight, and it's a good bet that the A's will be playing the scoreboard game while the top two teams in the AL West start carving out a pennant race.

In the other AL games Monday night, New York edged Detroit 1-0, Milwaukee topped Baltimore 7-1, and Boston trimmed Cleveland 3-1.

The Texas Rangers return to the real world tonight after annihilating the Texas League All-Stars Monday night, 18-4, behind a barrage of big hits

More than 750,000 purebred dogs are registered annually in the Stud Book of the American Kennel Club.

In an interview following his return from the school Hereford mentor Fred Upshaw replied that "it's always nice, I guess to be picked number one."

Upshaw attributed the return of four experienced backfield men the main reason that his team was picked to win the crown. "Our backfield is our best asset, along with the fact that our overall size will be the best it has been in several years," he said.

While the Herd has backs Carlee Graves, Roy Martinez, Kelly Kitchens, and Russell Harkins returning, there are no other proven horses in the stable.

Thus, Hereford has the interesting situation where their backfield is their biggest asset, yet at the same time, a lack of depth in that area makes it their biggest problem.

"If we can stay healthy we should be in there pretty tight all the way," Upshaw said understandably.

Another problem facing the Herd this season is the challenge of improving on a defense that ranked last in the district last year. "We have got to get better on defense,"

Hereford Netters Winners

Hereford netters fared well at the Olton Open Tennis Tournament last weekend, bringing home two doubles and one singles crown.

Rocky Rodriguez and Rick Mendiaz captured the Men's Open Doubles with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Bob Grant and Charles Eaves of Plainview.

Steve Thomas grabbed two titles at the meet, winning the Men's Open Singles 6-1, 6-2 over Doug Campbell of Earth, and teaming with Hereford's Dave Hopper to snatch the Men's 35 Doubles title over James Riddle and Bob Landry of Plainview, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Pat Pruitt came away with second place in the Women's Open Singles. Pruitt lost to Carol Rasletter of Hale Center 6-4, 6-4 in the finals.

Upshaw said in a bit of understatement.

Returning from last year on the defensive side of the game for Hereford are end Rowen Alexander, lineman Able Trevino, back Jim Lawson, and linebacker Rick Taylor.

Linemen Baltimore Guerrero and Dennis Artho, and sophomore defensive back Paul Bell will add to that list their talents.

Offensively Hereford returns Martinez and Graves; both two-year lettermen, Kitchens, Harkins, center Greg Brockman, and lineman Barry Acton. Sammy Davison also returns to add strength to the offensive line.

Upshaw's personal pick as the top team in the district this year is Monterey. "They have a good program up there, have good size in their linemen, and always play real good defense," he said in stating his reasons for his choice.

Upshaw lists Coronado as his "surprise" team in the district this season. "They are going to do better than a lot of people think," he said.

Meeting Reset

The next meeting of Kids Inc. Board regularly scheduled for August 4 has been rescheduled for one week later on August 11. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Flame Room.

The Hereford mentor tabbed Pampa, picked to win in District 3-AAAA, as the Herd's toughest non-district opponent.

"But, Amarillo High and Palo Duro are always tough...we'll have our work cut out for us every game," he added.

All was not fun and games for Upshaw at the coaching school last week. He interviewed several prospective coaching replacements throughout the week, and hired one new man.

"Micky McCarty, a graduate of Tarleton State University will work at Stanton Junior High this year," Upshaw announced. McCarty was hired to replace Dave Ashby who moved up to assistant basketball coach at Stanton to replace departed Marvin Thouvenal.

The coaches will get down to business August 11 when they issue shoes and socks to the players. August 16 is the first day for organized practice (shorts only), and August 20 the players will finally get to workout in full pads.

"We need to remind all players to get their physical forms in; we have heard from only about fifty per cent of them so far," Upshaw added.

The Herd's only scrimmage this year will take place at home August 27 against Tascosa. The Friday-night scrimmage will begin at 7:30 p.m.

About the coaching school Upshaw said, "We felt like it was a real good school. It was good we could have all our coaches down there, and we felt like we learned some things that will help us this year."

Asked what those things were Upshaw just grinned and said "we picked up some interesting information about our opponents."

MARK'S DIESEL FUEL INJECTION SALES and SERVICE

Whenever you have trouble with your diesel fuel injection pump on your irrigation pump engine or diesel truck, Mark's Diesel Fuel Injection Sales and Service is the place to take it for prompt and efficient service. The man to see is Mr. Mark Lanbrum the owner and service technician.

Mark stocks new injection units by such famous names as American-Bosch, Brush Master and CAV for whenever your old unit cannot be repaired economically. Mark keeps exchange units on hand whenever possible so diesel engine down time is kept at a minimum. His shop boasts some of the finest and newest tools on the market so Mark is proud of them and keeps each piece clean and oiled for faster repair service.

Recently, Mark received shipment of a new Bacharach test stand which simulates the use of diesel fuel injectors in actual engines. With the addition of this test equipment, Mark can give you even better and faster service. Mark also offers pickup and delivery service.

Although Mark has been in business in Hereford for only two months, he has five years experience in the fuel injector service field. He and his wife Billee came to Hereford from Amarillo where Mark worked for Wilson Battery and Electric as a fuel injection technician.

For after-work entertainment, Marks sings and listens to music. When asked if he has a preferred style of music he said, "It's all good listening; music is a universal language." Whenever he gets the chance, Mark also enjoys fishing. He and his wife attend the First Baptist Church in Hereford.

Ann Landers Release Emotions

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm an 18-year-old guy who has a terrific problem that won't mean a thing to anybody but me. Let me start off by telling you I'm not gay, or even borderline. I'm normal in every way, an above-average student, no hangups (except this one) and my outlook on life is great. Now comes the problem:

As I sit here writing to you tears are streaming down my face. I can barely see to type.
Why am I bawling? I just buried my cat, Daisy. What's so unusual about that? Well, last week I went to my grandmother's funeral. Mom was sobbing out loud, my aunts were nearly hysterical, a few of my cousins were crying, and me, I didn't even have a lump in my throat. There's got to be something wrong with a dude who can sit dry-eyed through his grandmother's funeral and cry his foolish head off when his cat dies.

What's with me, anyway? I must be a little nutty.
—Crossed Wires Somewhere

DEAR WIRES: It's the guilt that's bugging you. You are ashamed because you were unable to weep when your grandmother died but the truth of the matter is there was no emotional attachment. That cat, Daisy—well, you really loved her. People can dictate to their heads, but a heart has a mind of its own.

DEAR ANN LANDERS:
Cheers for your advice to the 40-year-old gay who was being blackmailed by a fellow employee.

Many years ago in Boston, I was the intended victim of an extortionist. After jostling me in a public place, the rat posed as a detective (showed a phony badge) and proceeded to "write me up." Of course, the whole thing would be "forgotten" if I was willing to pay up.

I led the would-be blackmailer to a bank on the pretense of withdrawing funds. While there I notified the teller of my plight.
He called the police and the man was arrested on the spot.

I happen to be gay, and the blackmailer knew it, but the complaint was lodged BY, not against me. When the case was presented to the great Judge Elijah Adlow of Boston, the defense attorney persisted in questioning me about my sex life. I protested. The attorney was then interrupted by the judge who told him that if his client had been solicited by me, he should not have attempted to take the law into his own hands.

The man was found guilty and sentenced to prison.

The comforting part of the case was the congratulations I received from the police. So few people are willing to turn to them for help for fear they will be accused of a crime themselves. I say, and with good reason--

Hooray For The Boston Police
DEAR H: Double hooray. I can think of no city in the U.S. where it's been more difficult to get a good law enforcement officer in recent years than Boston. Thanks for a well deserved accolade.

On Wall Street

By BOB HILL

What's the definition of a Goldbug? It's one who is convinced that the only worthwhile investment in the world is gold: that all of the major world economies are going down the tubes, victims of rampant inflation which will make gold the only meaningful commodity around.

When the owning of gold became legal for U.S. citizens after 40 years, gold experts thought it would restore the value of gold in the world to its rightful place as an investment.
It was the biggest non-event of 1974. The price of gold peaked in December of that year at $195.50 an ounce. It hasn't been that high since. Just last week gold dropped below $105 an ounce.

What happened? In March of 1968, the Federal Reserve gave up on holding gold at $35 an ounce. It just wasn't a realistic price in the face of worldwide inflation, the Vietnam war and the disintegration of the world monetary system in which foreign currencies were tied to gold. All of this triggered a flight into gold by speculators.
It seemed as if they couldn't miss if they put their money into bullion. But in 1975 a worldwide recession hit as a result of the oil embargo.

The U.S. cut its inflation rate in half and that's the only real incentive to own gold—to offset inflation. Meanwhile the thoughtful American investor wasn't turned on by gold. The French or Italians might be gold enthusiasts because their currencies have been devalued so many times over the centuries, but not the Americans. Finally the International Monetary Fund, (basically the big powers) decided to auction 25 million ounces of gold to private buyers over the next four years. It's a wonder that gold has held above $100 an ounce in the face of the first one of those auctions held in June.

As in so many similar events, the sharply dropping price of gold has triggered additional selling, putting even greater downward pressure on the price of gold. The two biggest producers of gold in the world are Russia and South Africa.
Both countries will soon be forced to sell hold into a falling market in order to cure balance-of-payments problems.

The price of gold isn't likely to go completely through the floor.
Industrial demand for gold in a rising economy will stabilize the price at some point. But there's nothing sacred about the price of $100 an ounce of gold.

pilot projects at the Fort Johnson Marine Laboratories in Charleston to "farm" the organisms for commercial use.

Joseph, who was here attending the Conference on Marine Resources of the Coastal Plains, said at least three pharmaceutical firms are completing details on how they will go about using the serum of the horseshoe crab for testing the quality of their drug products.

Schlabs Gets Look At 'Computer Farming'

Charles Schlabs of Hereford recently attended an innovative "farming by computer" seminar, called "Pro-Ag."

Developed by International Harvester, the computerized management analysis system for farmers brings together the resources of manufacturer, dealer, farmer, university and computer to assist in critical decision-making processes.

Accompanying Schlabs to the seminar was IH dealer Cecil Ogleby of Ogleby Equipment Company, Inc., Hereford.

"Pro-Ag" works by allowing the farmer to use his own records and a computer to formulate a profitable farm plan based on various situations that may arise in the course of crop production. Such situations include land preparation, cultivating and harvesting.

The farmer simply takes his records, writes them into a special workbook which includes data for his state gathered from land-grant university resources, and plugs this information into the computer. In what would require years of manual preparation, the computer prints answers in ten minutes.

Furthermore, once the "model" is set, the farmer begins feeding in alternate plans. He can ask "Should I shift more land from corn to soybeans? Buy a bigger combine? Put on an extra man?"

The ultimate objective is to show the farmer end results, just as if he had farmed through a year based on his plan, acreage and machinery. And that means helping to find a better, more profitable way to farm.

The dealer, goes through the computer training session and computer workshop to be able to work with the farmer in the future. Also, the IH dealer is the contact for farmers wanting to get into "Pro-Ag."

BIRTH RATE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Institute of Life Insurance says the birth rate in the United States in 1974 was at the lowest level ever recorded.

It says final statistics recently released by the Health Resources Administration show the 1974 rate of 14.9 births per 1,000 population was identical to that in 1973, the lowest on record.

Gas Users Will Form National Organization

Farm producers across the Southwest and into the Midwest whose supply of irrigation gas is threatened by cut-offs will be united late this month into a national group, reports Jim Dowty of Dumas, president of the North Plains Energy Consumers Association.

The move for national organization came out of a recent meeting in Guymon of a second farm organization, Southwest Gas Users Association.

"The Southwest meeting in Guymon, which represented producers from California to Oklahoma, decided that all similar groups should band together nationally, and asked us to lead the way," Dowty explains.

"The feeling we have is that since the big industries which compete with us for gas are organized nationally, we should be, too," the NPECA president declares.

The as yet unnamed national group will be formed at a meeting to be held August 21 and 22 in Amarillo, under NPECA sponsorship.

It will focus on two problems. First, we need for a priority rating for irrigation gas from the Federal Power Commission, a uniform problem across irrigation country.

"The EPC hasn't yet told farmers across the country whether we will be cut off from natural gas supplies before or after big industries, which get third priority. Household use gets first choice as gas supplies, and we want to be placed in the second category," Dowty says.

Irrigation demands for natural gas consume less of the precious fuel than used to heat swimming pools, the NPECA leader adds—but thus far, FPC officials have not weighed the importance of irrigation gas for crop production.

Secondly, a campaign by the national group in conjunction with state and regional associations will be efforts to hold down gas prices.

"In each state, the gas companies are regulated by a different body, but the arguments they make for price hikes are similar everywhere, and we can benefit by pooling the experience of farmers in different areas," declares Dowty.

The NPECA, formed in June at meetings in Perryton and Dumas, is the youngest of several regional gas issue groups, yet got the invitation from Southwest to take on the national organizing task.

"NPECA is confident that we can take on the job and do it well. People in the Texas Panhandle are spirited, and our organization was put together well. Farmers everywhere are seeing the need to organize on this issue, and we think they will respond," Dowty points out.

Utility Spokesman Say Automatic Flow Through Necessary For Service

AUSTIN (AP) — Gas utilities spokesmen said Monday that 100 per cent flow through of their natural gas cost, automatically without hearings, is necessary to provide adequate service to their customers.

Some 200 gas men or their representatives attended the Texas Railroad Commission's hearing that was called to develop information on the controversial pass throughs that show up as monthly increases in fuel cost adjustments on consumer bills.

Several speakers alluded to recommendations by various politicians that no pass through be allowed without regular public hearings.

C.L. Neaves, executive vice president of Lone Star Gas Co., said his company had $17 million in unrecovered gas costs in 1975.

"Operating under the 85 per cent rule, for the 12 months ending June, 1976, Lone Star had had $13.5 million in recovered gas costs. Deficiencies of this magnitude cannot be allowed to go without timely rate relief," he said.

Neaves recommended 100 per cent pass throughs on a monthly basis.

Jackson Hinds, president of the Entex Inc., said that had there been no automatic pass through, the company would have required a full rate increase hearing each month in each of the 197 cities it serves.

"The cost and the burden of the monthly rate hearings would have been enormous," Hinds said.

He also said that contrary to the views of opponents of the automatic pass through, gas utilities do have an incentive to bargain for the lowest possible price when they buy gas from producers.

"We compete with electric companies for every load served by gas in home," he said.

Richard Alsop, vice president and general counsel of Houston

Pipeline, said that public authorities such as the Railroad Commission and city councils already have the authority to review and disallow automatic pass throughs if they are found to be excessive.

He said if fuel cost adjustments were limited, this would reduce returns to utility companies, thus increasing the price they must pay for capital, which would be passed on in higher prices to customers.

Air Routes Trial Continues

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwest Airlines planned to continue presenting public witnesses today in support of its application to extend service to Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Lubbock and Midland-Odessa.

On Monday witnesses from West Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley joined hands Monday in supporting Southwest Airlines' proposed expansion which they said would be mutually beneficial.

"We would like very much to tap that lucrative Midland Odessa and Lubbock market," said John Austin, mayor of South Padre Island.

Terry Wimmer, president of the Texas Tech University Student Association, presented the Texas Aeronautics Commission examiner with a petition from Tech students and a resolution from the student senate in support of the Southwest application.

"I would do a lot more traveling over the state if Southwest gets its permit," said Bruce Pearson, Midland geologist, who has his own plane.

"The airlines have better pilots than I am and it would be cheaper with from one to three people."

Agriculture Commissioner John Wite spoke in support of extending Southwest's flights to Austin. "About 10 per cent of the agriculture income of the state comes from the Valley and we have many department workers there," White said.
