Dime Investment Pays Dividends

A 12-year-old Dimmitt girl, who attends the Hereford Seventh Day Adventist Church, has turned a 10 cent investment into a $30 profit.

Sandra Dirter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Dirter, did it all for "Investment for the Lord."

In the Spring, when the superintendent of the Church Sabbath School asked each member to invest for investment (an extended mission program), Sandra bought a 10 cent package of squash seed, planted and cared for them, and then set herself up in business...

lines already constructed. Forrest explained that the co-op has grown so rapidly that money granted by the REA was used up and that the Board agreed to keep expanding with general fund money.

Forrest said the money would be used over a two-year period to expand the co-op's rural power system by constructing 210 miles of distribution lines to serve 547 additional rural consumers.

School News Is Rated Top Running Story Of Year In Hereford Area

A flood of headline grabbing stories concerning school activities made schools the top local news source of 1955. The Brand editorial staff decided this week after a resume of the year's activities.

Margaret Woman Of The Year

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Proving that all the world loves a love story, Princess Margaret Rose of Britain was named Woman of the Year by the annual vote of women's editors of Associated Press newspapers throughout the country.

From the standpoint of news value, there was no doubt that the royal romance of the young princess and the dashing but divorced Group Captain Peter Townsend fired the imagination of the whole world for several weeks this fall, while true love was weighed against royal tradition.

And when duty to church, state and family won over personal happiness, headlines around the world were just as big and black as they were on that other occasion almost a generation ago when Margaret's uncle, King Edward VII, made a different decision and renounced his throne for "the woman I love."

Voting on women news personalities outstanding in their various fields in 1955, the women's poll named the following:

Grace Kelly, the young actress from Philadelphia who won film-land's highest award early in the year, was named tops in entertainment for 1955 by vote of AP managing editors as well as women's editors. So great has been her impact on the American public that she has started a whole new trend in the standard of film beauty and has influenced many of this year's fashion collections, all of which stress the fresh young American look. Grace Kelly, a nice girl from a nice family, has made good taste glamorous.

Runner-up in the vote for actress of the year was Helen Hayes, often called first lady of the American stage, whose 50th anniversary on Broadway was honored by having a theater named after her.

Almost unanimously, Clare Boothe Luce was voted woman of the year in politics. The charming and controversial U. S. Ambassador to Italy returned to her post in Rome after a successful summer visit to Washington.

In the field of public service, 75-year-old Helen Keller was voted the outstanding woman. Blind and deaf since birth, she took a five-month 40,000-mile trip around the world in behalf of the blind.

returned to receive a special citation from President Eisenhower's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, which read, in part: "For a lifetime of service to humanity and for her example of courage, faith and triumph over physical obstacles."

Also by almost unanimous vote, the incomparable Babe Zaharias again was named woman of the year in sports. Although this year, for almost the first time in her star-studded career, she was the most talked-of and read-about figure in the feminine world of sports because of her gallant battle against cancer and her best-selling autobiography, "This Life I've Led."

Anne Morrow Lindbergh received the title of woman of the year in literature by overwhelming vote for her sensitive and thoughtful book, "Gift from the Sea," written during a vacation on a tropical island, in which she viewed the tensions and complexities of the life of a modern woman at

BEZNER REUNION — Frank Bezner and his relatives here in Hereford had as Christmas guests his aunt, Sister Alban from Laredo; his cousin, Sister Ramona from San Antonio; his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bezner and son, Wilfred from Lindsay; his mother, Mrs. Jim Reynolds and family of Clovis; Mrs. Tom Hunnicutt of Dumas; Alban Bezner and family and Mrs. C. Drerup and family of Hereford; and Leo Bezner and family from Bushland. The reunion was held this past week in St. Anthony's Hall. (Staff Photo) middle age, weaving her personal philosophy around the allegory of a sea snail.

Although she retired to private life on Aug. 1, Ovetta Culp Hobby, former secretary of health, welfare and education, was voted the outstanding woman of 1955 in the field of education. During her brief term as the only woman member of the Eisenhower cabinet she guided her department through two of the greatest controversial climaxes in the nation—the issue of racial integration in the schools, and the early confusion over the Salk polio vaccine.

Bernice Fitz-Gibbon, probably America's best-known advertising woman, was voted woman of the year in the field of business, after she resigned her post as advertising manager of one of New York's biggest department stores to open her own firm. In 1955 nobody but nobody but NOBODY topped Bernice Fitz-Gibbon in headline value in her field.

Humor From Other Columnists

A "Spur of the Moment" from Ben Ezzell of the Candian Record: "One result of that northern that struck Sunday morning was some quick-frozen hunters. Abe Haddox reports solemnly that he was just drawing a bead on a big gobbler when the cold wave struck. "I froze and that gobbler froze," Abe recounts, "and there we both were... but that gobbler thawed out first and got away!"

You might think this one funny, but you can bet the cow didn't. Franz W. Zeiske, writing in his "Percussions and Repercussions" column in The Bellville Times tells about the white faced cow that was trapped for 16 days on the Allen Muery farm. Seems that Muery engaged a bull dozer to clear some brush on his place, first clearing all the cattle out of the pasture, or so he thought. Zeiske says this particular cow got left and "because of the heavy dust, the operator did not see the animal, and pushed her into one of the huge brush piles, where she was pinned down, but not injured. When the cow was missed, Hap and others searched for her, and finally, 16 days later, they found the animal. Immediately after she was freed, she walked to the nearest water, drank heartily, and has since then eaten well and apparently is none the worse for her experience."

Old Favorites Win Men's Poll

By SHERRY BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Old favorites dominated the votes of AP newspaper, radio and TV editors for personalities of 1955 starting with President Dwight D. Eisenhower as man of the year.

The President's illness was the top story of the year, but he was a leading news maker in many other ways. Although hopes generated at the July summit Big Four conference were not sustained, Eisenhower's personality dominated the meeting. It was widely regarded as a personal triumph for him. His proposal to exchange military blueprints with Russia continues as an important factor in United Nations debates.

His atoms for peace proposals were indirectly promoted at the Geneva atom conferences. And his decisions were crucial in foreign policy dealing with Formosa, Viet Nam, the Middle East and other areas.

Preliminary jockeying for the 1956 election brought some acrimony and there were other disputes such as those over the Dixon-Yates power plan and the pay increase for postal workers. It all made news and the editors voted overwhelmingly that Eisenhower again should be the man of the year. He won the same designation in 1952 and in 1953. He also won the editors' votes in 1944 as "man of war" and in 1945 in military affairs.

Walter Reuther, labor, and Henry Ford II, industry, are names that have each appeared five times on the personalities list in the same categories. As head of the auto workers' union, Reuther's negotiations with the Ford company began a trend toward big labor contracts with a lay off wage plan.

Reuther also had an important place in the AFL-CIO merger negotiations. He also won the vote as labor man of the year in 1945, 1947, 1950 and 1954.

Ford won his designation as industry's man of the year in 1946, 1948, 1949, 1953 and again this year. He made news not only because of his company's sales record but in announcing plans for the first public sale of Ford stock. It was one of the big financial stories of the year.

John Foster Dulles won designation as man of the year in foreign affairs for the fourth time — 1951, 1953, 1954 and 1955. As U. S. secretary of state, he continued to travel all over the world making delicate adjustments in the crucial problems of foreign affairs. He went to the Manila power meeting at Bandung and visited other Asian countries. He went to the summit Big Four and the Big Four foreign ministers' meetings and traveled widely in Europe. At home, he met a constant stream of distinguished visitors.

His was the task of telling Russia it has failed to carry forward the hopes of the summit meeting.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, originator of a polio vaccine was again man of the year in science. He won the designation last year and tied with Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey in 1953. He made news when the success of last year's broad vaccine tests was announced. His work won him many honors during the year and there was more news when manufacturing and distribution difficulties for the vaccine made trouble.

Billy Graham, man of the year in religion for the second successive year, was the other repeat in the personalities vote. He continued to "win" "decisions for Christ" in revival meetings in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Germany and the Netherlands. Record crowds continued to listen to his sermons.

Johnny Podres, 23-year-old miner's son won two Cinderella victories in the World Series to gain the editors' vote as man of the year in sports. When the series opened, Johnny had a herniated spinal disk, a sore arm and tender ribs. In his 13 previous starts as a Brooklyn Dodger pitcher he had failed to finish a game. Yet he went the distance to beat the New York Yankees in the third game of the series and did it again in the seventh game which decided the world championship.

Grace Kelly, star of the new film "To Catch a Thief," is the choice of the editors for personality of the year in entertainment. Movie critics who named her the best actress of 1954, agree that she is still one of the most promising young faces in Hollywood.

Daughter of a Philadelphia millionaire, she had brief experience in stock and on Broadway before starting her film career in bit parts. She soon got better roles and has played opposite such male stars as Gary Cooper, Clark Gable, Bing Crosby, Ray Milland and Cary Grant.

Herman Wouk, man of the year in literature, is author of the best selling novel, "Marjorie Morningstar." Previously he was best known for "The Caine Mutiny" to a motion picture, a stage play and a television show. He started as a radio writer.

Sweaters Star Bulky Look

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Probably the most popular single item of feminine American apparel, year in and year out, is the sweater.

Just when it seems the vogue must have reached its peak, and a slump in interest is due, the designers come up with a new idea and the perennial favorite is off and runnin' again.

This year the bulky rib-knit sweater, unexpectedly trimmed in jewels, is making news as a top item for Christmas giving and winter resort wear. The bulky look in sweaters arrived in full force last season, with the vogue of the Italian look, and it is still going strong.

Women have found the casual look of a white rib-knit sweater in either sports or dress-up clothes, especially for country or resort. Now the bejeweled sweater styles look new and gay, adding a festive note to almost any costume.

Other favorites in the sweater lineup include plain or decorated cashmeres, often dyed to match skirts, and the new, easily washable and budget priced orions, that look like cashmere at 10 paces.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 22:42 - "What think ye of Christ?"

This question demands an answer from an increasing number of people every year as the gospel circle widens. It is a searching question, that cannot be evaded. In every land every person is made to answer this question by word or deed. Until this question is answered all other questions remain unanswered. You may not be able to make up your mind about Christ, but you are compelled to make up your life about Him. Even indecision is eventually frozen into decision.

To think rightly of the Christ is surely essential to right Christian living. No one can have wrong views about Jesus and still have right views about life. This question brings us to the fundamentals to which our faith is anchored fast. Thinking creates ideals. Ideals affect character. Character decides destiny. As a man thinketh in his heart so is he. Nothing so profoundly affects total life and future hopes as one's concept of deity or one's answer to the question: What think ye of Christ?

Medicines
Do not keep old medicines about the house just because they may have been effective once before with some other member of the family. Some drugs deteriorate with age, and again, what may be effective with one person will not be with another.

Cut Glass
When cleaning cut glass and crystal use a little borax and very little soap in the water. If a little bluing is added to the rinse water the glass will have a brilliant polish.

Rubber Gloves
Before putting on the new rubber gloves, sprinkle them well on the inside with baking soda or corn starch, and they will slip off easily without sticking.

Stockings
When laundering hosiery, avoid extremes of heat. Do not wash in hot water or dry in the hot sun as both treatments will weaken the fibers.

The Baby
If the baby's stomach refuses to hold milk while he is teething, beat the white of an egg until stiff, add a few drops of orange juice and a little sugar, and feed it to him with a spoon. It is palatable and will strengthen him.

Caution
Do not use a metal tea or coffee pot that has been out of use for a long time until it has been given a good scrubbing with a metal cleanser. A certain amount of corrosion forms, often not visible.

Use of Crumbs
The crumbs that are left over from bread, cake, or muffins are excellent to use as a crust for any baked or scalloped dish.

Soap Jelly
A good soap jelly for cleaning woodwork can be made by dissolving one heaping tablespoon of white soap flakes in one cup of hot water, then stir in one level tablespoon of washing soda, and allow to remain in a cool place to stand until solid.

Fine Football Season Heads 1955 Highlights

One of the finest football seasons in recent years highlighted the Hereford sports scene in 1955, while this was eclipsed by other events such as the Hereford Invitational Basketball Tournament, appointment of a new basketball coach, and the naming of Hereford as the spot for this year's district tournament.

King Football held the most attention as Hereford's Whitefaces started like a house of fire and finished the same way. It was the finest season for Hereford since L. B. Russell took over head-coaching chores here.

The Herd's only two losses of the season were consecutive defeats at the hands of mighty Phillips and Perryton. They were sandwiched in between four consecutive wins at the first of the season and four straight at the end. Hereford finished in a tie with the Dumas Demons for the runner up spot in district one. District champion Phillips went to the regional playoffs where they were taken out by state champion Stamford.

District title-holder Phillips placed five men on the Hereford Brand

All-District team to lead all other teams. Hereford placed three, Perryton two, and Canyon one. On the official all-district team announced later Phillips led the selections, while Hereford again was second.

The year 1955 was the first and maybe the last year for the Hereford Invitational Basketball Tournament. It was an All-Amarillo finals, the Golden Sandies meeting the Sandie "B" team in the finals. The varsity triumphed easily to take the trophy for first place. The Bovina Mustangs took home the consolation trophy after being previously upset by the Amarillo "B" team. Hereford's Whitefaces captured seventh place.

The Hereford Whiteface cagers of 1954-55, led by Francis Boyd finished in a tie with Canyon behind Phillips and Dumas in the district race. Francis Boyd tipped the nets for more than 800 points, more than any player had ever scored in one season.

The basketball season was climaxed by the resignation of cage coach Wayne Stark and the naming of Hereford as this year's spot for the district tourney. Cubby Kitchens, former West Texas State great, was named to succeed Stark.

The district tourney will be inaugurated for the first time. Officials of district schools picked Hereford as the place on the basis that the Whitefaces never have been hosts before.

Whiteface speedster Wayne Smith again led the Hereford Whiteface thinclads, capturing first place honors in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash at the district meet. Smith's times at the district meet were comparably slow to his times at the regional meet later in Lubbock. However, Smith failed to qualify for the state meet.

In its second season since reorganization high school baseball in Hereford fared well. After placing second to Dalhart the year before, the Whitefaces, coached by L.B. Russell, this time finished in a tie with the Wolves for first place. Dalhart, however, won the playoff game. Danny Elliston was the leading Hereford hitter, while Homer Hershey was the leading moundsman.

The Hereford Softball League ended in quite a mixup. Piggy Wiggly won the league pennant and the Knights of Columbus finished in second place. The playoffs never did go further than the semifinals which set Piggy Wiggly and the KC's to play in the finals. However, due to a misunderstanding, the games never were played.

Hereford's Pink Sox, members of the Irrigation League, after a dismal start, lived up a bit, but still started too late. They finished in fifth place, one spot too low to gain the playoffs. Friona won both the pennant and the playoff.

On the golf scene Bob Lindsey won the Hereford Golf Club championship and Charles Seed, high school junior, won the City Golf championship. Don Kaplan of Texas Tech took top honors in the Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament, knocking off defending champ John Farquar of Amarillo.

The 1955-56 edition of the Hereford Whitefaces basketball team got off to a dismal start, winning one and losing nine before the end of the year.

Southern Broke Two Records In Same Day

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

A slim schoolboy who twice in two days broke the national record for the 440-yard dash and an Air Force lieutenant who won the British Amateur golf tournament stood out in Texas' sports accomplishments for the year.

Eddie Southern of Dallas Sun-set was the schoolboy who created national attention with his mighty feats in the Texas Interscholastic League Meet. On Friday Southern ran the quarter-mile in 47.4 to beat the national record by six-tenths of a second. On Saturday he sped it in 47.2 to crack his own mark. And at the same time he was running the 220-yard dash in 20.7 to tie the national record.

Joe Conrad of San Antonio was the airman who journeyed to England and took the British Amateur, first and only Texan ever to.

There were many other noteworthy feats by Texans along the sports trail in 1955 but those two were the cream of the crop.

Bobby Morrow, the Abilene Christian College freshman, wrote a bright chapter in the nation's track as he won the AAU 100-yard dash. But his most sensational performance was in the NAIA meet in Abilene. Suddenly there came the announcement that Morrow, the lanky youngster from San Benito, had run 100 yards in 9.1. That was two-tenths of a second under the world's record. It was not allowed, of course, because there was a 7-miles-per-hour fav-

KNOX'S KNOTHINGS

By BILL KNOX

Could it be that the Amarillo Sandies were actually just a step child? It seems that that's the truth of the matter because the Amarillo newspapers, radio stations, and television stations have all dropped the Sandies flat on their face in favor of the "unbeaten Palo Duro Dons."

The "unbeaten Dons" have drawn all the headlines, glory, and praise, while the Sandies, accustomed to drawing all the attention, now have to get used to being put over in the corner by themselves. This looks like one instance when the first-born in a family doesn't get all the attention.

Before the birth of the Dons, Pult Powell and company carried a screaming banner and a red torch for the Sandies, but since then things have changed. The Dons have become almost immortal because of their "hustling football spirit" (they won one out of ten games) and their "unbeaten basketball record."

The "unbeaten Dons" have a fine basketball team — one which might even win state in AAA this year. But Amarillo scribes and video men have overlooked the fact that the Sandies have one which rivals the Dons.

Palo Duro got the headlines when they were having a dismal football season, while the Sandies were having a much better year. It's natural to play up a winning team bigger than a losing team, but apparently that's not the case. They were covered with praise and glory while winning only one football game. At the same time Joe Kerbel's Sandies held Abilene's Eagles 33-14. Abilene won their bi-district game by 61-0.

The Amarillo publicity men have run the term "Palo Duro's unbeaten Dons" into the ground. The Sandies have lost only one game, and that was in the first game of the season. We see no reason why they shouldn't be played up just as much as the "unbeaten Dons." We'll almost wager that the word "unbeaten" is the most used adjective by the Amarillo newspapers, radio stations and television stations.

Maybe you can figure it out. We can't. Why the sudden switch? Your guess is as good as ours. Apparently there is a reason for the change in tactics, though, or it wouldn't be done.

But, "unbeaten Dons," be on the lookout. Already they're gunning for a third high school.

But they can no longer use their favorite word, "unbeaten." The Dons were drilled by Norman, Okla., Friday night and the

The Syracuse Nationals won the National Basketball Assn playoffs, beating Fort Wayne, 92-81, in the seventh and deciding game. A foul shot by George King in the last 12 seconds was the clincher.

Oklahoma's national champions were the irresistible force of the unusual 1955 football season which found Maryland matching the Sooners' unbeaten record without a regular fullback.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Norman, Okla., Sooners ran their undefeated string to 29 games and their Big Seven Conference skinn to 53 by taking maximum advantage of a liberalized substitution rule. He alternated two units.

The rules were amended to allow a player to re-enter a game once during a period. Previously, a player could not re-enter the same period except for special four-minute segments at the end of the half and the end of the game.

For some teams it was a season of devotion to the running game with a miserly use of the forward pass. Oklahoma was almost brutal in its execution of its Split-T formation with Quarterback Jim Harris, All-America Tommy McDonald, Bob Burris and fullback Bill Prier in one backfield and Jay O'Neal, Clendon Thomas, Carl Michigan State and UCLA lost the game each on the road to the Rose Bowl.

Halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Heisman Trophy winner as a player of the year, steered Ohio State to its second unbeaten Big Ten championship but the Buckeyes were ineligible for the Rose Bowl under the terms of the pact which forbids appearances in successive years.

Cassidy concluded his fabulous four-year career by scoring a touchdown that helped knock Michigan out of the Rose Bowl, 17-0. Cassidy's 222-point career total smashed the previous Ohio State mark of 201 made by Chic Harley.

Dark-horse Texas Christian was paced by All-America halfback Jim Swink who scored 125 points.

Navy, which held Pitt to 59 yards rushing and no pass completions, lost to Notre Dame 21-17 in its only loss last season. Army in one of the major upsets. Quarterback George Weis and All-America end Ron Beagle smashed Navy passing records but could not cope with the Irish and the Cadets.

History will list 1955 as the season Penn sophomore Frank Riepl returned the opening kickoff 108 yards against Notre Dame. Penn stretched its losing streak to 18 games and Alabama to 13.

J. C. Caroline was lost to Illinois and Hubert Bobo to Ohio State on matters of eligibility before the opening whistle.

West Virginia (8-2) Miami of Florida (6-3) and Rice (2-7-1) were the disappointments of the season.

While Oklahoma found a way to use the substitution rule to advantage, many scores proved that the little guys did all right, dating from Hawaii's 6-0 upset of Nebraska. Little Centre College had its first unbeaten season since 1921 and Bucknell, in its 26-26 tie with Harvard, lost not one but two downs in the year's strangest bit of officiating.

W. C. Rylander of Lubbock, Tex., took up bowling at the age of 68. Now at 83 he has a 150 average in league play.

term once-beaten will probably go into use. But also remember that the Sandies are once-beaten.
Something that might cure these Amarillo guys would be for the Sandies to give the Dons a good country thrashing.

past years, but the triumphs of Conrad and Nelson were quite noteworthy and Betty Jamison, a 25-year veteran of the links, had one of her best years. She won over $11,000 while finishing first in four tournaments and teaming with Mary Lena Faulk to win a 4-ball tournament. Polly Riley, the Fort Worth miss, went to the finals of the national women's amateur.

On the Texas scene the feat of Dave (Spec) Goldman of Dallas in winning the state amateur tournament at the age of 46 was outstanding. Mrs. Opal Riedel of Dallas won the women's amateur.

Texas were elated to find Fred Hawkins of El Paso being named chairman of the PGA tournament committee. This is an important position in the nation's golf.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa did well in professional golf while making his first tour, winning one tournament and finishing well up in the money list.

Larry Graveslock of Amarillo won the national junior doubles trap-shooting championship. Pedro Galva, Southern Methodist's bid for the Olympics in swimming, set a national freshman record for the backstroke.

Houston won the national senior YMCA volleyball championship.

Texas continued to look up in tennis. Bernard (Tut) Bartz of San Angelo and Dallas was ranked fourth in the nation — a climb of three positions for the little amateur star.

Cecil Smith, the old man river of polo, was rated 10 goals for the umpteenth time. Smith is one of the all-time greats of this sport.

Of interest to Texans was the voting of Ted Lyons into baseball's Hall of Fame. Lyons went from the Baylor University campus to the big leagues where he was one of the all-time pitching greats.

Also of interest to Texans was the appointment of Bobby Bragen as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bragen got his managerial start at Ft. Worth in the Texas League.
Pinky Higgins of Dallas was named manager of the year in the American League for what he did with the Boston Red Sox.
Jim Swink furnished headlines over the world with his All-American feats in Texas Christian football.

One Texan who lost furnished outstanding sports news. He was Sen Hogan, the golf great who finished in a tie with Jack Fleck for the National Open Championship. Fleck, to the surprise of the nation, beat Hogan in the playoff with a 69 to Hogan's 72. Hogan announced that he was retiring from competitive golf after the greatest career in the game's history.

There was one sad note in the year's sports — Babe Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete of her time, had a recurrence of cancer. She had returned to golf to win recognition as the woman athlete of the year after an operation for cancer two years ago. But again the disease sent her to a hospital. She played little golf during the past year.

Customers Get Something Extra In Jerry's Cafe

WHARTON — Jerry Keton, a big friendly cafe owner here, believes in giving his customers good thoughts along with good food.

The walls of Johnnie's Cafe are plastered with countless cardboard philosophies that Keton has gathered through the years.

"All my life I've been interested in philosophy and also fascinated by signs," he said.

And he pointed out a favorite of customers — "If you want to be heard, speak up. If you want to be seen, stand up. If you want to be appreciated, shut up."

Others were "When a man thinks he's important, he should ask what the world would miss if he were gone." "The only way to have a friend is to be one." "Nothing astonishes people today so much as common sense and plain decency." "If a man wants to borrow trouble, he never needs collateral."

Keton says he began collecting the signs when he was a boy.

"I saw a sign one day hanging on the wall of a country store. It read 'I complained because I had no shoes, until I met a man who had no feet.'"

"I never could forget that sign," Keton said. "When I took over Johnnie's Cafe in 1947 I decided to put up a collection I'd made through the years."

He indicated some of his favorites.

"Mud thrown is ground lost."

"Hang on to anything that works."

"It ain't ignorance that causes all the trouble in the world, it's the things that folks know that ain't so."

"Sampson was a piker. He killed only a thousand men with the jawbone of an ass. But every hour in the day, 10,000 sales are killed with the same weapon."

Then Keton pointed out a tall stack of the heavy cardboard philosophies in the corner of the cafe. He has so many placards now that he had to rotate his display about every six months.

"It's a big job but maybe it gives somebody some help."

Winget Family Reunion Typical Yule Activity

Christmas holidays bring family reunions with relatives journeying many miles to get together at the particular season when family ties mean the most. The warmth and generosity of the season grows along with the gaily and good will that each member of the family brings along with him, until the final celebration, all of which are recorded in each individual memory book. That was the way it was when the 11 children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Winget and their families gathered in Hereford, all 74 of them, to spend Christmas together. Festivities began Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Winget entertained at a dinner, followed Friday evening by the dinner get-together at the M. L. Winget home. Lunch at the Earl Planks marked the noon hour Saturday with the progressive dinner and Christmas program climaxing the Christmas Eve festivities. The dinner started at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Winget and then the group went to the M. L. Winget home with the main course, turkey with all the trimmings, at the C.R.

Wingets. Then dessert at the Earl Planks where a Christmas tree, and gifts were featured.

On Christmas Day the group attended the First Methodist Church in a body and then back to the Earl Plank home for the Christmas dinner.

A family worship service was conducted in keeping with the real meaning of the day, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Winget of Colorado City presented the candle lighting ceremony followed by the entire assemblage singing the Christmas carol "O Come All Ye Faithful." Dick Winget of Lawrenceville, Ill., read "The Shepherds Story" Luke 2:8-20. Then the children in the group sang "Away in a Manger" followed by the story of the Wise Men, Matthew 2:1-2, 9-11 given by L. Wendell Herritt of Halloman, N. M. The closing prayer of thanks for homes and loved ones was given by K. A. Pritchard of Calgary, Alberta Canada.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Winget, Jane and Ricky of Lubbock, Lt. and Mrs. Wendell Herritt, Allison and Teresa of Halloman, N. M., Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Cotton and Beverley of Weatherford, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Pritchard and Patti and Judy of Calgary, Alberta Canada, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gould of Lawrenceville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Winget of Waterloo, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Winget Jr., and Mike and Jay of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Tod Shy of Woodward, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Winget, of Forsan, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Winget and Linda and Larry of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Strickland of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osner and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee of El Dorado, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. C. Dick Winget and Judith and Charles Richard of Lawrenceville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Evans of Robinson, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winget, Susan and Jimmy of Sapulpa, Okla.

The Hereford relatives include P. A. Winget, Mrs. Ethel W. Cotton, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plank, Earleen, Pete and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Winget and Craig, Pamela and Wayne, Mrs. Evelyn Winget, Donnie and Johnny, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lawhon and Carla, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Winget and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Winget.

Miss Inez Brown Becomes Bride Of John D. Killens

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the holiday wedding of Miss Inez Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brown, and John Davis Killens, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Killens of Sildell, La.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock Dec. 23. In keeping with the Christmas season a red and white theme was used in decorating. Tall baskets of red and white carnations backed the nuptial space at the altar with seven branched candelabra holding red and white tapers at either side.

Sue Kirby, organist, played a medley of nuptial music while the guests were arriving and accompanied Mrs. Floyd Messenger of Friona, soloist, who sang "Because," "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer" in conclusion of the ceremony. Miss Kirby also played the traditional wedding marches.

Patsy Ford and Sherin Wiseman served as candlelighters and Miss Claudia Green was maid of honor.

Miss Green's dress was pastel pink net over taffeta made with strapless bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a corsage of white carnations at the low waistline.

Donald Brown, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Roy Messenger and Arthur Carter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle, fashioned with fitted bodice having a low round neck edged in scallops and three quarter length fitted sleeves. The full bouffant skirt was scalloped at the waltz-length hemline. Her lace-edged veil of illusion fell to waist length from a heart-shaped bonnet brim giving a halo effect, and she carried a small white Bible topped with five red rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress trimmed in pink and a black velvet hat. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Reception In Fellowship Hall

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over Christmas red and centered with an arrangement of red Christmas berries sprinkled with snow. Mesdames Russell Pogue, John Draper and I. H. Willoughby presided at the table and Claudia Green secured names for the bride's book.

HOME REPAIR DOs and DON'Ts

By Andrew C. Lang
FINISHING A BASEMENT
DO... decide ahead of time on all the materials that are to be used on the floor, walls and ceiling, as this advance knowledge will influence the construction of the framework.
DO... if there is even the slightest dampness in the basement, select materials that will withstand high moisture conditions... asking your dealer's advice about each product under consideration.
DO... attach 1 by 3 furring strips to the masonry as a support for the new walls, but where the walls will be inside the masonry, use vertical 2 by 4's set between horizontal 2 by 4's attached to the floor and the overhead beams.

DO... hide or disguise pipes, metal posts or utility meters, but be sure to make hinged arrangements where inspections will be necessary.
DO... enclose or make use of the valuable storage area under the basement stairs.
DON'T... attempt to finish a basement in a new house until you have lived in it long enough to be certain that it does not become flooded during heavy rains.

DON'T... overlook the use of carbide-tipped drill bits or anchor nails (which are applied with adhesive) — especially when extra-hard masonry resists ordinary bits and nails.
DON'T... forget that all electrical work should be done after the framework is up but before the walls are installed.
DON'T... neglect a mechanical arrangement that will permit the windows to be opened and closed even if they can't be reached conveniently.

At The Movies
 Jeanne Crain, George Nader, Kitty Kallen, Bert Lahr, Marnie Van Doren, Keith Andes, Kathleen Case and Paul Gilbert are the stars of Universal - International's Technicolor - CinemaScope musical comedy, "The Second Greatest Sex," which will show Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star.
 The film, a rollicking tale of Kansas in the 1880's features eight big musical production numbers and a large cast which includes Tommy Rall, Edna Skinner, Jimmy Boyd and the Midwesterners in important roles.
 Joan Crawford, Jeff Chandler and Jan Sterling will sizzle across the screen at the Star Wednesday and Thursday in a fiery, suspenseful film from Universal - International titled, "Female on the Beach."
 The well-woven plot concerns a young, wealthy widow who falls prey to the amorous advances of a handsome young beachcomber who makes lonesome, wealthy widows a profitable hobby. The presentation of this story pulls no punches and the film emerges as perhaps the most entertainingly torrid of the season.
 Joan Crawford, as the young widow, is more glamorous and exciting than ever, if this is possible. Her performance is high-key perfection, whether she is the calm, sophisticated woman who has control of every emotion, or the frightened, hysterical female on the beach who believes that she is marked for murder.
 Jeff Chandler, the beachcomber, turns in what amounts to almost two completely separate performances, both of them excellent. In the one, he is the brash, handsome young man whose business it is to charm lonely women out of their hearts and their fortunes, and in the other, he is the strong, quiet and honest-lover of Miss Crawford.
 Jan Sterling is tops as a small town real-estate woman who is also in love with the redoubtable Chandler.
 Miss Nancy Patterson has arrived home after spending the Christmas holidays in St. Augustine, Fla., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ward Sr., as the guest of Roy Ward Jr. Miss Patterson and Mr. Ward are both students at Abilene Christian College. Abilene, Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson.

Texans have a reputation as raggarts and, even the ones who don't often brag are perhaps a little bit prone to be a little sophisticated. I discovered the other day, however, that there is an old boy away off up in New Hampshire, who has this small newspaper business figured out to a "T." Better even, than we Texans. His name is W. B. Rotch. He lives in Milford, N. H., and he has gained considerable publicity with his proposed formula, which is so simple it can be summed up in one word, "Trigamy."

Trigamy, as you might suspect, means having three wives, which Rotch declares to be an absolute necessity in the successful publishing of any weekly newspaper. Since there are other business formulas, too, which might well adapt to the formula, I am reprinting Mr. Rotch's words of wisdom: "Wife No. 1," he wrote, "could be called the Eager Editor. She can type a hundred words a minute, talk on two telephones at once, write a column of advice to the lovelorn, describe a wedding breakfast or compose a book review. She knows the middle initials of the Lions Club directors, and which Eastern Stars are Past Worthy Matrons. She can soothe a subscriber whose paper has been lost in the mail, calm the young woman whose name was misspelled and when the Womens' Club news is left out she can make the club secretary agree it was all for the best. Her idea of an exciting evening is to cover the P-TA meeting, the opening of a summer theater and an 11:30 p.m. general alarm fire and can have the stories ready to set in type by eight o'clock in the morning.

"Wife No. 2 is the Darkroom Drudge. No by-lines for her, nor does she want any. But she and her camera are always on hand when the Legion officers are installed, when the fire department rescues a cat, and if she catches pneumonia while out photographing the hurricane, it is all part of the game. Her eyes may be bloodshot, her fingers stained brown, but she has those glossy prints ready on time. In a pinch she can feed the press, run a lino type, drum up an extra page of advertising and sell a couple of subscriptions on the way to the office.

"Wife No. 3 is the Happy Homebody. She may not know an electrotrope from a rotary press, but she knows enough not to be disturbed when her husband says he wants supper at six o'clock and forgets to come home until half past eight. When he comes in from a day at the office she has the children tucked into bed, his favorite radio program turned on, and a hot meal ready to be put on the table. If at that point he dashed out the door shouting something about having forgotten all about some special meeting he has to attend, she tries to guess what time he will be back, so she can have plate of cold roast beef and the cup of hot coffee ready. She has learned to tell white lies on the telephone, such as: 'He isn't here right now, but I'll give him the message,' and she always smiles and answers: 'yes dear' when he tells her about the stupid people who have been making his life so difficult.

"Yes the secret of getting out a weekly paper is as simple as that. If a publisher picks his three wives well there is no reason at all why he should not be a success."

Mr. Rotch is a deep thinker, that no one can deny—especially about business affairs. However, those of us who may have been married longer can visualize a few pitfalls along his primrose path. On Christmas, for instance, his formula would necessitate buying three wives a Christmas present—and few are the men who can even successfully select one. And, if all of the wives started complaining at one time, Brother, would he have trouble? On the other hand, it would probably be no worse having three wives with "nothing to wear" than having one "with nothing to wear."

Our boy, Bill Knox deserves quite a pat on the back. He was the only Sports Scribe in this neck of the woods who picked Stamford as State AA winner away, way back down the line. He argued with everyone in the Panhandle about Phillips; three months ago, he said that Breckenridge would lose to Stamford—and stuck with his guns through thick and thin. He sure stuck out his neck when it counted—and rode his hunch all of the way to the title—and a grand slam in predictions. Bill, incidentally, had never seen Stamford play prior to the Phillips-Stamford game in Childress.

COTTON BOWL interest is waning in this neck of the woods. All over town people have been giving away tickets during the past week. Notice where the Denver Railroad offers to secure tickets for all interested passengers. Folks are fed up with the distance, lack of hotel accommodations, large crowds and hullabaloo. Besides, you can watch three bowl games on TV, and not leave your armchair. Another thing, the game is far, far below the Oklahoma - Maryland State fracas in quality and drawing appeal. Put all of these things together—and the Cotton Bowl is taking a back seat in 1956.

One of the Brand contest winners did not even claim his ticket, while another waited until Thursday. All of this, despite the fact that we have a double holiday, making the trip more attractive than usual.

Which reminds me. Lots of people are expecting a double holiday next year, figuring that Christmas will fall on Monday. Look at your calendar, again. Christmas comes on Tuesday. This is because 1956 is a Leap Year, allowing 29 days in February.

Another thing, did you ever see so many sales, so early? The Amarillo merchants went nuts while people were still picking their turkey bones last Monday. The Dollar Day offering in this issue of The Brand is some more of the same. I have not seen so many honest-to-goodness deep-cut prices in a long, long time. It is definitely a buyer's market in Hereford Tuesday. What's more, the merchants may be jumping the gun on this deal. Manufacturers seem to be putting on the brakes—and shortages are already cropping up in many, many lines. Newsprint is harder to buy than at any time since 1946, despite sharp price jumps since October. All in all, the buyer is getting a real break and a flying start in 1956.

Maybe the Hereford merchants are just saying "Happy New Year" with Savings—and who can think of a better way?

SLOW MOTION ACCIDENT

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Most traffic accidents happen fast. But it took five hours for L. O. Wilson's big trailer truck to overturn. Wilson had a blowout and pulled onto the road shoulder to change the tire. But one side of the trailer began sinking into the soft dirt. Wilson sat back and watched as the big trailer, over a five-hour period, settled on its side "as gently as if you had laid it down with your hands."

IMPROVEMENT, NOT IMPERTINENCE

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Back talk from the pupils is being encouraged in Richmond's public schools. The pupils' speech is tape recorded and played back as a means of ironing out defects in diction and grammar. Said Mrs. Elizabeth Collier, a fifth grade teacher: "It is noticeable almost immediately that they try to improve their speech and tones."

COSTLY WINDOWS

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's new city county building, called by some a "glass shell," has 3500 windows which get washed every two months. Each washing costs $1048.

TEACHERS FLUNK CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Five sheepish school teachers were listed among more than 40 motorists arrested in a single day here in a police crackdown on speeding in school zones. Police Judge James McWhorter let the teachers off with three months probation but warned them that "The next time, the lesson will be different."

What's This

—By Chris

I hope everyone had a very merry Yuletide season, and went heavy on the New Year's resolutions. Yours truly really turned over the leaf, and this year I hope to do a little better than I did last year. I expect them to last until at least February this time.

I would like to thank all of you for the words of encouragement I received. Yes, old Santa reads the Sunday Brand all right.

You know, I'm beginning to wonder if I'll ever see another white Christmas! Aren't you? Oooh this Texas weather. Instead of slapping "White Christmas" on the old turn table, those "crazy" disk jockeys should have been grinding out "We're Having a Heat Wave" by Marilyn Monroe! You know?

It's always nice to see all the service men back home for the holidays isn't it? I've seen quite a few of them around, and I hope they had the merriest! They deserve it.

Inez and John "joined forces" Dec. 23, and as the story goes, will live happily ever after. What a wedding! Claudia Green was the ring bearer and do you know what I heard her say? No, I didn't figure you did, but I couldn't resist asking. Well, anyway, you guys had better steer clear, because going up the aisle, I heard her say, "Next time I'm going to get married!" How do you like that for the under statement of the year? Say, you know, that Loyd Brooks is just the craziest! You should hear him tell about Japan from the service man's angle. Wow!

Well, it's about that time, so you cats play it cool, and have a jazzy New Year's day. How about it?

INDIAN JUKE BOX
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. — It sounded as if the Navajos were staging a ceremony inside their cafe here. But investigation showed the drums and chants were coming from a juke box. Plenty of other tribal tunes were on tap too, competing successfully with the usual assortment of platters.

NERVOUS HUNTING
LOS ANGELES — Mary Ellen Kay brought her cat and her canary to an animal hospital last week. The findings: they were suffering from nervous exhaustion. Said the doc: "Too much game of cat and mouse."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bezner entertained with a supper in their home Wednesday evening in honor of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner and son, Wilfred from Lindsay; Sister M. Romana from San Antonio; and Sister M. Alban from Laredo. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walterscheid, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brinkman, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Berend and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jesko and Gwendolyn.

Dolly and Betty Paetzold went with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Paetzold, to Okeene, Okla., for a wedding which took place Dec. 26. They left Christmas Day and returned home Wednesday.

BRAND BABIES — "These are not real ducks, they are just decoys," little David seems to be saying. David is the 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duvall of 317 Star. (Staff Photo)

Home Movies Can Help You Keep Memories Of Holiday

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Modern equipment and accessories make movie making comparatively easy, even for a beginner's first attempt indoors. . . with a little thought. With the camera set in the middle of a light bar which holds from two to four lights the complications of lighting are reduced to a minimum. This set-up is extremely flexible in following action as it develops spontaneously, provided you have a long enough electric cord extension.

However, this doesn't mean the movie maker is to move around while filming. . . not unless he can move around rock-steady as a tripod on a dolly. Unless you keep the camera firm and on an even keel at all times, the pictures will jounce and wobble when it is projected later on a screen.

What it does mean is that when you see some action to be photographed in any section of the room, you go to that area carrying lights and camera. There, you advance the focus, if necessary, and the lens opening according to the distance, aim, hold the camera steady and press the button. Then for the next sequence you are free to come in for a close-up or further away for a long shot or shift to a different angle. After making your camera adjustments according to the new distance, you steady yourself and the camera as you start shooting again.

The beginner's tendency to make the movie camera move is seen at its worst in fast panning. Don't be guilty of showing your Christmas dinner gathering by zipping from face to face, down to the table ornaments, over to the Christmas tree, down to the base, up to the top, then back to the faces when you realize there's more film left.

Panning is permissible, but it should be slow and steady. Plan the action in advance so that the person shown is ready for some appropriate action at the moment the camera reaches him. Pictures of the table and tree should be separate sequences. Instead of panning, they would look better when shot from a distance and then in close-ups to show distinctive features.

Probably only beginners, shooting their first movies, have to be cautioned to make sure that the color film for shooting indoors is Type A or marked for Artificial Light. Photofloods, reflector-floods and reflector-spot lamps will all give proper color rendition with this film.

Photofloods, of course, must be used in lamp reflectors. They come in a No. 1 size, which will burn for 3 hours, and a No. 2 size, with a total burning life of six hours.

Reflectorfloods and reflectorspots have built-in reflectors and are the type used in the mobile bar-lights. They, too, have a six hour life and, like photofloods, lose their correct color balance toward the end of their burning life. For better color movies, it is recommended that all these lamps be replaced with fresh ones before they burn out completely.

Another type of lamp for indoor movies has a much longer life and no appreciable loss of color balance. They are called 3200 K lamps and come in two sizes. The 250 watt A-23 burns for 25 hours while the 500 watt PS-25 lasts for 60 hours. They are used in regular lamp reflectors but a warm-up filter (no. 82 or B 1/8 filter) must be used for proper color rendition. Because of the filter, about a half stop more exposure is necessary or the lights must be moved a bit closer to the subject.

A final bit of advice for the many home movie fans who will emerge shortly as a result of the Christmas gifts. They can learn the facts of movie making quicker with the help of a current book that gives detailed instruction in the methods of getting uniformly good color results, indoors as well as outdoors. Written by color expert Fred Bond, "Better Color Movies" is a revised second edition, published by Camera Craft, San Francisco.

Guests in the home of his aunt, Mrs. H. R. Patterson, during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sawyer of Morehouse, Mo. They were en route to visit relatives in Pottsville.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Troys Carmichael and daughter Merle, left Monday for Paris where they have been visiting Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. A. E. Argo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warren have returned home after a holiday visit in Colorado City in the home of her brother, J. W. Randle. They were accompanied by Mrs. Warren's mother, Mrs. Clemmie Randle.

Personalities Highlighted Texas

Single In Washington News In 1955

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Personalities highlighted the Texas angle of the news during the past year and the same situation is in the respect for 1956.

The year 1955 saw no outstanding legislative or administrative action from the federal government which pertained solely or in large part to Texas, but Texans helped steer the course of the nation.

While President Eisenhower, a native Texan, was at the helm for the executive branch, it was House speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City who held the legislative reins on Capitol Hill.

The biggest development of the year here so far as Texas is concerned were heart attacks, as it was for the nation. Lyndon Johnson suffered his on July 2, the president's followed Sept. 24.

Until Johnson's occurred, there had been much speculation that he was headed toward the Democratic nomination for presidency in 1960. Now the idea seems to have been dropped by most national columnists.

Should Eisenhower decide to run for re-election in 1956, Johnson might come into the 1960 picture. There would be the precedent of a heart attack victim seeking the job.

This situation is predicated of course on an assumption that Eisenhower would be re-elected. If a democrat won the 1956 election, there likely would be a re-election bid by the winner in 1960.

The past year saw two Texans holding high federal positions stepped down voluntarily, and a third assumed a post of considerable if unheralded influence.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby resigned as the first secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, to return to publishing the Houston Post.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clearman and family returned Tuesday night from Ajo, Ariz., where they spent Christmas.

Mrs. Joe Story of Hereford and Mrs. J. B. Noland were in Amarillo Wednesday on business.

Rev. and Mrs. Don Larkin and family were in Pampa visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Larkin, and Wheeler visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Bradstreet, during the Christmas holidays. Rev. Larkin returned for the services Sunday while Mrs. Larkin remained in Borger with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Garrison for a short visit. Mrs. Garrison returned with Mrs. Larkin for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude McGowan Jr., and family spent Christmas Eve in the home of his mother, Mrs. Claude McGowan Sr., of Hereford. They remained with Mrs. McGowan for Christmas dinner, where they were joined by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderson, also of Hereford.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson accompanied Mrs. H. H. Cannon to Gainesville, Monday where she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Smith, Mrs. Cannon and the girls went on to Italy where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. P. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Roberson were in Amarillo Tuesday attending the wedding of Nelda Weather and J. L. Hallman. The wedding and reception were held at the House of Weddings in Amarillo. Nelda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Weather. He is a former pastor of the Summerfield Baptist Church.

Several Texans got an unexpected visit back home for the Christmas holidays.

Three days before Christmas Representative Joe Kilgore of McAllen got a telephone call at his office here from Cecil Robinson, Dallas oil man formerly a resident of Kilgore's Rio Grande Valley district. Robinson said he was flying back to Texas in a private Lockheed - Lodestar plane and would take a half dozen people with him if they wanted to go.

The congressman couldn't go, he just got back from Texas with his family. But he quickly phoned around various Texas offices on Capitol Hill.

Mrs. Maydell McDarment, formerly of San Antonio, flew down to spend Christmas with her 85-year-old mother, Mrs. Blanche Blackmon of Garrett in Ellis county. Another lucky taker was Mrs. Lillian Ehrmantrout, who hurried down to see her parents in Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. McCain, then flew back to spend Christmas day here with her husband and four children.

Both Mrs. McDarment and Mrs. Ehrmantrout work on the secretarial staff of Sen. Daniel.

Those Texans who spent Christmas here with their families included at least five congressmen—Paul Kilday, San Antonio; Olin Teague, Bryan; Omar Barleson, Abilene; Walter Rogers, Pampa and James Wright, Weatherford.

Miss Iva Earl Heath of Cameron on the secretarial staff of Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls, returned from a Texas visit just before Christmas.

Driving up with her were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and son Rickie. Smith is a Public Housing Administration official who had been to Texas on business. His wife is the former Bonnie Patton, daughter of a one-time East Texas congressman, Nat Patton of Crockett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Huckert and family, C. D. Hardesty, and Mrs. Joe Huckert were Christmas Eve guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert and family. Christmas dinner guests in the Frank Huckert home were Mrs. Joe Huckert, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sears, and Mr. C. D. Hardesty all of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christie and family spent Christmas with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. student. She is also a member of Carnation Theta Rho Club for Girls. She is employed in the REA office.

Mr. Killens attended Louisiana schools, coming to Texas last March. He is presently employed at the Hereford Bakery.

City Offers Long Range Plan On Water System

Expansion of community facilities is often like "fixing the roof"; when it's raining, you can't and, when it's not raining, there is no need for repairs. The logical method, of course, would be a program of long-range planning and careful execution.

Such, it appears, is just what the City Commission is offering to the people of Hereford in connection with proposed expansion of the municipal water system. Unless something is done by next summer, the community will definitely be in serious trouble concerning its water supply. The Commission, in addition, has made a careful survey as to future needs and is following an overall plan recommended through engineering research.

The proposed plan will furnish storage for a population of 40,000 and will cost only slightly more than a lesser storage set-up. Future extensions will, of course, result in additional costs — but will not be made until they are actually required. The plan, all in all, closely follows that adopted by most privately owned utilities, which are interested in service and in sound economic operation.

Previous sound planning, plus efficient operation, has helped the City to maintain unusually low water rates in the face of rising costs. The City has even grown extensively without a bond issue, while our schools and other governmental subdivisions have faced considerable difficulty in meeting these increased demands.

Very few people are happy about bond issues, despite the fact that they inevitably represent growth, progress and increased personal values. When you have one concerning a problem so vital as water, however, the situation appears in a different light. Certainly the past performance of our city government merits a vote of confidence following their endorsements concerning this immediate need.

Youth Problem - - Is It Parental, or Community?

"Too many parents get mad at us because we don't keep a better eye on their children."

The statement was made by Sheriff Lowell Sharp in a public talk here this week—and it does have considerable merit. It was emphasized by additional remarks which pointed to youths loitering on the streets and in cafes at all hours of the night and morning, a situation which the sheriff says exists here most of the time. His suggestion of a "closer eye" from the parents appears definitely in line.

While we agree with Sheriff Sharp on these points, we cannot help but wonder if he is right in frowning upon community sponsored activities for young people. The question also arises in our minds as to whether the rearing of our youth is 100 percent a parental problem in these modern days.

Discipline was an all-parental problem 20 or 25 years ago — before a lot of other things changed, including both parents and children. So, at the same time, was old age a personal problem. Today, the sons and daughters of parents who "saved for old age" are now looking forward to Social Security payments. Within the short span, old age has been recognized as a community or social problem, and has been shifted completely from the individual into the hands of society in general.

Right now, youth has become a nationwide problem of prime importance. Invariably, we attempt to solve it by placing the entire burden upon the shoulders of the parent and, time after time, we have faced failure throughout the nation. Is it possible that Youth has changed with modern methods to the point where it is also, on a limited scale, a community or social problem? Should we equip our boys and girls with fast automobiles, telephones, and jet propelled ideas — and expect them to follow the horse and buggy rules of yester years?

The boy who came to town in a wagon on Saturday nights faced only a few of the temptations confronting today's youth who drives his own automobile, has plenty of money — and no chores to occupy his mind? In many places, our government will not let him work until he is 16 years of age. In addition, he has watched TV, heard radio programs and absorbed such reading material that he has reached a state of maturity far above that of his parents at an equal age.

When the government overrules the parent and says a boy cannot work until he is 16 years of age, the government has already stepped in and assumed some responsibility for the boy's future — especially that which may arise from idleness. This very situation is happening every day, especially, in the cities and industrial centers.

The same is true of schools. Compulsory education leaves no choice to the parent. Actually, in some cases, the community has stepped in and taken over guidance of the child. Is it fair, in return, that the community refuses to accept one single iota of responsibility for the discipline and training of the child?

In all honesty, can the community shrug its shoulders and completely pass the buck to the parent for future discipline developments?

Youth, like grownups, are frequently guided by "Keeping Up With the Jones" — or, "Johnny's Folks Let Him Go . . ." And communications have emphasized this problem to such a point that it has become a dilemma to thousands of well-meaning parents. It is, in fact, responsible for more of the nation's juvenile problems than possibly any other single factor.

Frankly, we feel that child guidance should still remain primarily in the hands of the child's parents. However, we have seen and read of many instances where community recreation centers, church sponsored activities, and club sponsored programs have done literally wonders toward helping the parents rear their children into responsible citizens. Included in the list would be "Little League Baseball," "Teen Towns," and Community Play Nights." Skating rinks, bowling alleys, and similar forms of privately operated recreation can also be important parts of the picture.

Most of us as parents have, no doubt, been somewhat lax. As the sheriff points out, we could do much toward curing a large portion of the nation's ills along this line. However, it is possible that we have been more guilty as a community than as individuals. In both instances, we have surrounded our boys and girls with modern geegaws, paved roads and high powered automobiles — but have expected them to react on the horse and buggy thinking of yesterday.

"I Resolve In '56"

Time was when people spent many hours working up a list of New Year Resolutions. The custom, however, seems to have passed — other than providing a subject for cartoons, jokes and light conversation.

Whether the situation is good or bad will always be a point of contention for those who are seriously interested. People who made out the lists, to say the least, made an effort toward self-improvement, and, no doubt, a few of them were able to keep their resolutions for reasonable periods of time. Certainly they would get "E for Effort."

On the contrary would be the argument that the great majority of the resolutions were broken almost immediately, thus resulting in weaker characters, loss of time and no practical accomplishment.

Anyway, you could not reinstate the practice — even if you tried. It just isn't a part of modern day living any more than it is part of modern day thinking. People still recognize their shortcomings to a limited extent and, included among them is that of breaking New Year resolutions.

Maybe we are like the fellow who always spilled coffee on his vest when he drank from a cup. Finally, in desperation, he sought the aid of a psychiatrist and, after several treatments, was asked by a friend if a cure had been effected.

"No! I still spill coffee," said the man, "but he has me where I don't worry about it anymore."

Modern day comedians are ninety-percent brass and volume and 10 percent talent, or less.

There is one sure way not to go in debt — spend less than you earn, even if only a penny less.

"I'M AFRAID OLD MOSE IS SLIPPING - THE BOSS LISTED HIM AS A DEPENDENT ON HIS INCOME TAX RETURN THIS YEAR."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Citizens Don't Agree On Value Of Teen-Age Curfew

Would you be in favor of a teen-age curfew in Hereford?

MRS. TED L. EATON
Yes, I think it would be a good thing because the children need to get to bed at night and get off the streets.

B. F. CAIN
I don't think I would be in favor of it personally. I don't think our town is quite large enough to put a curfew on the children. I believe the parents can handle that problem better at home than to put a curfew on it.

MRS. ROY OSWALD
I don't know why there should be one.

MRS. LORN PELLAM
Yes, I think I would be in favor of one, because of the trouble we've had lately, I think it would be a good idea for the teen-agers to be in after a certain hour.

MRS. H. D. BUSE
I approve of it for my own children because I don't think they ought to be out after a certain hour.

MRS. W. G. VAUGHN
I think its best that they not stay out too late because after a certain hour there's not any kind of entertainment.

When we first began to think back over the year past it didn't seem as if we had much to reward us for our struggles. Almost every day of 1955 we have been faced with a financial crisis of some sort and when green bugs and dry weather finished off our wheat last spring it looked as if we were entirely incapable of making a living.

Up until last summer farming had always been a challenge to us and in the 15 years we have been growing wheat it was the second time we had failed to pull a combine into the field. (Up until then we didn't think green bugs could get the best of us.)

One of the results of all this is that we have added another theory to our rules for happier acceptance of what we have.

— tp —

For some time we have contended that every child should be allowed to get hungry enough at least once to learn to really appreciate food and should sleep on a pallet or three in a bed to know what it means to sacrifice for others.

Now we wonder if wives wouldn't be more appreciative of their husbands if for at least one day they tried earning every penny they spent just for groceries without all that goes for school lunches, movies, beauty parlors, shower gifts, soft drinks, gasoline, magazines and dozens of other daily demands that seem so trivial, but make up our way of life.

— tp —

Actually it hadn't been such a bad year for we still have a fine boy of whom we are very proud and a home that has not been covered up with flood waters.

We have had wonderful letters, like those from Mrs. Lester Galley, Miss Amelia Anthony and Corrine Neely and kind words of encouragement from many people so we will be happy if the new year holds as much for us.

If we are tempted to become bitter or critical we recall what Ludwig Kovacs said to us one afternoon when we were visiting in their home.

He and Mrs. Kovacs had been telling us of their experiences in Europe and he said, "Miss Roberta, you people don't appreciate the life you have here in America."

Maybe our experience has taught us things that will help us. — HAPPY NEW YEAR EVERYBODY.

By JIMMIE LEE

The synonym for the word "music" in Hereford is the name Don Moore, this week's community builder. Mention a local music program, and sooner or later you will be mentioning Moore's name.

As choir director, Moore and his choir has done quite well since he has been teaching at Hereford High School. The choir has been in the top division in the regional contest every year except the first year Moore was teaching, and this past year the choir was awarded the highest honors in the regional contest. Three of his students will be permitted to sing in the All State Choir and two of his students are eligible to sing in the National Choir.

Moore was born July 24, 1911 in Gainesville. When he was six months old his family moved to the Oklahoma Panhandle near Texhoma. He attended his first three grades of school in Texhoma and in 1919, along with his family, he moved to Dalhart. Here he finished his high school education in 1928.

Following graduation, he attended the University of Colorado at Boulder, Colo., for one year and then transferred to McMurray College in Abilene, which he also attended for one year as a sophomore. Then, the depression came and Moore had to quit college. He was then employed by the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Abilene for about 14 years.

During the time he was working at the Coca-Cola Bottling Company he married Juanita Pickens in November of 1935. In 1943, he re-entered McMurray College and finished his college years in 1945.

After his college years at McMurray, Moore accepted a teaching job in Aspermont. He taught for one year at Aspermont and moved to Dalhart, where he taught a half term before being called to Midland to finish out the second term of school. Moore also taught the following year at Midland. He then came to teach the choir here in Hereford in 1950.

The Moores have five children. Pickens, a freshman at Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex., a junior in High School; Sandra Kay, a seventh grade student at Junior High; Mandly, a second grade student at Shirley School; and Cy, who is four years old. He built his own home here in Hereford, which was completed in 1953.

Moore was scout master for eight years in Abilene. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club in Midland and is a member of the Texas Music Educators Association, and was regional director of that organization in 1954-55.

Moore is a member of the First Methodist Church. He directs the choir and is also an assistant teacher.

When asked what he thought of Hereford, he replied, "Very well pleased and satisfied to live here. Very suitable climate and altitude." When asked about his dislikes he said, "Not any I could mention; all would be so minor."

Moore thinks Hereford needs a youth center and he says the way to get it is for a group of citizens, who felt the same need, to organize themselves and begin campaigning for one.

OLTON SEEKS FIRE TRUCK

The fund to purchase a second fire truck for Olton stands at about $2000, Fire Chief Tom Smith said this week. Purchase of a second truck is necessary because state fire commission regulations forbid taking a fire truck to the country if it means leaving the town unprotected. Most of the $2000 has come from voluntary contributions. No decision has been made, Chief Smith said, on what kind of truck will be purchased. The truck that was offered for sale by the Air Force went to another town on a higher bid.

NO SEGREGATION PROBLEM

The racial segregation problem has been solved as far as the average Brownfield citizen is concerned. They believe that the day is approaching when whites and negroes will be going to the same schools, eating in the same restaurants, and generally sharing the same public facilities. Believing this, and liking it, are two different things. But in an informal poll taken at random with several men and women contacted, that is the general sentiment.

FARWELL VOTERS SAY NO

Voters of the Farwell School District again turned down a $200,000 bond issue yesterday, this time by a vote of 219 to 133. It was a more decisive win for the opponents of the measure than was registered in an identical election last month. At that time, the tabulation was 119-102. In the election were improvements to the system, including an auditorium, more classrooms, and a remodeling program to convert the home economics department into grade school quarters. Farwell is the only school in Farmer County without an auditorium.

PANHANDLE CALLS BONDS

City of Panhandle bonds totaling $113,000 have been called, payable as of Dec. 1, 1955. In turn additional bonds for $110,000 will be issued as of Dec. 1, 1955, and will be delivered about Jan. 15, 1956. The city will retire $3000 of the old issue instead of refunding them. The new bonds will bear 2 1/4 per cent interest, the same as the old bonds, but definite maturity dates have been set. City officials are now getting ready to sign the new bonds.

BOY RANCH SELLS FARM

Cal Farley of Boys Ranch, Amarillo, sold in Wellington Thursday, that the farm near Lela which the late R. R. Martin gave the ranch has been sold and the proceeds will be applied on the new school now under construction. Mr. Farley said the new school is of brick and rock, costing approximately $221,000. An effort will be made to have the school paid for by March 1.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been looking at his calendar again, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor:

Now that Christmas is behind us, I have been following my usual custom of taking the week between then and the New Year to review the old year and size up prospects for the new one.

I know some people take the attitude that the year that's just ending should be treated like the visit of an in-law after he's left, the less said about it the better, but I don't take that view, about the past year, not about in-laws.

Nineteen fifty-five hasn't been a bad year but you've got to remember none of the other ones was either as far as I'm concerned. The people who are disappointed over the year are generally the people who expected too much. The way to enjoy a year is to take every day, as it comes, as a smart man already knows it's coming anyway, whether he gets up early or late, works hard or takes it easy. Too many people are so busy planning on how much fun they're gonna have tomorrow or next year they never get around to having any at all.

On the whole, 1955 was a normal year, as I see it, but that's because I've already discovered every year is normal.

As for 1956, I don't any more know what's coming than you or Congress or the economic experts, which gives us all an equal start, with the same amount of ignorance apiece, so far as the future is concerned. There are differences in the amount of ignorance people have over the past, but when it comes to the future, one man is about as blind as the next. Oh, some people might be able to guess better than others what the stock market for example will do, but the fellow that guesses the best about it may be the one that guessed the worst about his own health.

As I see it, 1956 will be a fine time to be alive, but you've got to remember there's nothing wrong with the few remaining days in 1955 either. They're fine too.

Understand, though, I'm not making any predictions. With Congress meeting in January, the first rattle out of the box, anybody who makes a prediction is merely failing to remember.

Let 1956 come on. It won't get any more out of me than 1955 did.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Bailey County Water Decrease Is Estimated At Only Five Percent

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of stories written by the High Plains Underground Water District.)

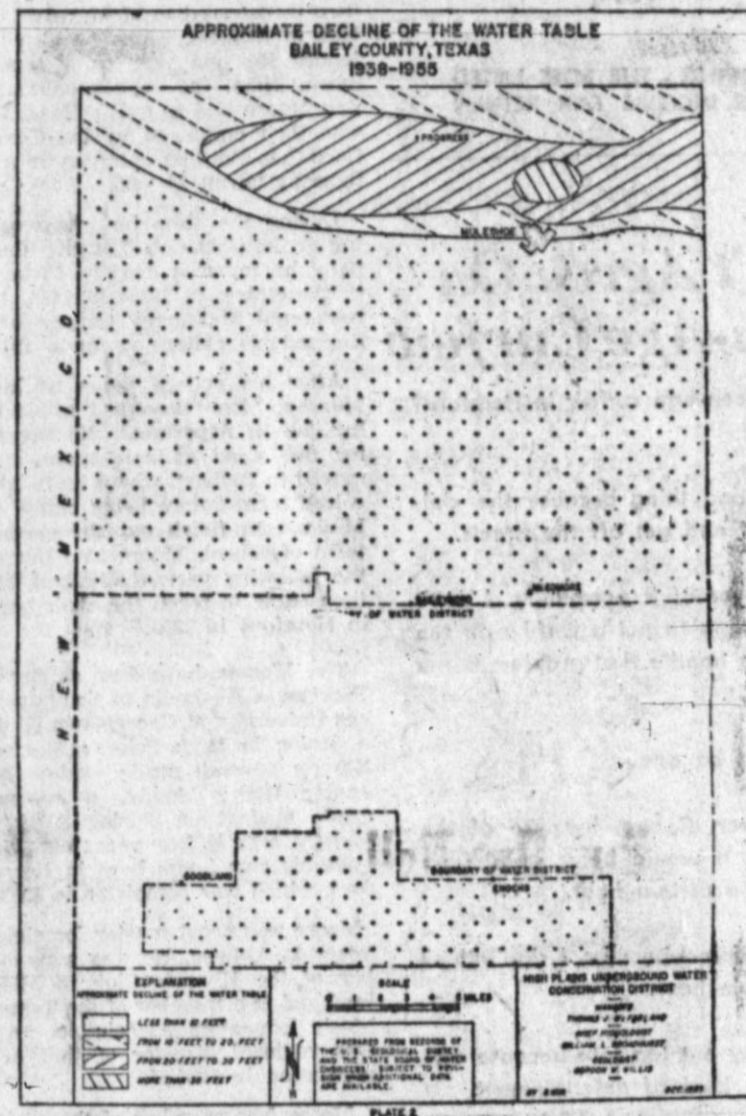

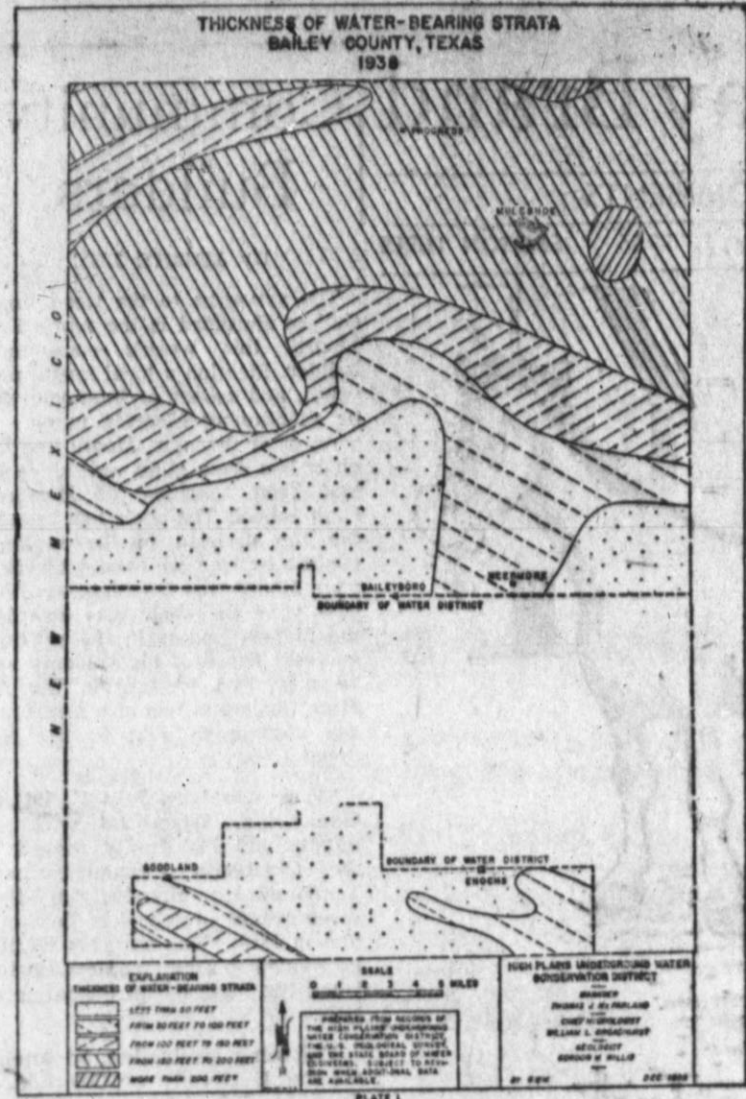

The portion of Bailey County within the boundary of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District covers about 362,000 acres of land. (The total area of the county is about 532,000 acres.) The underground reservoir in the Ogallala formation beneath the area within the district contained approximately 5,770,000 acre-feet of ground water in storage available for pumping in January 1955. The above maps were prepared from data compiled from a study of about 500 logs of water wells and about 250 measurements of water levels in wells.

The map in plate 1 shows the thickness of the water-bearing strata between the water table and the red-beds in 1938 before an appreciable amount of water had been pumped from the reservoir. The map in plate 2 shows the decline of the water table from the spring of 1938 to January 1955.

The volume of water remaining in the underground reservoir was determined by subtracting the volume of material unwatered since 1938 from the total volume of saturated material in 1938 and multiplying the remainder by the coefficient of storage of 15 percent. These data show that 6,100,000 acre-feet of water was in storage available for pumping in 1955, and that the net decrease in storage from 1938 to 1955 was 330,000 acre-feet. In other words, the net decrease in storage is five percent of the quantity available in 1938. The total pumpage, however, from 1938 to 1955 was considerably more than 330,000 acre-feet. The recharge which took place after the exceptionally heavy precipitation in 1951 added a large quantity of water to the underground reservoir. The 330,000 acre-feet plus the quantity added by recharge has been withdrawn by pumping.

The approximate quantity of underground water in storage, available for pumping, beneath an individual farm may be determined by multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata underlying the farm and then multiplying by the storage coefficient of 15 percent. Suppose the farm consists of 320 acres and has 200 feet of water-bearing strata underlying it, then 320 acres x 200 feet x 0.15 equals 9,600 acre-feet of water available for pumping. An acre-foot of water is the quantity required to cover one acre to a depth of one foot, and it is also equal to 43,560 cubic feet or 325,829 gallons.

An individual may use this information to determine, within reasonable limits, how long the quantity of underground water in storage beneath his farm will last at any annual rate of withdrawal. This assumes of course, that his neighbors pump a comparable amount of water per acre on their farms.

These maps and studies of this type are parts of the regular hydrological work in progress by the staff of the Water District. Similar maps and information will be prepared as rapidly as practicable, for all the counties within the Water District. Maps of Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, Potter, Randall, Armstrong, Floyd and Bailey Counties are now available.

AUSTIN — Drew Pearson is drawing the wrath of Texans. The TV news commentator's financial advice to "Put your trust in U. S. Trust" led many Texans to invest life savings in the U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

So says Garland Smith, chairman of the Texas Insurance Board who along with Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard and Judge Charles O. Betts clamped the padlock on the firm's 14 Texas offices.

"I think Drew Pearson was responsible to a great extent. . . Mr. Pearson sitting in Washington, the Capitol at his back, telling people 'You can put your trust in U. S. Trust.' We've talked to these people. They think the U. S. Government was behind it—that it was safe," said Smith.

According to Judge Betts, the firm's operations appear to have been "born in iniquity and sin and fraud, and would seem to have been conducted that way from the beginning."

A Texas legislator warned Pearson more than six months ago that there were questions about his extravagant claims. Pearson flew to Waco and talked to the head of U. S. Trust. He decided that everything was fine and continued his TV chant "You can put your trust in U. S. Trust."

Now his gesture of hiring a lawyer, to help salvage what is left of the firm's funds, doesn't alter the fact that Texans who took his advice and sank their savings in the firm stand to get back as little as 15 cents out of every dollar invested. Many of the depositors and policy holders are bitterly criticizing Pearson.

Today, something like 128,000 people are feeling the sting of personal losses because of easy faith. Not all of the criticism is directed at Pearson, but he is getting his share of the blame.

Senate Inquiry Starts

Even while court hearings was underway the Senate's investigating committee went to work to gather facts surrounding the failure of U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

Meeting in the Senate's committee room, the investigators named State Auditor C. H. Cavness as its watchdog to make certain that records of the company, and all of its affiliates, are preserved. He also was asked to prepare a summary of expenditures of the company for 1954 and 1955. It was to include legal fees, public relations and advertising expenditures, with names of persons to whom they were paid.

Criticism was directed at the state insurance commissioners by Rene Allred, ousted last year as attorney for the liquidator-receiver of the commission. In a prepared statement he said there was evidence of the company's insolvency as far back as last year.

A second meeting of the Senate committee is scheduled for Jan. 11.

More Insurance Actions

Another insurance company, All American Home Lloyds of Dallas, was put in receivership last week. Hearings were set for Jan. 5 for four others to "show cause" before the insurance commission why their licenses should not be revoked.

All American was shut down after the commission alleged it was

Beauty At Home

Q. What can I do to promote all-over skin smoothness of my body?

A. A bottle of hand lotion is good for use after every bath. Or, use a body lotion made expressly for this purpose. If the roughness of your skin is severe, massage softening cream into the irritated areas at night, leave it on while you sleep, wash off gently in the morning, then apply hand or body lotion before you dress.

Q. How can I remove some milk stains from one of my frocks?

A. Moisten the stain with warm water, apply powdered pepsin and work it into the fabric with a glass rod. Let it remain for a half-hour, or longer, then sponge with water or wash.

Q. Can you suggest an astringent I can use to help absorb dandruff in my scalp, my hair being excessively oily?

A. Witch hazel or commercial antiseptic lotions may be used for this purpose. They are drying, too. Apply, then follow with a scalp massage and shampoo.

Q. What is a good treatment for an oily type of skin?

A. The use of a complexion brush several times a week, while giving the face its soap-and-water cleansings, is very good. This helps awaken those sluggish pores, and should in time counteract that oiliness.

Q. How can I keep my arms and shoulders white-looking?

A. Try rubbing a paste made of a few lumps of laundry starch and cold water on these areas. Let dry and remain for a half-hour, then rinse off with cold water.

Q. My face shows signs of dryness—fine lines appearing around my eyes, mouth and on my forehead. What can I do about this?

A. Buy yourself some lanolin-rich, dry-skin cream, and apply this carefully every night, and leave on at least 20 minutes. Leaving a thin film underneath your makeup foundation is a very good idea, too.

Q. What is the cause of open pores in one's complexion?

A. Usually, poor blood circulation. Use astringent lotions, applying with cotton pads by patting vigorously over face and throat. Rub some ice, wrapped in cotton, over the face as a final, stimulating touch.

Q. Is the application of alcohol good for facial pimples?

A. Yes. It has a tendency to dry up the pimples, and also serves as a disinfectant.

Q. Several persons have told me that face powder has a tendency to clog one's pores and cause blackheads. Is this true?

A. Certainly not. Actually, face powder helps to absorb excess oil secretion and also protects the skin from dirt, dust and weather.

Q. Please suggest some steps I can take to rectify persistent body odor.

A. Cleanliness is the first major step, so don't neglect that daily bath. If you perspire profusely, use one of the non-perspirants—either liquid or cream—every day, twice a day if you find need of it. Even if you don't seem to do much perspiring, play safe by using a cream or talc deodorant. If body odor persists, in spite of all your efforts, you'd better consult your doctor about it.

insolvent to the tune of $235,217. Ordered to show cause were U. S. Life Insurance Co., and Southern Medical and Hospital Services of Waco, both affiliates of U. S. Trust and Dallas Fire and Casualty Co., of Dallas, and American Atlas Life Insurance Co., of Dallas.

Show cause order for the four did not necessarily reflect on their solvency the commission said.

Land Suits Filled

Although paling beside the new excitement of far-flung insurance manipulations, the old veterans' land scandal, was back in the news.

Attorney General Sheppard filed six new suits, seeking recovery of $548,824 paid out by the state to black land operators.

Thirty-six such suits, asking for recoveries of $3,500,000, are pending in court.

lations for the Express Publishing Co. of San Antonio; Bill Allcorn of Brownwood, special prosecutor of veterans land cases for the attorney general's department; Dan Eddy of Dallas, public relations executive for the Salvation Army in Texas; and Jim Lindsey of Texarkana, youngest man ever elected speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

SHORT SNORTS: Paralytic polio this year struck six times more Texas children who were not vaccinated than those vaccinated. . . Texas highway fatalities for 1955 are expected to run four percent above 1954. . . Jan. 16-21 has been designated by Gov. Allan Shivers as Pay Your Poll Tax Week. . . He has proclaimed Jan. 23-29 as Citrus Week. . . Twenty-one tracts of land declared forfeited by the Veterans Land Board are to be put up for sale at the earliest practical date. . . Jack R. Maguire of Austin was named executive secretary of the Texas Ex-Students Association, succeeding John A. McCurdy who resigned several months ago. . . Two Houston families have contributed $55,000 to further improve the state's future $3,000,000 courts building. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clayton gave $50,000 and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McAshan Jr. $5,000.

Big Business Year

Except for falling farm prices, Texas' economy is riding high at the end of 1955, with a bright outlook for 1956. Experts predict a leveling off after the big push upward from 1954, but foresee no sharp jolts.

Evidencing the general prosperity in 1955 were: A new high in crude oil production. An all-time high in non-agricultural employment. A billion-dollar year (forecast) for Texas construction. The booming retail sales, expected to run 10 percent ahead of 1954. New car registrations running almost 50 percent higher than last year. Recovery of the Valley citrus industry from the 1949 and 1951 freezes. Multi-million-dollar contract for a Texas aircraft plant.

In contrast, State Agriculture Commissioner John White warned farmers that the future was very "grim." He advised them to keep production costs to a minimum and avoid further debts.

Five Honored by Jaycees

Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has selected what it considers the five outstanding Texans of 1955.

They are: Dr. William Steuart McBirnie of San Antonio, under whose leadership the Trinity Baptist Church grew in six years from 94 to 2000 members; William B. (Bill) Bellamy, executive administrator of employe and public re-

Probably Greatest Of All High School Coaches Gains Top Honor

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Dec. 31 the ghost of a man who left an indelible imprint on sports in Texas will watch as his name is filed in the Hall Of Fame.

All the disappointments and the heartaches Paul Tyson knew when he was relieved of his coaching job at Waco High School in 1941 will flit away and the kindly man who compiled the most fabulous record in Texas football history can smile again.

Tyson died several years ago. He was coach of Daniel Baker College at the time. Daniel Baker was playing de-emphasized football. It isn't playing it at all to day. The week Tyson passed on his team had one hour of glory—it won a game it wasn't supposed to win in the memory of its coach. Tyson becomes the fourth deceased sports figure to be inducted into the Texas Hall of Fame, a project sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Association. He will join Joe Rountt, Texas A&M football great; Bo McMillin, a famed football player and coach, and Billy Disch, the outstanding college baseball coach of Southwestern annuals.

Two noted living athletes will be enshrined in the hall at the same time the memory of Tyson is honored. They will be Rogers Hornsby the baseball immortal, and Byron Nelson, once king of golf.

Tyson paid the penalty of being before his time. When he coached football at Waco High School he knew more about the game than most of the other coaches combined. He introduced a brand of football that revolutionized the game. He was too successful.

Starting in 1921 when he had a team that not only was undefeated, untied and unscored on but did not allow an opponent within 35 yards of its goal line, Tyson compiled a record of 82 victories, 2 ties and 3 losses over a period of seven years. He won four State Championships, had his team in the finals six times. He would have had it in the finals seven times if his 1921 eleven had been a member of the Texas Interscholastic League. His greatest team was 1927. It won 14 games, scored 782 points and gave up only 33. It was acclaimed national high school champion.

In that 7-year span Tyson's teams went over the 100-point mark eight times.

Its highest score was 138-0. Mexico was the victim, in 1921. It did such things as win a state playoff game by 124 points. That was in 1927 when the mighty Tigers of Tyson lashed Houston Jeff Davis. The only team that year that made a game of it was Abilene. Waco beat Abilene 21-14 for the state championship.

Tyson had a team in the State finals in 1939. He might have won the championship but that was the year when Lubbock's coach Weldon Chapman, died in mid-season and the team made a vow to win the title for him. Nothing could stop that Lubbock team.

Tyson never could match his glorious days of the twenties and in 1941 he was let out as coach at Waco High School. It broke his heart. He had passed up many opportunities to go elsewhere. He had given Waco the greatest story a Texas high school ever attained. But Waco wanted a winner again. To know Paul Tyson was to remember him. He had a magnetic personality—a humbleness that made you feel important in his presence. Tyson always exalted others; he never spoke of his own accomplishments. Quite deserving of a niche in the hall of fame is Paul Tyson. There'll never be another like him.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a blanket like new, after laundering?

A. After laundering, hang it on the clothes line and beat it with a carpet beater. This restores the wool and makes it like new. To prevent the weight of the water from tearing it, always hang the blanket lengthwise.

Q. How can I loosen a door that sticks?

A. Try tightening the screws of the hinges. If the screws are too loose, replace them with the next size larger.

Q. How can I make a varnish remover?

A. Dissolve thoroughly one quart of good caustic soda in three quarts of warm water. Apply it with a coarse sponge.

Q. How can I make the white of an egg beat to the required stiffness?

A. When it does not beat to the required stiffness, add a pinch of baking soda while beating. This also will make it more fluffy, and prevents falling if it must stand awhile after beating.

Q. How can I take disagreeable odors from a room?

A. Hold a few live coals from the furnace on a small shovel, and sprinkle a small quantity of sugar or coffee over the coals.

Q. How can I store lace and prevent it from dry rot?

A. Wrap the lace to be stored in waxed paper and it will not be subject to dry rot.

Q. How can I make a good healing salve?

A. A good healing salve can be made of 80 parts Vaseline jelly, 30 parts white pine tar, 4 parts carbolic acid. Warm the ingredients and mix well.

Q. How can I prevent whipped cream from falling when it is not used immediately?

A. Dissolve a pinch of gelatine in half a teaspoon of water, and then whip into the cream.

Q. How can I renew old and raveled yarn?

A. Wrap it in a towel and place it for a short time in a colander, or a steamer, over a vessel of hot water.

Q. How can I make a solution for darkening the hair?

A. Mix 2 ounces of bay rum, 2 ounces glycerine, 2 ounces alcohol, 10 ounces infusion of black tea. The tea should be mixed, 1 ounce to 12 ounces of boiling water. Let the tea steep for 30 minutes, then cool, before adding the other mixture.

Q. How can I remove a screw that has rusted into the wood?

A. By placing a hot iron on its head. Use the screwdriver while the head is still hot.

The bear was the handiwork of two cub reporters, and its birthplace was the old press room in the Dallas City Hall.
It was a dull summer evening of 1937. Alone in the white tile floored press room, a former basement emergency hospital given over to newspaper reporters, were Dick Worthington of the Dallas Times Herald and a reporter for the now defunct Dallas Dispatch.

Only trivialities cracked over the police radio. All the magazines were read.
The eternal game of watching through the two basement windows grew boring. Anyone descending the stairs was seen thru the first window from his waist down only. The game was to guess his identity before he reached the second window, where his descent brought him into view from the waist up.

The two cub reporters, tall bony youths equally quick of mind and step, talked. Dick had just replaced a reporter ousted because he got into the police property room and drank up all the evidence in a liquor trial. His companion, only 19, was a full-time reporter for the first time.

Their talk got around to a hoax perpetrated many years before by an oldtime reporter who conjured up a loose alligator in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

And all at once, with a swift exchange of glances, it wasn't a dull evening anymore and the two cubs were at their typewriters—creating a bear.

The bear, born full-grown and horrendous, was on page one of Sunday's newspapers.

They were careful that their stories jibed in essential detail: The bear, their stories said, ambled out of the underbrush and scared the daylights out of two small boys fishing in the river which cuts Dallas in two.

"At that time transients and the indigent lived by the hundreds in the river bottoms," Worthington recalls. "They were completely untabulated. We supplied names and addresses for the two boys but no one could have traced them down if they had tried. They were completely unidentifiable."

The next day, jubilantly, they kept the story going with new sightings of the bear — and tracks, this time. Police and volunteers combed the river bottoms and also dogs were brought in to track down the bear.

Talk about loose bears, like talk about flying saucers, really impresses itself on the eyeballs of some people. Real people began

Your Congressman Reports

The visit to Russia of the Honorable Lester Pearson, the Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs, has been mentioned in previous newsletters. It was his official visit to the Soviet that was the occasion for a state reception to be given in his honor. When it was learned that he would be in Moscow about the same time, invitations were extended to us. These invitations were in Russian and had to be delivered to each of us by a person who could read Russian, because none of us could have recognized our own names. The reception took place in a very large and ornate house maintained by the Russian Government for that purpose. It was luxuriously furnished and immaculately kept. When we entered we ascended a flight of stairs into a large hallway and were then ushered into a medium-sized room. In the center of this room stood Mr. Molotov, the Russian Foreign Minister. He greeted each of us with a smile and a word of welcome. There was no other receiving line. After shaking hands with Mr. Molotov, we were escorted into a large reception hall which was occupied by a great number of people talking every conceivable language. They were representatives of other countries. We were the only Americans present and very few people in the room could speak English. We were able to converse with a few from some of the embassies. We attempted to talk to several Russians through interpreters. Some were very friendly and wanted to talk while others were very cool and obviously did not want to converse. Soon Mr. Malenkov and several members of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet came into the reception hall through another door. Mr. Malenkov and three others conversed at length with several of us through an interpreter. The interpreter was a young man of about 30 who spoke excellent English and did a splendid job of interpreting. Most of the conversation was with Mr. Malenkov. It was suggested that he visit Texas, and he replied that he thought there would be time for that and would like to make such a visit. I did not catch the names of the other members who were with him and could not pronounce them if I had. I did know that Mr. Bulgainin, Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Mikoyan were not present at the reception. So I am sure it was none of them. The members present were very gracious to us and made several references to hopes that the relationships between our two countries would be much better in the future.

The signal was given that the food was ready and that the guests were to partake of it. As it turned out there were several dining rooms in which there were a number of tables laden with all kinds of food and drink. Our party was supposed to go into the dining room where the members of the Presidium were to eat. But, several of us got sidetracked and into another dining room where we saw firsthand evidence to confirm our conclusions that the Russians were great eaters. The tables were so arranged as to indicate that the service was to be buffet style. However, it was a case of first come, first served. Those who got to the table first firmly implanted their feet in place and proceeded to enjoy everything in reach. I stood by one man for about 10 minutes waiting for him to move and then decided I had better try another table. I did get a bite of a few things that were very tasty, and then was told that I was supposed to be in another dining room. I went to the other dining room where all of the high officials of the Russian Government and official representatives of other countries were gathered. As I started to enter the doorway, two fellows about five by five who were standing on each side of the door closed in to prevent my entering. Remembering some of my old football footwork, I side-stepped them and was inside before they knew which way I had gone. They made seeing the bear and phoning the newspaper and police. Real people saw bear tracks.

"We'd better kill off that bear," Dick muttered to his friend.
How were they going to let go of the tail of their bear?
Left alone, the bear story would have died a natural death soon enough. But our young reporters, having presided at the bear's birth thought they knew best how to kill it. They conjured up another animal.
Both sat down and wrote stories saying a river bottom inhabitant had come face to face with a truly giant St. Bernard dog, which ran frightened into the underbrush. The bear, they implied broadly, was really just a dog and should be forgotten.
City Editor Lillard Barham of the Dallas Times Herald exploded at young Worthington: "What are you trying to do? Forget that dog. Get a picture of that bear!"
Barham, who has since died without knowing it wasn't a real bear, was too convinced.
Worthington, now a substantial Dallas citizen and editor of the Dallas County Home Builder, says "We then quit trying to kill the bear, and it died by itself."
His companion, long out of the newspaper business and now vice president of a Dallas firm, doesn't want to be identified. He's had enough of bears.

no effort to eject me but did get the gap closed so that another member of our party was not able to get in. He called to me over their heads and asked how I had gotten in. Seeing his plight, I went back over to the door and said to the two guards, "Let him in. He's all right." Whereupon the two guards parted and let the other member in, much to my surprise.

THE KREMLIN
The Kremlin is a walled area consisting of 75 acres. Its construction began in the 14th Century. The walls are flanked by green roofed watch towers, no two of which are alike. There are five roseate brick gate towers, each surmounted by spires of various designs. It is in the shape of an irregular triangle and enclosed within its walls are 4 large open squares, 3 cathedrals, 7 churches, a convent, a monastery, 3 palaces, Senate House, Synodal buildings, the Tower of Ivan the Great and the arsenal. It might be interesting to point out that none of the religious buildings are presently being used for that purpose. Work is going on inside several of them and they are to be used as museums. We were in several of these buildings and visited the main palace that was used by the Czars. It was very interesting to note the living quarters. These have been restored by the present regime and are being displayed as museum items. One particular hall was similar to a large, modern day play room. We were told that this was where the men met to discuss affairs of state. We noticed a little square hole about two feet by two feet next to the ceiling on one of the walls. We asked about it and were told that this was where the women stayed while the men conducted the affairs of state. They were not allowed in the room but could stick their heads through this hole and watch what was going on. I could not find out how the women of that day felt about this, but I am sure that it would not meet with the approval of the present day ladies.
