Zoning Changes Approved; Subdivision Plats Considered

Expansion of Hereford and requests for zoning changes filled the agenda of the regular City Commission meeting held Monday. Four zoning requests, an annexation ordinance, and plats of three new additions were considered.

In considering the four zoning change requests, commissioners upheld decisions of Hereford Zoning Commission granting all requested changes.

The annexation ordinance was approved as well as one of the plats. Decision on two others was tabled with decisions to be made following minor revisions.

Requesting a change from "D" restricted to "D" business was J. W. Witherspoon. The property is a portion of block 1, Whitehead Division.

Property belonging to Roy Phillips on North 25 Mile Ave. was also changed from "D" restricted designation to "D" business.

James H. Bradley asked that two changes be made in zoning on his property. The first was that Sowell and Southlake additions be rezoned "B" residential.

Both subdivisions were recently annexed by the city and brought in with an "A" residential designation. The change was requested in order that the two areas correspond with surrounding residential property.

The second piece of property, located at Ave. I and Park Ave. was changed from a "D" restricted zone to a "D" business designation.

Bradley also petitioned the Commission requesting that his subdivision north of 15th Street and along Ave. K be annexed by the city. Annexation was approved.

The three plats considered by the commissioners were Colonia de Buena Vista and Westhaven Addition, blocks five and six, being developed by N. D. Bartlett, and Thunderbird Addition being developed by Roy Cline.

Approval of Colonia de Buena Vista and Westhaven additions was tabled pending minor revisions. Plat of Thunderbird addition was approved.

In other business, the Commission approved a requested hike in taxi fares within the city. Request for the fare increase was made by John Moody, owner of the firm.

Rates for in town calls will be increased 25 cents with out-of-city fares being increased to 40 cents per mile.

Two residents from Block 42, Evans Addition, appeared seeking information on the annexation of the area.

It was explained that the Commission made the decision to annex the area since it was completely surrounded by the city.

Jim McAndrews also appeared requesting the lease of four to five acres of land adjoining Hereford Feed Lots. The request was tabled.

Lions Sponsor Wrestling Event On Friday Night

Wrestling, sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club will resume on Friday Aug. 9, at 8:30 p.m. This project of the Lions Club was discontinued two years ago because of a drop in attendance.

According to a club spokesman, tickets for the events are $1.00 general admission and $1.50 for ringside.

A special fund for profits has not been established yet but will be used in Hereford.

The main event this week will feature Rickey Romero vs. Tokyo Tom. The next event will be Dory Funk Jr. against Romonoff, and final event will be Jesika Roger against Jean Antone.

Wrestling will be held in the Hereford Bull Barn for the next five Friday nights as a test.

Special Meeting On Milo Midge Slated Friday

A special meeting to discuss the grain sorghum midge has been set. The meeting is to be held at Hereford Community Center on Friday and will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Slides showing how the midge works in destroying grain sorghum heads will be shown by Don Russell, Lubbock, area extension entomologist.

Delbert Langford, agronomist for High Plains Research Foundation, will also report on two years of research work with the midge problem at the foundation.

The special educational meeting is being sponsored by the Extension Service and is aimed at giving grain producers needed information concerning what to look for, where to check, and what control procedures to use, according to Lefty Thomas, county agent.

According to information released through the Extension Service Experiment Station in Lubbock and High Plains Experiment Station, the possibility of midge infestation exists for late planted grain sorghum.

Even though some reports indicate the presence of midge in counties to the south of Deaf Smith County, the insects have not been reported in the county.

Thomas reported that no midge has been found here. He also stated that no outbreak of any significance has been reported on the South Plains according to the experiment station.

All grain producers in the county are being urged to attend this meeting, concluded Thomas.

TWO PERSONS WERE SLIGHTLY injured as two automobiles banged together at the intersection of Park Avenue and Avenue B about 8:45 a.m. Monday. Receiving injuries was the driver of the 1955 model sedan (left) Liza Munoz Ybarra, 19, and Charles Edward Kelley, 19, of Hereford, a passenger in the second vehicle. Damages to both vehicles were heavy and were $300 to the vehicle at the left, and $400 to the second vehicle involved. It was driven by Tommy Dwain West, 20, 304 N. 25 Mile Avenue. (Staff Photo)

Minor Injuries Result In Wreck; Damages Heavy

Two persons were only slightly injured in an early morning wreck here Monday at the intersection of Park Ave. and Avenue B. Damage to the two vehicles involved was, however, heavy.

Receiving minor injuries in the wreck were Liza Munoz Ybarra, 19, 313 Grand, a driver of one of the vehicles involved, and Charles Edward Kelley, 19, a passenger in the second automobile.

Both were taken home by a Hereford Police Department patrol car.

According to the accident report, a 1958 model four-door sedan driven by Tommy Dwain West, 20, 304 N. 25 Mile Ave., was headed west on Park Ave. about 8:45 a.m.

A 1955 model two-door sedan, driven by Mrs. Munoz, was headed south on Avenue B, and failed to stop at the stop sign, according to investigating officers.

The automobile ran into the path of the West vehicle. Damage was heavy to the front ends of both automobiles.

Damages to the West vehicle were estimated at $400 with an estimated $300 in damages to the Ybarra vehicle.

Both automobiles were equipped with seat belts but were not being used at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Munoz was ticketed for negligent collision by failing to stop at a stop sign and defective brakes.

Amarillo Man Held For Theft; $1,000 Bond Set

An Amarillo man is being held in Deaf Smith County Jail on a Grand Jury indictment alleging felony theft by baillee. Bond was set by grand jurors at $1,000.

Charged with the offense is Jeff Minton, 23, 1205 West 20th. He was arrested in San Aguiline, Tex., on Saturday by Hereford Police Department for Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office.

As the man was being held, a misdemeanor charge of swindling with a worthless check charge was filed on him by the Sheriff's Office.

Whiteface Lighters. These are maroon and white with a picture of a whiteface on the side. They may be purchased from any member of the club.

The first meeting is tentatively set for Monday, Aug. 26. In this meeting we will discuss plans for the coming year and hear reports on the football team," said Earl Stagner, Booster Club president.

The main activity of the Booster Club is to help the teams by giving them full support. This comes in the form of attendance as well as money.

With the proceeds of the lighter sales and annual program sales at all home football games, the club does such things as furnish chartered buses for all out of town games and feeds all the boys involved in the Hereford High School athletic program at least once.

"Many people feel that the Booster Club is only for the football team," continued Stagner, "but I would like to make it very clear that our club supports all phases of athletics including football, basketball, track and baseball."

Last year the Booster Club presented Hereford High with a victory bell which can be towed to games and it is rung each time Hereford scores. The club also constructed dugouts in the Hereford High School Baseball Field last year.

Anyone interested in sports at Hereford High is urged to join the club. It meets every Monday night at the Hereford Community Center at 8 p.m. during the school year.

The Club also forms a victory line on the field before football games. It is not allowed in conference games this year but the Boosters will form the line before all non-conference football games.

Band Practice Session Began Here Tuesday

Practice sessions for Hereford High School's Big Domino Band got underway here Tuesday as the 130-member band began preparing for the football season.

Practice sessions are scheduled for every Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. until the third week in August, according to Ben Gollehon, band director.

Band practice will then be held every night until the first game of the football season with Tulsa scheduled for Sept. 6, he commented.

The Big Domino Band will boast 130-members this year. Ninth graders will be marching with the band.

Bowling Association Sets League Competition Play

Bowlers in the Hereford area are urged to organize a team and find a sponsor before the next bowling meeting which is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 19, at 8 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center.

Officials are hoping for three or four leagues with 16 teams each for winter league competition. Although there can be more than four members to each team, they feel that there will be a better turnout if teams are smaller.

There are no qualifications for being a member of one of the leagues. Anyone who is interested may enter by calling Sunset Lanes at EM4-1560.

First meeting of Hereford Bowling Association was held at the Community Center on Monday, Aug. 4. At this meeting, plans were discussed for the coming year and officers for the 1963-64 year were elected.

They are the Rev. Fred Beversdorf, president; Al Bagwell, vice-president; L. J. Clark, secretary; Bill McDowell, director; Don Steele, director and Henry Dobbs, director.

At the present time, league competition is set to start on Monday, Sept. 2. The nights now designated as league nights are Tuesday, two leagues; Wednesday, and a ladies league bowling on Thursday night.

According to the Rev. Fred Beversdorf, president, the scoring system and the number of teams will be decided at the next meeting.

Last year for the first time, teams were scored on the Peters Point System, but there is much talk of changing back to the old system of total games, he commented.

The Rev. Beversdorf also said that the association, which is affiliated with the American Bowling Congress is interested in forming a mixed league, composed of both men and women and also a church league.

Anyone interested in either of these leagues is urged to contact either him or Sunset Lanes.

More sponsors are needed this year. Any business or organization which is interested in sponsoring a team is asked to be at the meeting on Aug. 19.

Dawn 4-H Boys Make Field Trip

On Monday, Aug. 5, the members of the Dawn Boys' 4-H Club visited the Hereford Bakery, Caviness Packing Plant and the Hereford Tortilla Factory. This field trip continued their agri-business program for the club year.

At the bakery the boys saw doughnuts fried, glazed, and packaged and bread removed from the oven and packaged. They were treated to doughnuts and cokes by the club leaders.

After breakfasting at the Western Wheel Inn, the group went to Caviness Packing Plant, where they followed the procedures of the plant from pens to freezer room. They observed various steps in butchering, boning, and inspection processes.

At the Hereford Tortilla Factory, which is owned and managed by C. Ramirez and sons, the boys observed the preparation of tortilla dough, cutting, baking, cooling, and packaging. They also learned about the breads and desserts which are made by the bakery division of the factory.

Participating in the tour were Jon David and Dion Miller, Robert Galley, Tommy Betzen, Ted and Robert Richardson, Stephen Hoffman, Kevin, Steve, and Neil McAndrews, Gerald Witkowski, Jack Thomas, Paul English, J. W. Thomas, Mrs. H. H. Miller, Mrs. Earl Pugh, Mrs. Lester English, Mrs. Tony Hoffman, and Stephen Driess.

Around Town

With football practice about to begin, the Booster Club already in action, and band practice beginning, all of us find that school is just around the corner. It hardly seems possible that the summer has passed so quickly and that the first football game of the fall season is almost a month away.

It is also hard to realize that the vegetable harvest season is also drawing to a close. For some crops, yields and income have been disappointing to area farmers, but with lettuce and grain sorghum harvests yet to come, things may be somewhat brighter.

Among the things that also fall into the "I hadn't realized" classification is that rapid expansion of Hereford. Particularly in the northwest section, one house after another is going up. And in other sections of the city, there is very little rent property available.

Another one of those small facts that all are aware of, but never fully realize is the increased use of water this summer. (Continued on page 2)

Peak Water Use Tops 100 Million Gallons In July

Peak water use for July topped a previous high total as residents were reported to have used approximately 123 million gallons. The former high peak was 96 million gallons.

According to Dudley Bayne, city manager, the increased use of water in the city is a direct result of the rapid and continued expansion of the city.

At present, City Water Department facilities are adequate to handle the increased demand.

SIX CAMPFIRE GIRLS look over the route to be taken on a 10-day trip to the West Coast and Disneyland. Even though all of the girls were eligible to make the trip, two were unable to go with the group. Looking over the route to be taken are Mrs. W. D. Gibson, Horizon Club leader, Mary Lynn Gibson, Ila Brinkman, Mona Gail Gibson, Kay Dirks, Mrs. Lawrence Dicks, assistant leader, Sherian Seiver, and Joellen Hamilton. The group has been working for four or five years on projects to pay for the trip. Unable to go were Ila Brinkman and Joellen Hamilton. (Staff Photo)

TO DISNEYLAND Long Time, Work Results In Trip

Three Hereford Campfire girls realized the results of "four or five" years work this week—a trip to Disneyland.

The girls, Kay Dirks, Mary Lynn Gibson, and Sherian Seiver, left early Monday on a 10-day trip that will take them through Tucson, Ariz., to San Diego and on to Los Angeles.

Also going on the trip is Mona Gail Gibson. Even though not a member of Campfire when the project started, she helped with the work required to earn money for the tour.

Accompanying the four are Mrs. W. D. Gibson, the Horizon Club leader, and Mrs. Lawrence Dicks, her assistant.

Two other girls, also members of the Horizon Club, were eligible to make the trip, but were unable to go. They are Joellen Hamilton and Ila Brinkman. Upon reaching Los Angeles, the girls will then tour Disneyland—a goal they have worked toward for almost five years.

On the return trip, the girls will travel a different route stopping to view the Grand Canyon.

Money for the trip to the West Coast and back—a total of $718—was earned by the girls beginning when they started Campfire work.

It was earned, according to Mrs. Gibson, by selling candy, in rummage sales and saving "Taylor tabs."

She pointed out that of the original group, only five members were left as they advanced this far in Campfire work.

"I feel that they have accomplished something because it has required a long time and a lot of work," Mrs. Gibson commented.

mer. The former high peak for a summer month was 86 million gallons. But, this summer in July, Hereford used a record total of 123 million gallons. And, that is a lot of water.

Fortunately, Hereford has not faced the problems concerning water that other Panhandle cities have faced during this long, hot summer. There has been no need for water rationing by residents. However, there has been some sand coming out of taps.

Deaf Smith County grain sorghum producers are being urged to attend an important meeting on the sorghum midge. Now this isn't intended to scare anyone and there is, according to Lefty Thomas, no infestation in the county. ## URGES CONSERVATION

Water District Manager Calls Waste 'Bad Habit'

Did you know that in the High Plains region of Texas underground water is a depletable resource?

Nearly every adult who is capable of reading and who has lived in this area for any appreciable length of time knows that, for practical purposes, when underground water is pumped from the reservoir it is "mined" in much the same manner as coal, gold, or oil is mined from its subterranean hiding place. Nature does not replace the water nearly so rapidly as it is pumped.

Knowing full well that these are the facts concerning the underground water supply, some irrigators still do not recognize a need for personal responsibility in the field of water conservation.

Tom McFarland, manager of the water district, was asked, "Why do some irrigators allow water to run off their cropland into the road bar-ditches and dry lake beds?"

He answered: "In working with problems of waste, we're attempting to change a habit—we think a very bad habit—that has been formed during years of irrigating and allowing water to escape the land. In many cases the fellow has been doing it that way so long that it's become second-nature to him. He may not even realize that he is actually wasting water. He may feel that losing water is just part of irrigating."

"Of course, this is where our job enters the picture in convincing him that the water he wastes is water that brings absolutely no benefits to anyone and actually costs him money to pump."

McFarland was then asked about the power that the Water District has to enforce their rules against waste.

He said, "Under the provisions of the law, we have the right to initiate legal proceedings against those who waste water. If we can prove to the court that waste is occurring, then an order will be issued by the court ordering that it be stopped."

"Of course, this process is not only expensive but it is also unpleasant. As a result, before we resort to legal action we attempt to convince the irrigator that too much is at stake for him to continue the practice of wasting water."

"We talk to him about declining water levels, about the economics involved in continued waste, and about the moral and political aspects concerned."

"Most people don't want to waste water for the pure pleasure of wasting it. They simply are taking the path of least resistance."

McFarland then commented on progress that the Water District is making toward cutting waste.

"Definite progress is being made," he said. "At least a third of our staff is devoting practically full time to waste problems. When a waste situation is called to our attention, we visit the location and talk to the one who has the problem. Many times we can tell him about a similar problem that another irrigator has been confronted with and show him the steps that were taken in solving that problem. In most instances this is all that we have to do. With less conscientious farmers, it won't work so well."

"Of course, all this consumes time, and with a limited staff we cannot stop all the waste over night. However, progress is being made. Year by year the waste is less prevalent than it was the year before."

"With the continued cooperation of irrigators throughout the Water District, we will be able to continue progress toward the day when all water pumped from the underground reservoir is utilized in some beneficial endeavor."

Deedee's Doodlings

By DEEDIE THOMAS

The summer is fast drawing to a close, kids; let's swim, dance and be merry while we may, because come Thursday, Aug. 29, everything, and I do mean everything, comes to a screeching halt. A word to the new high school students who may not be familiar with registering procedure, be thinking about your studies and schedule very seriously.

Back to the merry makers, Peggie Cox visited in El Paso from Monday, July 22, to Wednesday, July 31, with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Williams. They did stroll across the border for a closer peak at the city of Juarez, Mex.

Jerry Bos and Larry Noland have been bidding their time between here and their ranch in New Mexico this summer. Larry spent Monday and Tuesday, July 29 and 30, at Lake Conchas with the Intermediate Boys and Young Married Men of the Summerfield Baptist Church. He went from there to the ranch. The pair returned home on Thursday, Aug. 1.

Judy Wiman has been south to Alpine to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport. She stayed from Saturday, July 27 to Friday, Aug. 2. While down that direction she visited friends in Ft. Stockton.

The Junior Red Cross girls made one of their many visits to the Amarillo Air Force Base on Tuesday, July 30, to serve refreshments and play bingo with the retrainees. Those accompanying Mrs. Guyrene Carter were Kathleen Kuper, Dendra Thomas, Sandra Green, Linda Loerwald and Shara Prowell. This group always has a lot of fun besides being of service to someone else.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Todd were sponsors for the group making the Student Council Workshop in Houston, July 27 through Aug. 4. Those attending were Beth Ballard, Ronnie Duncan and Wynn Buck (who I had mentioned in a previous column) with Ann Brady and John Fowlkes. They had time for some sightseeing like the San Jacinto Monument and other historical landmarks besides attending the Leadership Training Classes.

John Buck, Butch, and little brother, Jerry, and Mrs. Casilla, have returned home from their stay in Hawaii. Sounds like they lived the life of Riley... Jerry Don flew over to spend a day or so with the boys and join them on their return flight home. Did you ever see such beautiful lets that were worn on Saturday night?

Dwight McGee and Charles Kelley have joined the hometown clan after a summer session at Abilene Christian College.

Charles Mims arrived home on Monday, Aug. 5, after an extensive tour of Europe. However, I understand that Charles missed his plane out of New York, arrived several hours behind schedule in Dallas and arrived some hours later in Amarillo. We're all glad you're home and are very eager to hear of all your exploits.

The dance held at the Community Center was a lot of fun and very profitable for some of the lucky handshakers like Dick Combs, Janice Hagan, John Buck, John Kriegerhamer and Mike Paschel. These all received silver dollars.

Martha Russell left last week for Miami, Fla., for an interview for an airline hostess. Good Luck to you.

Here's all the wishing and all the good luck charms we can gather for Sharon Tinnin for the Miss Wheatheart contest to be held in Perryton, and to Joyce West who will compete in the Miss Grain Sorghum beauty contest in Dimmitt in the near future. This way Hereford gets twice as much beauty spread over these Golden Spread Acres.

The Rainbow Girls had a hamburger fry on Thursday night, July 25, in the backyard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Roach. Patti was hostess. Charades were played and films of the Grand Assembly which was held in Houston in June were shown. Those having an evening full of food and fun were: Ann Mercer, Jo Frances Davenport, Sharon Worthan, Judy Summers, Penny Jones, Judy Wiltshire, Linda Price, Sylvia Phipps, Janice Smith, La-

Reese Ashew, Nancy Boyer, Barbara Brownlow, Donita Allred, and sponsors Mrs. Larry Summers, Mrs. D. R. Holt, Mrs. M. L. Cline, and the host family.

Ruth Ann and Jimmy Allison and Gary Story spent from Sunday, July 28, until Sunday, Aug. 4, in Center, Colo., just east of Marsha Robinson left on Friday, Aug. 2, to spend several days with her cousin, Janice Smith, in Panhandle. Marsha is trying to get her visiting done before music camp comes along.

Between Campfire camps, band camps, church camps, 4-H roundups, and camps, our youth have been on the move for the whole summer. The First Christian Youth returned home on Saturday afternoon from their trip to Ft. Worth. This was a state wide convention held on the TCU campus. Those attending were David Block, Joanne Carlson, Fanella and Arvelle Williams and Jimmy Brink.

Lou Ann Witkowski has her finger in just about every 4-H pie you would like to make. First the Bake Show winner, Dress Review winner, then a Dress Review winner in Amarillo which entitles her to go to Dallas in October. Now she's gone to 4-H Electric Camp held in Cloudercroft, N. M.

That is beautiful country to be going for any kind of camp. Other 4-H club members attending the camp are Joann Marnell, Jack Thomas, Maure McAndrews, Jon David Miller, Robert Galley and Dick Finak.

Den Thomas' friend, Jimmy Jefferies of Amarillo, just pops in and out of the Thomas house. Those two met early in the spring at one of the season's first rodeos. Recently Dan drove to Amarillo on Sunday to go swimming with Jimmy and found the family waiting for him to arrive so they could check into a motel for the afternoon. Seems as though the air conditioning had broken down. They spent the afternoon swimming at the Trade Winds Motel.

The latest car purchase in town seems to belong to Nelly Leub, a red '63 Impala with a cream top? What's the matter you 'frid, we'll get all those red cars mixed up once school commences? Gaylon Ward had a new brown Pontiac at the beginning of summer, sorry I just got around to mentioning this.

Robison Receives Master's Degree At Nebraska U.

Norman G. Robison received his master of science degree from the University of Nebraska recently. The university conferred 224 advanced degrees at its summer commencement exercises on Friday, Aug. 2. Chancellor C. M. Hardin presided at the ceremonies and the Rev. Alvin J. Norden, pastor of the University Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, was chaplain. Robison, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Robinson, of Route 5, Hereford, will continue his studies at the University of Nebraska and work on his Doctor's degree.

GRASS IMPROVEMENT RESULTING FROM GRAZING USE AND LIVESTOCK NUMBERS

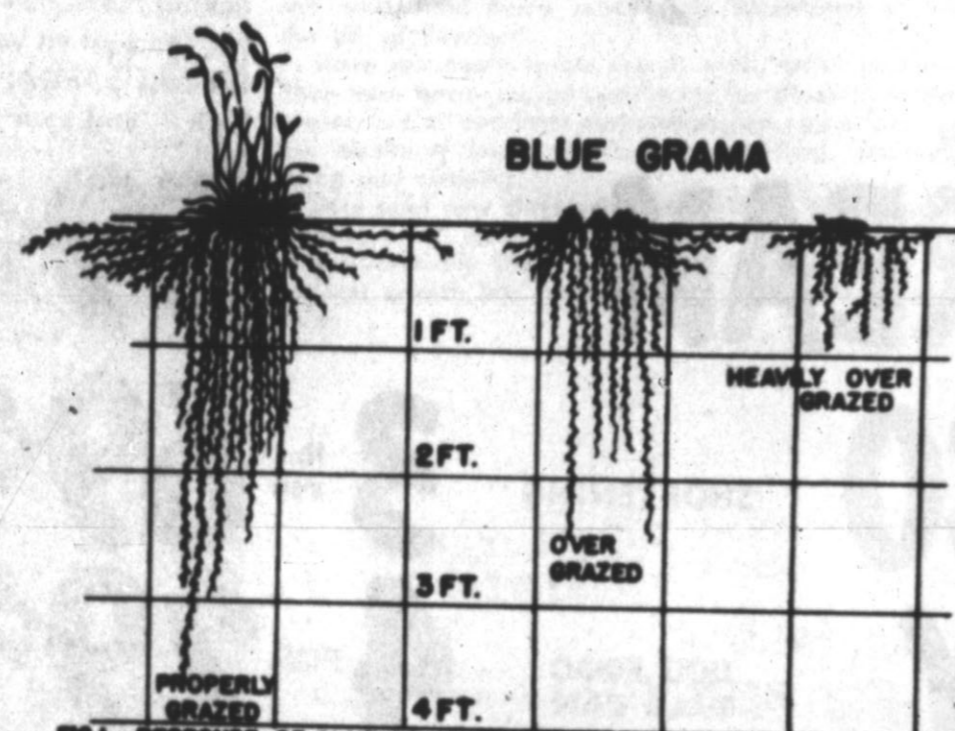

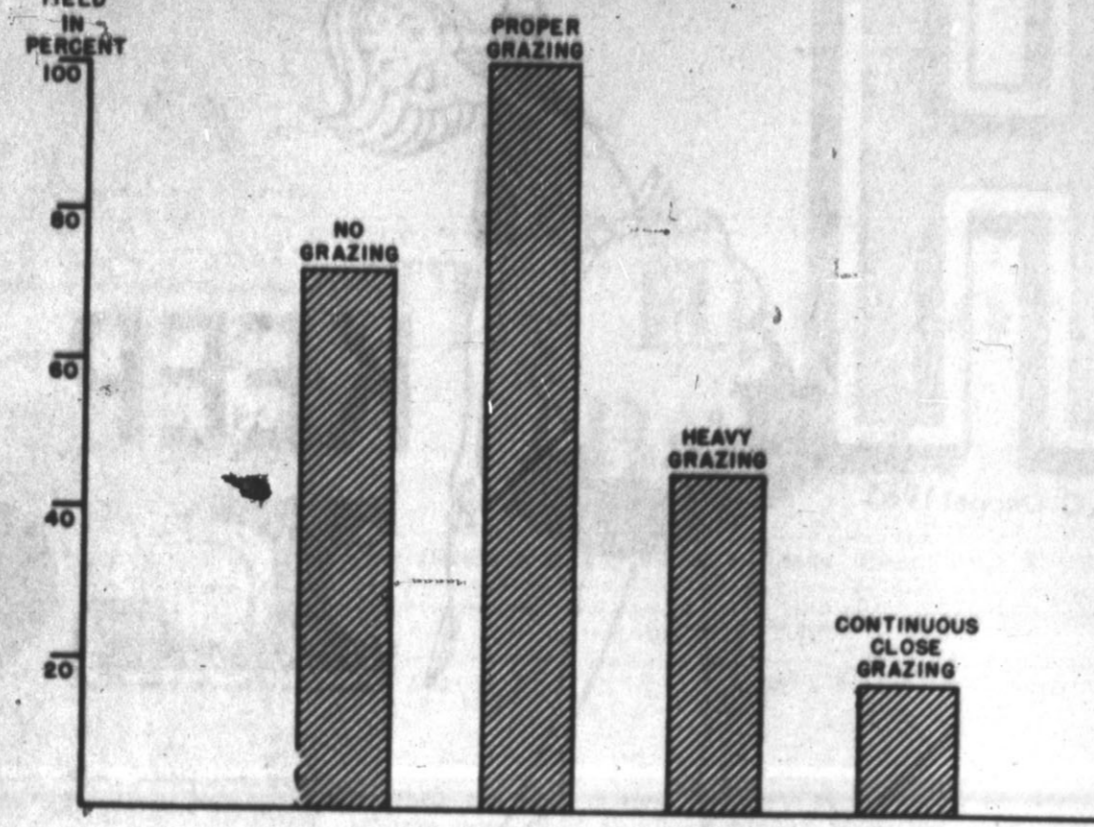

FIG. 1 - RESPONSE OF BLUE GRAMA TO DIFFERENT DEGREES OF GRAZING.

RESULTS OF PROPER grazing techniques on rangeland can be seen in these studies by the Soil Conservation Service. Due to limited moisture in the county during the past growing season, proper grazing practices are being recommended. These include dividing large pastures into smaller areas, planned alternate grazing, and control of undesirable plants. (Soil Conservation Service)

Some Pastures Over Used; Good Management Outlined

A large portion of rangeland in Deaf Smith County is being over used due to the insufficient amounts of moisture that have fallen this year, according to Soil Conservation Service technicians. It is very doubtful, they commented, if some grass on over used pastures will make a mature seed head even if sufficient moisture falls during the remainder of the growing. They pointed out that since plant food is manufactured in leaves, stocking rates must be adjusted in accordance with the current year's growth. At least half of the leaf growth produced each year, the Conservation Service stated, must be left in order that vigorous plants may be produced. This type of plant will sometimes produce more forage in a dry year than a non-vigorous plant will produce during a normal year. Since grass is the foundation of the livestock industry in this part of the country, improper use of rangeland gives decreased quantity and quality of rangeland resulting in poor quality beef, a lower per cent calf crop, and a considerably lower income, it was pointed out. Among the management practices recommended to help obtain proper range use is to distribute grazing uniformly. This may be done by dividing large pastures, using adequate water supplies and providing salt between watering places. By dividing a large pasture into three or even four smaller ones, grass is given an occasional rest. Division is made according to the available water supplies. It is recommended that pasture use be planned in order to rest alternate pastures as often as practical during the entire growing season or at least until seed maturity. A pasture will not be benefited as a whole if each of the smaller areas are over used, the conservation service pointed out. Feed reserves should also be maintained for periods of snow and drought as an emergency measure. On ranches having irrigated pasture, use of such areas is recommended to supplement native grassland. Another good management practice recommended is to reduce competition between grass and undesirable plants by either chemical or mechanical means. This encourages the growth of grasses by making light, moisture and plant food more readily available. Drought years and past over use years have left many acres of rangeland badly depleted of desirable grasses, it was pointed out. In most cases, reseeding these areas may be economically feasible. In addition land that produces small crop yields may produce better returns when seeded to native grass for livestock.

With the arrival of August, those of us who have not been vacationing will be trying to get in a few days of rest and relaxation before the school bells ring again. . . . and that's not very far away. Enrollment will begin on the 29th of this month with classes starting on Tuesday, Sept. 3. And for those folks who teach in our public school system, the time is even shorter than that for the first "workshop" of the year will be held on Monday, Aug. 26 preparatory to the beginning of the school year. Of course, it's going to be hard to start getting up at 6:30 in the morning to get the children ready for 8 o'clock classes, but there is one redeeming factor.

desk. But it could be worse.

they could be setting back scratchers or something like that. We understand that the Joel Hodges family is now vacationing on the Gulf Coast. They took a trip to the Houston-Galveston area, and plan to take in the San Jacinto monument while there. They will return via San Antonio and the Alamo. Crops throughout the area are generally looking good. We drove down to Hale Center Monday for a little outing and observed some very fine fields of grain sorghum and cotton. They have had quite a bit of hail south of here, but things look pretty good in spite of it. Grain sorghum in and around Deaf Smith County is probably the finest we have had in years. At least, we hope it turns out that way when it comes time to harvest. Farmers generally are predicting good yields throughout.

Undoubtedly, this has been one of the most miserable summers that we have ever spent on the High Plains of Texas, due we suppose, to the extremely high humidity encountered this year. But, as always, we may look forward to better conditions next summer.

New businesses in town include Bob Huddleston's Hereford Office Supply located at 103 Avenue E and the Westfield Van & Storage Company with offices just south of the First Methodist Church. Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Melugin.

The Hereford Brand

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thurs., Aug. 8, 1963

SECTION TWO

While the area around Hereford produces an abundance of farm crops and excellent grazing land, the same water, soil, work, and desire produce an abundance of beauty in the city of Hereford.

There are many lovely scenes and fruitful gardens here. They have been created usually for the pleasure of the homeowner, but all residents and visitors can appreciate and enjoy the results of hours of planning, weeding, watering, fertilizing and spraying.

Very soon now chrysanthemums will be blooming and soon afterward will come the first frost. While the growing season is comparatively short in this area, the conditions necessary for fast growth and heavy blooms are a blessing all can enjoy.

DISPLAYING SEVERAL VARIETIES of her pickles is Mrs. C. Palmer Norton, 516 Avenue I. She finds that the very larger cucumbers, so often considered undesirable for pickles are excellent for her lime pickle recipe. Very colorful, they are especially attractive for the Christmas holidays. For very crisp pickles, Mrs. Norton recommends boiled water, pure cider vinegar, and pure canning salt. (Staff Photo)

Let's Cook Something

Successful Pickling Requires Some Very Special Precautions

By DALE STEVENS
Brand Society Editor

In this era of an ever-increasing number of excellent instant foods and mixes, Mrs. Norton and many other mothers of growing daughters are concerned about the disappearance of the art of cooking. Mrs. Norton wants her daughter, Neida, 10, to know how to "start from scratch" and make cakes, breads, and other dishes.

The Nortons, who live at 516 Avenue J, also have a son, David, 12. Norton farms and raises registered Hereford cattle. He also owns an interest in the Community Grain Elevator at Easter.

Mrs. Norton enjoys making pickles and has experimented with various recipes. The secret of making crisp pickles in this area, she has found, is to boil all water before using it, to use pure canning salt, and to use pure cider vinegar rather than distilled vinegar.

For the lime pickle recipe, she recommends using the extra large cucumbers so often considered undesirable for pickling. These can be peeled, seeded, and cut into strips of the desired length. With the addition of green cake coloring, these pickles are ideal for serving during the Christmas holidays or for giving as Christmas presents.

The recipe for pickled green tomatoes is basically a German recipe. When Mr. and Mrs. Norton were living close to Umbarger, a German neighbor told Mrs. Norton to wait until just before the first frost, pick green tomatoes between the size of a quarter and a half dollar, and pickle them in open crocks. Since the odor is somewhat unpleasant, it is best to store them during the process time somewhere other than in the house.

DILLED GREEN TOMATOES
40-50 medium-sized or large green tomatoes
1/2 cup whole mixed pickle spices

Fresh or dried dill
1 pint vinegar
1 1/2 cups salt
2 gallons water

Wash and drain tomatoes. Place half of the pickle spices and a layer of dill in a 5-gallon crock or stone jar. Fill the crock with tomatoes to within 4 or 5 inches of the top. Mix well the vinegar, salt, and water and pour over the tomatoes. Place a layer of dill and remaining pickle spices over the top.

Cover with a heavy plate and weight it to hold the tomatoes under the brine. Use only enough brine to cover the plate, for as the liquid is drawn from the tomatoes the crock may overflow.

Keep pickles at room temperature, about 70 degrees F., and each day remove scum that forms over the top. Let pickles ferment until well-flavored with dill and clear throughout, with no white spots when cut. In about 2-3 weeks the pickles are ready to use.

To store. Pack the cured pickles in hot, sterile quart glass jars. Strain the pickle brine, bring to boil, and pour over pickles to top of jar. If desired, add 1/4 cup vinegar to each quart. Seal tightly.

With garlic. Add 1/2 pound garlic to above recipe. To prepare garlic break the clusters open and separate the cloves. Remove the thin, brown skin from each garlic clove. Add a few cloves with the first layer of dill and pickle spices. Fill the crock with alternate layers of tomatoes and garlic cloves to within 4-5 inches of the top. Continue as in above recipe.

CORN RELISH

(This relish is very much like that served by Walter Jetton at the Chamber of Commerce banquets.)

2 quarts corn (12 to 15 ears)
1 pint diced sweet red pepper
1 pint diced green pepper
1 quart chopped celery
1 cup sliced onion
1 cup sugar
1 quart vinegar
2 T. salt
2 T. celery seed
2 T. dry mustard
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup water

To prepare corn, remove husks and silks; place in boiling water. Simmer for 10 minutes. Remove and plunge in cold water. Drain; cut corn from cob. Do not scrape the cobs. Measure out 2 quarts.

Combine sweet red pepper, green pepper, celery, onion, sugar, vinegar, salt, and celery seed. Boil for 15 minutes. Mix mustard and flour; blend with the water. Add with the corn to pepper mixture. Stir and boil for 5 minutes. Pack into clean, hot pint jars, filling to 1/2 inch of top. Adjust lids and boil jars 10 minutes in boiling-water bath (be sure water covers jars). Remove jars; complete the seals.

For added yellow color mix one teaspoon of turmeric with the mustard and flour.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

1 gallon medium-sized cucumbers
8 small white onions, sliced
1 green pepper
1 sweet red pepper
1/2 cup coarse salt
Cracked ice
5 cups sugar
1 1/2 t. turmeric
1/2 t. ground cloves
2 T. mustard seed
2 t. celery seed
5 cups vinegar

Slice cucumbers thin. Add onion and peppers cut in narrow strips. Add salt; cover with cracked ice; mix thoroughly. Let stand 5 hours; drain. Combine remaining ingredients; place over cucumber mixture. Heat to boiling; place in hot, sterilized jars. Seal. Makes 8 pints.

LIME PICKLES (SWEET CHIPS)

Slice 7 pounds cucumbers and cover with solution of 2 cups lime to 2 gallons of water. Soak 24 hours; rinse through several waters. Cover with clear, cold water and soak 3 hours. Wash again. Drain and cover with:

2 quarts cider vinegar
10 cups sugar
1 T. salt
1 t. each celery seed, whole cloves, and mixed pickle spices

Let soak in this mixture overnight. Heat to boiling and boil 35 minutes. Seal in jars.

KOSHER DILL PICKLES

20-25 four-inch cucumbers
1/8 t. powdered alum

1 clove garlic (more, if desired)
2 heads dill
1 hot red pepper (more if desired)

1 quart vinegar
1 cup salt
3 quarts water
Grape leaves

Wash cucumbers; let stand in cold water overnight. Pack into hot, sterilized jars. To each quart add the above amount of alum, garlic, dill, and red pepper. Combine vinegar, salt, and water; heat to boiling; fill jars. Place grape leaf in each jar and seal. Makes 6-8 quarts, depending on size of cucumbers.

OLD-FASHIONED STRAWBERRY JAM

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of reports on the wanderings of Brand publisher, Jimmie Gillette, and his son, Gus. After visiting in Fairbanks, they drop down to Anchorage for a short stay before retracing their route down the Alcan Highway and to Hereford.)

By Jimmie Gillette ANCHORAGE, ALASKA — A bustling town of 33,000 people, and quite a place, although slightly smaller than Amarillo or Lubbock, Anchorage does not give one the appearance of being much larger than Clovis or Plainview. It is growing by leaps and bounds, however, and this is obvious on every corner. We had a terrific time finding a motel and, when we did, it was filled up for days to come. Motels, as we know them, have not apparently gotten a foothold in this country as yet. We only found one which we liked. The others are pretty well in the "cabin" class which you used to see in Texas 25 and 30 years ago. We finally got a room in a large, downtown hotel — but have to park our car about four blocks away from some city-owned parking lots.

Anchorage, I would say, is ripe for some motel development — and someone will make a lot of dough along this line during the next five or 10 years. In addition to shipping, lumber, government offices, general business, Anchorage is also blessed with large military installations which pour millions into the business coffers. Much of this of course, comes from money spent by military personnel. As a result Fourth Street, which seems to be the main stem, is around 40 per cent cars and 60 per cent trucks, which means so many small machines on the building will hold. Although the only prices are "free" games, the boys sit and play these things by the hour. In between are little corner shops, news stands, gift shops — and an occasional shoe store, dress shop and drug store.

Prices in Anchorage are down sharply from Fairbanks. Gasoline, for instance, was down to 47-cents-per-gallon, which is a pretty fair drop from 60 and 64 cents. Hamburgers are still "a buck a throw" — a plain variety — but we are learning. The thing to do in Alaska is "Go First Class"! For around 10 per cent more you can "eat high on the hog".

Last night we went to the Harbor House, which would compare with anything in Dallas. It is a seafood specialty place, and the prices would also run about like those in Dallas or Fort Worth. We plan to eat today in the Hoffbrau, which is a large German restaurant operating on a sort of cafeteria style. They have huge, 50-pound chunks of beef and ham in the windows on spits, and cook them with ultra-violet ray lamps. This place, we understand, is the pride and joy of Anchorage. Our hotel also boasts a Chart Room, which was selected by Holiday Magazine as an award winner because of its fine seafoods and charcoal steaks.

We called Leslie Vaughn, who is a cousin of Clarence Schulz, and who was reared in Hereford, but he was out with the salmon fishing fleet and we did not get to visit with him. His wife, Alma, says they were married in Hereford, and their son was born there. They left Hereford in the late 30's, however, and went first to Fairbanks, where they stayed for seven years. While returning from a trip to Texas, they decided to visit Anchorage — and liked it so much they stayed. Alma works in the First National Bank, and says she is probably the chief cause of their locating here, since Leslie liked the hunting around Fairbanks much better.

The salmon catch, according to the papers, is at an all-time low — and the boys are expected back early this year. Leslie is mainly a truck operator, but spends his off time with the salmon fleet, which can be most profitable since the fishermen share according to the number of fish taken. If you are truly fond of salmon, I would suggest you pick up a case or two pronto. To me, the current publicity indicates a sizeable hike in prices before long.

Maybe it is because we do not know them well enough, but we do not run across any Alaskans who get excited about things. To my knowledge, I haven't heard politics discussed even one time. I guess they haven't been a state long enough to gripe like the folks back home.

They did get "hot up" about the oil, though. I think everyone in Anchorage took time off for a few weeks — and there was considerable argument about putting out one's eyes. Many of the people had exposed film, which was pretty good with colored glasses. They even ran special plane flights and train excursions to Talkeetna, where viewing was supposed to be superb. One 18-car train hauled more than 1,000 people to the vantage point to view the spectacular. We did very well in Anchorage, however, and like most everyone else, wondered what it happened to be cloudy in Talkeetna — and all those folks got up at 5:30 a.m., only to miss the big event.

While prices are tremendous, so are wages. Truck drivers and machinery operators get up around $5.00 an hour, compared with a going $4.00 in Seattle — which we would also consider a costly place to live; a good stenographer draws $500 to $600 a month, which is also about par for a cook. A house painter draws $5.00 an hour, and a welder $5.50. In fact, year in and year out, they estimate that salaries run 128 to 136 per cent over those in Seattle. Prices, of course, are pretty well the same.

For a town this size, real estate is fairly reasonable. Rent runs 40 to 60 cents per square foot in prime business locations, and prime business lots cost $1,200 to $1,750 per front foot. A residential lot in a good neighborhood costs $3,500, and it will cost you $18,000 to $26,000 to build a two-bedroom home; a three bedroom home runs from $20,000 to $30,000, which is not too steep when you stop to consider salaries — and the need for additional insulation to withstand the cold winters.

Many, many trades such as garage mechanics, salesmen and general services are operated on a commission basis. Anchorage is a coming city — and no doubt about that. It is the one place in Alaska that Texans would like the most.

All government employees get an additional 25 per cent "cost of living" exemption on their income taxes. Generally speaking, withholding taxes and income taxes are two of the best arguments I know of against the inflated living conditions in this country.

Another highlight in this leg of our trip was a visit to Mount McKinley National Park. It is definitely one of the show places of the world. I would say second only to the Alps, and a lot of people will argue with you about that. In fact it is so close to nature that it practically hasn't been disturbed. One should take a couple of weeks to do the park — but we made it in a couple of days.

Chiefly the park is composed of snow-capped peaks, including Mr. McKinley, a lot of glaciers, lakes and wild animals. Currently, only about 100 miles of park road has been developed, though the park covers more than 3,000 square miles. Animals in this park differ from those in Yellowstone in that they are wild. The Tokia Grizzly Bear, which roams the park at random, are tremendous in size — and you had better let them roam. One section of five miles of the road is designated as a camera and nature study area, and motorists are warned to remain in their cars. Little signs along the way point out that these bears observe the idea of "survival of the fittest".

The Caribou, which usually migrate about this time, were not cooperating and we failed to see any of them. Ordinarily they move down in thousands. Needless to say, the sight draws many people to the park. We did see a couple of moose or, as we termed them in the plural, a couple of fox, and one was kind enough to pose with a bird he had just caught.

Nature study is emphasized in McKinley Park and literally scores of naturalists remain there for weeks hiking and making close study of the animals, birds and plants. Evidently, quite a few of them manage to get lost, according to posters around the place, which point out that it is no fun to get up in the middle of the night and search for some yahoo who failed to get back home.

We were in the park during the time the Harvard boys were climbing Mount McKinley and kept hearing about their ascent over the radio, especially when they hit the "Wickersham Walls". We thought it was really something — but apparently it is old stuff to the rangers. We were talking with the one in charge of the Visitor Center, but he shrugged his shoulders and failed to show even a remote interest in the climb.

"Sure, they'll make it," he said, and started telling us about glaciers, and how the mica in the glacier streams pretty well eliminates fish from the waters. We got the idea that maybe the Harvard boys had a real good press agent — or maybe one of their papas owned the radio station.

In 1957, the Denali Highway was completed into the park, connecting it with the Alcan road system. You can make the trip by rail — and this is probably still the best way. The Denali Highway was the worst we have hit so far, and we have been over some lulu's. Denali, "The High One," was the name given to Mount McKinley by the Indians many years before the park was created.

Those who come in by rail stay at the park lodge and travel by bus, mostly on package deals. Tourists who brave the Denali road generally use the numerous camp grounds, which are excellent and plentiful. Roads inside the park are well developed and superior to the Denali Highway. Prices within the park are well in line with those down on the highway — and frequently cheaper, including the general store and service station.

It is impossible to ever describe the scenery offered visitors of Mount McKinley National Park. As you leave, you encounter workmen who are improving the roads and, suddenly, it dawns upon you that within a few years they will be paved. Mount McKinley Park, then will no doubt become another Yellowstone; the animals will have traded their stately pride and independence for a life of semi-captivity in a gigantic zoo, where the bears will beg for oranges and scraps thrown by giggling tourists who shave too seldom, or wear tight-fitting slacks.

The fleeting thought makes your heart ache, but such is the way of progress — and of mankind.

Another bit of breath-taking scenery lies on the route from Paxson into Anchorage. We kept finding ourselves comparing the scenery to that of Mount McKinley Park — and it measured up surprisingly well. Especially down the Matiniska Valley, which provides a sort of playground for the people of Anchorage.

DAWSON CREEK, B. C., Canada — Second round. One thing is for sure, if people who travel the Alcan Highway would stop to remember that they must come back over the same route they travel in, there would probably be less jubilation along Mile "Woo-Oh-Oh".

Generally, about 300 mile is a very good day's drive on the Alcan, everything considered, but yesterday we knocked off a little better than 400 — and I sort of had the "Alcan jitters" when we arrived here. At least, I hope that was the trouble, because I carefully went out and bought a can of that push-button lather stuff to trim off a three-day growth of beard. I got back, smeared it on carefully, and was half through shaving before I noticed that it was tooth paste instead of lather. Strangely enough, the stuff worked fairly well, so I just went ahead and finished the job. Next, I tried to tune in a radio program on the electric blanket control.

Buz got a real kick out of this deal, except he says that I had better tame down my language, for sure, before we get back to Texas!

The road seemed better on our return trip, due to the fact that it had been graded in most places following the rains. The dust was bad, though, and it is hard to make any time around the curves and behind those big trucks. The Alcan is divided into sections, and sort of has a personality for each section. Throughout Canada, it is maintained by the Canadian army, mostly with hired civilian personnel — and maintenance is a real tough job.

Truck drivers in these parts are quite different from those in Texas, where they pull over to let you pass, and are sort of building up a "knights of the road" reputation. Here they believe in the survival of the fittest, and take every advantage of the fact that they are bigger, heavier and, consequently, have a better chance to survive. They don't mind crowding you off the road — and frequently make 50 miles an hour on the wrong side. Since the bar ditches frequently drop several thousand feet, this can become a bit bothersome — and is one of the reasons that very few people brave the Alcan at night. Another reason is the innumerable bob-cats which roam the roadsides; we saw at least 20 on our return trip.

The road workmen, on the other hand, are most polite and helpful. They will move a giant grader or multi-ton piece of equipment to let a tourist pass without delay, which is also contrary to procedure back home. These, too, are the folks who are most likely to help if you get into trouble.

At least, they pulled us through a couple of tight spots. Back up around Mile 1050, we slipped into a ditch and were really stuck. An operator almost a block away spotted us and, without our asking, drove his big half-truck over, cut away a small hill, put the grader blade under our bumper and sat us back on the road without a bounce.

Again, around Mile 400, we burned out the flats on our car — and it flat came to a bouncing halt. We got a man to tow us back to a service station — about a mile — and drained out the gas, chiefly because it smelled like diesel fuel and because it started missing when we filled up. The new gasoline didn't help, and it is a long way between mechanics on the Alcan. Along came Gordie Canaday, who works on the bridge crew, and volunteered to "have a look". He checked out the lines to the distributor, took off the points and showed us that this was the trouble.

A nice man from Arkansas was filling up about this time — and just happened to have a set of points and a condenser in his car, but they wouldn't fit the Corvair. At best, this meant that we sat on the Alcan two days awaiting delivery from Dawson Creek — if we were lucky. The Arkansas was a whiz, though, he told Gordie to file off the head of a Brad, and the spark wouldn't arc. He was right, too. Our van started up — and we barely slowed down until we got to Fort Nelson, where we found another set and a mechanic.

Gordie doesn't favor paving the Alcan. He thinks it would be nice, but says that taxes are already too high. They pay approximately 11 per cent withholding and have around $2,400 personal exemption. He seemed most surprised when I told him that we paid near 29 per cent on the same bracket in the United States. Another thing, it would take a long time, and there just cannot be any detours in most of the places.

Another interesting person we ran across was Connie Yaklin, an Irish gal who, with her husband, operates a store, service station, lodge, and cafe at Mile 968. Connie came over here from the hills of Ireland some 12 years ago — and says that she loves the place. She still has

6 TEST QUESTIONS

THE Great Teacher painted a picture of the final Judgment. To the amazement of His hearers, He said the test questions would be six:

Did you feed the hungry? Did you give drink to the thirsty?
Did you welcome the stranger? Did you clothe the naked?
Did you visit the sick? Did you help men in prison?

Had there been a seventh question, surely, it would have been —
"Do you attend church regularly?" See the two faces... simple, but a great transaction is taking place. If you have been sick a week, or two, or three — then you understand. Living eyes are always hungry and to serve them is rich living. Why wait to give expensive wreaths and sprays until those eyes have closed in death? Attend church this week.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are educated with honest study, the family and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger religious character. Students today desire that the church alone can form its leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. They are with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. (Continued from page 5) an Irish heart as big as all outdoors, though, and because we were tired he insisted on our eating a hot beef sandwich and some blueberry pie, both just out of the oven. Connie has killed a mountain sheep and a huge grizzly bear, both prominently displayed, and is proud of the accomplishment, though she makes light of both feats.

"I was really shooting just to scare the bear away," she says with an Irish grin; "I shot just over his head, but he raised up about that time — and do you know the bullet went square between his eyes!"

She says there is lots of hunting in the Yukon, but you definitely need an experienced guide. She says frequently someone will be hunting a grizzly and the bear, in turn, will be stalking them. She recalled several instances where hunters became the victim of an intended prey. Connie said she would sell her sheep head for $50.00, which she sold for a bargain, because it cost her $40 to have it mounted.

Whitehorse, which was closed tight on the Sunday we went up, proved to be one of the most interesting places we visited along the highway. It is may be $6,000, and everyone we met was friendly and helpful. We left with directions to three good "fishing holes", and with a warm place in our hearts for the community which, with Skagway, was one of the favorites of Robert W. Service, the "Canadian Kipling"; we bought one of his paper back books and have been getting a real bang out of his poems, especially "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and "The Cremation of Sam McGee". After seeing the country and knowing a few of the people, one must admit that he truly possessed a tremendous ability to express the "feeling of the North."

Many, many times people — in stores, cafes and service stations — told us that they originally came to the Yukon for a visit or vacation, and liked it so much they just stayed. The country does have a way of getting hold of you, and back in the gold days it was probably even more pronounced.

The Whitehorse Star is a semi-weekly newspaper published on Mondays and Thursdays, and provides most of the office supply sales for the upper portion of the Yukon. It is the first offset-printed paper we have encountered in the North and, although we dropped in on press day, they found time to show us around the plant.

Fishing is fabulous everywhere in the Yukon. We followed directions of a young man in a hardware store and dropped off around Atlin, going some 16 miles off the main road, in less than two hours, we had more fish than we knew what to do with. I caught one huge grayling which would weigh around 2 1/2 pounds and measured something like 18 or 19 inches in length. Found out later that the all-time record is 22 inches. We have been using dry flies 100 per cent — and this seems to be the best possible lure for stream fishing at this particular time, although some people use spinners. The Yukon laws specify "only one hook" on a line. They figure the fish will last twice as long as compared with using two, I guess.

I figure even Lee Benfield could fish in this country, and a guy like Jess Ford would get downright fat from eating so many. Honest, you never saw anything like the way they bite. Lake fishing we haven't seriously tried, chiefly because we have no boat and lack the proper tackle. The best thing to do is to fly into some of the special "trophy camps", where they advertise ironclad guarantees that you will catch fish — and big ones — or no charge. To me, this means you will get some fish, and no doubt about that.

REP. ROGERS WRITES

House Should Participate In Ratification Of Treaties

hearings have begun on the treaty pledging the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain to ban nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water. The crucial question, whether or not the Senate will ratify the treaty, will follow the hearings.

Members of the House of Representatives are sitting in the Senate hearings; my House colleagues who are members of the Joint (Senate-House) Committee on Atomic Energy are joined with Senators serving on that committee and members of the Senate Foreign Relations and Senate Armed Services committees in receiving testimony concerning the treaty.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dean Rusk came to the House side of the Capitol to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Although it is somewhat unprecedented for House members to be included in this degree in the treaty process, the constitutional power remains confined to the Senate.

Participation by the House of Representatives in treaty-making would give the nation an additional guarantee that the United States not enter into unwieldy international agreements.

My own committee assignments in the House have kept me extremely busy recently. During the week of July 15-18, I presided over morning and afternoon sessions of the Communications and Power Subcommittee of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee as it delved into the matter of current broadcast editorializing practice.

The wording of my proposed amendment to the Constitution, as expressed in H. J. Res. 205, is as follows: "No treaty with respect to which the advice and consent of the Senate is required by section 2 of article II of this Constitution may be made without the advice and consent of the House of Representatives."

The amendment would not alter the existing Constitutional requirement that "two-thirds of Senators present concur." It would add the requirement that for ratification to be completed a majority of members of the House present at the time of the vote give their approval to the treaty terms.

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thurs., Aug. 8, 1963

During the week of July 22-26, I presided over meetings of the Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee of the House Interstate and Insular Affairs Committee looking into water resources matters and at the same time joined the full Commerce Committee in hearings conducted on the joint resolution aimed at averting a nationwide railroad strike.

These latter hearings continued this week. As soon as the Commerce Committee has made a disposition of the railroad issue, I expect to call the Communications and Power Subcommittee back into session to resume hearings on editorializing on radio and television — with emphasis on voluntary testimony from broadcasters themselves.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

The House of Representatives has no formal role in the making of treaties. In this respect of United States foreign relations, the Constitution declares that the President "shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur."

One of the hundred separate dramas unfolding now on Capitol Hill is the preparation by the Senate to exercise this historic responsibility. Senate "Pad" and "Mom's Mink". One nice looking service station in a lonely stretch on the road to Anchorage was named: "Atlasta Kouse".

Much of this country, of course, was originally settled by Russians, and we have noticed several Russian Orthodox churches, which seemed a bit unusual to us, since Russians no longer accept Christianity. We see numerous Baptist and Catholic churches, an occasional Methodist church, and numerous Assembly of God and Church of Christ or First Christian church. Many churches have been made from quonset huts, and some of them are exceptionally attractive.

On several occasions, we have encountered people who like the Russians. One lady was telling us that they ferried planes through the area during the war, and that folks considered the pilots (then our allies) to be unusually nice people. Many of the old timers are, no doubt, of Russian descent — and the general outlook on Russia appears entirely different from that back in Texas. Everyone kids about "Uncle Sam", even in Canada, and about Texas — but not so much as you would expect.

The plight of the Eskimo, I am afraid, is a serious problem, both in Canada and in Alaska. We stopped to fish the other afternoon when along came an Eskimo woman and two small children with a dog, harnessed up like a horse with a pack-saddle. All they had was a few scraps of clothing — and the Lord knows how they managed at night. The woman asked for a cigarette, which I gave her, then remarked that they were trying to get to Haynes (some 150 miles away) but couldn't get a ride, which was not surprising considering their filthy condition. It really is a pitiful situation which is far more acute than the Negro problem ever was, or ever will be, in the States. Truly, it makes your heart bleed to see these one-eyed, even arrogant people, reduced to such means — and there seems to be no answer, because they are given to drunkenness, are undependable on any job, and apparently will not attend the schools which have been established.

If you think the Indians have it rough in our country, you should take one fleeting glimpse at the Eskimo. Truly they must be a fast vanishing race. Sometimes, one wonders if the white man's civilization is really worthwhile, after all.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Commissioners Turn Down Delay Move; Hearing Held

By Vern Sanford
Supporters of the proposed billion-dollar Trinity River development plan won the first round on the opening day of hearings when the Texas Water Commissioners turned down the railroads' motion to delay the Austin hearing.

Gov. John Connally's approval of the commission's plan was expected. He had long since pledged his support. Connally called the navigation project, "a major step in one of the most important water conservation, flood control, and navigation projects in history of Texas."

Texas Highway Department's 420-seat capacity auditorium overflowed during the two-day hearing as every community in the vast Trinity watershed was represented. Spokesman for the railroads was Walter Caven, counselor for the Texas Railroad Association. Plan of the U. S. Corps of Engineers calls for development of the entire watershed for navigation, flood-control, water conservation, water quality control, drainage, irrigation, hydroelectric power, fish, wild life and recreation.

Thirteen reservoirs are included in the long-range plan. Locks and other features to make the river navigable from the Gulf to Fort Worth would claim more than $515,000,000. That's more than a million dollars a mile for the 300 mile project.

Barge-line navigation of the Trinity from the Gulf of Mexico to the Dallas-Fort Worth market was the target of railroad objections.

Railroads claimed that Army engineers "greatly overestimated" traffic potential, future growth and benefits to be derived. Caven said the 20 railroads would have to spend more than $25,000,000 to relocate lines and bridges in the Fort Worth area. Then they would lose $6,500,000 annually in freight business to the barge lines.

NEW SPEED LIMIT OKAYED
Some 41,500 miles of state-maintained highways will be zoned for the new 70-mile per hour speed limit when the law becomes effective on August 23.

Texas Highway Commission approved the daytime maximum for passenger cars for more than two-thirds of the state's highway system. But the old 60-mile per hour maximum still applies to 18,648 miles. Engineering studies indicated that these roads couldn't handle faster traffic.

A larger percentage of the Farm-to-Market Road system will come under the 70-mph maximum. Lower limits will apply where conditions warrant. District engineers are expected to release news of re-zoning on a local basis.

HEART OF TEXAS
A roadside park some 20 miles north of Brady on U. S. 377 is the geographical center of Texas.

It will be so designated when the Highway Commission erects a brilliant aluminum "Heart of Texas" marker.

Other 6000 aluminum markers are scheduled for Pilot Knob in Travis County, location of the state's only exposed submarine volcano; the Llano Estacado in Garza County; and Old Tucson in Oldham County. The latter is famed for its Boot Hill Cemetery.

Commission figures each marker will earn more than 10 times its original cost in added tourist revenues.

CHEMICALS KILL CROPS
"Weekend farmers" and "absentee owners" not acquainted with the dangerous potential of hormone-type herbicides (such as 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T) have contributed to a new pattern of crop damage, says Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

He estimated 7,000 to 8,000 acres of crops, principally cotton, have been affected by damaging doses of the herbicides. "Fortunately, most of the effect has been only light to moderate on the cotton," White said, "and the yields are not seriously threatened."

"But we've been lucky so far," he added. "When carelessly applied, herbicides are capable of wiping out crops several miles away from the sprayed area."

HOT WEATHER TOLL
Four consecutive weeks of 100-plus degree weather plus drying wind took a toll of crops and pastures over the state, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Early harvesting was used to beat the heat in many places.

Reporting service predicts that general rains in all areas still could revive pastures.

LEGISLATIVE 'RIDERS'
A legislative "rider" on the 1964-65 state budget to cut physical training programs in 20 State colleges to little more than "mass calisthenics" was declared invalid by the attorney general.

Carr said that while "riders"—i.e., restrictions on legislative appropriations—usually get by, this one went too far. It would have kept colleges from spending all their allotted budget if compulsory physical training programs were offered.

Commission on Higher Education asked for the attorney general's opinion, after physical training directors claimed the "rider" would have crippled their work.

INDUSTRY GAINS
Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is a staunch defender of local-versus-state programs for bringing in industry.

He told Kiwanis: "Texas does not have to rush headlong into any service scheme to bring industry to the state. And as long as we can do this locally, there will be less bureaucracy."

Smith said the privately-supported Texas Industrial Commission had done a "commendable job."

Last year, Texas was third in the nation in attracting new industries. The Commission provides support, advice and materials to local industrial development groups.

SHORT SNORTS
State Treasurer Jesse James reports that July revenue from cigarette, liquor and wine stamps was almost $1,000,000 above June's $8,600,000 total.

Governor Connally appointed Dr. Joaquin Gonzalez Cigarroa Jr. of Laredo to the Commission on Higher Education, to succeed Jack Woodward of San Angelo.

Calhoun County officials asked the Highway Commission for a
