Vega Future Farmer's Calf Wins Top Honors

40 STEERS ARE EXHIBITED IN ANNUAL SHOW

Selection of the grand champion steer, a finely finished 877-pound Hereford owned by Richard Kirkland, 15, of Vega climaxed judging of entries Saturday at the 12th annual Rotary Club-sponsored Junior Livestock and Poultry Show. The Vega Future Farmer's victory was greeted by applause from a crowd of 250 gathered for the show in the Bull Barn.

Judge Stanley Anderson of Texas Tech pondered for many minutes before announcing his decision, picking Kirkland's steer over the reserve champion, a 978-pound Hereford owned by Almay Conkright of Hereford. The two Herefords were shown in the champions' class with a classy lightweight Angus owned by Ted Harp of Boys Ranch.

Forty calves were entered in the fat calf show, five less than in 1957, but the quality of the animals was generally believed to be the best ever entered in the show here by veteran observers. The animals and their exhibitors represented 4-H Clubs and Future Farmer chapters in Deaf Smith, Oldham, Castro and Farmer Counties.

KIRKLAND'S victory was reported to be the first scored in the Hereford show by an Oldham County youth. Harp's Angus also was a record setter, becoming the first Angus to win first in a class in the local show.

The grand champion steer was bred by R. L. Coanougher of Hereford. The reserve champ was from the Conkright & Son herd and was sired by a Real Prince Domino heifer bull.

Jimmy Conkright's award was his string of trophies earned in the local show to three reserve championships and two grand championships. Kirkland, who has been leading-out show steers for only two years, was making his first appearance in the Hereford show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. (Dick) Kirkland, who live eight miles west of Vega. Conkright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkright, 408 E. Fifth.

Largest Issue Yet Is One of Two Proposals

Voters at polling places in Hereford and Dawn Tuesday will decide the fate of a $639,000 bond issue proposed for the Hereford Rural High School district. The proposed issue is the largest ever presented to district voters.

If approved, the bond issue will provide additions to the high school, Alkman and Central Elementary Schools, repairs to the junior high school building, and $75,000 for purchase of a new school site in north Hereford and moving of the present football stadium.

Paying for the $639,000 bond issue, plus retiring $1,501,000 in the district's present outstanding bonds, will call for a tax increase of about 13 cents per $100 rendered property valuation, according to Fred Baird, financial secretary.

TWO PROPOSALS will be on the ballot prepared for the special election. Both, school officials declare, will have to be approved in order for the building bonds to be issued. The first proposal will be concerned with adoption of a new financial operation setup. The second proposal is for the issuance of the $639,000 in bonds.

To qualify for the election, a resident of the district must have property rendered for the school tax rolls and either a 1956 poll tax receipt or be otherwise qualified by being over 60 Jan. 1, 1956. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the school tax office in the county courthouse in Hereford and in the Dawn School.

Proposed additions to the high school provided for in the school trustees and administrators planning are: Ten conventional classrooms and one large science classroom, a total of 15,360 square feet; a cafeteria and girls gym, a combined total of 14,500 square feet. Estimated cost of the three units, at $13 per square foot, is $388,000. Furnishings, architect fees and miscellaneous costs boost the total to $462,000.

Proposed additions to elementary schools are: Six classrooms at Alkman school with an estimated cost of $67,200; plus furnishings, and architects fees which boost the total to $76,500. A conversion of the existing gym at Central to a cafeteria at an estimated cost of $20,000, including equipment.

Stanton Junior High is earmarked $5,000 for completion of renovation. (Continued On Page 5)

Water District Vote Tuesday

THE HIGH PLAINS Under-ground Water Conservation District No. 1 will hold its annual election of directors and county committeemen Tuesday.

V. E. Dodson, Hereford, Director for District Precinct No. 4, which includes Armstrong, Deaf Smith, Potter and Randall counties, has stated that two committeemen will be elected in each county.

The two elected will replace Ed Dziuk, Rt. 2, Hereford and Ralph Hastings, Rt. 4, Hereford and will serve three-year terms of office.

The only voting place in Deaf Smith will be at the courthouse. Dodson urges those qualified voters who live within the Water District to vote. Voters will see 1957 poll tax receipts.

No absentee ballots had been cast by noon Friday, according to County Clerk Ralph Smith.

Dimmitt Berkshire Wins Swine Show

In a swine show characterized by classy young market-size barrows and sleek gilts Jerry Buchanan's Berkshire was a real standout. It was no surprise to most observers at ring side Friday in the Bull Barn when the Dimmitt youngster's barrow received the purple rosette as grand champion of the 12th annual Junior Livestock and Poultry Show.

There was more anxiety apparent as judge Stanley Anderson turned his attention to selection of the reserve grand champion from among the 14 champions and reserves still in competition for the number two honor in the swine division. The Texas Tech professor pondered long before eliminating all contenders except a fine Chester White gilt exhibited by Charles Ray Vasek of Hereford.

Vasek's gilt, bred by Doc Bezner of Hereford, will not be sold. The youngster will not have final ownership until the gilt tarrows, a gift from Bezner, and he has in turn given a gilt to another farm lad, Charlie Vasek Jr., father of the exhibitor explained.

Buchanan, 15, son of the Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Buchanan of Dimmitt, said his grand champion was bred by Monroe Kowitziel of Kingfisher, Okla.

Boys from Dimmitt, Vega, Black, Boys Ranch, Hereford, Hart and Friona won ribbons, for their entries in the various swine divisions.

There were 65 barrows and gilts in the show, compared to 72 for last year's event.

YOUNG MODERNS

Thank You Notes Are Appreciated

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures

HOW TO THANK the thoughtful and generous for Christmas remembrances is a problem to some young moderns, as this letter indicates:

Q. "I know how to thank my relatives for gifts. Sometimes I call them, sometimes I write to them. But when it comes to boy and girl friends I am at a loss as to how to thank them. Is it necessary to write them, even though you see them often? Should you thank them even though they handed you the gift, and you opened it and showed your appreciation for it right there and then? What do you say in the letter?"

A. It is always a nice idea to write a thank you note for a gift, even though you've shown appreciation. A boy will admire your thoughtfulness.

When writing a boy a thank you note it is a good idea not to be gushy, as boys do not like effusiveness, as a rule. If you are tempted to write an overwhelming thank you because you were so surprised by the gift, better to write nothing.

A typical thank you for a compact, for instance, may please a boy if it is short and sweet. (This note is in addition to the verbal thank you.) "...I want to add

Barnett at 72.5 cents, $985.85.

Jim Shearhart to Carl McCaslin Lumber Co. at 67 cents, $985.75; Tommy Tatum to First National Bank at 50 cents, $419.50; Dale Minor to Hereford Grain Corp. at 40 cents, $370.80; Lee Ayres to Caywood Packing Co. at 51 cents, $324.36; Maynard Greeson to Black Grain Co. at 52 cents, $410.80; Cheryl Allred to Allred Oil Co. and Hereford Butane at 42 cents, $361.20; Pat Robbins to Howard Gault & Son at 46 cents, $374.90; Donnie Allred to Dr. A. T. Mims at 44 cents, $336.16; Jimmy Reinauer to Jim Hill Hotel at 45 cents, $375.75; Pat Robbins to Hereford State Bank at 50 cents, $328; Eugene Vasek to Blanton Butane Co. at 38 cents, $355.68; Pete Plank to Deaf Smith County Electric Co-Op at 45 cents, $347.85; Bill Johnson to Packard Milling Co. at 41 cents, $326.36;

Frank Day to Dr. M. W. Nobles at 50 cents, $328.50; Dick Plank to Big T Pump Co. at 44 cents, $365.20; James Short to Reinauer Bros. at 41 cents, $359.98; Gary Guseman to Cecil Guseman at 45 cents, $438.75; Wayne Bomar to Cecil Guseman at 46 cents, $408.94;

Don Jackson to Consumers Fuel Co-Op at 35 cents, $356.30; Bill Johnson to Black Grain Co. at 44 cents, $363; Gayle Allred to Taylor & Sons at 40 cents, $328; Dick Plank to Davis Implement Co. at 40 cents, $326; Jimmy Mabry to Dub's Mens Shop at 38 cents, $385.32; Truman Price to Pitman Grain Co. at 37.5 cents, $378.38.

to my thank you the other evening that you certainly couldn't have picked a better gift for me. The compact is exactly what I needed, is just the right size for my handbag, and holds a good quantity of powder. Thank you so much."

If the boy has really dented his wallet to buy your gift — jewelry or another expensive present (that your parents have permitted you to accept) then you should mention that you are aware that he has, as nobody will be more aware of it than him. Men are that way. Start your letter off thus, perhaps: "...You must have given up many a soda (or pizza pie or other favorite food) to afford that beautiful scarf you gave me, etc."

A girl friend should be rewarded, too, with special thanks. We are more critical and expect more of our friends than other people, usually, so she will expect you to rave over whatever effort she has put into her gift. A handmade gift needs special praise as any one who has put effort into a project that involves personal time wants to feel it is appreciated.

This was a love story played out against a background of world strife. In Detroit, bitter strikes dragged on. In Spain, the battlefields became a testing ground for the war that soon engulfed the globe. In Moscow, the Kremlin held mock trials and brutally eliminated the contenders to Stalin's dictatorial rule.

But in the royal palace in England, No. 10 Downing St. — the home of the Prime Minister.

... urgent conferences were being held over an affair of the heart. King Edward VIII would not be swayed from his purpose. Either he would be allowed to marry the woman he loved, Wallis Simpson, or he would abdicate his throne.

Then came the final moment of decision. Through the medium of radio, Edward spoke to the world. He was giving up his crown for his love. Remember the year? Well, in that year depression-wise Americans who could buy a new car bought it carefully. They didn't go for fast talk or vague promises.

The year was 1936. Wise car buyers today are just as careful. And we don't try to "fast talk" them. We have the car, the beautiful new 1958 Ford. We have the price, the terms and the trade. Come in and find out for yourself! CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. 146 E. 2nd Phone EM 4-2727.

Osborn To Run For Re-Election

Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe this week authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of state representative, 96th Legislative district, subject to action of the Democratic primary.

Osborn, in making his announcement, pointed out the following background of his candidacy for the office:

He has lived in the district 33 years and has been engaged in farming and banking for over 30 years, giving up his banking interest in 1955.

Osborn says he "feels that with the experience I have had in the last three sessions of the legislature and with the additional time that I now have to devote to the duties of the office, that I can render the district better service in the future."

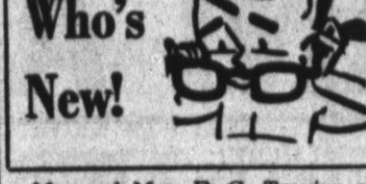

Currently serving on the appropriations committee, where he has for the last two sessions, Osborn has also served on the conservation committee since he has been in the legislature.

Osborn claims to have "always supported legislation for the improvement of our public schools and colleges, highway and roads, conservation of natural resources and of all our state institutions, and feel that we should make higher education available to all our young people who desire a college education."

On the subject of maintaining present farm-to-market roads, Osborn says, "It seems now that certain interests wish to curtail this program. I want it continued."

Lewis Carroll made up "Alice in Wonderland" to amuse three small girls on a boating trip.

Attorney Earnest Langley, guest speaker, addressed the group on "The Importance of Making Wills." Langley stressed the importance of young couples making wills, pointing out the inadvisability of depending on state laws to dispose of property.

During the business session members of the hospital project committee gave a report on funds from the Christmas Toy Parade and members decided to present a check for $75 to the hospital for use in the O. B. Ward.

Those attending were Mesdames

Harold Morton, Don Fudge, Ted Hardwick, Dean Herring, Glenn Hopson, Terry Kirby, Dennis Lomas, Hershel Miller, Bobby Owen, Buddy Pickens, Troys Riddle, Eugene Sparks and Paul Schroeter.

Snowmen Dissolve into Muddy Tracks

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
 ANYBODY ELSE gettin kinda weary of muddy tracks on the rug? You'd think that all the mud and slush would be all dried up by now. Guess the fact that the ground is still wet means something good to somebody tho.

Did you ever see such a bountiful crop of snowmen as appeared on front lawns around town last Sunday? We've had a considerable amount of snow during the past couple or three years, but it hasn't all been conducive to snowmen-making.

I drove around and around the west side of town with my small fry, but failed to find the three snow-bears which the children had heard about somewhere. Papa, Mama, and Baby Bear must have been quite the sculptural achievement.

One of the most unusual displays of snow-art that I did see was a snow lady — bee-u-ti-ful face and figure — built by C. D. Fisher at the corner of Park Ave. and Star.

Don't know exactly who built the snowman that graced their yard, but all members of the Carl Hollingsworth family most likely had a hand in it. Anyway, it was the biggest one in town — really a giant! So big that some of him still hasn't melted.

Oh, I think snow-people are fun! HAVE HAD A bunch of people let me know they went along with my views expressed about bothersome behavior of boys at the movies.

Bill Hardwick phoned especially to tell me that theatre folks always appreciate being informed immediately by patrons who are bothered in any way by the thoughtless and rude actions of others. So thought I'd pass this word along.

As in any business, it's impossible to please everybody at the same time. But in the instance of an audience's being disturbed by the inconsiderate actions of some individuals, then the management surely wants to better the situation.

I don't think I'm a chronic complainer, but I've never been one to hesitate before hollerin when somethin mars my personal enjoyment. . . but some folks are more timid than I am. You know, however, that speaking up at the right time, to the right people, often benefits everyone concerned.

Can't say what made me think TEST HOLES and well work of all kinds. Will go anywhere. Reddell and Suggs Drilling Contractors. Phone EM 4-3159 or EM 4-0372.

of this, but have you seen those TV commercials for Exquisite Form foundation garments? . . . "In Exquisite Form, the lady is you" etc. etc. Land sakes! If they get any more dramatic, I'm not gonna let hubby watch em anymore. Why, they've got the Maiden Form ads beat a mile, sensation-wise. And if the menfolk took em seriously, they'd have their wives stampeding the stores (guess that's the whole idea behind em, come to think of it).

AND HA! For some reason this brings sweaters to mind. Santa Claus brought Marian Davis a real purty white sweater, and it's particularly stunning with her tailored, black dress.

I got white sweaters for Xmas, too — three, in fact — all cardigans. Now a gal can always use a sweater or two, and white does go with everything, but Sanky kinda went overboard with the idea I'd say.

About the most novel gift at our house this year came in the form of sturdy, nylon roller-skates for skating around inside the house. Wonder, if they made em to fit adults, if the gadgets would help us to get around easier on poor, tired feet.

I just betcha that the best Christmas present for Olive and Bill Lenderman was their precious, little bundle of a granddaughter. The Lendermans have simply been beaming since their trip to New Orleans to see baby Linda Suzanne and her parents, the Walter Barkers.

J. M. and Grace Wright returned this week from an extended holiday vacation and fishing trip. From all report, it must have been glorious — except for J. M.'s gettin so sea-sick.

TRUCE HANNA may be curious as to what makes the mail so slow between points on the Panhandle.

She was official hostess, in a manner of speaking, to the group of delegates who attended the district meeting of the United Church Women here Thursday; and it seems that most of the luncheon reservations were held-up somewhere along the line and didn't arrive until the day of the event. In fact, one reservation-letter was delivered to Troyce at the hotel when the luncheon was in progress. The entire group was amused over the timing. Small consolation for Troyce.

IN HER JOB as census-taker for the school, Gayle Galley thought she'd time her calls just right for catching people at home. . . on the afternoon of New Year's Day. She was very puzzled when, at half the places on her list, there was nobody home. Where was everybody?

It isn't original with him, but Mutt Wheeler has a standard remark that he uses whenever appropriate: "I don't belittle my wife's judgment. . . just look who she married!"

Say, there is a party who needs a copy of the November issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. If, by chance, you know where one is to be had, please contact Pardy Linder at EM 4-0671. I thankie.

And for goodness' sake, don't forget to go vote on Tuesday!

Progressive H.D. Holds Meeting

The forward look was the topic discussed by Mrs. Argen Draper at a recent meeting of the Progressive Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. Lester English.

Helpful hints suggested by Mrs. Draper were to buy clothes with careful consideration, try using the Texas food standard, be sure to keep the chin up and keep in good physical condition. Present for the meeting were Mesdames Harold Beachamp, V. E. Burgess, H. L. Hershey, Floyd McGee, Earl Plank, Taft McGee, Pete Carmichael, J. T. Parson, Argen Draper, Cecil Boyer and the hostess, Mrs. Lester English.

John Alden, husband of Priscilla Mullens, outlived all other male passengers of the Mayflower.

School Bond..

tion work and repairs. Purchase of new sites and development of old sites, including moving the football stadium are expected to cost $75,000 under the bond issue proposal.

THE HIGH SCHOOL additions proposed are described by school officials as adequate to relieve present crowded conditions and allow for the anticipated increase in enrollment during the next few years. An average enrollment of over 700, with a peak enrollment of 750, is anticipated by 1961. There was an average enrollment in high school during the first 12 weeks of the current term of 622 pupils.

The proposed girls gym is described as "facilities for health, safety, physical education, and recreation for girls. . . needed to meet accreditation standards of the Texas Education Agency."

The proposed cafeteria, according to a brochure prepared by school officials, "would enable the school to provide hot lunches for the large majority of the students who do not go home at lunch. Hot lunch programs for all schools are strongly recommended by all educational and health agencies particularly from the standpoint of nutritional benefits and increased ability to maintain good school work. The lunch program would be self-supporting. In addition, the facilities would be used for many extra-curricular activities and could be used as additional classroom space. At the present time there are not enough meeting places large enough for the four classes to meet separately at the same time. The space would also be available for school sponsored and school-community related activities."

THE SIX NEW elementary classrooms proposed for Alkman are described as enabling "the school to take care of the needs created by the steadily increasing enrollment."

The cafeteria proposed for

Central "would eliminate the crowded conditions and place Central's facilities on a par with those of the two newer elementary schools."

The final items for which the bond issue would go, purchase of new sites and development of old sites including moving the football stadium, are said to be needed to provide a more central location for future expansion of high school or junior high school facilities. The football stadium would be moved to this new site and facilities to enable Hereford to schedule larger schools would be provided. The present football field would be converted to a play area and parking space, according to school officials planning.

SENATE BILL 116, described by the schoolmen as essential to issuing the bonds, would raise the limit for local maintenance to $1.50 from its present $1, and would limit bonded indebtedness to 10 per cent of the assessed valuation. The state law provides a sliding scale for the maintenance tax levy, depending upon the gross debt, providing a maximum school tax levy for maintenance and bond retirement of about $2, compared to the present maximum of $1.50.

The school board members in discussing future tax levels have seen no need to raise the maintenance tax above $1 — its present level — and this combined with the 63 cents needed to retire the outstanding and proposed bond issues would result in a tax raise from $1.50 to $1.63 per $100 valuation.

The trustees have stated that adoption of the maintenance tax (Senate Bill 116) law is essential to issuance of the proposed issue. The school bond election for Tuesday Jan. 14, is the first here since 1955. It exceeds by $39,000 the largest previous bond issue for the district, $600,000 in 1953 for construction of the present high school plant.

meeting were representatives of eight counties. R. C. Morgan, president of the Credit Union League, which consists of more than 1000 unions across the nation, will be the main speaker at the annual Hereford Credit Union Savings and Loan Assn. meeting Jan. 21 in the high school auditorium, according to Mrs. Dyalitha B. Benson, manager.

Due to the lateness of their occurrence, pictures of the winners in the lamb, swine and poultry divisions of the Junior Livestock Show will appear in the Thursday Brand instead of today's paper.

CORRECTION: Regarding the Deaf Smith Tax Payers League committee report on the school bond election, published in The Brand Thursday, Committeeman Colby Conkright states that he was unable to attend any of the three meetings preceding the issuance of the committee's statement. "I personally, have made no statement regarding the proposed bond issue or Tuesday's election," Conkright said.

SUNSET LANES

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

Clint Formby pretty well had the Kiwanis Club in a dither this week when he called up several members, asked them to appear on the program — and taped their replies, which he played back at the meeting. Everyone he did not call thought it was a unique and interesting program. The way I hear it, though, Bill Patton and Lloyd Shroy took a pretty dim view of the whole affair.

Getting caught unawares like that could sure break up a lot of solid friendships.

PICK HARMAN TELLS me that Sylvester Slagle is one old boy who really wastes his money when he attends the Golden Gloves fights. Pick says Slagle picked the first 10 losers in the first 10 fights on the card. The only trouble with Slagle's 100 per cent record was the fact that he was trying to pick winners.

"If I didn't know any more about fighters than that, I wouldn't even go," said Harman who, incidentally, got the reverse on Slagle's losers, and came up with 100 per cent winners on the first 10 fights.

The Dec. 31, 1957, bank statements surprised nearly everybody. Hereford's two banks showed total deposits of $11,969,107. Last year at the same time the banks reported an all-time record high with $13,048,463 — or $1,079,356 less for the past year. The 1957 call is second highest total deposits shown for the period and is sharply ahead of Dec. 31, 1955, when they added up to $9,895,921. In addition, the new loan association reported $289,575 which, last year, would probably have reflected in the bank deposits.

When you stop to consider the moaning and groaning that has taken place around here, the figures are pretty close to unbelievable. In addition, the late milo harvest delayed many of the grain loans and, consequently, lowered the deposit figures for 1957.

OUR GRAPEVINE SAYS that the H. and H. building, across from Piggly-Wiggly, has been rented. No official announcement as yet, but you can look for it to be occupied in mid-February or early March. This is good. I sure did hate to look at that long, vacant gap on Main Street. I realize that business is gravitating away from downtown areas, but I never have got to the point where I like it. Maybe we will get something official in a week or so.

Meanwhile, most merchants are jumping out ahead of January, "sales figures. January and February, usually fairly slow months, are going to be unusually good this year. This is due chiefly to the late grain harvest, and it will hold its own, or pick up momentum, right on down the line.

Considerable talk about the coming school bond election Tuesday, Jan. 14. Like I said once before, most people seem to have fixed ideas on the subject.

NO OUIJA BOARD as yet, but I am still predicting that we will have a bumper wheat yield in 1958. The recent snow is just what the doctor ordered — and things will keep right on popping into place as the year progresses. Old timers will agree that you have to "lose a wheat crop four times before you harvest it," so don't give up hope. It is part of the business of growing wheat. We are off to a flying start. Incidentally, all of this moisture may be a little rough on the vegetable growers in 1958. In a diversified country like this, someone is sure to get hurt when the other fellow benefits.

SOME JOKES

A draftee was awakened by his platoon sergeant after the rookie's first night in the army barracks. "It's four-thirty," bellowed the sergeant.

"Four-thirty," gasped the rookie. "Man, you'd better go to bed. We've got a big day tomorrow!"

Bus Driver: "All right back there?"

Female Voice: "No, wait till I get my clothes on."

Three people were injured in the rush to see a girl get on the bus with her bundle of laundry.

MRS. LEO PRICE figures that the snow did a lot toward curbing the general outbreak of colds and flu — and she might just be right. Anyway, it helped last year. Seems like a good snow and a cold snap put the germs out of circulation for awhile. Sort of like putting stuff in the refrigerator to keep it from spoiling, I guess.

A lot of people are complaining because they keep putting the calf show date earlier and earlier each year. The Rotarians say it is necessary in order for the county winners to compete in the Amarillo show. They say that Amarillo keeps cooching back in order to allow their winners to compete at Ft. Worth. Anyway, if it keeps on, the calf show will be coming before Christmas. Why don't we move back up to March and let the Amarillo winners come down to Hereford, instead of going to Ft. Worth? They sure wouldn't have so far to travel.

The official quarterly bank statements appear in this issue of The Brand — and it looks like I run around with a lot of soreheads. All of this moaning and groaning, and what happens? Our bank deposits are the second largest in history for the period ending Dec. 31, 1957. They are 7 or 8 per cent under the record high 1958 statements.

I guess all of us like to complain and cry on people's shoulders but, after it's all said and done, this is a mighty fine country. Deep down in our hearts, I think most of us realize this and appreciate what we have here.

PACK LONDON and Abe Martin have been trying to tell me that they used to ride in covered wagons. Abe says his brother would mount up on a horse and go out scouting for Indians. Pack says it was just like the Wagon Train program on T-V. I don't believe either one of these guys, but I keep on thinking they just might be telling the truth. Can anyone verify their claims — or is it just some more barbershop balogna?

Ross Latham and J. P. Jones, according to all reports, are basking in the sunshine at Sugar Lake in Old Mexico. I hope the immigration officers pick them up for having too many fish but, knowing them both, this is probably wishful thinking. The only way those boys will come back with any fish would be to hire one of those Mexican guides to run their trotline — and they might do just that.

OR VIA TELEPHONE: Down in parts of Old Mexico they take one of those old crank type telephones, wire it up to a battery, and let a long line trail off the boat. The gentle electrical shock paralyzes the fish, which float to the top and are easily tossed into the boat. It seems to work best on catfish. If you don't believe it ask Pack or Abe. However, don't try it yourself! It is strictly illegal in the U. S. A. Besides, you can't run across one of those old crank telephones too often these days.

Yep, that's right folks . . . we may be country boys but we've got "city" ideas . . . and we've gone strictly modern. This is absolutely the newest innovation in the dairy business! Not only is this new system handier for the dairy men, but it is also much more convenient for the handlers . . . and, it's sanitary, too.

Remember, if it's

CREAM O' PLAINS

You can bet . . . it's the BEST!

Now the milk goes direct from the milking machine to clean, sanitized storage tanks, then to our new tank trucks and straight to the creamery!

Legion Auxiliary Studies By-Laws and Constitution

In a discussion of the national constitution and by-laws for the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Ralph Smith stated, "The department, district and unit constitution are all patterned after the national constitution and must not contradict in any way the constitution of our national organization."

The discussion by Mrs. Smith was presented to the local American Legion Auxiliary at a meeting Tuesday night in the Legion club room.

Other topics discussed that night were the 18th district constitution and by laws which was given by Mrs. Ira Ott and the unit constitution and by laws discussed by Mrs. Tom Draper.

Miss Billie Peters Becomes Bride of Ted Sumner Dec. 21

In a double ring ceremony read Saturday, Dec. 21, by the Rev. Uel D. Crosby, assistant pastor of the Folk Street Methodist Church, Miss Billie Peters, 1706 Hayden, Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Peters of San Angelo, became the bride of Ted Sumner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sumner of this city.

Vows were exchanged in the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scales, 2104 W. 20th, where decorations for the event featured arrangements of white daisies and fernery.

Mrs. Iraene Murtose sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Larry Boston, sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Scales was her sister's only attendant. She wore a red street length crystalline dress and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations. Dale Hinds served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a white velveteen waltz length gown having a fitted bodice with low rounded neckline ending in a V in the back, framed with a fold of the material. The bodice had long tapering sleeves and a flared skirt was attached to the low waistline. Her veil of illusion fell from a velvet half-hat embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried white gardenias on a prayer book.

A reception honoring the couple, was held in the Scales home immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Sumner, a graduate of Plainview High School, attended West Texas State College, Canyon, and is presently employed at Phillips Petroleum Co. Sumner is a graduate of Hereford High School and is a junior student at West Texas State College. He is employed part-time in Amarillo where the couple will make their home at 1608 Ong.

Attending the wedding from Hereford were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Boston, Charles Brown, and Jim Laddy. Also the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Houck of Delia, Kan., and an aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, Capt. and Mrs. Leroy Houck of Roswell, N. M.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Plans Valentine Dance

Plans for the annual Valentine Dance were discussed at the Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority meeting held in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank Tuesday evening. Mrs. Clyde Russell, vice-president, presided.

The dance will be held in February and the date, invitation list, orchestra and program all came in for their share in preparation for the event.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Charles Bell were in charge of the program using the study book topics "Love's Miracle in Marriage" and "Expression."

Mrs. Russell began her dissertation with the quotation from Karin Toon "Most troubles in marriage grow out of lack of consideration one for the other" and spoke briefly on "The give and take of marriage, partnership in marriage, the happy home, and pointed out how Love's miracle in marriage can contribute to greater happiness and a feeling of security for all concerned in the home."

Mrs. Bell spoke on "Your Voice and Vocabulary," stating that "Your voice and vocabulary reflect the inner you" and gave suggestions for building a good vocabulary and how to cultivate a

'Common Sense' Is Theme for Les Meres Club

Les Meres Study Club met with Mrs. Doc Carter for its first session of the new year Tuesday evening. Mrs. Larry Summers was co-hostess.

Mrs. Howard Gore and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd gave the program on "How Sensible is Common Sense."

Mrs. Gore discussed Webster's definition of common sense — sound practical judgment — and explained the difference in the term as used in the past in comparison with the present interpretation. She traced the development of the term and gave suggestions on applying its meaning in child training.

Mrs. Rudd discussed "Children Are People," taking her topic from Emily Post's book by that name. She reminded the group that "Whatever you do — encourage your children in whatever they do. Each child is an individual and should be treated as such in order for him to gain independence of action."

Members present were Mesdames Roy Boyer, Ed Brisendine, Dick Gholson, George Olson, Charles Packard, Nelson Reiger and the hostess.

Mrs. Grant Hanna Is Named President of Church Women

Mrs. Grant Hanna, as vice-president of the local United Council of Church Women, presided at the luncheon assembly meeting of the 19th District of United Church Women of Texas Thursday.

The meeting was held at the Jim Hill Hotel with delegates from seven Panhandle towns attending. Delegates included district and state officers and presidents of organized councils in the district. These councils and their presidents include Amarillo, Mrs. George T. Roysse; Canyon, Mrs. Gladys Marshall; Childress, Mrs. Frank L. Taylor; Hereford, Mrs. Herbert Boardman; Panhandle, Mrs. R. F. Surratt; Plainview, Mrs. P. L. Ferguson, and Littlefield, Mrs. Arbie Joplin.

DISTRICT OFFICERS include Mrs. Grant Hanna, vice president; and Mrs. R. T. Weills of Amarillo, secretary-treasurer. A new president was elected to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. George Hill of Canyon, deceased. Mrs. Grant Hanna was named to fill the vacancy, and Mrs. R. F. Surratt of Panhandle was chosen as vice president.

Members of the nominating committee were Mesdames Arbie Joplin of Littlefield, chairman, Mrs. Pete Cowart of Canyon and Mrs. Ronald Babione of Hereford.

Plans were discussed for the Twenty Fourth Annual Assembly of the United Church Women of Texas to be held in Amarillo on Feb. 25-27. Outstanding speakers will include such international workers as Mrs. Esther Hymmer, director of Christian World Relations, and an expert on the U.N., Rosa Paige Welch, well-known singer and speaker, and Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Fort Worth, and world traveler and speaker.

PURPOSE OF COUNCIL is to unite church women in a program of fellowship, worship, study, action and giving, for the bringing about of a world Christian community. There are councils of church women in every state and in approximately 2,000 communities. The support of the work of the local and state councils, as well as the national organization, comes from three major sources.

First are the offerings from three special days: World Day of Prayer, (First Friday in Lent), May Fellowship Day (First Friday in May) and World Community Day (First Friday in November) all of which are observed here. Second the support in part of the state budget and third, the annual fellowship fund.

Five Hereford Churches make up the local council with members of women's organizations of those churches assuming active participation. Included are First Methodist, Wesley Methodist, First Presbyterian, St. Thomas Episcopal and The First Christian Church. Churches supply officers on a rotation basis. Officers for 1958 include Mrs. Herbert Boardman, president; Mrs. Jim Loving, first vice president; Mrs. Floyd Dumivant, second vice president; Mrs. Clyde Coconougher, secretary and Mrs. Curtis Traweek, treasurer.

These officers work with the Day Center executive board which includes A. Petersen, Bill Brady and Mesdames Alton Fraser, Paul Hoff and Frank Smith.

The local group was organized in 1938 with Mrs. H. M. Redford as its first president. Several projects have been undertaken and in 1954 the Hereford Latin-American Day Center was started under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Alexander, working with the state project of migrant ministry.

Since the Day Center was not included in the recent United Fund Drive, special contributions will be needed to carry on the work during the coming summer.

District 19 will participate in a memorial gift to the United Council of Women of Texas in memory of the late Mrs. George Hill of Canyon, immediate past president of the district.

District delegates to the Eighth National Assembly of the United Church Women of Texas to be held in Denver, Colo., Oct. 27-30, will be Mrs. Grant Hanna and Mrs. R. F. Surratt, alternate.

Premature Babies Now Have Good Life Chance

By DOBOTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

About one baby in every 15 is born before the end of the usual nine months of pregnancy. If the baby weighs less than 5½ pounds at birth he is at birth the premature. The smaller he is at birth the harder time he has being able to live in the big outside world. Time was when a great many premature babies died, but nowadays we know so much more about how to care for these tiny bits of humanity that a large percentage of them grow up to be healthy robust normal people.

The bigger a premature baby is at birth the better are his chances of survival. A baby who weighs less than one pound can seldom be saved, but a child over 2 or 3 pounds has a good fighting chance. Imagine a whole human being, weighing as little as 3 pounds. You could hold him in one hand and his upper arm might not be bigger around than your thumb, and yet this handful of baby is a complete human being capable of growing into a 6-foot man.

When a baby is born too early he is thrust out into the world before he is quite ready for this experience. If he is to survive we must provide a place for him to live that is as nearly like his mother's womb as possible. The place must be warm, much warmer than our usual living quarters because his little body cannot generate much heat. It must be moist because moist air is easier for the baby to breathe. And the place for this child must be completely free from germs because a premature baby has little or no ability to cope with even the ordinary germs we adults all live with.

Such a place is a modern incubator.

It is a glass enclosed box with temperature and humidity controls. In it the baby lives with no clothing except a diaper. Two holes in the side permit the nurses' well scrubbed and gloved hands to enter and care for the baby.

The first couple of days are usually the most crucial for the baby; if he can survive them his chances of growing up are good. During this time he is watched very carefully by doctor and nurse. If mucus accumulates in his nose and throat it is gently suctioned out by a special apparatus inside the incubator. If he has trouble breathing a small amount of oxygen is blown through the incubator. It has been discovered that too much oxygen is dangerous to the baby's eyes so the amount must be kept to the barest minimum.

For the first 24 hours and often 48 hours the baby needs no food, his job is to get his breathing going well. When food is started a teaspoonful of sterile water is given with an eye dropper while the baby lies undisturbed in his incubator. Later on small amounts of a milk mixture will be given in the same way. If the baby is too small or too weak to suck, the food and water will be put directly into his stomach with a tube. Slowly the baby gains strength, his breathing becomes regular and he is able to suck from a nipple. Eventually he will graduate from his enclosed incubator to an open heated crib and finally to a regular crib. He is usually kept in the hospital until he has reached at least 5 pounds in weight, then he goes home to be treated like any ordinary baby.

Caring for a premature baby takes skill, knowledge and equipment which is to be found in most of our modern hospitals of today.

Rules on Raising Delinquents Are Listed by Sheriff

HOUSTON (AP)—Juvenile officers at the Harris County sheriff's department have a memo they give the parents of wayward youngsters who come to their office.

The memo is entitled "Twelve Rules for Parents in Raising Juvenile Delinquents." It's almost guaranteed to turn children into criminals.

The rules are:

"1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up believing the world owes him a living.

"2. When he picks up 'bad' words or 'dirty words,' laugh at him. That will make him think he is cute. He will run off and pick up some other words that will blow the top off your head.

"3. Never give him any spiritual training until he is 21 and then let him decide for himself. By the same logic never teach him the English language. Maybe when he is old enough he may want to speak Bantu.

"4. Praise him in his presence of all the neighbors; show how much smarter he is than the neighbor's children.

"5. Avoid the use of the word 'wrong.' It may develop in the child a 'guilt complex.' This will prepare him to believe that when he is punished later on for stealing cars and assaulting women, society is 'against him' and that he is being persecuted.

"6. Pick up everything after him: His shoes, his books, his clothes. Do everything for him, so that he will be experienced in throwing the burdens on others.

"7. Let him read anything he wants. Have no concern whatever for what goes into his mind. Provide him with lily cups for his lips but let his brain drink out of any dirty container for words and ideas.

"8. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will be prepared for broken homes later on.

"9. Give him all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own.

"10. Satisfy every craving of the child for food, drinks, and everything that has to do with the sense of taste and touch, gratifying every sensual desire.

"11. Take his part against policemen, teachers, and neighbors. They are all 'prejudiced' against your child.

GOOD CATCH

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—M. S. "Tiny" Moynihan, a 24-year-old mail carrier, is quite a hero to folks around here, but he takes the incident as just one of those things which happen to a mailman.

Donna Kelly, 4, trying to retrieve some toys, slipped and neighbors watched in terror as she clung by one hand to the outside of a second-floor window sill. Moynihan, a former high school athlete and assistant to the athletic director of the recreation bureau, rushed up and persuaded the child to drop. He made a perfect catch.

"12. When he gets into real trouble, always defend yourself and say, 'I never could do anything with him.'"

Industry To Be WTCC Subject

ABILENE — A five-point program on how to obtain new industries is expected to attract a crowd of more than 200 West Texans to Abilene Jan. 23 for the fifth annual West Texas Industrial Development Conference.

E. L. Buelow of Abilene, chairman of the industrial development committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the conference, said the conference program will provide members of local chamber of commerce industrial committees with a better working knowledge of the procedures involved in obtaining new industries.

Included on the program will be discussions on industrial foundations, garment industries, mineral resources, processing agricultural products and a study of West Texas in the era of missiles and satellites.

Buelow said the organization and use of industrial foundations will be discussed by John W. Tippitt, assistant research economist of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station. Tippitt is author of "The Organization and Operation of Industrial Foundations in Texas."

West Texas mineral resources, known locations of mineral deposits and their commercial uses and how to launch exploration for others will be discussed.

Labor Contract Fees Increased

LUBBOCK — The U. S. Labor Department today announced that the fees charged agricultural employers of Mexican farm workers entering the United States under the Migrant Labor Pact with Mexico have been increased, effective Jan. 1, 1958, to $10 per worker for contracting and $5 per worker for recontracting. The present fee for contracting workers is $7 and that for recontracting is $4.

Dempsey L. King, District Supervisor for the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security here, said the increases, announced in Washington, had just been relayed to him by Regional Director Ed McDonald in Dallas.

The Labor Department said the increases were ordered to bring fee collections more closely in line with actual transportation and subsistence costs incurred by the United States in bringing in Mexican nationals and making them available to employers.

The contracting fee is collected at the time when employers contract for workers at the Farm Placement Service reception centers maintained along the Mexican border by the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security. No fees are charged employers for extension of work contracts beyond the original contract date. However, if the Mexican workers are recontracted to another employer, the new employer is charged a contracting fee.

Black Crow Is Tough To Hunt

WACO — Not many game birds are a tougher opponent than the old black crow.

This smart, sassy old bandit can hold his own with the sharpest of hunters, and he can drive the beginner to frustration in a hurry.

You just don't go out and start cracking down on crows with shotguns and pile 'em up in a hurry.

Crows don't play that way. They manage, nearly always, to stay just out of gun range.

Texas' most noted crow killer is a Pennsylvanian.

He's Sgt. Harry Johnson, stationed at James Connally Air Force Base. Johnson's the state champion at knocking off crows.

A three-month contest for the honor is sponsored each year by the Texas Wild Animal Callers Assn., and this year Johnson won it in a walk. He shot off the squawking of 230 crows, while his closest competitor downed only 80.

During the contest, the airman established a new record for the annual event. The previous high was set in 1956 by Roy Hutchins. Last year Hutchins killed 218 and Johnson was second with 198.

How does he do it? Harry uses a commercial crow call and says his best results at getting the birds within shooting distance come when he creates a sound like a sick crow, or like a crow excited about seeing an owl.

This fools other crows into circling over his blind to investigate. That's when Johnson shotguns them.

Biggest crow killing day Harry ever had netted him 48 birds; but he says the fastest action he had came last year when he collected 40 in 15 minutes of shooting.

That was near Abbott, in Hill County, and Johnson says "they dropped as fast as I could reload."

Johnson uses a double-barrel 12 gauge shotgun, with No. 7 1/2, 8, or 9 shot.

The champ's success didn't come overnight. The slender hunter is now 30, and he started this business, seriously, back in Pennsylvania when he was 13.

It takes about that long to learn how to fool crows.

Shall We Do It Now—Or Later?

Public To Decide Tuesday On School Expansion Plans

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Jan. 14, to cast their first ballot in 1958. The issue will center around a proposed $639,000 school bond election.

The public seems well informed on the subject. The school proposal has been reviewed and outlined in detail and, in several instances, opposition viewpoints have been publicized. All of which leaves the question squarely up to the voters of the school district. In a democracy, this is an ideal situation.

The Brand, after careful study and with some reservation, has endorsed the bond issue, chiefly basing its conclusion on the fact that the community has in the past turned down several school bond issues—only to come back and approve them when the school district got crowded into local churches. In addition, we have found that the Board of Trustees based their recommendations on information gained through local advisory committees and professional consultants, along with actual experience in the district. They could be wrong, but they are definitely interested, sincere and conscientious in presenting what they think the district needs.

The Brand does not endorse unnecessary spending—or needless frills; on the other hand, it is well to remember that conditions are constantly changing. Twenty-five years ago Hereford had many windmills and numerous outdoor toilets, neither of which are seen here today. It is only natural that our school needs would change down through the years, just as our home and store building needs have altered.

Most people, we feel, definitely favor good schools in the community. If they have carefully considered and studied the school situation and, if they find it lacking or too expensive, they certainly should vote their feelings on the subject. Such is the process of democracy. If everyone agreed, there would be no use to hold elections at all.

Local Smash - Ups Cost Drivers Plenty

"If an armed bandit was taking $40,000 each year out of Hereford, the people would be out with a posse!"

These words, spoken by Hereford's police chief, strike near to the heart of a situation which could easily put the nation's psychologists to pulling their hair out in ribbons. It highly is similar to World War II statistics which showed more Americans killed on our highways than on the battlefields of war.

As a nation, we become quite excited over violent death, robbery and missiles, but we have come to accept highway deaths and property damage as a necessary evil. Why? A man who dies from a highway accident is just as dead as the man who dies from gunshot wounds. The people who pay out $40,000 annually on automobile repairs and collision insurance, pay out the same cold cash as the fellow who sees a bandit remove $40,000 from his till.

We shrug off safety campaigns, fail to encourage our children to take driver education courses, and are frequently downright careless; we speed, even when we are not in a hurry. Many people who would not think of shooting dice, daily take much greater gambles on their lives and their money each time they get behind the steering wheel.

Conservative people throw caution to the four winds, while a reckless individual often becomes a maniac. Many of us react in a manner entirely foreign to our nature when we start driving an automobile.

Why? We don't know. The officers don't know and, as we said, the psychologists turn their faces in the other direction. Unquestionably the problem is one of mental attitude, and the person who figures out a practical answer will have done our nation a far greater service than the contributions of Thomas A. Edison, Robert Fulton, Eli Whitney and Henry Ford—all combined.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Carmichaels Recall Wagon Trip, Dugout

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles, known as The Golden Years, about Hereford couples who have been married more than 50 years. Mrs. R. L. Criswell is the author of these stories.)

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Sixty-four years — does that seem a long time? Well, not to Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carmichael of 209 Ave. I. They have been married that long.

"She was the prettiest thing I ever laid my eyes on," says Mr. Carmichael.

"The first time I ever saw her she was picking cotton. A friend of mine, always a great tease, told me of the pretty girls that were picking cotton for a neighbor, then added it would be no use for me to go over. He said the girls were claimed, and named other young men that were already courting the girls. They are big men, too, he said, but I told him I wasn't worried about their size, so I went over to pick cotton just to get a look at the girls. I lost my heart right there; I knew she was the girl for me but what worried me was whether she knew I was for her or not. It worked out fine. We had to do our courting at her house as her mother would not let her go out with me; in fact there was so much bustling about I hated to go to see her for fear there would be a fuss or something and I was never a hand to quarrel with anyone, but I sure knew I wanted that girl and I made plans to win her.

"She had been ill and I had not seen her for several weeks. I had a marriage license in my pocket and was on the way to her house to ask her father if we could be married. I did not know if he would say yes or chase me off the place. I went by a friend's house for supper and told them to keep the coffee hot as I might need it if I had to run that distance after asking for her hand in marriage. If she had had any sense she would have turned me down. Mrs. Carmichael said nothing but smiled to herself. Our life hasn't been a bed of roses but it has been a good life.

"We were married in Johnson County Jan. 7, 1894, on a Sunday, moved into my bachelors shack on Monday morning and I went to work that afternoon. That was our honeymoon. It seemed mighty nice to have some one at the house that would have my meals ready and a smile for me when I came in from work. We made three crops there and moved to Brazoria and I farmed and worked out to earn enough money to buy food and other necessities for my family. We decided to go to Oklahoma and file on some land for a home. Eight children were born to us over the years and we now have 28 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

"WE MADE THE trip in a covered wagon. We could not say just how long it took us to make the trip as we stopped over on the way and visited folk and friends in different places. It rained on us most of the way. We crossed only five bridges in that distance and waded the Big Red which was running and we had to be very careful because of the quicksand." (Look at the map; Brazoria to Delhi, Okla.)

Sometimes it was rather frightening, but Mrs. Carmichael never lost faith in her husband to get them through. When they arrived, Mr. Carmichael sold his rifle for five dollars to get enough money to file on the land.

"That was the one time in my life that I needed a gun and it was worth $25 but I took five so I could legally file on my claim," he said.

Carmichael's sister had also filed on 160 acres and besides a small house it had a 20 by 20 half-dugout on it. It was covered with brush and loose soil for a roof. They learned that the rains would wash the loose soil down through the brush and practically drowned before they hauled a certain type of gyp clay and spread this over the brush and soil, etc. When it rained on this it hardened and formed a sort of stucco that was water proof.

"But," added Mrs. Carmichael, "it was my job to go out and refill all the mice holes so the dugout would not fill with water again. The mice dug through the clay during the dry weather. When it began to rain the gyp clay would sizzle and bubble as slaked lime does when water is poured on it; then it would again harden into a waterproof roof."

THE STOVE WAS an old one sitting on top of a box of dirt; the dirt being the grate on which the fire was made. The table was two planks nailed on two posts that held or supported the roof. Mrs. Carmichael is a wonderful cook and says she always enjoyed cooking, even over a campfire. Her only regret is that she did not save some of her cooking utensils, just to look at now and to remember the old days.

Mrs. Carmichael rode horseback into town to buy what few groceries they needed.

"I rode sidesaddle, as I thought I would be disgraced if I rode any other way, but I wouldn't do it again, I would ride astride with aplomb and if it was a disgrace it would be just too bad," she said.

They had to haul water from Haystack Creek, about three miles away for all their use.

"Wore out a team and wagon," said Mrs. Carmichael, "before we learned that we had water, not too deep, almost in our backyard."

THERE HAD BEEN a light shower that left a few puddles around and Mrs. Carmichael pulled the coals together closely and warned the little girls not to play with or disturb the fire. She had gone a ways from the home to dip as much water as possible without getting the dresses, when she heard a little girl scream. Little girls' dresses were made longer then and very full.

She had stooped to pull the coals together as she had seen her mother do and her dress dragged in to them, setting it on fire. Of course she ran. Her sister tried to pull her into a pool of water but

C-C Banquet Again Records 'Sell Out'

Creating considerable envy and, at the same time, providing quite a puzzle for neighboring cities, reports this week indicated that Hereford's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet is once again a complete sell out.

The Hereford banquet probably records the greatest per capita attendance in the United States and each year actually out-draws much larger cities, including Amarillo, Wichita Falls and other towns 10 times the size of Hereford. While C-C leaders and directors are exceedingly happy over the situation they, like neighboring communities, are pretty well at a loss to thoroughly explain the condition. And, to complicate things, crowds throng the annual banquet without seeming to care a lot as concerns the program.

After observing the condition for more than 20 years, it seems to us rather a point of view. Back in the dim, distant past, people started going to the annual banquet—and they have consistently kept right on going. This has happened in church basements, in store buildings, in hotel ballrooms and, currently, it is happening each year in the new high school gymnasium. To many people, the annual C-C banquet is Hereford's outstanding social event of the year. Today, it is also an entertainment and food bargain, featuring exceptionally fine food, along with some of the nation's best speakers and performers.

As the years passed by newcomers have joined the old timers in keeping the banquet on a high attendance level. Many people have moved to Hereford who never before considered attending similar banquets in their hometowns and, almost before they realize it, these same people are in line applying for tickets at $3 a throw.

We still think the situation results from a standpoint of outlook or, if you please, a matter of presentation. Then, again, it may be something which started and continues to snowball from year to year. Most important, though, is not why the situation exists, but the fact that it continues to grow from year to year. We cannot think of a better condition for a Chamber of Commerce—or for the community which it serves. So long as the condition continues, it is safe to predict that Hereford will continue to grow and prosper.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Offer Reasons To Bring a Junior College Here

Junior colleges are flourishing across the nation. What reasons could you offer for locating one in Hereford?

MAE GRIMES—We could keep our young folks closer to home and, of course, it would bring more people into our community if we had a junior college.

M. G. DUVALL—As close as it is for the kids it wouldn't be so expensive for them to go to school and the students get better acquainted with the teachers in a junior college than they do in a senior college.

MRS. M. L. HEAVIN JR.—Well, I just think we should keep our children here for education. There aren't very many colleges close by, except Canyon, and several of the students can't afford to go off. I just think it would be a good thing.

ROY PEET—Well, we have so many students that would like to go to college their first two years at home and then go elsewhere for the rest of their training. I think it would be a good idea and it would cut down on expense for the parents.

MRS. CLINT LUNDY—I think it would give those who can't go to college the opportunity to do so. There are a few of our students who can't go away to college, but who could go if we had one located here.

STEVE CLEMENTS—I'm afraid I couldn't offer very good reasons because if I were a student going to college I would want to get as far away from home as I could.

MRS. JOHN McCUTCHEN—I notice in the paper that we have a lot of students graduating each year and I think it would be nice to have a college here. I think that it would be a better opportunity for students who can't afford to go off to college.

GEORGE JONES—I think it would be beneficial to the town and to the community, providing it would be self supporting. It offers students a chance to go to colleges who couldn't go otherwise. I think that anyway we can offer higher education, without high expense, it would be beneficial and we should feel obligated to do so.

UNLICENSED BIKES PROHIBITED

Although only a small portion of the bicycle riders of Dumas had their vehicles inspected and licensed by Saturday, the law still stands and unlicensed vehicles are now prohibited on the city streets. The inspection, which started Thursday morning, lasted three days and by 10 a.m. yesterday morning, only 66 bikes had passed through the inspection line in the fire station. The new bike law, City Ordinance 423, covers the licensing of the two-wheel vehicles on public streets. Only riders six years and above are allowed to ride on streets. The younger ones are restricted to sidewalks. —MOORE COUNTY NEWS.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS BUYS LEASE

El Paso Natural Gas Company dominates the gas picture of the Panhandle this week with the purchase of valuable lease properties in the north part of Collingsworth County at a price believed to be above a million dollars, and with the announcement it is seeking to build a compressor plant and a dehydrating plant, also in north Collingsworth. The property is known to contain a number of completed gas wells, and the Sidwells have been delivering gas to the United Carbon Company plant east of Shamrock.—WELLINGTON LEADER.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm takes a look at 1958, but he can't seem to see any better than a lot of others.

Dear editor:

The new year is already well underway, I know, but I've just now gotten around to a stack of newspapers I'd been saving the last few days and have now checked over the predictions by the experts for 1958.

First, take the economic outlook.

According to them, the economic situation is going to be both good and bad, first we're going to have a dip, then a climb, or it may be the other way around—either the first half of the year will be better than the last half, or the last half better than the first.

What this means to me is that I'll probably be trying to climb when everything is dipping and dipping when everything is climbing. I've never found an expert yet who could tell me when the economic picture is going to change, although they all are pretty good at finding out what took place after it's already happened, which is something I've been doing on my own for years. I've never had to read a newspaper to find out whether times were good or bad out here on this farm. There are some things a man ought to know without being told.

Or take the international situation.

Some of the experts say the situation is fraught with uncertainty, but I don't agree with this. The foreign situation is fraught with certainty. It's going to be bad, like it always is.

For example, Washington leaders expressed the New Year's hope that the new year will bring "a better understanding between the Russian and American people."

I don't know about the Russians, but you can't get a better understanding than we've already got of them. We understand the Russians thoroughly, and on that basis we're working night and day on our defenses. Our understanding of the Russians is like a pioneer's understanding of the Indians. He didn't know what they were up to, but he knew it wasn't good for him.

On the farm front, the experts are a little vague, they can't make up their minds what's going to happen, but I have a pretty good idea. The farm situation in 1958 will be about like it was in 1957, which was about like it was in 1956, etc. It never is as bad as it could be or as good as it ought to be. However, since nothing else is either, I intend to take my chances right here without worrying. There's no use in me and Congress both worrying about it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It was cold and the little one ran to her mother, some distance away. Mrs. Carmichael rolled her on the ground and screamed as loud as she could, but thought no one had heard. Some men clearing land heard her and came to help. A cowboy came by and went for Mr. Carmichael, some miles away and loaned him his horse to get home on.

"We did what we could, poured refined lard over her burns but it was too much for her," she died the next morning," he said.

"We raised our chickens practically in the dugout, or the coyotes would get them before they were large enough to eat, and snakes? Rattlesnakes. We hadn't a door, so the dog was taught to watch it. This was a constant job, especially in the fall when the snakes were holed up for the winter when they were hard to keep out. Mrs. Carmichael was making the bed one morning when she heard one sing; she could not tell just where it was, so she shook the spread until she could tell where it was located and I made short work of that one with a crowbar. One afternoon the dog barked and Mrs. Carmichael went to see what he had found and threw rocks at the rattler to scare him away from the door. Later I borrowed a 22 rifle from a neighbor to kill them as they tried to come in for the winter for we had lived there for five years; fighting off the cattle from the crops," he said.

Mrs. Carmichael says she developed her lungs as her husband told her he could hear her yell for miles.

THEY VISITED Hereford and fell in love with the rolling plains, the climate and most of all, the water. Although there were only a few houses in the little village of Hereford it was a very pretty place to their eyes, which were accustomed to the sandhills of Oklahoma. They moved to Hereford in 1925, to the farm which they still own.

Carmichael, always a lover of fine horses and very proud of his family, says he loved to get in the surrey behind a beautiful team of horses and drive his family to church and to other places. They are still in love with Hereford, the little village that has grown into a little city and still continues to progress as the years go by.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael, 87 and 81 respectively, do not get around much but are always glad to have visitors to talk with and thank God that they have health to enjoy life since they have long passed their allotted three score and ten.

At The Movies

STAR THEATER

James Dean Story, Dino: Double Feature. Booked for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

James Dean Story: This is the real life story of the most talked about star of our time. The film begins on the day James Dean died and then to answer the questions of his life, the camera moves back through time to different phases of his life.

Dino: An effective portrayal of Sal Mineo in the title role, gives this picture enough entertainment to satisfy those interested in problem stories. Filled with hate and violence, a youth becomes involved in the murder of an old man during a warehouse robbery and is sentenced to reform school.

Tip On A Dead Jockey: A first-rate action melodrama, laid in present day Madrid, this has two strong names, Robert Taylor and Dorothy Malone, who are certain to be entertaining, as well as the story's unusual plot. Based on a New Yorker magazine story by Irwin Shaw, it is intrigued with suspense, romantic moments and pleasing comedy touches.

OUR NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION
Happy New Year... in case I didn't get to wish you one in person. Here's hoping 1958 will be the best, most prosperous year ever for you and your family.

Lots of folks like to take the beginning of the year to make some resolutions for the future and I have one to offer during this first week of 1958. Mr. E. M. Clark, our president, wrote it to explain the policies and objectives we try to follow in furnishing your telephone service and I thought it would make an appropriate New Year's resolution for us to make and dedicate to our customers.

WE DEFINE OUR OBJECTIVES
"OUR OBJECTIVE is to furnish the best possible telephone service of reasonable cost—a cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees.

"SERVICE ranks above everything else in this policy. And the only good service is one that is continually improving. To furnish this service we need the best people, the best equipment, the best methods, and the best management we can develop.

"REASONABLE COST has been defined as one that produces an ever-growing public demand. Our equipment, training, and methods net us nothing if the cost of service became so high that people would not buy it.

"FINANCIAL SAFETY should not be endangered by setting the price of service too low. In the long run, a price that provides profit large enough to undertake new research and developments results in better cheaper service to the public.

"FAIR TREATMENT OF EMPLOYEES means good pay, good working conditions, reasonable job security, and opportunity for advancement based on merit. It is people—employees—who are the most important element in the success of any business.

WE ACCEPT THESE RESPONSIBILITIES
TO THE EMPLOYEES: Provide machines, methods, equipment, direction, leadership, job training, incentives to progress, selection for promotion.
TO THE PUBLIC: More and better service at a reasonable cost. Contributions to public welfare and national defense.
TO THE OWNERS: Run business in a sound, profitable manner.

LOOKING AHEAD
"PROGRESS has long been the keynote of the telephone business. And, if business forecasters are anywhere near correct the next 20 year will bring more growth and development than we have ever seen before.

"THE FUTURE can be faced confidently with a policy of equal consideration for owners, employees, and the public."

There you have it. We do our best every day to live up to this resolution and we hope you feel we're succeeding in our efforts to give you the best in telephone service.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Brass Respect George Mahon

By TEX EARLEY
Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock, chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, was deep in work here days before the new session convened.

Arriving in town on Saturday after Christmas, he found the top brass at the Pentagon waiting to get in touch with him. They wanted to show him the military budget.

They came to the Capitol to see him and therein lies an indication of the respect the highest military brass in the nation hold for this outspoken, amiable Texan.

THE RESPECT stems first from the fact he holds the purse strings. When one watches the brass behind the closed-door conference rooms where they have huddled with Mahon, there can be little doubt that they also respect him for his vast knowledge of military matters.

Since 1946 the legislator has served on the subcommittee which initially must pass upon the military money request. He was one of the few entrusted with the atomic bomb secret long before the first was exploded.

Commenting on world affairs, he said: "We can not settle world problems through an armament race. The best we can do is keep up our guard while we rely on other means toward reaching agreements with the U.S.S.R. Good will and better understanding are the only hope of the world."

THEN, OBSERVING that "we ought to try to keep this thing in proper focus," he added: "we are in greater peril this year than we were last year. We will be more vulnerable next year than we are this year. This applies to the U.S.S.R. as well as it does to the United States because of the advance in weapons."

"I think our present strength is probably a sufficient deterrent at this time. If attacked we can launch a devastating counter-offensive which would destroy Soviet Russia. Of course, we, too, would be badly hurt. It is important that we move rapidly in the field of ballistic missile development and production in order to prevent being placed in an untenable position militarily in the next two or three years."

Another West Texas congressman, Frank Icard of Wichita Falls, is on the committee which has the responsibility for finding the money for defense expenditures.

As the sole Texan on the House Ways and Means Committee, Icard, too, was on hand days before the new session got under way helping arrange for the first general hearings on tax legislation to be conducted by the group since 1953.

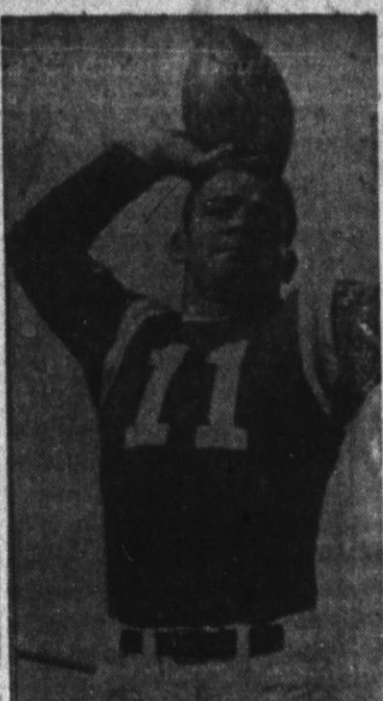

Morgan Is Name Power-Use Advisor

The new power-use advisor for Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op is Sam Morgan, who moved to Hereford from Bonham Dec. 28.

Morgan was manager of the Fannin County Electric Co-op at Bonham for two and a half years. Prior to Bonham, he was power-use advisor for the Roby Midwest Electric Co.

Replacing Ted Ford, Morgan said his main duties here will be advising the Co-op members on proper wiring and working with civic clubs on agriculture electrical use.

The Morgans are now living at 416 Ave. I.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson was scheduled to appear briefly as the opening witness at the hearings, which will continue at least through February.

Other Texans so far scheduled to appear during the open hearings include A. L. Reed and George Freeman, both of Dallas, when taxation of the cooperatives is considered; Nell Bourque, Fort Worth, in regard to depletion allowances on clay and brick manufacture; W. W. Walker, Wichita Falls, on small business problems; Harold W. Wren, Dallas when corporation taxes are discussed; and Herbert B. Story, Wichita Falls accountant, regarding taxes on partnerships.

Although several Texas oil and gas industry leaders have reserved the right to appear at the hearings, it is doubtful that they will testify in the light of unflattering reports from White House circles that the Administration will not ask any change in the present 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance permitted on income from petroleum.

Today the National Park System administers 182 parks, monuments and other historic sites in the United States.

Police Give Long Range Help on Emergency Trip

Notified of his father's being critically injured in an accident near Wichita Falls, Lee Meek of Hereford asked the City Police about a "green light" for his drive to the hospital there.

His father, S. M. Meek, 72, was run down by a 15-foot one-way plow and is still in critical condition in a Wichita Falls hospital. He suffered multiple breaks of the pelvis and legs and has not yet recovered from a coma induced by loss of blood.

"I'm sure grateful for the courtesy shown by our local police, the Highway Patrol and other law enforcement officials," he told The Brand this week. Courtesy and cooperation he received along the highway included a police escort through Vernon, Meek said.

Cotton Growers, Mahon and USDA Work on Loan

LUBBOCK — W. O. Fortenberry, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., announced this week that his organization is working with Rep. George Mahon and U. S. Department of Agriculture officials on the wasty and barmy cotton situation as it exists this year on the Plains.

this situation, the PCC is asking the Commodity Credit Corporation to allow wasty and barmy cotton to be allowed to enter the government cotton loan.

"This cotton would enter the loan at a discount of around 200 to 300 points below the established loan value. For example, low middling spotted cotton of 7/8 inch staple has a loan value of 18.83 cents. If this bale was classed wasty, it would go in the loan say at 300 points off the loan price, or at 15.83 cents," Fortenberry explained.

The CCC would catalogue this cotton separately for future sales and clearly identify it to the trade, he added.

It has been estimated there are more than 100,000 bales of wasty

'Vanessa' Opens at The Met This Week

By W. G. ROGERS Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK — Next Wednesday night for the first time in 20 years the Metropolitan Opera will stage a full-length American opera, "Vanessa," by Samuel Barber, with libretto by Gian-Carlo Menotti.

Dimitri Mitropoulos, who will conduct, gave me this forecast: "I'm sure it will be the first successful American opera."

In a way that isn't saying much because, box-office-wise at the Met, American opera has come at the bottom of the list, or even a little below that.

First American opera which the Met ventured to produce was "The Pipe of Desire," by Frederick S. Converse, a one-acter that enjoyed two and only two performances in 1910.

Barber's is the 20th. Of this number, only eight have been full-length. Deems Taylor's "Peter Ibbetson," premiered in 1931, led with 16 performances in four seasons, and runner-up, again by Taylor, was "The King's Henchman," 1927, with 14 performances. In third place was Louis Gruenberg's "The Emperor Jones," 1933, with nine, and then Charles Wakefield Cadman's "Shanewis," 1918, with eight. Most of them had two to four performances and then were lost somewhere; the public preferred the Italian style, or the German, and the Met preferred to satisfy the public.

IT HAS BEEN 11 years since America's Met offered anything American, and that was a one-acter which had two performances. Now we are promised a much brighter prospect. Mitropoulos exulted: "Vanessa" is highly dramatic, and very melodic, with wonderful duets and solos and a masterpiece of a quintet at the end.

"Also what is magnificent a-and barmy cotton on the Plains this year and since such cotton is ineligible for the government loan, and there is very little or no immediate market for such cotton, it is working a hardship on many farmers, he explained.

In addition to Mahon, other representatives including Rep. Walter Rogers of Tampa, Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough are being acquainted with the situation.

PAIR WITH COURAGE—Gian-Carlo Menotti, left, and Samuel Barber, right, compare notes during rehearsals of "Vanessa," the first full length American opera to reach the Met stage in 20 years. Barber is the composer, Menotti did the libretto.

but it is the sense of economy of time, the sense of the theater kind of time that so few writers have known except Verdi and Puccini, but that both Barber and Menotti know very well. They are America's two best theatre-minded writers."

"What's more, I know what the public likes and I know the public will like this," Mitropoulos continued. "It doesn't want things too highly elaborated, or too intellectual, it wants operative things straight and clear."

"Barber has not only a great musical talent but also a fine practical talent. He has understood an essential secret, that when you make a work too difficult you foil your own purpose."

"This is Barber writing out of his own wide experience, this is the same Barber, not a new one, but mature."

What does Barber have to say? He comes honestly by his commitment to a career in music, for he is the nephew of Louise Homer, and in fact he once studied voice. That stood him in good stead, he remembers, when it came time to demonstrate his completed opus to Met manager Rudolf Bing. Bing's artistic director Max Rudolf and assorted other persons Barber sat at the piano at his publisher's and sang — it's a two-hour work — for soprano, tenor and the rest. It worked, and the Met accepted "Vanessa" in 1956.

Barber said he had always been looking for a libretto. "I talked to Dylan Thomas, but the war interfered. I talked to James Agee, and to Thornton Wilder. Then Menotti volunteered to write one."

"Menotti and I have been friends forever. We were fellow students at the Curtis Institute.

"He began in 1954, and did the first scene up to the time when, after the ladies young and old have discussed the long absent lover, Anatol appears in their doorway.

"But that was as far as Menotti could get, for he was rehearsing "The Saint of Bleeker Street," and all fall and winter we had to leave that hapless tenor standing in that drafty doorway."

"But isn't that bad for a composer? Just as hard as on the tenor. Barber said. But he finally got the complete book, and had all his orchestration done more than a year ago."

"I have used the full resources of the modern orchestral technique, and at the same time I have on occasion let the voices predominate. There is something Chekhovian about Menotti's characters, and that interested me greatly."

When did he first compose? At 7. When did he do his first opera? At 9, to a libretto furnished by the family cook. Where did he get that flossy name Vanessa? Out of a book entitled "How to Name your Child."

Cecil Beaton is doing the sets. Sena Jurinac, slated for the title role, dropped out because of illness, and Eleanor Steber stepped in to the difficult part just in time for the start of extended rehearsals in mid-December. Nicolai Gedda will be Anatol. Others are Rosalind Elias, Regina Resnik and Giorgio Tozzi.

"WORKING" HIS WAY UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Q. David Bowers, a sophomore at Pennsylvania State University, is financing his college education through his hobby, coin collection. Bowers, 19, the son of a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., consulting engineer, is a professional dealer in coins. He has his own collection, which he keeps in bank vaults. Bowers declines to estimate its value. Recently he paid $4,750 for a rare 10-cent piece minted in San Francisco in 1894. He said he has declined an offer of $6,000 for it.
