

Splinters

Experience is the name everyone gives to his mistakes.—Oscar Wilde.

Splinters was sitting on the curb on the east side of the public square last evening mulling over the problem of how to prepare a balanced ration for the cat as well as himself (all the folks are gone on a summer vacation) when he heard quite an expression of exuberance. This cheerful sound emanated from the throat of one of Benjamin's dusker citizens and was echoed by another. Glancing up to see the cause as well to observe the effect, Splinters discovered that a truckload of water melons had arrived in town, the first of the season.

"Now we kin have Juneteenth right," was the first shout and it was answered, "We sho kin."

Splinters believed the food problem solved until he thought of the cat. The cat don't like melons.

Anita Colby of the movies says "A newspaperman may make you mad but he'll never bore you" in discussing the kind of men she liked to date. She was speaking of dates, not reading a column.

The Republicans wrote a platform and nominated Alf Landon yesterday. It took much like a Republican. It looked more like an advertisement for the New Deal.

How can we call it something else in which the word "Constitution" will be emphasized for saving this great document will be their watchword.

Liberal Senator Borah who voted for a great many of the New Deal measures, had a big hand in writing the platform which is by far the most liberal of any that ever bore the Republican trademark. The committee tossed out his drastic monopoly plank and the Liberty League boys should show their gratitude by further loosening their purse strings if they've got any gratitude.

Other planks include provisions for relief, public building programs with the states footing a greater part of the expense, old age pensions, giving labor the right of collective bargaining, and the abolishment of child labor and sweatshops.

In short they want to do everything the New Deal advocates but they want the Republicans to do it.

I am glad that both major parties are becoming more liberal. Conditions today are such that party policies of the past are inadequate to cope with them. I think that America's problems will be solved by liberal minded men who have the courage to face the present and are not so hidebound by tradition of the past that they dare not meet new issues with new methods.

School Children To Sing In Centennial Chorus

By car, school bus, and airplane, Texas children will arrive in Dallas, Texas Centennial headquarters, on Saturday June 13 for the purpose of singing in the massed chorus of 50,000 boys and girls. Tickets have been sent to the various County Superintendents and may be obtained at his office. An ample supply of tickets have been obtained for the school children of Knox County. These tickets are for school children who plan to go to Dallas and sing in the Massed Chorus and may be obtained by calling County Superintendent's office and asking for them.

For the benefit of parents that might feel a little uneasy about the safety of their children, every precaution is being taken to provide the utmost tin safety for the children. The state highway patrol has pledged its utmost cooperation in seeing that all traffic problems are properly handled, and traffic patrolmen will be on duty on each of the cardinal highways entering Dallas in order to assure the safety of the children.

The Police Department of the City of Dallas will likewise assign groups of patrolmen for special police duty on this day.

A number of companies of the regular army are permanently located on the Texas Centennial grounds. This group of men together with the special Centennial police will act as guards and guides for the children. Firstaid stations with public health nurses in charge will be available to attend any emergency that might develop.

Each bus must have a director on board to direct the children. The driver may act as one director. The program is tentatively set to be held at 10 A. M. On arrival in Dallas the busses will be promptly parked in the designated parking space, and the children will immediately go to the stadium, the seating arrangement of the stadium will be so numbered as to correspond with the first series of numbers on the identification tag. The program should be completed at approximately 12 o'clock noon. The afternoon will be used to enjoy the Texas Centennial Exposition, and definite information will be given the children by their directors as to the time of departing for home.

In Knox County, children going on busses will go and return the same day. Parent-Teacher organizations Chamber of Commerce, and all other organizations are urged to contribute to paying the expenses of the busses which will be used to transport the children. There is not public allotment of any funds from any source for the purpose of financing the trip. It is left to the local organizations and patrons. It is suggested that patrons contribute 50c a child and it would give them an opportunity to participate in something worthwhile and at the same time see the Centennial Exposition.

Summer Term Court Opens Here Monday

SEYMOUR CAFE MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

A. J. LaGarde of Seymour has announced the removal of his Seymour Coffee Shop from its old location to a new one near the First National Bank where, in its new location, it is known as the Silver Grille.

LaGarde is a popular restaurateur and many of the younger people from the neighboring towns find it a convenient meeting place when attending shows and dances in the Baylor county city.

THE PROPER REMEDY AT LAST

BY IRVIN S. COBB

Possibly inspired by the missionary work of Pussyfoot Johnson, a Scotch minister undertook a temperance crusade among the members of his own flock. He announced that on a certain Sabbath he would deliver a sermon upon the evils of strong drink, with physical illustrations to prove the argument. Upon the appointed morning a congregation which crowded the kirk awaited him. Upon the pulpit he placed two glasses, one containing whiskey and the other spring water. Then in an impressive silence he brought a small box from his coat pocket, opened the box and produced a long wiggling worm.

First he dipped the worm in the spring water where it coiled and twisted happily. Then he dropped it into the whiskey. Instantly the hapless creature shriveled, and after a few feeble contortions became limp and lifeless. Hauling forth a dead thing the minister said:

"Now then my bretheren, behold the effects of strong spirits upon this wee creature. In the water it took no harm; but the first contact with this foul stuff here instantly destroyed it. Need I say or do more to convince you of the effects of whiskey?"

From the body of the church there rose up a lantern-jawed person.

"Minister," he said, "might I ask where ye got the whiskey in that tumbler?"

"I am glad you put that question," said the clergyman. "I purchased it at that den of iniquity, the public house, which stands at the top of the street not a hundred yards from this place of worship."

"Thank ye," said the parishioner. "I'll be going there on the morrow. For years I've been troubled meself with worms."

Bob Sams, student in State University, returned to Austin Tuesday after a visit with home folks.

Miss Lucille Snody left the first of the week for Lampasas where she has obtained a position. Miss Lula Hurd is the new operator at the beauty shop.

Galveston To Hold Festival June 19 to June 22

Galveston, Tex., June 12—Festivity will prevail in this "Treasure Island" city from Friday June 19, through Monday June 22, in the varied events of the Oleander celebration which is expected to attract hordes of Centennial visitors.

An official cachet will be attached to all philatelic mail the morning of June 19. That afternoon there will be the Junior Oleander Parade with decorated vehicles, bicycles, scooters, skaters, and many other entries. The elaborate Junior Queen coronation will be that evening.

Aquatic sports will feature the June 20 program and a historical pageant will be presented on the beachfront that evening, depicting the landing of the pirate, Jean La Fitte. A boulevard frolic later will add color to the celebration. The Grand Oleander parade of decorated floats will be staged during the afternoon of June 21 and a spectacular display of fireworks will be presented at night. The Grand Oleander ball will be held the night of June 22.

The Oleander festival is one of a number of thrilling celebration planned in Galveston as Centennial year festivity.

DO YOU KNOW

That the candle fish, found in the mouths of rivers off the northern Pacific coast of North America, is so named because of its extreme oiliness of flesh. The indians convert them into candles by merely inserting a wick through the length of the body.

That the wood not including wood fuel used annually by the United States; if nailed together, would make an Atlantic City boardwalk reaching from the earth to the moon. In lumbermen's language, this would total 53,000,000,000 feet (square feet one inch thick.)

That our word salary comes from salt. In Latin salt is "Sal" and soldiers of the ancient days received it as part of their pay. When this custom was discontinued and money given in its place, the sum was called "salarium" or salt money.

That the Eiffel Tower in Paris is the highest structure in the world. It is 1000 feet high and was erected in 1887 by Gustav Eiffel, a noted French engineer, who also designed the framework for the Statue of Liberty in New York.

HUMOROUS STORIES

BY WILL ROGERS

Well, I heard a story about a woman by the name of Jones that was a great bargain hunter. She was always bragging about how she could get things three cents cheaper or two cents cheaper than any other woman. She did, too. She watched the sale ads mighty careful, and she never watched any signs that had even dollars marked on them.

One day this lady was walking across a golf links, and somebody was just teeing off. She was right in line for a biff on the bean.

Well, this golfer was scared he was going to kill her and he yelled "Fore" just as loud as he could.

She didn't seem to hear, and he yelled again. The ball was getting mighty close to a vital spot just behind the lady's ear, but she didn't notice the "Fore."

Then the golfer recognized her as Mrs. Jones, and he had just one more chance, so he yelled "Three ninety-seven."

She looked around in time to let the ball whizz past.

Rehearsals Start For Frontier Centennial Show

Fort Worth, June 12—Rehearsals got underway Monday for two of the major productions of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, the 162 acre fun festival and theatrical round-up opening here July 1 under the aegis of Billie Rose.

Most elaborate of the shows and the one which gave Fort Worth the feverish excitement of Broadway before a big opening is the Frontier Follies, a lavish musical production to be staged in the cafe-theatre called Casa Manana.

The vanguard of Broadway show-girls and male dancers were brought in to augment the vast array of Texas beauties selected for the Casa Manana Show. Principals will include Everette Marshall, famed baritone who appeared last season in Ziegfeld's Follies and has recently completed a moving picture for MGM.

The Lime Trio who appeared in the New York success, "Life Begins at 8:40" and the team of Walter Dare Wahl will carry the comedy roles.

Paul Whiteman's Orchestra will play and such stars as Dick Powell,

Fannie Brice, Maurice Chevalier and others hold the spotlight on successive week-ends.

Other major show in rehearsal this week is the Wild and Whoop-ee show called "The Last Frontier," a hard riding, shooting-em-up cowboy, soldier, and indian melée to be staged on a vast piece of the out of doors built up to look like a section of Palo Pinto County.

Virtually every well known rodeo star, including the Western movie queen, Mable Strickland, will participate in "The Last Frontier." So will the Black Horse Troop from the Second U. S. Cavalry at Fort Riley, Kansas, costumed in uniforms like those of their predecessors, the old Second Dragoons who established Ft. Worth.

The third major show of the Frontier Centennial will be Billie Rose's "Jumbo" brought down from New York where it ran last season in the Hippodrome.

CANDIDATES NOTICE

Announcement fees are universally classed as cash accounts but this paper has extended to many the courtesy of thirty day credit. In some instances the thirty-day period has become ninety days and the accounts are not yet paid.

It is unfair to the other candidates and it is unfair to the newspaper to expect these accounts to be carried indefinitely.

For this reason, unless definite arrangements are made to care for these accounts satisfactorily by the time that the Executive Committee approves the official ballot, those who are in arrears will have their names removed from the Post's announcement column.

The Gilliland 4-H Club met Friday June 5 in Seymour Park. As Miss Burchard failed to meet us there as planned, very little business was attended to. We discussed the bed spread which is being made to raise money for defraying the expenses of a girl to A. and M. Short-course. A swim and picnic was enjoyed by those attending the meeting. Reporter

ONLY THE FORD V-8 GIVES YOU ALL THESE FEATURES

1. V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
2. SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
3. SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
4. WELDED STEEL BODY—STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS SURFACE

NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep—it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?

Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only every 2000 miles and add none between changes.

And after the first few thousand miles you begin to understand what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.

It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy—low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life—as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these are big items if you aim to buy the most economical car.
