Wreck Victims Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Gabe Anderson, 52, of Bovina, and her 4-year-old son Jimmy were held Saturday afternoon in the Bovina Methodist Church.

Mrs. Anderson died at 4 o'clock Friday morning, the third victim of a car crash 6 1/2 miles northwest of Farwell Thursday afternoon. Johnny Anderson had died a short time after the collision, and Mrs. A. G. White, 45, was believed killed instantly. Her services are still pending.

Gabe Anderson, 7; Mrs. Anderson's other son, was seriously injured in the accident. Mrs. Anderson was a widow in Hereford, having attended numerous social functions and visited here frequently.

Charges of murder without malice have been filed in Farwell against Paul Franklin Nowly, 32, of McCook, Neb., harvest worker who was driving the truck which collided with the 1951 Chevrolet club coupe which Mrs. Anderson was driving. The other two were passengers in the Anderson car.

Originally, charges of driving while intoxicated were filed against Nowly, and the charge still remains that allegation, responsibility for the crash and three youths were young east in the DEAF county truck and Mrs. Anderson was driving west. When the crash occurred...

More excitement than damage was caused Friday morning when a tractor being worked on at McRight & Smith, 216 E. Third, caught fire near the gas tank. Firemen who answered the call found Sanford Smith using shop fire extinguisher.

Lewis Resigns As Hospital Manager

Resignation of R. G. (Bob) Lewis, manager of the Deaf Smith County Hospital for the past 19 months, has been accepted by the hospital board, according to Howard Gault, president. He will be replaced by T. E. Seigler, who managed the hospital before for about three years.

More Coffee Places Dropping Price Back To A Nickel

Nickel coffee, which seemed to be vanishing along with the last nickel, is making a strong comeback in Hereford these days, and never did entirely disappear. Ike Crosthwait, operator of Ike's Steak House, is one of the latest to drop the price on java. "If the others can take a loss on their coffee, I guess that I can too," he commented wryly.

Two Summer Followings Help Make Dry Land Wheat Crop

One year's bad luck may have been the way for a good crop the next year, and that is the way it seems with the dry land wheat crop harvested at the Dameron ranch about 5 miles northwest of Hereford. Bill Dameron, ranch manager, followed some 350 acres in 1953, and planted the land in wheat that fall. Dry weather and blowing winds together eliminated the crop entirely, so that he had nothing to show for the labor and seed.

Legal Safe Cracker Cleans Up Messes Left By Amateur Thieves

Paris, Tex., — One of the busiest safe-crackers in Texas never spent a day of his life in jail. Sam Fuqua, a spry 78, makes his living opening safes. Never saw one he couldn't crack. Lawmen don't bother him. All his thousands of safe-crackings have been strictly legal. Sam holds forth in the basement of the First National Bank in Paris where he worked for many years as building superintendent. From miles around, they call him to open jammed safes when burglars hit them. Combinations fail or fire scorches them.

George Hass, who was arrested last Sunday by Sheriff Lowell Sharp and charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, was released on $500 bond Saturday.

A farewell party honoring Rex Cowart and Joe L. Newman was held Saturday night at Buffalo Lake by the Road Knights. The two boys are leaving soon to enter the service.

Martha Jean Brown, daughter of Mrs. C. O. Brown, 115 Avenue B, returned last Sunday from Austin where she attended Girls State. Martha was selected by the Hereford American Legion Auxiliary to attend the meeting, which was held June 21-27. Most of the time was spent in meetings where the group studied the government of the state, county and city.

Hereford Rotary Club members will get a holiday from their club as well as from other things Monday. President Bill Davis cancelled the meeting as one of his first acts of office.

Eugenia Alexander who has been in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston for the past month, has returned home fully recovered from an attack of encephalitis which developed after a severe case of mumps. Eugenia, 13, had the mumps in March and had returned to school thinking she had recovered. She was accompanied by Galveston by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Alexander, who remained with her until she was released from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sanders of Savannah, Ga., have announced the birth of a son, who has been named Douglas Glenn Sanders. The baby arrived on June 30 in Savannah. Mrs. Sanders is the former Miss Helen Ann Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Glenn Snyder of Hereford.

Speeders Always Lose, Tilley Says

"Don't gamble with speed speeders always lose!"

This was the advice given by Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, to Texas motorists today.

The speed control program is being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"When motorists drive at excessive speeds they lose out in many ways," he said.

According to Col. Tilley, speeders make a poor impression on friends and neighbors. "Anyone can jam his foot on the accelerator and roar down the street," he said, "but it requires good judgment to decide what is a safe speed under existing conditions. The driver who drives according to conditions earns the respect of his community. The speeder usually loses respect."

"Then there's the matter of economy," Col. Tilley said. "The car that burns up the road at a fast pace also burns up gas and oil at a much faster rate than the car that travels at a moderate speed, and it wears out its tires, brakes, etc., before their time. Speeders lose money."

"Very often," he added, "speeders even fail in their immediate objective — to get there fast. Traveling at a greater rate of speed than the traffic around them, cutting in and out, racing for stop lights, speeders gain little or no time over the driver who keeps a steady pace with the traffic stream."

"But," he warned, "the speeder's greatest loss is in safety. As his speed increases, the driver's control of his car decreases. His chances of having an accident are greater, and an accident occurring at high speed is far more likely to cause a fatal injury than one occurring at a low speed."

"Remember," Col. Tilley said, "speeders lose out — very often to the extent of losing their lives. It's good policy to travel at a safe speed always, and the only safe speed is one that is determined by conditions of weather, road, traffic, mechanical fitness of your car and your own mental and physical state."

Some of the places were like Vaughn's, where they raised the price to a dime when other places said they would raise the price to then changed their minds. "I charged a dime for about three weeks, then came back down to a hickel," the manager said. For the dyed-in-the-wool coffee drinkers, the general trend of returning coffee prices to five cents a cup is probably the nicest victory they have won lately.

never houses now but not in the older ones.
Most of the cooking over there is done with electricity and gas. The electric stoves are not like ours however. They are like a grate with an oven attached, Kelley said.

Narrow Roads
Germany has some very good highways near the big cities and they are modern. But there are no highways at all or very poor highways between small towns. The roads are not built for American cars; they are very narrow, Kelley said. German cars are about the size of the big taxis and they use very little gas. That is good because gas is very expensive over there. Kelley said that about five gallons of gas would cost $2.50 or $3.

Churches in Germany are either Catholic or Protestant, Mrs. Kelley said. Over there they refer to the Lutheran Church as the Protestant Church. In some of the larger cities there are some Baptist and Methodist Churches, but very few, she said.

As far as the schools go there are four years of grammar school and eight years of High School before a person is allowed to enter college. Mrs. Kelley attended college to become a physical education teacher until she injured her knee and was forced to give up her studies.

They do not play such games as football and baseball there and Mrs. Kelley is very anxious to see some of these games.

There are motion pictures there but most of them show American films. The music in that country is just about the same as it is here too. Mrs. Kelley also said that one cigarette in Germany would cost two and one-half cents and a carton would be about three or four dollars.

After Marriage, No Work
Mrs. Kelley said that after a woman was married in Germany that he just did not work out but stayed at home. While single the women work in department stores, grocery stores and cafes. If they want to work in an office of any kind they must go to a school something similar to our business schools, for about two years.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS KELLEY

The Kelleys were married in the Protestant Church at Sulzbach-Rosenberg. The wedding was held at 12:30 in the afternoon. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held which lasted until 8 o'clock the next morning. All weddings are like this, Kelley said.

Before the married couple enter the hall where the reception is to be held each is given a small glass of wine. The first one to drink the wine is considered to be the head of the family and is given the keys to the house. Kelley incidentally, claims that he received the keys.

In all of the weather in Germany the men must wear black suits. Mrs. Kelley's dress was especially made for the wedding and an American money would have cost about $400.

At the reception the bride must dance with every man that is there and the groom must dance with every woman there. Kelley said that he never saw so many kind of dances nor tried to do so many.

Mrs. Kelley's father has worked for a railroad company in Germany for 38 years and her mother runs a news stand there. Since Mrs. Kelley is an only child, the Kelleys have not definitely decided whether they will remain in the United States or return to Germany. They do hope to stay in the States for at least four or five years.

German Bride Amazed By American Groceries

"I like the grocery stores best of anything I have seen in the United States," was the remark of Mrs. Douglas Kelley, who entered the United States for the first time June 15 when she and Kelley arrived from Germany. They arrived in Hereford June 22.

The Kelleys were married in Sulzbach-Rosenberg, Germany, in February of this year. Betty Babette Leopold was Mrs. Kelley's name before she married.

Mrs. Kelley stated that she liked the United States very much, that is, what she had seen of it. Most of the time it had been too hot to look around.

The weather in Germany, ac-ording to Kelley, is just about the same as ours only a lot more snow in the winter time. They had snow in June last year. Of course, there is no dust and they described the country as being very beautiful.

In speaking of the crops, Mrs. Kelley said that they raised just about the same things there as farmers in Dear Smith County, such as wheat, maize and potatoes. All of the farms are dry land and sometimes the wheat is four or five feet high. The farms are small and not nearly so large as ours. Kelley said that if a person wants to see farms that is the place to go. Those men are really farmers. They can raise anything anyplace. He said he had seen some beautiful crops growing right on the side of a mountain.

Mostly modern equipment is being used in farming there now but some of the farmers still use horses and even cows to pull their plows.

Kelley said one of the things that astonished him most over the was when he saw a cow and horse pulling a plow together. It was something that he could never recall seeing over here.

In speaking of the grocery stores Mrs. Kelley relates that all of their grocery items are behind counters and that a person must wait and tell the grocer what they want and he will hand it to them personally. Groceries, of course, are not as high in the United States as they are in Germany. Coffee in Germany is about 10 marks a pound, or anywhere from $2.50 to $2.75 a pound, Kelley explained. The stores there do have a much wider variety of meat than do the stores here. Over there they do their own butchering individually.

Clothing in Germany is very high. Mrs. Kelley said. Kelley explained that a house dress that we would buy over here for three or four dollars would cost 70 or 80 marks over there. A good coat would cost about 250 marks. Mrs. Kelley said that a person had to save for six or seven months to get enough money to buy a coat.

In their large towns they have much more of a variety of clothing than we do here, but in a town the size of Hereford, in Germany there would hardly be any choice at all. She had already been shopping in Hereford and was astonished at the low price of clothing here.

All of the women in Germany have their hair done in beauty shops, they never do their own. Of course, she said that the price was only about 50 cents and a permanent there costs about $3.

There are no small houses in Germany, Mrs. Kelley said. Only apartment houses with from two to five families living in them. Only the very wealthy people have houses to themselves and these houses are very elaborate. They do have bathrooms in some of the

Hereford Women Among Last Across Rio Grande

Mexico is a lovely place, full of scenic splendor. People are nice, food good, and the interesting places to see, with proper guidance, are many and varied.

But would you want to spend several extra, unplanned-for days in Monterey at the end of almost 20 days of touring?

Probably not, and that is the way Mrs. Hall Beavers and Mrs. Vivian Major felt when they heard their touring group might be trapped south of the Rio Grande by rising flood waters, and they were very glad that they got back across before the rising water washed out the bridge at Laredo.

That final rush to get to the bridge ahead of the flood crest was the climax of a tour directed by Dr. Ples Harper, head of the Spanish Department at West Texas State College. The trip began on June 10 when the group left WTSC by chartered bus which took them to Laredo. There, after clearing customs, they boarded a Mexican chartered bus, also chartered. Their Texas chartered bus was left in Laredo, and it was their Texas bus driver, enroute back to Laredo to meet them, who sent them a warning message at Monterrey and enabled them to get out of Mexico when they did.

"We weren't scheduled to leave Monterey until the next morning," they recalled, "when we got word from the bus driver, who sent the message from San Angelo. Everyone rushed around, and our bus driver made the trip from Monterey to the border in 3 1/2 hours. "When we got there, the bridge was being stripped, to offer as little resistance as possible to the flood waters. Workers were taking down guard rails and lights all the way across.

Water Rising Fast
"When they did allow us to cross the next morning, the whole group going across in taxis with a police escort, the water was rising at the rate of three feet an hour, and two hours after we crossed the bridge was under water. We could see houses and all kinds of things floating down the river which had been so low when we went into Mexico that we could have stepped across the water in the channel."

This was the first big flood since 1932, they were told. While waiting in Mexico Tuesday morning for permission to cross the bridge, they saw Mexican families moving their household goods out, and watched soldiers working to get everyone out of the area.
That morning in the hotel, a boy brought in three huge fish which he had, they were told, knocked out with a club when they came up out of the muddy water to get air. The boy tried to sell the fish, which, Mrs. Beavers said, were "huge" and stretched her arms to demonstrate fish more than three feet long. The fish were thought to be a type of bass.

In many ways, though, both women were almost equally excited about other sights on their trip. Eight hours of driving over mountain roads which seemed to be nothing but a series of hairpin turns before they reached Mexico City, their first sight of a faginer plowing with oxen, and mountain-side farms, were all memorable.

Hillside Farms
"It was really something to see those Indians with their farms on hillside so steep that they could not possibly have used anything but hard implements," Mrs. Major said, and she exclaimed over the precision of the rows and the layout of the hillside farms.

Equally interesting was the sight of these farmers and their families going in on Sunday - not to church but to market. Women with big baskets of produce balanced on their heads as they headed for the market place, "miles distant," and everyone with something, however small, to sell.

"When we first saw them, we thought they must be going to church for they were all so clean, and the men had on their white shirts," Mrs. Major added.

On the night of their fifth day of the tour, they were in Acapulco, and they had one full day there, then two days later they were back in Mexico City, having gone by way to Toluca, the silver capital which were far from immaculate. Haile Selassie was also in Mexico City, and the group with Dr. Harper seemed, for a while, to be going to the same places that the Ethiopian monarch was going. A bull fight Mr. Major and Mrs. Beavers sat within about 20 feet of the emperor and his party.

Selassie was on a trade mission rather than sightseeing, they were told, but he was also making use of his time to see some of the finer sights of the ancient capital.

The Incomparable Curtain.
The Glass Curtain, which has never been successfully duplicated anywhere else in the world, was seen by the group in the Palace of Fine Arts. Made of thousands of pieces of colored glass to show several parts of the most colorful scenery in Mexico, the curtain took two years to build.

"Now it is fixed so that we could sit in front of it and watch the changes as they would have been seen during the course of an entire day," the women said, and still seemed awed at the recreation.

Two days later they saw shrines of two religions. First, the Shrine of Guadalupe, and later the Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon built by people who lived in Mexico before the Aztec Empire was built up.

It was on leaving Mexico City the second time and beginning a round about journey back toward the border they had the experience of going from desert to tropical climates in what seemed an incredibly short time as they crossed a mountain, and less than two days later, thanks to the thoughtfulness of their American bus driver, finding them a warning, they were back on the American side of the Rio Grande.

No Vaccinations
"Because of the circumstances in coming back across, we didn't have to take smallpox vaccinations - something we had delayed and dreaded for the entire trip," Mrs. Beavers said.

Back in Hereford, their thoughts seemed to go mostly to the Mexican people of the Rio Grande valley who had been trapped by the rising waters, either losing their possessions, or their lives and possessions both.

"It was a terrible thing," Mrs. Major and Mrs. Beavers agreed, as they read the stories in the papers.

There were five full days in Mexico's national capital. Under Dr. Harper's guidance, they saw the richness of Mexico City's museums and cathedrals, while nearby clustered the hovels of the poor. They ate in immaculate surroundings, but saw the market places,

Buffs Get Warning
OSHKOSH, Neb. (AP)—That crowd that always follows a fire truck got a big surprise when fireman set fire to a pool of oil on a dead end street and sounded the alarm. When the usual crowd gathered the firemen blocked off the open end.
They warned people in cars that the next time they followed the truck they would get traffic tickets. Then they sold tickets to the firemen's benefit fund.
A record sale was reported.

MRS. C. E. LEASURE JR., of Amarillo entertained members of the graduating class of 1947 Thursday afternoon in the home of her mother, Mrs. E. W. Young, 306 West Seventh Street. Mrs. Vernon Basher of Amarillo was the special guest. Mrs. Basher will be remembered as Miss Betty Morrow, formerly of Hereford. Another special guest was Mrs. R. V. Young of Fort Worth. The afternoon was spent in looking over old pictures and discussing old times. Shown from the left are: Mrs. R. V. Young, Mrs. Troys Riddle, Mrs. Douglas Timberlake, Mrs. Vernon Basher, Mrs. J. W. HOME OF AYERS SUPREME FEEDS

"A NICE COMBINATION" of an 8-inch well and a 10-inch pump to use water from the lake in the background is the set-up on one part of the Robert Veigel farm north of Hereford. Arrow indicates the pump which is connected to the lake. A take-off from the well power unit will operate the pump when there is enough water in the lake. Veigel said that until he installed the pump three years ago there was always plenty of water in the lake, but there hasn't been enough there since to do him any good. He expects to be able to get 1,500 gallons per minute from the lake when it does fill up more. (Staff Photo)

Ira Scott is still having trouble getting his feed to come up. He has planted some feed three and four times.

The one-half inch of moisture which fell Sunday night only covered a small area, which included the northern part of the Summerfield community, the eastern part of the Westway community and the southern portion of the Northwest Hereford community.

Onions are being harvested in this area and farmers in general are busy. So is the farmer's wife, therefore, there is very little social activity going on and naturally no news. But with today being the fourth of July, maybe we will be able to come up with a few holiday visits and picnics.

Willie Mae Weaver of Canyon spent the weekend visiting in the Ira Scott home.

Mrs. James Barclay and Mrs. S. J. Barclay visited in the home of Mrs. R. C. Childers Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. R. C. Childers has been working at the "Little Fashion Shop" for the last four Saturdays during the illness of Mrs. Moss.

Wheat harvest is about over in this vicinity with averages from 12 to 35 bushels on irrigated wheat. Earl DeHart finished cutting Monday. Paul Corbett finished Thursday. T. B. Cox expected to finish cutting on the Greer place Saturday. DeHart reports a 20 bushel average on a patch of rye which had considerable hail damage. The damage from the hail and early freeze hurt the wheat more than the farmer realized until he began cutting and making full examination of the ground where the heads had been.

Detroit Retains City Hall
DETROIT (AP) — Because it would cost about as much to tear it down as it did to build it, Detroit's old, solid stone City Hall will continue overlooking Cadillac Square, the Motor City's hub. It cost $500,000 80 years ago. Government offices will move to a new 20-story city-county building on the river-front, but the City Plan Commission recommends that City Hall be kept and used as a reception headquarters for royalty, stand, and other ceremonial events, and heroes, a parade reviewing City Council agrees.

Mrs. Ira Scott and daughters, Jan, Betty and Joe Eddie, and Mrs. Pat Robinson and daughters Dianne, Tressa, Marcia and Kathleen, went swimming at the Thompson Park in Amarillo Thursday.

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hooten Jr. of Dumas spent Sunday visiting in the T. B. Cox home where his mother, Mrs. H. L. Hooten Sr., has been a house guest for the past several weeks. Mrs. Hooten went home with her son and family for a visit with them.

Mrs. Hooten spent last week visiting another daughter, Mrs. Daisy Lively, in Hereford.

Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham spent Friday morning visiting in the R. C. Childers' home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barclay and Mrs. Minnie Downs of Amarillo left Thursday for a vacation trip through Colorado and northern Arizona. They planned to visit relatives at Mont Vista, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Barclay moved into the C. S. Barclay home and are keeping the Barclay's young sons, Larry and David, while their parents are away.

Mrs. James Barclay of Amarillo is visiting her son, S. J. Barclay, and family this week. Mrs. Barclay is a former resident of Hereford.

July 4 is celebrated nationally as Independence Day, but there are quite a few Hereford residents who probably wonder about the occasion at times.

J. J. "Scotty" Buckner goes even further. He insists that he was also born on July 4. Maybe he was too. Anyway, I don't know of anyone who is more consistently independent than old Scotty.

Will Graham, the dentist, was back in town this week. Will says that folks around here just can't realize how Hereford has changed during the three years he has been away in the Navy.

Personally, I like the Grahams, but hasn't this speculation gone far enough? Right now, the "town without a toothache" has three over-worked and well paid dentists. Can we make it four—and still hold our heads up? Here at home we know the dental work is due to immigrating Oklahomans and Texans, but will the outsiders understand? Seriously, the stories I hear about dental appointments do indicate plenty of practice for all interested.

Hugh Bookout dropped in the other day and got started on a tirade about support prices and crop controls. Somehow, or other, the subject of barbecued ribs got into the conversation—and Hugh was waving his arms like a windmill.

Up in the Perryton country, the school board has taken action on a problem which is expanding in scope each year. The Perryton board ruled that any student who marries after July 1, 1954, can attend school—but cannot take part in extra-curricular activities.

They didn't say why they made the rule, but I guess it is to discourage marriage of students. For the life of me, I can't see where it would be unfair to their opponents. If a fellow is a better ball player after he is married than before, maybe we could take the reverse stand. Scat Russell might even turn Cupid, along with his coaching duties.

Alex Thompson is still in the doghouse over having left Audrey stranded at a Plainview filling station. He and N. D. Bartlett were figuring and sketching away the other morning. Careful investigation developed that N. D. was drawing detail plans for "adding two outside doors and a bath to the Thompson doghouse."

If they get it worked out, they have a ready-made customer in Mrs. Lynn Kester. At least, the family had her definitely in the doghouse last Sunday, which was one of her bad days. She got up early, since she was expecting company, and in the course of bustling around, left the back door open and out flew the pet-parakeet Mrs. Kester, involved in hunting the lost bird, forgot about her rings which she had been soaking in a glass, and one of the girls dumped them out in the sink. The search for the bird suddenly shifted to a search for the rings. Confusion was so great that she missed Sunday School to spend her time hunting the rings. Finally, in desperation, she postponed the hunt long enough to go to church.

This didn't help much, though. There was a mix-up in transportation arrangements—and she was left high and dry at the church yard curb. She managed to hitch-hike home. Lynn, who had been at Sunday School when loss of the ring was discovered, now joined the search. He talked a plumber into coming over and, together, they removed the first trap. No rings. During the afternoon they got clear out into the yard removing pipe and traps. Still no rings. Downcast and pretty blue, Mrs. Kester picked up a dishrag about 4:30—and out dropped her rings. The parakeet is still missing, but the Kesters are feeling better. One thing is for sure, today will be no worse than last Sunday in the Kester household. At least, they hope not.

Lee Kent, Dubb Reeves, Dale Tinnen and Otis Hall came back from Colorado loaded with fish stories this week. They are especially riding me about only having caught one little fish. Abe Martin and I were doubting their story to some extent when along comes James Edmondson.

Red Coffin is back in the cabbage business again. I didn't get to talk with him, but he was in and left me a couple of fine heads of 1954 cabbage. Just as good as any year. I hope Red makes a killing. I sure do.

This fellow Charlie Holt, who has the 55-bushel wheat north of Progreessive, has "gone a real nice thing. Charlie went along the west side of his field, where the irrigation ditch runs, and alternately planted cherry trees and grape vines. I asked if he wasn't liable to have some trouble with the kids. "Heck," said Charlie, "that's what they are for. Everybody has a free ticket to this orchard." Next year, the yield will probably be lush—and a bunch of folks will have a lot of fun. Charlie says cherry trees are not a bit harder to plant than elms, that they will furnish just as much shade—and someone will get some good from them.

Truly, this might be termed as "living in a house beside the road and being a friend to man." Anyway, it is a swell idea. We will see how it works. J. A. McWhorter and I got to thinking about his "free ticket" statement, so we pulled up and gathered a nice mess of fresh onions from his field. He didn't complain—maybe, because he was a half mile away in the wheat field.

S. P. Rosson, former International dealer, is visiting here with the I. O. Crosthwaites this week. He and Mrs. Rosson drove in Friday. They agree with Will Graham in that Hereford has changed a lot since the "dirty thirties" when Prentiss used to sell tractors and combines. Prentiss has been in a lot of hospitals in recent years, but he sure looks like he is on the way back these days. Maybe it is seeing old friends and talking over old times, but he looks mighty good to me.

Street gossip has it that the highway engineers will move back to Hereford soon. Maybe for a three or four year stretch this time. Every thing adds up to probability of work starting on the widening of Highway 51 through Hereford. The long stretch sounds like they will keep right on until the underpass is finished just south of the junction of 51 and 60. It's more than a year now, since they started widening of 51 on the west. It's just a prediction, but some morning we will wake up and things will be rolling along on 51.

Politics continue to lag. Talk is running at a very high rate. It will probably jump into high gear around July 15. Meanwhile, I seem that Shivers and Lyndon Johnson are literally on edge. Both are waging the most active campaigns since they first went into office. "Third term" is Shivers' biggest hurdle and, although I can't see why Johnson is worried, he most definitely is. Shivers has the advantage of weak opposition; which is the only factor that could put him back into office. Had John Ben Sheppard made the race, he would have been a cinch. The way things stand now, Shivers has a good 50-50 chance for re-election despite the third term and "Old Line" Democrat opposition. It will be a "horse race."

Lawn Party Entertains Wesleyan Service Guild

A lawn party and covered dish supper was the order of the day Monday when members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Dyalitha Brady.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stanfield, Mr. and Mrs. Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Goforth, Mrs. S. M. Dunham, Miss Velma Cook, president of the group, Miss Mattie Mae Swisher and the hostesses.

Mary Martha Class Has Social Meeting

Mary Martha Class of the First Baptist Church was entertained in the home of Mrs. Gwynn Gwynn Monday evening. Mrs. V. C. Hopson gave the program, using excerpts from Dr. Theodore Adams' book "Making Marriage Succeed."

Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill Jr. presided over the business session, during which plans were made for the class visitation program. Those attending were Mesdames O. M. Dickey, Neal Young, L. H. Lookingbill Jr., James Edmondson, Carl Hollingsworth, Wayne Wallace, V. C. Hopson, John Winkler, Carroll Newson, Miss Marquita Hutcheson and the hostess.

Miss McCullough Honored At Bridesmaids' Luncheon

Among the many social affairs given during the past two weeks honoring Miss Norma McCullough, who will become the bride of James Wayne Killian this afternoon at the First Baptist Church, was a bridesmaids' luncheon given by Mrs. H. M. Cogswell and her daughter, Chris, Saturday at the Cogswell home on Texas Avenue.

Midsummer flowers were used in profusion throughout the house and the living room carried out an all-white theme in keeping with the bride's elect's chosen colors.

A miniature bride topped the tiered table in the living room and small tables laid for four were centered with white blossoms, and tied with white satin bows at the side. Miniature bride's bouquets marked each guest's place and the honoree's place was marked with a gift.

These seated with Mrs. G. W. Killian of Muleshoe, mother of the bridegroom, elect Mrs. Ralph McCullough, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Maurice Sloan, Mrs. H. J. McDaniel of Fort Worth, and Misses Sheila Killian, Shirley and Mary Lou McCullough, Sylvia McCracken, Jo Ann and Nancy Burrows.

Family Get-Together

A family get-together was planned in honor of the Pat Morse family for June 27 in the Guy Walster home. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morse received word June 25 that his uncle, Henry Brown, of San Diego, Calif., had suddenly passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. Morse left early June 2 by car to attend the funeral. Those present for the reunion dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Foreman and daughter, Dee Jeanett, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Faust and boys of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry, Gene and Bobby Purcell, Kay, Kyle and Freddy Morse of Fort Worth, and Carolyn Lee. Afternoon callers were Mrs. John Patton and Mrs. Ida Ricketts of Hereford.

Mrs. Jack Clark and children were visiting her mother, Mrs. Elwyn Hartman, Monday in Hereford.

Ray and Mrs. Don Larkin had charge of the devotional Tuesday night at the Baptist Church in Dimmitt for the Women's Missionary meeting.

Mrs. Lee Curry and Mrs. L. L. Cannon attended the Rebekah luncheon in Hereford Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morse returned Thursday afternoon from California and left for their home in Fort Worth early Friday morning.

The losing side of the young people's B.T.U. Class entertained the winners with a wiener roast and ice cream supper Monday night at the church.

Those present were: Wayne and Donald Walser, Joe and Gene Streun, Shirley and Lee DeLozier, Bill, Ann and Fred Lookingbill, David Patterson and a friend. Their sponsor is Mrs. Ray Botkins.

Dean Story of Ames, Ia., was visiting with old friends in the community Friday afternoon. Dean is a brother of Joe Story.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morse and family of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walster and family spent Friday in Palo Duro.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rhodes are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rhodes and also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tisdale. Allen is a CS 3 Petty Officer in the Navy and is stationed at Portsmouth, Va.

TOKYO (AP)—The famed "Gate of Heavenly Peace", built 537 years ago at Peiping for grand ceremonies of emperors, has been redecorated and now serves as the auditorium for Mao Tze-tung, Red China's boss, when he views parades. The 530-year-old Imperial palace there has been turned by the communists into a museum. The hilltop summer palace, with its temple of 5,000 Buddhas, where empress dowagers of the Ching dynasty, once held court, now is a tourist center, Peiping broadcast.

MARGATE, England (AP)—In East Kent, which has more weather than it does climate, English housewives appreciate the fact that the U.S. Air Base at Manston is so obliging. They phone the base's meteorological station before making washday plans. Sometimes they ask how warmly they should dress their children for school.

Margate's sailing club frequently calls for information about winds and the height of waves in the Thames Estuary.

The airmen are happy to give the information, but sometimes they are puzzled. For instance, a man called recently and asked: "Will the wind be strong enough tonight to blow down my TV Aerial?"

Cloud Seeding Tested SEATTLE (AP)—Cloud-seeding in the Weather Bureau's rain-making experiment in the rainy Northwest is ending. Ferguson Hall, director of the project, said it will take several months to analyze the results.

At The Movies

ARROWHEAD

Showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre, starring Charles Heston, Jack Palance and Katy Jurado.

The secret history of the Great Apache War that raged on the Western plains in the 1870's is revealed for the first time in Paramount's brand new Technicolor western drama, "Arrowhead."

Based on a novel by W. P. Burnett, much of the swirling action and dramatic events that take place have been procured from actual military records dealing with the heroic battles that raged on the Southwestern plains between U. S. Cavalry and the Apache Indians.

The movie was filmed on location in and around historic Fort Clark near Bracketville, Texas, where many of the battles depicted in the film actually took place not too many years ago.

Children, Tomorrow's World Planned Study Club Theme

Personals

MOVE TO AMARILLO.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baker and children left Saturday for Amarillo where they will make their home at 1901 N. Highland St. Baker is employed at the Amarillo Helium Plant.

Hannegan-Smith Nuptials Held At Boys' Ranch

MRS. TOMMY HULSEY

Mrs. Tommy Hulsey, who was installed as president of the Young Mother's Study Club at the closing session of the past club season in May, hopes to emphasize many phases in child guidance in programs now being worked out by the year book committee, the coming year.

Her own nine months old baby girl has provided her incentive for systematic study of better guidance for children, and she believes young mothers can do much to shape the pattern of life in all aspects through serious study of mutual problems.

Former Teacher

A former teacher of home economics, the new club president has had a good deal of experience with young people and she is interested in children of all ages. She and her husband have lived in Hereford for the past three years, moving here from McLean where they both were employed as teachers.

She has taught home making in the local high school for two years and her husband is employed at Radio Station KPAN as advertising manager. They are Methodists and are members of the First Methodist Church of Hereford.

Mrs. Hulsey enjoys several active sports, such as swimming, horseback riding and bowling, although she claims not to be expert in any of them. Her favorite form of relaxation is sewing. In fact, sewing has become a hobby and she makes most of her own clothing as well as sewing for other members of her family.

Administration Theme

Her administration will have as its theme "Children of Tomorrow Are the World of Tomorrow," and will emphasize the child as an individual. In addition to the study program, next year's club activities will include a Guest Day Tea, an entertainment for the husbands of members, and a party for the children of members. A Christmas party will mark the holiday season and other features of entertainment will be added during the year.

Other officers of the club include Mrs. Ray Lee, vice president; Mrs. Gerald Hale, recording secretary; Mrs. Gwynn Owen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Banks, treasurer; Mrs. Hugh Clearman.

Mrs. Don Martin Likes Collecting Arrangement Items

Mrs. Don T. Martin, president of the Bud To Blossom Club, has been interested in learning how to grow things, about color and how to use it, and all the other phases of gardening and flowers since she was a little girl and spent many hours collecting wild flowers, drift wood, odd pieces of wood and rocks near her home.

She enjoys meeting people who are interested in these things too, which is perhaps her main reason for garden club work. She likes to make arrangements of any kind—small, miniature, dried, or with fresh flowers and foliage.

Since the purpose of the Bud To Blossom Club is to increase the knowledge of horticulture, study flower arrangements and landscaping as well as to encourage the development of civic beauty, her association with the club has been very pleasant.

Dried arrangements are one of the most fascinating of all these studies to Mrs. Martin, and now is an ideal time to be thinking about them, because when going on vacation, if you keep dried arrangements in mind, there are many interesting materials to be found, she says.

Collects Materials

When Mr. and Mrs. Martin and their two children go on vacations she looks for material for dried arrangements and for unusual containers.

In Colorado she has found driftwood and unusual rocks, and she brought back some basket containers from California. She finds many things in all parts of Texas, such as leaves, gnarled branches, berries, pine cones and grasses, and there are lovely things to be had in Deaf Smith County.

The grains from the fields make beautiful dried materials and cat-tails may be painted to conform to any color arrangements. Pussy willow and leaves and the flowers in back yard gardens, even cacti, make beautiful arrangements.

Mrs. Martin recommends collecting dried materials through the summer, then this winter, when you get ready to make your dried arrangements for your home or as gifts during the holidays, you will have beautiful and unusual things with which to work.

Selecting Containers

She is always on the lookout for containers, to buy or perhaps ways to make them herself, and thinks neutral shades are better, leaving the color and brightness to the arrangement itself.

Her garden club work has proved very helpful, especially the study of arrangements, and she has learned how to use figurines to an advantage. Her favorite figurines for dried arrangements are some ceramic elves she picked up on one of her trips.

She thinks it will add to the fun of any vacation if part of the time is spent in looking for beautiful and interesting things to be used in dried arrangements later on.

Mrs. Martin is looking forward to her club work this fall, but she also has many other interests. Homemaking is her first interest and she enjoys working in the children's department of the First Methodist Church. She likes to sew and makes most of her little girls' clothes, and some of her own.

Plans For Club

The main project of the Bud To Blossom Club, which was started last year and will be continued, is improving and landscaping the grounds at Parkview School. Much has already been done but it will require a full year's time to complete the project.

Other officers who will serve with Mrs. Martin are Mrs. Lloyd Sharp, first vice president; Mrs. E. R. Kendall, second vice president; Mrs. Preston Hagans, third vice president; Mrs. W. G. Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. C. R. Higgins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jim Wood, treasurer; Mrs. Delmo Williams, reporter; Mrs. R. N. Yarbrow, federation counselor; and Mrs. Ray Howell, parliamentarian.

The President has already named her committees for the coming year. They include: Program—Year Book—Mesdames Lloyd Sharp, Jim Wood, Preston Hagans, Mesdames Lloyd Sharp, Pat Robinson and C. R. Higgins. Social and Cheer—Mrs. Herbert Haseloff. Plant Exchange—Mrs. W. H. Patton. Horticulture—Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr. Project—Mesdames W. B. Williams, R. N. Yarbrow and Irving Alexander. Conservation—Mrs. J. R. Hickman. Telephone—Mesdames Ray Howell and Jack Johnson. Bluebird Group sponsors—Mrs. E. A. Daniel Jr., and Mrs. E. R. Kendall.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Sam Perkins, was best man. Larry Trotter and Arthur Martin, two Boys Ranch boys, were ushers.

Bride Wears White

The bride, who was given in marriage by her former employer, J. D. Kirkland, wore a ballerina gown of white nylon and lace, made over bridal satin. The dress was designed with lace bodice which fitted over the full skirt and buttoned at the front with tiny lace covered buttons. The neckline formed a deep V in front and sleeves tapered to petal points at the hands. The full skirt was fashioned with wide bands of nylon and lace.

Her finger, tip veil of illusion, was held in place by a band of orange blossoms.

The bride carried a bouquet of white Finch roses arranged with tufts of net and showered with white satin streamers.

After the reception Mrs. Smith donned a lavender tissue gingham frock for the wedding trip to Colorado and points in the Midwest. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

After the wedding trip the couple will reside at the Ranch. On their return trip to the Ranch, they will pick up a school bus which has been donated to Boys Ranch, and drive it back from Richmond, Ind.

Double Ring Ceremony
Palm trees, greenery and flowers were banked above the chapel altar with candelabra arranged at each side to form a pyramid of lights.

Mrs. Joe Shields, pianist, and Miss Carolyn Lovelace of Amarillo gave the nuptial music with Mrs. Shields playing a medley of wedding selections preceding the ceremony and accompanying Miss Lovelace who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Boys Ranch Chaplain Carl Orth performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. E. H. Monroe, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a pastel green nylon net over taffeta, made ballerina style with lace bodice and Peter Pan collar.

Bridesmaids were Nancy Smith and Dorothy Thomas, both of Hereford. They wore identically made dresses of net over taffeta, made with lace bodices and tiered skirts. Miss Smith wore orchid and Miss Thomas' dress was pale green. All feminine attendants wore half hats dotted with daisies and rhinestones, the honor matron wore a corsage of yellow carnations and the bridesmaids carried yellow carnations.

CPL. AND MRS. R. L. PARVIN who were recently married in Germany. Cpl. Parvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parvin, has been serving with the Ninth Division of the U.S. Army in Germany since August 1952. He has 15 months more Army duty before returning to the States, at which time he and Mrs. Parvin will return to Hereford to make their home.

Mrs. Joe Stephens Shower Honoree

Donna Caylor and Dorothy Veigel were hostesses at an informal morning party honoring Mrs. Joe Stephens, the former Miss Peggy Sewell, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Haseloff recently.

The refreshment table carried out the theme of the party with wedding bells tied to a dainty jumbrella opened above a shower of gifts.

A pink and white theme was used with Cokes, and pink and white dainties served from the table.

Those attending were Donnie Johnson, Dixie Young, Patsy Childers, Patsy Jackson, Nan Longbottom, Judith Raye Haseloff, Donna Caylor, Dorothy Veigel, the honor guest and Mrs. Haseloff.

Beta Sigma Gives Farewell Party

Mrs. G. E. Mullins, who is moving soon to Los Angeles, Calif., to make her home, was honored recently by members of Texas Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at the annual family night held at the Jaycee Club house.

The program was in the form of an old-fashioned box supper, with Mrs. Glenn Nelson winning first prize for the most attractive box. She had decorated her box to represent a merry-go-round.

A short business session was held after the supper-party and Mrs. Mullins was presented with a going-away gift. Concluding the session the closing ritual was repeated. Later games of bridge and canasta provided entertainment.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames R. J. Cramer, Cecil Massey, Norman Moore, Glenn Nelson and family, Ray Sutt, James W. Witherspoon, Earnest Langley and children, H. A. Lamm Ronald Babione, Miss Linda Cavender and Mrs. Mullins.

Dr. and Mrs. Lingenfelter who left Monday for Austin where they will make their home, were complimented recently at a dessert bridge party at the Urlin Streu home with the Streus and the Herbert Haseloffs hosting the party.

Couple prize for high score was awarded to Dr. and Mrs. Milton Adams. The low award went to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Traweck.

Besides the honorees, those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Traweck, Dr. and Mrs. Milton Adams, Mrs. Bob Lewis and the hosts.

Personals

Ronald E. Dowell, machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dowell, 200 Whiteface, was aboard the destroyer USS Gurke last month when she steamed out of her home port of San Diego, Calif., for another tour of duty in the Western Pacific.

Dowell attended Hereford High School and before entering the service in April of 1951 was employed at Miller Auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Special of Portland, Ore., are guests in the O.M. Dickey home. Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. Special are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Abbott of Amarillo were dinner guests with the Specials at the Dickey home Tuesday night.

Personals

Rev. and Mrs. Robert I. McIntire were overnight guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Russell Winger, 505 N. Sampson, Wednesday. The McIntires are missionaries to Brazil. He has been completing work for his doctor of theology degree at Princeton Theological School, and has now completed everything but his thesis. Rev. and Mrs. McIntire are to return to Brazil in the near future.

Mrs. Francis Hardwick and daughter Pgt returned Thursday from a month-long visit with Ensign and Mrs. R. C. Streu in San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Streu is the former Joan Hardwick. The Streus returned in March from Hawaii, where Ensign Streu had been stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy U. Botsford and daughters of Midland spent Thursday night and Friday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Botsford, 420 Ave. B.

Women's Activities

Social Events—Clubs—Civic Interests
Hereford, Texas, Sunday, July 4, 1954 SECTION TWO

THESE TANDA CAMP FIRE GIRLS, under the direction of Mrs. Homer Brumley, are enjoying some Fourth of July fun. They served as hosts to a group of Y-Teen Girls of Amarillo, sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association, at an all-day entertainment Wednesday. Shown in the picture are Patsy Covart, Phyllis Goetsch, Teana Witherspoon, Martha Bookout, Sue Channer, Linda Phillips, Dolly Paetzold, Carolyn Knox, Phyllis Sumner, Linda Parker and Peggy Bumpass. The Amarillo group, who were accompanied by Miss Clem Neighbors of the YWCA, included Edwanda Smith, Bette Davis, Diane Hobson, Brenda Brown and Kathy Britling. The Hereford girls escorted the visitors on an industrial tour, and then they went swimming in the Hereford Municipal pool. A sock lunch in the park and a picture show party at the Star Theatre were included before the return trip to Amarillo by train. (Staff Photos)

THIS NEW HEREFORD home on North Avenue Kis the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. May. The house, which is built of cream and red brick, was completed in October of 1933. It has five rooms, a bath and a garage. There is a living room, a dining room, two bedrooms and a kitchen. (Staff Photo)

Summerfield Moves Into Second Place In League

By Billy Paul Knox
Summerfield lofted themselves into second place one-half game ahead of Rutherford by defeating Rutherford 15-10 in the first game of a double-header Thursday night. Dawn clouted Piggly Wiggly 20-11 in the second game. Hotel Jim Hill holds a very firm hand on first place, three games ahead of second place Summerfield. Rutherford is in third, one-half game ahead of Dawn which is in fourth. Piggly Wiggly and the Road Knights are in fifth and sixth.

Four of Summerfield's 12 hits were extra base blows. They were three doubles and one home run by Roy Botkins. Rutherford collected four triples, one double, and a homer by Duane Albracht.

Dawn Pushes Leader
In the nightcap Dawn elevated themselves to within one-half game of third place Rutherford by stomping Piggly Wiggly 20-11.

First Tinning Lead
Summerfield couldn't crack the goose egg in the first three innings but thanks to a home run by Duane Albracht, Rutherford took a 1-0 lead in the first inning. They stretched the lead to two runs in the third. Duane Albracht again tripled and scored on Bub Sparks' single.

Summerfield knotted the count in the fourth. The Farmers sent across two runs on three hits and one error.

Summerfield took the lead for good in the fifth, by pushing across five runs. Again they got only three hits but Rutherford drew an error and Summerfield drew three walks.

Rutherford made it 7-3 in the last of the fifth. Larry Summers and Leroy Suttle got two straight walks then Summers scored on Ray Lueb's scorching single.

Dawn again put up a fine defense, holding Piggly Wiggly scoreless in the second and stretching their lead to 12-0 by scoring four in the top of the third. Dawn got two hits and Piggly Wiggly again made two errors.

Piggly Wiggly, thanks to a hit, a walk, and an error, scored its first run in the last of the third.

Dawn was scoreless for their first time in the fourth and Piggly took full advantage of this by scoring seven runs in their half of the fourth. They made only one hit but were gifted with three walks and three errors.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sharp Sunday night.

Shower Surprises Mrs. Glen Walker

Mrs. Glenn Walker was surprised Friday morning when a group of neighbors came in for a coffee.

Mrs. Walker asked a few over for coffee, not knowing she was asking them to come to her own shower.

Visiting furnished the entertainment for the group and coffee and cakes were served from a lace covered table.

The young ladies of Mrs. Merilin Kaul's Sunday School Class, of which Mrs. Walker is a member, acted as hostesses.

Those present were: Mesdames M. T. Rutter and Clea Kay of Hereford, Glenn Rutter, C. A. Sauley, Charles Owen, Leo Ohlig and Billy, G. C. Merritt, A. A. Head, Joe Wagoner, Clarabelle Wyckoff, W. W. Cummings, Johnie Townsend, Sandra and Terrie, Elmer Combs, Kenneth Rudd, Susan and Teresa, Paul Rudd and the hostesses, Mrs. Harold Head, Mrs. Glenn Williams of Hereford, Mrs. J. R. Coleman, Mrs. Bill Franks, and Mrs. Billy Jackson. There were several that couldn't attend and just sent gifts.

Fred Severance Surprised With Birthday Party

Fred Severance was surprised Monday night when he was asked to come to a neighbor's home to eat home made ice cream and cake. Neighbors presented him with a birthday cake and the group sang "Happy Birthday."

Fred's sister, Mrs. Clarabelle Wyckoff, of California, was also surprised when she was presented a box of handkerchiefs from the group.

Pitch and visiting furnished the entertainment.

THAT'S A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY, BUT I CAN'T SEE THAT IT WAS WORTH ALL THE TROUBLE YOU WENT TO TO OBSERVE SUCH A DISTANT PLANET!

YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND...

THAT DISPLAY CELEBRATED INDEPENDENCE DAY IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ON THE PLANET EARTH WHERE I WAS BORN! NO AMERICAN, NO MATTER WHERE HE MAY BE, EVER FORGETS THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THAT DAY! TO US IT MEANS LIBERTY AND EQUALITY FOR ALL!

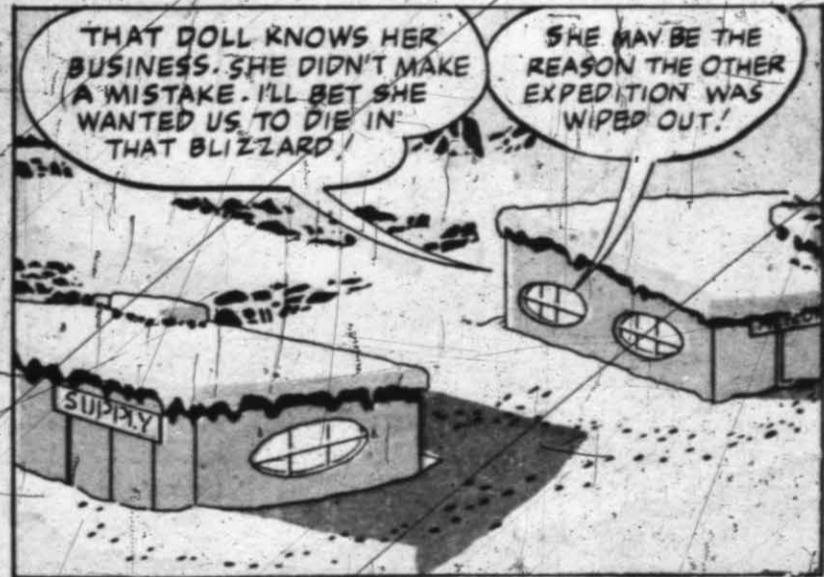

by Bill Hollingsworth

AND NOW, ON WITH THE STORY..

SCORCHY AND HIS GROUP BARELY ESCAPE BEING BURNED TO DEATH BY THE DIVING SPACE SHIP AND RETURN TO THEIR BASE CAMP. THERE THEY FIND THAT RIMA POWERS HAS BEEN DELIBERATELY GIVING THEM FALSE WEATHER REPORTS..

IF SHE KNEW THAT THE WEATHER WAS BAD WHY DID SHE TELL US DIFFERENT? COULD IT BE A MISTAKE?

THAT DOLL KNOWS HER BUSINESS. SHE DIDN'T MAKE A MISTAKE. I'LL BET SHE WANTED US TO DIE IN THAT BLIZZARD!

SHE MAY BE THE REASON THE OTHER EXPEDITION WAS WIPED OUT!

IF I CAN CUT THE CHAIN TO THIS DIGGER IT WILL CRASH INTO THE CAMP AND RUIN THE EQUIPMENT...

THAT WILL DELAY THEIR CLIMB LONG ENOUGH TO ALLOW OUR MEN TO STOP THEM FOR GOOD!

ROSCO SWEENEY
By ROY CRANE

MIND YOU, MISS SWEENEY, THERE'S NOTHING REALLY WRONG WITH MY WIFE. SHE HAS CHAPEAU-PHOBIA. YOUR JOB IS TO STOP THAT WOMAN FROM BUYING DIZZY, EXPENSIVE HATS.

BUT HOW, SIR?

THAT'S YOUR PROBLEM. BY THE WAY, HAVE YOU EVER BEEN A HAT DESIGNER?

NO, SIR, BUT IN COLLEGE I LEARNED TO MAKE MY HATS AND DRESSES.

SURPRISE, PET! I WANT YOU TO MEET MADEMOISELLE SWEENEY, THE CELEBRATED CREATOR OF WOMEN'S HATS.

NOT REALLY? OH, MY DEAR, YOU'RE THE VERY PERSON I NEED.

YOU SIMPLY MUST GO TO TOWN WITH ME AND HELP ME SELECT A HAT.

REMEMBER, YOU MUST NOT LET HER BUY ANOTHER HAT.

YES, SIR.

JUST WAIT'LL YOU SEE THEM. ADORABLE. WORKS OF ART. THEY'RE NELLY VERMELLI ORIGINALS INSPIRED BY HER TRIP TO JAMAICA.

NOW HERE'S THE FIRST ONE.

THIS, MADAME, IS CALLED "THE SEA". IT WAS CONCEIVED AFTER SEEING A NATIVE CARRYING A FISH ON HER HEAD. $129.98.

OR PERHAPS YOU PREFER THIS ONE.

A MASTERPIECE CALLED "BLACK MAGIC", DECORATED WITH AUTHENTIC VODOO CHARMS—A GOAT'S TAIL AND A CHICKEN FOOT. IRRESISTIBLE AT ONLY $149.95.

ANOTHER TREASURE. BARNYARD FOWL AND A CUNNING PIG INSIDE A "MARKET BASKET". A RARE COLLECTOR'S ITEM AT ONLY $199.73.

NOW, WHICH HAT DO YOU LIKE BEST, MISS SWEENEY?

I DON'T LIKE ANY OF THEM.

OH, DEAR! NOW I AM IN A QUANDARY, AND THERE'S ALSO "TROPIC MOON".

LOVER, YOU HAVE NO IDEA HOW HELPFUL MISS SWEENEY WAS. I BOUGHT ALL OF THEM.

OH, YOU DID, DID YOU?

Reds, Defeated in Guatemala, Chalk Up Gains in Asia

Congress Stumped By Food Surplus

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

SOMETIMES the United States reminds you of a 14-year-old, 6-foot boy. Without half trying he can work himself into some wonderfully awkward positions.

The country is now working around toward a position in which an Arab can buy American-produced food cheaper than a housewife in the nation's Middle Western breadbasket.

The House of Representatives, faced with increasing farm surpluses, decided the other day that it wanted at least a billion dollars worth of them sold abroad for what they would bring. It deliberately refused a clause which would have required the government to be careful about "dumping" which would hurt the economies of friendly countries.

The government already was giving away small quantities of food to meet shortages in foreign countries.

Take Jordan, for instance. Her government has been allotted about four million dollars in agricultural goods.

To Sell Goods

The Jordan government will sell the goods and apply the proceeds to development of a better agricultural system of her own, including irrigation, better roads, and exploitation of natural resources. The object is to fix it, eventually, so that Jordan won't be a shortage area.

This is one of the best weapons the United States has in the battle against the Soviet ideology. It is a demonstration at the most sensitive level—the belly level—that capitalism does produce surpluses of man's basic needs.

At the same time there are some people in the United States—relatively few, but some enough to make propaganda hay for the Communists—who don't get enough of the right foods because prices are too high for them.

Farm Support Program

The Eisenhower administration has been seeking flexible farm price support regulations in the hope of leveling off some of the peaks and valleys which have arisen between producers and consumers under rigid price levels. Congress was demonstrating just this week that it was too afraid of the farm vote for that.

But at the same time the Agriculture Department was imposing the strictest sort of crop reduction rules, by which farmers would lose government aid unless they quit producing surpluses. The end result of that is to assure high prices just as surely as does direct money aid. But money aid, of course, in addition to keeping prices up, also encourages surpluses.

Economic Merry-Go-Round

Government-sponsored agricultural trade missions just returned from Europe, Latin America and Asia say that in the face of these high domestic prices, the country must meet world prices if it is going to compete for a "fair share" of world food markets.

The report admits that cutting down to these prices is a costly device just as the domestic protective devices are artificial and costly.

The real way to do it, the report says, is to adjust production to the real market demand, foreign and domestic. But politics being what it is, procedure with an export program along the lines approved by the House—never admitting that it is dumping—is recommended.

The idea that food production should be cut while millions of people suffer from a lack of it is repugnant to most Americans.

Dumping Is Dangerous

But nobody has learned how to sell food to people with nothing to trade, and only recently has there been much concern about fixing them so they will have something with which to pay.

The danger of a rich country starting a dumping program leading its best friends into an economic debacle is very real these days.

Perhaps one part of the answer to the surplus problem would be to look at food as a war weapon as it was used in East Berlin last year. The free food packages given East Berliners enabled this country to buy something beyond price—a bread and butter appraisal of the workings of capitalism and communism.

Business

Signs continue to multiply that business activity—now on a relatively even keel—will show a modest upturn by September. While fall normally finds business picking up, last year's pattern was different. Production and sales reached all-time peaks in July then started a long slide. The low point was reached in some lines as late as March, 1954—as early as November, 1953, in others.

Pointing to a likely revival this fall are several important indicators.

Huge Savings Accounts

Not the least of these is the huge volume of spendable cash in savings accounts. The United States Savings & Loan League reports that total savings deposits in its 4,100 member banks accumulated faster in the first five months this year than in any comparable period on record.

Right now there's some evidence that consumer purse strings may be loosening up. Other hopeful signs: steel production, although currently down to less than 70 per cent of capacity, is expected to hit the low '80's before the summer is out.

Business inventories are in better shape than for months. Construction is booming as never before. Banks have ample funds for lending.

Seasonal Shutdowns

Recovery in the weeks immediately ahead will probably be held down by a seasonal rise in industrial unemployment. Factories will soon shut down for plant-wide vacations, repairs and overhaul, and inventory-taking. The ranks of the job hunters will be swelled by hordes of vacationing students.

There are weaknesses of a more lasting nature, too—as evidenced by permanent shutdowns in the coal fields, slipping prices of textiles and gasoline, and lagging freight traffic. Many economists believe, however, that the favorable indicators outweigh the bad. And Wall Street apparently agrees with them.

POOR TIME TO PADDLE ONE'S OWN CANOE

"AHEM!"

Arena

Capitalism vs. Communism

Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia is Communist but not a Soviet Communist country. Strange economic feuds between capitalism and communism, impossible under the austere one-party rule of the Kremlin, sometimes take place there.

One such fight is the current effort of independent taxi drivers in Belgrade, Tito's capital, against the state-owned "enterprise" which started off six months ago with a new, modernized taxi fleet. The independents appear to be winning, by forcing their nationalized competitor to operate at a loss.

Last January, the enterprise imported 24 medium-priced American cars. With import duties and a complicated government tax called a "factor," each car cost about $30,000—a total of $720,000 for the fleet.

Now, report Belgrade newspapers, the enterprise is in "serious trouble." It can't pay off its debt. It can't get an additional subsidy. It needs to double fares

Quote

Mrs. Stewart Crandall, 5-year-old daughter, Kathy Paxton, was rescued after being lost 40 hours in the high Sierra Mountains near Woods Lake, Calif. "If she wants to go back to the camp, we'll do it. Perhaps the fun there will make her forget. But it'll not make me forget. I feel '89 93 instead of 33."

to meet current expenses alone. But the independents won't go along. Higher fares, they say, would put everyone out of business.

That leaves the enterprise on the brink of disaster. "I can keep this junk heap running forever," said one independent hackler, "while the enterprise slowly goes broke." His cab bore him out. It had no name plate but the driver believed it originally was a Dodge. It had a Mercedes-Benz steering wheel, a Fiat dashboard, three Yugoslav tires and one imported from Italy.

LAND: An Old Reform

No Red Monopoly

Agrarian reform, which the Red-dominated government of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman exploited to gain popular favor in Guatemala, is an old but still "hot" topic in Mexico. The question of land distribution started Mexico's 1910-20 revolution. It may have headed off other revolutions since.

In any event, there hasn't been a successful revolution in Mexico since 1917 when the land distribution program got well under way. Few other Latin American countries have such a record.

The answer as to whether the agrarian program has been a success, however, is still disputed. The conservative National Action party says it hasn't, pointing out that Mexico still has to import wheat and corn. Many foreigners were hit by it. Liberals counter by stressing Mexico's population growth, one of the highest in the world, and cite that Mexico has always had to import food, even in the days of the big land owners.

Conservatives say the flood of Mexican farm hands to the United States shows that American farmers must go abroad to earn a living. Liberals claim the reason for emigration is that Mexico's land is too poor to support all her population.

Land distribution is still going on. The government is about ready now to turn over three big new tracts to communal farmers. The tracts, all acquired by purchase or negotiation by the government, are the 575,000 acres of the former William Randolph Hearst Ranch, the Paloma ranch south of El Paso, Tex., which was bought in the 1920's but has been occupied by big cattlemen, and the Torrenciao ranch of 30,000 acres bought from a former government official.

This is the latest step in a 40-year program which has given some 20 per cent of all Mexican land to poor farmers. Mexico—and the rest of the world as well—has learned to live with the agrarian program. Many foreigners were hit by it and diplomats worried over it for years.

Land distribution reached two peaks—in 1924 and during 1934-40. Since then distribution has slowed. The government says most of the usable land already has been distributed. Less than 10 per cent of Mexico's total area is listed as fit for cultivation.

Communist China Urges New Pact

By TOM WHITNEY Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer

INTERNATIONAL communism received a setback in the western hemisphere this week with ouster of the Reds in Guatemala but Communist China, flexing its big power muscles on the world diplomatic stage for the first time, moved to create a far-reaching anti-American alliance in Asia.

The French in Indochina evacuated Nanking Province, south of Hanoi, presenting Communist Vietnamese forces with the third largest city in the Red River delta without a shot being fired. This withdrawal followed the abandonment of An Khê, strategic transport hub and biggest French base in central Indochina.

A cease-fire, reached through mediation by the Organization of American States, ended the 12-day revolution in Guatemala with complete defeat of the Red-dominated force of the government of former President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman. Arbenz had been ousted by a military junta headed by Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz but his group was superseded in turn by another junta headed by Col. Efraim Monzon.

Col. Monzon immediately dissolved the leftist Congress, freed 600 political prisoners and began a purge of Arbenz officials that filled the jails with Communists, meeting demands of Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, leader of the insurgents.

Many Guatemalan Communists sought asylum at foreign embassies. Others fled the capital. Still others went underground. Arbenz took refuge in the Mexican Embassy with several of his chief aides.

Many Guatemalan Communists sought asylum at foreign embassies. Others fled the capital. Still others went underground. Arbenz took refuge in the Mexican Embassy with several of his chief aides.

Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev) had some relevant words about U.S. policy in Latin America. "For the last generation," he declared, "we forgot where Guatemala was. Is it not about time that our Secretary of State pays some attention to the western hemisphere?"

The trade future of the United States, he added, lies in Latin America, not in Europe.

Chou Takes a Trip With the American project for a NATO of the Far East still marking time, the Red Chinese proposal for a counter to that proposal has not been mentioned. The Red Chinese have now "discovered" their population is nearly 602 million. This is nearly 125 million more people than previously credited to China. Whether the figure is fact or fiction dreamed up to scare the world a little more is not known, but the Red Chinese claim to have carried out the first universal census in their country.

Industrial Build-up From Moscow comes an article by a Chinese Communist economic expert declaring that by 1959 Red China will have the industrial production which the Soviet Union had in 1933—with the same sort of concentration on heavy industry as the Soviets established.

In 1932 the Soviet Union was just on the threshold of its industrialization of recent years and by no means a weak nation. The economic upbuilding of Communist China will take many years, of course, but the long range prospect is startling. Ultimately it may be as dangerous to the Russians as to the rest of the world.

Other Developments Other international developments took some new twists during the week but, for a change, some things were looking up a bit for the United States and the free world.

The Washington talks of Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and President Eisenhower seemed to indicate a little better understanding on the defense of Southeast Asia.

The British-American meeting also resulted in agreement on pushing for a quick decision from France on ratification of the European Defense Community treaty and granting of sovereignty to West Germany.

Near Agreement From two smaller countries of the Middle East came what appeared to be encouraging news on settlement of disputes there. Correspondents in Egypt indicated approach to an agreement on British withdrawal from the Suez Canal Zone. In Iran negotiations between the foreign oil consortium which is dickering to operate Iran's nationalized oil industry and the Iranian government seemed to be moving well.

RECORD FLOOD—Rio Grande, on worst rampage in history, made thousands homeless along ordinarily parched U.S.-Mexican border. Here airphoto shows Del Rio, Tex. (across the river) and partly submerged international bridge. River was 40 feet deep at this point.

Sidelights

Down a main street of Asakusa, a suburb of Tokyo, paraded a line of Japanese men draped only in towels. They were walking home from the public bath house where someone had stolen their clothes.

In Lebanon, Ind., the name of a traffic patrolman in the police department is Park Quick.

Creede, Colo., officers said a Rockport, Tex., man was the victim of his own booby trap. Before leaving his summer cabin last fall, the man rigged a .22-calibre rifle facing the doorway to guard against thieves. Then he posted warning signs about the place. Returning last week, the owner found his cabin windows broken. Angered, he stormed through the door. The rifle fired and the man dropped with a slug in his chest. He crawled to the highway where a passing motorist took him to a hospital in Del Norte.

CIVIL WAR—Rebel planes bombed Guatemala City after the first military junta had deposed President Arbenz but before it was superseded by the Monzon regime which negotiated the cease-fire. Here storage tanks, riddled by rebel strafing, stream gasoline. Raid caused gas rationing in Guatemalan capital.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's note: The following letter, which was originally printed in the Arizona Daily Sun at Flagstaff, was clipped by the writer and sent to Dr. George W. Heard, Mrs. C. B. Wilson, who wrote the letter, said in her letter to Dr. Heard that she was planning to send a number of the clippings to various people she knew.)

Recently on a return trip from the Ozark Mountains my son and I noticed that Hereford, county seat of Deaf Smith County, Tex., was only 31 miles south at a point on Highway 65.

We decided to drive down to Hereford, which has been described in certain quarters as "The Town Without a Toothache," to get some first-hand information on the subject of the effect of natural fluorine on the teeth of the people of Hereford. Deaf Smith County is quite well known, not only for its naturally fluoridated water, but also for other minerals in its soil such as phosphorus. It was at Hereford that the whole idea of fluoridation of drinking water had its inception.

The first people we saw in Hereford were six old gentlemen who were occupying a couple of benches on the sidewalk in the center of town. Four of them were completely without teeth. On investigation we found that Hereford boasts as many dentists per capita as Flagstaff and we wondered how the forces which are trying to place sodium fluoride in drinking water could explain the situation.

We went into the Chamber of Commerce and found a charming, co-operative young lady in charge. We told her we had come to Hereford to learn something about the effect of their naturally fluoridated water on the teeth of the residents. She told us we would probably find Dr. George W. Heard of 61 N. Main Street, Hereford, a very interesting person to talk to.

We approached his home wondering what he would say on the subject of the effect of fluorine on teeth and whether he would be for or against the placing of sodium fluoride in the drinking water of cities. We wanted all the information we could get on the subject, and knew we would be most interested in anything he might say pro or con.

Dr. Heard stated that fluorine turns teeth brown and causes them to crumble. Such teeth will not hold fillings and there is nothing to do but to pull them. He also stated that there is a good deal of pyorrhea in Hereford.

Dr. Heard is an alert and intelligent man of about 87 years "young." He told us he had lived in Hereford 30 years and had practiced dentistry there most of the time. He is at present retired. It was Dr. Heard who called in some members of the dental profession 15 years ago to inspect the remarkably good teeth of Hereford. He also had the wheat grown in Deaf Smith County analyzed for its mineral content. Dr. Heard might be called the father of the idea of the beneficial effect of fluorine on teeth—a title which he would most probably resent.

Dr. Heard stated to us that at the time of the dentists' visit 15 years ago he and others agreed that it was the fluorine in the water which gave the residents of Hereford such fine teeth.

However, since that time Dr. Heard has changed his mind about what prevents caries in teeth, and regrets bitterly that some of the other dentists have not changed theirs. He stated to us that the teeth of the people of Hereford, today are no better than they are anywhere else although they are drinking the same naturally fluoridated water.

"It is his belief that good diet and good diet alone—was the factor that produced fine teeth 15 years ago, and that is a poor diet today which contributes solely to the poor teeth today. He stated that in the earlier years each family in Hereford had its own garden and cow. Today the fruits, vegetables and milk are shipped in from areas less rich in mineral content and what vitamins there were at the place of production have disappeared by staleness before they reach the tables in Hereford.

On being asked his opinion on the placing of sodium fluoride in the drinking water of cities, Dr. Heard became more than emphatic, saying that such a procedure is "hellish and un-American." He stated that sodium fluoride is a deadly poison which is the refuse from the manufacture of aluminum; that it is an inorganic substance which cannot be assimilated by the human body but remains in the body as a poison. He also stated that dentists only know how to repair damaged teeth; that they have not made a study of foods and chemistry and are not qualified to pass judgment on the effect of these elements on the human body.

Dr. Heard had no kind words for the major aluminum company. With all of the deadly waste material of sodium fluoride on its hands which it can neither put in streams or bury, it is looking for a way to get rid of it even if the people of this country have to drink poison and at a price!

Dr. Heard gave us a copy of a letter he had written on March 15, 1954 to Roby C. Day, 112 Lewis St., San Diego, saying that that letter represents his views. We quote in full his letter which is as follows:

"Hereford, Texas has been called the 'Town Without A Tooth Ache'. This is not true. But the phrase has been used effectively by the people interested in marketing 'Sodium Fluoride,' all over the country.

"I have practiced dentistry here for years. The native population of Hereford and Deaf Smith County have remarkably good teeth. The incidence of caries or tooth decay was very low. I finally succeeded in getting some members of the dental profession to come to Hereford to find the cause of the excellent dental health of our people.

"After considerable research, it was suggested, that the relatively high content of Natural Fluorine in our water supply was responsible,

I accepted this conclusion for a time. The people who had great quantities of Sodium Fluoride and Sodium Silico Fluoride as by-products of the Aluminum Co. and the Fertilizer Industries, decided that when these by-products were added to city water supplies, they would produce the same type of dental health which existed here with the Natural Fluorine. They widely publicized 'The Town Without a Toothache.' They are, I believe, still doing it.

"As the years went by I continued to study the local situation. I observed that, as the town grew and more people began to live on processed foods, such as canned goods, white flour products, soft drinks etc., tooth decay occurred, even though they were drinking the same fluorinated water, we had always been drinking. I am now fully convinced that good natural food is the preventive of dental caries as well as other diseases.

"I believe that fluorine does, in a mild way, retard caries, but, I also believe the damage it does is far greater than any good it may appear to accomplish. It even makes the teeth so brittle and crumbly that they can be treated only with difficulty, if at all.

"The dental investigators who came to our County, some 15 years ago did, in my opinion make a serious mistake when they gave to fluorine the credit for our teeth, and overlooked the quality of food grown in our rich, well mineralized soil. Every person I found who had no dental caries, consumed much milk.

"Why use a poison, when correct food will maintain our bodies free from diseases and tooth decay? It is hellish and un-American to put poison in city water supplies and force citizens to drink it.

"I sincerely hope that at least some of your dentists are co-operating with you in getting the real truth about tooth decay over to your citizens."

I am sure the information contained in Dr. Heard's letter above will prove of great interest to the people of this area.

Sincerely,
Mrs. C. B. Wilson Sr.

CHANGES KANSAS FOR A STAGECOACH - Chris Raffety, Killeen, Tex., youngster, got upset the other day when a model stagecoach he was constructing was destroyed. So he left home without a cent in his pockets and headed back to his home state of Kansas. He got 10 miles before Fort Hood MP's picked him up. After hours of questioning, sheriff's department members got to the root of the trouble and Deputy Roy Barton drew the pleasant task of finding another stagecoach for Chris. Here the pair look at the new coach after Barton asked the manager of a Temple store to open up at 11 p.m. to accommodate Barton and the unbelieving Chris. ## Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley

AP Special Washington Service

Washington, July 4—Officers of the Brazos River Authority have been here spending the ground for legislation they propose to finance a 145-million dollar dam construction program.

Plans outlined by H. S. Hilburn, Plainview publisher and BRA president, visualize a 300-mile-long lake to be created by erection of five new dams between Whitney and Possum Kingdom reservoirs.

They would be identified as Turkey Creek, Inspiration Point, High-tower, de Cordova Bend and Bee Mountain dams. All would have hydroelectric power units. In addition, Possum Kingdom dam would be raised 15 feet.

A somewhat novel method of financing construction is proposed. It entails passage of legislation. No gift of funds is asked, but a long-term interest-bearing loan of 45 million dollars from the government is sought, repayable only after the 100 million dollars proposed to be borrowed from private sources is repaid.

John D. McCall of Dallas, general counsel of the Brazos Authority, discussed the proposed financing arrangement at a dinner the BRA officials gave for the Texas members of congress and their wives at the Shearson - Carlton Hotel.

"We would anticipate receiving approximately seven million dollars a year revenue from sale of power wholesale," he commented. "Maintenance and operating expenses would amount to about $600,000 per year, leaving $6,400,000 to pay off our debt."

He estimated that although the loans from the private banking sources would be obtained for repayment over as long as 50 years, foreseeable conditions indicate the principal and interests would be settled within 30 years.

Normally sponsors of such developments get their legislators to introduce legislation authorizing the projects. Then they come up to testify and otherwise press for action.

"We're going about it from a bit different approach," said McCall. "We've been busy talking not only with congressmen but with officials in the downtown federal agencies who would have to pass upon plans.

"Then, when a bill is introduced and referred to them for their views, they will already be familiar with our proposal."

He expressed hope that legislation might be enacted into law, even though coming up at this late date, with Congress aiming for July 31 adjournment.

In addition to the hydroelectric power, the dams would impound approximately 1,400,000 acre feet of water, of which a million acre feet would be dedicated to domestic, industrial, municipal and agricultural uses. (An acre-foot of water is the amount it takes to cover one acre to a depth of one foot.)

Other BRA officials who joined in the conferences and acted as hosts to the Texas congressional delegation included R. D. Collins of Mineral Wells, BRA general manager; J. H. Fox of Hearne,

Personals

Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Conklin were in Amarillo Friday evening to attend the wedding of their daughter-in-law Mrs. Shirley Conklin, to Thomas Hughes. The wedding was held in the First Presbyterian Church. The Conklins were accompanied from Canyon by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greenhouse, and their grandson, Craig Conklin, returned home with them to spend a couple of weeks.

Q. How can I remove stains from knives?

A. The majority of knife stains can be quickly removed by rubbing with a piece of raw potato.

Q. How can I clean dull and dingy-looking gilt picture frames?

A. Cover with a thick paste of sifted whiting and alcohol and rub off with flannel before it hardens; or, rub with a cut lemon and sponge with water containing one tablespoonful of baking soda to the pint. This is good for gilding done only with gold leaf or Dutch metal and does not refer to frames painted with powders.

Q. How can I give starch a brilliant luster?

A. Soak for five or six hours, one ounce of white gum arabic in one quart of water, then add two ounces of borax and heat to the boiling point. Now add one ounce of glycerin. When cool, strain and bottle for use. Stir one tablespoonful of this mixture into every three quarts of starch used.

Q. How can I make colored icing without artificial coloring?

A. By using orange juice or egg yolk for yellow, spinach juice for green, blackberry juice for lavender, or red beet juice for pink.

Q. How can I keep a clothesline from stretching?

A. Boil the new clothesline before using. It will make it last longer and prevent it from stretching.

Q. How can I make a high polish for furniture?

A. Use equal parts of lemon oil and turpentine; saturate a cloth and go over the surface to be polished. Then dampen another cloth, wring almost dry and wipe off excess oil. Polish with a woolen cloth.

Q. How can I serve ice cream quickly when dishing it from containers?

A. The ice cream can be placed in the dishes quickly if the spoon is wet with cold water each time before thrusting into the container.

Q. How can I easily clean bed springs?

A. Place the springs in the sun and turn the hose on them. The sun will dry them within a very short time.

Q. How can I prevent callouses on the hands when using a broom?

A. This can be prevented by covering the upper part of the handle of the broom with any soft material, sewing it firmly, tacking the lower end of the material to the handle.

Q. How can I keep olive oil from becoming rancid?

A. Place two medium-sized lumps of sugar in one quart of olive oil, as soon as it is opened, and it will prevent the oil from becoming rancid.

WHEAT - UP BUT DOWN

Approximately 43 cars of wheat — 86,000 bushels — been marketed in Wellington this season, and the crop is probably 75 per cent harvested, buyers revealed week. Although this is considerably more than even the optimistic thought would be harvested during the dry-sp months, it is less than was expected immediately after early May rains fell. Carson County is getting ready for the annual harvest. Specters are that this will be the best harvest Carson county had since 1950. ## SOME DISAPPOINTMENTS

The present wheat harvest is proving "disappointing," vator men say. The harvest started off with some good wheat but hot winds have shriveled the grain and now a lot of it is very light, testing as low as 50 pounds. The yield is also not coming up to expectations, they say, and the harvest this year won't be much better, if any, than last. The Lockney Beacon.

Harbin herd a Guernsey, Molly, produced 1,730 pounds of milk, 78 pounds of butterfat, 4.5 per cent. Chum, a Guernsey in the same herd, had milk production of 1,040 pounds of milk, 52 pounds of butterfat, 5.0 per cent and Colleen of the Harbin herd had 900 pounds of milk, 47 per cent. # The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson farm on Goathead Prairie writes about something he's on a holiday on this week, vacations.

— O —

Dear editor:

As a strong advocate of installment buying — I'm not only in favor of a small downpayment and the rest in installments too and frequently would like to cut the installment into installments — I was interested in reading about a new branch of service now available on the installment plan.

According to this item, you can now buy a vacation trip on the installment plan. Just pick out a trip you'd like to take, make a small downpayment on it, and they'll furnish you a ticket on a bus, train or airplane, furnish you hotel room, meals, etc., and when you get back home you can pay it rest out in monthly installments.

Now I am highly in favor of such a system, and rate it right alongside my favorite plan for getting the post office tax money orders on the installment plan, but there is one question that has been bothering me about it.

What I'd like to know is, if you fail to meet an installment how do they re-possess your trip?

I have thought about this long and hard, letting it crowd out Indo-China, Guatamala, parity prices, and the government race, but I'll admit I'm still puzzled.

The only thing I can think of is this: I guess they could threaten to send you right back over the same ground, and most cases it would probably bring in the money. My observation has been that most folks, after they get in off a vacation trip of several hundred or a thousand miles or more, he rather take a beating than have to pack up again and have to re-trace their vacation steps, drink all the soda water again, eat all the hamburgers, look at the same sights, do the same things, wrestle with the same children, swelter under the same hot sun, and most people would re-finance the washing machine or their car to pay off the vacation installment.

Vacations are great things, I suppose, but most people have them reversed. They work all year in order to get a two-week trip, but I'd rather have a vacation all year and work two weeks. I'm working on this plan now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Sunday Brand Six Years Old Today

Your Sunday Brand is six years old today, the first copy having made its appearance on July 4, 1948.

Despite its humble beginning, including serious objections from many subscribers who started taking the Thursday paper in 1901, audited circulation of the Sunday paper this week is running slightly ahead of the 2,800 papers printed on the week-day issue. At home, we like to feel that the Sunday edition is a by-word — even a necessity — bringing accounts of strictly local happenings and timely messages from advertisers.

Abroad, the Sunday Brand has also made history. It was the first successful semi-weekly Sunday publication in the Southwest and has been used as a model in several other communities in Texas. Most of these other Sunday papers, we might add, are also proving successful.

Twice-a-week news, along with definite departments, is unquestionably more timely than on a once each week basis. In view of the fact that more men have time to carefully read the paper on Sunday we are also finding some variations from general readership categories. Likewise, display and classified advertisers report the frequency of issue desirable.

The big item, however, is still concentrated in two words: "Public Acceptance." If we dropped the Sunday Brand, as suddenly

Fireworks Jamboree Is Excellent Idea

Plans are once again complete for Hereford's annual fireworks jamboree, scheduled to begin at 9:00 o'clock Sunday evening, July 4. The occasion will, in fact, be "bigger and better" than ever before.

Last year the fireworks display drew approximately 7,500 people to Veterans Park south of town. Those who viewed the fireworks had nothing but praise for the display. Meanwhile, success of the event has created such attention that a similar "jamboree" will be staged in the neighboring city of Amarillo. The Hereford display, however, is expected to draw about the same size crowd as in 1953, and the hour was set at 9:00 o'clock in order to allow those who desire to attend church services prior to the display.

The fireworks jamboree is strictly a community service, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees, to provide entertainment for an otherwise unoccupied public. No one makes any profit, directly or indirectly, from the event. It is strictly a "have fun" affair. Everyone is invited — and it is all free. In some measure, it provides the excitement and interest of the "Old Fashion Fourth" when kids shot their own fireworks before city ordinances and accidents banned the practice.

As pioneers in the program, the Chamber of Commerce deserves much credit. Spread of the jamboree into other areas proves its worth — and emphasizes the possibilities offered through a planned Chamber of Commerce program.

"Crop" Donations Increase 20 - to - 1

In these days of continuous drives and donations, all worthwhile, it is difficult for people to get very enthusiastic over any single project.

People who like to see their contributions do 100 cents worth of good for every dollar donated, however, should carefully inform themselves regarding CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program which is subsidized by the U. S. government to the extent that it reaps a harvest of 20-to-one — or $20 for each $1 donated. The same 20-to-one formula is also true regarding wheat and other commodities contributed.

This situation is due to the fact that church representatives of various denominations distribute the foods, clothing and necessities so much more effectively than do government channels. Such, at least, is the essence of information distributed through CROP, and veracity of the statement is backed by the offer of the government to match all donations on the 20-to-one basis. Most of the government commodities, it seems, are taken from surpluses created through the farm subsidy program, and in working through CROP the government appears to be altering the original lend-lease program of the United States.

To say the least, the movement is strictly Christian in its appeal, its purpose and its results. It provides the donor an opportunity to lend not one helping hand, but 20. Most donations are cut in size before they reach the benefactor, due to administration, shipping costs and other factors. CROP is the only one which increased twenty times before reaching its destination.

About Windmills

An interesting article on "windmills" was recently covered in Roberta Campbell's farm section of The Brand. The windmill, it appears, is still extensively used as a major factor in the lives and economy of Deaf Smith County residents. This situation, we feel, merits some speculation.

Did you ever stop to think what a tremendous role the windmill has played in the history of this area? Hereford was originally called "The City of Windmills"; every house had at least one windmill, some had two. Around the windmill was founded the operation of the famous XIT Ranch and operators even had huge windmills built on giant-size scale to the average installation. It was the windmill which led early residents to delve into surface irrigation on a commercial scale in Deaf Smith County back in 1916.

Certainly, extensive use of the windmill today is no reflection of the progressive spirit of the community. It indicates, instead, practical application of a method which has been proven down through the years. Use of the wind as free power, after all, costs no more in 1954 than it cost in 1904.

All in all, the windmill has probably contributed more to the progress and welfare of this territory than did any other specific improvement during the past 100 years.

"It's senseless to bewail the actions of misguided youths, per se. Vandalism, lack of morals, irresponsibility, are the effects of causes over which the youngsters have no control, and of which they don't even have a knowledge. In our judgment the basic cause of young delinquency is a breakdown in home training. The moral lesson that this involves is serious. Values that were held in high respect before are now swept aside." BRIDGEHAMPTON, N. Y., NEWS

"Some people may have a confused notion that our country, because of its constitutional separation of church and state, is officially divorced from religion. This is not so! The Bill of Rights provision that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion' simply means that no creed — Presbyterian, Catholic, Baptist, Episcopalian nor any other — shall be recognized and favored as a national creed. That is the essence of the religious freedom all Americans enjoy." COALINGA, CALIF., RECORD.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Dial And Rate Increase Might Go Well Together

Considering all factors in the telephone situation, do you think that the company is entitled to a rate increase without making some changes in the system in Hereford?

MRS. H. L. SMITH

"They are working for a living and I think that if necessary they deserve a raise. As for myself I am well pleased with my telephone service."

HARDY COLE

"I most definitely do not think that the company is entitled to a rate increase without making some changes. The main reason is that the telephone company's service doesn't justify. The operators are not prompt enough or accurate enough. I think they ought to put in a dial system before making any more rate increases."

MRS. AUSTIN ROSE

"I believe they are entitled to a rate increase. We have very good operators and they are courteous. I am very well pleased with the telephone service that I receive. I think that it would be awfully nice if they did put in the dial system but if they don't I still think they deserve the rate increase."

J. W. STENGEL

"Of course, I don't want a rate increase on telephone service. If the company is getting a fair price now I see no need for the increase. However, if they feel that they are not getting a fair price then I am in favor of the rate increase."

MRS. R. L. SIMPSON

"No, I don't think that they are entitled to a rate increase, I think that they are high enough. It seems to me that the rate was high enough to begin with. It would be nice if they would put in a dial system, that is if they didn't raise the rates too high. With a dial system I would be in favor of the rate increase."

F. P. LYONS

"I sure don't think that they are entitled to a rate increase. The service here is very poor, just about as poor as it can get. Lots of times you take the receiver from the hook and sit five minutes before an operator answers you. As far as I am concerned, I think that this is the poorest system that I have ever seen."

It seems to bad the H. D. Choral Club is going to lose Mrs. G. E. Mullins as director. She has done a wonderful job with the Chorus and it will be hard to find someone else who is willing to give the time that she has to train a group of women to do the job as she has.

The Chorus has been received with a great deal of enthusiasm everywhere it has made a public appearance.

However the looks of the country now hasn't given her any ideas of wanting to spend a winter up there.

We never saw so many African violets outside of a green house as Augustine Gregory has growing out at their home northwest of town. We would be satisfied if we could get one puny plant to survive but she has several colors and varieties that we didn't even know existed and rows of pots every way you look.

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — This year's campaign for the governorship of Texas is boiling down to an old-fashioned political battle.

Governor Allan Shivers and his opponent Ralph Yarborough are touring the state and throwing punches.

Shivers calls Yarborough the "hand-picked candidate" of the CIO political action committee.

Yarborough accuses Shivers of running an anti-labor campaign. Yarborough asks for sportsmanship and fair play in campaigning.

Shivers replies that he is happy to learn that Yarborough is going to quit telling "untruths and run a clean campaign for a change."

Yarborough criticizes Shivers for seeking a third term and pictures him as a Democrat-Republican.

Shivers also drew a jab from the Texas State Federation of Labor at its convention in Corpus Christi. The Federation urged his defeat for re-election and termed his record "obnoxious."

Shivers says his labor opposition is originating from the big party bosses and not the rank and file of workers.

The tempo will increase with the temperature as July 24 approaches.

Meanwhile Shivers will be using newspaper ads and radio time to get his message to the public. Yarborough, on the other hand, will concentrate largely on radio and TV.

Political Pot
Other state political races, warming up now, saw these developments:

Dudley T. Dougherty, candidate for the U. S. Senate, pounded away at incumbent Lyndon B. Johnson's voting record, declaring Johnson "absolutely unfit to be nominated for Senator."

Dougherty listed nine counts to "indict Johnson before the bar of Texas public opinion."

Former Governor Coke Stevenson, who now is helping to mastermind Dougherty's campaign, reports that the response to his appeal to voters to help elect Dougherty "has been heavy."

Jabs at Vice

Doug Crouch of Fort Worth, candidate for Attorney General, charged that opponent John Ben Shepperd was going easy on friends and prosecuting his enemies.

Crouch also lashed out at what he called flourishing vice organizations in Galveston and guaranteed that he would start his clean-up campaign of the Island City in 24 hours if elected.

Insurance Tangle
Meanwhile Shepperd and Insurance Commission Chairman Garland Smith tangled over an issue involving the General American Casualty Company of San Antonio, latest insurance failure.

Smith held that the firm should include an unusual reason for its failure in the report to the commission — that an accusation by a political candidate had accelerated its bankruptcy.

Shepperd said he wasn't in favor of it.

Let's Cook Something

Sponge Cake, Chilly Desserts Fit Fourth Of July Weather

The sponge cake is a fascinating dessert — to a degree — that good cooks find hard to understand because it is so simple to do. Great interest in preparing foods, especially cake, is usually reserved for more complicated cookery.

Today's recipe, so welcome on the Fourth of July holiday and during the warm weather to follow, belongs to Mrs. D. H. Alexander who has used it for years. It can be served with any summertime dessert at any meal, even with coffee for breakfast, and can be kept indefinitely in the home freezer. Mrs. Alexander says it is such a favorite at their house that when she sees the supply getting low, she makes another and puts it in the freezer in order to be certain she will have it when needed.

- Sponge Cake
- 1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
  - 6 eggs (separated)
  - 1 1/2 cups sugar
  - 1-3 cup cold orange juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Start oven at 325 — Have ready a 12 inch tube pan.
Sift flour and salt together. Beat whites of eggs at high speed until foamy and sprinkle in the cream of tartar. Beat until whites stand at peaks and add 1/2 cup of sugar gradually still beating at high speed.

Beat the yolks of the eggs at high speed for two minutes. Add the cold orange juice and beat one minute longer. Add one cup of sugar very gradually, add vanilla and continue beating until smooth and light.

Fold flour into the yolk of eggs mixture and blend. Pour this into the stiffly beaten whites and fold gently until no white patches appear.

Pour into prepared pan and bake in pre-heated oven for one hour and 15 minutes.

of or politics being injected into the issue.

General American directors, although now hating the source, had complained that many of their troubles arose when a candidate for governor had charged that a Texas Insurance firm was deeply in the red. This called unfavorable attention to their company and prevented the re-establishment of financial soundness, they said. A later check revealed that Yarborough had made a similar accusation on the date given by the company's directors.

Shivers Lauded

A committee set up to aid the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools has commended Governor Allan Shivers for advances made in mental and tubercular care.

Headed by Dr. R. L. Sutherland of Austin, the group listed progress in the state mental and tubercular treatment program as including more patients being discharged from hospitals, reduced hospitalization time, a decline in the death rate of patients, and construction of new buildings.

Committee recommendations called for better salaries for doctors, a new research and training hospital, and organization of a research and training program.

SDX To Help Orphans

High-school age youngsters at the State Orphans Home in Corsicana will enter Corsicana public schools — for the first time — next September. The state provides these girls and boys with everything but spending money.

Members of the Austin Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi became concerned about this unhappy situation and decided to do something about it.

"A little spending money, that's all they want," said Bill Gardner, chapter president. "Just enough to jingle in an otherwise empty pocket. Enough to buy a Coke, or an ice cream cone, or a candy bar — just like the other boys and girls."

So SDX invited Robert Boyd, superintendent of the school, to come to Austin and talk to the chapter.

As a consequence the journalists have promised to raise enough cash to keep these 60 young orphan boys and girls in spending money until they finish high school. And it will be a continuing program for the benefit of the new ones who enroll each year.

High Court Candidates

Two Texas lawyers have been named as possible candidates, either by appointment or election, for the position of the late Graham B. Smedley on the state Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Clyde E. Gissom of the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals and W. N. Stokes, formerly on the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, have been suggested.

Dawn News

By Bertha Frye

Hugh Grimes and his mother left Monday for Boise City, Okla. Mrs. Hugh Grimes and son had gone several days earlier. The Grimes plan to make their home in Boise City.

Visiting in the H. S. Fuller home this week is their niece, Delores Warrick, of Lott.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby of Mobeetie visited last weekend here with their three daughters and their families, the Reece Stewarts, the Ray T. Stewarts and J. B. Caraways. The group had dinner Sunday in the J. B. Caraway home. Donna Caylor of Hereford was also a guest.

Mrs. Marvin May and Douglas and Mrs. Ernest May were fishing at Buffalo Lake Monday.

Dawn won a ball game over Piggy Wiggly last Tuesday night.

Year Book Meeting

Mrs. H. S. Fuller attended the Home Demonstration year book committee meeting at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. George Lane of Dalhart, Mrs. J. G. Gandy and daughters, Pat and Beth, of Capulin, N. M., were visitors in the J. B. Caraway home Monday.

Carol Miller left the first of last week for Lubbock, where he is employed by the Soil Conservation Service.

Mrs. Darrell Jansen and children and her mother, Mrs. C. F. Finley of Hereford, were visitors in the Henry Spier home Monday.

Alice Ann Caroway spent several days in the H. H. Caraway home in Hereford this past week.

Bird Is All Wet

TRUCKEE, Calif. (AP)—A blue parakeet, Tweety Pie, escaped from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kay and flitted downtown. Spectators could not recapture the bird.

But Fire Chief N. F. Dolloy drenched Tweety Pie with a small stream of water and the bird's wet feathers forced him to the sidewalk—unharmd.

Illegal Parking Approved
DETROIT (AP)—Traffic Referee John M. Wise promptly dismissed an illegal parking charge when Arthur Bensmiller's mother explained:

Arthur, 18, pulled into the parking space at the Federal Building and went in to enlist in the Air Force. The sign said "reserved for military vehicles." Arthur figured his car would qualify by the time he got back. But there was a ticket just the same. Arthur didn't come to court because he was in Texas, taking Air Force basic training.

Beirut Laws Enforced
BEIRUT (AP)—A new chief of police, Commandant Youssef Haraki, began his first week in office by arresting more than 20 policemen, who were inclined to look the other way when their friends violated traffic laws. Then he knocked off the top floor of a building one story higher than the law allowed; he threatened similar treatment to 1,300 other surplus stores in Beirut buildings.

He closed eight restaurants guilty of violating sanitation laws. And he is enforcing traffic regulations

Commandant Haraki has been assaulted by an armed policeman, and several landlords have threatened to "shoot it out" with the police if they try to enforce the long-ignored building regulations their property.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q: I have heard that face powder has a tendency to clog one's pores, and causes blackheads. Is this true?

A. No. Actually, face powder helps to absorb excess oil secretion and also protects the face from dirt, dust and weather.

Q: What can I do about the muscles in my throat which are becoming somewhat flabby?

A. You might try regular, gentle patting of these muscles. Also, a good daily exercise consists of throwing the head back as far as you can, then opening and closing the mouth several times. Make it a habit to keep your head and chin uplifted at all times as much as possible.

Q: How can I add more smoothness to my lips?

A. You might try buying some lip pomade. The sticks come in white or, if your lips are very pale and need a hint of color, in a light rose shade. Pomade makes your lips soft, and keeps them that way.

Q: How can I mix myself a good mouth astringent at home?

A. The unsweetened juice of a lemon mixed in 1/4 glass of water.

Q: What external treatment can

I give to very oily hair?

A. Shampoo it oftener, and also brush it oftener. Brushing carries the oil to the very tips of the hair where it belongs, away from the scalp where it clogs. Treat yourself to a vigorous massaging before every shampoo. You have oily hair because the tiny oil glands are working overtime, and massage and brushing will help regulate them.

Q: What is a home formula for a good skin-cleansing lotion?

A. Mix one-half teaspoon of good cologne, two teaspoons of witch hazel, and one tablespoon of rose water. Apply this with small cotton pads, and mix fresh for each treatment.

Q: Will you suggest a hairstyle for a girl with a very high forehead?

A. You might try bangs, a semi-fluff bang, or waves that dip low onto your brow. By-pass any hair-cream that pulls the hair straight back because the exposure adds too much length to your face.

Q: Should eye shadow be used for daytime wear?

A. Better use white petroleum jelly or heavy cold cream, and use it the same as eye shadow—just a touch of cream. You don't want your lids to have a heavy look. This cream will remove any face powder and reveal the natural shadow of your eyes. It also serves to lubricate your delicate eyelids and give them a dewy look.

Q: How can I remove whiteheads from my skin?

A. Try applying a thick paste of fuller's earth and witch hazel. Wrap some gauze over the face to keep this in place, then after a few minutes, wash off with cool water.

This Tastes Good In Texas

Lemon Barbecue Sauce
1 clove garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup salad or olive oil
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons grated onion
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Mash garlic with salt in bowl, stir in remaining ingredients. Chill 24 hours. Especially good on chicken.

Oven Method for Barbecuing Chicken: Select young broiler-fryer chickens weighing about 1 1/2 pounds dressed. Cut in half, place skin side up in roasting or broiling pan and pour sauce over them one half to one inch deep. Bake uncovered in a slow oven 325 degree F. about 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Test leg joints for doneness. If they come apart easily, when twisted, the chicken is done. For rich crispness, place cooked chickens skin side up, baste and turn up heat to 500 degrees F. or place under broiler heat for 2 or 3 minutes. Serve extra barbecue sauce over the chicken.

Ink Stains
For ink stains on white fabric keep the following solution or band—One ounce each of sal ammoniac and salts of tartar. Put in a quart bottle half full of water and shake well for several minutes, then fill bottle with water, shake again and cork. Soak the goods in this solution and then wash.

Sunstroke
The back of the neck is the weakest spot of the spine. To prevent sunstroke see that the back of the neck is well protected from the rays of the sun.

Ants
A remedy for driving away ants is to smear the infested cracks and corners with balsam of peru. Sulphur will drive away red ants.

Polished Surfaces
The linen will not stick to the polished table in hot weather if a piece of waxed paper is placed under the centerpiece. This will also prevent a stain from cold water or an overfilled vase.

Cherry Stain
A cherry stain can be made by mixing 1 quart of boiled linseed oil, 3 gills of turpentine, 6 tablespoonfuls of burnt sienna, and 4 tablespoonfuls for whitening.

Skin Lotion
Equal parts of ordinary baking soda and talcum powder make a cooling and refreshing lotion for the skin. It will also save talcum powder bills.

Ringworm Remedy
Put 1 part of iodine in 2 parts of water, or alcohol. Touch the surrounding flesh with this solution. It will prevent spreading, and in about two weeks the ringworm should disappear.

Grease Stains
If there are grease stains on wall paper, mix pipe clay and water to the consistency of cream, apply it to the spots and allow it to remain for 24 hours.

The Porch Swing
If the porch swing has developed a squeak try wrapping the hooks with pieces of thin leather, or any other material that will not wear through easily.

Insect Sting
For a bee or insect sting, first remove the sting if it remains. Then apply ammonia water or carbonate of soda and water. Common mud applied will relieve the pain. Or wet some cut tobacco and apply to the sting.

Timely Tips
1. Serve three well-balanced meals every day in the year. The bodies need for nutritious food does not decrease in warm weather.
