There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful . . . three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

Welding

... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco . . .

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish. When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco. It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

plan, will, insofar as available funds permit, assume the expense of technical supervision, soil surveys, erosion survey, land use survey, engineering surveys, including terrace lines, contour lines, diversion structures, dams, gully control and tree sites, propagating material such as trees, grass seed and emergency cover crop seed, free loan of such machinery and equipment as is not customarily made use of on the farm, and educational demonstration work, such as projects, camps, etc.

Loans from the appropriate Federal agency to augment the revolving fund of the district will be requested as needed, with the loans to be secured by liens on the land as evidenced by certificates issued by the governing body of the district. The technical personnel would be employed jointly by the Soil Conservation Service and the district.

Work Classification.
The recommendation makes the following classification of erosion control work:

Recovery work, including the distributing of fence row drifts and like accumulations (voluntary work); revegetating of severely eroded land (compulsory), with the government purchasing for revegetation and administration eroded areas so badly damaged that they are of little or no value for agricultural or grazing purposes and which constitute an erosion hazard to adjacent lands; leveling of hummocks (voluntary); pasture contouring of thin grass land (voluntary), and the restoring of damaged grass stands (voluntary).

Emergency precautionary work, including listing (compulsory); cover crop planting (compulsory), and the disposition of Russian thistle accumulations (voluntary).

Permanent improvement work, including windbreak tree planting (voluntary), and water conservation by terracing, contouring, dams, diversion structures and gully control (voluntary).

be shifted about throughout the contest.

Linemen at War.
Hicks is the lad most likely to get the starting nod at center for the A squad. Higgins or Vaughn will start for the seconds, with the other seeing plenty of action. The guard positions seem to be fairly certain, with Alva Barber and Dean pairing on the first squad, with Schumacher and Roitston opposing them. At tackle, where a healthy fight for starting berths is under way, McCollum refused to name the A and B players. The following four boys will start Friday's tilt, but in what order they will not know until game time: Boardman, Willett, Sewell and Hagar. Jewell, Clyde Posey and Wilson are in the thick of the end struggle, with John Schneider not far behind. Two of the first three will be placed on the A squad, with the other paired with Schneider.

The way the boys start in the inter-club game should not be taken as the way they will be listed on the regular squad when the season opens. Especially in the line and for the halfback posts is the competition keen, and the final outcome depends entirely upon the candidates themselves. As to his starters in numerous positions. However, before the contest is over, most of the boys probably will have played on both teams, and everyone in uniform probably will have seen some action. Clayton will do the quarterbacking for the A squad, with Daniels at one halfback position and Bengé at full. Patton, Hastings and Loerwald are candidates for the other halfback berth. While not on the A squad, Loerwald probably will pilot the B team, and the other wingman who does not start with the first eleven will be at half with West, Barbara or E. B. Posey, Jr. The whole group of backfield candidates will served by the road, no bond issue was called and no funds are available to make purchase. Therefore, the had-surfaced road will follow a route along which the farmers cooperate on the right-of-way, rather than along a direct survey.

Although the court is asking for cooperation of property owners in obtaining the right-of-way, it does not include actual damages in this request. The moving of fences and improvements on the land involved is included in the WPA project and will be done by road workers without cost to the property owners. Most of the owners along the proposed route have expressed their desire to cooperate in this work in order to obtain the surfaced road at different times prior to the making of the application, and the court is expecting full assistance from these people.

The proposed route is along the north-south route connecting Dalhart and Channing with Vega, Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland and Southwest Texas. The court hopes to complete the route through Deaf Smith, feeling assured that the State Highway Department eventually will take it over as a state highway. A proposed toll bridge over the Canadian River, which also likely will come under the highway department later on, would virtually complete the connection.

Avoid Disease To Aid Student In School Work

The beginning of another school year is at hand. The weeks have provided for school children the opportunity for mental rest and relaxation; they have likewise made for physical growth and development. Thousands of boys and girls will advance to a higher grade as they turn toward the school house. In addition, a new group of children, escorted by parents or older children, entered school for the first time.

The years spent in school represent training for life work. Such training accomplishes most when administered to pupils and students with clear minds and sound bodies. Moreover, this training must go on without serious interruption. Other things being equal, the school with a fine record for attendance is more apt to approach a high standard of education than the school with poor enrollment due to avoidable disease, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

It is unfortunate from any standpoint when children are kept away from school because of illness, doubly so when sickness is due to preventable causes. No school need have its attendance record shattered because of an outbreak of smallpox or diphtheria. Parents in increasing number are having their children safeguarded against these diseases in the first year of life. Likewise, through child health conferences, for preschool children, more and more attention is being given to work of immunization against preventable diseases and to the correction of dental and other remediable physical defects. Such measures will go far toward assuring good health and regular attendance throughout the period of school life. See your physician about diphtheria and smallpox immunization.

Tri-State Races To Start Friday

The Tri-State Fair's fall race meeting program starts Sunday and will be bigger and better than ever. That's a trite phrase and has been overworked, no doubt, but it is applicable to this event. In first place there are only two reasons why any racing meet will be bigger and better. One is when the class and number of thoroughbreds entered surpass any previous performance. The other is the improved nature of the racing plant, the condition of the track, the facilities for handling the crowds, etc.

This fall's entry list of thoroughbreds is by far the best group of race horses ever gathered on a minor track in the Southwest. Several of the state's outstanding stables and colors will be represented. Moreover, many horse owners who are making their showing on Texas tracks have entered horses in the Tri-State. In this latter class are several mounts that had been racing on the big tracks in Old Mexico until the recent ban on racing forced the owners to leave that country.

ENTIRE PANHANDLE ASSISTS IN ENTERTAINING VETERANS

The Panhandle entertained the Confederate veterans, with Amarillo as the central point of entertainment. Hundreds of Panhandle people, including large representations from Hereford and Deaf Smith county, joined in the festivities that marked the visit of the thinning ranks of the soldiers of the South to this area.

They numbered great among the 40,000 that witnessed the grand parade last Friday morning, and they were not absent from the nearly 20,000 who heard the United States Marine Band in two concerts.

The interest shown by people of the entire Panhandle as well as those of Amarillo contributed much to making the reunion just closed one of the greatest for the Southern survivors of the war between the states. That is the Panhandle's way of doing things. No one city or county did it—it was done by the Panhandle.

The visit of the veterans and the Marine Band will long be remembered by the people of this section. Especially will the country's most famous military band be greeted with a feeling of personal pride and enthusiasm whenever a Panhandle citizen hears its stirring music, either in person or upon the air. This was more certainly assured when Capt. Taylor Branson consented to break precedent and present a concert following a day of parading so that the hundreds of spectators, many of them from other Panhandle cities, who were turned away from the first concert, might hear the official band of America in person—a rare treat in its own right.

Over 9,000 Cans Put Up By Plan

Running with a full crew of workers, the Government cannery kitchen here has processed 3,000 cans of fruits and vegetables during the past two weeks, Mrs. P. Gilliland, manager, announced Tuesday. A large amount of products have been from different producers on share canning, which was started September 1, although much canning is still being done from the community garden.

Mrs. Gilliland said the products include tomatoes, corn, lima beans, mixtures, tomato juice, green beans, pumpkins and peas. The plant has not been idle, working an allotted number of workers as low as allowed each week, since it was reopened. More than 9,000 cans have been processed since the plant opened.

REV. T. C. WILLIAMS, Pastor
 We begin our fall revival next Sunday morning. The pastor will be preaching and Bob Watkins and Hedley will have charge of the song service and organization of the forces. This is not to be a membership campaign, but a community-wide revival of old-time religion. The old-fashioned gospel will be preached as the supreme need of the world, the sure remedy for sin and the only hope of salvation. You and your friends are cordially invited to attend. We will do our dead level best to stir your conscience, point out your sins and warm your heart. Sermon subjects you will need to hear: Sunday morning, Suspended Sentence; in evening, Let Us Alone; Monday evening, Who Wears the Breaches at Your House? (of course the hen-pecked husbands will not hear this—their wives will see to that). Let them not despair, however, I will handle their case when I preach on 'The Crooked Woman.' Tuesday evening, Half Baker; Wednesday evening, Root Rot.

 The day services will be made just as helpful as we can make them. Whether you are a Christian, church worker or an ordinary sinner, we want you in these services. The welfare of yourself and your home will be the ruling passion of the preacher's heart. Come and we will do you good.

LETTER OF THANKS

To The Readers of The Hereford Brand:
 Those of us who have the direct responsibility of the care of the mentally ill take this method of expressing to you our appreciation of the overwhelming majority of votes you gave to the constitutional amendment providing for temporary commitment without trial.
 Texas has until very recent years been several generations behind the rest of the world in the care of the mentally ill and hardly attempted treatment until the past decade. But this magnificent vote for progress and the sane and scientific care and treatment of those who are so unfortunate as to become mentally ill encourages us to think that the citizenship of our state is now awake to the possibilities for curing this type of disease and anxious for any reform that is scientific or logical.
 Strange to say, we asked you to vote for something that would not increase the tax burden; in fact, every time you avoid a lunacy trial you save the county at least $75, usually more.
 Again expressing deep appreciation for your vote, I am
 GILES W. DAY, M. D., Superintendent Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Deaf Smith County, Greeting:

Strader and his unknown heirs, executors, legal representatives and devisees, if he be deceased, are defendants, the nature of plaintiffs' cause of action being alleged as follows:
 That plaintiffs are trustees under a declaration of trust dated December 23, 1933, recorded in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Volume 72, page 51, and are the assignees of the vendors under the two contracts herein-after mentioned, which vendors were Francis C. Packard Milling Company

Taken from a Lady's Note Book

"September is a more or less routine month. Starting to school, music lessons are resumed again for the fall and winter. We will always have washing and ironing and three meals a day routine. Cooking by no means need be a routine job. As a matter of fact, it need not be termed a routine job but rather an accomplishment which can be made very interesting if it is looked upon in the right frame of mind.

"The first item to consider in planning a meal is to include the food elements that have been lacking during the day (I am speaking of the evening meal, because that is when the family is generally together, and it is usually the main meal). The second is to prepare food in some way a little different from what you have been used to doing. Third, serve it as attractively as possible, remembering the old saying, 'Feed the stomach first through the eyes'."

And let us suggest that you look further into how simplified your problems will become when cooking electrically with a Waldorf. Its performance is unexcelled and it costs no more than other forms of cooking . . . in many cases, less.

Tri-State Fair To Be Complete On Opening Day

When the Tri-State Fair opens in Amarillo Saturday, September 14, it will be as complete as on the closing day, Saturday, September 21. "Everything, with the possible exception of a few livestock birds, will be in place and ready when the 1935 exposition, the largest in the state this year, opens," declared Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the fair association, which now is in its thirteenth consecutive year. Commercial displays are being arranged this week in the Merchant building, which has been open day and night since Monday. O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager, is urging all exhibitors to have their displays in place early.

Many exhibitors from distant states this year are being attracted to the Tri-State Fair. This is especially true of livestock exhibitors. Noted herds of the foremost breeders in America will be on exhibit. Approximately $20,000 in cash premiums and prizes, including money awards for the largest visiting delegations, is guaranteed for full payment.

While the fair does not open until Saturday, September 14, the race meet, in which entries from major circuits will be seen, begins Friday, September 13. There will be seven or more races daily throughout the exposition.

Besides the races there will be a three-ring circus, featuring Jack Hoxie, movie star, in daily appearances, Beckmann and Gerety, the largest midway attraction in the United States, and other amusements.

MINIATURE TREE PRODUCES 25 PERFECT PEACHES

Speaking of peaches, A. H. Elliston has what he believes to be one of the most unusual trees ever seen around here. The tree is only a year and a half old and slightly more than four feet tall, yet it is literally loaded down with 25 huge, perfectly shaped peaches. It is a clear seed seedling.

Mr. Elliston also has a tree two and a half years old that was loaded down, but it already has been stripped.

Died Through Sensitiveness

Health is the classic example of the poet who lived and died through sensitiveness. Good health comes as a reward for observance of natural law; ill-health is the penalty of its conscious violation.
