Deaf Smith County Voters Petition for Special Election On New Tax

CAMPAIGN WORKERS LAUNCH GOOD WILL HELP WEEK

CLEAN-UP GROUP LAUNCHES PROGRAM FOR ASSISTANCE CITY HOME BEAUTIFICATION

Troops of Young Workers Make Themselves Available to Help Clean City as Part of Contest Between Hereford and Canyon. Systematic Effort Toward Winning Prize Begins With Good Will Work.

Actual work in a unified effort to clean up the city will begin this week when the committee in charge of city beautification launches "Good Will Week," from Friday, June 8, to Friday, June 15. This is the first of a series of clean-up measures in connection with the contest between Hereford and Canyon.

As outlined by Mrs. Claude Benton, chairman, the purpose of Good Will Week is to assist those who for any reason are unable to clean or beautify their own premises. Large crews of workers will be available during this time to remove trash and help in other ways to improve the appearance of the city.

Invitations Urged. "Do not hesitate to avail yourselves of this service, say committee members. "We are going to spend some time and effort to perfect these arrangements and we hope the people of Hereford will help by giving us a chance to help them with their clean-up work. If you can not clean up your own premises, call for our assistance, or if you know of anyone else who might need these services, please let us know." Assistance of Good Will workers may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Benton at 140, or Mrs. J. F. Slaton, 443. Children who will take part in the drive will be expected to work between the hours of four and six in the afternoon. To report and secure assignments and also to have their choice of days on which to work, children are asked to call the captains of the different days.

Captains Named. Properly to supervise and coordinate the work will be captains who have been chosen for each day of the week. In the order in which they will serve, captains are Mrs. C. E. Williams, June 8; Mrs. W. J. Davidson, June 11; Mrs. Earl W. Wilson, June 12; Mrs. Hall Deavers, June 13; Mrs. C. Hull, June 14, and Rev. Jas. T. Ross, June 15. Proper entertainment of those who assist in the clean-up work will be furnished by a committee consisting of the Meses, Benton, Hull, M. L. Steele, Williams and Rev. Jas. T. Ross.

Sheriff Makes No Disclosures In Murder Quiz

"Nothing new," was Sheriff Benton's sole comment this morning on the case of W. L. Shugart, Deaf Smith county farmer accused of killing his wife at their home near Wildorado last week. Shugart has been released on a writ of habeas corpus.

With District Attorney R. N. Richards of Dalhart, Sheriff Benton spent several days getting evidence which will be used at the trial.

Unless a change of venue is taken the trial will probably be held in district court here some time the latter part of July.

BANKS OBSERVE HOLIDAY.

Three banks closed Monday marked Hereford's only observance of Jefferson Davis' birthday, Sunday, June 5.

Scores Parade To Inaugurate Big Campaign

Scores of school children, members of civic organizations and others took part in a mammoth parade held here last Friday afternoon inaugurating the Clean-up contest now under way between Canyon and Hereford. More than thirty cars and floats made up the procession.

Paraders assembled at the corner of Fourth and Main streets and at four o'clock began the parade which took them the entire length of Main street and return. Leading the procession was Sheriff Claude Benton and City Marshal Charles Bennett, mounted, and the Hereford town band.

School children dressed in overalls and aprons carried banners and cards proclaiming the purpose of the parade and onlookers were urged by many a sign to "Beat Canyon." A feature of the event was the "Good Will" car, a truck loaded with junk and rubbish which had been removed from the city premises. After the parade this was taken to the dump yard and disposed of.

Arrangements were in charge of the Clean-up committee, headed by Mrs. J. C. Ricketts and Mrs. M. L. Steele.

Pioneer Citizen of This County Dies In Amarillo

Shocking news to Hereford friends this week was the death of Mrs. M. A. Trow, 83, widow of the late Captain Trow, famous Civil War figure and pioneer settler. She died Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella L. Burch, Amarillo.

Mrs. Trow had moved with her daughters to Amarillo only recently, after having lived in Hereford and Deaf Smith county for more than twenty-eight years, where she and her husband had large ranch holdings between Hereford and Vega.

Captain Trow was a Confederate soldier during the Civil war and later published a book of his adventures. The only surviving relatives are Mrs. Burch, a daughter, and Miss Ella Lee Burch, a granddaughter. Funeral services, in charge of Rev. G. L. Yates of the First Baptist church, Amarillo, were held at the Baptist church here Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock and burial was in West Park Cemetery.

RAIN CANCELS REVIVAL.

Heavy rains in Oldham county over the week-end caused postponement of the revival services which were to have been conducted at the Methodist church, Vega, by the Rev. E. B. Bowen, Hereford. The series of meetings will probably be held after harvest season, Rev. Bowen said.

N. M. PLAYERS HERE

Golfers from New Mexico Town to Meet Local Players on Hereford Links Sunday, and Some Good Games Are Expected to Result.

Golf enthusiasts here are promised something in the way of a special attraction next Sunday afternoon when members of the Clovis Golf Club will come to Hereford for a tournament with local golfers. Between fifteen and twenty men will probably make the trip.

According to officers of the local club, little is known of the prowess of the invaders. To date they have played no outside tournaments this year and their strength is not yet classified for comparison. Clovis records indicate, however, that they have a strong team playing a consistently low-scored game.

ACTION TAKEN

First of a series of definite steps for an ultimate fifteen cent additional county road tax was taken Monday at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hereford Hotel. Members of the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hereford Hotel. Members of the organization voted to circulate a petition among Deaf Smith tax payers to authorize a special election to vote on the proposed tax.

Advantages of the new tax were discussed at length. Road maintenance and construction will be hindered until such a measure is put through, it was pointed out. E. B. Black and L. Baskin were named to circulate the petitions. The organization heard speeches by contestants in the "My Home Town" oratorical competition. T. E. Seigler, Jr., won over his opponent, Edgar Ireland.

Visitors Monday who made short talks included J. S. Warner, former Hereford man now residing in Santa Ana, California; Mr. Vortz, accompanying Mr. Warner; Edwin Ramey of Dismitt, who spoke for the Dismitt delegation present; and Horace Hershey of Hereford. Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Hereford Hotel again next Monday. It was announced by President T. E. Seigler, Vice-President J. T. Cronin will preside.

Club Discusses Secretary At Next Meeting

Most important of recent meetings of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce will be that held next Monday noon at the Hereford Hotel, it was announced this morning by President T. E. Seigler. Definite action on securing a full-time secretary will be taken at that time.

Need of a secretary as a unifying factor towards success of the Chamber of Commerce has long been felt, directors say, and they will present the matter to the membership for a final vote at this meeting.

Entire membership is asked to be present Monday as the action taken at that time will be understood by the board of directors to be representative of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

CITY VOTES ON ELECTION TO GET TAX

Hereford Residents Get Required Number of Voters to Demand New County Road Tax Poll.

A special election for the purpose of voting a road tax of fifteen cents on the $100 valuation was the aim of a group of citizens this week who circulated petitions asking county commissioners to call such an election.

E. B. Black and L. Baskin, Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of securing the required number of signatures, reported this morning that they had exceeded the quota and the petition will be presented to the commissioners for action at their regular session on Monday, June 11. Between three and four hundred names were obtained.

Need of a tax to construct and maintain roads in Deaf Smith county was stressed by those promoting the movement. Unless sufficient funds are available for the county properly to maintain roads, trade which should come to Hereford may choose to take better roads and go elsewhere, it was shown.

When interviewed, Chairman Black pointed out many an important feature of the proposed tax. "An abundance of good roads is necessary if we expect to develop this country," Mr. Black declared. "To secure trade here we must furnish a proper inlet and outlet over good highways. It should not be overlooked that money secured by a tax of this kind remains here in the county to benefit every resident."

Mr. Black said today that the names of the petitioners will be submitted to the court next Monday. An election will probably be ordered for some time early in July. It was said.

Hereford Group Makes Journey To Road Meet

Second of recent important meetings on the proposed paved highway from Amarillo to the Southwest is the highway conference held this afternoon at Fort Sumner, New Mexico. Delegations from this section will discuss a paved road from Amarillo to Holbrook, Arizona, at the meeting today.

Reports from communities through which the proposed highway would pass indicated last night that there would be good delegations from many West Texas towns. Commissioners, courts, chamber of commerce workers and others interested will be present from Potter, Randall, Deaf Smith and Parmer, as well as New Mexico counties.

Representing Hereford this morning went a delegation including Judge Earl W. Wilson, C. J. Paddock, T. E. Seigler, E. B. Black and L. Baskin.

J. S. WARNER HERE.

J. S. Warner of Santa Ana, Cal., former Hereford citizen, arrived here overland last Friday to spend a week looking after business interests in this county. He was accompanied by J. J. Vortz, through from California with him. Van Wert, Ohio, who drove Mr. Vortz continued on his eastward journey Monday and Mr. Warner will leave for California Friday.

AIR STATION ASKED

American Air Transport Company Officials Asked to Consider Hereford for Possible Air Port. Advantages Pointed Out.

Advantages of Hereford as a possible station on the soon-inaugurated air transport service thru West Texas were presented this week to President C. E. Catter of the American Air Transport Company of Dallas, founders of the service. An invitation to company officials to inspect this territory was issued by L. Baskin, highway commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pointing out that this city is on the route of the new air-rail passenger service over the Santa Fe soon to begin, Mr. Baskin's communication explains that this city has arranged to place proper markings for an air line through here. Hope was expressed that the passenger company would look this city over before determining on a definite schedule.

Mr. Baskin said this morning that arrangements had been made to paint the word "Hereford" in two conspicuous places on the shed of the Panhandle Lumber Company and also to provide a landing field on the old Hereford baseball diamond.

SEIGLER WINS

High School Youth Named to Represent City in Oratorical Contest at Ft. Worth This Month.

T. E. Seigler, Jr., will represent Hereford in the "My Home Town" speaking contest to be held this month in connection with the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He was chosen as the result of a contest held before the Hereford commerce body Monday noon.

Only one of six opponents scheduled to appear against Seigler in the contest was present, Edgar Ireland was awarded a close second place by the judges, Prof. L. F. Shedy, of W. T. S. T. C. Canyon.

In his speech Seigler pointed out many of the numerous agricultural and civic advantages of Hereford and Deaf Smith county, giving several reasons why the prospective resident should select this region. Large shipments of cattle, hogs and farm products in 1927, abundant shallow water supply for irrigation, excellent schools, strong banks, good church spirit—these and many a similar point were stressed.

Professor Shedy announced that his decision was based on (a), speech content; (b), delivery. Whereas Ireland exceeded in delivery, Seigler's material was believed to have been somewhat better; as a result, the decision went by a slight margin to Seigler. With Seigler at Fort Worth will be his sister, Miss Gladys, who was chosen as Hereford's sponsor by the Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago. He will speak in competition with representatives of high school age from more than one hundred West Texas towns.

Band's First Concert Scheduled for Tonight

First of the season's band concerts will be given tonight, Thursday, in front of the Christian church at eight o'clock, it was announced this morning by Ralph Smith, director. The concert will be given in connection with an outdoor ice cream social, also the first of the season. Rains postponed the concert several weeks ago. Bandmen have been practicing regularly and expect to offer a first-class series of concerts this summer. Director Smith stated.

Russian Men's String Quartet Gives Concert

Musical attraction extraordinary will be the appearance here Friday night, June 15, of the Frokanoff Brothers, Russian string quartet, who will present a concert at the Christian church. These men are students at Phillips University, Enid, Oklahoma, and are enroute to Los Angeles as musical entertainers and representatives of Russia at the World's Sunday school convention.

Financing their way through school by their musical talent, the Frokanoff brothers are taking the same means of paying expenses of their trip across the continent. With their father, they were forced by the bolshevik element to flee from wealth and prominence in Russia. They came to America where they were sent to Phillips University by the United Christian Missionary Society.

All of their concerts are given in native costume. Besides stringed selection, they also sing several numbers in their native tongue. Advance information that their appearances are always well received throughout the country.

According to Rev. Thurman Morgan, no-admission charges will be made to the concert next Friday night. Funds will be obtained only by a free will offering at the conclusion of the performance.

Birth Register Requested By State Official

That Miss Eva Skelton of Hereford has been appointed official registrar of births and deaths for Deaf Smith county was made known in an announcement issued this morning from the office of Dr. J. E. Anderson, of Austin, state health officer. This county has now been organized in accordance with the new vital statistics law.

Every birth, says Dr. Anderson, is required by law to be reported to the registrar by the attending physician or by the father or mother within five days after the birth. The law prohibits the burial or removal of a dead body before a death certificate properly filled out has been filed with the registrar and a burial or removal permit secured.

In the first three months of 1928 there were reported from Deaf Smith county thirty-two births and fifteen deaths. This is thought by state authorities to indicate only about 80 per cent of the number which probably occurred. The immense legal value of these records makes it important that the citizens of Texas be given this protection by having a complete legal record filed in accordance with the law.

Mrs. R. M. Rogers of Tucuman has been here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. O. F. West.

Jenkins Dies Here Suddenly Tuesday Night

Passing of another twenty-year resident of Hereford and Deaf Smith County was marked Tuesday night by the sudden death Tuesday night of J. O. Jenkins, 73. Death followed a very short illness.

Mr. Jenkins was born January 29, 1855, in Palestine, Anderson county. In early childhood he moved with his family to McLennan county, where he grew to manhood. He married Miss Elizabeth Alexander in 1879. Mrs. Jenkins died November 3, 1927, and was buried here.

For a time Mr. Jenkins farmed in the McLennan county, but entered the drug business in 1889 at West, Texas. Retiring from business in 1906, he moved to Hutchinson county and in 1908 moved from there to Hereford.

Surviving him are six children, Thomas A. Jenkins, West; Mrs. W. H. Neilson, Spearman; Lee and Ben A. Jenkins, of Spearman; Miss Floy Jenkins and Mrs. Helen Millard, of Hereford; also a brother, a step-sister, a half sister and half brother, all of Waco, and seventeen grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Jas. T. Ross officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. A. Hornbeak. Burial will be in charge of the Masonic lodge.

New Stockman's Cafe Opens Following Delays

East Texas Optimism.
The spirit of optimism prevailing throughout East Texas is in marked contrast with the feeling that existed two or three years ago, or before the organization of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Perhaps the same feeling was there then, but it lacked co-ordination, and it was the possession of the few rather than of the many. About one man in each town entertained a vague dread that East Texas would in time overcome its lassitude and become thoroughly awakened to its possibilities. The rest were either dependent or thought East Texas was "getting along well enough, thank you." It is true that there were some exceptional communities and a number of thrifty towns and enterprising small cities where these conditions did not exist, where there was hearty co-operation in purely local affairs. But these could not make themselves so much toward a sectional up-building and knowing this they did not try. Almost in a spirit of desperation the scattered East Texas enthusiasts and the progressive communities and towns stimulated by the success of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in unifying the West Texas people, got together some two years ago and organized the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. The splendid result is evident everywhere.

Time enough has not elapsed since the work of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was organized to bring about much change in the appearance of either the towns or country. The traveler passing hurriedly through might conclude that it is the same East Texas. The change is in the people themselves, in their attitude toward life, and especially toward their own communities, their neighbors and the necessity of standing together and working unitedly and hard for the good of all. The people may not have noticed this big change in themselves. We scarcely realize the progress we make in a few years. But those who see us only occasionally are quick to notice either growth or deterioration. East Texas men and women as a whole have something within themselves that either did not exist a few years ago or that was smothered under inaction. It is hopefulness, accompanied by determination—a desire for greater achievement—a pride in letting others know that East Texas is coming into its own.

Selfishness Passing.

One East Texan with whom I talked a few minutes at Longview when the editors stopped on the way to their convention at Texarkana, said: "East Texans are now seeing that we have been too selfish and self-centered; we haven't looked far enough beyond our own little farms to study the possibilities of improving our own conditions and at the same time helping the other fellow. Perhaps it has been because we have been making a living so easily that we haven't thought it necessary, but we have at last found that even if life has been easy it hasn't been as full as it might have been if we had been more active in our own interests and in neighborliness. We have never been unfriendly to the highest development of our section, but just indifferent—that is, most of us have been."

No one is optimistic enough to hope that selfishness will ever entirely die, but there is something in organized and united effort for community, sectional and state up-building that helps to make us love our neighbor as ourselves in a peculiarly striking way—a way that reacts in our own development.

The Longview Home.

The Texas Press Association had a part in dedicating the new $30,000 home of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which was donated to the organization by the citizens of Longview to secure for Longview the permanent home. Many chamber of commerce secretaries from East Texas were there by invitation, as were many other citizens of all parts of East Texas. All rejoiced with the Association in having such splendid home and with Longview in thus attesting its confidence in the future of the organization. There was no jealousy evident. The home is regarded as an East Texas and not a Longview achievement. It is the home of the new spirit that exists in East Texas. Its beautiful architecture typifies the awakening of all East Texas.

Most Notable Monument.

Diversification of a kind that enables East Texas to live at home is perhaps the most notable recent change in East Texas. It is no longer a cotton country exclusively, nor is corn the only other crop, as it once was. The East Texas farmer is now growing more different kinds of crops that he knew of a few years ago—and best of all perhaps, he is turning to dairying and poultry and hog raising as farm side lines. Dairying has been made profitable by the help of local chambers of commerce, assisted by the parent organization, in building creameries, cheese factories and other milk products plants that furnish ready and satisfactory prices for milk and butter-fat. And dairying is helping the farmer to make greater profits from hogs and poultry. It is also aiding in building up much depleted soil.

Farm Buildings Better.

East Texas farm buildings are not what they used to be. Improved conditions in East Texas farms are rapidly being shown in improved homes and other farm buildings. Painted farm buildings are seen all along the roads. Shrubbery and flowers, gardens, orchards are noticed every where. Good roads are glimpsed near the railroads, automobiles may be seen at almost every home and radio aerials attest the desire for wider information. The people evidently live in comfort. "They travel. They enjoy life. The country is again catching up with the towns in the matter of comfortable living conditions."

People Much Alike.

What has been written here has not been with a purpose of boosting East Texas, but it has been to let you see something of the changes as I have noticed them and to show that the spirit now prevailing in that part of Texas is pretty much the same spirit found all over the state. I find it where ever I go and set forth in the press from all sections. We read much of the financial depression in Northern and Eastern states. Of course people have financial difficulties everywhere, but in no part of Texas are such conditions general. Texas is unusually prosperous. Its people have ever lived and whether a Texas home is in East, West, North, South or Central Texas, he is likely to believe that his is the garden spot of the state. He should think so, for after all it isn't so much where one lives as how he lives that makes for happiness and contentment.

Knowing Each Other.

To my mind the greatest accomplishment of both the local and regional chambers of commerce in Texas has been in bringing the people to know each other better, in acquainting one section with another, town people with country people, rich with poor, and showing us that we are all built pretty much out of the same material.

FRENCH LILACS OR THE COMMON.

If it were a question of buying one or two lilacs, a common variety in a bush that was heavy and strong, maybe three or four feet tall, and a French Named variety only 18 to 24 inches tall, I would take the latter every time.

Now the above may sound strange to those who do not know but let's consider the reasons. The lilac is one of the longest lived of all the shrubs we may plant in our gardens and once it is established it is a sure bloomer every year. But it is rather slow to establish itself. I have seen common lilacs that did not bloom till they had been established five to eight years and if you attempt to move a plant of any size they may sink on you for several years. On the other hand I have seen French lilacs that were only two feet high liberally covered with bloom and they keep right on blooming year after year. The French varieties are as long lived as the common lilacs and they grow just as large, besides they will give you from ten to fifty times the quantity of bloom and the blooms are so much larger.

In purchasing the French lilacs be sure they are not budded or grafted upon common lilac root stock. If they are you are badly cheated as within a few years the common will choke out the French and you will be the loser. Some dishonest nurserymen and some that do not know better send them out this way and you are the loser. They may be grafted or budded upon Privet stock and then by planting them deep they will produce their own roots and your plant will always be satisfactory. If your lilacs are on their own roots then every root sucker that comes up around the plant will, if dug up and planted, produce just as good a plant as the original.

Lilacs have very few enemies and if you will keep them growing by cultivation and liberal watering also giving them a good mulch of well rotted manure in the fall you will have very little trouble with them. They are especially valuable for hedges and for any place you need a fairly dense screen or back ground.

Abo Highway Officials Meet Soon at Amarillo

ENID, Okla.—The shortest, easiest traveled and most scenic route between the Nation's capital and Los Angeles is the claim of the Abo Pass-Grand Canyon Highway Association, which will hold its annual meeting June 11 at Amarillo.

It is the goal of the association to bring into action forces which will make it possible some day to realize its dream of a hard surfaced highway from Washington, D. C. to the Pacific coast, according to D. T. Meek, of Enid, secretary of the organization.

The Abo Pass Highway offers from Enid to the coast a route which is several hundred miles shorter than any other existing route. From Enid the highway goes across the country as a crow flies to Amarillo and to Clovis. West of Clovis it travels until it comes to the Albuquerque-El Paso road.

Here the highway goes south to Socorro, thence west to Williams and the most scenic part of the southern reaches of the Rocky Mountains. From either Williams or Meade it is a short drive to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

From Williams west the highway finally reaches Barstow, California, where a tourist can either branch off south and go to Los Angeles or continue northwest across the Mojave desert and thence to San Joaquin valley, to the north of which lies San Francisco.

Engineer Scares Teeth and Backs Up to Find Them

LEXINGTON, Ky.—A. G. Bush, veteran engineer, had just started on his run from Hodgenville to Elizabethtown when he leaned out of his cab and sneezed. He hurried his false teeth into a ditch beside the track. The train ran half a mile before he could recover from his surprise.

Then he reversed the engine and went back to the scene of his misfortune. Both crew and passengers joined valiantly in the search. The train went on, but looking backward the engineer saw someone of a local searching party waving to him! Again he backed up! The teeth had been found! Loud was the applause and the cheering as he restored them to their place.

Chicago now has a court of justice devoted exclusively to dogs. When barking at the judge he is construed as contempt of court?

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE GREATEST BUSINESS.

The greatest business in the world anywhere and at any time is the business of educating and training the young.

Just as the household centers about its children in all its hopes and plans, just as for them the father works and the mother sacrifices, so in the case of a nation everything should turn about the improvement of its young people.

On them and on their fitness rests the future safety of the nation more than on any plans or schemes or institutions which their fathers may set in motion.

Always the character of a people has more to do with the success of a nation than the institutions or customs it may have or the defense which it may possess.

What we spend money for is the best sign of what we desire most.

A Britisher the other day gave five hundred thousand pounds to his government to be applied toward the English debt. This was an unparalleled act of patriotism. Men will give their lives for their country, while few are willing to give money.

No we orate and write and grow enthusiastic over our public educational institutions. But the test of our appreciation of them comes best by spending money on them.

The school teacher should be better paid and he should rank higher in the community than he does.

The superintendent of public schools should be the best paid official in the city and the most carefully selected. And he needs to be a person of more outstanding ability than the mayor.

The school buildings should be and in some places are, the most remarkable pieces of architecture in a community.

Every city should have plenty of playgrounds for children.

To the credit of America it is that it has more juvenile publications and printed matter, especially for the reading of children, than has any other country.

Every man and woman ought to be in some way connected with assisting the younger generations to make good.

School teaching or the training of the young is far and away the most important business in the country.

Easy Way to Preserve Cherries.

Fill glass jars with sound, clean cherries; cover with syrup made of one pound sugar (beet or cane) and one quart water. Close jars; immerse in boiling water, allowing one inch of water over tops. Simmer slowly 15 minutes; remove, let stand 15 minutes and set in cool place.

Do Your Omelets Fall?

One way to be certain of success with omelets is to add a tiny bit of baking powder to the eggs when whipping them.

Exciting Times.

He—No, I was being shaved by a lady barber when a mouse ran across the floor.

SPRING—THE LURE OF THE OPEN ROAD—FREEDOM—LEISURE HAPPINESS

Perhaps it seems a far cry from the enjoyment of delightful spring days to the advantages of a "One-Minute" Washing Machine; on the other hand, wouldn't you rather be free at least one more day a week, especially when wash-day drudgery is the only thing between you and such freedom?

Be fair to yourself. Don't let wash-day loom like a bugbear. Whisk your clothes into the "One-Minute" Washer, whisk them out in a few moments, spotlessly clean—then, think of it, the rest of the day is yours—all yours.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON SUBJECT: The Arrest Trial.
 LESSON TEXT: Mark 14:43-15:15, emphasizing 15:1-15.
 GOLDEN TEXT: "He is despised and rejected of men."—Isaiah 53:3.
 SCRIPTURE SIDELIGHTS: Luke 22:54-62; Luke 23:8-12; Matthew 27:17-26; Acts 3:11-21; Isaiah 53:1-6.

Morning comes with rosy dawn, the shadows of the night flee before its waking lights, a new day comes again. What a night has passed since the farewell of yesterday's sunset! The most memorable of all nights of man's history! The love feast of a teacher with his disciples, the agony of Gethsemane, the betrayal of that teacher by one who had been the recipient of an outpoured love and thrice warned and more had nevertheless betrayed with a kiss his Master and Lord, the Herodian and Ecclesiastical trials, and now at dawn the procession to the palace of Pontius Pilate—all this had taken place that night. A consultation was quickly held between the Chief Priest, elders, scribes and council. Gladly would they have disposed of Jesus, but their authority under Roman law was not sufficient to inflict the penalty which they desired without the consent of the Roman governor, Pontius Pilate.

We may judge what was the major charge which the Jews agreed to make against Jesus by what followed. They desired, of course, to bring about the death of Jesus. The most effective way to do this was to prove treason on the part of Jesus. Nothing could be more treasonable than an attempt at setting up a rival government.

The time seemed propitious for making a case of that kind of charge. The reasonable peace of Palestine had just been broken by an insurrection. At that very moment an insurrectionary leader with a band of followers was imprisoned at Jerusalem on the charge of insurrection and murder arising from it. The Roman governor would as a matter of course be sensitive on that point. So it is agreed that they will charge Jesus before Pilate with claiming to be King of the Jews.

Upon the appearance of the mob before Pilate the charge is presented. Feigning loyalty to Caesar, they protest that Jesus is another disturber of the peace and a potential insurrectionist. Pilate then asks him, "Art thou the King of the Jews?" Fidelity to truth and not shrinking from suffering causes Jesus to give the answer, "Thou sayest it."

Apparently this throwing of the question back on Pilate had thwarted the conspiracy for Jesus' death. But the Chief Priests and their accomplices had started in to gain their point. They accused Jesus of many things to which he answered nothing. Pilate marvelled at the attitude of Jesus toward his accusers and their accusations.

No testimony sufficient to convict could be made to stand up. Pilate saw behind the machinations of these enemies. So far as they were concerned he might easily have dismissed the case without further action. But mobism, that subtle, outrageous perversion of exact justice lifted its serpentine head. The multitude began crying out for the carrying out of a custom observed at the feast of the Passover by Roman governors, namely, the release of some Jew whom they should name.

Behind the prison bars was Barabbas, the real insurrectionary leader. The Jews, who might have asked Jesus' release, having charged him with a like crime, nevertheless, asked the release of Barabbas. Pilate, knowing that for only the Jews had delivered Jesus to him, and being fully convinced of his innocence, proposed the release of Jesus.

But the people, coached by the Priests, demanded the release of Barabbas. Now, if we take a retrospect of our recent lessons, we shall understand what Jesus meant when he revealed by the parable of the Vineyard the unsoundness of Jewish leadership. Here the leaders had actually led the people to demand the release of a murderer rather than Jesus.

No wonder that Jesus prophesied the shaking up—and tearing down of that social order. A people who have that kind of leadership are doomed to destruction. It is already recorded in the stars. It fights against its own perpetuity. It must go down under that kind of leadership. When will humanity learn its lesson! Bad leadership rejecting a people's hope and demanding the release of the destroyers of the moral and social order.

Politics played its hand. Jewish leaders played the people over against constituted authority which had no justifiable reason for allowing the crucifixion of Jesus. Pilate played safe. Forgetting the duty of just administration, playing the game of political expedience, he blandly gave his consent and delivered Jesus to be crucified. But Pilate did not intend to deliver Jesus at the first. He sought to bring the people to their senses, by the very absurdity of the proposition.

He marvelled at the demand that Jesus be crucified when no evil could be proved. Barabbas' guilty hands were dripping with blood. There could be no doubt of his guilt. The leaders of the Jews shamefully confessed their moral perversity before a heathen governor by crying out through the voices of a misled people for the substitution of a guilty for a just man's release.

But expedience was the safer course for Pilate. Abdicating his position as administrator of justice, he chose the less dangerous one of playing politics.

Oh these riders of the band wagon! How they scramble for seats in it when it would be better and nobler to be left standing until the flush of unprincipled victory has passed, and truth and righteousness be made regnant again. The voice of Christian citizenship cries in the streets in vain to the blind following the blind. "He that hath an ear, let him hear."

Methodists to Begin Work On New Parsonage

Work will begin soon on the remodeling and building program of the First Methodist church, it was announced today. Authorization of the expenditures was made Monday night at a meeting of the board of stewards.

The extensive construction program includes erection of a large parsonage, remodeling the interior of the church, completion of the basement and installation of a pipe organ in the church auditorium.

According to Rev. E. B. Bowen, the ladies of the church recently asked for and were given permission to purchase the organ themselves. Already they have pledged more than $3,000 of the estimated $4,500 cost.

At the meeting of the board of stewards the building committee was authorized to secure plans and specifications for work to begin within a few weeks.

At a recent meeting, the local team perfected its organization for the year. H. K. Fox was elected manager and Ralph Smith field captain.

GROCERIES

ON LEAVING BUSINESS

We desire to express our most sincere thanks to the host of customers and friends who helped in our success during the time we were in the grocery business in Hereford. At all times we enjoyed dealing with the public and tried to make our policies satisfactory to all.

We leave as our successor Mr. H. A. Hoffman, an experienced groceryman, who will do his best to uphold the merchandising standards which we established here. We commend him to you and hope that you will continue to patronize "the big store on the corner."

Societies Send Delegations To Oklahoma Lane

Hereford Missionary societies will be represented by a large delegation at the regular meeting of Zone Two of the Amarillo District of Missionary Societies to be held at Oklahoma Lane Wednesday, June 20. Eight local women are on the all-day program of speeches and reports.

Mrs. C. C. Bowman will open the session at 10:00 a. m. with the Bible lesson. She will be followed by a group of three-minute speeches on official duties, among which will be "An Ideal Recording Secretary," by Mrs. J. C. Cummings; "An Ideal Treasurer," by Mrs. Carl Gilliam; "Ideal Superintendent of Children," Mrs. R. H. Lamb, and "Ideal Superintendent of Members," by Mrs. Hubert Doyell. After these discussions there will be roundtable discussions during which Mrs. J. F. Ward will speak on how to make a missionary society interesting, and Mrs. E. W. Harrison and Mrs. B. R. Dixon will give the reports from the Hereford society.

After lunch, the meeting will resume at one o'clock, at which time Mrs. Bowman will again have charge of the Bible lesson. Mrs. H. H. Hawkins will appear on the afternoon program with a discussion on the Northwest Texas Camp.

Friends Gather Honoring Mrs. McDonald Monday

Friends and neighbors gathered at the D. L. McDonald home on Monday for a farewell party, honoring Mother McDonald, who is leaving the latter part of this week for Pennsylvania to spend the summer.

A delicious luncheon was served at noon and the afternoon was spent informally.

A beautiful hand-painted guest book, containing the names of those present, was presented to the honoree as a token of love and friendship for her.

Paul Syms Marries Popular Friona Girl

Two well known young people of this region who were united in marriage this week were Miss Ruby Mae Menefee of Friona and Paul J. Syms of Hereford. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian manse by the Rev. Jas. T. Ross.

Mrs. Syms has been a student at W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon during the past year, and is known to many students from this city. Mr. Syms has been a teacher at the Ward community school.

After a short visit with relatives in Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Syms will go to make their home in Canyon for the summer. Both will teach school this winter in the public schools at Parico, Texas.

Announcement Made of W. A. Black Marriage

Announcements were received by Hereford friends this week of the marriage Saturday, June 2, of Miss Dorothy Sparkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Sparkman of Waco, and William A. Black, of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Black of Hereford. The ceremony was performed at Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Black have been in Hereford this week visiting Mr. Black's relatives and many friends. They will return soon to Dallas where they will make their home at 6420 Glenrose Court.

Thrilling Feats Presented Here by 'Human Fly'

Feats of daring seldom equalled here will be seen Friday night, June 8, when Henry "Dare-Devil" Rowland, famed "human fly," will scale the walls of the Deaf Smith county court house and present a series of dangerous balancing feats atop the structure. The exhibition which begins at 7:30 p. m., will be free.

Dare-Devil Rowland recently climbed in a benefit exhibition for sufferers in the Mather mine explosion at Mather, Pennsylvania. His highest climb was the forty-two story L. C. Smith building at Seattle, Washington; highest in Texas the Epperson building, thirty-one stories, at Houston.

Rowland appeared in Amarillo during the latter part of March, when he climbed to the top of the Herring Hotel.

The "human fly" is thirty-eight years old. During all his years of this dangerous work he has had but one fall, which occurred at Bloomfield, Iowa, when he fell from a building—breaking both hips.

Judge Gets Car; Also Good Laugh

Hereford friends are laughing today over a little "comedy of errors" last Friday which, at the time, seemed to at least two well known business men anything but comedy. What threatened for a time to be a fine in police court turned out to be merely a fine joke.

Friday afternoon Judge C. F. Kerr decided to go to Canyon. Accordingly, he walked out the front door of the Kerr Implement Company, entered a car, and went on his way. A few minutes later Wes Anthony, his next door neighbor, came out to look for his car and found no trace of it.

Followed a lengthy search which ended only when Judge Kerr telephoned from Canyon to ask: "Has anyone missed a car? I have a strange one up here."

Meantime, Mr. Anthony made use of Will Kerr's machine, which the Judge had been under the impression he was driving all the way to Canyon.

Home Erection Here Indicates Steady Growth

Proof that Hereford is growing rapidly, surely, is furnished by the steady building activity now going on. Scarcely a week passes without the beginning of a new residence or business house.

Workmen have nearly completed remodeling the house owned by Mrs. T. M. Farmer at 310 East Third Street. This residence was completely torn down to the foundation and rebuilt out of the used materials. It will now contain an extra room, a hall and sleeping porch.

Next week work is expected to be finished on the G. L. Muse residence at the corner of Fifth and Lawton Avenue. During the past few weeks this home has been remodelled completely inside and has received a coat of stucco, presenting a much improved appearance.

Mrs. O. F. West will move next week to her new English-type bungalow located on Fifth street west of the Methodist church. Finished in brick veneer, this five room and bath residence is one of the most beautiful homes in Hereford.

Work will begin soon on the new Methodist parsonage and improvements on the church building itself, it was announced this week. While these changes are being made, a $4,500 pipe organ will be installed.

Soon the roads will be dotted with cars bearing friends and neighbors from north, south, east and west of you—all eager to renew acquaintance after winter's stay-at-home days.

And how gladly you'll welcome them—if you know your pantry shelf is ready for emergencies. One needs so little to be prepared for unexpected guests—yet this little is so often neglected!

For a hurried luncheon or tea what could be nicer than salmon or tuna fish served with thick golden mayonnaise, potatoes fried slowly in butter or margarine, assorted pickles and preserves arranged attractively in a condiment dish—and hot biscuits? These are homely foods and inexpensive. But fish and dressing pickles and preserves must be left on the shelf—if they are to come to your rescue pronto!

Since half the charm of hospitality lies in its seeming to be no trouble at all, let's remember these tricks of preparedness that help so much when friends "just drop in."

Date and Nut Spread.
For luncheon or tea, use this spread on slices of buttered white or graham bread. With these open sandwiches, serve others of plain cheese (this may be bought in jars). And cut your bread in fancy shapes, without crusts.
One-fourth cup dates, chopped; ¼ cup chopped nuts, 4 tablespoons sweetened condensed milk, 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Beat milk and lemon juice together with a fork until thick. Add dates and nuts and mix well.

Tonic for Asparagus Beds.
Salt strewn generously over asparagus beds will kill the weeds and serve as a fertilizer.

THE TIGER TRAIL

by Edison Marshall

She no longer stared at the back of the seat. She was sitting upright, almost rigid in her chair, and her eyes were on the landscape outside the window. I followed their line of sight and saw at once that we were passing through some great country estate. An enormous house, a great white palatial structure of style of long ago, perched upon a near-by hill. It looked as big as the castles of Europe and on the hillside were clustered such out-buildings and stables and garages. There were wide sweeps of meadow, a curving driveway, and in the most astounding contrast, the deep fastnesses of tropical jungle. For we were in the interior of southern Florida, as verdant a place as is to be found in all North America.

Human senses are not entirely reliable. On the witness stand I could not swear exactly what I saw. As if caught in the frozen fascination with which the girl watched the passing panorama, I was still following the line of her vision. It seemed to me that I caught a glimpse of something yellow in the thicket—a curious, brilliant yellow in great splashes of color. It was just a glimmer and yet I had dim reasons for thinking that the yellow form was living.

It might have been just a gayly red plant, or a flash of a bird's wings, or even a fawn's dog. I should say that its size might correspond to that of an enormous hound. It might have been a yellow calf, or perhaps only the sunlight against dark water. It didn't matter, anyway. The only thing that did matter, or that I remembered for hours afterward, was that the girl suddenly slipped down to the floor in a dead faint.

In an instant she was in my arms. I don't remember how she came there. I have no remembrance of exertion in leaping to her chair or picking her up. She was simply there when I again looked into her face, her slender body against my breast, her head resting on the muscle of my left arm, her white face, uplifted and unconsciousness upon her.

If I had a single impression as I carried her to the women's room, it was certainly not of her weight. She seemed to have no weight at all. But I did see the lovely shadow her eyelashes made against the whiteness of her face.

A woman picked up the silken week-end bag that the unconscious girl had carried and drew the curtain for me. She was a large, cheery-faced matron, capable and determined and under ordinary circumstances, I would have felt perfectly safe in leaving my patient in her hands. But in this case I went to work to effect the recovery myself.

It was the most simple form of ordinary faint, so I sent the woman for smelling salts.

"Maybe she's got some in her bag," she suggested.

I peered into the pretty conceit that the woman had brought, but I found no perfume salts. It was a far different thing that met my eyes. I like to think that my face gave no signs, that the woman had no inkling of the little shiver of wonderment that went through every nerve.

What I saw would not have been unusual under different circumstances. In the bottom of a trunk, or pushed into the cushions of an automobile seat, or even in a suitcase, perhaps, I would not have glanced twice at it. But in this bag, with the most intimate articles for daily use, it seemed incongruous, to a horrible degree.

It was a dark, ugly automatic pistol, brand-new and with a full magazine of cartridges.

Revising the unconscious girl was the work of a moment. But it almost made me miss my station.

Her eyes opened and rested upon me. I do not know with what white magic that glance was instilled. But it went deep into me, and left a curious warmth and elation. I know that no other eyes had ever looked at me in quite that way, or had the same effect upon me. Perhaps it was their curious darkness, or even the haunting sorrow that could not possibly be denied.

Chautauqua In Twenty-Second Year of Travel

Beginning May 31 at Independence, Kas., the Premier Circuit of America finds its way through a long season for its 22 year of service in the Southwest.

Premier attractions have become a standard of program excellence. This year will be a banner year. People are alert and eager. Lecturers are outstanding. Their messages are timely, informative and inspiring.

Musical attractions are the latest word in costuming, popular selections, and the classics will never die. A Gypsy Caravan will thrill as no other musical attraction has done. The music of Vagabond Land is always inspiring, but add to it beautiful costumes, beautiful scenery and exquisite lighting effects—the result will leave a never-fading memory.

The dramatic presentations are outstanding. Tommy, the newest show from Broadway, ran for eight months in New York and four in Chicago, and has been presented only once in the west and that at Kansas City. A cross-section of American home life is Tommy. One of the greatest, cleanest, comedies that has ever gone over the Premier.

The Shepherd of the Hills, that beloved story of the Ozarks from the pen of Harold Bell Wright, a story read and loved in every land brought to the Premier in dramatic form with all of the great characters stepping from the pages of the book which tells the story of tender love and happy sacrifice.

Down through Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas the Premier finds its way, then back again through Oklahoma and Kansas to Colorado and New Mexico, up through Colorado again to Nebraska, thence through Nebraska and closing in Kansas the early part of September. The personnel of the Premier is recruited from all parts of the country. A happy, combined, loyal force pledges itself to a successful Premier for the 1928 season—its 22nd consecutive year.

Clara Bow's Rival Appears In Picture

Alice White, red-headed, modern flapper of the screen who recently won recognition for her role in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" is one of the beauties who support Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes in "Three Ring Marriage," the film which shows at the Star Theatre here Monday and Tuesday, June 11 and 12.

In the First National circus picture, Miss White is the trapeze performer who does her best to take the hero for the heroine! But the heroine is a modern girl, too, who has pursued her "victim" throughout the country and who is not easily thrown off the track. Fun and plenty of thrills feature this laughable picture of life under the big top.

United States government authorities show that under favorable conditions with a beginning of one male and one female fly, they may increase in one season to over 50,000,000,000 flies. This shows the need of FLY-TOX. FLY-TOX is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for KILLING ALL household insects. INSIST on FLY-TOX. It is safe, stainless, fragrant, sure.—Adv

Automobile Club Reduces Taxes Considerably

The American Automobile Association and all of the affiliated units are elated that they have been successful after a five year fight and have reduced 5 per cent excess tax to the owners of motor vehicles. The tax is now in effect, according to V. G. Hill, secretary of the Panhandle Auto Club, and to substantiate this statement, the following portion of the Revenue Act of 1928 is quoted: "Section 422 (Revenue Act of 1928). Refund of Automobile Tax to Manufacturers, Producers or Importers.

(a) Where prior to the date of the enactment of this act any article, subject to the tax imposed by section 600, 1 per cent of the Revenue Act of 1920, has been sold by the manufacturer, producer or importer and he is, on such date, held by a dealer and intended for sale, there shall be refunded to the manufacturer, producer or importer, the amount of the tax, or if the tax has not been paid, the tax shall be abated."

Under Section 422, as above quoted, provision is made for refund of the tax already paid by dealers on passenger cars held by them and intended for sale. Under this provision the dealer is protected for the excise tax already paid by him, and consequently every passenger car sold since May 29 should be reduced in price to the buyer to the extent of the tax heretofore imposed. An automobile club membership in the A. A. A. is worthwhile from the indirect protection accorded them in a local state and national way, and as in the above case ends, a five year successful fight to secure tax reductions for our members. The original 5 per cent tax on tires, parts, accessories and new cars gave the government a total revenue since the war of $1,100,000,000. The final elimination of the remaining 3 per cent tax on new cars will save approximately $65,000,000 during the next twelve months.

SHE LIKED HIM.

The teacher asked little Ruth what her father's name was. "Daddy," she answered. "Yes, dear," said teacher, "but what does your mother call him?" "She don't call him nothin'!" Ruth answered earnestly. "She likes him."

Found Trying

They were returning from a trip to France and the white cliffs at Dover were getting clearer and clearer as the steam ploughed through the choppy sea.

A boisterous man of the type so often encountered on such excursions was airing his knowledge of things in general but he was infinitely puzzled at the round of laughter which greeted his cherry announcement:

"Well, we shall soon be on pomme de terre again now."

There's a Difference.

They were watching a love scene.

Wife—Why is it you never made love to me like that?
Husband—Say, do you know what that guy gets for doing that?

A Long Train That Has No End.

The Carrs had recently had their sixth baby, reports T. Ott. Mrs. Carr who was the wife of a trainman, was going down the street when Mrs. Flynn called to her: "Oh, Mrs. Carr, congratulations. I hear ye have a new baby." "Yis, said Mrs. Carr, an' I hope it's the caboose."

Fifteen years of development - but an overnight popularity
GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator
Wherever you go you hear people praising the General Electric Refrigerator. Almost overnight it has taken a prominent place in the thoughts of homemakers.
One hears of its remarkable simplicity. That it hasn't a single belt, fan or drain-pipe. That it hasn't a bit of machinery under the cabinet - or in the basement. That it never needs oiling. There are many, many comments on the quietness with which it operates. There is much enthusiasm for the extreme roominess and the splendid strength of its gleaming, up-on-legs cabinet.
Overnight, it seems . . . but for more than fifteen years the vast laboratories of General Electric have been busy with the development of this truly revolutionary refrigerator. Will you not come in and see the various models? Time payments can be arranged, if you prefer.
