Craig Hunt, third, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hunt; Tim Sain, first place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sain and Stacey Campbell, second, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Campbell. Tim will compete in Regional elimination on Saturday, April 16, at Lubbock.

Good News Texas Will Be Offering 'Living Proof'

Tim Sain Named Spelling 'Champ'

He didn't "confuse" the issue, so in the final analysis, he did "confiscate" a coveted title. Tim Sain, nonchalantly carefully pronouncing each word before spelling it, captured the Bailey County Spelling Bee title in competition with nine other students at Muleshoe High School auditorium Thursday afternoon.

The 13-year old seventh grade student from Muleshoe Junior High School correctly spelled "confiscate" after classmate Stacey Campbell finally stumbled in the final round. Stacey, also 13, had helped spell down the other entrants before missing "confiscate."

In third place was Craig Hunt, an eleven year old fifth grader from Mary DeShazo Elementary School. Craig finally fell out of competition after he missed "cardigan."

This was Tim Sain's third year to enter the county competition. He will accompany his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sain, to Lubbock on Saturday, April 16, for the regional elimination. The regional spelling bee is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. in Moody Auditorium at Lubbock Christian College.

Presenting checks of $25, $15, and $10 to the three top winners, and blue ribbons to the other seven finalists was Cleta Williams of Muleshoe Publishing Co. Muleshoe Publishing Co., in conjunction with the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, sponsors the spelling bee locally each year.

Pronouncer for the competition was Mrs. Horace Blackburn, who carefully enunciated each word before the students attempted to spell. Judges were Bailey County Judge Glen Williams; Municipal Judge James Williams and Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Tommy Black. Overall coordinator for the event was Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, curriculum director for the Muleshoe schools.

Also competing in the county spelling bee were Keva Roming, Eugene Porras and John Davis. Competing from Mary DeShazo Elementary School were Michael Barrett, Angie Salas, Suzette Rojas, and Paula Snell. Bailey County Spelling Bee Champion Tim Sain will also be presented a plaque for his victory when he competes in Lubbock on April 16.

Holy Week Services Start Soon

Muleshoe Ministerial Alliance has declared the theme of "The Cloth of Christ" for the annual Holy Week services this year.

Holy Week Services get underway Monday, April 4, and will continue through Friday, April 8, in the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe. Services will be from 12:05 until 12:30 p.m. At 12:30, a sacrificial meal will be served in the Fellowship Hall of the church for $1.50 per plate.

Working people in Muleshoe are encouraged to attend the services and "come as you are". During this special week, work clothes will be acceptable attire for the services.

Small children may be left in the daycare center at the church free of charge. The only assessment will be to bring lunch for the children to the church.

Mayor Proclaims Special 'Week'

Friday morning, Muleshoe Mayor Kenneth Henry signed a proclamation declaring the week of March 27-April 3 as Good News Texas Week in Muleshoe. Good News Texas Week is in recognition of Southern Baptists who are making a concentrated effort through the news media and local church revivals to reach all who do not know Christ with the Gospel, according to J.E. Meeks, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

Churches in Muleshoe involved in sharing the expenses of the "Living Proof" media campaign include First Baptist Church, Trinity Baptist Church and Templo Bautista Mission. All these churches will be involved in Good News Texas Revivals through April 17-24, added the Rev. Meeks.

In conjunction with the kickoff of the campaign in Muleshoe, Texas Baptist are already sweeping the state with "Living Proof," explained the local ministers. "Living Proof" is an unparalleled media evangelism campaign," said Rev. Meeks. "Featured will be testimonies by well-known Americans who have experienced changed lives through commitment to Christ."

Among celebrities spotlighted in the $1.5 million media campaign are Billy "White Shoes" Johnson of the Houston Oilers; actor Dean Jones; former militant Eldridge Cleaver; and country and western star Jeanie C. Riley.

Living Proof will move across the state in four-week periods of intensive multi-media advertising, explained the local ministers. Before ending in April, the campaign is expected to reach every Texas resident at least 40 times through TV, radio, newspaper, magazine, outdoor display and transit advertising.

With nondenominational appeal, the 2.1 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas seeks to raise spiritual and moral awareness through the program, according to Dr. Lloyd Elder, co-chairman of Living Proof.

"People featured in the media testimonials are Living Proof that Jesus is real and that He can make a difference in our lives. By communicating these personal experiences, we intend to provide people with insight that will allow them to determine intelligently whether or not Christ can fill a void in their lives, as he has for so many others," Elder said.

For example, Pro Football Player Billy "White Shoes" Johnson reveals in his testimony that Jesus provided "a satisfaction with myself; a secure feeling in the world and most of all, a quiet peace of mind, way down deep, where the (fans') cheers don't reach."

When successful businessman Allan Mayer, of Oscar Mayer Co., was confronted with his daughter's serious illness he realized it was something he couldn't handle with a phone call or a memo. In his testimony Mayer tells how Christ proved "I could trust him with my daughter's life, and more. He gave me a greater sense of purpose and joy, to prove I could trust him with my life, too."

FHA-HERO Plans 'Week'

Future Homemakers of America throughout Texas will observe Texas FHA-HERO Week March 27 - April 2. Using the theme "FHA Shapes an Unfinished World", the more than 75,000 young men and women will join in demonstrating projects that have real value for youth in preparation for future responsibilities.

Locally, FHA is represented by two active high school chapters. The Rose Chapter is made up of students who enrolled or have been enrolled in Homemaking in high school. The HERO Chapter is composed of juniors and seniors in the work program for Homemaking.

Approximately 85 students are active in the FHA program in Muleshoe High School under guidance of Mrs. Wanda Gramling and Mrs. Dorine Harbin.

Future Homemakers of America is one of six vocational education youth organizations. A part of the junior and senior high school homemaking curriculum, it provides meaning and motivation for youth working toward educational goals related to consumer homemaking and home economics for gainful employment. It reaches beyond the classroom instruction into the home and community.

A week full of activity is planned by the Muleshoe High School FHA members. It starts on the first day of the special week, today, with all members planning to "Take A Friend To Church." On Monday, publicity day will include the students wearing special hats with FHA emblems and signs.

Tuesday will be dress-up day, with all FHA members planning to dress out in all their finery. Wednesday is good deed day, and students will have refreshments in the teacher's lounge every day and also decorate the Nursing Home for Easter.

On Thursday, FHA girls cannot talk to boys all day, and it has been tabbed "Mr. Irresistible" day. Friday is individual work day, where each FHA member will do something for someone. Saturday, a bike hike is scheduled with benefits to go to the Texas Mentally Retarded Association.

State President Phyllis Cicero explained that the overall goal of the organization is "to help youth assume their roles in society through home economics in areas of personal growth,

Bank Joins Nationwide Drug Program

The Muleshoe State Bank has joined some 425 other banks in Texas and adjoining states in sponsoring of the Abundant Life Fellowship program for the prevention of drug abuse by young people.

Robert Montgomery, cashier, has authorized the purchase of a quantity of booklets on drug abuse prevention, to be distributed free to bank customers and other interested persons.

The booklet, titled "Youth - Drugs and Human Dignity", is a short, straightforward treatise aimed at the teenager who may be considering experimentation with drugs.

"The success of this program depends largely on the support of concerned citizens such as Mr. Montgomery," said Dr. Howard B. Ritchie, lecturer-director of Abundant Life Fellowship.

The main purpose of the book is to get young people to stop and think before taking some action which may scar their entire future lives, Dr. Ritchie added.

Widespread distribution of the booklet is a key part of the all-volunteer program. Distribution is sponsored by businesses such as Muleshoe State Bank, as well as by individuals, civic and church groups. Also, Fellowship members lecture on drug abuse prevention and counsel with parents about the most effective ways to help young people resist the temptation to experiment with drugs.

Cost Figure Requested For Proposed Paving

Following a public hearing Tuesday night at the Muleshoe City Hall, during which time numerous citizens indicated a definite interest in a paving program, several things have progressed.

City Manager Dave Marr compiled a map denoting all proposed paving areas for the city, and has mailed the map to City Engineer Bill McMorris.

The city manager said he has requested an estimate on the total paving cost as a prerequisite to additional public hearings which will be scheduled before a bond election will be called.

Proposals call for 36 foot wide streets on any streets where curb and gutter is planned, and 24 foot streets where strip paving only is proposed.

Marr reminded that the residents of the Country Club Addition is northeast Muleshoe had previously petitioned the city for a paving program, and during the public hearing, residents from several other areas formally requested to be included on the proposed paving project.

One specific item requested by the city manager was for the city engineer to include drainage cost estimates for the Harvey Addition when he submits the estimated cost.

Included in the proposed paving project will be the following streets: East Kola; East Ithica; East Hickory; East Gum and East Fir Streets in the Country Club Addition. Also Houston Street on the west side of the Catholic Church in the Country Club Addition.

Streets to be included from the Harvey Addition include Reno, West Birch, West Ash and Sherman Streets.

Other streets in a miscellaneous group on the plan include West Avenue H, between Sixth and Eighth Streets; West Avenue I, between Second and Third and Between Third and Fourth; also East Sixth Street from East Avenue E to East Avenue G.

It was explained that the bond election will be called to cover "ONLY" the city's portion of the paving bill. A city in an assessment paving project is liable for only the cost of paving intersections and entrances to alleys, and to any paving adjacent to city-owned land. Individ-

For something new -- something totally different -- and said to be completely effective, Kenneth Briscoe of Lazbuddie Chemical Inc. says all farmers and agribusinessmen should attend a meeting Tuesday night.

Scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Lazbuddie School cafeteria, the meeting will be on local use of infra-red photography from planes in this area.

Infra-red photography by airplane was first developed and extensively used during war-time. It has also been used and perfected to find persons reported as missing.

Now, it has been perfected and is utilized in all parts of the country to aid growers. During the meeting, it will be explained how infra-red photography will be used from planes to spot insect infestations. Briscoe explained that the process can be used to catch small build-ups before they spread over fields and more effective control can be used earlier. He also said the process can be used to check soil fertility and concentration of water in the soil.

To be displayed and discussed will be a series of infra-red photos which have already been taken of area and local fields and crops during this year. The films will be explained and the service will also be explained to area farmers.

A doctor of agronomy from Lubbock will be on hand to conduct the meeting and answer questions, added Briscoe. He said anyone interested in the process will be cordially welcomed to attend the meeting.

The spray service operator said they have been experimenting with the infra-red process for some time, and now have it perfected for use in this area.

A question and answer session will be included, so that any question can be answered during the evening.

"We ALL Need Clean Water

Clean water is the key to survival is the 1977 theme of National Wildlife Week, March 20-26.

We use clean water in our homes and offices. We grow our food and manufacture products with it, and wildlife must have it to survive.

Protecting water quality is one of the vital issues we face in the months and years ahead. Every citizen has a stake in the fight for clean water.

If an individual is going to contribute to clean water, it is important to know some basic facts about water quality.

Consumption is increasing at an alarming rate for industry and home use of water and we can only estimate what the

Wells are going dry and new wells are deeper and more expensive to drill.

Many parts of the country are experiencing drought conditions and no one knows when it will end. Surface water in Panhandle and South Plains reservoirs is dropping due to lack of runoff from rains and as the water level drops, chances for water pollution increases.

Polluted water is a menace to all life but, it usually shows up first in wildlife. There are various sources of pollution such as untreated sewage from cities and towns; industrial wastes including acids, oils, and other chemicals as well as heat pollution; runoff from land including fertilizers, pesticides, and silt.

Pollution cases are handled through several state agencies including the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The P&WD along with the National Wildlife Federation sponsoring "National Wildlife Week", support better water management and conservation of one of our most precious necessities -- clean water.

Marr also explained that future public hearings will be necessary before the paving project can be finalized and a bond election called. He reminded that everyone who did not have an opportunity to attend the preliminary hearing last Tuesday night, will still have ample opportunity to attend one of the hearings and participate.

If all details can be worked out, the paving program could feasibly get underway sometime during August of this year.

education in preparing us for future living."

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. There are two types of chapters. FHA chapters place major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking and family life education, combined with exploration of jobs and careers. HERO chapters, taking the name from home economics related occupations, place major emphasis on preparation for jobs and careers with recognition that workers also fill multiple roles as homemakers and community leaders.

Nationwide in membership and effort, Future Homemakers of America is co-sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. High school home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff and leading home economists serve as advisers to chapter, state and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

CONTINUED VIGILANCE

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley has called for continuing the same vigilance that he said helped prevent well publicized terrorists threats from materializing during the Bicentennial year.

Officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. have announced April 14 as the date for the cotton producer organization's annual membership meeting. It will be held in the Aztec room of the Southpark Inn, Lubbock, beginning at 1:30 p.m. and concluding shortly after 5:00 p.m.

The meeting program is being built around present and future effects of government regulations on the cotton industry. Emphasized will be the regulatory activities of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"Like it or not," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "government regulations are destined for the foreseeable future to play an increasingly important role in cotton operations from production through finished products."

With this in mind PCG has secured speakers from the top echelon of both OSHA and EPA for its annual meeting. Grover C. Wren, Deputy Director of Health Standards Programs, is on the program for OSHA, and Edwin L. Johnson, Deputy Assistant Administrator of Pesticides Programs, will speak for EPA.

Of greatest current concern to cotton people is a cotton dust standard proposed by OSHA and EPA's consideration of a ban on the use of the herbicide Treflan.

"The dust standard, if enforced as now proposed by OSHA," Johnson (Donald) states, "would force many area gins out of business. And the cost of meeting the standard by remaining gins, if any remain, is beyond calculation until such time as engineering controls are developed that we can be sure would do the job."

The PCG executive also points out that the elimination of Treflan, widely used on the Plains for weed control, at best would greatly increase cotton production costs, and with the existing shortage of hand labor would in some instances make production impractical.

By April 14 OSHA will have completed the first week of Washington hearings on the proposed dust standard. More hearings will be held in Washington beginning the week of April 18, and field hearings have been scheduled in Lubbock May 10 and 11.

Treflan hearings were conducted by EPA in Washington and Phoenix, Arizona during the week of March 7 and the EPA hearing panel could issue a preliminary recommendation on the herbicide around the time of the PCG meeting.

"The PCG goal is reasonable regulations, reasonably administered," says Johnson, "and having OSHA and EPA officials in Lubbock should open lines of communication, improve mutual understanding and improve our chances for achieving that goal."

Other details of the PCG meeting will be announced when finalized, Johnson said.

Quarterly Wage Reports Due By May 2

Quarterly wage reports and social security contributions for household workers are due by May 2, according to Jim Latimer, social security field representative in Muleshoe.

People who pay a household worker $50 or more in cash wages in any three month calendar quarter must send a report of the wages, along with the social security contribution, to the Internal Revenue Service within one month after the end of the quarter.

"Wage reports and social security contributions for January, February, and March of 1977 are due by May 2," Latimer said. "The date would be April 30, but that falls on a Saturday this year."

The wage report may be filed on a form available at any Internal Revenue Service Office -- "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees (for Social Security)."

The social security contribution for a household employee is 5.85 percent of wages covered by social security, and the employer pays a matching amount.

Social security contributions build retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection for workers and their families. People who employ household workers can get a free copy of the leaflet, "Social security and your household employee," at the Lubbock social security office at 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401. Kiwanis Club Hears TEC Representative

How do you get a man to quit talking long enough to receive a weekly award? This perplexing question was asked by R.A. Bradley, congenial reporter for the Muleshoe Kiwanis Club. Bradley commented, "Weldon Stevenson gave the friendship coin to Glen King Friday morning, stating that Glen was always friendly and always talking. However, it was hard to get Glen to quit talking long enough to receive the coin."

Lonnie Merriott of the Texas Employment Commission presented the program. He reported on the TEC office and what it has meant to the Muleshoe trade area. Merriott said that the unemployment for this area was very low when compared to other areas. He also said that of the approximately 2,500 TEC offices in Texas, a move is presently underway to consolidate into no more than 1,000 offices. He did not know the status of the Muleshoe office in the event the reduction does take place.

President Howard Watson reported on an Inter-Club meeting at Tulia last week where the T-O governor was honored at a banquet. Special guest was Debra Bouchelle, a member of the Junior Historical Society. She was selling historical place mats to the members.

Most people would prefer to pay no taxes at all. But Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday that Texans at least enjoy a lighter state and local tax burden than do the residents of 43 other states.

In his March monthly financial statement, Bullock noted that recent studies show that Texans pay about 10 percent of their personal income in state and local taxes, compared to a national average of 11.9 percent.

Texas ranked 44th among the 50 states, he said. New York State -- where residents paid 15.7 percent of their personal income in state and local taxes -- ranked first.

The Comptroller's financial statement also reported that because of lower interest rates, Texas local governments issued new bonds totaling $2.1 billion in 1976, a record high. Bullock noted that January state revenues totaled $487.5 million, bringing state revenues during the first five months of fiscal 1977 to $2.6 billion -- a nine percent increase over the same period in fiscal 1976.

State expenditures during January totaled $544.4 million.

Slightly Behind... Way Below... More Than Half Above.

Typical spring weather in Texas is taking its toll on some planting plans, but all in all, progress is being made.

Cotton planting has been slowed due to wet and cold and is considerably behind the three-year average. Grain sorghum planting is also behind the three-year average. Rice and peanut seeding are underway.

Warmer weather has made wheat fields respond as well as oats.

Many parts of the state have been invaded by dust, caused mainly by excessive strong winds. The wheat crop has been hurt severely in some sections as a result.

Corn planting is gaining momentum but is well behind the average for this time of year.

The condition of livestock throughout the state has improved because of warmer weather. Cattle in the Coastal Bend area are still weak, but in other parts of the eastern half of the state herds are rated fair.

Cattle in the western half of the state are considered good.

Range conditions have also improved considerably throughout the state. Goat shearing continues on the Edwards Plateau.

A 49 PER CENT REDUCTION in the 1977 Texas spring onion crop is forecast by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Based on March 1 conditions, the Texas crop is forecast at 2,451,000 hundredweight. Acres are estimated at 16,900; this is 30 per cent below the acreage last season. Yield per acre is expected to be about a fourth under that of a year ago.

Weather is given as the main reason for the decline. In the Rio Grande Valley, many fields of onions appear thin and lack normal plant size. Harvest in the Valley is expected to begin around the end of this month.

Harvest in the Winter Garden area is expected to begin about the end of April and continue through July. In the Laredo area, the crop is progressing well, and harvest should start in a few weeks.

Nationwide, the combined spring acreage for harvest for Texas, Arizona and California is expected to be 24 per cent below the 1976 total.

THE STATE'S CITRUS CROP is now estimated to be 16,900,000 boxes, which would be seven per cent above the past season, and more than half above the 1974-75 season.

Grapefruit production is currently forecast at 11,500,000 boxes. This is also seven per cent above a year ago.

Production of all oranges is expected to total 6,600,000 boxes, which would be more than a year ago. Early and mid-season oranges are projected at 4,200,000 boxes and Valencia's at 2,400,000 boxes.

With dry weather having returned to the Valley, harvest has increased rapidly. More than half of the grapefruit have been picked and about 15 per cent of the Valencia crop has been harvested.

Nationwide, grapefruit production is forecast at 69,900,000 boxes.

Bill Loyd, President Muleshoe State Bank

Two types of credit are most readily available to most consumers. They are sales credit and cash credit.

Charge accounts and credit cards are the most familiar tools of sales credit. Such credit is created at the time of a particular transaction . . . when you buy something.

Cash credit is usually in the form of a direct loan, such as those made here at the bank. Although the loans are made on a cash basis, they can often be paid back in either a lump sum at a specified time or in a series of specific payments over a given period of time (called installments).

Many people find that with the purchase of major appliances or other "big ticket" items the "cash credit" saves enough to make it well worth the time to establish a direct loan.

To find out the possibilities of obtaining cash credit for any of your big ticket purchases just contact any of our bank officers. We'll be happy to help.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

HELP STAMP OUT VIOLENCE

All across our country violence is sweeping. What can be done? The fight has already begun. A nationwide campaign has been initiated to combat violence. A total of eight open hearings have taken place throughout the United States. Between November 30, 1976 to February 22, 1977 the hearings have been in Pittsburg, Kansas City, Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, Portland, Hartford, and Los Angeles.

Is it surprising to know that the average child, by the time he graduates from High School, has spent more time in front of a television than studying in a classroom? This same average child by the time he is fifteen (15) years old has seen 13,000 people killed on television. That is why P-TA decided to fight. We are committed to strengthen family and home life and we do not believe violence on our television is doing this. News media everywhere is applauding this campaign. Hours of testifying by parents, teachers, and doctors have been heard.

There are several ways every interested individual can help.

We can write our government objecting to this violence.

The hearings are only the first step down a long road, but a very important step.

Hance Introduces Natural Gas Bill

State Senator Ken Hance (Democrat Lubbock) has introduced legislation in the state senate which would give irrigation farmers who use natural gas to pump their irrigation wells, relief from the continually increasing costs of natural gas.

Hance's legislation would require the Railroad Commission to hold public hearings before a rate increase could be placed into effect on agriculturally used natural gas.

"At the present, natural gas being used for agricultural purposes in Texas has no regulation. A farmer's only choice when confronted with a natural gas price increase is to either pay the increased price or to turn off his irrigation wells," stated Senator Hance.

Hance noted that the cities of this state have always had the right to approve or disapprove of natural gas price increases and the gas companies have the right to appeal the decisions of the cities to the Railroad Commission.

"I believe it is very important that Texas has financially sound utility companies to constantly provide adequate energy needs to this state. They certainly deserve to receive a fair rate of return on their investment. However, since the utility companies are monopolies they must justify their price increases to the public. I feel it is important for the public, especially the farmers, to know if the natural gas price increases placed into effect are warranted or are merely for increased profits at the farmers' expense," stated Hance.

Hance also stated he has introduced a bill requiring that all Texas agricultural gas be classified as a number one priority rating by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Alternating Wheat Crop Adds Moisture

Growing as much crop as possible with limited water is the name of the farming game in West Texas.

Alternating irrigated and dryland wheat on the same field will increase wheat yield according to Dr. Paul Unger, USDA Soil Scientist at Bushland. Studies conducted over four years show that this system will increase total yield about 10 percent over continuous dryland or continuous irrigated wheat on separate fields. Alternating dryland and irrigated wheat averaged 52 bushels per acre while continuous dryland and irrigated wheat averaged 47 bushels per acre when the same sized with either tillage method. Dryland plots were left flat. Ammonium nitrate fertilizer was used. Irrigated plots received 120 pounds per acre of nitrogen. Dryland areas following irrigation got 40 pounds per acre of nitrogen. Tascosa wheat was planted at 30 pounds per acre on dryland. One bushel per acre of TAM-101 was planted for irrigation.

Unger found that sweep tillage increased irrigated wheat yields four bushels per acre over disk tillage. Continuously irrigated wheat tilled with a disk produced 65 bushels of wheat per acre. Irrigated wheat that was plowed with sweeps made 69 bushels per acre when it followed a dryland crop. The four-bushel-per-acre increase was a bonus Dr. Unger did not expect. Soil moisture measurements proved that sweep plowing stored more soil moisture between crops than disking.

Tillage tool did not make any difference on dryland wheat yield. However, continuous dryland wheat tilled with sweeps yielded 31 bushels per acre while dryland wheat following irrigated wheat yielded 35 bushels per acre.

Average yield for continuous dryland and continuous irrigated wheat grown on separate areas was 47 bushels per acre. Where dryland and irrigated wheat were alternated, yield increased to 52 bushels per acre. Unger states that this extra five bushels per acre of wheat is profit. The alternate system took the same amount of

New Credit Law Now Effective

Equal credit eligibility became a reality March 23. Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

For some consumers who had trouble obtaining credit in the past, this may help end those problems.

Enforced by new, more comprehensive federal rules, the new Equal Credit Opportunity Act forbids discrimination solely on the basis of sex, marital status, race, color, religion, national origin, age or receipt of welfare benefits.

However, it is not illegal for creditors to inquire about an applicant's marital status, age or income.

If a credit applicant is refused credit, he must be notified of that action, be told the reasons why and be advised of his rights under the law.

If a person thinks he has been discriminated against, he will be able to sue for actual damages and up to $10,000 in punitive damages. Class action suits will be possible, also.

Those who feel they've been discriminated against may write Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, Station K, Dallas, Texas 75222.
