Pilgrims in Holy Land retrace Jesus' steps

 $JERUSALEM \ (AP) - Singing \ hymns \ and \ carrying \ large \ wooden \ crosses, throngs of millennium pilgrims \ marched \ in \ solemn \ Good \ Friday \ processions$ today, retracing what tradition says were Jesus' final steps to his crucifixion.

The half-mile Via Dolorosa, or Way of Sorrows, snakes east to west through the walled Old City of Jerusalem, from the Lion's Gate to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, where tradition says Jesus was crucified and buried.

The plaza in front of the 4th-century basilica was packed with people, and the Via Dolorosa was filled almost to capacity, a sign that the stream of pilgrims that started with the new year and peaked during the millennium visit of Pope John Paul II last month has not abated.

Texas farmer bids to cultivate market for his ag products

HOUSTON (AP) — A Texas farmer is making contacts in Cuba - even visiting the island - in hope of cultivating a market for his rice, soy and corn.

But despite the interest of Cubans he met there, Curt Mowery is unlikely to sell even one grain of rice from his Rosharon farm to Cuba for a while — that because of a nearly 40-year U.S. trade embargo with the communist-run country.

So Mowery, along with several dozen other Texans, is pushing Congress to open trade with Cuba.

"It's going to open up sooner or later, and we might be in a position to take advantage of the contacts we made there," Mowery told the Houston Chronicle in today's editions.

Underage drinking targeted

By Dianna F. Dandridge

Hereford Brand Staff Writer

Prom, graduation, senior year-end parties all mark the end of one era and the beginning of the next for senior high students across the state and the nation.

All to often, young adults use this time to herald in their new freedom with care free use of alcoholic beverages.

Law enforcement officers and agencies are issuing warnings to young adults, their parents and older friends, who may be considering an alcoholic bash - DON'T.

Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission officers are among the numerous officers who will be out in force spot checking for underage drinkers, drivers, and those who are willing to provide alcohol for minors. Department of Public Safety officers will be "particularly vigilant regarding young drivers and the areas where they frequent," said Sgt. Ben Urbanczyk. Law officers will be working undercover to enforce the alcohol laws. "Minors, whether they are driving or not, can't have any detectable amount of alcohol in their system," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Janet Reno is laying plans to use force if necessary to return Elian Gonzalez to his father but is still open to negotiations with his Miami relatives, a spokeswoman said today.

"If necessary the attorney general is prepared to use law enforcement" to pick up Elian over the objections of relatives who have temporarily cared for him since Thanksgiving, Justice Department spokeswoman Carole Florman said. "If and when there's a law enforcement action, we are not going to be previewing it."

Florman portrayed Reno as virtually out of options other than law enforcement.

"There have always been three trains moving simultaneously down the track - negotiations for a transfer, litigation and law enforcement," Florman said. "We are no longer in the engineer's seat on the negotiation train. We're just passengers.

"She is looking to our law enforcement officials to determine the best timing and methods" for removing Elian from the house where hundreds of Cuban exiles have gathered, promising to form a human chain to prevent the boy's removal, Florman said.

Florman said, "The doors are always going to be open to the family for a negotiated settlement. She said last night she is willing to consider any specific suggestions for how to achieve a cooperative resolution."

Urbanczyk reminds young revelers that they can be harged as a minor in possession if they are in a car or at a party where alcohol is present.

Hereford Police Chief David Wagner said in the years past the department has had extra units on the streets during prom and graduation nights.

"It's really discouraging when parents throw parties out in the county and tell the kids they have to park their car and spend the night. These are still minors and they don't need to be drinking," Wagner said. "The best thing parents can do is know where their kids are, what kind of party they are going to and make sure the kids are keeping good company."

In the state of Texas minors are not allowed to drink without a parent or guardian in sight. Adults who either willingly provide alcohol to minors or allow minors access to alcohol can be charged with furnishing alcohol to a minor.

Legal blood alcohol limits is .08, and minors who are charged with driving while intoxicated face DWI charges and may loose their drivers license for up to 60 days. They are ineligible for an occupational license for the first 30 days. Penalties increase significantly with the second and consecutive offenses.

Minors who purchase, attempt to purchase, possess or consume alcoholic beverages, as well as those who are publicly intoxicated or misrepresenting their age face Class C misdemeanor charges with fines up to $500, community service, alcohol awareness classes and loss of drivers license for up to 180 days.

TABC agents will be visiting area high schools, hotels and motels in the next few weeks to reinforce the laws and penalties regarding underage drinkers.

BRAND/Dianna F. Dandridge

During the coming graduation and prom season, TABC officials will be strictly enforcing laws regarding alcohol and minors.

Random uncover stings will be conducted to target individuals who sell or provide alcohol to minors.

"The basic purpose of this operation is to ensure that this milestone achievement in a young persons' life is a safe and sober occasion that they can always treasure for a long time," said TABC administrator Doyne Bailey.

To Mowery, Cuba's market of 11.2 million residents and a booming tourist sector is worth courting because it could mean the difference between profits and losses for rice farmers. Cubans consume 600,000 tons of rice annually, but the island can produce only 200,000 tons, he said.

To find out more about the Cuban market's potential, a few Texas-based groups have embarked on what they call fact-months.

Texas Farm Bureau on a trip to Havana. On Sunday, the bureau will take its second trip to the island.

Hoping to recover the business with Cuba they lost for four decades, Texans who depend on exports are urging Congress to pass a bill that would allow Americans to visit Cuba and to sell medicine, medical supplies and food to the island.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John Ashcroft, R-Mo., has gained the support of even arch-conservative Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., who supported the 1996 Helms-Burton law to strengthen sanctions against Cuba.

Last year, a similar bill to ease the trade sanctions failed to make it through Congress.

This time the opposition will once again include Mowery's congressman, House Majority Whip Tom DeLay, R-Sugar Land.

Trade with Cuba is tantamount to the perpetuation of the Cuban tyranny," DeLay said in a written statement obtained by the Chronicle. "If we lift the sanctions in Cuba, Castro would be free to export to the U.S. a vast array of winter crops, including tobacco, sugar and citrus. Inevitably, Castro will dump Cuba's agricultural products on the U.S. market to further hurt American sugar, citrus and tobacco farmers."

But farmers like Mowery insist that the embargo has proven a fail-ure and should be abandoned.

"The policy toward Cuba has been flawed," Mowery told the paper. "Every other country on this planet sells to Cuba, except for the United States."

FDH to divvy up $100 million

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Department of Health has decided how it will split $100 million from state tobacco settlement money among 288 public hospitals.

Meanwhile, officials from hospitals - many of which expected larger payments to help cover the expense of treating indigent patients - say the proposal highlights the growing burden on public hospitals funded by taxpayers.

"From a big picture sense, it's a symptom of a much bigger problem," said Marsha Jones, executive vice president of government rela-tions at the Texas Hospital Association.

The 288 public hospitals sharing in the $100 million payment are required by law to accept all patients, regardless of their residency or ability to pay. Last year, the hospitals spent $1.12 billion on indigent care.

"Because we have 25 percent of our population uninsured, the de mand on our health care infrastructure is huge and the return that the hospitals are getting from the tobacco settlement is not nearly enough," Jones said Thursday.

Increased demand for indigent care as well as shrinking reimbursements from managed care companies and state and federal Medicaid and Medicare programs are hurting all health care providers in Texas and nationwide, she said.

Under the health department's proposal released this week, Harris County Hospital District would get the largest disbursement at $18.3 million, a small piece of the $205.2 million it cost the district in 1999 to provide indigent care.

The district had hoped for $20 million.

"But it's an important piece," said district spokesman Bryan McLeod. "Without that money now we'd probably have to look at eliminating some services or cutting staff."

Dallas County Hospital District would receive the second-largest payment at $17.9 million, $6 million less than expected.

"It's hard to depend on these kinds of revenue sources," Ron Anderson, chief executive officer of Parkland Health and Hospital System told the Dallas Morning News. His financially-strapped hospital is part of the Dallas district.

"They usually don't bring in what you think they will over time. You need harder dollars, and right now we don't have those harder dollars," Anderson said.

The proposed disbursement, which must be approved by the state comptroller's office, is expected to happen later this month. Payments were calculated based on the amount spint during the previous year or unreimbursed indigent health care.

The Deaf Smith County Hospital District's initial allocation was about $338,270.

The payments are part of a $2.28 billion settlement reached in 1998 between tobacco companies and hospital districts, counties and other indigent health care providers. That deal is separate from a $15.3 billion settlement between the companies and the state.

DuPont Co. appeals verdict

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) - DuPont Co. officials said they will appeal a Texas jury's $69 million award to pecan farmers who blamed the company's Benlate 50 DF fungicide for damage to three pecan orchards.

Caps on punitive damages under Texas law will likely cut the award in half, lawyers for the two sides said Thursday. But even with the cap it is among the biggest ever returned against DuPont in connection with Benlate 50 DF. Delaware-based DuPont has paid more than $1 billion in legal fees and settlements since the 50 DF formulation of Benlate was pulled from the market in 1991. Other forms of Benlate remain for sale. "DuPont is saddened that the jury found for the plaintiffs in the face of strong scientific evidence that Benlate did not damage these orchards," said spokesman Michael Ricciuto. "The punitive award is particularly misguided." The verdict, returned after a three-month trial in Eagle Pass, Texas, was a victory for H & L Farms, Roseta Farms and the Tim Leonard Pecan Farm. The jury found there were defects in the design and manufacturing of Benlate and awarded punitive damages after agreeing with the plaintiffs that DuPont engaged in false, misleading and deceptive acts and fraudulently concealed facts in the case, according to the verdict.

CDC: More exercise needed

ATLANTA (AP) - More worked out 30 minutes a day than half of the Americans who say they're overweight are trying to slim down, but the government says they're not exercising enough.

Software tracks criminals

HOUSTON (AP) — Area po-lice officials will meet today to examine a new investigative tool authorities hope can be used to help catch serial kill-ers and other habitual criminals.

It's called geographic profil-ing, and the computer software program processes the details of crimes and pinpoints the most likely residence or workplace of offenders, accord-ing to a report in the Houston Chronicle.

A steering committee composed of representatives of mu-nicipal and county law enforcement agencies, as well as the Texas Department of Pub-lic Safety and the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Educa-tion, will meet today at the University of Houston to learn more about it.

UH hopes to make geo-graphic profiling a part of its master's degree program in criminal justice as well as build a first-of-its-kind database for area law-enforcement agencies.

"It's so very promising," said Bob Glazier, assistant profes-sor of criminal justice at UH-Downtown. "I think it would be a great partnership in so many ways." Geographic profiling is simi-lar to psychological profiling, in which details of crime scenes are used by experts to make predictions about the emotional and intellectual characteristics of a criminal, Glazier said.

Although geographic profil-ing software produces a map, Glazier said it should not be confused with crime-mapping, which simply shows the location and frequency of certain crimes.

A geographic profile map "actually predicts where a se-rial criminal lives or works because there are certain things we know about human nature," Glazier said. Detective Inspector Kim Rossmo of the Vancouver, British Columbia, Police Department developed the software - the Criminal Geographic Targeting program — as part of his doctoral thesis. Although UH's plans for geographic profiling are tentative, Glazier said law-enforcement agencies would enter information about serial crimes into a mainframe computer maintained by the university. Cases would be compared and simi-larities pointed out.

Vacationers visit border towns

BROWNSVILLE (AP) - The annual sighting of green-andwhite license plates is drawing smiles along the Texas border.

The plates, which depict the silhouette of a mountain, are from the state of Nuevo Leon across the border and a sure sign that Mexican vacationers have arrived.

The Mexican economy has strengthened, and the Texas border area has noticed.

"They just started to come in. It has picked up quite a bit," downtown clothing store owner Harry Holzman told The Brownsville Herald.

"We are seeing people from Mexico coming in. Hopefully, they will keep coming in," Holzman said. "But it's not only here in downtown. They are everywhere."

Summers says team looking more confident

Lady Herd

By Jeff Blackmon

Hereford Brand Sports Editor The Hereford Lady Whitefaces successfully used their secret weapons in Thursday night's playoff game in Canyon.

The use of pitchers Victoria Perez and Teresa Zimmerman ultimately led to Lady Eagles' demise during the Hereford High School softball team's 4-2 win.

Head coach Penny Summers has routinely used her pitch-ing duo as a way to confuse opposing hitters. Summers said that after the team gets used to Perez's pitching style she will put in Zimmerman and completely baffle opposing hitters.

"Some people think we put Teresa in because Vikki is struggling," Summers said. "But it is more strategy than desperation."

Summers said Perez's style is somewhat of a slower pitch, but Perez usually works the corners of the plate exceptionally. "Vikki just makes the ball move more and hit the corners," Summers said. "If she doesn't get the calls she likes we will bring in Teresa and change the speed of the ball." The Lady Whitefaces jumped on the Lady Eagles early by scoring three runs in the top half of the first.

Center fielder Janae Schlabs singled with one out and moved to second on a sacrifice before three consecutive singles by left fielder Ericha Albracht, designated hitter Ashley Gonzales and first baseman Teresa Zimmerman.

Perez pitched two strong innings before leaving in a bases

0 before walking in a run putting Canyon on the scoreboard 3-1. Coach Summers then went to Zimmerman to try to shut down the Canyon rally.

Zimmerman said when she comes into those situations she tries to just think positively.

"I know I have to pull it out," Zimmerman. "I just try to stay positive.'

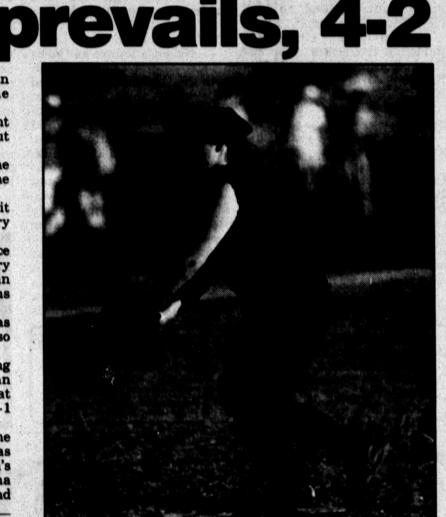

Junior catcher Crystal Reece said she does her best to try and calm down Zimmerman when the tough situations arise.

"I just told her the play was at home," Reece said. "I also just tried to relax her."

Whatever she was thinking worked, because Zimmerman was able to hold Canyon at bay and get out with a 3-1 lead.

The big play that got the Lady Herd out of the jam was right fielder Emma Ozuna's outstanding defense. Ozuna made a running catch and

Track competitors move on after district 3-4A meet

By Jeff Blackmon

Hereford Brand Sports Editor

The district 3-4A Track Meet concluded on Thursday determining who would go on to the next level of competition.

Hereford will be sending many runners to the regional tournament to compete for a state berth.

Brionne Yosten continued her winning ways this week making it to regionals in two events. Yosten qualified with her second place finish in the 3200-meter run and her first place finish in the 800-meter run.

Yosten has been hampered by an ankle injury but still managed to qualify for regionals in two events.

In the 3200-meter race Yosten placed second behind Pampa's Beth Lee with a time of 11 minutes 43.26 seconds. Yosten is the two time defending state champion in the event.

In the 800-meter run, Yosten came in first place edging out Samantha Hurst of Pampa. Yosten finished the race with a time of 2 minutes 24.73 seconds while Hurst finished about two seconds behind her.

Yosten will compete in both events at the regional tournament at San Angelo on April 28-29.

In the women's 400-meter relay the Lady Herd track team placed first with a time of 4 minutes 7.55 seconds. The team narrowly edged out Borger's team who placed sec-ond with a time of 4 minutes 7.98 seconds.

Hereford's 400-meter relay girls team is made up of Audra Witkowski, Brionne Yosten, Tiffany Koenig and Toni Eicke. Eicke also placed second in place in the event. Eicke beat out Teresa Murray of Palo Duro by .43 seconds making for a tight finish. Eicke crossed the finish line with a time of 25.50 seconds just behind Levonne Evans of Pampa who finished at 25.43 seconds.

On Tuesday, Kurtis Flood of Hereford finished first in the discus throw with his enor-mous toss of 160 feet. Flood also will be traveling to the regional competition as the lone Hereford guy.

Other results from the men's side of action include Trey Madrigal's fourth place finish in the shot put competi-tion. Madrigal finished in fourth with his throw of 45 feet 3 inches. Madrigal fin-ished three feet behind the first place winner, Daniel Jalomo of Dumas.

Harvey Bravo made a good showing in several events at the district meet, but his best showing was in the 3200-meter run. Bravo finished fourth with a time of 10 minutes 47.04 seconds.

In the women's discus event, Mona Garcia and Virginia Martinez placed seventh and eighth respectively. Garcia had a toss of 92 feet 3 inches while Martinez almost caught her with her own throw of 92 feet 1 inch.

Janet Blakely also had a good showing in the women's 800-meter run. Blakely placed fifth overall with her time of 2 minutes 34.68 seconds.

Witkowski and Koenig finished close together in the women's 400-meter dash. Witkowski placed third with a time of 1 minute 2.06 seconds. Koenig completed the race close behind Witkowski with a time of 1 minute 3.28 seconds which placed her in fourth.

In the 300-meter low hurdles Shari High came in fourth place. High finished the tight race with a time of 49.10 seconds. High finished less than two seconds behind first place winner Ericka Palmer of Palo Duro.

Audrey Cabezuela also showed off her ability by placing fourth in the 1600-meter run. Cabezuela crossed the finish with a time of 5 minutes 54.04 seconds.

In overall points, the Dumas Demons took boys varsity honors with 162 points. Palo Duro was a close second with 144 points, and Borger finished in third place with 133 points. Pampa placed fourth with a total of 58 points followed by Hereford who placed fifth with 32 points. Caprock finished the meet in sixth place with 26 points.

The Pampa Lady Harvesters took top honors in the varsity girls division finishing with 186 points, and Palo Duro placed second in the division with 143 points. Borger placed third with 103 points, and Hereford placed fourth with 82 points. Dumas came in fifth with 61 points followed by Caprock who placed sixth with only nine points.

big inning. "I kept waiting for Canyon to have a big inning," Summers said. "It just never happened."

The play by Ozuna and Zimmerman's pitching effort in the third gave Canyon a blow they never recovered from.

The Lady Whitefaces went on to score an important insurance run in the fifth taking a 4-1 lead. Canyon kept it close scoring one run in the bottom of the seventh, but the Lady Herd held on to win the bi-district playoff match.

the bi-district playoff match. The Lady Whitefaces committed three errors in the game but were able to keep their composure. Summers said earlier in the year their mistakes would probably have gotten them down, but the team is now mentally moving on after errors occur.

Staubach will attend the May 18 ceremony at Cotton Bowl Plaza in Fair Park along with Texas A&M's Johnny Holland and John Kimbrough, Texas' Duke Carlisle and Texas Christian University's Jim Swink.

Bryant, who coached Kentucky in one Cotton Bowl and Alabama in four Cotton Bowls, will be inducted posthumously along with broadcaster Lindsey Nelson.

"I think we have a great crop, a great group of individuals who represent the rich heritage of the Cotton Bowl Classic and what it means to the city," Fred McClure, chairman of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, told the Dallas Morning News. A 35-member judging panel,

A look at this year's inductees:

- Bryant is one of only three coaches to lead more than one school into a Cotton Bowl, bringing Kentucky (1952) and Alabama (1968, '73, '81, '82) to Dallas. His Kentucky team defeated TCU, while his Crimson Tide teams went 1-3.

- Carlisle, a defensive stalwart-turned-quarterback, passed for two touchdowns in leading top-ranked Texas over No. 2 Navy and Staubach in 1964. It was one of three Cotton Bowl appearances for Carlisle.

- Holland was a member of Texas A&M's "Wrecking Crew" defense and produced 27 tackles in the 1986-87 games.

The win improves the HHS softball team to 15-9 for the season. Summers said last night's playoff win legitimizes all of their efforts for the season. Summers said she hopes other teams will give them the respect they deserve.

"We want people to take us seriously," Summers said. "Every playoff game we win gives us credit towards our ability."

Summers said the team is beginning to believe in their abilities. She said she can see that the team believes in itself, and she is constantly surprised by their effort.

"They amaze me," Summers said. "They have the talent to play against any team."

As far as the team was concerned, Reece said she felt they were nervous, but the team pulled through.

"I was scared big time," Reece said. "I thought we did very good though."

Zimmerman said she also felt the team did well, and she thought it was great to their goal.

"This feels great and awesome," Zimmerman said. "We finally reached our goal and proved that we can come together."

The next challenge for the team is Thursday against Pecos. Pecos is located near El Paso, and coach Summers said they have a record of 14-5. Summers said she likes her team's chances, because she feels district 3-4A is much tougher than Pecos' district.

tougher than Pecos' district. "I think their district is not too strong," Summers said. "Pampa beat them last year."

The team will have to travel to Midland for the game which begins at 7 p.m. Hereford won the coin toss and will be the home team.

Chapman dominates Doves

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Steven Curtis Chapman, a longtime Dove Awards favorite, dominated again with six awards — including best artist - at the ceremony honoring Christian music.

In his acceptance speech Thursday, Chapman, 37, spoke of a topic close to his heart — adoption.

The singer brought his wife and three children on stage to share the best artist award, and introduced a new fourth child — 7-month-old daughter Shaohannah Hope, whom he recently adopted in China. "If other folks go, 'Hey the Chapmans are crazy enough to do this,' then maybe they'll consider that too, and one or two more little babies will find a home," he said.

Chapman has won 44 Dove

Awards, more than any other performer. He has won for best artist five previous times. This year, Chapman also gar-nered best male vocalist, best pop-contemporary album for "Speechless" and best pop-con-temporary single for "Dive." He won two awards apiece in the single and album categories, because he produced as well as performed on them.

Last year's best artist Michael W. Smith won best song for "This is Your Time," a song inspired by the Colum-bine High School shootings. He performed it during the awards show, which took place exactly a year after the trag-edy in Littleton, Colo. In other major categories, Sixpence None the Richer was named best group, Jaci Velasquez won her second straight best female vocalist award, and Ginny Owens won best new artist.

"What a strange thing it is to be rewarded for a gift that only God could have given," Owens said.

Country star Glen Campbell Country star Glen Campbell was awarded best country al-bum for "A Glen Campbell Christmas." George Jones won a Dove for best country re-corded song for "Angel Band," his duet with Vestal Goodman. Kathie Lee Gifford, the awards show's hostess, per-formed a duet with Dolly Par-ton, "Only My Pillow Knows," and said she hoped the show would "remind people of the incredible diversity that make up göspel music. "The message hasn't changed, but the music certainly has," she said.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same intem/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then remember these hints:

· Give the price. A newpaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respnd to an ad with no price.

· Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

· Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

· Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you

A highlight was the re-enactment in costume of Jesus' final walk by 50 members of a Catholic ministry, Christ In You, The Hope Of Glory, based in Brea, Calif. Playing Jesus, Anthony Rivilla from Los Angeles carried a large wooden cross on his bare back. His face was smudged with fake blood and a crown of thorns sat on his head. Roman soldiers with redplumed helmets pushed him on.

said she felt rushed by Israeli police who accompanied the large crowds, but that she was certain God heard the prayers she spoke along the way for the peoples of the world. "I felt a great communion with God," said Petronella, who played Mary.

Accompanied by monks in brown robes, Latin Patriarch Michel Sabbah led the official Catholic church procession. The clergymen sang hymns and knelt in prayer at the stations of the Via Dolorosa, each marking an event during Jesus' last walk.

The Via Dolorosa was recently given a $1 million facelift, with workers sandblasting facades and replacing missing pavement stones.

In previous years on Good Friday, there were spaces between the groups and ample elbow room in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. This year, the processions were close together.

Clinton targets proposa

President contends GOP plan to provide medical coverage for seniors is inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Clinton administration is tak-ing aim at a GOP proposal that would provide private prescription drug coverage to low-in-come seniors, saying it would leave many elderly Americans still struggling to pay for their medicine medicines.

President Clinton's top economic and health advisers re-butted the "sketchy" GOP plan as inferior to the White House's own proposal, which would give prescription drug benefits to all Americans covered under Medi-

"Republicans need to move from just the talk to walking the walk," Gene Sperling, head of the president's National Eco-nomic Council, said at a White House briefing.

The GOP plan, as outlined by House Speaker Dennis Hastert, R-Ill., calls for private health plans to offer drug benefits and government subsidies to pay drug costs for low-in-come seniors. While many of the details have yet to be worked out, Republicans said the plan would lower drug prices, and give seniors more coversors choice coverage choice. Republicans said the administration was too quick to criticize a plan that has yet to be finalized.

"They're prematurely trying to play politics," said John Feehery, Hastert's spokesman.

WASHINGTON - As the administration's point man on the environment, Vice President Al Gore hopes his "green" credentials will give him an edge over Gov. George W. Bush, who is having to defend his environmental record in Texas.

But as the country celebrates the 30th anniversary of Earth Day, Gore has yet to energize environmental activists, while Bush has blunted the issue's influence on the campaign by portraying himself as a "com-mon sense" environmentalist.

Gore will try to buff his image today with a trip to a Detroit truck yard on behalf of the administration to announce an agreement with private heavy-duty engine and truck companies to develop "super fuel-efficient" pickups, buses, and 18-wheelers within the next decade to cut greenhouse gas pollutants beyond current emission standards.

Columbine survivors look to the future

LITTLETON, Colo. — The one-year anniversary of the Columbine High School shootings served as more than a time for reflecting on the past. For those forever scarred by the massacre, it was an opportunity to start looking beyond the tragedy. "Today is the beginning of the move forward," said Heather Dinkel, last year's student body president, to 3,000 people who gathered Thursday at Clement Park to remember the nation's deadliest school shooting.

We the Columbine community are ready to take the first step," she said, "with the na-tion here to support us." The day of public and pri-vate remembrances ended with hundreds carrying lighted candles to an interfaith vigil Thursday evening at the park. John and Doreen Tomlin, par-

Ryun seeks compromise on rails to trails

WASHINGTON - For as long as abandoned rail lines have been turned into trails for running, hiking and biking, property owners and trail supporters have clashed over use of the land.

Rep. Jim Ryun, a champion runner who still holds the U.S. high school mile record, has a bill that offers a compromise to landowners who say their rights are trampled when their land is taken for trails and outdoor property owners, letting them decide whether trails would be developed.

Since passage of the 1983 National Trails System Act, more than 1,000 trails have been created from abandoned rail lines with permission from the federal Surface Transportation Board, which reviews applications.

Ryun's bill would amend the act to say abandoned lines on private property may not be converted to a trail "unless fair and reasonable compensation" is offered to the landowner. No compensation must be offered now.

"It's a commonsense bill that follows a rule we should have all learned in kindergarten, and that is, you ask for permission before you take what isn't yours," said Ryun, who often runs on rail trails.

"This allows the farmer or landowner to have a voice. It doesn't really stop the develop-ment of trails. If nobody is willing to pay ... then the farmer should be able to keep his land."

BACK TO VIETNAM

U.S. veterans return to help rebuild land

HANOI, Vietnam (AP) -Chuck Searcy, a lanky ex-soldier from Georgia, makes leg braces for children stricken with cerebral palsy. Lady Borton, a Quaker from Ohio, delivers medicine and hope with a smile, as she has since the height of the Vietnam War.

And almost 40 years after he first waded into the rice paddies of Southeast Asia, veteran aid worker Curtiss Swezy is back.

The Vietnam War ended 25 years ago on April 30, unleash-ing a torrent of refugees, most to the United States. Today, a trickle flows in the opposite direction — Americans who were here during the turbulent conflict and have returned as aid workers because they believe the United States has an obligation to help its former "It's very important to my wife and I to be back in the forefront of the reconstruction effort," said Swezy, 62, who built village schools and dredged irrigation canals in neighboring Laos in 1963-67. He fell in love with the lush, exotic landscape and married a Laotian, but left in frustration as the war en-croached. "For us, Vietnam is not just another economically challenged country. It's a very important place."

The official U.S.-Vietnam re-eral million dollars of assistance to Vietnam annually. It is channeled through private aid groups so it doesn't go directly to the communist government.

But at a more personal level, both countries are reaching out. Vietnamese often greet Ameri-cans like long-lost friends. More than 70 U.S.-based aid groups are active here, almost all arriving since the U.S. embargo was lifted in 1994.

Unlike many developing countries, where American aid workers tend to be fresh out of college, it's not unusual to find people in their 50s or 60s here. The war shaped their lives and left a yearning to return. With the South Vietnamese army in a panicked retreat and the last Americans fleeing in the war's final days, Borton and three colleagues from her pacifist Quaker group were among the few - possibly only -U.S. citizens in communist North Vietnam.

"I wasn't trying to take a political stand. We always work with all sides if we can," said Borton, 57, who was delivering medical supplies as part of the group's commitment to help anyone in need. Borton, whose many years of devotion to Vietnam have made her a one-woman insti-tution here, provided medicine to civilians in U.S-backed South Vietnam in 1969-71.

But her two-week trip to the North at such an emotion-ally charged time angered crit-ics at home who tried without success to get her fired from her teaching job.
