Several groups sponsor holiday drives for needy

By Becky Thorn

Hereford Brand Lifestyles Editor At Christmas time, our thoughts turn to giving as we are filled with the spirit of the season

And while we traditionally think first of giving to those we love, we also are compelled to give to those less fortunate than ourselves.

Various civic and community groups sponsor holiday charity drives which benefit individuals and entities who are in need

• The Christmas Toys for Children Committee would like to ensure that underprivileged children in Deaf Smith County have at least one gift for Christmas. The committee is seeking to provide toys for more than 800 children.

Toy and gift donations may be left at the following locations: Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, First National Bank, FirstBank Southwest, Stevens 5-Star Car & Truck Center, First American Bank and Western Ford.

For further information, contact Judy Baker at 363-7075 or Room 201 in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

• The Foster Kids Tree at Hereford State Bank is sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board. Individuals, clubs and businesses are asked to select a tag from the tree, purchase the gift listed and return it to the bank by Dec. 19.

For further information, contact Judy Baker at 363-7075.

• While the Hereford Food Pantry serves residents of Deaf Smith County year round, during the holidays there is an increased demand for food assistance and this is the time when food supplies are

UW reaches 77% of goal

Contributions to the annual Deaf Smith County United Way campaign have reached $102,633.70, which is 77 percent of the goal.

The annual campaign helps fund hundreds of vital services for those in the community.

Help for the elderly, the physically and mentally disabled, at-risk youth and families in need of food, housing and health care are all made possible by allocations from the local United Way effort.

The following businesses and individuals have contributed to this year's $132,000 campaign goal.

Family of 4 seeks help

A family of four is hopeful that the Christmas Stocking Fund can help to tide them over during a difficult time as the holiday season approaches.

The father, .3, suffered an on-thejob injury recently and is receiving a small Medicaid payment. He has not yet received worker's compensation or disability payments, and his family, including a daughter, 11, and son, 9, are having a difficult time getting-by on their small income while waiting for health benefits to kick in.

The parents have asked for clothing for their children, and help with food.

Anonymous volunteers administering CSF give the needs of the young and the elderly a high priority in their decisions on assistance. With the caring and sharing help of the local community, CSF will address as many needs as possible during the 2000 campaign.

You can help CSF to extend maximum help to as many of the less fortunate members of the community as possible this holiday through your generous gift.

Developments in the Florida presidential election recount:

COURTS

 In Washington, the Supreme Court peppered lawyers for George W. Bush and Al Gore with questions for 90 minutes. The justices set no timetable for a ruling on whether to resume a recount of Florida's questionable ballots.

Several justices expressed concern about varying standards for recounts. Bush attorney Theodore Olson told them, "There is no question ... that there are different standards from county to county" for recounts.

.In Tallahassee, Fla., the state Supreme Court clarified its earlier ruling extending deadlines for hand counts in three counties, saying the ruling was based on Florida statutes. The U.S. Supreme Court had set aside the ruling and asked the court to explain how the ruling was consistent with Florida law.

Deaf Smith County Juvenile Probation Officer Lou Serrrano reported Monday the county's spent less money than expected on housing of juvenile offenders.

Serrano told the county commissioners the residential placement cost to the county at the end of the agency's first quarter is $5,028, less than half of the $12,000 budgeted for the first quarter of Fiscal 2001. The juvenile probation office's fiscal year begins on Sept. 1.

Serrano reported the county placed one youngster with the boot camp in Colorado County, which cost $6,776. Part of that expense, $2,170, was reimbursed, however.

Detention expenses for the quarter were $21,719, which was significantly improved from the $43,000 spent during the same period last year.

Sunday wreck

The tractor trailer rolled over part of the pickup causing non-life-threatening injuries to Mendez. Department of Public Safety records indicate it was foggy, but did not specify if fog was a factor in the accident. Mendez was cited for disreguarding the stop sign.

A Sunday evening wreck at the Ford Community resulted in one minor injury and two very lucky drivers. SAN ANTONIO (AP) - A senior San Antonio intelligence officer who sought sanctuary in Israel amid allegations he deserted his post may avoid a prison term and retain his Deffection

Army Reserve Lt. Col. Jeremiah J. Mattysse is scheduled to have a hearing as early as this week before his commander, Maj. Gen. B.B. Bell, on charges of absence without leave and conduct unbecoming an officer, the San Antonio Express-News reported in its Tuesday editions.

The hearing would be an administrative procedure that would result in a maximum punishment of no more than halfpay for two months and an official reprimand in Mattysse's personnel file, officials said.

The original charges against 50-year-old Mattysse, who flew to Israel last summer and reportedly renounced his American citizenship, included desertion, making a false statement and failing to maintain good order and discipline.

Those charges would be dropped if Mattysse, a Catholic the converted to Judaism, follows an Army investigator's recommendation, said Maj. Dave Daigle, a Fort Knox spokesman

The revised charges replace desertion with AWOL and "consolidates" failure to maintain good order and discipline into the more serious charge of conduct unbecoming an er, said Capt. James Teixeira, Mattysse's attorney from Fort Knox, Ky.

Under the original charges, Mattysse could have faced a maximum two-year prison term, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of his pension and retiree medical care.

•Robber gets eight years

HOUSTON (AP) - A man who authorities believe assisted in the planning of a McDonald's restaurant burglary that led to a fire and killed two Houston firefighters was sentenced Monday to eight years in prison.

Jorge Correa was charged with participating in two different restaurant robberies.

Correa, 23, pleaded guilty to two counts of aggravated robbery with a deadly weapon. He received eight years on each charge, but the sentences will run concurrently.

While the charges are unrelated to the Feb. 14 torching of a Houston McDonald's where Lewis Mayo III, 44, and Kimberly Smith, 30, died fighting the three-alarm fire, authorities say the man may have been involved in the planning of that burglary.

"He talked about it," prosecutor Steve Baldassano said in Tuesday's editions of the Houston Chronicle. "But there is no evidence he went into that McDonald's the night of the fire."

Grandma needs to cool it with hugs

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law, "Ellen," moved back to town after living away for five years. She is a lovely woman, but there's a problem I can't deal with. Ellen is a "hugger." She insists on hugging me and my children every few minutes. If my son wants to call a friend on the phone, Ellen "needs a hug first." If my daughter wants to watch a video, her grandmother "needs a hug first." She hugs me before we sit down for dinner, and again after dessert.

This is entirely too much hugging for me. I don't feel comfortable with it, and neither do my children. I also suspect that a lot of this hugging is an attempt to show more affection than she actually feels. My kids have asked me to let them know when Grandma is coming so they can leave the house. Any advice on how to deal with this? - Getting Crushed in Colorado

Dear Crushed: Tell Grandma in a tactful and loving way that her hugs are precious and should be doled out more sparingly - that too much hugging makes them seem ordinary. I realize it is awfully hard to get Grandma to cut back, but do make the effort. Meanwhile, try to get the children to be more receptive. Explain that Grandma loves them very much, and they should show her they love her, too.

Dear Ann Landers: Words cannot express the impact your columns on smoking have had on my life. My husband is 58, and I am 54. We both smoked for over 40 years. My husband has extensive cardiovascular disease, lung disease, bladder cancer, and needs surgery.

I finally realized three things: First, my husband would never quit smoking as long as I continued to smoke, and second, my love and concern for him far surpassed my desire to smoke. Last but not least, I wanted to have my husband around so we could enjoy our retirement years together.

When I read the column you wrote about the man who set a date to stop smoking, my husband and I decided to try the same thing. We selected our granddaughter's birthday, and discussed the date every time we lit a cigarette. We made a list of all the things we could buy with the $400-a-month we had been spending on cigarettes. When the day finally arrived, we were so excited about quitting that we couldn't wait to do it.

Our friends are amazed that we both quit smoking so easily. We now walk over a mile every morning without huffing and puffing, something we could not have done before. Giving up smoking was not a sacrifice. It was a gift we gave to each other so that we could have more healthy, happy years together. - Homestead, Fla., Seniors

IRVING, Texas (AP) -Quarterbacks Troy Aikman and Steve Young have similar Hall of Fame credentials. Aikman went to six straight Pro

Bowls and led Dallas to three Super Bowl titles in the 1990s. Young was a seven-time Pro Bowl selection in San Francisco and won the Super Bowl in 1995 - the only one not won by Aikman and the Cowboys between 1992-96.

Look at the NFL's career passing yardage list. Young is 18th with 33,124 yards, followed right behind by Aikman's 32,926 yards.

Another category in which Aikman might not be far behind Young is in retirement.

Like Young did last offseason, Aikman is facing serious questions about his career after a series of concussions. When he sits down after this season to assess his future, Aikman will be talking to Leigh Steinberg, his agent who also represents Young.

"When the season is over, Troy and I will sit down for a long discussion about his health and what makes sense for his future,' Steinberg said Monday. "The season has never been ideal time for long-term decisions.' Even though Aikman's 12th NFL season almost definitely over. Aikman's already uncertain future was clouded even more Sunday when he suffered his second concussion of the season, and 10th of his career, after being tackled in the first quarter by Washington linebacker LaVar Arrington.

shakes up baseball with $252 million signing

DALLAS (AP) - A-Rod is baseball's newest lightning rod, a quarter-billion dollar example of the star system dominating professional sports.

Even before Alex Rodriguez finalized his $252 million, 10year contract with the Texas Rangers on Monday, gloom faction was saying the money has

"This amount of money spread out over 10 years could probably buy three franchises or so at the bottom end of market value," said Sandy Alderson, an executive vice president in baseball's commissioner's office.

Rangers owner Tom Hicks predicted the All-Star shortstop will lead his team to national prominence, to "fulfill its dream of continuing on its path to becoming a World Series champion."

Hicks paid $250 million to buy the entire franchise three years ago from a group headed by George W. Bush and Rusty Rose.

"The Rangers are serious about winning," Texas general manager Doug Melvin said. "I know expectations will be high. We're ready for that challenge." But, while A-Rod now has I-Rod - catcher Ivan Rodriguez — as a teammate, they don't pitch. Texas hasn't added much million Minnesota paid its entire team this season.

The 25-year-old Rodriguez gets $25 million a year in 2005 and 2006, and $27 million in each of the final four seasons. A total of $36 million is deferred at 3 percent interest, the money to be paid from 2011-2020.

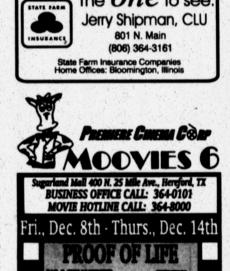

The contract is double the previous record for a sports contract: a $126 million, sixyear agreement in October 1997 between forward Kevin Garnett and the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves.

And it was finalized just two days after Mike

Hampton's $121 million, eightyear deal with Colorado, which had been baseball's highest package. New York Yankees president Randy Levine criti-

Young retired in June after suffering three concussions in four seasons.

Now Aikman has suffered four concussions in his last 20 starts - over about 14 months.

Aikman didn't talk to reporters after the 32-13 victory over the Redskins on Sunday or at the Valley Ranch practice facility Monday. While Cowboys officials undergoing further medical examinations, coach Dave Campo listed the quarterback's status as day-to-day. The coach said Monday that he has given no thought that Aikman may have played his last game.

"Troy has never indicated anything to me other than he wants to play football," Campo said. "His health is the most important thing. If he's ready to play, Troy wants to play. That is his mentality."

Steinberg said it was unlikely that Aikman would play Sunday's final home game against the New York Giants. His status for the season finale Christmas night at Tennessee also is in question. "We certainly want to err on the side of caution," Steinberg said. "Obviously, that many concussions gives rise to concern."

Dr. Hal Unwin, an associate professor of neurology at the University of Texas Southwest Medical Center in Dallas, said some studies have shown that concussions can have a cumulative impact, but individual effects

Cuttino Mobley lifts Houston by bench play

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) -The Houston Rockets' Cuttino Mobley is making a run at the NBA's Sixth Man Award. Mobley, who finished second in the voting for last season's Sixth Man, scored 16 points and helped the Rockets overcome a poor shooting performance in an 82-75 victory over the Vancouver Grizzlies on Monday night. Houston reserves outscored their Vancouver counterparts 42-24. Matt Bullard scored 12 points, including three key 3pointers in the fourth quarter to give the Rockets an 11-point cushion midway through the period. Reserve forward Kenny Thomas contributed 12 rebounds for the Rockets.

"Cuttino's not really a bench player," in-sisted Houston coach Rudy Tomjanovich, who recorded his 399th career victory. "He's an important part of this team who does everything asked of him. He has the complete package."

Mobley, who added seven rebounds in 39 minutes, finished second in last year's Sixth Man balloting to Rodney Rogers of Phoenix.

His 17.5 scoring average should make him a factor in this year's voting.

"He really is a well-rounded player, and he thrives in the role he's playing," Bullard said of Mobley.

"I really don't try to score," Mobley said. "I really just try and pick apart teams by passing to create opportunities."

Houston, which shot 41 percent, received a solid contribution from guard Steve Francis, who added 15 points.

"I had a dismal shooting performance," Francis said. "But I thought my teammates did a good job, stepping up, hitting a lot of big shots when it counted."

The Grizzlies' Ike Austin missed the game because of the flu and guard Michael Dickerson aggravated a foot injury he picked up in training camp four minutes into the game.

Dickerson did not return. His status will be determined Tuesday, coach Sidney Lowe said. "Obviously that took a little bit out of our club, but I thought the guys hung in there and fought back," Lowe said.

Poor shot selection down the stretch hurt the Grizzlies, who faced an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter.

to staff that had a major leagueworst 5.52 ERA last season.

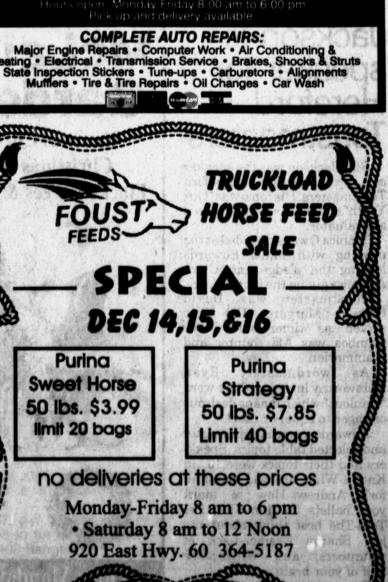

And the Rangers must contend with teams who claimed Rodriguez and agent Scott Boras bamboozled them into overpaying by tens of millions of dollars.

"I'm the whipping boy for baseball games will destruct," Boras said.

The contract calls for a $10 million signing bonus paid over five years and salaries of $21 million in each of the first four cized Texas as among the teams "whining about out-of-control payrolls" and said it would be "the height of hypocrisy" for them to "ever complain about anything again."

"At first they were talking about 200 million — 250 (million) came out of nowhere," said Rodriguez's new teammate, Rafael Palmeiro. "It's just incredible."

Rodriguez, who can opt out of the agreement after seven years and become a free agent again at age 32, came away with an average salary of $25.2 million — 48 percent higher than the previous top, the $17 million Toronto first baseman Carlos Delgado agreed to in October as part of a four-year contract.

But A-Rod fell short of the highest average salary in sports. Los Angeles Lakers center Shaquille O'Neal will average $29.5 million in an $88.5 million, three-year extension that starts with the 2003-04 season.

Michael Jordan made about $33 million in 1997-98, his final season in the NBA.

"People are talking about the money, but you have to recognize the type of player he is and what he can accomplish," Oakland general manager Billy Beane said. "And he's only 25 years old."

The lanky infielder from Miami — he's 6-foot-3 — was highly prized because he became a free agent at such a young age. In seven seasons with the Seattle Mariners, he has a .309 career average with

363-AUT

189 homers and 595 RBIs. This year, he made $4.25 million in the final season of a $10.6 million, four-year contract he signed against Boras' advice in 1996.

"Yes, he's special because he can hit a baseball. Yes, he's special because he can hit it a long way," Rangers manager Johnny Oates said. "We're talking about more than hitting a baseball. We're talking about marketing an area."

Seattle and Atlanta were the other known finalists. The Braves did not make an offer, one senior baseball official said of the condition of anonymity, saying that they pushed Boras to name a price. The amount of the Mariners' offer was unclear, but Boras said it was for five years.

"There would have had to have been a major hometown discount to get us into the ballpark," Mariners general manager Pat Gillick said.

Added Boras, "The ownership was not here. It was in Hawaii. It was very clear to us."

In February, Seattle traded Griffey to Cincinnati rather than risk him becoming a free agent after the 2000 season. The Mariners decided they would keep Rodriguez and try to resign him.

Seattle won the AL wild card and swept Central Division champion Chicago in the first round. But the Yankees beat the Mariners 4-2 in the AL championship series.

Even if Aikman wants to come back, Dallas owner Jerry Jones faces a March 8 deadline on whether to pay Aikman a $7 million bonus.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then rememeber these hints:

· Give the price. A newpaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an add with no price.

· Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

. Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

. Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

Lots of t'maters - The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce was host for a ribboncutting ceremony Monday at G & C Hydro-Farms, located 3 1/2 miles northwest of Dawn. Cathy and Galen Friemel (center), owners of the operation, cut an official ribbon marking the company's first month of tomato production. The Friemels said each tomato vine was individually seeded in September and the first major harvest of the cash crop was to be conducted this week. The life span of each year's crop is projected to be nine months. Initially, the Friemels say they will market an estimated yield of between 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of tomatoes per week to local individuals and supermarkets. Other members of the family involved in the operation are (from left) Jarrod Friemel, Amy Gist, Lisa Kaufmann and Roger Gist.

FAMILY TIES Fox news executive called George W., his cousin, five times on Election Night

NEW YORK (AP) - The head of Fox's projection team said he spoke five times with his cousin, George W. Bush, on election night but insists he did not give out confidential exit poll information. Bush got that information elsewhere, he said. John Ellis, an election night consultant for Fox, was hired by Inside.com to write an account of what happened that night; it was posted on the Web site Monday. Ellis is becoming a regular columnist for the online publication's new magazine, Inside. Publicity about his relationship to Bush has proved an embarrassment to Fox, whose executives were angry with him Monday for writing about it. The network is still investigating whether Ellis, who was working on a temporary contract, provided the Bush cam-

Fox was criticized for having a Bush cousin as director of its team responsible for projecting the presidential race. The network, and Ellis, said an executive above Ellis had the final say on whether a state was called.

In their final conversation on election night, Bush told Ellis that Al Gore had taken back his concession of the race. "I hope you're taking all this said. "This is good stuff for a book." Ellis did not discuss the spate of stories that questioned the ethics of a Bush relative working as part of the team that projected election night winners and losers. But he did note that the three other members of Fox's decision desk team included two Democrats and a third person with Democratic ties.

Bush first called Ellis after 2 p.m. on Election Day when the first wave of exit poll information came in from Voter News Service, a consortium created by ABC, CBS, CNN, Fox, NBC and The Associated Press.

KACV focuses

AMARILLO - Local PBS affiliate KACV-TV is premiering two local programs next week on fine arts issues.

The programs, "Perspective: State of the Arts" and "Perspective: A Conversation with Homer Hickam," will air beginning at 9 tonight on the PBS station.

"Perspective: State Of The Arts," which airs live at 9 p.m., is the first of a number of shows by KACV-TV focusing on local artistic endeavors and issues affecting the Arts in the Panhandle region. Arts funding will be the principal topic. "Amarillo Arts have been fortunate to have received a great amount of support from private foundations and individuals." producer/host Larry Lemmons said. "Their generosity is even more appreciated when one considers the fact that Texas gives less money to the arts per capita than any other state.'

A panel of guest experts will join Lemmons in the KACV-TV studios to discuss various aspects and viewpoints surrounding Arts funding. Interested parties are encouraged to participate in a survey for the program at the station web site: kacvtv.org. Answers to survey questions will be shown during the program.

Questions can be called in during the show.

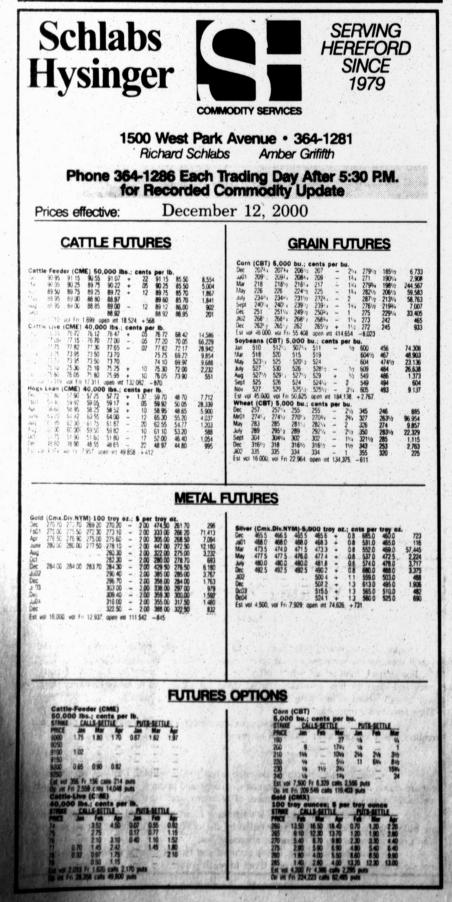

At 9:30 p.m., a taped program, "Perspective: A Conversation With Homer Hickam," will air.

The best-selling author of "October Sky" was in Amarillo in November for the Amarillo College Distinguished Lecture Series. The program will feature the author fielding questions from A.C. students.

"Hickam is such an extraordinary role model for kids,' Lemmons said. "When one considers how difficult it was for Hickam, growing up in West Virginia, to hold tenaciously to his dream to build a rocket,

'Mad cow' stampeding European beef industry

A three-judge panel of the 11th and Gore wrapped up 90 minutes

ROME (AP) - Restaurants, butchers and cattlemen across Europe are scrambling to lure back beef-lovers scared away back beet-lovers scared away by fears of mad cow disease. In Rome, McDonald's boasts of serving only Italian beef. French butchers are tossing bar-becues. British ads tout the ease of cooking beef.

The continentwide mad cow scare began last month in France and has spread like wildfire. In Italy, alone beef sales have fallen 70 percent, the agricultural federation says. Hoping to reverse the trend, Italian butchers are promoting all-Italian beef. Meat sold in the GS supermarket chain has a sticker with an Italian flag on it. The Coop chain has run full-page newspaper ads with a benign-looking cow munching grass and a tagline that says: "To our ani-mals, vegetable aren't just a side dish."

The ad emphasizes that all their beef comes from less than 20-month-old cows who have never been fed by animal feed widely considered respon-sible from spreading the malady. At the McDonald's restaurant near the Pantheon in central Rome, a sign assures cus-tomers that "we only use boneless cuts, in particular the front ones in Italian beef."

The European Union has aken action to prevent the mad cow disease from spreading. Last week it imposed a six-month ban on ground meat and bone in animal feed.

The young participants are not the only ones who benefit from the program.

Norma Jean Cervantez and Oscar Williams both said they enjoy spending time with young people and sharing in their world, while Rick Jackson said having a "young" little brother keeps him in the young mode. Jackson also said that volunteering for this program has given him a chance to be a role model for a boy, since he never had a son.

Coronado said time is the most important thing the Big's can offer the Little's, but the program directors provide training and ways to develop cost-efficient times together. "All we ask is they be willing to give of their time. We'll help them do the rest," Coronado said.

Bush topher, the head of Gore's legal
