Muleshoe commemorated National Small Business Appreciation Week on Thursday May 11, during a ceremony recognizing a small business which has demonstrated its commitment to the economic well-being of the community and state.

Ed Hodges, a representative from U.S. Senator Phil Gramm's office in Dallas, presented Bass Appliance with the "1995 Small Business Achievement Award" which recognizes the store's 47 years in operation and read a congratulatory letter from Senator Gramm.

The ceremony was held at Bass Appliance, 122 South 1st, in Muleshoe.

"The small business owner makes a tremendous contribution to our economy, our competitiveness, and our entire way of life. They create wealth. They develop new

Residents warned to be aware of overhead danger

Ball fields are filling up; yard work is in full force; the skies are full of severe weather. All are signs of spring.

With the increase of outdoor activities that comes with spring, Southwestern Public Service Company reminds its customers to "watch up for safety."

One of the places where electrical accidents can occur is the farm, according to Bill Mullins, SPS Southern Division Safety and Claims Specialist. "Quite often people forget to look up when they're lifting irrigation pipes, antennas or other metal objects," he said. "It's important to always 'watch up' and know where the electric lines are."

Mullins said that same warning applies to others on the job, particularly those who are working above street level. "Roofers need to be extra careful as they move equipment," he said. "Those trimming trees also have to be careful; that extra height could be just enough to bring them in contact with electrical lines." In fact, Mullins said, federal and state safety regulations require the electric company to be notified if contractors work near electric lines.

Customers also need to be careful during the severe weather that often occurs in spring.

"If an outage occurs at your home during a storm," said Mullins, "call your local SPS 'repair' or 'service' number listed in the phone book. SPS has employees who are trained and equipped to correct the problem and restore service."

If you see a fallen power line on the ground, call SPS and keep people away from the line. Do not touch the line or anything it is touching, such as a car or fence, Mullins said. "Assume every line is 'live' and dangerous," he said.

Watkins receives award from Lubbock Methodist

LUBBOCK — Richelle Watkins was honored as the recipient of the 1995 Methodist Hospital Nursing Difference Award. Richelle was surprised with this honor at the Nurse Appreciation Awards Luncheon on Wednesday, May 3, 1995 at Methodist Hospital. She was chosen for this award by her co-workers at the Birthing Center.

Some of the statements made by her co-workers were: Richelle is a nurse who is always willing to help and she brings a smile to everyone. She will find the positive in most all situations and she shares this positive view with her fellow staff members. She maintains a high level of clinical skills and her patients are very complimentary. You see Richelle's name in the "Good News" all the time. We think she is a wonderful nurse and is someone that everyone enjoys working with. Richelle definitely "Makes The Difference" on our unit, as well as for Methodist Hospital.

While Richelle was working as Obstetrics Supervisor at Muleshoe Area Medical Center, she was the recipient of the Ross Award 1991 from the Prenatal Association of Texas.

Many of the service problems that occur during a storm are the result of fallen tree limbs or lightning. Besides causing outages, lightning can also be dangerous to people involved in outdoor activities. If you are outdoors as a lightning storm approaches, remember that trees do not protect you from lightning and, in fact, attract it.

Parents should take the time to teach their children to avoid electrical facilities when playing outdoors. Fly kites and model airplanes in open areas, far from power lines.

products and services, in addition to refining and enhancing existing ones. They offer jobs and opportunities to millions of other Americans, and help fuel economic expansion for the benefit of all," Gramm said.

"These men and women pay the bulk of taxes that our communities use to finance a police force, operates school system, and provide a health care facility. Small business owners are the very core of civic leadership. They are the people involved in trying to make a community a better place to live, work, and raise a family. It is very fitting for our nation to dedicate a week in recognition of the small business owner," the senator said.

Calvary Baptist to host special speaker

The Rev. Bill Felts, former pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, located at 18th and Ave. C., will be the guest speaker for the morning worship service on Sunday, May 21. Rev. Felts ministered here in Muleshoe from 1963 until 1968.

Under his leadership there were a number of projects completed at the church. The current church building was begun under the Rev. Wayland Murray and completed during Felts' ministry here. The church parsonage located at 204 W. 19th was also purchased.

Felts and his wife, Doris, now live in Paris, Texas, and are involved in the ministry of the East Paris Baptist Church, the fastest growing church in Paris, Texas, where is the minister of education, finance and outreach.

The church family of Calvary Baptist would like to encourage everyone who can, to join them on Sunday, May 21, for a time of worship and fellowship. After the morning service there will be a pot luck lunch. Bring your favorite dish and join the church in this walk down memory lane.

Workshops to aid women in farm, ranch finances

COLLEGE STATION — Women who find themselves somewhat unprepared to operate ranches and farms that they have inherited from husbands or other family members may find some assistance from seminars scheduled around the state in June.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring four, two-day workshops to help women explore income-generating and tax-saving opportunities for their farms and ranches.

The workshops will be held June 12-13 at the Holiday Inn, Northwest Loop, San Antonio; June 15-16, at the Sheraton Inn, Lubbock; June 19-20 at the Sheraton Inn, Tyler; and June 22-23 at University Center, Texas A & M University, College Station.

The first day of the seminar will focus on minerals on the property, according to Dr. Wayne Hayenga, Extension Service economist and attorney. Suggestions on working in new leases, as well as tax-saving hints will be given.

A special session on farm and ranch leases will address the legal and economic items to be included in a lease. A method to develop a fair and stress-free lease will be explored, as well as suggested guidelines and standards to use in evaluating tenants.

The advantages of running a business as a corporation or partnership — from an income tax and estate-planning point of view — will be discussed. Making estate administration easier will also be addressed.

The registration fee includes all seminar materials and lunches for both days. Further information is available from local county Extension agents, or from Hayenga or Carol Sabo at the department of agricultural economics, Texas A & M University, College Station, TX 77843-2124, telephone (409) 845-2226.

Inheriting the family farm

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

The latest statistics show that less than 2% of the population is directly involved in production agriculture. It is a function of an increasing overall population and a limited amount of farm ground. Technology is able to keep up, so that less bodies are required to produce an ever increasing cornucopia of food and fiber.

But on a personal level the story isn't quite so simple.

Tom was raised on a dairy farm in the Great lakes region; 300 cows, 900 acres. His grandfather established the farm and passed it down to Tom's father.

Tom's childhood memories are of work. By the time his mother came in to wake him and his two brothers for school, she and dad had already finished the morning milking. By nine years of age he was already part of the family farm. Until he was old enough to milk he pushed cows to the barn, fed calves, forked silage and did whatever kids do, which was plenty.

High school activities like dances, meetings, sports and girls hinged around milking time and chores. He didn't need to work at McDonalds during summer vacation. If he wanted work there was plenty at home.

He went to college. His two brothers left to work elsewhere. Now Tom is 33, married with kids and has a good job at the local Coop. Dad has been using hired labor since the boys left, but Dad is getting older.

Tom makes his daily rounds, does his job and is active in the community. But hovering over everything he does is that niggling feeling that maybe he should go back to the farm.

After all, it is a showplace. The result of uncountable man hours and love and sweat poured into it by two generations preceding him. It made him the good man that he is. And he could run it well if he chose to. Guilt rides him like the winter fog off Lake Michigan.

In my opinion Tom need not feel guilty. Nor should his parents place that onus upon the shoulders of their inheritors. Each person has their own calling.

But I would suggest that there are many with no inheritance who would leap at the chance to own a farm. Immigrants, hired men, college grads, feed salesman and pen-

Tops News

TOPS Chapter Number 34 met at the Muleshoe Church of Christ on Thursday, May 11, at 6:30 pm. Co-leader, Linda White called the meeting to order. The TOPS pledge was recited and the fellowship song was sung. White led the group in prayer.

Betty Jo Davis, weight recorder, called the roll with 14 members answering with the amount they lost or gained. Minutes were read by Aurora mata, secretary, and were approved as read.

Best loser for the week was Loretta Lloyd. Rose Sain and Noemi Sanchez were first runners-up and Alma Robertson was second runner-up.

The group welcomed new members and a super visitor.

A few gifts were received which secret pals gave for Mother's Day.

Linda White received one for her up-coming birthday. Loretta Lloyd picked a gift for being best loser last week and losing again this week.

The meeting was adjourned with the good night song.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

One of your citizens brought me a copy of the Journal's edition of May 4th. In it I noticed that Chief Dominguez stated that the Muleshoe Police Department never made application to the South Plains Criminal Investigators Association as an agency, I enclose the following copied portions of the 1995 S.P.C.I.A directory.

- * Directory cover
- * Table of contents
- * Index listing of assistance offered, pages ii to v.
- * Listing of Muleshoe P.D. members, including Chief Dominguez to be found on pages 4, 13, 14, and 15.

NOTE: The directory is classified as confidential, all other member names are blacked out for that reason.

The association dues are a modest $10.00 per member per year, or $25.00 per agency regardless of the number of members. When I discussed the dues with Chief Dominguez some time ago he opted for the $25.00, instead of the $40.00 for four members. That made it an agency application. Applications are pending until dues are received. As they never were received, the wording "rejected the application" was used. As the directory was already late in coming out, the Muleshoe officers were listed without waiting for the dues payment. Each officer within the Association chooses the fields he feels comfortable with, in offering to assist other members. The fields listed for Chief Dominguez were selected by him, no one else. I therefore find it difficult to imagine how the Chief forgot he applied for membership.

Sincerely,
Roy L. McGaa
President S.P.C.I.A

Julie Slayden

Julie Slayden
National Honor
Roll Award winner

MULESHOE—The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Julie Slayden has been recognized for academic achievement as a United States National Honor Roll Award winner.

Julie, who attends Muleshoe High School, will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

Julie is the daughter of Mike and Teresa Slayden. Grandparents are Carl Dupler of Morton, Texas, and W.B. Slayden of Muleshoe.

Maple VFD presented
new air pack

The Bailey County Council of WesTex Resource Conservation and Development met May 9 at the Bailey County Electric Co-op meeting room. During that meeting, an air pack was presented to the Maple Volunteer Fire Department.

Kari Preston, coordinator for WesTex, presented the breathing apparatus to Butch Tucker, President of the Board, and Cliff Heinrich, Fire Chief from Maple. WesTex RC&D obtained the air packs through a grant with the Texas Forest Service.

The Bailey County Council is only one of sixteen councils that are members of WesTex RC&D. The council meets every two months to review new activities and approve new applications for grants through WesTex.

The WesTex office is located in Morton at the Ag building on Taylor Street. They have a full time secretary and a complete updated library to do research work on grants requested through WesTex. The sixteen counties involved are Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines, Dawson, Andrews, Martin and Midland. Each county has one representative on the 16-county board. Bailey County is fortunate to have their representative, Bennie Claunch, as the president of the board for 1995-95.

WesTex RC&D was formed in 1992 as a way to help rural communities and counties improve their quality of life, promote economic development, provide avenues for marketing agricultural products produced on the South Plains, encourage training programs to improve job skills as well as conserve all natural resources on the South Plains.

The WesTex Resource Conservation and Development Area Inc. was officially funded by USDA on February 17, 1994. At that time USDA approved their non-profit status and provided funding for office staff and a full time coordinator.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these appeal procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the cancellation of an agricultural appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- any action taken by the appraisal district that adversely affected you.

Review by the Appraisal Review Board

If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals or other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date and place of the hearing. Hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 104 E. Ave. C, Muleshoe, TX.

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court

After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information

You can get more information by contacting your by contacting your appraisal district at Bailey Central Appraisal District, 104 E. Ave. C, Muleshoe, TX 79347, 806-272-5501. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division at P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline
On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraises value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines
For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), he deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

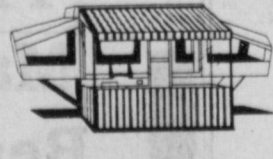

* The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

The Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals publish birthday announcements free of charge for babies one year old or for people ages 90 and over. A photo may also be included with the announcement. Complete guidelines and forms are available at the Muleshoe Journal office.

Three Way sophomores master all parts of TAAS test

Three Way I.S.D. recently received the results of the tenth grade TAAS exam given during the 1994-95 school year. Results show that 100% of the tenth grade students attending school at Three Way mastered all portions of the TAAS exam for this year.

This is a remarkable achievement for the students and teachers of Three Way schools. Not only have this year's tenth graders done well, but all eleventh and twelfth grade students have previously mastered all parts of the TAAS exam. This is an accomplishment which the district is extremely proud to announce.

Mr. Don Parker, Superintendent at Three Way, attributes this high degree of success to the students, parents, teachers and administrators working together to provide the best education possible to the students of Three Way School.

Three Way has also been the recipient of the Texas successful schools award for the first three years it has been given. Perhaps the award will again be earned this year.

Enochs News

Mrs. J.D. Bayless

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Adams had their grandchildren, Keily and Tannan Logsdon and Matthew Green of Lubbock as their guests for the weekend.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Key Saturday were his sisters, Mrs. Lucille Butler of Littlefield, Mrs. Janell Estep of Belen and her daughter.

Sam Austin of Lubbock spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Austin.

We were very sorry to hear of the illness of Donnie Baker and about his surgery. Get well soon, Donnie. May Good Bless you and your family every day.

Visitors at the Baptist Church Sunday were Sam Austin of Lubbock and Ashley and Lauren Layton. We are always proud to have our visitors.

Ashley and Lauren Layton spent Sunday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Layton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichols returned home Monday from a six day fishing trip to Lake Ivey. They attended church at the lake, at the Leabay Baptist Church last Sunday.

Others fishing at Lake Ivey were the Rev. Ray and Olene Cunningham and the Rev. Jim and Lill Green of Lubbock and Olenes brother, Chester, and Alene Coffman of Big Spring and their son, Ronald, and Karen Coffman of Odessa.

I was sorry to hear that Rose Nichols' sister-in-law Mrs. Nelda Sanderfer of Midland, fell and broke her hip.

Mrs. Ellen Bayless was in Muleshoe on business Tuesday and visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clara Coffman.

We are proud of the rain recieved the past week, and we're wishing for more rain and for the wind to quit blowing so hard. We received .5 inches of rain and more in some places.

I wish to express my sympathy to the family of Loyd Crosby of Littlefield, who died Friday May 5. He was a former resident near Bula school.

BBB warns mail-order lotteries can be bogus

You hear the state lottery jackpot has been raised to $10 million dollars. You've got lotto fever. The next thing you know, there's a brochure in your main urging you to participate in a lottery in Canada or other foreign country, via convenient mail-order purchase or through a share in a pool of foreign lottery tickets.

The soliciting company promises unbelievable odds and high winnings. Before you send in your money - listen to the facts. Purchasing foreign lotteries are illegal. U.S. law prohibits mailing payments to purchase any ticket, share or chance in a foreign lottery.

Most of these lottery solicitations come from fraudulent companies that seek exorbitant fees from those wishing to play. If you receive a mailed lottery solicitation that you think may be illegal, give your Better Business Bureau (BBB) a call at 763-0459 and turn the entire mail piece over to the local postmaster. Remember, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

What joy in life is seen in those eyes. That smile is given freely to everyone. Now look at them both. Which one am I talking about? Aren't they both the same? No, she's not an exact, carbon copy, of her mother — for when you look again, you see that there is a generation between them. She wears the bright colors in her dress with the cute designs. Her dreams are different than her mothers. She is more outgoing. Yet in the mother you can see a quiet humor and in her closeness to her daughter, a gentle protectiveness. Her mother's dreams are sometimes too ambitious, but in the "Encouragement Department" she works just fine.

There is one dream and ambition they both have, however; and that is to be like our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and to be of service to the church. Their goodness is of God.

"For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil." 1 Peter 3:12.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST RELATING TO IRRIGATION INTERRUPTION CREDIT AND RECOVERY OF POWER COSTS

Notice is hereby given that Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc. (the "Utility") intends to change rates for electric utility service by implementing an irrigation interruption credit applicable to irrigation customers who agree by contract that their service may be interrupted and by revising the Utility's power cost recovery factor ("PCRF"), effective May 8, 1995 or as soon thereafter as may be permitted by law. The proposed changes are not expected to have any effect on the revenues of the Utility. The changes are applicable to all electric utility services, all areas served by the Utility, all customer classes, and all customers.

Copies of the proposed revised tariffs, schedules, and supporting testimony and other pertinent data may be inspected in the office of the Utility located at 2415 South Phelps Avenue, Littlefield, Texas 79339, and at the office of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757. Inquiries should be directed to Mr. Delbert Smith, (806) 385-5191.

The Utility's wholesale power supplier currently allows a credit on the Utility's wholesale power bills in exchange for the ability to interrupt a portion of the Utility's irrigation load. The Utility's existing retail rates, which were established before the wholesale interruption credit became available, apply the interruption credit to all customers of the Utility regardless of whether such customers have agreed that their service may be interrupted. This occurs because the Utility's wholesale power supplier and the reduced level of power cost is flowed through to all consumers through the PCRF.

The rate revisions are proposed for the purposes of: (1) establishing a tariff authorizing payment of an interruptible credit to irrigators who agree by contract to allow their service to be interrupted, and (2) allocating the irrigation interruption credit received from the Utility's wholesale power supplier to the irrigation customers who have agreed to allow interruption of their load in the event the Utility's wholesale power supplier. The proposed changes will not increase or decrease the revenues of the Utility, however, the proposed changes are expected to increase the revenues derived from all customer classes other than irrigation and industrial (Plains Cotton Cooperative Assn).

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is May 18, 1995.

Words of Wisdom XIII

No Winter lasts forever, no Spring skips its turn. April is a promise that May is bound to keep, and we know it - Hal Borland

Ah Spring, my favorite season. I love the springtime with its longer days and renewed life. It is a time for new beginnings. Nature begins a delicious recycling of the old and dormant. Buds and blades burst forth with renewed vigor. It is a time for new life and new hope.

Like most of you, I approach the new year with resolutions of change and improvement. Then the promises of January 1st are besieged by the realities of Winter: Short dreary days and long cold nights. Somehow it seems wrong that the glorious beginnings of a new year should be followed by three depressing months of Winter.

Let's redo the calendar. The new year will start on April 1st. April Fool's day will be moved to January 1st. Now we can make our resolutions to lose weight, exercise more, etc. when the weather is more cooperative. Now we can honor those resolutions without trudging through Winter first. Doesn't that make sense?

With the seasons in sync with our psyche, we're set to conquer the world. Or, at least ready to plant our garden. Spring-the beginning of our new year- would become a true time of new beginnings. A fresh start on a new life.

I know we can't redo the calendar. However, we can in our own minds decide that we will start our new year today. Before you know it will be May 1st. That, too, is good day for a new beginning. With this vision in mind, I want to share other "new beginnings" thoughts.

* The world's favorite season is the Spring. All things seem possible in May. - Edwin Way Teal

*Our Lord has written the promise of resurrection, not in books alone but in every leaf of springtime. - Martin Luther

* Spring is the time for gathering the best seeds, preparing the best soil, and planting ideas, energy and enthusiasm into a new crop of sacrifices. - Denis Waitley

*Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. - Galations 6:7.

* Spring, thy name is color. - Libbie Fudim

*A good beginning makes a good ending. - English proverb.

*When you were born, you cried and the world rejoiced. Live your life in such a manner that when you die the world cries and you rejoice. - Old Indian saying

*All hard work brings a profit, but mere talk leads only to poverty. - Proverbs 14:23

*Some people succeed because they are destined to, but most succeed because they are determined to. - unknown

*It's a funny thing about life; if you refuse to accept anything but the best, you very often get it. - Somerset Maugham

*Do it! Move it! Make it happen! No one ever sat their way to success. - H. Jackson Brown, Jr.

*When an archer misses the mark, he turns and looks for the fault within himself. Failure to hit the bulls-eye is never the fault of the target. To improve your aim-improve yourself. - Gilbert Arland

*Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year...Finish everyday, and be done with it. You have done what you could. - Ralph Waldo Emerson.

*In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life: It goes on. - Robert Frost.

Nursing Home gets shampoo recliner

Lona Embry and Joyeline Costen display a new shampoo recliner recently donated to the Muleshoe HealthCare Center through proceeds from the annual Christmas Card Project. The shampoo recliner attaches to wheelchair frames and allows patients to be lowered to have their hair washed without getting wet. With no transfer needed from the wheelchair, the need for extra staff is eliminated.

Thank God for "Daughters of Encouragement"!

One of the most important leaders, and one of the very finest men, in the early church was a man named Barnabas. This good man's name meant "Son of encouragement," and he blessed the church by living up to his name.

If Barnabas was the "son of

May I hasten to admit that my mother's opinion of me was much inflated! But I suppose that was another of her gifts to me. She looked for the best in me and my siblings, and her praise helped us to reach for the best in ourselves. Every day I thank God for her love and encouragement which are still as real to me as breath.

Mom gave me lots of precious gifts. She gave me life, and she nurtured in me faith in the One who gives life direction, purpose, and joy.

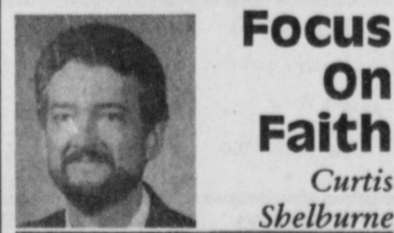

Mom was sure that since God gave us the capacity to laugh, we ought to use it. She taught me that to be serious about God means to refuse to take ourselves too seriously.

Mom taught me that people are more important than issues.

She gave me so many good gifts, but surely one of the best was her unfailing encouragement. No matter how long I live, I'll be "playing to her"--not in a pathetic attempt to "measure up," but joyfully sure that, whatever I accomplish, she'd be the first one to say, "Well done!"

I hope you've received the gift of encouragement from your parents. More important, I hope you're giving this beautiful gift to your own sons and daughters every day.

encouragement," I'm quite sure that encouragement's daughter was my mother! Mom died three years ago, but her encouragement has been a gift that keeps on giving.

Near my desk sits one of the last birthday cards I received before Mom's passing. In her uniquely beautiful hand are written these words: "We love you so much! Every day we thank God for you and all you have meant to us and to the family. You are so sweet, so gentle in a manly way, so caring, and just so very special. Every day we pray God to bless you, to guide you, to give you strength, and, always, to be so very close to you. Love, Mom."

We, the 8th grade class, would like to thank the following merchants: DAIRY QUEEN, SUBWAY, WILLIAMS BROTHERS, BALLOONS & GIFTS, SONIC, WESTERN DRUG, DAMRON DRUG for donating door prizes for our banquet Saturday night. We appreciate your support and in helping to make this a fun filled evening.
