Better Crops Looming For Farmers, Thanks to Chunk of Limestone Hill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Victoria, Tex.—A group of Victoria County farmers will have better crops and pastures in future years, thanks to a big chunk of limestone hill they trucked across the Guadalupe River.

The Soil Conservation Service says the thanks will be due. Recently, farmer Henry Schawe and several of his neighbors in the community of Nursery, Tex., realized that the soil of their rolling sandy farms was seriously deficient in calcium. Years ago the area was all in cultivation and supported many more families than it does now. At present much of the farmland is good only for pasturing.

The farmers talked to W. R. Agee, soil scientist, and E. J. Penderson, range specialist, of the Soil Conservation Service. The soil experts said the land on Schawe's place needed about one thousand pounds of commercial lime to make it productive again.

Price Was Too High
Schawe and his neighbors looked up the price of lime. They thought $5 a yard was pretty steep, so they looked around for a substitute.

Across the Guadalupe river near Mission Valley, Texas they found what they wanted. On the farm of Adolph Heller there was found a limestone hill that was not stony. When they took a piece of the limestone and rubbed it in their fingers, it crumbled into fine powder. The Soil Conservation Laboratory in Fort Worth said it tested 78 percent calcium phosphate or plain lime. Heller said he would sell the limestone for 10 cents a yard. Schawe figured the loading and trucking expenses would bring the total cost to 82 1/2 cents a yard limestone hill and trucked across the river to the farms of Schawe and his neighbors. The total cost was $330.

The trucks dumped the lime in the center of four-acre spaces. Later, the farmers spread the lime with regular fertilizer distributors. The lime was disked in. About a month after the lime applications the farmers will apply phosphate to complete preparations for a good legume crop. The lime serves two purposes, delivered to the farm.

Not All Needed Calcium
Not all the farms in Nursery needed calcium but enough of them did to make the venture profitable.

In one day 400 square yards of lime were dug out of Heller's. It supplies calcium needed to plant clover, and it makes acid soils sweeter or more neutral.

The neighbors who joined with Schawe in what was the first of several such large-scale lime movements included: Otis Henry, Herman Meyer, Frank Parsons, C. E. Osthright and A. W. Phillips.

The lime is not needed for agricultural purposes on the Heller place, but he has used it for road building. He found that the lime has the qualities for road surfacing as fine shell which is often used in the Gulf Coast country.

Hereford Cage Team Win Three in a Row from Tulia Quintets Monday

By JUNIOR McGEE
The Whiteface basketball team racked up three games in Monday night's session outscoring Tulia in all three bouts by meager leads. In the first of the series, the Junior team routed their Tulia opponents 26-24, the Calves won with a 24-18 score and the Whitefaces ended up on the long side of another 24-18 session.

The Whiteface team was trailing 7-9 at the half and although the lead sea-sawed back and forth in the second playing period the Whitefaces ended up with a 6 point lead. High scorer Melugin led the herd with 11 points. Clark trailed him with 5 points. Tulia's lead point-maker was Ramsey, stacking up 6 points to edge out Thomas who had 5. The Calves' victory over the Hornet B team was helped along by Ted Houston who racked up 9 points and Bill Kelly, who put 8 points through the basket. Tulia's head scorer was West, also an 8 point man. This was another close game with first Hereford, and then Tulia jumping into the lead.

Hereford's Junior team let spectators in for some excitement when the game ended in a tie score of 22-22 necessitating a 3 minute overtime period which ended 24-24. The coaches agreed that the first goal made would decide the winner and Kenneth Brock, Hereford forward, shut down the game by shooting a long field goal, and shooting the Juniors into a two point win.

Brock and Thompson tallied 8 points apiece and Morton ran up 8 in their scoring bout. Webb led the Tulia Juniors with 9 points; runner-up was Tucker with 8.

Refugee-Jammed Capital of India Is City of Sidewalk Shopkeepers

AP Newsfeatures

By STEVEN V. DAVID

NEW DELHI—India's capital, jammed with 500,000 refugees, has become a city of sidewalk shopkeepers.

You'll find them in front of buildings, tucked away in corners and in the shade of trees. Some boast stalls and others keep their wares in large wooden cabinets. But most go into business simply by spreading a piece of cloth on the ground and displaying a few articles.

They'll sell you almost anything—if you're not careful. Toys, trinkets, cigarettes, food, cloth, toilet articles, shoes, clocks and countless other items are for sale. But prices are no cheaper than those of established shops. The "street wallahs" will tell you they have to pay higher wholesale prices than do legitimate shops.

The street wallah is an institution in India, but New Delhi and old Delhi have more than their share of such entrepreneurs. They are quick to tell you stories of past suffering, and many of the stories are true. The presence of their would-be shops is an indication of the resourcefulness and courage of people who lost everything in the partition of India and the rioting which accompanied it.

Street wallah activity in New Delhi centers in Connaught Circle, where hundreds of stalls line the verandas in front of the shops of established merchants. Here women in flowing saris bargain heatedly with bearded hawkers who fled the Punjab rioting. Vendors hold up bananas or beads or betelnuts. Dartingurchins offer "shoesline—controlled price."

Dust mingles with the smoke of incense and files find their paradise.

Street wallah business extends down the side roads. A bicycle tire hanging limply from a tree heralds the open-air establishment of a cycle repairman who may have started with only a pump to inflate flat tires. A dispenser of ominous-looking soft drinks operates from a wooden box on small wheels. He also sells hot Indian tid-bits wrapped up in green leaves. The files love them.

Some simply sell services. A tailor sits outside an airline office, sewing unhurriedly at three rupees ($1) a day, pretty good pay. A barber squats down on a sidewalk, Oriental fashion, to shave a customer, who must also squat.

You may have your head massaged in the park by a youngster whose charge is four annas (eight cents). The ear-cleaners fee depends on the results he can show.

You may have a tooth pulled at a moderate charge. Just sit on a misplaced kitchen chair and open your mouth. The "dentist" has no license, but neither has the "doctor" who offers powders and ointments for headaches and indigestion. The chiropodist whose office is a little leather bag also is a self-made professional man.

The Sikh fortune tellers get by without crystal balls and shrouded booths. They walk up behind you, murmuring softly that you are about to inherit a lot of money or that "you will be going home to England soon." An American who has never been near England is inclined to suspect the fortune teller's ability.

The sidewalk wallahs have been removed from chandni chowk (moon market), old Delhi's famous bazaar. Things got so bad that the trams which run on both sides of the street could scarcely move between the pushcarts and benches of refugees.

The government has plans for settling most of the refugees in new townships where they may follow their original vocation of farming. Cities are to absorb professional men.

But with an overall total of five million refugees to cope with, rehabilitation has been slow. The little man who unfolds a cloth and goes into business will be around for awhile.

Attending the basketball game in Amarillo Monday night between the West Texas Buffaloes and the Phillips '66 Oilers was a group of local sports fans including Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stagner, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Groom, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nell, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill, Jr., Stan Barrett, Frank Barrett, Lee Kent, W. L. Davis Jr., Bob Patterson, Neely Kimbrough, Claude Melugin, Ronnie Durham, Junior McGee.

Cotton Markets

Southwest cotton picked up in price last week and sales continued to increase, reports Production and Marketing Administration's southwest area office, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Major price-strengthening factors were tightening in spot supplies as result of heavy movement of cotton into government loan and improved mill and export demand.

Dallas and Galveston paid $1.85 and Houston $1.95 cents for middlin 15/16 inch. Ten market average was 32.04 cents per pound, which brought the average price for Middling 15/16 inch above the 32 cent level and about 1 1/4 cents above the 1948 average loan rate.

Sales in Houston, Galveston and Dallas jumped to 77,995 bales, about 13,493 bales more than reported the week before. Export inquiries were more numerous but domestic mill inquiries were relatively quiet. Best shippers demand was for Strict Low Middling through Strict Middling, ranging from 13/16 inch through 1-1/16 inch in staple length. Demand is good for current Strict Low Middling spotted and Low Middling white. Cotton below this description is selling at lower prices.

Cottonseed advanced in both states. Average price in Texas was $75.40 per ton, 50 cents more than a week earlier. Average in Oklahoma increased $1.60 per ton, from $75.40 to $77. Movement to crushing mills was moderate.

Mrs. N. C. King of Panhandle and Mrs. E. J. Williams of Hereford were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rosa Wilmouth of Fort Sumner last week-end.

Mrs. Lorraine Slak and Mrs. Jesse Carter left Thursday for Dallas where Mrs. Slak will receive medical treatment. They plan to return this week-end.

The Jolly Seven sub-district meeting of the Methodist church was held at the church Sunday afternoon. Dr. E. D. Landreth, district superintendent, was the special speaker.

Martha Thomas and Leo Hicks opened the session with a devotional program and Howard Humphries of Tulla, president, directed the business meeting. Members voted to assist in an organizational meeting of the Friona-Bovina Sub-District.

A discussion program on folk dancing featured the meeting with Martha Thomas and Duane Christian as leaders. After a round table discussion of the subject, Dr. Landreth spoke on "Conclusions" applying the opinions expressed in the discussions to all forms of entertainment for young people.

Rev. Don Davidson, pastor, conducted a recreation hour and supper was served to approximately 75 young people from Happy, Tulla, Dimmitt and Big Square. A sound film on "China" was shown by Robert Thompson.

The candy sacking session, for instance. The Jaycees were faced with the prospect of putting up 4000 sacks of candy, and that's a long job for a few people. But a hit and a plea dropped here and there paid off. About 7:30 some 60 people turned up at the Lions-Rotary hall; they formed four lines of workers and started turning out Santa's packs on a mass-production scale. By 9 p. m. they finished thanks to the friendliness and co-operation of the people of Hereford.

Newsman Outlines What ECA Aid Has Meant to Chiang Government

By CLARKE BEACH
AP Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON—What has our economic assistance meant to China?

It has meant rice, flour, cotton, petroleum products and fertilizer. China has received $68,000,000 worth of these supplies from the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) during the first six months of the China program. In the next six months it will mean more of the same, plus two new projects:

1. A "capital equipment and technical services" program which will cost $70,000,000. 2. A rural reconstruction program, on which Congress has authorized the expenditure of as much as $27,500,000.

All the rice, 94,586 long tons (2,240 pounds), has been purchased in Siam; all the flour, 17,858 long tons, in the United States. These have been used almost entirely to support rationing programs in major Chinese cities, into which hordes of refugees have flocked.

Cotton Industry Active With 372,349 bales of American raw cotton furnished by ECA, China has been able to keep the wheels turning in her largest single industry. Cloth sold abroad helped bring in direly needed foreign exchange.

About $30,000,000 worth of petroleum products have been allotted to China's key industries and services, most of it from the Middle East. ECA has furnished about $1,200,000 worth of nitrogenous fertilizer, purchased in the United Kingdom, Belgium and Canada.

The "capital equipment" program is just ready to commence. Groundwork was laid last June by a technical survey which found almost all of China's industrial and transportation facilities suffering from lack of maintenance.

About $35,000,000 will be spent on replacement of equipment or parts and an equal sum for industrial reconstruction and some expansion.

Chinese government representatives and ECA officials have jointly decided where the replacements or capital equipment will go.

The capital equipment, food and other materials are being distributed in the war zone of North China as well as in the safer southern and central zones. No Material Captured ECA officials admit this involves a chance of their falling into Communist hands. But they feel the risk is warranted because of the great economic and strategic importance of the northern region. A breakdown in essential industries and services there would weaken the government's military position. The Communists have not captured any of the material yet as far as they know.

The second new project got its start Sept. 17. A Chinese-American commission on Rural Reconstruction will attempt to develop a realistic, long-range program to make life more tolerable for China's rural folk, who comprise 80 per cent of the population.

It will try to modernize farming practices, promote rural education, raise health standards and improve local administration. It will seek reforms in credit and marketing arrangements and in China's system of agricultural tenure—the ownership of land

Daring Berlin Boys Are Killed in Ruins

BERLIN (AP)—Western Berlin's newspapers are waging one of the world's strangest safety crusades—designed to stop dare-devil children from digging for scrap materials in bomb ruins to earn money.

Under the slogan "Death Lurks in the Ruins", the campaign is prompted by an alarming increase in the accident toll involving youngsters killed or maimed under collapsing walls in the city's acres of ruined buildings.

Hardly a day passes but some German is a victim of an accident, especially as fall winds and wet weather promote the collapse of weakened masonry. A further hazard is unexploded bombs and shells still buried in the rubble.

The newspaper "Sozial Demokrat", leading the safety campaign, has demanded criminal prosecution of adults who hire children to go picking scrap metals and wood out of ruins. The newspaper also demanded action against parents who permit their children to engage in this business and of scrap metal dealers who buy from children. Some adventurous kids are said to make neat earnings in their scrap hunting. But they have to be daring—or just foolish. Some are seen climbing up pipes to reach third and fourth story balconies or along ledges to pry out surviving window frames. They often clamber where experienced salvage crews, equipped with ropes and safety belts, hesitate to operate. Their chief booty is old plumbing fixtures and cable and wiring.

Leftover veal, from a roast may be creamed and combined with other foods to make a delicious supper dish. Chose from among green peas, sauteed mushrooms, crisp raw diced celery, thin strips raw green pepper, to add to it.

'Silent Guest' Plan Founder To Visit Governor Jester

AUSTIN—Miss Iris Gabriel, founder and director of the "American Silent Guest Plain," to win progress in Texas to benefit hungry children, has informed Governor Beauford H. Jester she will visit Austin Dec. 14.

Miss Gabriel will bring a medal to present to Governor Jester, sent by the mayor of Vienna in recognition of this state's help in the Silent Guest program last year. The medal will be the Viennese children's way of saying "thank you" for the food they received.

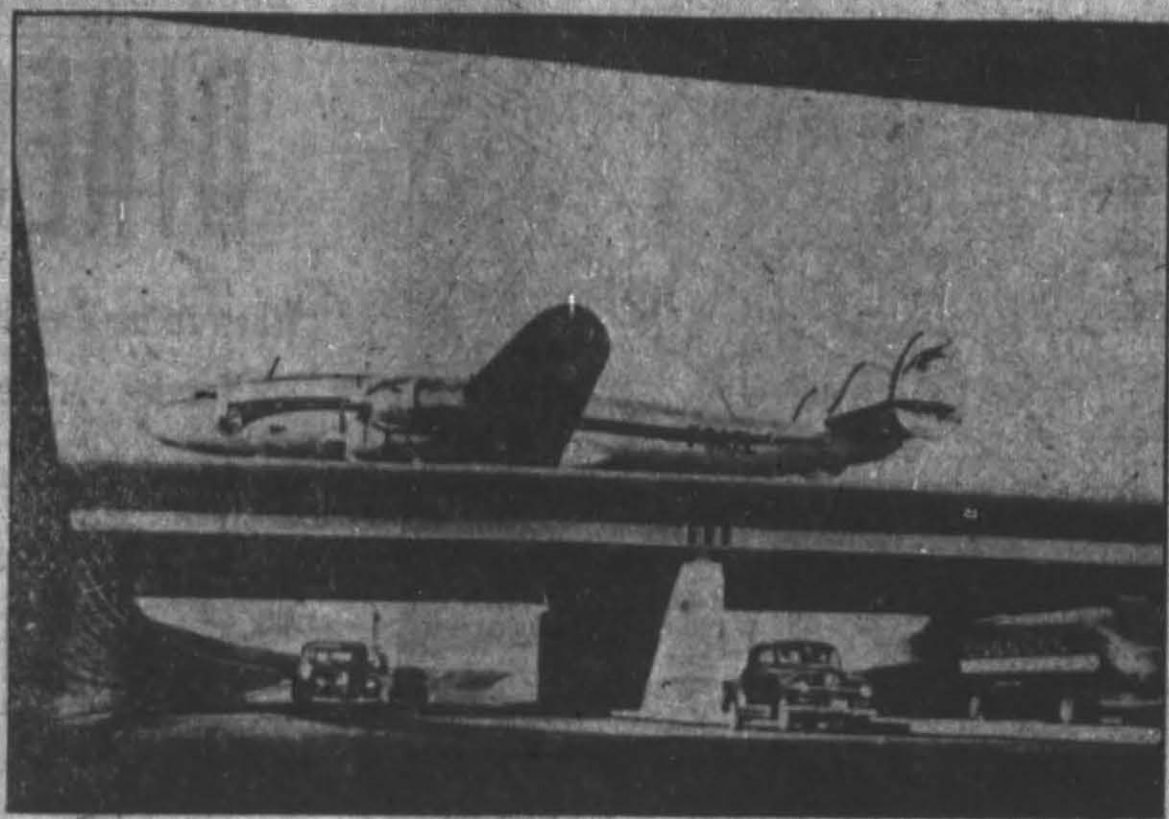

A similar campaign was launched again this year, on Thanksgiving Day. The Silent Guest Drive, to last until Christmas, has a goal of $1,000,000 to be given to the non-profit United Nations Appeal for Children to help 230,000,000 undernourished and sick children throughout the world.

The plan asks that Texans set an extra plate at their tables during the holiday season, from now until Christmas, to entertain a Silent Guest—a hungry child who needs our help.

Then, the price of the meal, for as long a period as the individual Texan can afford, may be sent by check or money order to the Silent Guest Committee, in care of the Governor's Office, Austin. The UNICEF will distribute 75 per cent of the collections abroad, while 25 per cent will be kept in America to help our own needy children. Distribution will be entirely on the basis of need, with no discrimination against any group of hungry children. The relief organization is supported, financially, by the United Nations, so all collections will be used to buy food.

Ted and Miss Odie Matthews were in Hereford attending to business and visiting relatives and friends. They are making their home in Abilene with their mother, Mrs. W. R. Matthews, 1026 Grape Street.

Poultry Scientists at Alabama Polytech Planning To Make 'Super Bird' Available to Nation Soon

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

AUBURN, Ala.—Poultry scientists at Alabama Polytechnic Institute are going to make their "super bird" available to the nation during the coming year.

This new barnyard big shot is a strain of Leghorn developed at the Institute during the past 14 years in a special genetics program costing about $85,000.

In comparative tests with five of the other Leghorn strains produced in Alabama, birds of the Polytech strain have proved themselves to be worth any two ordinary Leghorns—in returns to the farmer—from the standpoint of resistance to disease, meat production, egg size and egg turnout, the scientists claim. So far, cocks and hens of the strain have lived a strictly collegiate life, turning out meat or eggs just for auld Alma Mater.

But, come Jan. 1 hatching eggs will be made available to Alabama poultry raisers, and by the end of the year, poultry men throughout the nation will have a chance to see what the Auburn Leghorns can do away from their home grounds.

Right now, Polytech's birds are being stacked against prize Leghorn strains from New York, Minnesota, California and Florida in tests on the Auburn grounds—but the box-score won't be available for some time. Birds from Auburn also have been shipped to experimenters in some of those states for testing under climatic and other conditions prevailing there.

Preliminary evidence is that a Leghorn strain of a particular state does best in its own "ball-tack," but Dr. D. F. King, poultry husbandman at Polytech's Agricultural Experiment Station, contends that Auburn's birds will make a name for themselves "on the road."

"I'm convinced," he said, "that our breed will have some things that other Leghorn breeds don't have in other areas."

Pointing out that of 100 female baby chicks of the Auburn strain, 68 were alive at the end

Long Time Ago

(Editor's Note: This third and final installment of "Down Memory Lane finds the Old Timer still getting mixed up with traffic lights. Anyway, he sure knew his way around and had lots of friends. Thanks, Old Timer. Come again some time.)

Down in the first block was Dunlap Hardware. Ely Dunlap, a small man physically, but a giant in energy, was a whiz in most anyway you would take him.

The Hardware store was as complete in stock as you could find in Texas. Walter Dunlap, Luther Hough and C. O. Lee were the guys that specialized in service there, and it was deluxe.

Then I thought of three other fellows that were dishing out the services as head men. J. O. Newell at Callens Dry Goods Co., John Patton at Jim Cardwell's Grocery, Earl Bennett at Johnson's Grocery, and those boys really gave service and appreciated your business.

Around the corner to see John Jacobson, Sr., shoe a horse, then by Rice and Barnhart, and Mr. Clark, all banging away in their shops.

Then past the tin barn, which was the City Hall, to Beams & Marrs. Frank Marrs tinkering away on a Buick, with Loyd Kerns sweating over a Model T; George Beams weeding a hunk of pipe for an irrigation well.

Chris and John Renfro out in front, willing to let you have a new Buick. Carl Cockrell backed out, on his way to drive some one on a trip to the country.

Now I walked up 3rd Street past the First National Bank, past the Post Office, where Ralph Barnett was Post Master. Cecil Gilliland and Nettie Parks were clerks there, on down to Palmer Lumber Yard.

T. M. Parker and J. J. Buckner were chewing the fat with Ambrose Gibson. Ran into Alex Thompson coming out of the south door of the courthouse and, by George, you can still do that any day yet!

Then the lights all went off and I drifted over to Jim Clark's Drug Store. The World Series was on, Martin had the broadcasting from Amarillo and he was getting the game by wire then broadcasted it from Amarillo. The store was full and everybody was straining their insides to get the game.

Martin would get two men out and then read a telegram from some one. Remember one was, "ten thousand listening in." All were for the Yankees but Dow Mercer.

In the crowd were Frank Marrs, Dow Mercer, O. G. Hill, James W. Robinson, Dr. Gabbert, Bobo McLean, J. A. Pittman, C. C. Acker, W. L. Johnson, Porter Johnson, Otho Beene, Charles Bennett, Carl Cockrell, Homer Fox, Doug Fox and many, many more.

I will never forget one game in particular, two men were out, the bases were loaded and two strikes on the batter and the next pitch, Martin described it like this "I think Ruth was up! It's a long fly into left center field and it is going, going, going," then this meat headed Martin stopped to tell us what a good place it was to trade with some guy sponsoring the broadcast.

If thoughts would kill a man, Martin would have been a dead duck. We hated him. Then he finally woke up and the center fielder caught the ball right against the fence and the ball game was over. Next day we would be at the Corner Drug Store with John McLean, head man, and no one in the bunch working a lick until after the series, and if one of them won a $5.00 pool, well, he was rich.

Now back to 1920, when we finished the Bull Barn and had our big Fair, and what a Fair and what a Sales Barn! And were we proud! We worked hard for that barn and dug deep, every one worked the same for the Fair, town boys and country boys alike. Some worked almost day and night.

This installment is third of the series contributed by an Old Timer, who requested that his name remain anonymous.

Next week the Old Timer tells about Hereford's big County Fair back in 1920. The event was a highlight over the entire Panhandle and will be recalled by many persons.

A Few Winks Before The Show

All tired out from getting ready for the big show, Madeline Watson, 14, of West Point, Neb., grabs a few winks with her year-old prize Hereford "Sparkplug" after their arrival at Chicago for the 49th annual International Livestock Exposition. She entered the 800-pound animal in the junior feeding contest.

Every School Has Opportunities To Promote Pupils' Health, Doctor Says

AUSTIN, Texas—Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and its community, and for this reason Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that every school should have a definite health program including safe drinking water, good school lunches, proper lighting, seating and ventilating facilities as well as scrupulously clean premises.

"From early childhood to manhood and womanhood, most youngsters are enrolled in school and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day, approximately half the days of the year," Dr. Cox said. "The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught, and the information and understanding that they acquire are factors which operate to develop attitudes and behavior conducive to happy, healthy and successful living."

To supplement the efforts of teachers, school boards, parent and civic groups interested in promoting school health, the State Health Department's Division of School Health Services carries on a full time program designed to promote and develop a sound basic health program for the school child. This plan consists of attempting the control of communicable diseases in cooperation with local health departments; providing minimum health essentials in classroom environment such as lighting, seating, and so forth; an adequate physical activity program; stressing education on personal hygiene and local health hazards; nutrition supervision and instruction; and integrating the school health program with the total community health program.

ITS BIGGEST STRETCH

LONDON (AP)—London's sprawling giant of a subway system is taking its biggest stretch in 31 years. The underground, as it's called, is opening 10 miles of new life and nine stations in the northeastern and northwestern suburbs.

That will give it 243 miles of line and 278 stations—more railroad than in all of Paraguay and enough to reach from New York to below Washington. It's the biggest extension at one clip since 1917. It was accomplished by electrifying old steam tracks—the underground runs on the surface in the outskirts. But at that it has cost $8,000,000 dollars.

Five and three-quarter miles of it are in the northeast and four and a quarter miles in the northwest. They're in addition to seven miles opened last December and two last May. That makes 19 miles for the year.

The network has grown up gradually since 1863. It started with steam engines and open coaches. It switched to electric power beginning in 1906. Passengers had been complaining about the smoke.

A public authority, the London Passenger Transport Board, took it over from private owners in 1933 and it was nationalized with the rest of Britain's railroads, last Jan. 1.

COONS PLAGUE REICH FARMERS
 KASSEL, Germany (AP)—Little "Goerings" have become a plague in the forest-rimmed village of Brinhausen near here. The villagers call them "little Goerings," and it is a curse when they say it, but actually they mean racoons, and they don't like them because of the damage they have done to their crops.
 Rotund Hermann Goering had acquired several pairs of racoons from the United States in his hey-days when he was "Reich hunting master" besides running the German air force and the German economy. He liked racoons and wanted them in Germany. He set them free in the hilly forest region near this village in the Kassel area.
 Meanwhile they have multiplied and are roaming about the fields and orchards of Brinhausen. The farmers there now declared war on them because of the heavy damage they are doing to their sugar and other beets as well as their fruit trees.

New Edition On Texas Wild Flowers Written
 DALLAS—Publication of a new edition of "Texas Flowers in Natural Color" by Dr. Eula Whitehouse of the Southern Methodist University Herbarium was announced November 28.
 The new edition was brought out in response to demands for copies from public schools, libraries and general readers from all parts of Texas and the Southwest.
 The book contains illustrations and descriptions of 257 common plants and wild flowers of Texas. The illustrations were drawn and colored by Miss Whitehouse.
 Miss Whitehouse received her Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Texas. Now a technical assistant in the SMU Herbarium, she has made plant collections for most of the large herbaria of this country.
 Also widely known as an artist, she has done what is perhaps her most noted work for the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin, where her flower transparencies are now on exhibit. She prepared for the museum the background for two large dioramas showing aspects of the state's natural history.
 Mr. and Mrs. Blue Turpen were week-end visitors in Abilene as the guests of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Turpen.

CONTINENTAL IS FOUND IN BOOK
 BERLIN (AP)—It was an ordinary looking book but the title interested Capt. Richard H. Lake. He paid three marks and took the book home.
 Lake noticed a piece of brown paper pasted on the inside of the back cover. He tore it off. In a little receptacle gouged out of the cover lay a one-dollar bill issued in 1779 by the Continental Congress. It guaranteed the holder one dollar credit in the United States of America, then three years old, and in the middle of a winking war.
 Lake hasn't any idea what it is worth as a collector's item today, if anything. "But it cost me only three marks. That's 60 cents. And it guarantees me a dollar. So I stand to make a dime," he said.

REDS MAKE HUGH LATHE

MOSCOW (AP)—A turning lathe weighing 500 tons is being manufactured at the Kramaforsky Plant of Heavy Machine Building. "Evening Moscow" said it is the first Soviet lathe of such large proportions. It will machine parts up to 30 meters long.

WHEEL CHAIR HUNT

MARION, Ill. (AP)—Joe White has to stay put in a wheel chair, but he gets around anyway. He even goes hunting. Two friends parked his chair in a field near a lake and built a blind of corn stalks around it. Then, in no more time than it takes to say "bang," Joe shot a goose.

Girl Jailed After Work in Reich Mine

KIEL, Germany (AP)—No German law forbids women from working in mines—but a girl who tried it in male disguise landed in jail for three months. A poster of the German Ruhr Mines Administration calling on the homeless German youth to come to work, gave her the idea. She decided to become a miner. The American and British-sponsored enlistment program provided for better living conditions—clothing, better and higher food rations, tobacco and liquor rations.

Ursula and her old ailing mother had not had any of this since they had fled from their hometown of Koenigsberg in East Prussia, now Kaliningrad in Soviet Russia. For two years they had lived in a slum-like refugee quarter in a small Schleswig-Holstein village. Coffee, cocoa, bacon and an adequate wage with which she could support her mother and provide medical treatment for her made her decide quickly, she told the judges. She put on slacks, cut her hair, bandaged her breasts and enlisted at the labor office for the Ruhr coal mines as Peter Kleinke.

None of her "buddies" down in the pit recognized Peter as a member of the weaker sex. She worked four months, but fell ill and had to leave her job. When she returned to her mother, the police got wind of "Peter" and summoned her to court, on charges of "document forgery and illegal name change." A three-months' jail sentence was the lowest punishment the court could find for the offense.

HOUSEWIVES CHASE DINNER
POCKLINGTON, England (AP)—The people of Pocklington, housewives included, tore off in pursuit when eight fat steers—local meat ration for the week—jumped a slaughterhouse fence and headed for the Yorkshire moors. They caught them all—the last one three villages, ten miles and eight hours later. Said a tired housewife: "What would you do? That was our Sunday dinner."

RABBIT JUMPS TO MENU

Persons Butchering Warned To Take Care Against Erysipelas in Swine

Austin—Farmers butchering hogs this winter were warned today to take special precautions to protect themselves against swine erysipelas if the disease is known to exist on their farms.

"On farms where swine erysipelas is a problem, the danger of infection should not be overlooked at butchering time," the American Foundation for Animal Health reported. "In human beings, swine erysipelas germs cause a disease called erysipelas, characterized by painful skin lesions and other complications.

"The germ enters the system chiefly through breaks and bruises in the skin. Therefore, if erysipelas has been on a farm, the handler should protect his hands and arms by washing and disinfecting them thoroughly after each animal is butchered."

The danger of human infection was cited as just an added reason for farmers to watch their swine for symptoms of erysipelas and to combat it promptly if it appears. "Symptoms of this disease in swine include scaly, dry, reddened skin; sloughing off of pieces of the ears and tail; swollen joints and snouts; lethargy and a high temperature," the American Foundation said.

"Unless the trouble is diagnosed promptly, and infected animals isolated, it may run quickly through a herd, killing many hogs and making others unprofitable for market. Moreover, swine erysipelas may also infect other types of livestock and poultry."

Poultry Experts

of 520 days (the first laying year)—as compared with only 31 alive in the average of five other compared strains in Alabama—Dr. King said this finding had possible significance on a national scale.

He said 25 per cent of all laying hens in the United States die each year from diseases and other disorders and that another 50 per cent have to be "culled" or separated from flocks because of low health.

"This represents a $200,000,000 loss to U.S. poultrymen," he said, adding: "Breeding to seek disease resistance is the most logical approach to preventing such losses."

Here's an idea of what these Polytech Leghorns can do:

In the tests against the five other Alabama Leghorn strains, the Polytechs produced 1,320 dozen eggs, compared with 629 for the average of the opposing quintet.

Pounds of meat available for sale at the end of the laying year was 303 for the Auburnites, against 129 for the average of the opponents.

Stuff celery with a cheese filling, cut in wedges, dust with paprika and serve on salad greens with French dressing.

"Miss South America"—also known as Jean Fulton—arrives at New York's LaGuardia Field carrying a lion cub under each arm. The 16-year-old beauty queen won a trip to America and a Hollywood contract with her title. Her cubby companions will go to zoos in New York and Los Angeles.

Chile Is Planning To Establish Third Base In Antarctic

AP Newsfeatures VALPARAISO, Chile—A handful of armen are making ready to nail down Chile's disputed claim in the Antarctic with a third base.

They are scheduled to leave soon to plant the air base "for purely scientific purposes." Its site has not been announced. But it is expected to be somewhere near the navy base on Greenwich Island, in the South Shetlands, and the army base on Grahamland.

President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla forecast establishment of the new base on his return last February from his trip to the Antarctic, where he dedicated the army base. The two existing bases are weather stations, from which the personnel also go out on exploration trips.

These Chilean outposts are in territory also claimed by Great Britain and Argentina.

Chile and Argentina agreed early in 1948 to negotiate a settlement of their own Antarctic boundaries and defer their claims jointly against third parties. Both have rejected a United States suggestion for international control of the region. Aside from Argentina, Chile and Britain, other countries directly or indirectly interested in the Antarctica include France, Norway, Australia, New Zealand and the United States.

BEDSTEADS, COFFINS ON PRIORITY PRODUCTION LIST

BIELEFELD, Germany.—Bedsteads and coffins have been put on a priority furniture production list by German bizonal economic authorities.

Every fourth German in the Anglo-American zone is without a bed, according to estimates for furniture production needs which are placed at 10,000,000 single beds. The two zones have a total population of approximately 40,000,000.

Anglo-American control authorities have approved an allocation of 185,000 cubic yards of lumber for furniture production and an additional 60,000 cubic yards for the manufacture of coffins. These figures indicate that one coffin will be manufactured for every third bed.

Coffins were among the scarcest items in many communities in postwar Germany. Reports were frequent about the dead being buried in paper sacks and coffins with removable bottoms on which the body rested in the grave while the top part was being used over and over.

Hereford Garden Club Hears Talk On 'The Amaryllid' in Ramey Home

The Hereford Garden Club met with Mrs. E. Ramsey Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. C. Ferguson giving the roll call on the "Lycoris."

Mrs. Jim Black also had a part on the roll call with "crinum," both a variety of variety of Amaryllids.

A short business session was held when members voted to make the place cards and floral table arrangement for the annual New Years dinner held at the Veterans' Hospital in Amarillo. Mrs. Carl Frye was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. E. W. Harrison was leader of the lesson on "The Amaryllids" and told of the different classes of lilies, belonging to that family.

A paper on "The Hybrid Amaryllid," prepared by Mrs. J. P. Slalon, was read by Mrs. O. G. Hill.

The annual Christmas party will be held on the regular meeting date, December 7 with Mrs. Dennis Barnard and Mrs. C. D. Kelton as hostesses.

Members present were Mesdames Leroy Aven, Jim Black, C. C. Ferguson, W. S. Fluit, E. E. Fridley, E. W. Harrison, A. V. Hendrick, O. G. Hill, John Jacobson Jr., C. D. Kelton, A. L. Manfeol, F. H. Oberthier, H. E. Miller, Earl Springer, Carl Frye and the hostess.

MOSCOW PLANTS TREES

MOSCOW (AP)—During the autumn in Moscow there were planted on the city's main streets two hundred sixty three thousand trees and one million four hundred thousand shrubs. This is part of a campaign to make the soviet capital in the future one of the greenest cities in the world with trees linking every street.
