

Trustees Will Meet Again Today People To Decide School Issue

"Take it to the people," was the bidding E. H. Norton, president of the County School Board handed trustees from Sims, Messenger and Walcott, who met Saturday afternoon at the Court House to discuss the disposition of dormant school districts.

The matter must be decided at another called meeting to be held Thursday afternoon, for under the provisions of the new Gilmer-Aiken law, dormant school districts must be joined to one of the neighboring districts by July 8.

Representatives at the meeting last week discussed their plans for the scholastics. All students in a single district must be sent to the same school. During the past few years the dormant districts have divided their scholastics, sending them to various schools.

With the impending judgment now reaching the proportions of a last-minute decision, Norton bade the trustees present to go out and talk to the people in their district, asking them what they preferred to do about the students. Each trustee was given a designated territory to cover.

Attending the meeting were the members of the County School Board, including Norman Miller, Clarence Morrison, B. B. Northcutt, M. W. Blankenship and Norton, C. S. Perrin from Sims, George Messenger, T. J. Poindexter, and Wilson Wylie of Messenger, Phillip Miller and Don Guseman of Walcott, and George Graham, A. J. Schroeter and Fred Baird, representing the Hereford Rural School Board.

S-Sgt. Leo C. Rogers Reburial Rites Are Scheduled Here This Afternoon

LEO C. ROGERS

Staff Sgt. Leo C. Rogers, who was killed in action, Sept. 9, 1943, will be reburied at West Park Cemetery today. Funeral services will be held at the First Christian Church, Sunday at 3 p. m. with the Rev. Richard Wingert conducting the service.

The Oddfellows and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will also participate in the service.

Sgt. Rogers was born in Hereford, June 7, 1920, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rogers. He was educated at Hereford Schools and was graduated from Hereford High School with the class of 1938. During his high school days he had been a member of the Hi-Y organization and the Whiteface Band.

After graduation he worked in several Hereford business houses before volunteering for duty Jan. 5, 1942. He was assigned to the Army Air Corp and received his training at Sheppard Field, in California, South Carolina and Massachusetts.

Tragic Weekend Accounts For One Death, Eight Injuries, Three Fires

Death took no holiday in Deaf Smith this week end as tragedy stalked the highways and collisions, explosions and fire calls marked the appalling July 4th holiday.

One man was killed and eight were hospitalized for treatment as the result of two car wrecks Sunday on Highway 60. One of those injured: Cameron Gault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gault, is still in a serious condition in Deaf Smith County hospital, his physician reported. The other victims are still being treated for broken bones and lacerations.

Killed was Wendal V. Roberson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberson. Roberson was driver of the car in which Gault and Robert W. Barkley, 20, of Austin, were riding. Barkley, too, was convertible, left the highway on the left hand side of the road and apparently overturned.

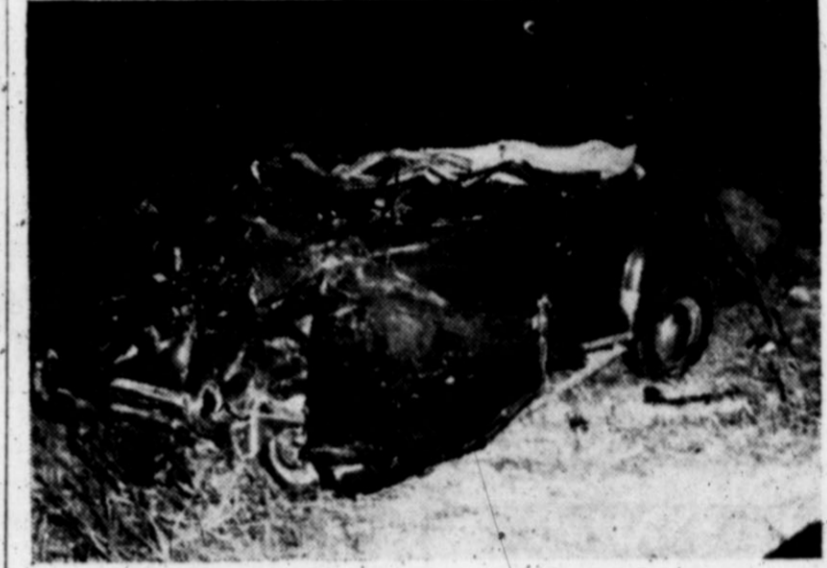

Both Gault and Barkley were thrown from the automobile. Roberson was pinned under the hospitalized, for treatment of serious neck injuries and lacerations.

The accident occurred between 3:15 and 3:30 a. m. Sunday morning. Exact cause of the accident still remains undetermined but the car, a 1948 Plymouth wheel. The impact of the crash crumpled the convertible and spun it around facing west.

A passing motorist saw the wreck and drove on into Hereford, stopping at Phillips and his father's farm during wheat harvest, was a student at West Texas State, Gault, 19, who also had been working with his father during harvest, just completed his junior year at Colorado A&M, and Barkley, 20, is a senior at the University of Texas. Barkley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barkley of Austin, but for the past nine years has been spending his summers with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benefield, family friends of the Barkleys.

Lawrence Service Station to report it. Otho Noland, who was at the station went out to the scene of the accident and identified the victims.

Second Accident.
The second wreck, involving a car and a truck occurred Sunday afternoon near Summerfield. Investigating officers said a wheat truck driven by Paul Dean, 17, of Walters, Okla., attempted to make a left turn on the highway without signaling just as the car driven by Finis E. Walker, started to pass the truck.

Injured in the wreck were Finis E. Walker, Knox City, who received a broken arm, his wife, Mrs. F. E. Walker, whose left leg was broken, Mrs. T. H. Myrick, of Austin, and Mrs. Herbert Henderson of Edinburg, both of whom were treated for shock.

Five year old Tyrone Dale Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Armstrong of Hereford, and nephew of the Walkers, was treated for a neck laceration but released Sunday night.

Riding in the truck with Cartwright was Herschel Gamby, 16, also of Walters. Neither of the boys was hurt.

Busy Fire Department
Firemen, too, were busy over the three day week end answering a call a day.

Saturday night they were called to the E. W. Solomon residence on Park Avenue after a hot water tank exploded. The Solomon's believe the thermostat on the tank must have tumbled, resulting explosion blew the tank into the attic above the garage where it was connected, and splintered the east wall of the garage.

The explosion occurred about 9 p. m. and the eight alarm drew a crowd of Saturday night sight seers.

About 4 a. m. Sunday morning Sylvester Slagle's dairy barn caught fire and burned to the ground and Slagle estimated the loss to building and equipment at about $2,000.

Cause of the blaze was believed to be faulty wiring.

The Slagles learned of the fire when a neighbor, young Rex Cowart, woke them and reported the fire. His younger brother woke up and saw the flames.

All stock was out of the barn, said Slagle, but his dairy equipment, milking machines, a new saddle and other articles stored there were all burned.

Firemen answered the call, although it was outside the city limits, but were unable to save the building.

Monday morning about 11 o'clock a grain truck bed caught fire while the trucker was driving down Highway 60. Firemen were able to extinguish the flames which engulfed the truck bed. The driver did not know how the blaze started.

O. G. Denton Injured When Tractor Turns Over; Pinning Him Underneath

O. G. Denton, Deaf Smith County farmer, was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when a tractor turned over with him in a bar ditch on his farm about half a mile west of the cemetery.

Denton was discovered about 2 p. m. by his young teen-age daughter, Dorothy, who was at work in the house. She saw the overturned tractor in the field near the home, rushed out and found her father pinned under the machine.

Dorothy ran to the highway and flagged a passing motorist who summoned aid from town. The tractor had to be removed with a hydraulic jack before Denton could be reached.

He was brought by ambulance to Deaf Smith County Hospital. Dorothy said her father left the house about 1 p. m. to resume his work in the field. She did not know how long he lay there before he was discovered. Denton's wife is dead. His other daughter, Marie, is secretary for Cowsart and Bybee.

Fourth Provides Usual Fireworks

Despite the fact that there is a city ordinance which prohibits shooting fireworks or selling fireworks within the city limits, and although the police received several calls from people complaining of fireworks disturbances in their neighborhood, Police Chief F. S. Buckalew said no charges were filed on the offenders this week end.

"They co-operated with us. Whenever we asked them to quit shooting their fireworks, they would," said Buckalew. "We answered several calls and the police cars cruised over town to keep things under control."

In an attempt to celebrate the Fourth of July in the old fashioned way, despite a legal restriction on shooting fire crackers, roman candles, torpedoes, and other fireworks, children and adults alike over town calmly ignored the ordinance and went ahead to enjoy both the holiday and the fireworks.

Stands for the fireworks were established just outside the city limits, thus being made available to Hereford people.

They say that once you've lived in Hereford, you'll always return. Johnny Warren added further proof to the theory this week. Johnny had been employed at Fraser Milling Company, but resigned his job and went up to Denver to work in a cooler climate and a higher altitude. He was back again in Hereford to celebrate the Fourth, took a good look around at his old home town and decided this was the place for him. He's back at work in his old job again.

The visit of the foreign farmers left a trail of new friends, interesting sidelights, and chuckles too. Because most of them could easily have been mistaken for the sort of Americans who live right next door, Mrs. Tom Draper remarked that she thought everybody ought to be wearing badges designating their home town. Not two minutes later a Hereford farmer approached her and inquired quite seriously, "Does this remind you much of your country?" She stuttered for a minute and then replied, "Oh, yes, it's quite a bit like my home." She moved a few steps away but the eager host pursued her. "Where are you from?" he asked. "Well, as a matter of fact I live in Hereford." The farmer is still dodging her on the streets.

Shooting location on the technicolor movie "Thunder in the Dust" will move to Palo Duro State Park Saturday for a few days. This will give Herefordites an opportunity to view the actual operation of movie making at first hand.

Location for the battle scenes will be the Lighthouse cliffs in Little Sunday canyon. Park employees have opened a new road to the Lighthouse vicinity for convenience of those wishing to watch the filming. It has been requested that the audience be cooperative while observing. Several hundred dollars can be lost because a noise not scheduled appears on the sound track. No charge.

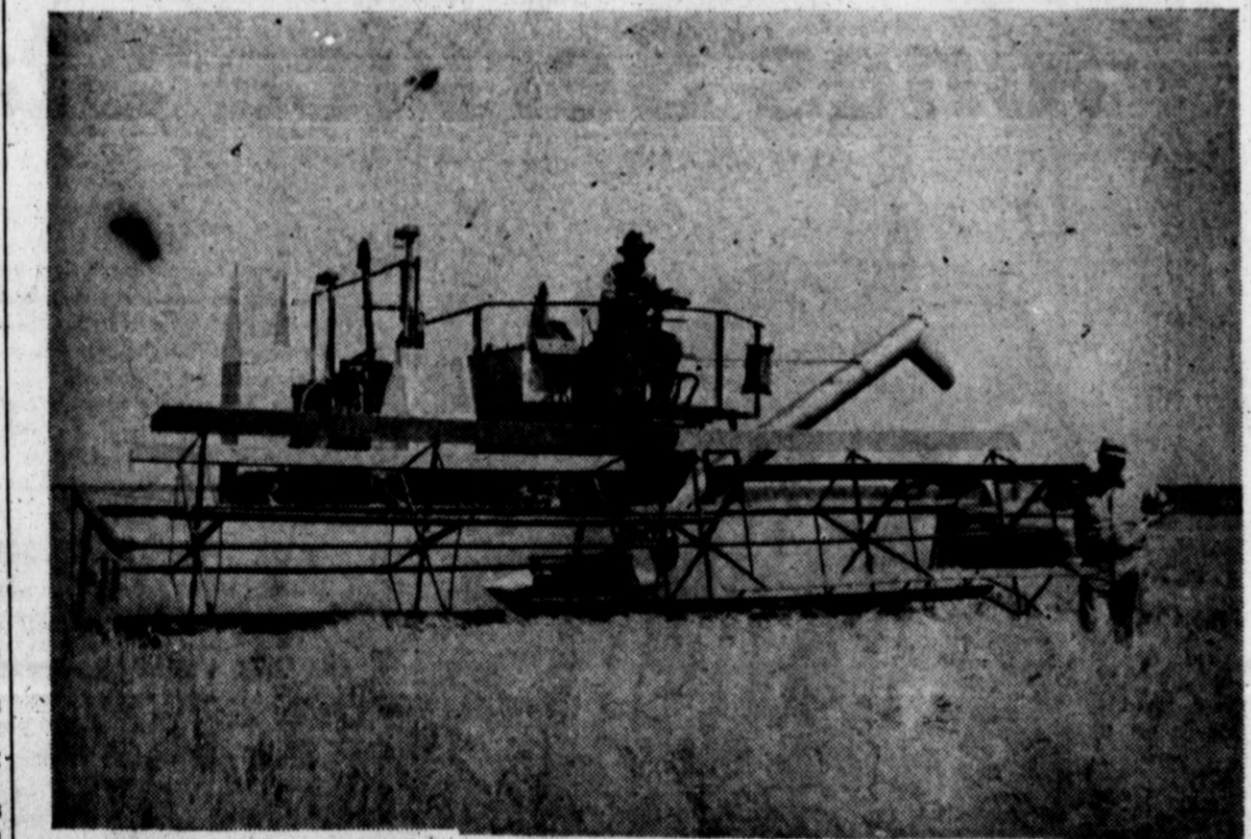

Postmaster Jim Lipscomb has issued a warning to everybody on the city delivery lists, or everybody who wants to be on these lists, to check their street addresses and see that they have the correct house number posted. (Continued on Page 6)

Homemade Combine Does Job

The Creeping Beetle, world's largest self propelled combine, is hard at work this week cutting 70 foot swaths in the wheat fields of Mayo and Galley.

Neighbors come, stand around and watch. They feel as Baker Wombie did, "I came out to see this brain child of Walter's. Hm, it looks O. K. to me."

Walter Galley is getting used to the curiosity and the comments, for this combine is his brain child. He made it, and every since he first started constructing it about four months ago the neighbors have come to watch, suggest and supervise, almost as interested in the process as Galley is.

His partner, John Mayo, admits that he was a bit dubious of the whole experiment when Galley first said he'd like to try building a combine, but after watching its trial runs this week, he says he's convinced.

And Galley, "Well, its doing a good job of thrashing wheat. It had a few bugs in it at first, but we got them all cleared up and things are working pretty well. I'm satisfied."

Looks And Acts Normal
It looks all right as it plows through the field, sucking up the wheat, feeding it mechanically into the conveyor belt, threshing out the grain and scattering the chaff behind it as it passes down

? QUESTION ? of the WEEK

What kind of shoes do you think women ought to wear?

Charlotte Lippard: "I think they should wear the ones most suited to their feet and the ones that look best on them."

Sully Gleason: "I think they ought to go barefooted, because they almost do anyway. In fact, I think I'll start doing that, too, because I'm kinda like they are. The only difference is that their shoes are all cut out on top and mine are all worn out on the bottom."

Betty Turpin: "Comfortable ones. Any kind so long as they are comfortable. Comfort to me is above all else. Shall I elaborate on that a little?"

Mrs. Bud Hopson: "Wedge heels. They give more support. I like to work in shoes that have wedge heels about medium height because they support your feet so much better. I like them fine."

Jim White: "Shoes? I'll swear I don't know anything about women's shoes. Maybe they ought to go without them; they might near do anyway. I kinda think the shoes they are wearing these days are a lot better than the old style shoes. They are cooler, look lots more comfortable. Course now, they don't take as much material as the old style shoes but they cost more. They must be harder to make cause there's so much sewing on 'em."

Mrs. Sully Gleason: "Women ought to wear comfortable shoes to work in and high heels to dress up in. Low heel shoes are better for work. They take better care of your feet, but when you dress up, you ought to wear high heels, pretty shoes. I really don't think women look dressed up unless they have on high heels."

E. W. Cawthon: "They ought to wear low heel shoes; they ought not to wear high heel shoes because they don't look comfortable. Why I saw a woman go by here a while ago and I guess the heels on her shoes were four inches high. Her toes were sticking right down to the ground. Course now I never have worn high heel shoes, but I have worn high heel boots. That was a long time ago though, and I just know those high heel shoes aren't comfortable."

Wendal Roberson Funeral Services Held Here Sunday

Last rites were conducted Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church for Wendal Roberson, 19 year old college student who was killed early Sunday morning in an automobile crash three miles east of town.

Roberson was born at Hereford, Sept. 16, 1929, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberson of Summerfield.

He attended schools at Summerfield and at Hereford High, being graduated with the Class of 1946. While he was in school he was a member of the Whiteface Band, business manager of the High School annual, the Whiteface Round-Up, and a member of the Hi-Y organization.

Wendal was also a charter member of the DeMolay unit in Hereford.

After his graduation, he attended West Texas State at Canyon, during the 1946-47 school term, transferred to New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces for his sophomore year and returned to WTSC last fall where he was enrolled as an agriculture major.

He was a member of the Baptist Church at Summerfield, joining the church when he was about ten years old. He was active in the youth organizations of the church and had been a regular member of the Sunday School.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. M. Weathers of Amarillo who was the former pastor of the Summerfield Baptist Church. Assisting were Rev. A. A. Simons, present pastor of the church and Rev. R. H. Cagle pastor of the First Baptist Church at Hereford.

Pallbearers were the high school classmates of the boy. They were Duane Williams, Bob Carnahan, Charles Frye, James Ellis Higgins, L. H. Lookingbill and J. R. Euler.

Burial was made in West Park Cemetery with the E. B. Black Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberson, his sister, Gail, the maternal grandmothers, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Neill of Lubbock, the maternal grand mother, Mrs. B. C. Roberson of Hereford, six uncles, and two aunts, including K. W. Neill, of Summerfield.

Official Wheat Loan Rate Is Set At $1.92

Official wheat loan rate for Deaf Smith County is $1.92, according to an Agriculture Conservation office report Tuesday.

The 1949 loan is a nickel above the $1.87 rate set last year. The loan expired July 1, and the long fourth of July week end held up commitments until Tuesday.

Reports Show Slump In 1949 Bank Deposits

Total deposits in Hereford banks through the first six months of 1949 showed a decrease of $1,248,924.59 from the December 31, 1948 total of $7,883,388.32, according to statements released this week by The First National Bank and Hereford State Bank.

Deposits have slumped $777,556.50 since the April 11 report. The decline only reflects the continuing trend reported at the end of 1948 when deposits were down $950,000 from the preceding year, which is a nationwide trend as well as local.

The reason explained at the start of the year for the decline, still holds good. 1947 was a bumper year for wheat when both big yields and big prices brought in plenty of money to the wheat farmers. Deposits stacked up, but greatly decreased 1948 yields, plus increased expenses did little to add to the farmers' income.

At that time First National Bank cashier V. O. Hennen said "people are beginning to spend their 1947 wheat money."

City funds which amounted to $800,000 from the bond issue, were sitting unused in 1947, but since the city has completed the sewage disposal project and the paving of city streets, these funds have been further depleted.

First National bank deposits are now $5,616,918.37, while the Hereford State Bank has $1,485,918.21, both being a slight drop from the statement two months previous, according to cashiers Hennen and William R. Phillips at the Hereford State bank.

Texas Today

By The Associated Press

West Texas is turning to farming and East Texas is cattle country.

Such is today's picture of changing Texas outlined by Bryan Blalock of Marshall, pioneer of the milk processing industry in the state.

Also, Blalock, explains in talks to service clubs, the milk cow is now crowding the beef steer for the No. 1 place as a cash crop for livestock men.

Twenty-five years ago East Texas produced most of the field crops in Texas. For instance, Anderson County produced 24,000 bales of cotton in 1926. But in 1946, by Texas Almanac figures, it had grown by only 761 Dallas county dropped from 55,000 bales to 12,000. Denton county from 46,000 to 6,200. Kaufman from 76,000 to 21,000.

In about the same time the number of farmers who sell milk have grown from less than 100 to more than 12,000 in northeast Texas.

"We are watching an evolution in agriculture," Blalock said. "The tractor caused it."

"In East Texas, we have 60-acre patch farms, worked by a negro and two mules. In Lubbock the other day, I talked to a man who farms 640 acres of cotton by himself. For several years a shortage of field hands held up West Texas. But now the mechanical cotton picker has finished the job the tractor started. Blalock was running the Marshall Chamber of Commerce in

Above, Cleveland Kamiakin, representing Yakima Indians now living on the Colville Reservation in Idaho, affixes his thumbprint to the treaty in Yakima, Wash., assisted by Ann George. The pact marks the first such alliance of Northwest Indians in history.

1928 when he first sensed the decline of cotton in East Texas.

He tried to get two big milk processing companies interested in coming to Texas. They told him the climate was too hot. So Blalock got local money at Marshall to back his idea. He and his associates built plants to turn milk into cheese, dried milk and evaporated milk at Marshall, Longview and Mount Pleasant.

This was the start of a new industry.

Further changes of ideas about agriculture would change the economy of urban Texas, Blalock believes.

"If the average income of the farmers who live in a 100-mile radius of Dallas could be raised to half the income of Iowa farmers, which is $11,900 a year, Dallas would become a city of a million people in a reasonable number of years," he predicted.

The greatest boon that could be given farming would be all the farm-to-market roads Texas needs, Blalock said.

Progress Of Modern Farming Method Marked By Furrow Guide Deaf Smith Farmer Devised

C. N. McClure has been growing cotton for a quarter of a century and in that time he's watched modern farming methods dwindle the time-consuming labors of the hardworking farmer.

His latest innovation is a furrow guide, a double disc attached to the front of the tractor which keeps the machine rolling down the field and allows the operator to concentrate on his other work instead of devoting his sole attention to driving the tractor.

This disc attachment is not a new device, but was worked out by McClure about nine years ago when he was farming near Morton. Since that time it has gone into commercial production; however, McClure believes he is the only man in this county that is using it.

The design principal behind this furrow guide is that it regulates the direction which the tractor travels so that the operator can devote his efforts to watching the other machinery, planters, knives, etc. Actually, he is only needed to turn the machine around when it reaches the end of a furrow.

With this invention, it's more than theory that a man can stand at one end of the row, hop on the tractor and turn it around, then send it down to the other end of the row for another man to turn around. McClure said they actually tried that out once down at Morton, but that was when tractor speeds were slower.

Eleven Miles Per
In fourth gear the tractor travels about eight miles an hour. This year they've been using fifth gear, which ups the speed to about 11 miles an hour and makes catching the tractor at the end of a row a somewhat risky proposition.

McClure, using two John Deere tractors at this speed, both equipped with furrow guides, cultivated 700 acres of cotton in four days last week, beginning Wednesday morning and ending Saturday night. He used the same principal when he planted his crop, but it took about six days to get it seeded, because the tractors had to be driven slower.

It's comparisons like that which make the cotton farmer laud this modern day. A quarter of a century ago things were different.

"Twenty five years ago it would have taken me, working with a team planter, no telling how long to plant that field. Why I used to time myself and I remember I could do 32 half mile rows in half a day," he recalled.

No Comparison
Now, with two tractors, he can do 32 half mile rows in slightly over half an hour. It takes about 4 minutes to cross a half mile field and about a minute to turn around.

The tractor and knife attachment he was using this week to weed the cotton, cover four 40-inch rows with each swath. The tractor is driven on dual tires, and one furrow rides between each of these tires, the center row between the two front tires, and the fourth row is cultivated to the right of the right hand wheels.

"This principal can be used on truck garden crops, too. It also works excellently on various feed crops, a fact proven by practice. Its big advantage is the accuracy and efficiency which it promotes; holding the tractor to one spot, and therefore making all the rows parallel," said McClure.

First Polio Reported In Deaf Smith

First case of polio reported in Deaf Smith was diagnosed Wednesday morning. Eleven year old Ruby Wilcox is the first victim of the disease. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilcox who live in the Dawn community.

Dr. L. B. Barnett who diagnosed the case, said Ruby had apparently been stricken with the disease about a month ago, and had passed the critical stage. She was sent to the polio center in Plainview and will remain there until a bed is available at the Children's Hospital in Dallas. Her left arm and leg have been affected by the paralysis.

Ruby was brought to the physician for treatment on Tuesday night but examination and overnight observation revealed that she had the disease for quite some time.

And as polio hit Hereford, communities all over Texas were struggling against the onslaught of the worst polio epidemic in years, and clamping down on all health measures that might in any way prevent spread of the dreaded disease.

In Denton, Texas, five members of one family were stricken.

Dumas residents, moving to take every possible precaution, were spraying the town with a double solution of DDT, a solution strong enough to cause excessive wilting of broad leaved vegetables and plants, but also strong enough for maximum killing of insects.

In Moore County three cases had been reported and one of them had proven fatal, when five year old Billy Kimbley died of bulbar-type polio last Monday.

The Plainview clinic has been deluged with patients.

Littlefield, with two cases of polio already reported in Lamb county, and Spearman, Memphis, Canadian and other Panhandle towns are sponsoring clean-up campaigns.

Postal Receipts Show June Drop

Most things expand with the heat; postal receipts do not. At least they do not this year. In fact, just like a cube of ice, they seem to be shrinking as the days get hotter.

1948 racked up $3,560.65 in receipts for the month of June. 1949 trailed a sad $117.56 behind, just peaking over the top with $3,443.09.

However, June's neighbors came along to rescue it from complete oblivion, and with their own records, managed to push the quarter over the top, forcing 1948 into a disgruntled and place.

Black Furniture And General Home Have Management Changes

E. B. Black Furniture Company, founded in 1901 and one of the oldest businesses in town, last week announced a change in management. W. Jesse Stanford and Dick Barnard have assumed ownership of the Furniture Company and Matt Gilliland and Marlin Gilliland have bought the General Home. The company, founded by E. B. Black, just turned the turn of the century furniture store and funeral home have been situated in the location longer than any other Hereford business. Stanford and his son-in-law, Dick Barnard, say the company will continue to operate under the name of E. B. Black, with no change in business policy. The General Home, under the direction of the Gillilands, a father and son partnership, will continue as the Gilliland Funeral Home. Four men have been associated with the business for some time. Matt Gilliland, whose seniority dates from 1914, is now a partner of Mr. Jesse Stanford, son-in-law of the founder began work with the company in 1916.

The business was incorporated in 1928. Marlin Gilliland joined the force in 1936 and Dick Barnard, youngest of the group has been working there for the past three years.

County Wheat Harvest Estimated 80% Completed With Little Storage Space

Harvest was estimated at 80 per cent finished in Deaf Smith County Wednesday and B. H. Tate, Texas Employment Commission representative, closed his Hereford office Wednesday, moving on to other harvest areas.

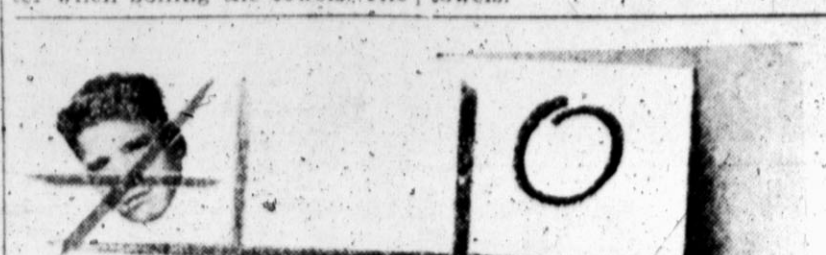

During his two week stay here he had placed 139 combines, 181 trucks and 471 workers to help local wheat farmers get in their grain.

"It looks like the per acre yields may get better for they are now cutting the late wheat that wasn't damaged so much by hail," reported Tate.

Storage piles mounted over the county farm storage units, everything from abandoned buildings to special granaries, were checked full of wheat and it was still going on the ground.

Elevator men were busy trying to find terminals that could take their grain, but the storage picture didn't look any brighter. Grain that was still being cut was low test weight, a general trend every season for late harvested grains usually weigh less. This season, however, the trend is even more pronounced than usual because hail hit wheat is of poorer quality.

Texas farmers own close to 215,000 tractors. From this number, estimates show that 21 million gallons of gasoline is wasted every year in Texas alone. That means just 100 gallons a tractor.

A thorough grain bin cleaning is important to keep out insects. Before storing any grain, harvest this year, clean out and spray your grain bin to kill the insects that are already there, and keep the rest out while the grain is in storage.

One million insects have been classified by scientists.

Special Summer Activities Are Being Provided

Special summer activities for the young people are being conducted at the First Methodist Church, according to Don D. Davidson, pastor.

A special forum is conducted each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock for college students only. The purpose of the forum is to provide helpful counsel and discussion for the outstanding problems of college youths. Rev. Davidson conducts the course which is divided into two twenty minute periods, the first utilized by the pastor for asking questions, and the last period used for questions and discussions by the young people. The course is open to all visitors who care to attend, provided that they are college students.

Don Martin is directing a Youth Leisure Time program which provides a schedule for Junior, Senior, Intermediate, Primary and Beginner young people. The Juniors meet on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons; the primaries and beginners meet Saturday morning; the Intermediates meet Tuesday evenings; and the Seniors meet Thursday evening and Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. This program is an experiment in providing directed recreational activity for the boys and girls and young people who need leisure time help.

Amarillo Stockyards Auction Opens Soon

Pete Knapp, owner and manager of the Amarillo Stockyard Auction, formerly Texas Livestock Auction, has announced an intensified advertising campaign over the Panhandle will be started soon.

Knapp was formerly associated with the Clovis Cattle Commission company. Plans call for 31 Panhandle county newspapers to carry ads on the July 20 opening as well as an airplane which will fly over every town dropping handbills.

Bootlegger Fined $100 Plus In County Court

Louis Marez pleaded guilty to charges of having intoxicating liquor in his possession with intent to sell in county court and was fined $100 and costs this week.

Aster Alston has been picked up and jailed in Aspermont and a member of the sheriff's department will bring him to Hereford today to face charges of swindling on a check he wrote here last summer, according to Sheriff Reese.

CARTILAGE BANK PLANNED IN DENMARK COPENHAGEN (P)—Eye banks and blood banks have become well known factors in modern medical science. Danish doctors now plan a "cartilage bank." The idea is to store cartilage, removed after death, and use it in operations. Tests have proven highly successful, doctors said.

"THE CAR OF THE FUTURE"—That's what they called this unconventional-looking automobile at the Oakland, Calif., Auto Show. Above, model Sherry Stevens steps into the tear-drop-shaped vehicle, which has four independently sprung wheels set in a diamond shape. The wheel arrangement gives it a turning radius of 12 feet—about half that required by a standard auto. Only drawback to the "Car of the Future" is its building cost—$5000, not including labor.

Few Delinquents Among Tax Payers In County Today

As of June 30, 1949, unpaid county, state and school taxes rendered in Deaf Smith County for the year 1948 become delinquent, but Worth Covington, deputy in the Tax Collector's office happily reports that 97 and one-third of all the taxes charged here have been paid.

Although it's a mere two and two thirds per cent of the entire total, that goes begging, it's still a bit lower percentage than the delinquent tax list of 1948. At that time 98 and two-tenths per cent had been paid.

A total of $156,400.16 was charged in county taxes and $152,270.69 have been paid. Of the amount charged, state taxes, $89,096.18; and school taxes, $31,284.34.

Of the delinquent taxes, county taxes suffered the most. Some $2,540.81 is still owed, whereas only $499.05 is due in school taxes and $989.81 in state taxes. Still Covington is pretty happy. "Ten years ago we were lucky to collect seventy per cent of the taxes that were due," he said.

build a self propelled combine for a long time, so early in 1949 he decided to take the bull by the horns and start out.

"I really didn't build this from scratch," he points out. "In fact I didn't change the thrashing part of the machine but I made it self propelled, put the header in front of the machine."

Galley started early in February with a 1928 Holt No. 36 pull type combine, with 20 foot blades. Four months and $3500 later he rolled his combine out of the barn and took a crack at harvesting wheat. After a few minor adjustments Monday, he was ready to go after it.

Motor Costs Most
Biggest expenses were the $1100 outlay for two new motors a Chevrolet motor to turn the thrashing unit and a Dodge motor to propel the combine.

The most difficult job in the conversion process was getting the right angle drive to drive the cylinder, Galley explained. This took him about 30 days. Although he started work in February he wasn't able to work on it all the time.

"He sure thought a lot about it though," said Mrs. Galley. "He used to lie awake nights thinking about that thing."

The machine uses about 35 gallons of gas a day, about average for such a machine. It's overall length is 27 feet and the storage bin holds about 70 bushels of grain. The total weight is about 15,000 pounds, and it has ten tires, eight supporting the tandem assembly at the front.

Galley, incidentally, is particularly interested in the speed-up processes that can be worked out for modern day, mechanized farming. He was the first man in the country to put a loading spout on a combine so the men could load going. That was a combination he worked out five years ago, a case born of necessity when the bins were two low to unload onto trucks.

Like Electric Razor
"This self propelled combine sort of reminds me of my electric razor," mused Mayo. "It gets around the corners of a field just exactly like that razor gets around the corners of my nose."

That isn't the only advantage to the machine, for it saves time, taking fewer cuts, to a field, saves manpower, with only one man on the machine and saves wheat, getting in the hard-to-reach places.

Galley has been a farmer all his life, and as a farm-born mechanic he took charge of all the machinery on the place. This is the biggest project he's ever attempted, but he got in training for it last year when he made a 32 foot Hoeme' from two 15 foot ones.

GIVES ROBINS THE BIRD—Every year Arthur Axx of Lake-wood, O., has been plagued by birds, mostly robins, which nested in his cherry tree and pecked holes in his fruit crop. But this year Axx foiled the feathered creatures by bandaging the whole tree in tobacco cloth. Now, while the birds stare wistfully from nearby telephone wires, the Axx family is enjoying a cherry pie.

Masons Install Lodge Officers

Installation of officers for the coming year was the feature of a meeting of the Hereford Lodge No. 849, A.F. & AM at a meeting held Saturday, June 30.

H. C. Baird, Past Master, and W. C. Hromas, Immediate Past Master served as installing officers. Those taking office were Henry Sears, Worshipful Master; Charlie Noland, Senior Warden; O. P. Cowart, Junior Warden; J. B. Noland, Senior Deacon; Bill Phipps, Junior Deacon; and Travis Caraway, Tiler.

Retiring officers were W. C. Hromas, Worshipful Master; Herman Ford, Senior Warden; Henry Sears, Junior Warden; O. P. Cowart, Senior Deacon; Charlie Noland, Junior Deacon; Bill Phipps, Tiler.

To meet up with Wayne Evans can sure turn a grey day inside out in a hurry. Seems like some folks just ooze friendliness.

Been wonderin' what the chances are for a local flour mill to rig up to make potato flour out of culls. The cost is cheap and potato bread goes over big with folks with allergies and avoirdupois, they say.

Such phrases as: Dig me, Jack!, schmoe, Howdy Peon, jivedive, and sloppy jappy maybe an intelligent means of communication between teenagers but to us they mean only one thing, that we undoubtedly must be creeping into middle age.

Of course every man thinks he is God's gift to woman, but some seem to get the idea that they are done up in an extra special package unmistakably labeled as such. Surprisin' how much good wrapping is sometimes wasted on a small parcel.

Stolen Car Reported Here

Officers have been alerted to watch for a stolen black Dodge coupe, 1941, license number AA 6799 which was taken from the PDQ garage Monday night.

Sheriff J. C. Reese reported the car was recovered late Tuesday by the Highway patrol. It was abandoned between Umbarger and Canyon.

Police Chief F. S. Buckalew who investigated the theft, said the garagemen closed the building about 10 p. m. Monday night and discovered the loss when they opened up Tuesday morning.

Officers believed the thieves entered the building through a broken door panel in the east entrance and drove the car out through the door on the south. This door had a night lock on it and could be opened easily from inside the building.

No clues pertaining to the crime have been discovered, but all law authorities in this area have been notified of the theft. The car belonged to Gilbert Hooper, who works at the garage.

Second
Guessing

By JERRY STOLTZ

Pickings were slim for second guessing this week. The trotline controversy is still in the process of being controversial. VFW didn't play Sunday. The Legion lads played a rough, rowdy and wild game at Dalhart against Stratford. Joe Smith says if the local boys can get over having that one bad inning they can play ball with any team in this neck of the woods. Engman is too good for the ump's calling the games and doesn't get many of those corner pitches called strikes, according to Joe.

Four umpires, not even one from either Hereford or Stratford, will call the crucial tilt for the district title Friday.

Fishing wasn't so hot at Buffalo over the week end. I guess the only real catches were made early Sunday morning. But the place wasn't lacking in fishermen. Boats were as scarce as the fish Sunday. The road is blacktopped out to the Park entrance from Umbarger now, in case you haven't been out that way.

Looking back in sports, 14 years ago today Helen Willis Moody staged her brilliant comeback to recapture her crown as queen of the tennis world. It was one of the many battles between the two Helens. She crushed her arch-rival Helen Hull Jacobs 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 on the court at Wimbledon, England for the English Women's Singles Championship.

It was also about this time 26 years ago that Jack Dempsey lost his reputation as a superman. That was the fight when Tommy Gibbons stayed the route with the champ. I guess you noticed where Jack Kearns, manager of the "Manassas Mauler," went on record as saying "er," went on record as saying "er." He says the "Brown Bomber" won't turn down the million dollar gate he can get with whoever is champ by the time Charles and the rest of the bums settle this heavyweight title picture.

Legion Jrs. Bounce Stratford 9-8 To Tie Up District Playoff Series

Hereford American Legion Juniors came through in the clutch with a nine inning 5 run rally and in turn quenched a

Stratford rally in the last of the ninth to win the second game of the district playoff 9-8 Saturday night in Dalhart.

Stratford won the toss for the third and deciding game of the series. It will be played in Stratford Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Hereford went into the big ninth trailing 4-6. However, a first inning anearmed run when Leonard Walterscheid got on with a fielder's choice and scored on a passed ball, gave the local nine a one run lead up to the fifth when Stratford scored one to tie up the game.

Stratford scored on a triple and squeezed play. Stratford added two more in the sixth with a double single and wild throw to first on a strike out. They made it 6-1 in the seventh, with three more on a couple of errors, a triple and wild pitch.

Jack Stanton brought Hereford to life when he walked with one down in the eighth. Walterscheid laced a double into left sepring Stanton and scored himself on Pat Corbett's single through short. Pat scored on Engman's single to bring the score to 6-4.

Patterson fanned and Bill Engman drove in the eighth run with a double. Thomas singled and Hennen ended the inning striking out.

Stratford tried in the last half, scoring on a walk, a double and a passed ball. Engman struck out three batters in the final inning to run up 17 strikeouts for the game. Boren of Stratford struck out 12 Hereford batters and walked five. Engman walked four.

FAMOUS HITTERS

Did you know Ted Williams will be the only player in American league history, other than the famous Ty Cobb, to win the Junior circuit batting crown five times if he makes it this year? Cobb lead the league 12 seasons.

VFW And Umbarger Play Sunday After Layoff From League Play

Hereford VFW gets back into the swing of Central Plains league play Sunday at Umbarger, after a two week layoff.

Coasting along in second, two games back of first place Vega and a full game in front of third place Canyon, the local nine can just about clinch a playoff spot by winning Sunday and half of the remaining games.

To stick in second Hereford will probably have to win every game since the eight team league is rapidly narrowing down to the top three.

It Sure Seemed Like A Good Idea To Him

Sidelights on the summer: This was cherry picking time. The trees, weighed down with their ripe red fruit, were enough to tempt any boy. So Jerry Witherspoon remembered what Cecil Guseman had told him last year, and helped himself, carrying home to his mother a huge pile of cherries.

"Where did you get those, Jerry?" asked Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon.

"Well, last year Mr. Guseman told me to help myself and so I figured he wouldn't mind again this year. They sure will make a good pie."

"Yes, they will," agreed his mother, and she sat Jerry to stoning the cherries by hand.

When he finished, she baked a pie, a crusty, steaming cherry pie with layers of big, sweet fresh cherries folded in between a browned and flaky crust.

"Sure looks good, mom," said Jerry.

"Does it? I'm glad you think so, now you take this right over to Mr. Guseman and apologize," she instructed. "Yes, it's all a part of growing up."

Church Group Holds Wednesday Meeting

The Seventh Day Adventists held a Dorcas meeting, Wednesday, June 29th at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. C. P. Grimes.

After a short devotional service the group went to the home of Mrs. T. A. Sullins and enjoyed a quilting party.

Present were Mrs. Daisy Turnbow, Irene Sellars, Lula Catrell, Mrs. H. C. Bowsher, Vera Lee Catrell, Belle Grimes, Patsy Hyde, Betty Mae Grimes and the hostess.

An Appeal To All Irrigation Farmers IN THE HEREFORD AREA

Working with the Texas Water Conservation Association, your local Water Users Association has been able to ward off legislation which would be detrimental to this area, and to the entire Irrigation Belt.

Trips to Austin and to points over the entire Panhandle have been expensive, and funds of the organization have been exhausted. We ask you, therefore, in the interest of your own family and continued operation of your irrigation wells to help out with a $10 donation per well or more, so that this work may be carried on.

To quit now means to lose what has already been done. House Bill No. 162, passed and signed June 2 by Gov. Jester establishes the fact that water rights belong to the people and (2) that if, and when, control of irrigation becomes necessary, it will be handled by the people rather than by state or national regulations.

"POOR TIMBER" BUSINESS BOOMS—Old-timers used to say "there's not an inch of good lumber in a square mile of it," but forward-looking timber farmers are ready to turn North Carolina's old-field softwood trees into profits. The secret is a greening process promoted by the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development which makes softwood timbers last up to 50 years instead of five. Small plants like the one above can turn out up to 600 fence posts a day, at 65 cents a post. Lumber, crossties and electric light poles are also produced from timber formerly considered worthless.

Typhus Fever Is Decreasing Over State Of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS — The people of Texas have been fortunate in escaping any serious outbreaks of typhus fever this year, the total number of reported cases so far being 133. This is a gratifying decrease in the incidence of this disease, but at the same time, it is well to warn that only continued stringent rodent-control measures will hold this disease in check.

This is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that "typhus is one of the most debilitating of all diseases, and the long drawn out illness results in such loss of time that this factor is usually even more expensive to the victim, than his doctor and hospital bills."

Inasmuch as typhus fever is transmitted to man by the rat flea, the control of typhus depends almost entirely upon ridding ourselves of rats. No garbage should be left exposed where they can get to it to feed. Granaries and feed houses should be rat-proofed so that rats are starved out. All rat harborage such as trash piles, piles of old lumber, accessible quarters in the walls and foundations of buildings and other suitable living quarters, should be denuded them. Houses and business buildings can be effectively rat-proofed at a comparatively low cost, and the expense is always much less than the damage that can be done by rats, and the sickness they can spread.

"When the rat is gone, typhus fever will go also," Dr. Cox said. "Keep building out, starving out, and killing all rats, and typhus fever will no longer menace the health of our people."

MAINTENANCE CREW WADES MUD

To Maintain Good Gas Service

PIPE line maintenance crews are but one of many divisions behind your natural gas service. A crew's job is to keep transmission pipe lines, carrying natural gas to your home, in good repair and to work during such emergencies that might occur.

The picture, shown above, was made of a maintenance crew carrying repair equipment to the scene of a line break. Maintenance crews are trained to meet such emergencies, and due to their training the customers of the town this line serves continued to have good gas service although the natural gas flow was cut while the repair was being made.

Yes... maintenance of pipe lines is very important to good gas service.

Maintenance of pipe lines is only one of many functions performed by employees of West Texas Gas Company...all of which are designed to furnish you good natural gas service, high in quality, low in price...the best bargain in your family budget.

The Picture

Members of one of West Texas Gas Company's maintenance crew are carrying a section of pipe to the scene of a pipe line break. Mud was so deep repair equipment could not be transported on trucks to the break, indicated by arrow, which is over one quarter of a mile from the men.

Compliments Guest

Mrs. Ernestine Wayland of Independence, Kansas who has been visiting Mrs. Seth B. Holman, Mrs. H. A. Close, and other friends here the past week, was complimented informally Thursday at a bridge-luncheon given at the home of Mrs. Holman with Mrs. W. L. Davis, Sr. as cohostess.

Mixed summer flowers provided a seasonal setting for the party and after the luncheon bridge games were enjoyed in the rumpus room. High score award went to Mrs. C. C. Acker, second to Mrs. J. A. Pitman and low to Mrs. J. H. Pitman. The honor guest was presented with a guest award.

Long Time Ago

"The tension which has prevailed here for the past two or three weeks over the weather outlook eased up perceptibly Sunday night when a gentle rain began falling and was only a memory Monday morning when the gauge showed eight-tenths of an inch of the kind of rain that soaked into the ground as it fell," the Brand for July 3, 1924 reported.

Reaction among Herefordites was described by the Brand reporter thus: "The effect of the rain was felt in every way in this country. A large part of the crop prospects each spring revolves around the mental condition of the people and the rain has put the right kind of psychology into the atmosphere. The doubt has been taken out of the doubtful, the silver lining is showing through the clouds. The spring fever has been stopped; the eyes of the Southwest are on the Plains country, due to its cotton venture and its systematic advertising for the past year. The brightest outlook in years faces this section."

With that optimistic note, the Brand admonishes "Everybody to step in and do his or her share." Except for the basket dinner and barbecue at Westway, no celebration plans were made for the Fourth of July, although all the stores were going to close.

Apparently some one was planning to celebrate the holiday in a big way according to this story: "Seven men and a twenty gallon keg of doubtful corn 'hooch' was the net results of a joint raid by peace officers of Deaf Smith and Oldham Counties Sunday afternoon on a ranch about twenty eight miles northwest of Hereford." A new feature of bootlegging developed out of this raid, according to Sheriff C. S. Purcell who said: "I don't know what the style in stills is in other portions of the country, but the present Deaf Smith county fashion seems to be to erect a portable kind. They work it on the order of a threshing machine and crew that visits different farms. They put the still and an oil stove in an automobile or truck, plant mash at different points for proper aging and working, then when it is ready the perambulating distillery hits the road, visits the different plants, running the mash through the still at each place, and then hiking on to the next batch that is about ready. Then the still is hidden away in the breaks until needed again."

About forty National Guardsmen of the Hereford company were preparing their camp outfits for movement to Fort Crockett to attend the annual summer camp, according to Captain Buford Farmer and Lt. A. L. Biggs. "The novelty of training at Galveston where sea bathing and fresh fish may be enjoyed, is eagerly looked forward to by the boys," said the Brand.

The cornerstone for the new Deaf Smith County Hospital was laid that week without formal ceremonies. Members of the Commissioners Court were witnesses.

Jack rabbits were proving a menace to the crops in the county that year and many farmers were complaining to the county commissioners that something must be done. It was estimated that in some parts of the county the rabbits were responsible for as much as ten per cent damage to crops. The Brand suggested that the bounty of five cents offered for rabbits' ears be doubled in order to get results.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Wilkinson entertained with a luncheon and bridge during that week, with the following guests present: Misses Frances Oberthier, Wanda Wilkinson, Pauline Steele, Dyaltha Stovall, Loreta Murphy, Kathleen Hawkins, Mary McDonald, Virginia Laird, Grace Ferguson, Eloise Pitman, Maurine Beyer, Lucile Hicks, Margaret Thompson, Mary Valentine, Gwendolyn Price, Ruby Fay Bennett, Thelma Tynes, Mary Eess Satterwhite of Amarillo, and Hazel O'Brien.

Local items included: "Mrs. Rex Tynes was stricken with appendicitis last Friday night, and was taken to the local sanitarium for an operation Saturday morning." "Miss Elizabeth Ireland arrived home from Canyon Tuesday morning, accompanied by Misses Dorothy and Rosa Cash of Canyon"; "Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hucker and family were dinner guests at the home of Fritz Friemel in Umbarger last Sunday;" and "Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Conkright and girls, Nancy and Ruth, Mrs. Daniel,

Gas Station Attendant Now Formerly Was Aide To Senator Pappy O'Daniel At $10,000 A Year

By TEX EASLEY
Ap Special Washington Service Washington, (AP)—Former Texas, Adjutant General Harry Knox, who held down a $10,000-a-year job as aide to W. Lee O'Daniel when the latter was in the U. S. Senate, is now the lone, night attendant at a suburban filling station.

His title is night manager, but he is the whole shebang. He wipes the windshields, fills up the gas tanks, checks the tires. He changes oil and fixes flats.

The 48-year-old, former Brownwood wholesale merchant, one-time chairman of the Texas State Board of Control and in charge of vast expenditures of tax funds, is philosophical.

His salary is $50 a week. He works from 11 p. m. to 8 a. m. His wife and 14-year-old daughter lip-toe lightly about their apartment during the day while he gets his sleep.

Interviewed at his home shortly before his "breakfast" the other evening, he said: "You know when I come home now with my $50. I feel good, I sure enough feel like one of the common citizens."

He paused for a moment, then added with a grin: "And I'm not saying that for any public effect."

Knox was the typical, small city wholesale merchant until his path and O'Daniel's happened to cross. The latter was selling flour. When O'Daniel decided to run for governor, Knox was one of his first and most enthusiastic supporters. He still is.

When the erstwhile flour salesman entered the governor's mansion at Austin, he picked Knox as his Adjutant General. Then, the Brownwood merchant served for six years on the state board of control. Meanwhile, O'Daniel came to Washington as a senator. At the expiration of Knox's term on the board of control he came up to head the senator's secretarial staff.

With O'Daniel gone from the national political scene, Knox looked about for another job. He applied for a job at the Agriculture Department, Commerce Department and other government agencies.

He said he had proper Civil Service credentials and a "strong endorsement" from both Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, and from Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo. The latter represents the district which includes Brownwood. Incidentally, Knox made an unsuccessful race for Congress when Fisher was elected for his first term, in 1942.

"It seems that every time I tried for a job," he continued,

"they'd find there was no vacancy for a man of my qualifications."

"One agency executive remarked, I learned, that he 'wouldn't touch that man with a 40-foot pole.' Another sent word to one of my endorsers that they couldn't take me on because O'Daniel had caused them so much trouble."

"That's not official, but I know perfectly well that the reason I couldn't get a government job was because of my affiliation with O'Daniel."

Satisfied that he wouldn't be able to get on the government payroll, Knox then began to look elsewhere for work.

He says he hopes eventually to retire to a farm or ranch, along the shores of Lake Brownwood, but that right now he wants to stay in Washington and pay off a mortgage on a six family-unit apartment house he acquired a year and a half ago.

The re-brick three-story building is located directly across the street from the U. S. Supreme Court lawn and next to the big apartment building which O'Daniel owned while he was in the Senate. Knox declined to state what he paid for his property, but said he wouldn't sell it for $50,000.

"I'm paying it off in regular payments, just like you'd pay for your home," he added.

"I figure I'll have it paid off in 13 1/2 years. No, the rents I get from the five apartments we rent out isn't enough to take care of the payments and upkeep."

Knox says he plans to acquire a filling station of his own, when he finds one he can lease at a reasonable figure.

The station he operates is owned by a major oil company. He thinks the financial risk is too great for an individual to build a big expensive filling station of his own. The experience he is getting now, which even includes scrubbing the oil spots off of a concrete parking apron during the 'wee hours of the morning, will come in handy when and if he does take over a station for himself, he figures.

Answering a parting question about politics, he said he personally never intends to run again for public office. He inferred, however, that perhaps he would like some day to again be in a good appointive position.

"You know," he added, "there is talk that O'Daniel might run for governor again."

"Maybe he ought to. The expenses of the Texas State Government have risen to three and a half times what they were when he was governor."
