Emergency Lighting Equipment Lacking in Hospital Addition

Deaf Smith County Hospital—undergoing a remodeling and renovating job at a cost of $200,000 plus—was disclosed Monday to have no provisions for emergency lighting equipment should regular electric lights go off, although the modernization of the hospital included such touches as accounting ceilings and $800 for ventilating blinds.

This fact was made public at a meeting of the Commissioner's Court by architect Guy A. Carlender who blueprinted the hospital addition when he asked the court to consider making some provisions for such stand-by equipment.

"This was included in the original hospital plans but when costs started rising, it was one of the first things eliminated," said Carlender.

Absolutely Essential

Doctors and hospital attendants quizzed later said they considered the addition of emergency lighting machinery as "absolutely essential."

At present, if the lights go out all over town or on the line that services the hospital, the building is left in complete darkness. There are no hall lights burning. Emergency cases brought in during such a black out would have to be handled by the light of flashlights; signal lights in patient's rooms will not work and there is no way for them to signal the nurses. There is no substitute lighting should the lights go out while an operation is in progress, although the lighting installed in the new operating room was budgeted at $995.

"In the old hospital wing we had emergency motors in the surgery room but now we have moved the operating room facilities in the other wing where there is none at all. It is certainly something we need," said Elmer Mathis, manager of the hospital.

Mathis said several times the lights had gone off, so the staff knows from experience the very real need for such lighting. Only last week lights were off for 45 minutes. Once they were off for more than an hour.

Luckily No Emergencies

"We haven't had any emergencies yet, but that is just luck. Everytime we have a storm I hold my breath," he said.

Dr. L. B. Barnett declared: "I consider this an absolutely essential addition to the hospital."

Speaking for members of the hospital board, Jim Witherspoon said, "There are a great many things we need, including this which had to be cut in order to get the building with the funds available at the time. We will have to connect the battery equipment formerly in use so it can be used in the new surgery wing."

Cost estimates on the lighting were not available. Carlender said that after that item had been eliminated, no estimates were made and he netted said the only estimate that he remembered was the $1,100 for the battery-type.

Advocates Delco System

Carlender said he would advocate installation of a delco system installed by a reliable electrical engineer, although it cost more than the battery sets.

"It is always reliable; however, it costs more," he told commissioners. "I realize you can do so much and no more with your funds; you've gotten along without it in the past and may always be able to get along without it; however, hospitals are doing a bigger business now than ever before and actually, with no such equipment, it's a big chance to take."

Commissioners said they could do nothing until they knew the condition of their funds.

Bonds, warrants, donations by doctors, federal aid and cash to be raised brought the total amount of funds for hospital expenditures to $249,549.

Modern improvements included in the building are air conditioning, equipment sterilizers, kitchen equipment, dark rooms and X-ray equipment.

HOT AND BOTHERED—New York summer temperatures are just too much for two-year-old Oleh Danielewicz, right, as his twin brother Wladimir mops his brow on their arrival from a European DP camp. They will settle with their parents in the Bronx—and hope that fall rolls around in a hurry.

Delegation Hears Explanation Of School Bus Riding Decision

"Hereford public schools would lose at least $200,000 if the county school board permitted school buses to carry private school students," said D. M. Tate, minimum foundation school program representative from Austin, in answer to questions from parents of children enrolled at St. Anthony's parochial school Tuesday morning.

Tate's statement included the fact that Hereford public schools would not receive foundation funds, transportation or salary aids if a state auditor's office representative should check and find private school children were riding public school buses.

Tate was meeting with school superintendents from Parmer, Castro and Deaf Smith counties in the County Courtroom, explaining the new Gilmer-Aiken law when Superintendent of Schools George Graham requested that the meeting be opened for questions from the private school group.

Questioned Bus Riding

Tate agreed and a spokesman from St. Anthony's stated that they have a private school in Hereford with about 150 pupils, saving the public school system the cost of six teachers, and that they were paying school taxes, thus they felt their children should be permitted to ride the buses.

The Gilmer-Aiken representative explained the ruling had been made by the Attorney General's office, and as Graham stated the law has been there all the time, except the penalty clauses had been added this year.

Laredo, Texas was cited by Tate as another example where citizens face the same problems they do here. He said there are four different religious denominations with private schools in Laredo. Everyone of those schools is in the same fix as is any other private school of any type. He pointed out that it is a state problem, not county or local.

Nothing For Their Taxes

Generally, private school opinion seemed to be that as taxpayers they should be able to enjoy the tax money. Although one man stated he felt such state rulings forced pupils into the public school system, thus robbing the right of sending children to private schools.

Tate also said there is no discrimination as to accreditation. Another question that was unanswered, concerned aid to the school cafeteria. Federal aid to cafeterias should be forthcoming, but the money is issued in Texas through the foundation fund which does not include private schools.

Answers to this as well as the transportation problem could be gotten by writing L. T. Sturgeon, director of the foundation, according to Tate.

Amended Law in Kansas

One St. Anthony's spokesman said a similar law to this had been amended in Kansas. Tate believed Oklahoma had made the same provision.

"The Gilmer-Aiken law is being administered by a group of school people and the whole deal has been worked out by a board of county school superintendents who met with the Attorney General," continued Tate, "no provision whatsoever was made for private schools and I think the only solution would be for the private school to operate their own transportation system. But I would advise you to write to Austin and see."

Penalty is Stiff

Asked if "it could not be worked out within this district," Tate pointed at the forfeiture the local public schools would pay if it was discovered their buses were carrying private school students.

Religion entered into the discussion only in so far that Judge Smith, Farmer County Judge, stated that it is a fundamental of our constitution that the church and state be separate as well as it is to preserve right of freedom of religion.

Superintendents Caffey of Frio, Willoughby of Bovina, Sims of Lubbudde, Williams of Farwell, Judge Smith and Graham and Deaf Smith county school board members attended the meeting. Tate clarified transportation and budget problems with respect to the Gilmer-Aiken law as well as other points of interest.

Associated Federal Hotels To Operate Hotel Jim Hill; Minor Changes Made

Last minute changes in Hotel Jim Hill plans were made Tuesday when Cecil Mills, president of the Associated Federal Hotels, met with several Hereford Hotel corporation members. All of the changes were minor, but were made with the viewpoint of greater economy in running the hotel when completed.

As an example the registration desk was moved to a position where guests can not only get keys and mail, and normally serve the hotel, but also the clerk can act as cashier for the coffee shop, thus saving the cost of one employee.

Associated Federal Hotels has been selected by the board of directors to operate the hotel. Details have been worked out by the Association and they are submitting a 20 year operating lease to the hotel corporation. The lease is on a flat fee plus percentage basis, according to O. P. Cowart, secretary-treasurer of the corporation.

Steel workers have completed riveting on the hotel project and brick layers have gone back to work. Between 12 and 15 bricklayers plus their helpers who will be local common labor, according to Cowart, will be put to work soon by A. R. Ratliff, construction superintendent. Plans still call for the hotel to be turned over to the corporation by the first of the year.

No Special V-J Day Observance Planned

The fourth anniversary of V-J Day will be observed quietly in Hereford August 14 as ex-servicemen, converted from soldiers, sailors and marines into farmers, businessmen and students, go about their routine Sunday activities.

Merchants have been asked to display their flags to mark the day in memory of that Wednesday, in 1945 when Japan officially surrendered and the war was over, but that will be about all the recognition the town will observe.

American Legion Commander T. J. Clay and VFW head Ben Childers said neither of their organizations were planning any special activities in observance of the day. Childers said his organization was planning to celebrate in September at the anniversary of the signing of the peace treaty but were not going to mark August 14 with any special parades, etc.

Since the day falls on Sunday, stores, post offices and banks will be closed anyway and only one store, a grocery store, has indicated they would be closed Monday in honor of the anniversary of Japan's surrender.

Quiet celebration activities marked the third anniversary of the surrender, also, although in 1946 and 1947 the town planned special fetes to mark the day.

HOME ON LEAVE—P. F. C. Glen D. Willier, who enlisted in the Army last December and who is now stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, is spending a 15 day leave here with his parents and married sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Willier and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Burgess, Jr. P. F. C. Willier is with a Tank Division at Benning. He plans to reenlist for two years when he returns. He is 19 years old and attended Hereford Public schools.

AROUND TOWN SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Some of the most amazing things noticed around town this week were, for example, the number of people that weren't. There were numerous times when Main Street was quite deserted. As Francis Hardwick remarked "You could shoot a gun straight down Main Street, and not frighten anybody." Whether people were staying home enjoying the week's 80 degree temperature, or so busy working in their shops or on their farms that they didn't have time to wander down Main continually, has not yet been determined.

The FFA meeting scheduled for Tuesday night at the High School was held, but as sponsor Bill Stanford patiently explained, "We have 40 boys in the club and only ten showed up, so we are going to try again." New meeting date is scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday and then officers will be elected and plans for the camping trip completed. Come one, come all, so they can get the business transacted, is the plea.

Sportsmen aren't all limited to the baseball fans, golf players and horseshoe enthusiasts and every so often another new addict shows up. This week it was Robert Gollehon who sneaked over to Colorado Springs to join in a Roquet Tournament there. It was an 11 day long event, and he played and won in four of the six events during their stay, but they had to cut the visit short so we'll never know whether Hereford had the potential champion or not. Roquet is a form of croquet, much a more difficult game, they tell us. Any other roquet lovers around here?

The Agriculture Conservation Association says there are still three weeks left for anyone to sign up for participation in the crop insurance program. Rates are $1.10 on dry land farms and $1.80 an acre for irrigated farms. Last year the ACA office let 174 contracts, mostly on dry land farms, and most of them are still being carried.

Two Plead Guilty In District Court

A district court jury panel, summoned to appear Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, was dismissed when defendants in the two cases scheduled to plead guilty Tuesday morning and the cases were disposed of by District Judge Harry Schultz.

Alvis Clifton Frazer, charged with theft over $50, pled guilty and was assessed a five year sentence on probation. He was charged with theft of pipe from the airport south of town, an incident which occurred back in 1948.

Pete Encinas, charged with a second offense of driving while intoxicated, was given a judgment and a sentence taken under advisement until late in October.

Both of these cases were tried on indictments returned in 1948.

Of the seven indictments returned in the August session of the grand jury, four were disposed of last week. The other three are check offenses and Sheriff J. C. Reese said one of the men is out on bond and the other two they did not have. These offenses can be tried any time within the next two years.

COMMISSIONERS SAY NO

Assistant County Agent Dropped Despite Many Letters Of Support

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH

Doris Mahaffey must be leaving. By September first her appointment as assistant agent in training will be up, and the County says they can't afford to keep her any longer.

Doris really doesn't want to go; she'd rather stay here in Deaf Smith as assistant county agent and work with the 4-H girls whom she has learned to know and to understand and to help. The 4-H girls didn't want her to go either. They said so.

"And the mothers of those girls and the 'big sisters,' the almost 300 members of Home Demonstration Clubs in the county, they didn't want Doris to leave either, and they said so, too, right where it counts. They wrote the commissioners and told them how they felt.

Yes, the Commissioners heard from plenty of the HD Club members. "I got lots of letters from them saying they wanted her to stay," said John I. Morris, commissioner of precinct 4. So did others.

Motion Died

Troy Moore got several letters, too. At a court meeting two weeks ago he moved that the young agent in training be kept. The motion died for want of a second.

So Doris has to go and all because Deaf Smith County, evaluation $10,124,561 doesn't have the money to pay her. $100 monthly salary. Her total annual county payment salary would be $1,200, only seven per cent of the total fines collected by the county through county court and justice of the peace courts.

Lettuce Crops Look Mighty Good But No Rash Predictions Are Forthcoming

Lettuce growers were looking over their crops this week and hoping that early August prospects would pay off in fall harvest that would cram their pockets with "pocket lettuce."

However, although they agreed the crops were looking mighty good, nobody was making any rash predictions. The growers were, in the main, farmers who had concentrated on diversified, irrigated crops and already this year they had seen several crops washed away or pelted down.

With about six to eight more weeks of growing season left, some patches were already at the thinning stage. Mexican labor was used in the fields to handle the crops.

Several farmers indicated they had not yet planted lettuce, but intended to put it on potato ground, once the spuds were out. Estimates on the number of acres still varies, but it hits around a thousand acres.

This is almost twice the number of acres that were planted in lettuce last year, and is an indication of the growing faith farmers of Deaf Smith and growers all over the country have in the prospects for the crop in this locale.

Representatives of Hereford Farms, Inc. and Williams Farms, both lettuce packers, said this week that the crops "sure looked good."

Newt Harding, of Williams Farms, shippers who came into this territory a couple of seasons ago, said the crop looked better this year than it had last season because growers managed to get it seeded, sooner. Although rains plagued June, they stopped in July long enough for farmers to get their crop planted.

Rain Hasn't Hurt

"We have gotten a little more rain than we really needed right now, but it won't hurt us any," he said.

Panhandle's lettuce growing district is not restricted to Deaf Smith's mineral packed soil. Farmers in the irrigation belt from Munroe to Hereford, are planting the leafy crop.

Richard Busch, of Hereford Farms, Inc., an organization that moved into the Hereford territory for the first time this season said he had been looking over the lettuce in the county and that it had good stands and a good growing color.

VFW Starts Play-Off Series Here Sunday

Hereford VFW, second place winner in regular Central Plains league play, will start the play-off Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Veteran's Park. They will play the winner of the Hart-Canyon game played yesterday or today in Canyon.

Canyon and Hart previously had a game rained out and league president Tom Ferris ruled this game would decide third place position.

Winner of this Hereford vs. third place team will then meet the winner of the Vega vs. fourth place team in a best two of three series. Site for the initial contest will be decided by a flip of the coin.

? QUESTION of the WEEK ?

What is your favorite season and why?

Mrs. E. T. Tomlinson: Fall is because I like the change in weather. Makes it cooler, you know, and that gives you a good feeling. I like fall clothes and I love fall colors, the colors of clothes, and hills and trees. I guess I'm just a nature lover.

Jonnie Estes: I really think it's kind of hard to decide but I guess I like summer best. Then you can come and go as you please—do things that you are too cooped up to do in winter.

Mrs. Will S. Kerr: I like fall because I think the weather is nicer in this climate. There are more flowers and not so much dust.

Mrs. Frances Houston: I like spring because school will soon be out and I will have the kids home with me for a few months. Then, too, I'm always glad to see it warm up. The kids like summer best because there isn't any school. I like spring clothes, too, after a winter of heavy suits and coats but then, I'm always glad for any seasonal change in clothes because I get tired wearing the same things.

Mrs. Wayne Lawrence: I like fall: I like the climate and everything about it. I used to live in Wyoming and fall was gorgeous there even prettier than here I think because we had so many pine trees and other foliage. The main reason I like it is because of the color.

Betty Solomon: Spring because everything begins to get green, the weather is pleasant; it's such a nice change from winter. I like spring sports, too.

Mrs. Don Martin: Fall. I just love those cool bright October days I think ever since I was a little girl. I've always liked it best.

BONES RATTLE AT MONTE CARLO—The internationally-famous Monte Carlo Casino at Monaco tries out the traditional American game of "galloping dominoes," as Lillian Moore and two other Monte Carlo girls place their bets. The head croupier of the Casino spent three months in the U.S. learning the nomenclature of the game. If "le craps" proves popular with Europeans, the plush chambers of the Casino may soon echo to cries of "les boxeurs" and "fighter from Reantur!"

Hereford Churches

Sunday, August 14, the First Methodist Church will observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in the morning service, with an appropriate sermon. A special feature is added to the evening services for the month of August, which gives the thirty minutes of the evening service to organ music. A special devotional message will include this eight o'clock service. The organ music for August will be given by Mrs. Jesse Sanford. On August 21 it will be presented by Miss Betty Solomon, and on August 28 by Mrs. Thomas Sappington. Visitors are welcome to these services.

Dease Clark is in the Annual Assembly this week representing the Hereford Methodist Church and the Amarillo District District Officer.

Youth activity continues to feature worship services and social activities leading up to the closing school term. Duane Christian presided over the Council Meeting last week and interest continues to be good in the Youth Program.

Bob Wear of the Church of Christ has announced a change in meeting time for the regular mid-week service on Wednesday night, which will begin at 8 o'clock rather than 8:30. Other regular services this week will be held at the previously scheduled times.

At the first Baptist Church, Rev. R. H. Cagle is still out of town. Guest speaker at the Sunday morning and Sunday evening services will be Red Hardin, who is business manager at Wayland College, in Plainview.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church will meet next Wednesday, July 17, at the home of Mrs. Bill Roy Waldrep. The Rev. Mr. Henry Seaman, rector of the church, will be guest speaker. Meeting time is 3 o'clock.

Johnny McIver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McIver, left Tuesday morning for a two week trip to Gallup, New Mexico where he will visit in the home of his uncle, Manson Jones. They will attend the Gallup Indian Festival.

Too bad a guy named Lewis wasn't loungin' around the lobby of Hotel Jim Hill last Wednesday so he could have been served up his "Lion's" share by the reception committee.

Joe, our old bird dog, takes much the same attitude as some cowmen would about our sheep. We used to try to get him to help but he only looked at us as if to say—"Go get 'em yourself; They are certainly not my responsibility."

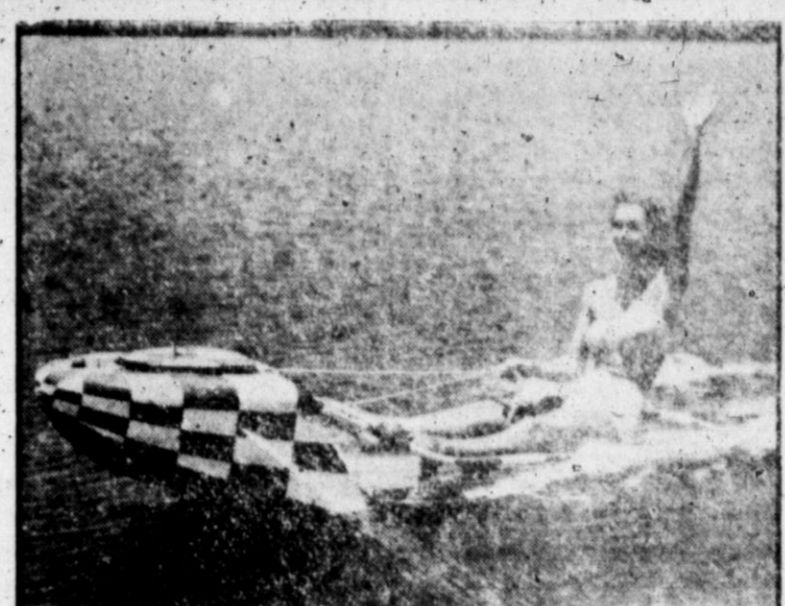

And speakin' of sheep can you imagine Steve Williams out of the sheep business—but he plans to get back in again. He and Zerrell Thomas like the idea of cashin' in on them two or three times while they are waitin' for a calf to grow up.

Others who have discovered that they also make good automatic weed mowers are Joe Kendall, Merlin Kaul, Earl Springer, Pete Engle, Earl DeHart, Virgil Dodson and a Mr. Williams to the south of us. Ba-a-a-a!

When we think of pleasant people runnin' in twos around the court house of course we always think of the Thompsons, Alex and Robert, but our latest reference also reveals another nice twosome—Mrs. Jake Boydston and Corinne Jennings. Come to think of it, we don't know anybody in the court house who isn't nice to know.

The Jaycees sure are disturbin' our peace of mind. We want to stop and go pickniekin' every time we go to town.

Hereford Couple In Two Car Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Lebow of Hereford were critically injured Sunday night in a collision in Amarillo at the intersection of East Third Street and a country road near the Texas Refinery.

The third person involved in the wreck, Hubert W. Wardlaw died early Monday morning in St. Anthony's hospital.

All three were taken by ambulance to the hospital and attendants later described Mrs. Lebow's condition as "fair" and that of Lebow as "critical."

Investigating Highway Patrolmen were reported as saying that the 1940 model Plymouth driven by Lebow headed south on the country road struck the Wardlaw car, a 1941 Plymouth, on the left side, just behind the front left fender. The accident occurred about 11:20 p. m. Sunday night.

Lebow came to Hereford about a year ago from Oklahoma and since had been selling fire extinguishers.

Mrs. Carter Suffers Broken Hip In Fall

Mrs. Sallie Carter, who broke her hip in a fall Monday morning has been confined to Deaf Smith County Hospital but attendants say she is feeling as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Carter, who lives in the home of her son, Jesse Carter, was preparing lunch Monday when she turned and fell. Doctors say she may have broken the hip bone, causing her fall.

She was alone in the house at the time and crawled to the telephone, knocking it off the hook and calling her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jesse Carter. It took her almost half an hour to reach the phone.

She was taken to the hospital immediately and will remain there for several weeks. Mrs. Carter is 81 years old.

Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Carter of Pampa arrived Wednesday to be with her. Relatives in Hereford include her son, Jesse, her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Buckner, and her nephew, Alec Thompson.

Mrs. J. M. Witherspoon and her daughter, Irene, are taking an automobile tour of the south this summer. They left about three weeks ago to visit in Paris, Tennessee, Suffolk, Virginia, Washington, D. C., Lynchburg and Williamsburg, Virginia. They will visit Mrs. Witherspoon's school friends and return home in a couple of weeks.

Doris ---

Now the 4-H girls won't have a special advisor. "I guess we'll just have to tell the county home demonstration agent to spend more time with the girls and let the older women take care of themselves," said one commissioner.

Deaf Smith County's rural youth program is just now getting on its feet. About three years ago the Sadie Lee Oliver Club was organized. About the same time the Adrian Club was organized. So in 1946 Deaf Smith had two organizations for rural girls age 10-18, clubs where they could meet and learn to cook and sew, can food and raise chickens and be proud they lived on a farm.

The popularity of the clubs grew until within the past two years seven more have been organized. Now they reach out to include 120 girls, mostly the young adolescents who need companionship and interesting activities to keep them busy and the security of having someone older to direct their work and help them with their problems.

Arrived First Of May Doris came to Deaf Smith May 1. Since then she's had charge of these younger members of the women's division of the statewide extension service. She's directed their programs on clothing, teaching them to make smart and inexpensive clothes, for school and dress wear. That not only took a drain off family budgets, it also gave the girls the assurance that comes with looking well and the self reliance that goes hand in hand with constructive talents.

There were club programs on baking, too, where the just-learning-to-cook-girls got sound advice in accurate baking principals. Ten year olds turned out luscious cakes and cookies that sometimes even made their mothers a bit envious.

This year the statewide 4-H program is emphasizing poultry raising and clothing projects, so the girls were encouraged to raise 25 chickens and to make at least two school dresses.

With their poultry care project they learned to feed and care for baby chickens, to cull the flocks, and how to put the project on a paying basis.

Gardeners Many of the girls raised gardens. They are also learning food preservation principals. And just recently Doris and the enthusiastic 4-H workers who had earned that trip went to the 4-H encampment at Cimarron.

Yes, there are other youth organizations in Hereford, but there aren't any others that are designed to meet the needs of rural girls, to teach them home-making and farm-living principals. Deaf Smith County has more 14 year olds enrolled in 4-H work than any other surrounding county.

And now the director of those clubs must go away, just when the work is going so nicely, just when the girls are so interested and leadership will be transferred to the home demonstration agent, a thoroughly capable leader, but one who must spread her work over 14 home demonstration clubs as well as nine 4-H clubs.

Rather Be Assistant Here "From here I will probably go to a county agent's job somewhere. There are more openings for them than for assistants. But, really, I'd rather work with the young folks in their 4-H Club work."

Deaf Smith's whole economy is based in the main on agriculture. The success of agriculture enterprises rests on the individual farmer, the success of its future rests on how interested the farm boys and farm girls are in remaining in rural agriculture.

The county, itself, has always been interested in youth, in their activities and in 4-H work. Last year they raised $1,400 just for the 4-H Livestock show. That's two hundred dollars more than is needed to pay an assistant agent for one year.

But the county doesn't have any money they say. "If the people want to raise their tax evaluation, then we will have money," said John Morris.

Fairview 4-H Club Has Back Programs

Members of the Fairview 4-H Club met Saturday morning at the home of Mary Womble. Combining several back programs they had missed, the girls observed demonstrations on making bound-button holes, baking a cake and construction problems.

Plans were completed for a program to be given to the ladies of the Community, and the order of the meeting was changed. Betty McGaughy gave instructions on "how to make a motion."

Cake was served to Lorene Armstrong, Betty McGaughy, Mary Womble and Mary Ann Johnson.

Guitar Player Loses Instrument At Dance

"Sons of the Pioneers" who came to Hereford to play for the Jaycee dance found it was a very expensive evening. When they counted the cost, they came up three hundred dollars short—price of one stolen guitar.

The instrument was taken about 1 a. m. just after the dance was over. As the owner explained it, he and the mandolin player left their instruments beside one of the cars, went around to the other side of the car, and when they returned, the guitar was missing but the man was still safe. They reported the loss to sheriff's department, and the expensive instrument is turned, serenaders had beware.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all my friends neighbors for the lovely cards, and beautiful flowers all the kindnesses shown during my recent illness in hospital and at home. May bless every one of you in prayer.

New Fall Fashions Shown Tuesday

Introducing the fall season was the parade of autumn clothes modeled at the Star Theatre Tuesday night when Mrs. Bess Moore of the Vogue previewed famous fashions slated for success this season.

Suits, coats, afternoon and sports dresses, robes, and pajamas for a complete wardrobe to wrap milady in for her college lift, her business career or her busy homemaking schedule were all displayed.

Suits were of tailored design or dressed up with such feminine frills as tucks, peplums and wide sloping shoulders. Coats too will be tailored box coats or fitted, this season, and both styles were on display Monday night. Afternoon dresses in rich velvets, satins and wool jerseys brightened the dress affair picture and evening dresses with full swinging skirts, decollete necklines and -hug-me-tight waistlines were destined to spotlight the evening picture.

A new feature usually overlooked in style shows was the addition of the night wear feature when models showed gowns, pajamas and robes in the latest styles and fabrics.

Carroll Aston of Levelland did the narration for the show and the models paraded to a background of recorded music. Models were school students, business girls and members of the young married set in Hereford including Miss Bobby Jane Esk, Mrs. Will F. Graham, Mrs. Wayne Phillips, Miss Helen Acker, Miss Margaret Barrett and Miss Mary Ann Postelle, who is visiting in Hereford this summer.

Burial Services Held For One-Year-Old Boy

One year old Frank Erito, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erito, was buried Monday in the Catholic Cemetery, following services held in the Catholic Chapel at the Labor Camp.

"THE OCEAN LINER OF THE FUTURE"—That's what retired speedboat King, Gar Wood, right, at the wheel, calls his uniquely-designed "Venturi," left, moored at Miami Beach, Fla. Wood says the twin-hulled, 188-foot craft has proven extremely stable and fast in tests, and claims that a 16,000-ton ocean liner of the same design would be able to carry 4,000 passengers and knife through the waves at a speed of 38 knots. When the ship is traveling at high speed, air rushing through the tunnel formed by the two hulls helps buoy up the ship and adds to its stability.

Golf Course Gets Good Workout Through First Weekend Of Play

Hereford's new golf course got a good workout in the first two days of play as 120 golfers toured the nine holes. Ten towns were represented among that number.

Legion Juniors Hang Up Suits

Individual batting averages for the Hereford Junior American Legion baseball team were released Tuesday by Joe Smith, coach and manager, along with the team batting average of .270. The Legion Juniors won 9 games, tied 1 and lost 5. They also won the district title in a three game series with Stratford.

scores, but twenty or more were under 100 and quite a few in the 80's. Considering the fact that it was the first time around a strange course for most of them and also that few local golfers have played anywhere near consistently during the past few years the scores were not bad. Apparently everyone was enjoying playing.

Jim Terry, local pro, said they would continue raking loose grass from the rough and improving the course in general, although it was in good shape Sunday.

Six Dimmitt golfers were up over the week end, nine registered from Hereford, one from Littlefield, 6 from Amarillo, one from Denver City, Dumas, Albuquerque, Gainesville and Clovis.

A few of those breaking a hundred included Raymond Lueb 89, Bob Millard 98, Pete Black 86, Deward Robertson 85, Windell Burdine 92, O. E. Jacks, 86, Shackelford 91, Earl Stagner 91, 83, Sam Nunnally 97, John Renner 89, Chris Clark 94 and Martin 84. Some of those who only played or turned in a nine hole score were Dub Reeves, 45, Johnny Warren 45, Doc Channer 44, John Patton 42, Bill Davis 44, and Bill Waldrep 46.

All golfers are urged to turn in their scores to Terry in order that handicaps may be worked out. The best way to create interest locally will be through handicap tournaments, at least through the first few months of play, according to Terry.

Cecil Guesman's horse "Away Behind" came in fairly close to the front Saturday to belie its name, in the third race at La Mesa Park, winning $78.57.

Second Guessing

By JERRY STOLTZ

Seems like a guy doesn't even get a chance to dub his first shot down at the Hereford Golf course. Tierra Blanca just lays there gulping up golf balls right in front of number one tee. Many a shot has gone in there in less than a week of play.

Actually the course is in pretty good shape with the exception of a few greens you could hardly ask for anything better. I don't believe there is another course in West Texas possibly excluding San Angelo County Club's front nine that match Hereford hole for hole in beauty. The San Angelo front nine has a somewhat similar natural layout, but isn't spread out as much as the local nine.

As for being spread out—this is the safest course I've ever seen. It is hardly possible to get hit by shots from players on another fairway, or tee.

Sunset of Dallas won the state junior Legion baseball title Odessa which defeated Lubbock, victors over Hereford, lost to Sunset in the semi-finals.

New Whiteface game uniforms this fall will be — white jerseys with maroon numerals, maroon Michigan stripes (three stripes around the arm above the elbow) and maroon shoulder inserts. The pants will be two way stretch with maroon fronts and gray backs. A small white stripe will run down the outside of each leg.

Silverton Added To WF Schedule Reserved Seats Go On Sale Here

Silverton has been added to the Whiteface football schedule this fall evening up home and road games at five each. Silverton will play here October 14 thereby eliminating the two consecutive open dates on October 7 and 14 which had been bothering Whiteface supporters as well as making five home games. Practice starts Monday. After a week here at home about 35 boys will leave for Craterville, Okla., near Lawton for a week of intensified training. They will work out there from the 22nd through the 27th. The full schedule this fall is: Sept. 9 McLean T Sept. 16 Levehand H Sept. 23 Sudan H Sept. 30 Friona T Oct. 7 Open Oct. 14 Silverton H Oct. 21 Perryton T Oct. 28 Dalhart H Nov. 4 Canyon T Nov. 11 Phillips T Nov. 18 Dumas H

Reserved seat football tickets will go on sale Wednesday afternoon at the High School. Those who had tickets last year and want to renew them, will have their chance Wednesday and Thursday, according to George Graham, superintendent of schools. Public sale of the tickets will start Saturday at the high school. Seats in sections C and D between the 40 yard lines will be $2.50 for the five home games. These prices are for the reserved seat only and do not include the price of admission. Admission charges, as set by the district executive committee of the interscholastic league, are $1 for adults and 50c for students.

HEREFO RD 13, DIMMITT 0 VFW Bounces Dimmitt To Complete Season Schedule In Second Place

Bill Engman moved up from the American Legion junior team to the VFW Central Plains nine Sunday afternoon and pitched six innings of airtight ball. He pitched to just 19 batters, allowing only one walk, no hits and striking out seven, before Andy Anderson took over the chores. Anderson continued to blank Dimmitt batters through the final three frames, giving up three hits.

The first four VFW hitters scored runs and three more made it seven before Dimmitt could retire the side. The other Hereford runs came one and two at a time.

From The Grandstand...

Did it hurt to lose that $1 golf ball in the woods? Then pity the poor duffer in skeet shooting. It cost from $5 to $45 to enter one of the numerous events at the National Skeet Shooting tournament in Dallas this week. For the price you get targets and shells.

You don't have to be a champion or even a runnerup to shoot in this world series of target breaking. You just have to be a member of the Association, have the desire to shoot and the cash to do it.

If you wanted to enter every event in the tournament it would cost as much as a lot of people make in a month.

There are 13 events that require entry fees. These amount to $238. Then there are some extras, available if you want.

Of course, no one enters all of the events. But quite a few (Continued on Page 7)

1 BLOCK EAST OF THE COURTHOUSE IN HEREFO RD

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago
 The lead story in the Brand for the week of August 14, 1924 was effusive with the success of the singing convention. Here is a first-hand description: "Conservative estimates placed the crowd at the noon hour at 3,000. Some claim 3,500. The east and north side of the big courthouse grounds were packed with humanity, grouped about the long tables where the ladies of the country and town drew in together and spread their lunches.

go rabbit hunting. The rabbits are brought in each Friday and last week 7,000 pairs of ears were brought into the courthouse in just one day. They were piled up in the engine room and burned in the big fire box in the basement. Such a slaughter is certain to thin the ranks of the rabbits in this county and save untold thousands in crops. And when the rapid increase in the rabbit tribe is taken into account there is no telling what this bounty has resulted in saying.

A picnic in Dimmitt on Thursday of that week drew "a large contingent" of people from Hereford. Every business house in Hereford had agreed to send at least one representative to the picnic. "Not in an effort to seek trade, but as a matter of good will and cooperation." Due to muddy roads the number of Hereford representatives was "reduced materially," the Brand reported.

The Commissioners Court that week set the tax rate for the following year at seventy-five cents for state and county, and school tax varied according to districts from thirty-five to eighty-five cents, making the grand total average about $2. "Cliff Acker is champion of the Hereford Golf Club" the Brand announced. "He annexed the title, as well as a $15.00 driver as prize, when he defeated A. A. Foster this week in the finals, although it required nineteen holes to turn the trick."

An editorial that week read: "Political leaders in all sections of the country are exhibiting growing alarm over the trend of our women voters toward independence. The story is told in the formation of thousands of clubs and leagues of women voters. The fair sex proposes to strike out for independent thought and action. She believes that the natural warfare of the sexes makes it imperative for her to weld herself into a political factor along lines entirely separate from those that govern the men. Most of these women's clubs are in a more or less embryo state, dealing for the most part with the thousand and one sideshows that decorate the political arena, but as the politicians see it the greatest present danger lies in their inclination to support candidates rather than parties or principals. . . . Where the women are going to stand in the coming election is a question that is giving many a politician sleepless nights."

Local items included: "A family reunion is in progress at the home of Mrs. Jennie Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Thompson, with a number of out-of-town kinfolk in the party. The visitors are J. F. Morris of Galveston and son, Auer Morris of Oklahoma City, Mrs. B. F. Wymore and son of Ardmore, Okla., Mrs. Blanche Renfro and daughter of Ardmore, and Mrs. Maggie Hays of Paris. Mrs. Jeff Davis of Ardmore is also numbered in the party, visiting her brother, W. A. Daugherty." "Misses Alice Johnson and Grace Skelton drove to Lubbock last Saturday afternoon and spent the night and Sunday with Miss Johnson's sister, Mrs. J. V. Spikes." "Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Martin arrived here Tuesday morning from Mountainair, N. M. and are visiting in the home of H. D. Culpepper."

Next State Legislature Gets Task Of Rewriting Complicated And Conflicting Surface Water Laws

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff
Austin, Tex. (AP) — The job of rewriting Texas' complicated and conflicting surface water laws has been handed on to another legislature.

This past legislature squabbled most of the session over the issue and then assigned the task of making an interim study of surface water problems to a 21-man committee.

That committee will decide on what it thinks will satisfy most Texas water users and make recommendations to the 52nd Legislature.

The study group consists of six senators, six representatives, and nine laymen. Three of the laymen will be named by the governor, three by the lieutenant governor and three by the speaker of the house.

Early in May the senate approved a 22-man committee consisting of five senators, five representatives and 12 laymen, including six named by the governor. The house asked for a committee of eight senators and ten representatives, with none named by the governor.

The differences between the two houses were not ironed out until a few days before the session ended.

But the controversy over the make-up of the committee was in no means the first time this legislature heard of surface water laws this session.

Shortly after the session opened, the Texas Water Conservation Association announced it had prepared a proposed new surface water code. The TWCA said the proposed code was the result of two years work by committees appointed by different water users associations.

Before the bills could be introduced in the legislature—by Rep. Bill Tippen of Abilene and Senator W. R. Cousins of Beaumont—the TWCA got a list of 17 protests from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The WTCC said the bill did not protect the right of West Texas cities to appropriate water, over irrigation and industrial uses.

After several compromise meetings, the TWCA and WTCC reached an agreement. The WTCC announced it would support the code if several amendments were made.

Four lengthy and controversial committee meetings—two in house—were held on the code.

Backers of the bills said the recodification would allow unused and abandoned water claims to be cancelled and new permits for water use would be issued.

Opponents said the present water laws were satisfactory, with maybe a few changes. Large delegations from the Rio Grande Valley contended the plan would take away water rights granted years ago by Spain, Mexico and the Republic of Texas. Power and irrigation interests from some sections of the gulf coast said the bill would not allow industries and water districts to make plans for future expansion.

The bills ended up in sub-committees—the graveyard of many controversial measures.

The TWCA and other backers of the proposed surface water code announced they were abandoning plans to try to push the code through this session of the legislature.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and Tippen presented resolutions asking for the between sessions water study.

The late Beauford Jester gave his blessings to the interim committee.

"Water is our most precious resource," Jester said. "Water conservation and flood control are two of our closely related and most urgent problems. If we delay any longer in making an intelligent approach to this subject, we may well have delayed too long."

The senate conference to try for a compromise on the water study was appointed the first week in May. The house group was not named until June 17.

"I wanted to see who was really interested in doing something about our water laws," said Speaker Durwood Manford.

Surface water laws are not new to the Texas legislature.

The state's first water appropriation act was adopted in 1889 and applied only to the dryer portions of the state. The 1889 act was amended in 1895 to apply to all of the state. These acts required anyone desiring to use surface water to file a sworn certificate of appropriation with the county clerk of the county in which the water would be diverted.

Many of these old permits are still in effect.

The 1895 act remained law until 1913 when the legislature adopted a surface water code patterned after the statutes in Wyoming and Nebraska. The state board of water engineers was set up as an administrative agency.

The 1913 act required water users to secure permits from the state board before diverting water from streams or lakes.

In 1917 the legislature repealed the 1913 act and enacted a more comprehensive surface code.

The 1917 act, with the numerous amendments attached by almost every legislature during the past 32 years, is the present surface water code.

It is up to the next legislature to decide if the amended 1917 act is adequate for the conservation and development of Texas surface water sources—now and in the future.

WEATHER WISDOM

Before wet weather cats are usually restless and rub themselves a great deal behind the ears. One crow flying alone is a sign of foul weather. If crows fly in pairs expect fine weather. Rain may be expected when fish bite readily and swim near the surface.

Cloud streamers pointing up indicate rain; when they point downward, look for dry weather.—Santa Fe Almanac.

The big one is the national all-gauge championship. For 250 targets and shells the entry fee is $45.

Several division championships are shot concurrently with the big one. There's additional entry fees ranging from $3 to $15 for these.

The Skeel Shooting Association makes no bones that the sport is an expensive one.

But they figure the shooters get enough enjoyment out of it to make the cost worth while.

Some of the "extras" in the national all-gauge championships are:

Women's all-gauge $3; senior (55 years of age and over) $3; collegiate $3; parent and child $3 per shooter; husband and wife $3 per shooter; two-man team $3 per shooter; national service-man team $15 per team; national collegiate five-man $15 per team.

These "extras" allow you to shoot for the division title and still compete for the big one.

President Truman's Selection Of Texan Tom Clark To Supreme Court Should Be Doubly Satisfying

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's selection of Tom Clark for a place on the Supreme Court should be doubly satisfying to the tall and genial Texan.

A seat on the high court is considered the highest honor that can come to a lawyer. Aside from the satisfaction that alone would bring, Clark could take personal pride in being the first man from the Lone Star State to be chosen for the nation's supreme tribunal.

Since coming to Washington in 1937 to take an obscure $5,000-a-year job in the Justice Department, the 49-year-old Dallas lawyer has climbed steadily.

He began as a special attorney in the bureau of war risk litigation. Later he handled anti-trust cases and during the war was in charge of the legal work of moving Japanese aliens out of California. Then he was named assistant attorney general and finally he joined the President's cabinet as head of the Justice Department.

One of the reasons behind Clark's success undoubtedly is his ability to make and hold friends.

Two of these friends are House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and former Rep. Hatton W. Summers of Dallas.

They were moving forces behind the scenes in the early days when Clark was moving out of obscurity and toward his place in the cabinet.

As Texans, they had known Clark on a close personal basis for years.

Rayburn's word of recommendation for a man is potent. Summers was far from being a staunch administration man, but his position for years as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee meant he was in a strategic spot to help advance a man in the legal field.

Clark's own decisions as to the course to follow may have kept him in the cabinet. He stayed on while others didn't.

The real test, and the one that probably paid off in the end was his loyalty to President Truman during the 1948 campaign. Clark was one of the few cabinet members, and the only one of those who had been in the cabinet for very long, to campaign actively for Truman in the face of forecasts of a Republican landslide.

On some issues Clark was completely at odds with most of the Texans in Washington, primarily the state's congressional delegation. These included questions of ownership of tidelands and civil rights. Had he taken any other position than pro-civil rights and pro-federal ownership of the submerged lands he undoubtedly would not have remained long in the cabinet.

Despite these differences, Clark and the Texas members of Congress remain on close personal terms. He frequently attends delegation luncheons and other functions with Texans.

Former Red Raiders Coach In 65 Schools

LUBBOCK—Sixty-five Texas Tech lettermen are coaching in educational institutions, most of them in Texas, a check of current addresses discloses. Several shifts to better jobs are expected to materialize for some of the former Red Raiders and for some of about 20 non-lettermen Tech graduate coaches during the Texas High School Coaches' association annual meeting in Beaumont.

Nine of the lettermen are coaching in colleges, five at junior colleges, 26 in class AA high schools, 15 in class A schools nine in class B schools and one former college coach has retired to a junior high school.

Lettermen signing coaching contracts for the first time this summer include: Roland Nabors, All-Border conference football center and All-America mention, as line coach at Texas Western college; William Banks, four-letterman in basketball, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, Plainview high school; and Costin Bufkin, who lettered in football, basketball and track, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, Sundown high school.

Nabors passed up a chance to play his second season with professional New York Yankees grid team to accept the contract with Western. Eight former Tech football players are in professional ball for the fall season.

HOME OF THE BRAVE

Mark Twain says everyone talks about the weather and no one does anything about it, which is also partially true about racial prejudice. Pro or con, for or against, THE HOME OF THE BRAVE is a picture that every person should see. I believe it will give us a more thorough understanding of our own transient labor problem.

Wm. F. Hardwick

On Thursday morning, August fourth, we had a special screening of THE HOME OF THE BRAVE and these are the comments that we received:

It's a picture everyone should see, especially if you're racial prejudiced. It will be good for children also.
Mrs. C. L. Summers.

The picture is excellent, approaching racial prejudice from intellectual and humane angle which should help us better understand.
Dyathia Brady

This HOME OF THE BRAVE was the most gripping picture I have seen in a long time. It presents the race problem in a light we are not accustomed to see. It is a must for everyone.
Mrs. Forrest Minton

One of the most impressive pictures I've ever seen. It gives one a deeper insight into the problems facing both the negro and white in understanding the racial question.
Mrs. J. C. McCracken

The racial problem is something we all talk about but do very little about it. This picture shows that regardless of color we are all alike at heart.
Mrs. Earl Phillips

The picture is very good. Racial prejudice is something we have had very little dealings with here but this picture certainly brings us a better understanding about racial problems.
Mrs. Troy Moore

HOME OF THE BRAVE is a very good picture. I believe, the people of Hereford would enjoy it.
Mrs. W. T. Carmichael

Excellent picture—wonderful acting. No comment on topic of picture.
S. A. Duckworth

This picture will help bring about an understanding between the races.
Robert Thompson

This is a picture that every grown person should see with an open mind and without prejudice. We are all human.
Alex O. Thompson

A fine show—timely—with good thought. Should help in creating better racial relationship.
M. C. Adams

Excellent. Eliseo Garrido Hayne

Last week a Mexican boy lost his life in Tierra Blanca creek while swimming. Does the loss of his life mean anything to you? Does the loss of years of service mean anything to our country? He was born in Texas and an American citizen. Do you regard the Mexican people as inferior and with racial prejudice? What is your attitude toward them? If this boy could have been permitted to go swimming where there is a life guard on duty, he would evidently still be here.
Elmer Patterson

HOME OF THE BRAVE is a really good picture. The racial question is one in which every citizen should be interested enough to appreciate so clear an example of the lack of understanding and the prejudices among today's Americans of different ancestry; and realize that these prejudices should be eliminated.
Mrs. M. C. Adams
