

AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Indirect report from the boss: Zula Gilliam, who was also week ending in Gunnison, Colorado, returned to Hereford to say that the last time she saw Jim Gilentine he was sitting in the dentist's chair. That's really loyalty when the town-without-a-too-haché newspaperman reserves his vacations to get his dental work done. Zula also says everybody was enjoying the vacation—everybody, that is, except Jim.

What's new around town: They've added a new book counter to the County Clerk's office since the rush of recording all Deaf Smith's fabulous legal records has not only taken their time but their book-space.

Mrs. Urlin Streu says the public is invited to the Big Camp Fire Open House celebration Friday at 7:30 to inspect the new Camp Fire Hut. The girls have worked hard for a long time to have it shipshape and they want the people of Hereford to drop in and inspect their work. At 8 p. m. they'll show movies of their club activities.

E. C. Eubanks is in the hospital this week and all that Dr. Wills will say is that he's suffering from seasickness. It could be delayed reaction from all that ocean-going trip he just made up in Northeast Canada or it could be just another Deaf Smith vertue. Where else can you get seasick on dry land?

What else is new around town: Red Schneider has the Tasty Grill all locked and barred this week while the remodeling crew goes to work to repaint, redecorate and restyle the Grill.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 50 are this week letting their spirits run free rein while they take advantage of the wide open spaces of the Las Vegas territory. There will be a little more peace and quiet around town now. N. B. Bartlett, for example, is one parent who figures he can relax and take it easy for a few days. He says as far as he noticed, the kids had really gone on the trip a couple of weeks ago because they hadn't been worth a flip of your fingers since they started packing for the jaunt. N. B. will need that rest. He is one of the parents dragged painfully out of bed at 4:30 a. m. Monday by an enthusiastic son who didn't dare be late.

Presumably there was a high and a low temperature this week but the Brand can't tell you what it was. The people who usually inform us have gone away for the week and we have no way of knowing how hot it was yesterday when it felt like 125 in the shade.

Just looking things over: August is one of those months whose popularity is, in part, based exclusively on its promise of things to come. It won't be long before autumn creeps into the scheme of things and autumn is a favorite season. Already the staunch rows of Plainsmen are beginning to cast their faint gray shadow over the land and the stubby and staunch Double Dwarf make heads out into a rich brown contrast. And in with the grays and the browns and the golds, are the subtle green of the pasture land and the far blue of the horizon. Mighty pretty country!

But you don't have to wait for all that beauty. Just looking around town have you noticed the pansies at the Dick Cagles, the petunias at the McGees and the huge yellow dahlias that peep over the hedge in Mrs. John Slaton's backyard? And there's the lark sour at Mrs. E. E. Fridleys and the red zinnas at Mrs. Zona Beans.

In fact, red shows up in a lot of flower forms over town to brighten up the wayside. There are the startling red gladioli at Mrs. O. G. Hills, and the circle of red canna in the drive at the J. A. Pitman home. And don't (Continued on page 9)

TWO MILES OF PAVEMENT

Platting Of Four Subdivisions And Commission OK's Paving For Two

Civic progress took another jump ahead Monday when City Commissioners met to authorize the platting of several new subdivisions to the City of Hereford and to check plans for the new paving program.

Four subdivisions, or acreage plots in the northeast part of town now brought into the city limits with the recent extension of boundaries were submitted to be platted for alleys, lots, etc. This work must be completed before the sewer lines and water lines can be extended into those areas.

Those acreages are owned by Francis Hardwick, Cecil Parker, Jesse Ford and R. G. Blue.

A proposal for a paving program was submitted by residents of the Smith and Blevins addition and the commission approved those plans.

The city will pay one-tenth the cost and the property owners will pay nine-tenths the cost of the improvements. Some 22,000 front feet or approximately 2 miles of paved road is to be added to Hereford's paving program with this addition.

This program will include only a straight topping job such as has been laid on South Main. No curbs and gutters will be installed.

Work is not scheduled to start immediately and city officials estimated it would be approximately a month before they were able to start advertising for bids.

City officials met Monday morning in the mayor's office with Mayor W. E. Dameron, Commissioners Lyle Blanton and J. C. McCracken, city Attorney Ray Cowser and several constituents present.

QUESTION of the WEEK

How would you explain to your children what a conscience was?

Mrs. Ed Adams: I think I'd just have to say it's what you know you should do, but what you seldom do, and what, if you don't do what you should, you always hear about. My husband says it's something you're always aware of when you do something you shouldn't.

Bob Gravitt: Conscience? Dad Gum! Well, my daughter is two years old and she's just too small to worry about that yet. It's something I'm glad I have plenty of time to think over before I have to tell her. Wonder what other people think it is?

Mrs. J. C. Albracht: I guess you'll just tell them that it's a voice inside that lets you know whether you're doing right or wrong.

Travis Bain: That really bears thinking over. However, my children are 13 and 15 years old, and therefore they'd be old enough to understand if I told them that a conscience was a God-given voice that helps us distinguish right from wrong. And if it is not abused during their early childhood, it will prove invaluable in later life.

Mrs. Carl McCaslin: Well, I just don't know what I'd tell them. Thank heavens they've never asked. I'm afraid I just can't answer the question of the week. What would you tell them?

Wayne Edwards: As a matter of fact, I started to look that word up once, and find out exactly how the dictionary defined it, because when you really start thinking about it, it's hard to put your finger on a good description of it. However, I never did get around to looking it up because I discovered I couldn't even spell it.

Mrs. Henry Sears: I've had my children ask me that a hundred times and I declare I can't remember what I did tell them. Wait and I'll ask them, Well, Jimmy says it's something that tells you when you've been bad and Wheeler says he doesn't know because he doesn't have one.

T. E. Seigler, Jr.: I really don't know. That's a hard question and it is like a lot of other questions that children can ask. They are hard to answer in terms they can understand. Perhaps I will say that a conscience is a guide you build up because of your training that helps you to know when you are behaving yourself and when you are not.

Applications Up For Wheat Loans

Wheat loan applications, which had been practically at a standstill for almost a month, suddenly started drifting in on the Production and Marketing Association, swamping them with orders.

"Now that the terminal's warehouse receipts are being received, we are getting the biggest rush we've had since the opening day," said Faust Collier, PMA manager. The crowded situation in terminal elevators probably accounted for the unprecedented drag and then the mid-August rush, Collier theorized. Right after harvest the force were busy with loans and then there was a static period when only a few drifted in, he explained. But for the past week, the force has been rushed.

"Although I haven't the remotest notion just how much wheat all these loans will affect," said Collier, "it looks as if we are going to get in all the 1,500 loans we thought we'd have at the beginning of the season."

Commissioners Reverse Stand Assistant HD Agent To Remain

After heated debates from Home Demonstration Club women, parents and progress-conscious residents of the county who reminded the Commissioners Court, Monday, that "Today's 4-H Club girls are tomorrow's wives and mothers," and "The value of trained leadership cannot be measured in terms of money," the court looked into finances and agreed they could hire an assistant home demonstration agent for a year, at a cost of $1,200 to Deaf Smith County.

So beginning September 1, Miss Doris Mahaffey, will begin her year's work as assistant HD agent.

Thus the 300 home demonstration club women and the 155 4-H girls scored a victory in the fight to continue the work which Miss Mahaffey began in May when she came here as agent-in-training.

When the motion had been brought before the commissioners court at two previous meetings it had been defeated, first by lack of a second and later it was denied because the court

Thirty-Attend Meeting. But Monday some 30 men and women descended on the court and convinced the commissioners that something should be done. And the county discovered it would be.

Lead by Mrs. Henry Kinsey, chairman of the County HD club council the women asked for re-consideration of the proposal. Bernice B. Northcutt, heading the discussion, declared that the people were dissatisfied with the decision and he felt they had a right to be because the work which the assistant did was worth perpetuating.

When questioned, the commissioners court agreed that they favored the work, but did not have the money. They said the General Fund showed a deficit and it was the only fund from which money would be available.

Hidden Source of Revenue. Curtis Traweck, armed with a copy of the County Budget as published in the Brand at the end of June, 1949, asked why money couldn't be transferred from the funds which showed surpluses to the funds with deficits. When it was explained that there were legal restrictions regarding that, Traweck asked why the officials couldn't "tap on hidden sources of revenue."

After an hour of discussion, it was this hidden source of revenue that proved the answer. Judge Leonard Foster murmured that a check for $500 back rent on a court house office had just been delivered to him, and with that for a start, the court agreed to dig up the money to pay the other $700. Under questioning, the court announced that several of the federal offices in the court house pay no rent at all.

Troy Moore moved that the agent-in-training be hired as assistant agent for a year. J. T. Guinn seconded it and the court voted unanimously in favor of the project.

Commissioners Voice Opinions. But before the court agreed to hire an assistant, the interested constituents from four precincts voiced their opinions.

Jack Renfro, one of the farmers who had announced a willingness to donate to a fund to keep the assistant agent, if no other method could be worked out, said, "The general feeling is that too much money can't be spent for 4-H kids."

John I. Morris, when asked for his opinion replied, "I've said all that I'm going to say. Only way to raise the money is to raise the evaluation." Commissioner Morris said he didn't pull him out of that bank and off to the Pacific he might still be down there.

Instead he went into the navy several months before Pearl Harbor. After his discharge he spent several months renovating his ranch south of San Antonio which had been somewhat neglected during the war.

Then he took a job as a bank examiner with the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas because of the opportunity to look over the banks in five states and looked for a place to locate.

Liked The Panhandle. He made his first trip to the Panhandle and decided this was the place and as a result jumped at an offer of a vice presidency at the Panhandle State Bank in Borger.

In turn, as a better opportunity presented itself with the Hereford State Bank he moved here. He says Hereford is the kind of town he wants to raise his children, Travis Bain II, 15, and Gladys 13, in and call home.

The family is on the ranch now until he finds suitable living quarters for them here. He figures on selling the land down there since this will be home and it is too far to San Antonio.

The meeting got a shot in the arm when Mrs. Bob Wilson declared, "If this were election year, there wouldn't be any doubt at all." Her comment was greeted with a round of applause.

First Request In 20 Years. This is the first time we've asked the court for anything in 20 years, since we first got our home demonstration agent," said Mrs. J. F. Dyer. "This 4-H club work is an educational program and not a fancy social event, and has to be built up from one year to the next."

"The state pays $1,600 and the county pays $1,200 of this salary. Therefore the county is getting a $2,800 job for less than half of that amount," said Mrs. Argen Draper, CHDA.

At first the commissioners were unwavering, holding to the position they had formerly taken.

G. T. Higgins declared, "The court agrees the 4-H club work is beneficial but under the present financial arrangement I suggest the agent spend 90 per cent of her time on 4-H club work and the rest with the women who can get along without her."

Can't Measure In Money. This argument was countered by Mrs. Bob Wilson, a former HD agent who said, "It isn't wise to remove the agent from her contacts with the women. They need help like the girls. You can't measure this work in dollars and cents. As long as I remember, the county has always been 'in the red' but we've still found ways of doing what we want to do. "You can't remove Mrs. Draper. She's the only source of education which the HD women have and she's the one who helps to set our standards and keep up abreast of things," said Mrs. Kinsey.

Henry Sears pointed out that the CHDA has to attend 26 meetings each month, exclusive of the nine 4-H clubs. He expressed his own deep-seated interest in the entire project and declared he felt the insignificant amount of $1,200 could be raised. He outlined the record of the boys 4-H club work and remarked on the importance of such work. "We are negligent about a lot of things but this is of vital importance to our community. Poorer counties do it. I believe we can," he concluded.

District Judge Releases Dates He Will Be Here

Judge Harry Schultz, 69th District Judge, has called attention of all attorneys and litigants having business in the District Courts of Deaf Smith and Cidham counties to the fact that a trial period of six months has indicated the advisability of continuing an itinerary of trips to Hereford at regular intervals of three weeks for the purpose of disposing of non-jury matters, and to publicize in advance the schedule of dates.

Beginning on August 27th, 1949, he expects to be in Hereford at 10:30 A. M., on Saturdays at intervals of three weeks. For convenience he is setting out the schedule of those dates for a period of six months.

August 27th, September 17th, October 8th, October 29th, November 19th, December 10th, December 31st, January 21st, 1950.

On the above dates he will also be available for non-jury matters in Oldham County whenever notified that such business is pending in that county. For convenience his telephone numbers at Dalhart are: Office 97 and Residence 638-M. At Hereford he can be contacted through the District Clerk's office.

In the event he is prevented by business elsewhere from being at Hereford on any of the above dates notice of that fact will be sent to the District Clerk's Office at Hereford as early as possible.

He expects to continue indefinitely a schedule similar to the above and will distribute another schedule of dates near the expiration of the one given above.

In addition to the above schedule of dates, as heretofore, Judge Schultz will be available for any business at any time he is not engaged in a trial somewhere.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Fred Minter and small daughter of El Reno, Okla., spent the week end in the home of her mother, Mrs. F. N. Pittman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kelly and Charles were in Electra Monday visiting Mr. Kelly's sister, Mrs. S. B. Marchant and Mr. Marchant. Patsy Kelly, who has been visiting in Electra and Dallas returned home with her parents. Kelly and his daughter returned to Stanton Wednesday and will visit there a few days with relatives, returning to Hereford Thursday or Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adams and son, David, left Wednesday morning for a two week trip to the West Coast. They will visit in San Francisco with Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Myrtle McKinster, and may come home via the Grand Canyon.

LEGION PLAYS LAZBUDDY
Bill Stengel will take the mound for Hereford American Legion Thursday night with Ray Hardy on the other end of the battery when they play Lazbuddy at Veteran's Park.

This is the second time the two teams have played. The Legion won the first game, according to Loyd Neill, manager. Game time tonight is 8:15 p. m.

Yes, one man said this week he moved to Hereford because it was the kind of place in which he wanted to raise his family, and he said he felt that way because it was apparent in Hereford that people cared. Well, they do. They care about the big and the little things, and that's what makes the difference. Look for instance at the flower plot that Arthur Thompson cultivated into one of the brightest spots in town.

And anybody who says there's nothing to see in the Panhandle, that its pretty dull country, well, those are the underprivileged individuals who never enjoyed these panoramic Deaf Smith County sunsets which nature paints practically every afternoon—nor those starlit nights or those Texas' moons. We haven't been around the world, but some of the fellows who have (when Uncle Sam was booking their travel arrangements) say you can go far and never see the sunsets and star nights they have around here.

Little Frank Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Day, came around the other day and announced that he had freckles, too. We looked; he does. Just goes to show that if you don't have them, you either aren't a little boy, or they just don't show.

Grasshoppers

(Continued from page 1) eral Fund which was reported to show a deficit. County Judge Leonard Foster explained that all that money was kept in one account in the bank.

Commissioners will meet again on Friday to read the bids regarding the removal of fences along Harrison Highway and at that time will take some action on the Hereford Labor Camp, a decision brought about by the suggestion of J. T. Gulnn.

No Action On Grasshoppers
Dr. R. R. Willis, county health officer, is scheduled to meet with commissioners and directors of the Hereford Labor Camp at that time.

Farmers from the northwest part of the county appeared to discuss grasshopper control, but no action was taken.

Farmers wanted to know why the court had taken no action on the application for materials for poisoning grasshoppers which the federal government makes available. Such materials are furnished when some responsible person in the county signs and returns the application. This was submitted several weeks ago, but had been ignored. County agent Hugh Clearman said there were five or six drums of sodium fluo silicate in powder form, each drum weighing approximately 400 pounds, stored in the County Bull Barn. This poison has been down there for about three and a half years.

It cannot be used until it is mixed with bran. The application to the government provides that they will send the bran if the county agrees to keep records, not charge for the material, oversee the unloading, etc.

"There has not been heretofore enough demand to justify the expense of setting up a station and keeping a man employed to supervise the mixing, keep the records, etc. Now, however, there seems to be a vital interest in the process," Clearman said.

Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Roland Monday through Wednesday of this week were Mrs. Roland's brother and his family of Raton, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Barnhill and three children.

New Variety Store Will Open Saturday

Caves Five and Ten Cent Store will hold its formal opening Saturday morning beginning at 9 o'clock when the store will open for business. Clyde Cave, manager, has announced.

Hereford's newest variety store is located at the corner of Main and Second Street.

The completely new modern building, 140 by 150 feet, includes the store, storage rooms, office, and employees lounges. Color scheme of the building is blue aqua with blonde maple furnishings used throughout. The store uses celestex ceiling fluorescent lights and asphalt tile flooring.

Twenty two departments are included in the store, dress accessories, lingerie, infants wear, ready to wear, men and boys wear, dry goods, curtains, notions, art goods, hosiery, hardware, electrical appliances, tin and enamel goods, glassware, horticulture appliances, home furnishings, stationery, toiletries, toys, jewelry, novelties and candy.

Clyde Cave will be manager of the store, which is owned in partnership with his father-in-law R. R. Gilbreath. Cave came to Hereford six years ago as manager of the Cave's Variety store owned by his brother, the late F. E. Cave.

Favors will be awarded to patrons who come in for the opening day celebration, said Cave.

Wayland Makes Room For Married Students

PLAINVIEW — Because of the overflow of married students in the 50 Homettes on the Wayland College campus, the college is now setting up apartments in three former army barracks to be filled with faculty members and students by the time school starts September 12.

While the number of students enrolled in Wayland has not increased this year, the number of married students has, according to J. L. Harden, business manager. All college housing facilities have been rented.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Jenkins and son, Shelton, left Sunday for Missouri where they will visit at his home in St. Jo and will also spend some time in Kansas City.

Jaycees Attend Plainview Meet
Local Jaycees report instructive results from the Region 1 and 2 meeting which they attended last Saturday and Sunday in Plainview, the sixth of a series of state wide summer meetings.
Grant Hanna, S. A. Duckworth, R. E. Barrett, and Ed Skypala attended Saturday's session, which featured study clinics instructing individual members in ways and means of civic service.
Joining these four men on Sunday were Paul Cunnely, G. C. Hartman, Sam Nunnally, Bill Howard, Frank Miller, Sam Nelson, W. J. Reeves, Gene Prickett and Gene Brownlow, who attended the Sunday morning breakfast and business session. During the business meeting, the Jaycees agreed to endorse the Hoover Commission, which is attempting to cut down on unneeded government spending.
Features of the Sunday morning meeting were addresses delivered by Jim St. Clair of Level-land, region vice-president of the state Jaycees organization, E. M. Kirkpatrick, Jr. of Baytown, president of the state organization, who gave the keynote address, and John Ben Shepherd of Gladewater, 1947 president of the national organization.

Correct Posture Is Necessary To Good Development

Correct posture in school children, and adults as well, is necessary to proper physical and mental development, says a warning from the Texas State Department of Health. "Good posture is a sign of self respect and plays an important part in winning the respect of others," said Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Many of the ills of childhood and the deformities of adult life have their beginning in poor posture acquired during childhood," he said, "and it is particularly important that the child's posture conform to nature's dictates. Most children are born in good physical condition and yet examination of large groups of school children show a high per cent to be suffering from poor posture. Malnutrition and fatigue are productive of poor posture. These lessen the size of the chest and decrease the lung capacity. Abdominal organs may also be pushed out of natural position, which may seriously interfere with their action. These conditions must be corrected before the body is able to attain normal weight and nutritional standards."

"School children who have poor posture are said often to average lower in attendance and in school mental and physical activities than those who have good posture. A child may be forced to hold his body in an unnatural position by a desk that is too high or too low. Desks and work tables should be just high enough to allow the feet to rest on the floor and the forearms and hands to rest upon the tops without the shoulders, being hunched up.

"Begin early in life to teach your children to stand straight, and sit straight for health and self-confidence, and they should grow into strong, well-built men and women."

SPORTS

FROM THE GRANDSTAND.....

By WILBUR MARTIN

The NCAA is going to leave the sugar in, but take some of the spice out of the bowl business. That means Texas probably will lose its reputation as the "bowling" state in the nation. It probably won't be able to send its usual ten or more teams to the firing line in early December for New Year's engagements.

There's little doubt that Texas will keep most of its bowls. The Cotton and Sun conform to the regulations the NCAA is said to be demanding of bowl sponsors. The Texas Rose Bowl gives junior colleges a break and the Cattle Bowl provides Negro elevens with a post-season game.

The Alamo Bowl took the count after one trip, and so did the Cit Bowl. There's been no serious attempt in Texas in the last couple of years to start a major bowl game.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's avowed effort to trim the number of bowls will take a lot of humor out of the mushrooming post-season football picture.

Hardin - Simmons probably won't be able to go to its usual two to three bowls. This is something of a shame, for Warren Woodson's Cowboys put on a colorful show and the trips are a break for the players.

Just for the sake of getting some of the bowls in print once more, assume that Texas Tech came up with an undefeated, untied football team. Del Morgan could gather the Red Raiders round him and put the cards on the table this way:

"The Cotton is picked and the Rose is plucked.

"But we may get the Sugar if we have some luck.

"The Orange is ripe and it's not at night.

"And the Lilly is willing if we think it all right.

"The Dixie is dead, but there's 7-2 win Sunday. Vega got two runs in the first and stayed ahead all the way. Ed Mathis pitched five hit ball for the winners.

more in the fire. The Ice, Pineapple, Tarpon and Fish. Even the Delta, Oleander, and I believe the Gar. The Cigar is smoking but the Match isn't lit. There'll be more offers if we wait just a bit. Now boys, remember, it's up to you. We beat the Longhorns, so I don't care what you do."

Canyon High School Gets New Head Coach

Canyon High School announced appointment of a head football coach after a week of practice without the benefit of a head coach Monday afternoon.

The 1949 Eagle squad will be tutored by George Scott, veteran schoolboy coach, who comes to Canyon from Elk City, Okla., where he has built up an imposing record during the past three seasons.

Scott will also coach the basketball team, a sport in which he has had equal success. He took both a football and basketball team to the Oklahoma State finals in 1947.

He started in the best District 1-A manner by stating "the competition in Texas is tougher than any other state in this part of the country, and I understand I'm in a tough district."

"He also asked if there weren't some easy teams in this district, since he understood Phillips is always rough and that Hereford, Perryton, Dalhart, and Dumas are looking for good teams.

Assistant coach Jerry Jacobs has had about 52 boys working out daily during the past week. Former coach R. D. Wheelock resigned three weeks ago to devote his time to farming and to the physical education classes at Canyon.

Mrs. H. H. Benefield, Mrs. Ed Warren and her mother, Mrs. Cross Randall of Tulsa, Okla. spent a few days last week visiting relatives and vacationing in Oklahoma.

Digging Divots

With Hank Fore

First of a probable weekly ball-sweepstakes event will start this week end. Here's how it works: You put fifty cents into the ball pool and play 18 holes either Saturday or Sunday, then your handicap which has been figured from the scores you've turned in at the pro shop is deducted from your score to give your net score.

The low half of all those entered will win a ball. If their net score is under 75 (for example, suppose you have been shooting the course in 92 strokes, your handicap is 20. Then during the ball-sweepstakes round you shoot a 90. Your net score is 70. If 30 entered the sweepstakes and your 70 is in the low 15 you win a regular first line 95¢ golf ball). However, golf balls will not be given to net scores over 75. Instead the low man will get two balls and so forth.

Tip to score keepers: When a player knocks a ball in the creek he is shooting 3 on his next shot. It counts, one in, one out and spooting three. You can play that third shot from the nearest point to where the ball entered the water, as long as the water is still between you and hole.

On out-of-bounds you lose a stroke and distance. In other words if you hook one out of bounds from number 2 tee you just hit your second shot from the same spot.

Seems like maybe George Loerwald, Raymond Lueb and Karl Hutchison will try a golf marathon and see if they can make 100 holes in a day. They played 36 holes Sunday and still didn't have anything to do for half a day, so maybe they will try it.

Did you know the reason for the markers on the tees is to distribute play over the teebox, thus keeping the grass from getting beat out so badly? Help keep the course in shape by being your ball between the markers.

If you are figuring on averaging two rounds of golf a week over the course you will be money ahead by buying a playing membership. You pay $60 and you and your wife can play anytime you please without further cost. You can pay out the $60 all at once or in two payments.

and knowledge, there will be plenty of practice and opportunity to learn during the week at Craterville.

Criswell has naturally been giving out not-so-bright predictions on the team's chances. Although he has a fieldhouse full of seniors he has doubts about their being able to catch on fire and come up to the average downtown quarterback's expectations.

But Criswell can sing a lot of blues and still not moan as loud as his fellow District 1-A coaches, are doing. Chesty Walker is doing his darndest to get out of the favorite spot before his boys begin to believe what they read. And Dalhart coach Gene Sunderman has added lustre to his nickname "sorrowful" with dire predictions on the Wolf Pack chances of winning anything at all.

It might not be too rash a statement to say that Whiteface hopes for a district championship are being decided this week. Reasons for this observation are that Dalton Criswell's eleven will be outweighed almost every Friday night and must make up for this in speed, deception and spirit. Training camps are most popular among the coaching fraternity for these very reasons. Conditioning is the number one factor behind all three points. Of course a coach can also get a team in good condition without ever leaving home, but not as fast as in a camp.

Spirit, which drives boys to victories comes through close association and pride. Living together for a week can bring this out when it would have otherwise never come out.

Dear Sirs: I wish to express my appreciation in regard to the good articles appearing in your paper by Mr. Homer Fox. Hope he continues with these articles. Seeing in this week's Life magazine the article from Whitney, Texas telling about attempt to remove bench occupied by old timers there reminds me of what the Brand often referred to as the "Bench Congress" in front of the old Woodburn (City Drug) Drug store. Possibly Homer could give us an interesting article about the Old Timers (Confederates) that fought the Civil War over daily on that bench. Many children and grandchildren of these are still in Hereford. (Mattie Woodburn might assist in giving the names of the bunch). Best wishes to the Brand. Your old friend, Rex Tynes, Antop.

Sugar Beet Crop Prospects Point At One Of Best Ever Raised In State

"Prospects now indicate that this year's sugar beet crop is going to be the best one we have ever raised in Texas," said Odean Nixon, representative of the Rocky American Crystal Sugar Beet company of Rocky Ford Colorado who has contracted planting of the beets in this area.

"We have in about 2,000 acres of sugar beets, and unless we run into serious difficulties, we ought to produce not only high yields but high quality beets this year," Nixon continued.

Harvest is slated for sometime in October, but is too far away to permit accurate tabulation on digging dates.

Just now high the sugar is going to be of course remains undetermined. Nixon said they had not yet pulled any samples and therefore reports are not available. It was the low sugar content of the beets last year that discouraged many of the growers from replanting this season. Nixon said he believed the beets would rate a high sugar content.

Many of the farmers are fertilizing their crop, using 200-300 pounds of ammonium nitrate, sulphate of 16-20-0. The increased rainfall this year eliminated much of the irrigation necessitated in previous years and the most any of the growers have had to irrigate their crop has been a couple of waterings.

180 Acres Is Largest
J. B. Nolan, one of the men who had such high yields last year has in 180 acres this year, largest acreage seeded. Other growers are Mac Nolan, Al Hopson, Don Helsler, H. H. Miller, Perry Friemel, and Earl Hopson.

Sugar beets, although one of the latest crops to be introduced to this irrigation area, were first planted here during the first decade of this century. In 1909 J. S. Wyehe, founder of Wyche Community, planted a test plot of a few acres, some irrigated and some unirrigated. Reports from the experimental laboratory at College Station 49 years ago confirmed the fact that Deaf Smith was good land for raising sugar beets.

Wyche's beets tested better than 16 per cent sugar with a sugar purity of 72.3 per cent on the irrigated land and 80 per cent on the unirrigated land.

Polio Panic Called Worse Than Disease

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter
New York (AP)—Polio panic is hitting millions of children and parents this year.

This panic isn't new. But it may be getting worse. It comes from fear, and from ignorance or misunderstanding of what is known about infantile paralysis.

"The fear and panic over polio can be worse than the disease itself," declares Dr. Hart E. Van Ripper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Many parents break out with the polio jitters each summer. They torment themselves with worry. Their homes and children get upset.

Often, children are forbidden to live and play normally. They may be cooped up in the house, with mother and child on each other's nerves. They may be forbidden to swim anywhere, or even use their own wading pools. Camps, movie or a trip into town are banned by some parents. Frightened parents may impose these taboos even when there has been only one or a few cases of polio a few miles away.

And the fact is that such steps do no good. The net result is emotional harm to the children, by giving them the idea that some unknown terror is abroad.

No one wants polio, and no one wants to get hit by a car while crossing the street. The best you can do is observe the traffic safety rules. Even then you might be hit. But the slim chance doesn't keep you glued to the corner, afraid to go across.

"Parents and their children would be better if they took the same reasonable attitude toward polio," Dr. Van Ripper said.

Knowing the facts about polio is the best way to banish fear. Here are some fictions about polio, and the facts as cited by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research head of the foundation:

Fiction: That polio is the worst of all childhood diseases.

Fact: Polio in a recognizable form is relatively rare. Rheumatic fever is the worst, by far, both as a killer and a crippler. Even in a bad polio year only 1 in every 6,000 Americans get polio. And only 1 in every 15,000 is left slightly or badly paralyzed or dies.

Fiction: That crowds are the most dangerous place for picking up polio.

Fact: Polio is a communicable disease, apparently spread by intimate personal contact, such as occurs at home. It apparently takes time and intimacy to contract it.

"Going through a polio ward is not dangerous at all, unless you sit on a patient's bed, handle his glass and eating utensils, and spend time with him. Riding on a bus is not harmful, unless you hold hands, share sandwiches and the like."

"The home appears to be the most dangerous place. When one member gets it, there's a good chance that others will. For every person who develops polio, five to 10 may have the virus in their intestinal tract. They may be carriers spreading it to others. Why they don't contract it themselves is one of the mysteries."

Fiction: You shouldn't swim during the polio season.

Fact: Swimming in polluted waters is foolish, for the virus may be present there, and you might get other disease bugs. But there's no evidence that anyone ever got polio from swimming in a clean pool. Intimate contact between children playing together at the beach could be dangerous. If the children haven't all been regular playmates.

Sudden chilling, over-exercising and fatigue may set you up for virus already in your system to go to work on the nerve cells. There's no proof yet that fatigue is bad when you have the virus in your system. But there is ample evidence that fatigue when you have a little fever, nausea, headache or other sign of possible polio will increase your chances of coming down with the paralytic form of polio.

Fiction: Every person getting polio will be crippled or die.

Fact: Fifty to 60 per cent recover completely. About 20 per cent are left with minor handicaps. Fifteen to 20 per cent may be badly handicapped, and five to 10 per cent may die.

Fiction: The cause of polio is not known, and prevention is hopeless.

Fact: It is caused by a virus, one of the tiniest disease organisms. There is not yet a vaccine to prevent it, but one probably will be developed soon. Your best protection is good health rules, especially in keeping clean, getting rest, and avoiding fatigue.

Fiction: That polio epidemics follow long spells of hot, dry weather.

Fact: Polio occurs all year round, reaching its peak in the summer. Dry, hot weather doesn't help to spread it any more than rainy weather so far as is known.

Studebaker

the car that set the postwar styling pace
HAS DONE IT AGAIN!

The "next look" lines of the 1950 Studebaker passenger cars are readily discernible in this four-door Champion sedan. In addition to the advanced styling by Raymond Loewy Associates, there is new riding comfort resulting from Studebaker's self-stabilizing coil spring front suspension. Luxurious interiors and maximum passenger space characterize all Studebaker models.

New power, speed and sleekness are expressed in the advanced design of Studebaker's 1950 passenger car models. Embodying a complete change in frontal appearance and fender treatment, these cars designed by Raymond Loewy Associates appear to be in motion even when they are standing still. Shown here is the 1950 Studebaker Commander convertible.

"NEXT LOOK"
In Cars!

THEY'RE HERE

ON OUR FLOOR

Studebaker, the car that set the postwar styling pace for the automobile industry, has done it again.

Details of the company's line of 1950 model passenger cars were disclosed today by H. S. Vance, chairman of the board and president, with a prediction that this latest Studebaker will be acclaimed the most distinctive looking car on the road.

In these new cars the company's designers, Raymond Loewy Associates, have achieved an automotive style pattern as revolutionary today as were the first Studebakers of postwar design three years ago. A complete change in frontal appearance and fender treatment gives the 1950 models sleek, new lines which make them appear in motion even when they're standing still.

Both ride and handling ease have been considerably better by engineering innovations complementing the use of an improved self-stabilizing coil spring front suspension.

The front of the 1950 Studebaker is particularly striking. It embodies an airplane fuselage-type hood, flanked by air-foil front fenders and set off by a chrome "spinner." In addition to providing an ornamental touch, the "spinner" augments four frontal openings which direct air to the engine for maximum cooling. The largest of these air passages consist of two oval-shaped honey-comb grille scoops located below the two smaller air channels which flank the "spinner." Chrome moldings over these twin channels contribute to the unusual decorative effect.

In harmony with a styling that expresses power, speed and sleekness are the heavy wrap-around bumpers. In front they are held by supports enclosed within tubular housings which are painted to match the automobile.

In keeping with the new speed lines are the redesigned rear fenders, also air-foil type, and the large vertical tail lights which fit into the trailing edge of the fenders. Both front and rear fenders are the bolt-on type.

JOHN WOOD EQUIPMENT COMPANY

The wheel bases of all 1950 Studebaker models have been increased by one inch: Champion, 113 inches; Commander, 120 inches; Land Cruiser, 124 inches. Overall lengths of the cars are: Champion, 197-1/4 inches; Commander, 207-7/8 inches; and Land Cruiser, 211-7/8 inches.

Instrument panels are located about four inches farther forward than previously, thus providing additional space in the front compartment. Gauges are grouped directly in front of the driver so that they can be checked at a glance.

In these new models the company continues its flair for luxurious upholstery and generous use of leatherette trim. Because of the popularity of nylon, first used by Studebaker in the Land Cruiser, and because of its proved durability, the company is introducing it in all Regal Deluxe models of the Commander series and in two patterns of both the Champion and Commander convertibles. Leather upholstery is optional on the convertibles at no extra charge. Foam rubber cushions are standard equipment in all models with the exception of the lower priced Deluxe Champion.

An unusual feature of the Studebaker coil spring front suspension lies in the fact that both upper and lower control arms are pivoted so that they rake to the rear about 15 degrees. This has the effect of cushioning the ride on rough roads since the front wheels tend to "travel away" from a bump as the car is driven over it. Rubber insulation is used at the top and bottom of each coil spring. Shock absorbers on the Champion are the direct-acting tubular-type while the Commander utilizes the double-acting link-and-lever variety.

Engines in both the Champion and Commander have a new compression ratio of 7.0 to 1; for high altitudes only, a ratio of 7.5 to 1 is available. Commander engine horsepower has been increased to 102 at 3,200 revolutions per minute while the Champion has been raised to 85 horsepower at 4,000 revolutions per minute.

All models have a simplified symmetrical steering linkage, with definite center-point linkage on the Commander and Land Cruiser. Commander tire size has been increased to 7.60 x 15. The Champion is equipped with four-ply 6.40 x 15 tires. All tires are the extra low pressure type.

25 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

The second Democratic primary held in Texas last Saturday established new high levels for the size of the vote cast in the state as a whole, although there was comparatively little interest in Deaf Smith county. This was undoubtedly due to the perplexity of so many of the citizens here and their disinclination to vote for either candidate for governor," the Brand for August 28, 1924 said. At that reporting, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was over 90,000 votes in the lead, and her victory for governor looked like a sure thing. Hereford's voting favored Judge Felix D. Robertson.

Two new officers were needed to serve on the Chamber of Commerce Board, as E. W. Harrison, who was elected president, and J. S. Jones, who was chosen secretary, had demurred the honor. G. A. F. Parker and Gano Hastings were serving as vice-president and treasurer. A discussion about installing a cotton yard here had a part on that week's meeting, and Judge Dewey Lawrence, son-in-law of F. H. Oberthier, made a talk on the possibilities and future of this county.

The Hereford Band held a "snappy workout," and Bill Smith, veteran member of the organization who was moving to Dallas, was guest of honor. "The band boys enjoyed the affair so much that they did not want to quit, and the practice was prolonged until a late hour," the Brand said. Daniel Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bell of Hereford was named one of the seven majors in the Texas A&M cadet corps, according to a front page story in this issue of the Brand.

A wedding story of interest revealed the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson at Estelline on August 20. The couple left immediately for Amarillo where they were to spend a few days making plans for a trip to Colorado, after which they would return to Summerfield to live.

And an "old time family reunion" was held that week at the R. T. Nunn home, with seven brothers and sisters getting together for the first time in thirty years. Attending were S. M. Nunn of Glazier, F. E. and R. T. Nunn of Hereford; Mrs. W. S. Thomas, Jonesboro, Arkansas; Mrs. W. A. Buchanan of Canyon, Mrs. J. F. W. Jennings, Muuleshoe, and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, Hereford. These with their families and relatives made a company of sixty eight. Others attending included A. B. Arnn, Blain Poff, G. F. Springer, Mrs. Ivy Kemp, Mrs. A. B. Simpson, P. A. Hogan, H. A. Taylor and their families.

A Witherspoon family reunion held at Sulphur Park also made news that week. The unique reunion featured five different groups of four generations each. Fifty eight members of the family met for a two day camping trip.
