SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Mrs. Roger Hartman received word from her mother in Santa Fe Wednesday that her husband, Lt. Roger Hartman has been reported a prisoner of war in Korea.

Lt. Hartman is a 2nd Lt. with the 52nd Field Artillery Regiment of the 24th Division. He shipped out from San Francisco on June 15, before hostilities had started in Korea. He arrived in Japan June 29. He was reported missing in action in Korea on July 5.

Lt. Hartman was a prisoner of war during World War II in Germany for six months.

Harry H. Schulz, district judge, gave an instructed verdict for the defense Monday afternoon in the case of Staats, et al., vs. Miller.

Otis Hall says they are planning on moving into their new building now under construction just north of Hereford State Bank around the first of November. The new 75 foot building will be modern in design with a lot of glass and a triangular entrance. N. D. Bartlett, contractor, is also surfacing the bank drive to their drive-in window.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conklin received a photograph clipped from a Houston paper this week with a picture of their son, 1st Lt. Merlin L. Conklin and three members of his B-29 crew chalking a message to North Koreans on the side of a 1,000-pound bomb. Lt. Conklin left the States July 4 and eight days later he flew a mission over North Korea.

Sam Henry will discuss the new Distributive Education program with the Kiwanis club at their luncheon meeting today.

The banks will be closed Saturday for election day.

Four Deaf Smith delegates left Tuesday for the annual Texas Home Demonstration Association state convention in Big Spring. Mrs. Frank Wilde, county chairman; Mrs. Fred Wolfington, Mrs. Ray Pruitt and Mrs. Tom Draper are attending. The convention theme is "better homes make for a better world." They will be back Friday.

The first induction date for selectees from Deaf Smith County will be the week of September 18, according to Mrs. A. Petersen, Selective Service clerk.

Spec Hunt is the new druggist at City Drug. He replaces Buck Allam, who left to manage a store east of Wichita, Kansas. Hunt comes here from Weatherford, Oklahoma.

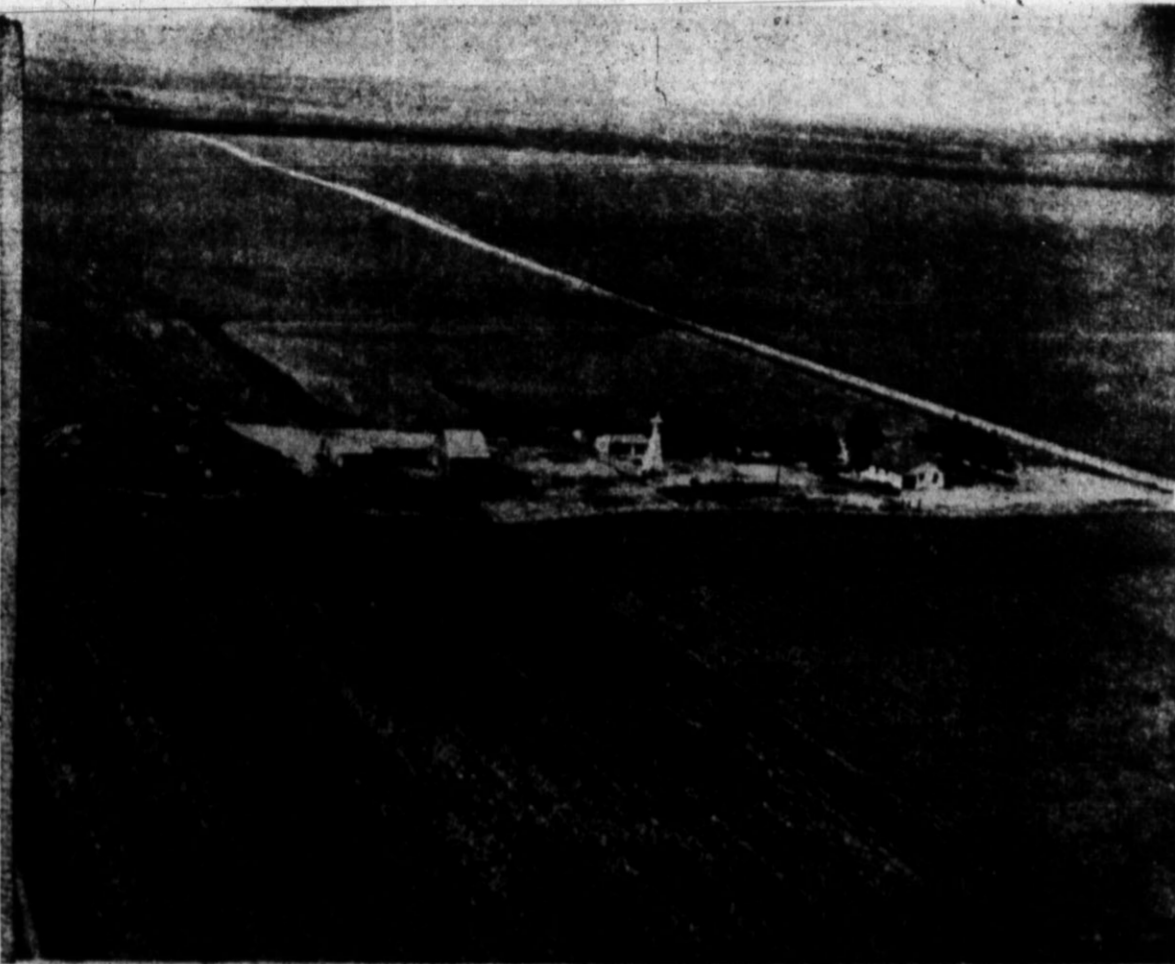

Just to prove how close some people read, not only one, but two different parties have been "hopped on" because of the cantaloupe dump east of Veteran's Park. Both the City Commission and the Veteran's organizations have been in hot water for something the County Commissioners' Court did.

This picture situation is getting serious around here. In about two more weeks we'll have to move out to make room for the collection that is building up. However, instead, consider this a warning. If you have brought a picture in here to be used that you want back, come and get it now. We are fixing to clean them out and don't want someone coming in the following day looking for the picture we threw away the day before.

Riders Club members from Dimmitt, Friona and Hereford will be here Friday night for matched roping events. They'll also have a short parade down Main Street about 5 o'clock.

Leo Forrest is still shaking from an experience he had while vacationing in Michigan and Indiana. It seems Leo lost his purse, leaving him with just one lone penny. He turned out the local constabulary, the minister

Jaycees Arrive Saturday For Two-Day Convention

Nearly 300 Jaycees from Regions 1 and 2, covering everything from Perryton on the north to Slaton, Lamesa and Tahoka on the south, will descend on Hereford Saturday for their semi-annual bi-regional meeting. State president Bill McDanel of Dallas and Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd will be honored guests of the convention. McDanel will arrive in Hereford Friday night and Shepperd will come in with the Muleshoe delegation Saturday afternoon. Three state vice-presidents: Jack Pate of Amarillo, Ralph Ribbs of Lubbock and Louis Buck of New Braunfels will also be present. Pate will act as chairman of the business meeting Sunday morning, following a short devotional conducted by Rev. Russell Wingert of the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford. Jaycees from Amarillo, Bor-Shamrock and Tulla will represent Region 1; while Abernathy, Brownfield, Crosbyton, Floydada, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, Muleshoe, Plainview, Ralls and Tahoka will represent Region 2.

D. C. McWhorter, chairman of the local convention committee, outlined the Saturday program as including: Registering at Hotel Jim Hill, commencing at noon; golf, picture show and swimming; Ladies reception at the Veteran's clubhouse; fellowship hour at Hotel Jim Hill; Banquet and dance.

Hereford Jaycees are sponsoring the first annual Bi-regional golf tournament at this convention. An impressive traveling trophy for the winning team has been provided by the local club. Considerable interest has been evidenced in this event according to Jim Terry, chairman of the tournament committee. He said several towns are planning on entering two or more four-man teams.

Paul Conaway, Bill Howard, Stan Barrett and Jerry Stoltz will compose the Hereford team in the medal play event.

The Sunday morning business meeting will be devoted to Jaycee business on the State and Regional level. An address by President McDanel will highlight the morning-long meeting.

Secretary of State Shepperd, former State and National President of the Jaycees, will be present as a guest and not as an official. During his term of office as National President, he made a "Fifth Freedom Flight" around the world, speaking on the freedom of opportunity that only a democracy can provide, traveling more than 260,000 miles and making nearly 300 speeches before more than 250,000 people.

Originator of "Democracy Beats Communism Week," now known as the "Gladewater Plan," and since adopted in communities throughout Texas and in many other states, Mr. Shepperd holds the award of merit of the National Conference on Citizenship for outstanding contributions in this field.

He has been named "Outstanding Young Texan" by the Young Democratic Clubs of Texas and was selected one of the nation's "Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1949" by Future Magazine.

McDanel was graduated from Ashland High School, Ashland, Ohio in 1933 and received a B. S. Degree from Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas in 1937 and later attended Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa where he worked on his Master's Degree.

He is affiliated with the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Dallas, Texas with the title of Field Supervisor. He is married and has one daughter and resides in Dallas, Texas.

McDanel holds membership in:

Voters Cast Final Ballot For Democratic Nominees

How will the voters who voted for another candidate not in the run-off, vote this time? That's the question that will decide the fate of fourteen candidates in seven races on the Democratic Primary run-off ballot Saturday.

For instance Kenneth Wheatley and Morris Cobb are opponents for State Representative from the 123rd Representative district in the run-off. Yet, both of them, together barely polled as many votes as the defeated third candidate in the final Deaf Smith tabulation. Cobb had 440 votes to Wheatley's 450 votes at that time.

The other race where Deaf

Appoint Elmer Mathis Draft Board Member

Elmer Mathis has been appointed fifth member of the five-man Deaf Smith, Randall, Castro and Parmer County Draft Board, it was announced Wednesday.

Announcement of Mathis' appointment means the board is completely full for the first time in its two year history.

Other board members include Chairman Colby Conkright of Hereford who was appointed June 19; I. W. Quickle of Friona, appointed July 18; M. Ray McReynolds of Canyon, appointed in 1948 and Frank Latimer of Dimmitt, also appointed in 1948 and the member of longest standing.

Disinfecting Gets New Twist As Hoses Turn On Sidewalks

Now we even disinfect side walks.

Tuesday, Irvin Ward, manager of Star Theater, and Bill Hardwick, son of Francis Hardwick, the owner, loaded a sprayer on a pickup and sprinkled the alley, building walls, sidewalks and the underside of sidewalk awnings with a DDT-sprayed emulsion.

Part of the spray came through the transom over the door of The Brand building and fell on the desk and chair of Horace Gore, Brand reporter.

"Lucky I wasn't there," mused Gore. "I might be on the floor with the rest of the insects."

Hardwick got the idea from his ranch southwest of Clovis, where he sprayed around the house and barns.

He uses a solution containing two to three per cent of DDT and five to six per cent solution of xylene. The main purpose is to repel flies rather than kill them, according to Irvin Ward.

The solution is not strong enough to cause injury if any of it accidentally wanders into someone's mouth, says Bill Hardwick. It is recommended for use on cattle and dogs, who lick themselves. It is too strong for use on cats.

Hardwick has been spraying around his theater for about three years, but before has used a hand-spray. This is the first time he has used a power spray for the job.

Tuesday he used about 50 gallons of spray around each theater.

Our grandfathers learned to disinfect baby's bottle. Our fathers learned to put iodine on little scratches. We learned to drink out of paper cups. Now we disinfect side walks.

Services Held For Leon Donner

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, August 22 for E. Leon Donner, 79, of Hereford. He died at the Deaf Smith County hospital Sunday evening, August 20. E. Leon Donner was born Nov. 21, 1871, in Mills County, Iowa. He was married to Maud Alice Britt in Mills County. One daughter, Helsen, was born to this union.

The Donners came to Deaf Smith County with the Wright Land company in 1903 and began farming. Helsen died after being crippled for several years by a fall which broke her back.

Mr. Donner later moved into Hereford. He was postmaster for eight years in the 1920's, and was affiliated with the Republican party. For a time he worked as a contractor at moving dirt.

He is remembered as a man who walked alone and kept his own counsel, and as an excellent citizen.

He is survived by his wife; a sister, Mrs. S. M. Norton, Malvern, Iowa; and four brothers, L. S. Hemmingsford, Nebr.; A. D. Columbia, Mo.; R. N. Council Bluffs, Iowa; and J. C. Malvern, Iowa.

Burial was at West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland funeral home. Rev. Don R. Davidson, pastor First Methodist Church and Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor First Baptist Church, officiated.

Funeralbearers were: Cliff Hicks, Elmer Patterson, Frank Cogdell, Miles Robertson, C. R. Smith, and Earl Wood.

County Crop Prospects Appear Above Average

Prospects for an above average crop in the county this fall are good, according to County Agent Hugh Clearman after a 115 mile swing around the county Monday.

Some of the dry-land row crop near Hereford could use more rain, but it still was good.

Toward the northwest, even row crops were excellent. Part of this is no doubt due to a heavy rain which fell August 14 when there was only a light shower in the Hereford area.

Pasture land is in first class condition, with grass tall and thick.

Smith County voters will elect a lot concerns the Democratic nominee for Congress from the 18th Congressional District. Mrs. Altavene Clark polled 729 in the first primary and her opponent 410. Together they barely polled half of the votes cast in the county. Where will the other half swing and will they even vote? is a major question.

Rogers and Clark will close campaigns that have already reached past the four-month mark Friday. One of them will then tackle Ben Guill, Republican, in the November general election.

Rogers closed out his campaign here by saying: "I know you are tired of politics, but the decisive election is at hand as you select your Democratic nominee for congressman."

"I entered this race a strong believer in local, self-government; I am alarmed at the power given to bureaus and boards, at your tax dollars wasted and at the dangerous trend toward centralization and socialism in your government at Washington.

"As your congressman, I will do my part to check these trends, to abolish waste, to get our defense forces adequately prepared; I will do my best to return your government from the bureaus to the people. I pledge my efforts toward a sound, practical and alert administration in Washington, and my loyalty, and unstinted service to all the people of the district."

Mrs. Clark closed by saying: "Voters, government is what you make it. Exercise your privilege and duty."

Her campaign was largely based on the fact that she had previously served in Congress and is "a ready-trained Congressman." She stood for Christian leadership in government.

Mrs. Clark's radio broadcasts during the past week revealed a human side of the candidate not previously aired in the congressional race.

Mrs. Clark has recounted some of her home life back in Iowa, where she lived before coming to the Panhandle nearly a quarter of a century ago.

In the first of her current five-minute series, she told about her experiences as a mother and a homemaker. She asserted that women come into public life only as "seasoned politicians and diplomats" because of their experiences in maintaining homes.

"They are not apt to make quite the same mistakes as male lawmakers do," she said. "But in the home, government is a cooperative affair, and it takes the combined efforts of both men and women to be successful."

During her last-minute canvass of voters, Mrs. Clark was expected to swing south again. She plans visits in a number of communities in the southern part of the 18th District and may visit here.

Deaf Smith County voters are well acquainted with both Kenneth Wheatley and Morris Cobb, candidates for State Representative. Both have spent considerable time in Hereford and have probably contacted a major portion of the population personally.

Concerning other races on the ballot voters will see at the polls Saturday:

July 22nd returns from Deaf Smith County showed Ramsey with 127 votes and Brooks with 258. The county was predominantly for Preston Smith who ran third in the race and who this week announced he was supporting Ramsey.

Will Wilson received 677 and Fagan Dickson 514 in July, in the Associate Justice of Supreme Court place 1 race in the county.

Meade Griffin of Hale County received even stronger support from Deaf Smith County voters in the primary. He got 1,095 votes to his opponent George Harwood's 305.

Riddle Funeral Held Wednesday

Funeral rites were held at 4 p. m. Wednesday, August 23 for C. W. Riddle, 55, of Hereford. He died in the Deaf Smith County hospital Sunday evening, August 20 following a heart attack some four weeks ago.

C. W. Riddle was born in Denton County on Nov. 11, 1894. He married Iva Mae Wilson on September 2, 1917. During World War I he served in the army.

He came to Hereford in 1941 and worked as a carpenter.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Wanda Jeanette Riddle, three sons, Guy of Denton and Ogle and Troyce W. both of Hereford; two sisters, Bessie Riddle and Ella Riddle, both of Little Elm; and two brothers, Guy of Pilot Point, and Richard of Little Elm.

He was buried in the West Park Cemetery with Rev. Don R. Davidson, Methodist pastor, and Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor First Baptist Church, officiating. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Funeralbearers were: H. H. Buss, Guss Ruland, Arvel Smith, A. B. West, O. H. Griffith, and Fred Bell.

Kelly Brothers Believe In Real Solid Comfort

Ever sleep in an air-conditioned cow shed? Well, two Deaf Smith County steers do.

They are the property of Bill Kelly, 17-year-old son of Troy Kelly, and are being fattened to be shown at the state fair at Dallas Oct. 17.

Troy gives them a daily massage with a rolling pin. The flesh forms on them in lumps, he says, and "rolling" them makes it spread out evenly.

The floor of the shed is covered deeply with sand, which is kept clean. The steers have nothing to do but eat and grow fat.

They had no comment to make on their luxurious living conditions.

Mischief, the older and bigger of the two steers, was bred by Cobly Conkright. Bill showed him at Hereford and at the Amarillo Fair Stock show last March, placing fourth with him at Amarillo.

Dandy, the smaller and younger of the two, was bred by Winston brothers, Snyder.

Bill also has three small steers he is fattening to show next spring.

Brice Kelly, 10-year-old son of Troy Kelly, is fattening a steer for showing next spring. This is Brice's second year in 4-H Club work.

Question OF THE Week

Recently, in another town, a man was fired from a job only because he was in the National Guard. Do you think this should have been done?

C. W. Sargeant, farmer: If he filled the job, he should have been kept till he was called.

J. E. Foster, cafe proprietor: He was being penalized for his patriotism.

Mrs. Arthur Thompson, women's wear merchant: He will be fighting for his employer, too, and should get credit for it.

Frank Daniel, grocery merchant: A man should be kept as long as he is willing to work.

G. P. Owen, dry cleaner: He had to make a living, and he had the same rights as before.

Bob Lamm, jeweler: It was the employer's patriotic duty to keep him, even if the employer knew he could be replaced with a more efficient man now than would be available later.

Clyde Cave, variety store manager: If a man can't hold a job and belong to the National Guard, we won't have much National Guard.

Candlelight Services Honors Two Members

An impressive candlelight and bride's Bible presentation service of the Joan Riffey Y. W. A. was held Thursday night at the home of Nancy Cagle honoring Mrs. Clyde Hughes, the former Joan Beams; and Joy Miller, bride - elect of Herbert Dones. The Y.W.A. colors of green, signifying growth and white; signifying purity were carried out in decorations and refreshments.

Nora Jo McLallen, Y.W.A. president, opened the program with a talk about home entitled "Hearth Fires." During this talk all the Y.W.A. members got up one by one and lighted white candles from one large white candle entwined with green ivy which was on the mantel.

The only light in the room was from the lighted candles as the girls formed a circle around Joy Miller and Mrs. Hughes. Mrs. Wayne Williams at this time read a poem, "Home," by Edgar A. Guest. Mrs. Francis Graham, sponsor of the Y.W.A., then gave a talk on the Bible and its use

The Llano Estacado Boy Scout Council held their third summer camp period at Camp Don Harrington last week, August 13 to 19. A total of 67 boys attended this camp period including 31 from Hereford.

Local boys attending the camp were: Bert Cagle, Larry Kaul, Walter Kaul, Robert Miller, Martin Moore, Jimmy Sears, and Wheeler Sears of Troop 50; Johnny McIver, Kenneth Matthews, Donald Sigle, Edward Vaught, Otis Vaught, Bobby Veigel, Duwayne Wallace and Lanny Wilkins of Troop 51; Arol Acton, David Adams, Westly Aldrich, Lewis Biggers, Norman Bookout, John David Bryant, Luther Flowers, Buddy Jowell, Billy Kester, Gary Slaughter, Gwinn Lovel, Charles Robert Seed, Raymond Wells, Melton White, Dick Wilson and Ronald Zimmerman of Troop 52. Gerald Wilson, Scoutmaster of Troop 50 acted as leader of Camp

Troop 1 which included all the Hereford boys and one boy from Amarillo. Bill Phillips, neighborhood commissioner, also attended and acted as leader of Camp Troop 2 which included boys from Amarillo, Canyon and Duomas. Harry DeLashmutt, Field Executive of Amarillo, was camp director; Buddy Simmons of Amarillo was rifle instructor; and Garvin McCaskill of Amarillo was life guard and water front instructor. Kenneth Matthews, Robert Miller, Duwayne Wallace and Lanny Wilkins served as assistant life guards.

In addition to instruction in marksmanship, swimming, and life saving, a demonstration in some scouting skill was given each day during the period immediately after lunch. Throughout the day the boys also worked on various types of handicraft as well as on their second class and first class advancement and merit badges.

On Monday evening the opening camp fire was held and the new boys received their camp initiation. Tuesday evening was given to wide games such as Pioneers and Indians and Capture the Flag. Wednesday evening the two camp troops held their troop camp fires. Thursday evening movies on New York City and Hawaii were shown.

On Friday evening the Indian Ceremonial Camp Fire was held at which time each patrol presented a stunt and camp awards were announced. This was followed by the initiation into the Order of the Black Arrow, a Boy Scout honorary camping society. Gerald Wilson was initiated into the order at this camp. A softball tournament was also conducted as part of the camp program. Two teams from each camp troop were formed and a play-off held to determine the camp champion. This was won by the Troop 2 Giants. Plans for this team to play a team of staff members was cancelled due to rain on Thursday afternoon.

At the big camp fire on Friday night several Hereford boys received special recognition. Lanny Wilkins was recognized as top marksman of the camp. Swimming merit badges were awarded to Westly Aldrich, Lewis Biggers, Kenneth Matthews, Robert Miller, Bobby Veigel, Duwayne Wallace, and Lanny Wilkins; and life saving merit badges to Kenneth Matthews, Robert Miller, Duwayne Wallace, and Lanny Wilkins.

The Comanche Patrol composed of Larry Kaul, Jimmy Sears, Bert Cagle, Edward Vaught, Otis Vaught, Luther Flowers, Ronald Zimmerman, and Donald Sigle tied for first place in the stunts. The Wolverine Patrol composed of Duwayne Wallace, Robert Miller, Johnny McIver, Lanny Wilkins, Wheeler Sears, Martin Moore, Lewis Biggers and Kenneth Matthews was awarded second place in the stunts.

FIRST GOB TO GO - Roy Boyer, member of the Amarillo Naval Reserve Unit, and Hereford resident received his call to active duty this week. Other members of the Amarillo unit had been called previously, but Boyer is the first Hereford man to be called. Several other local Navy veterans are members of the Amarillo Unit. Law And You

By ROBERT (Bob) KIRK
DO YOU KNOW what the community property of a husband and wife is?

Community property is all property acquired by the husband and wife after their marriage, except that which is received by either of them as a gift or by inheritance, or in exchange for other separate property. Property owned by either of the parties at the time of their marriage is separate property, as is that received after marriage by gift or inheritance. The rents and revenues from separate property of either husband or wife becomes community property.

Both parties to the marriage are equal owners of the community property, and upon a dissolution of the marriage are entitled to have their rights to all of their separate property established, and also to one-half of all of the community property.

The husband has charge of the community property during the period of the marriage; however he may not sell the homestead without the joinder of the wife. The wife has charge of her separate property during the marriage, but may not sell or encumber the real estate of her separate property without the joinder of her husband. Under certain circumstances, the wife can get permission from the Court to sell her real estate without the joinder of her husband.

(For further information in regard to this subject, see your local attorney.)

Happy Homes 4-H Club Meets In Walker Home

A recent meeting of the Happy Homes 4-H Club was held at the home of Nell Walker.

The camping party which has been postponed because of rain will be August 30 at the home of Mrs. Nollie Elliston at 3:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Ira Ott demonstrated the canning of fruits in a water bath method. She canned some very nice peaches.

Refreshments were served to Gracie Fotheringham, Earnesteen Garrison, Doris Wilhelm, Barbara Damron, the hostess, Nell Walker, and Mrs. Fotheringham, Mrs. Ott and Mrs. Walker.

VOTE FOR

JOHN C. WHITE, Because:

He is a young man of sterling character; born and reared on a farm in Clay County, Texas, he worked his way through School, and is prepared by education and experience to carry out the duties of this office: He is capable, trustworthy and honest, and stands high in the esteem of those who know him best. He has made a study of the Agricultural problems of the State, and is intensely interested in his work. His promise to Texas is:

"If I can't do more for the Farmers of Texas in one, two-year term than my oponent has done in his entire 20 years. I won't ask for a second term."

His oppoient, Mr. J. E. McDonald, has held this office for the past 20 years. Ordinarily when an official has held an office that long, he can "point with pride" to some outstanding accomplishments. If he has done anything unusual for Agriculture it has not been apparent. Even though he had energetically devoted himself to his official duties, he has served his day, should have carried out his announced purpose to retire, and given a younger man a chance.

I grew up in the same community where John C. White was born. I do not know him, but I know he comes from a good family and is highly regarded there. This Boy deserves the support of the people of Texas, and will give a good account of himself if elected.

COFFEE TIME

Everyone is happy, even the two waitresses who are literally swamped in trying to handle the mid-morning coffee crowd. Coffee time is also "fun time" when folks run out for a few minutes' relaxation, a bit of gossip or completion of a "big deal" over that cup of morning Java.

Maybe it's a hang-over from the Cowboy Chuck Wagon custom of days past... maybe it's supplemental to the driving urge in this Hereford water... or, maybe it's just the yen for a few minutes relaxation — all of which regardless, everybody admits: "Hereford is the dog-gonest Coffee Drinking Town I ever saw!"

About a year ago an enterprising Brand reporter wrote a feature story on coffee drinking and, consequently, discovered a lot of things. For instance by totaling coffee-drinking excursions at 15 minutes per-day-per-person (and that's conservative) approximately 865 man hours per day were estimated as being consumed by employees and by the business men who indulged in the art of coffee drinking.

National figures indicate an average of 12 pounds of coffee consumed for each person in the United States each year. However, drug store and cafe operators believe this is far too small a figure for Hereford. A popular story indicates that coffee was discovered in 830 A. D. by a goat herder named Kaldi, when he noticed his flock yawning after having devoured coffee beans. Coffee was introduced into the United States in 1807 by a fellow named John Smith — and today this country consumes around three-fourths of the world coffee output.

Anyway, Roving Photographer Alex Thompson got the urge to do some pictures Thursday morning — or maybe he just wanted a cup of coffee — so he grabbed a camera and started out. This page shows the result, which can be duplicated any morning between 10 and 11 o'clock in Hereford — only, sometimes there are more people.

"It was so good I had to have another," said Alex, who talked Kenneth Coker into clicking the shutter. On his left are Fred Warren, and Jim Roberts, while Bob Thompson and Hub Homer face the trio. In the booth just to the rear Marcus Houser and Gerald Gollehon do a bit of visiting.

Super-service for this quartet as two waitresses jump to take care of four "old regulars". Coffee drinkers, incidentally, show up with a word of cheer for waitresses who serve them.

N. D. Bartlett, Jr., chats with Alex Thompson and Otis Hall. Thompson, one of the town's veteran coffee drinkers, says he got so wrapped up in the story that he "just had to have a cup" before he could go any further.

"Coffee won't hurt you," a man answered "About 45", the doctor told one Hereford man, doctor hurriedly retracted his then added, "How many cups statement; told the man to drink do you drink a day". When the only three or four cups.

Like the barbershop, coffee booths no longer offer a sanctuary for men. Thelma Chronister and Mrs. Bess Moore have just dropped in "for a cup" and have encountered Mrs. Emmett Millburn and son. "Coffee Time" is becoming more and more popular with women who work in town, and with numerous housewives, who take advantage of the "morning break"

It's either a big deal or a fish story from the way Edgar Moseley, waves his left hand as he drinks coffee with G. T. Riggins. Farther down the counter Charley Morris and John B. Caraway are talking things over.

Half of the time you can't tell who buys the coffee. Someone finishes, walks over and "cleans the counter" in many places. This is more especially true in drug stores.

"Nickel Coffee", long a standby in Hereford, is endangered with the present up-trend in coffee prices. One place tried 10c coffee a few months ago, but after a few weeks dropped the price back to five cents.

Coffee drinking, the universal habit is spreading over the entire country. Tourists, new comers, natives... but it's all in a day's work to the smiling waitress.

Rogers Advocates Outlawing Russia From United Nations

As the second last week of the Congressional race came to a close, Walter Rogers, Panama contender for the 18th District seat, took an outright, definite stand on Russia, calling for the United Nations, advocated outlawing Russia—and her Poliboro—and demanded an economic blockade against her and her satellite nations.

It was the strongest statement in the campaign issued by any candidate—the first, in fact, since the campaign for the Special Election on May 15.

Rogers made his strongly worded statement during his regular Friday night radio round-table over KONG, Amarillo.

Comparing the Soviet Union with an octopus, and the Korean situation as one of its tentacles, Rogers declared:

"The final annihilation of the tentacle (Korean communist) will not effectively destroy the body from which it came. I feel now that to destroy the evil root of that evil must be rendered ineffective. There is time to exterminate Russia from the United Nations, outlaw Russia and the entire Poliboro—including Stalin, Molotov, Malin and the rest of the war mongers and create an economic blockade against Russia and all her satellites. Russia cannot stand an economic blockade nor an immediate showdown. We cannot afford to continue to sacrifice American lives fighting one tentacle of that octopus; the play must be called against the body of that octopus and without delay, hesitation, and without appeasement."

He called, too, for all out mobilization and said that it should start by immediately channeling federal funds toward defense projects, and abolish the vast number of useless bureaus, boards and commissions, that are fighting to keep their place at the public hog trough.

Rogers cited two instances of bureaucratic action; one of them an "apple census" taken recently by the Dept. of Agriculture to determine whether families ate their apples raw, or cooked, and how cooked, and followed up with the refusal of the agent in charge of the survey refusing to give the press any statement on the survey. The other instance was when a Florida sugar planter was penalized by the government for overplanting his crop at the same time sugar rationing stamps were being put on the presses in Washington. The first instance, Rogers said, was gleaned from a story in a newspaper and the second came from a farmer in the cotton growing section of the Panhandle.

In answer to questions from a farmer asking if he thought the Panhandle would be better off if Congress did as much for it as the farmers themselves have, Rogers replied: "In traveling over the District I have realized what great progress the farmer has made. That progress can continue only under sound farm program based on common sense, local control and sound practices. The basic principles of the present program must be retained and developed on a practical basis and keeping bureaucratic trends from taking it too far afield that it eventually destroys itself."

Replying to another query on oddling commies, Rogers termed it "a disgrace," pointing to the insults suffered by Judge Harold S. Medina while trying the 11-1000s in the U. S. and concluded saying, "If this agitation would have been pulled off in Russia, the instigators would have been shot."

Golfers Qualify For Annual City Tourney This Weekend

Golfers from Hereford, Dimmitt and Friona will qualify for the second annual grass-green city championship tournament on Sunday or before, tournament

Diggin' Divots

M. J. Layman won the ball sweepstakes Sunday with an 87-26. S. A. Duckworth pulled in two strokes behind to take second place and O. F. Lange and Gilbert Carlyle each had 70's, 80-10 and 89-19 respectively to tie at third.

A lot of golf will be played here during the next couple weeks. The Jaycee tournament Saturday will attract 50 or more golfers, the First Annual Hereford Ladies tournament is on now, the second annual grass-green city tournament starts this week end and continues through the finals on Labor Day. Pros and amateurs from all over West Texas and New Mexico will be here the sixth of September for the West Texas Pro-Am to climax the whole deal. And don't forget the Scotch foursome this Sunday evening.

Jim Terry is offering a set of $45 woods to the golfer who brings the most beginners down to play a round between now and just before Christmas. The lucky winner will then receive the new clubs as a Christmas present. Get your beginners down there now.

With the tournament coming up it might be well to remind everyone the second nine is supposed to be played from the back tees. You can pick up all the putts you want to, or at least all your opponent will give you in match play, but in medal play you are supposed to play every hole until the ball drops into the cup.

committeeman Bill Davis said Tuesday.

He announced that pairings will be released Monday and first round matches will have to be played on or before Saturday, September 2. Semi-finals will be played Sunday and the finals will start Monday afternoon at 1:30.

All matches will be played on an 18 hole match play basis and entry fee is $2.50.

Prizes will be awarded all winners and the champion will assume possession of the championship trophy for a year. His name will also be permanently inscribed on it.

Prizes are on display at the clubhouse, including a prize for medalist this year.

Davis said they hope to have at least 48 golfers enter to fill out six flights of eight men each.

Lucille Posey Is Medalist With 48

Lucille Posey shot a neat 48 to win medalist honors in the First Hereford Women's Golf tournament qualifying round last week. Mrs. Posey had a four stroke lead over second place qualifier Irma Terry who came in with 52 strokes on the nine.

Mrs. Deward Roberson and Helen Ann Pitman were the only other two qualifiers in the 50's. They had 53 and 56 respectively.

Other scores include Sally Kirby 78, Cora Jane Benson 64, Meredith Iffland 61, Pauline Howard 73, Marie Cogdell 69, Genevieve Eberle 62 and Jean Streu 75. A few more entrants were expected to qualify.

First round matches will be played between now and next Thursday. Trophies are on display at the clubhouse.

Inez Tucker, Donna Jean Stagner and Mrs. Owen Starrier went to Abilene last Friday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Searth who went on to Eastland to visit their son. They all returned to Hereford Sunday night.

NEXT TIME TELLS THE TALE—Dr. John Channer, Hereford Golf Association president, looks at the West Texas-New Mexico Golf Association trophy that Hereford gave up Sunday and hopes they'll win it back in September. The Hereford team won the trophy when golfers from Clovis, Portales and Tucuman met here to play in July. Clovis won it Sunday in the four-city match at Portales. Total scores at the end of the season will determine who gets permanent possession of the beautiful trophy. All four teams are about even, and the match at Clovis September 27, will tell the tale.

Duck Date Choice Made

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission said Saturday that the annual fall waterfowl season in Texas will open Friday, November 3, and probably last 45 days.

This is not the date preferred by the Commission for the whole state since it voted at its May meeting for a zoning plan to benefit the widely separated north and south parts of the state. It proposed November 10 for the opening date should the zoning suggestion fail.

The Fish and Wildlife Service which sets the shooting periods, rejected the Texas proposal and then gave the Commission the choice of either November 3 or November 17 as the opener for the entire state.

Since liberalized Central Flyway regulations are in prospect, a slightly higher bag limit on ducks is considered likely. The limit on ducks last year was four per day per hunter and eight in possession. The Commission at its July meeting requested that both the daily bag and possession limits be set at eight ducks. It is believed that the limit may be placed at five per day and ten in possession.

The limit on geese has not been indicated. Last year Texas hunters could bag five geese a day, but could have no more than five in possession.

At its May meeting, the Commission voted for a zoning system whereby the hunters in the Panhandle would be permitted to shoot earlier in conformity with the seasons in Oklahoma and New Mexico which frame the extreme northern area of Texas. But the Federal authorities ignored this proposal. The apparent theory was that here the two seasons in one state would place an extra burden on the waterfowl since the hunters themselves might become migratory, moving from one part of the state to the other to take advantage of the varied season dates.

In 1949, Texas had a split duck season of 36 days, dating from November 4 to November 21 for the first half and from December 21 to January 7 for the last half. The Executive Secretary explained that this arrangement

VFW Unlace Tulia Play Canyon Sun.

Hereford VFW moved into the finals of the Shaughnessy play-off Sunday with a 7-1 victory over fourth place Tulia and will play Canyon, 17-7 winners over Vega, on the Canyon diamond Sunday afternoon.

Manager Andy Anderson hurled a three-hitter and struck out 12 while the Vef's limed on Tulia pitcher Gleng for 10 hits and 7 runs.

Anderson gave up one hit through the first six innings and then let a pair of singles in the seventh ruin his shutout. Winkler threw to the last three batters in the ninth, striking out two.

VFW Plays Warm-Up With Navy Reserve

Stan Barrett will take the mound Friday night when Hereford VFW tackles Amarillo Naval Reserve for the third and deciding game of a three game series.

Hereford won one of two games the Amarillo team lost this season.

Manager Andy Anderson said he will also have Johnny Winkler to call on if he is needed. The Amarillo team has a 39 won, 2 lost, record for the year.

did NOT suit most of the hunters because of the full-month's spread between the shooting periods.

"It's the same old problem," said the Executive Secretary. "In a state as big as Texas, which really covers as much area as the average three states, we have extreme difficulty adjusting our hunting needs to the restrictions applied by the Fish and Wildlife Service."

"An early winter in the north that sends the ducks and geese down sooner could give all Texas hunters a break. Always we must keep the ducks' angle in mind. The birds must be safeguarded or else we will have no duck hunting at all."

Canyon Clips Vega 17-7 With Big Rally In 8th

Canyon advanced to the finals of the Central Plains league Sunday with a 17-7 victory over Vega at Vega.

The two teams were tied 6-6 up to the seventh when Canyon rallied for eight runs. Monk Ford, who also received credit as the winning pitcher, led the Canyon attack, hitting four for five. Eddie Conner relieved Ford on the eighth and finished without giving up a hit. Ford allowed seven hits.

Day Thompson started for Vega and was relieved by Wayne Richardson who was charged with the loss.

Canyon and Vega had each won once in the two games they played during the regular season.

G. P. Owen, Jr. went to Lamesa Saturday afternoon, and spent the night there with Doyle Kelly. Both of them went to Abilene the next day to attend the wedding of Sue Ann Duncan and Charles Layton. They were all classmates at Hardin-Simmons University for the past few years. From Abilene G. P. went to Pecos to make further arrangements before going there to teach this fall. He will teach math in the Pecos High School. He returned to Hereford Tuesday.

Wendell Burdine and Johnny Renner each got a pair of hits to lead in the batting department. Stengel walked after Barrett; was out on a fly to left field to open the second. Burdine and Renner followed with singles to draw first blood for Hereford with two runs.

Lueb, Clark, Stengel, and Burdine all scored in the third to give the local nine a six-nothing lead. Conrad Clark's towering homer just inside the left field foul line with Lueb on base, highlighted the inning.

Andy Anderson scored the final run in the eighth after opening the inning with a single.

Hereford will open the play-off at Canyon and then play a double-header here the following Sunday before Labor Day. Hereford beat Canyon, 9-2 and 11-5 during the regular season's schedule.

Attention Home Demonstration Club women! Mr. Cox at the Hereford Fruit Market says that there will not be any apricots available for club women of this county this year. The Colorado crop was killed by the late freezes. The California crop is short and the price will run $7.50 per bushel by the time they are trucked to this vicinity. Mr. Cox said that he knew that we wouldn't be interested in them at that price.

The Cultural Home Demonstration club will meet with Mrs. A. F. Hargette Friday, August 25 at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Paul Corbitt will give a talk on mental hospitals and state institutions. Everyone is urged to attend this important meeting.

H. Inman from Plainview. Others having dinner in the Childers' home were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barclay and their young son, Larry Curtis, and Lula Mae Harris, the hosts and family.

Mrs. Roger Hartman and children, Charlene and Leon, from Santa Fe, N. M. have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Houser in Friona this past week. Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago
 With the opening of school so near at hand, courses for the new school year were disclosed. For graduation from high school a total of 17 units of work was required, 15 of which had to be affiliated units. The other two could be affiliated units or local credits in music, Bible, glee club or orchestra. Fourth year English was not yet affiliated, but the school officials were hoping to get it affiliated soon.

The required list included four units in English, two years of algebra, plane geometry, three years of the history group including American History and modern history, and two years of science. The science had to include either chemistry or physics for one year, and either general science, home economics, biology or agriculture for the other year. Latin and Spanish were offered but were not required. A new course in agriculture would be offered that year and also a half year of work in commercial law and commercial geography.

Eighth grade students were required to take algebra and English and had to take two of the following subjects: general science, agriculture, cooking, Latin, history. They could also make a half credit in Bible, music, glee club, or orchestra.

If plans then in the making by W. M. Cogdell, owner of the Cordova Hotel, would go through Hereford to have a brick hotel in the near future that would take care of the demand for larger and more modern hotel facilities.

Mr. Cogdell had plans prepared by an Amarillo architect showing an extension of the present building out to the street on the west, with sample rooms and lobby downstairs and enough additional rooms upstairs to make the structure what was known as a 30-room hotel. That would include several private baths an enlarged dining room and lobby, and other features.

With the return of County Agent Dunkle from his vacation, intensified work in preparation for the forthcoming County Fair, September 18-19, was noted. Mr. Dunkle, Fair Secretary Elliston, his assistant, N. C. Vogele, and Secretary Moss of the Chamber of Commerce were all busy conferring and getting in exhibits.

The annual Panhandle A&M's Club banquet-dance had been announced for the Palo Duro Hotel in Amarillo. A large attendance from all over this section was anticipated. There were a number of graduates, students and ex-students of A&M in this vicinity and a representative attendance from Hereford was anticipated.

Carl Gilliland, local lawyer and sportsman, was elected president of the Deaf Smith County chapter of the Isaac Walton League. C. L. McDonald was elected vice-president and C. A. Skelton, secretary-treasurer.

B. G. Garmon, deputy state game and fish warden, made an interesting talk at the meeting in which he said that the only salvation of game and the only way to preserve them was through the work of this organization.

C. A. Skelton reviewed the work of the past year, stating that 16 cans of fish had been placed into the Tierra Blanca stream, 28 quails had been obtained from the state, and these birds had raised over 200 birds, and better sportsmanship had been created. More fish would be asked for that year and a larger number of quail and other game would be sought.

The announcements of the forthcoming marriage of two of Hereford's young ladies had been announced. Miss Mattie Mounts was to marry Joe Lancaster of Amarillo, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. N. Mounts, August 31. Miss Dene Dunlap, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Dunlap, would become the bride of Ward Evans of Dallas on September 8. The ceremony was to take place at the Methodist Church. An announcement luncheon was given the past Monday with the bride-to-be's sister, Mrs. Bobo McLean, as hostess.

The poultry breeders in this immediate vicinity were not waking up to the opportunity offered them by the new 12,000-egg hatchery as well as was hoped for, according to H. H. Hawkins of the Golden Rule Hatchers. Mr. Hawkins was arranging to set his huge machine on August 28, so as to have a hatch of chickens off for the county fair, but stated that he would have to secure most of his eggs from out of town. Wednesday morning he received a shipment of 1,500 eggs from Indiana. In addition he had 200 eggs from Portales, N. M. and was arranging to make a trip Thursday to Bellevue where

In a game featured by a triple play the Hereford Whitefaces downed the Tulla aggregation here the past Sunday, 6 to 1. The game was a tight hitting affair, only three blows to each side being gathered. Galbraith was too much for the invaders, striking out 14 men. The visitors continually shifted their lineup until it was almost impossible to keep an accurate box score.

The triple came in the second inning when after Tucker and Davis of Tulla had singled, Ormas Carroll grabbed Blair's smash and threw to Smith, who relayed to Alban, nailing all three runners. Each side also made a double play. Alban hit a homer in the first inning. The Hereford team showed a decided tightening up in their play.

FACTS ABOUT MONEY!

THE DERIVATION OF "CHATTEL"

Among the Greeks, about the ninth century B. C. cattle and oxen were used as a principle means of exchange. A strong woman slave was valued at four oxen and from this widespread use of cattle currency came many present-day words dealing with wealth. The word "chattel", meaning personal property, stems directly from the word cattle.

It had to happen. A Deaf Smith County wheat and cattle man finally started screaming about too much rain. The fellow is Wirt Phillips and his chief protest is rapid growth of careless weeds. The weeds got to growing so fast that Wirt hired a man to cut them around the lot and when the man couldn't keep up with the growth Wirt pitched in and started helping him. They cut a lot of weeds, but others grew rapidly. The crowning blow came when one of the numerous cats on the place started climbing up on the weeds, which will give you an idea about their size. Wirt is taking a lot of kidding on the deal, but he always manages to grin.

Notice in the Clovis marriage license list where a license was issued last Saturday to J. W. Robinson, Jr. and Miss Virginia Lyons. Congratulations. Both of these kids have grown up in Hereford and they are a mighty, mighty fine couple.

Politics is booming again. The Congressional race naturally tops the list. It is going to be a close race, too. Lots of people picked Rogers for the next Congressman right after the special election—and they might be right. Others think that Mrs. Clark will lead the Demo ticket and lose to Gull; still others think that she will lead the Democratic ticket and the general election as well.

feature. No one ever tells us anything unless they are very, very mad—or exceptionally happy about something. We live in a world of extremes around The Brand office. This is natural, too, and we aren't criticizing or complaining, but it makes things difficult for us sometimes.

Did you ever hear of so many new business buildings in progress around Hereford at one time? We have built hundreds of houses and all of a sudden we start on business buildings in a big, big way. Why is this? N. D. Bartlett is building for H&H north of the Hereford State. Also understand that Benefields are planning another building out on Highway 80. Add to these the new Kaiser-Fraser building, the Witherspoon building, the Phillips-Lawrence expansion of floor space; the Evans building and you have quite a few for a two month period. I also probably missed some.

Thanks to Clarence Morrison for the best roasting ears I have eaten in a long time. They were as sweet and tender as you ever saw. I mention this because Clarence doesn't know that I got them. He even left the fence down to make things easier. Besides, it was good advertising for him. I would even pay money for some more like them. They were really wonderful.

Did you ever see grass and row crop looking better? A few old timers like Nester Gass and the Witherspoons and the Higgins boys might recall a year which topped 1950, but I doubt it. Not even F. H. Oberthier who, incidentally, has the best memory of dates and occasions of any old settler I ever knew. This is wonderful. We deserve a break. Dry weather lost the wheat crop; spuds and cantaloupes were damaged through too much rain. Despite all of this, it looks like we are going to be on top of the world. You just can't beat this country, no matter where you go. It was always exceptional, but diversification has made it better than ever.

The JayCees will gather here this week end for a big regional convention, probably the largest convention Hereford has hosted. It will be a lulu. Mix this with the second Democratic primary, stir thoroughly—and I wonder what we'll have. Anyway, it won't be a quiet time.

Have you noticed wads of cotton sticking around on screen doors? I tried to track this down, but am not completely satisfied. It seems that some old gal back

BEN GULL SAYS:

Finger Of Wrath Should Be Pointed At Johnson

I think the time has come when the people of America should point the finger of wrath at Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. It is my belief — and the belief of the majority of the members of Congress on both sides of the House — that national unity and confidence, so necessary in an all-out war effort, cannot be achieved so long as Louis Johnson remains the Secretary of Defense.

It is common talk that Louis Johnson and Dean Acheson are not personally friendly and the strife between the Department of Defense and the Department of State has reached epic proportions. However, there is this difference: Secretary of State Acheson has issued orders to everyone under his leadership that no derogatory word is to be uttered against the Department of Defense, while it is very apparent that orders within the Department of Defense are that every official and every policy of the State Department is to be knifed at sight. The Department of Defense will not even keep the Department of State informed as to its plans and activities. It has not placed the State Department on its "confidential list."

This childishness is almost criminal in a time of national danger such as we have today. How can the State Department possibly plan an intelligent foreign policy if it does not know how the military will or will not be able to carry those policies out. Any foreign policy today must be integrated with a military program or else it isn't worth the paper it's written on.

The record of Secretary Johnson in the face of the gathering clouds of war has been one of the most bungling and ineffective records ever compiled by a cabinet member. I have done a little research on Secretary Johnson's public pronouncements since January 1, 1950. Here they are:

January 12, 1950: Secretary Johnson told the House Appropriations Committee said that a $13 billion military budget was "adequate to defend this nation in any situation that may arise in the next two years." (The first "police action" in Korea revealed that this figure was ridiculously inadequate.)

January 30, 1950: Secretary Johnson told President Truman that the possibility of war had been greatly reduced.

February 3, 1950: In a speech at the University of Virginia, Secretary Johnson said: "Joe Stalin will know that if he starts something at 4 a. m., the fighting power of the United States will be on the job at 5 a. m." (He didn't say what year they would be ready.)

March 3, 1950: Secretary Johnson said the U. S. defense situation is more encouraging than at any time since V-J Day.

March 27, 1950: Secretary Johnson said: "I think the nation's defenses are sufficient unto the needs of the moment."

April 17, 1950: Secretary Johnson said: "We know Russia does not plan to conquer the U. S. by force or war. There is complete agreement in the Defense Department as to what the danger is and what we need to meet that danger."

April 30, 1950: Secretary Johnson again: "The United States is in a strong position to take appropriate action in any part of the world where the cause of peace is involved."

May 11, 1950: Secretary Johnson told the Kiwanis International Convention: "War is not on the horizon."

June 5, 1950: Secretary Johnson

told Congress that the foreign arms aid program would grow smaller, not larger, in years to come.

June 6, 1950: (Three weeks before the Korean War) Secretary Johnson in a speech to the Pennsylvania Military College: "From a military standpoint we can successfully meet every basic requirement. We present a solid phalanx of strength that can deter designs of aggression. Once an enemy becomes convinced he cannot beat us, he will hesitate to start a war."

June 12, 1950: (Two weeks before the Korean War) Secretary Johnson said: "In 1939, when I was Assistant Secretary of War, we had a heap of catching up to do—had to do a lot of bluffing before we got going. Next time, if war comes, we will not cry about hindsight. WE NEVER. NEVER WILL HAVE ANOTHER PEARL HARBOR. I CAN TELL YOU THAT AGAINST ALL THE DOUBTS AND FEARS THAT HAVE AT TIMES BEEN SHRIEKED ABOUT, WE ARE NOT FEARFUL."

It seems impossible that a man in a responsible position could be so consistently wrong and so tragically misinformed. Despite a that he said during the six months prior to the war, it still remains true that our airplane production on Korea day was less than one-third of what it was on Pearl Harbor Day. It still remains true that we had only six large (General Pershing) tanks in Japan when the Communists struck, and that 70 per cent of our inadequate, light tanks were in the repair shops. And despite all the boasts Secretary Johnson has made, we had only four divisions in the Far East, and they were only at 60 per cent battle strength. The only Marines we had in Japan were a handful performing guard duty in front of embassies. Secretary Johnson is personally responsible for cutting the Marine Corps down to 75,000 men.

In view of this shameful record, it is incredible that President Truman should insist that Secretary Johnson be retained in office. He is guilty of misleading the American people and the Congress of the United States into a tragic and unwarranted feeling of security and confidence which has cost the lives of hundreds of American boys in the rice paddies of Korea.

WATCHFUL COP—In the Formosan capital of Taipei, eyed by communists as a lush war prize, policemen keep a watchful eye on traffic from modern street stands equipped with no less than four electric signals. Now that Chiang Kai Shek has made this city the home of his nationalist forces, traffic has become more of a problem.

Tech Directors Award Building Contracts

An Agricultural Engineering building and Greenhouse for the Texas Technological College campus have been approved by the Board of Directors and contracts totaling over $400,000 have been awarded, Chairman Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, said today.

The Agricultural Engineering building contract went to the R. F. Ball Construction Company of Houston, and totaled $354,436. Contract for the Greenhouse, not to exceed $84,000, went to the Lord and Durnham Company of Irvington, N. Y.

Thompson said the board also approved the architect's preliminary sketches of the Student Union building, which is expected to cost over $500,000. However, no date was set for the awarding of the Union building construction contract.

Awarding of the contracts brought the total of Tech's construction program now in progress or contracted for to well over $4,000,000. The Ball company is now building the Science and Engineering buildings and the Home Economics addition and Music Hall. Other work in progress includes additions to the Administration building and Petroleum Engineering building.

Conservation Farming Pays On Renfro Place

Jack Renfro, who farms 1280 acres of irrigated land 10 miles northwest of Hereford, uses each acre of his land to the fullest extent of its capabilities consistent with permanent production.

Mr. Renfro grows certified seed wheat, certified grain sorghums, onions and potatoes on his level and moderately deep soil from which he reports some excellent yields this year, such as 710 bushels of graded Red Warbo potatoes and 695 sacks of white and yellow Grano onions per acre.

Mr. Renfro has alfalfa and irrigated pasture planted on most of his shallow land with a slope in excess of one per cent. He says that before establishment of these turf forming crops on this land the control of wind and water erosion was a difficult problem. He has 70 acres of irrigated pasture and 90 acres of alfalfa and is planning to plant an additional 90 acres of irrigated pasture this fall. He proudly stated when inspecting his lush irrigated pasture, "I am whipping erosion." He plans to expand his livestock enterprise into a 100-cow grade A dairy farm to utilize the forage and hay from this land.

Mr. Renfro's native pasture receives his close attention as evidenced by almost complete weed eradication. Odd acres, which on many farms, are neglected, he planted to weeping lovegrass and alfalfa to afford wildlife cover, and assist in weed control.

Mr. Renfro is a cooperator with the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District and has been assisted by District Technicians in the development of his irrigation system and in the establishment of his grass pasture.

Education Cost Less Back In The Twenties

Students who registered at Texas Tech back in 1925 when the college was opened paid $6 for their registration fee and could get their board and room for $25 a month.

The 914 students who matriculated during the first term in September, 1925 also paid a health fee of $1.75 and a library fee of $1. Tickets to the athletic contests and the artist course series cost another $5.50, but this was optional.

Today the students pay a $25 registration fee, and another $15 for health and activity fees. Board and room in college dormitories costs $60 a month.

On the other hand, the Tech faculty has increased from 38 members to a staff of over 350. From one building in 1925 the campus has mushroomed into a swarm of structures ranging from million-dollar dormitories to the Jones Stadium, which seats 16,500 spectators. A $4,000,000-plus building program is now in progress.

From the 914 students in 1925 the enrollment spiraled to the post-war peak of 6,689 in 1947-48. This past year the enrollment levelled off to 6,511.

S-Sgt. Bobby Allmon Arrives In Japan

TACHIKAWA AB, Honahu, Japan — Staff Sergeant Bobby G. Allmon, son of Mrs. D. W. Allmon, General Delivery, Hereford, recently arrived at Tachikawa Air Base for his assignment in occupied Japan.

The new "occupationaire" was previously stationed at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Tex.

Alerted for overseas duty May of this year, Sgt. Allmon arrived at the port of Yokohama in June and was transferred to Tachikawa Air Base as a classification clerk in the 374th Food Service Squadron, a unit of the 374th Troop Carrier Wing.

Tachikawa Air Base, situated just 18 miles west of Tokyo in the foothills of scenic Mt. Fujiyama, is the home of the 374th Troop Carrier Wing which is presently charged with the operation of the Far East occupation airlift. Giant transport aircraft of this unit, fly on regularly scheduled flights to almost every point in the Far East—covering a land-sea area as vast as the western United States.

During the war, Tachikawa was one of the most important installations in Japan. It was here that the infamous "Kamikaze" aircraft was first introduced. Though the base received a terrific bombing during hostilities, most of the damage has been repaired and now hangars and other installations formerly used by the Japanese Air Force are housing troops and equipment of today's U. S. occupation air arm.

Prior to entering the Scott Communications School, Cpl. Williams was stationed at Chatham Air Force Base. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Williams, Hereford. His brother, Ret. Ray C. Collins, is receiving Infantry basic training at Fort Ord, California.

S-Sgt. Allmon's wife, Kathryn, and their two children, David, one-and-one-half and Susan, 7 months, are presently residing at 507 East Buckley, Brownfield, Texas.

IT'S TIME for BROOKS! Because...

Something must be done now about the runaway cost of our state government—a cost which has increased more than 500 percent in the period between 1935 and 1950. Aside from the cost of World War II, the cost of the Federal government did not increase that much during the same period.

With the State plunging wildly towards a financial crisis, the Lt. Governorship is a business rather than a political office. It needs a business man with a business viewpoint.

Only by the election of a business man can the people of Texas be assured of a direct and vigorous attack on this runaway cost, useless waste, and needless extravagance in our State government.

Only a business man who has not been a part of the system which spawned this era of waste and extravagance can give the problem that searching inquiry and impartial analysis needed now. Pierce Brooks is that man.

The next Lt. Governor of Texas should be above any internal friction, beyond all cross currents of politics, and completely judicial when clashes of personalities arise among members of the Senate. He must be in a position to treat them all alike, to be fair to each, and also to be true to his obligations to the people. Pierce Brooks meets these tests.

Pierce Brooks is the only candidate completely free from the entangling alliances, political obligations, cliques, clans and groups which grow up when men stay in office too long.

The Lt. Governor to be elected in 1950 should not come from the confused atmosphere of the State government, but direct from the people with a program for the people. Pierce Brooks is such a man.

In these crucial times the next Lieutenant Governor should be answerable to the people of the State and not to any group of special interests that has made millions of dollars off the taxpayers.

Pierce Brooks for Lt. Governor

TEXANS In Washington

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, (AP) — The story of cotton production in West Texas, where thousands of acres plus farms use mechanical pickers, intrigued Senate agriculture committeemen last week. They were studying the 1951 cotton quota bill and among witnesses at a hearing on the legislation were Louis J. Ivey of El Paso, J. C. Wilson of Pecos and W. O. Fortenberry of Lubbock. Listening intently as Wilson told of operating 3,600 acres lying partly in five trans-Pecos area counties was Senator Alken (R) of Vermont. "These tall tales we hear about Texas must be true," broke in Alken. "Up in New England we talk about how many farms there are in a county. Down there they talk about how many counties there are in a farm."

Senator Ellender (D-La.), thinking the witness surely was mistaken, made Wilson repeat his statement that the over-all cost of production on irrigated lands in the trans-Pecos area is almost the same per acre as that in older cotton producing sections of Texas—yet the average yield is three times as great. Incidentally, Wilson said growers still prefer to have their cotton picked by hand, but workers are scarce so they have to rely greatly on mechanical gatherers. Machines knock so much cotton to the ground that fields at the end of the season have to be gleaned by hand anyway, he said.

The retired Fort Worth merchant had been to the Holy Land to visit a sister, whom he had last seen 25 years ago in Bucharest, Romania. Her lands and apartment money in Romania were confiscated by the Communists after the war, said Fuller, and she was forced to flee to Israel for her life.

Fuller is trying to arrange for his widowed sister's admission into the United States.

For three years they said Southern Methodist University's backfield carried the team, 1947-1949.

"You don't need much of a line with guys like Donk Walker, Dick McKissack, Kyle Rote, Gilbert Johnson, Frank Payne," was the usual line.

The line incidentally burned up the said mentioned backs, who always figured they had quite a line in front of them.

It is true that Southern Methodist has attracted more than a fair share of backs since World War II ended, and if you'll take a look at the fellows who'll be in Southern Methodist's backfield this season you'll find the supply as big as ever.

First, there's Kyle Rote. A senior this year, the big San Antonio lad has already been tabbed a cinch for All America if he doesn't get hurt.

Johnny Champion, Pat Knight, H. N. Russell, Jr., Henry Stollenwerck, Bill Richards, I. D. Russell and Fred Benners are among the returning lettermen backs.

Most folks figure new head coach, H. N. Russell, will start a backfield of Rote, son Rusty, Jr., Champion and either Knight or Stollenwerck.

Knight, like Rote a product of Thomas Jefferson high school at San Antonio, is used as a defensive end.

Benners is the boy that was going to make the fans forget about Gilbert Johnson when Johnson passed up his final year for pro football. He didn't, but he did show that he was a better than fair passer.

These backs alone would make any coach smile, but Russell can also choose from: Bill Forester, Val Joe Walker, Benton Musselwhite, Micky Sharp, C. Chaney, Ray Clecker, Sammy Stollenwerck, Gene Gillis, Don Donovan, Kenneth Duke, Lee Mitchell, and Bill Crisler, all sophomores.

In this crop are excellent passers, punters, runners and defensive men and Musselwhite is regarded as a top quarterback prospect.

Which means you might be hearing that line about SMU's backs carrying the team for a few more years.

Education Head At Texas Tech Named

John S. Carroll, 44, will become head of the department of education at Texas Technological College on Sept. 1, President D. M. Wiggins said today.

Dr. Carroll is now county superintendent of schools in San Diego County, Calif. He received the B. A. degree at San Diego State, the M. A. at USC, and the Ph. D. degree at Yale University.

In addition to serving as an instructor at Yale, Dr. Carroll has taught at San Diego State, the New Haven (Conn.) Junior College, USC and the Claremont College Graduate School.

He is the author of numerous monographs and research bulletins on educational topics. Dr. Carroll is a Rotarian, a member of the national advisory council of the Girl Scouts, and has been active in the YMCA and PTA movements in California.

In announcing Dr. Carroll's appointment, Dr. Wiggins said, "Two major goals have been kept constantly in mind in the search for the education post." These were the expansion of the program on the Tech campus to include all departments which can contribute to the education of teachers, and to mold these departments into a closely knit, cooperative organization.

"The department of education will continue to be at the center of the program but more emphasis on other departments now participating, and the inclusion of still others will characterize the revised pattern," he said.

The second goal will be the improvement of service to the Public Schools of the "rapidly developing and expanding West Texas empire," Dr. Wiggins added.

Dr. Wiggins said that according to present plans, candidates for the doctor's degree will be registered in the department of edu-

Little Danger Remains Of Serious Wind Erosion Here

Timely rains coupled with extensive cover crop planting have changed a serious wind erosion threat into a favorable situation in most of the Plains areas of Texas and Oklahoma.

The changed outlook was noted in field reports to Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service for Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

"We're still not completely out of danger," Mr. Merrill said. "A great deal depends now on how the residues of the crops are used and the land is handled. Sorghum stalks left standing and not overgrazed will protect the soil against the wind. If plowing is necessary, sub-tillage is best because it leaves crop residues on top and does not make the surface of the soil loose and easy to blow.

"June and July rains brought up a thick growth of weeds. They supply an abundance of residue that will protect the land if kept on the surface or worked into the top two or three inches of soil.

"Other helpful practices are to plant a cover crop as soon as possible on cotton land when rainfall permits — rye on the loose, sandy soils, and wheat on tighter soils. Rains in late summer usually bring up a good growth of field grasses and weeds that, if left on the surface, furnish protection. Cover crops can also be used on sorghum land to assist the stalks in controlling wind erosion.

"Vetch, Austrian winterpeas, sweetclover and alfalfa are good cover crops on irrigated land. Improved irrigated pastures, or alfalfa, if rotated with crops, will not only protect the surface while on the soil, but increases its resistance to erosion for a time afterwards.

"Of course, fall rains are needed to get the new wheat crops up to a good stand. But all in all the situation has changed from very critical to favorable. In some localities there is enough moisture in the soil to get the wheat up even if it doesn't rain any more. The wheat will provide a cover to protect the soil against fall, winter and spring winds."

Another favorable trend Mr. Merrill mentioned has been the seeding of grass on blow land formerly in cultivation. In most localities the grass, planted last spring, is up to a good stand.

"The speed with which farmers acted to meet the wind erosion emergency that existed last spring proves again that landowners can fulfill their responsibility as custodians of the land," Mr. Merrill emphasized. "Despite months of drought and the prospect of a long dry spell, they arranged to plant grain sorghums and sudan grass, knowing that if no rain came their labor and expense would be lost.

"They also knew, however, that if they didn't have some cover on the ground, blowing next season would be the most serious since the grave wind erosion days of the 1930's. If they planted sorghums and sudans and rain did come in time, the situation would be saved. That's what has happened. The farmers in soil conservation districts of the Texas and Oklahoma Plains planted 7,811,000 acres to sorghums and sudans, 3,239,000 acres more than last year's total."

Soil Conservation district supervisors in the blow areas are also optimistic. They point out that not only are moisture conditions at the moment favorable but that the farmers know more about wind erosion control than ever before and have the tools to do the job.

Homer A. Taff, Soil Conservation Service technician at Lubbock, Texas, center of a highly critical blow area last spring, reported to Mr. Merrill: "Prospects for wind erosion control during the next blow season are very good because of favorable moisture and greatly increased acreages of high residue-producing crops. Farmers are more interested than ever before in winter cover crops, for they have found they cannot depend on emergency tillage alone to control wind erosion." Other reports from Soil Conservation Service technicians: John A. Perrin, Littlefield, Texas: "Outlook is good from a wind erosion control standpoint for the coming blow season. Grain sorghums may not have time to mature but will make enough growth for a fair cover. Farmers are becoming more interested in putting land not suitable for cultivation back into grass. A lot of grass re-seeding was done in July." John F. Bailey, Guymon, Oklahoma: "Considerable acreage of grain and forage sorghums planted in the Oklahoma Panhandle should prevent blowing of those lands which were in a critical condition the past spring." "Because of almost continuous rain in July, many wheat fields, left unplowed, became very weedy. This may be an advantage in event of a dry fall if those weed crops are used as a stubble mulch to protect the land from blowing." "Some bare, summer-fallow land will probably be seeded early and it is quite likely that a stand will be obtained as moisture is plentiful. If, however, the fall months should be dry, summer-fallow fields will be in hazardous condition next spring." "Most of the grass seedings made last spring are up to a satisfactory stand, though too weedy." C. A. Tidwell, Amarillo, Texas: "This area is in very good condition so far as moisture is concerned. Fields not recently plowed are covered with a heavy growth of weeds and annual grasses which form a fairly good cover. A lot of grain sorghum will be made even without additional rain." Goathead Prairie Still Looks Good

By WILL G. HARRIS

The dedication of Harrison highway yesterday was one of the most enjoyable days of my life. If you were not there you really missed a demonstration of neighborliness and good will, and the renewing of ties of friendships long broken.

The thing that amused me most was that of a citizen of Rosedale, a young business man, six years old, trying to sell Jimmie Gillentine a copy of the Hereford Brand.

It was homecoming day to me. I had driven a hack for a livery stable in Texico to haul home-seekers out to see the open country which was to be the land they were to take as a homestead. My sister, Mrs. C. D. Sorrows, her husband and two small children homesteaded a half mile south of where Rosedale is now. My claim was six miles south in the Hollene community, three miles from the state line. I tried to get as close to Texas as I could, and when it became necessary to make a trip to town for supplies I always tried to get a way to Hereford. You might call it pioneer "hitch-hiking." I would get a ride with some of my neighbors.

There were no paved roads then, like our beautiful Harrison Highway. We usually took the Draw route, past Esabada headquarters of the XIT ranch and down the Tierra Blanca draw to within a few miles of Hereford where we went through a gate, with tall posts about two miles west of the cemetery. Another route that I preferred, after I got enough money together to buy a horse, was east, to what we called the Texas gate, and down the north side of the XIT drift fence. This fence was straight as an arrow, about 40 miles long. The road crossed the Santa Fe railroad, about half way between Summerfield and Black.

There was one house after I left Summerfield. I called it the "Half way house." Visitors were always welcome, for they broke the loneliness. I spent many nights there. It was on one of these trips that I saw the beautiful land of Goat Head Prairie. The grass was knee high, thick as a beautiful green carpet, and rippled in the wind like ripe wheat before harvest. Do you blame me for the secret ambition, and the pledge I made with myself, that I would some day own a small portion of that land?

Yesterday, in a modern automobile, I tried to follow that old trail as nearly as I could. One could never imagine how the country has changed, and as one of my friends remarked, "You've changed too, Bill." I didn't see the herd of mustang horses, or the Lobo wolf stalking two antelope, but I saw irrigated wells, fine farms, fat cattle and beautiful homes.

In a homestead country, in the days that are no more, our Uncle Sam bet 100 acres of land against $10.00 that one could not survive on that land, and it proved to be a case of survival of the fittest, and those who could tough it out have made good in a wonderful way. People in all walks of life, with their aged and their offspring look that bet. They come from every corner of the globe, but most of them are from the States, every State.

In a heterogeneous melting pot like that there is bound to be culture and illiteracy, thieves and saints. It was not long all we had "our crowd" of young people, and as someone has said, "youth must be served," and I'll say in behalf of our present day youngsters that we did some very crazy hazardous stunts, too. I cannot say too much for the boys, but the girls were pretty, "as they come." You were welcome in "our crowd" if you were all right; if you were not you were dropped like a "hot potato." If the parents didn't object we had a dance; if they did we had a "play party." If you were outdressed a new house you were marked. One of my friends said I didn't even let him get the roof on, and that we danced under the stars.

Be that as it may, or was, I do remember a very pretty girl, a wonderful night, and the strains of time that the music had stopped. The others were cheering and laughing at us. I remember how she blushed as I stooped to unfasten the hooks in my shoes from the lace in her skirts. Her father was a benefactor; he dug one of those expensive deep wells that his neighbors could haul all the water they needed. They told it of me that I poured out the water so I could haul some more. It didn't do any good to explain that I was trying to grow a few trees.

The fear of sickness is the one great pall that hangs constantly over a homestead country. We had no doctor the first year. Two young ladies, sisters, were stricken with typhoid. The elder recovered, but one night "our crowd" gathered while the girls fixed the beautiful blond hair of the younger, and made artificial flowers. They told her sister how pretty she was; when she insisted that she see her, we boys solemnly carried her in her casket to the bedside. There were no graves then, in the Hollene cemetery. I thought of the words of Longfellow when he said of Rose Standish: "Dear Rose, Beautiful Rose, first was she to die of all those who came in the Mayflower." So we laid her down to dream, between sunshine and shadow, where the brightest star of Heaven hangs forth on its golden cord to keep a silent vigil over a pioneer grave of a dear young girl, a flower half open, a song half sung, a story half told.

There is always some family, or families, that contribute a wonderful lot to the development of a new country. Such a family was my sister and her husband. Their claim was six miles from mine, just a nice little walk in time for lunch. I still get to their house in Clovis in time for lunch. When there was any sickness, no matter if it was day or night, cold or hot, Charlie would hitch up old Jennie and Beek and they would stay till the trouble was over. I told them there would have been no babies if they hadn't come to the country. Sometimes Charlie had the bigger job with the father, than Emma did with the obstetrics. Obstetrics, that is a big word for me, and besides, I do not know what it means. I am like the man up by Grady. His son was in his first year of premedical course in college. He wrote to his father that he was going to specialize in Obstetrics. The father answered: "Dear Son, we are living in an age of progress, things move at a rapid rate. I will take you four years to complete your course in medicine and a year of internship; by that time they will have perfected something to take the place of Obstetrics.

Many of the settlers shipped their household goods, their farm implements, their milk cows and their team in an "immigrant car." Sometimes they would stow away a child or two to save on the freight. They almost always put in the household pet, a cat or a dog or two. The Sorrows' car held two coon hounds, Old Rock and Rye. I guess you think this is a story of my kin folks. I could write a lot about the things they contributed, and their neighbors would agree with me. Their pictures were in the last issue of the Hereford Brand. I asked them if they didn't think modern photography could do a lot to improve one's looks.

Charlie was the best man with coon dogs I have ever seen. He could whittle a board the size of the hide he wanted stretched over it and those dogs would go out and tree a coon just the right size. He began with a small board and increased the size till those dogs would tree a big boar coon. From the start those dogs were dissatisfied with the new homestead. Their eyes were mournful, their ears drooped and they had that "hound dog look." Charlie worried a lot about them. They didn't seem to have any of

Business Leader With Great War Record Tells How Hadacol Has Rebuilt Him Physically

Was run-down, weak, after service in South Pacific due to deficiencies of Vitamins B; B₁₂, Iron and Niacin

Mr. Donald Hedburg, who resides at 1812 Parker in the fashionable Riverside District of Wichita, Kansas, has been an upward-coming executive member of the staff of the great Wichita Eagle newspaper for over four years.

Mr. Hedburg has an enviable record of combat with the U. S. Army in the South Pacific in World War II. He is very active in civic affairs. And just as he was anxious to pitch in and do a job during the war—he now wants to help his fellow citizens who (like he was once), are physically run-down and weak due to lack of Vitamins B; B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin in their systems.

Here is Donald W. Hedburg's witnessed statement: "When I returned from combat with the U. S. Army in the South Pacific in World War II, I faced the problem of rebuilding myself physically. I was in a general run-down condition. "In my present capacity of advertising salesman for Kansas' greatest newspaper, The Wichita Eagle, it's absolutely necessary that I have plenty of vitality—'get up and go.' I had real cause to worry. Nothing seemed to rebuild me constitutionally. Then a friend of mine on the national staff told me about HADACOL—he asked me to try at least five bottles. I'm on my fourth bottle and already I feel like my old self. I look forward to a day's work and go home—play with the children—work in the yard—fish until midnight! Thanks again to HADACOL, energy and vitality once again course through every fiber of my body. You bet, I too am now a missionary for this great new HADACOL.

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling Everyone is Talking About. HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it not only supplies deficient, weak run-down systems with more than their daily needs of important Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin—but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

If you are a victim of neuritis pains, certain stomach and nervous disturbances, constipation, insomnia or a weak, run-down condition due to such deficiencies, HADACOL will start you on the road to feeling better—often within a few days. Thousands upon thousands of records of grateful men, women and children proved this to be so.

Many Doctors Recommend It. HADACOL is recommended by many doctors not only to their patients but to members of their own families who have such deficiencies. Before giving up hope—you owe it to yourself to at least give HADACOL a chance to help you. Why keep dragging yourself around feeling "half-alive" when it's so easy to have that everyone is talking about! Trial-size bottle, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes.

Marine Reservists Will Have 15 Days Before Assignment

Colonel E. L. Hutchinson, Director of the Eighth Marine Corps Reserve District, New Orleans, has been directed by the Commandant of the Marine Corps, Washington, D. C. to order to extended active duty in excess of 30 days all male enlisted members of the Volunteer Reserve in the rank of Sergeant and below, it was announced by the local Marine Corps Headquarters today.

"It is impossible to determine now the number of men to be called up per day," Colonel Hutchinson said, "and instructions relative to the calling to active duty, of staff non-commissioned officers, warrant officers and commissioned officers of the Marine Corps Reserve will be published at a later date."

Enlisted reservists, ordered to initial duty stations as follows: Those reservists with no prior active service, or those who did not complete recruit training will be ordered to a Marine Corps

Recruit Depot for training. Those residing east of the Mississippi River will go to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Farris Island, S.C. and those residing west of the Mississippi River will be ordered to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California. Reservists with former active duty other than aviation will be ordered to Marine Barracks, Camp Lejeune, N. C. and Marine Barracks, Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, California based on the above geographic considerations. Aviation reservists with former active service will be ordered to Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C. and Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif. also based on the foregoing geographic considerations.

Those who received top priority in being ordered back to active duty are personnel in the following occupational fields: Construction and equipment, fire instrument and control repairmen, operational communications, communication material, electronics, major transport, machine, accounting, aviation electronics and air control.

Orders to reservists will allow a minimum of 15 days between receipt of orders and assignment to extended active duty.

No enlisted reservists who received a waiver of over age for enlistment in the Marine Corps Reserve will be ordered to extended active duty at this time. Detailed instructions on their being ordered to extended active duty.

The Director of the Eighth Marine Corps Reserve District is charged with ordering to active duty the enlisted reservists in the states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, and with acting upon requests for delay in the call to active duty. Any appeal from the decisions of the director will be made in writing to the Commandant of the Marine Corps, via official channels, including the District Director's office. If a request from a Reservist for delay in being ordered to active duty by the District Director is pending, and he is issued orders, he will be required to comply with the orders, awaiting final action on his appeal to the Commandant of the Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

"Some farmers planned to plant wheat early. There is enough moisture in the soil to bring up any wheat planted now."

Austin E. Klahn, Dalhart, Texas: "Though spotty, moisture conditions in general are equal to or above the long-time average for this area. Sorghums have been planted on about 40 percent of the cultivated land, including nearly all of our sandy lands and an unusually large acreage of our tight lands. There is no wind erosion danger on this land provided the residue is properly managed after harvesting this fall."

"Remaining 60 per cent of the cultivated land was fallowed for wheat. If moisture is favorable through August and September, wheat lands will have enough cover to prevent any large-scale blowing. If it should be dry, however, farmers will have to rely on emergency tillage for control."

O. V. Hartshorn of Dalhart, supervisor of the Dallam Soil Conservation District, said there would be enough wheat growth to prevent blowing but even if not, emergency tillage would provide satisfactory control. While also optimistic, W. J. Moore, Jr., of Dumas, chairman of the Moore County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors believes that emergency tillage would not prevent blow damage if fall moisture was not favorable. John C. Nelsom, Woodward, Oklahoma: "Conditions are ideal now for wind erosion control. This, however, does not necessarily mean that there will not be a wind erosion problem next blow season. Wheat fields have little the old zest, and they lost their appetite—almost. At last to the consternation of us all, they disappeared. About three weeks later we got a letter from our sister in Sanger, Texas saying that the man who had bought their place reported that Old Rock and Rye were back there. That beat anything we had ever heard, in our dog-gone lives. Charlie was pondering it and wondering "what ever in the world made those dogs do that," when Emma said, "Charlie, I hope you will not be mad with me. I have a confession to make. One morning I put the ironing board out in front of the house. Those dogs took one look, smelled it and started off east at top speed. It was beneath their dignity to hunt badgers and skunks on the new homestead, the rings on their tails ran the wrong way."

stubble and are covered with weeds and volunteer wheat. As soon as farmers can get into the fields, they will work the soil, leaving practically all the land bare. Should the weather turn hot and dry, conditions would be unfavorable at planting time. A growing crop is the only protection the land will have next blow season. A good general rain around September 1 should produce enough fall cover to provide adequate protections against the wind."

Bill J. Clutter, Hereford: "Blowing during the coming winter and spring is unlikely. There could be trouble, however, if we should fail to get a good cover of wheat on clean-tilled land because of a dry fall. There is so much moisture in the soil, though, that only a limited amount of rain in late August and early September is needed."

W. M. Stewart, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District said that conditions could not be better at this time of year.

Jesse D. Jenkins, Lamesa, Texas: "There will be less wind erosion this year because thousands of acres of sorghums are growing nicely whereas last year all cultivated land was in cotton. More than 2,000 acres of old fields have been planted to grass. Farmers are giving more attention to winter cover crops, proper use of stalks and other crop residues, and the planting of small grains, sudan and sorghum in turn rows and field borders."

GRain DRILL ATTACHMENT

Here's another basic attachment for the No. 100 Power Lift Carrier, the No. 120 9-foot Drill Attachment. Practical for seeding of small grains, sorghum crops, soy beans, etc. The machine is equipped with nine 4 1/2" furrow openers spaced 12" apart which provides a 3" to 4" spread of the seed on the bottom of the furrow. The machine can be adjusted for planting in rows, 12", 24", or 36" apart. Press Wheels work independently under spring pressure and carry the weight of the seed box plus the weight of the frame which provides a sturdy and positive pressing arrangement. Spring Shanks handle trashy conditions more satisfactorily. Power Lift on Carrier provides high clearance and automatic throw-out for seed mechanism. Crank and worm depth regulation device on the carrier provides a range of depth adjustments of the furrow openers so that the grain may be seeded to depths of 3" or 6" where necessary to reach moist soil in the seed bed. Double Hitches are available for pulling two nine foot drills as one unit. The price is right!! Stop in today.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE PANHANDLE:

I know you are tired of politics, but the decisive election is at hand as you select your Democratic nominee for congressman.

I entered this race a strong believer in local, self-government; I am alarmed at the power given to bureaus and boards, at your tax dollars wasted and at the dangerous trend toward centralization and socialism in your government at Washington.

As your congressman, I will do my part to check these trends, to abolish waste, to get our defense forces adequately prepared; I will do my best to return your government from the bureaus to the people. I pledge my efforts toward a sound, practical and alert administration in Washington, and my loyalty, and unstinted service to all the people of the district.

May I solicit your vote and support in behalf of these aims?

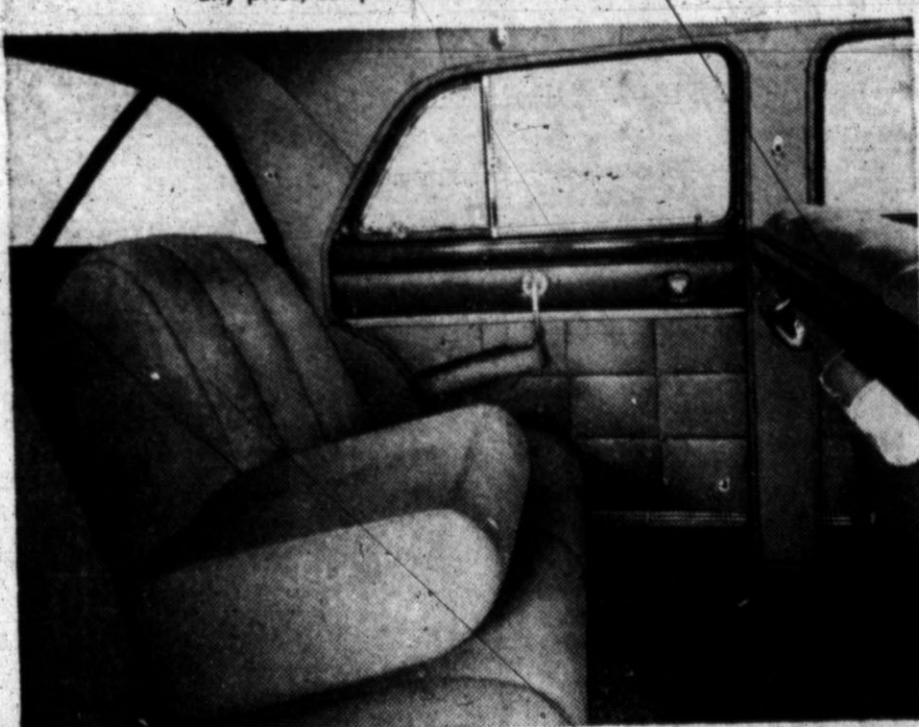

Sincerely,

Walter Rogers
