Practices Looking Good

'Hustling' Herd Making Progress

Steady improvement seems to be the word of the day for Head Football Coach Jack Meredith, when he speaks of the 1964 edition of the Hereford High School Whitefaces.

"These boys are really working together and hustling and they seem to be improving more at each workout. We are very impressed with the overall depth and outlook of the team and can foresee a great season ahead for the Herd," Meredith commented.

The first few days of the practice dealt mostly in "skull" session and calisthenics, with a few wind sprints.

The first contact drills were held Thursday morning, with very good "hitting and a lot of boys showing a desire to play," Meredith commented.

More than 50 boys reported for the first scheduled workout of the 1964 team Monday, with 11 returning lettermen and seven starters returning for the opening workout.

"We are exceptionally pleased with our prospects for a passing game this year, and our offense is being geared to cope with our improved passing ability," Meredith continued.

"We have much more depth in every position, which will be a great asset over the previous season. We are at least two deep in every position and with the 12 lettermen we have a pretty good bunch of experienced boys returning as well as some of the newcomers, which are really showing up good."

The returning lettermen are Lynn Cook, Robert Higgins, Stan Sigman, George Muse, Larry Duncan, Charles Brownlow, Terry Hill, Gene Drummond, Walter Williams, Steve Hodges and Frank Cain.

Cain is the returning starting quarterback from the 1963 squad. The Whitefaces met in the first inter-squad scrimmage Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Whiteface Field.

In a pre-season meeting of the District I-AAA coaches, Hereford was picked to finish third behind Dumas and Perryton, respectively.

In Texas Football, a magazine released during August, prior to the beginning of each season, several remarks were made concerning the possibilities of the Herd finishing top in the district.

Dumas was picked to finish first, but the magazine emphasized the strength of the 12 returning lettermen and five offensive starters.

The article cited the "improved speed, improved depth, improved passing and the strong desire to improve a 4-6 record." "Next week will really be getting down polishing up our offense and defense and we will be able to see who really wants a position and is willing to work for it," Meredith said.

"Everyone is invited to come out and watch the Herd workout and we would like a lot of support this year as we are predicting one of the better teams to come along in recent years. The workouts are open and a scrimmage will be held Friday evening and we would like to see a large crowd out for this meeting with Clovis."

Crop Prospects Bright

Sugar Beets Called The Best In Nation

With one phase of the summer vegetable season nearing its finish and with carrots just coming onto the market, area crop producers Saturday paused to take a look backward and at the same time to plan ahead for the busiest part of the harvest season yet to come.

The prospects for a big year are bright, agricultural men agreed. Those parts of the harvest already over also were bright to give an overall optimistic picture for agriculture for the season 1964.

Irish potatoes turned out well on the area's 10,000 to 11,000 acres and price also was good, holding between $3 and $4.25 throughout the season. The crop was "virtually complete," a vegetable processor said Saturday, adding, "we were pleased with this year's potato crop."

ASCS Election Of Committees Is Under Way

The approaching election of ASCS community committees for farm program administration in Deaf Smith County was announced by Faust Collier, office manager, Deaf Smith County ASCS. Voting will be by mail, he explained, and ballots will be sent to each known eligible voter.

In case eligible voters fail to receive a ballot through the mail, one can be obtained by request at the ASCS Office, 412 N. Main Street, Hereford. Generally, a farm owner, tenant, or share-cropper is eligible to vote if he is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASCS committees, Collier explained.

Envelopes containing marked ballots may be mailed or returned to the ASCS Office anytime before Sept. 5. Ballots will be tabulated publicly by the county committee in the ASCS Office on Thursday, Sept. 10, at 9 a.m.

Throughout the season, farmers in this area have not been plagued with hail, except in small areas, and this has been a boon to the industry. Wheat failed to yield as much as in some years past, although it exceeded last year's output by several thousand tons. Drouth plagued the crop, once Deaf Smith county's leading provider of cash. Yield on irrigated wheat, however, was exceptionally good and in some cases actually rang up new production records.

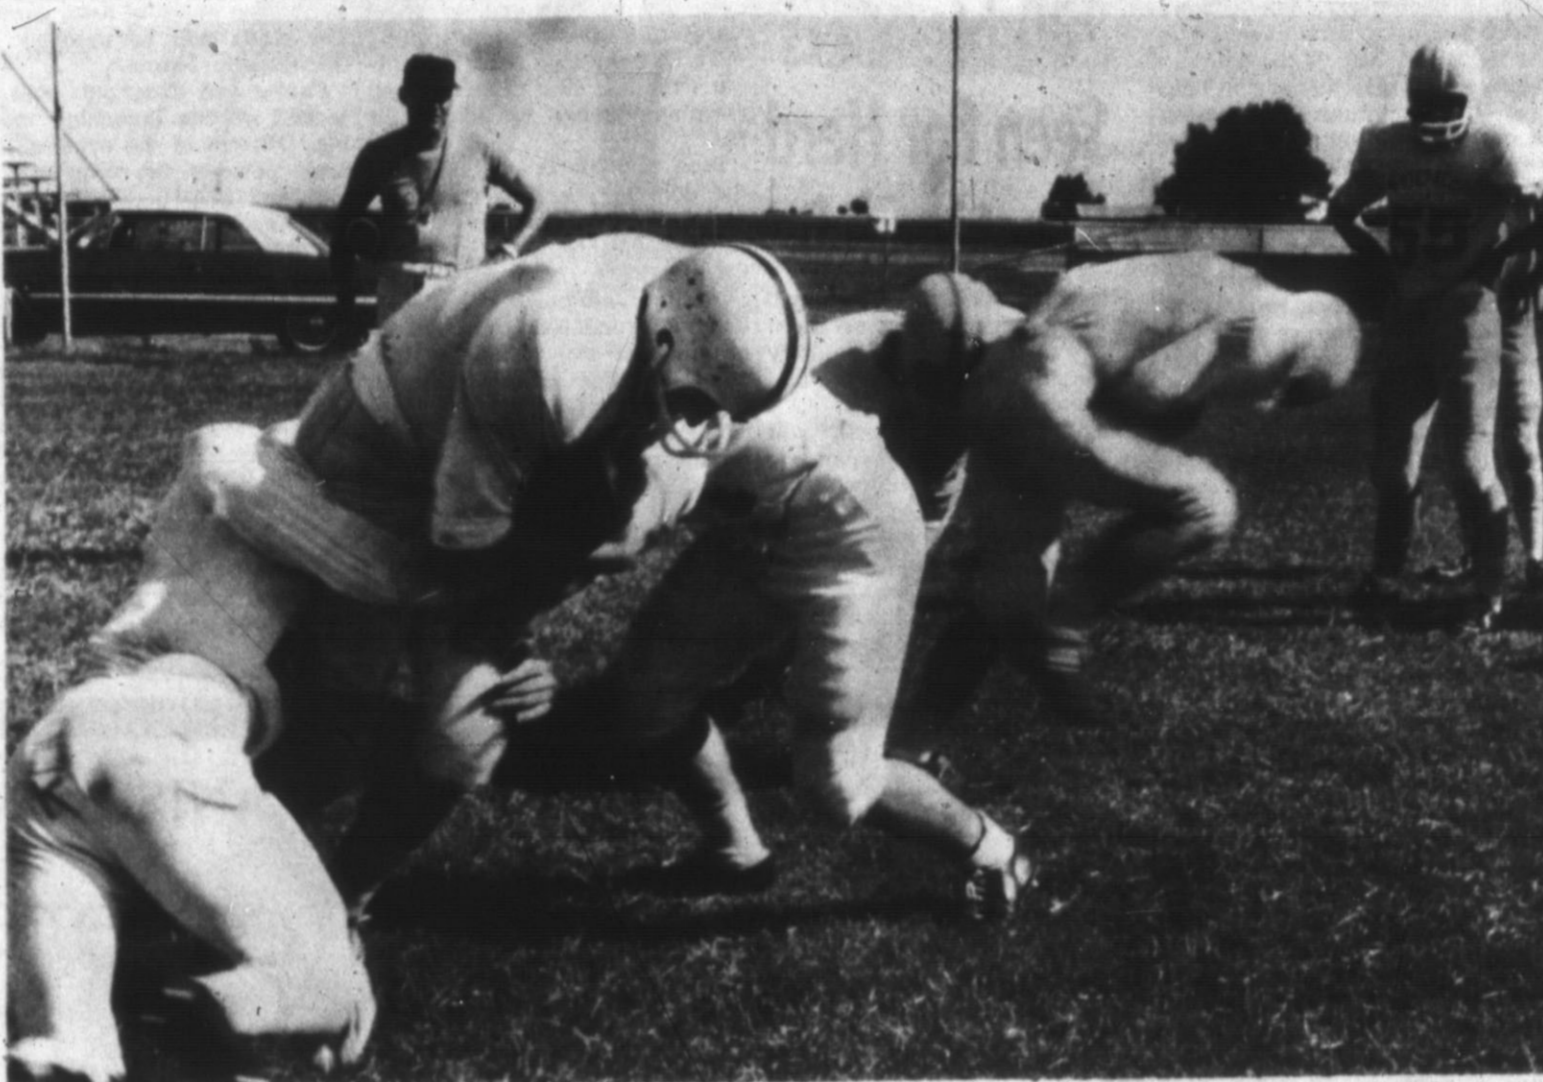

The county's sugar beet crop has done well and many are calling this area's crop "the best in the nation." Beets are still growing on some 17,250 acres and are heading toward what may well be the best crop of its kind ever produced in this four-county Holly area.

One sugar beet man said the summer drouth "definitely did not hurt the beets, and he added that a drouth year usually winds up with the quality excellent." He said the worst feature of the drouth for sugar beet growers was the "tremendous amount of irrigation water which had to be used to keep the crop flourishing."

Holly Sugar Corp. which is due to open its new $21 million processing plant in October, has been sampling sugar beets in its territory and reported that the samples "indicate that we are due for a real good crop."

The county's No. 1 crop-feed grains-also is making progress, and harvesting already is under way for grain sorghum. The county has a base acreage of 244,000 acres of sorghums and 33,000 acres of barley to bring

Per Capita Gross Income Was $12,321

'63 Yield Of Farms Here Far Ahead Of National Averages

From the standpoint of gross incomes, Deaf Smith County farms were more profitable in the past year than were farms in most sections of the United States.

Their yield, in proportion to their farm population, was better than average, according to a national survey of farm and ranch earnings.

Increased mechanization, coupled with more intensive use of fertilizers and insecticides, have enabled them to produce more per acre than ever before. The details, showing how local growers made out in relation to those in other areas, are revealed in the county-by-county study, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It lists gross receipts of $33,268,000 from agricultural operations in Deaf Smith County in the year. This is the gross figure, before deductions for taxes and for the cost of doing business.

Related to the number of people on local farms, it represented a gross income of $15,321 per capita.

It was a better return than was achieved in most farm communities in the United States with the average being $3,040 per capita. It also topped the $3,952 of the State of Texas.

The income figures include the cash receipts from all crop and livestock marketing, together with Government payments and the value of products raised and used on the farm, known as "income in kind."

Analysis of the local receipts from the sale of farm products, in line with Department of Agriculture findings, shows that some 75 percent of the returns were from the sale of crops and 25 percent from the sale of livestock, poultry and dairy products.

Farmers and ranchers throughout the country had to contend with a downturn in crop and cattle prices during the past year. At the same time, their operating costs were mounting.

This price squeeze prevented them from turning their increased production into added net income.

Despite the farmers' inability to keep pace with the gains being made by other sectors of the economy, this is still the nation's largest single industry. Last year gross farm production amounted to $41 billion.

County, School Budget Airings Set For Monday

Budgets for two units of government-county of Deaf Smith and Hereford Independent Schools-are to be read tomorrow at public hearings, it was announced Saturday.

The county budget will meet in the county commissioners' courtroom at 10 a.m. Following the public reading, the commissioners will meet to take final action on the budget, County Judge H. C. Williams explained.

The school budget hearing will be held in the administration offices of the school at 8 o'clock Monday night, and afterward board members will take final action on the budget.

The schools have the operating budget pegged at $1,399,866 with an over-all budget, including building projects, of $2,298,401.

Beet Growers Take Acreage Problem To White House

Hereford representatives of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association met with officials of the Agriculture Department and the State Department in Washington in an effort to get sugar beet areas enlarged and additional refineries established.

Their requests, however, were met with stiff opposition from several sources, especially the State Department which seeks to woo foreign countries with continued imports of cane sugar.

These were the conclusions reached by the two men, James W. Witherpoon, executive secretary of the Texas group, and Austin C. Rose Jr., president, following their trip to Washington.

Witherpoon, in a letter to the entire membership, gave a report of the Washington trip by himself and Rose in which he concluded: "We have a lot of friends in lots of places for more domestic production, and we cannot afford to lose any friends any place; we must make more."

The two Hereford sugar beet growers' officials laid their problem before representatives and senators and held a lengthy meeting in the White House with Mike Feldman, assistant to President Johnson, who called in Assistant Secretary of State Johnson, Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy and Deputy Assistant to the Secretary of State Jerome Jacobson.

At the meeting, Witherpoon said in his report to the membership, "It was pointed out that the agriculture department had requested an increase in sugar beet production, including an increase in the size of the Hereford plant, and that since it appeared that no hearings were going to be held in Congress and no legislation was forthcoming, the beet industry as a whole had considered compromises, including restrictions in 1965 if we could hold the acreage level of 1964."

He said he pointed out that "if we were limited to the 1965 acreage, we would be hurt badly, and that the government should not penalize us under the circumstances."

He told the growers in his letter, that Congressman Poague "adamantly and forcefully expressed himself as being against expansion for new sugar beet processing plants, adding: 'This means that we have got to do a great deal of work for future expansion and future growth in order that our friends and those who have helped us can have the opportunity to have new sugar beet plants.'"

The executive secretary of the association told the growers of a meeting with Thomas Mann, Secretary of State for all Central and South American countries, and with several of his assistants. Mann, however, told the Texas beet growers' representatives that "if the people want a shooting war with foreign countries, and if we want to lose to communism, then the farmers could grow the sugar we consume, but to prevent wars we had to buy the commodity which these foreign countries could produce — namely, sugar."

He said he did not agree with this philosophy. He suggested an educational program and urged members to see to that their congressmen act in behalf of the beet growers.

M. C. Chenburg, assistant to Holly's president, who spoke at the annual conference of the Chamber of Commerce Executive Association of West Texas, highly praised Hereford and the economy of the city as attributed to the Holly plant.

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

I have been thinking a great deal about some tourist attractions which we might have here in Hereford that would take people off the highway, both 69 and 385, and cause them to delay in their travel and stop and look around.

I have mentioned the following matter at one time to the Chamber of Commerce, but I don't think anything has ever come of it. I will call it to your attention and maybe you can help get the community interested some way or other where we might do something about it.

Harland Frye, south of town, a good farmer-citizen, has through the years accumulated and acquired a fine collection of old cars dating back to the first made. His collection is very valuable, and it is something that a lot of people would be interested in if it were properly advertised and set up for showing. I notice that New Braunfels in South Texas has such a tourist attraction, and this is the only one I have heard of, and I am sure the only one in the Southwest. I know that Harland will cooperate with us, and if there is any way in the world that we could get this moved into Hereford where it could be displayed some way or other, a lot of people would be interested in viewing it.

Please think this over and let me know what you think about it, and what we might do to get the job done. There may be other ways to have some tourist attractions, and if there are, it would not hurt to have more than one, but it seems we need something.

I believe Mrs. Bess Werner has a museum of some kind three or four miles West of town, and someone ought to talk to her about this, and if it is worthwhile it could be worked into something along this same line.

Joe Green and Burt Elliston both here in Hereford have collections of Indian relics and things like this, and either one of these gentlemen could certainly look after it real well, and I am sure would be willing to add theirs to it, and something real worthwhile might be worked out.

Inn, Amarillo and concluded Saturday.

Ready-to-market sugar will be manufactured by the new Holly plant within 12 hours after sugar beets are delivered to the plant, Chenburg said.

Chenburg said the plant will be "one of the largest, most modern sugar processing plants in the world." Using regionally owned sugar beets, the refinery will turn out a wholly Texas product.

He said the new plant will be of regional importance, providing year around employment for about 125 persons. Employment will increase to a possible 200 persons during peak production periods, expected to last from four to six months a year, he said.

The $21-million plant, west of the city, will be dedicated on Sept. 23. According to reports, the assistant to the president, paid nothing but the highest tributes to the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County in relation to Holly's association with the city.

the county's feed grain total to 277,000 acres.

Dryland grain sorghum was showed somewhat by the summer drought, but most farmers checked said that the "mellowing of rains lately" has improved the prospects. Irrigated grain sorghum is in excellent condition.

Still another crop that is looking good this year is corn. The county produces only 1300 acres of field corn, but the yield will be high adding to the overall high production record which the county is expected to ring up for 1964.

One agricultural expert, in summing up the year's agricultural picture, put it this way. "We had a drought, it's true, but it was not as crippling as it might have been. Then another factor was the lack of spring floods which some years make it necessary to replant several times, and we had little or no hail. Yields have been good, and I believe we can write 1964 down as one of our outstanding crop years."

200 Members Seen For Herd Booster Club

Hereford Booster Club will boost off its year tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Community Center, Stan Sigman, president, announced Saturday.

Highlight of the program will be a film on high-lights of the 1963 season of the Southwestern Conference, produced by Humble. This will be the first showing in this area.

Officers of the organization were optimistic about the year's membership, expecting well over 200 to turn out to boost Hereford's athletic program this year. Membership drive will begin with this first meeting, and membership can be bought for $2.

Stan Sigman is president for the coming year, Calvin Goodin is vice-president, L. B. Russell is secretary, and B. F. Cain is treasurer.

Booster Club meets every Monday night and sees films on the progress of the athletic teams, and also has discussion with the coaches who attend. Parents of football players in the high school program and especially urged to join.

One of the club's annual projects is sponsoring the chartered buses which take the team to out-of-town games. A first for this year was blazers which the club purchased for the boys, to be used at out-of-town games. The coats will be used by all the athletic teams.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served at this launching meeting. Officers of the organization urge persons to come out to join and help boost Hereford's athletic teams this year. All football players coaches, and many parents are expected to attend the meeting.

Patrol Reports 10 Accidents In July Here

Highway Patrol investigated 10 rural traffic accidents in Deaf Smith County during July, Sgt. W. E. Wells, patrol supervisor for this area, said Saturday.

These crashes accounted for eight persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,065.

To date, two persons have been killed and 36 persons injured in this county. Total property damage since Jan. 1 amounts to $29,052, the sergeant said.

Castro county had nine injured in automobile accidents during July, the report showed, and four were injured in Oldham county. Parmer county reported nine accidents, one death and six persons injured. Potter County had 22 included in 18 accidents and one death, while Randall had two deaths and 15 injured in 21 accidents. Swisher county reported three injured and two killed in 15 accidents last month.

Three Presented In Musicale

In a youth musicale in the Floyd Cokers' country home Sunday afternoon, Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait presented Donna Coker, Loni Mac Coker, and Steve Thornton.

Planned for the families, neighbors and friends of the young musicians, this recital drew 50 guests.

Beginning her seventh year in piano, Donna, 13, will be in the seventh grade at school this autumn. Experienced cornetists, Loni Mac and Steve, both 16 and high school juniors this autumn, performed both duet and solo numbers. One-year pupil of organ, Loni Mac presented organ solos also. Donna and Loni Mac are piano and organ pupils of Mrs. Crosthwait. Both Loni Mac and Steve have had private and class lessons in cornet and both are members of the Whiteface Band.

USDA Approves New Standards In Beef Grades

A revision of U. S. quality standards for beef has been proposed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in line with recent recommendations of the National Advisory Committee on cattle and several state and national cattlemen's organizations.

De-emphasis of maturity as a grading factor in young beef is the major proposed change, says Frank A. Orts, Extension meats specialist at Texas A&M University.

This revision would result in some reduction of marbling requirements for prime choice, good and standard grades and would reduce the number of maturity classifications in these grades from three to two. Orts points out. It would also eliminate the two marbling degrees in excess of that now classified as "abundant" in determining quality grade.

The other revision, he said, is that all carcasses must be ribbed to be graded; that is, the hind quarter and fore quarter must be separated between the 12th and 13th rib so the ribeye is visible to the grader.

Although beef palatability tends to increase with age, increased marbling tends to enhance palatability. Thus, says Orts, grade standards require increasing amounts of marbling to compensate for increasing maturity.

Recent research has indicated that additional marbling required to offset increased maturity in cattle under 30 months of age has been over-emphasized, the specialist says. The new proposal would reduce by one degree the marbling required in choice grade beef carcasses from animals 28 to 30 months old.

Kings Manor Reports

All of us remember that the closing days of preparation for moving to a new dwelling are marked with some frustration, some achievement, and a great measure of adjustments under pressure. These are exciting days at King's Manor.

Our housekeepers and food service personnel have accepted patiently the noise, the plaster and paint odors and general confusion of construction nearby. Two thousand square feet of carpet got a shampoo this week without stopping our activities.

Inspection at Westgate last week by Mr. W. M. Collier, Jr. and its approval brings us a check this week for $56,000.00. In the face of this success we discover that Knox-Galley & Meador are troubled over strikes that involve our supplies for central services. Their constant effort and willingness to make changes in our favor keep us encouraged.

Claude Martin and Sons, our contractors at Westgate, after an excellent summer of building schedule are also in difficulty at securing craftsmen in the painting service. Changes in work schedule on their part will gain some of our loss. We could not ask for finer help than our contractors have shown. The fourth duplex, all built by Carl McCaslin Company, will soon be occupied. The manager's home built by Foxworth-Galbraith now has grass in the yard and Thomas's in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gustin, and Mrs. Eva Hammond are beginning to feel at home in our duplex arrangements. This week has been active with interviews, both for added employees and for prospective residents in Westgate. Inquiries about King's Manor include letters from such wonderful people as Laura V. Hamner. The waiting list for well-care is not long but is growing. We have rooms to spare in Westgate. Some who applied early are now out of the picture. We do expect a full house by Oct. 1st. Our staff is now complete for the first weeks. Some few additions will be made to the staff in the fall.

Another interview with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson completed the plans for furniture throughout both larger facilities will be on hand for "Open Campus."

The list of expected guests would be pleasant information and will be published in time.

We do need a volunteer to make posters to help with our information on September 3rd. In fact a committee of three would save our lives on this part of our plans. Commercial drawing would help such a committee.

Thanks,
D. B. Davidson, Director

Interdenominational Youth Group will sponsor a series of meetings next week beginning on Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Wesley Methodist Church sanctuary.

David Combs will speak at the meeting Monday night and other speakers will be featured through out the week. Youth of all denominations are invited to attend the meetings and participate. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Mrs. L. B. Ray, her daughter Judy and son John, Pasadena, Calif., came Thursday for a month's visit here with her mother, Mrs. R. A. Daniel Sr. while in the area they will go to Richardson to visit another daughter of the Rays Mrs. S. J. Moreman, the former Molly Bet Ray, and to Groop to visit Mr. Ray's mother, Mrs. John Ray. Miss Judy Ray, a student in Pasadena College last year, will make an extended visit here with her grandmother after her mother and John return home. John will be a high school sophomore this year.

The Turrentine girls — Janice, Carol and Patty — announce that the Museum will remain open for several Sunday yet as visitors continue to come. Contributions continue to come in and more have been promised if the Museum is continued permanently.

Mrs. Zenia Hobson, Lubbock, was here last weekend as a guest in the Ed Warren and J. J. Durham and H. C. Williams homes. A 4th grade teacher at Parsons School at Lubbock, Mrs. Hobson was in the group of Classroom teachers who made a tour of the Hawaiian Islands recently. Clydene and Lynton Allred, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred, 129 Ave. D, were also on the trip. Miss Allred teaches 4th grade in Wheelock School in Lubbock and Lynton is a student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Mrs. Hobson brought some interesting souvenirs — some for friends and some to use for the talks which she will be giving this year to groups in Lubbock. She had a handsome salad bowl set made of monkey pod wood and a monkey pod bread tray which she brought to Mrs. Ed Warren. She brought a plastic and a wood fiber lei and a muumuu to wear when presenting her programs.

She got enough "real" pearls to have a necklace and a pearl charm for her bracelet. She selected and brought a pearl necklace to Mrs. J. J. Durham which was given to her by her daughter, Mrs. Doug Bartlett.

Her large colored map of the islands will be framed to hang in her home as it is colorful and beautiful. It shows the 8 named islands which 11 of her group visited — 850 miles by air, 60 miles by bus, and 6 miles by boat. These islands include Pineapple Island (Lanai) which is owned by the Dole Canning Company. More than half of the world's pineapple supply is produced here on 13,200 acres; Isle of Death (Kahoolawe); Hawaii, or Orchid Island, which is twice the size of the others.

Their plane dipped low over the famous craters here, one the famous Mauna Loa Crater. They landed at Kona for breakfast and had the famous Kona Coffee and at Hilo for lunch, where the food and fruits were delicious. On Hawaii, there is located the largest privately owned ranch in the world. It is second in size to the King Ranch of our state which is not privately owned. Maui or Valley Island is very productive with its pineapple and sugar cane; Molo kai is called the Friendly Island; and in the north central part there is a peninsula where there is a leper colony; Oahu (Gathering Place) the island on which the capital of the group Honolulu is located; at Kawai or Garden Island they landed and took an island tour.

This is the oldest of the group and many call it as the most beautiful. Of special interest was the stop at the Fern Grotto, and the Fern Forest where ferns grow to a height of 15 feet and flowers were gorgeous.

Ni'ihau is known as the Forbidden Island. No outsiders are allowed to come in there so there is no mixture of the races. The true Hawaiian or Polynesian race makes up its population. The trip over the 8 islands took 13 hours, and 11 of the group of 104 took it.

The 15 day tour was sponsored by the Texas Classroom Teachers Association. State President Mrs. Nettie Shaw of Carthage and Miss Lucile Flower, Plainview, president of District XIII were among the group. They left Houston and Dallas on a DC7 for Honolulu. They stayed at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel on Waikiki Beach. Industrial tours included the pineapple factory of 9600 employees, the monkey pod wood factory and the Brown perfume factory where most of the work was done by hand.

Of course all were presented leis as they left the plane — all made with real flowers of which ginger, jasmine, plumeria, and orchids are mostly used. Hibiscus is the state flower. The flowers are grown on the wet side of the islands which at times record as much as 200 inches of rain a year. On the dry side however, there may be only 10 inches.

The group found the Hawaiian people to be most courteous and very polite; and saw many beautiful girls.

Mrs. Hobson took many notes which she will use in her classroom and in telling about her trip, and she didn't miss much — even taking three lessons in hula dancing.

Mrs. Hobson and her husband, the late E. W. Hobson, are former residents of this community. They owned the farm on Harrison Highway where the Keith Jorde family now lives.

and she taught in the schools here. They moved to Lubbock several years ago and after his death, Mrs. Hobson resumed teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson were hosts last week for a family gathering at their home in North Texas. Present was her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Faulkner of Amarillo, her sisters, Mrs. Ulric Lea and Mr. Lea of Knox City, Mrs. C. H. Smith and Mr. Smith, Big Spring and Mrs. Winnie F. Steele, Alamogordo, N.M.; a nephew, Jimmy Lea, Lubbock, and daughter Marian and her husband Ken Clark.

The Faulkner family has two gatherings a year — one in the summer and one at Christmas, so this was the annual summer event.

The Clarks are busy this week moving to Odessa where Mrs. Clark (Marian) will be a home-making teacher at Ector High School. Ken Clark received his Master's Degree in Petroleum Engineering the last of July from the University of California at Berkeley and will be employed by Pan American at Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett Jr. visited last week with his brother, Aurdrey Bartlett in Hobbs, N.M. and with his mother, Mrs. Leona Bartlett in Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bartlett will leave soon to enter school. They have a mobile home in which they will live. Doug will major in business and she will take some courses in education. Their plans as to the school are yet indefinite.

The Rev. and Mrs. Orris Sougstad, David and Timmy, Amarillo, have been guests several days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jorde. Mr. Sougstad is pastor of the Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warren went to Dallas recently where they visited his mother who has not been so well lately. Mrs. Warren is over 90 years old. En route home they stopped at Waurika, Okla., to visit an aunt, Mrs. E. Ellis. Mrs. Ellis is a sister of the late H. M. Benefield and is the only one now living out of the family of nine children.

The Warrens and Mrs. H. L. Benefield went to Snyder, Okla., last week to attend the funeral of their cousin's husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder Sr. who live on Norton Street, received a clipping from a San Antonio paper last week and a copy of the citation which honored their son Carl Jr., who with his wife is stationed at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio.

Sgt. Schroeder was awarded a medal by Maj. General William A. Harris, Commanding General, Fort Sam Houston, for work he had done while serving in the Republic of Viet Nam.

Sgt. Carl Schroeder Jr.

In the citation he was cited for "his outstanding accomplishments and sincere desire to improve the status of small arms repair and training which gained him the respect and cooperation of the Vietnamese and greatly facilitated the accomplishment of his advisory mission. Sergeant Schroeder's superior performance of duty and outstanding achievements reflect great credit upon himself, this MAAG and the United States Army."

Mrs. Doug Bartlett and Mrs. J. J. Durham were hostesses at front of the President for special recognition in the "birthday" pictures.

Andy Kershen is responsible for the group from Hereford getting into the picture. Some weeks ago he saw a notice in Newsweek Magazine calling for the help of college students. He wrote for information and back came the application blanks. Margie, Drew and Lou Ann filled them out, set them in, and so from this came the big experience of attending the nominating convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell, Bill and Bob of Kansas City, Mo. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barrett Jr., Spencer, Andy, Larry and Rebecca, Seminole, have been guests here this week in the home of Mrs. W. H. Russell. They have also visited in the Fred Barrett Sr. home and with Jack's brother, L. B. Russell and family.

T. J. Welch Jr. was honored on his birthday Sunday with a family dinner at his home. Guests were his father, T. J. Welch Sr., Clovia, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lemay, Portales, N. M. and their daughters Rita and Carla, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Northcutt, Ute Park, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Northcutt and Florine, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Northcutt, Ray and Sue all of Westway.

Mrs. Lemay is a sister of Junior Welch. Her husband is a Spanish teacher in the high school in Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thames have been here visiting in the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. H. C. Williams. They have just returned from a honeymoon trip to New York and are moving back to Weatherford, Okla., where both are students majoring in pharmacy at Southwestern College. Mrs. Thames is the former Sheila Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Durham went to Waco recently where they visited his mother, Mrs. S. O. Durham. They went on to A & M at College Station for a (Continued on Page 9)

September is shaping up as quite an interesting month around the Hereford area.

First of all, the kids will be heading back to school, and come September 7, the Hereford Whitefaces will tackle the mighty Plainview football squad in our first home game.

Also on the agenda for early September is the opening of the five new buildings at Kings Manor. On September 3, Kings Manor will open the new buildings, including one of the most complete hospitals in the Panhandle, according to executive director Don Davison.

Units added this summer to the home at Hereford's northwest edge have brought the total valuation up to $700,000, a feat accomplished in less than three years.

September 18, another of Hereford's projects of which the entire community is proud, will have its dedication services. The Merrill E. Shoup plant of the Holly Sugar Corporation has scheduled ceremonies for that day, with Governor John Connally as principal speaker.

It isn't often that a city the size of Hereford is honored with a visit from the governor of the state, but then, it isn't every day that we unveil a $21-million dollar sugar refinery. Operations at the Holly plant are scheduled to begin around October 1, according to company sources.

Mrs. Geneva West dropped by the office Thursday to let us know that her new mobile trailer park is now in operation, and that she is currently leasing spaces for mobile homes. The new trailer park will be known as West Mobile Lodge and is located at 304 N. 25 Mile Avenue. She also stated that the facility would feature all underground utilities, private telephones, and a central TV antenna.

Tom Robinson tells us that he will have some milo ready for harvest in about three weeks. We have noticed in driving through the country, that much of the milo is turning, but there is quite a bit that is still green.

Tom says, (and this seems to be the problems with most of the area farmers), that it has been almost impossible to keep the summer crops wet this year. The extreme drought that we have been experiencing this summer, has taxed all the irrigation wells to capacity, and for that matter, has kept many a farmer out on the farm. It has kept everyone busy changing water this summer.

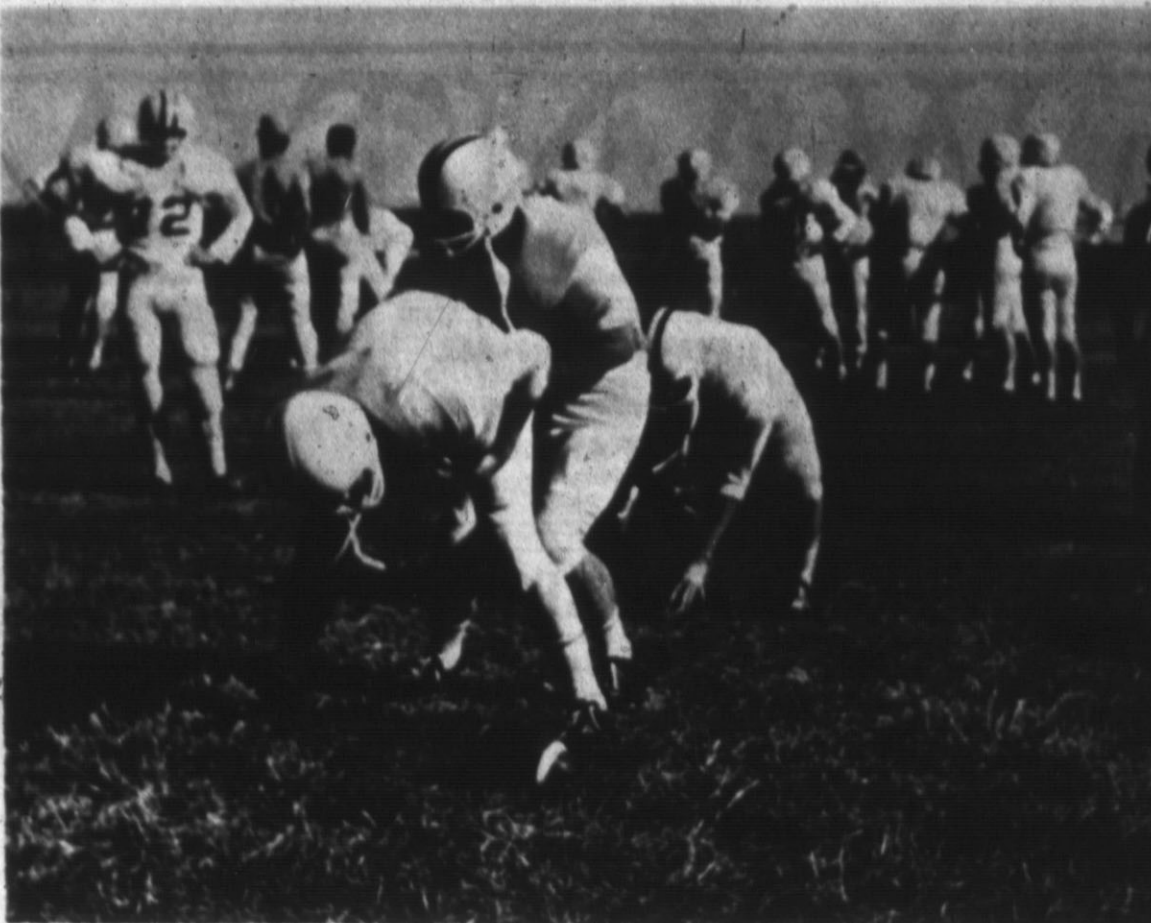

Generally speaking however, the crops in this area look exceptionally good. Of course we don't have a big acreage in cotton in this section, but what we have is tops. In fact, don't believe we've ever seen it looking better.

As we said before, the biggest problem encountered this year seems to have been keeping the water to the crops that require a lot of water; principally, milo and sugar beets.

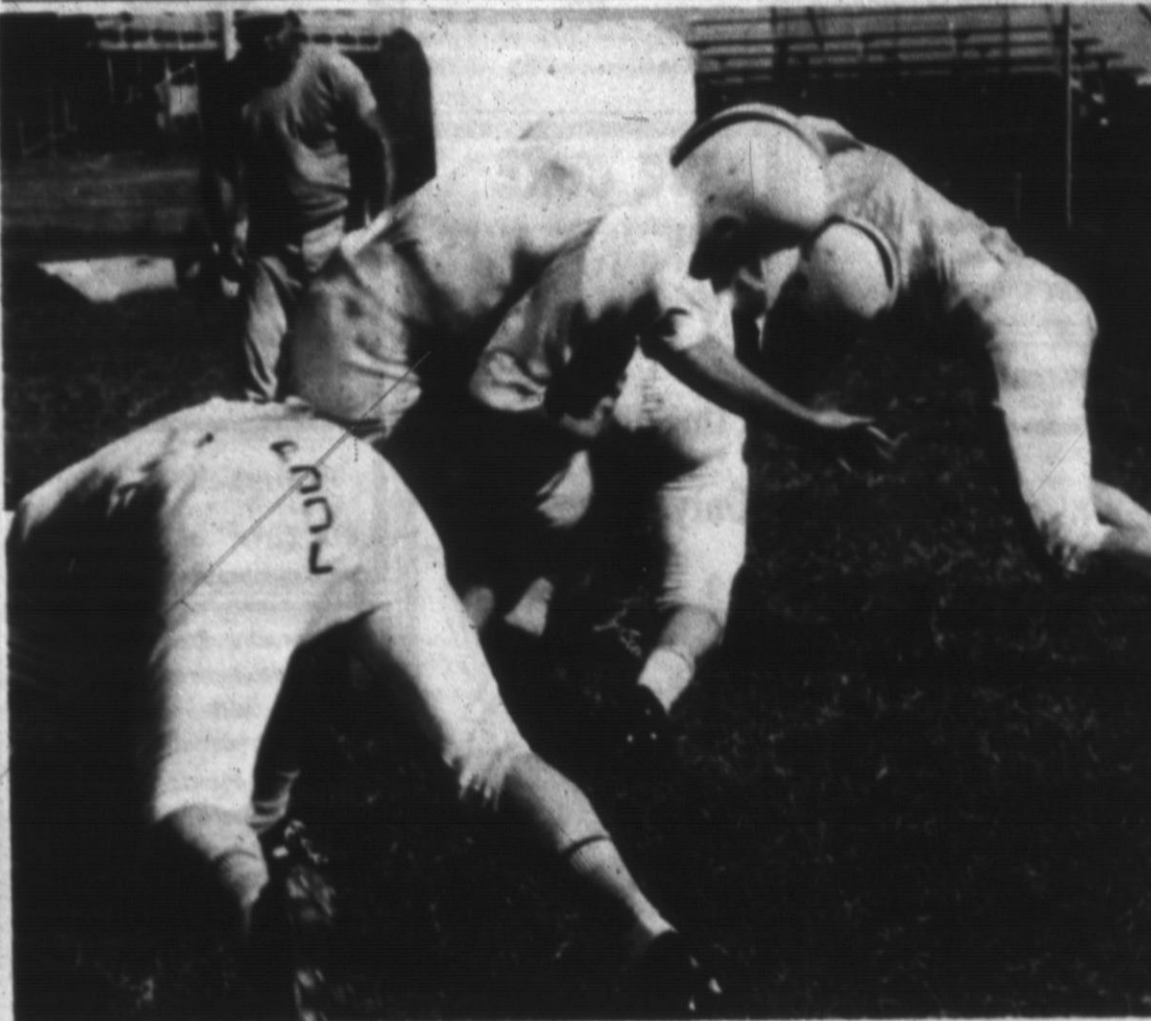

Sherry Patterson dropped by Thursday to report on her bus trip to New York with the AFS exchange students. Sherry has been one of the chaperones on this tour for several years. She is hoping to arrange it so that she can make the plane trip to Europe with the youngsters next year, but as she said, that may be just wishful thinking.

Sherry had received a letter from Wolfgang Viefers of West-falls, Germany who was one of the 36 students representing 27 countries on bus 28. The American Field Service exchange student had spent the past year in Oklahoma. A portion of his letter follows:

"We all would have liked to turn back the un-understanding, cruel clock of time. The horrid moment came. George said: 'You're going home! (George Edgel, Personnel Relations Chairman, AFS in New York) Embraces, good-bye kisses and tears finished relations between kids from, I guess, 27 nations. A relation that showed that unification of an otherwise by selfishness-split world is possible. Just let us come together! Strong personal 'twosome' ties had to be broken too. Finally we said what we thought would be our last farewell. On the way to New York then I felt a sudden unknown emptiness out of the knowledge that I had lost persons that I consider to be some of my best friends. This feeling I couldn't suppress. Then Wednesday morning I went to New York to spend my very last money. With empty pockets I walked over to the AFS building to get some letters. The next day I had the final touch with my America and went back to the arms of my original family. So here I am back in the narrowness of Germany. In space as well as in the minds of people. But I guess I have to give time to me and them. Well, I am home. Home? No, I am with my family again. This seems more appropriate since to home there belongs more than the family." August 3, 1964.

The young man above is one of thousands of foreign students to study in this country through the American Field Service exchange program. Many people feel that this program will do more to advance the cause of peace than any other effort now being made. We certainly think it is one of the best. Incidentally, Miss Patterson left Friday morning for Austin, Texas where she will teach in Austin's Travis High. This is her first year to teach.

Many Hereford residents are trying to get in the last few days of vacation before the beginning of school. Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks have spent the past week in various parts of Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Baer plan to leave today for a trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. We understand that Hicks was planning to do some fishing. Gaston however, reports that he's just going for the rest.

New salesman at McCullough Motor Company is Louise Wilkinson, formerly of Clovis, N. M. The Wilkinsons plan to move to Hereford just as soon as they can secure housing for the family.

"Before this trial begins," the judge cautioned the jury, "I'd like to point out for the benefit of any Perry Mason fan, that in this court the district attorney sometimes wins."

After the age of 6, fewer females drink milk on an average day than males. Two great architects once maintained offices at Scotland Yard — Inigo Jones and Sir Christopher Wren.

Dollar losses from fires were down 7.9 per cent to $615.5 million the first five months of this year compared with a corresponding period a year ago, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports.

AP Sports Shots Coaches Picked Own Teams, But It's Rare Event

By Harold Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1943 Jewell Wallace predicted his San Angelo team would win the state championship and it certainly did.

In 1945 Eck Curtis admitted, when asked, that he had the material to win the state championship at Highland Park. His team tied Waco for the title and should have won the game.

Those are the only two coaches who ever picked their own teams to win and the percentage was high enough that other coaches could have felt safe in following suit.

In other words, these instances are pointed out to show that the old dodge used by many coaches of playing their teams down with the idea of "slipping up" on somebody or creating a feeling of security among the opposition just isn't very reliable.

The coaches haven't changed through the years. It started back in the twenties with fellows like Gil Dobie, a dour individual who never could figure his team had a chance although it usually won.

The acme of pessimism was Matty Bell of TCU, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist. He got the title of "Moanin' Matty" because he came up with such jewels as "I sure hate to have to play them" and then had his team almost beat mighty Notre Dame, the national champion, in one of the greatest games ever played.

Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma was another coach who never could see the silver lining even though his teams won 47 in a row. Once he predicted that his boys wouldn't even make a first down.

Coaches interviewed at the Texas coaching school were chips off the old block. Only a few would venture the opinion that they might win the district championship; none could bring himself to predict a state championship.

The coaches with the most were the most reluctant to give the idea they might be going to have a good team.

But there was one thing running through the ranks that appeared to be new — humor. The coaches had themselves a ball being interviewed.

The funniest comment was from the coach of Kountze. He listed his strong points as "new uniforms, I hope." His weak points had only the word "depth."

Archer City just had to find something. After listing speed, power and passing — which would appear enough to win most football games — the man said his weak points were "no 10-flat men." Just who had 10-flat men anyway was not mentioned.

Denison's coach sure faced the season with a disconsolate view. He said he had no strong points and that his weak points were "no weight, speed or depth." This coach could certainly be excused from making an optimistic statement.

Clear Creek didn't even say

RESCUE DRILL — Members of the Panhandle Civil Air Patrol Unit are shown here as they participate in a chapel service, conducted by the Rev. Jerry Franz, at the Hereford Municipal Airport. The service was held prior to a "rescue drill" in which the CAP cadets assisted in the search of a missing crashed plane.

to the charge Monday morning before Judge H. C. Williams. He was fined $180 and costs and sentenced to eight days in the county jail.

"none" under its strong points — it was left blank.

Southside of San Antonio just put "unknown" in each column. One coach said his strong points were "attitude better" but he added under his weak points that he didn't have "enough quality football players — no depth or speed."

The height of something or other was what one coach listed under his weak points. "Managers," he said. It was the first time for the sports writers to hear that a team's future rested in its student managers.

There was one coach who didn't mind putting himself on the spot. He was from Sulphur Springs and he said he had size and power as his strong points and that he had no weak points. Funny thing, the other coaches in the district picked him to finish second. That'll show a fellow he isn't supposed to be optimistic — it's against the rules of the lodge.

The Tuaregs of Mali are said to be part of the more sedentary Berbers of North Africa.

Newsman Pick Texas As Top Southwest Team

The University of Texas is the choice to nose out Rice University for the 1964 Southwest Conference football championship as voted by Texas news media in the 31st Annual TCU Sports News Poll.

The 100 members of the press-radio-TV corps gave the nod to the defending national champion Longhorns, with the Owls a good outside shot at the crown. The Longhorns, with the Owls a good outside shot at the crown. The Longhorns picked up 43 first place votes with 11 more seeing the Orange in a tie for the flag, and not a single newsman picked the Austin team lower than third. Texas wound up with a total of 166 points, one to them lowest totals in years. Points are based on one for first, two for second, etc.

Rice was picked top on 25 ballots and 10 more had the Houston team in a time with the big Orange for the top crown, as the Owls nailed the runner-up slot with 22 1/2 points. Arkansas, the poll's choice by a mere half-point over Texas in 1963, ranked third with 10 first place ballots and a total of 33 1/2. Baylor was fourth with a 41 1/2 total with eight seeing the Bruins all the way at the top. SMU picked up its highest ranking in four years, being fifth with 56 1/2, and two first-place ballots.

Texas Tech, Texas Christian and Texas A and M had quite a scrap for the sixth spot, with Tech edging the Horned Frogs. The Raiders had a total of 41 1/2 points, TCU had 42 1/2 and the other first-place ballot, with the Aggies last with 43 1/2.

Many of the voters liked a tie for the crown, with a Texas and Rice dead-lock being the most popular with 10. One writer saw Texas, Rice and Arkansas in a three-way tie, while another predicted a Texas, Arkansas and TCU deadlock.

Texas has the followers, such as—

"Picked Texas because I figure the Longhorns will make the least mistakes. The other teams have a complex against

Only Two Minor Crashes Checked

The minor accident rate seems to have fallen off sharply within the Hereford city limits as only two minor accidents were reported to the Hereford Police Department.

The first was reported August 15 when vehicles driven by Daniel Ramirez Lopez, Friona, and Jose Luise Rosado, Dimmitt, collided at the intersection of U. S. 60 and Highway 385.

Rosado's vehicle struck Lopez from the rear, driving his car around the intersection and striking the curb as he made the right hand turn.

Rosado was filed on by city officers for driving while intoxicated and entered a plea of guilt.

Texas like the American League Teams do against the Yanks." —Putt Powell, Amarillo Globe-News.

"Simply can't go against the defending national champs." —James McAfee, Abilene Reporter-News.

"Texas complains of lack of depth but there are an awful lot of experienced players on the Longhorn roster. Maybe they can shift some around so they are four deep at every position, instead of three-deep." —Harold Ratliff, Associated Press.

"Longhorns make it four straight, hanging up a new record for consecutive SWC football titles." —Talmadge Cantant, Corsicana Sun.

And then there were those who liked Rice.

"If the Owls don't win with the material they have this year, they may not win for a decade." —Joe McLaughlin, Houston Chronicle.

"Graduation may have hurt the Longhorns too much to catch Rice." —Cecl Green, Texas Tech Treador.

"The big game is in Houston this year, and belongs to Neely." —Carter Hinchshaw, Arlington Citizen-Journal.

"Nobody—but nobody—is exceptionally strong or exceptionally weak—good year for the dark horse." —Jim Montgomery Waco News-Tribune.

The 1964 season is just around the corner. It could be another great one.

Miss Justice, Mr. Lewis Wed In Church Ceremony

Wedding vows of Miss Avie Delroy Justice and Clifford La-dell Lewis, Winters, were solemnized Friday evening in the First Baptist Church. Officiant at the rites was the Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil W. Justice, 210 Ranger Drive. Graduate of Hereford High School in 1962, she is a junior majoring in music education at Hardin-Simmons University. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional women's music fraternity.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lewis, Route 4, Winters. Also a junior in Hardin-Simmons University, Lewis is majoring in business administration. He graduated from Winters High School in 1962.

Following their wedding trip, the young couple will be at home in Abilene, where they will continue their studies in Hardin-Simmons University.

For the wedding the church sanctuary was decorated with greenery forming an arch sprinkled with white blossoms over the white kneeling bench and spreading in sunburst as background for white-tapered spiral and seven-branched candelabra entwined with garlands of greenery. Urn-filled bouquets of pink mums on wedding columns marked each side of the archway. Pews were decorated with aisle bows of white bridal satin.

Mrs. Duane Barrett, organist, played a prelude of traditional wedding music; then Franz' "Dedication" as mothers of the couple were seated; Wagner's "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's wedding music from "Midsummer Night's Dream." She accompanied Mrs. Jimmy Ivy's singing of "O Perfect Love," "Whither Thou Goest" and, at close of the ceremony, "Wedding Prayer."

Mr. Justice gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white satinette fashioned with lace medallions centered with seed pearls accenting the bodice and scooped neckline framed with scalloped re-embroidered Alencon lace. Wrist of petal-point sleeves were fastened with short rows of tiny satin buttons, repeated in full-length row of buttons at back closing of the bodice.

Dramatizing the bouffant skirt were self cabbage roses catching skirt fullness at intervals to let it cascade into a chapel train.

The bride's butterfly veil of pure silk English illusion was caught to the overhead flower of small roses encircled by clusters of silk leaves and centered with aurora borealis stones. She carried a prayer book style bouquet of white French roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. Maid of honor was Miss Sharon Foster, Fort Worth, the bride's university roommate. Other attendants were Miss Kathy Horon of Plainview, Miss Sara Gillentine, and Mrs. Jimmy Ivy. They wore street-length dresses of cherry pink peau de soie, the molded bodice designed with scooped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The belted skirt featured small cabbage rose of self-material at back waistline. This accent of the bride's gown was repeated in the bridesmaid, hats of large self roses with short nose veils. Completing their ensembles were shoes matching their dresses and bouquets of pink glamelias.

Candlelighters were Melba Lewis and Terry Lewis, sister and brother of the groom. Melba wore a dress and hat identical to the costume of the bridal attendants, and her flowers were a wristlet of pink Elfie roses. Flower girl was Renee Snead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Snead. She wore a pink dress of peau de soie, a miniature of the bridal attendant's ensemble.

Serving the groom as best man was A. L. Mitchell, Winters. Groomsmen were Kenny Justice, brother of the bride; Roger Stanford, Winters; and Mike Justice, cousin of the bride. Gene Snead and Jimmy Ivy were ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Conkright Building of First Baptist Church. Miss Nancy Moore, Abilene, was in charge of the guest book, Miss Shari Prowell and Miss Brenda Beasley having registered wedding guests in the church foyer.

Mrs. Pat Newman and Miss Sue Minor presided at the serving table laid in silk faille with white net overlay having a wide satin border. A side center drop of wedding bells was secured with white satin bows, duplicated at table corners to accent white satin garlands enhancing the tablecloth skirt.

Other decorations included an arrangement of candelabra and pink roses and the wedding cake encrusted with pale pink roses and topped with miniature bride and groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Justice wore a pink linen sheath with jacket, matching accessories of small pink hat with eyebrow veil and small linen bag. She wore white alligator shoes. The groom's mother chose a pink knit dress with white accessories. Their corsages were white phalaenopsis orchids.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a three-piece royal blue double-knit suit with white lizard shoes and bag, white kid gloves, and white faille tam. She wore the corsage of white roses lifted from the bridal bouquet.

After their wedding trip, the young couple will visit briefly in the Hereford area before going to their home in Abilene.

Mrs. Geron Has Bridge Party

Mrs. Jesse Geron, 145 Sunset Drive, was hostess at bridge-luncheon Tuesday. This was a back-to-school get-together, including some returning teachers for the new school year.

The buffet table was covered with pale ecru linen cloth enhanced with hand-embroidered garlands of blue and pink hydrangeas — representing about 100 hours of Mrs. Geron's handiwork. The centerpiece was an arrangement of roses and bells of Ireland.

Quartet tables were laid with corresponding linen covers and centered with miniatures of the buffet flowers. Two such tiny arrangements were given as high and low score prizes.

Those present were Mrs. Jack Meredith, Mrs. Bill Michael, Mrs. Hugh Sullivan, Mrs. Boyd Foster, Mrs. Charlie Morris, Mrs. Clyde Coleman, Mrs. A. L. Yeager, and the hostess.

Winners of the special miniature bouquets were Mrs. Meredith, and Mrs. Sullivan.

La Madre Mia Holds Family Get-Together

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club entertained at their August family social with a backyard barbecue chicken supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Detwiler, 115 Elm, Monday.

After supper the group exchanged reviews of summer experiences and forecast some for the autumn.

Club members and their husbands present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gollehon, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lankford, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morton.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sparks, and Mr. and Mrs. Detwiler.

Arrangements for the occasion were made by the social committee; Mrs. Owen, Mrs. John Smith, and Mrs. Detwiler.

The United States has held presidential elections every four years since 1788. The electoral vote for George Washington, who had no opposition, totaled 69. The popular vote for him is not known. In 1960, 68,838,979 Americans voted for president.

Nishimuta-Wilhelm Rites Read At Church

Miss Beatrice Agnes Wilhelm became the bride of John Francis Nishimuta, Lubbock, in Saint Anthony's Church Saturday afternoon, August 15. The Rev. Angelus Delahunt, S.A., officiated at the wedding with double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wilhelm; and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Thomas Nishimuta, McAlester, Okla.

Family pews of the church were marked by orchid and white bows securing aisle bouquets of white gladioli. White aisle cloth led the bridal procession to the main altar with its gold vases filled with white gladioli and mums.

The ciborium used for the first time at this Nuptial Mass came from Rome and was blessed by Pope Paul VI and touched to the tomb of Saint Peter. It is a gift to Saint Anthony's Church from the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilhelm, in memory of Mrs. Wilhelm's brother, Louis Slegler.

Miss Rita Sue Witkowski, organist, accompanied Ben Gollebon's vocal solo, "Panis Angelicus." She played Rossini's "Professional" and Gounod's "Recessional," and during the ceremony Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Mother, At Thy Feet We're Kneeling."

Mr. Wilhelm gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal wedding gown of bridal white peau de soie with fitted bodice having modified scooped neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Re-embroidered floral motifs of Alencon lace accented the wide cummerbund and frosted the bell skirt in circular patterns. The flowing chapel train was held at waistline by wide peau de soie flat bow. Her white mantilla veil of Alencon lace draped gracefully over a satin pillbox. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls; and she carried a crystal Aurora Borealis Rosary, the gift of the groom. She wore white shorty gloves and carried a bridal bouquet of white French roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Cecilia Wilhelm; and bridesmaids were Miss Jane Wilhelm and Miss Donna Nishimuta, sister of the groom. They wore identical sheath dresses of orchid silk organza over taffeta, designed with bateau neckline on fitted bodice with elbow-length sleeves. The removable overskirt swept to a bustle back accented with butterfly bow. Pillboxes draped with tulle, white shorty gloves, and cascading bouquets of white feathered mums completed the ensembles.

Best man was George Wilhelm, brother of the bride. Groomsmen were Gary Nishimuta, brother of the groom, and Joe Frank Huckert, Summerfield, and Sam Burt, Nazareth, served as ushers.

Mrs. Wilhelm chose for her daughter's wedding a beige dress with black accessories and ocean green hat. Mrs. Nishimuta, the groom's mother, wore a mauve dress with beige accessories. Their corsages were phalaenopsis orchids. For her wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a white jersey dress with pleated skirt and navy jacket with red accessories. She wore a large brimmed navy hat and the white roses lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a senior at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, with major in applied arts and option of interior design in the home economics department. At Tech she has been a member of the Newman Club during the past two years. She is also a member of American Institute of Interior Designers and of American Home Economics Association.

The groom also has attended Texas Tech during this summer. A junior in electrical engineering at Oklahoma State University, he is a Flying Aggie and maintains membership in the Newman Club and in American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

After their wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2610 37th Street, Lubbock.

The Reception
Honoring the bride and groom following the wedding ceremony, a buffet dinner was served in Saint Anthony's Parish Hall. Guests at the reception were registered by Miss Betty Wilhelm, Happy, cousin of the bride, and Miss Suzy Brown, Odessa. From the bride's table decorated with arrangements of gladioli and dahlias, Miss Dianne Rader and Mr. Walter Lueb served the cake. Trimmed with orchid flowers, the wedding cake was topped with the Christus, symbol signifying marriage in Christ.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Nishimuta, Gary Nishimuta, and Miss Donna Nishimuta, McAlester, Okla.; A/IC and Mrs. Joe Wilhelm and Kenny, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. George Andriakos and family, Cedar Hurst, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wil-

Growing Public Interest Good Sign For Future

More people are becoming interested in politics than ever before in the history of our nation. This is due in part to the fact that we now have more people than ever before, but the percentage ratio of our population is also definitely rising on the political interest front.

In a large measure, currently growing interest can be attributed to the fact that our two major parties are "battling it out" on a basis of fundamental principles, rather than personalities. Texas, for instance, is nearer to having become a two-party state than at any previous time in history.

This trend of increased interest in national affairs is also seeping down into state, county, city and district levels. All of which is wonderful, because it indicates a political system which can never be overthrown by some "ism". In addition, people are learning that politics are big business, which deserves careful consideration and through on the part of those who inevitably and ultimately pay the bills.

The Hereford schools, for instance, have recently announced a $2,298,401 budget, which establishes the system as the biggest business in Deaf Smith County — and one of the large businesses in the state of Texas. So long as the people of this district are going to collect and disburse this kind of money, it stands to reason that they definitely should be interested. If nothing more, they owe it to themselves to learn of the disbursements, expanded programs and projected plans for our schools.

In addition, general interest and intelligent consideration on part of the public will provide a stimulant to the trustees, who spend untold hours planning and checking into these various items.

So long as the citizenship of this country looks upon the schools, city affairs, county affairs and national developments as "ours", instead of pointing the finger at some politician in Washington, our democracy cannot help but flourish and continue to grow. Both Hitler and Khrushchev drummed away on the points of American "apathy" and "indifference" and, at times past, they probably had a strong point. Today, however, things are changing — and it can only speak for a more progressive nation, and a better community in which to live.

How Do We Reap Tourist Dollars?

We were genuinely interested in a letter from James W. Witherspoon, which appears in this issue of the paper, and which is centered around the possibility of attracting tourists into the community.

Without doubt, he is right. All of us know from experience what it costs to travel — and we know that the tourist will drop this money where he stops. The tourist crop, as it has been aptly pointed out, affords one of the most extensive yields in the nation, and it is growing by leaps and bounds each year.

How to stop the tourist for a few hours, or days, is the big question, and it puzzles people in cities all over the country. Like other worthwhile endeavor, we doubt if there is an easy way to accomplish the halting of tourists — and this is especially true in Hereford, where we have no outstanding natural attractions.

As Mr. Witherspoon enumerates, however, we do have the basis for some unusually good "tourist stoppers" with our background of "Town Without A Toothache" publicity, which once put the Hereford depot on network television, and with our background of "Old West", in which people are interested all over the world. Both have unlimited possibilities and with proper promotion could definitely achieve the desired result.

Of foremost importance, however, should be some careful planning toward establishment of a unified program. Locations should be determined with extreme caution; presentation should be established with advice and counsel of experts and, finally, we absolutely must have something to offer the tourist who does fall for a brief period on his cross-country trek. Needless to say, unity and enthusiasm on the part of the general public are also requisites in any successful program along this line.

There is no question about the possibilities which exist, nor is there any question about the possibilities which exist, nor is there any question about the ability of this community to put the effort across in a first-rate manner. We do have to follow some simple rules, however, and it will take a lot of hard work on the part of many people.

In our opinion, the first step should be the creation of a development board, possibly through the Chamber of Commerce, and ever-growing interest of local people indicates that this will probably happen within the next few years.

'Keep Well-Watered'

Old-Time Thresher Days Are Recalled

TRUSCOTT, Tex. (AP) — Lester Hickman looks these days at air-conditioned combines and towering wheat elevators and admits that things are considerably better than when he was a farm boy.

Hickman is manager of the Farmers Co-Op Elevator here. But he recalls the days when cotton was king in these parts and there was comparatively little wheat acreage.

Farmers put wheat in their barns at harvest time and sold it in the winter when they needed cash. Thresher operators were paid a "toll" or portion of the crop since hard cash was scarce.

Uncle Bob Myers owned one of the early threshers at Truscott. It was powered by 24 mules.

A few years later Bill Myers brought a steam tractor here with a power takeoff belt several yards long. The thrasher, powered by the steam tractor, was considered a great improvement.

Hickman says that during the fall and winter months, farmers would get together several wagon loads of wheat and make a trip — up to three days — to Quanah.

Later the mill opened in Crowell, only a day's journey to the north, and people would go there to trade wheat for flour.

Fifty bushels was considered a big wagon load and required a team of four mules. Three hundred and more bushels are loaded now into the trucks which will speed wheat from the fields.

Wheat began taking the place of cotton as the most important cash crop here during World War II. Grain was needed to feed the people of Europe and all restrictions on planting grain were removed. Farmers found wheat a more attractive crop then, especially since there was a shortage of labor. Field hands were needed for months in growing and harvesting cotton, while improved tractors, plows and combines made it possible for one man to plant and work a wheat crop with extra help hired only during the short harvest period.

Farmers turned thousands of acres from cotton to wheat, and while cotton gins all over north central Texas were closing for lack of business, the grain business outgrew its storage so rapidly that many towns wheat was temporarily stored on the streets or in vacant lots.

Grain storage in Truscott consisted of one small elevator when Hickman became an elevator manager 20 years ago. Now there is a storage capacity of 128,000 bushels. Back in 1919 wheat was shoveled straight from the wagons into railroad box cars. Jack Brown remembers shoveling wheat for $5 a day, "and I thought I was making good money."

With the general acceptance of the tractor, combines began the annual migration known as "following the harvest," which starts in Central Texas around the middle of May and proceeds northward through the summer.

Hickman says Carl Harrie brought one of the first effective combines to Truscott in the late 1920s.

"We used to wait on Carl to get around to our fields," he says. "Today wheat farmers want their wheat out when it is ready. Three and four combines in one field is an ordinary sight." (Continued on page 5)

Amarillo Boardmen Plan Farm Program

P. E. Benson, Secretary of the City Development Board of Amarillo, and Dr. M. W. Cunningham, another live wire from the same city, were in Hereford Monday on the business of presenting the matter of co-operative farming to the citizens of this county. They and a few local people went before the county commissioners and presented the matter. It is the purpose of the co-operative farming plan to unite with one or two other counties, Castro and Parmer and employ an agricultural supervisor, who's business it would be to aid all the farmers who would join the move in the planting, cultivation and harvesting of their crops. Seed selecting and rotation, soil development, all would be a part of the work of the farm demonstrator.

Last Sunday morning, Mrs. O. M. Shore persuaded her husband to break his usual custom and to go to church. So they made preparations and came into town and attended one of the pieces of worship. On their return, however, and much to the surprise of Mr. Shore, they found autos and buggies surrounding the house and the yard and house full of people. He thought an invasion had occurred but when he learned that his friends had come to help him celebrate his birthday, he got over his excitement. A fine dinner was served and all enjoyed the day. Among the families who participated in the affair were: The Sullivan, Johnsons, Gibsons, Russells, Weavers, Greggs, Balders, and Moonneys. Mrs. Mooney was master of ceremonies.

10 YEARS AGO

The story of highway deaths, injuries and property damage in Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties was unfolded Friday evening, when J. R. Kirkland and Joe Culp, highway patrolmen of this area, appeared on KPDA-TV at 6:20 o'clock. Speed was cited as the No. 1 killer in this area, DWI was second, running stop signs was third and defective brakes was fourth, according to the officers.

"This area has had five fatal wrecks in which nine people have been killed from January 1 to August 31," Kirkland said. "Two of the five were near Forwell on Highway 60, accounting for five of the last lives," he added. He also said that the same number, nine lives, were lost in this area during the first seven months in 1953.

Personal injuries totaled 30 this year, resulting from 18 wrecks. This figure, according to Kirkland is down six percent under 1953.

In addition to furnishing recreation for 12,840 persons this summer, the Hereford Municipal Swimming Pool's cash register rang up a total of $4,304.24, which after all expenses were paid, left a net of $1,526.67. Out of the 12,840 persons attending, 7,095 were children, accounting for $1,733.75 and 5,745 were adults, accounting for $2,298.

What's A Few Paltry Million?

One of the most dynamic conversation pieces in recent years centers around an announcement this week of the wealth of President Johnson, compiled and released through an accounting firm at the establishment figure of $3,484,098.

In some groups, observers laugh at the figure as paltry, and this is especially true in broadcasting circles where groups are even talking about making the Johnsons an offer of twice the amount for his properties. They say that he would not even consider such an offer.

To most of us, the near $3½ million sounds like quite a bit. In fact, most people we know would be willing to settle for the squeamish $1.7 million attributed to candidate Barry Goldwater, and not even take a second look.

We are also prone to wonder if these figures establish the fact that only a millionaire can successfully wage a race for the office of President; Mr. Kennedy certainly was no exception.

Are we expected to vote according to the ratio of a man's wealth? Have changing times shifted so much that we can no longer anticipate any more Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jackson? Another thing which puzzles us, too, is the fact that the Democrat has accumulated more money than the Republican. We always thought the GOP's had all the big money.

Mr. Hoffa Is On His Way Out

All indications point to the probability that Mr. Hoffa, the long-time teamster boss, is on his way out. Needless to say, this will be one of the most important developments in our nation's history.

Unions were established back down the line, because many of the working people were being exploited, and they served a good purpose. As time marched on, the unions grew and became so powerful that many Americans began wondering if the "worm didn't turn too far." When the unions became infiltrated with cars and began adopting gangster tactics, it became evident to the rank and file that many of the organizations were being misused to the point of endangering our economy and our nation.

Today, labor unions are so strong and so mighty that they probably possess more power than any other segment of our political economy. If they clean house, such as the case of Mr. Hoffa, and shift to American standards of respectability, they will likely continue to play in this mighty role. Without some sort of house cleaning, it has been more and more evident that they would follow a downward path. Already, the "public image" of labor unions has suffered extensive loss along this line.

When labor and manager roll up their sleeves and go to work on a basis of general national achievement, we will have taken a big step in the direction of keeping America out front. This same spirit, after all, made our country great — and we hope it will continue along the same lines, once some of the undesirable have been weeded out.

Adoption of a $992,425 expenditure budget, based on continuation of the present $1.80 tax rate, was voted by the Littlefield school district board Monday night. Approval of the new budget followed several hours of discussion and scissor-trimming on a proposed $1,002,976 budget that would have called for a 19-cent boost in the tax levy. As finally adopted, the 1964-65 budget is $84,745.08 higher than the one originally adopted for the current fiscal year.

Whoever is tabbed by the President as his running mate I hope his church affiliation is not taken into consideration or made an issue. Certainly we want Christians in places of public trust, but we want them to be selected on their ability without consideration of their church affiliation. There will be discussion and probably some dissension (at the Democratic convention) about the civil rights issue but I predict it will be resolved with a strong plank supporting the civil rights law and another condemning the mob violence that has been rampant in the large cities under the guise of civil rights crusades.

"The Million-Dollar Rain," or "the rain that saved the cotton crop." That's what Collingsworth farmers are calling the drouth-breaker that fell from Friday through Sunday nights Aug. 14, 15 and 16, and which measured from one to three inches throughout the area. Almost all cotton will benefit, it is generally agreed.

Although plagued by one of the driest summers in years, Lamb County agriculture is moving at a fast clip. The county feed grain crop of more than 205,000 acres is going into its last month of growth with good prospects for an income of more than $12 million for county farmers. And the 1964 cotton crop should be the third largest on the South Plains, behind only Lubbock and Hale counties, according to the annual August forecast of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange. The 1964 price outlook is as good as in 1963, and an enlarged program for diverted acres will boost total payments for the crops.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Blindweed farm discusses a personal matter this week. We guess that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

A man out here the other day stopped me, well he really didn't stop me, I was already sitting down resting under a shade tree, and got to talking and finally said he wanted to know how I got my ideas for these letters to The Brand.

"How do you do it?" he asked. "I mean, how do you know where to start and when to quit?"

Well, I'll tell you, it's simple, and I've always found it just as easy to stop as start. You come out of the house and look around and see all the physical labor there is to do on this Blindweed farm and confronted by that any thinking man will start thinking.

Some people don't realize we're living in critical times, have been ever since I can remember, and what's a sagging gate compared to the situation in Viet Nam? How can a man patch his roof when the Turks and the Greeks may start fighting again, not that they haven't been doing it since recorded history?

How can I be bothered about cutting weeds when at the moment I don't even know who's going to be Lyndon Johnson's running mate?

I know how to get rid of weeds, that's been discovered for hundreds of years, but who knows how to keep Russia contained?

I know some people say I ought to work harder, that the way to solve the world's problems is to start with your own, but it doesn't work out that way. Twenty-five years ago I was minding my own business and looked up to find Hitler wasn't.

Working for yourself is a fine idea, but very few people achieve the goal. Most of them, the way it looks to me, spend at least half their time working for Ford and General Motors. They have 36 months to pay for a car, then 36 more to pay for the next one. The average life-time of the average man now is about 8 or 10 cars.

This may not explain where I get any ideas for these letters, or even if I do, but I've out-lasted my sagging gate another week. It's just like the international situation. You don't solve international problems, you just out-last them.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Hunter, Mr. Powell Wed in U. S. Navy Chapel

Miss Elizabeth Hunter, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Raymond Paul Hunter, Washington, D. C., and Verne Eldon Powell, Boerne, were married Saturday afternoon, August 15, in the United States Navy Chapel, Washington, D. C.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Verle Darwin Powell, 100 Elm St.

In the Chapel decorated with flags of the United States, the United States Navy, the United States Marine Corps, and the Religious Flag, altar vases were filled with white gladiolus daisies and other white flowers. Al Williams, Navy Chapel organist, played traditional wedding music, including "The Lord's Prayer."

Chaplain Henry Duncan, United States Navy, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal taffeta designed with lifted empire lines of bodice and side skirt fullness sweeping into a chapel train. (This dress the bride's sister wore at her wedding four years ago.) Her mantilla of Duchess lace fell almost floor-length.

This unused family heirloom was brought from Brussels in 1914.

Another heirloom the bride wore was her maternal grandmother's platinum wedding band encircled with diamonds, thirteenth wedding anniversary gift of the bride's grandfather to his wife. The bride wore also a strand of pearls with matching earrings, the gifts of the groom.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations encircling a white cattleya orchid.

Mrs. Hollis Mondel Cross, Knoxville, Tenn., was matron of honor. Other attendants of the bride were Mrs. Gary Jay Flenner and Mrs. Marion Patrick Elam, Amarillo, sister of the groom. They wore identical floor-length aqua shantastic dresses, fashioned with scooped neckline and floor-length back panel caught at waistline with large crushed flowers of self-material. They wore aqua shoes to match, shorty white gloves, pearl earrings, and carried cascade bouquets of white daisies.

Best man was Captain Milton Newell, USAF, formerly of Hereford. Serving as ushers were Malvern Frye Morse, Washington, D. C., uncle of the bride, and Gregory Russell Morse, Washington, D. C., cousin of the bride, also Marion Patrick Elam, Amarillo, brother-in-law of the groom, and Hollis Mandel Cross, Knoxville, Tenn.

Following the wedding a reception honoring the couple was held in Chevy Chase Club. The five-tiered wedding cake, topped with bouquet of white sweetheart roses, was encrusted with crystalline love birds and miniature flower garlands. The bride and groom drank toast of champagne from a crystal wedding cup with their names and date of wedding engraved on it. This was a wedding gift to them.

Mrs. Milton Newell, whose husband was best man, served as stand-in for the groom's mother at the reception, as Mr. and Mrs. Verle Powell, parents of the groom, were unable to be present at the wedding. Captain Newell, now stationed at Rome, N. Y., A. F. B., has been a lifelong friend of the groom and was his roommate

Girls Hold Texas-Style Luau

Most recent of three summer social events planned, prepared, and presented by group committees, Tak-Sha-Wa Camp Fire Girls entertained with a Texas-style Luau in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Hostesses were Karen Gilbert, chairman, Becky Edelman, Karen Baine, Sheila Olson, Kerri Dameron, and Martha Baker.

In keeping with the theme, each guest was presented with a lei upon entering the Hawaiian room. Decorations included bowls of summer fruits, hanging flower cages, and artificial palms.

Served from a buffet table, guests were seated on floor mats around a runner marked by flower arrangements and a fruit tree centerpiece.

Hula girl place cards were used. Individual menus were decorated with jolly Texas cowboys, complete with 10-gallon hats, six-guns, and lava skirts. Specialties listed included "Pigs-in-Blankets," "Hawaiian Girl Salads," "Confusion Hills," and "Lava Chunks."

Members present were Rhonda

Stewart, Carole Cole, Kathy Phillips, Peggy Summers, Camille Langley, Janice Edwards, and the hostesses. Also special guests were Mrs. Bill Dameron and Mrs. Calvin Edwards, both leaders of Tak-Sha-Wa and Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., group sponsor.

Hostesses of each Tak-Sha-Wa summer event were responsible for all plans as well as purchasing and preparing the food. Each girl participating thus fulfilled an honor requirement to pass rank.

The group was divided into three committees; one entertained with brunch, and a second group held a mid-summer dinner party.

Pawnee Indians may have been the first Americans to take tranquilizers. They brewed tea from verberna flowers called "pleasant-dream-drink," and they apparently used it to quiet nerves and induce sleep.

Old Time...

Besides the locally owned combines we get crews in here from Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and the Dakotas.

Several days before the harvest starts, about May 20 around Truscott, trucks begin arriving from out of state carrying the modern self-propelled combines, some of which are air-conditioned.

The combines are parked a round town in clusters of three or four like some kind of mechanical locusts waiting to go out and devour the wheat.

At one time, harvest was for men only, but now many combine owners bring their families. They live in mobile homes while following the harvest with the wives and daughters of the combine owners cooking for the crews, sometimes driving trucks as well.

When the wheat fields begin changing from green meadows into widening pools of gold, rippling in the spring breezes, the thoughts of all living in a wheat community turn to harvest. Some rural high schools try to finish the school year before the harvest begins, just as 40 years ago rural schools adjusted the session to the rhythm of the cotton crop.

During the 10 to 14 days of a harvest season, Truscott, like other wheat towns, experiences an exhilarating boomlet. No one goes to meetings or parties or leaves town during this time. All the boys who are old enough, and many girls, drive trucks and combines.

Many high school boys in North Texas make the swing northward at least once. Wheat harvest has assumed some of the romantic aura and tradition that once drew young Texans to long, dusty cattle drives pointing into the same states in which modern boys harvest wheat.

at Texas Technological College. For her going-away costume, the bride wore a navy linen dress with matching coat, veil, and shoes, and long white gloves. She carried a white purse with navy floral print, and she wore her wedding pearls and the bridal orchid.

The young couple left Washington by plane for Dallas Sunday night and had a short visit with the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Robert Phansteel Hunter, in Sherman. They were houseguests of the groom's parents, the Verle Fowells, 100 Elm, before leaving on their honeymoon to Lost Valley Resort Ranch in the Bandera area.

The bride was graduated from the University of Texas, Austin, in June. She is a Provisional Member of the Junior League of Washington, D. C.

Reared and educated in the Panhandle area, Powell graduated from Hereford High School, was included among the 1950 Round-up Favorites, and attended Texas Tech during two years of pre-med work and R. O. T. C. training. After four years' service with the United States Air Force during Korean War, he attended the University of Texas, receiving from there both a B.A. in Psychology and the LL.B. Degree from the School of Law. He is a member of Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity.

Powell is now associated with the firm of Gordon L. Hollan, Boerne, in the practice of law and also with the Kendall County Abstract Company. After the honeymoon the couple will establish a home in Boerne.

Wedding guests came from many places across the nation. A special guest was a cousin of the bride's mother, Miss Helen Hazelton, Peterborough, N. H., whose father had brought the bridal mantilla of duchess lace from Brussels in 1914. Of special interest is the fact that the bride's two sisters were also married in the same Navy Chapel and all three daughters of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Hunter were baptized there together. Also Mrs. Cross, matron of honor has been a friend of the bride since their high school days.

2 Plead Guilty In County Court

Only two persons appeared before County Judge H. C. Williams this week to answer to separate charges of driving while intoxicated and theft.

Jose Luis Rosada entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated after he was arrested by city officers August 15, following a collision within the city limits.

Rosada entered a plea of guilty to the DWI charge and was sentenced to eight days in the county jail and ordered to pay $180 and cost.

Porfirio Herrera was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay court cost after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of theft.

He was arrested by city patrolmen, after a complaint was made at the city swimming pool of a Timex watch and $4.85 being taken from a swimmer's basket.

Herrera was arrested by city police and admitted he had taken the money and watch.

Miss Roper, Mr. Useton To Wed In Tulia Church

Tulia (Special) — Nuptial vows will be exchanged between Miss Gay Roper and James E. Useton at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, August 23, in the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Robert T. Metzger, former Tulia pastor and present pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church in Amarillo, will perform the double-ring ceremony. He will deliver a short sermon entitled, "Jesus Also Was Invited to the Marriage."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Roper of Route 1, Tulia. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Useton, 335 Avenue A, Hereford.

Mrs. Douglas Roper, Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, will play hymns on the tower chimes preceding the ceremony. Vocalist Don R. Dornon, Abilene, will sing "O Perfect Love," "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer." For recessional "To God Be the Glory" will be played on the chimes.

The altar will be centered with a white prie-dieu. Beneath the cross will be a white tapered candelabra and Bible, belonging to the bride's maternal family, opened at their favorite chapter, I Cor. 13. Paul's sermon on love.

On either side of the altar will be arrangements of stock in the bride's chosen colors of orchid and purple, backed by candelabra with white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride will wear a bridal gown of white peau de-soie featuring a bateau neckline, bracelet length sleeves, and cummerbund. The controlled full bell skirt with soft unpressed pleats is accented with appliques of Chantilly lace on the skirt front, and full Watteau train. A queen's crown of pearls and aurora boraalis will hold her tiered shoulder-length veil of imported illusion. The bride's bouquet of stephanotis and a purple Cattleya orchid is to be centered on a white pearl Bible belonging to her sister.

Mrs. Ralph Murphey, sister of the bride, San Angelo, will be matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Judy C. Lawson, Lubbock, Miss Cynthia K. Robinson, Tulia, and Miss Peggy I. Thompson, Claude.

Identically styled, the attendants' dresses are orchid, helio, kyosis, and purple in color. The two-piece sleeveless dresses are organza and taffeta feature bat-teau necklines, bell skirts with inverted pleats, and short-sleeved jackets of matching organza. Open pill-box hats with chin length veils of tulle, white wrist length gloves, and shoes to match will complement their attire. They will carry bouquets of Odontoglossum orchids and agapanthus atop white New Testaments.

Robert N. Useton, Hereford, will be his brother's best man. Groomsmen will be James W. Smith; Thomas Bormann, Abilene; and Robin Green, Clarendon. Ushering will be Douglas G. Roper, Lubbock, brother of the bride; Ralph Murphey, San Angelo, brother-in-law of the bride; J. W. Tuttle; and Mike Pollard.

Candlelighters will be Lee and Mac Devin. Rodney Brent Roper, Lubbock, nephew of the bride, will serve as ring bearer. Dawn Daniel, Idalou, is to be flower girl.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roper has chosen a two-piece pink dress of pure silk, with accessories including a feathered hat, elbow-length gloves, and pink shoes. She will carry an iridescent beaded bag. The bridegroom's mother will wear a gold silk suit, accented with brown accessories. They will wear corsages of cymbidium orchids.

The bride's going away costume was a two-piece suit of piece suit of beige silk shantung. An overblouse of beige floral silk over orange silk and brown accessories complete the ensemble.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride's corsage will be tropicana roses.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the church parlor. Laid with white linen cloth, the serving table was accented with antique candelabra from England, featuring a bowl of sterling silver roses and white tapers. At its base will be the attendants' bouquets. Atop the five-layer cake is to be a cross with two rings in silver symbolizing the couple's marriage in christ. Other table appointments will be in silver.

Miss Ellen Laurie, Tulia, and Miss Ann Askins, Miss Edna Byrd, and Miss Donna Moore, Abilene, will share serving duties. Other members of the house party will be Mrs. Johnny Boydston, Mrs. Curtis Brasher, Mrs. Delbert Devin, Mrs. Lyle Robinson, and Mrs. Herman Poage,

Boys Ranch Starts Practice for Rodeo

The 325 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch began practice this week for the biggest Labor Day event of the Texas Panhandle — the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo that will be held Sunday, Sept. 6, and Monday, Sept. 7, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

This will be the 20th year for the famed rodeo that began in 1944 with only 65 boys who were being cared for at that time. More than 7000 people are expected to be at the ranch this year to watch a record number of contestants, and if they wish, enjoy a bar-be-que lunch before the performances.

Indications are the 1964 rodeo will be the most competitive, fastest, and thrilling the boys have ever put on. Almost 200 boys will be riding Brahma bulls, bucking brones, and other professional rodeo animals under RCA rules. The two performances do not permit all of the boys to ride who would like to, but everyone, including the ranch's adult staff, will participate.

Boys who do not ride the bucking stock will appear in special feature acts, work the chutes, operate concessions, usher, and work at the many activities necessary for a successful rodeo production.

An added feature of the rodeo will be the sale of king-sae bar-be-que sandwiches with the trimmings that will be sold by the boys. The ranch picnic area will provide a good lunch site for those wishing to enjoy a picnic near the rodeo arena.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used for the expansion of the ranch.

TIM, IT'S ODD THAT THE RIVAL CHIEFS, TARKI AND ZOLTA, SHOULD ATTACH SO MUCH IMPORTANCE TO THE HASSI-STONE....

THEY ARE BOTH CONVINCED THAT THE OLD DRAWINGS ON IT ARE SYMBOLS OF GOOD FORTUNE....

...AND NOW THAT ZOLTA HAS STOLEN IT, A FULL-SCALE TRIBAL WAR MAY RESULT!

TARKI DOESN'T FEEL THE TWO OF US HAVE MUCH CHANCE OF RECOVERING THE ROCK... HE COULD BE RIGHT!

THE CRAGS OF HASSI ARE ALMOST OUT OF VIEW....

WHICH MEANS WE SHOULD SOON SIGHT THE HILLS OF GARAT....

THOSE ARE THE PEAKS OF GARAT!

...AND THE PATROLS OF ZOLTA!

WE'RE BLOCKED!

SPUD, IF THE TRIBAL QUARREL IS TO BE SETTLED, WE'VE GOT TO SLIP PAST THAT PATROL!
