Long-Range Plans To Include Three New School Units

When Hereford School district patrons go to the polls April 28 to decide whether the school shall launch an elaborate $2.4 million building program, they will be voting on a program which will take several years to carry out.

However, although the bond issue will be for $2.4 million the bonds will be sold only as the work is planned, thus saving large sums in interest, school officials pointed out.

The board probably will start with one new elementary school, extensive remodeling at Central, additions to the senior and junior high schools, and purchase of land for future buildings. The board estimates these improvements will cost about $1.7 million.

The bond call came about as a result of studies made by a Citizens Committee which was made up of three sub-committees. Extensive studies were made by all three groups, including a finance sub-committee which attempted to arrive at costs.

Here, condensed, are the complete recommendations with price tags:

1. Eight rooms to be added to Aikman school. (Estimated cost, $162,000.)
2. Two new elementary schools, one of which will be located in south Hereford. (Estimated cost, $440,000 each.)
3. Three or four more school sites be purchased for future use. (Estimated cost: $50,000.)
4. Complete renovation of Central elementary school. (Estimated cost $95,000.)
5. Minor renovation of Shirley school. (Estimated cost $12,000.)
6. Remodeling of junior high, including new seats, modern stage and covered floors. (Estimated cost: $12,000.)
7. New furniture be provided for seven new rooms to the original building at junior high. (Estimated cost $8000.)
8. Remodeling of two rooms in original junior high building for standard science rooms. (Estimated cost $18,000.)

12. Eventual additions to junior high to provide for 1800 to 1900 students in the two buildings. (Estimated cost, $32,000.)

Citizen Award Goes To Mrs. Springer

More than 575 persons of the Deaf Smith County Area were in attendance Thursday evening at the Annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Banquet held in the Hereford High School Gymnasium.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Citizen of the Year Award to Mrs. Esther Springer for her outstanding medical work in Deaf Smith County.

Mrs. Springer came here in 1939 after she had begun her nursing career in Abilene.

Presenting the award at the annual chamber of commerce banquet was J. F. Martin, president of the Hereford Lions Club.

Mrs. Springer was cited for her tireless work with Anglos, Latin Americans and Negroes, concerning health problems, sanitation and help for underprivileged children in this area.

It was pointed out by Martin that she has often bought clothes, medicine and shoes from personal funds for school children in need.

Mrs. Springer, who graduated from the Hendrix College of Nursing in 1935, is presently a member of the Red Cross Board and a member of the board of directors of the Christian Bookstore. She is an active member of the Immanuel Lutheran church.

She has served two terms on the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board and was named in 1962 as a Fellow to the National Association of School Nurses.

The guest speaker for the annual event was Jeff Williams, humorist, philosopher, of Chickasha, Okla., who kept the crowd rolling in laughter with his home-spun humor and philosophy.

Williams' topic for the evening was "Who Dealt This Mess?" and he was introduced by Austin Rose, Jr., president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce.

Williams pointed out, in his delightfully humorous method, the areas needing improvement in the U. S. today.

The dinner was catered by Walter Jeton, Fort Worth. Following the dinner Rose introduced the dignitaries and directors of the Chamber.

Next, the out-of-town guests were introduced and more than 75 persons from out-of-town were in attendance.

Following the introduction of the guests, immediate past-

Voters to Pass On $2.4 Million Building Issue

Hereford school board has called a $2.4 million bond election for Tuesday, April 30 to provide new buildings and remodeling of old buildings to meet an expanding school population.

At the same time voters will be asked to put the official approval on certain phases of a name change for the district, originally approved by the voters a year ago. The attorney general has ruled that in changing the name from Hereford Rural School District to Hereford Independent School District, certain items in the change-over must be approved by the voters. These include assumption of indebtedness of the old district by the new district and maintenance tax plan. Thus when the voters go to the polls the last Tuesday in the month, they will have to pass on three propositions. Amount of money involved in the new bond election will not be included on the ballot.

The bond election was called by the board after a Citizens' Committee had made a month-long study of the school needs, especially in housing. The committee had been handed the facts and figures showing the crowded conditions which now exist and asking that they make recommendations for solving those problems.

The schools, Paul Stevens, Superintendent, told the committee, are now operating at "almost complete capacity," and enrollment continues to climb. The April 15 report of enrollment, for example, showed still further gains with an all-time high of 3463 reached.

A year ago enrollment in all Hereford public schools stood at 2933; the new figure is 530 above the 1963 level, and is 36 more than were listed at mid-March.

The school board, in calling the election, pointed out that the bonds will be sold only as needed, and not all the building program recommended by the committee will be carried out at the same time.

"This will mean a considerable savings to the taxpayers," Stevens pointed out. Absentee voting will start tomorrow at the tax office, and the April 28 election will be held in the school tax office and at Dawn community center.

Stevens said a tax rate increase will result if the new bonds are approved, but that the raise will amount to only about 10 cents per $100 valuation. At (Continued on Page 2)

He pointed out that federal regulations require that domestic labor must be exhausted before any Mexican Nationals can be used. He told the sugarbeet growers they must apply for labor in Hereford, Littlefield or Muleshoe, making application for needed hands. They also must state housing needs.

At the same time, specific piece-work rates were established for dealing with sugar beets. Four different types of operations will have as many different labor rates, DeVaney said, and in addition, payments will be made on row-width basis. Rows 28 to 30 inches apart can be worked cheaper than rows under 28 inches. For workers 14-16 years of age, farmers may pay one-third less.

Here are the rates set: Hoeing and removing weeds and excess beets with hoe only, $9.20 and $11.50 per acre (depending on row width).

Hoe-trimming and removing weed with hoe and by hand and removing excess beets with hoe, $11 and $13.75.

Blocking and thinning and removing weeds and excess beets with hoe and by hand, $15.40 and $19.25.

Weeding, removing weeds with hoe and by hand following any of the first three methods above, $5.90 and $7.25.

Western organization is one of the biggest labor organizations in West Texas, and each year brings in hundreds of braceros to work on farms.

Cancer Drive First In Texas

Deaf Smith county has become the first county in Texas to exceed its 1963 campaign. Mrs. Claude McDougal, county chairman was informed Saturday.

Contributions to date have passed the $2500 mark. Mrs. McDougal said.

A telegram from Waggoner Carr, state campaign director, said:

"Congratulations for directing the first campaign in the state to exceed 1963 results and better its best.

"If all units do as well, this will be a history-making success. Please extend my congratulations to all your associates."

Mrs. McDougal said credit should go to the many persons who have worked in the 1964 drive, and to Dean Herrins and Mrs. Armon Lauderback, who were division directors.

'Builder' Spoofs Lack Of Codes

By Phil Duncan of Our Staff

"Hereford is on the verge of becoming a 'shack town' because of the lack of a building code which provides restrictions on the construction of houses within the city," Virgil Dodson told the Hereford Board of Realtors at a meeting Friday afternoon.

Dodson presented a hypothetical case of a person moving to Hereford from Anytown, U.S.A.

Dodson continued, "I have purchased a lot on Texas St. and have checked the deed restrictions for that sub-division and found the only construction restriction provides that the structure must contain at least 1250 square feet of floor space.

"Instructions for materials to be used in my house are as follows: There shall be no foundation. The floor is to be a concrete floor, two inches thick. Since it will be on level ground there will be no need for putting steel or wire in it. All of the outside walls of the house shall be built with No. 4 2X3's, 24 inches apart. All of the inside walls will be built with No. 4 2X2's, 24 inches apart. The ceiling joists and rafters can be No. 4 2X3's, 24 inches apart," Dodson said.

Dodson continues, "On the outside, I shall use quarter-inch plywood and the roof shall be galvanized sheet iron. On the inside I will use quarter-inch sheetrock. I will make all doors out of three-quarter-inch plywood, where necessary, and one-half inch plywood where possible.

"All cabinets will be made out of fir plywood, which shall be painted. No insulation is needed in the house. The inside walls can be painted over the sheetrock.

"I will not have a driveway or a floor in the garage. The only concrete needed will be in the floor in the house.

"I have advised my contractor who submitted the low bid, that I am planning a trip and will not be here while the house is being constructed. Should decisions need to be made while I am away, it will be his full responsibility to make those decisions. I further advised him that there were not any city building codes or building restrictions, but as a builder, you may need to check with the city officials to find out for sure.

"After the house is completed, I will move here with my wife and six children where I will be in the trucking business. I also have several coon dogs and I plan to bring them and see if I can't pick up a few extra bucks selling and raising them.

"I can let them serouge the alley for food and maybe they won't get picked up. Another thought I had was maybe our maid back home could bring her husband and eight children and live in the garage. He has a truck also and we could more or less go into business together and she could help my wife with the house and dogs for their part of the rent. That would only be 18 or so living in his house so we should make it

Electric Co-Op Expects 1200 At Annual Meeting

Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative is expecting 1200 persons to attend its annual meeting at the Bull Barn here Thursday, April 30, Manager Leo Forrest said Saturday.

Three new directors are to be named, and capital credits checks, 1953 series, totaling $163,000 are to be issued to 1011 persons at the all-day meeting which starts at 10 a.m. and includes a free barbecue.

Members are asked to register in the north Bull Barn and to pick up their checks at that time.

Ray Martin is to provide organ music for the 10-12 o'clock period. "We hope everyone will register and those entitled to capital credits checks will call for them during the morning hours," Forrest said, "in order that we can proceed with the luncheon and the afternoon program on time."

Directors whose terms are due to expire are Sloan Osborn, Friona; Tom Draper, Castro County, and Noel Golehon, Castro County.

The co-op also is planning for an elaborate display of electric appliances. Patrons are asked to see the exhibits during the morning hours.

Door prizes are to be given, a deluxe automatic electric clothes dryer as the featured item.

At noon, the barbecue will be served by the Hereford Rotary Club in the south Bull Barn (Little Bull Barn). Special music will include selections by the Flootenannies, three lasses who made a hit at last February's annual Lions club Revue. They are Sharon Tinnin, Barbara Langley and Mandy Moore. Accompanists are Gerald Martin and Woody McDermitt.

Free movies will be provided for children.

Business meeting is to start at 1 p.m.

Sorghum Men Lay Plans; Peeler On Committee

The election of an executive committee, earmarking of funds or stepped-up research on water use, sorghum midge control, and continued promotion of foreign markets high lighted the annual meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Sixty directors, officers and county leaders attended the one-day session in Amarillo.

Pat Norcutt, (picture on page 7, sec. 2) a farmer-rancher of Silverton, was elected as a new member of the executive committee as Vice President for Research and Education. The group set Feb. 25 and 26, as the dates for the association's next regular biennial Research and Utilization Conference.

Those held in 1959, 1961 and 1963 have attracted over 300 sorghum researchers and industry people from some 30 states and several foreign countries.

The board under leadership of President Elbert Harp, Abilene, authorized $7500 for sorghum midge research in cooperation with Texas A & M University Entomology Department on a matching fund basis. Funds for active membership in the High Plains Water Institute to study and promote water conservation were also designated. GSPA will also continue its membership in the U.S. Feed Grain Council through which it conducts grain sorghum foreign market development programs.

Association leaders attending were given copies of a research report on the High Concentrate Grain Ration Research at Texas Technological College in the Department of Animal Husbandry. The association supports the study through a $2500 research grant.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo cattleman and grain producer and member of Secretary Freeman's Beef Advisory Committee told the association that groups such as the sorghum producers should not just support their organization when they are in the outset it had been expected the raise would be as much as 10 percent, which on a $1.60 per $100 tax rate, would equal 16 cents. "The cost for this reason," Stevens explained, "will be about 6 cents less than we had expected."

Stevens said that the board has in mind these immediate construction projects:

1. The building of a new elementary school (Two had been recommended by the

- committee).
2. The enlargement of the senior high school.
3. An addition to Stanton Junior High.
4. Remodeling of Central Elementary school.
5. Purchase of sites for new buildings to be erected later.

The superintendent said the board estimates the five projects listed above will cost in the neighborhood of $1.7 million. "Thus if only $1.7 million in construction is started in the near future, bonds will be issued for only that amount, thus saving interest cost on the balance of the money until it is put into use," the superintendent pointed out.

The items needing immediate attention will be given first consideration, the board explained. The five projects listed are among those which will have priority.

Voting in the April 28 election will be limited to qualified electors. They must have paid poll taxes, have lived in the county for six months and the state for a year, and must "own taxable property in Hereford Independent School District and have duly rendered the same for taxation."

A bond expert and the school architect have been meeting with the board when they were considering the bond issue. After the committee made its final recommendations 10 days ago, the board held several sessions working out details for the bond election.

Dr. Willard Williams, head, Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas Technological College, discussed some basic farm policy concepts with the group. He indicated that the idea of "perfect", "ideal" and "free" markets are often confused by farmers and others. He said that farmers and their organizations should meet the challenge of developing "workable" farm programs, as "no government policy" is not always "good government policy".

FOREIGN AID—Foreign aid should be withheld from all communist-dominated countries. Foreign aid should be maintained in those countries in which we have military bases. In other countries where any aid might be prudent, it should be mainly in the form of surplus agricultural products.

NATIONAL DEBT—Government expenditures should be made only from current income in peacetime. An orderly program for retirement of the public debt should be initiated.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The Monroe Doctrine should be firmly restated and upheld.

FARM PROGRAM—A systematic program should be adopted to end government restraints upon agriculture and permit the farmer and rancher to enter the free market.

GOVERNMENT BUREAUCRACY—An orderly elimination of outmoded bureaus and agencies should be undertaken without delay.

CONSTITUTIONAL POWERS—Maintain respect for the constitutional division of powers between the federal government and the states.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Equal educational and voting rights for all, but firm opposition to attempts to deprive anyone of the rights of trial by jury, private property and civil liberties.

INCOME TAX—Legislation should be enacted to simplify existing income tax laws and collection processes.

MEDICAL CARE FOR THE AGED—Retain the right of the aged to select their own doctor and hospital as outlined in the provisions of the Kerr-Mills law and the Texas-65 program.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES—Free business from bureaucratic restraints in order to promote business expansion and thus create greater employment.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION—Staunch opposition to federal aid to and control over schools, and encouragement of a realistic tax exemption for families supporting students in higher education.

alright." Dodson said, "Take yourself out of this situation now and realize that this type of structure can be built anywhere in Hereford. There is no city building code which regulates the materials to be used in the construction of a structure."

"This is an alarming situation that exists in this town and will devalue property quicker than any other factor."

I could build this same house next to the nicest house on Texas St. If I could get a lot to build it on.

"The only city restrictions are placed on the plumbing and electrical wiring done within a structure. Both of these codes are far superior than most towns provide, while the area of construction restrictions is left without regulations and Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa and other towns of this size have codes and provide strict enforcement for them."

Quality Workmanship Stressed In Hereford Development Homes

Quality workmanship, the one thing that is missing in so many of the new homes now being built, is stressed strongest of all in the homes now under construction by Hereford Development Company, Inc.

"Without quality workmanship," said Reuben Aasland, developer of Hereford's only planned community, "materials mean nothing." "Use the finest lumber and hardware available and you still have nothing if the workmanship is not there," he said. "We have secured some of the finest carpenters in Hereford for this development, and we intend to use only those building methods that have proven beyond a doubt to be successful."

Hereford Development Co. has however, incorporated the latest "proven" methods into their home building. Two of these homes are now under construction in the Green Acres addition and anyone who would care to inspect the houses, as they are being built, are welcome to do so.

"We feel that the homeowner is entitled to see how the house is going together, see the inside, so to speak, the workmanship and material that can't be seen after the house is finished," Aasland said, and indicated that spectators would be welcome at any time.

The homes now being built are in the moderate price bracket and are being constructed on Kingwood Street. Live Oak, the street just west of Kingwood, will be restricted to homes of 2500 feet of floor space or over. This is reputed to be the "second Texas Street of Hereford."

Underground utilities, area swimming pool and deed restrictions were listed as some of the assets of the addition. Accessibility to schools and downtown were also pointed out as one of the better features of the addition. "Green Acres Estates lies to the Western Perimeter of Hereford," Aasland said, "but is just off a thoroughfare that will carry traffic straight to the schools or downtown."

Lots are now being sold to individuals too, the developer pointed out, for those people who want their favorite contractor to do the work. All contractors however, will be expected to hold the high standard of workmanship in the addition, and must adhere to the deed restrictions of the property.

"To those who wish to buy lots now and build later, terms to suit buyer" are available," Aasland said. "Lot buyers have the same pool privileges as home owners, too," he concluded.

Vows Are Exchanged In Candlelight Ceremony

"As long as this situation exists in Hereford, persons who buy these interior homes will be making payments on them long after they have deteriorated, and the people that have purchased property constructed homes will suffer when they try to sell their property. They will find that it has devaluated in value due to the lack of confidence placed in construction within the city," Dodson said.

"As the Hereford Board of Realtors you will be affected and your business will be affected if you allow Hereford to become a 'shack town'," Dodson told the group. Mike Justice, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors, adjourned the meeting after Dodson concluded his speech.

of pink carnations. Ward Hall, Wesley Methodist Church, was the scene of the reception which followed the ceremony. White lace over pink covered the bride's table, which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and the bride's bouquet. Mrs. Bruce Terry and Mrs. Fred Ruland served.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Terry chose a green and white Arnel dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gold acetate suit with black accessories. Each wore a corsage

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Eugene Naugle. A bouquet of Anthuriums, sent from Hawaii by the bride's sister, Mrs. Don Smith, centered the altar. Greenery decorated the candelabra. Nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Vance Crume.

Maid of honor was Miss Sue Minor, who wore a dress of mint green linen with white hat and gloves. Her corsage was fashioned of pink carnations. Best man was Bruce Terry, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a light pink wool sheath dress with a round-neckline, a pink pillbox hat, and black patent shoes. Her pink jeweled earrings belong to her mother, and her cameo necklace belonged to her great-great-aunt. The bridal bouquet was two white Cymbidium orchids surrounded by feathered carnations carried with a white Rainbow Bible.

After the introduction of the persons seated at the head table, Rose introduced Williams, the main speaker, and Rose dismissed the group after the conclusion of Williams' talk.

Martin Announces For Justice Post

Herbert C. Martin, Amarillo, has authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals.

I ask you to elect me Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. I make this request in the knowledge that the best interest of the Court and of the citizens of the district requires a change in the personnel of this Court. I am a graduate of Lubbock High School and hold an LL.B. degree from the University of Texas School of Law. I have been actively engaged in the practice of law 29 years—22 years in Lamb County and the South Plains area and 7 years in Amarillo and the Panhandle area. By diligence and loyalty to my clients' interest, I have built an excellent law practice in both areas. My clients and my record in the Courts of this District are my best recommendations. I also served on the Court of Civil Appeals and as Associate Justice wrote 176 opinions of which less than 7% were reversed. These opinions reflect the character of my judicial ability.

Herbert C. Martin

The Court of Civil Appeals is composed of a Chief Justice, a senior Associate and a Junior Associate Justice. The Chief Justice and Junior Associate of the Court, no matter how diligent and capable, cannot carry the case work required of the Court if the other Associate devotes a large portion of his time to outside diversions. I served on this Court until December 31, 1956, and the docket was in good condition during that time. The Docket of the Court was not only kept up to date but the Court disposed of many cases transferred to the Amarillo Court from the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals. Although the number of cases before the Court have not increased, this condition no longer exists. Instead other Courts are having to assist the Amarillo Court—thirteen cases were transferred from the Amarillo Court to the Waco Court of Civil Appeals on January 11, 1964.

More important than the mere number of cases disposed of by the Court is the type of justice under the law as reflected by the Court's opinions. In 1956, while I was on the Court, the majority of the Court, the then Chief Justice and my present opponent as the other Associate Justice, wrote an opinion styled, "Stanley v. Stanley, 294 S. L. 2d, Page 132". This case reflects that a 40-year old career army sergeant married a former school teacher who had been successful in the finance business. The sergeant contributed nothing to the marriage but, the undisputed record discloses, in six years, squandered $84,044.63 of the profits earned by his wife's business. He also squandered $41,911.13 of the wife's capital investment. On dissolution of the marriage, it was the sergeant's theory the wife had mingled her earnings, as community property, with her separate capital and through such commingling of her earnings with her separate capital, he was entitled to one-half of all remaining property owned by his wife. In the judgement of divorce, the trial court awarded the sergeant an additional sum of $29,881.89.

The widow appealed from the trial court's judgment and on appeal the Chief Justice and other Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, such Associate being now a candidate for election to the Court, agreed with the sergeant's theory and affirmed the judgment of the trial court awarding him the additional sum of $29,881.89. This opinion of the majority of the Court was directly contrary to the undisputed audit of a Certified Public Accountant who traced all funds and proved that all the wife's earnings had been squandered by the sergeant and a large part of her original capital and that her earnings were not mingled with her capital. As an Associate Justice of the Court, based on this audit and the applicable law, I wrote a dissenting opinion holding that the sergeant was only entitled to his equity in a 1955 Station Wagon for which he had traded an old Station Wagon owned by him at the time of the marriage.

Other similar and equally inequitable opinions were rendered by the Court acting as a majority and on which I dissented, but the above opinion is discussed here because the same reflects clearly and unequivocally the opposite points of view on the duty of the Court as held by me and my opponent for Associate Justice. The most essential element of every judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals should be justice under the law and facts. If the citizens of this district will take a few minutes' time to go to a lawyer's office and read the Stanley opinion, I am confident I will be elected to the Court of Civil Appeals by an overwhelming majority vote.

As a member of such Court, I never have and I never shall subscribe to the proposition that justice under the law and a citizen's property rights should be bartered for political favors. No

DE Awards Presented To Barkley, Brownlow

Dale Barkley was recognized as outstanding employer and Johnny Brownlow was presented with the outstanding student award at the annual distributive education banquet Friday night at the Community Center. The employer award was presented to Barkley by Judy Crume, treasurer of the club, and Cleo Corliss presented the outstanding student award. (See picture on page 1.)

Speaker for the affair, which was attended by 75, was Dr. Leon Hill, a retired Baptist minister from Amarillo.

Dr. Hill emphasized the need for education; he made special note of the efforts of teachers to help youth realize their dreams. He also pointed out that life is what you make it—it is never a bed of roses, but usually appears more as a bed of thorns. For everything great a person achieves, he must also sacrifice. The world does not owe anyone a living—they have to go out and get it.

The outstanding employer was selected by members of the distributive education club after each student evaluated his own employer. The student award was determined by the employers. Barkley is manager of Cooper's Supermarket; Brownlow has been employed by Harman's for the past two years.

Judy Crume presented the special award to Clint Formby for the help he has given the distributive education program with the annual radio day promotion. He donates one day a year to the club, for which the club arranges programs and sells ads to supplement the club's treasury.

Menu for the banquet consisted of tossed salad, baked ham or fish, green beans, corn, mashed potatoes, hot rolls, dessert and coffee and tea. Special music was presented by the high school stage band, directed by Ben Gollehon.

Serving as master of ceremonies for the affair, was the club president, Johnny Brownlow. Linda Loerwald gave the invocation, and Ronda Neff gave the welcome. Judy Crume presented awards, and introduction of special guests, officers, advisory committee and ex-DE students was made by Larry Fuhrmann. Deborah Lee gave the benediction. Officers for this year's organization are Johnny Brownlow, president; Peggy Neff, vice-president; Judy Crume, treasurer;

Larry Fuhrmann, reporter; Linda Loerwald, parliamentarian; and Ronda Neff, secretary and sweetheart. The distributive education program is a high school project which provides students with training in possible future careers. There are 28 students enrolled in the program this year.

ON NAVAL DUTY — Ronald A. Greenway, S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenway, 334 Ave. G., left April 9 from San Francisco for Hawaii and Hong Kong and other points. He will return in November. He is a '62 graduate of Hereford High School.

Court judgment should dissipate an elderly person's savings of a lifetime where the basis of such judgment is a strained and superficial ruling under a highly technical theory not supported by the evidence. The personal rights of every citizen and the property rights of every citizen have always been a sacred trust of the Courts. This essential and vital element of our judicial system should not be lightly cast aside in order to favor a friend or political supporter. I am certain the present members of the Court with whom I would serve subscribe to the principles herein set forth.

I ask every citizen to support me on the principles enunciated herein. I particularly ask every client whom I have ever represented to give me in the coming campaign the same untiring loyalty and effort toward my interests that I have exhibited over the many years of my practice for their interests. I pledge to every citizen that their rights and property shall be secure under the law. It shall be my constant endeavor to write opinions of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals that shall be based soundly upon the law and the facts and shall reflect credit and honor upon such Court.

Sincerely,
Herbert C. Martin

To The Citizens Of Deaf Smith County

At this time I am unemployed. Unemployed, that is, in the sense that I am not holding any salaried position. This is a situation in which I deliberately placed myself in order to be able to devote every minute of my time to better acquainting myself personally with the people of Deaf Smith County, and to learning of their problems and what they expect of the holder of the office of Sheriff of this county.

I have time to see you and to talk to you. I am continuing in my efforts to meet with every interested person. If there is any resident of Deaf Smith County who has a matter he would like to discuss with me, I sincerely hope that he will let me know, so that we may meet at the earliest possible date.

Mrs. Alexander Reviews

'When The Legends Die'

When the Legends Die, by Hal Borland, was reviewed by Mrs. D. H. Alexander during the meeting Thursday of Bay View Study Club. "The book tells what happens to a man when he tries to stamp out of his own life the heritage of his fathers," she said.

The story of a Ute Indian boy, Thomas Black Bull, who had been betrayed by his own people and the white man, the book tells of his dedication of himself to the killing of the legends which gave him his distinction and his pride, she continued.

"The story of how he came back, how he achieved regeneration and maturity — in a large measure through the world of nature to which he returns — is one that is hard to leave and impossible to forget. The writer makes us share Tom Black Bull's experience — his boyhood in southwestern Colorado, his spectacular rodeo career, and his self-redemption in the West," concluded Mrs. Alexander.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. W. J. Gilliland, Federation dates and plans for the meeting to be held in May in Houston were outlined by Mrs. Colby Conkright.

A social hour followed the business meeting. Mrs. Leroy Aven was hostess, and others present were Mrs. Phillip Barkley, Mrs. Richard Barnard, Mrs. Bruce Burney, Mrs. Conkright, Mrs. Howard Gault, Mrs. Gilliland, Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, Mrs. Francis Hardwick, Mrs. John Harper, Mrs. A. M. Jones, Mrs. W. S. Kerr, Mrs. Dexter Lillie, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, Mrs. R.B. Miller, Mrs. W. H. Reid, and Mrs. Alexander.

Many coral-reef fishes change colors at night, presumably to make themselves hard to see. Tiny pigment cells expand or contract to reveal or hide color.

Little League Kick-Off Set; Player Try-Outs Scheduled

Little League tryouts for the 1964 season will begin Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. in Dameron Park, according to Charles Duvall, chairman of the Hereford Little League.

Tryouts will continue through Wednesday and Thursday with the "player auction" being held Friday. Any boy not attending at least two of the three tryout sessions will not be eligible for a major league team.

The Little League season will open May 11 in the two newly-constructed baseball diamonds.

"The Little League program in Hereford has expanded from four major league teams in 1963 to eight in 1964. A record number of boys are expected to participate in tryouts this year and we want to give every boy the best possible chance to participate in the program," Duvall continued.

Players who are already on a major league team are not to report for the tryouts.

Any boy who does not fill out a registration blank can obtain one the first day of tryouts.

"Each team will be given 5,000 points for the auction, other than the new teams who will get more points than the other teams. The major league teams will be able to carry over auction points from year to year if they do not need all of their points in the auction," Duvall continued.

The coaches for the major league teams are, John Beasley, Cubs; H. A. Tuck, Colts; Marvin Knox, Yankees; Marvin Coffey, Giants; Bob Hardin, Braves; Cuby Kitchen, Dodgers; Bruce Wiggins, Angels, and Bill Wall, Cardinals.

The new major league teams are the Cubs, Colts, Braves and Angels.

There are eight major league teams with 15 boys per team making a total of 120 boys on the major league teams. There are eight minor league teams with 20 boys per team making a total of 160 boys in the minor league teams. This is a total of 280 boys taking an active part in the program and approximately 150 more in the "baseball player pool".

More than 350 boys are expected to participate in the tryouts and those that do not make a major or minor league team will be placed in the player pool and called up to play if someone drops off a team.

Duvall asked that all Little League Managers meet at Northwestern Elementary School

Monday, May 20 at 8 p.m. and any one interested in coaching a minor league team should be present at that meeting.

Proceeds from the local Little League organization come in the most part from the United Fund. Other funds come from the Candy sale, concession stand at the games and donations by interested persons.

"The turnout at the games is always real good and we feel we have one of the best Little League Programs that can be found anywhere," Duvall said.

Stanton School Play Slated For April 30

'Clementine' Will Be This Year's Production by Stanton

By Margaret Phipps

The Stanton Junior High all school play this year will be "Clementine." Clementine is a 16 year old girl who is an impish tomboy with no desire to grow up. She usually comes in carrying a football and dressed in jeans. Her mother says she has to quit playing football and "Clem" doesn't like this idea.

One day Cathy, a girl about Clem's age plan a boy-date party. Clem's mother says she must go. Clem invites Hank and hopes he will refuse. Hank is taken a-back at this ungracious invitation and when charming Cathy invites him to go with her, he accepts and Clem is furious. She decides to show up Hank by entering the oratorical contest against him. The big night comes and orates, but in doing so she offends Miss Pringle, who is a big influence in the town elections.

Clem's father is running for mayor and her parents consider the election as good as lost. Clem defeats Hank only to find out it isn't much fun defeating him. She is smart enough to change a losing game and soon has Hank interested again, though Cathy is still a threat.

Then Clem discovers her actions may cost her dad the election and again Clem acts. She faces up to Miss Pringle, admits she was wrong and sells the fiery old girl on her dad's program. Does Clem win Hank back? Wait and see. This play is sweet, funny and exciting all at the same time.

Clementine was dramatized by Anne Coulter Martins and William Davidson from the book by Peggy Goodin. It is produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago.

John Stagner, Jean Keeth Are Top Students

By Russell Phillips

Homerooms recently selected Jean Keeth and John Stagner as students of the six weeks. Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Keeth. She is in the eighth grade at Stanton Junior High. She said she doesn't have a favorite teacher or subject as she likes just about all of them. Her favorite color is coral or yellow, but usually depends on her mood. Jean's favorites in food include everything except Sauerkraut and hominy.

For pastime Jean enjoys reading, but she stated she didn't really have time for a hobby or very much reading.

John Stagner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stagner and is a seventh grade student. He also enjoys all of his subjects and teachers. He enjoys all sports and considers coin collecting his hobby.

All parents are invited to attend the orientation.

Each year the sixth grade students meet together in the Stanton Junior High Auditorium for a short orientation period.

No definite date has been set for the sixth grade orientation; however, it will be soon after the beginning of the last six weeks.

Each student will receive a sheet which will give information about the required subjects and also elective subjects. The students will take the papers home and after completing the orientation sheet they will return them to their teacher. These sheets will be used to help with scheduling classes for the 1964-65 school year.

Mr. Don T. Martin, counselor for Stanton Junior High will be in charge of the orientation program.

Library Week Is Observed By Stanton Jr. High

By Mary Robinson

April 12 - 18 was National Library Week. The theme for this year was "Reading is the Key". In recognition of National Library Week, posters were placed in the halls and books were given to Mrs. Hodges reading class by the librarian Mrs. Roy Hartman.

The Stanton Junior High library has the new International Encyclopedia which was added to the reference section this year. In addition to the encyclopedia approximately 300 new books were added. Among the new books received this Spring is "It's Like This, Cat" by Emily Neville, which is the 1964 Newberry Award Winner. Formal announcement of the award was made March 9, at a reception in New York. The Newberry Award was created in 1921 to encourage further writing of outstanding books for children in America. The award is granted annually for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children. The award received its name from John Newberry, an English publisher of books for children.

During the fourth six weeks of school the students checked out an average of 80 books per day which is a very good percentage of the students using the library.

Twelve students will represent Stanton in the All Regional Choir. These students are John Noyes, Clyde Evans, Uman Black, Jeff Jorde, J. D. Harder, Charles Atchley, Jani Scott, Margaret Adams, Marsha Hardwick, Camille Pavlicek, Shelly Rush and Lynda Jacobson. Alternates are Jerry Kendrick, Larry Kuper, Debbie Thomas and Susan White.

The All Regional Choir will be in Dumas, Texas on May 9. There will be from 300 to 500 junior high students from all over the Texas parhandle in this choir. Nine songs will be sung and recorded. Students will rehearse most of the day before the concert that night.

Stanton Junior High Band Participates In UIL Meet

By Wanda Fuhrmann

The Stanton Junior High school band under the direction of Mr. Clyde Wilson entered the University Interscholastic League Band Competition Festival on April 7, in Canyon. The band played the following tunes for the concert contest. "Elmira" by George Abbot, "Praeludium For Band" by John Caevan and "Themes Form Symphony No. 6" by Tchaikovsky. The judges for this contest were Mark Hensley from the University of Illinois, Maurice Macadoo from North Texas University and J.W. King from Hale Center High School.

"Ballad in Folk Style" by Edward McLin was played by the band in the sight-reading contest. The judge for this contest was Joe Haddon from Midwestern University at Wichita Falls.

The band was eligible for making a sweepstakes since they had received a I rating in the marching contest which was held last fall. The band received a II rating in concert and a I rating in sightreading.

The standards at this contest were very high. The judges were of high caliber. Mr. Wilson stated, "I had hoped for a sweepstakes but considering the standards I am pleased." Robert E. Lee Junior High in Pampa was the only junior high who made sweepstakes. Stanton Junior High was second.

Lynn Chisholm, first chair clarinet, was considered by many as the best clarinet player in our division.

The bands competing with Stanton had ninth grade members, Mr. Wilson said, "I considered we did well with just seventh and eighth grade students. Mr. Hensley, one of the judges, stated it was very commendable to be able to play literature of a high school level in junior high. He was referring to "Symphony No. 6". Mr. J. W. King, another judge, commented, "An outstanding musical performance for junior high."

Mr. Wilson said thanks go to Mr. Quattlebaum whose support and help have made this junior high band possible. Without his needed support the band could never be what it is.

Mr. A. N. Ginn who is an authority of Africa, presented a very interesting and informative assembly to the students of Stanton Junior High Thursday, April 2. Mr. Ginn has visited every country in Africa with the exception of two which he could not enter because of his safety. He had a large collection of furs and trinkets which he had acquired during his travels about Africa. Mr. Ginn spoke largely on South Central Africa. His talk proved to be very enjoyable.

Lynn Chisholm is also an eighth grade student. He is the son of Mrs. Viola Chisholm. Lynn plays the clarinet in the Junior high band and has had first chair all year. He made a second division on his solo at Canyon this spring. His hobby is coin collecting and his favorite subject is math. His most tense moment was waiting for the rating of the junior high band at contest this year. His most embarrassing moment was when Mr. Wilson called him down in band and he couldn't remember what he did. Lynn also plays the String Bass in the junior high stage band. When ask what he thought of band, he replied, "It's great".

To The
VOTERS of DEAF SMITH COUNTY

Due to the heavy work load of the Sheriff's office during the spring and summer months, I will not be able to make a door-to-door solicitation for your votes. I will try to see as many of you as possible, but I don't feel that it is advisable to take time away from the work of the Sheriff's office to make the county canvass. Therefore, I would like to take this means of soliciting your support in the Democratic Primary.

If you see fit to return me to the office of Sheriff, Deaf Smith County, I will, as in the past, devote full time to the job and conduct the affairs of this office to the best of my ability.

History Department, Texas A & M University
(No. 7 in a series published in a cooperative program of this paper, the Texas Press Association and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.)

Texas was a border state in the Confederacy, exposed to attacks by Indians, outlaws and federal troops from the north, west and south.

In some respects war was harder on the border inhabitants than on the people of the well established sections of Texas, because isolation made it even more difficult to get along with fewer men in a country that never had any men to spare. Still the frontier folks were accustomed to hardships and the story of the defense of the outer reaches of settlement is one of the most interesting of the war.

The first line of frontier defense was established early in 1861 by sending newly organized troops, known as Texas Mounted Rifles, to surrendered U.S. outposts. The far western line of these forts extended along the Rio Grande from Brownsville to El Paso. The middle line went from the Red River by present day Throckmorton, Abilene, Menard, Kerrville and Uvalde joining the western line of Eagle Pass.

Also in 1861, each of thirty-seven frontier counties was authorized by the Texas Legislature to organize a company of minutemen not to exceed forty. These part time soldiers established regular patrols behind the middle line of defense and bore much of the brunt of Indian warfare.

In February 1862, the famous Frontier Regiment, Texas Cavalry, was organized. The 1089-making up the nine companies of the regiment were stationed in 18 camps separated by a day's ride, and extending from Red River Station near present day Nocona, Southwestward through the vicinity of Breckenridge, Coleman, San Saba, Bandera and Crystal City.

Patrols would cover the distance between the camps daily and when Indian sign was discovered the main patrol would follow the Indian trail, while riders spread the alarm. The Indians soon caught on and started slipping in and out of the area before and after the daily patrols. This system was changed in early 1863 to an irregular scouting system that once again used many of the old U.S. outposts.

This regiment never had enough of anything. The men furnished their own mounts, and when their horses were worn out by long rides and too little forage or killed in skirmishes, they could not secure an adequate replacement. Food, clothing, arms and ammunition were always needed.

In October 1863 with Gainesville as headquarters, the Second Frontier Regiment, Texas Cavalry C.S.A., known as Bourland's Border Regiment, was established to guard settlements along the Red River from the western Arkansas line to Red River Station, Confederate Seminoles Indians served with this unit and joint patrols were established with famous Confederate Indian General Stand Watie and his Cherokee Brigade, who were stationed in the Indian Territory.

In December 1863 a state law established a state militia to be organized into companies of not less than twenty-five nor more than sixty-five, or all persons liable to military duty from Gainesville to Cleburne to Eagle Pass and all territory to the west. At all times, at least one fourth of each company should be in the field. The governor divided the frontier into three districts with headquarters at Decatur, Stephenville and Fredericksburg. 4265 men were enrolled under this plan.

This constituted a back up line approximately fifty miles east of the outposts established by the Frontier Regiment, which had become by this time a part of the confederate forces.

Settlers were encouraged to unite in the building of stockades and blockades, "forting up" it was called. These family forts afforded a way to protect families, stock, farms and provide some schooling for their children. One of the builders of a stockade describes it as a square with six long cabins on each side. Spaces between the cabins were picketed in, so that the entire structure was enclosed. The construction of log bastions on opposing corners enabled all approaches to be covered by sharpshooters. Citizens' Posse from these family forts coordinated patrols with state and Confederate forces.

Indian troubles continued throughout the war. The Confederate government made treaties with various tribes, but in the eyes of most Indians, Texans were a separate and distinct people and Texas a land of open season for any marauder at any time. Loss of life and property was heavy. Many cattle and horses seriously needed by Southern troops were lost to Indians.

Threats of invasion were also present. El Paso and the Davis Mountain area were occupied by federal troops the last three years of the war as were the northern parts of Oklahoma and Arkansas and all of New Mexico. Bandits as well as Indian attacks from Mexico were a constant problem. During the last two years of the war deserters, draft evaders and renegades gathered along the frontier and caused much apprehension as well as loss of property.

There were few honors to be gained on the Texas frontier. No medals were awarded and units received no battle streamers, but from our vantage point of our own day, we must conclude that the isolation, tedious patrols, perils and hardships of the men on the frontier matched fully those of the men with the Confederate armies — where soldiering was glorified, at least on occasion.

Annual Science, Engineer Show At Texas Tech

Texas Tech is gearing for one of its big weekends of the year Friday and Saturday with thousands of West Texas high school students and visitors due on the campus.

In addition to the 32nd annual Science and Engineering Show which attracts visitors from a wide area, Tech will host a Region 1 University Interscholastic League meet Thursday (April 23) Friday and Saturday.

Other students will participate in the Eighth Annual South Plains Regional Science Fair Friday and Saturday while home economics graduates, faculty and students will hold the annual Home Economics open house during the two days.

On Saturday (April 25) the School of Agriculture will be host to the Future Farmers of America judging contests from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. FFA members from Area 1 and Area 2 will be on the campus to participate in the competition.

The West Texas Museum, which began its "From Arrowheads to Aerospace" show April 12, will continue with its exhibits, films and special shows, adding several attractions for the weekend in conjunction with Science and Engineering Show.

Tech's Public Information department will maintain an information booth in the Tech Union for Interscholastic League participants; with campus maps and guides available. Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization, and Women's Service Organization will serve as guides and bring all results of the events to the Union headquarters.

Approximately 2,500 students, representing 160 Northwest Texas schools in Class B, A, and AA are expected to participate in the four athletic divisions and thirteen scholastic events. Also included in the meet are one-act play contests from 3 to 10 p.m. Thursday through Saturday

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Only Top Students Should Go To College, Group Says

By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association

AUSTIN. — Only the upper 15 per cent of Texas high school graduates ought to be taken in the state's top universities, the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has been told.

A sub-committee also informed the panel that some type of higher education must be made available to all and that there is an urgent need for general upgrading of the college system. Enrollments must be built up, dropouts reduced and standards steadily improved, the study group heard at a meeting last week.

COURT SPEAKS — State Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions that approval of $65,000,000 Millikan Dam on the Navasota River is final.

Grimes and Brazos County landowners challenged feasibility of the big federal project. Cities of Bryan, College Station and Navasota asked dismissal of the suit.

High Court also held an East Texas oilman, Austin Stewart, can keep on operating two slanted oil wells that bottom under his own property. Decision overturned a district court order which had knocked out a Railroad Commission order permitting Stewart to produce from the wells.

Supreme Court upheld the right of an irrigation district to levy flat-rate assessments against land — regardless of the exact benefit it will obtain from irrigation — when it affirmed a San Antonio appeals court decision on a Maverick County case.

A resident of that county sued the Maverick County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 contending that a $5.25-per-acre assessment on irrigable lands and a $2 per acre assessment on lands which could be irrigated by gravity was illegal.

He said his land is rolling and did not benefit as much as level land owned by others in the district, but the trial court, appellate court and the Supreme Court ruled in favor of the water district's right to flat-rate assessment.

JUVENILE PROGRAM — Texas Youth Council reported that there has been a sharp and welcome drop in the number of repeaters among juvenile offenders sent to Gatesville, Gainville and Crockett correctional schools.

In the fall of 1961, the rate of returnees was 45 per cent. Then the 1961 Legislature appropriated funds for expansion and improvement of school facilities and for five council parole officers. By August, 1963, the return rate was down to 29 per cent and youth council spokesmen say they hope to hold that since the parole personnel was increased to 20 last month.

The Rev. Clint Kersey, council parole supervisor, said, "We believe that by an increased stay, we can keep them in school. Then when they are paroled, they are better able to adjust and hold a job, and that cuts the chance of return."

APPROPRIATION ASKED — Gov. Connally has requested a $5,500,000 congressional appropriation for continued protection against the screwworm menace.

A two-year program has eradicated the screwworm from Texas, Connally told congressional leaders; and feasibility of a barrier along the Mexican border to prevent re-infestation is proved.

While southwestern states, livestock producers and sportsmen have financed over half the $12,000,000 program to date, Connally said, it now is an international matter and should be financed by the U. S. without local matching requirements.

The state, producers and sportsmen would continue to provide inspection, survey and other services in the U. S.

OIL FIELD BRINE — The Texas Water Pollution Control Board scheduled a hearing for July 1 at 9 a.m. on its order prohibiting the surface disposal of oil field brine in Area II of al Carr held in opinions: Bee County Commissioners are not required to name a board of managers for a county hospital at Beeville which has been leased to Seventh Day Adventists;

A Bexar County man is entitled to credit on his prison sentence for six months held in county jail;

Term of Titus County Justice of Peace Precinct 1, Place 1, began Jan. 1, 1963 and extends through this year. County J. P., Precinct 1, Place 2 (Unexpired term) serves only through this year.

WATER COMMISSION — South Texas Electric Cooperative, Victoria, received Texas Water Commission approval of application to take 23,400 acre feet of water a year from Guadalupe River in Victoria County to cool steam-powered generators of its new electric plant.

Commission has published a bulletin, "Research on Evaporation Retardation in Small Reservoirs, 1958-63," for the benefit of farmers and ranchers concerned with losing water through evaporation. Bulletin is available free from the commission's office, Austin, Texas.

SHORT SNORTS — Gov. Connally issued an executive order in support of the Texas Education Agency's bid to get the Federal vocational education school contract for abandoned Gary Army Airfield at San Marcos. Water Pollution Control Board approved three applications allowing City of Orange to continue sewage disposal in Sabine River on condition it improves its plant facilities promptly. Texas May draft quota is only 258 men, compared to 449 for April. University of Texas Board of regents placed law school professor Hubert Winston Smith on leave of absence without pay during the time he is serving as Jack Ruby's attorney. Texas Industrial Commission's program of coordinating existing development activities may provide "the future pattern in industrial development for other states to follow," according to a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research staff.

Slant-well suits — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced that nine new civil penalty suits have been filed against 14 alleged slant-well oil operators in East Texas, making the suit total 106.

First suit to be filed outside of East Texas, as well as the first against an out-of-state defendant, was filed in Jackson County against John Wrather of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Carr also filed another "first" suit, claiming a Rusk County gas well was slanted.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. Connally appointed Lewis R. Timberlake of Austin to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. He succeeds the late Millard Cope, executive of the San Angelo Standard-Times. Timberlake is a past president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He named Charles H. King Jr. of Dallas Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics. King resigned as president of the Dallas AFL-CIO Council to accept the appointment.

Connally picked Judge W. T. McDonald of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to serve as chairman of the Texas Judiciary Advisory Committee to the U. S. Olympics.

Hospital Costs Here Are Below Area Average

Patients of Deaf Smith Hospital pay, on an average, lower fees than do patients in other Panhandle counties. This was revealed Friday by the hospital after a report had been prepared by Group Hospital Services (Blue Cross) for the year 1963. The rates here are also considerably below the state average, T. E. Seigler, administrator of the hospital, pointed out from the Blue Cross comparisons. "Our average charge per case was $30.11 under the area average and $63.32 under the state average," Seigler said. "When you multiply this saving by the number of patients we cared for in 1963 - 2094 - this amounted to a considerable saving for our patients."

The low rate was maintained here despite the fact that the hospital maintains requirements for accreditation, while some of the hospitals with higher rates do not meet those high standards.

Of more than 600 hospitals in Texas, there are still only 141 that are accredited. There are 26 hospitals in the Amarillo area, and only five of them are accredited.

In figures supplied the administrator, Deaf Smith County Hospital had an average Blue Cross payment per case of $139.18 or $24.36 per day. The hospital here had an average room charge of $13.64, a drug bill of $24.05, laboratory fees of $13.93, operating room fees of $32.23 and x-ray services totaling $27.68. By comparison, the Amarillo area average Blue Cross payment was $159.25 or $27.65 per day. Average per case total charge in 1963 was $199, and average room costs were $15.33 for that area.

Other fees were $35.53 for drugs, $20.51 for laboratory, $31.50 for operating room, and $35.91 for x-ray.

The state-wide average for Blue Cross payments in 1963 was $181.30 or $29.06 per day. Average service charges per case on a state-wide basis last year was: $16.34 for rooms, $33.92 for drugs, $26.89 for laboratory fees, $36.82 for operating room and $40.60 for x-ray fees.

How to help keep freedom ringing from every mountainside

High up on a mountainside in South Dakota, there's a famous tribute to four American patriots who did much to mold the shape of freedom.

But even if there were no Mt. Rushmore, we'd remember men like Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, and Lincoln. For the landscape of freedom is shaped by what they did, not by the mountainside that pays tribute.

Even today, freedom is shaped by the work of individuals — men and women, like you. Of course, only a few Americans will ever have their faces up on a mountain. But millions of Americans are playing a real part in the defense of freedom today simply by buying U. S. Savings Bonds.

When you invest in U. S. Savings Bonds, you put some money to work for your country right now. At the same time you're putting it to work for your own future. Aren't those good reasons to buy one soon?

Guest Day Speaker Is Mrs. Leo Forrest

The Guest Day speaker for Lone Star Study Club was Mrs. Leo Forrest, who showed pictures and discussed a trip she and her husband made to Colombia last December, January, and February.

Mrs. Forrest first described Bogota, where they stayed most of the three months. Main attractions of the city, she said, were the capitol building, the Mission of Foreign Affairs, the Museum of Arts, and the University of the Andes. There are more than two million people, and the temperature remains the same most of the time, she continued.

Other parts of the country were then discussed by Mrs. Forrest. She spoke of other cities and the many kinds of birds and flowers, giving as an example of the large growth of the poinsettia. She also told of visiting a large salt mine with a cathedral built inside. She displayed shoes, bags, and shawls made by the people of Colombia.

Presiding officer was the vice president, Mrs. S. S. Williams. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. G. W. Newsom, with Mrs. Jim Higgins and Mrs. E. W. Dettman, the hostesses. Guests were Mrs. Jeff Roberson, Mrs. Wylie Roberson, Mrs. Floyd Dunavant, Mrs. John Harper, Mrs. Cap Oldham, Mrs. Lee Oldham, Mrs. Krebs, Mrs. Bill Gentry, and Mrs. Sam Sides. Miss Sharon Ann Brinkman Is Bride Of James Cramer

Miss Sharon Ann Brinkman and Jim R. L. Cramer were married Saturday afternoon in Saint Anthony's Catholic Church. The double ring ceremony was read by Father Timothy, Dran.

The bride is the daughter of Frank Brinkman and the late Mrs. Brinkman. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cramer.

White gladioli in gold altar vases were placed on the main and side altars for the ceremony. The kneelers were white satin, and bows of white satin marked the pews for the family.

Mrs. Morris Hacker, organist, played traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Elbert Vance as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "Ave Maria."

Matron of honor was Mrs. Allen Monroe, and Ila Jean Brinkman was her sister's maid of honor. They wore identical street-length dresses of pink crystalen peau de soie fashioned with fitted bodices and belted skirts. They wore matching picture hats and shoes and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Doug Bartlett was best man, and groomsman was Weldon Brinkman. Guests were seated by John H. Melver and Buddy Jowell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white crystalen peau de soie with appliques of Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a rounded neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. A pleated overskirt terminating in a chapel train was belted over a sheath skirt, fashioned with deep scalloped at the hemline.

Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of white seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations surrounding white orchids.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Cramer chose a beige suit dress and a floral hat in tones of beige accented with orange. Her accessories were white, and her corsage was burnt orange carnations.

Mrs. Rogers Is Guest Artist For Music Club

"Music became so important to ancient man that he believed his gods had sent it to him. The oldest civilized people believed music to have come from heaven. Man has consistently tried to interpret his world, his God, his dreams, and his emotions by the fragile wand of music. All music has a message - regardless of era, from Beethoven to the Beatles. Beauty is eternal, and the edicts of fashion can obscure it only for a moment," said Mrs. Bill Dameron as she introduced the program, "Music in America: The Glorious Works of the Past," during the meeting Monday of Music Study Club.

Guest artist was Mrs. Jack Rogers, who played "Contra-Dance," by Beethoven. Other selections on the program were "Minuet in D," by Mozart, and "Prelude, Opus 28," by Chopin, played by Mrs. Jesse Stanford; Liszt's "Etude," played by Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait; Chaminade's "Autonome Etude De Concert, Opus 35, No. 2," played by Mrs. Ellis Coombes, and the hymn of the month, "Come YE Faithful, Raise the Strain," sung by the club members.

Mrs. Crosthwait was presiding officer. Hostesses were Mrs. Dameron and Mrs. Dale Young. Others present were Mrs. J. R. Allison, Mrs. Bill Brady, Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, Mrs. Coombes, Mrs. Paul Lyons, Miss Frances Dameron, Mrs. C. J. Mountz, Mrs. Bill Penn, Mrs. T. W. Roberson, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Mrs. Lowell Sharp, Mrs. Stanford, Mrs. A. O. Homes are continuing to be built every day throughout Hereford. And we keep thinking that the tight rent situation will eventually ease, and we're sure that it will... someday, but it hasn't yet.

People still drop by the office day after day, looking for that vacant house, apartment and sometimes just a room. Occasionally we have a few, but most of the time we do not. Trailer space in the better locations is also at a premium.

That is one of the problems of a growing city however, and we suppose it's good. We know of a town or two down below the caprock where there are houses galore to rent, lease, buy, or steal. In fact, you can hardly give them away. In these towns however, money is pretty hard to come by.

We'll take Hereford... with all its growing pains... with all its problems. It's a pretty nice place to live.

Postal service is improving we're told, and with all due respect to Postmaster Nolan Grady, we must tell this story.

Leo Forrest dropped by the office Wednesday afternoon with a post card which he had just received. Postage due, 3 cents. The card was like hundreds of others that had been sent out by the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc. in an effort to make an appliance survey. The return post card was stamped and self-addressed for a speedy return to the company office.

The returned card listed many small appliances such as toaster, roaster, coffee maker, iron, etc. and even a refrigerator but did not list a television set. For that matter, not even an air conditioner. It did show that the family owned an electric fan.

But then, it's understandable because the card, you see, was mailed 15 years ago to Mrs. L. Ellis who lived east of Hereford. Television sets were not to be had at that time.

Forrest has no idea where the card has been for the past fifteen years, but Wednesday morning it was delivered with 3 cents postage due. As the old saying goes, "the snail must go through" sooner or later, that is.

Deaf Smith County farmers used a total of 24,931 tons of Anhydrous Ammonia last year according to a report compiled by Progressive Farmer. Only Hale County with 45,886 tons and Farmer County with 29,207 tons used more than did Deaf Smith. Deaf Smith County's per capita farm income, however, was higher than Hale County, although the total income for the county was less than one-half of the Hale County total.

Highest total farm income per county was Lubbock with $33,707,600.

The Hereford Independent School District Board of Education has called a bond election for April 28, according to P. L. Stevens, Superintendent of Schools. Passage of the issue will mean adequate school facilities for a few more years... we hope.

School enrollment did not take the customary slump this spring, and now stands at an all time high. We're betting that the growth rate will continue. Of course, no one knows what the percentage of growth will be, but surveys made by school administration indicate that we're apt to be in trouble before new construction can be completed.

Absentee balloting for the May 2 Democratic primary seems to have gotten off to a fine start. County Clerk B. F. Cain reports that a total of 14 people had voted absentee by Wednesday night. Looks like we might have a hot election yet.

The following ad appeared in an East Berlin Communist newspaper: "Will trade my luxurious lakeside villa for a hole in the wall."

Presidential Primaries Indicate Growing Unrest With Both Parties

Politics are always interesting and at this particular season, when the Presidential Preference Primaries are in vogue, they probably hold a little bit more interest than usual. What's more, the indications are frequently of more importance than most people give them credit.

Though strictly unofficial, the presidential indications were highly accurate and preceded the election of President Eisenhower. They have likewise forecast trends for several other nominees, who later became president.

Everything, of course, depends upon how one interprets the results and, needless to say, each candidate and his campaign manager read their own best interests into the returns. To us, the primaries of 1964 indicate a growing discontent with the candidates of both major parties. Mr. Goldwater, for instance, is not the man who can win the 1964 general election, a fact which is now probably obvious to GOP leaders, and Mr. Rockefeller would fare even worse. Many voters have also turned a deaf ear to the pleas of LBJ in some of these test turns — or such would be indicated when a practically unknown amasses large percentages against him, although Johnson is a near-cinch to carry the Democratic banner this fall.

Put all of these things together, and it seems to us that the United States is sitting back and waiting for a dark horse. One of the nearest parallels we can recall was the rise of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who

An 'OK' From Our Teenagers

The Dawn Future Farmers recently presented some demonstrations at one of the local club meetings, and many people were pleasantly surprised to find that the youngsters were intensely interested in community improvement and progress.

One of the sketches reviewed migratory labor in the community, pointing out the important phases of housing, medical care and law enforcement. They reviewed the history of migratory labor in Hereford, and so far as we could tell their facts and figures were accurate and informative. At the same time they made a special effort to give credits for accomplishments where credit was due.

Most surprising of all, though, was the fact that the youngsters found things pretty well up to snuff. They cited agreement that our progress was far from perfect, but also pointed out, in comparison with other areas, the local effort was "good to better."

All of which should come as a "shot in the arm" to the community workers and leaders of the present generation. No one is so hard to fool, or to please, as a teenager — and the youngsters seemed to think that their community was one of the best. Unlike many communities, Deaf Smith County has long enjoyed a tremendous "return" of its youth from colleges and from jobs in distant cities. This factor has probably contributed more to our growth and expansion than any other single circumstance, whereas it's lack has drained many communities into a poor condition.

Those who know us best are the ones who first realize our "weak points." Consequently, so long as our boys and girls look upon this community as the "best place to live" we truly have little to worry about.

'Pity The Poor Mailman'

emerged out of political chaos to astound most political observers with the majorities by which he swept the country with his "New Deal" and liberal ideas.

Currently, it seems to us, many people are tired of extreme liberal and extreme conservative affiliations. They do not know exactly what they want, but they do know that neither party is coming up with the overall answer. Perhaps the answer will, and should be, a "Horse Sense" approach which, above all else, will put the United States first — and move all parties and party affiliations into secondary places. At the same time, there is also a high probability that we are completely off the beam with our interpretations, and that the political bosses behind the scenes really do have their fingers on the public pulse.

But, right or wrong, that's how we read the signs.

Spring Is Here, But Not Tonic

SPRING FEVER is a generally accepted malady among most Americans and, for that matter, probably all around the world. The circumstance arises from the natural tendency of all animals and plants to renew the age old struggle for perpetuation and growth.

In generations past, it was the habit for old timers to combat the fever with spring tonic, but the custom seems to have disappeared with red flannels and other gear so popular in the past. These days, we pretty well lean back and let nature take its course, which was pretty well what happened in the old days, too. In this country, Spring Fever is usually not so bad as in many other areas, due chiefly to the existence of our March and April winds. Nothing can dissipate the presence of Spring Fever quite so rapidly as a genuine Panhandle duster — and they often do just that.

Spring is still the time for romance, though; it seems to go hand in hand with the budding trees, the clumps of greening grass, and full moons. It is also a good time to start thinking about vacations, fishing trips and planting things. And for plain or fancy day-dreaming, well you just can't beat spring.

Fringe Benefits

Nothing is taken more for granted than the gasoline service station. The smallest communities have them. They are as common as grocery stores. And all of them, with few exceptions, provide a wide list of services beyond providing gas, oil and lubrication.

So it comes as something of a surprise to be reminded that many a present-day motorist was driving before a single service station so much as existed.

One of the pioneers opened his first drive-in service station in Pittsburgh just 50 years ago. The following spring it introduced the first free road map for the benefit of local motorists who became lost while motoring beyond the city limits. This and other early stations were to change the concept of gasoline marketing, set a style for such stations for years to come, and change the name of the outlets from "filling" station to "service" stations. Originally, gasoline was sold by livery stables, stores and repair shops — from drums or in 5 gallon cans — and next from pumps located on sidewalks and curbs where the usual practice was to hand-pump the fuel into containers provided by the motorist himself. And the gas, of dubious quality in those days, was usually filtered through chamois or heavy cloth.

The service station has come a long, long way in those 50 years. But the early ones deserve their place in history. They set a precedent for "service" that benefits everyone. Few, if any, merchants give so many "fringe" benefits.

Federal Planners mount a crash program to explain the new farm law. The complicated measure, which provides nine subsidies, aims to cut output of cotton and wheat. Regional and state meetings will be attended by over 10,000 full and part-time Federal employees and field officers. They will pass the word on to some 80,000 farmer-elected community leaders, who will relay it along to the 3 million wheat and cotton growers.

Congressmen Get Goodies For Lunch - Texas Onions

By Tex Easley
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Occasionally, members of Congress get a free side dish when having lunch in the Senate and House restaurants. Sometimes it's the main dish that comes free.

Texas onions are the latest of the gastronomic goodies given to Congress.

It's an old custom. The food-stuffs come here with the compliments of the producers and marketers under arrangements made by a House member or senator. The idea is to create good will among the legislators. And, just possibly, to get some publicity that might encourage the public to consume more of their product.

There's variety: Each fall, for instance, big red apples arrive with the compliments of Virginia's Sen. Harry F. Byrd, grown in his orchards near Winchester, Va. The Florida citrus industry usually sends up crates of grapefruit each year—something the Rio Grande Valley growers did before the big freeze a few years ago wiped out many of their groves.

Among other products which have been distributed or served in the Capitol are boiled Florida peanuts, Louisiana shrimp, California asparagus, Columbia River salmon and Vermont and New York maple syrup.

Cards were placed near each free serving of the Texas onions which described them as "sweet" mild onions from South Texas, compliments of Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen and the Agricultural Growers Council, Inc., of Mercedes, Texas.

To help draw attention to the onions were two Texas girls who won contests sponsored by the council. One was Margaret Cantu, 16, of Lyford, who won first prize in a recipe contest with her cebollas rellenas (stuffed onions). The other was Carol Ann Myers, a Harlingen High School student, who won first prize for a menu featuring onions.

AROUND THE CAPITAL—The acapella choir of Texas Christian University was praised by a critic for a concert it gave at Washington's National City Christian Church.

Paul Hume, music critic of the Washington Post, had this to say about the choir:

"It was a concert of distinguished music sung with beauty of tone and perceptive style... The 50-voice chorus, conducted by B. R. Henson, has a superb sense of intonation and a precision in response that gives their music making a thoroughly professional quality... Moving into the unique glories of the Russian liturgical repertoire for one anthem, the choir's tone expanded to a rich texture for Gretchaintoff's Holy Radiant Light... Texas Christian can be mightily proud of its outstanding choir."

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Binwood farm reacts to a Khrushchev speech this week.

Dear editor:

I was reading in a newspaper last night that Mr. Khrushchev was lecturing some communist agricultural workers and told them that as much as he hated to admit it, "the imperialist American farmers are out-producing Russian farmers."

Now of course this isn't news, I've been pointing out for a long time that if American space scientists were as far ahead of the Russian scientists as our farmers are of Russian farmers, we'd probably already have been to the moon and found out it wasn't worth the trip, but what interests me about Mr. Khrushchev's statement is his reference to us "imperialist farmers."

I looked this up, and as I understand it, an imperialist is somebody who tries to extend his power, to dominate others, and I guess this is the first time in history us farmers have been described in such important terms. I would like for Mr. Khrushchev to hammer down on this harder, as so far he's the only one who believes it.

I mean, I wish us farmers could convince Congress for example that we're imperialists, that we dominate Washington.

I wish the people who buy the things farmers produce would catch on, and at harvest time come to cringing with hat in hand and ask us how much we've got to have. I can see them biting their nails and pondering: Are these imperialist farmers going to run the price up on us again this year?

Why don't city people cower inside their city limits with their territory, or are they going to extend themselves and ask: Are these imperialist farmers going to be satisfied inside the city and plow up our streets for more crops?

The day may come. We've already got Mr. Khrushchev convinced we're imperialists. All we've got left is 3 billion, 999 million, 999 thousand, 999 hundred, other people.

How does the imperialist Brand stand on this?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

'65 License Tags Getting New Look

AUSTIN — While the Johnny and Jane-come-latelys were rushing to purchase 1964 automobile license plates before the April 1 deadline, production of 1965 tags was well under way.

The 1965 plates will have a "new look," according to R. W. Townsley, Townsley is Director of the Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division, which is located in Austin.

Each passenger plate will have three letters and three digits (i.e.: AAA. 787) instead of the usual two and four combinations. Studies show this combination can be perceived quickly and accurately with little difficulty. (Commercial and miscellaneous vehicles will retain their own special registration system.)

Plates are manufactured by the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville under an inter-agency agreement with the Texas Highway Department. The Highway Department provides the design and material specifications for plates, maintains inspections, and accepts delivery within the plant.

Inmates of the Department of Corrections finished '64 plates by January 30. After a 30-day period for spring cleaning — the tag plant is known as the "show place of the prison plants" — inmates started turning out those for next year.

By adopting a new license numbering system, the Highway Department will be better able to cope with the rising registration rate. Since World War II, approximately a quarter-million more vehicles have been registered yearly by the Department.

partment. This trend should continue.

Because of the spiraling registration rate, Texas was about to exhaust its license number combinations. Taking stock, Department officials decided to revamp its system. After careful consideration, the three-letter prefix English System was adopted. It is known as the English System because it has been used in that country for more than 20 years. This is the only system yet devised which will adequately handle the number of passenger vehicles to be registered in Texas in forthcoming years.

Using all 26 letters of the alphabet as part of the prefix, the system provides as many as 17½ million possible combinations. To fit its own needs, however, Texas has modified the system. Only 20 letters will be used. Besides "Q," the vowels will be eliminated to avoid possible formation of undesirable words. For obvious reasons, letter combination prefixes of "LBJ" and "JFK" will also be eliminated. Although the modification reduces the prefix possibilities to around eight million, this system should produce enough numbers for passenger plates for the next 10 to 15 years.

The predicted registration increase has had another effect on plate production. Although production of plates has been a year-round operation, prison inmates — thanks to automation — may be finished sooner than usual this year. With an eye to the future, the Highway Department installed two new presses. The presses emboss two sets of plates at once and will be well able to cope with the growing demand.

The presses — and processing of plates — will proceed at top speed anyway this year, so that prison inmates will be able to expand their industrial endeavors. If the inmates finish processing '65 plates before the year is out, they will devote their time — and equipment — to other industries.

With adoption of the new numbering system and equipment, the Texas Highway Department has once again demonstrated its ability to keep pace with the times. So it is that the Department has abandoned a plate pattern long in use. It seems fitting — and symbolic, somehow — that the last 1964 plate produced at the prison was "touched up" by an inmate with an obvious sense of humor.

Instead of the usual letter-markings, the plate read, "THE END."

Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes roads feel as smooth as the maps they're printed on Run your finger over a map and find yourself a place to go. That's a preview of how it feels to get there in a Chevrolet.

We've put what we think is the best suspension system in its class under this great highway performer. A big husky coil spring at each wheel and double-action shock absorbers to soak up bumps. Over 700 sound deadeners throughout the chassis and that spacious Body by Fisher to blot out noise from road and wind.

There's a lot of other Jet-smooth luxury, too.

Wide seats with foam-cushioning front and rear. Luxurious wall-to-wall deep-twist carpeting (this year it comes with even the lowest priced Biscaynes). A choice of seven great engines, all precision-balanced for smoother running, with four smooth-shifting transmissions to match. Everything that makes Chevrolet the great highway performer it is.

So get out those road maps. And wherever you go, get off to a good start—during Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Farm Employment Lagging This Year

Farm employment during the last week in March rose 12 percent over the previous month but ited land preparation and spring was six percent below the same period of last year—and the lowest in record. The decline from March '63 reflects unfavorable weather in most parts of the country, increasing farm mechanization and continuing consolidation of farms.

Family and hired workers during the last week of March '64 were down five and 12 percent, respectively, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Winter lingered on throughout most of the nation during the last week of March. Snow, light to heavy rains, and temperatures well below normal in many areas either stopped or greatly limped planting in many states. Farm-

IT'S A SHAME TO LET OUR CAR STAND OUT IN THE WEATHER.

BUT THERE'S NO ROOM FOR IT IN THE GARAGE.

THAT'S JUST IT, ROSCO. IT'S IDIOTIC TO HANG ON TO ALL THIS JUNK. THE TIME HAS COME TO CLEAN HOUSE.

OKAY.

I CALLED THE SALVATION ARMY. THEY'RE SENDING A TRUCK TO PICK UP EVERYTHING WE DON'T NEED.

WE'LL START BY GETTING RID OF THIS OLD REFRIGERATOR.

BUT THAT'D MAKE A SWELL CABINET TO STORE MY FISHING TACKLE. HOW ABOUT THIS OLD ROCKING CHAIR?

BUT AUNT CLARA GAVE ME THAT. ALL IT NEEDS IS A NEW BOTTOM.

WELL, CERTAINLY WE DON'T NEED A HIGH CHAIR!

EXCEPT WHEN PEOPLE WITH CHILDREN VISIT US.

LATER!

HERE'S THE SALVATION ARMY TRUCK, BABY SISTER.

WELL...UH... THERE WASN'T AS MUCH AS WE EXPECTED. HERE'S AN OLD SWEATER AND THREE CROQUET BALLS.
