

Despite Drought, Severe Wind Erosion

Rains Give New Hope For Dryland Wheat

Daffy's Delight

While the rain which fell here yesterday was causing plenty of smiles on the farm front, it didn't exactly upset these fellows either. The ducklings, owned by Michael Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Holmes of 114 Northwest Drive, took advantage of a deep puddle formed by the gently falling rain to experience their first swim. And what about those little wet particles that continued to fall from the sky during their paddle across the puddle? No cause for alarm guys. After all, it's only rain off a duck's back. (Photo By Lanny Smith)

Wheels Set In Motion For Clean-Up Campaign

By KERRIE STEIERT

Helen Langley, chairman of the upcoming city-wide Clean-Up Drive, is mustering youth groups, civic clubs and individual citizens for a week of work to improve Hereford's appearance.

April 24-30 in Beautification Week here, as planned by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, which sponsors the local observance. The Chamber's beautification committee is organizing several promotional activities, encouraging local residents to refine their surroundings.

On Saturday the 23rd, several youth organizations, including Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Kids Inc. and 4 Hers, will do their part in enhancing the community's complexion. The Camp Fire members will be delegated to Sugarland Mall and Downtown Hereford, where they will place flowers in planters. The other youths will be assigned to dispose of litter in public places and to assist widows, the aged and the handicapped in cleaning and repair work.

In other efforts to spark public interest, containers for aluminum cans will be placed throughout the city. The collected aluminum will be taken to recycling centers, which pay a bounty for returned cans. Proceeds will be utilized in further beautification projects.

Mrs. Langley stated that she expected to receive support during Clean-Up Week from civic groups, local garden clubs, the extension office, Hereford Senior Citizens, various retail businesses and the County Commission. The Volunteer Fire Department is cooperating by holding Fire Inspection Week in conjunction with the beautification campaign.

Another aspect of the clean-up strategy is contests to be staged through the school system. Students are invited to

'Kid Ate My W-2; I Need An Extension

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - "I respectfully request a 30-day extension to file my tax return," a man wrote the St. Paul office of the Internal Revenue Service. "My year-old son ate the W-2 and I have to get a duplicate."

That's just one of the 6,000 questions IRS personnel at the office received this week. The filing deadline is midnight tonight.

Most calls about tax matters can only be taken seriously, said Bill Knight, IRS public affairs officer.

Since Jan. 1, the St. Paul IRS office, which has 63 workers who answer questions, has received more than 360,000 queries from taxpayers.

They included one from a man who wanted to know if he could claim three taverns as exemptions "since they depend on me for their livelihood?"

You could almost feel the optimism in the air late Thursday after gentle showers fell on scattered areas of Deaf Smith County's dry cropland through Wednesday night and well into the day Thursday.

THE TIMELY spring rains may well mean that farmers in the far western regions of the county will be harvesting small quantities of wheat from their sprawling dryland acreage, rather than writing the entire crop off for the second straight year.

Thunderstorm systems continued across the state Thursday and have carried over into today, and there are still good prospects for additional rainfall in the local area.

And the dryland farmers who have watched their wheat suffer through drought and dust will take all they can get.

Rainfall accumulations in the county and surrounding areas ranged from .30 inches all the way up to 1.50 inches Thursday.

SOME OF THE most substantial rainfall was reported in the area of the Clint Homfeld farm, 47 miles northwest of Hereford.

During a phone interview late Thursday, Mrs. Homfeld reported that .75 inches of moisture was received in that vicinity during a slow soaker which fell Wednesday night, and an additional .75 inches of moisture accumulated during showers which continued throughout the day Thursday.

"A little of the dryland wheat is still hanging on, but a lot of it is gone. All the terrible wind and blowing sand we had in February and March inflicted severe damage on the wheat crop and a lot of it was lost. I don't know whether the wheat that is left will make a crop or not, but optimism isn't going to cost us anything at this point," she commented.

Rainfall of one inch was reported in the vicinity of Bootleg Corner.

THE WESTERNMOST areas of the county also received substantial rainfall, according to a report filed by Mrs. C.L. Hutchins, Brand correspondent from the Stateline area.

The Broadview-Stateline area has been referred to as a "Little Dust Bowl" this year, because of severe blowing problems in that area and extreme dryness.

Mrs. Hutchins reported that 1.30 inches of moisture was received at Broadview Thursday in a thunderstorm which dumped moisture in that region before moving into the Hereford vicinity.

A total rainfall accumulation of .60 inches was reported on the Texas-New Mexico border, and 1.15 inches was reported in the area around Broadview.

RAINFALL ACCUMULATIONS decreased as the storm approached Hereford and traveled eastward.

KPAN radio logged a total of .30 inches for the city of Hereford, while a spokesman for Easter Grain, located south of the city, indicated that .30 inches was also received in the community.

A spokesman for Dawn Co-Op east of Hereford estimated rainfall in that area at .50 inches and added, "We could sure use some more."

The H.L. Hershey farm 13 miles northeast of Hereford also recorded .30 inches of moisture.

A CHECK WITH Deaf Smith County ASCS Executive Director John Fuston late Thursday revealed the hopeful attitude of local farmers in the wake of the timely rains.

"This rain will certainly extend the chances for our dryland wheat crop," Fuston commented. The dryland wheat would have been beyond hope in another week or two, but the rain has given the wheat a chance to go ahead and make grain," he continued.

Fuston met with the county ASCS board yesterday, and indicated that board members were of the opinion that the dryland wheat which is left could possibly make up to 15 bu. per acre.

"Of course we'll need another rain to accomplish such a thing. An average of 15 bu. on the dryland wouldn't make a lot of money for the farmers out there, but it would put a few dollar bills in their hands and give them a little something to continue working with. We certainly need to get some income generated out in the dryland regions. I don't think we can stand another major dryland wheat failure like we suffered in 1976," he added.

FUSTON POINTED OUT that in addition to the sluggish market, another major problem may be encountered if the drought-stunted wheat fails to grow tall enough to be harvested.

Turning to the irrigated wheat crop, Fuston indicated that some problems with greenbugs and mites have been encountered in the crop, but natural water is the most economical means of irrigation possible, and local irrigation farmers are glad for the help from Mother Nature.

We might still see some fairly good irrigated wheat yields this year, although I don't think there will be anything real outstanding," said Fuston.

"It's a long time until harvest, and we're going to need some more help from the weather if we're going to cut any dryland wheat this year, but there's nothing like a slow soaker in April to keep your hopes up," he concluded.

Point Of Order Scratches Out Week Of Work On School Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - State representatives who hoped to have the complex and politically explosive school finance bill behind them by now must start from scratch Monday.

They quit for the weekend late Thursday afternoon, with most angry and confused over a parliamentary ploy that wiped out a week's work.

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, saying he wanted to buy time to dramatize what he called inequities in the bill, raised a point of order against its further consideration.

Only an emergency message from Gov. Dolph Briscoe allowed the House to take up the education measure ahead of the general appropriation bill.

But Briscoe's emergency message allowed consideration only of "the subject contained in my report to you" concerning public school finance.

Bryant observed that the $708 million bill contained several subjects -- such as extra funds for driver education and more teachers -- that were not mentioned by Briscoe.

Clayton said he had no choice but to rule out further action on the bill.

The House Public Education Committee began doctoring the bill to remove sections that did not conform to Briscoe's message.

The key provision of the bill was -- and will remain -- a $357 million reduction in local costs of the Foundation School Program, including $73 million in mandatory property tax cuts in 1978-79.

Single shot bills will address subjects that had to be deleted from the comprehensive bill.

"Everybody knew if they chose to be horsey about it and delay it with a point of order, they could," Clayton told reporters.

Bryant said at a news conference, "The whole point is delay...All we were trying to do is buy time to dramatize the inequities in the bill...We will try to provide figures showing basically that the wealthy school districts get a great deal of money from the bill while the poor ones get very little."

After the school finance bill was shelved, the House tentatively approved a Senate bill that would make the Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike a toll-free segment of the state highway system.

House members passed to the Senate a bill setting up two pilot programs of job training for "displaced homemakers" - widows and divorcees.

Tentatively approved were House bills that would:

-Permit physicians to treat cancer patients with Laetrile, a drug disapproved by the federal government and the American Cancer Society.

-Provide a place on driver licenses to enter drugs to which a motorist is allergic.

-Outlaw the sale of bottle rockets in Harris County.

No Odds Posted On Horseracing Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - No one's posting odds on the horse race bill getting a House vote this session.

The House Committee on Intergovernmental Affairs sent the local option measure to a subcommittee Tuesday by a 12-0 vote with no instructions on when it must report back, if ever.

"If they don't report back in two weeks, it's dead," said Rep. Matt Garcia, D-San Antonio, one of four co-sponsors.

"And they voted not to make them report back in two weeks," moaned Rep. Billy Hall, D-Laredo, another co-sponsor.

Horse race fans and opponents butted heads for more than two hours in the crowded House chamber. The noon hour came and went without anyone leaving.

The bill would allow pari-mutuel betting only in counties where a majority of voters approve. A state racing commission would regulate Texas tracks and the state would get a percentage of the money bet on every race.

"Legalization of pari-mutuel betting would be a half-billion dollar boon to the economy and create 15,000 jobs in Texas," Hall said. "Thirty-two other states have horse racing and Texas is largest not to have it."

"We are not opposing just because we are Baptist or because we are church people," said Phil Strickland, spokesman for the Texas Christian Life Association of the Southern Baptist General Convention. "It would immediately encourage illegal bookies, it would increase the number of gamblers in Texas, and we are concerned about the impact it would have on the poor."

"We have no trouble in Kentucky," said the Rev. Billy Craig, pastor of a Baptist church in Louisville, Ky. "To me there is never a negative word about these athletic activities in the scriptures."

"It is the most repressive form of taxation in America," said the Rev. Richard Freeman, a Methodist pastor in Waco. "No other strikes more at the poor."

"Legal betting will increase illegal betting," said Tom Hanna, Jefferson

Prospects Appear Dim For Anti-ERA Proposal

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The defeat of the Equal Rights Amendment in Florida, where supporters had hoped to break through a Southern bloc of opposition, dimmed hopes for ratification in 1977.

key senators who switched their votes Wednesday, and despite telephone lobbying from former First Lady Betty Ford and the White House, Florida, became the eighth state to vote against ratification this year.

At the same time, legislatures in Texas and Maine considered rescinding their previous ratification votes. Three other states have already voted to rescind—Idaho, Nebraska and Tennessee.

The 21-19 Florida vote was a disappointment but not a surprise. Florida was defeated the measure on five previous votes, but proponents had hoped they had more strength this year.

"It's not going away," said independent Sen. Lori Wilson, prime sponsor of the ERA in the Florida Senate. "Sometime, someday ERA will be a part of our Constitution." Karen DeCrow, president of the National Organization for Women, in Syracuse, N.Y., urged a tourist boycott of Florida while Bill Harrington, ERA America coordinator in Washington, said supporters will now focus on Louisiana, Illinois and South Carolina.

ERA supporters had counted on Florida's ratification to pave the way for adoption in a belt of nine southern states stretching from Virginia to Arkansas.

Ann Landers Wedding Complicated

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Six years ago my father divorced my mother to marry another woman. Mom was very bitter and angry. The intervening years have mellowed Mom and she now even speaks to my stepmother on the phone. My stepmother is a terrific person and it would be hard not to like her.

The problem: I am about to become engaged to a wonderful fellow. While my parents are happy to give me a big wedding, my mother is reluctant to take part in the festivities if my stepmother is invited.

I love my mom and can understand her feelings, but I also love my dad and his second wife I want both Mom and my stepmother to attend the bridal showers, the pre-nuptial dinner and the wedding.

My stepmother says she would be happy to attend any and all events, but my mother says I am being unrealistic to expect both her and my stepmother to participate.

Please help me handle this delicate situation properly. — In The Middle

DEAR MIDDLE: Some dumped wives do not mind if their husband's second wives show up at the same parties — or even the weddings of their children. Others do.

A person of taste would not invite both her mother and stepmother to the same shower or party unless she knew for certain that neither would mind. Since you know your mother WOULD mind, she should be given preference.

If your stepmother is as "terrific" as you say, she will have the grace and common sense to stay away from the pre-nuptial dinner and the wedding when she is told how your mother feels about her presence.

DEAR ANN: Our 21-year-old son and his wife (age 18 and a nice girl) appear at our door every weekend with their overnight bags. They just assume we want them and never bother to ask if we have other plans. I notice you have a booklet entitled "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Maybe you should write one and call it "Bugged By Children? How To Get More Freedom."

Hinting doesn't work. They don't get the idea. What can we do without offending them? — L.A.S.

DEAR L.A.S.: Obviously this 18-year-old girl and her 21-year-old husband are not grown up enough to be on their own so they hang around "home." Too bad they were in such a rush to get married.

Tell your son that from now on he and his wife should make other plans for their weekends because you and Dad would like some time to yourselves. Say, "We'll invite you when it's convenient." Then do so.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You have published several letters by homosexuals and responded to them with great restraint and (in my opinion) too much compassion.

Why don't you ever print a letter from a lesbian? They must write, too, and there must be a large number around. — Close Daily Reader

DEAR CLOSE: Lesbians ARE homosexuals. My advice would not be different for a female homosexual than for a male. I have published several letters from writers who identified themselves as lesbians. Are you sure you're a "Daily Reader"?

Parents Can Build Self-Confidence

Promoting feelings of self-worth is one of the chief functions of the family, Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, said this week.

Feelings about oneself begin to form during infancy and continue throughout life, but it is the early years which are most important, she said.

During early interaction with parents and other family members, a child learns whether or not he is loved and valued as a person. Being treated not to compare the child to others in the family in another way to avoid resentment and guilt.

If a child receives encouragement, he learns to try harder. Providing help, when needed, gives the individual a chance to do things on his own and promotes independence. Sincere praise for accomplishments helps one to feel good about himself and what he has done, the agent reminded. Through words and actions the family helps its members form their own images of themselves. Much of what an individual tries to do or thinks he can do depends on the way he believes others regard him.

Shaming or name calling and constant criticism can create guilt and resentment. Instead of emphasizing a person's faults, focus attention on what he can do well.

Let him know through words and actions that you accept him as an individual and that you do not expect perfection. Families can also help by encouraging the individual to do what he likes to do and wants to do, rather than what they wish he would do.

Respect for the individual's feelings and right to make his own decisions promotes feelings of self-worth, she said.

Be A Friend, Have A Friend

BY JOAN DWYER Executive Director

The board of directors of Big Brothers-Big Sisters met Wednesday morning in regular monthly session.

President Mike Patrick announced that a bill would be going before the Texas Legislature this week requesting one million dollars in funds for Texas Big Brothers-Big Sisters agencies. The bill was drafted by Senator Lloyd Doggett.

Patrick stated, "We need (Big Brothers-Big Sisters) board members, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, mothers (of Little Brothers and Little Sisters) and any interested citizens to write, call, or wire our legislators soliciting support of this bill." Passage of this legislation could mean that we will serve more children here in Hereford.

Sherry Hoover, chairman of the board orientation committee, reported on an orientation session held March 30.

Bettie Roberts, with events and activities, reported that 160 persons attended the 3rd annual Appreciation Dinner! Thirty-six members of Big Brothers-Big Sisters attended the Shrine Circus April 2. She also announced that Big Brothers-Big Sisters would enter a float in the GRA parade May 14.

The board voted unanimously to bid on hosting a Regional meeting in October. This would include representatives of Big Brothers-Big Sisters agencies from 6 surrounding states.

JoAn Dwyer announced she would be attending the national meeting in Orlando, Florida in June. Patsy Giles and Margaret London will accompany her as representatives of the board.

In Erma Bombeck's article this week, she is snorting at "active listening." There is some merit in her point of view, but I'll have to present the rebuttal that there was more "acting" than "listening" going on in her examples.

One of the fallacies of "active listening", as she points out, is communicating feelings when a child is merely seeking information or making a statement. If a kid says, "I'm leaving for school now," it would be silly to say "You feel like leaving now?" But, if he says, "I hate that stupid school. Why do I have to go?", then more than information is being transmitted and you need to pick up these feelings and let him know you understand.

In trying to understand feelings, look at a child's expression, watch his gestures, and listen to his tone of voice. These observances, in addition to the words themselves, will help you to recognize what's going on within him.

Calories Confusing In Weight Control

COLLEGE STATION—What calories do—and don't do—weight control is often confusing.

"Technically, a calorie is a unit of measurement equal to the amount of energy required to raise the temperature of a liter (about a quart) of water by one degree centigrade. Bodies use this energy for breathing or moving," Mary Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

Calories are provided by the food eaten. Each gram of sugar and starches (carbohydrates) gives four calories, for protein, four calories per gram, and for fat, nine calories per gram. If a person eats more calories than he needs, whether it is in carbohydrates, proteins or fats, then he gains weight—if he consumes less, then he loses weight, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

"One pound of fat is equal to 3,500 calories. By eating 500 calories a day more than you need for one week, in one week you have gained one pound. If you eat 500 calories less than you need in a day for a week, then you lose one pound."

"Nutritionists have been aware of energy as it relates to weight control for many years. Since 1770, it has been known that you take less energy when resting, at a comfortable temperature, twelve hours after your last meal, so you need less calories during the night. It takes more energy to digest a meal, when you are exposed to cold or exercise, so you burn up more calories during this time.

"A trained male athlete may use between 3,500 to 5,000 calories per day. Children require more energy in proportion to their weight, because they are growing, active and have more body surface to keep warm.

"Not another kiss till you buy me a home!"

FIRST REALTY OF THE SOUTHWEST

Family Strength Necessary

The stability of today's family—and future families—depends more than ever on how well its members get along together, Joyce Shipp, county extension agent says.

Strong families have agreed upon values which are passed on to children through personal example and explanation. They set goals together and plan for the future while enjoying daily satisfactions of living.

Strong families have realistic expectations and learn to adjust to change. They cope with, and conquer, stressful situations effectively.

She pointed out that another factor which strengthens today's families is the existence of two-way communication.

When members are willing to express themselves and take time to listen to the concerns of others in the family or the community, communication lines are kept open.

Families find strength and growth through association with friends and neighbors and involvement with community concerns.

And when family members show and share a loving concern for each other, a family unit grows stronger. This supportive atmosphere encourages the development of self-confidence and autonomy. Adults learn to exercise self-discipline and provide guidance to help children become independent and self-directing, she said.

THE HEREFORD BRAND

State-Line News

MRS. C.L. HUTCHINS

BRAND CORRESPONDENT

The wheat crops seemed to grow before the very eyes of area farmers Thursday morning when a much-welcomed rain graced the Stateline and Broadview region. In some rain gauges near Broadview, 1.30 inches was received. The Clinton Burnett farm, also located near Broadview, measured 1.15 in. On the New Mexico-Texas border, .60 in was gauged at the Jordan Miller and Ruth Ridley residences.

The Easter Sunrise Service, held at the San Jon Caprock site, was attended by approximately fifty people on account of inclement weather conditions. The Rev. Rusty Martin, pastor of the Grady-San Jon United Methodist Churches brought the early morning message. An acappella choir was composed of members of the San Jon churches, Assembly of God, Baptist and United Methodist.

All churches in the area, Rosedale Baptist, Broadview Church of Christ and the Broadview Church of Nazarene all reported above average attendances. High winds and blowing dust plagued the community all afternoon with some social activities canceled on account of weather conditions.

The Rosedale Baptist Church sponsored an Easter Egg Hunt for the Primary nursery and Junior youths of the church and guests, Saturday afternoon between hours of 2-4 p.m.

Tommy Clymer and Miss Debbie Allen, hid the easter eggs on the church grounds in two different areas for different age groups. John Clymer was awarded the prize in the Junior group for finding the most eggs, while Curtis Allen found the prize egg.

In the Primary group Kevin Johnston found the most eggs and received a prize while Eddie and Carrie Riley found the least number of eggs, and received a gift.

Rev. Richard Clymer, was in charge of the games following the egg hunt. Mrs. Ruth Ridley, Mrs. Marilee Osborn and Mrs. Lucy Harrison served refreshments of decorated cup cakes, strawberry punch and marsh-mallow rabbits to each child present.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will be honored with a Wedding Shower, on April 17th. (Sunday) between hours of 1:30-4 p.m. in the Rosedale Community Center.

Hostesses will include Ruth Ridley, Lula Cross, Ruddene Pulliam, Mary Opal Tate and Mable Hutchins.

No written invitations will be sent; all residents of the area are invited to attend this social event.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnett of Clovis and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burnett of Bellview.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burnett drove to Dora, N.M., Wednesday night and honored their daughter-in-law Vickie Burnett on her birthday. The J.R. Burnetts and grandson Jeffery, had dinner at Christie's Steak House in Portales and an evening of informal visitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt of Clovis arrived Friday night to spend the Easter weekend in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Foster.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Foster and her daughter Mrs. Wyatt enjoyed visiting in Clovis with relatives Mr. and Mrs. Dick Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stockton who has recently completed their new home.

Frank and Johnnie Mae Wyatt returned to Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Hutchins Jr. of Albuquerque, N.M., were Friday night overnight guests in the home of his father and sister, W.C. Hutchins Sr. and Mrs. Juanita Melton.

Mrs. W.C. Hutchins Jr. will attend the United Pentecostal Church Convention held in Clovis, N.M., over the weekend.

Mrs. Leroy Lambert, has been a patient in a Lubbock Hospital last week having tests. She is a teacher in the Friona High School and resides with her family on the State-Line road.

Ralph Bailey of Broadview, grandson of Mrs. Letha Bailey, reported to police that a two-way radio was stolen from his truck sometime last week while it was parked at McGehee Truck Company for repair in Clovis, N.M. Loss was estimated at $300.

Dan Rouse of Lubbock, was the guest minister at the Broadview Church of Christ for Sunday morning and evening services. He was accompanied to Broadview by his wife. The Rouse's were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Decker.

The Broadview Church of Christ are without a pastor at the present time. The Church recently purchased the late Mable Simms home in Broadview and has the parsonage now ready for occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Gardner and children, Andrea and Greg, enjoyed spending Easter Sunday in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gardner in Causey, N.M.

Little Janey Leigh Moelius was honored on her 4th birthday, April 5th with a dinner in her home by her parents, Bob and Patricia Moelius who live in the Bellview community. Guests for the dinner also included her maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Willard Patterson of Clovis.

Visiting the afternoon in the Moelius home included friends Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shadix and children Billie Ray and Willie. The group enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream.

John Morris of Higgins, was a guest Tuesday and Wednesday in the home of his ranch foreman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riley and children Lori, Eddie and Carrie.

Mrs. Jessie (Callie) Rierson of Clovis, N.M. a former resident, returned last Saturday from Houston, where she visited in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floydane Roberts, and also entered a Houston Hospital for heart tests. The doctors there related her heart had suffered extensive damage during her recent illness. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery. She is the mother of Mrs. Elmer (Coy) Fryar of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shadix and children, Willie Ray and Billie, left Thursday afternoon after school for their annual Spring vacation to points in northern New Mexico mountains where they enjoyed seeing beautiful snow in the mountains. The family enjoyed fair fishing at Lake Herron. The Shadix family returned home late Sunday evening.

Pre-Easter guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burnett, included special friends Bill and Bertha Smith and daughter Amanda from Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio. The Smith family arrived Thursday and visited until Saturday.

The Smith family then drove to Clovis, N.M. and were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Burnett and daughter Carrol, until late Sunday afternoon.

Four sisters enjoyed a Mexican luncheon at El Monterey's Restaurant in Clovis Wednesday observing Mrs. Earl Thompkins' birthday. Other sisters included Mrs. Johnnie Foster, Mrs. Charles Stockton and Mrs. Ralph Lofton. This is an annual event.

Mrs. Richard (Joyce) Clymer was admitted to Friona Community Hospital Wednesday afternoon suffering from chest pains. After having a series of tests, her family doctor stated she was suffering from infection of the muscles of her heart caused from a recent illness. She was released late Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Tillman of Wheatland community, Mrs. Ralph Burnett, and Mrs. Clinton Burnett was shopping and transacting business Monday in Friona.

Miss Rhonda Bergstrom of Plainview, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burnett, was their guest Friday through Sunday. Rhonda is employed in the administration building on the Wayland Baptist Campus in Plainview.

While here, she also visited in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burnett and daughters, Gina and Julie.

Mrs. Ralph (Virginia) Burnett attended the District II Farm Bureau Women's District planning meeting held last week in Clovis. Other ladies attending were from Fort Sumner, Portales, Rogers and Clovis; all towns in New Mexico.

history students from Texico High School enjoyed a field trip last Friday to Fort Sumner, N.M. Their teachers, Mrs. Burch and Mr. Grimes, were sponsors. Enroute they stopped in Clovis and toured the Curry County Courthouse. Upon arriving in Fort Sumner, which is a historical town, the group enjoyed sack lunches at the city park.

The highlight of the trip was a tour of the Billy the Kid Museum and also viewing his gravesite in old Fort Sumner Cemetery.

Word was received recently that the program for exchange computer coupons for kidney dialysis treatments has no validity. The Blackburn families would like to "Thank Everyone," who had taken the time and effort to save the coupons for Barney Blackburn.

Barney is taking kidney treatments several times each week in an Amarillo Hospital. He and Mrs. Blackburn are able to spend some weekends at their home in the Broadview community.

Joe Brummett of Clovis enjoyed dinner Tuesday in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Foster. Joe was observing his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lofton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stockton of Clovis made a business trip to Amarillo Tuesday. The men had doctor appointments.

Mrs. Bob Moelius attended the Deaf Smith County Extension Council meeting Monday in Hereford. Mrs. Moelius is the president of Messenger HD Club.

Mrs. Maggie Coffman of Clovis, N.M., and her sister Mrs. Maud Ingram of Roswell, N.M., returned recently with a group of 150 people who made a tour of Italy, Switzerland and Morocco. The group were on a ten-day vacation and visited many interesting points. Mrs. Ingram's son, Mike Ingram of Oklahoma City, was in charge of the tour. Both ladies are former residents, daughters of a pioneer family, the late Albert Chandlers who filed in the Hollene Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Miller attended a "Cancer Awareness Night" held at the First Federal and Savings Hospitality room in Clovis, Tuesday in observance of April being Cancer Control Month. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Local residents, Ralph Lofton,

Mrs. Glen Pulliam and Moreland Harrington, met Monday in Clovis at the E.N.M.R. business office as a nominating committee to select directors for the Telephone Cooperative.

Mrs. Raymond Tillman of Wheatland community and member of the Friendship Wheatland Extension Club; and Mrs. Ralph Burnett of Broadview, member of the Bellview-Broadview Extension Club, attended the New Mexico District II Extension Annual Convention held last week in Las Vegas, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marion Potts and children, Becky, Billie Joe and Monia Ann, and his mother, Mrs. Opal Potts, left Saturday for Dumas, where they were Easter guests in the home of their sister and daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lasley and daughter Alicia Carrol.

The Potts family returned home late Sunday afternoon and reported bad driving conditions on account of the high winds and dust.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waldrop were Monday evening guests in the home of Thelma West in Clovis, N.M. Other guests included Joe Rice also of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Mote of Broadview spent Easter Sunday in Portales, N.M. as dinner guests in the home of their son and children Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mote and children Ronnie, Laura, Noel, Rhonda and Michael.

Mrs. Larry Mote returned home last week from Lubbock where she was hospitalized for seven days at the Methodist Hospital suffering from a back ailment. She was in traction with a 20 lb. weight for several days. Her doctor stated she had suffered from strained ligaments and would take some time for her complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Burnett and son Jeffery of Dora enjoyed spending Easter Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burnett.

Pre-Easter guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cross Jr., included her mother Mrs. Lillie Washburn; her grandmother, Mrs. Stella Reynolds and a friend Mrs. Jack Brossom, all of Pampa. The ladies arrived Wednesday and were overnight guests.

Mrs. Jordan Miller spent the Easter holidays here with her husband Jordan. She returned to Santa Rosa, New Mexico on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cross Jr. and children Susan, Joey, Shelly and Kelly, entertained Sunday with a dinner in their home honoring relatives. Guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Maud Cross, a sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shields and children Ellen and Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Honel Cross all of Hereford. Also his mother Mrs. Lula Cross and son Mike of Bellview, N.M. a brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Don Cross and children Brett, Christie and Desiree of Clovis, N.M. and her brother and children M.C. Simpson and sons Michael Chad and Billie Dale of Pampa, Tex.

Jordan Miller visited during the afternoon as guest.

M.C. Simpson and sons plan on visiting a week in his sister's home, Mrs. Arnold Cross Jr.

Mrs. Cecil Webb of Broadview spent last week in Tiabian, N.M. as guests in the home of her sister Mrs. Georgia May while her son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Joe May of Tiabian, went to Denver, Colorado on a business trip.

Quilting Bees Revive Past

[Part 4 of a series by Pat Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist]
COLLEGE STATION— Today's quilting "bees" add extra excitement to a renewed trend in home decorating-- as they recall part of America's heritage with a social mood and many of the old traditions.

In years past, when a woman finished a quilt top, she invited her neighbors to a quilting bee. At most, twelve could be invited, but to avoid crowding, seven was preferred--putting two people on each side of the quilting frame including the hostess.

When distances were great, a quilting bee was not called until two or more tops were ready. Then the hostess borrowed quilting frames and invited the whole countryside to come early and stay late. The quilts were put in and finished by women working in relays until an evening feast were served. The men arrived dressed up and ready to party or court the single ladies.

As the women quilted they named the patterns. Political, patriotic or historical influences account for Yankee Puzzle, Confederate Rose and Union Calico quilts, while religious influences inspired Jacob's Ladder, Solomon's Crown, Star of Bethlehem and Tree of Paradise.

The skies gave us Rising Sun, Blazing Star, Star of Texas, and Wheel and Star. Other names-- Beggar's Blocks, Diamonds, New Nine Patch and Variegated Hexagons-- depended on geometric designs.

Storm at Sea and Ocean Waves reflect a nautical influence-- and romance and poetry gave us Wedding Knot, Love Rose and Friendship Quilt.

Other quilt names were inspired by flowers, such as Lily of the Valley and Daisies-- and there are at least 20 "rose" names, such as Wild Rose and Rose of Dixie. Still others pay tribute to vegetables, fruits, trees, birds, insects, animals, people, towns, and countries.

Many of these designs are part of today's decorating trends using quilts-- some made in new "old-fashioned" quilting bees.

FAITH MAKES GOOD NEIGHBORS OF GREAT NATIONS

The boundary line dividing two countries can become a barricade of mutual hostility, but in the case of Canada and the United States it has always served as a bridge of friendship between two peoples with such trust, respect and understanding as to make the celebration of Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week quite unnecessary. Nowhere along the three thousand-mile borderline that spans our continent have security measures ever been needed, and the citizens on both sides may enter and leave each other's land whenever they wish. This is a fine example of the spirit of brotherhood that has been taught by every religious faith, in every land. Wherever you live, you will learn this by attending the Church of your choice.

A living proof to all the world of faith in brotherhood.

Temple Baptist Church Will Hold Revival Sunday

In conjunction with the "Living Proof" campaign, the Temple Baptist Church will hold a revival from Sunday, April 17 through Sunday, April 24.

Special evangelist for the Good News Texas Revival will be Dr. J. Conally Evans, pastor of the Woodlawn Baptist Church, Bristol, Tenn. Directing the revival music will be Royce Dowell, a native of Dimmitt who is now associated with the Baptist General Convention in Dallas.

Services will be held at the regular times on Sunday. Time of the services, Monday through Friday, will be at noon and 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Jim Bozeman, pastor of Temple Baptist, announced the revival is open to the public and he is highly enthusiastic about the evangelist for the services. Evans was pastor of the First Baptist Church at Wink, Tx., when Bozeman joined the church and surrendered to preach.

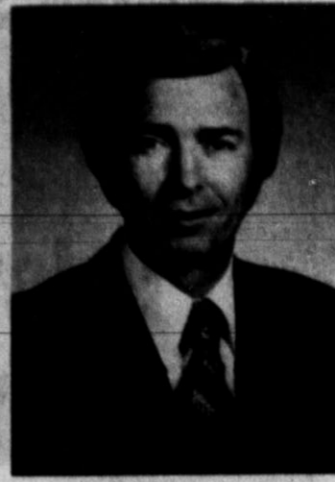

Evans was born in Kentucky and reared in east Tennessee. He graduated from Carson-Newman College in Tennessee and Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, and started preaching as a teenager.

Dr. Evans received a doctor of divinity from Howard Payne College for outstanding service in churches he served. These included Second Baptist, New Port, Tenn.; First Baptist, Hurst; First Baptist, Gresson; First Baptist, Wink; Belmont Baptist, Odessa; First Baptist, Ocala, Fla.; and Woodlawn in Bristol Tenn.

He has been on missionary and educational tours in 46 countries of the world and has been a speaker for the Southern Baptist Convention, state conventions and evangelism conferences. He has been active in chamber of commerce work, Rotarians, and is a 32nd degree Mason. Evans has numerous affiliations with civic and church organizations.

Dowell, the music director, was educated at Dimmitt, Wayland Baptist College and Southwestern Seminary. He has served churches as musical director at Ballinger, Lubbock, Wichita, Kan., Richardson and Irving. He has been a consultant for the Church Music Department of the Baptist General Convention since Aug. 1, 1973.

Today In History

Today is Friday, April 15, the 105th day of 1977. There are 260 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1865, President Abraham Lincoln died in a Washington boarding house across the street from Ford's theater, where he had been shot the night before by John Wilkes Booth.

On this date: In 1638, English settlers arrived at what is now New Haven, Conn. In 1850, San Francisco was incorporated as a city.

In 1861, President Lincoln called militia to suppress the Southern Confederacy.

In 1945, President Franklin Roosevelt was buried at the Roosevelt family home at Hyde Park N.Y.

In 1959, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro arrived in Washington to begin a goodwill tour of the United States.

In 1970, mobs in Amman, Jordan, burned the U.S. Cultural Center and attacked the U.S. Embassy.

Ten years ago: Thousands turned out in New York and San Francisco to demonstrate against the Vietnam War, with draft card burnings, marches and speeches.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon wound up a visit to Canada by signing an agreement for a joint effort to clean up the Great Lakes.

Flooded Areas Choking With Dust

PINEVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Less than two weeks ago, three raging rivers threatened life and property in eastern Kentucky. Now choking clouds of dust hinder operations to clean up the sodden debris left by receding waters.

"The dust is terrible," Pineville City Judge Bob Madon told Gov. Julian Carroll, who on Wednesday made his third helicopter tour of Appalachian towns ravaged by the floods.

At Harlan, state police Lt. Tom Rakestraw told the governor, "Our boys directing traffic are wearing surgical masks. They just about have to breathe."

The state ordered delivery of 2,000 surgical masks to Pineville.

In the dusty streets of Pineville, Harlan, South Williamson and Pikeville, as well as other Appalachian towns, workers shoveled and swept debris and mud from houses and boarded up stores.

As he splashed through the muddy interior of a drug store in downtown Pineville, Carroll said, "These people have a big backbone."

A brown line on the wall showed that the waters of the Cumberland River had stood about a foot below the ceiling at the crest of the flood, which left six dead and caused at least $100 million in damage in Kentucky.

"Just in east Pineville, there were 14 homes washed away," said Bell County Judge Willie Hendrickson. "Trailers were picked up and broken like matchsticks."

Of Pineville's 2,800 residents, 2,200 were forced from their homes by the flood, he said. Another stop on Carroll's tour was the federal disaster relief center at Harlan High School where hundreds of flood victims lined up to ask government workers about disaster help.

At South Williamson, on the West Virginia border, officials said thousands of people were forced from their homes along a 40-mile stretch of the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy River.

Ray Roberts, administrator of the Appalachian Regional Hospital at South Williamson, said the hospital is sheltering 350 flood refugees and serving 2,500 meals a day to flood victims. Other shelters have been set up in schools and churches.

The number of West Virginia families registered by the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration FDAA reached 5,000 about noon Wednesday, according to Henry Seib, spokesman for the FDAA.

Officials estimated that at least 2,000 families in the 11 counties declared national disaster areas had not yet visited the centers.

The sun shines constantly on 50.76 per cent of the earth, says the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium.

On March 11, 1917, Russian soldiers were ordered to stop Petrograd food riots.

Area Family Discovers Social Security Is For Young Families Too

Social security is for young families, too, according to Gerald Millard, field representative in this area for the Social Security Administration.

Just how it can help is well illustrated by the case of a young family living in Summerfield. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Shipp Jr. recently received their first social security check, after he had to quit work because of poor vision.

Social security records are confidential and information concerning a person's account can only be released upon written permission. Millard reports that Mr. and Mrs. Shipp consented for information about their benefits to be released in order to better educate young families in the area who might be eligible for benefits.

Ship was born with impaired vision which has gradually worsened over the years. In spite of his lack of vision he began working in area feed yards as a cowboy while he was still attending Hereford High School. It is this work that made him and his family eligible for Social Security payments after it became necessary for him to quit work because of his poor vision.

He has been classified as "industrially blind" for quite some time. However, he continued to work in order to support his family until September 9, 1976 when he quit work of doctor's orders. His doctor told him that if he did not quit work he would lose the small amount of vision that he still has.

Before a person can be eligible to receive Social Security benefits he must have been unable to work for five full calendar months. Shipp's five month waiting period was completed in February; consequently he and his family received their first check on April 1, 1977 for the month of March.

Shipp started working in 1972 at the age of 17 and paying Social Security taxes. From 1972 thru 1975 he earned $17,919.19 on which he paid social security taxes of $1,030.34. This entitled him to a monthly check of $363.60 and his wife and daughter to $148 each. In two months he will have drawn more in payments than he paid in social security taxes during the time he was working.

The Shipp family's plight, when he became unable to work is typical of many young families. They had no income or savings to tide them over the five months waiting period until his social security disability payments became payable.

Beginning with Jan. 1, 1974, the Social Security Administration began administering to a newly-passed Federal Welfare Program called Supplemental Security Income. The funds for this program came from general revenue instead of social security taxes. This program provides help for people who are age 65 or older or who are totally disabled.

Eligibility for this program is determined by a family's income and resources. Since the Shipp family had limited reserves and no income after Alving had to quit work, they qualified for $167.80 per month from this program during the 5 month waiting period.

Workers who have disabilities that are expected to prevent them from working for 12 or more calendar months should contact Millard at the Deaf

ACS Monies Go For Research, Services

"How does the American Cancer Society spend the money it collects from the public?"

"We're glad to answer that question," said Mrs. Joyce Lomas chairman of the Society's 1977 educational and fundraising Crusade now taking place in Hereford.

"In the most recent national ACS budget 29.2 per cent of all income or more than $33 million supported a wide variety of research programs," Mrs. Lomas declared. "At the same time that we are seeking new life saving developments from research, we also use the weapons we already have by teaching people to look for and recognize cancer's Warning Signals and the importance of early detection. We could, with present medical knowledge, save 113,000 more lives each year if cancers were detected in their early and most curable stages. Thus we spent another 17.4 per cent of our budget, or nearly $20 million for public education programs," she said.

"We believe that the quality of life or the cancer patient is the key, and therefore, ACS patient and community services took another 12.6 and 8.8 per cent shares of ACS income or more than $14 million and nearly $10 million respectively," she added.

Professional education for physicians, nurses and other medical personnel in the front lines of the battle to defeat cancer called for another 10.3 per cent or nearly $12 million.

"This makes up 78.3 per cent of the ACS budget or slightly more than $89 million", she said. "In spite of severe inflationary trends we were able to exert tight control over our administrative costs, keeping them within acceptable limits. Management costs were about 10 per cent of about $11 million, while fund raising costs were kept to about 11.7 per cent, or about $13 million. We have been able to hold the line because of the many dedicated volunteers who do so much of the work for the Society in its efforts to wipe out cancer in our lifetime."

Houston Tops Texas Cities In Census

WASHINGTON (AP)— Houston, Dallas and San Antonio are Texas' three largest cities according to estimated figures for 1975 announced Wednesday by the U.S. Census Bureau, but Dallas showed a decline in population from previous years.

City officials in Dallas disputed the figures, saying they were based on "bad assumptions," and that subsequent counts will show that Big D is bigger than it seems.

The Census Bureau's estimates show the three Texas cities in the nation's 10 most populous.

Houston is the nation's sixth largest city, the figures released Wednesday showed, while Dallas was eighth and San Antonio 10th.

The Census Bureau figures showed Dallas with an estimated 1975 population figure of 812,797, down from 1973's 815,866. A bureau spokesman said, however, the population from the Dallas-Fort Worth area increased from 2,378,353 in 1970 to 2,552,800 in 1975.

Houston increased from 1,253,479 in 1970 to 1,326,809 in 1975. San Antonio grew from 708,582 in 1970 to 773,248 in 1975.

Other Texas cities with populations of 100,000 or more according to the 1975 figures were, with their national ranking: El Paso, 33rd, 385,601. Fort Worth, 39th, 358,365. Austin, 46th, 301,147. Corpus Christi, 62nd, 214,838. Lubbock, 89th, 163,525. Amarillo, 107th, 138,743. Beaumont, 132nd, 113,696. Garland, 136th, 111,322. Arlington, 137th, 110,543. Irving, 152nd, 103,706.

One of every four persons on earth, or more than a billion people, is now able to view major events on live television via satellite.

The San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 in which 452 people lost their lives was the largest earthquake disaster in the United States.

Assassinations Group Interviewing Ray

WASHINGTON (AP)—House assassinations committee investigators are back for a third prison interview with James Earl Ray to find out more about the outside help he reportedly says he got before and possibly after the assassination of Martin Luther King.

Three committee investigators flew to Tennessee Wednesday night for the interview at Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary.

The committee's former chief counsel, Richard A. Sprague, said this week that Ray has told investigators he was aided by three different people who were not relatives.

But Sprague said Ray had not gotten to the point of saying what kind of people helped him.

The former chief counsel quoted Ray as saying one person helped him get a weapon and some money to escape from Missouri State Prison before King was assassinated; another helped him escape to Canada, and he was to contact a third after the assassination.

Sprague said Ray also made it clear that he made up the name "Raoul" he has used repeatedly.

Slaton Cools Birds

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The weather in Milwaukee was just what the doctor ordered for Jim Slaton.

"In warmer weather, I might not have lasted as long," said the Milwaukee Brewer pitcher.

Slaton was making his first start of the season Thursday after a long siege with the flu and with the help of 46-degree temperatures, breezed through nine no-sweat innings and handcuffed the Baltimore Orioles 5-0 on three hits.

"I would have sweated a lot more if it was warmer and it would have drained a lot more out of me," noted Slaton, who had lost six pounds during his illness and recovery.

He hadn't pitched since April 4.

In other American League action, the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Detroit Tigers 5-3; the Seattle Mariners nipped the Minnesota Twins 4-3 and the Oakland A's edged the California Angels 8-7. The Texas-Cleveland game was postponed by rain.

The Brewers took a 2-0 lead with two fifth-inning runs off loser Rudy May, 0-2. Don Money singled and took third on a double by Dan Thomas. Money scored on a single by Von Joshua and Thomas raced home when Larry Harlow bobbled the ball for an error in short center.

The Brewers made it 4-0 with a pair of unearned runs in the sixth and a single by Cecil Cooper and double by Sal Bando produced their final run in the eighth.

Blue Jays 5, Tigers 3

Pinch-hitter Otto Velez' three-run homer in the eighth inning vaulted surprising Toronto over Detroit.

With one out in the eighth, reliever John Hiller, 0-2, walked Doug Ault and Ron Fairly. Velez, batting for Sam Ewing, then hit a 2-1 pitch over the left field fence to give the expansion Blue Jays their fifth triumph in seven games and provide rookie Jerry Garvin with his second victory in two starts. Garvin gave up six hits, struck out 10 and walked two.

Mariners 4, Twins 3

Right-hander Gary Wheelock limited Minnesota to four hits in eight innings and center fielder Ruppert Jones drilled a two-run homer to lead Seattle over the Twins.

Jones' third homer of the season off right-hander Pete Redfern in the eighth sent the Twins' starter to the showers and gave the Mariners a 4-1 lead and their eventual winning run.

A's 8, Angels 7

Larry Lintz scored from second base in the ninth inning on an error by shortstop Bobby Grich to give Oakland its victory over California.

Lintz lead off the ninth by drawing a walk off loser John Verhoeven, 0-2, and moved to second on a sacrifice by Matt Alexander. Mitchell Page was intentionally walked and Dick Allen then flied to deep center. Lintz went to third after the catch and scored when the relay throw got away from Grich in short center field.

Wrestling Card Has International Flavor

A double main event featuring wrestling's second most important championship highlights the Lions Club grappling card at the Bull Barn this coming Saturday.

International Heavyweight Champion Cyclone Negro, the 250-pound Venezuelan who was decorated by his government, meets 228 pound Reggie Parks. Parks held the belt himself, lost it to Negro, and wants it back badly.

The Canadian Parks, currently residing in Nogales, Arizona, adds a truly international flavor to the title match as North and South America clash.

Ricky Romero returns to the Bull Barn in the other main event. The 224 pound Mexican speedster joins Jerry Kozak, 215-pounder from Canada, against Rip Hawk and Swede Hanson. Romero and Kozak will be spotting their foes nearly a hundred pounds, as Hawk and Hanson come in at a combined weight of 520 pounds.

Hawk and Hanson have not gained in personal popularity in recent weeks at the Bull Barn. Their often questionable tactics have them on a winning streak in Hereford.

In the opener, Doug Somers, self-styled pretty boy of the mat, meets Tendu, the young Japanese matman being trained by Dory Funk, Jr. Somers stands 6-4 and weighs 245. Tendu at 6-2 is a surprisingly trim 238 pounds for a former sumo great.

In last week's action, Somers and the Masked Super Destroyer were counted out of the ring as their feud gradually degenerated into a brawl. Kozak and Abilene's Layman - Dou Slaton - lost to Hawk and Hanson by disqualification. The Lawman, conducting a bitter vendetta against the two North Carolinians, left the ring to return with a pair of brass knucks in the last fall.

Hawk and Hanson have taken an extreme personal dislike to the rangy ex-deputy, and have sought to humiliate him publicly on several occasions. Part of the personality conflict stemmed possibly from Slaton's former employment in law enforcement.

Hawk and Hanson are natural rule-benders in private and public life, and are unable to wrestle in several states because of legal conflicts both with governmental and state athletic agencies.

In last week's opener, Big Nick Roberts, 240-pound ring tornado from Lubbock, squashed Alabama's Bobby Pico in less than ten minutes. The 190-pound Pico, an agile but outgunned light heavyweight, was punished by Roberts systematically before his hulking opponent contemptuously wrapped him up for the pin.

Wrestling at the Bull Barn this Saturday night starts at 8:30 p.m.

Leafs Have Flyers' Backs Against Wall

BY FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Flyers don't need to be reminded what happened in last year's quarter-final when they played the Maple Leafs in Toronto. They don't need to be told that four of their players await June trials after having been charged with criminal actions stemming from incidents during the games.

They also don't have to be reminded that they've lost the first two games of his year's quarter-final to the Leafs and now must win four of the next five-three of them at Toronto, where Ontario Attorney General Roy McMurtry might well be in attendance to make sure no more "criminal" mischief takes place.

That doesn't matter to Flyers left wing Ross Lonsberry. "All that matters now is winning some hockey games, and we'll do what we have to do, even if it means the entire team must be bailed out of jail for the games."

"Last year in history and it won't affect us now."

History seems to be repeating itself in the other National Hockey League playoff series, which shift to Buffalo and Los Angeles for games tonight and to St. Louis Saturday night.

The New York Islanders, who have won all four of their playoff games this year, carry a 2-0 lead into Game Three of their best-of-seven set with the Buffalo Sabres. New York lost the first two games of the teams' quarter-final matchup back to sweep the next four and enter the semis.

This year the shoe is on the other foot. The Sabres are hoping for a reversal, but have lost their last eight games to Islanders goalie Billy Smith, who is unbeaten in his last 13 games over-all and have beaten New York only once in the last 11 games between the teams.

Added to Buffalo's troubles are injuries to defenseman Billy Hajt and Lee Fogolin, left wing Terry Martin and right wing Danny Gare.

The Boston Bruins, who eliminated the Kings in a seven-game quarter-final last year, take their 2-0 lead to the West Coast after 8-3 and 6-2 triumphs. The Canadiens, who have beaten St. Louis in all 10 of their post-season encounters, visit the Blues on Saturday night because the St. Louis Arena wasn't available for a Friday game.

'Kiddie Korps' Have Cards On Hot Streak

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - It was Senior Citizens Day at Shea Stadium but the St. Louis Cardinals' Kiddie Korps stole the show.

"St. Louis might be the dark-horses," said New York Manager Joe Frazier after the high-flying, young Cardinals disposed of the Mets 4-1 Thursday and boosted their record to 5-1, all on the road.

After winning three games in Pittsburgh, the Cards were shot out by the Mets' Tom Seaver Tuesday, but bounced back with a pair of victories. The hungry Redbirds are beginning to make believers of preseason experts who consigned them to fourth place in the National League East.

"Pittsburgh and New York are strong enough clubs to make or break you," said 37-year-old left fielder Lou Brock, the club's elder statesman, "and usually they break you more than make you."

Brock is caught up in the club's early-season spirit of success, but it doesn't surprise him.

"It got that feeling the last six weeks of last season," he said. "This club was 80 per cent young, inexperienced players who were just happy to be in the major leagues and were awed by the opposition. But the last six weeks they adopted the attitude that they would stand up and fight and not be denied. What you see now are guys determined to prove they're big league ballplayers."

The young lions include first baseman Keith Hernandez, 23; shortstop Garry Templeton, 22; right fielder Hector Cruz, 24; and rookie relievers John Urrea, 22, and Johnny Sutton, 24. Templeton and Hernandez each drove in a run Thursday while newcomer Tony Scott, who has less than two years of service in the majors, slammed a two-run triple while filling in for center fielder Bake McBride.

When the Mets nicked winner Bob Forsch for a run in the seventh, Urrea came on and struck out Felix Millan, annually one of baseball's toughest hitters to fan. That ended the threat and Urrea allowed on hit over the last two innings to record his second save in as many big league appearances.

In the only other National League game Thursday, the San Francisco Giants outscored the San Padres 8-4 as Jim Barr pitched a seven-hitter and Bill Madlock and Willie McCovey belted two-run homers.

Madlock also had an RBI single to go along with his second homer in two games as the Giants took the series from the Padres 2-1. Barr evened his record at 1-1 with the victory, striking out a career-high 11 men and walking two.

Jerry Turner and pinch-hitter Merv Rettenmund hit solo homers for the Padres while Gary Thomasson, Darrell Evans and Madlock all collected two hits to pace the Giants' 12-hit attack.

Busy Weekend Set For Spring Sports

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

In spite of facing threatening skies today the spring sports participants at Hereford High School are spreading out in all directions as the prestigious Amarillo Relays opened for boys track and golf teams and district meets awaited the Herd netters and girls track team.

In addition Hereford's Barbara Scott winds up District 4-4A golf action with the final round at Plainview. Scott owns a 18-shot lead over the rest of the district fems, and has all but wrapped up the district medalist title.

James Mays and Paul Bell, along with miler Dennis Collins head Hereford track entrants in the Amarillo Relays Track Meet today and Saturday. Mays owns the third-best 880 time in the state (1:54.6) to date, while Bell has blazed to a 9.7 in the 100. Collins owns the school mark in the mile with a 4:34.3.

Palo Duro, Amarillo high, and Perryton have been listed as favorites to take the 4A-3A team crown, while Dalhart, Boys Ranch, Dimmitt, and Memphis figure to fight it out in the small school division.

Hereford High's golf team is also in Amarillo this weekend for the Relays Golf Tournament, which is figured to be won by District 4-4A leader Plainview. The Bulldogs have won eight straight meets since finishing third at Roswell in the season opener.

Herd coach Terry Russell figures to enter George Yocum, Kelly Kitchens, James McDowell, Tommy Weaver, and Don Shaw in the varsity competition which includes Hereford, Plainview, all four Amarillo schools, El Paso Austin, Canyon, Lubbock Coronado, Lubbock High, Del City, Dumas, El Paso High Monterey, NMMI, Levelland, Pampa, El Paso Andress, and El Paso Burgess.

Heading in the other direction this weekend are the Hereford girls track and tennis team, both of which will be competing in District Meets.

The girls track team travels to Plainview today for the District 4-4A Meet with one big hope, shot putter Suzanne Duvall, seemingly out of action with leg problems.

Monterey's girls have been given a slight edge as favorites to take the team title at the meet. Field events were scheduled for 2 p.m. today, with running prelims at 3:15 and finals at 5 p.m.

The Hereford netters are throwing out all team play today as they play individually for a spot in the Regional Tournament, which will be played at Texas Tech.

The girls regional is set for April 22-23, while the boys regional takes place a week later.

Plainview's Stacy Foster is seeded number one in boys singles in the district meet today, with Hereford's Steve Hoover placed a notch lower. Monterey's Kathy Kuhne is the top seeded girls player.

In boys doubles Coronado's Robert Davis - Steve Wyatt are the top pick, while Dana Craig - Lynda Lee Weaver of Coronado are the top seed in girls doubles.

Boys Meet Postponed, Girls To Run Today

The South Zone Junior High Track Meet for boys, which was postponed yesterday due to rain, will be run at Whiteface Field next Thursday, April 21 it has been announced.

The girls version of the same meet will be run at the field today barring a deluge. Schools represented in the zone include La Plata, Stanton, Canyon, and Plainview.

AUSTIN (AP) - Catherine Beene, tennis pro at the University Club in Houston, has named the women's tennis coach at the University of Texas.

Kids, Inc. Signups Saturday

Signups for Kids Incorporated Baseball and Softball will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in the Community Center, Kids Incorporated president Chuck Cosper has announced.

Boys 8-14 who wish to play baseball and girls 8-18 who wish to play softball must sign up during that time. A $10 registration fee will be required from each signee this year, or $20 per family for two or more participants.

"This is to cover insurance expenses, which have doubled in the past year," Cosper said.

Tryouts for the boys baseball teams will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, April 18 and Tuesday, April 19 at the Bronco Parks on Ave. H.

"We want to emphasize that if you're not signed up and haven't paid your registration fee, you can't go on the field," Cosper added.

Players must be accompanied by one or both parents when he or she signs up.

Pistons Collapse; Drop 138-108 Decision

BY LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) - It had to be one of the biggest collapses in National Basketball Association playoff history.

The Detroit Pistons trailed by two points, 69-67, three minutes into the second half and lost by 30 Thursday night, 138-108, to the Golden State Warriors.

There is no room, now, for either team to collapse. Their best-of-three opening-round playoff series is tied 1-1. The teams meet in Oakland Sunday to determine who advances to the quarter-finals against Los Angeles.

"We simply got outplayed, that's all there was to it," said Pistons Coach Herb Brown. "We looked like rank amateurs. That's it. I'm too hoarse to talk."

He may have been understating the case.

"Yeah, I was embarrassed," admitted Detroit center Bob Lanier.

Phil Smith and Rick Barry teamed for 63 points, pacing the Warriors' triumph, before a sellout Cobo Arena crowd of 11,220. Barry scored 28 points and Smith had 28 of his 35 in the first half.

Last year, Smith averaged 31 points against the Pistons and 29.5 against them in the playoffs.

"We didn't go to anyone special. We try to think we're flexible enough to run our stuff to anybody," said Golden State Coach Al Attles. "Smith was going good and Rick hit well and we got the ball to them when they were going hot."

The Warriors, who led only 63-59 at halftime, outscored the Pistons 26-10 in a seven-minute span midway through the third quarter to pull away. Barry, Smith and Cliff Ray each scored six points in the spurt.

Ray scored 16 points, hitting all eight of his shots, including several slam dunks. Rookie Robert Parish came off the bench and scored 20.

Eric Money topped the Pistons with 31 points, while Lanier scored 23 and Chris Ford 22. Lanier, who returned from a 15-game absence a week ago after recovering from a broken right hand, grabbed 18 rebounds.

Earl Strom, one of the two NBA officials who aren't on strike, handled the game along with Rick Schaper - a referee from the semi-pro Eastern League.

Cobo Arena was picketed by four striking officials - Don Murphy, Paul Mihalic, Jim Capers and Mike Mathis. They carried signs reading, "NBA unfair to referees."

Regarding the officials, Attles said: "I told our players it was up to us to control our tempers and keep the fans off of us. You'll notice I yelled at the vet, not the rookie."

There are three NBA playoff games tonight, with all the home teams looking to even the best-of-three series at 1-1. A loss by any home team means elimination.

The Cleveland Cavaliers entertain the Washington Bullets, the San Antonio Spurs are home to the Boston Celtics, and the Chicago Bulls entertain the Portland Trail Blazers.

Bill Mazeroski hit 11 National League home runs for Pittsburgh in 1968.

Carter Energy Plan To Initiate Heavy Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's energy plan probably will include an initial, standby tax increase of five cents a gallon and is sure to call for even heavier taxes on domestically produced crude oil, congressional and administration sources said Wednesday. While details of the President's energy proposals are still being worked out, the package clearly will mean that Americans who use energy excessively will pay a heavy penalty, mostly through added taxes. Among the proposals likely to be sent to Congress on April 20 are: --A gasoline tax increase starting at five cents, and rising another 10 cents annually in the second and third years of the program. It would be imposed only if U.S. consumption fails to decline, a possibility not considered likely by Carter's energy advisers. The current federal tax is four cents per gallon. --A so-called "gas guzzler" tax starting at $412 on new cars which use gas inefficiently. It could go as high as $2,500 for the purchase of each new car. --A tax of several dollars per barrel on crude oil produced in the United States. Its purpose is to gradually lift the price of domestic oil to that charged by Middle Eastern nations and other foreign producers. --Heavy taxes on the industrial use of natural gas in an effort to dramatically increase coal production and use. Although natural gas prices would remain controlled, the ceiling would be allowed to gradually rise, meaning higher heating bills for homeowners. --Payroll taxes, probably Social Security levies, would be lowered to offset the impact on the budgets of lower- and middle-income Americans. The Wall Street Journal said the tax on crude oil producers could result in a 10 per cent increase in gasoline prices in addition to the tax at the gas pump. The newspaper said it had obtained a copy of Carter's energy proposal, which it said is being circulated among administration officials to give them a chance to suggest changes. Congressional sources predict that Carter's energy proposals will face a stiff fight on Capitol Hill. None of the specifics of the plan have been firmly decided, and some of the general proposals may not survive an administration screening if the President decides they are too politically sensitive, the sources said.

The Abundant Life Good Disposition

By Bob Weir

Good disposition is acquired. Some of us probably find it necessary to exert greater effort than others in acquiring this valuable asset.

We have the capacity to make the disposition what it should be, and by continuing effort, we can maintain it. A bad disposition can be improved, and a fairly good one can be made better.

price is never too high. There is no more valuable asset for the individual than the right kind of disposition.

We can cope with the total life situation much better if we maintain a good disposition. Too many people think that their disposition would be better if the life situation were better.

The men who have so little knowledge of human nature as to seek happiness by changing anything but his own dispositions, will waste his life in fruitless efforts.

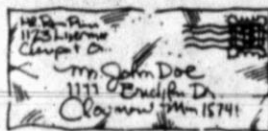

We can acquire a good disposition, and this can become our wealth, our strength, our peace, our happiness, our tie of friendship and our buffer which, at least, modifies the harshness and ugliness of our life's surroundings.

"The main impetus of this year's campaign," explained Mrs. Langley, "is to ask citizens 'What are you doing to keep your city clean?'"

The program falls into two categories—clean up and restoration. In the first classification, it is hoped that residents will remove accumulated trash and other unsightly materials from residential areas and business sectors.

Rural Schools Fare Well In National Comparison

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public school consolidation movement, which has largely eliminated the one-room schoolhouse in rural America, has failed to produce expected financial savings and educational quality, according to a study for the National Institute of Education.

The study prepared by Jonathon P. Sher and Rachel B. Tompkins found the newer, larger regional schools cost as much or more to run as the old, decentralized rural school systems did.

The study called the consolidation of rural schools and school districts "the most successfully implemented educational policy of the past 50 years."

The report, published by the National Institute of Education, the government's education think tank, said consolidation proved popular because it promised rural people economies of scale, modernization, better teachers, more courses and better opportunities for children.

Consolidation "represented a reform of enormous potential for solving most of the problems long considered endemic to rural education," the authors said.

"But even with all their spending and all their new resources, rural people still did not generally receive that which they wanted most dearly, better life chances for their children," the report said.

Those chances are more affected by the "education and income of parents, the social and economic character of the community, the investment of time, energy and love by many adults, and plain luck than they ever are or were by the size, newness or variety of the local school."

Figures compiled by the U.S. Office of Education document the trend toward consolidation: In 1930, there were 149,000 single-teacher elementary schools in the United States.

More than 70 per cent of all elementary schools were abolished during the same period, and the number of traditional four-year high schools was halved while secondary school enrollment tripled.

The study found there were apparent savings that resulted from improved administrative efficiency. But the authors say the savings often have been off-set by some higher costs in other areas.

The authors devised a hypothetical case based on a study of Iowa high schools. In the hypothetical, three rural high schools of 140 pupils each were replaced by one new 420-pupil school.

In the old, small schools, total professional personnel costs were $198,000. But in the new consolidated school, personnel costs amounted to $157,000, a savings of $41,000.

Stevedores Strike May Curtail European Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The strike by thousands of East Coast stevedores against seven major shipping companies was expected to sharply curtail trade between the United States and Europe.

Most North Atlantic cargo travels in the boxcar-sized containers which lie at the heart of the midnight Wednesday walkout by the 35,000-member International Longshoremen's Association.

The brunt of the strike fell on the port of New York, including neighboring New Jersey, where ships from the three domestic lines and four foreign companies utilize docks.

A spokesman at the New York Waterfront Commission said there was no immediate evidence of the strike, but that all 1,000 of New York's 8,000 longshoremen who work on the affected docks were expected to strike the Waterfront Commission said.

The walkout was called at all Atlantic and Gulf coast ports from Maine to Texas, but there was resistance to the strike in districts south of North Carolina.

Ralph Massey, an ILA district president in Houston, said Gulf coast and South Atlantic locals would not honor the walkout call because their contract is valid until Sept. 30, "and we're going to live with it until Sept. 30."

However, Paul Guillory, vice president of a Louisiana local, termed Massey's statement "just one man's opinion."

He said that no ships of the seven companies were in port today but that longshoremen in his state would follow the strike call if such ships arrived. He added that it would affect only 5 to 10 per cent of the business at New Orleans.

The strike is aimed at companies which handle containerized shipments. Although other lines were to be left free to continue operations, a spokesman for the Council for North Atlantic Shipping Associations said the strike "will have a substantial impact."

The dispute stems from a clause in the contract which permitted longshoremen to open cargo containers, unload the contents, then repack the containers before they were transported. The National Labor Relations Board decided the clause was illegal, and the union has been trying to renegotiate its contract since the U.S. Supreme Court refused to consider the NLRB decision.

The union also is seeking a $10 hourly pay rate, up from the current $8; a 32-hour work week; double-time pay for holidays and weekends, and improved pensions. The current contract does not officially expire until Oct. 1, but the union had served 30-day advance notice of contract termination in early February.

The U.S. targets of the strike are Sea-Land Service Inc., Seatrain Lines Inc. and United States Lines. The four foreign lines are the Hapag-Lloyd Cargo and Container Service, Dart Container Line Co., Atlantic Container Line Ltd., and the Russian-owned Baltic Line.

FOLK ART PAINTINGS NEW YORK (AP)—The Museum of Folk Art is presenting a display of paintings and watercolors, "Selected Masterpieces of New York State Folk Painting." The exhibition is the last of a series on New York State folk arts, and will be shown through May 22.
