HISD Absentee Voting Begins Monday

Place Election Scheduled But Probably To Change

By PAUL SIMS
 Managing Editor

The Hereford Independent School District will proceed, as scheduled, with absentee balloting Monday but probably will be forced to call off the planned April 1 place-system election.

Those were the topics of discussion early this morning during an emergency session of the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees, who have found themselves caught between conflicting provisions of federal and state law.

The Justice Department, headed by U.S. Atty. Gen. Griffin B. Bell, promised Monday to file an injunction against the HISD to stop the April 1 election. The injunction is the afterbirth of a Supreme Court ruling that all political entities in Texas are subject to the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

The Supreme Court ruled 6-3 Monday to reverse the decision of a three-judge court in Alabama that Sheffield, Ala., is not covered by the Voting Rights Act, designed to protect the rights of minority voters and candidates.

In an opinion written by Justice William J. Brennan, it said "the act covers all political units within designated jurisdictions like Alabama."

That includes the HISD, which probably will have to change from a place to at-large system of voting. The school district in 1974 changed from an at-large to place system and, after seeking approval from the Justice Department as mandated by the Voting Rights Act, was told the change would not be allowed.

Hereford sued the Justice Department and later was consolidated with six other Texas school districts and the city of Beeville as the case was sent to a three-judge panel in Dallas.

The panel never heard the case and Monday's Supreme Court ruling likely dissolved both the consolidation of judges and the eight entities.

"We will be seeking injunctive relief with respect to those elections," John MacCoun, trial attorney for Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, told The Brand Monday.

State law, meanwhile, forbids a governmental body having set an election from changing either the date or procedure of voting.

"If we do hold an election on April 1, we might not be acting in good faith with the federal government," attorney Richard Green told trustees today.

Board members decided that they would proceed with plans for the April 1 place election but discussed the fact that the public should be aware there is a probability the election will be delayed and that at-large voting (no candidates running for individual places on the board) could be conducted.

Should the school district change to an at-large system, it is required by law that filing be re-opened with revised deadlines which would postponement of the April 1 election.

"I can't understand their (the Justice Department's) thinking. If they're going to file an injunction, I can see them filing it in May or July," board member Clark Andrews told attorneys Earnest Langley and Green.

"It sounds like it's not their objective to make us have minority representation on the board but to tell us how to have our election."

Green told Andrews the Civil Rights Division "just isn't going to let any election proceed that has a Section 5 (concerning pre-clearance) objection outstanding."

The HISD, according to Langley and Green, has the option according to the Voting Rights Act to obtain a declaratory judgment in federal district court in Washington, D.C. that the current place system is or is not discriminatory.

No decision was reached by the board on taking its argument to that court.

Election Discussion

Attorneys Richard Green, left, and Earnest Langley discuss routes the Hereford Independent School District board of education can take concerning the upcoming trustee election. The board called an emergency meeting this morning after finding itself caught between conflicting state and federal election laws. Absentee balloting for the scheduled April 1 election will begin Monday although board members said there is a probability that regular voting will be delayed. (Brand photo)

Tower Dealings Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texas Democrats hoping to unseat Sen. John Tower called upon the Republican to explain his "relationship" with accused South Korean influence peddler Tongsun Park.

"I expected to have to put up with this," Tower said Wednesday when asked to respond to charges leveled by Rep. Bob Krueger and former state insurance board chairman Joe Christie. "It means the focus is on me even though there are an awful lot of people involved. No one promised me a rose garden when I got in this business."

"My own conscience on this is very clear indeed so I have no regrets about anything."

Krueger and Christie are entered in the May Democratic primary vying for the opportunity to challenge Tower in November.

During a Wednesday press conference held down the hall from the room where Park was testifying before a House committee investigating allegations of influence buying on Capitol Hill, Krueger said "Texas stands embarrassed, for Texans do not expect the person who holds the highest office within the power of the people of the state of Texas to give

Game, Fish Hearing Set

A game and fish regulations hearing will be conducted by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. Monday at 10 a.m. at the county courthouse.

Hearing officer Stanley McDough of Canyon, wildlife biologist David Dvorak of Canyon and local game warden Chuck Cosper will be on hand to hear comments from local sportsmen pertaining to Deaf Smith County for the coming season.

All comments made at the hearing by both P&WD personnel and the public will be recorded and presented to the P&W Commission for consideration prior to an April 13-14 meeting in Austin.

Proposed changes recommended by the P&WD will include no protection of spike bucks; closing of whitetail deer hunting in Andrews County; increasing the Panhandle antelope season; separate mule deer and whitetail deer regulations; and the establishment of more uniform quail seasons throughout the state.

Biological justifications for each proposed change will be discussed. If

Farmers Would Be Paid for Cutbacks

Senators Introduce Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., has put his political muscle as a veteran of the "Old Guard" in the Senate on the line with a move to get emergency farm legislation to President Carter by March 29.

The measure he and 15 other influential senators introduced Wednesday is a $2.3 billion program of mandatory payments to farmers who wish to take more cropland out of production than Carter says would be wise in the event of a major crop failure later.

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland can make such payments now but has repeatedly said he won't, either for his own set-aside programs for wheat and feedgrains or the diversions Talmadge wants of land now slated to produce wheat, feedgrains, cotton or soybeans.

It does not come near the demands of the American Agriculture protest group, the Senate Agriculture Committee chairman told reporters. Bills to substantially change federal farm policy or rework last fall's provisions of existing policy will be handled later.

Because of wide disagreements within Congress and among farmers on how to solve the predicted cost-price crunch and slump in farm income, he said, "I do not believe the problems can be resolved before laying-by time this year."

The committee's minority leader, Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., joined in, while noting he has nine extensive measures awaiting action and more in his pocket. "But the laying-aside time has already come in the wheat belt," he said.

The Crop Reporting Board said later that corn planting in the southernmost areas is behind schedule this year because of either wet fields or cold soil temperatures.

All the senators involved urged speedy passage, with Talmadge saying he has alerted his House counterpart to be ready to move there. If his panel approves the bill Wednesday as expected, he said he will ask Senate leaders to hold up the Panama Canal treaty debate long enough to act on the emergency legislation.

The obstacles are clear: hostile budget committee chairmen in both chambers and traditionally rough going in the House for farm bills.

A veteran Midwest Republican representative said privately, however, that such speed is possible if farm-belt members cut a deal with urbanites who need votes for New York City aid measures.

Talmadge said his approach has two prime advantages. First, it would put money in farmers' empty pockets quickly, by giving them half their payments of up to $75 an acre as soon as they sign the contract.

Then, he said, "taxpayers may actually save money" since market prices would be forced up high enough by the restricted production that the government would not have to make some $3 billion in so-called deficiency payments to compensate farmers for low returns.

Talmadge threw in a couple hooks for the administration: the raising of loan limits and special programs Bergland seeks for his rural-croft operations, which a House committee has been struggling with this week and the Senate panel has had pending since October, and a boost in USDA's borrowing authority.

Farmers also would have to already be participating in the Bergland set-aside programs to be eligible for the program designed to trim by 31 million acres the roughly 275 million acres growers say they intend to plant major crops this season.

Consumer Food Prices Rise Nearly 3 Percent in February

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prices manufacturers receive for their products rose by the largest amount in three years last month as food prices showed unusually large gains, the Labor Department said today.

Consumer foods rose 2.9 percent in February, leading the increase of 1.1 percent for all finished goods.

These prices, charged at the last stage of production, usually show up at the consumer level within a few months.

Consumer prices have already begun to rise rapidly, going up 0.8 percent in January, about double the increases of last year.

The 1.1 percent increase in finished goods prices for January was the largest since a 1.9 percent increase in November 1974. It followed rises of 0.6 percent in November, 0.5 percent in December and 0.6 percent in January.

Unlike the January report, most of the increases were among foods, some of them in short supply because of the severe winter weather.

Wholesale prices turned up sharply for pork, eggs and dairy products in February after declining in the previous month. Beef and veal prices rose much more than in January. However, prices declined for roasted coffee. Prices rose less than in January for fresh and dried fruits and vegetables and processed poultry. The 2.9 percent price increase for consumer foods followed rises of 1.1 percent in January and 0.5 percent in December.

If food is removed, wholesale prices were up 0.4 percent, about the same level as the last half of 1977.

Prices declined for jewelry, gasoline and home heating oil.

Prices rose less in February than in January for automobiles, household furniture and mobile homes. However, prices rose more rapidly for beverages, soap and synthetic detergents, footwear and tobacco products.

The Labor Department's Finished Goods Price Index is intended to replace

Hereford Man Re-Appointed To TCUS Coordinating Board

Hereford attorney Wayne Thomas has been re-appointed to the Texas College and University System Coordinating Board, it was announced Tuesday by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Thomas, a past chairman of the board, received official notification and took the oath of office yesterday afternoon. He has served on the board since 1970, filling out an unexpired term that year and being re-appointed for a six-year term in 1971.

Briscoe re-appointed three other members and named three new ones. The coordinating board has 18 members. One member resigned this year because of illness.

Other members re-appointed were Marshall Formby of Plainview, Newton

Gresham, Houston attorney, and M. Harvey Weil, Corpus Christi attorney.

New members named to the board include Charles C. Butt of Corpus Christi, Ned Wade Jr. of Houston, and Robert H. Park of Houston. Butt is president of the H.E. Butt Grocery Co.; Wade is an attorney and director of the United Negro College Fund for Houston; and Park is general manager of Josey Oil Co.

Contacted here Wednesday afternoon, Thomas said: "I am, of course, honored to be re-appointed. I feel the whole field of higher education is very important to the State of Texas. It is rewarding to serve on this board with such a distinguished and dedicated group of men and women."

Vegetable Trucks Stopped in Arizona

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — With farmers and law enforcement officers assuring they will keep the peace, 100 farmers today prepared a symbolic blockade of Mexican produce trucks two miles north of the international border.

The demonstration, expected to get under way around midday, will be much smaller than had been hoped for by American Agriculture Movement organizers, who at first said they expected as many as 2,000 protesters.

The farmers will use 35 tractors to block a road two miles from the U.S. Customs Service compound, where one produce-laden truck has been crossing the border every minute during the current Mexican winter vegetable season.

At an informal session Wednesday night, demonstration organizers and Santa Cruz County Sheriff Jaime Teyechea said they were confident the protest will not result in violence.

"I'm happy to tell you that I am comfortable with you people," Teyechea told the farmers. "I don't anticipate any problems because there has been direct communication between myself and your leaders."

Jim Breckenridge, a blockade organizer from Elfrida, Ariz., issued a warning to fellow farmers: "We're down here for a peaceful demonstration. The first guy who gets out of line, I'll break his arm. We'll control our own people."

Gov. Bruce Babbitt sent a member of his staff here to help coordinate law enforcement activities.

The governor also met Wednesday

Briscoe Declares Deaf Smith County As Disaster Area

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked Wednesday that Deaf Smith, Clay, Deaf Smith and Jack counties be declared disaster areas because of adverse weather conditions from Nov. 11, 1976, through Feb. 24, 1978.

The designation, if granted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, would let Texas farmers and ranchers get emergency loans to cover physical and production losses.

Briscoe also asked the Farmers Home Administration to declare Deaf Smith County a disaster area so farmers could take part in emergency FHEA programs.

Police Release Morris In Flynt Investigation

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) - When he called police from a tavern, Teddy Morris wanted to talk about the shooting of Hustler magazine owner Larry Flynt. He didn't have many details, but police decided to question him anyway - just in case.

Morris' attorney, Robert Anderson, said Georgia officials had the feeling they were being hoaxed even as they traveled to Virginia.

Morris, 20, said by police to be a junior high school dropout with a record of minor offenses including public drunkenness and bad check charges, was freed Wednesday after authorities determined that he knew nothing about the shooting of Flynt.

"I don't know Larry Flynt. I'm sorry he was shot and all," Morris said before he dropped out of sight shortly after his release.

"I'd suppose, in some sort of drunken way, he imagined he might profit financially," said Anderson, adding that he was "95 percent certain" Morris was drunk when he called Georgia.

Morris was taken into custody by Norfolk police at a tavern.

"I know a lot of people are using the word 'over-reaction,'" said Gwinnett County, Ga., Deputy Police Chief Larry Puckett. "But we had more to go on than somebody just calling up and saying 'old Teddy did it.'"

Gaurd Kills Man In Hijack Attempt

HONG KONG (AP) - A crewman waving an axe and a pair of scissors tried to hijack a Taiwanese jetliner to mainland China today but a security guard aboard the plane shot and killed him, police said. The pilot and co-pilot were injured by the crewman, identified as flight engineer Shih Ming-Cheng, 34, before he was shot, police said.

The plane, a Boeing 737 carrying 101 persons from Kaoshiung, Taiwan, to Hong Kong, landed at Hong Kong and the "situation is under control," a government spokesman said.

Both injured crewmen were hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

A relative said the would-be hijacker was a native of Taiwan. It was not immediately known why he was trying to get from the Nationalist Chinese-ruled island to the communist Chinese mainland.

Officials said radar at Hong Kong airport tracking the incoming flight spotted the plane veering slightly off its regular course toward the China mainland when it was about 10 miles from Hong Kong.

Performers Arrested At 'Oh, Calcutta'

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) - Nine performers were arrested after Wednesday's night's performance of the play "Oh, Calcutta" at the Municipal Auditorium.

About 30 persons who were gathered outside the stage door occasionally cheered as police led the cast members out and into a waiting police van. About 10 persons who described themselves "all Christian" handed out religious literature outside the theater.

Sebastian County Prosecuting Attorney Charles Karr said the nine performers would face misdemeanor obscenity charges.

The performers were released on $2,500 bond each. They are to be arraigned in Fort Smith Municipal Court March 20.

Before the play had begun, Fort Smith police served the company with a search warrant to allow them to videotape the performance. The warrant was issued by Municipal Judge Lawson Cloninger of Fort Smith on an affidavit signed by Karr.

Cloninger said in the warrant that there was reason to believe that an obscene performance of a live public show would be performed at the auditorium, and that was reason for the search warrant to be issued.

Rhodesia Guerillas Meet with Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) - Two guerrilla leaders who have vowed to take over Rhodesia by force are meeting with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance as part of an Anglo-American drive to bring all black elements into any settlement.

Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe of the Patriotic Front have dismissed the current plan for black rule in Rhodesia as "the biggest sellout in African history."

Their meeting with Vance today represents an intensified effort by the administration to bring them into the negotiations and thereby halt the raids conducted by the guerrillas from bases in Zambia and Mozambique.

Vance said Wednesday that the plan completed last week by Prime Minister Ian Smith and three black nationalist leaders was no more than "a proposal" that would have to be measured against the yardstick of a more comprehensive Anglo-American approach.

Vance rejected with a terse "no" Smith's appeal for help in ending international economic sanctions against Rhodesia and said the Patriotic Front must be brought into the settlement.

Foul Play Suspected As Search Continues

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP) - An intensive hunt through rough, snowy wilderness focuses on five slightly retarded men who vanished without a trace more than a week ago. Officials are beginning to suspect foul play.

"We don't know what happened to them - we've a real mystery on our hands," declared Yuba County Under-sheriff Jack Beecham.

If the missing men, all members of a basketball team, became confused and wandered into the forest, little hope could be held for their survival, said Sheriff Jim Grant.

"It's very heavily forested country, rough and mountainous and rocky," said Beecham. "Some places you can only get in on horseback."

Beecham noted that a study of the personality profiles of the missing men shows their disappearance to be totally out of character. "In fact, as time goes on it looks more and more like foul play," Beecham said.

Teams of deputies from Yuba and adjoining Butte counties, some 150 miles northeast of San Francisco, have been searching the mountains on horseback, with dogs, in four-wheel drive vehicles and in a helicopter.

The men were to play in a basketball game the night of Feb. 25 at Chico, and return to their homes. But their car was found abandoned the next day some 20 miles east, on a Plumas National Forest road closed farther on by snow.

Grant and Beecham said the men, who live with their families and are part of a program for the mentally handicapped, were reported to be able to function well except if placed in a stressful situation when their behavior tended to "deteriorate."

"We hate to guess what happened to them," said Grant. "They could have stopped to aid somebody, and the people they aided took advantage of them."

The families and friends of the missing men have offered a $1,215 reward for information on where to find them.

The missing men are Jack Madruga, 30, and Jack Huett, 24, both of Marysville; Ted Weiher, 32, and Gary Mathias, both of Olivehurst; and William Sterling, 29, of Yuba City.

Madruga and Mathias had driver's licenses.

Birth-Control Shot Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) - The federal government is preparing to declare a controversial three-month birth control shot, widely used in other countries, too dangerous for contraceptive use in the United States, sources say.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, said Food and Drug Commissioner Donald Kennedy already had notified the drug's manufacturer and planned to announce his decision to Congress today.

The drug is medroxyprogesterone, marketed by Upjohn Co. under the brand name Depo Provera.

Depo Provera is approved by the FDA for use as an anti-cancer drug. But like many chemicals used to fight the disease, it is known to cause cancer in some animals and has been linked statistically to increased cervical cancer in humans.

It also has been associated with temporary and sometimes permanent sterility.

The FDA announced in September 1974 that it would approve Depo Provera for contraceptive use because it was clearly effective in preventing pregnancy when injected at three-month intervals. The FDA said there is a demonstrable need for a long-acting drug among women unwilling or unable to use other birth-control methods.

But a few days before the order was to go into effect, the agency backed off in the face of strong criticism from Rep. L.H. Fountain, D-N.C., and several consumer groups, including Ralph Nader's Health Research Group.

There have been periodic reports since then that FDA was about to approve Depo Provera injections for long-term birth control.

And because it already is on the market for one use - cancer treatment - it is readily available to physicians who want to prescribe it. The Nader group and other consumer groups have estimated as many as 10,000 American women annually have been given the injection to prevent pregnancy.

The synthetic hormone has been approved as a 90-day contraceptive shot in some 35 nations and is widely used in many of them.

The old Wholesale Price Index rose 1 percent in February, the largest increase since a 1 percent rise last April.

The protest is part of the continuing nationwide farmers' strike aimed at getting parity prices for farm products.

In addition, farmers here say they are concerned that Mexican farmers use the insecticide DDT on their crops, while that chemical is banned in the United States and U.S. farmers must use more expensive products.

There has been some speculation by farmers here that the Mexican government, unhappy with a similar blockade last week in Texas, will order produce trucks held on its side of the border to avoid the blockade.

"If the Mexicans don't send any produce across, we will be there the next day," Breckenridge said. "If they send some vegetables across, they'll have done the job."

The organizers said they hope to back up 200 trucks with the blockade. The Arizona Department of Public Safety was expected to line up patrol cars as a buffer between the tractors and any trucks reaching the blockade area, organizers said.

Law enforcement authorities did not say how long they would allow the blockade to remain in place, but Breckenridge said it will be lifted when officers order it.

to be standing with Tongson Park.

"Tongson Park is a man with a reputation for wine, women and money," Krueger continued. "If there is a friendship between our state's senior senator and Mr. Park, the people of Texas are entitled to know what is the nature of that relationship."

Krueger also charged that Tower did not really remove himself from the Park investigation by the Senate Ethics Committee of which Tower is a member.

In Texas, Christie said: "Why did he Tower wait until the eve of Park's testimony before the Senate Ethics Committee before disqualifying himself?"

"If Tower indeed is on the 'master list' of a small number of senators being investigated, he owes it to Texans to explain why the Korean government thought he might be willing to accept a bribe in return for continuing aid to Korea."

On Feb. 21 Tower sent a letter to the committee's chairman, Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., disqualifying himself from "participating in the initial review or investigation pending before the committee regarding contacts of members of the Senate with the Korean government or agents of that government."

"I now understand that Sen. Tower did not really remove himself from the investigation, rather under the rules of the Senate he would be 'ineligible' to participate in this investigation because he himself is under investigation," said Krueger.

"This is not an investigation."

continued Tower. "This is an initial review. The records of a number of senators have been asked for. Letters went out to about 156 present and former senators. I have supplied certain records to the committee and will supply any they ask for."

Krueger charged that Tower "made a tactical error when he attempted to sell to the American people the concept that his disqualifying himself was a noble endeavor when he had no real choice in the matter. The people of Texas are fortunate that subsequent investigation by the media clearly shows that he would be in violation of committee rules had he remained."

Tower repeated Wednesday that he had disclosed his "social acquaintance" of Park in the summer of 1975. "I have not seen him Park for 2 1/2 years," Tower said.

Citing confidentiality requirements, Tower refused to relate the nature of any documents he had turned over to the committee or to verify reports he will be called upon to testify before the committee.

In his letter to Stevenson, Tower wrote: "To the best of my knowledge, there has never been an attempt by anyone connected with the government of Korea, or otherwise, to improperly influence my legislative decisions."

Tower also wrote that he had been a "strong supporter of the efforts of the people of the republics of China and Korea to maintain their freedom consistent with my perceptions of our own national interest."

Soviets Celebrate IWD, Laud Successes of Liberation

MOSCOW (AP) - As Soviet officials celebrated International Women's Day by lauding the "epochal successes" of women's liberation in the Soviet Union, security police Wednesday broke up a demonstration by a group of Jewish women who want to emigrate.

"Soviet authorities have demonstrated again what women's rights in this country really mean," the activists said in a statement prepared for the protest in downtown Moscow near the Kremlin.

Dozens of agents moved in quickly to break up the small gathering. Dissident sources said six women were seized by plainclothes agents and taken away during the demonstration, organized to protest the Soviet government's refusal to permit the women to emigrate. Most of them want to go to Israel.

Four other women who had planned to take part in the protest were detained by police at their homes and then driven away, the sources said.

They included Irina McClellan, who has been barred for 3½ years from joining her American husband, Professor Woodford McClellan, a teacher of Russian and East European history at the University of Virginia. Mrs. McClellan and her husband were married in 1974.

"For 3½ years we have been separated by the Soviet government without any reason," she said in a statement distributed to Western correspondents. "During this period of separation I have been terribly tormented by the regime."

Another 23 women were kept inside their apartments by police and security agents to prevent them from taking part in the demonstration, the sources said.

Brief scuffles occurred, at Wednesday's demonstration near the main steps of the Lenin Library as security agents ripped away placards only seconds after they were displayed by the protesters. One woman was grabbed roughly and dragged away by agents as she attempted to approach the scene from a nearby subway exit.

The library steps were blocked off with barricades as more than 50 plainclothesmen kept watch over the area, aided by uniformed police.

The official celebration of Women's Day, by contrast, was marked by abundant praise of the equality, rights and opportunities formally guaranteed to women under Soviet legislation and the new constitution.

"Socialism central put an end once and for all to the rightlessness and oppression of women, has opened up boundless opportunities for the flowering of their creative forces," said a holiday proclamation by the Soviet Communist Party's central committee.

"The epochal successes of the Soviet Union in the solution of problems of women ... the broad rights and liberties of Soviet women, their outstanding role in the life of society, are objects of our pride and serve as a model for the working women of all continents," the proclamation said.

During a carefully orchestrated "festive meeting" at the Bolshoi Theater Tuesday evening, former cosmonaut Valentina Nikolayevna-Tereshkova denounced the U.S.-developed neutron bomb and stressed the role of women in campaigning for worldwide disarmament.

State Officials Debate On Taxpayers' Relief

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

From Maine to California, state treasuries are bulging, in sharp contrast to the deficits of two years ago, and lawmakers are debating ways to give some of the money back to the taxpayers.

A spot check by The Associated Press and a survey by the Tax Foundation Inc. found that 31 states expect to have a surplus at the end of the current one- or two-year fiscal period.

The surpluses are not confined to any particular area of the country, making it hard to pinpoint the reason for financial health. They can be found in industrial states like New York and Illinois, as well as in more rural areas like Kansas and Wisconsin.

Proposals for refunding some of the money vary from state to state and, often, among officials within a state.

In Wisconsin, for example, there are three conflicting plans for election-year tax cuts to divvy up a $400 million to $425 million surplus. In Colorado there are no less than a dozen schemes.

The amount of the surpluses also vary widely.

California expects to have $3.21 billion left when the current fiscal year ends June 30; South Dakota officials expect a $4.9 million surplus July 1 and a $5.3 million surplus by July 1, 1979.

It is equally difficult to characterize states with deficits. Among those in or near the red, for example, are Pennsylvania, with a $64 million deficit and Hawaii, which the Tax Foundation says will go from a $35.2 million surplus in fiscal 1977 which ended last June 30 to a $3.5 million deficit in fiscal 1979.

Overall totals for surpluses are difficult to calculate because states use a variety of financial calendars and fiscal systems.

In a study released Wednesday, the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research group, said state and local governments reported a $13.3 billion surplus on general accounts in calendar year 1977, up by nearly $10 billion from the previous year.

They said the surpluses "reflect strong growth in receipts, coupled with apparent expenditure restraints. In both 1976 and 1977, receipts rose by 11 to 12 percent annually, while expenditure growth was in the 7 to 8 percent range."

The situation today contrasts with that a little over two years ago, when the nation was still suffering from recession and inflation. The Commerce Department said that at the end of the third quarter of 1975, state governments had deficits of $11.5 billion. On Jan. 15, 1976, the National Governors Conference said that a 37-state survey showed most states faced "an increasingly bleak fiscal future."

The same inflation which helped cause the squeeze also helped cure it, however. As earnings and prices rose, receipts from state income and sales levies also went up, sometimes faster than anticipated.

A growing number of states are setting ceilings on budget increases, linking boosts to growth in personal income.

In addition, many state constitutions forbid deficit spending, meaning the budget must be balanced or show a surplus.

Company Not Liable

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - An insurance company was not liable for a life insurance policy taken on a 16-year-old boy because the father failed to tell the company his son had sickle cell anemia, the Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The court said the Reliable Life Insurance Co. would not have issued a policy if it had known the boy had been hospitalized less than two years before the policy application was received.

"The uncontroverted evidence is that a prudent insurer would not have issued a policy on the life of a young boy afflicted with sickle cell anemia," the court said.

The father, James D. Robinson, sought $2,000 from the company after his son's death.

Court Refuses Evangelist

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Evangelist Lester Roloff lost a bid Wednesday for a rehearing before the Texas Supreme Court of his suit contesting state regulation of his homes for troubled youngsters.

The court refused to reconsider its Feb. 8 decision, which upheld lower court decisions that state regulation would not violate Roloff's constitutional right to free exercise of religion.

In other cases, the court: - Affirmed school districts' rights to force teachers to retire before age 65. The issue arose when three teachers of the Monahan-Wickett-Pyote Independent School District challenged district regulations of a mandatory retirement age of 62.

The high court said a 1969 law gave school districts right to set their own retirement ages, although an earlier law set 65 as the retirement age for most state employees.

Said the Reliable Life Insurance Co. company was not liable for a life insurance policy taken on a 16-year-old boy because the father did not tell the company his son had sickle cell anemia.

Netters Rip Canyon; Meet Begins Friday

The HHS netters enjoyed probably their finest day on the court Monday with a 11-3 win over Canyon in boys' play and a 7-1 win over the Eagle girls. The matches came just one day before the team was to have gone to Clovis for matches against the Wildcats, but bad weather forced the CLovis match to be postponed until today.

The Whitefaces will host teams from six other schools tomorrow and Saturday in the Hereford Invitational Tournament. Included in the field are netters from Lubbock High, Plainview, Canyon, Memphis, Borger, and Pampa.

Canyon's Todd Kent has been seeded number one in boys' singles for the tournament over Plainview's David Vargas. Mark Nielson of Borger is the number three seed, while Pampa's Sam Gilbert is seeded number four.

In girls' singles Sonja Hutcherson of Memphis has drawn the top seed over Plainview's Theresa Landry. Sharon Landry of Plainview is seeded third, while Borger's Kim Clark is seeded fourth. The top-seeded team in boys' doubles are Campbell - Dang of Lubbock High, while Hamilton-Sullivan of Borger have drawn the nod in fem doubles play.

The highest-ranked Hereford entrants are Ruben Vargas-Jimmy Ramirez who have been seeded fourth in boys' doubles.

Play in the tournament will begin at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow morning at the HHS courts.

The Hereford High School boys' and girls' track teams will both travel to Pampa tomorrow to compete in the weather-delayed Pampa Invitational Track Meet. The meet, originally set for last weekend, had to be postponed due to bad weather.

Coaches Danny Haney, Stacy Bixler, and Kenny Barnes will direct the Whiteface boys in their division of the meet, while Martha Emerson will guide the fems. Girls' head coach Roy Shipp will be absent after traveling to Austin to attend the state girls' basketball tournament.

The Whitefaces will be at home next weekend for the Annual Deaf Smith County Relays. The Herd fems will compete on Friday of next week, while the boys will run on Saturday.

Baseball Team Hosts PD Dons

The Hereford Whiteface baseball team will attempt for the fifth time today to get the 1978 campaign begun with a contest against the Palo Duro Dons scheduled for 4 p.m. at Whiteface Field.

Coach David Ashby's diamondmen have been frustrated thus far this spring with four games already wiped out the slate due to harsh winter weather.

"We really need to play against somebody else than ourselves," Ashby said Wednesday. "It's really been tough out there at practice the past couple of days."

Due to the delay in beginning the HHS pitching staff will be at a disadvantage against the Dons, who have already played four games. Palo Duro has been less than a ball of fire, however, standing at 1-3 coming into today's clash.

"I don't know if our pitchers can go seven innings or not," Ashby said. "But, right now we will go with Kevin (Bunch) against Palo Duro, and then use Chris (Hill) against Amarillo High Friday.

Bunch, a junior lefty, has a looping curve ball in his bag of pitches, while Hill, a senior, is a fire-balling right-hander who is heading into his third year of varsity competition.

With Bunch on the mound today Ashby confided that he plans to use Hill at shortstop. Other Herd infielders will include Richard Waters at first, Kent Ellis at second, and Greg Hennington at third. Mike Culp will begin behind the plate for the Whitefaces.

Ashby will use three of the following four players in the outfield: Larry McNutt, Donald Johnson, John Wagner, and Ernie Suarez.

Even if the season's initial outing doesn't come out with the 'Faces on top they're sure to look sharp. The Herd will break out a new set of pants for today's game.

Girls' Cage Meets Begin at Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Undefeated and untested Canyon led 20 teams - including eight newcomers - into the 28th annual girls' high school basketball tournament today.

Three defending champions - Canyon, high-scoring Dallas South Oak Cliff and Nazareth - won spots in the three-day tournament.

Semi-finals were scheduled for Thursday and Friday, with the five state championship games set for Saturday.

Canyon, 36-0, has been to the tournament in 3A every year since 1969, which is a record. The Eagles won titles in 1969, 1972, 1974 and 1977 and were runners-up in 1970, 1971, 1973, 1975 and 1976.

SOC's victories included a 143-30 triumph over Dallas Carter and 136-7 over North Dallas.

Tennessee Suit Could Alter Fem Cage Play

By TERRY KINNEY
AP Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - Could a lawsuit originally filed in Tennessee bring down Iowa's six-girl basketball rules, making the current 59th Girls' State tournament the last of its kind?

"No way at all. I wouldn't even entertain a thought of that type," said E. Wayne Cooley, executive secretary of the Iowa Girls High School Athletic Union.

Iowa and Tennessee, along with Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New York, are the only states where girls play the unique brand of basketball in which three members of each team are designated guards and always play half-court defense against three forwards from the other team who try to score points.

Everywhere else, girls play by international rules - "boys' rules" - in which all five players on a team roam the entire court and all my shoot at the opponent's basket.

"I think the intent of those who would have us change to boys' rules is to pull the high school game down to the level of the college game," said Cooley. "We have an outstanding program going, and I don't see any reason to change."

This year's week-long tournament testifies to the popularity of the six-girl game in Iowa. Some 35,635 fans have paid their way into the first two day's sessions, and all sessions hereafter have long been sold out.

All tickets for the championship game, which also is televised around Iowa, have been sold for two months. They were sold by mail order, and never went on public sale.

All sessions are held in Veterans Auditorium, which seats nearly 15,000 for basketball.

"We already have visitors ordering their tickets for next year, 12 months in advance," said Cooley. "They don't even care one bit who's playing. They just love the game."

Cooley said some 27,000 Iowa girls play high school basketball, and that the sport pays its own way with no subsidy from boys' athletics.

"Anything we do is done for the welfare of the girls," said Cooley. "The boys' game contributes nothing to Iowa girls. Our program lets the girl athletes walk tall and proud."

"Iowa girls pay their own way," reiterated Cooley. "Girls' high school athletics don't need to be subsidized like they do in college."

Cooley discounted the argument - the basis for the Tennessee suit - that girls who play the guard position have less chance to learn to shoot well enough to be offered college scholarships.

"It isn't our business to train the girl players who would become good enough to get college scholarships," he said. "And they can't give me one single instance where it five-girl basketball is doing that."

"We've built the best girls program there is," said Cooley. "Why would we want to change?"

YMCA Youth Cage Action Underway

The Hereford area YMCA began its youth basketball program at the Stanton Junior High gym Tuesday night with the Celtics and 76ers gaining close victories and the Longhorns and Rockets having an easier time of it.

Games at 6 p.m. had the 76ers 24-21 winners over the Knicks and the Longhorns 34-20 winners over the Spurs. Results at 7 p.m. had the Celtics 32-28 winners over the Whitefaces, and the Rockets 29-14 winners over the Bullets.

Michelle Hughes scored nine points in leading the Knicks in their loss to the 76ers. Miss Hughes' nine points was tops for all players. Robert Gamboa tallied eight for the winners, while Blair Rogers had the same number for the Knicks.

Labry Welty's 12 points led the Longhorns over the Spurs, while Robert Martinez and Craig Jones pitched in 10 apiece. Barry Hodges topped the Spurs with 10 also.

Jerry Baker scored 14 to take some of the sting out of the Whitefaces' loss to the Celtics. Vernon Carroll and Sammy Suarez led the Celtics with 12 points each.

Jeff Streun led the Rockets with 11 points, while Bill Cumpston and Mike Scott added six each. Leading the Bilets was Kristi Lytal with six points, while John Ford added four.

Youth basketball play continues tonight, and play will continue on Tuesday and Thursday nights throughout the season.

The manager of a cafeteria also said $150 in cash was missing from a cash register shortly after the cashier's attention was diverted by a Wheatley player.

The incidents occurred while Wheatley was in Austin to compete in the state schoolboy basketball tournament which they won Saturday by defeating San Antonio Fox Tech.

Herald said Wednesday that one player has taken the responsibility for the incident at the cafeteria and three others admitted to taking jewelry.

"I'm so ashamed I don't know what to do," Herald said. "But at the same time I'm doggone proud of the very boys who walked into my office with tears in their eyes and said 'I'm sorry I did this to the school.'"

Cagers Admit Role In Austin Thefts

HOUSTON (AP) - Principal A.C. Herald Jr. says four members of the state Class 4A champion Houston Wheatley High School basketball team have admitted participating in a shoplifting incident in Austin last week during the state schoolboy basketball tournament.

Herald declined to identify the four, even to Houston Independent School District officials, but said there would be severe disciplinary measures. He said some of the seniors involved may not be allowed to graduate.

A shopkeeper in a north Austin shopping mall said necklaces valued at more than $150 were taken from her store last Thursday after it was visited by members of the Wheatley team.

Nebraska, Hoyas Win NIT Openers

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

They've fired the first shots of the National Invitation Tournament - and not much separated the best from the rest.

In two down-to-the-wire games Wednesday night, Georgetown defeated Virginia 70-68 in an overtime thriller and Nebraska edged Utah State 67-66 as the far-flung NIT started first-round play in regional outposts.

At Charlottesville, Va., Mike Riley and Craig Shelton hit two free throws each in the final 10 seconds of overtime to lead Georgetown over Virginia.

With 47 seconds left in overtime, the Cavaliers took the lead 67-66 on a 15-foot jumper by Tommy Hicks before Riley and Shelton pulled out the game for Georgetown from the foul line. The score was tied twice and the lead changed hands six times in the overtime period.

The Hoyas earned a spot in the quarter-finals against the winner of Friday's night Fairfield-Dayton game.

At Lincoln, Neb., Carl McPipe's free throw with 1:52 left put Nebraska in front and the Cornhuskers held on to beat Utah State by a whisker.

Freshmen Andre Smith and Mike Naderer sparked Nebraska in the second half as the Huskers were helped by Utah State's foul trouble.

Naderer hit on six outside shots and played alert defense, and Smith, who alternated with McPipe at center, scored 18 points to lead the Huskers. Nebraska advanced to a quarterfinal meeting against the winner of Friday night's Texas-Temple game.

The NIT continues tonight with Army playing at Rutgers and Virginia Commonwealth visiting Detroit. In Friday night's action, Temple will play at Texas, Fairfield at Dayton, Illinois State at Indiana State and South Carolina at North Carolina State.

The quarter-finals will continue at regional sites next week, with the semifinals and finals to be held at Madison Square Garden in New York on March 19 and 21.

The NCAA playoffs begin Saturday, starting the long and winding road toward the national championship in St. Louis later this month. A 32-team field, including defending champion Marquette, will open first-round play at various regional sites.

Promoter May Change Location of Rematch

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Bob Arum says he will switch the proposed site for a $14 million heavyweight championship rematch in September between Leon Spinks and Muhammad Ali of the president of the African nation of Bophuthatswana is unable to satisfy objections of leaders of civil rights and anti-apartheid organizations in the United States.

A spokesman for the NAACP said the "fighters would be selling their souls" if they went to Bophuthatswana, which is composed of six small, separated areas landlocked within South Africa. The only country in the world to recognize it as an independent nation is South Africa.

Prexy Nesbitt, associate director of the American Committee on South Africa, said he was "shocked" to learn the fight might be held there. He called Bophuthatswana part of "the scheme of South Africa to set up what would be known in this country as 'reservations,' although 'concentration camps' might also be acceptable."

Arum, president of Top Rank, Inc., which owns promotion rights to Spinks' first three defenses of the title he won from

Ali last month, said he had invited Chief Lucas Mangope, president of Bophuthatswana, to come to the United States this week to "meet the leaders of these responsible organizations and present his position to them."

"If the leaders of these organizations are not satisfied, we will not have the fight in Bophuthatswana," Arum told the Associated Press Wednesday night.

Arum offered Mauritius as an alternative site, describing it as "an island country off the coast of Africa whose president is the president of the Organization of African Unity."

Ali, conscious of his image as a leader to blacks, has refused numerous offers to fight in South Africa in the past.

In Detroit, Spinks told a news conference that he wanted his first title defense to be against Ali.

"It definitely will be Ali if I defend my title against anybody," Spinks said. "Ali is the first."

Meanwhile, Ken Norton's manager, Bob Biron, contends that he and Arum have a binding agreement for Norton to get the first shot at the title. Biron reacted angrily to Arum's announcement of an agreement for a Spinks-Ali rematch, as well as talk that Norton might fight someone else on that same card.

"They have continued to perpetrate this fraud as anticipated," said Biron. "As far as we're concerned there is no card without Spinks honoring his commitment to meet Norton first."

"We have a firm, binding, legal agreement with Bob Arum, Top Rank and Leon Spinks. We will exhaust our resources to see that the agreement is enforced. We intend on employing all legal remedies connected with this blatant breach of contract."

To further complicate the situation, the World Boxing Council has threatened to strip Spinks of his title if he doesn't fight Norton next. WBC President Jose Sulaiman said both Ali and Spinks made written agreements before their fight that the winner would sign by April 7 to fight Norton by July 7.

Bucks Getting Rich On Overtime Success

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Bucks are getting rich on overtime.

The young Bucks have played eight games this season that have gone beyond the regulation 48 minutes and they've won seven of them, the latest a 127-125 double overtime decision over the New York Knicks Wednesday night.

"It took me four quarters and one overtime to get warmed up," said Milwaukee guard Brain Winters, who scored six of his 21 points in the second extra period.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association Wednesday, the Seattle SuperSonics edged the San Antonio Spurs 95-94, the Buffalo Braves beat the New Orleans Jazz 120-108, the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Atlanta Hawks 108-97, the New Jersey Nets trimmed the Kansas City Kings 123-121, the Portland Trail Blazers downed the Houston Rockets 97-94 and the Golden State Warriors beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 118-108.

There have now been 50 overtime games this season, most in NBA history. Ironically, in New York's other visit to Milwaukee, the Bucks beat the Knicks 152-150 in triple overtime Dec. 16.

Bucks center Kent Benson, the first player chosen in the college draft who has suffered through a disappointing, injury-plagued rookie season, came off the bench to score a career-high 21 points.

Bob McAdoo led New York with 32.

Sonics 95, Spurs 94

Gus Williams hit two jumpers within the aist 20 seconds, including an 18-footer with two seconds left, to give the Sonics their victory at San Antonio despite 41 points by the Spurs' George Gervin. Dennis Johnson scored 27 for Seattle and Williams finished with 17.

Braves 120, Jazz 108

Rookie guard Mike Glenn of Buffalo scored a career-high 25 points for Buffalo, which got 28 points from Swen Nater and 27 from Marvin Barnes.

76ers 108, Hawks 97
Philadelphia, leading 54-41 at halftime, buried Atlanta by scoring the first seven points of the second half. Steve Mix and Henry Bibby topped Philadelphia's balanced attack with 16 points apiece.

Nets 123, Kings 121

John Williamson scored 37 points and rookies Wilson Washington and Ed Jordan combined for 18 points in the final quarter as the Nets snapped a 15-game road losing streak.

Blazers, 97, Rockets 94
Two free throws by Johnny Davis with 39 seconds to play clinched the victory for Portland and sent Houston to its sixth straight loss. Portland led 41-32 at halftime as the Rockets connected on only 25 percent of their shots from the field.

Warriors 118, Cavaliers 100
Rick Barry scored 32 points and reserve forward Nate Williams added 26 as the Warriors erased an 11-point third-quarter deficit and pulled away from the Cavs by outscoring them 33-17 in the final period.

The Chicago Bulls made 33 straight free throws and 35 of 36 overall while beating San Antonio, 121-119, on Dec. 19, 1977.

Michigan State football coach Darryl Rogers was voted Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1977.

'Graybeards' In Spring Spotlight

By The Associated Press

The flowers that bloom in the spring seem to include some hardy perennials.

According to Mr. Webster, who never managed a baseball team, a hardy perennial is "something that lasts from year to year." And that pretty well sums up the careers of Gaylord Perry and Ron Fairly, both 39, and Mickey Lolich, 37.

All three graybeards were in the exhibition spotlight Wednesday. It was the first spring training in Old Timers Day.

Perry hurled three strong innings, allowing one unearned run, and Lolich, making a comeback after sitting out the 1977 season, worked a scoreless ninth as the San Diego Padres edged Japan's Yakult Swallows 3-2. Meanwhile, Fairly delivered a two-run double to help the California Angels defeat the Padres' 'B' squad 5-2.

Most of the Padres' regulars were in Yuma, Ariz., to face the Japanese team and the Angels didn't take kindly to the depleted squad San Diego sent to Holtville, Calif.

"This is no insult to the players out there, but the people came to see Dave Winfield, Gene Tenace, Rollie Fingers and George Hendrick," said Angels General Manager Buzzie Bavasi. "This is a violation of the commissioner's ruling that teams should be well-represented and the manager should accompany the team."

Instead of filing a formal protest, Bavasi said he plans to send a 'B' team to play the Padres in Yuma next month.

Controversy seemed to be the order of the day.

In the San Francisco Giants' camp, there was no indication that pitcher John Montefusco and infielder Bill Madlock had kissed and made up following Tuesday's clubhouse brawl.

Witnesses said Montefusco got up swinging and it took several players to pull them apart.

The battling Giants play their first exhibition game today against the Cleveland Indians. The rest of the schedule pairs the New York Yankees against the Texas Rangers, Houston Astros-Atlanta Braves, Detroit Tigers-Boston Red Sox, Chicago Cubs-Milwaukee Brewers, Seattle Mariners-San Diego Padres and Oakland A's-California Angels.

The Yankees apparently aren't the only New York team where all isn't sweetness and light. Outfielder Elliott Maddox has taken exception to remarks by Ed Kranepool, who wanted to know why Maddox apparently has been handed the right field job when he "hasn't hit .260 in the last two years."

Today, the Yankees are showcasing veteran left-hander Ken Holtzman, who will be the starting pitcher against the Rangers.

"At this point, I don't think I will impress anyone," said Holtzman, who pitched only 712-3 innings last season and wasn't used at all in the play-offs or World Series in either 1976 or '77. "I'm relearning. For 12 years it was a routine, but that routine has been interrupted and now I have to start all over. I'm not interested in results; I'm interested in learning how to pitch."

There's a chance Holtzman might not be a Yankee any more, either. No one denies he's available.

Chi Chi Says Kids Are Coming

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

MIAMI (AP) - The kids are coming, observes veteran Chi Chi Rodriguez, but Jack Nicklaus still ranks as "The Man."

"He is still the man to beat," said the 41-year-old Rodriguez, a great booster of some of the younger players in the game. And, said Chi Chi, Nicklaus may be tougher than usual the next couple of years.

"I think Jack is going to make an extra effort to win as much as he can in the next few years," Rodriguez said before today's first round in the $200,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament. It was an obvious reference to Nicklaus' age, 38, and his announced trimmed-down schedule.

As the best of the younger players, Rodriguez nominates Tom Watson, Jerry Pate, Ben Crenshaw, Andy Bean and Bill Kratzert.

"They're the men who will be dominating the game in the future," Rodriguez said.

"Watson already has proved his greatness."

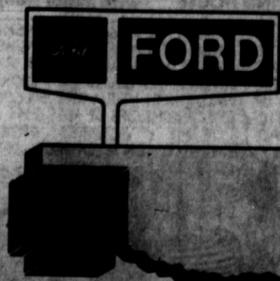

Bean is the defending champion here. Pate has played well twice without winning this year. Kratzert lost in a playoff and Crenshaw challenged last week.

Motions Denied In Baker Removal Suit

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - The judge in the removal hearing of Potter County Sheriff T.L. Baker denied Wednesday a defense motion to strike from the removal petition allegations concerning the serving of liquors to the jury in the Cullen Davis murder trial.

Baker's lawyer, Robert Wallis of Houston, told the court, "We all know intoxicating liquor was provided to the jury in the Cullen Davis trial, but the statute refers to providing liquor during deliberations."

State District Judge George Miller of Floydada, who is hearing the case, also denied a defense motion to dismiss the removal suit because a signed affidavit by the person who brought the suit was missing in an amended petition.

Larry Kelley, an oyster bar operator, submitted a sworn affidavit Dec. 13 with the original petition against Baker.

However, Miller ordered Potter County District Attorney Tom Curtis Feb. 21 to be "more specific" in his allegations and thus Curtis submitted an amended petition, which included the allegations involving the Davis trial.

The amended petition was submitted Feb. 27 without another sworn affidavit by Kelley.

Curtis maintained Wednesday another affidavit wasn't needed but the judge ordered him to get one. Curtis said he would talk to Kelley.

The original petition accused the sheriff of misconduct through misuse of a county-owned air compressor, of lying in a statement about the compressor and authorizing an investigation in an effort to embarrass a local lawyer probing the sheriff's department for the 1977 Potter County court of inquiry.

The revised petition includes those allegations and also accuses the sheriff of gross negligence or gross carelessness in connection with repeated sexual abuse of a county prisoner, and the granting of special privileges to Davis, a Fort Worth millionaire who was acquitted after a four-month trial. It also alleges Baker mishandled the sequestering of the Davis trial jury.

Miller temporarily suspended Baker from office Jan. 12 and set Baker's removal trial for March 30.

WTSU To Feature Education Display

CANYON - Elementary education majors will display their learning centers from 10 a.m. to noon Friday in the Ballroom of the Activities Center at West Texas State University.

The Learning Center Fair is open to the public. Admission will not be charged. Refreshments will be served.

The purpose of the Learning Center Fair is to let education majors share their ideas. In the past the learning centers were only shown in classes, said Dr. Anita Kent, assistant professor of education.

"A learning center is an inviting place where children may go to learn about a subject they are studying," she said. "It can be used to reinforce a subject that is being taught or it can be used in the open classroom to learn concepts by the discovery method."

Learning centers have potential use in the teaching of map skills, dictionary skills and backgrounds of different culture among other things, Dr. Kent said.

Students can also use their senses to learn by touching, hearing or working with colors at learning centers.

Government Seeks Reason for Agency

NEW YORK (AP) - Three regulatory agencies will embark next week on an odd mission. Through public hearings they will attempt to determine what Congress meant when it passed a law for them to enforce.

Nobody knows, not even Congress, nor the regulators or the regulated. Maybe the public can tell us, government officials reasoned. And so they have scheduled public meetings in an effort to find out.

From Washington they will travel to Atlanta and then to Boston, Chicago, Dallas and San Francisco. After a month they hope to know - what did Congress mean when it passed the Community Reinvestment Act.

The general goal is known - to encourage financial institutions to invest a substantial portion of their funds in communities from which they draw deposits. But Congress sidestepped the specifics.

Instead, it told the regulators - the Federal Reserve, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Home Loan Bank Board - to write rules implementing the act. The regulators were baffled.

What, for example, did the legislators mean by "community begin and end? What are the "credit needs of the community?" We will ask the public to tell us, the regulators said. By this point the organizations that represent financial institutions, such as the American Bankers Association, were appalled. "It is certain that consumers will show up in droves," the ABA said.

Indeed they will, for the invitation is an opportunity for pressure groups and interested parties of all sorts to attempt to write the law.

Lenders will be there too, and it isn't inconceivable that the regulators will wind up with an impasse only slightly different from the one that now exists. They might have more ideas, but no decision.

Says the ABA, "It would be impossible to satisfy the requirements of the Act with anything other than a regulation written in language which is just as broad and general as the law itself."

Some bankers and others with a vital interest in the outcome resent having to attend the hearings, but not to do so, they fear, could result in others exerting undue influence.

"Legislative blackmail," the ABA quotes one banker as saying. It comments further, "Guessing the intent of Congress in passing such a vague law is an impossible task."

If Congress could not define what it meant, critics argue, perhaps Congress didn't even know what it wanted. If it didn't know what it wanted why should others know? And can Congress so delegate lawmaking.

The questions go on and on. What limitations are there on such an open-ended law being expanded into a maze of destructive regulations and obligations, and an accompanying blizzard of paper?

Texas lawyers will vote March 31 on whether to assess themselves to pay off a controversial mortgage on the new $6 million Texas Law Center in Austin.

The Supreme Court ordered the referendum on request of the State Bar of Texas.

Bulk of the building cost was paid by private donations. A $3.8 million mortgage on the property has been challenged as an unconstitutional extension of state credit. But Bar officials have contended no state money went into the building given to the state in 1974 and officially opened in 1976.

Lawyers under 70 who began practice before June 1, 1975, are being asked to assess themselves $46 a year for three years to pay off the building debt. Those licensed after June 1, 1975, would pay $32 a year for three years if the referendum issue is approved.

Let's Cook Humor Filled Personality Adds Zest To Homemaker

By DIANNE BANNER
Brand Staff Writer

The multi-faceted personality of Mary Johnson equips her for her numerous duties in the community plus gives her an extra quality for being a mother. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson and their daughter, Jana, are a close knit family. "It is very seldom that we ever go anywhere that Jana can't go. We like to do everything as a family," she said.

The trio are members of Hereford Riders Club, United Sheriff's Pose and the Randall County Sheriff's Pose which deputizes all the male members.

The humor-filled mother feels that it is "important to be at home with your children but you have to get away from routine so that communication will be easier."

"It is hard to be a parent and raise a child. You have to make certain decisions and hope that they will be right for your child. Sometimes you hate to tell them no, but its for their own good and you have to put a limit on everything," she commented. "It makes me sad to see parents that don't have time for their children."

Jana is a fourth grader at Tierra Blanca Elementary School. She will be participating in the County Spelling Bee today.

The 10-year-old will be "rodeoing" in the High Plains Junior Rodeo this summer. She began riding horses at the age of 2 and when she was 4 years old, she won a horse show and at 7-years she won another show in Lubbock.

Her mother labels her as a "tomboy" and mentioned that she and her father spend a "great amount of time" riding together.

"It doesn't bother me that she is a tomboy, I like it. But what I don't like are the animals involved. Lizards and horny toads are okay but when she brought in a snake one day I nearly went to pieces," she said.

Mrs. Johnson is also a member of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club, the Hospital Auxillary and is presently taking square dancing lessons.

Her hobbies include rug hooking and doing volunteer work.

She is employed part time by Marn Tyler Realtors.

"My favorite hobby is cooking...as if you can't tell by looking at me," she laughed.

"I love to cook and make up my own recipes."

Mrs. Johnson's Chile Rellinos Bake recipe is one which has been published in the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Cookbook.

"There is one thing about me that my family doesn't like," she said. "I have willed my body to science. I think it would be great if because of me a blind mother or father would be able to see their own child."

"And my greatest desire of all would be for scientists to use my body and find the cure for...obesity!" she quipped. Recipes shared by Mrs.

Pour over chilies. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 50 min. until a knife inserted comes out clean. Cool 5 min. before serving. Makes six servings.

Miss Stagner presided during business, which included an invitation from Ora Morgan to attend the Palo Duro Porcelain Art Club Show and Tea at Canyon on Saturday.

Allyne Johnson presented her sister, Mrs. William T. McEachern of Plainview, as guest speaker. Presenting a slide show on the Holy Land, Mrs. McEachern recounted her

Ann Landers Punishment Unnecessary

DEAR ANN: For years you've been printing letters about wives who withhold sex from their husbands. The scheming wenches come across for some badly-wanted necessity -- or maybe a luxury. This puts marriage on the same level as prostitution. But what about husbands who do the same thing? I'm married to one.

I get "punished" (no sex) when I do something that displeases him. Sometimes I don't even know what he's mad about. He refuses to tell me -- just says, "Think a while and you'll figure it out."

Then he's in the mood it doesn't make any difference what I'm doing. I can be knitting, counting stitches, peeling potatoes, scrubbing a floor. We've made love in the bathtub (no water and very uncomfortable), on the stairs and in a jeep. Sometimes I wonder where he gets such weird ideas.

When we were married he seemed very normal. What makes a person get warped like this? Does he need counseling? Do I need counseling: Who's sick? -- B. Wildered

DEAR B.: You both could use some counseling, but he probably won't go, so I hope you will. You need to learn how to deal with your husband's punitive attitude toward sex. Actually, the stairs, the bathtub and the jeep aren't nearly as serious as withholding sex as punishment. It is not abnormal to want a change in scenery.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My brother died recently. I'm sorry now that we weren't closer. We lived in nearby cities but somehow our family and work commitments took priority over a letter or a phone call.

I'd like to share the letter I wrote to my children and his, in the hope that they won't make the same mistake we made:

"Dear Ones: During this time of mourning there comes a pause for reflection, appraisal and regret. I regret that my brother and I did not accept each other as we were. I regret that we didn't help each other more, that we didn't share our feelings and our troubles. I regret that we didn't make time for each other. These things I regret for myself. Yet, I believe I am not alone."

Your column has assuaged many a hurt, Ann. I hope my personal experience will serve to strengthen your efforts. --

A.A.B., New Brunswick, N.J.

DEAR A.A.B.: Of course it's too late to do anything about your "regrets," but writing that letter to your brother's children, and to yours, and sharing it with my millions of readers will surely cause others to reflect on their relationships with brothers and sisters. You will never know how much good you have done. Thank you.

DEAR ANN: My 20-year-old daughter is too beautiful for her own good. Since childhood she was unable to make friends. Girls considered her such heavy competition she was left out of everything.

As she grew older her troubles multiplied. Now men get into fights over her. Often her escort has to hit someone for making a fresh remark. (She is generously endowed.) What can be done? --Over-Blessed

DEAR OVER: The problem isn't her beauty, it's her mother. Your emphasis on her good looks has given her a distorted notion of what life is all about.

Mrs. Wyley told about her experiences in handwriting work and how individuals can better understand friends and family through handwriting analysis. "This is a clinical tool and a science," she told the group. "It's your subconscious brain wave controlling the hand."

"You will be amazed what you can learn about your children by watching their handwriting," Mrs. Wyley said. Mrs. Wyley holds a degree in handwriting analysis.

Modeling, Nursing Professions Give Contrasting Perspectives

By KERRIE STEERT
Women's Editor

Twenty-two-year-old Hazel Coddington combines the roles of mother, registered nurse and professional model for a disciplined lifestyle that barely allows enough time for sleep.

The striking daughter of Garth and Edwina Thomas, Mrs. Coddington will be assisting Wynelle Robinson and Sharon Hodges in the direction of the Miss Hereford Pageant March 18. Beauty pageants are familiar turf to her, having held the titles of Miss Virginia Teenager in 1972 and Miss Virginia USA in 1974. She advanced to national finals in both instances.

Although she plans to move to Arizona this summer, Mrs. Coddington's brief residence in Hereford is anything but idle. She is a floor nurse at Deaf Smith General Hospital each night and her "most important concern" is caring for her two-year-old son, Parker. In addition, she harbors hopes of teaching modeling to local coeds.

Mrs. Coddington's professional experiences belie her youth. She has lived throughout the United States, but her main stomping grounds are in the Washington, D.C. area, where New York, Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey "all run together." She confesses that she is restless in the community of Hereford, which is too small for her urban tastes.

In addition to her involvement in Virginia pageants, the poised brunette graduated with an associate degree in nursing from Northern Virginia Community College at Annandale, Va. She lacks only one semester of college in order to receive her bachelor's and hopes to achieve that degree in the warmer climate of Arizona.

She attended the Capps Chell Modeling School in Washington, D.C. and has worked as a modeling instructor. Her contrasting careers as model and nurse are alike in that they require a large degree of self-discipline, yet the priorities are unrelated.

"As a model, you are concerned primarily with yourself. You're constantly watching what you eat and how much sleep you get. It's not nearly as glamorous as people think, but the pay is good," she explained.

"With nursing, you are concerned with others. Before moving to Hereford, I worked mainly with premature infants and was literally holding someone else's life in my hands. I was responsible for that life, whereas when I'm modeling, I'm only responsible for clothes."

Mrs. Coddington first walked down the pageant runway at the age of 17. After winning two state titles, she was often asked to serve in the capacity of pageant judge.

"The most important criteria a pageant judge considers is personality," she stated. "In many cases, you know who the winner is before they ever get on the runway because one entrant has done so well in the personal interviews beforehand."

Mrs. Coddington is amazed at the lack of interest shown by Hereford coeds in the local pageant. "Considering the large amount of scholarships that are offered in the pageant here, I'm surprised that more girls don't take advantage of such a good opportunity, especially when they don't have to present any talent."

Handwork, woodcarving, plaster work and decoupage are the hobbies chosen by the former beauty queen, although the demands of rearing a little boy consume most of her time away from the hospital.

An invitation to visit Friona Rebekah Lodge #308 for an initiation ceremony on March 13 was read.

Musicians have reported plans well underway for the Country-Western Jamboree scheduled April 14 at IOOF Temple.

Liz Warren of The Yellow Daisy will provide the program.

Tickets for the local pageant are on sale now at the cost of $3 each at Hereford State Bank, First National Bank, The Pants Cage, Kesters Jewelry and at the door on the night of the pageant. The ticket price will include programs books.

The pageant will commence at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, March 18, in the Hereford High School auditorium.

Mistress of ceremonies will be Miss Texas USA Barbara Horan. Directing the production, which was chosen the theme "Free to Be Me," will be the trio of Wynelle Robinson, Hazel Coddington and Sharon Hodges.

On that night, a total of $1,200 in scholarships will be awarded to the two title-winners and their runner-ups. In the Miss Hereford category, a $500 grant will go to the winner, a $300 scholarship for the first runner-up, and a $100 grant to the second runner-up. A $150 scholarship will be presented to the new Miss Teen, whose runners-up will earn $100 and $50 grants respectively.

Judging for both titles will be based on the same criteria, including personal interviews, evening gown and swimsuit competition. The panel of judges will be composed of three Texans, coming from Amarillo, Lubbock and El Paso.

Mary Herring is chairman of the pageant steering committee.

Wa-Can-Ki-Ya met Tuesday at 704 Plains.

New officers were selected. They are Leslie Birdwell, president; Debbie Avent, vice president; Stacy Kirkpatrick, secretary; and Patty Perez, reporter.

Posters were made to hang in Sugarland Mall, telling about Camp Fire Birthday Week, March 12-17. The girls were reminded that they will attend the First Presbyterian Church together March 12, Camp Fire Sunday.

Mary Ruth Hamman served refreshments to Debbie Avent, Kim Birdwell, Leslie Birdwell, Stacy Kirkpatrick, Patty Perez and Panny Tubb.

All fungi have several common characteristics: They do not contain chlorophyll, instead of producing seeds as a means of propagation, they produce spores and they have neither flowers nor true roots.

"When you give to the American Cancer Society," says Rich Little, "you are making an investment that pays important dividends: the saving of lives." A multi-talented impersonator, he is an international night club headliner.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I clicked off the television set the other night following an episode of the Class of '65, and was so depressed I couldn't get to sleep.

As usual, I was born too soon. My class didn't begin to equal the excitement of the '60s. We were all so predictable. Our class clown went into politics, the class "idea" man was selling mantras to dogs into TM, and the Girl Most Likely...did.

I was in the kind of a class that the teachers talked about among themselves. They were always throwing up the previous year's class to us and how great the three coming after us were. We couldn't do anything right. We scheduled a pep assembly on Good Friday. We elected a class president who dropped out. We left the school a drinking fountain that rusted. At our prom two teachers got smashed and eloped -- and we had to bring them back.

We've talked about it and tried to figure out why we were so dull and have come to the conclusion that it was just one of those boring years -- no war, nothing to protest, nothing to celebrate and we were between trends. What do you do when it's too late to eat goldfish and too early to flash?

When I stop to consider who might have made an interesting segment for a series of the Class of '49, the only one with a hint of imagination was Janey Wilks. They say she really had the sweats over the geography teacher. I never believed that for a moment. It was crazy. They say she used to sneak out to a nearby cemetery on her lunch period. That was ridiculous. Oh, she wore a sun dress one day and imprinted on her back was "OUR BELOVED MOTHER 1853-1926" but that doesn't prove anything.

Or maybe the class jock, Stud Turf. He was the first boy in our class to break the home economics barrier. He made 'ivinity fudge that would make you break out just by stirring it. After graduation he went on to open his own restaurant. There was a sign at the edge of town -- "Stud's GAS and EATS." Most people found it redundant.

I met one of my classmates the other day and said, "What a shame. No one really cares what happened to the class of '49."

She said, "Who?"

Suzuki String Concert To Be Presented Sunday

Hereford Study Club will be presenting a special string concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Heritage Room of Deaf Smith County Library. The public is invited; there will be no admission fee.

Suzanne Grooms of Amarillo, who has been trained in the Suzuki violin method, will bring 30 of her violin students to demonstrate this technique. She has presented this program at Texas Tech and West Texas State Universities.

The young performers range in age from 4-13 years old and some will present solos. Directing the concert will be Mrs. Barton Grooms and Mrs. Tom Gerald.

Named after its creator, the Suzuki method was begun after World War II in Japan and has since been acclaimed throughout the world. Mrs. Grooms has been teaching this method for four years through Amarillo College.

The Suzuki method is taught exclusively to beginners between the ages of 4-7, but continue in the program through their teens.

Festival Judges Named

Judges for Friday's Junior Musical Festival, Section I of District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, have been announced by Mrs. Carl Wimberley, festival chairman.

Rating the junior musicians all day Friday in the First Baptist Church will be Jean Gray, Nova Schubert Bair, Grace Ladehoff and Betty Hood, all of Amarillo. Biographical sketches of the four judges follow:

Jean Gray teaches voice lessons at Southwest Music Studios in Amarillo and is music director of the First Church of the Nazarene in that city. She won the Amarillo Symphony's vocal auditions in 1965 and appeared with the Symphony as a guest artist as recipient of that award.

JEAN GRAY

Mrs. Gray has earned her bachelor of music education and master of arts degrees from West Texas State University. During her years as a student at the University, she received several honors, including Outstanding Freshman Woman in Music, Recital Performance Award, Senior Recital Award, Best Actress, Outstanding Student Teacher and Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

She has taught public school music on the junior high level.

Beginning the study of piano at the age of 5, Grace Ladehoff has been tutored by a number of area musicians, including Mary Helen Demus of Canyon, Dr. Matilda Gaume and Bill Evans, West Texas State University professors, and Mary Ruth McCulley, organist. In 1968, Mrs. Ladehoff graduated from WT with a bachelors degree of music education. For the ensuing four years, she taught classroom music and fourth grade science at Western Plateau Elementary School in Amarillo. She has continued to offer private piano lessons.

Mrs. Ladehoff is a frequent accompanist for the adult choir at Paramount Community Church in Amarillo. She has served as organist at her church for numerous functions.

Mrs. Ladehoff and her husband Orville have two children, Cessie, 5, and Glenn, 3. They reside on a farm southeast of Amarillo.

BETTY HOOD

A native of Pampa, Betty Hood studied with Gladys M. Glenn at Musical Arts Conservatory following graduation from Panhandle High School. In 1950, she graduated from North Texas State University, where she was a music student of Virgean Ester Latean.

She completed her graduate work at Texas Tech University as a student of Louis Cataagno. Mrs. Hood is a member of Amarillo Music Teachers Association and Amarillo Performers Club. She frequently is featured in special programs and serves as accompanist for UIL and Greater Southwest Music Festivals.

Mrs. Hood and her husband, Charlie Jr., have three grown sons, all of whom are professional musicians.

NOVA BAIR

Nova Schubert Bair, whose musical compositions have been performed by area choirs, was born in Dodge City, Kans. and reared in Hansford County, Texas. She holds the bachelor of music degree, having attended Amarillo College, West Texas State University and the Musical Arts Conservatory of Amarillo, where she taught piano and theory until recently.

She is a member of her local, state and National Music Teachers Associations.

Mrs. Bair is active in the Poetry Society of Texas and has earned awards in numerous contests. She has lectured at workshops on poetry and her poems have appeared in various anthologies.

She is the wife of Clyde Clement Bair, a Santa Fe train dispatcher, writer and basso profundo.

Advertise now!

Think this is the wrong time of year to advertise? Sure, business is slow, but the smart advertiser makes his advertising dollar work even harder during this time of year:

1. New customers move into Hereford daily. The smart advertiser attracts this new business into his store. If the newcomer shops with you first, chances are he'll be back again and again.
2. People stop trading with your competitors for one reason or another, and the smart advertiser attracts this business with effective advertising.
3. Advertising is designed to build business and one of it's strongest effects is familiarity or repetition; consistent advertising pays. The smart advertiser never lets the buying public forget he is still in business.

The smart advertiser always thinks of his advertising dollar as an investment in greater sales volume, never as an expense of doing business.

Carter Asks Judge To Order Miners To Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, trying to end the 94-day coal strike, is asking a federal judge to order 160,000 miners back to work and negotiators back to the bargaining table to search for a new contract settlement.

Justice Department lawyers planned to seek an immediate injunction in U.S. District Court today under the strike-stopping provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

And, the government is prepared to seek contempt citations and fines against union locals and leaders and coal companies that defy the court order, said one official, adding, "There's not much point in getting the order if you're not ready to enforce it."

Before directing the attorney general to go to court, President Carter awaited receipt of a report by a fact-finding panel he appointed.

The board took testimony from union and industry representatives on Wednesday, then worked late into the night to complete its report on where the bitter dispute stands and the chances of a settlement.

The report, which contains no recommendations for ending the dispute, was not expected to affect White House strategy, but its delivery to the president is required by law before Carter can make his next move.

Meanwhile, Energy Department officials said Wednesday that there has been an increase in coal deliveries from non-union mines to hard-pressed electric utilities in the East and Midwest, bolstering critically low stockpiles and, the administration hopes, postponing for several weeks the extensive layoffs and power cutbacks that have been predicted.

However, Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger warned that the coal strike would put at least 3.5 million people out of work by the end of April if the walkout does not end within 10 days. Coal-related layoffs affected fewer than 23,000 people by late February, he said.

Labor Secretary Ray Marshall said the administration remains hopeful that a national settlement can be reached, but he acknowledged that local agreements might be easier to achieve in light of the miners' 2-1 rejection last weekend of a national accord.

The government planned to request a temporary restraining order directing miners to go back to their jobs and coal companies to resume "good faith" bargaining with the United Mine Workers union, said the administration official, who asked not to be named.

The temporary order presumably would remain in force until the judge could hear arguments on a request for an 80-day injunction. Under Taft-Hartley, the government must prove that continuation of a walkout would "imperil the national health or safety."

It remained uncertain, however, when and if miners would return to work under the order and when negotiations would resume.

Administration officials have said miners could be back on the job by next week, but UMW leaders and members have predicted mass defiance of a back-to-work order.

The miners would work under the terms of the union's 1974 contract, but to encourage their return, the administration has asked the coal operators to give the miners a $1 an hour raise agreed to under the rejected contract settlement.

The coal companies said they would grant the raise retroactively, but only if a final settlement is reached during the 80-day "cooling off" period.

There have been no industry-wide negotiations since the last settlement was rejected, but preliminary indications of renewed national bargaining surfaced Wednesday, when chief federal mediator Wayne Horvitz reportedly met with two top industry officials.

Among provisions in the rejected contract that members have said they opposed were those covering pension benefits, imposing deductibles for health care that has been free and authorizing company sanctions against leaders of wildcat strikes.

Court Demands New Trial

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial Wednesday for a San Antonio man convicted of capital murder and sentenced to death, ruling that the original trial should have been moved from Bexar County.

The appeals court said the state did not contest the request for a change of venue in the trial of Fred T. Durrough. Under Texas law, the trial should have been moved automatically.

"The record also reflects that the motion was timely presented to the trial judge and that he overruled the motion without hearing any evidence," the appeals court said.

In other cases, the court: —Overturned the indecency with a child conviction of a Mexican-American because a juror had witnessed a sexual assault on his own daughter by a Mexican-American.

The court said the Angleton trial judge should have declared a mistrial in the case of Ruben Salazar, who was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

—Upheld the murder conviction of Curtis Lee Jones, who was sentenced to 50 years in prison in the death of a Dallas secretary. The victim's body was found in the trunk of a car partially submerged in the Trinity River. A second defendant was sentenced to death.

—Overturned a heroin conviction because an Orange County judge allowed prosecutors to file as evidence an envelope with handwritten notations about the case.

The court ordered a new trial for Anderson Carrier, who had objected that the notations were a shorthand rendition of the state's case on one piece of paper.

—Set aside the Travis County burglary conviction of Eddie McDade because the judge failed to tell McDade how many years he might be sentenced to if he pleaded guilty.

Granberry Joins Group For Clements

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two former Republican candidates for governor were on the state-wide executive committee announced Wednesday for the Bill Clements for governor campaign.

The former gubernatorial candidates are Dr. Jim Granberry, Lubbock, and Paul Eggers of Dallas. Also named were Byron Fullerton, Liberty Hill, and Doug DeCluitt, Waco, former GOP candidates for lieutenant governor.

Current office holders on the committee include Sen. Bob Price, R-Pampa, newly elected state senator, and Rep. Bill Blythe, R-Houston.

The Cost Cutter

Less Irrigation Cost — Lower Harvest Costs Because of Lower Moisture — Less Drying Cost

Pioneer brand 3780 can cut your costs to improve-corn profits in four ways —

★ Less Irrigation Cost — 3780 needs less total water than commonly grown corns because it grows off fast. And because of its early water use, 3780 uses early-season rainfall more efficiently than other corns or crops.

★ Less Harvest & Hauling Cost — Fast drydown with good standability and ear retention lets 3780 dry in the field — you harvest and haul less moisture from the field.

★ Less Dockage — Less water hauled from the field means less dockage or drying expense.

★ Lower Potential Weather and Insect Loss — Because of its rapid growth feature and fast drydown, 3780 is ready for harvest well ahead of commonly grown corns. Fewer days in the field mean less exposure to potential bad weather and late-season insect problems.

MORE NET INCOME PER ACRE

High Plains farmers have consistently found 3780 producing more net income per acre than competitive corns of later maturity . . . even though the green weight of later maturing corns may have been more.

With 3780, you don't take big cuts in yield like you might expect. In fact, in 96 tests under many conditions in the past four years, 3780 has averaged 7,817 pounds per acre. Few farmers will boast of a higher four-year-average, dry-corn yield than this.

Yields like you'd expect from corn with input costs similar to grain sorghum . . . that adds up to more net income per acre.

3780 — 96 High Plains tests — 4-year average — 7,817 lbs./A.
Here's How 3780 Performed For 5 Area Farmers in 1977

Helmuth Quabe — Plainview
Planting date: April 11
Harvest date: August 20
Results: 8,200 lbs./A. at 16.0% moisture; pre-water plus three waterings; outyielded later maturing competitive corn by 800 lbs./A.
His comment: "I like 3780 because of its early maturity."

R. E. Lance — Hereford
Planting date: April 20
Harvest date: September 25
Results: 6,500 lbs./A. at 19% moisture; watered 3 times.
His comment: "3780 did as good as I thought it would."

Don Ott — Dimmitt
Planting date: April 27
Harvest date: September 10
Results: 8,590 lbs./A. at 19% moisture; watered 5 times.
His comment: "3780 had a very good yield for a fast maturing variety."

Vernon Jackson — Stratford
Planting time: April 7
Harvest date: August 5
Results: 6,900 lbs./A. at 16.5% moisture; watered 5 times. Popular competitive variety in same field planted earlier, received 1 additional watering, yielded less, and was harvested 12 days later at 24.5% moisture.

J. L. Francis — Kress
Planting date: June 2
Harvest date: October 20
Results: 7,100 lbs./A. at 14% moisture; watered 5 times.
His comment: "My 3780 was planted after a hail and I was really satisfied with the results."

Sorghum Farmer's Corn

3780 yields well with management similar to sorghum. And since it reaches peak water demand 4 to 6 weeks earlier than sorghum and up to 2 weeks earlier than later maturing corn hybrids, it can take advantage of early-season rainfall and avoid later-season water shortages. # Hubenack Voices Support For Talmadge Proposal

WASHINGTON - State Rep. Joe A. Hubenack, Chairman of the Texas Legislature's House Agriculture and Livestock Committee, has voiced his support in testimony before the U.S. Senate Agriculture Committee for threatened action by U.S. Senator Herman Talmadge to force action on an "emergency farm bill" if the Carter Administration does not act in two weeks.

Hubenack had been invited by Talmadge to testify as an expert in the field of agricultural legislation, and on the problems now facing Texas's farmers and ranchers.

"Agriculture cannot wait," Hubenack said. "The interest on the farm and ranch crop loans are increasing, income is plunging, and no help is on the way." Hubenack said. "Our own state, indeed the nation, is suffering from a total lack of leadership in agricultural matters, in understanding the plight of the farmer and rancher. And in the end, it is going to be the consumer in the urban areas who will suffer just as much from ever higher food and fiber costs."

Hubenack, a 10-year veteran of the Texas Legislature, is leaving the legislative field to seek the office of Texas Commissioner of Agriculture in the May Democratic Primary.

"Agriculture has become the pawn in the international diplomatic chess game," Hubenack charged. "We use food and fiber as a weapon, we use quotas as a weapon. But the weapon, is always pointed at the American farmer and rancher as we open the gates to the flood of imported meat, fish, poultry, wool and every other product imaginable.

"I do not advocate protectionism, or closing our borders to all imports. What I do advocate is that the American farmer and rancher be guaranteed a fair share of his own domestic market, that American grown food be pushed throughout our own state and federal and local institutions, our schools and colleges, our military posts," Hubenack said.

"What I advocate most is some common-sense help to ease the burden of the families who know what it's like to work from dawn to dark on our farmlands, and to depend on the weather and the government interference in the market place to make a profit," he said.

Hubenack termed Senator Talmadge's position the "best news the farmer has heard in months," and he urged the Chairman to continue the fight to force the Administration to face up to the problems before the agricultural community.

Gary Vogel of the Deaf Smith County 4-H showed the Reserve Champion Maine-Anjou at the Houston Livestock Show last week. The 1232 pound steer sold for $6.75 per pound at the stock show sale Saturday. Pictured with the animal are Jerome Settles, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Vogel, Randy Vogel, County Agent Justin McBride, and the winning exhibitor.

Farm Wages Exceed Minimum

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department says the average wage of hired farm workers nationally last year was more than the new federal minimum of $2.65 an hour which took effect Jan. 1.

But the department also said the average farm pay scale in 18 states in 1977 fell short of the new minimum wage.

Moreover, the new minimum wage scale adopted by Congress last year includes a loophole - just as the previous law provided - so that fewer than half of the nation's farm workers are covered by the minimum scale.

According to the Labor Department, about 565,000 hired farm workers are estimated to be covered by federal minimum wages. Those represent about 43 percent of the 1.3 million hired workers USDA says worked on farms last year.

The 1.3 million hired workers is an average for 1977, including months of peak seasonal work and months when farm employment was less.

Under the law, all but the largest farms are excluded from federal minimum wage requirements.

Most family-type farms are exempt because the law applies to those employing 500 man-days of hired labor or more during the peak three months of the year. Experts say that translates into an equivalent of about seven full-time workers.

The minimum wage of $2.65 an hour went into effect Jan. 1, up from $2.20, which was the minimum in 1977. It is scheduled to rise to $2.90 next Jan. 1 and to $3.10 on Jan. 1, 1980.

Congress last year also eliminated a farm wage gap which had existed. For example, the minimum last year for farm workers was $2.20 an hour and for others $2.30 an hour.

According to a recent quarterly farm labor report by USDA, the 1977 annual average of all hired farm workers was $2.87 an hour, up from $2.65 in 1976. That is a "composite" wage which includes different methods of figuring workers' pay, such as piece work, weekly and monthly wages.

The report said these states in 1977 paid average farm wages of less than the $2.65 an hour which went into effect on Jan. 1:

Alabama $2.56; Georgia $2.46; Kentucky, $2.45; Mississippi $2.54; Missouri $2.59;

Montana $2.26; Nevada $2.37; New Mexico $2.28; New York $2.55; North Carolina $2.47; South Carolina $2.43; South Dakota $2.35; Tennessee $2.61; Texas $2.62; Virginia $2.41; West Virginia $2.19; Wisconsin $2.44, and Wyoming $2.41.

California, which has more hired farm workers than any state - about 218,000 last year - had an average 1977 wage scale of $3.53 an hour. Florida, another major farm labor state with 60,000 workers last year, averaged $3.23 an hour, the report said.

Wheat, Oats, Barley May Go In Reserve

COLLEGE STATION - As of March 1, farmers may place their 1977-crop wheat, oats and barley directly into the grain reserve being developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Previously, farmers who wished to enter grain in the reserve needed to wait until a government loan on the crop matured, points out Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Early entry of 1977-crop corn and sorghum into the reserve program is expected to be announced later by the Secretary of Agriculture.

There is also a change in the farm storage facility loan program. Under the change a farmer will be able to obtain a loan for storage structures to store two years' crop production. However, in determining existing capacity used to store grain in the reserve program will be excluded.

The goal of the grain reserve program is to accumulate about 17 million bushels, corn equivalent) of feed grains and around 9 million metric tons (330 million bushels) of wheat.

Mrs. Northcutt suffered head injuries, with facial lacerations. Her son Gary was treated and released. He was a guest in the home of his uncle and aunt Ralph and Reba Northcutt, over the weekend in Clovis and then came to stay in the home of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Northcutt and sons Todd and Kemp, who live in the Garcia community.

Lloyd Northcutt has stayed in Clovis at his wife's bedside for the past ten days. A family spokesman related late Monday afternoon Mrs. Northcutt had some of the stitches removed from her face Monday, however she would be hospitalized for several more days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riley and children Lori, Eddie and Carrie, spent last weekend in Fort Sumner, N.M., visiting with his mother Mrs. Fred Riley and son Dennis. Ernest Riley also did some ranch work while he was in the area of his mother's ranch.

In 1970, the United States declined to recognize the new white-ruled Republic of Rhodesia and closed the U.S. consulate in that African country.

Woman Charged For Aiding Illegal Aliens

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - A Mexican national testified Wednesday in the trial of Mrs. Della Gonzalez that she advised him to come into the United States with his wife to avoid raising suspicions of immigration inspectors.

Mrs. Gonzalez, wife of a Del Rio city councilman and a former National Democratic Convention delegate, is on trial on charges she encouraged illegal aliens to remain in the United States.

Del Rio immigration supervisor Lee Creamer had testified that aliens who enter with border crossing cards and then apply for a change of status may not be reported.

Manuel Miguel Vasquez-Beltran testified he crossed the border with a crossing card on the advice of Mrs. Gonzalez. He said he consulted her to "get his papers in order" so he could join his wife and children in Idaho. The wife and children are U.S. citizens, Vasquez-Beltran said.

So far, nine Mexican nationals have testified they received advice from Mrs. Gonzalez regarding immigration. Testimony was to resume today.

Ford In Your Future?

It would appear that Gerry Ford really has it made. He enjoys the prestige, perquisites and deference due a former President of the United States.

His pension leaves him comfortably free to travel; he can lecture for extra money when he wants to and spend the rest of the time improving his technique on the ski slopes or lowering his handicap on the golf course.

But when a professional politician has tasted the power of the Presidency anything less is less.

Former President Ford honestly does not know whether he will seek that office again; too many imperatives between now and 1980.

But if there is little substantive change in the political climate between now and then—and assuming his and his family's good health continues—there are compelling reasons for a "Ford in your future."

The 1976 election was even closer than the 2.2 percent difference in total votes. It was only the former Confederate states which elected Carter. And Carter was the first Democrat to carry all those states in 30 years.

Humphrey couldn't have done it. Jackson couldn't have done it.

Vermont Royster has said that Carter could not have been elected to any office in his home state—but his home state voted for him for President just to see a Southerner in the White House.

Now the South has seen a Southerner in the White House. Next time around, Mr. Carter will be on his own.

But the Republicans, aware that you can't whip anybody with nobody, are going to have to come up with an appealing somebody.

Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.) and Sen. Howard Baker (R-Tenn.) have not caught on nationally. Illinois' Gov. James

Suffering from gout

DEAR DR. LAMB - My mother, who is 87, is suffering terribly from gout, especially in her big toes. Could you please send me a proper diet for her? What kind of fruits can she have? What can she drink?

DEAR READER - Gout is caused from an overproduction of uric acid by a person's own cells. Uric acid crystals form in the joints causing the painful red hot big toes that people associate with the gout. Uric acid salts also deposit in joint spaces and cause gouty arthritis. And the uric acid itself is relatively insoluble which may lead to uric acid kidney stones.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-3, Gout, Uric Acid to give you more information about the nature of this disease. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1581, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. I did not include a special diet to prevent formation of uric acids in this issue because the diet is no longer so important as it was once thought to be.

Since uric acid comes tate an attack of gout but hard liquor does not. That is not a recommendation for hard liquor for your mother, however.

from the nuclei of cells the old idea was to eliminate foods rich in cells that contained the uric acid. The catch is that you can be on a milk diet which contains no cells at all and hence no nuclei and still produce a lot of uric acid from your own cells.

The main idea of diets was to eliminate purines - a complex chemical in cell nuclei that is related to the formation of uric acid in people who have this disorder. This usually resulted in advising patients not to eat any organ meats, specifically kidneys, liver and sweetbreads. This was no great hardship for most people. Then the high purine foods had to be eliminated. These included anchovies, mature bean seeds, bouillon cubes, cauliflower, egg plant, gravies, lentils (the bean family again) mushrooms, oatmeal, sardines and spinach.

And for good measure the foods rich in fat were forbidden.

As you can see such a list will not prevent your mother from eating what fruit she wants or drinking any fruit juice she wants either.

It is true that beer, ale or wine will sometimes precipitate most cases of high uric acid are controlled by medicines. There are new medicines that help to block the excess formation of uric acid at the cellular level. When a patient tolerates this medicine well it is one of the best choices. It stops the problem at its source. There are other medicines to increase the flushing out of uric acid through the urine and good old colchicine for acute painful attacks such as the painful toe. Your mother may need this. She certainly needs to see a doctor and should be followed regularly by one who will treat her gout adequately to avoid acute gouty complications.
