Sights and Faces Seen

There is a little 13-year-old oy in Hereford who has a future. name is Joe. Joe has five ger brothers and sisters, and his mother is a widow, virtually tied down by her young children. So it is up to Joe, at 13, to think about making a living for his family. But so far he has not been able to find work. He is a bright youngster, dependable and eager to work. Do you have a place for Joe? Is there any work you can give him? If so, please notify the relief office. It is certain Joe will make a good hand and give you full value received in labor for the salary you pay him, and you would be helping him sup-port a family of seven.

ONE OF BEST IN PANHANDLE

Here is one of the best wheat fields in the Panhandle Plains area. It is on the D. L. McDonald irrigated farm three north of Hereford on 25-Mile Avenue. The grain was cut with a binder when these pictures were taken. It is all in the shock now and will be threshed in about two weeks. The field was watered three times during the growing season. The farm is managed by John R. McDonald.

Tulia Boosters Visit Hereford

DELEGATION INVITES LO CAL PEOPLE TO CELEBRATION

Tulia Boosters paid Hereford a rousing visit Tuesday afternoon to invite local people to that city's 46th birthday celebration Friday and Saturday. They came in truck, bus and automobiles, and with them were the high school band, and several other musicians

Carrying out the ploneer motif, the men wore oddly shaped whiskers, 10-gailon hats, loud-colored shirts, boots and spurs. The wo-men and girls wore wide, flowing skirts, sunbonnets and elbow-length gloves. They came amid the blowing of horns, shouts and blare of the band and departed a few minutes later in similar manner. They were seated in rows across the huge truck after the fashion of

After parading along Main Street, the caravan stopped at the corner of Third and Main streets for a short concert and to invite the people of this section to be their guests this week end. Many had not definitely accepted to join with them, in making this the first district picnic ever held in the Panhandle. The meeting was to have been held this mouth. They will include rodeo, barbecue, automobile races, parade. barbecue, automobile races, parade, dances and all entertainment which goes with such an occasion.

It has drawn the praise of such people as Secretary of THIS KIND OF Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, different senators and other government officials on the grounds that it is a "moving record of what happened where farmers encouraged by their government, plowed land which should never have been taken out of grass." Whatever the effects the picture may have upon the territory, it does have a specific educational purpose, "to explain the reason for the devastating dust storms in the Middlewest, and to warn the country of what is sure to come in the future if effective save that vast stretch of America from becoming a desert." That those steps are being taken-started after the picture was produced-is common knowledge, but it does not detract from the interest being shown in the picture. It will be shown in addition to the regular theatre program, at additional cost.

Child Buried Here Saturday

Funeral services were held at Boyd, last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for Freddie Luck, threeweeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Luck of Brownfield, formerly of Hereford. Rites were con-ducted by Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist church, with interment in West Park Ceme-

Showers Add To Prospects for Row Crop

FARM PROGRAM "COVER CROP" IS ASSURED, AGENT SAYS

Moisture that covered Deaf Smith county in greatly varying quantities last Saturday afternoon and night were highly beneficial to growing crops and most of the newly planted acres in the county.

County Agent Alex Bateman said "we now have sufficient moisture to assure farmers of cover crops on the 15 per cent (sudan and grain sorghum planted on 15 per cent of the cultivated land on farms complying with the new farm program). Those who have not planted their 15 per cent have an opportunity to do so."

In view of the fact there has been moisture, he added, the county committee on soil conservation feels there is no excuse for anyone not getting a crop on the 15 per cent. This crop must be planted on or before July 31 to meet with the requirements of the pro- Funeral Rites

(An Editorial)

Information has come to this office that there is opposition to Senator Clint Small in this territory on the grounds that certain areas were discriminated against in the formation Erosion Budgets that certain areas were discriminaed against in the formation of the special wind erosion district law, a unique piece of legislation in the annals of the farmers' attempt to obtain govern

The writer talked to Senator Small personally about this EXPECT FINAL WORKING matter and believes that were it explained to the people of those areas, they would understand that the Panhandle Senator had accomplished much and put over a nice piece of work when he got what he did.

In it is a clause which proyears to the original nine erosion districts, the money to go toward errying on the fight against wind erosion in these

> Since the bill was passed, the erosion districts have been increased to 14, including Castro and Parmer counties. These districts do not receive tax refunds, and for that reason some people are criticising Small and attacking his work in connection with the law. We believe these attacks are the result of misinformation regarding the circumstances surrounding the bill.

The entire Texas legislature was not in sympathy with the bill, and the power of other sections threatened to kill it altogether. Especially were they opposed to the tax refund. which took mony from them and returned it to the Panhandle. Senator Small wanted to provide a refund to every erosion district, but opposition foresaw every county in the Panhandle made into special districts, and too heavy a drain upon the state's pocketbook, which so freely opens to the heavily populated sections of the state. Small also looked into the future and knew that should he write such a clause into the bill it was doomed to failure. Although it was his desire to include every county in the tax refund clause, he knew he would have limited to the nine counties, of to take the second best course and limit the refund to the nine which Deaf Smith is one. counties if he were to get his bill through congress.

He did that. The bill passed and became one of the best of all known conservation movements. He is to be complimented on his work for this section. If there must be criticism, it should be directed at those legislators who through their opposition to the law made it impossible for every Panhandle county to benefit to the fullest, and not at the man who wrote a unique bill, one that may become the foundation of future conservation legislation over the nation, and got for his district in a time of need all that the remainder of the

Mr. Baynum said that railroading is the largest industry in the odist church by Rev. T. C. Wil- slinging being directed principally United States. The western roads, he said, are valued at 10 billion dollars, and last year employed 372,000 men and women at a salary of $610,000,000. Including those indirectly employed at railroading, the industry supplies employment for 750,000 persons. The railroad is also a huge tax-payer, Mr. Baynum pointed out. Last year the Santa Fe paid $7,542.44 in taxes in Deaf Smith county, where it has 22 miles of track.

Very few geniuses are born naturally. Most of the people who succeed do so by years and years of long work-developing and training the talent they possess. Talent is not enough.

Yet this training costs money—and many who might have done great things have lived forever in obscurity for lack of just a few hundred dollars.

Congress

18th Congressional District

- 1. I favor the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension Plan 2. I favor a program which will make possible a farm 16 every farmer and a home for every family.
- 3. I favor federal aid for education in the poorer commun-
- I favor an "honest dollar" stabilized at the 100 cent level. 5. I favor extending the civil service merit system.
- I favor increasing business through increasing the people's buying power.
- This program means simply to increase prosperity by get-ting money into the hands of the little fellow to "get the grease where the squeak is!"
- Prevent concentration of wealth by means of taxes on incomes, inheritance, gifts and luxuries and tax-exempt bonds,

9. Prevent war by conscripting money and materials as well as men, in time of war.

McDonald Farms

Mr. John McDonald says that about two years ago he found it necessary to buy a new tractor that had more power and was easier to handle in close places, such as you find on irrigated farms. After looking over sev. eral makes of tractors, he bought a CASE MODEL CC TRACTOR Since that time he has added to his farm machinery and equipment with a CASE PICKUP HAY BALER, a 10. FOOT CASE POWER BINDER and another CASE MODEL CC TRACTOR Mr. McDonald invites anyone interested in good farming and good machinery to look over his farm, three miles north of Hereford and form their own conclusions.

PRESS ECHOES ALLRED'S POPULARITY

Newspapers of Texas are lined up fairly completely behind Jimmie Allred for a second term as governor, the "pet" press of the other candidates being the principal source of turned to that town for Newopposition. The press is not just backing Allred and predict- port and purchased an intering his re-election by an overwhelming majority, but it goes est in the Kerr, Slover and farthur and for the first time in years is urging that a candi- Ireland firm. The report also date be returned to office in the primary so as to prevent the stated the girls were very glad necessity of more weeks of campaigning.

The Childress Index says Allred opened his campaign mitt. before a crowd of more than 10,000 people, while his numerous opponents have never had more than 500 listeners and more often the audience seldom numbers more than 50. That is a strong indication that Governor Allred is still the man of the hour and will again be elected." "The smartest thing Texas voters could do," says the Index, "is put him back July 25 and let him continue his work with the state from that date instead of making him continue his campaign."

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS WORK OF CONSERVATION SERVICE

The Soil Conservation Service ended its fiscal year on July 1, with its annual report showing. the work that had been done on its demonstration tract until that

One thousand and twenty six acres of pastures have been contour furrowed; 7,992 acres of grain sorghum have been plan ed on the contour; 1,576 acres are protected by terraces; 3,832 acres were planted to grain sorghum as an emergency cover crop; 1461.7 have been planted.

The results of the pasture furrowing may plainly be seen. In many cases creeping culms already have reached across the furrow, showing that the grass is covering rapidly, and for several feet behind the furrows, where water was backed up, a material gain in the growth of grass is Pasture furrowing has been done land 180 acres, P. To the Voters of DEAF SMITH COUNTY

As a last word, I ask your support for County Judge and Ex-Officio School Superintendent for the following reasons:

First I attended rural school and later taught in the rural district, giving me first hand information of your problems. With this knowledge I believe I can help you have a better school.

I am deeply interested in the agricultural future of this county in that many of our people have their life earnings invested in their homes and unless we find a way to solve some of our recent problems, we all face an uncertain future.

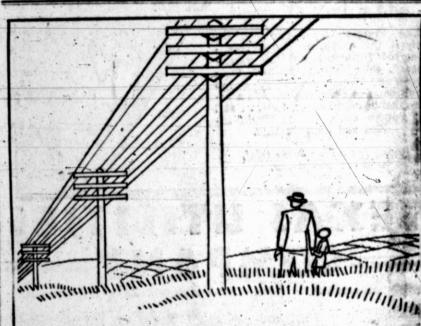

I believe the County Judge should at all times be on the job so that anyone desiring information concerning any county business may secure same.

I promise if elected to give my entire efforts to an impartial and constructive administration.

Should I be your county judge, I want every citizen of the county to feel perfectly free at all times to come to the judge's office when they need my ser-

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF, TAX ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR

Farmers Turn To Contouring

As the successful farmer determines the capacity and efficiency of each piece of farm machinery in order that he may receive, as economically as possible, the greatest amount of service and will readily say that a man must have a good knowledge of each piece of machinery to properly operate it, so is he interested in learning and following an improved farming practice.

He is greatly concerned with obtaining a thorough knowledge of contour farming, how to spreperly run and maintain his lines, and how to receive the maximum benefits from contour farming. He is anxious to be able to run his own lines at a time when his other farm operations are not pressing upon him for time. He has a better knowledge of machinery he is to use in tilling the land, and a better knowledge of the land itself, than any other person.

This is the opinion of Assistant County Agent C. E. Marcum, who has announced he will be glad to hold demonstrations or night meetings in every community where there is a number of farmers who want to learn to properly run and maintain contour lines on their farms. The farmer who is capable of doing these things, Marcum said, will receive the greatest benefit from contour farming, and at the same time will not greatly inconvenience himself by intensifying the practice when his machinery is adapted to intensified contour farming. In short, he must solve the problem himself and take advantage of the benefits afforded by the practice through his own efforts.

"Summer clothing should light in weight and color and porus texture. White clothes reflect the rays of the sun and therefore are cooler. Frequent changing of clothing, particularly of that next to the skin, is especially conducive of comfort.

"The summer diet should consist of light, nutritious and easily digested foods. Fresh fruits and vegetables are particularly desirable as hot weather foods because of their ease of digestion and wide range of variety in the manner they may be served. Meat and heavy pastries should be eaten sparingly. A balanced diet may be maintained without the foods. Do not eat when you are tired.

Exercise should be taken in hot weather but good judgment must be used in the amount that is taken. Swimming is fine exer cise and is more refreshing than other forms of exercise. If sun baths are to be indulged in, care should be taken to accustom the skin by exposing the body for short periods in the beginning.

"Plenty of rest is necessary dur. ing hot weather. Sleep a sufficient number of hours and eat at regular meal times. Acquire regular habits of living and develop a cheerful outlook on life, and you will find that it will help you to spend a comfortable summer at home or on vacation."

He was educated in the public schools of that section, then attended State Normal schools, and later became a teacher in that part of the state.

Sheppard's first public office was tax assessor of Nolan county, and it was here that he acquired the interest of tax problems that led ultimately to his election as president of the State Tax Assessors Association.

Subsequently, Sheppard was mayor of the City of Sweetwater for five years and became an active member of the board of di-rectors of the West Texas Cham-ber of Commerce.

Throughout East Texas where there's an oil well for almost every pine tree, he's the "Big Fish." The news magazine, Time, wrote him up as the man who made the Supreme Court laugh. But he calls himself "just a country lawyer." He is Fletcher Whitfield Fischer, candidate for governor of the state and engine of the 1936 gubernatorial campaign in Texas.

Fischer is going about Texas now telling the voters his plan to raise $100,000,000 a year by upping the tax on natural resources. He talks about taxes and pensions and the like, but he doesn't talk much about himself. That in itself distinguishes him from most politicians.

Rich oil fields of Texas that hold millions in wealth are con trolled by a one-man commit according to charges made last week by former State Senator Carl C. Hardin of this city in Carl C. Hardin of this city in talks made in interest of his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner. He said the "one man" is the incumbent, E. O. Thompson, and declared that Thompson is in the power of the Standard Oil Co. During the remainder of the campaign, Mr. Hardin will be in many Toyas counties, speaking on many Texas counties, speaking on an average of ten times daily.

Many Acres Will Return To Grass

Many farmers have indicated that they are desirous of return-ing some of their cultivated land back to grass land, according to information from the county agen'ts office. This is undoubtedly a commendable effort on the part of the individual, Assistant Agent C. E. Marcum said, and Deaf Smith county shall have been greatly benefitted when the majority of our less desirable cultivated land has been returned to grass, It is suggested that grain sorghum or sudan be planted on this land at once, if this has not already been done, in order that the land may have a cover crop and also a nurse crop for the grass at sowing time next spring. From three to four pounds of grass seed should be sown broadcast and covered to a depth of a quarter inch.

Blue Grama grass probably is our most abundant and most easily harvested grass seed produced in the plains area, Marcum stated. These seed may be harvested with a lown mower or mower and raked and stored as a hay until sowing time. At sowing time the speakers will be set up. Continues to Represent the Panhandle in the Texas Senate

Never has the Panhandle of Texas had such a champion in the State Capitol! Never has it sent a legislator to Austin who so effectively originated legislation for this district, and who worked so diligently for progressive, fair government. His long list of accomplishments speak louder than any orator, His familiarity with governmental procedure, brought about by years of first-hand contact and service, makes him, this year, even more valuable. He is truly/

MISCONDUCT IN OFFICE

(From Potter County News, Friday, July 10, 1936.) "Misconduct in office," was the complaint against Curtis Douglass as district attorney in the 84th Judicial District, according to a United Press dispatch dated February 10, 1928. Such were the grounds on which Governor Dan Moody, who appointed him, initiated removal proceedings against Mr. Douglass, who now aspires to be Senator of the 31st Senatorial District. His record shows that he has held no other public of fice and that he was defeated the only time he ever ran for

He resigned shortly after Johnny Holmes defeated him in the campaign for district attorney in July, 1928. The United Press dispatch reads:

"AUSTIN, Feb. 10.-Governor Dan Moody today announced he will ask Attorney General Pollard to institute proceedings for removal of Curtis Douglass as district attorner at Bor-

"'Misconduct in office' was given by the governor as grounds on which the removal was sought.

"Douglass is an appointee of Governor Moody.

"Governor Moody said he had received complaints from people at Borger about Douglass' misconduct. He said he sent Ranger to Borger to make an investigation of the charges, and on the Ranger's report decided to ask removal proceedings."

Despite this record, Mr. Douglass has seen fit to attack the record of the incumbent, Clint C. Small. Mr. Douglass' charges to the contrary, Senator Small does not represent "big" corporations. He has appeared in the records and in the press as being among attorneys appearing at gas and oil hearings— but Senator Shall represented the State of Texas in defense of the conservation laws he wrote.

Mr. Douglass charges that Senator Small missed a large number of roll calls. Senator Small will tell you frankly that he did not loaf in the Senate awaiting roll calls on unimportant resolutions and non-contested bills.

It has been alleged that Senator Small voted against a resolution which would have required attorneys only to sign an affidavit as to their retainer fees. Mr. Douglass, however, is telling only half the truth. He doesn't tell you that Senator Small immediately wrote a resolution which would have required ALL members of the Senate and the House to disclose their clients. That is the whole truth,
