Dameron Park, filled with the scent of barbecue and the sounds of music, provided a sunny setting Thursday for a relaxed July 4 celebration by local citizens.

While children cavorted in the rass, the adults gathered in little islands and discussed various topics at their leisure.

AFTER A DEDICATION of the nearby Hereford Garden Center, the holiday group began lining up at tables where the Rotary Club was serving barbecue. Meanwhile, Hereford High School Band and Fire House Rifteen played for the listening pleasure of the celebraters.

After the luncheon, Roy Faubion, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce president, welcomed the crowd to the celebration and introduced Wayne Thomas, a local attorney who spoke on the theme, "We, the People.

In his speech, Thomas said, "We the people do face tasks which will call for the highest ability and dedication to solve.'

THOMAS said the biggest of faith in our ability, as a people, to meet the problems of our age. He said he disagreed with those critics who have concluded that "America is in a state of anominie." After Thomas delivered histhe park to Deaf Smith County Library for the dedication ceremony of the new

Woman Charged In Shooting Incident

A 27-year-old woman was free on $5,000 bond Saturday after being charged Friday with intent to commit serious bodily injury in connection with a shooting incident at 121 15th

The woman, Nancy L. Gallo, exact address unknown, was charged before Municipal Judge Jim Neil.

CITY POLICE reported officers, answering a call about a woman shooting at the house of Thurman Deas, arrived at the scene to find her sitting in a car near the house. At first, a police spokesman said, the woman told a policeman walking toward the car to "keep away," but then surrendered a .357 pistol.

A Hereford-Deaf Smith County Task Force investigator said two bullets believed to have been fired from the pistol, owned by Deas, were found in the side of the house

The boy said the man spoke to him, then ran to a car parked in the alley and drove away. Police recovered 30 one-dollar bills the man allegedly copped in the back yard.

Police were also investigating thetheft of 100 bales of hay from Earl Holt's farm. Holt said the hay was taken sometime Saturday night.

The city of Hereford uses about six million gallons of water a day in years as dry as 1974; according to a spokesman for the city water, department. The city gets its water supply from 22 wells scattered about the city. But the main problem is storing the water.

The water is stored in three tanks ranging in size from 250,000 gallons to 400,000 gallons. Pumps run continyously during peak usage periods keeping these tanks full. As Hereford's water needs increase, the spokesman said, more storage facilities will have to be built.

PEAK USAGE periods include daytime hours when lawn and water gardening is going on about town, and when industrial water usage is at a high. The upcoming potato harvesting season will throw a considerable burden on the cities' water supply when potatoes are brought into processing plants tied on to city water mains, according to the spokesman.

The farmers of Deaf Smith County could be facing a shortage as well. Ground water, or water from wells, is declining every year. In the average year the water table in the Ogalalla formation drops about five feet. In years as dry as 1974, the water level drops even more as more is used.

THIS WATER, the only available to the Texas Panhandle, doesn't recharge itself even in wet years. Twenty inches of rain will only recharge the water table with one-quarter inch of water.

Milo Center Puts New Telephone Exchange Into Operation

The establishment of a new rural central office at Milo Center was announced Saturday by the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative. The new telephone office will include existing subscribers in the Dawn and Westway exchanges and will be located about 10 miles north of Hereford on Hwy. 385. The area coverage will be approximately 6 to 10 miles either side of Hwy. 385 to the Ford community.

THE NEW Mile Center exchange will have the prefix 578 with some of the customers in the Dawn and Westway exchanges being moved to the new exchange. Telephone subscribers in Hereford will continue to call these customers as a local call by dialing the 578-XXXX numbers. Until the new Hereford directory is printed and distributed the numbers of the customers in the Milo Center exchange may be secured from the information operator, or from W.T. Rural Telephone Cooperative.

The Milo Center subscribers will be able to dial customers in the Dawn and Westway exchanges on a local basis, by dialing prefix 258 for Dawn and 289 for Westway.

· This will make the ninth exchange location of the cooperative serving the area with rural telephone service. The cooperative is serving county rural areas in Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, and part of Bailey.

About the time we were runnings ads like the above, on August 14, 1973, choice slaughter steers sold for $56.94 at Omaha. Now they're around $41. Clearly, if a cattle producer had contracted then he would be a lot better off now. That, in a nutshell, is the whole point of contracting-to prevent loss. We readily admit that if prices had gone the other way, a producer who contracted would have not lost $150 to $250 per head. But presumably he would have still made a profit. And reasonable profits-year-in and year-out, are still the best way to run a business-and stay in business.

Dinner at the Spanish Galleon in Fort Worth this evening with other Miss Texas contestants and hostesses will be the first event of a crowded week for Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford 1974, as she begins the whirl leading up to finals in the Miss Texas pageant Saturday evening.

Wardrobe assembled, talent number rehearsed and hopes high, Miss Hickman was given a good luck charm and best wishes from Hereford friends at a sendoff party Tuesday hosted by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors her entrance in the state contest.

Appearances there put her in competition for scholarships with a total value of nearly $9,000. Top scholarship of $2,500, to Texas Christian University, goes to Miss Texas who will represent the state in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City late this summer.

A $3,000 wardrobe from Leonards Stores and a $500 Toni-Kellogg-Campbell fashion award also go to the winner of this 13th annual version of the Miss Texas pageant in Fort Worth. Other scholarships and Preliminary competitions begin Wednesday evening in Tarrant County Convention Center Theatre where finals are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Station KTVT will broadcast the finals with Miss America of 1973, Terry Meeuwsen, as mistress of ceremonies.

Starting the week, registration at Ramada Inn Central is set this afternoon, and after that each contestant will be accompanied by an official pageant hostess wherever she goes during the week.

There are numerous places to go, beginning with the dinner today and a get-acquainted party afterward with Miss Texas 1973, Judy Mallett, as hostess. A press party around the pool at the Ramada Inn is first on program Monday, then lunches, dinners, modeling and rehearsals will fill every hour.

Entrants travel together in buses to and from headquarters at the Ramada, always accompanied by the hostesses. They will be divided into three

Realtor To Attend Branding-Dallas Institute

"The fact that Texas has over 70,000 men and women who are either brokers or real estate salesmen makes it even more important for each of us to seek new levels of competence, Franklin Jeffers, president of the Texas Assoc. of Realtors, said recently as he urged enrollment in the upcoming Texas Realtors Institute in Dallas.

Planning to attend the Dallas Institutes from here will be Kenneth Campbell, Tommy Bowling and Don Tardy.

"Approved by the Commission, the Institute program is widely hailed as one of the most effective ways to reaching a really professional level, Melvin Jayroe education chairman here, said. "With the millions served by men and women in the profession, it is very important that each man and woman stay on top of the latest developments in our changing housing industry. It may be trite to say it, but Hereford's loss is Odessa's gain!

Cattlemen have been greatly encouraged by the stronger market the past two weeks, but there is general reluctance to invest in a feeding operation until it becomes more apparent that a stable, profitable climate has been achieved. Even with the advance in prices, most sales still represented a hefty loss.

Some fed steers and heifers sold as much as $5 or more above prevailing levels early last week, and replacements were generally quoted $1 to $3 higher. Bulk choice fed steers brought $43-44 in a general way across the country, and scattered sales up to $45 were noted in the Plains area.

The big question is whether the market rise is a sign of better things to come, back towards the black-ink level, or is merely a temporary relief from the disaster of the past few months. The West Texas Livestock Weekly reports that all signs point to further improvement. After all, writes the columnist: "Several well-known public figures in Washington have gone on record as sympathizing with cattlemen; banks have happily announced that qualified borrowers could obtain money at only 10 per cent per annum; and the wind switched to the north the other day just as the Democrats proved they could raise campaign money from somebody besides milkmen."

Hereford's streets and parks have benefited greatly from revenue sharing funds, according to a list of expenditures shown at the city commission meeting Monday. Of the total receipts of more than $412,000 since 1972, more than half has gone to streets and park improvement. A total of $142,647 had gone to paving and right-of-way on streets, with a new street sweeper included. A total of $104,141 has been spent on park improvements.

As in past years, classes in the first two sessions this summer have been full and dozens of children have learned the basics of swimming or gone on to advanced classes. There are also classes for adult beginners as . well as instruction for those ready to take life saving lessons.

A new motion picture just released by the Texas Highway Department proves again that factual history can be as fascinating as fiction.

Titled "The Missions of Texas," the film focuses on that epic era of state history, and explores 10 of the ancient Spanish missions where Texans can walk in the past today.

Settings for the colorful chronicle range from shadowy pine forests to the blazing West Texas desert. Filmed on locations at Weches, Goliad, El Paso and San Antonio, the film invites viewers to visit sites that were old before the United States existed.

Garden Center Opened

Club Dream Comes True

A 45-year-old building made of much older material and located on park land deeded tothe city of Hereford at an earlier date, was dedicated as the Hereford Garden Center Thursday morning to begin all-day programs in observance of Independence Day.

Formerly the Campfire Hut, he small brick building and the triangular park space where it stands at the conjunction of North Main, Ninth St. and Park Ave. has been developed as a garden center by Hereford Garden Club members since Campfire Girls moved to headquarters in 1966 their new lodge on Fourteenth St./

Dudley Bayne, city Manager, cut a ribbon and the public was invited to inspect the building and grounds after an address by Mrs. E.H. Boedeker of Lubbock, governor of District I, Texas Garden Clubs.

Bricks for the building, which has been redecorated and furnished by the garden club members. were given to the Campfire Girls soon after that organization was started in Hereford, and came from the wellhouse on the old Mooney place on Tierra Blanca Creek southeast of the city.

The small park area where it stands was deeded to the city by Mr. and Mrs. R.N. Mounts with the stipulation that it remain in Hereford's park system to be used by groups which would render service to the city, or revert to the Mounts Estate.

Mrs. A.L. Manjeot of the garden club found this and other facts about the park in tracing its history recently.

When Mrs. Cassie McDowell organized a Campfire Girl group in 1929 it had no fixed meeting place, and Boy Scouts of Troop 50 volunteered to help build it a hut.

Some of the girls in this first group were Elizabeth Stanford, Nora Daniel, Wilma Jo Jones, Virginia Barnett, Mary Nix, Patricia Wederbrook, Estelle Gililland and Betty Bruce Jones.

Boy Scouts who launched the building project were Bill Davis Jr., Karl Wilson Shirley, Donal Ray McCullough and Jack Nix.

wreck the Mooneys' brick wellhouse, cleaned the stones and bricks and hauled them to the site.

Nix's father, Walter Nix, a brick layer, did the construction work on the still-sturdy building, using the stone for fireplace and trim.

After Elizabeth Stanford (Mrs. Dick Barnard) and Mrs. Urlin Streu revived the Campfire program in a few years, the girls had the walls plastered, painted them and furnished the hut with nail kegs, orange crates and bright paint. Merchants gave plumbing fixtures; residents donated furniture and kitchen equipment; Hereford Garden Club planted shrubs and bulbs around the hut. With growth of Campfire membership more space was needed and a barracks building from the World War II prisoner of war camp southwest of Hereford was moved in and joined to the small brick structure.

It supplied a sizeable meeting room until the Campfire Lodge became a reality; it was moved out before the garden club began work on the Garden Center.

Hereford Garden Club interest in the Campfire Girls extended from work on the grounds to organization of junior garden clubs for, the younger girls, with Mmes O.H. Herring and Manjeot as first leaders. Junior clubs have been sponsored since that time; Mmes. Ray Johnson and R.L.

Wilson are present leaders. When the Campfire Girls moved to their new home, Mrs. Ralph McCullough and Mrs. Manjeot thought of the vacated hut and its grounds as the location for a garden center which the club had discussed for

They asked the city manager if future use of the hut had been to the public.

Bayne presented the proposal to the City Commission and permission was given for use of the park if the club carried out the Mounts' stipulations, landscaping the grounds at club expense and sharing information and results of test plantings with the public.

The garden center was adopted as a club project after other local garden clubs decided not to join as sponsors, and a landscape architect drew plans for improving the grounds. The club has raised money by sales, memorial donations and other means to buy plants and material to renovate and furnish the in-

Members have done most of the work them selves. Mrs. L.W. Norvell was president when the project was adopted and has been succeeded by Mrs. R.L. Layman and then Mrs. O.G. Hill

Mrs. Norvell named the original committees: Mmes. Manjeot, McCullough and the late Mrs. A.O. Thompson on landscaping; Mmes. W.C. Hromas, Ben Childers and Layman on redecoration; Mmes. S.S. Williams, Manjeot and W.S. Fluitt on special gifts.

It still seems silly to me that weathermen in the Southwest take their terms from northeastern regions where the forecasts must originate; why doesn't one of them predict a really pretty day for tomorrow - an all-day downpour that ruins any ideas of picnics, fishing trips and backyard barbecues.

Two Years Of Watergate

The break-in at Democratic Party headquarters on June 17th, 1972, which ushered in the floodtide of Watergate scandals and investigations, is now more than two years into

Since that time, a massive investigative effort into abuses in the executive branch has produced legal charges against. forty-eight men, thirty-one of whom have been found guilty. Five have been found innocent. Twelve are awaiting trial. Others may eventually be involved.

By any measurement this is a massive scandal and a reflection of massive wrongdoing. Two of those involved have thus far turned state's witnesses to earn lighter sentences -Charles Colson and John Dean. The recent hope of the Special Prosecutor's office seems to have been to persuade one of the major figures involved, such as John Ehrlichman or Bob Halderman, to turn state's evidence and cooperate with investigators. So far, this has not happened.

Plea bargaining, as this is called, is a dubious process in scandal investigations involving, mostly, one's memory. and one's testimony. The individual who decides to cooperate with the prosecutor is earning a lighter sentence by helping convict former associates and is inevitably tempted to paint his role in brighter colors or that of others in darker colors, to help the prosecutor.

The present prospect is that Watergate will last at least another year, new revelations are still making headlines. A Senate trial, if the House indicts (impeaches), is not likely in 1974. By that time, after this year's elections and only a year before the 1976 elections, it seems unlikely the Senate would turn Mr. Nixon out of office. Few Democrats would favor giving Vice President Ford a year in the White House -a major political advantage-prior to the 1976 elections.

Thus the present prospect is for a continuing of Watergate well into 1975, and into the election year following.

Fat & Cancer

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, a pioneer researcher who has long linked America's heavy fat diet with cancer, told the American College of Nutrition meeting in Chicago recently that half of all female cancer and a third of all male cancer might be related to nutritional factors.

Wynder is not referring to food additives such as artificial sweeteners but is speaking of deficiencies and excesses in the daily diet. He believes too much fat can be traced as a cause of many colon cancers, and also of kidney and pan-

Wynder's arguments are supported by recent efforts of researchers who have made statistical studies of races and groups which eat less fat than the average American (Japanese, Seventh Day Adventists, etc.). Their efforts reveal a far lower rate of cancer of the colon, kidney and pancreas among those who eat less fat than among average Americans, with their high fat diet.

Thus the evidence is now more persuasive than ever that most of us should reduce our intake of fat, especially animal fat.

World War Two Nostalgia

A number of writers have noted recently that the nation seems to be experiencing a strange nostalgia for the World War II era. Great interest in that period is being exhibited by young and old; in every corner of the nation. Why this intense interest, or affection, for a war era, with all its

Perhaps the main reason is that the nation was then solidly united. Classes, races, religions and ethnic groups submerged their antagonisms in behalf of the common goal of a united people-victory over those who had suddenly attacked the U.S. Navy, and also Army, installations at Pearl Harbor. We didn't then have a separate Air Force.)

Another reason is that this was the moment in history when the United States emerged as the unquestioned leader of the free world, the dominant power throughout the world. financially and militarily, it was a high point in American nfluence and power.

The violence? It was, of course, terrible; but the death toll of American military men was no more than three or four years of normal U.S. highway fatalities. So it wasn't the massive blood bath for America it was for Russia or Germany, countries which lost millions of their citizens. The U.S. foss was several hundred thousand, though many more were wounded.

The civilian population in America suffered from less gasoline, fewer tires, rationing in general, and a lack of such things as sugar and certain other edibles. But there were jobs aplenty, good pay, a spirit of togetherness and a feeling of accomplishment, shared by all.

They were memorable years, then, for those reasons, 1941-45. One cannot yet say that they marked the peak of American influence and power. But they marked a peak in unity, patriotic spirit and love of country. No wonder Americans look back and miss those sentiments.

2 Bill May Be Revived

By BERT MILLS

Does America need a $2 bill to help celebrate its 200th birthday in 1976? Some officials and members of Congress think so, and they point out that bringing back the deuce would also save $4-5 million annually in printing costs.

The Bicentennial Commission favors reissuance of a $2 bilk with a suitable design emblematic of the American Revolution. The anniversary connection is that it was in 1776 that the Continental Congress first authorized a $2 note.

It took some time for that authority to be used because it was not until 1862, during the Civil War, before the U.S. actually printed $2 bills. That experiment lasted more than a century until the series was discontinued in

Rep. Jerry L. Pettis (R., Calif.) is the latest member of Congress to introduce legislation to resurrect the $2 bill. He said this denomination is "steeped in historical tradition" and would be "a perfect vehicle to proclaim our national heritage and complement the three Bicentennial coin designs" already approved by Congress.

An earlier proposal by another California Republican, Rep. Victor Veysey, would introduce a women's liberation theme. He wants the portrait of suffragette-Susan B. Anthony printed on a $2 bill, in order to recognize the importance of women to our

THE BIG PROBLEM with $2 bills is that they were unpopular before. Nobody liked them except the racetracks, where a $2 bet is standard. But even some horse players considered them unlucky and made haste to trade them in.

That superstition about the deuce being unlucky is traced back to the first double dollar bill. The 1862-52 bill featured the portrait of Alexander Hamilton, the Secretary of the Treasury who was killed by Aaron Burr in America's most famous duel.

Thomas Jefferson replaced that of Hamilton but the bad luck notion continued. Some people even tore off the corner of a $2 bill, to destroy the curse, forcing the Treasury to withdraw the mutilated currency and print a new supply. Banks, stores, and the public generally disliked the $2 bill. Retailers contended their clerks mistook deuces for singles and gave too much in change. Shoppers feared they would be short-changed because their two would be mistaken for a one.

However, a $2 bill is accepted in Canada and saves the government money. Obviously it costs more to print two $1 bills than one $2 bill. The U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing estimates it could save at least $4 million annually if $2 bills were restored and used generally. The Federal Reserve System and the Treasury have been studying the problem for several years.

ONE OF THE arguments in favor of the $2 bill is that a dollar buys so little these days. As a practical matter, the deuce would have greater utility than formerly. However, there is the counter, argument that $2 bills would be a constant reminder of inflation.

Polls show that the public considers HCL our greatest national problem. Politicians worry about that because they are the ones that authorize government spending and

Politicians in Congress are the people who will have to decide the $2 question, since new legislation would be required to authorize any new currency denomination. Under these circumstances it seems probable that unless an unexpected public demand arises for $2 bills, Congress will leave things the way they

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY -Thirty-six years ago this week, a

Texas-born pilot got into his secondhand, single engine $325 airplane in New York, ostensibly took off for California and ended up 23 hours and 15 minutes later in Ireland.

He was Douglas Gorse Corrigan, born in Galveston and raised in San Antonio, who became one of aviation's legends by flying the "wrong way" across the Atlantic on July 17, 1938.

Corrigan, an airplane mechanic, was living in California at the time he became headline news. Nine years earlier, he had helped another young pilot, Charles A. Lindbergh, get his "Spirit of St. Louis" ready for what was to be a history-making solo flight across the Atlantic in 1927. Corrigan wanted to duplicate Lindbergh's feat and had requested government permission to try it in 1936. The permission was denied.

Two years later, he made the flight without anybody's authority and no advance announcement. He insisted that he was headed for Los Angeles and somehow flew the wrong direction. He has been known to aviation history since as "Wrong Way" Corrigan.

Today the intrepid aviator lives on a citrus farm near Santa Ana, Calif. He grants no interviews and makes no personal appearances. His plane is kept on the farm too, but if doesn't fly anymore. Corrigan has retired it to a building in the orchard.

WAKER-UPPER - Texans who like grapefruit juice with breakfast and wine with dinner now have the best of both worlds.

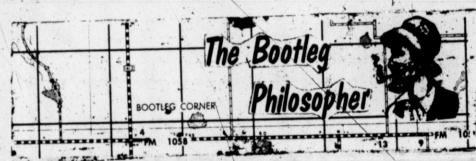

At Progresso, Hidalgo County, grapefruit juice is being fermented into a table wine that is being marketed throughout the Rio Grande Valley. Sold under the trade name, Queen Citriana Wine, the new beverage is proving popular.

The Progresso operation gives Texas its second licensed winery. The other, at Del Rio, has been turning out excellent table wines for years from vineyards in the area.

LIGHT UP - It's legal again to smoke in Eastland.

In 1964, the Eastland City Council, concerned at all the publicity about the evils of smoking cigarettes, took action. They decreed that henceforth it would be illegal to sell, buty or smoke the things within the limits of the Eastland County capital city.

The smoking ban made news around the world, but it was never enforced with much success. Not long ago, the city fathers quietly voted the law off the books and Eastlanders are puffing contentedly

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner tries to come to the rescue of the big cities this week, we think.

Dear editor:

The mayors of the major big cities in the U.S., according to an article If read in a newspaper yesterday, are asking the Federal government for 18 billion dollars to help pay for mass transit systems.

Their argument is that automobiles are choking the cities, that modern subways and other mass transit systems are needed if cities are going to continue to function, and that the cost of building and operating the systems is too great for any city to bear.

Now at first thought you mitht ask, why should somebody living on a place like this Deaf Smith grass farm out here have to help pay for a big city's subway system? If Boston or New York or Los Angeles people for example haven't got the ability to operate their cities, let them close them down.

THEN I got to thinking further. You shut down the big cities and what's going to happen? The people will spread out and ruin the countryside. It's the last thing I'd want to see happen. It's bad enough with all the bottles and beer cans we have to contend with, but you add people too and the countryside is gone.

Up to now, by some crafty propaganda, we country people have managed to keep most of the population cooped up in big cities where everybody thought all the advantages were, and if it takes an extra tax on this bindweed grass farm to keep them from catching on and breaking out, I'm willing to pay

FURTHERMORE, if us country people are on our toes we'll start a campaign to keep cities from spreading out. Look at nearly any big city and you'll see rows and rows of houses about three feet apart going up on the outskirts and extending further and further out in the country. Those houses ought to be stacked on top of each other back inside the city limits. I'm not interested in paying for a subway system that goes all over creation.

By the way, a developer came by here the other day asking if I'd be interested in selling my farm. Said it'd make a good sub-division. I'm waiting to see what his offer is. .

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Meyer-Burges Marriage Vows Spoken In Church

The marriage of Miss Rita Esther Meyer of Umbarger and Melvin Joe Burges, Route 1, was solemnized in a late afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Rev. Aedan Davis. associate pastor, conducted the nuptial mass.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Meyer of Umbarger, the bride is a teacher in the Hereford Public School system. Burges is the son of Mrs. Willie Burges of Route 1.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Willie Wieck, sister of the bride, and the bridesmatron was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Vincent C. Meyer. Bobby Byers acted as Burges' best man and Bob Hicks was groomsman.

Guests were ushered to pews by nephews of the bride, Albert and Richard Meyer. Wedding music was by Mrs. Jim Cramer. organist, who played the traditional marches, background selections and accompanied Larry Kuper as he sang Our Father and More.

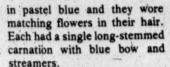

The bride's white dress was street length, styled simply with brief sleeves and cameo neckline accented with a single strand of pearls. Lace trimmed the dress and a lace rose centered her headpiece which was tied with ribbon streamers. She carried white and pastel blue carnations with white ribbons. Fashioned like the bride's dress, attendants' gowns were

Railway Buys Extra Hoppers

Santa Fe Railway has ordered 1,000 additional 100-ton covered hoppers at a cost of more than $20 million as part of its 1975 capital expenditure program, John S. Reed, chairman and chief executive officer, announced today.

"When this new order is delivered during the first half of 1975, it will bring our ownership of 100-ton 'Jumbo covered hoppers to about 13,000, and give us nearly 17,000 covered hoppers of all sizes," Reed said.

"This is further evidence of our continued effort to provide the equipment needed for our customers who ship grain, potash and other bulk commodities," he stated.

Prices Good Now On Poultry, Eggs

You can save money by niece of the bride, invited visiting the poultry and egg departments of your favorite store, advises one expert.

"Turkeys are a likely feature in many stores because supplies are plentiful and turkey barbecues well," Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said this week.

'Grade A Large size eggs are the best quality and economy combination for your egg money," she continued.

The specialist reported beef prices similar to last week, but broiling cuts have generally taken a slight price increase."

"Look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef and round steaks "Good pork buys are picnics, ham portions, shoulder roasts and steaks and end-cut loin roasts and chops. 'Supplies of sweet cherries, apricots, peaches, seedless grapes, plums and nectarines have increased but these will take a little time to go into the economy dass," Mrs. Clyatt reported.

Prices of cantaloupe and watermelon are slightly lower as the supplies increase now. 'Most economical vegetable choices include cabbage, carrots, radishes, green onions, tomatoes, dry yellow onions, and locally grown mustard, collard and turnip greens.

CONSUMER WATCHWORD: To preserve egg quality during hot weather, hurry eggs home from the store and refrigerate immediately.

Stop southwestern corn borers before they can cause profit-robbing damage to your corn fields. It's ideal for ground or air application.

SEVIN carbaryl is biodegradable, and compared with other agricultural int secticides it ranks low in toxicity to people, farm animals, birds and fish. Motor Homes Getting Scarce

BOB HILL Lentz, Newton & Co., Amarillo

One business not to have been in on September I of last year was the manufacture of distribution of recreational vehicles. That's when the full force of the fuel shortage and the threat of rationing hit the industry. Sales plummeted, RV manufacturers dropped like flies and dealers disappeared in

From November to February the industry ground to a halt with some 40 manufacturers out of an estimated 300 going out of business and the rest shutting down production and laying off workers.

Now, there's a mini-boom in recreational vehicles. Sales of some RV products are up as much as 25 per cent-in spite of a price increase of 8 per cent to 10 per cent over last year's prices.

AS IF THE strong demand for RV isn't enough to cope with, the industry now has to live with shortages of components and labor which are holding down production. Sales for 1974 are estimated to hit 511,000 units, a drop of 30 per cent from the record 725,000 units produced in 1973. Winnebago has reopened production lines but is operating at only one-third of previous production levels. Most of the major RV manufacturers are anticipating a shortage of units through the end of 1974.

Some of the manufacturers look on the 1973 blood bath as a healthy development for the industry because marginal manufacturers either folded or consolidated. Financially weak dealers and distributors also disappeared, leaving stronger and better-capitalized dealerships which can now carry larger inventories.

Producers are optimistic about the future because high interest rates and higher gasoline prices haven't discouraged buyers. There are fewer RV's on the highways today and camping sites are plentiful with little difficulty in finding a place to stay. The feeling seems to be that if you are going to drive a long distance at 55 mph, do it in

Lions Hear About "Meals On Wheels"

She told Lions that the program has been in operation for more than two years and is currently serving 10 people. Funds come from several organizations and church groups, and several churches have taken the responsibility of providing drivers for the program. The Lions Club contributes $360 a year to the program. Another highlight of the meeting was the installation of eight new members into the Lions Club. Don Zimmerman was in charge of the installation ceremony. The club now has 211 active members. New members inducted were Mac Hall, Bert Boomer, Bob Hicks, Alan Gowdy, Jerry Johnson, John Taylor, and John Trevino.

The idea of getting something for nothing isn't new. That's what discovered and settled our country.
