Morning Highway Accident

A southbound pickup crossing U.S. Highway 60 west of Hereford was struck by an east-bound Buick around 10 a.m. today. The Buick, after it collided with the front of the pickup, spun around and traveled backwards for about 100 yards before it wound up in a ditch. The pickup was driven by Nieves Rodriguez, who was not injured. A passenger in the car, Elia Lopez of Corpus Christi was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital, where her condition was not known. Her husband, Javier Lopez and a Weslaco couple--Ricardo and Ovalia Caballero--were not injured. "Everyone else was very, very lucky," said a deputy with the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Cattlemen Continue To Cull, Says USDA

WASHINGTON (AP) - It may be winter before feedgrain growers, food wholesalers and retailers, consumers and government inflation watchers know where the beef market is headed, Agriculture Department forecasters now

Cattle raisers, who took it on the chin with four years of depressed prices before last summer's market upswing, are still culling herds, they said in an assessment Thursday.

Until last September, that liquidation meant large supplies of beef and stable prices. Since then, demand has outpaced the supply. Before slipping last month, returns to farmers came within pennies of a new record high.

Largely because of that, retail prices are running more than 30 percent above a

Until that stops, the supply on the hoof will keep dwindling and prices will keep rising. Once it stops, it will take 27 months to 70 months for the herds to return to the size of recent years.

The new outlook said, "It may be after cattlemen sell this year's calves at higher prices before liquidation ends." Most of those sales occur in the fall.

If that happens, it said, the Jan. 1 inventory could be 110 million to 112 million head, the smallest in nine years and 15 percent to 17 percent less than when the cutback started in 1975.

The end of culling will itself sharply raise prices - cows that have been going to slaughter will become breeders. reducing the beef supply.

Unemployment Rises Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) - Unemployment rose sharply in July, climbing to 6.2 percent of the labor force, with teen-agers and women bearing the brunt of the increased joblessness, the government reported today.

The nation's jobless rate was 5.7 percent in June, the lowest in more than three years. The July rate of 6.2 percent was the highest since March, when it also was 6.2 percent.

Some increase in unemployment was considered likely because of government moves to slow the economy to help restrain inflation, but the July increase was surprisingly large and was spread throughout most employment categories. The Labor Department gave the

A second day of overcast conditions greeted Hereford area residents today as moisture continued to flow into the area from the remnants of Tropical Storm Amelia, after the storm died in the Texas Hill County earlier this week while dumping torrential rains on an area ranging from San Antonio to Abilene.

Winds aloft have continued to provide a source of moisture for the Panhandle area, and combined with a stationary cool front which moved in from the north earlier this week, conditions have been favorable for scattered thundershowers.

Early morning lows dropped into the 50's over much of the northern Panhandle today, and the cooling effects of the current weather front were being felt even in the cototn country of the South

Brief showers fell on portions of Deaf Smith County Thursday night and again early this morning, marking the second straight day of rainfall here.

KPAN radio logged .10 inches of moisture for the city from the rains of last night and this morning, while the Holly Sugar Corporation's Hereford plant recorded only .07 inches.

Rainfall was a bit heavier 14 miles north of town, where a report of .30 inches was received.

Only sprinkles were reported in the immediate area around Hereford, according to spokesmen for Dawn Co-Op and Easter Grain, and to the west, Mrs. Bill Page reported that no rain had fallen in the Bootleg community.

While two days of showers have left favorable moisture for grain crops here, residents of downstate Texas have not been so fortunate.

A sudden downpour spawned by the vestiges of Tropical Storm Amelia killed at least six persons in West Texas last night, ironically after that area and much of the Texas Hill Country had suffered through a drought for several months.

The massive rainstorms have claimedat least 21 lives in Texas this week since the tropical storm came ashore and unleashed its watery fury.

The storm has gradually edged its way Antonio area, and last night's heaviest damage was concentrated in the Abilene

Raging flood waters in Albany, a town of 2,000 about 35 miles from Abilene, claimed six lives and others remained unaccounted for, the Department of Public Safety said. Weary rescue workers further to the southeast in the Central Texas Hill Country, where at least 15 persons have died, began a second day of trudging through the muddy devastation searching for persons still missing in the flood's

Hundreds have been left homeless in the Hill Country, and, while official damage estimates may be weeks away, the figure is expected to run easily into the tens of millions of dollars.

The National Guard arrived in Albany with boats before dawn, fearful some house roofs that sheltered stranded residents would collapse before rescue could be accomplished.

At least seven inches of rain fell in the ravaged town, and neighboring Throckmorton County reported a rainfall of 17 inches. A DPS spokesman said accumulated rain water, a rising creek and the drainage system all contributed to the flood.

President Carter Thursday declared Texas a major disaster area, freeing federal recovery funds for the three hardest-hit Hill Country counties - Kerr. Bandera and Kendall, Ironically, the counties were already listed as disaster areas by the Agriculture Department due to drought conditions.

U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Texas, and Gov. Dolph Briscoe drove through Bandera County Thursday to survey the

"We're pretty sure we'll find some more victims," said Bandera police deputy Jackie Doyle. "We wish we weren't so sure."

Hundreds have been left homeless in the Hill Country, and while official damage estimates may be weeks away, the figure is expected to run easily into the tens of millions of dollars.

Authorities struggled to restore communication and transportation links to Albany, where the National Guard attempted to pluck some residents from their rooftop outposts.

Parking in the Park

A night-time jaunt through Dameron Park spelled disaster for the unlucky driver of this car when he came to a muddy half in the middle of the rain-soaked park. Senate Committee Votes To Aid Thicket

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Appropriations Committee has agreed to provide an additional $6.38 million for final acquision of lands in the Big Thicket National Preserve in eastern Texas.

The panel acted Thursday in response to the urging of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, who said the additional funding was needed because timber costs had zoomed upward since Congress agreed in 1974 to buy the additional lands.

In a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Bentsen said timber prices had "more than doubled" since 1974.

Rising costs...have driven the price of land to be included in the Big Thicket Preserve beyond the amount authorized and appropriated," Bentsen wrote.

A Senate subcommittee had failed to act in May on Bentsen's request but on Wednesday, the full panel unanimously voted to add the $6.38 million.

The money, if approved in the House, will bring the Big Thicket land acquisition total to more than $71 million. All but 6,000 to 10,000 acres remains to be acquired for the East Texas preserve.

Houston Chief Says Shooting Must Stop

HOUSTON (AP) - The "cowboy shoot-em-up" atmosphere in the Houston Police Department has got to go, says Police Chief Harry Caldwell.

Caldwell testified Thursday at a Civil Service Commission hearing for a police chase of a car and ordering his partner to shoot out the car's tires.

Clifton Carl Nelius, 27, was fired in July. He was also accused of working more hours on an off-duty security job than authorized and leaving his poisition at a police substation before he was officially off duty. Caldwell said.

Nelius testified he joined three other police cars chasing the car without being dispatched because his car radio was not

He said he continued to chase the car after one of the police cars crashed into a guard rail and the other two stopped to assist. When it appeared he was not going to catch the car, he said he ordered his partner to shoot out the car's tires.

The woman driving the car was charged with evading a police officer and reckless conduct, both misdemeanors,

"We'd rather lose a speeker than have a car pile up like that," he said. He said only two police cars at a time are supposed to be involved in a chase.

Carter Continues War Against Tuition Credits

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter is holding firm in his opposition to income tax breaks to offset the cost of college and private school education even though the plan's backers have scaled it down to cut costs.

"The president continues his strong opposition" to tuition tax credits. White House spokesman Rex Granum said Thursday after the Senate Finance Committee approved the slimmed-down

The committee measure would provide a tax credit of up to $500 a year to defray tuition at private schools, including parochial institutions.

Congressional aides said the program, when fully in place, would benefit an estimated 12.3 million students, with about 70 percent of the benefits going to defray the cost of college educations and about 30 percent going to offset the cost at private schools

Backers of the proposal also say it would cost the government an estimated $2.8 billion in the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1982, down from an estimate of nearly $5.3 billion under a measure the Finance Committee approved earlier this

The credits permit taxpayers to deduct money directly from taxes owed the government. Current law does not give taxpayers a break on the costs of education, but the idea has been gaining popularity in Congress in recent years.

Some San Antonio Strikers Reinstated

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - A special review board has reinstated less than half of the more than 170 garbagemen, dog catchers and airport maintenance workers fired last month for illegally striking. City Manager Tom Huebner said Thursday.

The board determined that the rehired employees were not active participants in the short-lived strike, but walked off their jobs because of threats.

Fifty-seven of the more than 140 fired garbagemen will be rehired, Hüebner said. The board has reinstated six former trash collectors last week.

Only three of 21 striking dog catchers will be reinstated, while two of 11 dismissed airport maintenance workers will get their jobs back, he added.

More than half of San Antonio's313 garbagemen walked off their jobs July 22 in a wage dispute. Within hours, Huebner fired 106 of them. Approximately another 35 were fired for refusing to work July 24 and the other employees were fired for striking the next day.

City officials were able to continue partial garbage collection with the non-striking employees and some 85 replacement workers hired July 24.

Meanwhile, leaders of the striking San Antonio Refuse Collectors Association and their supporters rallied Thursday at City Hall to demand reminstatement of all workers.

AMARILLO - Former Federal Bureau of Investigation Director Clarence B. Kelley was to be the featured speaker today at the noon luncheon of the 60th annual Texas-Oklahoma District of Key Club International convention in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. The convention, which is expected to draw approximately 2,500 Kiwanians, began Thursday with speeches from Texas-Oklahoma District Governor Charles B. Gillespie Jr. of Midland and Kiwanis International president-elect Mark Smith

A resolution to be presented at the convention by Division 33 of Kiwanis International will be to ask the Texas-Oklahoma district to resolve that Kiwanis International should support the Kidney Foundation Donor Program as its major project.

Hereford Kiwanians originated a support program for the Panhandle Kidney Foundation in 1977. Howard Birdwell of Hereford is lieutenant governor of Division 33.

Kiwanians and their families will attend the musical "Texas" tonight in Palo Duro Canyon following a barbeque dinner at the canyon.

The convention will close with a banquet Saturday night.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The San Francisco Giants show the bruises, but the Los Angeles Dodgers are on the ropes after a fifth straight loss.

"This is a rough game. We don't wear any pads," said Terry Whitfield, who scored from ninth-inning single to give the Giants a 5-4 victory Thursday night.

Whitfield, the team's left fielder, is playing with 20 stitches over an eye from a basepath collision in Houston early this week. Center fielder Larry Herndon and right fielder Jack Clark are nursing injuries suffered in a collision that gave Lee Lacy a controversial inside-the-park home run in the top of the ninth Thursday night.

"We beat the Dodgers twice, once when Larry caught that ball and once on Evans' hit," insisted Clark.

The Giants, leading the National League's Western Division by a game over Cincinnati, would have dropped into second by percentage points had they lost. The third place Dodgers, defending champions, now trail by 31/2 and face the Giants' pitching ace, Vida Blue, tonight.

Thursday's only National League game, the Chicago Cubs bet the St. Louis Cardinals for the 12th time in 12 tries this season, winning 3-2 on Bill Buckner's tie-breaking single in the seventh. The Cubs, second in the East, are now 31/2 games behind the idle Philadelphia Phillies.

The Dodgers' Lacy freak homer to right-center came off Giants starter Jim Barr with the bases empty and two out. Herndon caught the ball just

Lopez Stays Hot, Fires 73

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) - For a woman who claims she has never had a golf lesson in her life, 21-year-old Nancy Lopez hasn't done too badly for Currently she is the top money winner on the U.S. circuit with seven wins to her credit, and she is trying for an eighth in the European LPGA tournament here on Sunningdale 6174 yard, par 74 course.

She has been having trouble with her swing, but she claims she's cured it now - all by

'I've never been taught, so I don't know what I am doing wrong - I have to figure it out for myself," she said after posting a 1-under-par 73 in the first round Thursday.

"I did watch a golf clinic once, and I tried to follow what they were talking about - but it was no use. I don't like getting bogged down in theory.'

By contrast, Sally Little, the blonde South African who is leading the field of 80 with a first round 5-under-par 69. believes very much in theory.

"I've got a video machine, and I always watch myself to see where I am liable to go wrong then I talk about it," she said. "Before coming here I wasn't happy about my swing but the video has helped me correct it."

Little, with a string of six birdies and only a single bogey to mar her card, led throughout the opening round Thursday and confessed she likes it that 'It is a good feeling to be in front. I feel I have got more chance to win and I certainly don't mind being a frontrunner," she said.

But Little didn't have it all her own way Thursday. Laura Baugh, the sunny and photogenic American, is snapping at her heels after a 4-under-par first round 70 that included a blistering run of five birdies in a row. Baugh, who said she was stale after playing far too much golf in the early part of the year, came to Sunningdale after a week of lazing about - "just sitting in the sun reading and cooking, it was great" - and quickly got back into top form.

Lopez, runner-up here last year to Judy Rankin, and 4-1 betting favorite to win this year, was one of only 14 women to break par in the first round. She could have been well up with the leaders but for a disastrous triple bogey on the short par-3 eighth where she was bunkered, blasted out among trees and finally took six to get down.

Behind Little and Baugh are five Americans and Nayoko Yoshikawa of Japan. Vivian Brownlee, with a 3-under-par 71, is third, followed by Yoshikawa, Betsy King, Jerilyn Britz, Perry Conley and Shirley Englehorn - all with 2-under-par

Nicklaus and Mother Nature. maybe the two most potent forces in golf, both accommodated Tom Watson as he took the first-round lead in the PGA

National Championship. Nicklaus did his part Monday by hooking his opening tee shot into a ditch and staying in a rut the rest of the day to finish with an 8-over-par 79.

"It was not my day, and this is the kind of golf course where you can shoot a bad round." said the winner of more major tournaments than anybody in the history of golf.

"The course is very difficult, but I think the rain will make it easier this afternoon," added Nicklaus, who was playing No. 16 when thundershowers brought the first of two rain delays. The water did soften Oakmont Country Club's previously hard, bouncy greens, making them more vulnerable to accurate irons like the ones wielded by

Watson. "Obviously, the rain affected the whole golf course," Watson said after he managed a 4-under-par 67, which put him 12 strokes ahead of Nicklaus and one ahead of runnerup Dave Stockton at 68. "We could throw the balls right at the greens," added Watson, who also sank birdie putts of 30 and 35 feet.

It was also a woeful day for South African Gary Player, and the first green. "You do that and you get scared. You're afraid you're going to miss from everywhere," admitted Player, who doubled-bogeyed the third hole and eventually finished with a 76, which tied him with U.S. Open champ Andy North and Ray Floyd.

Tied for third at 69, only 2 shots out, were Lee Trevino, Dave Hill, Ben Crenshaw and Johnny Miller.

Trevino, who played in a threesome with Stockton and Watson, got close with a birdie on the final hole.

Miller, mired in a puzzling, two-year slump returned to the scene of his 1973 U.S. Open

He had a share of the lead at 4-under until he bogeyed the 6th and 18th holes. His 69 was six shots more than the course record 63 he shot here in 1973. Ten players were clumped at 70, including defending PGA champion Lanny Wadkins, who played in a threesome with Nicklaus.

The six players who finished at 71 included Hubert Green and Wally Armstrong, who had a special first-hole problem when his caddie failed to show. Armstrong had his bag toted for the first hole by the youngster assigned to carry the score sign for the threesome.

EXPECTATIONS

I contend that each person has certain expectations of another person based on their relationship.

When I think about my own relationships with people, I realize that I relate in a thousand different ways. There are some who expect me to be funny. Thus, I break my brain to come up with witty, or at least timely, quips.

Activities Discussed By Board

The Satellite Board convened Tuesday afternoon for their monthly meeting, hearing reports of the clients' participation in the State Olympics and their trip to Camp Wig Wam.

All clients attended the camp. which was described as, "very exciting and rewarding." Plans are in the making for the center clients to take a trip to Six Flags.

There was discussion concerning the initial stages of a building program for the center.

It was revealed that there is a great need for voluntary help. Anyone who can help is asked to contact Sandy Stockstill, the director at the center, 364-5861.

The same rule, "we produce what's expected", applies to Take, for example, the difference in the way some kids act in school and at home. A teacher tells me, "Johnny never talks back in class and follows directions well". This fact says to me that teacher expects Johnny to behave in a different way and consequently, he does. Maybe Johnny's mom expects him to rebel by refusing to accept his autonomy or listen to anything he says.

A problem most of us have is not listening to kids. Instead of basing our expectations of them on what they want, we are really trying to fill one of our needs.

Elastic Thread Makes Shirring Easy

COLLEGE STATION -Elastic shirring is a popular fashion detail, especially in sundresses and in children's clothes, says Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Buy preshirred fabrics or shirr designs at home with elastic thread.

Preshirred fabrics are available from fabric stores. Or, to shirr your own designs with elastic thread, follow these easy instructions: -- Select good quality elastic thread that will not shred easily. -- Wind elastic thread on the

When machine winding, do not place the elastic through the thread guides. Hold the tread bobbin either by hand or by loosely so it winds on the bobbin relaxed, not stretched.

Machine winding may not be possible on machines whose bobbins are wound inside the machine.

-- Use regular sewing thread on top. Coordinate color with fabric. Matching thread gives a subtle effect, while contrasting thread adds a decorative touch.

-- To shirr, simply make rows of straight stitching on the fabric. The elastic thread automatically causes the fabric to gather.

When sewing several rows, sew over paper to make stitching easier. The paper prevents the fabric from gathering. After all rows are complete, remove the paper to reveal instant shirring.

effect with pearl cotton or fine

With the needle down, wrap two strands of the pearl cotton around the back of the needle bringing both sides to the front. This makes four strands of thread in front of the needle.

Determine the amount of pearl cotton needed by the length of the item to be stitched. Cut twice the length needed because wrapping the strands around the needle divides the length in half.

-- With elastic thread in the bobbin and regular thread in the needle, set the machine for multiple zig-zag--a decorative stitch.

Holding the four strands of pearl cotton centered over the pressure foot, stitch across the fabric producing a beautiful rick rack effect as you stitch.

Ann Landers Ann Apologizes

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In a recent column someone asked what it meant when a husband and wife are in a car together and the wife is in the driver's seat. The writer expressed the opinion that the wife was "boss" and added, "Twentyfive dollars says you will agree with me."

Your reply was, "Wrong." you said it could mean: (1) The wife enjoys driving and the husband doesn't.

(2) He's tired and she isn't. (3) He's bombed and she's

You omitted the most common reason of all especially among older couples. I know because I'm the driver in our family. My husband has an eye condition and the doctor told him he must never drive. My sister's husband has arthritis and he, too, is prohibited from driving, except for short distances.

Please print my letter and put the situation in its proper perspective. Thank you so much. -- Superior, Wis.
DEAR SUPERIOR: Right you are. How I could have overlooked the most obvious reason is a mystery to me. I'm ashamed of myself.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am hiding out in my own house. (I am writing this letter in an almost dark room. I hope that you can read it!)

About six weeks ago I ran into an old high school friend. I was happy to see her. We greeted each other with hugs and kisses, had several cups of coffee, talked a lot about the old times, and I invited her to come over

Well -- she took me up on it. 'Anytime" is now ALL THE TIME! She has made an effort to spend every evening with us since our "re-discovery."

The first few evenings were fun. We got out old pictures, talked about old boyfriends and old times. My husband was very gracious but he soon became bored. After all, they are not HIS old times. (I'm beginning to wish they weren't mine either.)

Lately we've been turning the lights out and living in the dark so my friend will think we aren't at home. (The next day she calls me at work and asks, "Where were you last night?")

I've already said things like, "Please call before you come, we may have other plans!" "I'm not in the mood to discuss old times again!" "I'm tired after a long day at work. Can't you visit someone else?" She doesn't get the message.

What now? -- Jane O. DEAR JANE: You've got yourself a real mustard plaster. The only way to get rid of it is to tell the woman in plain language, "It was lovely to see you again but your frequent calls and visits are threatening my marriage. Please -- don't call

If, after this speech, Mustard Plaster phones again, tell her, Sorry, I can't talk now. then hang up. If she shows up at your door, say, "I can't invite you in. We have other plans."

me. I'll call you."

I realize this takes a lot of guts but the situation can be resolved only if you have more guts than she has -- and she has PLENTY.

A success story.

Once upon a time there was a merchant. You probably know him. Because he is very successful and always seems to have lot of business. even when things seem slow everywhere else.

There are a lot of reasons why he is successful. But one of the biggest is that he advertises regularly, even when things seem slow everywhere. You see, he realizes that he is open every week of the year and wants customers every day. He realizes that advertising is designed to build business and it works best when repeated regularly. Consistent advertising builds dividends. He realizes that people buy all year around. Many stores sell blankets and furs in the summer and air conditioners and grass cutters in the winter.

Think you know who this success story is about? Well, to tell you the truth, it's about many of the merchants in Hereford. They all have one thing in common, though. They advertise regularly in the Hereford Brand. Isn't it about time you became a successful

Afghan repair is tricky

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — What is the best way to repair a large (7" by 8") hole in a knitted afghan. This 30-year-old afghan is black, gray, maroon and three shades of

DEAR BERNICE — If you have an actual open hole as large as you say, perhaps your best bet would be to knit a "patch" to fit inside it. Try to follow the pattern and colors in the afghan. Before setting in the new piece use the proper color yarn to run through all the loose stitches around the hole so they do not "run" or ravel further. I would use that clear and transparent nylon sewing thread to sew in the patch carefully or it might be sewed on the sewing machine using the zigzag stitch.

If you have just a tear that large and the edges can be fitted together you might first catch loose stitches all around and then lay flat on a piece of nylon net, all around and then lay flat on a piece of nylon net, baste for edges come together and then stitch around the edges with zigzag stitches on the machine. Stitch through afghan and net and when finished the net can be cut away up to the stitching. No hole that large can be mended so it is entirely invisible. This is a tedious sort of job so select a day when your nerves are calm and there are no distractions. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — The large plastic bags used for trash and garbage are great but sometimes are a problem to fill. I first open up the bag and then open a kitchen drawer and tuck in one open edge, close the drawer on it and use my other hand to hold the outer edge out so things go in easier. Once there is enough in the bag so it will stand up the edge can be removed from the drawer and you can continue to fill it. — MARY C.

DEAR POLLY — If your child needs tracing paper a sheet of white tissue paper used for gift wrap works just as well as an expensive tablet of tracing paper.

After polishing baby's white shoes shine them by rubbing with waxed paper. My way of never running out of sugar or flour is to always leave a little in the sack when I fill the canisters. If the canister is empty there is always a spare cup or two left in the sack in the cupboard in case I have forgotten to buy more. — JEANETTE.

DEAR POLLY — My blue calf shoes scuff easily and not wanting to use scuff cover polish I put blue food coloring on a cotton swab and touched up the scuffed places. Then I polished the shoes with neutral paste polish. This works beautifully and shoes of any color could be treated the same way as the coloring can be mixed to produce any desired color. — VERA.

Deaf Texans POLLY'S POINTERS Seek Empathy

DALLAS (AP) - Some deaf Another project is to help Texans are aking to be heard.

"Deaf people really don't want sympathy. They'd like empathy, but there's a big difference," said Karen Master president of the Parent-Professional Section of the Texas Association of the Deaf.

The Fort Worth woman is mother of a 7-year-old child with several handicaps, including deafness.

"The deaf do not want people to feel sorry for them. That's the last thing," she said. "They're a very brilliant group of people.

As pride among deaf people grows, so does the desire to make the hearing world aware of their special problems.

Daily activities in a world designed for the hearing can prove to be a trying experience. A word thought to be familiar can turn out to be something quite different.

Mrs. Master said a shining example is a deaf couple's experience when buying a car. The salesman's talk of "interest" was understood to mean it was in their interest to buy the

When the bills started coming, a big chunk each month was marked for interest - the financial kind. Exposure to a familiar word in a new context came as a complete surprise to the couple.

"That's a very typical problem that happens with deaf people because their language is very limited," Mrs. Master said. "I would like to see the recognition that we do need special help."

Her parent-professional group is working to expand a two-week summer camp program for deaf youngsters.

children purchase special items they might need, telephone devices or other materials that are often too costly for the average family.

Mrs. Master becomes most enthusiastic when speaking of the Miss Deaf Texas pageant her organization sponsors.

"Just because they can't express themselves vocally does not mean they don't have it inside...I think what we can do is use the Miss Texas and the pageant to show that we have a lot of talent in the deaf community."

Although none of the Miss Deaf Texas winners in the pageant's four-year history have won the Miss Deaf America title, Mrs. Master said the local pageant is able to give a bigger reward than the national one.

This year's Miss Texas won a $1,000 prize. Miss Deaf America took home $500.

The first runnerup in the 1978 Texas pageant was a tawny 27-year-old with sparkling eyes. Billie Don Jordan. Miss Jordan, a counselor for deaf adults, is particularly interested in education for deaf persons of all ages. She also wants to establish an arts program for the deaf in Dallas. Her deaf theater group's first production in Dallas was a performance of "The Diary of Adam and Eve," a Mark Twain "Deafness is an invisible handicap, but it requires visible communication," Miss Jordan said through a sign language interpreter. She thinks deaf people have many needs, but they all boil down to not being limited in their career and everyday choices. ACTED JANOT TA 125

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Aug. 4, the 216th day of 1978. There are 149 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914. Britain declared war on Germany at the beginning of the First World War. And the United States proclaimed its neutrality.

On this date: In 1790, a U.S. naval force which later became the Coast Guard was formed.

In 1892, Lizzie Borden was arrested in Fall River, Mass., and charged with the hatchet murders of her father and stepmother. In 1916, the United States bought the Danish Virgin Islands for $25 million. In 1944, during World War II,

Nazi police captured 14-year-old Anne Frank and seven other Jews in their hiding place in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. In 1962, President John Kennedy announced that the highest American award for a civilian would go to Dr. Frances Kelsey, the federal official who kept the harmful drug Thalidomide off the American market.

In 1976, 81 people were executed in the Sudan after being charged with trying to overthrow the government.

Ten years ago: Israeli planes were hammering Arab guerilla bases in Jordan, and tanks and artillery were dueling along the Jordan River.

Five years ago: Argentina's Peronist party nominated former dictator Juan Peron and his wife. Isabel, as the party's presidential and vice presidential candidates in a national election scheduled for Septem-

One year ago: President Carter proposed that Congress give legal status to aliens who had entered the country unlawfully before 1977.

Ancient Suburbia

Suburban living is not a modern development. Archeologists in Italy have uncovered Oplonti, a community about 10 miles north of ancient Pompeii that was strictly residential, without market places or forums. The residents are believed to have been wealthy Pompeiians and Roman patri-cians on vacation. Eruptions from Vesuvius in 19 A.D. buried this Roman version of affluent suburbia.

Causes of enlarged liver

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - Could you please tell me what gives a woman of 64 an enlarged liver? Also what can be done for it? Is this a very bad thing to have? went to the doctor for a physical and he told me had an enlarged liver. I had a complete blood count taken and it was fine.

DEAR READER - There are many causes for an enlarged liver. There can be an accumulation of fat within the liver, it can be swollen in heart failure, it can have scar formation within it in response to a number of disorders including old viral hepatitis. In an asymptomatic per-son who is otherwise in good health a minimal amount of enlargement of the liver is not particularly important. The doctor may feel the edge of it underneath the rib when he is examining the patient and judge that there is a minimal amount of enlargement present.

> When that's the case there really isn't anything you need to do about it and I'm sure your doctor doesn't feel it's very important or he would have told you more about it and what you should do for it.

The important thing is for you to realize that a minimal amount of enlargement of the liver is frequently found during a medical examination and when that's all that's present it does not mean that you have any significant health problem. I am sending you The Health Letter number 7-8, Living With Your Liver. It discusses how the liver functions and some of the common disorders. Others who want this issue can send 50 it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I feel sure that you have never been asked this question before and I have hesitated to ask other doctors. For about a year I have been unable to cry. I have had lots of sorrow and could relieve my emotions in that way. Can anything be done for this about emotional crying for relief that is another matter and belongs in the psychological realm.

Despite More Money, Good Times an Illusion

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - One of the diabolical consequences of inflation is that it encourages people to live an illusion of good day, all about us.

People who know better muffle their conscience and raise their lifestyle when the breadwinner gets a 6 percent raise, rationalizing their debts by telling themselves they've waited long enough.

"Isn't this what it's all about?" they say. "This is America. You work hard and you deny yourself until you can afford it. When the raises come you owe it to yourself to climb up the ladder.

To do so, of course, you must ignore the reality of 10 percent inflation, which leaves you 4 percent worse off than you were. No matter; credit is automatic. Easy credit is resin on the ladder.

That guilty conscience will not, however, permit rest. And so the individual puts some money in the bank, if not for the rainy day then for the needs of Reality? Unlikely. Illusion? Quite likely. At least while inflation rages. Savings accounts bring 5.25 percent, mutual funds perhaps the same, stocks more or less than that depending upon the choices

But little is likely to beat 10 percent inflation, which is about the present rate. It means you lose on savings and many investments. It means you might not be able to pay for education or retirement.

The Investment Company Institute just published a booklet with the usual suggestions and ascending graphs. Then it announced that in the 10 years ending in 1977 the average total return was 4.3 percent. Poor enough, but consider that this is before deducting for inflation, which exceed the rate of return. Purchasing power of the dollar actually was halved, and that's before taxes. The net? A loss. Mutual funds or banks or stock brokers aren't entirely to blame, even if they do paint those exhilirating scenes of future bliss. They too are victims of inflation. Everyone is. Many stocks, corporate bon-

Reservists Killed In Crash

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP) - Two Marine reservists have been killed and three injured in a helicopter crash during a two-week combat training exercise at this desert military base, a Marine official said Wednesday.

At least four of the five Marines were from the HMH-777 Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment based in Dallas, Texas, said Maj. Bobbi Weinberger.

Cause of the crash, which occurred Wednesday, was under investigation, she said. Killed in the incident was Sgt.

Joe Rubarts. Injured were Capt. John Ludwig, Capt. Timothy Heffernan and Lance Cpl. Billy Bennett, all of whom were reported in fair to good condition in Balboa Hospital in San Diego.

No ages or hometowns were available for the four, but Maj. Weinberger said all were part of the Dallas reserve group.

Name of the other Marine who died was withheld pending notification of his relatives.

About 2,000 men from 49 reserve units across the country were participating in the exercises at this base 130 miles east of Los Angeles, Maj. Weinberger said.

Early Bird The Treasury Department's Catches...

WASHINGTON (AP) - Like it or not, running for president these days is a game for the early bird.

"And I'm not necessarily sure that that's a good thing," conceded Phil Crane as he nevertheless set a record this week by announcing for the 1980 Republican nomination 19 months in advance of the first primary.

But the facts of political life being what they are today, he had little choice.

A combination of reform rules over the past decade, the proliferation of primaries and the success of recent early bird candidates have made it more risky to wait than to rush in.

exhausted candidates continue to complain about the marathon presidential campaigns, Crane's announcement proves the trend is accelerating if anything.

George McGovern started it when he announced a year ahead of time for the 1972 Democratic nomination and won it. That record was beaten when Morris Udall announced in November of 1974 for the 1976 nomination, followed by only a month by the eventual winner, Jimmy Carter. All three of these men were little known nationally when they began their campaigns, but getting into the field early enabled them to overcome the handicap. Facing a similar prospect, Crane, a conservative Illinois congressman, hopes to do the same.

If a person is not well kown, travelling around the country running for president is a pretty good way to get known. And if you are the only candidate out there running, you are more likely to get attention than if you wait until there are a lot of other candidates on camera.

There are a number of other Republicans with presidential visions who are just as active politically as Crane, speaking to party functions, supporting GOP candidates or helping to raise funds. But the mere fact that Crane is a "presidential candidate" is going to make him a more interesting attraction.

The early bird also has first call on his party's pool of campaign workers. Later entries may find the best people already taken. And the sooner a candidate starts his organization, the more keenly it will be honed when the actual campaigning starts.

Then there's the question of money. On the eve of Crane's announcement, a professional mailing house sent out 100,000 letters to a proven list of conservative political contribu-

The fact that he is an announced candidate should give his fund appeals an advantage over rivals who are attractive to the same donors but who don't represent an active campaign. And future candidates going to the same well later may find it depleted if

Meet Junior Olympic Medal Winners

Vhat Makes a Champion

Runner: Jennie Gorham

Jennie, age 16, of Kansas City, Missouri, was the first female Junior Olympic star in track and field to win three gold medals.

She started running in the third grade because "I love to run and jump."

In the winter she plays basketball and volleyball.

During the track season, she trains an hour and a half a day.

Advice to kids: "Try to get in a running group such as the 'Y,' your school or AAU track teams in your area."

Ambition: "To qualify for the 1980 Olympics, to win or place in the 1984 Olympics and to have a world record in the 1988 Olympics."

A winning smile - Jennie Gorham won the 100-, 220- and 440-yard dash races in the 1977 Junior Olympic Multisport Championships.

Each year, millions of kids compete in Junior Olympic athletic events.

Only about 1,700 will make the Multisport Championships. These will be held for the second straight year at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. The dates are August 11-13.

The sports included in these finals are gymnastics, wrestling, judo, diving, synchronized swimming and track and field.

Championship finals in other sports are held at other times in other places.

What makes a champion? This is the question The Mini Page put to some of the 1977 Junior Olympic gold-medal winners.

The NBC-TV network will telecast 90 minutes of the Finals on August 12 and 13. (Check your paper for local listings of times.)

Jumper: Tonya Alston

Tonya Alston, age 17, of Chico, California, started jumping in the ninth grade. She trains five days a week. Advice: "Work hard. Be patient with yourself. Tell yourself you can do it. Ask God to be with you to protect you and give you strength." Ambition: "To go to the 1980 Olympics."

Runner: Tommy Martin

Tommy Martin, age 19, of Evansville, Indiana, started running when he was 10 years old. "I always liked running track," he said. He runs for two-to-three hours a day. Advice: "Lots of regular practice." Ambition: "To be successful in life, not only on the track, but also off the track."

Diver: Dave Goodwin

Dave Goodwin, age 17, of Omaha, Nebraska, started diving at the age of 8. "I wasn't that good at it and wanted to improve," he said. In the summer, he trains eight hours a day. In the winter, three-to-four hours daily. Dave is also interested in gymnastics. Advice: "Be prepared to spend a lot of time." Ambition: "To make an Olympic team someday."

area

The Swinging Orangutans

This orangutan can use his feet as well as his hands to swing on his jungle gym at the San Diego, California, Zoo. Orangutans are from Borneo and Sumatra.

Orangutans swing.

They swing from tree limb to tree limb.

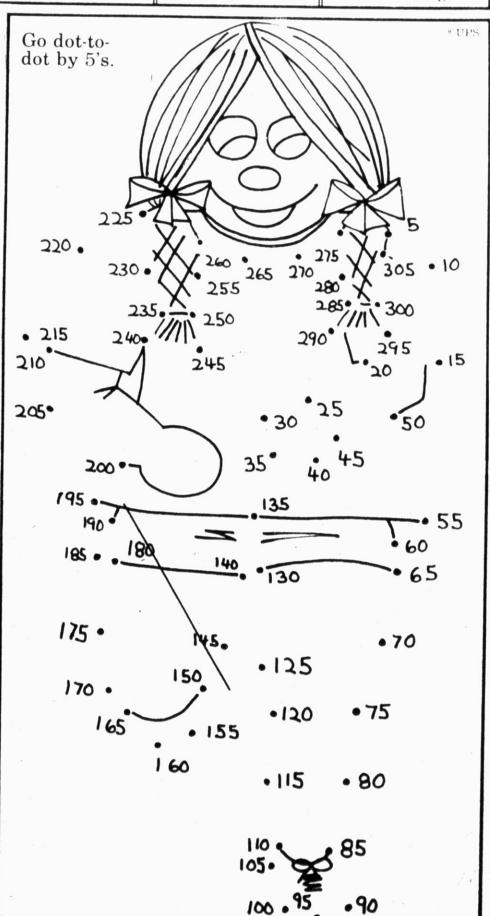

They hardly ever come down to earth.

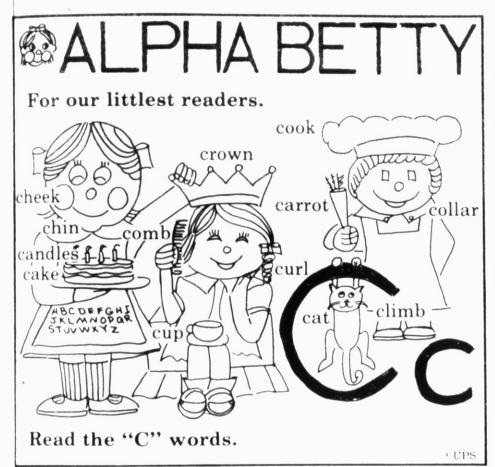

They even sleep in nests built in

They like to eat leaves and fruits.

Orangs live alone. However, mothers will live with their babies until they grow up and are able to go out and swing on their own!

World's Tallest Building: Sears Tower in Chicago

The Sears Tower is the tallest building in the world. It is also the largest private office building. About 12,000 people work there. The building has 103 high-speed elevators.

Fifty-five seconds in one of the world's fastest elevators . . . that's all the time it takes to get to the skydeck on the 103rd floor of the Sears Tower.

"Your ears might pop a little, but not much," one rider said.

Thousands of people each year pay to zoom up to the skydeck ($1.50 for adults, $1 for kids).

The skydeck is enclosed. You can't walk outside and look around.

On sunny days you can see for miles.

On rainy days, you might get a good view of the inside of a cloud.

There have been three weddings on the skydeck.

But the skydeck is not the tippy top. There are 110 stories in all.
