Strange Place for a Nest

was surveying land adjacent to the Thunderbird Apartments Monday. Brisendine, upper right, said the kilddeer never ventures far from her rocky nest and hollars loudly whenever anyone scares her from it. (Brand photos by Paul Sims)

Commission Okays No-Frills Budget

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court voted Monday not to increase taxes by adopting what County Judge Sam Morgan called "an extremely tight budget."

The budget to go into effect on Oct. 1 includes an ending balance on Sept. 30, 1978, of $69,347. Commission-proposed budgets on that date are forecasted at $958 for No. 1, $1,580 for No. 2, $1,003 for No. 3 and $1,040 for No. 4.

This is a tight budget, an extremely tight budget, Morgan told commissioners and a small group of citizens who said they were interested in viewing the meeting proceedings. "Everyone needs to understand that when the new year begins (on Oct. 1), we won't be adding a lot or amending a lot. The commissioners court has weeded out everything so we wouldn't have any tax increase."

The tax rate will remain at $1.25, with a total of $1,113,750 expected to be collected by the county.

"We prepared this budget for such a long time because we are aware of the tax burden," Morgan said. "We worked at it very hard to try to keep it as low as we can."

Last week, the commission trimmed

$31,000 from the proposed budget after scrutinizing each department's proposed request for funds. The commission, by adopting the budget Monday, resolved that the county would add no employees for the upcoming fiscal year. That ruling denies a request from the sheriff's office to hire a bailiff and County Clerk B.F. Cain's proposal to add a part-time employee to assist with voter registration.

Also by adopting the budget, the commission agreed that the county would pay both halves of social security taxes in order to give a 6.05 percent pay increase to all employees.

The commissioners court also adopted the $206,765 revenue-sharing proposed-use budget for 1978-79. In that budget, $125,000 is designated for public transportation, $3,000 for health services, $7,000 for law and county libraries, $5,000 for Deaf Smith County Historical Museum and $66,765 for general government.

In other business Monday, the court:

Carter Won't Approve Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's threat to withhold his approval of tax cut legislation if it eases the levy on capital gains is not visibly improving the chances of his own bill in Congress.

The House Ways and Means Committee has been unable to agree on Carter's proposal or any compromise version because of strong sentiment for cutting taxes on capital gains, the profits from sales of stocks, real estate or other assets held a year or more. Carter wants eventually to abolish the special treatment of capital gains.

In a wide-ranging news conference Monday, he lashed out at a proposal by Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Wis., to set a maximum 25 percent tax on capital gains, which now may be taxed by as much as 49 percent.

Saving the Steiger plan would provide "huge tax windfalls for millionaires and two bits for the average American," Carter said. "I don't see any possibility of my approving such a plan."

But, when pressed, Carter stopped short of saying he would veto the measure.

He included in his condemnation a compromise bill reportedly favored by the tax-writing committee that would set a maximum capital gains tax rate of 35 percent.

"I think the veto is a bluff," Steiger commented.

Rep. James R. Jones, D-Okla., author of the compromise, said he does not think Carter would veto his version when he understood all the facts.

On other issues Monday, Carter: Publicly urged David Gartner to resign as a member of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission because of stock gifts to his children from Minneapolis grain trader Dwayne O. Andreas.

Said his promised proposal for a comprehensive national health insurance program may take years to be fully implemented and he added to the federal deficit.

Said he had received in the last two weeks a "very positive" response from the Soviet Union on arms reduction talks, and said prospects for an agreement "are much better now than then were a month ago."

Carter during his campaign attacked the present revenue code as a disgrace and argued specifically that capital gains, which generally carry only half the tax burden of ordinary income, should not be preferentially treated.

After taking office, he proposed a $25 billion tax cut to stimulate the economy, accompanied by changes he described as reforms to reduce special privileges.

Bullard Tabbed

As Administrator

By Hospital Board

James E. Bullard, 34, assistant administrator for Kleburg County Hospital in Kingsville, Monday was named Deaf Smith General Hospital administrator, effective Aug. 1.

The Deaf Smith County Hospital District board interviewed Bullard last week and announced the appointment Monday afternoon. Bullard will replace Ron Welty, who resigned effective July 1 to pursue business interests.

Glenda Sims, hospital nursing director, last week was named acting administrator to serve until the new hospital head arrives in Hereford.

Bullard has been assistant administrator of the 136-bed Kingsville hospital since October, 1976. Prior to then, he was personnel director at Comanche County

Fed Troops Patrol Matamoros After Riot by 4,000 Students

MATAMOROS, Mexico (AP) — Machine gun wielding federal troops patrolled Matamoros streets today after quelling a riot by some 4,000 students that left several buildings destroyed and at least one person killed and 30 others injured, authorities said.

City Hall, police headquarters and the city jail were burned by the demonstrators. At least 30 businesses and five banks were reported to have been looted or burned and police and private cars were also set afire by the students, authorities said.

The federal troops moved into the city after police reportedly fled from the rampaging students.

Angered by the death of a teenager in police custody last week, the youths gathered Monday afternoon at the town square of this border city in Northern Mexico, across the Rio Grande River from Brownsville, Texas.

They demanded the firing of Matamoros Police Chief Emiliano Del Toro and an investigation into the death of the 15-year-old student. The youth was held by police for 24 hours and was taken to a hospital where he died of internal injuries allegedly suffered in a beating. Two Matamoros policemen have been jailed in connection with the death.

When Matamoros Mayor Antonio Cavazos Garza appeared and refused to fire Del Toro, the mayor was bombarded with rocks and tomatoes and was chased into a nearby cafe which was pelted with rocks and set afire. The mayor managed to escape through a rear exit.

Blood Center Anticipates Busy Holiday

July 4th accidents annually take a heavy toll from blood banks and Coffee Memorial Blood Center in Amarillo is hoping to boost its vital supplies in readiness for the national holiday.

Deaf Smith County residents will have the opportunity to swell Coffee Memorial's blood provisions by reporting to the Community Center tomorrow afternoon as blood donors. The mobile unit from Coffee Memorial will be stationed here from 3-6 p.m. Wednesday.

In addition to the burden of the July 4th weekend, Coffee Memorial reports that local residents have incurred a total blood debt of 196 pints. Donors may designate their blood for the following individuals:

Baby girl Garcia, who owes 4 pints; Matthew Coker, 4 pints; Bennie Moore, 12 pints; Dorothy Renfro, 12 pints; the Paul Mason works for a 200,000 bossless, most of whom he never sees during the day-to-day operations of his business.

His employers are the members of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, where Mason is manager. Some of the owners earned that status by paying only the $5 minimum required to join the credit union, but even those members are eligible to vote in the annual meeting of the financial institution which had assets of $8 million last year.

Mason calls the credit union a very vibrant financial institution.

He said, "There's a multitude of challenges in the future that credit unions are going to meet, all based around providing the best possible service to the membership."

Among services offered by the credit union are savings accounts with seven percent annual interest paid quarterly, $1 life insurance for each $1 in savings up to $2,000 for members under 55-years-old, 30-year home-loan mortgages upon credit union board approval, sharedrafts and various types of loans.

Litigation against credit unions is aimed at preventing them from using sharedrafts and granting home loans.

"I guess we're finally being recognized. I don't think we're being picked on," Mason said. "They're claiming that we're getting into the savings and loan and checking industries, and that we have an unfair advantage because of our tax status."

Credit unions are a tax-exempt, non-profit corporations.

Mason said the public in general is not aware of the services offered by the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, even though it has been around since 1936.

"We've had educational problems, and in order to advertise an unknown product, the first problem is you have to educate people what the product is. Hopefully, though, people will realize what we do. The more participation we get in the credit union, the more return the members get, if the credit union is efficient."

Bentsen Says Control Of Pollution Costly

HOUSTON (AP) - Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, says the country has made commendable progress in cleansing its environment but the job has turned out to be more costly and difficult than many people expected.

Bentsen addressed the opening session Monday of the Air Pollution Control Association convention at Albert Thomas Convention Center.

He said that while many Americans were once willing to pay the price for a cleaner environment, pollution spending has now run up against "the hard realities of life in this country."

Bentsen said in considering clean air legislation, he must weigh its impact on "the ability of our people to find work, the ability of our cities to grow and prosper, and the ability of American industry to compete in the international marketplace."

This involves, Bentsen said, a careful cost-benefit analysis that "frequently pits one commendable objective against another."

Bentsen said many people have underestimated the cost and difficulty of cleaning up air and water pollution.

Soviet Man Kills 2 Swedish Tourists

MOSCOW (AP) - A deranged 24-year-old Soviet man attacked three foreign tourists with an ax in central Moscow today, killing two of them and seriously injuring a third, officials at the Intourist Hotel said.

All of the tourists were believed to be from Sweden, the officials said.

The dead, a man and a woman, and the injured, a man, were waiting outside the Intourist Hotel on Gorky street within walking distance of the Kremlin when the Soviet, tall and weighing about 220 pounds rushed up to them and for no apparent reason began striking them.

Witnesses said it appeared there was an ax embedded in the side of the dead man because the handle was visible.

The hotel officials declined to identify the Soviet, who was led away in handcuffs after the incident, but said he was mentally ill.

An American doctor, who did not want to give his name, said he was returning from the Kremlin when he saw the two bodies on the ground and a third person with something wrapped around his head kneeling over the body of the woman. The man then fell back on the ground and was taken away in an ambulance.

"I couldn't do anything for the two people on the ground. They were dead," the doctor said.

Boys' Shooting Death Catches Carter's Eye

WASHINGTON (AP) - The 1973 shooting death of a Mexican-American boy while in the custody of a Dallas policeman has caught the attention of President Carter.

During Monday's press conference, Carter said he has asked Attorney General Griffin Bell to "look into" the slaying of 12-year-old Santos Rodriguez, who died instantly when patrolman Darrell Cain placed his .357 Magnum to the boy's head and the gun discharged.

Santos was sitting in a patrol car at the time, being questioned as a suspect in an $8 service station burglary.

The Rodriguez killing spawned a night of riots and looting in Dallas by irate blacks and Hispanics.

Cain was convicted of murder with malice and is serving a five-year sentence in the state prison.

Group Seeks

Fair Electric Rates

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Information on food stamps and other welfare was displayed at the back of the room, but members of ACORN told the Public Utility Commission they didn't want welfare - they wanted fair electric rates.

"Two-4-6-8 - We want lifeline - we won't wait," chanted more than 200 members of the consumer's group as they packed a hearing room.

"The time has come for the commission to put up or shut up," said Angela Moore of Houston.

Three examiners listened to testimony in the third week of a hearing on different ways of setting electric rates. The 1977 Legislature instructed the commission to conduct the hearing and report back in 1979.

Hearing examiner John Cunningham noted that the Department of Human Resources had provided welfare information, which was displayed along with pamphlets on energy conservation.

"We're tired of talking and are ready for some action," said Mrs. Moore. "We want this commission to take the information you've collected and act on it. We won't be satisfied with a report to the Legislature next January."

Another meeting to hear the general public has been set for Tuesday night, with the final hearing scheduled for Wednesday.

Brand Wins Coveted TPA Service Award

The Hereford Brand won first place in community service—the only daily newspaper in the state to earn the distinction—Saturday during the annual Texas Press Association awards breakfast at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo.

The Brand won the first-place plaque for articles written last year concerning health and water problems at the San Jose labor camp. The contest entry, compiled by staff writers Jim Steiert and Bob Nigh, included numerous articles, including a three-part series which kicked off last year's project, photographs, letters to the editor, and columns.

Georgia judges, in grading the entries, said the Brand's was a "good complete campaign—stories, pictures, letters to the editor—from start to finish. Kept issue before public in good, well-displayed layouts. Mere volume of stories, pictures, etc., show newspaper's all-out effort. Excellent!"

Athens Daily Review and Conroe Courier were second and third, respectively. Other newspapers entering the community-service category included Bonham Daily Favorite, Gainesville Register, Galveston News, Kerrville Times, Kilgore News Herald, San Marcos Record and Waxahachie Light.

It is the first time ever for The Brand to win the award, called "as valuable as general excellence" by TPA president Bob Hamilton of Iowa Park during the breakfast.

Steiert and Nigh spearheaded last year's project by pointing out problems at the labor camp and publicizing the camp's attempts to clean up the area and establish a suitable water system.

The same community-service entry received honorable mention in the Associated Press Managing Editors Contest earlier this year in Dallas.

"We feel highly honored to have been selected for this award," publisher O.G. Nieman stated. "It is always nice to receive newspaper awards, but this one reflects recognition of our staff for one of our most important responsibilities—service to the community."

"We congratulate not only Jim Steiert and Bob Nigh for their leading roles in this project, but the entire Brand staff. Ours is a team effort each time the paper goes to press, and any newspaper contest award salutes our entire crew."

Testimony Contradictions Noted in Scout Slaying Trial

PRYOR, Okla. (AP) - A Girl Scout counselor testified Monday that investigators told her a fingerprint had been found on the body of one of three scouts found slain at Camp Scott last summer.

The testimony was in direct contradiction to testimony presented by the prosecution and came on the first full day of defense testimony in a preliminary hearing for Gene Leroy Hart.

Defense counsel Garvin Isaacs had been granted a one-week continuance in the hearing to interview defense witnesses after the state rested its case June 16.

Nan Cook of McAlester, who was a unit leader in a camp section adjacent to the unit where the slain girls were assigned, said she was told a fingerprint had been found on the buttocks of one of the bodies.

An Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation agent told her that while questioning her about the June 13, 1977, slaying, Miss Cook said.

During the prosecution's presentation, witnesses testified unidentified fingerprints had been found on a cot in the girls' tent and the reflector of a flashlight found next to the bodies. There also was testimony that no fingerprints were found on the bodies.

Lori Lee Farmer, 8; Michelle Guse, 9, and Doris Denise Milner, 10, all from the Tulsa area, were slain their first night at camp and their bodies were found several yards from their tent. Testimony revealed that two had been sexually molested.

A second defense witness, Mary Turner, waterfront director at the camp, testified investigators showed her a photograph she identified as that of a former Camp Scott counselor. The photograph had been torn into pieces, she said.

She also said OSBI agents showed her a tennis shoe but testified it was not familiar to her.

Isaacs had four other witnesses ready to testify today. There was no indication how long the defense's portion of the hearing would take. Isaacs has subpoenaed more than 100 persons.

Hart, 34, was a fugitive when he was charged with three counts of first-degree murder 10 days after the slayings. He had been serving sentences for kidnapping, rape and burglary at the time of his escape from the Mayes County Jail here in 1973.

Jetliner Crash Claims 3

TORONTO (AP) - An Air Canada DC-9 jetliner lost power in one engine on takeoff and crashed into a ravine at Toronto International Airport Monday, killing three persons and injuring at least 45 others among the 107 aboard, authorities reported.

The twin-engine jet, on a domestic flight, skidded off the runway and plunged about 30 feet into the ravine. A Canadian transportation department spokesman said. One witness said it broke into three pieces, but no fire was reported.

Officials at a nearby hospital where some of the injured were taken said at least eight were seriously hurt.

Miss Payne Feted At Shower, Brunch

Miss Vicki Payne, bride-elect of Tom Wine, was honored Saturday with a lingerie shower and brunch in the home of Mrs. Gary Goodjin, 423 Centre.

The couple plan to be wed July 22.

Special guest was Mrs. G.W. Payne, mother of the bride-elect.

Miss Staci Payne, the honoree's sister, assisted the hostess in serving the guests who included high school and college friends of the bride-elect.

The brunch buffet consisted of quiche lorraine, spinach salad, bean potpourri, and lemon meringue minatures. Dark blue linen cloths and blue batik napkins accented each group of place settings.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

A couple of weeks ago, a housewife from Parma Heights, Ohio, who had never in her life had a "clean oven wish," for no apparent reason set to work and cleaned her oven.

She wrote, "I don't suppose Hallmark has a card for this occasion, but could you say something wonderful to me?"

She got me to thinking. There are so many wonderful special occasions for which there are no commercial cards to cover. Those wonderful, warm, meaningful times of your life when just the right words would have said it all for you. I visualize cards for "CONGRATULATIONS ON BALANCING YOUR CHECKBOOK" or "BON VOYAGE TO YOUR SON WITH THE DRUMS." And how about:

"BEST WISHES ON YOUR HAIRCUT," which I visualize as a sentimental card with a prodigal son trudging down a road flanked by blue cornflowers:

No more traumas, dirty looks,
You've returned to the state of grace,
No more nagging to "get rid of that fuzz"
Now would you please go wash your face?
Or how about a card "WELCOME HOME FOOTBALL BREAK" to be sent at the end of a season to your husband, what's-his-name.

D-A, D-A, D-A-double D-Y....
G-O, G-O, G-double OO-D, BYE.
The chip dip's in the frig,
The clean socks in the drawer,
You got custody of the kids,
Now it's my quarter to score.
As for cleaning the oven, this verse might give it the status it so rich deserves:
O is for the odor -- the high spot of the year,
V is for the vigor, as you chisel the veneer,
E is for the example...you set for all mankind,
N is for the Notation: CLEAN AGAIN IN '89.

Ann Landers Silence Is Golden

DEAR ANN: I'm a male in my 50s, neatly dressed and average-looking. A few years ago I bought a hairpiece and have spent quite a lot of money replacing the original with better and newer "haircuts." I feel it has improved my looks and I would never go back to being bald again.

The town I live in is quite small (less than 50,000) and the people who know me are aware that I wear a hairpiece. A certain few seem to take delight in mentioning the fact in front of strangers and mutual friends. This not only embarrasses me but others in the group.

Who cares? Furthermore, what good does it do the creep who blabs it? My hairpiece is as personal to me as their false teeth are to them. I wish I had a great comeback when caught in this situation. Can you help me? -- Your Friend In Waco

DEAR FRIEND: You don't need a comeback. You need a thicker skin and a glassy stare. When someone drops a crude and tasteless remark, just let it lie there -- Naked. Silence accompanied by an incredulous look can be a devastating reply.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read your column for years but I cannot recall your writing anything on this subject.

When my grandchildren come to visit, they never ask for anything. When they see something they like they just take it home. I've heard them say to one another, "Maw-Maw has so much stuff she will never miss this!"

A lot of the "stuff," as they call it, are gifts from old friends. It means a great deal to me. I was brought up to believe that when people take things that don't belong to them they are stealing. The parents of these kids don't seem to consider it as such. What is your opinion? -- Maw-Maw Whose Treasures Are Disappearing

DEAR MAW: What's the matter with you? No vocal cords? The very first time you saw one of your grandchildren help him- (or her-) self to one of your "treasures," you should have explained the difference between "mine and thine" and unstructured the child never again to take anything that didn't belong to him.

Now that they have established the habit it will be much more difficult to make your point, but I urge you to do it. And make sure the parents of these kids know about it. They are probably taking whatever appeals to them from the homes of other relatives and friends. Parental permissiveness is part of the reason why shoplifting among the young is rampant.

Orioles Blued By Jays, 24-10

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer
Toronto has had a team in the American League for less than two years, but as far as Earl Weaver is concerned he's already spent a lifetime in the Canadian city.

The Baltimore manager has been the center of controversy in two wild affairs involving the Orioles and Blue Jays. Last Sept. 15, the Orioles forfeited a game in Toronto because Weaver objected to the position of a tarpaulin in the team's bullpen. The next time the Orioles visited Toronto was Monday night and all Weaver really could object to was the quality of Baltimore's pitching. The Orioles were shelled 24-10 by the Blue Jays.

With Baltimore behind 19-6 in the fifth inning, Weaver decided to give his beleaguered pitching corps some rest by inserting outfielder Larrs Harlow to pitch. Harlow, who pitched two games in the Florida League in 1971, got out the first two men he faced, then surrendered two walks, a wild pitch, Rico Carty's two-run single, another walk and John Mayberry's three-run homer, his seven RBI for the night.

When the next batter walked, Weaver replaced Harlow with player-coach Elrod Hendricks, normally a catcher. Hendricks, 37, just lobbed the ball over the plate. He walked his first batter, then got rookie Brian Milner to fly out and didn't allow a run before being replaced in the eighth.

"It's tough pitching with seven years between starts," quipped Harlow, who was told to warm up while Weaver determined if the move was legal. The Blue Jays protested but withdrew the protest when informed by the American League office that the move was not against the rules. "I was doing OK, getting those first two guys out, but ran into trouble when Bob Bailor walked. Then I had to go into my stretch. My stretch killed me."

"My pitchers weren't doing the job so I had to go somewhere else," said Weaver, who probably preferred to be someplace else as the Blue Jays scored nine times in the second inning, including two doubles each for Otto Velez and Dave McKay in the inning. "Take a look at the record. They got 19 runs off my pitchers and five off the others. My only mistake was not bringing in Elrod first."

Elsewhere in the AL, Kansas City blanked California 4-0 before a crowd that included former President Richard Nixon, Boston beat New York 4-1, Milwaukee stopped Minnesota 8-2, Cleveland nipped Detroit 5-4 and Seattle was an 8-3 victor over Chicago.

The 24 runs were the most the Blue Jays have scored in a game. It was also the most runs ever scored against Baltimore.

The modern major league record for runs by one team in a game is 29, set by Boston on June 8, 1950, in a 29-4 pounding of the St. Louis Browns and tied by the Chicago White Sox in a 29-6 beating of the Kansas City A's on April 23, 1955.

The 34 runs scored in the game were two short of the AL record set in a 22-14 Boston victory over the Philadelphia A's on June 29, 1950. The major league mark is 49, established by the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies in a 26-23 Cubs' win on Aug. 25, 1922.

Royals 4, Angels 0
The Angels were shut out for the third straight game and fourth in their last five. Kansas City rookie Rich Gale, 7-2, pitched a seven-hitter and Art Kusnyer hit his first major league homer in six years. Former President Richard Nixon, attending his first major league game since leaving the White House in 1974, sat in Angels' owner Gene Autry's private box. He declined to talk to reporters but did appear on the Angels' pregame show.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 1
Boston continued making a shambles of the AL East race, moving 2 1/2 games ahead of the Yankees as Jim Rice and Carlton Fisk homered and Dennis Eckersley combined with Bill Campbell to silence the Yankees and a sellout crowd of 52,194. The victory was Boston's 15th in its last 17 games, a pace that doesn't surprise Rice a bit. New York Manager Billy Martin was told before the game he would remain the team's field boss for the remainder of the season.

Seaver Checks Astros

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

On days when Tom Seaver feels he doesn't have it, baseball is like a chess game for him.

And Monday night, he helped checkmate the Houston Astros.

More Sports Page 8

Three Local Runners Place

Hereford youths were among the nearly 1,000 tracksters who competed in the High Plains Invitational Track Meet at Canyon's West Texas State University track last Saturday. Three local competitors placed in the top three in their event with Robbie Snyder earning a second place in the Midget Boys' 50 in a time of 6.7. Snyder's time was just one-tenth off the winning time of 6.6, and matched the second-place winner's clocking. Brad Belford gave the local club a third in the Midget Boys' 440 with a time of 65.6, while Abel Rocha placed second in the "Games like this can be rewarding," said the Cincinnati ace after a 4-3 victory over the Astros. "Sometimes you have to win mentally instead of physically."

Seaver found out early in the game that his "fastball wasn't there." That resulted in three Houston hits and two runs in the first inning. "In this type of situation," he said, "you just have to battle and find something along the way."

What he found was a "good Junior Boys' 440 with a 56.5 clocking. A 5-8 1/2 high jump effort by Laura Mazingo of Denver highlighted the day-long action. Miss Mazingo's leap was believed to be a national 12-13 age-group record in the high jump.

Another outstanding effort at the meet was put forth by former Monterey star and state 4A high jump champ Chuck Perry. Perry easily won the high jump with a leap of 6-8, four inches better than the runner-up, Mike Windham of Lazbudie.

That resulted in just three more hits off Seaver in the next seven innings. He departed after the eighth, and later had the good fortune to be credited with the victory as pinch-hitter Dave Collins delivered a sacrifice fly in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the National League, the San Diego Padres edged the San Francisco Giants 2-1 in 10 innings; the Atlanta Braves turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2; the Montreal Expos downed the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1; the Chicago Cubs outscored the New York Mets 10-9 and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 in the completion of a suspended game before winning the regularly scheduled contest 11-8.

Collins' ninth-inning fly ball scored Dave Concepcion from third to preserve Seaver's ninth victory in 14 decisions. Concepcion led off with a single, took second on Cesar Geronimo's sacrifice and went to third on pitcher Mark Lemongello's throwing error.

Padres 2, Giants 1
Tucker Ashford drew a bases-loaded walk from Gary Lavelle in the bottom of the 10th to force home the winning run in San Diego's victory over San Francisco.

Braves 5, Dodgers 2
Rowland Officer, Gary Matthews and Bob Horner powered home runs and right-hander Adrian Devine scattered five hits over seven innings to lead Atlanta over Los Angeles. Devine also drove in what turned out to be the Braves' winning run with a single in the fifth inning.

Expos 5, Phillies 1
Steve Rogers scattered six hits and finally got some offensive support from his teammates as Montreal whipped Philadelphia. Rogers, 9-7, got almost as much help from the Phillies as from his own team, which has rarely produced runs for him this season. The Phillies made two errors in the fourth inning, resulting in three runs and another error in the seventh that cost one more run.

Cubs 10, Mets 9
Dave Rader's pinch grand slam homer highlighted a six-run fifth-inning to help Chicago beat New York. The Mets had scored six times themselves in the top of the inning to take a 7-4 lead before the Cubs rallied.

The decision snapped a six-game losing streak for Chicago and was the Mets' 19th defeat in 27 games. Pirates 5-11, Cardinals 4-8 Rookie Don Robinson pitched three scoreless innings of relief to preserve Pittsburgh's 5-4 victory over St. Louis in the completion of a suspended game begun April 23.

Dave Parker and Ed Ott rapped home runs as the Pirates rallied from five runs behind to beat St. Louis in the regularly scheduled game.

South p a w Tom Zachary threw the ball that Babe Ruth of the Yankees hit for his 60th home run in 1927. Two years later, in 1929, Zachary had a 12-0 record pitching for the Yankees.

In 1977, Oklahoma's football team made 174 first downs by rushing and only 23 by passing.

Place-kicker Uwe von Schamann of Oklahoma made 47 extra points without a miss in 1977.

A success story.

Once upon a time there was a merchant. You probably know him. Because he is very successful and always seems to have lot of business, even when things seem slow everywhere else.

There are a lot of reasons why he is successful. But one of the biggest is that he advertises regularly, even when things seem slow everywhere. You see, he realizes that he is open every week of the year and wants customers every day. He realizes that advertising is designed to build business and it works best when repeated regularly. Consistent advertising builds dividends. He realizes that people buy all year around. Many stores sell blankets and furs in the summer and air conditioners and grass cutters in the winter.

Think you know who this success story is about? Well, to tell you the truth, it's about many of the merchants in Hereford. They all have one thing in common, though. They advertise regularly in the Hereford Brand. Isn't it about time you became a successful merchant?

Last Kansas Defendants Sentenced
 MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - Riley County District County Judge Ronald Innes sentenced Kirk Boykin, 20, of Houston, the last of the defendants in the Kansas State University athletic dormitory rape case, to five years in prison.
 The judge then suspended the sentence and placed Boykin on probation for a year.
 Boykin, who pleaded guilty in February to a reduced charge of conspiracy to commit rape, was one of five former Kansas State football players charged last year with the rape of a Topeka coed in the school's athletic dormitory. Three of the men were convicted of rape and given suspended sentences of one to 20 years. The other man was granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for this his testimony.

Jarvis Planning More Tax Work
 LOS ANGELES (AP) - Tax crusader Howard Jarvis says he will unveil plans for a national organization to continue the drive for tax and government spending reform sparked by Proposition 13.
 Jarvis, one of the organizers of the drive that won overwhelming approval for the property tax cut initiative in California, spoke of the plans in a telephone interview with the Los Angeles Times from New York on Sunday.
 "We'll have something we can talk about," at a news conference set for Los Angeles today, he said. "We're trying awfully hard to evolve a program of some kind."
 Jarvis has spent the past week in New York and Washington in search of support for the proposed group.
 "I haven't decided yet whether we would have two organizations, one, a tax group

Texas in Housing Boom

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texas' new construction soared to $2.2 billion through April, with $3 out of every $5 going for homes, a University of Texas researcher reported Saturday.
 Janet Tandy of the Bureau of Business Research said Austin, with 3,056 residential units authorized in the first four months of 1978, was experiencing a "housing boom."
 Total new construction values are up 39 percent over the January-April period of 1977, Ms. Tandy said, with 48,779 new dwelling units registered since Jan. 1.
 Of that total, 50 percent were for single-family residences, 3 percent for duplexes and 47 percent for apartment units.
 Of the $2 out of every $5 that went for new non-residential construction in the first four months, the largest percentage - 26.8 - was for stores and mercantile buildings.
 Using "crude estimators" such as population, civilian employment and personal income estimates, Ms. Tandy said, "so far in 1978 only six metropolitan areas in Texas have had levels of construction activity well above the hypothetical potential: Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Austin, Amarillo, Bryan-College Station and Midland."
 During the first four months of 1978, she said, the Midland metropolitan area had the highest adjusted per capita new construction valuation - $557 of any Texas metropolitan area.
 The other five metropolitan areas with levels of new construction activity exceeding expectations had the following per capita valuation estimates: Bryan-College Station $351, Amarillo $330, Austin $310, Houston $309 and Dallas-Fort Worth $285.
 Tandy noted that a $21.4 million construction permit has been issued for Dallas to build a special events center, and Neiman-Marcus will build a $2.5 million store in Dallas. The largest nonresidential permit for the Dallas-Fort Worth area was $5.6 million for a new high school in Plano.
 In the Houston area, the pace of new apartment buildings was up 50 percent in numbers and 122 percent in total construction valuation, with $145 million authorized.
 Ms. Tandy said the 3,056 new residential units authorized in the Austin area is almost 2 1/2 times greater than the total for the first four months of 1977; the 1,584 single-family houses authorized is nearly double the total for last year through April; and the 1,218 new apartment units is nearly four times higher than in the same period of 1977.
 Over the past five years, she said, a significantly higher proportion of new housing stock in the Austin area has been in duplexes, and the 254 authorition also accounted for the doubling of new construction valuation in the Midland area, Ms. Tandy said, with four of the five largest permits for non-residential structures. The largest was a $8.75 million hospital addition.

 The number of new housing units in Midland fell 39 percent. Also, Ms. Tandy noted, the average cost of construction for a new single-family residence in the Midland area reached a record $55,628 this year, a 20 percent increase over 1977.
 In the Amarillo area, a 24 percent increase in residential units resulted from a sizeable gain in new apartment building units.
 New construction valuation of $23 million in Bryan-College Station was 28 percent higher than in the first months of last year, but the gain came totally from non-residential building as new residential valuation dropped 24 percent.
 The number of new apartment units dropped from 852 in the first four months of 1977 to 336 during the same period this year.

Legion Limelight

Although just heading into his sophomore year at HHS, Danny Beltran has his sights set on what he wants to do after his high school days are gone. "I want to be a welder," the 15-year-old son of Eva Beltran of 1516 Forrest said.

Beltran, who also plays basketball and has participated in intramural sports in junior high, is aiming at a high school baseball career with the Whitefaces, and will use a solid background obtained from playing in Kids, Inc. leagues.

"Danny is young and enthusiastic," Legion coach Joe Don Cummings said. "He's willing to listen and learn from his coaches, and that will go a long way in offsetting his inexperience."

WHOA, LESLIE!
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Leslie Combs II, the head of the Spendthrift Farm breeding stable, feeds vitamin pills to his stallions, broodmares and young horses. He also originated a special tablet for stallions during the breeding season.

The 77-year-old Combs was asked if he used it himself. "Man, I don't need anything to speed me up. I need something to slow me down," Combs laughingly replied.

TALL MENTALLY
NEW YORK (AP) — "Tallness is not measured in inches," Franklin Jacobs said, "but is determined by the state of your mind."

Jacobs was as good as his words. At an indoor track meet in Madison Square Garden, he cleared the bar 23 1/4 inches over his head while winning the high jump competition. The 5-8 Jacobs set a world indoor record for the event by going over the bar at 7 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

The late Gil Hodges made the first home run in New York Met history, connecting against Larry Jackson of the Cardinals on April 4, 1962.

Hank Luisetti of Stanford is credited with having perfected the one-handed shot that revolutionized basketball.

Martin Survives Yet Another Crisis

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — George Steinbrenner, owner of the New York Yankees wears two hats - a white hat and a black hat.

After donning a black hat a week ago to dangle an axe over the head of his manager, Billy Martin, he swapped it for a white hat prior to Monday night's vital game with the Boston Red Sox at the Stadium.

"Don't fret yourself, Billy Boy," he said in effect. "Nobody's going to take your toys away from you - not now, anyhow. So relax. Go out and win another pennant and World Series."

"Thanks, boss," Martin replied with a sigh of relief.

Thus another Yankee crisis has passed, just as at least five such crises went up in smoke a year ago before Martin led the Yankees to baseball's highest pinnacle and got a new limousine as a bonus.

The Yankees aren't happy unless they're fighting. They thrive on controversy. They gouge each other's eyes out, then kiss and make up.

It's happened again. The Boston Red Sox, even with their tremendous lead, had better watch out. History may repeat.

Reggie Jackson, the team's premier performer, put it in the best perspective after being told that Steinbrenner and Martin, constantly at odds, had staged a 2-1-2 hour eyeball-to-eyeball session which cleared the atmosphere.

It never really concerned me," Jackson said, pulling on his long white socks in front of his locker. "Whether Billy was fired or stayed never affected my playing. I don't play for management. I play for myself.

"But I'm happy it's all over.

If Boston wasn't playing .700 ball nobody would be talking about a new manager. It's Boston - nobody else - that put Billy's job on the line. Now we gotta slow this Boston train down so Billy the Kid and his gang can derail it and get the loot."

Meanwhile, Steinbrenner came forth to acknowledge that he had triggered the latest storm in order to snap his million-dollar babies out of their lethargy.

In throwing down the gauntlet to his manager, Steinbrenner said only two members of the team - first baseman Chris Chambliss and third baseman Graig Nettles - were playing up to their potential and intimidated that the rest of the team was dogging it.

Two Homers Carry Sox Over Midland

By The Associated Press
DAVE PATTERSON struck out five El Paso batters in two innings to pick up his 18th save of the year and preserve San Antonio's 4-2 Texas League baseball victory over El Paso Monday night.

In other Texas League action, Amarillo beat Midland, 4-1. Shreveport edged Tulsa 3-2, and Jackson slipped past Arkansas, 10-8.

Patterson saved the game for Gerald Hannahs, now 3-1. Ken Schrom, now 5-2, took the loss. Danny Goodman slammed his 18th homer of the year for El Paso and teammate Jay Peters had his eighth, but it wasn't enough.

Jim Beswick and Paul O'Neil homered for Amarillo as the Gold Sox defeated Midland, 4-1. It was Beswick's 10th of the year and O'Neil's third. Larry Rothschild, now 4-3, was the winning pitcher. Randy Martz, now 7-5, was the loser.

Shreveport scored two runs on three base hits and a walk in the ninth inning to take a 3-2 victory over Tulsa. Tulsa first baseman Marty Scott had a solo homer in bottom of the ninth, but the Driller fell one run short and lost to the Captains. Dave Rignetti struck out 8 Shreveport batters, setting a record for the Drillers, but still took the loss. Rafael Vasquez gave up only four hits and picked up his ninth victory of the season.

Brooks Benton drove in two runs with a double as Jackson scored six runs in the ninth inning to take a 10-8 victory over the Arkansas Travelers.

Dave Penniall had his sixth homer of the year for Arkansas

Calling for Ice?

By GREG THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — George Gervin's banner 1978 National Basketball Association season has brought fame, fortune and countless phone calls. Just ask Ron and Sue Ellen Zielinski, the unfortunate individuals who inherited Gervin's old phone number.

"We've just been getting lots and lots of phone calls. They've been driving us crazy," said Mrs. Zielinski, who until last week had never heard of the San Antonio Spurs' All-Star guard.

"It has slowed up some, thank goodness. Most of the calls came in the daytime when I was in the pool, so I had to get out of the pool and run to the phone," she said. "It got to be very annoying."

Even though the number was unlisted, Gervin has been deluged with phone calls since leading the NBA in scoring last season with a 27.2 per game average.

Many of the calls were from agents, who had heard Gervin was shopping for a new agent and wanted to renegotiate his contract.

He changed the number last week, which was just about the time Mrs. Zielinski requested a new number. Her reason? Crank phone calls, of course.

"I didn't have any idea whose number it was. I didn't even know who he was," she said. "One of the first callers was real nice. He asked if I knew who George Gervin was. I said I didn't and he said, 'Evidently you're not a sports fan. Boy, are you in for it.'"

The calls came from all over the nation. Since Gervin is known as "The Iceman" or "Ice," many of the callers just asked for him by that name.

"I wondered why people kept asking for Ice," said Mrs. Zielinski. "One guy then explained to me that he was called 'The Iceman.'"

To alleviate some of the problems, the Zielinkis adopted a ring code to alert each other that it's a personal call, not one for Gervin.

Gervin could not be reached for comment. It seems nobody knew his new phone number.
