

Meeting the Director

Susie McGee, left, and Jan Waiser, talent co-chairpersons for the "Strictly Bull" musical revue, were among those who attended the "Meet the Director Party" Monday night in the HSB Community Room. Center is Gary Bruch, professional director for the Jerome Cargill Producing Organization, who arrived Monday to start rehearsals for the show. Bruch, who resides in Fort Worth, has produced 54 of the community shows, just completing a show in Detroit, Mich.

'Strictly Bull' Cast People Sought

Wanted: Singers, dancers for the C of C "Strictly Bull" musical variety revue. No experience necessary; we will train you. Experience helpful for special numbers such as "Jitterbugging" and waltzing. Short rehearsals, short job tenure, no pay [except personal satisfaction in working with others in a community project]. Apply in person or call the chamber office, 364-3333.

Charlie Bell, Susie McGee and Jan Waiser have put out a call for cast members in the chamber's "Strictly Bull" follies to be staged here Nov.

13-14-15, and if they were running a "Want Ad," it might look something like the above paragraph.

The appeal for volunteers came after last night's "Meet the Director Party," where Gary Bruch, was introduced to potential cast members. About 50 persons attended the party and head Bruch explain the type show to be put together, the rehearsal schedules and the need for special talent.

Bruch, whose home is in Fort Worth, has directed 54 of the community musicals for the Jerome Cargill Producing Organization of New York. The revue, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, will be staged with all local talent. The Cargill company provides the director and costumes.

Bell, general chairman for the show, will also head the orchestra for the musical production.

A tentative morning schedule for the women's dance lines started today, with rehearsals set for 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Another dance group is slated to rehearse the same hours on Monday-Wednesday-Friday. These could be changed to evening hours if most women prefer, said Bruch.

Dollar Drops Sharply Against Foreign Money

LONDON (AP) - Currency dealers won't say how much farther the nose-diving dollar might fall on foreign money markets. "I haven't heard of anyone talking about a recovery in the wind," said one dealer.

The dollar took one of its worst beatings over Monday, dropping 2 percent against the West German mark and French franc and more than 1 percent against most other currencies.

In Tokyo, the dollar opened today at 176.50 yen, its fifth postwar low in seven trading days. One trader said the Japanese central bank stepped in to by dollars and stop the slide.

Gold, the traditional refuge of speculators in times of economic uncertainty, shot up as much as $11 an ounce Monday, closing at $245.25 in London and $242.875 in Zurich, Switzerland.

The dollar dropped more than a yen Monday in Tokyo and was in trouble on European exchanges from the minute they opened.

Massive dollar sales triggered more sales, and the price plunged as buyers for the once-mighty currency were hard to find. Lack of confidence in American economic leadership triggered the recent rush to sell dollars and buy more stable currencies or gold.

The dollar's rapid slide over the past week reflects statements by foreign monetary dealers that President Carter's voluntary anti-inflation program is inadequate and unworkable.

Monday, some said reduced American oil imports, a tighter money supply in the United States and reduced government spending might help prop up the dollar.

Peace Talks Take Turn for Better

WASHINGTON (AP) - Mideast peace talks, on a roller coaster for more than a week, were on the upswing again today.

Progress reports were expected from both Egypt and Israel and top-level negotiations were scheduled.

For the first time in 10 days, heads of the U.S., Egyptian and Israeli delegations were meeting, with the goal of completing the text of a peace treaty that is now complicated by differences over linking it to the future status of the Palestinians.

A U.S.-Egyptian meeting was set prior to the three-way talks involving the Israelis.

The three-way session set for Blair

House marked an upswing from a clash between Israel and the United States over expansion of Jewish settlements on the West Bank of the Jordan River.

But it did not mean differences over the "linkage" issue have melted-away.

Israel wants the barest mention in its peace treaty with Egypt of future negotiations over the West Bank of the Jordan River. But Egypt, concerned about seeming to cut a separate deal with the Jewish state, wants the document to express a strong link to the Palestinian problem.

Assessing prospects for a peace treaty, Israel's Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan told reporters Monday: "I still think it is visible and obtainable and that we can reach an agreement within a short time."

Dayan and others in the Israeli delegation met twice Monday with Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and U.S. aides.

"We made good progress during the talks," Dayan said.

Later, acting Egyptian Foreign Minister Boutros Ghali described a separate session between Vance and the Egyptian delegation as "very constructive and positive."

Only last weekend, Ghali and Lt. Gen. Kamal Hassan Ali, the Egyptian defense minister, were preparing to fly home to Cairo for "consultations."

Their recall was cancelled after President Carter, in a message to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, requested they be kept on.

Pre-Halloween Mischiefs Keeps Police Hopping

Pre-Halloween mischief in Hereford has kept police busy and prompted one department spokesman to promise: "If anyone does anything tonight, we'll prosecute him to the full extent of the law."

Police today were treated to dozens of calls, including 14 concerning egged cars, as tricksters got a head start in the city.

"This has got to stop, and we're going to make sure that Halloweeners leave their mischief and other crap at home tonight," said one policeman.

"If they don't want to go to jail or pay a fine, they better not do anything because we're going to have a lot of officers on the streets."

The egg-throwing occurred late Sunday night or early today mostly between the 100 and 500 blocks of Ave. J.

Milburn Motors, 136 Sampson, reported the theft of a $250 chain hoist today, while Brown Drilling Co. 5, Texas St., said that someone stole a tool box and chain-hoist Sunday night or early this morning.

Raymond Casarez, Boynton's Grocery Store, 203 S. 25 Mile Ave., reported that someone threw a beer bottle at the front door of the store but did not break it.

James Whitson, 711 Irving, and Alex Wilcox, 713 Irving, told police someone sprayed their cars with black paint.

Police also are investigating a broken front door at Gibson Discount Center on Park Ave., nine broken windows at a house at 118 Norton, the theft of $17 from Photo Quick at Sugarland Mall, three broken windows and a cracked one at First Baptist Church, a broken front window at A&M Gun Shop on Park Ave., a shattered glass door at Boots West on E. Highway 60, and a broken window at Boots and Saddles, 513 N. 25 Mile Ave.

Absentee Voting Continues This Week

Absentee voting for the Nov. 7 general election will continue this week in the office of Deaf Smith County Clerk B.F. Cain.

Applications for mail ballots also may be obtained in Cain's office; which is open each day this week from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m.

Texas voters will elect a new governor, between Democrat John Hill and Republican Bill Clements. Other opposed races on the local ballot are as follows:

U.S. senator--Democrat Bob Krueger and Republican John Tower.

U.S. representative, 19th District--Democrat Kent Hance and Republican George Bush.

Lieutenant governor--Democrat Bill Hobby and Republican Gaylord Marshall.

Attorney general--Democrat Mark White and Republican Jim Baker.

Railroad commissioner, unexpired term--Democrat John Poerner and Republican James Lacy.

Voters also will decide the fate of the tax-relief amendment proposed by the state Legislature in last summer's special session and eight other amendments.

Hereford Schools Evaluated by 61 Educators

BY PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Sixty-one educators from throughout the Panhandle and Austin are in Hereford today for the second day of self-evaluation for the Hereford Independent School District.

The educators' team is headed by Dr. Kenneth Laycock, director of Region 16

Education Service Center in Amarillo.

The evaluation, which includes a study of all school programs and HISD administration, is designed to accreditate Hereford High School by the Southern School Association, HHS, which has been accredited by the association for 52 years, must undergo the study process every 10 years.

The school district is self-evaluated every five years, a second reason for the educators being in Hereford.

"This will also have a two-fold purpose in junior high. These people are here so we can upgrade our junior high programs, with the possible aim towards affiliating these two schools with the Southern School Association," said Mal Manchee, HISD director of program development and evaluation.

"The reason these people are looking at our elementary schools is so we can upgrade our programs on that level. As you can see, there are several reasons why we are doing this," Manchee said.

Representatives from Amarillo, Levelland, Borger, Pampa, Panhandle, Plainview, Texas Education Agency, West Texas State University, Region 16 Education Service Center, Dumas, Tulia, Canyon and Muleshoe toured campuses and administration offices Monday.

Assisting Laycock are Dr. Emmitt Smith of West Texas State University and David Cole, associate director of Region 16 Education Service Center.

"We recently sent these people copies of our self-evaluation books. They are looking at these books and either agreeing or disagreeing with what we came up with," Manchee said. "We listed our strengths and weaknesses. They're looking at these and saying, yes you do have strengths and yes you do have weaknesses, and they're evaluating these strengths and weaknesses."

"From this, we'll get a copy of their report and use it to improve our school system."

HISD three years ago began a self study to come up with goals needed to improve the school system. The evaluation was completed last year, with goals designed to put emphasis on areas needing improvement over the next five years.

"This visitation team is confirming what we found out. They're looking at everything from kindergarten through 12th grade, vocational, administration, buildings, everything," Manchee said.

Needs for the school district will be prioritized and submitted in a five-year plan to the Texas Education Agency for accreditation of the entire school system.

Dr. Laycock praised the efforts of his team and local school officials.

"We hope to be through by 4 o'clock," Laycock said this morning. "We have an excellent team, a group of people pretty well recognized in their fields, and I'm pleased with them. And I'm pleased with the arrangements locally. They've made it easy."

Bush Says Mud-Slinging Not Part of Campaign

BY PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Republican congressional candidate George Bush told a group of 80 Hereford supporters Monday night that he has refused to get into a controversial campaign with his opponent, State Senator Kent Hance, because "it's just not politics."

Bush, of Lubbock, told the group in Hereford Community Center that Hance has criticized Bush's contributions from persons outside the 19th Congressional District and has called him a "Rockefeller Republican," but "politics ought not be one guy slamming the other guy."

"I think voters will elect the one who's waged the most positive campaign. And I think we have an excellent chance to win this race. We're running extremely well in Midland-Odessa, in Lubbock County, my own personal effort has been extremely intense. There's a chance we're going to carry Plainview because our polls show we're ahead there. In Hereford? Well, there's no way of telling."

Bush defended his contributions, stating, "Sixty-four percent of it has come from West Texas, 24 percent has come from the state of Texas and only 15 percent from out of state."

"Mrs. Douglas MacArthur contributed. Does he (Hance) want me to turn that check back? I've received outside money and I'm proud of it."

Bush said that although he has not criticized Hance to the extent that Hance has criticized Bush, "I've got plenty of grounds to fault him on, but that's between me and Laura (Bush's wife). I'm not going to say he's a lawyer."

The Republican candidate attacked foreign imports of cattle and federal inflation and taxation policies.

School Board Tables Action

Hereford Independent School District board members met in closed session with attorney Richard Green Monday night but took no action concerning their continuing fight with the U.S. Justice Department over voting procedures in the district.

HISD lost a battle in court last year over the place system of voting which the Justice Department said might be discriminatory to minorities.

The board discussed its two options Monday--either try to prove that the place system is not discriminatory by going to U.S. District Court in Washington D.C. or submitting a voting plan for federal approval.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 requires all political subdivisions in Texas to report voting changes for pre-clearance from the attorney general's office. The act, amended to include Texas in 1975 and made retroactive to include election changes since 1972, prompted HISD to sue the Justice Department after the attorney general's office failed to approve a change from a place to at-large system.

The Branding Iron Innovative Principal Makes Learning Fun

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Rodney Laubhan, that innovative principal at Bluebonnet Elementary School, isn't forsaking the three R's in his classrooms, though it might appear that way when you see students acting in plays, following the instructions of a locally-famous artist or playing cards.

Basics are still taught at Bluebonnet. The special programs are designed to stimulate creativity and to encourage attendance. The results have been astounding.

"Our enrichment program is, we think, a tremendous program. We've done a survey on it based on the California Achievement Test. Our students received higher scores than the controlled group," said Laubhan, Bluebonnet principal since

The program is designed to allow students on the upper end of the achievement scale to demonstrate "fluent, flexible, original and elaborative thinking," according to Laubhan.

"It's the program we're most proud of here. It's for the gifted, talented and creative students. It's one of the areas that has long been neglected--we've spent a lot of time on children on the low-ability students and very little time on students on the upper end of the achievement scale."

It's not the only unusual program Laubhan has introduced. He upgraded the school's fine arts and science programs last year after teachers decided the areas were points at Bluebonnet.

"I've asked teachers to try to find more time to work science into their curriculum. It needs to be a daily discipline," Laubhan said.

"I'm also asking every classroom teacher to put on some kind of a play so each child will have a chance to perform, to get the feeling of being up in front of a group."

"I've also offered each grade level some funds to hire a local or area artist to work for one week with a particular grade level. It will help stimulate our students' creativity in the area of art."

"We've brought artists in for the last two weeks to work with grades 3 and 6. Our attendance has been fantastic in those two weeks."

Communication between school and parents also is important to the (See BRANDING, Page 2)

Potential Jurors

Answer Questionnaires

HOUSTON (AP) — Only six of 50 prospective jurors in the murder fire trial of millionaire Cullen Davis claim to have formed an opinion about Davis' guilt or innocence, although all say they have heard of the case.

The potential jurors Monday filled out questionnaires listing the names of 88 potential witnesses, including the defendant's estranged wife, Priscilla, and his girlfriend, Karen Master.

The witness list included Judge Joe Egidson of Fort Worth, the presiding jurist in the four-year-old Davis divorce proceedings and a principal in the case. A wide range of law enforcement officers were also named.

The prosecution alleges Davis, a 45-year-old Fort Worth industrialist, paid one-time karate instructor David McCrooy to hire a hit man to kill Egidson. Instead, McCrooy contacted the FBI and is now the prosecution's key witness.

If convicted of solicitation of capital murder, Davis faces five to 99 years in prison. Davis contends he was framed by Priscilla and others. He was acquitted last year in the 1976 slaying of his young stepdaughter, Priscilla's daughter by a previous marriage.

State District Judge Wallace Moore has denied defense requests to permit individual questioning of jurors but the selection process still is expected to take several days.

Reporter Arrested

By Dallas Sheriff

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas Morning News reporter went to the county sheriff's office in search of a story and returned with an arrest record — his own. Deputies arrested reporter Bruce Selraig, 23, Monday on a criminal trespass charge after he refused to leave a waiting room outside Sheriff Carl Thomas' office. He pleaded innocent.

Thomas said Selraig had been given the choice of leaving or being arrested. "At his (Selraig's) request, he was placed under arrest," the sheriff said.

Tom J. Simmons, News executive editor, called the arrest "an outrage." He said the reporter was released about two hours after the arrest. Selraig spent about half an hour in a jail cell.

Selraig wrote a copyright story published Saturday in "which two unnamed Dallas police officers said the sheriff was intoxicated and caused a disturbance in a local hotel the night before the Texas-Oklahoma football game Oct. 7."

Thomas called a news conference Saturday after the newspaper ran the article and denied the charge.

When asked if the decision to ban Selraig from the area was related to the story, the sheriff said, "I have no comment on the story that appeared over the weekend... I just didn't want Bruce sitting in my office area."

Citizens of Russia Net 80 Years in Prison

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Two Soviet citizens convicted of espionage were sentenced to 50 years in prison today by a federal judge who said the punishment could serve as a deterrent to others.

U.S. District Judge Frederick B. Lacey then heard arguments on whether to allow the Soviets to remain free without bail pending appeals.

The two convicted spies, both former United Nations employees, could have received life terms on the three espionage counts.

Lacey had said earlier that the pair "would do everything they could to destroy" the United States.

Valdik Enger, 39, and Rudolf Chernyayev, 43, were convicted Oct. 13 for their part in a nine-month conspiracy to obtain U.S. military secrets, including plans for antisubmarine warfare.

Witnesses testified at the two-week trial that the two were lured into the scheme by FBI agents investigating the possibility of network of spies operating from Soviet ships.

Lacey, a former U.S. Attorney, said after the jury's verdict that Enger and Chernyayev had "demonstrated they hold no love for this country and would do everything they could to destroy it."

Electric Companies Blast Undue Expense

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Everyone wants energy conservation but not at undue expense or haste, electric companies told the Texas Public Utility Commission staff Monday.

Companies, criticized and questioned the staff's 266-page report to the commission on how future electric rates should be set.

"There's such a thing as wrongful incentives to conservation," agreed Bill Avera, director of commission economic research. "You might conserve electricity but force more people to use gas."

Cecil Johnson of Gulf States Utilities Co. told Avera that companies are wary of using the word "conservation" loosely since some methods of saving energy only create other problems.

Among the report's key recommendations were:

-Direct state grants to utilities to subsidize bills of the poor and elderly.

-Further study of automatic fuel cost adjustments which raise bills without formal hearing.

-Gradual implementation of residential rates based on what time energy is consumed, similar to long distance phone charges.

Evaluating Schools

Sixty-one educators from throughout the area and Austin go over the results of their first day of Hereford school district visitation Monday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. The educators will complete their study of the district this afternoon. The district hopes to be reaccredited by Texas Education Agency.

Minorities Campaign

By The Associated Press

Black and Mexican-American groups will be hitting the campaign trail in support of Texas candidates before voters get to the polls in the Nov. 7 general election.

More than 20 Mexican-Americans in the Texas Legislature announced Monday a campaign tour to back Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Hill and Senate hopeful Bob Krueger. The campaigners will travel to seven cities.

The Texas Legislative Black Caucus in Austin said it was stepping up its support of Hill for governor with a "Campaign Stomp" through Texas. The six-day tour will take the caucus and supporters to 10 cities.

Meanwhile, three state representatives who are supporters of Democrat Mark White for attorney general asked Republican candidate Jim Baker of Houston to withdraw a Spanish radio advertisement.

State Reps. Hugo Berlanga and Arnold

Gonzales of Corpus Christi and Irma Rangel of Kingsville said the ad incorrectly alleges that the Democratic Party formed a committee in the primary election to stop support for White.

Baker said in Sherman if anyone had doubt about differences between the two attorney general candidates they should look at the latest list of contributions.

"The bulk of my opponent's contributions have come from special interest groups," Baker said. "Many of the groups are directly affected by the attorney general's actions or powers and to me that spells a clear conflict of interest."

White said in Austin he was taking nothing for granted and would campaign as hard the final week as he has previously. He said he planned to visit 47 cities during the week.

Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, said in Waco Monday that the visit of Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Patricia Harris to Texas was "the latest in a long parade of administration officials to come to Texas and try to tell Texans how to vote in the Senate race.

"As many Texans may recall, Mrs. Harris has consistently opposed housing and urban development programs designed to help the cities of Texas," the Republican Senate candidate said. "Now she is trying to tell the people of Texas to support my opponent."

In Marlin, students and about 100 other persons listened to Tower say he favored the two-party system.

Krueger announced in Pasadena that the mayors of 76 Texas cities have endorsed his race for the Senate.

"We feel that he is a young man on the move and can best serve the interests of the state," said a statement signed by the mayors. "The bureaucratic system is creating more agencies and red tape than municipalities can bear. We feel that Bob Krueger will help us in Washington to see that this bureaucratic red tape is eliminated and by this serve the cities of Texas in a beneficial way."

youngish-looking Bluebonnet principal. "We think our communication system here is unique. We have parent-teacher socials in grades kindergarten through second mandatorily and third through sixth voluntarily. Teachers invite parents to a morning special to explain the programs and students' school work.

"We also send home with the student a calendar we call 'Bluebonnet Happenings.' It includes the lunch fare and our special happenings."

School, Laubhan explained, was meant to be fun. "We try to expose students to many facets of education. We think our children achieve on a level commensurate to any school in this district."

Laubhan came to Hereford from Follett, where he was raised, in 1964. He first taught physical education and social studies at Stanton Junior High for two years, then moved to La Plata Junior High. He went back to Stanton as assistant principal in 1970.

He has been at Bluebonnet for five years. While at Stanton and La Plata, Laubhan instituted those schools' first intramural sports programs.

Laubhan, past president of the local Noon Kiwanis Club, was the person responsible for the creation of the Hereford Big Brothers-Big Sisters program. He also has worked in local United Way campaigns. "I believe in it."

Laubhan and his wife Lois, a high school teacher, have two daughters, ages 9 and 5.

Reserve may have to take out billions of dollars in credits from the International Monetary Fund to buy up the unwanted dollars and bolster the rate.

Part of the IMF's function is to supervise the international exchange rate system with an eye toward maintaining stability.

Gold, which sold at $169.50 at the start of the year, has gone up in value 45

For Americans abroad, the dollar's decline means more expensive food, lodging and travel as dollars buy less of the local currency. But it makes the United States a cheaper place for foreigners to visit and lowers the costs of some American goods sold abroad.

Imported goods sold in the United States become more expensive. This worries some foreign nations such as Japan, which export heavily, and is one reason why the Japanese central bank has often intervened to prop up the price of the dollar.

In West Germany, about 170 Berlin-based Pan Am flight officers are demanding a higher allowance to make up for the drop of the dollar against the mark.

Court Maintains Car-Rental Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday left intact a Chicago ordinance that forces car rental companies to pay for their customers' parking tickets.

The justices turned aside arguments by the Hertz and Avis rental agencies and Chrysler Leasing Corp. that the ordinance making them liable for such fines is unconstitutional.

Numerous cities nationwide have identical or similar laws, which appear safe, for the time being at least.

Car rental car agencies now apparently must pay the City of Chicago millions of dollars in parking fines dating back to 1966.

In 1967, Chicago took Hertz, Avis and Chrysler Leasing to court on charges of being the registered owners of cars that had been ticketed for a total of 13,267 parking violations in 1966.

The city charged that the three companies owned, unpaid fines — $37,395 for Chrysler, $73,425 for Avis and $88,185 for Hertz.

Chrysler leases fleets of cars to Avis, but the vehicles are registered in Chrysler's name.

A state trial judge ruled that the rental agencies were not responsible for parking violations while their cars were rented out to customers, but he was overruled by an appeals court and the Illinois Supreme Court.

The state's highest court ruled last April that the only defenses available to a registered owner of a ticketed car is to show that he is not the registered owner or that the violation did not occur.

The appeals court had ruled that Chicago's ordinance imposes a permissible "vicarious liability" on the rental agencies and the state Supreme Court upheld that ruling.

During the protracted legal fight over the 1966 fines, violations for the last 21 years have been held in abeyance.

Lawyers for Avis and Chrysler — former Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas and Phil Neal, former dean of the University of Chicago Law School — told the court: "Assuming only a number of violations for later years no greater than in 1966, the claims against the defendants based on the Chicago ordinance would be more than $2 million."

They added: "The liabilities involved in this case are far greater when the effect of similar ordinances elsewhere are considered."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 31, the 304th day of 1978. There are 61 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1517, Martin Luther nailed his 95 theses on the chapel door at Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany.

On this date: In 1674, Dutch forces evacuated what is now New York City.

In 1864, Nevada became the 36th state.

In 1955, Britain's Princess Margaret said, in a radio broadcast: "I would like it to be known that I have decided not to marry Group Captain Peter Townsend."

In 1956, Britain and France bombed Egypt in the Suez War between Egypt and Israel.

In 1959, a former U.S. marine, Lee Harvey Oswald, told newsmen in Moscow he never would return to the United States.

In 1963, a general, Nguyen Van Thieu, was sworn in as president of South Vietnam.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson ordered a halt to all American air, naval and artillery bombardment of North Vietnam, saying he hoped the action would lead to fruitful peace negotiations.

Five years ago: Three members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army escaped from a Dublin prison in a hijacked helicopter that landed in the prison yard.

One year ago: Former CIA Director Richard Helms pleaded no contest to charges he had failed to testify fully and accurately before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Today's birthdays: U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell is 60 years old. Actress Barbara Bel Geddes is 56. Former King of Cambodia Norodom Sihanouk is 56. Broadcaster Dan Rather is 47.

Thought for today: "All things come to him who waits — provided he knows what he is waiting for." — President Woodrow Wilson, 1856-1924.

Jury of View

Is Appointed

Deaf Smith County commissioners appointed Pete Carmichael, Carl Wimberly, Walter Lemons, James Gentry and Lee Umsted to a jury of view during a special meeting Monday.

The five, if they agree to serve, will appraise property adjacent to the city airport east of Hereford in order that the county may purchase it for the right-of-way. The land will be used to construct a road for a bus route.

Alternates named by the commission are Sallie Strain and Robert Thompson.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

She was four years old. Sitting at the dinner table, her legs dangled like they were hollow. They cleared the floor by a good 20 inches.

She divided her time between chasing a cherry tomato around the plate with a spoon and looking furtively out of the window pleading, "It's dark already. We have to go."

It was Halloween and her costume had been finished for a week. She couldn't wait another minute to put it on.

First came the padding -- large pillows secured with belts from everyone in the family. Then, large boots to disguise her feet. The baggy pants were next, held up by a rope threaded in the loops and a pair of suspenders.

A faded shirt and a vest added the finishing touch to the dressing. Charcoal covered the small fat cheeks and a bulbous nose looked incongruous on the small face. Large glasses covered the eyes and a large black mustache was pasted to the upper lip.

The red fright wig covered her crop of blood curls and was touched off by a slouch hat. She slung a shopping bag over her arm that dragged on the ground and announced excitedly, "I'm ready."

It was a long drive and she sat on the seat in silence. Occasionally, she would peer out of the window and view the army of little beggars, witches, skeletons, who scurried through the streets with flashlights and pillow cases, stumbling over curbs, peering into one another's bags, comparing notes of who gave what, and occasionally recognizing some patient parent shivering at the end of a drive.

The trip was a long but familiar one. As we turned the corner, we doused our lights and quietly eased into the driveway to avoid being seen.

I let myself out of the car and eased open the door on the passenger's side. Neither of us spoke until we were crouched in the bushes and even then it was nothing above a whisper.

"Can you see?" I whispered.

"Yes," she whispered back.

"Okay, just remember, I'll ring the bell for you and when they open the door I'll hop back here in the bushes and they'll never in a million years suspect for a single moment who you are. They are going to be so surprised!"

I ran back to the bushes just as the porch light came on. The door opened and a big voice boomed, "Well, what have we here? It's a beggar, Mother. Do we know any beggars?"

From behind the mustache came a small voice. "You'll never guess who this is, Granddad!"

Square Dance

Lessons To Commence Thursday

Beginner square dance lessons, sponsored by the Country Singles Square Dance Club will start Nov. 2 and continue for 18 weeks.

Lessons are slated from 8-10:30 p.m. each Thursday evening during the 18-week course in the Fellowship Hall of First Presbyterian Church, 610 Lee St.

Johnny Gillenwater of Tulia will instruct the classes. Lessons will cost $18 per person for the total series of classes. Individuals are not required to have partners in order to enroll.

To pre-register, or to obtain further information, persons can call Debbie Prather, 364-0490 after 5 p.m.

tions, songs and Bible verses. CEF is an international, interdenominational Christian training program. Weekly classes are offered locally according to the following schedule: 3:30 p.m. each Monday in the Jerry Osborn home, 239 Ave. B; 3:30 p.m. each Thursday in the Larry Howie home, 111 Forest; 9:30 a.m. Sundays in the Bluewater Apartments; 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mary Bartlett, 129 Kingwood.

These classes are offered to all age groups of children, free of cost. After completing five years of training, a child will have studied the major stories of the Bible.

Adults who are interested in having CEF classes in their homes or teaching in the CEF program are invited to contact Mrs. Melvin Jayroe, 364-3766 who teaches a class locally, or Mrs. Jerry Osborn, 364-7268.

In order to teach a class, an individual would need to attend training classes each Thursday morning at Amarillo Bible Church, 15th and Ong St. There is no charge for persons attending these preparatory classes. A nursery will be provided.

CEF was initiated in 1935 and now includes a fulltime staff of 671 persons and more than 60,000 volunteers.

Ann Landers

High Times

DEAR ANN: Please allow equal space for those of us who disagree with "Philosophy of a Pot-Head." Here's what it's really like.

My pockets are not empty. I don't owe anybody and nobody owes me. I have a job. I work for a doctor. I don't own a car. I'm saving for one and if it breaks down it's my responsibility. I'm in school maintaining above-average grades. My like is okay. I plan to be a college grad in the '80s and live a happy life. I have good friends with similar ambitions. I'm a happy person and I feel good about myself - high or otherwise.

Do you wonder why I smoke pot? Because it makes me feel good all over and more at ease with my friends. Sooner or later it will be legalized and people will accept it. How much of its bad side can you show me, Ann Landers? I'm open-minded enough that if you told me it could kill me I would quit. -- High In Houston

DEAR HIGH IN HOUSTON: I'm not going to tell you that pot will kill you because I don't believe it will. I AM going to tell you, however, that while most pot-smokers do NOT go onto harder stuff, 90 percent of the heroin addicts in every study I have seen say they started with pot.

You've told me of the "good" side of pot and I believe you are telling it like it is -- within the realm-of your experience. I've had similar reports from hundreds of other pot-smokers. They say they enjoy it, it relaxes them, and it hasn't messed up their lives. I believe them.

You asked me to show you the "bad" side, and I will.

The reaction to pot varies, according to (1) the emotional stability of the smoker, (2) what he smokes, (3) how often he smokes.

You should like a person who is strong emotionally. The tone of your letter is balanced, sensible -- even polite. Many teenagers who smoke are unstable, unhappy and insecure. They have a lower threshold of tolerance for everything: anger, stress, failure, disappointment -- and chemicals. These cats have enough trouble keeping their heads together without getting stoned.

What are you smoking? Are you sure you know? You really DON'T know unless you're a chemist. Kansas or "backyard" grass that grows wild has less wow-power than Mexican Gold or the stuff from Asia. Moreover, some dealers cut expensive imported marijuana with alfalfa or hay (to stretch it). This stuff does nothing more than an ordinary cigaret. Other dealers (to hook a new user) will face a load with LSD which can produce a terrific high.

How often do you smoke? An occasional joint or two on weekends is very different from smoking several joints (or pipefuls) every day. It has been proven that pot in heavy doses can distort the vision and produce a faulty sense of timing and perception. A driver high on pot is as dangerous as a drunk driver.

Most of my psychiatric consultants say the worst thing about pot is that it kills initiative and makes dreamers out of potential achievers. It's a terrible waste of time. Thousands of hours are squandered by students who sit around contemplating their navels.

You say one day pot will be legalized. I hope you are wrong. Because I care about what happens to young people I will continue to fight vigorously to see that it doesn't happen in this country.

Serve Pumpkin For Halloween

Bewitching Pumpkins

If you're having company on Halloween, you can serve your goblins a jack-o-lantern at supper to put them in the proper mood for trick-or-treating.

The pumpkin is a Four Food Group food found in the vegetables-fruits group. It contains large amounts of vitamin A and is a fair source of iron; nutrients that we need every day. The following Dairy Council, Inc., recipe contains items from the milk, vegetables-fruits, and bread-cereals groups. The addition of a meat group food will complete your balanced meal.

Since the pumpkin will be used as the baking dish for the mild-flavored custard, you will want to select a pumpkin that is free of skin blemishes and bruises, with a hard rind or skin. The pumpkin must be well-coated with oil to keep the shell pliable and protect it from cracking and losing the custard contents.

NOTE: Because the custard is mild flavored, you may wish to add additional spices such as cinnamon, allspice, etc.

Pumpkin Supper
4 slices white bread
1 3-4 lb. pumpkin with stem
1 tablespoon oil
4 oz. Swiss cheese, grated
3 cups of half and half scant 1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Cut bread in 1/2 inch pieces. Precision is not necessary. Put on baking sheet or foil pan. Toast until golden brown about 7 minutes. Wash and dry pumpkin. Using a strong serrated knife, cut off cap about 1/4 down from the top. Pull out fiber and seeds. Scrape out the rest with a spoon. Rub the pumpkin with oil. Beat together in a bowl 2 1/2 cups cream, salt, pepper and nutmeg.

Place pumpkin in pie pan or heavy baking sheet. Make layers in pumpkin of bread and cheese, finishing with the cheese, until the pumpkin is 3/4 full. Pour in cream to cover filling, using remaining cream as needed. Place cap back on pumpkin; Bake 2 hours at 300 degrees, stirring occasionally. Pumpkin is ready when the pulp is tender and the shell is an orange rust. Remove cap and ladle pumpkin and custard into soup dishes. Serves 4-6.

NOTE: Pumpkin can be completely prepared and refrigerated up to six hours in advance. This dish cannot be baked ahead. Soft pulp will collapse.

Money Called Cheap in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) - After 10 increases this year from a low of 7 1/4 percent the prime rate is now more than 10 percent, but "money is indeed cheap in the United States," says Henry Kaufman.

Ten percent is cheap? Why, 30 years ago it was only 2 percent. And the highest prime in modern times was 12 percent. Does this fellow Kaufman know of what he speaks?

He certainly does. When Henry Kaufman talks about interest rates everyone listens. Kaufman, partner in the Salomon Brothers securities firm, is an authority. Sometimes he is called the authority.

Money is so cheap, he believes, that despite rising rates we haven't seen anything yet. And he so informed the annual convention of the American Bankers Association in Honolulu last week.

"Credit markets are about to experience the most dramatic increases in interest rates since the cyclical rise began in late 1976," he told the bankers.

That's saying a lot, because the prime rate, the lowest rate offered to a bank's best corporate customers, was only 6 1/4 percent back in December 1976. It already has risen sharply. Now, says Kaufman, the rise might quicken.

So why does he say money is cheap at more than 10 percent?

For one thing, because a lot of it is being borrowed.

These corporate and individual borrowers haven't departed their senses, according to Kaufman. They know the after-tax rate is much lower than would have received a one-year net benefit of $1,100, or an 11.1 percent return on equity after taxes, said Kaufman.

For the person who bought at the beginning of this year, the net benefit after taxes and interest payments was $3,800 or 21.3 percent through September.

Why? Primarily because the prices of homes rose faster than the after-tax cost of borrowed money, according to Kaufman.

So, Kaufman states, money really isn't expensive yet, despite those high interest rates, but it will become so.

Eventually, he forecasts, those interest rates are going to rise high enough to really hurt. Only then apparently will borrowing be discouraged. But by then, it seems discouragement might be general.

The real cost of money, Kaufman said, is the difference between the inflation and interest rates. In Germany, for example, some loans cost 6 1/2, inflation is 2 1/2, and the real money cost is 4 percent.

It doesn't take an involved calculation, therefore, to determine that in the United States, where the inflation and lending rates nearly match each other, the cost of a home mortgage, for example, is low.

Consider, he asks, the financial benefits since 1973 of purchasing and financing the average price new home. In 1973 it sold at about $37,000, but by this September the price had climbed to $65,000.

Assuming a person in the 30 percent tax bracket bought a home in January 1973, he or she

Court To Decide Abortion Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court agreed Monday to decide whether a state may require unmarried females under 18 to obtain the consent of their parents or a judge before they undergo abortions.

The justices said they will review a Massachusetts abortion law unconstitutional by a federal court in Boston.

The lower court said the law infringes on the privacy rights of some "mature minors."

The Massachusetts law was challenged in a 1974 lawsuit by two pregnant teen-agers, their doctor and the director of an abortion clinic.

A three-judge federal panel has twice struck down the law, once after a state appeal reached the Supreme Court.

The law requires a female who is under 18 and not married - divorcees and widows are exempt - to tell her parents about her abortion plans. If one or both of her parents refuse consent, permission for an abortion may be obtained from a state judge.

Under the law, a state judge may refuse that permission after ruling that an abortion is not in the female's best interest. Such a ruling could be made in any stage of the pregnancy.

The Supreme Court legalized abortions in 1973, basing its ruling on a women's constitutional right to privacy.

In other action today, the high court: -Left intact a Chicago ordinance that requires car rental companies to pay for their customers' parking tickets. Hertz, Avis and Chrysler Leasing had argued that the ordinance was unconstitutional. Similar laws in numerous other cities across the country appear safe, at least for the time being.

-In a case that could have direct bearing on the court's controversial Miranda decision in 1966, agreed to decide whether minors accused of crimes may be questioned by police after the suspects ask to consult with their probation officers.

-Turned down a request by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. aimed at keeping the Securities and Exchange Commission from publicizing details of millions of dollars in alleged foreign bribes made by ITT.

-Agreed to decide whether a Louisiana woman, once an aide to former Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., may sue Passman for back pay and damages for alleged sex discrimination. The woman contends Passman fired her in 1974 simply because he wanted a man for the job.

-Let stand a ruling that grand jury testimony for an unavailable witness may be used as trial evidence against a criminal defendant.

'Free' Book Costs Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Slap down $12.58 and you can have an eye-catching new book on art in the U.S. Capitol, or you might get it for nothing by writing your senator or congressman.

House and Senate members spent about $400,000 in taxpayers money so they would have the books to give away "free" by the thousands.

Handsome bound in two-tone brown, the book contains more than 400 pages of art reproductions in color and black and white.

Everything you ever wanted to know about portraits, statues, busts, plaques, stairways, friezes, vases, eagles, fountains, columns, clocks, frescoes, murals, doors, mantels and decorative windows in the Capitol and congressional office buildings.

Each senator has 100 copies to give away. The 435 members of the House got 50 each.

It's not the first time they've done it.

"Art in the United States Capitol" was printed two years ago to coincide with the bicentennial celebration. It was so popular that members of Congress soon ran out of copies: So the House and Senate voted later in 1976 to pay for a second edition, which the Government Printing Office recently printed.

There are a few changes from the first edition.

Economic Indicator Trend Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) - A government indicator of future economic trends rose 0.9 percent in September, the biggest increase since April, the Commerce Department said Monday.

economic trend. An increased money supply can contribute to inflation.

The government looks at its index of leading indicators to find out where the economy is headed. It often takes several months to establish a pattern.

The Carter administration is counting on slow, steady growth for the rest of the year to keep both inflation and unemployment in check. Economists disagree on whether inflation-tightening measures will lead to a recession next year.

1.1 percent jump in April at the end of a severe winter.

Contributing to the rise in the index were the money supply, building permits, liquid assets, deliveries and a relatively low layoff rate.

However, most of the increase was confined to building permits and a rising money supply, making it difficult to establish an

In the entire July-September quarter, the index gained a weak 0.1 percent when compared to the Spring quarter.

The 0.9 percent gain for September followed an increase of 0.7 percent in August and a drop of 0.9 percent in July. It was the biggest increase since a Negative contributors were factory orders, orders for plant and equipment, prices of sensitive products and stock prices. However, the index did not reflect the dramatic drop in stock prices during October. The average work week was unchanged.

Ship Still in Bay

ST. INGOES, Md. (AP) - Rough seas Monday forced an indefinite delay in an effort to lift the ill-fated Cuyahoga from the bottom of the Chesapeake Bay, the Navy and Coast Guard announced.

The death toll from the sinking of the cutter is now officially put at 11.

The Coast Guard said the body of Senior Chief Machinery Technician David Markin, 34, of Newport News, Va., was found Sunday two miles west of where the Cuyahoga sank after a collision Oct. 20 with the Argentine coal ship Santa Cruz II.

The Coast Guard ended its search after the location of Markin's body, spokesman Fred Maldonado said.

Eighteen other crewmen on the Cuyahoga, the Coast Guard's oldest vessel, were rescued after the accident. No one on the 521-foot freighter was injured.

Efforts to raise the steel-hulled, 125-foot cutter, lying in 57 feet of water, had been scheduled to begin Sunday evening but were postponed because adjustments were necessary on the slings under the Cuyahoga, Maldonado said.

Two floating cranes were on the scene off Smith Point, near the Maryland-Virginia border. Efforts were aimed at raising the 51-year-old cutter in one piece for study by a marine board of investigation. Coast Guard spokesman Fred Kern said.

The board, which held five days of hearings last week in Baltimore, planned to inspect the Cuyahoga, which was to be placed aboard a barge. Once the inspection was complete, the cutter was to be taken to the Coast Guard Support Center in Portsmouth, Va.

Meanwhile, Reps. Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., and Robert Bauman, R-Md., called for a congressional investigation into the service's "lack of proper training and proper equipment." They cited "chilling" testimony by the survivors at the hearings.

Ms. Mikulski, a member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee that oversees the Coast Guard, said a congressional investigation would not begin until the investigating board completed its hearings.

The index stood at 138.3, meaning the indicators were 38.3 percent stronger than in the base period of 1977. They were at 132.5 in September 1977.

Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall voted to set aside the lower court's entire decision and send it all back for further study.

"Insofar as the appeal seeks review of the corollary issue, the petition is denied," they said.

Carter Signs Bill For Victim's Privacy

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter has signed a bill to protect the privacy of rape victims in federal court proceedings by restricting testimony on the victim's prior sexual behavior. The White House said Monday.

Carter also signed 53 other miscellaneous bills, including 44 private relief measures and several that name federal buildings.

In a statement, the president said the rape measure is "designed to end the public degradation of rape victims and, by protecting victims from humiliation, to encourage the reporting of rape."

He said testimony on previous sexual behavior would be restricted "to that genuinely relevant to the defense," and that the bill would prevent making the victim's private life the issue in the trial.

Carter said the bill provides a model for state and local revision of criminal and case law.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - The black consumer market is growing nearly twice as fast as the white, says The Buyer, a South African clothing-trade magazine.

Black city women are keen followers of Western fashions, looking for quality as well as style, and they are discerning rather than impulsive buyers, according to the magazine.

Falcons Kick Rams, 15-7 Monday Night

ATLANTA (AP) - Tim Mazzetti, a Philadelphia bartender just three weeks ago, kicked five field goals following five big plays by a swarming defense and gave the Atlanta Falcons a 15-7 National Football League upset victory over the Los Angeles Rams Monday night.

Fired by a crowd of 57,000, the Atlanta defense blocked a punt, intercepted two passes, stopped a fourth-down Los Angeles gamble at midfield, and recovered a fumble before each of Mazzetti's field goals.

Mazzetti, signed as a free agent three weeks ago, kicked a game-winning field goal with one second left against San Francisco last week. He kicked his club record-tying five three-pointers Monday night from 21, 37, 30, 26 and 37 yards to hand the Rams their second consecutive defeat after they opened the season with seven victories. Atlanta, 5-4, thus moved within two games of Los Angeles in the National Conference West race.

Mazzetti put the Falcons ahead to stay 9-7 four seconds into the final quarter after the Rams gambled and failed at midfield.

Needing only one foot for a first down, Cullen Bryant hit the middle - where he was nailed for a 1-yard loss by linebacker Robert Pennywell.

The Falcons got a break on their first play when Alfred Jackson fumbled after a pass reception. Atlanta's Jim Mitchell recovered and advanced the ball 10 yards to the Los Angeles 33. The Falcons eventually reached the 13 before setting for Mazzetti's field goal.

Los Angeles got its touchdown on the first play of the second quarter on Pat Haden's 10-yard pass to Ron Jessie.

It came after Bill Simpson intercepted a Steve Bartkowski pass and returned it 24 yards to the Falcon 24, where another 12 yards was tacked on when Atlanta's Warren Bryant was charged with roughness on the tackle. The Rams threatened only two other times, on their first possessions of each half.

Haden's 12-yard pass to Willie Miller, a roughing the passer penalty and a 17-yard run by Lawrence McCutcheon carried to the Atlanta 5 in the opening quarter. But Terry Nelson fumbled at the 2 on a hit by Rick Byas and Frank Reed recovered for the Falcons at their 12.

Then, at the start of the third quarter, Los Angeles moved to the Atlanta 32, where Frank Corral missed a 49-yard field goal try.

Corral also missed a 43-yarder in the final minute.

The Falcons played the final 33 minutes without starting quarterback Steve Bartkowski, who separated his left shoulder on a keeper to the Los Angeles 40 late in the first half.

June Jones, making his first appearance since the third game of the season, worked the second half and engineered one lengthy drive before Mazzetti's fourth field goal. Mazzetti, who had tryouts with three other NFL clubs, got the Atlanta job after kicker Fred Steinfort failed to produce. Mazzetti, an American, was raised in Brazil and attended the University of Pennsylvania.

His first field goal, midway through the second quarter followed a blocked punt by Edgar Fields that gave Atlanta possession on the Los Angeles 23. He chopped the halftime margin to 7-6 just 27 seconds before intermission after Byas intercepted Haden and returned 5 yards to the 28.

Atlanta's only drive to a field goal came after Roland Lawrence's second interception of the night at the Falcon 28. The key play was a 34-yard pass from Jones to Jackson to the Los Angeles 12.

Mazzetti then kicked the field goal with 5:39 remaining in the game.

Mazzetti put it out of reach with his second 37-yarder with 2:09 left after Mike Esposito recovered a fumble at the Los Angeles 25.

Double Winners Named

A first place tie developed last week in the BRAND's football contest.

Darlene Cornelius of 523 Ave. G and Rose O'Rand of 506-B Ave. G, both missed five games and had a tiebreaker of 49.

Third place winner was Priscilla Brogdon of 140 Beach. She missed six and had a tiebreaker of 58. The actual tiebreaker score was 64.

Others missing six games included Tracy Keating with a tiebreaker of 32; Armando Alaniz 30; Ronnie Bell 42; Joe Don Cummings 41; Scott Howard 42; Martha Miller 47; Susie Kalka 40; Paula Rush 48; Kristin Walterscheid 30 and Joyce Wartes with a tiebreaker of 45.

Thirteen others missed seven games.

Boosters Slate Meeting Earlier

The Hereford Booster Club will meet at 7 p.m. tonight instead of the usual 8 p.m. time according to Bob Nigh, club president.

The moveup was done to accommodate the new time change, back to Standard Time from Daylight Savings.

The meeting is held each Tuesday at the high school auditorium.

Sonics Okay Without Webster

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Notes from around the National Basketball Association:

The Seattle SuperSonics don't seem to miss Marvin Webster at all.

Despite losing the 7-foot-1 center who led them to the NBA finals last year, the Sonics won their first seven games of the season before bowing to San Diego Sunday night. Their 7-1 record is the best in the league, and Coach Lenny Wilkens is not surprised.

"We never relied on any one man to score," he said. "We always got six or seven people scoring in double figures. And even without Marvin, we still have guys getting the ball off the boards."

Wilkens has been starting second-year man Tom LaGarde, obtained from Denver for a first-round draft choice, at center in place of Webster, who signed a $3-million free agent contract with the New York Knicks. LaGarde, who saw limited duty as a rookie because of knee problems, has played better than expected, averaging 13.9 points and 9.5 rebounds per game.

The Washington Bullets, who beat Seattle in seven games for the title last spring, started out by winning four in a row. Then they went on a West Coast road trip and lost three of four, including blowouts at Seattle and Golden State.

The Bullets' strength is up front, with veterans Elvin Hayes, Wes Unseld and Bobby Danbridge and youngsters Mitch Kupchak and Greg Ballard forming a formidable front line.

"We have a good basketball team with a lot of flexibility in the front line," says Coach Dick Motta. "The five guys we have playing the front line may be the best ever to play in this league."

He gets no argument, from Hayes.

"No one has a better inside game than we do," says the Big E. "We chew people up inside."

Kent Hance.

When Kent Hance began work in the Texas Senate, he did not sit on the sidelines like most freshman Senators. He sponsored legislation to remove a State Supreme Court Judge from office following his indictment for perjury. He led the fight in the Senate trial to impeach a District Judge from Duval County for misconduct in office. This was the first such trial in more than 30 years, and was the first major effort to clean up corruption in Duval County. He sponsored measures to remove the Senate's top employee for questionable conduct.

Wherever Kent Hance found waste in government, he acted. He sponsored and passed into law "sunset legislation" that abolishes state agencies on a periodic basis, unless they are re-established by the Legislature. This helps to keep agencies from getting out of hand, and to eliminate those that are no longer needed. He made welfare fraud or food stamp fraud a felony in Texas.

In his four-year term, Kent Hance never missed a day in the Senate's five sessions, regular and special. In four of those five sessions he didn't miss a vote. In the fifth, he had a 96% voting record.

In Congress, Kent Hance will continue this kind of representation where it is needed most... at the Federal level. Kent Hance has proved that when he sees evidence of corruption, waste or inefficiency in government he does not look the other way... HE ACTS. West Texas needs Kent Hance in Congress.

Let's make sure the man we send to Congress is the man with qualifications we can measure—and count on...!

UCLA, Houston Round Out Poll.

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

The top eight teams, led by unbeaten Oklahoma and Penn State, have retained their positions in The Associated Press college football poll, while UCLA and Houston rounded out the Top Ten and Navy surged from 18th place to 11th.

Arizona State and Missouri were the biggest losers, dropping out of the ratings, while Arkansas slipped from ninth place to 17th and Michigan State made the Top Twenty for the first time this season.

Oklahoma, a 56-19 winner over Kansas State, received 52 of 62 first-place votes and 1,228 of a possible 1,240 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. The Sooners remained No. 1 for the sixth week in a row.

Penn State was the runnerup for the third consecutive week. The Nittany Lions received the other 10 first-place votes and 1,168 points following a 49-21 trouncing of West Virginia. Last week, with 64 voters submitting their ballots, Oklahoma's lead was 1,270-1,208.

Alabama, a 35-0 victory over Virginia Tech, was third with 1,074 points, followed by Nebraska with 995 points following a 22-14 victory over Oklahoma State.

Maryland, one of the nation's four unbeaten-untied major teams - Navy is the fourth one - was fifth with 966 points for a 27-0 blanking of Duke. The Terrapins were trailed by Southern California 42-17 and received 948 points.

Texas, which turned back Southern Methodist 22-3, received 835 points for seventh place while No. 8 Michigan earned 783 points for a 42-10 rout of Minnesota.

Arkansas' 20-9 loss to Houston enabled UCLA, which beat Arizona 24-14, to move up from 10th to ninth with 761 points, while Houston went from 11th to 10th with 759 points.

The Second Ten consists of Navy, Louisiana State, Georgia, Purdue, Notre Dame, Clemson, Arkansas, Michigan State, Pittsburgh and Washington.

Last week, it was Houston, Arizona State, Missouri, LSU, Pitt, Georgia, Purdue, Navy, Notre Dame and Clemson, but Arizona State lost to Washington 41-7 while Colorado edged Missouri 28-27. Michigan State joined the Top Twenty by blasting Wisconsin 55-2 and Washington reappeared after a five-week absence.

Get Ready

Nearly 50 runners participated Saturday afternoon in the first annual Membership Run, sponsored by the Hereford Running Club. The membership run included a brief seminar on the fundamentals of running and other activities following the run at Veteran's Park. Here, runners wait for the gun to start the two mile run.

Oilers Look Better Losing in Pictures

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers, who ended Pittsburgh's unbeaten streak and Cincinnati's winless string in six days, looked better on film in losing to the Bengals 28-13 than they did on the field, Oilers Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips said Monday.

"The game looked better on film than it did on TV if you can imagine that," Phillips said of Sunday's distressing loss to the Bengals. "We would have four guys blocked and one guy missed and that happened at least seven or eight critical times during the game."

Regardless of how the Oilers looked on film it still ended in a loss and Phillips didn't try to diminish Cincinnati's performance.

"I'm not going to say Cincinnati beat us because we were flat," Phillips said. "They outplayed us and they deserved to win more than we did."

The Oilers experienced their season high and low points all in the six-day span. It started last Monday night when they whacked Pittsburgh in their best performance of the season.

The loss to the Bengals, who had not scored a rushing touchdown this season in eight straight defeats, was Houston's most lackluster performance of the year. It dropped the Oilers to a 5-4 record and further jeopardized their playoff hopes.

"I think it was a combination of two things, we were not as sharp as we should be and they were a lot sharper than they have been," Phillips said. "They didn't play like the 0-8 team everybody expected them to be."

Although the Oilers didn't score until the final six minutes of the game and allowed the win-hungry Bengals to spring to a 21-0 lead, Phillips said it was not because of a lack of effort.

HEALTH
 Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

When the room spins

DEAR DR. LAMB - I had a five-hour blood sugar test and it showed at the fourth hour that my sugar was low enough to make me feel faint. It is just the opposite of a diabetic person. Would this cause ringing in my ears all the time and, once in a while, dizziness so that objects move and, when I lie down, the room goes around? This lasts for three or four days at a time. The only thing that helps me is Antivert. I am 5-foot-4 and weigh 140 pounds. I am a 47-year-old female. I am supposed to lose weight, but I find it very hard to do. Would you be kind enough to explain this thing about not enough sugar in my blood?

DEAR READER - You have enough different problems that it would be very difficult to say specifically which problem is causing which symptom. Ringing in the ears and dizziness being treated with Antivert suggests that you have a problem in the little balance canals in the ears. If that's true, these symptoms are not caused by low blood sugar.

POLLY'S POINTERS
 Polly Cramer
 Wants to change paper

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY - Please tell me how to remove that pretty adhesive-backed paper from my cupboard shelves. I have tried all sorts of things but cannot get it off and I want to change to a different pattern - BETTY B.

DEAR BETTY B. - Try to work a corner loose with a putty knife. It is not easy but after even a tiny corner is lifted I find a quick yank will remove it. It may tear but repeat the pulling on what is left. The hardest part is getting the corner loose. A bit of water may help that. Any remaining sticky substance can be removed with linseed oil. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Helen wrote that she would like to know how to make her husband's shirt collars larger since she had already moved the button out as far as she could. My husband is very pleased with a little gadget that is like a button with an attached loop of cord elastic - the button goes in the buttonhole and the loop over the button. This adds as much as half a size. We get them from a mail order catalogue. Notions departments in stores might have them. Remove before washing. - MRS. T.C.

Ballet is flourishing, thank you. Consider how the Postal Service negotiations have been choreographed, says our resident cynic.

DEAR POLLY - I would like to share a wonderful perk-up for carpets. Mix a mild solution of fabric softener in a spray bottle. After you vacuum spray a fine mist over the carpet and let it dry. You will notice a new fluffiness along with easier cleaning. (Polly's Note - You might test in a small area to see effect on your particular rug.)

My Pet Peeve is that several times lately I have become interested in a newspaper article only to be left hanging there with no conclusion. Lack of space, I suppose. - MRS. G.L.

DEAR POLLY - After I mix the ingredients for a meat loaf I put the mixture in a loaf pan, then turn the loaf pan with the meat in it upside down on a broiler pan. About 30 minutes before the baking time ends I remove the loaf pan, put tomato sauce or ketchup on top of the meat loaf and let it brown. In this way the grease from the meat loaf runs down into the broiler pan and the meat loaf is not so greasy. - MARY P.

DEAR POLLY - I discovered a time saver is to use the cardboard carriers that soda or beer come in for caddies to hold my cleaning things. They are great to use for carrying drinks outside, too. My storage area stays nice and neat since I started using these carriers that were formerly thrown away. - NORAH

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of this newspaper.
