POSITIVE THINGS ABOUT MULESHOE

Muleshoe Schools Rank 'High'

Following Odd Year TEAMS Test

Muleshoe Public Schools recently received the results from the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) tests administered to all 'odd' grade levels.

H. John Fuller, superintendent, said the results exceeded expectations in the area of mathematics. He said 89.4 percent of the students in grades 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 mastered the minimum competence measured on the test.

The current ninth grade class leads the classes with 95 percent of the students mastering the test. In addition to these results, the test results had a predicted percentile ranking that placed Muleshoe ISD in the upper one-third of the schools in the nation.

"The administrators contribute much of the improvement in student performance to the

Annual Mule Day Festival Still On August Schedule

It's official now, Cal Farley's Boys Ranch took over the operation and management of Girlstown, U.S.A., on April 25. According to Carl McMillan, public information officer for Boys Ranch, the transition was handled smoothly and efficiently following the initial announcement of the pending change in January.

McMillan was in Muleshoe Wednesday afternoon, and met with Jeff Smith, founder and coordinator of the Mule Day Festival, designed to benefit Girlstown.

During the afternoon meeting, McMillan assured Smith there would be no change in the annual festival, and offered such assistance as could be made by Boys Ranch officials in the annual celebration.

Smith informed McMillan he would like to see a board of directors be set up for the Mule Day Festival, and would like to have someone handle the finances for the celebration, and continue it as it has been in

MHS Athlete

Honor Set

For Tuesday

Tuesday night, a Muleshoe High School All-Sports Banquet will be held in the MHS cafeteria. Athletes will be served, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the public will be served at 7 p.m.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from Bobo Insurance Co. or an Athletic Booster Club member. Tickets will be $6 in advance, and $7 at the door.

Sue Bessire of the Athletic Booster Club said, "An exciting program is planned with the naming of athletes to receive various awards."

"A video, made by Joella Flowers and Dale Hughes, will also be presented, showing the athletes in action during the year.

"Please come and show your support for the athletic programs in Muleshoe High School," she concluded.

past years. This year, the celebration will be on Saturday, August 8.

McMillan commented, "We have a lot to learn about operating a home for girls, but we think we can do it, with the help of our friends. We still need each of you, along with our other friends, helping as you have been, and then we need new friends, too."

"This is a great opportunity for us to extend the Cal Farley philosophy a little further and since it has worked in helping boys, we feel it applies to young ladies as well."

Although Boys Ranch has agreed to take over operation of the financially troubled Girlstown, U.S.A. they will continue to operate two separate corporations, Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and Girlstown, U.S.A.

According to McMillan, the Borger Residential Treatment Center is a great facility. And, as the Ranch also needs treatment for some of the boys, it is anticipated that this facility could be used for both boys and girls.

He also said it is designed adequately for proper care 24 hours a day. This type center is used to rehabilitate the more emotionally disturbed children than for basic care.

Plans are in the works to expand the programs for the girls to include raising animals through the FFA and 4-H programs; home economics; and maybe a riding club for the Boys Ranch Rodeo and/or barrel racing. Vocational training will be evaluated and

Honor Grads

In answer to some queries by several people, The Journal has traditionally left pictures of the honor graduates for The Mule's Tale.

If The Journal printed all the school news and pictures on the front page, we would take the place of The Mule's Tale, the high school newspaper. The Mule's Tale has been provided by The Journal for more than 20 years at no charge to the schools.

Immigration Laws Subject Of Meet

New immigration laws pose new problems for South Plains farmers, especially those who make extensive use of hand labor. To help area producers comply with provisions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will conduct programs Monday night, (May 11) in Dimmitt. The meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the City Hall.

"This federal act will have a major impact on many area farmers," said Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension agent for agriculture. The meetings will provide information on the new law and answers to questions on this and other farm labor matters, the agent said.

Information will be presented by Dr. Richard Edwards, extension economist from College Station, and Raul Osuna of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

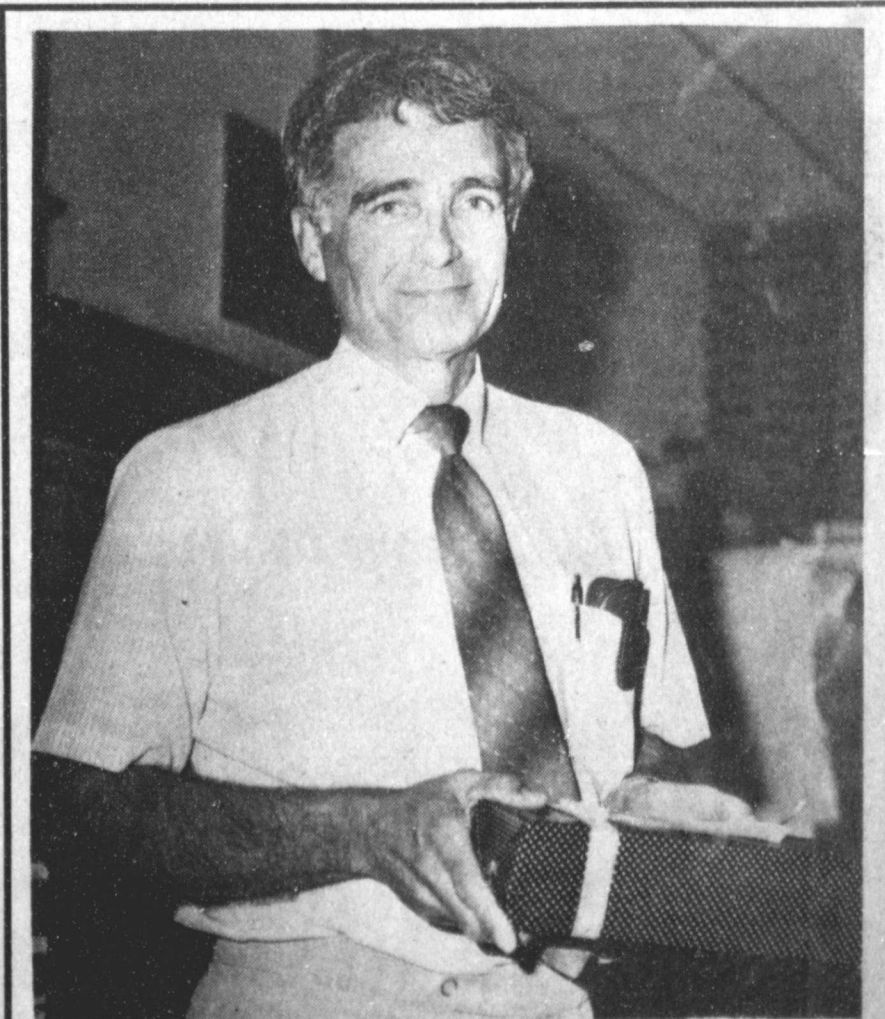

The law makes it illegal to knowingly hire, recruit, or refer for a fee, any person not authorized to work in this country, explained by Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension economist at Lubbock. It establishes stiff penalties for violators.

The law also requires employers to inspect documents and attest to the legal right to work of every person hired. It establishes penalties for employers who don't comply with this reporting requirement even if no illegal aliens are employed.

"The law provides a mechanism that will allow many agricultural workers to attain legal status, but this is the first time employer sanctions have been imposed for hiring illegal aliens," Smith said.

Employers have been given a grace period to gear up for the new law, Smith noted. For the year beginning May 1, a first offender will be issued a citation, but no penalty will be imposed. Repeat offenders will be penalized as outlined in the bill, even during the grace period.

The new law will at least require additional paperwork for South Plains farmers and ranchers, so every producer needs to know how its provisions will affect them, Tanksley said.

MAN OF THE YEAR--The Watson Junior High School staff honored their "Man of the Year" Bob Graves, with a surprise luncheon on Friday, May 8. He is successfully completing his first year as principal of Watson Junior High School.

The M is for Mother, whose day is at hand,
To remind you of what she has done,
With an O for the old days, when she'd understand
All the cares of your life just begun.
Now the T is for the tears she removed from your eyes,
Just when everything seemed to go wrong.
While the H bids you honor her counsel so wise,
Which has helped you in getting along.
Then the E is each word of advice from above,
That God gave her to show you the way,
And the R will remind you to give her your love;
So remember your Mum on her day!

The Girl of the Month must be a junior or senior at Muleshoe High School, have above average academic standing, reflect high moral standards, be well rounded and participate in school, community and church activities. She must possess leadership qualities as well as have the ability to get along well with others.

This year eight seniors and one junior were selected for this honor.

"It is always interesting to learn the many things these girls do collectively as well as individually" said Lucy Faye Smith. "There are six members of National Honor Society, seven members of the Student Community Action Club, three members of Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and five members of Future Teachers of America."

"Also three girls who played varsity basketball this year, and one of them was all district. Two students participated in speech and theatre, one girl is a member of the Distributive Education Club of America, one of our Girls of the Month was Homecoming Queen and one was an attendant to the Home-

In reading and writing, the scores were improved over last year, but not at the expectations of the district. The overall average of mastery indicated that 78 percent of the students mastered the reading objectives while 68.4 percent of the students mastered the writing. This placed Muleshoe ISD slightly below the national average in reading and at the 60th percentile in writing.

The difference in the performance in mathematics and language arts, according to the superintendent, can be attributed to the 'head start' the district made in the mathematics program.

The instructional management program in mathematics was piloted starting back in 1982.

"There is no reason why Muleshoe ISD can not achieve excellence in all basic skills areas with ALL STUDENTS," added Fuller. "Our instructional program is healthy, and with time, will achieve the lofty goals set by the teachers and administrators."

"Muleshoe ISD, will, by 1990, be recognized as one of the nation's top rural schools," concluded the superintendent.

FMHA Member Election Slated For June 10

Eligible farmers in Bailey County are invited to become nominees for the Farmer Home Administration county committee, FmHa County Supervisor Jay R. McKay announced Friday.

Generally, farmers who are residents of the county, but not FmHa borrowers are eligible to become nominees for the FmHa county committee.

"Farmers in this county, serving on the committee, can play an important role by assisting in the process of loan applications and reviews," said McKay.

For this election, only one member will be elected, and will serve a three year term.

Nominating petitions must be returned to the FmHa Bailey County office by June 10, 1987.

Additional information and application forms for those who are interested in becoming nominees for the county committee are available at the FmHa county office, 111 E. Ave. D, Muleshoe, TX, or by calling 806/272-5549.

Guidelines For Grazing, Haying Set Aside Land

Recent decisions by USDA and the Texas State ASCS committee permit a producer to hay and graze land devoted to acreage conservation reserve (ACR) provided the county has been declared eligible. Before possible work jobs for the girls to earn salaries for their needs and recreation.

At Boys Ranch, each boy has a work job on the Ranch and the Boys Ranch directors think the work-pay concept is something everyone needs to learn.

Following the official change-over on April 25, the board of directors of Girlstown, U.S.A. resigned, as did Executive Director, Marshall Cooper. The present directors and officers of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch will be the directors of Girlstown, U.S.A.

Girlstown, U.S.A. was founded by Amelia Anthony at Buffalo Gap, Texas, in March, 1949. In July of that same year, Tom Duggan, an attorney and rancher from Lubbock, donated 1,425 acres of land, near Whiteface, to Miss Anthony and nine girls.

Since that time, Girlstown has expanded to four campuses licensed to serve 158 girls.

Applicants who are abused, neglected or potentially delinquent, are accepted on a space available and need basis.

Roy Turner, president of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, commented, "We, at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, think this is a wonderful opportunity to apply Cal Farley's philosophy of raising children to girls, as well as boys. Our main goal and concern is doing our best for each of the young ladies in Girlstown's care and to help as many children as possible."

"Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, which now makes a home for nearly 400 boys between the ages of five and nineteen, has become one of the most successful child care facilities in the country, due to Cal Farley, a dedicated Board of Directors, and a hardworking staff."

"But, most of all, because of our friends who have supported us from the beginning."

Renovations will be undertaken for much of Girlstown, and the present 65 girls housed are expected to be joined by nearly 100 more to fill the current capacity of 150 girls.

It was also stated that the cost for each girl is about $23,000 per year.

turning in the cows or cranking up the mower, however, farmers should confirm with their local county ASCS office that their county has been approved for that use, such as Bailey County's recent approval. Even if the county has received approval for this haying and grazing alternative, farmers must be aware that certain restrictions apply.

The basic restriction is that farmers cannot sell any hay from ACR acreage nor charge for grazing of that land. With some exception, this implies that the farmer must use any hay or grazing for his own livestock. If, however, he does permit someone else to hay or graze that land, he is only allowed to recover from that person normal and reasonable charges for incidental expenses such as fencing, watering, or harvesting costs.

Once any existing forage is removed for the ACR acreage, farmers are permitted to plant a second crop, provided that crop meets standard requirements for what can be planted to ACR. This second crop, too, can be grazed or otherwise mechanically harvested, but again only if it is not sold.

Prior to taking any action regarding the use of ACR acreage, farmers must notify their respective ASCS offices of the intended use and who will be using that forage. If someone else is to use the forage, the farmer must certify that he will not receive any payment for it.

As with any decisions which might potentially impact on farm program eligibility, farmers are strongly urged to check with their local ASCS offices.

Small Business

Still Eligible

For FmHA Loan

Authority is available to guarantee loans for Texas rural residents for use in creating new business or expanding existing enterprises, J. Lynn Futch, FmHA state director, noted.

"Although the Farmers Home Administration guarantees a loan made by a commercial lender, we are interested in the economic health of our rural communities and welcome inquiries about this program," Futch said. "Our business and industry program was created primarily to provide jobs in rural communities and town up to 50,000 in population."

There may be many people in rural areas of Texas who are not familiar with the opportunities available under the B&I program, especially the fact that we can guarantee loans for a variety of sizes of business, including family-size enterprises," he added.

"We are especially interested in anything we can do to help improve job opportunities for farmers who are trying to find new occupations."

Futch said information about the program can be obtained from the FmHA office located at 111 E. Avenue D, Muleshoe, telephone 806/272-5549.

A TOUCH OF HISTORY

Stiles, Scott, Mick Establish Big Square Community In 1907

The Big Square Community was established and settled by the Marcus L. Stiles family in January 1907. Marcus Stiles, like most fathers had the interest of his children at heart with in 1907, at the age of 67, he sold his establishment land holdings in Iowa and came to Texas. Mr. Stiles became concerned when his children began to marry and go their separate ways that his family would soon be scattered. In order to hold them together he boarded a land excursion train and came to Texas. There he purchased 2700 acres of the old Hubbard Ranch for $12.00 an acre.

In July 1907 Mr. Stiles began the building of a barn which he lived in until he completed the building of a house. He then returned to Iowa to move his wife, Sarah, their eight children and their families. The family came as far as Hereford by train and then traveled the additional 36 miles by wagon and horseback.

Three young men came on a immigrant train with all the Stiles' livestock. They were Alfred Scott, C.W. Mick, and John Burton. Alfred Scott stayed and worked for the Stiles eventually marrying Lula Stiles; C.W. Mick also married a Stiles, Phoebe, but lived in Hereford, and John Burton returned to Iowa.

To each of the eight children Mr. Stiles gave one-half section of land. They set about to build five large square two-story houses, one for each of the married children. All of the houses were built exactly alike except for Mr. and Mrs. Stiles which had a large porch.

All of the building material was hauled from Hereford by wagon, there was no road at that time so they cut across the prairie. In the 36 miles to Hereford there was one fence line to cross and on cold winter nights only one house where they could stop and warm themselves. The trip to Hereford took about 12 hours; they would spend the night load out the next morning and start for home about noon. It would always be late into the night before they would reach home so Emma Wyer would place a light in her upstairs window when anyone was away from the settlement to guide them back home.

Work was long and hard because with the houses completed there was wells to dig, windmills to build and walking plows to break the land.

In 1909 the first school in the Big Square Community was built and paid for by Mr. Stiles. He also paid the first teachers salary of $30.00 a month until the school got on its feet. The first teacher was Miss Oleva Dureo and she lived with the Otas Burton family. The school house was also used for a church and Brother Bryon came to hold services there. Soon it became the community meeting place for socials and many all day singings. The school remained in the original building until 1931 when a new school house was built. In 1937 times became so hard it was no longer financially possible to keep the school open. The depression and dust bowl had taken its toll on the community and the school was transferred to Lazbuddie. The Big Square children remained in the Lazbuddie School until 1939 when they transferred to Springlake.

The community was officially named when in 1910 they applied for a Post Office. The old cowboys had already begun calling the community Big Square because of the big square houses setting on the land, and because there was already a Stiles Texas the name of Big Square became official.

The Post Office was established and the mail was delivered twice a week free of charge for the first year. The first mail carrier was Tom Tate who delivered the mail by mule for two years. The Post Office remained open in Big Square until about 1923 when it fell victim to him to progress and the community was out on a Muleshoe route.

All of the Stiles children are deceased, there remains however two of the in-laws. They are Mrs. Gleen (Leona) Stiles of Dimmitt, and Alfred Scott of the Big Square Community. These are also the only two remaining Stiles land owners. Alfred Scott, however, is the only remaining settler still residing on the land and constantly relates the spirit of the heritage to each successive generation.

Submitted by Alfred Stiles
Alfred Scott was born May 12, 1890 in Guthrie County, Iowa, the son of a coal miner. One of seven children including a twin sister Alice. Alfred spent his youth on a river in a small coal mining town. At the age of eight his mother died and the family was soon separated. Alice and Alfred were each sent in separate directions and spent the next 28 years not knowing where the other was. By the age of twelve Alfred was completely on his own doing a man's work and earning his own way.

He eventually went to work for Otas Burton who along with his fater-in-law, Marcus Stiles, had a large farm and registered hog and cattle business. When Alfred was seventeen the Stiles family bought land in Texas and asked him if he would go with them. He consented and in January 1908 boarded a freight train with the Stiles livestock and headed for Texas.

The trip from Iowa took 12 nights and 10 days. Upon arrival in Hereford the livestock was herded to the Stiles land and the Stiles and Scott took on a large task of building the houses and breaking the land.

On Oct. 6, 1908 Alfred Scott married Lula Stiles in Hereford, Texas. The trip to Hereford for the wedding ceremony was made on Oct. 5 in a wagon pulled by a team of mules. It took a full day for the couple to make the trip and they planned to return to their new home at Big Square following the ceremony, but one of the mules became lame and they were delayed in Hereford for three days.

Upon their return to Big Square they built the home that they reside in at the present time. They assumed the land decided them by Marcus Stiles.

Making a living on the plains of Texas was not easy. The farming techniques the Stiles used in Iowa did not work on the plains and there was no place to market the crops that they did manage to raise. The cattlemen would not buy feed grains from them because they did not want them there.

Their needs were few and they grew almost everything they had need of except coffee, sugar, salt, and flour and sometimes money was short even for these few things. In order to make extra money occasionally Mr. Scott would hire out to the Flagg Ranch.

The elements did not always co-operate with the new settlers as Mr. Scott recalls the droughts and the blizzards. The blizzard of 1910 lasted 3 or 4 days and the Scotts supply of cow chips for heat was exhausted so Mr. Scott cut the top out of each fence post that surrounded the farm.

Mr. Scott recalls a year that was so dry no crops could be planted, so he and Mrs. Scott and some of the younger Stiles clan loaded into a covered wagon and took a vacation to Palo Duro Canyon. While in the canyon a big rainstorm came and flooded the canyon. Upon their return home every lake in the country was full but it was much too late in the year to plant.

In 1913 times became so hard that Alfred and Lula loaded their belongings and moved to Denver, Colo. It took about 6 months of Alfred working odd jobs before he landed a job on the street cars and railroad around Denver. During this time Alfred served as conductor on the funeral train that carried Buffalo Bill to be buried at Golden.

Family ties were very strong so in 1921 they decided they would once again try to make a living on the land. So they loaded up in a Model T Ford and headed back to Texas. Mr. Scott says they didn't see an inch of paved road from the time they left Broadway in Denver until they got to Big Square.

Conditions on the land had improved a little. More of the ranch land had been broken up and more people had settled. There was a better market place and they began to run a little cattle of their own. Different years came each bringing a different set of problems; problems only a fellow farmer could understand. But love of the land always sustained them and another year always came.

Alfred and Lula were always active in the community and when there was anyone needing help they were always there. He served on the Big Square school board for 17 years and the Springlake board for 3 years.

Lula Stiles Scott died Feb. 20, 1976. Thus the Scotts were married for 67 years. All but seven of those years were spent in the same house on the same land.

The Scotts were blessed with three children. They were Glenn born July 10, 1917 while they were in Denver, Maxine (Scott) Elliott May 13, 1922 (deceased) and Gloria (Scott) Elliott Feb. 9, 1925. Glenn and Gloria both reside in the Lazbuddie community. There also are 13 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Today's Youth Are Tomorrow's Great Leaders

Today's youths are tomorrow's leaders, and 4-H helps prepare today's youths for tomorrow.

Leadership is involved in all parts of 4-H, says Spencer Tanksley, county 4-H program leader with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Youths need an opportunity to learn how to do things successfully; they want to develop skills necessary to get along with others. Leadership jobs offer opportunities for growth and development. Young people need responsibilities according to their ages. 4-H helps youths develop into capable adults by learning to plan, set goals, make decisions and evaluate all walks of life. Each 4-H member should develop his or her capabilities to the fullest.

4-H helps youths improve skills, increase their knowledge, learn to express themselves well, develop confidence, and earn recognition, adds Tanksley.

4-H teaches an individual to think for himself when making decisions. It also teaches one to organize thoughts and to be tolerant of other's decisions. 4-H'ers learn to apply what they have learned to everyday living.

4-H provides members with learning opportunities and experiences. It provides members the opportunity to compare skills they have gained with those of other members. It provides members with an opportunity to develop and practice citizenship and leadership skills, and it recognizes the accomplishments of 4-H members.

The aim of 4-H is to help youth gain a positive self-concept, rational social behavior, knowledge and problem-solving capabilities. Members develop leadership abilities, learn cooperation, improve their citizenship and have fun by participating in local, county, regional, state and national events. Education through 4-H occurs when youths are involved—the greater the involvement, the greater the educational opportunity.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

MAY 10, 1987

Dear Mom,

So often you've sacrificed your time and energy just for us . . . and so often we seem to take it all for granted.

Isn't it ironic that we have a national pickle week, national citrus week, national apple week, and so on.

Yet for Mother, we set aside only one day a year.

Oh, Sure, we buy you a present and take you to dinner. But on Mother's Day, and every day, those aren't the important things. What is important is that we tell you how much we love and appreciate you all year through.

This is your day, Mom, and we want you to enjoy it as much as you can. But more than that, we want you to know how special we think you are—even on those days when we don't seem to show it.

Happy Mother's Day, Mom!

Needmore Community Club Help Their 'Own'

The Needmore Community Club was organized March 17, 1953, by thirteen ladies who met with Janie Moraw for the purpose of organizing a club.

ROBIN EVINS

After much discussion, a vote was taken and the name "Needmore Community Club" carried. Dana Arnold was elected President, Zeffa Shafer, Vice-President, and Janie Moraw, Secretary-Treasurer. Charter Members are: Dana Arnold, Zeffa Shafer, Janie Moraw, Sammie Moore, Ruth Shafer, Billie Bell, Thelma Gage, Ola Garth, Sadie Howard, Jackie Davenport, Helen Schmitz, Pat Arnold, and Sybil Weber.

In 1955, Lonnie Arnold and Grover Garth solicited money for a Community building. Enough was raised to buy and move a barracks and pour a foundation. Grover Garth, Dana Arnold, and Janie Moraw drove to Cannon Air Base and bought the building. This was moved to the gin yard.

The North end of the building was out. After this was closed, the Club voted to take it as their project. The Club works for the interest of the Community. While waiting for the building to be finished, meetings were held in our homes, until 1955.

To raise money, we had a Gypsy Box, Slave Day, sold vanilla, were fined for being late or absent at Club, had Stanley parties, make and sold quilts, had Candidate speakings, pie suppers, box suppers, and sold ads on song books. A heater was donated by Buck Creamer. Chairs were bought.

Claude and Janie Garth and Rudolph and Janie Moraw drove to Lubbock, pulling a cotton trailer, to pick up the chairs. A piano and desk were saved from the Baileyboro school and were donated. Harvey Bass donated a cook stove. A sink and cabinet unit were donated by Newt Moore.

In 1956, Zeffa Shafer and Dana Arnold went to Portales, N.M. to talk to the Hazlewood sisters about teaching a ceramics class. There was an all-day meeting for this. Members were taught to mold, clean, and fire the articles. A kiln and molds were bought. Members signed for days to use the molds and kiln. Fifty cents was charged for firing.

The building has been stuccoed, has a new roof, sheetrock and paint inside, and curtains made. Card tables were used until picnic tables were bought. Banquet tables have been bought, new flooring, linoleum and carpet laid, and cabinets built. A new refrigerator and folding chairs have been bought. The Bridge Club donated an air-conditioner.

A boy supper and love offering was given to Neil Arnold. The Needmore Club one year donated their annual luncheon money for a love offering for Donita Dale. Members serve at the Muleshoe Nursing Home each month to honor those having birthdays. Our members sponsor the cheese distribution and serve meals when a need arises. Singing is held twice a month. Each Christmas boxes are filled for the elderly, shut-ins, and needy.

The Club sponsors a Thanksgiving supper every year, at which time tickets are sold on a quilt made by the Members. At Christmas our members have a luncheon and exchange gifts. The Club has sponsored girls at Girlstown and now send a donation annually. Insurance is carried on the building and contents, and plans are now made to enlarge the building.

Misty Miller, Lorena Moto, Candy Weaver, Tammy Bruggeman, Patricia Jackson, Heather Pierce and Erica Tovar.

The Rev. Majors, pastor of the St. Pauls Temple Church of God in Christ, has reported damage and vandalism to the church building located on Railroad Ave. in Sudan.

The doors were broken and the church sign was torn down and large signs painted in white on the doors, saying Private Property and Keep Out and other slogans.

A reward is being offered to anyone who knows of persons responsible for this crime.

Linda Wiseman, senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pudd Wiseman, won first place in the U.I.L. Literary Lincoln-Douglas Debate in regionals held at SPC in Levelland last Friday. She will be going on to state debate in the near future.

Four-Lane Highway May Be Possible

The highway department will study the feasibility of making US 70 a four-lane highway from Muleshoe to Vernon under instructions issued by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

A delegation, led by members of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, requested the upgrading of US 70 across north-eastern Texas in an appearance before the commission on March 31.

One section of the route, from Plainview eastward to east of Floydada, already is a four-lane highway. At Vernon, the route connects with a four-lane divided highway leading to the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex. Proponents of the plan said the upgraded highway would provide better access for tourists and for trucks going to and from major commercial developments in the high plains area.

A similar study is under way assessing the feasibility of making Texas 114 a four-lane divided highway from near Fort Worth, through Lubbock to the New Mexico border.

Measurement Vital To Continue Program

Danny Noble, county executive director of the Bailey County ASCS office, released this month, a wealth of information vital to farming and ranching operations.

FINAL CERTIFICATION DATE
The final date to request aerial measurement service or certify wheat, rye, barley, oats, and triticale (regardless of use), is May 15, 1987. This is also the final date to certify to zero acreage planted if the farm has a base of small grains.

"Remember," Noble said, "if you miss your acreage report by the larger of five percent or 1.0 acre, it can cause the farm to be ineligible for program benefits."

MEASURING SERVICE
REMEMBER-As soon as the ASC office gets your farm measured, you will be notified of the measured acreage and have only five workdays in which to adjust (if any) and certify your acres to the ASC office.

HAYING AND GRAZING ACR
Bailey County has been approved for emergency haying and grazing of your 1987 ACR throughout the calendar year. The ACR may be grazed by the producer's own livestock or by another producer's livestock at no charge.

It may also be mechanically harvested for hay green chop, or ensilage for feeding to the producer's own livestock or to another producer's livestock as long as there is no charge for the hay.

CU acreage may be grazed or hayed with no restrictions a-

High Elects

Student Council

At Watson Junior High School, student council officers, cheerleaders and the mascot were chosen Wednesday, for the 1987-88 school year.

Student Council officers elected included: Jill Foster, president; Chris Dominguez, vice president; Michael Cearley, secretary; Andy Crawford, parliamentarian; Chad Green, chaplain; Mark Hicks, reporter and Rebecca Green, historian.

Elected cheerleaders were Kristen Chitwood, Angie King, Kristie Collins, Tiffany Angeley, Jill Foster and Erin Kelley; with Tory Matthews being named mascot.

ganist selling the grazing or hay. However, you must sign a register with the ASC office prior to haying or grazing your 1987 ACR.

FAILED ACREAGE
If any of your wheat, barley, or oats for grain has failed, due to the freeze or other natural causes, be sure to certify the acres and file a disaster application (ASCS-574) before plowing, grazing, and/or baling your program acreage. Failure to do so and file the proper form prior to making other use of the crop will cause the crop to be ineligible for program benefits.

DOUBLE CROPPING BEHIND FAILED ACRES

If your wheat, barley, or oats have failed after May 15, 1987, the second crop will be considered as planted to that crop for program benefits. If your wheat, barley, or oats failed prior to May 15, 1987, it will depend on when the second crop is planted, such as:

If planted prior to June 15, 1987, the second crop will be invisible; if planted after June 15, 1987, the second crop will be considered as planted to that crop for program benefits.

The definition of failed means when the ASCS-574 (Disaster Application) is actually filed in the ASC office. The bottom line is: if you intend to plant a crop behind failed wheat, barley or oats, and do not want the second crop to count for any purpose, the ASCS-574 MUST be filed by no later than May 15, 1987.

ACP SIGNUP
There will be an ACP signup for terraces, underground pipe, permanent grass, and spraying broom snakeweed beginning May 18, 1987 and will continue through May 29, 1987.

Anyone wishing for cost-share assistance for 1987 needs to apply during this time frame.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS
The ASC office is in the process of computing and mailing 1987 advance payments. "Please bear with us and we will get these payments out as quickly as possible," Noble said.

1986 CROP LOAN DEADLINE
The final date for placing 1986 crop soybeans, cotton, corn, and grain sorghum in the loan is May 31, 1987.

INTEREST RATE
The Loan interest rate for May is 6.250 percent.

OFFICE CLOSED

The ASC office will be closed May 25, 1987, in observance of Memorial Day.

New Vaccine To Help Dogs

"Now, for the first time ever, a product is available that frees dog owners from the task of giving daily medication for heartworm prevention," said Dr. Barry Cowart, of the Muleshoe Animal Clinic.

He said this new product, HEARTGARD 30, offers effective prevention of heartworm disease in a tablet form administered only once a month.

According to Dr. Cowart, HEARTGARD 30 contains ivermectin, which is highly effective against the developing tissue state of Dirofilaria immitis, the common heartworm. Because ivermectin is effective against the parasite over a much broader range of its life cycle, added the veterinarian, HEARTGARD 30 can be administered monthly instead of daily.

"With HEARTGARD 30," added Dr. Cowart, "it is important to routinely test dogs for the presence of heartworms prior to treatment. HEARTGARD 30 is not recommended for use in heartworm-positive dogs."

"It is a preventative, and does not control adult Dirofilaria immitis. HEARTGARD 30 is a very safe product, demonstrating a wide margin of safety in all size of dogs. HEARTGARD 30 is available in three dosage sizes. For more information about HEARTGARD 30, contact your veterinarian," he concluded.
