SWPS Has New Manager

Larry Fuller will be the new Hereford District manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company succeeding Melvin Jayroe, who is resigning from the electric company to become a partner in the Lone Star Agency of Hereford.

Fuller has been with Southwestern Public Service Company since 1945, when he started as a groundman in Pampa. He progressed through the apprentice ranks until becoming a journeyman lineman in 1948, and began his managerial career at Lefors, in 1950. He served as local manager at McLean and Boise City, Okla. and became district manager at Dalhart in 1962, filling that post until his new Hereford assignment.

Fuller is a native West Texan, having been born at Borger. He is a graduate of the Pampa schools and did college work at Southwestern Louisiana Institute. He is a three time winner of the company's Outstanding Manager Award.

In 1967, Fuller was selected as the Outstanding Citizen of Dallam-Hartley Counties by the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce.

He served as president of the Chamber of Commerce at Dalhart and Boise City, is a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and has been president and campaign manager of the United Fund in Dalhart.

Fuller has been district commissioner for the Dallam-Hartley-Sherman District of the Boy Scouts of America for three terms and is presently serving as a state director of the Texas Cancer Society, representing the Upper Panhandle District.

Fuller and his wife, Frankie, have three children, a son, Richard, 17, and daughters, Carla, 12, and Cathy Lynn, 7.

Jayroe has been Southwestern Public Service Company's district manager in Hereford since 1963. He started with the company in the customer accounting department in Amarillo in 1952 and was the chief clerk at the Pampa district office for six years before coming to Hereford.

Jayroe, like his successor, has an outstanding record of community service in the towns in which he has worked.

He received the Distinguished See SWPS, Page 2

College Finance Will Be Topic Of School Talk

Junior and senior students at Hereford High School will hear about college financing during a talk Monday by Milton Morris, finance aid director at West Texas State University.

Morris, originator of Opportunity Plan, Inc., pointed out that the talk will concern financing at all colleges and universities, not just WTSU. Under Opportunity Plan, Inc., students may receive loans to finance their education and then repay it when they get out of school and begin work. The money used in the plan comes from donations by individuals and groups.

AUTO INSPECTION — The annual automobile inspection is again in progress and the Texas Department of Public Safety has urged all motorists to have their 1969 inspections made as soon as possible, although deadline is April 15. At left is Gordon

Late Pass Knocks Hereford From State Playoff Picture

The Hereford Whitefaces almost pulled another Jack the Giant Killer act in their Class AAA bi-district battle with Kermit Saturday as the Yellowjackets scored in the final two minutes to escape with a 21-14 victory.

Trailing 14-0 with 7:30 left in the hard-fought contest, the Whitefaces struck like lightning to tie the score on three aerials by Quarterback Bill Cole.

The superb Whiteface defense had just held Kermit on downs and took over on their own 17 following the punt. On the first play, Cole dropped a bomb into the waiting arms of Randy Ragan on the Yellowjacket 35 and Ragan raced for the double stripe to put the score at 14-6. Cole, however, was stopped short of the try for two points on a roll-out and the score remained the same.

Kermit took the ensuing punt on its own 28 and made it out to the 48 on a run by one of the better halfbacks in the state, Pat Spinks. However, a 15-yard penalty and an incomplete pass left the Yellowjackets in trouble. They saw life when a pass was completed, but it was fumbled and Hereford recovered on the Kermit 38.

Williams got up to the 25, no gain came on another running play, and then Cole uncorked an aerial to Oren Davis, for 25 yards and the second tally with 5:33 left in the game.

Cole and Fullback Steve McAndrews teamed up for the extra points on the third important aerial and the score stood at 14-14.

The kickoff left Kermit on their own 38 and they began to fight the clock from that point on a roll-out and the score remained the same.

On the next play, however, Kermit End Howard Porter gathered in a pass and took it in for the score to put the game out of reach. The kick was good for the third time and the score was 21-14.

Hereford was able to move out to about midfield just before the contest ended and the bubble burst for the Herd.

Hereford's stout defense bottled up the fleet Kermit runners until shortly after the second quarter began. The Whitefaces, held on downs, punted from

Alcohol, Narcotic Representatives To Speak Today

Two Hereford churches, the Assembly of God Church and the Wesley Methodist Church, will have representatives of the Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education group speak at their morning services today.

A member of the TANE group will speak to the Assembly of God Church congregation at their 9:45 a. m. services and at the 11 a. m. services at the Wesley Methodist Church.

Dedicated to the prevention of problems that arise from the use of alcohol, narcotics, and other dangerous drugs, TANE programs include public school assembly programs, publishing, production of audio visual aids, legislative information service, free film lending library and an annual school on alcohol and narcotics studies. These services and programs are sponsored jointly by TANE and Baylor University.

TANE speakers, ministers and laymen of several Christian denominations, speak to some 2,500 churches in Texas each year.

A non-profit organization, TANE is supported financially by Texas churches of 19 denominations.

Rev. Albert F. Tucker, TANE EXECUTIVE Director, explained that "The speaker's purpose in visiting a church is not to reach drunks and narcotics addicts, but to report to the church on alcohol and drug problems, what can be done and what is being done about them."

Driving Safety Team Will Be On TV Soon

The four familiar faces of Kima Marsh, Sara Bell, Suzanne Solomon and Sherry White will appear Dec. 20 on Channel 10 on the "Learn and Live" quiz show.

The four girls are all sophomore students at Hereford High School and represent the school on the program. The team is under the direction of Mrs. Jean Schumacher.

Hereford's opponents on Nov. 16 were from Panhandle and the Hereford team came from behind for a 85-65 victory. The Dec. 20 show will be taped in Amarillo on Dec. 10 when the team will compete against Tascosa High School.

City-County Clinic Needs Explained By Doctor, Aide

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

A local doctor further detailed the background for the opening of a city-county clinic in Hereford, following the initial open meeting for this purpose Tuesday night, and a teacher's aide with wide experience between the Anglos and Latins in the Deaf Smith County area revealed her experiences and offered suggestions along the same line.

Dr. Clyde E. Rush, who led the meeting Tuesday night at the Community Center which brought to light a compelling doctor shortage here but a plan to utilize their services "to curb possible epidemic outbreaks" through the use of a clinic for services to "those who feel they can't afford a doctor's services," reported that the idea for such a clinic had been in the thinking stage by local doctors for some time.

"We became aware of the need when we discovered so many people here were not being immunized," Dr. Rush said. "But if we can use a system of education for all those people who have not been immunized and alert the people to the necessity of the shots, I believe we would be on the right track."

He believed a clinic would be a step in the right direction for this purpose.

On the danger of an epidemic that might prove to be disasterously crippling to the county at large, Dr. Rush said, "In the first place, we hope that through the use of a clinic we could prevent an epidemic — and be protected. At the time of an epidemic, if the people already had their shots, all we would have to do is give them a booster shot." Otherwise, he pointed out that it would be an entirely different process. But — "We wouldn't have an epidemic if people would have their shots first."

However, Dr. Rush revealed that there is no state law — except for a small pox vaccination before the child is permitted to enter school — that "forces a person to be treated or have the shots." He said there is not a law which requires a diphtheria vaccine to be administered — the threat of diphtheria was widely discussed at the Tuesday night meeting — along with measles, mumps and others.

"There isn't any way we can force this on the people who need it. This is as far as we can go. But this is a problem we feel we should solve if we can."

Dr. Rush added that "it is unfair for Hereford to be criticized as it is (for lack of health clinic facilities), when the need is so obviously present." He said, "We (all the local doctors) do care and we want to help all we can."

But he illustrated the present circumstances with the case load who comes through his office daily — when sometimes there is not standing room available in his waiting room and some must wait in the hallway. "Afterward, it is almost impossible to find the time or the energy to go to the hospital and 'look for more patients' to treat."

Nurses would play a vital part in a clinic, he stated, and the doctors would have a set time to donate their services.

"Frankly, we haven't had the time since Tuesday to figure the costs on a clinic if it is connected to the hospital," he confessed, "nor have we had a chance to discuss it with T. E. Seigler (the county hospital administrator) — due to our work load. It may be from $50,000 to $75,000 — I don't know. But it doesn't have to be an elaborate structure."

He added also that he had no idea as yet if the project would require "floating a bond."

Dr. Rush said that he believed birth control was a great need and information on the subject should be included in the clinic. "I believe the quality of a person's life is very important. If we have too many people, there can't possibly be quality. I certainly don't believe in See CLINIC, Page 2

Recognition Night Scheduled

Recognition Night is scheduled by Deaf Smith County/Red Cross Chapter for Thursday evening, when citations will be presented a number of county residents for work in various Red Cross programs.

The meeting is announced by Genevieve Miller, executive secretary, for 7:30 p. m. in Community Center. The public is invited and all residents who have worked on Red Cross projects are especially urged to attend.

Recognition from the National Red Cross will be given leaders and instructors in the water safety program of the past year to women in the uniformed Red Cross Volunteers for hours of community service, to organizations and individuals who enabled the county Red Cross chapter to meet its quota of sewing for veterans' hospitals and making and filling ditty bags for Christmas gifts to American servicemen in Viet Nam.

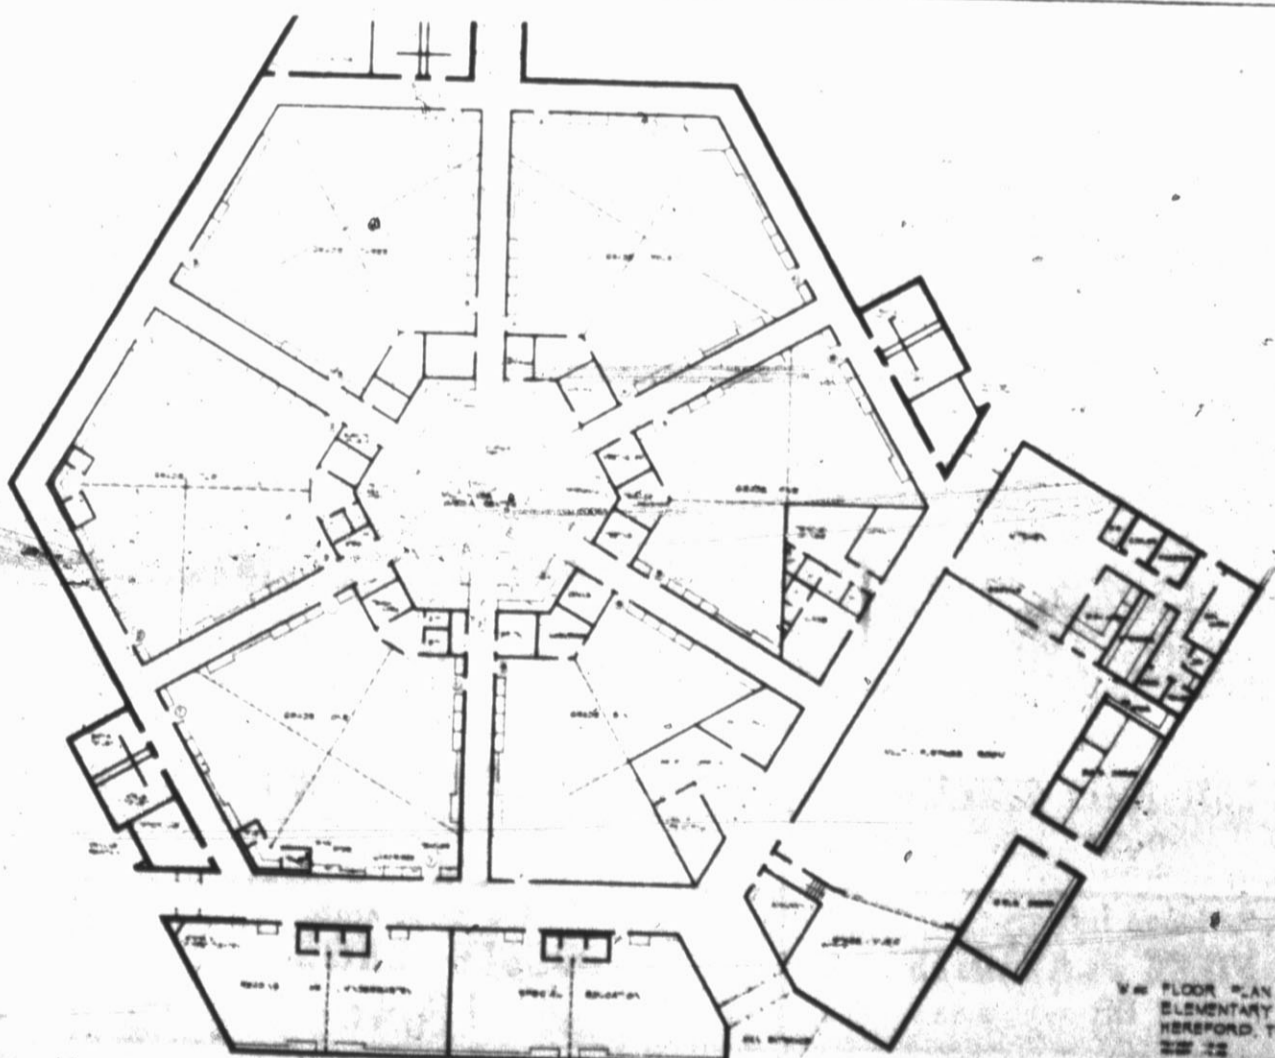

Other special service to the local chapter will be recognized in this annual program.

Christmas Trees Are Now On Sale By Optimist Club

Hereford Optimist Club president Gerald Mobley, has reported that the club's annual Christmas tree sale has begun on the lot east of Taylor and Sons Grocery.

Approximately 1400 trees have been received by the club with about 175 being of the Scotch pine type and 1200 of the fir type. Cost of the trees range from $1 to $13 and they have them in sizes from two to 12 feet.

Mobley said that the trees will be on sale from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. seven days a week with the exception of Sunday when they will only be sold during the afternoon.

NEW HEXAGON SCHOOL PLANS — Hereford Independent School District has released architectural plan for the new elementary school which will be constructed in South Hereford. Note the six sides (with no windows) of the ultra-modern concept in modern facilities, reported as the first of its type in the Panhandle-Plains area. Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. reported also that there would be a few additional changes in these plans prior to the construction date, possibly in the center section and to some of the exits, but otherwise this represents "the general idea."

Charity Clinic Is Needed

Someone once said that wisdom comes easily as long as it's someone else's problem. When it's our own problem, the solution seems more elusive. And the problem that we refer to is the problem of every citizen of this community. We're talking of course about the need in Hereford for a county-owned charity clinic where medical attention can be given those patients who cannot now afford it. A group of Hereford's citizens met last Tuesday evening and mulled over the situation for some two and one half hours and apparently all agreed on the need for the facility. Doctors have agreed to donate their time, on a regularly scheduled basis, to give free medical treatment to those in need, provided facilities can be made available for their use. At present time, the local clinics take care of as many of these patients as possible but local medical leaders feel that many persons who cannot afford the cost of medical aid, will not come to the clinics. Therefore, we are leaving the town vulnerable to a possible major epidemic which doctors say would be almost impossible to curb under the present conditions.

Due to the large amount of free work done by local doctors in years past, perhaps we have not been aware of the need in this field, but it seems to us that we have let the doctors carry the load for the rest of the community. We believe that this situation should be alleviated. A charity clinic, owned and operated by the county hospital, would be the answer! The county could provide money for nurses and a social worker who would be responsible for the final selection of charity patients. The clinic should be located near the present Deaf Smith County Hospital for convenience sake, since the X-ray and lab facilities at the hospital could necessarily be used from time to time. Some equipment, presently located in the St. Joseph's mission, has been offered by the Catholic Church for use in such a clinic.

The suggestion has also been made that any such facility be called a "City-County Clinic" and that it not be referred to as a "free" clinic. We would also recommend that the labor camp not be considered as a location for the clinic. We believe that a clinic located in the heart of the labor camp would only serve to assure the continuance of this camp which is a problem in itself. The camp has served its purpose and in due time should be eliminated. We do appreciate the efforts of local doctors and dentist to handle the needy cases over the past years, and we feel that the time has come to take the load off these people and let everyone in the community share. After all, it isn't the problem of the medical group alone — it's your problem and mine.

No Excuse For Vandalism!

It's easy to forgive a man for stealing when he's hungry, but it's a little hard to have compassion for those who seem set on the wanton destruction of property for no obvious reason.

Sports fans attending a game at the La Plata Junior High gym this past week, and several persons who had parked cars on the parking lot of the First Baptist Church found upon leaving that their tires had been slashed. Other cases in the past months have been reported where buildings have been damaged, automobiles damaged and numerous other incidents have been reported.

Certainly, we're not saying that any crime is acceptable, but vandalism is a most despicable crime. There is never an excuse for destruction of someone else's property and those who are guilty of such crimes should be severely punished when caught. We have little patience with people who have nothing better to do with their time than to destroy what others have worked hard to build.

The Forgotten Cuts

A recent story, saying that the most determined budget-cutting drive by Congress in modern times has left total federal spending in the current fiscal budget at just about the same point — $186 billion that it was last January, made little impact on the presidential campaign.

For months last spring and summer, one of the biggest controversies in the nation was over whether or not a 10 per cent surcharge should be added to the income taxes of individuals and businesses to check inflation and reduce the budget deficit. But Congress, led by Chairman Wilber D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee, insisted that no increase in taxes would be voted unless the Johnson administration would cut federal expenditures by $6 billion for the current fiscal year.

And that is how a compromise was finally worked out late in June. A 10 per cent surcharge would be imposed on personal and corporation income taxes. Then Congress would reduce federal spending by $3 billion and the Administration would reduce federal spending by another $3 billion.

And so it was done, with a bit of financial juggling here and there. But when it was announced recently that federal spending, in spite of the cut, would amount to the same $186 billion which had been projected almost a year ago, practically nobody in Congress or in the Administration or in the taxpaying American public appeared greatly surprised. The $6 billion in savings had been wiped out in "uncontrollable" programs exempted from the new budget ceiling — the cost of the war in Vietnam, interest on the national debt, Social Security and medicare benefits, welfare payments, etc.

Scientists Make New Jobs In "New" Lumber Industry

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Manufacture of plywood from southern pine is a five-year-old industry which has created at least 6,000 new jobs in 33 small towns from Maryland to Texas, and seems sure to keep on growing.

Progressive towns throughout the South have capitalized on the plywood opportunity, which resulted from a unique combination of efforts by government, business, and local civic leaders. Today's payoff in rising local payrolls has a lengthy background, starting early in this century when scientists foresaw the need for reforestation in the South.

Virgin timber had become lumber, forest fire had taken their toll, and vast areas had become wastelands covered only by worthless brush. The lumber industry moved West and the South was left with a huge economic problem. But that was yesterday and today the southern pines are back and new uses have made them a major economic resource.

While the trees were growing, laboratory scientists were busy finding how to use them. By the early 1940's excellent plywood was being made by gluing together thin sheets of veneer. The huge trees found in the West Coast supplied the raw material. Initially, southern pine could not compete in the plywood market.

Finally, in 1956, U. S. Forest Service researchers found their answer and announced that southern pine could be used for sheathing grades of plywood. By 1960, an oversupply of wood was foreseen and Federal planners decided the time was ripe to promote establishment of a softwood plywood industry in the South.

Natchitoches Shows How
Natchitoches, a typical southern small town near the Red River in western Louisiana, is a good example of what has happened in 32 other communities where a plywood industry has been created. Its lumber industry had disappeared 40 years ago, when the last of the virgin pine was consumed.

However, seedlings had been planted and nursed into new forests, and citizens had contributed to build an industrial park. So when plywood became a possibility, Natchitoches had the plantsite and the timber. What it did not have was the $2.5 million necessary to construct the pioneering plant.

The answer was found in a municipal bond issue, to be paid off in 15 years. Local business leaders formed Southern Plywood Corp., aided by an eastern lumber company which agreed to sell 80 percent of the plywood produced. Landowners contracted to furnish timber for the projected mill.

In 1965, the bond issue was put to a vote of the parish. Opponents placed a full-page ad in the local newspaper, arguing that public funds should not be used to support private enterprise. Proponents countered with their own ad, promising new jobs. The voters authorized the bonds, by a margin of nearly 4 to 1.

Construction began later that same year and before Christmas 1966, the first shipment was made. By August, 1967, capacity production was reached — over 4 million square feet of plywood manufactured and shipped in a single month.

Cities Can't Capture Industry
From the standpoint of small towns seeking to develop and retain a local industry, plywood has an obvious advantage. It takes a forest — something no major city can boast. So plywood manufacture is destined to remain a small town industry. The city slickers can't spirit away the local plant.

The story of the southern plywood industry is told by D. L. Fassnacht, Assistant Director of the Forest Service's Southern Forest Experiment Station, New Orleans, La., in an article in the 1968 "Yearbook of Agriculture," available for $3 from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Overtaxed, Overdefended

Renowned newscaster David Brinkley recently said that liberals are losers in 1968 because liberals have lost sight of goals they initially adopted when Franklin Roosevelt became President of the United States. "Everybody is sick of us," Brinkley commented, saying that liberalism as known for the past 35 years is on its way out, and that liberal leadership is to blame.

Federal bureaucracy and labor unions have betrayed the liberal cause. Federal government has become a bureaucratic monster outside control of Congress, the President, or the People, and labor has become a reaction center. All this is because the liberals' old idea has been swept away: the idea that people are to be free from a domineering hard-nosed government pushing people around.

What Brinkley has said is nothing new; the betrayal by bureaucracies and unions has been attacked before. The attack has been going on at least two years, as people have learned that federal policies, in their old-style liberal form, just aren't effective.

The huge establishment of liberalism has upped taxes, but consequently spent all of it on defense. Ironically, the Vietnamese war will make no difference in defense spending. There will never be a cut in defense spending, Brinkley exclaims, because the Pentagon already has plans for all its money even after an end to the war. This is federal government's biggest hangup; Congressmen will fight and scrap over the smallest appropriation going to poverty, job training, and so on, but will pass without a whimper any appropriation for defense. Defense, incidentally, takes 65 per cent of the total federal budget, and all personal income taxes collected throughout the country are not enough to support it.

Aside from the gargantuan Pentagon, other federal bureaucracies have become an end in themselves. Mistaken is the idea, says Brinkley, that creating another federal agency will solve a problem. Bureaucracies are notorious for forgetting their original aim, for going to work for themselves, for existing "just because." Bureaucracies are institutions in themselves, and operate outside the effective control of Congress and the President.

And then there are labor unions; once the fair haired child of liberalism, the union was supposed to give the little guy a decent break. But the union has excluded the Negro, and it has harassed big business and the public with costly demands. The union has learned to butter its own bread, and consequently has had a substantial interest in keeping the Vietnamese war alive.

A monstrous government, a reactionary nucleus of labor, this is not what liberals set out to achieve. But it is what happened, and it is because of this that Americans have elected the most conservative president since Hoover. Citizens do not trust their leaders.

Had Robert Kennedy been nominated by the Democratic party, he would have won the Presidency, Brinkley believes. This was because Kennedy's policies were in line with those of the New Left, lashing out at old style liberal doctrines and challenging the military and bureaucratic establishment. Brinkley believes that whoever leads a positive reform and talks sense to the overtaxed and overdefended American people will have a strong following.

The news that Melvin Jayroe has resigned as Hereford District Manager of Southwestern Public Service Company has come as somewhat of a surprise to a lot of people. Melvin has been with the company for 17 years and has been doing yeoman service with the electric service group. He was well regarded within the company ranks and management as well. Jayroe made his decision to enter private business however, partly because of the prospect that sometime in the future he would have to be transferred from Hereford. He and his family want to stay in Hereford and so they decided to make the break now. Jayroe is going into Lone Star Agency with Lloyd Sharp and Ken Rogers and will be handling the Real Estate end of the business. Having worked with builders during his tenure with the public service company (total electric houses, etc.) he is well acquainted with this group and the work they do. He should be an asset to the agency. Certainly he has been active in both civic and church work since coming to Hereford some 5 1/2 years ago and we do appreciate his efforts and want to wish him well in the new venture.

Larry Fuller, who will move to Hereford from Dalhart to replace Jayroe in the Hereford office, probably will be on the job sometime towards the end of the week. Although the change has been known within the company for sometime, Fuller said they only informed him a short time ago and due to having some personnel on vacation, it would delay his coming to Hereford slightly. He was in town Friday visiting and getting acquainted with some of the local people.

We believe Larry will be pleased with the move to Hereford and we're sure the folks here are going to like him. Who knows, after a couple of years, we may steal another good man from the Electric Company.

There has been quite a bit of talk lately about the establishment of a City-County Clinic (charity type operation) and we would say only that we are perhaps 10 years past due on the deal. We have for years left the medical charity work to the local doctors and then given them the dickens because they could not keep sufficient doctors here to take care of the rest of the people. Actually, we've been a little unfair. This is not necessarily their problem. It is ours and we should do something about it.

Probably about as good a deal as we could have would be a county owned clinic in connection with the Deaf Smith County Hospital and perhaps under the supervision of the county hospital board. Not only would this take care of the charity situation as far as the doctors are concerned (they have volunteered their time free on a regularly scheduled basis), but the fact that some preventive medication is administered might help the situation at the hospital.

HOUSING CONSTRUCTION is up in every part of town but seems to be more so in north Hereford. —Staff Photos

The more charity cases that can be properly administered in such a clinic, the fewer perhaps that will eventually find their way to the hospital, also as charity cases.

And perhaps the proper indoctrination for these people, which could be done at the clinic, would tend to alleviate continuing dependence on the free clinic.

It's worth a try. We realize that the county commissioners are constantly working to keep the tax rate down and services up and are real careful before going into any long range money spending projects. We feel however, that this could be done with a minimum of cost and that the benefits would far outweigh the cost of the facilities. The doctors of course, worry about an epidemic that would be hard to control. Laymen seldom think of these things, but even without considering this aspect of the problem, we feel it would still be worth it.

Congratulations to a hearty bunch of Hereford Whitefaces. As this is being written, the Herd trails by a score of 7-0 but they appear to be playing heads up football and win or lose, we think you've had a great season.

TOT Director Gives Report On Smoking

Charles McIntosh, executive director of Top Of Texas Tuberculosis Association who has aided the Deaf Smith County volunteers toward stuffing envelopes with t.b. material and the sale of Christmas seals, has released information regarding cigarettes:

"This year, a carton of cigarettes may not be a very appropriate Christmas gift. Americans are quitting smoking by the hundreds of thousands. "Just this year, one million people quit smoking. Millions more are trying to stop. Government reports indicate that one-third of all people who try to quit are successful. And they need all the help they can get — not temptation in the form of a Christmas gift.

"The cigarette industry is still a $7.5 billion business. Bankruptcy is not around the corner yet. But trouble is.

"For one thing, 100,000 doctors have quit smoking. One-fourth of all men and one-fifth of all women who have ever smoked have now quit.

"And the national tuberculosis and respiratory disease association reports, for the first time, a sharp decline in teenage smoking.

"Cigarette sales are hurting, as cigarettes become an unwelcome Christmas gift for millions of ex-smokers.

"The TB-respiratory disease association is steadily increasing its educational campaign to stop the youngsters from becoming addicted to cigarettes, and to halt the habit among the nation's adults."

'69 Cotton Quota Up For Mail Vote

Growers again this year will vote by mail on marketing quotas for their 1969 upland cotton crop. Frank J. Bezner, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. Ballots are to be returned to the ASCS county office by mail or in person during the period December 2 through 8.

"Beginning with the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1954 crop, growers have approved quotas for each year's cotton crop," the chairman stated. "In the vote last year on quotas for the 1968 upland cotton crop, 95.3 percent of the growers voting approved the quotas. More than 275,000 voted."

By law, quotas must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture in years when the total cotton supply exceeds the normal supply. That is the case this year.

The 1969 program has been designed to produce sufficient cotton to meet expected demand and to encourage the production of a higher percentage of the medium and longer staple lengths.

For 1969, the Chairman explained, Deaf Smith County has a total of 9471.8 acres available for allotment to growers of upland cotton. This represents the county's share of the national acreage allotment of 16 million acres (the smallest permitted under law) plus the national acreage reserve of 200,000 acres to take care of minimum farm allotments. Notices of individual farm allotments have been mailed to operators of upland cotton farms.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1969 upland cotton crop, growers who plant within their allotment will have available a program that offers loans and price-support payments. No acreage diversion is necessary in 1969, and no diversion payments will be offered. Special provisions for small farms will, however, be continued. Marketing quota penalties would apply to any excess cotton produced on a farm. Growers who elect not to participate in the program have the chance to produce cotton for export only, without marketing penalties or Government assistance.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose quotas for the 1969 crop, the regular allotment program will remain in effect, and price-support loans will be available at 50 percent of parity to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments, as provided by law. However, there will be no price-support payment.

Lease or sale of cotton allotments is provided for the 1969 crop regardless of the outcome of the marketing quota referendum. Transfer documents have to be filed with the County Office not later than December 31, 1968.

Generally, farmers eligible to vote are all producers who shared in the 1968 cotton crop or its proceeds. Questions about eligibility to vote should be referred to the County ASCS office.

As astronomers picture Mars today, it seems hostile to any life. Deserts cover much of the surface. Temperatures range from 70 degrees at noon to 100 degrees below zero at night. Oxygen and water are extremely scarce. Atmospheric pressure is low.

Christmas For Vietnamese Kids Made Possible Here

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

There are some kids in South Vietnam who will have Christmas this year courtesy of an Army captain from Hereford and Hereford organizations and individuals.

Captain Benjamin Gamez wrote a letter to his sister here, Mary Gamez, and asked if there was a local society willing to send Christmas gifts to the children where he is stationed. The sister, who is employed at Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic, contacted the Guadalupanas.

Mary Hernandez, president, and Lola Pachao, secretary of the Guadalupanas, asked for the help of the Holy Name Society and Escuela de Profesores of St. Joseph's Mission. Each of the three organizations donated $25 apiece, and they received $25 each from Mrs. H. L. Benefield and Mrs. Art Kelso.

With the $125 for gifts, they started out with the project. On Sunday, Nov. 10, the ladies got together and wrapped 545 packages in the convent behind St. Joseph's Mission.

In the process of complying with Capt. Gamez' request, the ladies also gained the cooperation of Sgt. Bert Pinales, now on recruiting duty in this area for the Army. Sgt. Pinales supplied them with the necessary labels so that the gifts could be mailed free to the children in Vietnam.

BENJAMIN GAMEZ

Capt. Gamez graduated from Hereford High School in 1958. He enrolled at West Texas State University for the following semester, where he took his ROTC training. He graduated in 1962 and received his commission as a Second Lieutenant.

In November 1962, Gamez was shipped to Fort Lee, West Virginia, where he was enrolled in ordinance officers training. He was transferred to Fort Ord California, in 1963 and was promoted to First Lieutenant. In 1964, he was sent to Europe for a period of three years. He was promoted to the rank of Captain in 1966.

Gamez returned to Fort Lee in 1967 for additional training through June 1968. Whereupon, he was assigned to the 321st POL Field Depot in South Vietnam. He has been there as petroleum advisor since July.

His primary functions include advising the 321st POL Field Depot in Qui Nhon, a POL sub-depot in Pleiku, and two Class III supply points located in Tuy Hoa and Kontum. He furnishes technical advice to the 22nd Quartermaster Company on matters pertaining to petroleum operations.

Capt. Gamez' secondary functions include advising the 22nd Sentry Dog Platoon and the 21st Graves Registration Platoon in Qui Nhon. Areas of interest pertaining to the dog platoon include the training of dog teams, employment of teams, health and feeding of dogs, morale and welfare of assigned personnel.

Capt. Gamez must also initiate civic action-self-help projects and assist in ALC personnel in initiation and development of such projects. He monitors utilization of material for civic action-self-help projects from the time of receipt to the completion of the project.

nel, veterinary care of dogs, sanitation and maintenance of facilities and kennel areas, security and planning.

Also, technical assistance and advice in regard to the graves registration platoon includes (but is not limited to) technical operation of collection processing and disposition of remains, maintenance of equipment and facilities, planning and management of resources, and training of personnel.

He coordinates with U. S. units to receive training and other assistance necessary by ARVN units. He keeps the senior quartermaster advisor informed on progress and problems relating to operations within his area of responsibility. He evaluates the efficiency of ARVN units' functions and advises the Depot Commander and platoon leaders to insure adherence to established policy, procedures, and methods.

Advise and assistance to units encompasses administration, transportation, maintenance, communications, security, morale and welfare of personnel, planning and operations relative to the overall mission accomplishment.

Gamez helps insure proper utilization, maintenance, and security of MAP property in the hands of the ARVN units. He also maintains liaison with advisors in lateral commands and higher headquarters, and with U. S. Advisors of supporting and supported units.

He suggests and recommends to 321st POL Field Depot personnel actions to be taken in areas of receipt, stock control, storage, in-storage maintenance, issue and requisition procedures, maintenance of equipment, salvage of disposition of MAP procured items processed through U. S. Property Disposal channels, and other problem areas.

Capt. Gamez must also initiate civic action-self-help projects and assist in ALC personnel in initiation and development of such projects. He monitors utilization of material for civic action-self-help projects from the time of receipt to the completion of the project.

And he performs other duties as assigned.

CURRENT CIVIC ACTION

In a recent letter to his sister here, Capt. Gamez wrote: "Sorry that I cannot send you very much information. . . because I am very busy. In fact, I'm now in my office writing this note before going out again."

But he enclosed some information "on the unit you are supporting."

He wrote that the total num-

Pork Symposium Slated At WTSU

An array of knowledgeable and important persons of the pork industry will be presented at the Southwest Pork Symposium, scheduled for Dec. 9 at the West Texas State University Student Union Ballroom in Canyon.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSU, will present the welcome address and Dr. Charles M. Smallwood, head of the Agriculture Department at WT will preside over the morning session which begins at 9 a. m. Topics to be discussed in the morning session include "Area Pork Industry Growth and Development"; "Comparing Pork Production Systems"; "Comparison of Returns from Feeder Pig — Pig Finishing — Farrow to Finish"; and several others.

The afternoon portion of the symposium will be centered around "Synchronization of Estrus and Artificial Insemination"; "Practical Health Techniques for the Swine Herd"; "Developing the Hog Market"; and "The Grain Sorghum Situation". A panel discussion will begin around 3:10 p. m. and the symposium will adjourn about 3:45 p. m.

Registration fee for the all-day symposium is $3, which includes lunch and a copy of the proceedings.

Until Abraham Lincoln put Thanksgiving in November in 1863, it had showed up in eight different months.

KIDS ALL OVER THE STAR—Business was reported as brisk for the first free Shop and Show matinee sponsored by the First National Bank in Hereford — as evidenced by these scenes at the Star Theatre shot Friday. There were two showings with an estimated 750 to 1,000 present, according to Star Manager Francis Hardwick. Purpose of the free showings was for mothers to have a "babysitter" while they began Christmas shopping. Hardwick reported that one merchant told him business at his store was much better this year on the day after Thanksgiving than it had been in previous years, and other merchants overheard mothers mentioning the fact that their children were at the Star Theatre. Vietnam Conflict Is Related By Fowlkes

John Fowlkes, who has "no great ideas to save the world," came back from Vietnam with a fistful of medals, three wounds and the feeling that the United States is right in the war currently being fought.

Fowlkes, who is 22 and a 1964 graduate of Hereford High School, reluctantly described his actions during the past year because he feels that "a person would just have to be there to understand what is happening. You can't describe it, I've tried it and people walk away with two different pictures."

A pre-law major, Fowlkes had attended Texas Tech University and Amarillo College before entering the regular Army in 1966. Following training, he was shipped to Vietnam in September, 1967.

A member of special forces attached to the MAC-V (Military Advisory Command in Vietnam), Fowlkes estimated that he had spent about 75 to 80 percent of his time in the field as a communications and weapons specialist. It was the duty of his squad to train and equip hill tribesmen to carry out counterinsurgency actions in the mountains. The squad also worked as a liaison between the tribesmen and American or Vietnamese forces coming into the area.

Fowlkes received his first wound on Nov. 5, 1967, when an explosion caused a concussion and shock. In late April, Fowlkes caught grenade fragments in the arm, and in August he was hospitalized for the third time with shrapnel in the back.

At one time, Fowlkes said, he may have agreed with some people that the United States has no business in Vietnam. But now more. He now considers the battle very worthwhile, and hopes for a full military victory.

Explaining, Fowlkes said it is his personal opinion that the United States isn't pushing as it should, that those troops and armament already committed in Vietnam should be used 100 percent and not in the "wishy-washy" manner in which he feels the war is being fought.

Fowlkes described the war as 60 percent hostile and 40 percent political, with politicians, and newspapers having a lot of sway as to how the war is run. "Too many people who don't know military structure" have too much say as to what is being done in Vietnam, Fowlkes stated.

It is the personal opinion of Fowlkes that "the war isn't being fought as a 100 percent war at all times." However, Fowlkes pointed out that he could be considered completely out of touch since he was in the field most of the time and didn't see all sides of the war.

The fact that he was "out of touch" also was mentioned by Fowlkes when he discussed briefly the alleged corruption and marketeering which is being carried on by many military personnel. Every war has had such things, Fowlkes said, as there are always those ready to take advantage of such situations. He added that he had never gone without equipment and had seen no one else go without equipment while he was in Vietnam.

Speaking of the Vietnamese army, Fowlkes said he had "nothing but respect" for the Vietnamese tribesmen and Army there now. "The Vietnamese troops are coming up fast. I heard that they had had problems to start with, but President Teu has done a great job."

The past year saw a turning point in the war, before the slacking off of power by the forces during the peace negotiations, said Fowlkes. He quickly pointed out that if slacking off will help the negotiations, he is for it.

Fowlkes does disagree with the opinion held by some — that a great deal of the people in this country feel the United States is wrong in being in Vietnam: "I believe that the average citizen believes in the reason for our being there now."

Already the recipient of the Purple Heart and two similar awards for his wounds, Fowlkes will receive the Bronze Star and Legion of Merit when he gets his next orders from the state Department.

Fowlkes has been in Hereford during the week visiting the W. W. Buck family. He is on an indefinite convalescence leave, awaiting further orders.

Wheat Growers To Convene Here

Featured speaker for the annual convention of the Texas Association of Wheat Growers, to be held here Dec. 9 and 10, will be Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

Congressman Purcell, from the 13th District of Texas, is chairman of the livestock and grains sub-committee of the House of Representatives. He will be making his second trip to Hereford this year, having been keynote speaker for the West Texas Grain Elevators Association's annual meeting in early March.

Rep. Purcell will speak during the convention banquet at 7 p. m. on Dec. 10 in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Leo Witkowski of Hereford, state president of the TAWG, said other speakers will be Ed Janek, deputy administrator of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) in Washington; E. L. Hatcher of Lamar, Colo., president of the National Association of Wheat Growers; Charles Spence, director of the Great Plains Wheat Association in Kansas City, Mo. and Ervain Friche, president of

Kershen Attends Vital Water Meet

A new insight into this nation's present and future water problems was gained recently by Andrew Kershen of Hereford when he attended the 37th Annual Convention of the National Reclamation Association in Oklahoma City.

Theme for the convention was "Water To Advance America," with speeches being presented by numerous national leaders in fields of water research, development and conservation.

Of primary interest to Kershen were up-to-date details on two projects. "Survey '68" was described by Wilfred Woods, editor of the Wenatchee Daily World, and directors of the NRA who made the Alaskan-Canadian tour of water resources, and "Water To Advance Oklahoma" by Colonel Vernon W. Pinkey, district engineer Corps of Engineers, Tulsa, Okla.

"Survey '68" was a six-day, 6,000 mile expedition on a charter flight that began in Wenatchee, Wash., stopped at a dozen places in Alberta, Northwest Territories, Alaska, Yukon Territory, and British Columbia. The group also flew over important resource developments in Washington, Northern Idaho and Western Montana, looking at mines, mountains, dams and rivers.

Woods summed up the tour by saying "we came back from it with some profound impressions. . . . Our tour was not designed to try to sell anyone on a project . . . but to help us get acquainted with each other better."

"We came back from Survey '68 impressed with the need for greater communication between ourselves and our neighbors to the north. Organizations in the resource field all too often talk only to each other — not across regional or interest lines. Sometimes in our enthusiasms for vast projects, we forget who owns the resources we are talking about."

"We were impressed with the firmness with which Canada intends to make her OWN plans for her water and her oil and her gas. But above all, I am sure we are going to continue to discuss these major needs. . . . and we hope that survey '68 has given an opportunity for the leaders in the field of natural resources to become better acquainted, not only with each other, but with this great northwestern part of North America."

"Perhaps we on Survey '69 understand the significance of the article in the July issue of the National Geographic on "The Canadian North" which stated "Today's Frontier, Tomorrow's Treasure" and water may be their greatest treasure of all."

The project in Oklahoma itself calls for "comprehensive development of the Arkansas River and tributaries," and provides for a navigation route from the Mississippi River through Arkansas to Catoosa, near Tulsa, Okla., the production of hydroelectric power, additional flood control through upstream reservoirs and the related benefits of recreation and fish and wildlife enhancement.

Lois Kershen At St. Edward's

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Miss Lois Lee Kershen of Hereford will help pioneer the "mini-term" — a new three-week winter semester to run Jan. 6-24 — which will be introduced next year at St. Edward's University in Austin.

Miss Kershen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Kershen, 201 Ranger and graduate of Hereford High School has registered for one of the 28 courses offered during the new semester.

Still a relatively new idea in college study in this country, the winter term will be designed for intensive study in a wide variety of courses, each giving up to four semester hours credit toward college degrees.

Over 200 St. Edward's students have signed up for the mini-term during pre-registration, which is now underway at the school. Students may take only one three-hour or four-hour course to insure in-depth concentration on a single subject.

Because of its experimental nature, St. Edward's mini-term will allow students and faculty to explore and use innovative study techniques, including seminars, field trips and independent student projects, conducted on or off campus.

For two courses — "Intensive Spanish" and "Modern Mexican History" — students will live in Cuernavaca, Mexico, where they will study at the Center for Intercultural Documentation.

Other interesting samples from the January curriculum are "Poverty American Style," "The Cultural Background of Nazi Germany," "America Through Foreign Eyes: A Study of the National Image," "New Mexico Project," and "Creative Writing: Poetry or Short Story."

Final registration for the winter semester is Jan. 6. Application forms must be filed by Dec. 19. Further information is available from Dr. Leo Osterhaus, director of the winter term, or Brother Joseph Cain, CSC, academic dean, St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas 78704.

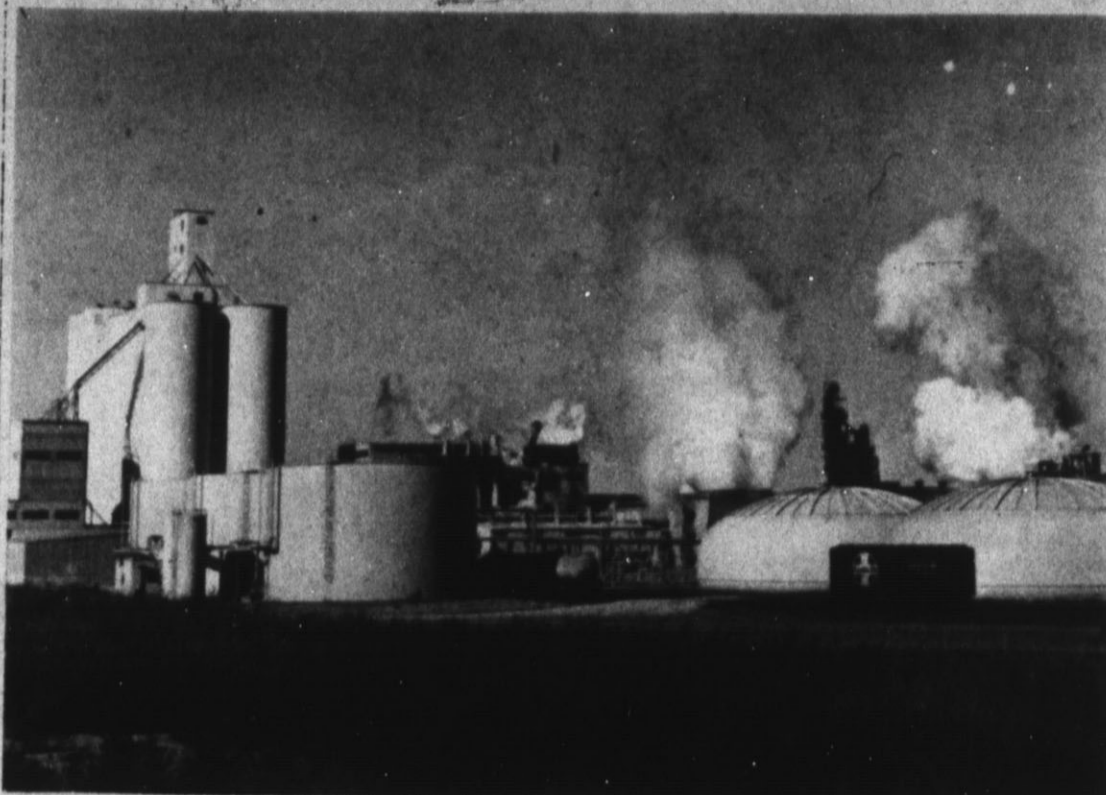

Wreck Causes Minor Injuries

One person received treatment for minor injuries following a two-car collision Friday afternoon in the 100 block of West Third.

Michael Mayo of Grand E Trailer Park was treated and released at Deaf Smith County Hospital following the collision about 5:53 p.m. Friday.

Officers said a 1966 Rambler driven by Connie Johnson of Lubbock was going west on Third Street and was turning right into the alley when the wreck occurred. A 1959 Ford Thunderbird driven by Mary Jones Mayo of Grand E Trailer Park had been parked against the curb and started out going west.

The Rambler was struck in the right front door and sustained about $100 damage. There was no damage to the other vehicle. A citation was issued for an improper start from a parked position.

GOING STRONG — Production is going strong at the Holly Sugar Shoup plant here, as 68 per cent of the harvest has been completed. The plant is handling the harvest from throughout the Panhandle by keeping the plant in operation 24 hours a day on a three-shift basis.

Producers Grain Sets Annual Meet

Over 1,000 members of Producers Grain Corporation are expected to attend the annual Stockholders Meeting Monday at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

Directors and officers of the Hereford Grain Corporation will be among those present. Austin Rose Jr. is president of the board of directors for the local organization, while Tony Hoffman is secretary and Joe Artho is general manager.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. following the call to order, invocation and welcome to Amarillo. The president's report by N. F. Renner of Spearman will be first on the agenda, followed by an audit report and a report from the Feed and Seed Division by George Derryberry, vice president in charge of that division.

A review of PGC activities during the past year and what to expect during the coming year will be presented by Frank M. Pharris, executive vice president and general manager, at 11:15 a.m. The meeting will adjourn for lunch after hearing a report from John Rhein, president of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives.

When the stockholders convene for the afternoon session at 1:30 p.m., first speaker will be Kenneth D. Naden, vice president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, Washington, D.C.

Sister Thomas More, OSF Chairman, Department of History, Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wis., will speak at 2:15 p.m. Her speech will conclude the afternoon program. A hospitality hour will be held in the Continental Club Room at 6 p.m., followed by the annual banquet in the Main Ball Room at 7 p.m. After-dinner speaker at 8:30 p.m. will be Dr. Leon Hill of Amarillo.

On Tuesday, a business session will be called to order at 9:30 a.m. At 10 a.m., Carl Heaton, Director Kansas City ASCS Commodity Office, CCC, USDA, will report on the work of his department and discuss storage and marketing conditions.

Reports of the credentials and resolutions committees and election of three directors for Districts 2, 3 and 6 also are on the morning agenda. At 12:15 p.m., a buffet luncheon will be served in the Main Ball Room. The meeting then will adjourn.

During the day Monday, activities for the ladies will include a coffee from 8:30 until 10 a.m. in the Continental Club; luncheon at the Amarillo Country Club at noon, and a fashion showing from "Alexander's" at 12:45 p.m.

Registration will be held in the hotel lobby from 4:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. today, and from 8 a.m. until noon Monday.

Her-Tex Milling Co., located on Dairy Road, was the scene of a burglary between 6 and 10 p.m. Thursday. Entry to the building was gained by breaking the front door window and unlocking the door.

Inside, the cash register was cleaned out and a filing cabinet drawer gone through. A total of approximately $62 was taken, with $6 damage being done to the window.

There were three great temples at Baalbeck, erected by Imperial Rome to dazzle people of the East with its might.

2 Burglaries Are Reported

Hereford police received two burglary reports during the latter part of the past week, with one of the burglaries involving an auto.

Bennie Tubbs Jr. of Friona told police that he had stopped at a service station on West Highway 60 between 10:15 p.m. Friday and 2:45 a.m. Saturday. During that time, someone took a radio valued at $60 from the truck. The radio had been installed in the dashboard.

Jean Bagwell Is Named Star Of Week In Sunset Keglers

Jean Bagwell, who rolled a 579 series, received the honor of being named the "Star of the Week" in last week's Sunset Keglers bowling league action. Mrs. Bagwell also won the "High Individual Game" honors with a score of 246. Hereford Insurance also won a couple of honors with a 2296 for the "High Team Series" and an 876 for the "High Team Game".

Those bowlers who hit 500-or-better series included Joan Munnerlyn, 582; Jean Bagwell, 579; Margie Neill, 501; and Alice Lueb, 522. 200-or-better games were collected by Joan Munnerlyn, 202; Cieta Weemes, 221; and Jean Bagwell, 246.

Numerous bowlers converted splits with Anne Radney getting the 3-10; Margaret Janssen, 3-10; Cieta Weemes, 3-10; Jean Watts, 5-6-10; Bertha Arnold, 2-5-7; Stella Varner, 3-7 and the 4-7-10; Kay Reeves, 2-7; Lois Turpen, 3-10; Nancy Moore, 3-10; Lervia Aguirre, 3-10; Alice Lueb, 5-7; and Wilma Clark, 3-10.

The weeks results showed Hereford Clinic won 4 and lost 0; Sunset Lanes won 0 and lost 4; Justice Realtors, won 4 and lost 0; Arrowhead Drive Inn won 0 and lost 4; Hereford Insurance won 3 and lost 1; Chester Gin won 1 and lost 3; Boyd Machine and Supply won 3 and lost 1; Gault and Son won 1 and lost 3; Hereford Welding won 3 and lost 1; Hays Implement won 1 and lost 3; Red Easton's Truck Stop won 2 and lost 2; McKelley's Sporting Goods won 2 and lost 2.

Terry Hill Is Bowler of Week

Terry Hill was named the "Bowler of the Week" for last Tuesday night's Major League Bowling action with a 633 series.

Charles Owens won the honors of having the "High Single Game Scratch" with a 254 and also the "High 3-Game Scratch" with a 648 total. Farr Better Feeds collected two honors in the teams category with a 3085 for the "High 3-Game Team" and a 1004 for the "High Team Single Game".

Others who hit for 200 or better for the night were Gene Steers, 200; Hill 246; Owens, 213, and 254; Weldon Stephens, 203 and 205; Julian Carter, 200; Bart Dowell, 203; Burney Kearns, 204; and Mike Waldrip, 213.

For the week, Farr Better Feeds won 4 and lost 0; Boyd Machine Shop won 0 and lost 4; Ink Spot won 4 and lost 0; Pioneer Natural Gas won 0 and lost 4; Plains Insurance Agency won 3 and lost 1; Team No. 4 won 1 and lost 3; Piggly Wiggly won 3 and lost 1; Orval Watson Ford won 1 and lost 3; Sunset Lanes won 3 and lost 1; and City Cab Co., won 1 and lost 3.

Standings show that Farr Better Feeds is 32-12; Plains Insurance Agency, 30-14; Ink Spot, 28-18; Orval Watson Ford, 27-17; Team No. 4, 20-24; Boyd Machine Shop, 17-27; Pioneer Natural Gas, 17-27; Piggly Wiggly, 17-27; City Cab, 17-27; and Sunset Lanes, 16-28.

Colt League To Have Meeting

Plans for erecting lights at the baseball field will be the topic of a meeting of the Tri-City Colt League, announced Martin Wagner, coordinator for the organization.

The meeting will be held in the Community Center, Tuesday, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Officers will also be elected for the coming year.

Wagner urged that a representative of each civic club in town attend the meeting as the help would be needed in seeking to have the lights put up. He said that at the present time, there are four teams using the high school field during the summer months and it is difficult scheduling all the team's games so they do not conflict and thus the lights could solve the problem by having some of the games played at night.

All interested persons are urged to attend the meeting.

Dr. Wallace Receives Air Force Award

ALAMOGORDO, N. M.—Doctor (Captain) Jan D. Wallace, son of Mrs. Alma L. Wallace of 122 N. Jackson, Hereford, Tex., is a member of a unit that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Doctor Wallace, a medical officer with the 6571st Aeromedical Research Laboratory at Holloman AFB, N.M., will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

Unit personnel were cited for their accomplished research projects which resulted in reducing risk and increasing man's prospect of survival in aerospace and related unusual environments. The laboratory is involved in a number of research programs for the U. S. space effort to see how man can survive in a space environment.

The doctor, a graduate of Hereford High School, received his M. D. degree in 1966 from Southwestern Medical School,

Wreck Creates $350 Damage

U. S. 60 and Sampson Street was the scene of a car-pickup accident Saturday morning which resulted in approximately $350 damage.

According to police, a 1959 Chevrolet station wagon driven by James Lewis of Hereford was stopped unattended in the left turn lane of the 100 block of U. S. 60 headed east at the intersection with Sampson.

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, by Ronald E. Swanson of Hereford was going east in the same lane and ran into the rear of the station wagon. There was an estimated $100 damage to the station wagon, which was knocked across two west-bound traffic lanes and finally stopped by the owner in the driveway of a service station on the northeast corner of the intersection.

One driver received a citation for causing a negligent collision by leaving a vehicle parked unattended in a traffic lane. The second driver was cited for caustraining a negligent collision by striking an unattended vehicle.

Art Display And Sale Set

HEREFORD ART GUILD will hold its annual show and sale this weekend at a downtown location, 305 North Main, where work of area artists and craftsmen will be on exhibit Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Many of the pieces shown will be for sale at a time when they will be wanted as gifts.

GUILD PRESIDENT, Mrs. Mark Shaffner registers at a table in charge of Mrs. Jon Birdsong, at a recent meeting in Stanton Junior High art room. Final planning for the art show was done at this session.

UNUSUAL BACKGROUND of black velvet is common to these pictures, typical of some to be seen in the show. Mrs. O. Wertenberger displays her flower painting and Mrs. E. A. Guinn her drawing of a lam and book.

LANDSCAPES by Guild members will be among the paintings on display. These two were studied at a recent meeting; the one on the wall was done by Mrs. E. W. Young, left, Mrs. Charles Newell, a new member of the Guild, holds her painting of a western scene in pale colors.

Miss Royce Gililand Marries James Piper

The marriage of Miss Royce Ann Gililand to James F. Piper Jr. of Dallas was solemnized in the Presbyterian Church here with an early evening ceremony Saturday conducted by the Rev. Russell Wingert, minister.

A honeymoon trip to New Orleans started after the service, and by December 7 the couple will be at home at 4824 Coles Manor Place, Apt. 247, Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath

Jr., 240 Ranger Drive, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Ferrell Piper of 4538 Willow Lane, Dallas.

Paired seven-branch candelabra, twined with ivy, flanked the altar before which the wedding party stood.

Her sister, Mrs. Wade Wolfe of Dallas, attended Miss Gililand as matron of honor and Miss Gail Howard of Sherman was the bridesmaid. John Piper of Dallas was his brother's best man.

Jim Thieme of Dallas, a cousin of the bridegroom was groomsmen and the ushers were Ben Teleme of Dallas and the bride's cousin, David Hill. Mr. Gilbreath gave the bride in marriage.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Ronnie Sistrunk, vocal soloist, and Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwaite, organist.

Snowflake crepe made the bride's gown, in classically simple design. The softly rounded neckline and cap sleeves were edged with bands of white satin, matching the bow in center front of the high waistline.

A train of the satin just swept the floor. Three layers of illusion were fastened to a double bow of satin above her forehead, to form a shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy tendrils. With gold bodice and floor-length avocado green skirt, the attendants' dresses were cut on slender lines. Green velvet ribbon at the waist matched the bows in their hair. Each carried a green ball of ivy.

After the wedding a reception was held in Hereford Country Club, where the couple and their parents received guests. Miss Jackie Cook of Big Spring and Mrs. Denise Johnson were at the registry table.

Mrs. Troy Don Moore and Mrs. David Hill served the wedding cake; Miss Donna Hill and Mrs. Mack Cansler poured punch and hot spiced tea. Mmes. Jay Boston, Sam Gilbreath, Ralph Hastings and Charlie Hill assisted in serving.

The bride's table was covered in white, centered with a five-branched candelabra set among yellow roses and ivy leaves. The tiered wedding cake was iced in white with touches of yellow in sugar roses.

For the wedding trip Mrs. Piper changed to a simple beige dress with a coat of brown, orange and beige plaid and brown alligator accessories. She was graduated from

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Hereford High School in 1964, then received her degree in home economics education last spring from Texas Tech, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Tech, receiving a degree in business in 1967. He is employed as a management trainee with New York Life Insurance Company at Dallas.

Sunday December 1, 1968. A number of the couple's friends from Dallas, Lubbock and other cities were here for the wedding and reception.

Guild's Art Show-Sale Scheduled For Weekend

A downtown display of paintings, sculpture and crafts by area artists is scheduled for next weekend in the annual show and sale of Hereford Art Guild. It will be staged at the former Penney store location, 305 North Main.

Open to the public, with all residents invited to view the work and buy the pieces listed for sale, the exhibit will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. next Sunday.

No awards are offered and entries are not judged in this annual show, which is held each year at the time when buyers are interested in finding holiday gifts.

Any artist or craftsman in the area is invited to enter work in the show. Entries, limited to five, are to be made between 1 and 3 p.m. Thursday. The entry fee is $2 for up to three items and 50 cents each for the fourth and fifth.

Craftsmen are to supply their own display tables. Entries not sold are to be claimed after 5 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Mark Schaffner is president of the Art Guild this year. Mrs. E. A. Guinn is chairman of the finishing committee, Mrs. Bruce T. Brown of the hanging committee.

Couple Married Here Will Live At Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Sage are on an air tour of the Middle East and Orient after their recent marriage in the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber, Rio Vista Drive. They will live on the Sage farm near Lubbock after the trip.

Mrs. Sage was Mrs. Cleo Alexander of Lubbock before the single ring ceremony conducted by the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor of the Petersburg Baptist Church. She was escorted by her son, Charles Alexander of Adelanto, Calif., to the altar arranged in a bay window recess marked with palms and candelabra.

Her daughter, Miss Jan Alexander, was her only attendant. Best man for his brother was H. M. Sage Jr. Wedding music was by Mrs. Johnny Robinson, pianist.

Mrs. Alexander wore an oyster white knit suit with petal headpiece and carried white roses centered with a white orchid. Her pearl necklace and earrings were gifts of the bridegroom.

At a reception afterward, Mrs. Charles Alexander and Mrs. LeRoy Cook of Houston served punch and the wedding cake, which was decorated with sugar bells and blue roses. Candelabra with blue votive cups, set in white pompon mums, centered the lace-covered table.

Mrs. Jimmy Barber registered guests, who included Mr. Sage's daughters: Mrs. Cook, and Mrs. Karl Jean Henderson, and Mrs. D. J. Medlock of Lubbock; also Mr. Medlock, the R. E. Franklins, the W. F. Franklins and J. E. Franklin of Lubbock, the Earl Sorrells of Beckett and the Jimmy Barbers of Hutchinson, Kan.

Others at the Saturday evening gathering at the Selts were the Kenneth Cox and Lynn Cox families.

Visiting the Earl Harkins Friday were her mother, Mrs. A. McDaniel, and Mr. McDaniel of Edmonson.

Five-month-old Hal Ray has joined the Herbert Bruns family in Hereford. He weighs about 15 pounds and is welcomed by a brother Harlan, 4½-years-old, and sisters Jan, 3½ years and Julie, who will be two on Feb. 1. Grandparents are Harry Bruns of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews.

T. L. Sparkman Jr. was honoree at a birthday party at his home Saturday evening. Guests visited and played "42". Present were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sparkman and family, Miss Alma Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Cipriano Vigil visited her sister, Mrs. Perry White, and Mr. White near Abernathy Sunday afternoon. Mrs. White, who is seriously ill, had just returned home from a Lubbock hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Andrews and family visited the Louis Thompsons near San Jon Sunday afternoon.

The Glenn Andrews of Etter spent the holidays with their parents, the Owen Andrews, and the others of the family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber and Virgil spent Thanksgiving with the Jimmy Barbers in Hutchinson, Kan.

Visiting the Harlan Barbers last week were Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Strickland of Texarkana. The two families have been friends since both were stationed at wartime army camps in New York and Georgia during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler and Mary Ann went to Manhattan, Kan., to spend the holidays with Vogler's sister, Mrs. Miles Caudles, Mr. Caudles and other relatives. They expected their father, S. C. Vogler, who has been visiting his daughter there, to return to his home at Lamesa with them.

Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Mrs. Tommy Sparkman and children were in Amarillo Monday for Kirk Sparkman to visit a bone specialist.

The Frank Robbins went to Amarillo Sunday and brought home her parents, the F. Y. Moremans, who have been patients in St. Anthony's hospital. They were doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbs and daughters spent the holidays with her parents, the Walter Jays, and other relatives at Elk City, Okla.

Rocky Andrews underwent an appendectomy at Deaf Smith County hospital Monday evening. He was improved and able to come home Wednesday night.

The Thanksgiving supper Tuesday night at Frio was well attended, about 75 persons participating in the annual community event. The Rev. Sam Ogans gave a devotional talk before the supper was served and The Spiritual Swingers singing group entertained during supper.

Visiting the Sam Ogans on Tuesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hanna of Denver, Colo.

Visiting the Charles Selts Saturday evening were relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Nacie Whitcomb and Bobbie of Laramie, Wyo. They have visited Mrs. Selts' parents, the Kenneth Cox family, at Lubbock for several FASHION ON TOP — The fur hat madness in winter fashion has spread with the growing use of fun furs as stylish women wrap themselves in the warmth and wooliness of fake furs. From the top, a high crowned toque of simulated white Indian lamb, a fake chinchilla grenadier's cap, a side tilting beret of real raccoon with matching muff.

TIME FOR GLORY
By ROBERT O'NEIL BRISTOW
Sammy Apodaca — young, carefree, and happy — is passing through the fictional town of Yorksboro, South Carolina, one pleasant February day when he comes across an overturned and burning school bus with twenty three children trapped inside. Sammy acts instinctively to save seventeen of them, and is himself burned almost fatally.

But the thing about Sammy is not that he is young, carefree, happy and now a hero, but that he is black. The children he saved are white.

Everyone in Yorksboro, from white mayor to the black core leader, wants to do right by Sammy as long as he will serve their purposes. But Sammy is first of all his own man. He will not be used.

This engrossing novel presents sympathetically and with understanding the moral dilemma Sammy and the people of Yorksboro face as a result of his act of courage. Neither he nor they will ever be the same again, nor will the reader remain unaffected.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Those elephant jokes do get around, and so does the recipe for elephant stew. You remember that, don't you? The one Sue James brought home from a convention and loaned us to put in this column?

WELL, NOW IN THE MAIL comes a clipping from the New Orleans Times-Picayune of a column by one Howard Jacobs, called Remoulade. One paragraph in it is devoted to the stew recipe, which he calls "hilarius".

He mentions that it is from the Hereford Brand column, forwarded to him by Mrs. Barbara Ford of Westwego. Mrs. Ford, some of you know, is Mrs. J. J. Buckner's daughter and a former resident of Hereford.

She sent me the Jacobs column, and another of his in which he writes humorously of shopping in a super market with piped-in music, where tunes like Million-Dollar Baby and You're The Tops inspired him to overspend his grocery budget. Thank you, Mrs. Ford, for helping circulate the elephant recipe.

THE HAM ACTORS and their stage-struck supporters who make up Hereford Community Players, Inc. (and those are not uncomplimentary titles at all; quite the contrary) are jubilant at the success of their first effort, last week's staging of Blithe Spirit.

About 200 laughing, applauding spectators at each performance would encourage any group of amateur dramatists who are just getting organized and trying out their grease paint.

Most encouraging was the good audience on the second night; the first-night crowd could be attributed to curiosity, but those who came Friday night must have heard something good about the production. That's the kind of publicity the HCP likes best — word-of-mouth.

NOW MEMBERS are enthusiastic about prospects for their second production, a night of one-act plays scheduled for early in February. To round out the organization's first season, another three-act play is planned for next spring, probably during the community Fine Arts Week.

Persons who enjoyed the comedy last week may or may not have thought of the hours of work it involved for about a dozen people behind the scenes as well as for the seven onstage.

A vast amount of effort was spent on makeup, costumes, set building and furnishing, sale of tickets and program ads and general errand running.

MOST OF IT WAS done by four couples, the Orval Watsons, Chick Holberts, John Gilllands and John Claypools. And of course there was the director, Imogene Anderson, the new speech teacher at Hereford High School who incidentally has a school play in rehearsal also.

These folks were not putting in all that time because they were motivated by community spirit and felt it their duty to supply Hereford with some live drama, although they are glad that was a by-product. Their real reason was that they enjoyed it, wouldn't miss it for the world.

In other words, they've all been exposed to the stage, either from out front or around back, until they are among the numerous folk in this country who love it; they're the ones that keep amateur drama alive, as well as man the professional stage. Power to 'em!

OH, YES, I'VE heard several inquiries as to how Mary Howard left the stage in a bright red dress and reappeared a few minutes later as her own "ghost" after the plot called for her death in an automobile accident, wearing the same dress in a ghostly gray hue.

Simple, Watson. She made herself a replica of her dress in gray material, identical to the floating scarf collar.

It was a quick change, involving makeup of her face and hair as well as swapping dresses before she made her surprise reappearance as a materialized spirit to join Sylvia Parsley, who had been romping about as a ghost through the whole play.

Family Holiday Dinner Held In Thompson Home

A Thanksgiving dinner in family tradition was held in Mrs. A. O. Thompson's home Thursday with 19 persons present representing four generations. The turkey dinner was served at two tables put together, extending the length of the dining room.

Mrs. Thompson's two daughters, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter and Mrs. Troyce Carmichael, with their husbands and families, were the diners. Miss Merle Carmichael, a student at the Medical Branch of the University of Texas at Galveston, was at home for the holiday; other grandchildren were the three Schroeter sons, Alex, Paul and Ed, with their wives and children. Mrs. Thompson's five great-grandchildren.

Guests were Mrs. R. Schroeter of Austin, who has been visiting in the home of her son, A. J. Schroeter, and Don Henslee, a student at West Texas State University, Canyon.

Calendar Filled

Clubs Begin Yuletide Parties

Christmas is here for women's organizations, which are filling the calendar with lists of holiday parties and programs starting with the beginning of Many will include guests; some are the bases of Christmas projects planned to spread cheer to the less fortunate; gifts will be exchanged, carols sung and familiar stories retold to repeat the theme which is new each year — Merry Christmas!

First on the list of this week's meetings with a holiday flavor will be the quarterly luncheon of the Past Matrons Club of Hereford Eastern Star Chapter, at noon Monday in the Calsen House. Instead of exchanging gifts, members will each pay a visit and take a gift to a shut-in friend this year.

La Plata Study Club has scheduled its Christmas program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Mrs. Ansel McDowell's home, notifying each member to bring a "white elephant" package for a gift exchange, and a contribution to be a part of a charitable project.

Another holiday program will be that of Simms Study-Craft Club, due to meet in the home of Mrs. Jim Perrin Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Jerry Roberts and Mrs. Willis Duggan are listed as co-hostesses for the party.

Guest day is planned by Bay View Club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, with other members of the social committee, Mmes. Bruce Burney, Howard Gault and Homer Powell, as co-hostesses. The program will have a Christmas theme.

Golden Beautiful Club will have its Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Roger Brumley at 3 p.m. Friday. Mrs. Tom Carter is hostess with Mrs. Brumley. Yuletide decorative arrangements are to be displayed by members.

On Friday also will be two parties of Home Demonstration Clubs, starting a series of such meetings planned for the month by all the county H. D. Clubs. Ford Club will entertain families of members in Ford Community Center, and Young Homemakers Club will have its meeting in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The party in which all H. D. Club members of the county join, the annual Council party, will be on Monday of next week in Community Center. That week will be even more crowded with club entertainments, which will continue Christmas week.

Changes of meeting dates have been made by a number of organizations, to schedule parties well in advance of the holiday. Only the one meeting is planned in most clubs which ordinarily hold two sessions each month.

Concerning Veterans

The Veterans Administration's program of providing pre-separation counseling on the veteran benefits to ill and disabled servicemen in military hospitals throughout the country is two years old this month.

Began in November 1966, the program helps servicemen in 176 U. S. military hospitals to learn about and apply for such veteran benefits as vocational rehabilitation training, service-connected disability compensation, home loans and GI bill education.

In the past two years VA representatives have counseled with more than 104,000 hospitalized servicemen, and have processed nearly 72,000 applications for special VA vocational training and disability compensation. Prior to last July 26, disabled veterans had to take vocational rehabilitation training on a full-time basis in order to qualify for the VA training allowance.

However, Public Law 90-431, signed by the President on that date, now permits VA to pay a pro-rata training allowance for three-quarters and half-time vocational rehabilitation training.

A veteran generally must be rated at least 30 percent service-disabled to be eligible for VA vocational rehabilitation training.

A veteran generally must be rated at least 30 percent service-disabled to be eligible for VA vocational rehabilitation training.

This part-time vocational rehabilitation training benefit is one of the principal programs discussed by VA counselors hospitalized servicemen.

VA representatives also provide counseling and assistance in applying for various benefits from their nearest Veterans Administration office.

Dr. Ballard Elected to AAGP.

Dr. Noble Lee Ballard, 343 North Miles, has been elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, a national association of more than 30,000 family doctors.

As a member of the AAGP, Dr. Ballard will be required to complete 150 hours of post-graduate medical study every three years. The program, unique among medical associations, is designed to help member physicians keep abreast of the latest scientific developments in medicine.

Founded in 1947, the AAGP is the country's second largest national medical association.

Pampa Set For Plant Opening

Congressman Robert Dale Price (R) of Pampa, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, and representative from the 18th Congressional District — of which Borger is a part — will speak at ceremonies dedicating a 1000-ton-a-day ammonia plant in Borger, built for Hill Chemicals, Inc. of Dallas. The plant will be officially dedicated Dec. 5.

The giant single-train ammonia plant marks a major milestone for two-year-old Hill Chemicals. Output of the plant, which is located near the source of natural gas feedstock in the Texas Panhandle, will feed into the nation's first anhydrous ammonia common carrier pipeline, which will serve farm areas in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, providing an inexpensive source of anhydrous ammonia.

The plant was designed, engineered and constructed by The M. W. Kellogg Company, a division of Pullman Incorporated. Kellogg's New York and Dallas self-employed, Briggs added.

For further information, write to the Social Security Administration, 1006 Adams, Amarillo, Texas 79101. They will be happy to answer any questions you may have and to help you file your application for social security benefits.

Social Security Changes Allow Work Benefits

If you are between 65 and 72 and have not yet applied for your social security benefits because you are still working, you need to consult the social security office right away.

Recent changes in the Social Security Act have made it possible for many people to work and still receive some social security benefits, according to Travis C. Briggs, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

Under present law, a beneficiary can earn up to $1680 a year, he gives up only one dollar in benefits for each two dollars he earns between $1680 and $2880. For every dollar over $2880, he gives up one dollar in social security benefits.

However, no matter how much he earns in the year, he can still be paid for every month in which he does not earn more than $140 and is not offices participated in the total project. The plant combines large-scale operational efficiency with a new concept of marketing and distribution of the important agricultural chemical; a concept which could have as much impact on ammonia production and marketing as Kellogg's award-winning ammonia process developments have had.

Talk of Texas

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — A free-flowing spring and a unique act of the Legislature helped to make a hamlet named Dallas the second city in Texas.

In the 1870's, when the Texas & Pacific Railway was building westward across Texas, its destination was Fort Worth. Nobody objected to the proposed route. However, John H. Cochran, who represented Dallas in the Legislature, did introduce a peculiar bill. It specified that the T. & P. would lose its state land grants unless its railroad crossed the recently completed north-south line of the Houston & Texas Central "within one mile of Browder Springs."

Other legislators, anxious to please the citizens of Browder Springs, passed the bill. They didn't seem to be aware that Browder Springs was not a town. It was, as Cochran well knew, only the name of the spring in the heart of Dallas that supplied all of the water for that hamlet of 1,500 people.

By requiring that the railroads cross "within a mile of Browder Springs," Cochran thus guaranteed that Dallas would become a transportation crossroads.

THE GALVESTON FLYER — It will be 57 years this week since the first electric interurban made a round trip between Houston and Galveston.

For 25 years — until October 31, 1936 — these interurbans made hourly trips between the two coastal cities using 35 miles of curveless track. The line was advertised as the straightest piece of railroad in the U.S.

DEATH OF A TOWN — Camden, a thriving Polk County lumber town of 1,200, has only a few more months to live. A new company purchased the lumber mill last July 1 and announced that it will close the commissary and quit renting homes to workers. The sawmill center has been a company-owned town since its beginnings and homes have been rented to workers for as little as $2 a month.

Now the new owners want to expand the mill, using the area now occupied by the homes of workers. They have given the employees until next summer to find new housing elsewhere. In the future, workers will commute to the mill and the town of Camden will cease to exist.

WHAT'S IN A NAME — San Antonio's 1968 world's fair was named HemisFair because a publicity writer used a pun in a caption for a picture.

In 1958, Keith Elliott of Austin was writing a teaser line for a photograph showing a committee planning for San Antonio's "fair of the Americas." He headed it "Hemis-Fair Planter's" and it appeared that way in the February 6, 1958, issue of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce Magazine.

Later developers of the fair dropped the hyphen, added "68," copyrighted it and came up with the official name for the first and only world's fair ever held in Texas.

OPERATION BRAINPOWER — For more than 130 years, out-of-state colleges have been recruiting bright young Texans as students.

Every issue of the "Texean (correct) and Emigrant's Guide" (one of the two newspapers published during the war for independence from Mexico) carried large ads from such institutions as the Medical College of South Carolina and St. Mary's College of Barrons, Missouri.

Sheriff's Sale

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF DEAF SMITH

By virtue of an Execution issued out of the Honorable 154th District Court of Parmer County, on the 14th day of November, A. D., 1968 by the Clerk thereof, in the case of C. L. VESTAL versus HAL PHIPPS No. 2603, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I will proceed to sell, within the hours prescribed by law for Sheriff's Sales, on the FIRST TUESDAY in January, A. D., 1969, it being the 7th day of said month before the Court House door of said Deaf Smith County, in the City of Hereford Texas, the following described property, to-wit:

80 acres described as the North 1/2 of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 20, Township 2 North, Range 3 East of a Capitol Syndicate Subdivision in Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Levied on this 21st day of Nov., 1968, as the property of Hal Phipps to satisfy a Judgment amounting to $22,968.08 less $469.65 credits with interest from the 5th day of October 1965 at 6 per cent per annum and all cost of suit, in favor of C.L. Vestal.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND, This 22nd day of November, A. D., 1968. By Mary Beth Edinger Deputy. Edward R. Roberson Sheriff Deaf Smith County, Texas

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids addressed to the City of Hereford, Texas, will be received at the office of the City Manager, City Hall, Hereford, Texas, until 2:00 P.M., December 16, 1968, and then publicly opened and read for one new 1969 two ton truck. Bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes and plainly marked "Bid for Truck". The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive Q — How do I go about a change in my estimated tax payments?

A — A change can be made on the back of the notice you will receive regarding your next payment which is due January 15.

If you didn't adjust your estimated tax payments in September to take care of the surtax, be sure to do it when you pay your January estimated tax installment.

Q — To supplement my income, I sell mutual funds. Can I reduce my income from this job by what it costs me to maintain one room in my house as an office?

A — To qualify for any deduction, you must establish that you are required to provide your own space and facilities as a condition of your employment and that you regularly use this space for business purposes.

Your must also be able to show the portion of your home used for this purpose and the amount of time it is so used.

For example, if the office space take 10 percent of such items as rent, heat, light, insurance, real estate taxes and mortgage interest. Depreciation of the office portion of a home is also deductible if you own it. If you use the office portion only half the time for business purposes then you may deduct only 5 percent of the expenses as a business deduction.

Expenses attributable only house or apartment are not deductible.

Auditions Are Set For Monday

The Amarillo Symphony Orchestra Chorus will conduct auditions on Monday, Dec. 2 and again on Monday, Dec. 9 for new members. These will be held in the band room of Durrett Hall on the campus of Amarillo College at 6:30 p.m.

Professional singing voices or vocal training are not a prerequisite for membership. Amateur singers with pleasant voices and reasonable music reading ability are urged to audition.

The chorus will participate in the performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony on Jan. 21 in the Music Hall of the Civic Center. Rehearsals will be held on Dec. 9 and 16 and Jan. 6 and 13 at Durrett Hall and on Jan. 19 and 20 at the Civic Center.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. William Richey, Chorus Manager, at 3301 Fleetwood, Amarillo.

Slow Moving Farm Vehicles Spell Disaster, Says DPS

Using the farm tractor for an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice. Do not use a tractor for trips not directly related to field work, the Texas Department of Public Safety warns.

Slow moving vehicles are one of the major problems of rural highway travel. Many of them are inadequately lighted or lack proper identification with which to warn motorists.

It is up to the operators of slow moving farm vehicles to practice courtesy whenever they can. When it is possible the farm operator should pull his equipment onto the shoulder and allow faster moving traffic to pass. Although the farm operator has a privilege to move his farm vehicles and equipment upon the roadway he should be willing to pull off the roadway for his own protection. This may prevent himself, his farm vehicles and farm equipment from being involved in an accident.

It has been observed that many farm tractors, vehicles, and motorized equipment while upon the roadway are so designed or pulling other vehicles and equipment that the operator is unable to ascertain the approach of traffic from the rear. Under such conditions these vehicles and equipment should have a rearview mirror like on a truck and bus enabling the operator to see the approach of traffic from the rear. However, in many instances where there were no such obstructions in rear of the operator it has been observed the operator has been negligent in failing to turn his head around to check for the approach of traffic from the rear. This type of operator becomes a "road hog," creating traffic congestion, and endangering the lives of others as well as himself. Farm vehicles should be operated only by mature, responsible persons upon the highways.

Utilization of a farm tractor as an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice that can sharply increase the chance of a serious accident. The farm tractor is not built or equipped for all-purpose travel. The increasing tendency of farmers to jump on the tractor for short trips not directly related to field work must be discouraged. In many areas of our state, the use of farm tractors as utility vehicles is becoming an increasing problem in highway safety.

Besides offering little protection for the driver, the farm tractor has poor brakes, instability and low speed. Tractor operators should allow extra time when crossing traveled roads and not try to beat approaching cross traffic. If he has attached farm trailers or equipment, it will take him even longer to clear the crossing.

PROBLEMS

Most rural two-lane roadways are 16 to 20 feet wide. In this problem let's use the 20 foot width. The stop sign on the side road is 40 feet from the pavement edge plus about 12 feet for the length of the tractor adding up to a total of 72 feet the tractor operator must go in order for the rear of his tractor to clear the pavement edge on the far side of the roadways. Here are some actual results that were conducted using a tractor 12 feet in length with no equipment attached. It took anywhere from 7 to 8 seconds, occasionally 9 seconds to cover his 72 feet. An approaching automobile traveling 60 miles per hour or 88 feet per second is approaching from the "Liquid sunshine" keeps residents refreshed and cool on Dominica Island in the West Indies, the National Geographic says. The unusual rainfall is such a fine mist that it can only be seen when backlit by the sun. Gently drifting from a cloudless sky, it gives a sensation more of coolness than of wetness.

SOUTH STATES OIL CO. has a new business under construction on the corner of North 25 Mile Avenue and Vogle St. Bottom photo is a house under construction in Hereford's north residential area. —Staff Photos tractor's right side then taking the minimum second count of 7 (7 x 88 equals 616 feet) the automobile would have to be 616 feet back down the roadway when the tractor started in motion from the stop sign. In other words just as the tractor cleared the pavement on the far side the car would whiz by, close shave!

The second test involving the same tractor crossing over a distance of 100 feet. This represented the 20 foot pavement width plus 40 feet to the stop sign, plus 12 feet length of the tractor plus 26 feet for a cotton trailer and coupling adding up to a distance of 98 feet, so 100 feet was used for practical purposes. No attached trailer was used in this test only the tractor itself traveling the distance of 100 feet. The time tests varied anywhere from 11 to 12 seconds, occasionally 13 seconds. If an approaching automobile traveling 60 miles per hour or 88 feet per second is approaching from the tractor's right side then taking the minimum second count of 11 (11 x 88 equals 968 feet) the automobile would have to be 968 feet back down the roadway when the tractor started in motion from the stop sign. Again as the tractor cleared the pavement on the far side the automobile would whiz by.

With equipment mounted, attached to the tractor plus pulling other equipment and trailers will increase the time length in crossing the roadway. Also the engine may sputter or die in the process of crossing. So, Mr. Tractor Operator, allow plenty of time and distances for crossing roadways.

An overtake problem involving a pickup pulling a cotton trailer making a right turn upon the roadway and an automobile approaching from the rear.

This type of trailer if exempt from regular registration fees must bear a distinguishing license plate which can be secured for a fee of $5.00 a year. The gross weight cannot exceed 10,000 pounds and must not exceed 30 miles per hour.

If it takes the pickup and trailer 22 seconds to accelerate to 30 miles per hour over a distance of 484 feet, then an approaching automobile from the rear in 22 seconds at 60 miles per hour would cover 1936 feet minus 484 feet equals 1452 feet back down the road when the pickup and trailer entered the roadway. The operator of the pickup and trailer must be certain that when he enters the lane of a two lane two-way road that the other lane is open for the approaching vehicle behind him to pass to the left safely. Many vehicles and trailers pull out onto the roadway just over the crest of a hill. In doing so they had better be certain that an automobile topping the hill behind them can pass to the left safely.

A pickup pulling a cotton trailer going 30 miles per hour down an open highway, or 44 feet per second. An automobile is one mile back of the pickup and trailer traveling 60 miles per hour, or 88 feet per second. The rate of overtake of the automobile is 30 miles per hour or 44 feet per second. It will take the automobile two minutes to overtake the pickup and cotton trailer.

Another frequent hazard encountered on country roads is the blind corner. Rural intersections are often obscured by high crops, brush or large trees. Owners can perform a valuable service to themselves and the public by cleaning corners of fields which border on intersections. They can also keep their driveways clear so that they can see traffic before pulling onto the road and so that they can be seen by drivers on the road.

Intelligent use of road requires understanding, courtesy and judgment. Caution, forethought and consideration are the basic ingredients for all prescriptions for rural highway safety. A typically rural American characteristic — neighborliness — can help to increase safety on public roads.

Remember last spring?

Apply Treflan[®] this fall and help protect yourself against another wet spring!

Last spring holds sad memories for a lot of cotton and soybean growers. Rain and more rain. Weeds beating your cotton up, while you're kept standing on the sidelines? Yet, some growers escaped this nightmare. They applied their Treflan last fall. Their weed control was already in the ground working when the rains started. As soon as fields dried, growers went in, planted without much delay. For more facts about fall application of Treflan, see your Treflan dealer today . . . and get a head start on next spring's workload.

Air Force Is Seeking Grads

Today the local Air Force Recruiting Office revealed a program beneficial to college graduates.

Recognizing the large number of College Graduates available for military service and the skills and educational background of these individuals the Air Force has introduced the "College Graduate Delayed Enlistment Program".

In an effort to utilize the individual for his capabilities the Air Force is matching skill and education with available Air Force positions thus providing the individual with a job beneficial to him as well as the Air Force.

Prior to entering Active Duty the applicant is enlisted into the Delayed Enlistment Program. As a member of this he is placed in the inactive reserves for a period up to 120 days. During this time the Air Force is determining his job and when the decision has been made the applicant is called to Active Duty with the Air Force.

Further information on this program and all Air Force Programs is available at the Amarillo Air Force Recruiting Office 207 E. 5th or by phoning 378-5151 Ext. 217 & 218.

Course By Mail Slated

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Beginning soon the Extension office will be offering a correspondence course on management. It is hoped everyone who is at all interested will be contacted and given an opportunity to enroll.

LESSONS IN THE correspondence course will be Your Values; Your Guiding Star; Make Your Money Behave; How To Live on What you Make; Managing Your Bank Account; When You Use Credit; Be a Good Shopper.

This is an indepth program designed to help families of all ages. So if you are interested, call the office, 364-3573, for circular letters to be mailed to you. This is not the enrollment, as that will come later.

MRS. J. O. NEWELL improved on the traditional Thanksgiving dinner. One of her neighbors cooked a very tasty vegetable dish for her. When frozen black-eyed peas are cooked almost done, chopped bacon and onion were sauted crisp and added. A dash of garlic salt and seasoned salt are added.

That certainly sounds like the flavor would be good with the traditional food. The proper food to have at family dinners is the food the family likes.

IT IS SAID: In our Nation efficient agricultural workers each provide food and fiber for themselves and 42 others.

A very good way to use left over turkey:

BARBECUE SAUCE

- 1/4 c. tarragon vinegar
- 1 t. lemon juice
- 1/2 c. bell pepper chopped
- 1/2 t. oregano
- dash of cinnamon
- 1/2 t. garlic salt
- 1/4 c. vegetable oil
- 1/2 c. chopped onion
- 1 t. salt
- 1/4 t. basil
- 1/4 t. pepper

Combine all ingredients and bring to a boil. Simmer until onions are clear. Pour over sliced turkey and cook 15 minutes in slow oven or add sliced turkey to stewer where sauce was cooked. Serve hot with crunchy bread — toast, toasted rolls, or French bread. Make crisp green salad and the family's favorite vegetable and you'll hear many compliments even from persons who can't stand leftovers.

TEXAS MILLIONAIRES travel and will please Texas servicemen and women. Wrap the pieces individually and seal the package well. The candy either plain or dipped is very good. For mailing use the amount of paraffin given in the die recipe but for use at home reduce the paraffin to 2 tablespoons. With more paraffin the chocolate is less likely to melt.

TEXAS MILLIONAIRES
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 cup red karo
2 sticks oleomargarine or butter

2 cups canned milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla
Mix all ingredients except 1 cup milk. Stir well. Let come to a good boil stirring constantly. Add the other cup of milk slowly (do not stop boil).

Cook until it forms a soft ball (this takes a long time). Add 1 pound pecan halves. Pour into a large buttered pan and let stand in ice box over night. Cut in squares. Dip in chocolate.

DIP

- 1/2 ounces sweet chocolate
- 1/4 pound paraffine.
- Melted together over hot water

ANOTHER FAVORITE food of soldiers is popcorn. It's proved an excellent morale booster for combat troops thousands of miles from home.

Lt. Col. Ball Is Retired At Offutt AFB, Neb.

OMAHA, Neb. — Lieutenant Colonel William E. Ball II, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ball of 336 Star St., Hereford, Tex., has retired from the U. S. Air Force at Offutt AFB, Neb.

Colonel Ball served as chief of the post attack command control system at Offutt prior to his retirement.

The colonel, who has more than 29 years service, served in the Pacific Theater of Operations during World War II.

He was commissioned in 1943 through the aviation cadet program.

Colonel Ball, a graduate of Tucumcari (N.M.) High School, is married to the former Jessie M. Matney.

Local Woman's Sister Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca Elizabeth Parr, 78, of Amarillo were conducted Friday afternoon in a funeral chapel there, by Dr. James R. Carroll, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. Burial was in Llano Cemetery.

Mrs. Parr, an Amarillo resident 48 years, died Wednesday. She was a sister of Mrs. Bethany Williams of Hereford. Her husband, John O. Parr, who died in 1956, was an Amarillo building contractor. Her birthplace was Shamrock.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Maxine Tyndall of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Lillie Trostle of Bovin and Mrs. Leann Harvey of Shamrock, and a brother, Minor Jones of Shamrock.

AS THE BLACK GOLD PIRATES "TRANSFER" 300,000 TONS OF OIL FROM THE TANKER--

MAKE SURE THE RADIO TRANSMITTER IS BLASTED.

RIGHT.

THE OIL GOES UNDERWATER-- INTO PLASTIC BAGS-- LIKE A STRING OF SAUSAGES ATTACHED TO THE SUB.

COUNT PETRO-- YOU INTEND TO KILL ME?

PUT YOURSELF IN OUR POSITION. WHAT ELSE CAN WE DO WITH YOU?

-- NOW THAT YOU KNOW ALL OUR SECRETS.

MY CAMERA!

THEY'LL NEVER SEE THE LIGHT OF DAY.

WHY NOT? WE COULD HAVE THEM DEVELOPED OURSELVES--AFTERWARDS--

THAT LEAVES THE RADIO ROOM.

FINISHED!

TAKE CARE OF THE RADIO?

RIGHT.

BRINGING UP FATHER

by BILL KAVANAGH & FRANK FLETCHER

WHAT ARE YOU DOING, TRIPPER-- MEDITATING AGAIN?

NO-- I'M TALKING TO MY CHICK--

NO WONDER MY PHONE BILLS HAVE GONE UP!

RELAX, TWISTY BABY-- STOP WORRYING ABOUT OUR PHONE BILL! OLD DADDY-O IS LOADED--

TRIPPER HAS BEEN ON THE PHONE FOR AN HOUR TALKING TO HIS GIRL FRIEND--

AND SHE LIVES OUT OF TOWN!--

YOU'LL HAVE TO HANG UP NOW, TRIPPER! SOMEBODY MIGHT BE TRYING TO REACH US-- AND IT COULD BE IMPORTANT--

RING-RING

SEE?-- SOMEBODY WAS TRYING TO CALL US--

HOW NICE OF YOU TO INVITE US TO THE OPERA TONIGHT! JIGGS AND I WOULD LOVE TO GO!

THAT TV SHOW LAST NIGHT HAD THE HIGHEST RATING OF THE YEAR!

WHO DO THEY ASK, ANYWAY? THEY NEVER ASK MY OPINION

SHE SHOULD COMPLAIN!

DID SHE ASK ME WHEN SHE DECIDED TO HAVE ONLY THREE MEALS A DAY?

DO YOU SUPPOSE SHE CONSIDERED MY OPINION WHEN SHE BOUGHT THESE TALL CHAIRS?

AND HOW ABOUT NAP TIME? WOULD SHE LIKE TO KNOW HOW I FEEL ABOUT THAT?

THBBB

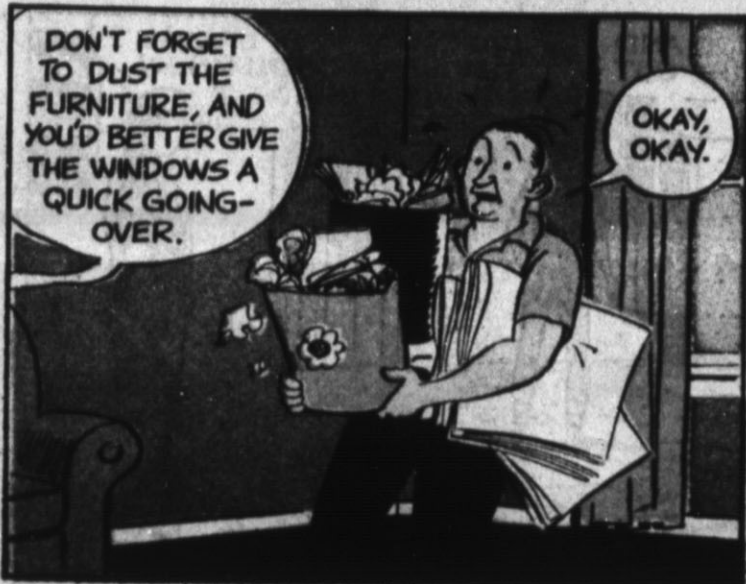

NOW, THAT'S AN OPINION!

FLASH GORDON
by Paul Brink

FLASH AND HIS MEN HAVE BEEN RESCUED BY ANGOR, COMMANDER OF THE KLET COLONY ON PLUTO! BUT THERE SEEMS LITTLE HOPE FOR REFUGE ANYWHERE ON THE DESOLATE PLANET...

YOU SEE, FRIEND FLASH, IS YOUR CAMP BELOW!

?! BUT THERE'S NOTHING LEFT OF IT! IT'S BEEN BURNED TO THE GROUND!

THE REST OF OUR CREW — WHAT HAPPENED TO THEM?

WHEN RADIO CONTACT BROKEN, WE COME TO YOUR CAMP, FLASH GORDON! IS LUCK! WE EVACUATING CAMP JUST BEFORE ELECTRIC-CHARGED CREATURES BURNING DOWN EVERYTHING!

THEY—AND YOU— MUST STAY IN KLET CAMP TILL ANGOR ARRANGE FOR RETURNING YOU TO EARTH! RETURN US? YOU MEAN TO ABANDON THE COLONY?

KLET MINES, MAYBE NO! BUT PLUTO TOO DEADLY FOR YOUR PEOPLE, FRIEND FLASH! IT'S EARTH TERRITORY, ANGOR...

... WE COULDN'T JUST LEAVE IT TO YOU— NOT WITHOUT ORDERS FROM HOME! HOW YOU GETTING ORDERS— WHEN RADIO CONTACT BROKEN, DR. ZARKOV?

SIRENS! WHAT'S UP, ANGOR? THE MINES! YOU TAKE COVER— SHIELDED SHELTERS! ANGOR MUST GO!
