Doug Manning Named 'Citizen of the Year'

By CHERI WARD Staff Writer

Doug Manning, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was named 1980 Citizen of the Year by the president of the Noon Lions Club at last night's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Sid Shaw, Lions Club president, recited a list of Manning's accomplishments and involvement over the years in Hereford to the crowd of 700 on hand for the annual affair.

Manning has been active in community and chamber affairs for many years, said Shaw, and has attended every Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast during that time. Manning is one of this year's co-chairmen of the Fun Breakfast

A recipient of a Hereford Bull Chip award, Manning is a former United Way chairman and was instrumental in the development of the Harrington Cancer Center in Amarillo.

Shaw said Manning, born in Oklahoma, has recently written a book titled, "Don't Take My Grief From Me."

After Manning received the award, he said, "I don't guess there is a greater honor than to be honored by the people in the town where you live."

Cheryl Prewitt. Miss America of 1980, presented a program combining her talents as a vocalist, pianist and speaker.

Prewitt sang several songs for the audience including "Tomorrow," "Don't Cry Out Loud," and a medley of "Jesus Is My Cornerstone" and "Rock of Ages."

Prewitt attributed her history of winning pageants to God's will, and she also said God was responsible for the healing of her left leg.

She said an accident crushed the bones of her leg and left it two inches shorter than her right leg. After six years of limping, Prewitt said she asked for healing of the leg and watched it grow two inches in five seconds.

Prewitt also emphasized positive confession to improve lives. She said negative thoughts will bring bad things to people, but by replacing Prewitt received a standing ovation from the crowd, and Chamber president Tom Burdett presented her with a Hereford Bull Award.

In other activities, outgoing directors Frances Berry, Butch White, Dave Hopper and James Hull were thanked for their service to the chamber and given plaques commemorating their term. (See CITIZEN, Page 2)

Blackout Suspects Arrested

Police arrested two 18-year-old men and a 14-year-old juvenile Thursday in connection with seven local burglaries and the November power blackout of Deaf Smith and neighboring counties.

Mike Castellano, Space No. 5, S. McKinely, and Joe Lucio, 401 Austin Road, were jailed and charged with the burglaries. The juvenile was turned over to juvenile of-

Police said investigations revealed the three were responsible for flipping switches at a Southwestern Public Service substation Nov. 18, 1980.

Apparently the three clambered over a wire fence and threw rocks, through a window. They finished breaking the window with a timber from the station's yard and entered the building which houses close to $500,000 in equipment.

Police said the vandals then began flipping switches that cut off power to almost all of Deaf Smith County, eastern Parmer County, Oldham County south of Vega and in the Adrian area, and near Easter in northern Castro County.

Power remained off for 28 minutes, and telephone service was interrupted when normal phone usage tripled.

Police said the three were also responsible for a January 22 burglary of I&B Enteprises, 404 E. 7th. Over $8000 worth of gold and silver rings, belt buckles and other jewelry was stolen from the business.

Police have charged several other burglaries to the men as well.

Police said some stolen items had been recovered, and the two men are currently jailed.

Police investigated several criminal mischief charges yesterday.

Reagan Plan Calls For Cutting Government

President Reagan, summoning Congress to approve without delay his drastic antigovernment remedy for an economy in crisis, is finding lawmakers willing to cooperate but already promising to change a program they have yet to see.

Growing government has allowed the economy to veer out of control, Reagan told the nation Thursday night. Now, he insisted, government must "chart a different course" of swift and stern cuts in spending, taxes and regulation.

Declaring the economy is in the "worst...mess since the Great Depression," the president implored a Congress accustomed to slow deliberation to act now. "We've stalled the judgment day...We're out of time," Reagan declared in his first nationally broadcast address from the Oval Office. The speech avoided WASHINGTON (AP) - California, the Democratic whip in the Senate, said the president delivered a "clear and, indeed, eloquent statement of our economic plight" but oversimplified the causes. Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, said Reagan gave the "most direct and candid speech I ever heard a president give since I have been in public life." Many lawmakers reserved final judgment on Reagan's program until they see more of it - "I'm still waiting for that other shoe to drop," said Rep. John F. Sieberling, D-Ohio - but others already were anticipating changes. Reagan outlined the general economic policies he advocated throughout his campaign: budget cuts in 'virtually department" of government, a 10 percent individual income tax cut each of the next three years, a rollback of federal regulations and accelerated tax depreciation allowances for business to spur investment and lift sagging productivity. He did not specify when the tax cuts should take effect. While the president insisted all elements of his program must be approved at once, congressional leaders have expressed reservations about approving a long-term tax cut before taking the more difficult political step of pruning the budget. Their concern is that cutting taxes and not the budget would increase rather than eliminate federal deficits.

Reagan rejected that argument. "There were always those who told us that taxes couldn't be cut until spending was reduced," he said. "Well, you know, we can lecture our children about extravagance until we run out of voice and breath. Or we can cure their extravagance by simplyreducing their allowances."

Reagan portrayed an economy at the brink of disaster and said: "We have come to a turning point. We're threatened with an economic calamity of tremendous proportions and the old business-as-usual treatment can't save us."

Warning that "we must not be timid," Reagan said reducing the government's bite on the economy "can create the incentives which take advantage of the genius of our economic system."

"Our aim is to increase our national wealth so all will. have more, not just redistribute what we already have, which is just a sharing a scarcity," he said.

That buoyant view was into sharp contrast to the call for sacrifice that Jimmy Carter delivered four years ago. But Reagan's policies will not be painless for millions of Americans who will be affected by the administration's proposed budget cuts. Dozens of social programs - including Social Security, unemployment benefits, Medicaid, farm subsidies, business loans, urban aid, food stamps and child nutrition - would be trimmed to cut up to $14 billion fromthe budget this year and $50 billion in 1982.

"Our spending cuts will not be at the expense of the truly needy," Reagan promised.

"Citizen of the Year" at the chamber banquet Thursday

Congratulations go to Doug Manning on being named night. In addition to the plaudits mentioned last night, Manning has devoted much time to counseling people in the community..people of all faiths and from all walks of life. Naturally it is a little-publicized fact, but many people know of his work. Cheryl Prewitt, Miss America 1980, had the chamber banquet audience wishing for more with her singing and piano playing. Her message on using the Miss America title to glorify God came across so warm and sincere that it is easy to understand why she is the most-booked banquet entertainer in Miss America history.

President Tom Burdett and past president Ken Rogers and their wives hosted a reception after the banquet to honor past presidents of the chamber. Board members and their wives, Hustlers and past presidents had opportunity to visit with Miss Prewitt.

Speaking of the chamber, one of Hereford's past presidents, Roy Faubion, has moved to Tyler and is working on the sales staff of KTBB in that city. Faubion left the radio station here to enter the insurance business but apparently decided to return to his first love. Clint Formby of Hereford is a partner in the Tyler radio station.

Weather Causes Cleanup Problems

HOUSTON (AP) - Heavy equipment mired in mud left by two days of rain has hindered crews trying to skim spilled crude oil from the water and scour it from the beaches around Galveston Bay, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Coast Guard Petty Officer Doug Bandos said Thursday that 1,000 barrels of the oil and water mixture still must be cleaned up at the Barbours Cut terminal and that crude still stains about 10 miles of beaches.

He estimated the cost of the cleanup operation already has reached $900,000 and workers still have up to two weeks work to clean by hand the beaches, rocks and piers around the

About 22,000 barrels of crude oil were spilled into Galveston Bay at a container ship terminal near the mouth of the Houston Ship Channel after a collision between the tanker Olympic Glory and chemical carrier Lucor Wickliffe on Jan. 28.

Bandos said what is left of the spill has been contained between the shore and booms.

He said the weather is still making cleanup efforts difficult, but he added that workers are no longer "playing tag" with the spill like they did before the crude drifted ashore just north of Texas City.

Solar Power Project Scrapped

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) Electricity from a proposed solarpowered generator in West Texas would cost four or five times as much as electricity generated with fossil fuels because of mammoth construction costs, utility officials have said.

Bill Marquardt, president of Texas Electric Service Co., said a federally financed study shows it would cost $176 million to convert one of TESCO's natural gas-fired plants near Monahans to solar power. The new unit would have produced 50,000 kilowatts at peak output - about 45 percent of current capacity - would would have saved only $104 million in gas during the next 30 years, even counting inflation, he said.

"The study tells us that electricity from the solar-powered system would be at least four to five times as expensive as electricity would be if we continued to use natural gas in our existing plants," said Marquardt.

However, he said TESCO will continue to closely monitor solar develop-

"We remain interested in the development of solar energy for use in generating electricity, but we will have to defer any actual construction of a solar system until it becomes more cost competitive with available alternative fuel sources," he said.

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (AP) - Marine Pfc. Robert Garwood, who said last summer that "an American prison is better than a Vietnamese one" today faces the possibility of life imprisonment for collaborating with the enemy during his years in a prisoner of war camp. His lawyers will be trying to whittle down the sentence. Garwood, 34, blinked back tears but otherwise was composed as the verdict was read Thursday afternoon. He was found innocent on a charge of maltreatment, but guilty on a lesser charge of assaulting a

AUSTIN -- Inflation, no stranger to any of us these days, has become a major problem for state employees and teachers. Government, like any employer, always has to try to balance economy with pay high enough to attract and keep good employees. In the past few years, state employees have fallen behind in this balance. In response to this, the Legislature has passed an emergency pay raise for state employees of 5.1 percent. with a minimum raise of 50 dollars. This measure should go into effect for the February pay period. Teachers have not been forgotten, either, although they will not receive a raise through this bill. There are two proposals to give raises to teachers. Senate Bill 63, introduced by Sen. H. Tati Santiesteban would increase teachers' salaries 33 percent over the next two years beginning September 1, 1981. The Legislative Budget Board has recommended a 11 percent increase for teachers' salaries, again effective September 1, 1981. We are studying both of these proposals to decide which one, if either, best suits the needs of both teachers and taxpayers. The whole issue of compensation for state employees and teachers is a difficult political problem. We need good employees and teachers. State employment has become, in many cases, a training ground for private industry. Many employees are leaving their state jobs after they learn a skill, and when they leave, they cost the state money. Any businessman can tell that training an employee is a very expensive proposition. Last year, for example, turnovers

in classified positions alone cost the state about $42 million. While we will never be able to eliminate that expense entirely, this pay raise will help us save money in the long run.

Teachers, also, are leaving. The hardest teachers to hire and keep are those in science and mathematics because private industry pays them much more than the state. There can be no question today that our children need a good education in the sciences and mathematics more than ever before.

On the other hand, the state must operate on a balanced budget, and the inflation that pushes up the cost of everything we buy also makes the cost of state government higher. We must find a balance between spending too much and not spending enough to keep our good employees and teachers. As prices continue to rise and the population of the state continues to grow, the problem of more efficient state government will be with us throughout. the eighties.

Texans are taxed by their state less than the citizens of all but ten other states. One thing we need to keep in mind is that low taxes are an advantage for several reasons. Not only do citizens who pay lower taxes have more money, but a climate of low taxes attracts business to our state, which in turn increases the prosperity of all of us. The pay raise the Senate approved will not raise taxes. If it has, it would have thrown the balance too far in the other direction. For more information, call daughter, Lori, sobbing and wandering alone at the Lake Forest Shopping Center several hours after Hocum made a televised appeal for her safe return. No suspect had been apprehended by early today, but Jefferson Parish sheriff's deputies had a composite sketch of the abductor. The abduction occurred about 1 p.m. Tuesday when a man armed with a pistol broke into the Hocum home in this well-to-do suburb of New Orleans, authorities said. The Hocum house is a few doors away from the residence of Gov. David Treen. Hocum is a salesman specializing in luxury foreign cars, authorities said. The girl was at home with a maid at the time, according to Kathleen Landry of the sheriff's department. "The man forced himself into the house. He tied up the maid and he stole a camera. He had a big box that was wrapped up like a Christmas present. He put the little girl in the box and he took her and left," she said.

Hocum said his daughter probably didn't realize what was happening to her. "She probably thought that going out in a big box was fun," he said. But her family was gripped by terror. "I'm not sure my heart is still beating," Hocum said. "It was such an emotional experience. Everybody says they know how you feel. But they don't."

Hocum went on television shortly after the abduction to beg the gunman not to harm his daughter. "I ask you to please take"

said in the broadcast. A picture of the girl, who has light blond hair and was described as exceptionally pretty, was given to area reporters.

"The little girl is not a child that you could lose in a crowd bugs." easily," a deputy sheriff said.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Fresh pineapple, field ripened, flown straight over from Hawaii-doesn't that sound like ambrosial fare? Several Hereford residents have been enjoying it at everyday meals lately

The Bob Carthels, Ivan Blocks, Dwight Banks and Charles Packards, also the Don Schillings of Dimmitt, went to Hawaii on a trip last month in a group sponsored by Producers Grain Corp. The Joe Robinsons of Clarendon-she is the former Ruth Word of Herefordwere also in the group.

They visited Hawaiian farms, including fields where sugar cane was grown and a pineapple plantation owned by the Dole firm.

Pineapples picked fresh off the plants were so delicious that most of the travelers ordered some of the fruit shipped to their home addresses.

Musical entertainment is on the schedule for Hereford folks the next-few days.

The Easter Opry Road Show will present area talent Saturday night in a benefit performance for the 4-H Parent-Leader Association, then the second Community Concert Association program of the year will be presented Monday night.

Both will be heard in the high school auditorium. The Easter Opry bunch will begin their variety show of country-western, gospel and bluegrass tunes at 7 p.m., so if there is a sell-out a second performance can be given.

They've got some new talent along with favorites from former shows, in both vocal and instrumental musicians. Tickets are on sale now and will be at the door Saturday.

The harvey Pittel Trio will be the artists for the CCA program, beginning at 8 p.m.

Admission will be only by CCA membership card, as is the custom, but members should remember that the cards may be loaned to other family members or friends in case the owner isn't going to this concert.

Ann Landers

Spotless Housekeeper

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please come to the rescue. I am letting this problem make me sick. I know it's crazy, but I don't know what to do about

Judy, my best friend, is a spotless housekeeper. She waxes the toilet seats and refrigerator doors. The minute someone runs water in a sink in her house she dashes in with a towel and wipes up the faucets so there won't be any water spots. I have never seen a single article out of place in her home. You couldn't find a speck of dirt with a search warrant. Judy has a five-year-old, but I have never seen any child

I have three kids ranging from 10 to 17. Our house is usually full of their friends. and I confess it's always a playing over there.

Last night the kids had a gang over and they were frying hot dogs in the kitchen. I was ironing in the dining room. Judy walked in and was horrified. She asked me why I wasn't fixing the kids their snacks instead of letting them tear my kitchen apart. I told her they'd rather do it themselves, and besides, I was too busy.

She rolled her eyes upward and said, "What a mother!" and I felt like two cents. Although I try to rise above it, she makes me feel lazy, inefficient and inferior. How can I overcome these feelings?-Cowed In Raleigh

DEAR COWED: If I had a magic wand that could wave away your feelings of insecurity, I'd use it. But alas, only you can do something about the problem.

Your friend Judy is probably a compulsive, crazyclean nut who is compensating for things in her life that are lacking. While you sound like a bit of a slob, your kids are undoubtedly happier than Judy's-and your home is filled with laughter and fun. So, you win the brass ring, Kiddo, while Judy's waxed toilet seats net her the booby prize.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I fell in love for the very first time when I was 20. It seemed like I had been waiting forever for this guy to come along. That was two years ago. Everything was beautiful until he hit me. I didn't know what to do so I let it go.

Now we fight like cats and dogs and he hits me quite often. He is so jealous of everything and everybody it makes me sick. He can't hold a job because he has such a rotten temper.

He smokes a lot of pot and the on the Suit Store on Stores gets mad when I tell him the stuff doesn't agree with me. He gets very high and I get depressed.

I have broken up with this guy three times but I always take him back because I'm afraid I'll never find another boyfriend. Please give me some advice .-- Blue In Astoria, Ore.

DEAR BLUE: You know you should throw the burn out but you haven't the strength to do it. I wish I could give it to you but I can't.

Please look under mental health in the phone book (here I go again) and get some counseling, "Pot-head" needs it desperately, but he didn't write. You did. So, I'm telling you to get some help so you can extricate yourself from this punishing relationship. Good luck.

CONFIDENTIAL to Goofed

It Up Again In York, Pa.: Thomas Watson, Sr. (of IBM) said something you should memorize: "It is a common mistake to think of failure as an enemy of success. Failure is a teacher-a harsh one, but the best. Pull your failures to pieces looking for the reason, then put them to work for you. Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to "Necking and Petting-What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abe Lincoln Featured on PBS Hallmark Special

He was a man whom late manager of both the New history has treated with York Yankees and Mets, to reverential awe-for his personal compassion, and for the wisdom and courage of his statesmanship during a presidency that knew just a few days of peace. The humble circumstances of his birth and boyhood, his hunger for learning, and the powers of his oratory have achieved the status of legend. Even the most skeptical historians generally agreed that Abraham Lincoln was the nation's greatest president.

Chances are that, were he alive today, "Honest Abe" would blanch at such praise. He was a man of the sharpest wit (a wit often turned on himself), yet one who suffered severe bouts with what he called "my old melancholia."

It is this complex and engaging individual who comes to live in "Mister Lincoln," airing Monday, February 9, at 9 p.m. (EST) on PBS, (Cable Channel 13). Starring British actor Roy Dotrice in a one-man performance, the 90-minute Hallmark Hall of Fame special is made possible by a grant from Hallmark Cards, Incorporated. "Mister LIncoln" is presented on PBS by WGBH Boston.

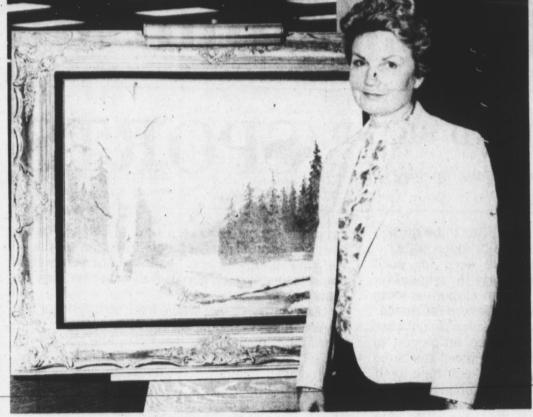

Videotaped earlier this year at Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C., where Lincoln was fatally shot in 1865, the play is a dramatic retrospective of key moments in our 16th President's lifethose of both historical and personal significance. As portrayed by Dotrice, Lincoln emerges as one whose incisive wit prevailed even in dire circumstances. He was informed by telegram, for instance, that the Battle of Bull Run-the war's first-had produced a surprising booty. "We have captured six cows," the wire said. "What shall we do with them?" Line coln's response: "Please milk them.'

His humor, indeed, did serve to prevent him weeping, for the war weighed heavily upon him andtormented his conscience. He was willing, at first, to make broad compromises so that the Union could be preserved; but when the Confederacy repeatedly refused to negotiate, Lincoln aggressively expressed his personal abhorrence of slavery in the brilliant rhetoric of the Emancipation Proclamation and his address at Gettysburg. Challenged as he was by a terrible war and by growing political hostility, Lincoln had to endure private hardship as well: his depressions, his wife's increasing mental instability, his vivid nightmares-one of which was to foresee his own assassina-

The full range of this great and humane personality is finely etched in the script by Herbert Mitgang, Lincoln scholar and New York Times columnist: Executive producer of "Mister Lincoln" is David Susskind. Series producer for WGBH is Peter

"Mister Lincoln" is the first in a series of three Hallmark Hall of Fame specials premiering on PBS on April 15, at 8 p.m. the series will continue with "Dear Liar," a play based on the correspondence of George Bernard Shaw and English actress Mrs. Patrick Campbell, as adapted for television by Jerome Kilty. The final offering is "Casey Stengel," a one-man dramatization of the colorful and unpredictable tion with all proceeds going to the Heart Fund.

Associated Press Writer The first month of 1981 brought a little bit of relief to grocery shoppers, according to an Associated Press marketbasket survey which found that bills increased by only two-tenths of 1 percent during January.

The news was not all good, however. Peanut butter prices surged for the second month in a row and milk prices continued their steady

The AP drew up a random list of 14 commonly purchased food and nonfood items and checked the prices at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. It has rechecked the prices on or about the start of every month since then.

The latest survey showed: -The average marketbasket bill at the checklist stores at the start of February was 14 percent higher than it was a year at the checklist store in seven cities and decreased in six cities. In December, the marketbasket bill was up in nine cities and down in only four, for an over-all increase of about half a percent rate of increase.

-During January, the marketbasket bill increased

-Almost 30 percent of all the items checked by the AP decreased during January; decreases outnumbered increases by a slight margin. Coffee, eggs and frankfurters declined at the checklist stores in more than half the cities surveyed; chopped chuck, pork chops, tomato sauce and sugar dropped in about one-third of the cities.

HHS Trys to Best 'Mono Maneuver'

THE PLOY WAS a subtle hype job - the ultimate in deceptions obviously dreamed up by the Lubbock Monterey public relations committee this past week.

Monterey, it seemed, in all its holier than thou perfection, had suffered a physical setback. That alone, wasn't particularly astonishing unless one considered setbacks weren't the Plainswomen's forte. They didn't have problems, they only created them for other teams from week to

Mauri

THEY WERE, as past league history would attest, the geese that played the golden records always with their heads stuck somewhere between the clouds of district and state champion-

Now sources leaked out stories and images of a team stricken with a barbaric disease, by perfect standards, called mononucleosis.

Was there no justice in the world, when the hierarchy had to endure, had to grovel like commoners?

Those same sources hinted at an edge reportedly ripe for the taking – a windfall profit awaiting the peasants of the 4-5A kingdom. This was their chance to become the princesses rather than the paupers.

AFTER ALL, THE HEREFORDS, the Lubbock Highs and the Plainviews had invited abuse for so long, it would be impolite to accept the Plainswomen's offer for retribution.

MHS team members were dropping like preppy college girls to Joe College. It was a high school campus disaster.

As refugees fleeing from the reported disease, Kriss Etheridge and Tracy Muehlbrad (ironically two of the squad's most valuable assets and the first and only reported cases hit with the illness) suited out and played in Lubbock's last three ball games.

ONE HAD TO wonder, somewhat disappointingly, why the squad wasn't quarantined - put

But maybe there was little need for such ridiculousness. It was very likely the whole Colombia Blue plague was just an elaborate sting designed to catch fairy-tale believers off guard.

Larry Sowers, a coach by day – worrier over Monterey by night and fulltime employee to both- by the end of the week prefered the fluke angle as his sorority prepared to entangle itself once more with Plainswomen in Lubbock tonight in a match set to tip off at 6 p.m.

He thought the 'Mono' breakout 'might hold an element of truth," but then again, "it might not.'

HE COULDN'T AFFORD to bother himself or his team with such trivial and rash judgements since, as he put it following Hereford's most recent 47-22 triumph over Lubbock High Tuesday, "We have the ability to beat them even when they have those two if we play the way we can."

"I'm not going to place much weight on the them (Etheridge and Muehlbrad) not playing against us Friday. That would create a few problems for us that we don't need", but, "I believe we proved we could play with Monterey despite those two when we played them here during the first-half."

In that particular home court feud, which did little to satisfy Sower's personal three-year vendetta against the Plainswomen, the Whitefaces went from beauty (a seven point lead) to beast (allowed MHS to tie the game and eventually go ahead with a four point run) in the last two minutes for a narrow 54-49 loss.

THE DEFEAT SUFFERED by the Whitefaces sent a formerly 20-1 mark (18-game winning streak to a halt), and more importantly ruined the squad's chance at a first-half play championship.

Lubbock went undefeated in that half for the title and appears to be the best candidate (now 23-1 and ranked No. 1 in state) for the secondhalf unless one of the other three rivals (Plainview, Hereford or Coronado) can knock them off. "We can't afford to make as many mistakes as the recent progress of his sickly team - a team that's feeling well enough to use two 'Mono Inflicted' players in the regular lineup?

"Kamie (Etheridge) and Tracy (Muehlbrad) aren't any better, in fact they're worse," he said. "Kamie tried to practice the other day but I finally took her out. Tracy wasn't even present at school. I felt like I was in an infirmary or something at practice with all the coughing in between drills.'

And no doubt, medieval undertakers were ringing plague bells as they piled bodies in wooden carts.

It seemed such an easy task - one ripe for the taking for Sowers, who had been known to fail the afternoon nap test everyday this week in his wait for tonight's conflict with Lubbock.

THE 'MONO SQUAD' was just waiting to be knocked off if only you could get past the fluff, a disaster too good to be true in regard to the geese that laid the golden records.

It didn't even phase Sowers. "I don't or not have I ever had preconceived ideas of Monterey's overall greatness. There's nothing supernatural about Montery and there's no mystique about the team," he said.

"People have said that Lubbock Coronado has this thing about beating them - they can't seem to do it because its just not in the cards," but, "Monterey just has had some good material to work with in the past. Their day is coming they're not going to continue to win forever.'

FBI Agents Look for Promoter

LOS ANGELES (AP) -The whereabouts of Harold Smith, the boxing promoter named in a $21.3 million bank embezzlement suit involving Muhammad Ali Professional Sports, remained uncertaintoday as FBI agents continued investigating the promotion company's books.

The most recent report on the 37-year-old Smith, chairman of MAPS, came from MAPS attorney Ed Franklin, who said he received a telephone call from Smith Wednesday night and that he told the missing fight promoter not to divulge any information over the phone.

"I told him the name of a criminal attorney in Los Angeles he could call in the event charges might be brought against him," Franklin said Thursday.

He said Smith did not say where he was calling from but that it sounded like a longdistance call.

The FBI said it had no warrant for Smith's arrest.

La Plata standout Blair Rogers capped the Maverick's high point performance with a total of 12 points and was trailed by Robbie Snyder who netted six in the loss.

Rodney Torres and Stefan Hacker combined totals of nine and eight points to lead the highly successfull Stanton 7th grade to a 32-27 victory over La Plata.

The victory shoved the Dogie crew's sprawling season accomplisments to 15-2 and to 6-2 in league play.

hall team

With less than two minutes gone in the second half, Wagner ran off 16 points to only two - free throws by freshmen Othell Wilson and Sampson — for Virginia. That erased a 39-28 deficit and put Wagner up by three, 44-41, with 12:42 left.

"I was concerned about it," Virginia Coach Terry Holland said. "We were sluggish and tired from our travel. Wagner played a great backetball game and caused us to make a lot of mistakes."

Over the next 51/2 minutes, however, Virginia outscored Wagner 18-6. Lamp scored six points in that string, and Lee Raker capped it with an 18-foot jump shot that gave Virginia a 59-50 lead

Then it was time for Sampson, a 7-foot-4 sophomore center, to go to work. He hit a one-handed stuff shot that capped a six-point run, putting the Cavaliers up by 13 at 65-52. Later, he hit a five-foot turnaround jumper, a highflying hook shot and a free throw, giving him 12 of his 19 points in the second half. Sampson also grabbed 18 rebounds and added a pair of blocked shots.

Cavaliers Overcome Virginia

"The team showed a lot of poise," Sampson said. "We didn't get our heads down. We fought back, and we knew it would open up inside sooner or later, as soon as Jeff started hitting some jumpers."

The high scorer for Wagner was Mike Nelson with 14 points, including eight in a span of 5:41 during which the Seahawks, 11-7, outscored Virginia 16-2 to take a 44-41

"It was a combination of Virginia playing well and us doing some things we didn't want to do," Wagner Coach P.J. Carlesimo said, "like making some not-sointelligent fouls. We didn't keep our composure and poise when we fell behind."

Marty Bodnar hit on a driving layup in the final seconds of overtime to lead Michigan over Michigan State. In the overtime, Michigan forward

Mike McGee hit a pair of free throws and converted a steal into an easy layup basket to give the Wolverines a fourpoint cushion. But Michigan State countered with a pair of free throws by Vincent and a Kevin Smith jump shot to tie the game 77-77. Bodnar's final basket followed a Michigan stall that lasted about a minute.

'We're not as talented as other Big Ten teams," said Michigan Coach Bill Frieder.

Who Says Cows Can't Fly?

LAJAS, Puerto Rico (AP) The mountain farmer thought his cows were walking funny. Little did he know at the time that the bovines were high on marijuana. Police said Tuesday that the farmer, who was not identified, told authorities his herd of cows apparently stumbled upon a bundle of marijuana that had been tossed from an airplane. Mistaking the marijuana weed for hay, the cows feasted. Authorities said they found uneaten portions of the pot when they searched the pasture in the island's southwest corner. They said the bale apparently had originated in Colombia.

Southwest Puerto Rico is a common drop point for pilots of small planes attempting to smuggle marijuana into the United States, police said.

YOU LIVE YOUR FAITH WHEN YOU SHARE WITH OTHERS

here is no greater expression of faith than the translation of it into good deeds; the sharing of our blessings with those less fortunate than ourselves. However, the concept of sharing goes far beyond the mere distribution of our material wealth to the poor; it also includes the gift of your time. patience, understanding and friendship. Visit the old and the sick; talk to them, read to them, run errands for them, give a ride to someone who is in need of it. Remember that the finest gift of all is that of yourself, given quietly and without fanfare; and you will be the better for it: Learn more about the true spirit of giving by attending your Church.

TOM BURDETT President

A Message from President Tom Burdett:

The year 1981 has commenced on a very positive note in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. First, I want to express my appreciation to the Board of Directors and the members of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce for the confidence that you have placed in me.

To say the least I am humbled by the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead. I pledge to each of you and to our entire community my very best and I can assure you that I approach this job and face these challenges with great enthusiasm.

My first and primary goal for the Chamber of Commerce during the year 1981 will be to increase the membership of the Chamber of Commerce as significantly as possible. All of us on the Board of Directors believe that the greatest way to achieve the goals of the Chamber of Commerce will be to increase our membership substantially and involve many more firms, businesses, farmers, and other individuals in our Chamber of Commerce work.

Our program of work and areas of responsibility are published elsewhere in this publication. I am excited about the program of work that has been adopted by our Board of Directors. Each of our board members has agreed to work as a liaison director with the respective committees.

Therefore, I believe that all of us in the Chamber of Commerce can expect great things from our committees. To those who have agreed to chair these various committees, I express a very big "Thank You" in advance for undertaking these challenges.

As we begin this year with new hope, new ambitions, and new challenges, it is exciting to think about the opportunities that are ahead at the national, state, and local level. With YOUR help we can successfully meet these challanges.

Sincerely, Tom Burdett

A Message From

Your Past President

Having served as your president for the past two years, I consider it an honor and a privilege. I feel that I have benefited from having served and look forward to continuing to be of service to Hereford and Deaf Smith County in the future. There have been times of concern with Armour announcing their intention of closing and then a time of relief with the announcement that they would continue to operate the plant here. There was a lot of work put into this by many people and we extend our thanks to them. We were also successful in establishing the very best ambulance service anywhere with less problems, thanks to community-wide participation and a special thanks to both funeral homes who made this all possible.

Your Board of Directors and committees have performed above expectation and for this spirit and attitude, I am grateful. This just proves once again what a tremendous group of people we have the opportunity to work and live with.

Your new president, Tom Burdett, and the Board of Directors and excited about the future and the work to be done. I offer them my surhout.

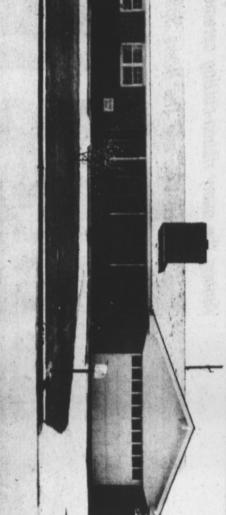

and the work to be done. I offer them my support and I know you will do the same.

Thanks to so many people who have helped, May God Bless each of your lives.
