

Paler, Slimmer Brezhnev Makes Appearance

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev reappeared in public today, ending a 27-day absence that prompted rumors he was suffering from an incapacitating illness.

The 75-year-old Brezhnev, who was reported by unofficial Soviet sources to have been hospitalized during his disappearance, looked paler and slimmer than at his last public appearance in late March.

An aide took Brezhnev's right elbow as the Soviet leader climbed three steps to his seat in the Palace of Congresses for ceremonies marking the 112th anniversary of the birth of Vladimir I. Lenin, but Brezhnev went down the stairs unaided at the end of the ceremony.

However, the aide took Brezhnev firmly under his left arm just beyond the entrance to the auditorium and assisted him in climbing seven steps leading to a hallway.

Thirty minutes later, Soviet television showed Brezhnev entering a box in the palace to listen to a concert. Brezhnev also appeared to enter the box and take his seat unaided.

Before the concert, Brezhnev heard a 55-minute speech delivered by KGB security agency chief Yuri Andropov before an audience of 5,000.

Andropov accused Washington of "telling lies" about the "Soviet threat, international terrorism, all kinds of fabrications about Poland and Southeast Asia" in a drive to "push the world to war."

He also accused Washington of stalling in U.S.-Soviet talks in Geneva on reducing medium-range nuclear weapons in Europe in order to permit deployment of new American missiles on the continent.

Andropov also reiterated Brezhnev's offer to meet President Reagan at a summit this fall in a neutral European country.

Andropov delivered the speech from a rostrum on the huge stage. Brezhnev followed the speech with a hearing aid in his right ear.

Last year's speech was given by Brezhnev's aide, Konstantin Chernenko, 70,

Fun And Games

County Clerk B.F. Cain's team lost a relay race at the fun breakfast this morning as his team "forgot" to use the pedals on the tricycles they were provided with. The game was just one of several hijinks pulled on the crowd at the bi-monthly breakfast at the community center. (Brand Photo).

Trent Thomas Wins Bull Chip

Hereford High School Student Council President Trent Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas, became the first high school student presented with the Bull Chip Award this morning as Thomas was honored at the bi-monthly chamber fun breakfast.

Co-emcee Doug Manning cited Thomas' leadership during his three years at HHS in making the presentation. Thomas, who plans to attend the University of Texas next fall, has a list of accomplishments as broad as his habitual smile.

He was president of his class as a sophomore, president of the Key Club, vice president of the student council before taking the reins this year, and a three-year member of the National Honor Society.

He is a three-time letterman for the HHS tennis team, a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for three years, and a member of the Math and Science Team three years. He has also been a Who's Who in American recipient, attended Boy's State, Junior Class Favorite, and a student of the six and nine weeks.

He ranked eighth among a class of 360 students entering his senior year at HHS, and currently has an "A" average while taking five advanced courses of study.

In other highlights of the breakfast Earl Alexander missed out on $150 in a drawing for chamber members, while Rita Bell and Irene McKinster won $25 and $75 respectively in other drawings.

The breakfast was sponsored by Hereford Cablevision, Inc., which also gave away 10 subscriptions to HBO as part of the festivities.

Among the announcements of coming events were the following:

-The Lil' Miss Hereford Pageant, featuring local girls ages 4 through junior high, 7 p.m. Saturday at the HHS auditorium.

-James Mays Day, tomorrow in conjunction with the District 4-5A boys' track meet.

-The Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon, slated for May 1.

-Youth Quake, a city wide sponsored crusade set for May 2-5 at the La Plata gym.

-The Chamber Singers' Spring Concert May 9 featuring the works of reknown composer Eugene Butler, who will be here to direct the choir.

-The chamber Pet Show, set for May 15.

-The Mid-Plains Pioneer Day Association annual celebration, May 29.

-The upcoming District Key Club Convention at which HHS sweetheart Lisa Snyder will be among 12 finalists in the queen contest.

State of Emergency Declared After Fire

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — A state of emergency has been declared in the wake of a firestorm that started with an electric spark and leaped from roof to roof in 60 mph Santa Ana winds, burning up to 1,500 people out of their homes and causing $50 million in damage.

The notorious dry winds and the wood-shingle roofs of many of the 50 buildings destroyed by the fire Wednesday helped make the inferno the worst in the history of Orange County, home of Disneyland, officials said. At least eight people were injured.

As the evacuees whose houses and apartments were burned sought shelter with friends or relatives, or in hotels that opened their doors to help, Anaheim Fire Chief Bob Simpson said it was "God's own miracle" no one died.

The winds, which gusted up to 100 mph in Fontana, 30 miles away, died down by noon and the fire was put out.

"It looks like some kind of war-ravaged area. It's a terrible thing to see," Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. said after flying over the mile-square fire area in a helicopter.

Brown declared a state of emergency in Anaheim, the first step toward making fire victims eligible for up to $55,000 in federal loans. He said he would decide today whether to seek a federal disaster area designation, which would make displaced residents eligible for $5,000 grants and temporary housing for up to a year.

The firestorm was touched off shortly before 6 a.m. Wednesday when winds downed a power line which set the fronds of a palm tree ablaze. The buildings it destroyed included 534 apartment units.

Police spokesman Werner Raes said two residents suffered heart attacks in the fire. A third civilian, one police officer and three new ideas had been presented. But sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said House Democrats had submitted proposals dealing with Social Security.

One proposal called for setting aside money from offshore oil receipts to help fund the giant pension system, which now is financed solely by a payroll tax on workers and their employers. It was not clear whether Democrats also had offered to back pending cuts on Social Security, such as reductions and delays in cost of living increases.

Although congressional leaders had been openly pessimistic Wednesday in trading charges about who is holding up progress in the secret budget talks, some optimism surfaced Wednesday night following a four-hour negotiating session at the White House.

Before the talks resumed today, Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan, one of the administration's principal negotiators, said, "I'm still hopeful that our negotiations will be successful." And a White House spokesman said Regan was urging his representatives to "continue talking" in the search for agreement.

Other administration officials, however, were pessimistic. They said House Democrats seemed in too much "disarray" to rally around a bipartisan budget plan.

British Warships Arrive In Falkland Area Today

LONDON (AP) — British destroyers were scheduled to arrive today off South Georgia, 800 miles east of the Falklands, the British press reported, and there was speculation they would land forces to retake the South Atlantic island as a demonstration to Argentina of British determination.

The press reports said the destroyers were detached from the 61-ship British armada bound for the Falkland archipelago and sent at top speed to the Falklands dependency that a small Argentine force occupied April 3, the day after Argentina seized the main islands 250 miles off its southern coast.

Only about 140 Argentine soldiers were reported on South Georgia, in contrast to an estimated 9,000 or more in the Falklands.

The rest of the British war fleet was only a few days away from the Falklands. British defense sources said it would go on full war alert Friday night when it came within strike range of Argentine aircraft.

The British fleet had its first brush with the Argentines Wednesday when a Harrier fighter-bomber from the carrier Hermes intercepted an unarmed, long-range Boeing 707 surveillance plane of the Argentine air force. The Boeing turned away.

"If I had fired, he would have been dead, but I wouldn't like to have been responsible for starting a war," said the 25-year-old Harrier pilot, Lt. Simon Hargreaves.

Meanwhile, Gen. Leopoldo Galtieri, the Argentine president and commander-in-chief, was flying to the Falklands today for a one-day visit "to give the final orders" to the occupation force there, the Argentine government reported.

British Foreign Secretary Francis Pym flew to Washington today with the British government's answer to the Argentine proposals it rejected earlier this week. U.S. officials in Washington expressed doubt that the counter-proposals would provide a breakthrough.

Pym stressed to the House of Commons that the navy has government sanction to go into action even while peace talks are going on.

"In the end, our position in the world and the respect that is paid to us depends vitally upon our ability to defend ourselves and our will to do so," he told the diplomatic corps at a banquet Wednesday night.

"However strongly a country may feel about an issue — and we know how strongly the Argentines do feel about the Falkland Islands — they have no right whatsoever to take the law into their own hands in defiance of the rules of international behavior."

Miss Streun Wins Scholarship

58 Initiated At NHS Ceremony

Fifty-eight Hereford High students were initiated into the National Honor Society in formal ceremonies at the high school Wednesday, joining the 79 current members.

Students must have a 4.8 grade point average, be approved by a faculty council and show leadership qualities before being considered for membership.

Penny Reinart, Deaf Smith County Extension agent for 4-H and a Hereford High graduate, was bestowed an honorary membership in NHS. This was the first year the honor was given to a non-student.

Cynthia Streun was granted the NHS scholarship for an outstanding senior.

In the ceremony, each initiate and current member was called and presented a carnation which they in turn presented to their parents. Dr. Harrell Holder, Hereford schools superintendent, and John Walch, Hereford High principal, presented each student a certificate of membership. Honorees sat in class section and concluded the initiation by reciting the NHS pledge, led by president Don DeLozier.

Dr. Keith Winters, West Texas State University

registrar, gave most senior members WTSU scholarships.

Gina Griffin sang "Choices," accompanied by Paula Alexander and Tim Riley, and a quintet of Amy Griffin, Angela Hund, Patricia Hund, Annabeth Friemel and Cindy Goebel performed a woodwinds number.

Walch was named outstanding teacher of the fourth nine weeks and joined Gail Taylor, Diane Perkins and N.D. Kelso in the honor.

Trent Thomas and Carol Zinser were named outstanding students for the last nine weeks, joining former nominees Cynthia Streun, Bob Foster, Dana Cabiness, Jeff Streun, Allyson Thomas,

Glimmer of Hope Seen In 'Budget Chicken' Game

By CLIFF HAAS Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A glimmer of hope for a bipartisan compromise on President Reagan's red-ink spending plan is emerging just as some members of Congress were giving up the effort as a "game of budget chicken."

"I think they're making progress," Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., told reporters today. "I say that because I think there's been movement on both sides."

Baker declined to say what new ideas had been presented. But sources, who asked not to be quoted by name, said House Democrats had submitted proposals dealing with Social Security.

One proposal called for setting aside money from offshore oil receipts to help fund the giant pension system, which now is financed solely by a payroll tax on workers and their employers. PD Expects Warrant On Suspect

Hereford police expect to have a warrant today for the arrest of an 18-year-old Oklahoma transient suspected in the burglary of several fast food restaurants in Hereford and Canyon.

The Dairy Queen on East Park and Sonic Drive-In on North 25-Mile Avenue reported the burglaries of cash boxes to Hereford police Wednesday. The incidents occurred sometime after midnight Tuesday.

Sgt. Joe Brown heard on police radio that Canyon had a similar offense reported, and the two agencies pieced together information. A man fitting the description was reported in Abernathy and Brown traveled there to question the suspect.

Louise's in Sugarland Mall reported that someone had stolen a pair of socks and a tee-shirt valued at about $30.

'Real Difficulties' Remain In Falkland Island Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Francis Pym, pledging his government's willingness to settle peacefully the Falkland Islands dispute with Argentina but noting that "real difficulties" remain, arrived here today to discuss new British proposals with the Reagan administration.

"We will do everything we can to try to find a peaceful settlement to the dispute," Pym told reporters shortly after landing at Dulles International Airport outside Washington.

But he also said there are "real difficulties and real obstacles" to reaching a settlement that avoids war with Argentina, which invaded the disputed islands April 2.

Pym made clear his government's view that the dispute stems from "aggression by Argentina and the unlawful invasion of the Falkland Islands."

He went directly to the State Department for a working lunch with Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., whom Pym praised for his "heroic efforts" at trying to find a peaceful solution.

Although Pym carried with him new British ideas for resolving the Falklands dispute, both British diplomatic sources and U.S. officials privately expressed pessimism that a diplomatic solution can be quickly negotiated.

Over 200 Look For Missing Boy

FOREST CHAPEL, Texas (AP) — A party of more than 200 volunteers searched today for a 4-year-old boy who vanished from his back yard in this small Northeast Texas community.

Brock Beshirs was last seen by his mother, Debbie Beshirs, around 11:45 a.m. Wednesday. The boy was discovered missing around noon when his mother called him for lunch, authorities said.

A family dog also was missing, but the animal returned to the rural residence about 9 p.m. Wednesday, investigators said.

Although the possibility of foul play was not ruled out, investigators said they had no evidence to believe the child had been abducted.

About 200 volunteers, aided by area law enforcement agencies and volunteer fire departments, searched unsuccessfully for the child.

A Department of Public Safety helicopter was dispatched from Waco today and a team of tracking dogs was sent from an Oklahoma prison farm to join the search.

Schmidt Expecting Policy Approval

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — Chancellor Helmut Schmidt expected to win approval today from his party congress for his nuclear missile policy despite strong left-wing opposition.

Schmidt asked the 400 delegates to the annual meeting of the Social Democratic Party to endorse his postponement until late next year of the decision whether to accept the deployment of new medium-range U.S. nuclear missiles on West German territory.

"The chancellor's opponents urged that the party favor a moratorium on preparations for the NATO nuclear deployment in Western Europe in 1983 and a freeze on missile deployment for the duration of the U.S.-Soviet negotiations in Geneva to limit the stationing of medium-range missiles in Europe.

Schmidt in his keynote address to the congress Tuesday said the Geneva talks could only be successful if Moscow knew that failure to reach an agreement would mean deployment of the American missiles.

Putnam Subpoenaed By Grand Jury

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Braniff President Howard D. Putnam has been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury convened here to investigate allegations American Airlines used underhanded tactics in an attempt to knock Braniff International out of the Dallas-Fort Worth market.

Putnam planned to appear before the panel today, and was subpoenaed Tuesday, said Braniff Vice President Sam Coats.

It is "our understanding that the investigation will center on the alleged illegal activities of American Airlines to monopolize the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport in order to force up fares," Coats said Wednesday.

Where Prisoners Pay

Society demands that criminals pay for their crimes—but they don't.

Instead, most frequently they are locked away in prisons where everything's "free" and taxpayers pay.

To keep one prisoner in prison—fed, clothed, sheltered and guarded—costs taxpayers from $15,000 to $25,000 a year.

Multiply that by 329,000 and "you" are paying a lot of money for "their" crimes!

There must be a better way.

Andrew Klein is chief probation officer for the District Court in Quincy, Mass. I'd like him to tell you about a 21-year-old felon we'll call John W.

John W. has been in trouble with the law before—stealing cars, breaking and entering, malicious damage, drunk driving, assault and battery. He's been in and out of jail since he was 13.

Recently, while out, in a fight over a girl, he slashed another man with a broken beer bottle—40 stitches.

Assault with a dangerous weapon, violation probation; 2½ years.

But—

During the last 10 months while John W. was out of prison he had stayed out of trouble. He was not drinking, was not stealing cars, had held a steady job, was helping support his mother and siblings. Everybody reported—except for this impulsive fight over a girl, his behavior had been steadily improving.

The guy with the 40 stitches was not interested in seeing John locked up; he'd rather have help paying his doctor bills.

So this time the judge sentenced John W. to 18 months—but—suspended the sentence—if John W. would keep working and make $60 weekly payments to his victim, AND contribute 50 hours of community work service.

Which he is doing.

In addition to righting a wrong, restitution gives offenders another experience which is all too foreign to some young criminals—work.

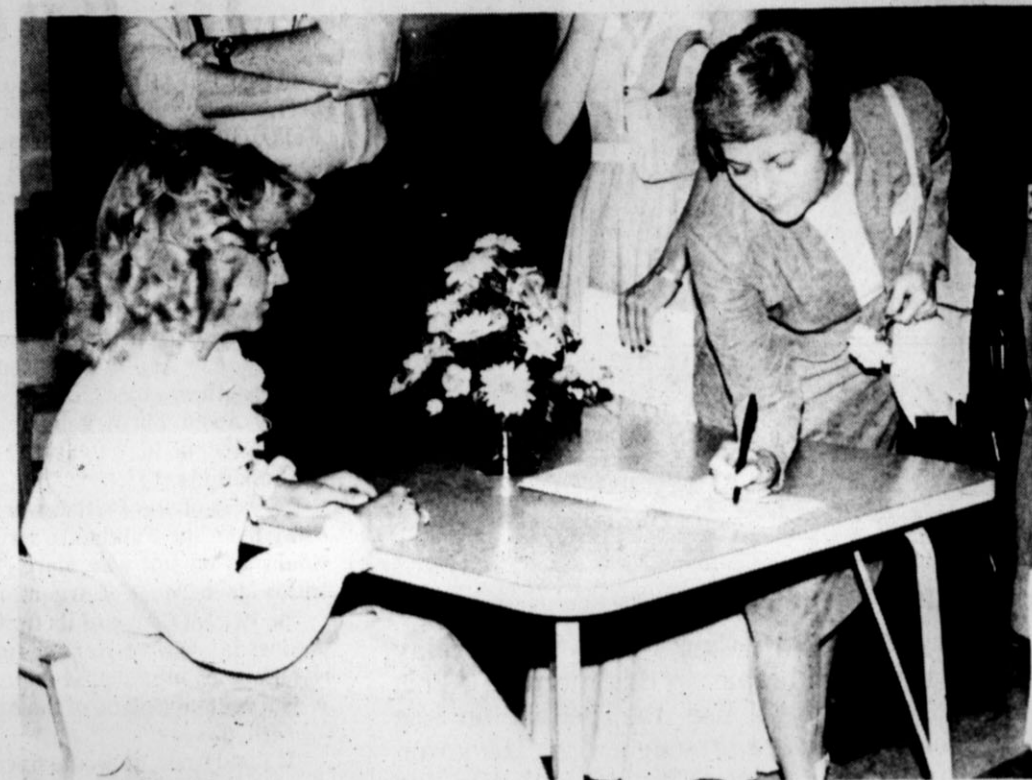

The 9-to-5 routine is good discipline, gives the offender less time to hang around with old pals, frequently teaches him a productive skills. And fatigue encourages him to sleep nights.

Restitution is not a new idea. Since the Code of Hammurabi, the Old Testament, the Twelve Tables of Ancient Rome, restitution has been approved punishment for criminal conduct.

It was the monarchs of the Middle Ages who elected to lock up lawbreakers.

Now more and more communities are authorizing and encouraging restitution, and more and more criminal court judges are responding.

cutbacks that are viewed as hurting low-income Americans. However, his aides say Regan personally opposes such a tax.

A spokesman for House Budget Committee Chairman James R. Jones, D-Okla., quoted the congressman as saying he "is convinced an agreement can be reached" and it is "in sight."

A Senate Republican source who asked not to be quoted by name was more restrained, but said there is "still the opportunity there to continue working."

"This was either put up or shut up time tonight (Wednesday)," a House Republican source said.

Sources familiar with the discussions declined to disclose details of Wednesday night's meeting except to say that "new ideas" on Social Security were discussed.

A three-year package of delays and reductions in cost-of-living increases for Social Security, government pensions and other benefit programs has been one of the elements under consideration in the search for ways to cut the budget deficits.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., mocked Reagan's assertion that he would "go the extra mile" to reach a budget compromise.

The president is "willing to walk a mile—for a camera," O'Neill said. "He has yet to prove he is willing to walk a mile for a compromise."

Rep. Leon E. Panetta, D-Calif., a key member of the House Budget Committee, said Democrats are afraid the public will "jump on them" if they pull out of the budget negotiations and Republicans are "scared to death of moving without the president."

"We're in a game of budget chicken to some extent," Panetta said. "Who's going to move out of the trenches first?"

Among House Republicans, there was "a feeling that maybe this whole exercise has been a farce," according to one GOP source who attended a caucus meeting. The source asked not to be identified by name.

firefighters suffered minor injuries.

Flames formed what resident Simon Berkowitz described as "a wall of fire about three or four blocks wide" and sent clouds of smoke billowing skyward.

The fire left an eerie landscape of charred ruins, an occasional standing wall and a backdrop of towering palm trees that had escaped the flames.

"It was early in the morning and people were up anyway, getting ready to go to school or whatever," said Anaheim Fire Inspector Nadine Roberts. "If it had been in the night I think we would have had some horrible problems.

Most residents fled with little more than the clothes on their back, their children and pets.

"At the height of the fire we evacuated more than 2,000 people," Simpson said. "We now estimate that between 1,200 and 1,500 are displaced."

Simpson described the fire as the worst in Orange County history, and other Southern California fire officials said it was the worst non-brush blaze they could remember. Simpson estimated the damage at $50 million.

who assumed a more prominent position in the Soviet hierarchy following the death in January of the Kremlin's top ideologist, Mikhail Suslov.

Brezhnev, wearing a dark suit with medals on his chest, remained standing for the playing of the Soviet national anthem and then took his seat on the stage with other Soviet officials.

A live television broadcast showed Brezhnev only as he approached his seat. At past official occasions, the camera usually showed him walking from the stage wings to his seat.

Brezhnev's face looked considerably slimmer than when he was last seen in public.

Brezhnev, seated behind Andropov, was flanked by Chernenko and another member of the ruling party Politburo, Viktor Grishin. Seated nearby were Defense Minister Dmitri Ustinov and Premier Nikolai Tikhonov.

Unofficial Soviet sources said Brezhnev was hospitalized for a period following his return to Moscow from Soviet Central Asia March 25 for treatment of exhaustion or possible stroke.

The Soviet government sought to quell speculation about his health by announcing April 5 that Brezhnev was taking his "regular rest."

retaliate," said a PLO statement issued after the Israeli raids Wednesday that the Lebanese government said killed at least 20 Palestinians and wounded more than 40 others.

Palestinian sources said radical factions in the organization were demanding an immediate attack on Israeli targets. Shafik al-

Hout, a member of the Palestine National Council and of the PLO executive committee, told the U.N. General Assembly in New York that the PLO was "maintaining self-restraint" so far, "but I can't guarantee what's coming up in the coming hours."

PLO chief Yasser Arafat met with his military commanders and the leaders of the eight PLO factions "until early this morning, but no decisions were announced."

The Palestinian sources, who requested anonymity, said Lebanese Prime Minister Shafik Wazzan and Saudi Arabian officials transmitted a message from the U.S. government to Arafat urging him to restrain his forces. Al-Hout told the General Assembly the U.S. government informed the PLO indirectly "that this provocation could be just the beginning of a wholesale attack intended by the Israeli aggressor."

In Washington, the State Department said it deplored both the recent "violence against Israelis and the Israeli air strikes into Lebanon." It appealed to both Israel and the PLO to restore the cease-fire in southern Lebanon which the United States helped negotiate nine months ago.

Israel's chief of military intelligence, Maj. Gen. Yehoshua Saguy, said the air attack Wednesday was in response to nine months of PLO truce violations capped by the explosion of an anti-tank mine that killed an Israeli soldier in an enclave of southern Lebanon controlled by Christian militiamen allied with Israel.

Saguy said Israel's purpose was "to warn...that we are not going to be restrained." Arafat had been predicting such an attack or an Israeli invasion to wipe out guerrilla bases in southern Lebanon for several weeks, and the U.S. government sent Undersecretary of State Walter J. Stoessel to Israel last week to try to restrain the Israelis.

Stoessel was in Jerusalem Wednesday when the air force struck, but he has been giving his chief attention to disputes between Israel and Egypt that threatened to delay the final Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai peninsula next Sunday.

A native of Geneva, N.Y., a town about the size of Hereford, which is situated at the northern tip of one of the largest of the Finger Lakes in upstate New York, Barbara Fong grew up surrounded by water, trees, and lush green grasslands, and spent a lot of time out on the lake and climbing trees during her childhood.

"What I couldn't get used to after moving to West Texas is all the sky," exclaims Barbara. "You can see for miles!"

Barbara moved to Amarillo almost two years ago. She lived with her father and graduated from Amarillo High School last May. While working part-time in the shoe department at The Hub, she met Jeff Fong, who was employed at Gattis Shoes, also in Sunset Center. "He came over one day while he was out checking the competition," laughs Barbara.

Later, Barbara and Jeff were married, and about a year ago they moved to Hereford when Jeff accepted the position of manager at the Gattis Shoe Store in Sugarland Mall.

"We like Hereford," says Barbara, "especially as we are getting to know more people now. We've found the people here to be very friendly and appreciate the fact that they will take the time to get to know you."

"Jeff manages the store and I work for him full-time," comments Barbara. "We really enjoy working together, and even though we're together all the time, we manage to stay out of each other's hair. I don't think that everyone could do it, but since we've been working together, I find it hard to imagine working somewhere else."

When she's not busy selling shoes, Barbara likes to draw and paint, explaining that her father, who is District Manager of an auto parts company, also likes to paint, as does one of her sisters.

"They have both sold some of their paintings," says Barbara, "but I haven't sold any of mine because I've not wanted to part with any of them. I like to draw people in charcoal and pencil, and I've done a variety of subjects in acrylics."

"I love plants," comments Barbara, "and am really enjoying decorating my home, my way for the first time. I especially like bamboo and baskets."

"I enjoy cooking and trying new things," says Barbara, "and Jeff likes to cook too. He makes very good chicken fried steak." Coming from New York, Barbara had never eaten chicken fried steak, okra, blackeyed peas, or Mexican food.

"In the area where I grew up, there were lots of Italian people," says Barbara, "and everyone made spaghetti. I'd watched my mother and other people make it, and I just sort of made up my own recipe. The thing is, I just start adding some of this and some of that, and when I tried to write it down, I couldn't."

"I like to cook things like spare ribs and soups in a crock pot," notes Barbara, "because when you work until 6 p.m. you need fast recipes that don't require lots of time in the kitchen."

"My mother is a fantastic baker," says Barbara. "She made about ten loaves of bread every three days or so when my brothers and sisters and I were growing up." She presently works in the food and science department at Cornell University.

Barbara has three brothers and two sisters. All of them still live up in the New York area, which makes living so far away a bit hard sometimes. "I miss my family a lot," says Barbara.

"I took Jeff back home for a visit last summer," she says. "We got to stay about three weeks and had a wonderful time."

Jeff was born and raised in Amarillo, where his father works as a dentist.

"His grandmother," says Barbara, "who lives near Dallas, is an excellent cook. She is great with Chinese dishes and sends us fresh vegetables which she has canned. We especially enjoy steamed vegetables, not cooked too long, so that the vitamins stay in."

The recipes below are some of Barbara's favorites. "The barbecue chicken wings are a stable dish up North," she notes, adding that they are taken on most every picnic or to any party. The Lemon Tea Cookies are a favorite dessert because they stay light and puffy and are not too sweet.

BACON WRAPPED BEEF KABOBS

2 medium onions
2 medium green peppers, seeded and cut into 1 1/2 inch squares
1 lb. beef round steak, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
1/2 tsp. instant unseasoned meat tenderizer
6-8 slices bacon, halved crosswise
1 (8 1/2 oz.) can pineapple chunks
1 (8 1/2 oz.) can pineapple chunks

hot cooked rice

Parboil onions in boiling water, covered, for five minutes, adding green pepper squares last two minutes of cooking. Drain. Cool onions slightly; cut into wedges.

Thoroughly moisten round steak with water. Sprinkle instant meat tenderizer evenly over entire surface of meat.

To retain meat juices, pierce deeply with a fork at about 1/2 inch intervals. Cut meat into 1 1/2 inch pieces.

Partially cook bacon; drain on paper toweling. Wrap half slices of bacon around each beef chunk, secure with wooden picks. Thread wrapped beef, onion wedges, green pepper squares, and pineapple chunks alternately on six 12-inch skewers.

Combine barbecue sauce and lemon juice. Grill kabobs over medium hot coals 12-15 minutes or until done, turning and basting often with barbecue sauce mixture. Serve with hot cooked rice. Serves six.

FRUIT COCKTAIL FREEZE

1 cup orange, strawberry, or peach yogurt
3 Tbs. sugar
1 (8 1/2 oz.) can fruit cocktail, drained
1/4 cup finely chopped celery

In mixing bowl stir together yogurt and sugar. Fold in fruit cocktail and celery. Spoon mixture into four individual molds or paper baking cup lined muffin tins. Cover and freeze until firm.

Let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes before serving. Unmold or peel off paper and serve on lettuce lined salad plates. Makes four servings.

LEMON TEA COOKIES

2 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup milk
1 3/4 cups all purpose flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
3/4 cup powdered sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice

Stir 2 tsp. lemon juice into milk; set aside. Stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. In mixer bowl beat butter for 30 seconds. Add 3/4 cup sugar; beat until fluffy. Add egg and lemon rind; beat well.

Add dry ingredients and milk mixture alternately to beaten mixture and beat until well blended. Drop from a teaspoon two inches apart onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in 350 degree oven for 12-14 minutes.

Combine powdered sugar and lemon juice; stir until sugar is dissolved. Remove cookies at once to a wire rack; brush with lemon mixture. Cool. Makes about 48 cookies.

INNER TUBE

By Steve K. Walz

FAT CAT — MGM's lion is roaring these days as the studio's TV division cranks out one series pilot after another. MGM TV execs are particularly excited about a series pilot being developed for George Hamilton, who has decided to return to the tube after an absence of 12 years.

Hamilton was featured in back-to-back 1970 series on ABC, "Paris 7000" and "The Survivors." CBS has expressed interest in this new project, a private-eye thriller. Leading men Gil Gerard, Robert Urich and William Devane also are involved in sleuth series development projects.

BEHIND THE SCENES — Rachel Ward, who made an outstanding impression on Hollywood executives with her performance opposite Burt Reynolds in "Sharkey's Machine," has been chosen to star in ABC's adaptation of Colleen McCullough's best-selling novel, "The Thorn Birds."

Richard Chamberlain, who'll portray Father Ralph in the Australian-based epic, played a significant role in the casting of his female lead. Chamberlain auditioned dozens of actresses for the part of Meggie Cleary, whose forbidden love for Father Ralph forms the basis of the story. Chamberlain narrowed his choices to Olivia Newton-John, Jane Seymour and Miss Ward. The show will be teamed on ABC during the 1982-83 season.

IN BETTE WE TRUST — Bette Davis has been tabbed by NBC to star in the TV version of Barbara Goldsmith's best-seller "Little Gloria... Happy at Last." Miss Davis will portray Alice Gwynne Vanderbilt. Angela Lansbury will play Gertrude Vangerbilt. Whitney, Miss Davis' character's daughter... The four-hour TV presentation will be screened on the network next year. NBC is also developing Sidney Sheldon's "Rage of Angels" and Judith Krantz's "Princess Daisy" for the 1982-83 season. In the can for a fall '82 premiere is "The Executioner's Song" starring Tommy Lee Jones as Gary Gilmore, the convicted killer who requested his own death by firing squad.

SOUND COUNTRY

By Doug Davis

Larry Gatlin was a hungry Texas songwriter when Dottie West gave his career a boost by giving him a plane ticket to Nashville after she heard his material. Now, 10 years later, Gatlin is an established name in the business, but he's repaying part of that favor by producing Dottie's next album.

Gatlin also has just finished producing a session for Johnny Mathis. Dottie's new single, "You're Not Easy to Forget," is moving up the country charts. She may be touring this summer in the road company of "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas."

Larry Gatlin

Ricky Skaggs has been busy. He was named "Best New Country Artist" by Radio "n" Records, was given a standing ovation at the recent Country Music Radio Seminar in Nashville and is now on a major concert tour. Skaggs has also voted one of the five finalists in the "Best New Male Vocalist" category by the Academy of Country Music.

Sue Powell, a former member of the Dave and Sugar trio, has signed with the Buddy Lee Agency for representation. She is co-host of the syndicated TV show, "Nashville on the River."

Porter Wagoner has also signed with the Lee Agency for bookings. His long-running syndicated TV show is now seen in 80 markets. Wagoner recently sold his Nashville recording studio, reorganized his band and is now back on the concert circuit.

Club Members Tour Center In Amarillo

Members of La Afflatus Estudio Club met Tuesday morning for a tour of the Wesley Community Center in Amarillo. The director of the center is the Rev. Jacinto Alderete.

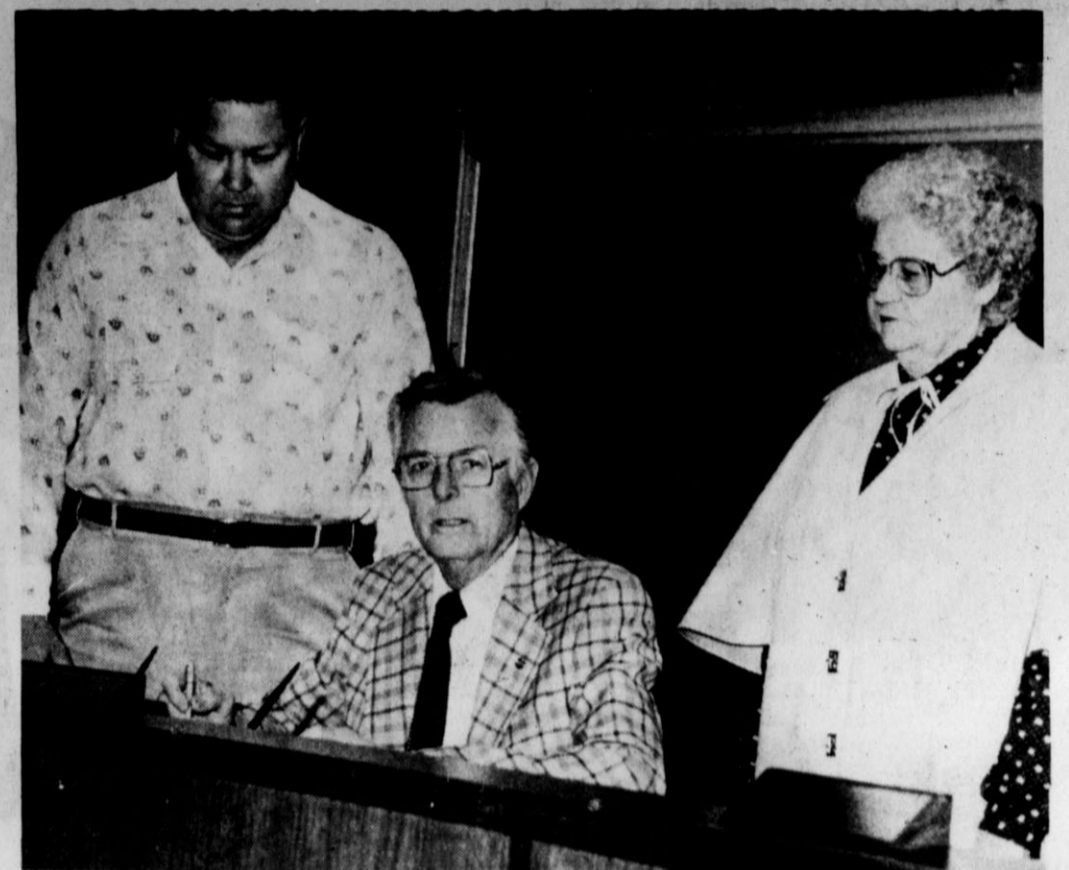

He led the tour through the new building showing the children's day care center, the senior citizen's day care center, the gymnasium-auditorium and the health and dental clinics.

Alderete said that the crime rate in the Amarillo area has decreased over 70 percent since the center has been in operation. The center serves a community of hispanics, blacks and Angles. He mentioned that they try to foster a good self image and a feeling of self worth in all who come to the center, from the young to the elderly.

Club members who were present included Aileen Montgomery, Lucile Hughes, Alberta Higgins, Mary Williamson, Irene Markham, Emily Suggs, Opal Elliston, Eva Gililand and Tresa Hale.

The group also ate lunch and attended the art exhibit in Western Plaza before returning.

West Texas Chapter Elects First Board

The newly-organized West Texas Chapter of the Oncology Nursing Society has elected its first Board. The new officers are: president-Mary Smith of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center; vice-president, Kay Simms and secretary, Bonnie McMillan, both of High Plains Baptist Hospital; and treasurer, Melva Fowler, also of the Cancer Center.

"All registered nurses living in West Texas who are interested in cancer care are eligible for membership in this chapter," Mrs. Smith said, "but they must first be members of the national Oncology Nursing Society."

"In the last several years nurses have been taking on increasingly important roles in caring for cancer patients and the chronically ill," she said. "As this specialty in nursing emerges, the need for expanded knowledge has become apparent."

"The main purposes of the chapter here," Mrs. Smith explained, "are (1) to promote the highest professional standards of oncology nursing in West Texas; (2) to study, research and exchange information and ideas towards improved oncology nursing; (3) to promote community awareness of oncology and its various aspects; and (4) to encourage nurses to specialize in the practice of oncology nursing."

"Another very important aspect of the chapter," Mrs. Smith said, "is the peer support it provides. It's really helpful to share your own experiences with others and to offer and receive assistance."

The Society itself is fairly new. It was formed in 1977 and to date only 13 local chapters have been established. The sixth annual convention of the Oncology Nursing Society will be held in St. Louis April 23-25.

"The West Texas Chapter is petitioning for official status," Smith said, "and by this time next year, we hope to have it. We intend to be a very enthusiastic, active organization."

Prince Edward Island, located in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, is Canada's smallest province, with an area of 2,184 miles.

Ann Landers Foreign Students Increasing

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We have three children - two in college and one a senior in high school. Our college children did not get into the schools they wanted. They went where they were accepted. Our high-school senior is eager to make one of the Ivies, but we doubt that he will succeed.

Am I wrong, or are the numbers of foreign students attending U.S. colleges increasing? Who pays for them? Why are so many foreign students here, taking places that otherwise would go to American students? Are the majority Orientals and blacks-or does it just seem that way?

Please respond in the column. I'm sure other parents are as interested as I.-Red-Blooded American

DEAR RED: According to the Christian Science Monitor, the numbers of foreign students in U.S. colleges are increasing. Last year there were 9 percent more than in the previous year.

Nearly 70 percent pay their own tuition. They come to the United States in search of a better education than they can get in their homeland. Out of the 311,882 foreign students enrolled in U.S. colleges in 1980-81, 25 percent were studying engineering. Seventeen percent were studying business management.

The 10 places sending the greatest number of students to the U.S. are Iran, Taiwan, Nigeria, Canada, Japan, Venezuela, Saudi Arabia, Hong Kong, India and Lebanon. If one of your sons should choose to go to medical school, you'll be writing again-and that letter will be a lot stronger.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You have used the word "chutzpah" in your column for the third time since I have been reading you. (That's at least seven years.)

Please tell me what it means and where it came from.-Learn A Lot From Landers In Winnipeg

DEAR WINNIE: "Chutzpah" is a wonderfully expressive old Yiddish word that means something stronger than nerve or courage. Gall or sheer guts is closer to it.

"Chutzpah" now appears in the eighth edition of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary. Congratulations to the person who did the recent compiling. That took chutzpah.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 14-year-old girl who is terribly unhappy. My parents were divorced eight months ago. They had a horrible custody fight. My dad won because he could afford a very sharp lawyer. The court decided Mom was an unfit mother, although my father did the same things she did and nobody decided he was "unfit."

I don't know why he fought so hard to get me unless it was to punish my mother. Dad is never at home, and when he's here he pays no attention to me. I don't care for the women he invites for weekends. I'm scared to death he might marry one of them.

Mom and I write letters back and forth and we talk on the phone. She is as miserable as I am. I would give anything if I could be with her. Is there anything I can do? Please help me, Ann.-Crying A Lot In Dayton

DEAR DAYTON: Go to any clergyman and take this column. Tell him you wrote this letter. You need an adult to intercede on your behalf. A compassionate judge could be a big help.

Cards On Their Own Streak

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

Quietly, almost without notice, the St. Louis Cardinals are building a winning streak to rival that of any team in the National League — except the Atlanta Braves.

The Cardinals won their 10th straight game Wednesday night, beating Pittsburgh 6-2, but the Braves are playing a little three-upsmanship.

Atlanta, which set a modern major league record by winning its 12th in a row Tuesday night, defeated the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 on a ninth-inning single by Claudell Washington for win No. 13.

"If things keep going like this, we expect to go all the way," Washington said. "Everybody's looking over their shoulder watching what the Braves are doing."

Everyone but St. Louis. The Cardinals got a two-run double from Tommy Herr, a homer from Gene Tenace and 62-3 strong innings from Steve Mura for their victory, three shy of the club record set in 1935.

"I haven't been on a team that had 10 in a row ever, I don't think," said Mura, whose 5-14 record with San Diego was the worst in the majors last year.

Around the rest of the league, San Diego edged San Francisco 7-6, Los Angeles shut out Houston 6-0, Montreal downed Philadelphia 5-2 and the New York Mets defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-4.

The Cardinals have not won 10 in a row since 1963. The victory also extended the Pirates' losing streak to four games.

The Pirates led 1-0 after Johnny Ray's second-inning sacrifice fly, but the Cards came barreling back with three runs in the fifth off John Candelaria. Herr doubled in two of the runs, and a sacrifice fly by Keith Hernandez scored the other.

Braves 4, Reds 3
Washington's two-run single in the bottom of the ninth inning brought Atlanta back from a 3-2 deficit and kept alive the major league's longest winning streak ever at the start of a season.

The rally was helped when a potential, inning-ending double play grounder hit an Atlanta player. Matt Sinatro started the inning with a walk, and Rafael Ramirez, attempting to sacrifice, was credited with a bunt single.

One out later, Brett Butler's grounder caromed off the leg of Sinatro. Sinatro was out, but Ramirez was safe at second and Butler at first. And the rally was kept alive.

After Reds reliever Jim Kern threw a wild pitch that advanced the runners, Biff Pocaroba was walked intentionally to load the bases, and Washington greeted reliever Joe Price with a two-run single up the middle.

Padres 6, Giants 6
San Diego won its eighth in a row, holding on to beat San Francisco with the help of Ruppert Jones' two-run homer. San Francisco scored twice, on Jim Wohlford's two-run homer, in the ninth inning, but reliever Garyucas weathered the storm to record a league-leading fifth save.

John Montefusco pitched six good innings for San Diego, allowing a two-run homer in the first by Joe Morgan.

Dodgers 6, Astros 0

Jerry Reuss gave up a first-inning double to Art Howe, then pitched eight innings of no-hit ball to record Los Angeles' first shutout of the season. Reuss, who threw a no-hitter in 1980 against San Francisco, retired 19 in a row after the double until walking Jose Cruz to lead off the eighth. He struck out just two in pitching his second career one-hitter.

The Dodgers scored three runs in the first inning off Houston right-hander Nolan Ryan, 0-4. Pedro Guerrero homered, and Rick Monday singled home two more runs.

Expos 5, Phillies 2
Right-hander Steve Rogers got ninth-inning relief help from Jeff Reardon to beat Philadelphia left-hander Steve Carlton, who now has lost four without a victory.

Montreal snapped a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth with the help of a throwing error by first baseman Pete Rose and a sacrifice fly by Warren Crommartie. Tim Wallach drove in the other run with a double.

Mets 7, Cubs 5
Backup catcher Ron Hodges ripped a two-run single that capped a five-run eighth inning as New York rallied for a two-game sweep of its series with the Cubs.

Craig Swan won his first game since June 11, 1980 by pitching a scoreless eighth inning, and Neil Allen earned his fourth save despite giving up a pair of ninth-inning hits.

Dave Kingman and Hubie Brooks each drove in runs with singles, and a run scored on a bases-loaded error by Cubs shortstop Larry Bowa. Hodges, who hadn't played in 10 days, singled down the right field line for the final two runs of the inning.

In NBA Mini-Series

Dawkins, 76ers Rip Hawks

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

Darryl Dawkins, who says he isn't fully recovered from the broken leg that sidelined him for two months, didn't let that stop him from putting Philadelphia a leg up on Atlanta.

Dawkins, who has been criticized for his play since returning from the injury, scored 27 points and blocked eight shots Wednesday night as the 76ers bombed the Hawks 111-76 in the opener of their best-of-3 National Basketball Association playoff series.

"I'm not sure I'll ever shoot that well again," said Dawkins, who hit 12 of 17 shots and also got nine rebounds. "The leg feels pretty good, no real pain, but I know when I get home it will bother me. But I know I won't mind the throbbing tonight."

In another playoff opener Wednesday, Seattle whipped Houston 102-87. When the playoffs resume Friday night, New Jersey will be at Washington and Philadelphia at Atlanta in the East, while Denver will be at Phoenix and Seattle at Houston in the West.

Washington and Denver won their playoff openers on Tuesday.

Julius Erving added 20 points for the 76ers against the Hawks, who were No. 1 on defense and last in offense in the NBA during the regular season. Reserves played late in the game after Philadelphia twice led by as many as 32 points.

"Defensively, it was the least amount of points we've allowed all year, so if that's the way you measure it, I guess it was our best defensive game," said Erving. "Caldwell (Jones) and Darryl put a lot of pressure inside on (Dan) Roundfield and (Tree) Rollins, blocking shots and rebounding."

"Plus the pressure that Lionel Hollins and Maurice Cheeks put on their guards made them a step behind in their execution all night and as a result Atlanta's offense didn't materialize."

The 76ers had the second-best record in the NBA at 58-24, but they have to play a mini-series because they finished behind Boston in the Atlantic Division.

They built a 53-36 lead at halftime and boosted the edge to 65-44 with 7:40 remaining and 73-48 with 5:32 left in the third period.

"Darryl Dawkins was fantastic," said Hawks Coach Kevin Loughery. "He made the difference to their team. The 76ers were great. Give 'em credit. They took us out of our game."

John Drew led Atlanta with 18 points and Roundfield added 13.

Sonics 102, Rockets 87

Gus Williams was held to four points in the first half, but he returned to add 23 in the final two periods as Seattle came from behind to beat Houston.

Williams was 1-for-8 in the first half, when Houston took a 44-41 advantage. Then 7-0 and 8-0 spurts in the third quarter pulled the Sonics in front 66-56 with 1:18 to go in the period.

Star center Moses Malone had only four points in the second half as Houston wilted under Seattle's fast-break offense.

Fred Brown had 21 points and Jack Sikma added 16 for the Sonics, while Malone finished with 20 for the Rockets, who reached the NBA championship series before losing to Boston last year.

Rosburg, Littler Defending Title

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Bob Rosburg, nursing an abscessed tooth, and partner Gene Littler open defense of their Legends of Golf Tournament title on a rain-soaked Onion Creek Golf Club with a $100,000 prize awaiting the winners.

Rain today and temperatures in the 50s threatened to make life miserable for the golfing greats who have reached 50 years of age.

Play is best ball over 72 holes.

There was already a considerable list of aches and pains besides Rosburg's balky molar.

Jackie Burke Jr. and Art Wall complained of back problems. Dan Sikas had the flu. Al Balding and George Bayer were wrestling shoulder troubles. Dick Mayer had a hip hurt.

And Julius Boros is over-coming open heart surgery and has lost 20 pounds.

"This cold weather is going to bother some of the guys," said trainer Spanky Stephens.

Ken Venturi, the former U.S. Open champion who had just become eligible, had to withdraw because of a peptic ulcer. He was replaced by Tom Nieporte who will be paired with Mike Souchak.

Souchack had one of Wednesday's best rounds, shooting a two-under par 68 during the Pro-Am.

Others reaching the 50-year eligibility milestone were two-time U.S. Open king Billy Casper and former Masters champion Gay Brewer, who will be paired together.

Casper and Brewer played together on the 1967 and 1971 Ryder Cup teams and never lost a match as partners.

"If he's out of the hole, I can carry us and if I'm out, he can do the same," said Brewer.

"I may not be as good a player as I was but I don't have problems with my nerves," said Casper. "My putting has always been good."

"We're a rookie team here but I like our chances. We're probably not as skilled as some of the players here but we have teamed together before and that will help."

Former champions Tommy Bolt and Wall, winners of the 1980 event, were on hand.

NBC television scheduled national coverage for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Twenty-four teams were scheduled to tee off with each player guaranteed $5,000.

Gene Sarazen at 80 was the oldest in the field and was paired as usual with Jimmy Demaret.

A's Wear Out Twins

By MIKE HARRIS AP Sports Writer

The Oakland A's made short work of the Minnesota Twins, and the fast game couldn't have come at a better time.

Tom Underwood started for the first time this year to help the weary A's down the equally tired Twins 5-2 Wednesday with the help of a three-run homer by Joe Rudi and a two-run blast by Jeff Newman.

But it was a tough time for a day game, following on the heels of a five-hour, 16-inning marathon in which the A's took until 1 a.m. to stop the Twins 4-3. Wednesday's game lasted just two hours and 14 minutes — about one and a half hours less than the A's average for games so far this season.

"After playing three five-hour games this year and five extra inning games (in two weeks), we really needed a good short one," Underwood said. "Those extra-inning games are tiresome and we needed one where we could get home quick and enjoy dinner."

In other American League action Wednesday, New York blanked Chicago 1-0, Detroit beat Kansas City 4-1, Boston tipped Baltimore 6-5, Milwaukee beat Toronto 3-1, Texas outlasted Cleveland 4-2 and Seattle edged California 5-3.

"Nobody got much sleep last night, but I had a different reason," said Underwood, 1-1. "I was very keyed up, very excited. When I found out I was going to start, I knew there was no way I was going to lose this one."

The right-hander left the ballpark after the sixth inning of Tuesday night's game, supposedly to get some rest. But he said he listened to the end of the game on radio and didn't fall asleep until 4 a.m.

It didn't bother him, though, as he scattered eight hits and three walks in going all the way.

Underwood, who came into the game with a 1.04 earned run average and 19 strikeouts in six relief appearances, said, "I prefer to start, but I'll do anything (Manager Billy) Martin asks me to do. I'll volunteer for the 'pen' this weekend, but I'd like to start again as soon as possible."

Rudi's line drive into the left-field seats, his first homer of the year, came off loser Darrell Jackson, 0-2, and put the A's on top 3-0. Newman made it 5-0 moments later.

Minnesota came up with both its runs in the fifth. John Castino and Lenny Faedo sandwiched singles around a walk to Sal Butera, loading the bases. Castino scored on Gary Ward's sacrifice fly and Butera came home on Mickey Hatcher's double.

Tigers 4, Royals 1

Kirk Gibson, fighting a terrible slump, slammed a two-run homer — his second homer in three days — and Lou Whitaker added a two-run double to back to the four-hit pitching of Pat Underwood, Tom's brother. The victory gave the Tigers their first series sweep against the Royals since 1974.

The two-run homer, into the upper deck in center field, came in the first inning off Larry Gura, 1-1. That was all Underwood needed.

Greg Pryor homered in the third for Kansas City's only run.

Red Sox 6, Orioles 5

Rich Gedman's three-run double capped a six-run third inning for Boston that handed Baltimore its eighth loss in a row.

Dennis Eckersley, 2-1, gained his 100th major league victory with relief help from Mark Clear, who picked up his second save. The two Boston pitchers combined for 11 strikeouts.

Brewers 3, Blue Jays 1

Paul Molitor hit a two-run homer and Randy Lerch and Rollie Fingers combined on a five-hitter to end Milwaukee's five-game losing streak.

Molitor's homer, his first of the year, came in the third off Luis Leal, 2-1. The Brewers made it 3-0 when reliever Jerry Garvin, Toronto's third pitcher, walked in a run in the seventh.

The Jays scored in the eighth on an infield out after Fingers replaced Lerch, 1-0. The 1981 Cy Young Award winner finished the game to get Milwaukee's first save of the season.

Yankees 1, White Sox 0

Ron Guidry, who failed to finish a game in 1981, pitched a three-hitter for his second complete game in a row.

Guidry, 2-0, gave up a pair of singles in the first inning and a leadoff walk to Carlton Fisk in the second, then retired 15 batters in a row before Greg Luzinksi doubled for his second hit of the game in the seventh.

Dave Revering singled and Rick Cerone was walked by Chicago starter Richard Dotson, 1-1, with one out in the fifth. One out later, Willie Randolph drilled an RBI single for the only run of the game.

Rangers 4, Indians 2

Mike Richardt drove in two runs and Steve Comer shook off a 95-minute rain delay to get a save against Cleveland.

Rangers starter Doc Medich, 1-1, surrendered four hits and six walks through five innings before giving way to Comer.

The Seventh Earl of Cardigan who led the Charge of the Light Brigade in the Crimean War, got tired of pulling a sweater over his head. Tradition says he designed the sweater jacket with buttons that have carried his name down through history.

Old Golfers Imperishable; Keep Birdies Singing

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

Old golfers never die. They just fade away. Hook away. Blast away. And keep those birdies singing.

Indeed, they must be the most imperishable of all our sports heroes.

The game's "Golden Oldies" teed it up again today in their annual showpiece, the Legends of Golf, over the picturesque Onion Creek Golf Club in Austin, Texas.

Arnold Palmer, 52, is there, superbly tanned and fit, sure to be taking that familiar hitch at his trousers, jorking on his glove and striding the fairway in quick, resolute steps as if going to settle an old feud.

There's Sam Snead, "Slammin' Sammy," as the cliché slingers have called him for four decades, with a swing that should be preserved in jars like sweet honey although he celebrates his 70th birthday next month.

Hang around and you can get a look at two others whose styles are so smooth and relaxed you expect them to take a snooze at the top of the backswing, namely Julius Boros and Gentle Bill Casper.

Watson Struggling To Regain Winning Form

By BOB GREEN AP Golf Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tom Watson is eagerly, aggressively attempting to regain his position as the dominant player in world golf.

He slipped last year. A string of four consecutive seasons in which he was both the game's leading money winner and the Player of the Year was snapped.

He'd like to regain those titles.

"Sure, I would. Sure, I'd like to have 'em back. Those things are important," Watson said before teeing off as the favorite today in the first round of the $400,000 USF&G-New Orleans Open.

Should he regain those lofty positions, however, it will be as a by-product of his major goal.

"My goal is the same as always, developing the perfect golf swing, a swing that will repeat shot after shot, day after day, tournament after tournament. Now, that's probably not possible. But that's the thing you work for," said Watson, now the No. 2 money winner of all time.

"The goal is better play, improvement.

"If you can do that, if you can continue to improve, play better, have a swing that repeats, then everything else — money-winnings, tournament wins, everything — falls into place."

Watson has won twice this season and, in his last two starts — the Masters and Tournament of Champions — he has been in title contention.

That, however, as been almost in spite of himself.

"I'm pleased with the way I'm scoring, but I'm not pleased with the way I'm playing. I'm not hitting the ball nearly as well as I'd like to."

He said he's working on a little change in his set-up, moving the ball back in his stance.

"It makes me feel like I'm going to hit everything to the right — and sometimes I do," he said. "But I'm stubborn. I know it's the right thing to do and I'm doing it."

Watson, who has a career habit of scoring multiple victories in a few events, has won this title the last two years and is the leading candidate for the $72,000 first prize this time.

He faces a 156-man field that includes Jack Nicklaus, who has played well this season but is still seeking his first title of the year.

Other leading challengers include Lanny Wadkins, a winner last Sunday in the Tournament of Champions along with three other 1982 PGA Tour title-winners, Andy Bean, Jim Simons and Bob Shearer.

Drillers Cap Shreveport

By The Associated Press

Mike Jirrschele's three singles added the Tulsa Drillers in their 4-1 series opening win over Shreveport on Wednesday in Texas League baseball action.

Also on Wednesday, the San Antonio Dodgers took an 8-7 win from the Amarillo Gold Sox, and the Jackson Mets won their home opener, 2-0, against Arkansas.

Tulsa right-hander Marty Leach, 1-2, pitched a two-hitter for seven innings to knock Shreveport out of its first-place tie.

In addition to Jirrschele's scoring, Bobby Ball hit a two-run double in the second inning for the Drillers.

Doran Perdue's double in the sixth paced Shreveport's

Owners Ordered To Explain Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Football League owners, continuing to deny the NFL Players Association information on television and standard player contracts, will have to explain their actions to an administrative law judge.

Daniel Silverman, the National Labor Relations Board regional director in New York, ordered the NFL Management Council — the owners' representative — to appear before an administrative law judge in New York June 21 to explain its failure to turn over the documents as directed earlier this month by NLRB General Counsel William Lubbers.

In a separate action Wednesday, Silverman ordered San Diego Chargers owner Eugene Klein to appear before the same administrative law judge. The union charges that Klein violated the players' collective bargaining agreement when he failed to suspend quarterback Dan Fouts last season for nonpayment of union dues.

The players' union had ordered Klein to suspend Fouts until the quarterback had paid the outstanding $1,122 union dues. Klein refused to comply, but the union withdrew its opposition to Fouts' appearance in the team's final regular-season game when two Charger fans came forward to pay the outstanding debt.

scoring. The second-base man broke up a no-hit bid leading off the sixth inning. Two outs later, he scored Shreveport's only run on a single.

Ron Pisel, 1-1, took the loss.

San Antonio's winning run was scored on a double play at the top of the seventh to break a 7-7 tie.

Jim Nobles, 1-0, took the win for the Dodgers as Shane Hammond. Marty Rain, 0-1, had the loss.

Jackson pitcher Jeff Bittinger, 1-1, allowed only one Arkansas hit to become the winner on the mound. The Travelers' Ricky Horton, 0-2, took the loss.

The Mets' first run came in the fourth inning when left fielder Billy Beane singled, and Mike Ancich had an RBI in the fifth.

Arkansas' lone score in the eighth inning was on a hit by shortstop Jose Gonzalez.

Jackson improved to 7-4 in the league's Eastern Division, and Arkansas dropped to 5-6.

ARGENTINA and the South Atlantic Islands

Oil and history are the basis of the conflict between Argentina and Britain over the Falkland Islands and dependencies. Argentina claims the barren, sparsely populated islands as an inheritance from colonial Spain. Britain claims them by right of possession and settlement since 1833. Recent geological exploration has raised hopes of a major oil strike in the waters between the Falklands and the Argentine mainland. Britain is using the mid-Atlantic island of Ascension as a supply base for its naval forces.

During the business meeting with Carol Armor presiding, new officers were elected. Judy Kelley will serve as vice president and Dorothy Szydoski, treasurer.

It was announced that the crafts cookbooks had arrived and will be sold by club members. The next meeting is slated for 7 p.m. May 17 in the Flame Room. Hostessing the salad supper will be Carol Armor, Carol McGilvary and Ms. Szydoski.

Program chairman was Rose Mary Shook and serving as hostesses were Frances Kirkland and Doris Bryant.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I don't have anything enlightening to say about the flap on the alleged monopoly on baseball cards between the Major League Baseball Players Assn., Topps Chewing Gum Co. and the Fleer Corp.

What do I know? I'm just the mother of a son who for ten years of his life chewed enough bubble gum to vulcanize the Ohio Turnpike and has five shoeboxes of cardboard heroes to show for it.

He was nine years old at the time he started collecting. It was a time of his life when he needed heroes, not necessarily to touch, hear or see, but just to know they were all there in his five shoeboxes where he could take them out, shuffle them and deal them out hour after hour.

All his sports idols were there...Pete Rose when his baseball cap covered all his hair...Johnny Unitas in a burr...and a man making a dunk shot who signed his name Lew Alcindor (who later became Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

I sometimes wonder if all the athletes who signed their names really knew what they did for kids. It was a real ritual for a nine-year-old. First, he saved his money for the gum and picture. If it was a repeat, he traded off. If it was a new one he sat down, wrote a note asking for an autograph and put it in an envelope with a 3x5 card for an "extra" and a return envelope with another stamp on it. With the kind of volume he dealt with, it got expensive and had to be supported by money from his paper route.

But when the cards came back it was all worth it. As soon as they arrived they were put through PST. (Passed Spit Test.) If the ink smeared when they spit on it, it was a genuine autograph.

A lot of celebrities don't give autographs. They don't believe in them. They consider them a waste. I suppose I've given a few in my time that someone wrapped their gum in, wrote a check number on, or set a wet glass on and faded me. So what? To be that important for one moment is worth it. Autographs are as close as some people get to whatever it is they admire in you.

Who remembers? Years later, at a party, I met Tom and Dick Van Arsdale. When we were introduced, I said, "I know you already. You're both PSTs."

It's funny. They were only six feet, five inches tall. On the day my son got their cards back, he led me to believe they were much taller than that.

ROCK ON

Rock 'n' roll can be hazardous to your health — New Mountain drummer Corky Laing did a dramatic onstage leap over his drum kit and broke his ankle. Rod Stewart rescheduled five concerts due to bronchitis.

Quote of the week — Nick Lowe: "If I could learn to be a plumber, I'd do it."

How do you know you've made it — Dick Clark has been asked to donate the podium from "American Bandstand" to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

And a big 'awww' — Pat Benatar has made it legal with longtime partner Neil Giraldo. They got married recently in Hawaii.

Van Morrison — "Beautiful Vision" (Warner Bros.) — The Moonlander returns with a gentle, mystical, romantic collection of soft melodies and delicate instrumentation. It's more accessible than 1980's "Common One," but nowhere near as powerful as his "Gloria" or "Wild Nights." His fans will enjoy this offering very much.

Honored Students

The Hereford Lions Club honored the Students of the fourth and fifth nine-week periods from HHS Wednesday. Club president Charlie Bell, in background,

Self-Worth Stressed

By Rev. Doug Manning

Members of La Plata Study Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Delore McCushtian with Mary Bartlett serving as co-hostess.

The group heard a program entitled, "Does Anyone Here Like Their Nose?" presented by the Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church and author.

He said we can't really see ourselves but we tend to think we have a big, crooked nose or that something is wrong with it. "I don't think God ever made a really pretty nose," he said.

"How do we get to where we can except ourselves no matter what's wrong?", he related. "We have to deal with background problems. We need to know our self worth," he said.

He also mentioned that some trauma may have occurred during our young lives that effect us later, such as teasing or bad events.

"The victory is coping," he continued. "There is no absolute answer to problems. We may have weaknesses but we must cope to discover our worth. Worth and value are who you are as a human being. Good relationships help self worth."

"There is purpose in what we go through as that's what makes us what we are and helps us to help others. Until you are glad about who you are, you are really missing something," he said as he closed the program.

Refreshments were served to Clara Brown, Sunny Brush, Sarah Hazelrigg, Sherry Hoover, Jean Kelley, Mozelle Neill, Lavon Nieman, Carla Patterson.

Also Dorotha Prowell, Betty Quillen, Lucy Rogers, Margaret Schroeter, Sue Sims, Betty Taylor, Donna VanderZee, Virginia Woodford and hostesses.

The club's next meeting is scheduled May 18 in the home of Lucy Rogers, club president. Following a salad supper, officers will be installed.

TAX EXEMPTIONS — AVAILABLE THROUGH DEAF SMITH CO. APPRAISAL DIST.

Exemptions can reduce the tax bill to qualified persons

Property owners in Texas are not required to pay property taxes on their household goods, personal effects and family supplies for home or farm use. Taxpayers also enjoy several kinds of exemptions and other forms of tax relief. The first of these is the residence homestead exemption. A "residence homestead" is defined as a structure, together with the land and improvements, used for residential purposes. In other words, a residence homestead is basically a home and a yard. A mobile home—even a mobile home located on leased land—can qualify as a residence homestead. The amount of land used for residential purposes may not exceed 20 acres. The chief appraiser will determine how much land actually qualifies.

If you owned your home and used it as your principal residence on January 1 of the appropriate tax year, you may claim it as your residence homestead and receive a tax exemption on it for purposes of school taxes. You may also be entitled to certain optional exemptions if offered by the jurisdictions which tax your property.

You will still qualify for the homestead exemption even if a portion of your residence is used for other purposes—for example, if it is used in your business.

Moreover, you will not lose your exemption if you temporarily move away, provided you intend to return and do not claim a residence homestead elsewhere. For instance, if you enter a nursing home and rent your home, you will still qualify for the homestead exemption if you intend to return and if you do not claim a homestead in another jurisdiction.

Applications must be filed on official forms available from the appraisal district, and property owners should note that it is a criminal offense to file a false application.

General homestead exemption

School homestead exemption: If you qualify for a residence homestead, you will be entitled to a $5,000 exemption off the market value of the homestead for school tax purposes. In other words, if your homestead has a market value of $60,000, the exemption will reduce the taxable value to $55,000. This taxable, or assessed, value is the figure to which the tax rate is applied to determine the amount of your tax liability.

If the market value of your home is $4,000, the $5,000 school exemption will reduce the market value to $0. In this situation, your exemption will be $4,000. The amount of an exemption which you receive cannot exceed the market value of your homestead.

The school homestead exemption is available to the general public as long as valid applications are filed with the appraisal district office before the end of the rendition period (see Tax Calendar).

County homestead exemption: If you qualify for a residence homestead, you may also be entitled to a $3,000 exemption from the assessed value of your home from county taxes. However, this exemption can be granted only from the portion of the county tax rate levied for farm-to-market roads or flood control. Therefore, if your county does not tax for this purpose, you will not be entitled to this exemption. Applications should be filed with your appraisal district office.

Are you 65 or older?

If you are 65 years of age or older on January 1 of the tax year, you are entitled to an additional $10,000 exemption off the market value of your residence homestead. This exemption applies to school taxes only and you should apply for the exemption before the end of the rendition period.

You may not receive both a $10,000 over-65 exemption off the market value of your homestead and $10,000 disability exemption (discussed later). If you are qualified for both, you must choose one or the other.

Tax ceiling imposed: If you have applied and qualified for the over-65 homestead exemption, your school district tax bill cannot increase as long as the property qualifies for the exemption. While your property may increase in value through the years, the taxes which you owe in any year cannot be greater than the amount you owed in 1979 or in the first year you qualified for this exemption, whichever is later. (NOTE: Should you make an addition to your property after qualifying for a school tax ceiling, the chief appraiser must calculate a new higher ceiling based on the value added by the improvements, other than normal maintenance.)

If you would have qualified for the over-65 homestead exemption in 1979, but failed to apply, you have an opportunity to have your tax ceiling adjusted to the amount it would have been if you had applied for the exemption in 1979. You must make application with the appraisal district office before April 1, 1982, in order to receive this adjustment. The chief appraiser will publish a notice of the provisions of the exemption in a newspaper once a week for three weeks prior to the deadline.

Are you disabled?

If you are disabled and qualify for the residence homestead exemption, you are entitled to receive an additional exemption of $10,000 off the market value of your residence homestead. This exemption applies to school taxes only.

"Disabled" for purposes of this exemption means either that, because of physical or mental disability, you are unable to engage in any substantial gainful work; or that you are 55 years of age or older and blind and by reason of the blindness are unable to engage in your previous work.

If you are receiving disability benefits under the Federal Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance Program administered by the Social Security Administration, you will qualify as long as you apply on time.

If you are receiving disability benefits under any other program, you will not automatically qualify. You must still meet the definition of disability stated above and apply before the end of the rendition period.

Again, you may not receive both a $10,000 over-65 exemption off the market value of your homestead for school tax purposes and a $10,000 disability exemption. You must choose one or the other.

Are you a disabled veteran or qualifying survivor?

Texas law also provides for a disabled veterans' or survivors' exemption. Certain disabled veterans or their survivors may be entitled to a partial exemption from property taxes. This exemption can be applied to any property—not just a homestead—that is owned on January 1.

Depending on the percentage of your disability, you may be entitled to an exemption ranging from $1,500 to $3,000 off the property's assessed value. In order to qualify, you must be a Texas resident and file an application annually at the appraisal district office.

You must designate only one property to receive this exemption, regardless of the number of jurisdictions in which you apply. In other words, if you own more than one taxable property in a particular jurisdiction, you must select the one property to which the exemption will apply.

You are required to present documents stating the percentage of a service-connected disability from either the Veterans' Administration or a branch of the armed services. Proof of marriage, death or age may also be required.

Who qualifies as a farmer or rancher?

In addition to the exemptions described above, qualified farmers and ranchers or timber producers may enjoy another form of tax relief.

Two amendments to the Texas Constitution permit agricultural and open-space land to be taxed generally at its productivity value instead of market value. These provisions are effective only if applications are filed with the appraisal district office in a timely manner.

Rural acreage in many areas of Texas is increasingly in demand for housing subdivisions, shopping centers, country homesites and industrial development. For example, some ranch lands and wooded pastures in desirable locations increasingly are becoming worth far more in market value than their value for producing crops or cattle.

Therefore, recognizing that higher property taxes might exceed income from the land, Texas voters approved two changes to the State Constitution permitting agricultural valuation and open-space land valuation under certain conditions.

Article 8, Section 1-d

This provision in the Texas Constitution permits agricultural-use valuation of land provided certain qualifications are met. These include:

- The land must be owned by a natural person—partnerships, corporations or organizations may not qualify;
- The land must have been in agricultural use for three years prior to claiming this kind of valuation;
- The owner must apply for this designation each year and file a sworn statement about use of the land; and
- The agricultural business must be the land owner's primary occupation and source of income.

Applications for appraisal under this provision must be filed annually with the chief appraiser during the rendition period. For good cause, the chief appraiser may extend the deadline for not more than 60 days.

If you miss the application deadline, as noted earlier, you may file a late application anytime before the appraisal review board approves the appraisal records. In such a case, because of the late filing, you are liable for a penalty of 10 percent of the taxes saved that year by receiving the productivity valuation.

Article 8, Section 1-d-1

This provision in the Texas Constitution allows open-space valuation of land. "Open-space land" includes agricultural land and timber land. Qualifications for designation under this law are made less strict. Most farmers or ranchers who are unable to qualify for agricultural-use valuation will qualify for open-space land valuation.

- Under this provision, the following qualifications must be met:
- For agricultural land, the land must be currently devoted principally to agricultural use to the degree of intensity generally accepted in the area.
- For timber land, that land must be used with the intent to produce income and be currently and actively devoted principally to the production of timber or forest products to the degree of intensity generally accepted in the area.
- For both, the land must have been in agricultural or timber use for at least five of the last seven years.

Special exemptions for farmers

Farm products, including livestock and poultry, still in the hands of the producer are exempt from property taxation and no application for exemption is required.

Implements of farming or ranching are exempt from taxation if owned by an individual who uses them in the production of farm or ranch products. The property must be individually owned; corporate or partnership ownership will not qualify. This exemption must be applied for annually.
